TRAVERS REFUSED INFORMATION; CROWN REFUSED TO PROCEED

Case Against Ex-Provisional Directors of Farmers' Bank Was Up in Police Court This Morning, But Was Once More Adjourned—Crompton Summoned to Court.

[Canada Press.]

Toronto, Jan. 26.—It was confidently expected that the case against the ex-provisional directors of the Farmers' Bank—Dr. John Ferguson, Alexander Fraser, A. C. Lownes and John Watson—charged with conspiracy to defraud the Farmers' Bank of $10,000, would be proceeded with this morning.

Crown Attorney Corley sprang a surprise when he announced he would be unable to go on for a week.

Travers There.

The arrival of W. R. Travers in the city hall, accompanied by Detective Guthrie, early in the morning, made it look as if the crown would get busy on the case today, but there was a disappointment for those who expected it.

When the case was first called Mr. Corley informed the magistrate he was not ready.

"Your worship, in the case of the directors of the Farmers' Bank I had expected to have information from Travers to permit me to go on with the case today, and without this I am unable to go on with the investigation. I expected yesterday that I would be able to, but Travers refused to give me the information until he had seen Mr. Dewart, and I cannot safely conduct the case until I know what Travers is going to say," said Mr. Corley.

"When do you expect to go on?" the colonel asked.

"That depends on what Mr. Dewart says."

Mr. Rose, K. C., for the directors, said: "At present it seems as if the crown were going on statements made by Travers. I don't see why the evidence of Mr. Travers in the witness box cannot do."

Col. Denison—A man who is sentenced to six years in the penitentiary does not mind being sent down for ten days for refusing to answer questions.

Mr. Corley—But when a man is seeking the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, as I am, he has to be more than careful.

"Perhaps Mr. Corley is not so confident in Mr. Travers' statement now," suggested the colonel with a smile.

"That's my view of the case," said Mr. Rose.

Mr. Rose then complained of the delay in the investigation and said he wanted to get through with it, as there were no sessions for six weeks.

"The case won't take that long," replied the colonel.

The case was then adjourned till Tuesday.

T. C. Robinette, K. C., has been retained to defend George Wishart, of New York.

"We will bring Wishart back when we are ready, and not before," said he. "He wants to come back, but we won't let him till we are ready."

Wallace Nesbitt, K. C., has been retained to defend Beattie Nesbitt.

Another Warrant.

Toronto, Jan. 26. — At 10:15 today Inspector Duncan swore out a summons against Fred Crompton on the charge that "On the 4th of January, 1910, contrary to law, he did accept, receive or take, or pledge assignment or hypothecation of notes of the Farmers' Bank of Canada from W. R. Travers, vice-president of the bank."

Crompton is said to have got the notes from the bank and to have held them, turning them in from time to time and getting 5 per cent interest.

Inspector Duncan has received a check for $10,869 05 from Crompton, through a lawyer, as he did not consider himself entitled to it. The charges are laid under section 139 of the bank act. The penalty is a fine of from $400 to $2,000 and two years in prison.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH OF REV. HECTOR CURRIE

Pastor of Thedford Presbyterian Church Passes Away.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thedford, Jan. 26.—Rev. Hector Currie, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church for thirty-five years, died suddenly at 2 o'clock this morning of heart trouble.

Rev. Mr. Currie was one of the most prominent clergymen in this part of the county, the local church being his first and only charge.

He was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, in September, 1846, and came to this country when a child, settling in Elgin. He graduated from Knox College in 1874 and accepted the call to Thedford in 1876. Since that time he had been located here. In 1877 he married Miss Edith Jarvis, who survives him. One son, Jarvis, of Manitoba, and one daughter, Miss Sophie, at home, survive.

Mr. Currie was in his usual good health on Tuesday, when he drove about seven miles to visit one of his flock. Yesterday he was taken ill with acute indigestion, death resulting from an attack of heart failure at 2 o'clock this morning.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

MANY CELLARS ARE BEING FLOODED NOW

Mild Weather Is Causing Trouble for the City.

The mild weather is already causing some trouble with sewers, and two notices have been sent to the city regarding flooded cellars.

In the downtown district many cellars are flooded, and the merchants are looking for redress from the council.

It is understood that others will follow the example set by the merchants who have sent notices, and will ask for damages from the city.

The conditions so far are not so serious as in other years, but yet much inconvenience has been caused.

THE TARIFF QUESTION WILL BE DISCUSSED

Main Topic for Board of Trade Meeting Friday Night.

The tariff question will be the main topic of discussion at the board of trade meeting on Friday evening.

Some of the manufacturers are very much interested in the recent tariff discussion, and the attitude of the farmers regarding the duty on agricultural implements, and several members will place the claims of the manufacturing interests before the board.

REBELS DEFEATED.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The revolutionists of Honduras were defeated on Monday in the neighborhood of San Antonio, Honduras. They were scattered, and it is reported Colonel Valasquez, a leader of Gen. Bonilla's army, was killed. Minister McCreery, at Temulcagalpa, telegraphed this to the state department today.

RUSSELL VS. PERRIN JUDGMENT RENDERED

Totals $240.40, Ninety Dollars of Which Is For Damages.

Mr. Justice Britton has given judgment in the case of Russell vs. the D. S. Perrin Company, one of the cases arising out of the elevator accident in which one lad was killed and a couple of others injured. The judgment is for $240 40, $90 of which is damages.

Alex. W. Russell, father of the boy of sixteen years of the same name, who sued on behalf of his son, receives $10, $80 will be placed to the credit of the son, $100 40 will be paid for hospital and medical expenses, and $50 for the plaintiff's legal costs. Besides this the company will pay $5 additional costs.

FELL THROUGH TRAP DOOR BLAZING LAMP IN HAND

But Mrs. William Rowe, of Dreaney Avenue, Did Not Suffer Serious Injury.

Mrs. William Rowe, of 100 Dreaney avenue, fell through a trap door into the cellar at her home last evening while carrying a blazing kerosene lamp, but escaped serious injury, assistance being rendered by her husband preventing a serious fire.

Mr. Rowe was in the basement of his home when his wife approached the trap door carrying a lighted lamp. At the top she missed her footing, dropping several feet to the cellar floor. The lamp was smashed and ignited the blazing oil about her. The fire was extinguished with great difficulty, when it was discovered that Mrs. Rowe had escaped with no more serious injury than a number of bruises.

ESTIMATES TO BE READY SECOND MEETING IN FEB.

Ald. Eckert Is Taking Steps to Avoid Delay in Civic Business.

It is expected that estimates will be ready for consideration by the city council by the second meeting of that body in February.

They are not usually taken up until March, but Ald. Eckert, chairman of the finance committee, is anxious to have the estimates ready early this year in order to give the council plenty of time to discuss them.

"We are getting the committees in shape so that we will have everything in readiness at an early date," he informed The Advertiser. "We want to get an early start on our work, so that when the spring opens we will be in a position to commence work at once."

The board of works are getting theirs ready now, and will present them very soon. The same is true of the other spending bodies.

SIR CHAS. DILKE DEAD AT LONDON

Was One of the Most Brilliant of England's Public Men.

SCANDAL SPOILT CAREER

Was Famed as Authority in the Domain of Foreign Affairs.

[Canada Press.]

London, Jan. 25.—Sir Charles Wentworth Dilke died today. The immediate cause of death was heart trouble, though he had been in an enfeebled condition since the recent election, the strain of the campaign having affected him severely. He went to the south of France to recuperate, returning to London on Saturday last. Soon after reaching home he took to his bed.

Dilke's Career.

Sir Charles had represented the Forest of Dean division of Gloucester in Parliament since 1892. He was recognized as one of the most brilliant minds in politics, particularly in the domain of foreign affairs, and but for an old divorce scandal that blighted his career, probably would have held the highest offices in the gift of his country.

He was born in 1843, and was educated at Cambridge, and admitted to the bar in 1865. He was under secretary of state for foreign affairs in 1880-82, and president of the local government board in 1882-85. Subsequently he was a member of several royal commission , and wrote extensively of national and international political affairs.

His first wife, Katherine, daughter of Capt. Arthur Gore Sheil, died in 1874, and in 1885 Sir Charles married Emilia Frances, daughter of Major Henry Strong, and the widow of Mark Pattison, rector of Lincoln College, Oxford. It was during their engagement that the scandal resulting in the separation of Donald Crawford and his wife occurred. Lady Dilke, who was a beautiful and talented woman, remained loyal to her husband throughout this trouble. She died as the result of the rupture of a blood vessel on Oct. 24, 1904.

CHIEF WILLIAMS BELIEVES WILSON BOY WAS DROWNED

Local Officers Take No Stock in the Kidnapping Theory, But All Do Not Agree With the Chief's Belief.

Local police officers take absolutely no stock in the theory that little Freddie Wilson, who has now been missing for a week, was kidnapped. The subject is one in which all the men are keenly interested, and has been widely discussed by them. All believe that the lad is dead.

"I think he is drowned," said Chief Williams. "I don't think for a moment that he was kidnapped. As far as I know, there would be absolutely no reason why anyone should take the boy. I think he has fallen into the river."

Other members of the force think that the boy has wandered out into the country and has been frozen.

Opinion Divided.

"I can't think that he is drowned," said one officer, "particularly after the thorough search the fire department have made of the river. I think the little chap got lost and wandered out into the country and got cold and tired and just laid down some place and died with the cold. It is a wonder that with this open weather he has not been found if he is in any of the fields, but he may have got into an empty house or a barn."

Mrs. Wilson, the boy's mother, is a Toronto lady, and prior to her marriage was Miss Dora Brown. Her mother has, since her daughter's marriage, come to London and now lives in West London.

Reciprocity Statement This Afternoon

[Canada Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The Dominion cabinet was in council this forenoon, when Messrs. Paterson and Fielding laid before their colleagues the details of the reciprocity agreement at Washington. The most absolute secrecy prevails, and both sides of the House are in the dark as to what Mr. Fielding may have to announce when he rises at 4 o'clock this afternoon. An army of newspapermen spent the morning in trying to get an inkling of what the agreement contained, but the cabinet presented a solid front to all inquiries.

$100 REWARD FOR LOST BOY

City Council Takes a Hand in the Search For Freddie Wilson.

$10,000 FOR FIRE ENGINE

Debentures to This Extent Were Authorized at a Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon in City Hall.

At the special meeting of the council held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to offer a reward of $100 for the recovery of Freddie Wilson, the Nelson street lad, who has been missing for a week.

The council also passed a motion asking the Legislature to grant the council permission to issue debentures in the sum of $10,000 to purchase a fire engine.

Mayor Beattie read the communication from the Women's Canadian Club, asking that the council offer a reward for the recovery of the Wilson boy.

"I move that we offer a reward of $100," said Ald. Cooper. Ald. Morgan seconded.

A question arose as to the legality of the matter, and his worship ruled that the council could make a grant of $100 to the family on the grounds

STREET RAILWAY WILL TALK NIAGARA POWER

Annual Meeting of Company Will Be Held On February First.

The annual meeting of the London Street Railway Company will be held in this city on Feb. 1.

It is expected that Mr. Everett, of Cleveland, the president, will be on hand, together with Mr. E. W. Moore, also of Cleveland, one of the directors.

At this session the question of power will be taken up. While the question has been gone into extensively by the officials of the company, no decision has been arrived at, nor will there be, until after the meeting.

The facts will be presented by the company officials, and in addition it is expected that a representative of the hydro-electric commission will be present to explain the offer made some time ago. It is confidently expected that the company will agree to the terms set forth by the commission.

STREET CROSSINGS IN BAD CONDITION

Board of Works Will Likely Hear of the Matter.

The condition of certain down-town crossings is creating much criticism these days, and the board of works will be asked to do something to make them passable.

At the present time, it is almost impossible to cross them, the slush and dirt being inches deep.

At the corners of Richmond and Dundas, Clarence and Dundas, King and Richmond and York and Richmond they are particularly bad.

"The board should have the ice chopped away to allow pedestrians to cross without having to swim," said a citizen.

The above is a list of the London heroes who died during the South African war of 1900, and whose names will be inscribed on the tablet on the soldiers' monument which is to be erected in Victoria Park next summer. The work is being rushed forward as speedily as possible by Mr. Hill, the Montreal sculptor and it is reported that the memorial will arrive in this city in the late spring.

The Monument.

The monument is about 20 feet from base to peak, the figure of the soldier being about half that height. If present plans are carried out it will be located immediately behind the guns. As the date of the unveiling cannot be fixed for some time, it will be impossible to arrange for a few weeks to have any particular person of note officiate. However, a big celebration will be organized by the committee in charge, and it is understood that a number of prominent people will be in attendance.

The bronze tablet is being prepared in the old country.

GOVT. ANNOUNCES THIS AFTERNOON DETAILS OF RECIPROCITY PACT

Cabinet Council Held This Morning With Delegates Fielding and Paterson Present—Capital Crowded With Big Financiers and Great Audience Expected to Hear Result of Conference.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The result of the trade negotiations, which have been conducted between representatives of Canada and the United States for the past fortnight, are to be announced in Parliament at 4 o'clock this afternoon. At that hour Hon. William Fielding, finance minister, will be accorded the courtesy of the floor, and the country will know before it eats dinner what are the new trade relations between Canada and their neighbors to the south, for practically every newspaper of importance in the country has arranged to publish an extra containing the news. This is one evidence of the great interest which the country is taking in the announcement. Another is the gathering at Ottawa of representatives of great interests from all parts of Canada. There are men here representing the steel concerns of Sydney, Montreal, Hamilton and the Soo. There are representatives of the Nova Scotia coal interests, of lumber, pulp and paper interests, and representatives of all sorts of manufacturing concerns.

Some Cases of "Nerves."

In the presence of almost assured tariff changes, there is a good deal of nervous apprehension exhibited by those masters of millions. There is a general belief that Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson have done what is best for the country, but individually inconvenient to them. However, there is a general hopefulness, and a desire to know the best or the worst as soon as possible.

Big Crowd To Attend.

It is certain that the galleries of the Commons will be crowded this afternoon with a distinguished company, and Hon. Mr. Fielding will have a most attentive audience, no matter how long he may speak.

Hon. Mr. Fielding arrived last night, and was welcomed back by a delegation of Nova Scotia members of Parliament, and by a compact contingent of newspapermen. He declined to talk, but looked thoroughly fit. The struggle which he has had with the American trade commissioners has apparently been a tonic, for Hon. Mr. Fielding appears to be in better health than when he left. The attack of facial paralysis which has been troubling him since the autumn is disappearing, and little evidence of it can be seen. This morning Hon. Mr. Fielding left his residence at 11 o'clock and drove to his office in the east block. From there he went to the council chambers, and gave to the other members of the Government the first statement on the negotiations which they have had.

There are all sorts of reports afloat of free fish, free potatoes, concurrent legislation, and arrangement by treaty, but on the eve of the announcement these predictions are made with less certainty.

MIGHT TAKE WILSON BOY TO ENGLAND

Mother Says Someone Is Detaining Her Son Who Is Lost a Week.

NO TRACE OF THE LAD

No Reason Can Be Assigned for Anyone Keeping the Little Fellow Away From His Home.

The whereabouts of the missing Wilson child are still veiled in mystery. Although an entire week has elapsed since his disappearance, no trace whatever has been discovered of the little fellow.

The parents still cling to the theory that the boy has been kidnapped, and is being forcibly detained, but claim that they themselves have not the slightest idea of any peson who would be likely to take their child from them.

Mr. Wilson has no relatives in Canada whatever, and Mrs. Wilson has only her mother, Mrs. Brown of 17 Alexander street, West London, and one sister in East London.

It is quite impossible to conceive of anyone keeping the little fellow in hiding with a view to deriving pecuniary gain from such an action. Mrs. Wilson stated that no one had ever placed any life insurance on the child, as both she and her husband had always opposed the idea of child insurance.

No Enemies.

No one taking the child, according to Mrs. Wilson, can have been actuated by personal malice or spite, for neither of the parents can remember having had any personal enemies. The mother still believing that the child is alive, now thinks that someone, having taken the little fellow for some reason, is now afraid to give him up for fear of proceedings being taken against the person or persons detaining him. She holds fondly to the belief that some person has picked up the little fellow in his distress and cold, that he probably has taken ill, and that his rescuers now fear that they may be charged with kidnapping. She stated that if her boy were only returned to her safely, that neither she nor her husband would for one moment desire any prosecution to be instituted against those who have been detaining him.

"I would gladly give a million dollars if I had it, and let the matter drop, if they would only return him to me," said the mother.

Now that the city council have decided to offer a reward, Mrs. Wilson is hopeful that something will be heard of the child.

No Prosecution.

"Mr. Wilson has no relatives in the city; all his people are in England," she declared, "and my relatives would sacrifice everything in their power to bring back my child to me."

"I would not have it thought that any proceedings would be taken against the people who have him, in case he is returned safely. They might take him further away to avoid trouble, perhaps even to England, or somewhere else," said the boy's mother.

According to his mother's story he can be easily identified by his finders, if they will observe certain scars over his right

GLAUBITZ WILL MAKE CHANGES

New Engineer Has Taken Charge of the City's Electrical Department.

REARRANGING THE STAFF

It Is Said There Will Be No General Dismissals—Mr. Dark Still at Work.

Engineer Glaubitz has taken charge of the waterworks engineering department, and is already formulating plans for the reorganization. He will not make known what he intends doing, but it is understood that several changes will be made for the purpose of giving economical and businesslike administration to the departments.

There will not be wholesale dismissals, but there will be a rearrangement, and the personnel of the staff at the city hall and power stations may be considerably changed.

Mr. F. R. Dark, manager of the department, will be kept at the work he has been doing for a couple of months at least.

The City Engineer.

Mr. Van Cleve is no longer in touch with the waterworks, but is devoting himself largely to the work of the city engineer's department. He is getting the estimates ready for submission to the council.

With the assistance of Deputy Engineer Wright, he is also outlining a plan of the roads to be improved this year.

"I have no plans formulated as yet," said Mr. Glaubitz. "I am looking into the department. Everything possible will be done to make the department efficient as well as economical, and we will start a strong campaign for customers."

Springbank Machinery.

Mr. Glaubitz is busily engaged at present in installing the new pumping machinery at Springbank. The synchronous motors to be used there have arrived and are being placed in position. The new pumps are on the way, and will be placed as soon as they possibly can.

The pumping machinery at the Horton street station is being worked about eighteen hours a day. They will not be used 24 hours for some time as there is no need for the water, and the men are still engaged in installing the electrical machinery.

Charged to Company.

Engineer Maclachlan went to Hamilton last night to secure the rest of the machinery for the Horton street station. He will remain in that city until it is all secured.

It is understood that Engineer Glaubitz will charge the company with the whole expense of Mr. Maclachan's trip to that city, including his salary. This will be in the nature of a penalty for the company's failure to have the machinery here when promised.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

New York, Jan. 26.—Steamship Mauretania, from Liverpool and Queenstown, for New York, was reported 673 miles east of Sandy Hook at 1:30 a.m. Dock about 5 a.m. Friday. Steamer Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg, for New York, reported 193 miles east of Sandy Hook at 1:40 a.m. Dock about 4 p.m. today.

SENSATIONAL RAID ON OPIUM JOINTS

Federal Investigation May Result From Facts Discovered in Letters.

New York, Jan. 26.—A sensational raid made by the police today resulted in a large seizure of opium.

Raiders from the customs house banged into two opium joints across Seventh avenue from the back end of the Broadway Theatre and the Metropolitan Opera House, and arrested four Chinese, who reached for their guns, confiscated $10,000 worth of raw and cooked opium and layouts, and pocketed letters which hinted at the connivance of police officials in several big cities with the opium selling business.

Important Letters.

Customs Inspectors John W. Roberts and Walter P. Murphy, and Deputy Surveyors Edward R. Norwood and Harris, who worked up the evidence, said that several letters from police chiefs to other police chiefs, introducing one of the Chinese proprietors as a "good fellow," had been found, and turned over to the United States district attorney's office. The inspectors reported to the district attorney that it looked to them as if this part of the affair would bear a good deal of federal investigation. Chiefs of police in at least three of the larger cities in the country seemed to be on such good terms with a Chinaman nicknamed "Boston" that they had supplied Boston with letters of introduction. The letters indicated, they said, that Boston had nothing to fear from police interference in Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburg.

Bundles of letters and telegrams handed into the district attorney by the raiders seemed to show that the business of selling opium is being carried on extensively in every important city in the country, and that a company, which quotes the correct market price every week, and supplies other information, maintains selling agents in sham shops in all the big cities.

DESPERADO CAUGHT

Young Hanlon Wright Was Taken at South Woodslee.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Jan. 25.—The police of the entire district are elated at the capture of young Hanlon Wright, of Harrow, who was taken in Menard's shop in the village of South Woodslee today. Wright is the youth who recently tried to force his uncle, William Wright, to give him $5,000, and threatened him with death if he didn't. Later, with a repeating rifle and two revolvers, he held the whole village at bay and defied capture. His uncle asked Amherstburg police for help, but none was forthcoming, and later Mr. Wright gave the youth $75 and he left on the evening train.

BOTH DROWNED

Mysterious Disappearance at Halifax Cleared Up by Finding of the Bodies.

Halifax, Jan. 26.—The mystery of the disappearance of Bain Mason and Freeman Beaver was solved yesterday when their bodies were found in the sea.

The men went out shooting for birds on Saturday morning, intending to return at noon. They did not come back, and on Sunday search parties began to be organized. No trace could be found of them. Their boat was found on the shore, and the whole countryside was searched. The idea was they were lost in the woods.

At last attention was attracted to tracks made by Mason's dog on the ice, which seemed to circle round one spot. There was no break in the ice, but the searchers at last made a hole in the centre of the tracks, and dragged the bottom. There they found at the bottom of the water the bodies of the two men. They had fallen through, a cold snap came and the ice froze over again, hiding all traces of the tragedy.

Mason was 23 years old, and married to Beaver's sister. He had two children. Beaver was 16 years of age.

JULES VERNE BEATEN.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 25.—Development of the Papanese port of Tsuruga has made it possible to go around the world in 37 days, according to officers of the steamship Hall, who came ashore today.

Amusements

"The Final Settlement," Tonight and Tomorrow.

ELIZABETH ROYAL.

A new play by a well-known author, entitled "The Final Settlement," will be the attraction at the Grand tonight and tomorrow night. During the past season it was a big success over the western circuits, but this is its first season in the east. A well-told and consistent story, a theme that is recognized by all thinking men and women to be one of the most serious menaces to the future welfare of society in general, and its evil results, and the inevitable moral conveyed in a manner so convincing as to be actually startling, are a few of the reasons for its great success.

Victor Herbert's Latest Musical Success.

Victor Herbert's latest composition, the song play "When Sweet Sixteen," has created a profound impression where it has been heard, and it is sure to be witnessed here by a crowded house on its presentation at the Grand Opera House, Saturday next, matinee and night. The book and lyrics of "When Sweet Sixteen" are from the pen of George V. Hobart, whose name is as popular as is that of Victor Herbert as a purveyor of high-class theatrical fare.

The company was most carefully selected, and comprises artists who have been features of many notable productions, and includes Eugene Cowles, Harriet Standon, Florence Nash, Gipsy Dale, Frances Gordon, May McCabe, Scott Walsh, Harrison Brockbank, Louis Franklin and Frank Doane. There is a "Sweet Sixteen" chorus of young and pretty girls, who know how to sing. Seats selling.

The Great Newspaper Play, "The Fourth Estate."

"The Fourth Estate," which comes to the Grand next Monday evening, Jan. 30, is sure to appeal to the newspaper fraternity because of the truthful manner in which it suggests the life around and about a newspaper office. There are some exaggerations, of course, but in the main the picture is correctly drawn, with many of those little touches which must appeal only to the initiated. The surprising thing is that the general public should evince the same amount of interest in it. Heretofore newspaper plays have not been successful, and newspaper people on the stage were generally caricatures. But "The Fourth Estate" is a different matter. "The Fourth Estate" happily makes a newspaper office the background for the development of a plot which in itself has the elements of popular success. The seat sale opened this morning at 9 o'clock.

LONDON PAPERS FACE BIG PRINTERS' STRIKE

Twenty Thousand Compositors in Capital Alone Threaten to Go Out.

London, Jan. 25.—A conference of employers and compositors in the printing trade held today with a view to adjusting their differences and avoiding a threatened strike ended without an agreement having been reached.

The compositors demand a reduction in the hours of labor to a total of 50 hours a week, while the employers have offered to reduce the week's work to 52 hours. Neither side is at present prepared to yield. Already 20,000 compositors in London alone have notified their companies of their intentions to quit work on Feb. 1.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT COMING IN AUTUMN

[Canada Press.]

London, Jan. 25.—There is reason to believe that the original arrangement for the Duke of Connaught to replace Earl Grey as governor-general of Canada holds good. It is expected that the duke will go to Ottawa in the autumn.

STRIKE IS OFF.

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 25.—With the raising of the passenger freight and express embargo on the Southern Pacific Railway in Mexico yesterday, the head offices of the company there announced that the strike of the engineers is considered an incident of the past. The officials insist that no concessions have been made.

EGGS AWAY DOWN.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Conditions in the egg trade have been in a deplorable state for several days, but a climax was reached yesterday, when Chicago dealers found it necessary to knock off three cents a dozen on the prices. This latest drop brought eggs down 7 cents less than last week.

McCURDY'S FLIGHT.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 25.—The weather conditions here are more favorable than last night for the flight of J. A. D. McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, to Havana. The wind at Havana was reported nine miles an hour. At Sand Key it was fourteen. McCurdy declared he would start as soon as the wind grew more steady and moderated a little. The fourteen torpedo boat destroyers are still in port.

BURNED TO DEATH.

New York, Jan. 25.—A woman was burned to death, and her seven-months-old baby was overcome by smoke, in a fire today which burned out the apartments of Michael E. Landrigan, on West Sixty-eighth street. The body of Mrs. Landrigan, the dead woman, was stumbled over by the firemen after they had extinguished the blaze.

THE QUEBEC BUDGET UNDER CRITICS'-FIRE

Opposition in French Province in Hot Attack On the Government.

[Canada Press.]

Quebec, Jan. 26.—In the House the budget speech was under criticism at both the afternoon and evening sessions, and at midnight, when adjournment was agreed to, neither the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Tellier, nor Premier Gouin had been heard. The debate will be continued today. Messrs. Armand Lavergne, Gault, Cousineau and Jean Prevost put the arguments of the Opposition in their best and most effective form.

The colonization methods, the distribution of school funds in a way which gave election patronage to the Government, and the way that liabilities and assets were figured up in the budget, were strongly attacked from the Opposition side.

Losing French-Canadians.

Mr. Jean Prevost brought the day's discussion to a close at midnight. Mr. Prevost went over the colonization policy of the Government, claiming it might be made much more effective, and that not enough attention was paid to the French-Canadians, who were lost to the province by emigration to Ontario and the United States.

Fifteen private bills were read the second time, and sent to the private bills committee for consideration.

Mr. Robinard, of Montreal, asked a question today as to the number of cases pending before the court of review, and how many judgments and inscriptions had been made during the past few months.

Hon. Jeremie Decarie replied for the Government. He said that the educational buildings were assets of the province because the province owned them. It was a sign of the progress of the educational movement in Quebec that such schools were erected, and if they were neutral they had been approved of by the Quebec hierarchy, and as regards the checks, the members were looking after their counties, and were interested in getting as much for education as possible.

JUDGE BARRON'S PLAN FOR G. T. R. INQUIRY

Detroit and Durand Applications Will Be Heard at Windsor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Jan. 25.—Vegetable growing was the subject of an instructive address tonight by Mr. J. W. Rush, of Toronto, before the Stratford branch of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association.

Rev. W. G. Hanna, field secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, addressed a union meeting of the city churches tonight in the Centre Methodist Church.

The local Boy Scouts have reorganized with Mayor Brown as honorary and Mr. H. Coghill as active scoutmaster, and the following officers for the club: President, Earl Latter; vice-president, Lorne Ubelacker; secretary-treasurer, Earl Burdette.

Judge Barron has mapped out the following programme for the G. T. R. inquiry: Windsor, Detroit and Durand applications will be heard at the Manning House, Windsor, on Thursday and Friday of this week; Sarnia, on Saturday; Palmerston and Southampton cases at the former place on Monday and Tuesday of next week; Feb. 1, Niagara Falls; thence to Ottawa and the Maritime Provinces on Intercolonial arbitration business, thus postponing the G. T. R. inquiry for probably a week and a half.

Police Magistrate O'Loane this morning dismissed the case of Tax Collector Shephard, of St. Marys, against Councillor J. W. Graham, west ward, St. Marys, in which perjury in conection with the defendant's qualifications was charged.

Landrigan, who had fled to the street with his unconscious child in his arms, was uninjured except for a cut on the head. He was detailed by the police while they investigate the cause of the fire. The child is expected to recover.

FRANCE AND PEARY.

Paris, Jan. 25.—In connection with Explorer Chacot's appeal that France honor Capt. Robert E. Peary, Baron Hulet, secretary of the Geographical Society, states that the society has paid no official homage to Peary because of a rigid rule which compels the presentation of proof before official recognition of a scientific achievement can be made.

WORLD GETTING SMALL.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 25.—Development of the Japanese port of Tsuruga has made it possible to go around the world in 37 days, according to officers of the steamship Hall, who came ashore today.

Leaving Seattle or Vancouver by steamer, a traveller may land in Yokohama in twelve days. By taking train to Tsuruga and steamer to the trans-Siberian Railroad terminus, and continuing by the fastest train to London, he may cover the distance from Yokohama in sixteen days. By the fastest steamers and trains he may travel from London to Vancouver or Seattle in a little more than nine days.

LIVED IN A VAULT.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 25.—Boys wandering through an abandoned cemetery in the Sandy Hill section of the city today, found a woman and two girls living in a vault. All were suffering from hunger, cold and exposure, and they were removed by the police to charitable institutions.

The woman gave Mary Green as her name and said she came from Shenandoah, Pa. Her husband was killed in a mine accident two years ago, since when she had been working in the silk mills, but two weeks ago she lost her position, and left almost destitute.

WANT PURE MILK.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Among the items on the Legislative programme not mentioned in the speech yesterday are bills to secure a supply of pure milk, a censorship of moving pictures, amendments to make life more difficult for the wife beater and wife deserter, and it may be concluded some measure of additional taxation for the motorist following his own suggestion.

TWO WERE KILLED.

Moncton, N. J., Jan. 26.—George Wilson, Intercolonial Railway car inspector, who was so badly injured yesterday, when his inspector, Hiram Graves, was killed by a train, died last night.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung troubles, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerously sounding cough which indicates congested lungs. Sold by all dealers.

"Consumption"

Three Doctors Attended Her. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Cured Her.

It has long been known that the balsamic odor of the newly cut pine tree heals and invigorates the lungs and consumptives improve and revive amid the perfume of the pines. Since but few can command the luxury of a visit to the pineries, it will be good news to many to know that the essential healing principle of the pine has been separated, and refined, and combined with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines of recognized worth in the manufacture of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. Charles McDermott, Bathurst, N.B., writes: "I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Three years ago I had Consumption and had three doctors attending me, and they were very much alarmed about my condition. I was so weak and miserable I could not do my housework. While looking through your B.B.B. almanac I saw that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs so I got a bottle and after taking ten bottles I was completely cured. At that time I weighed 135 pounds and now weigh 172, a gain of 37 pounds in three years. I now keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything as I owe my life to it."

Price 25 cents at all dealers. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR FOR FIRST PRESBYTERIANS

Total Revenue Was $1,200 Greater in 1910 Than in 1909.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church was held last evening, and the reports presented show that the year just past has been the most prosperous in the history of the church. Every department is in the most flourishing condition, and the membership at present totals 499, an increase of 62 during the year.

PRESENTED WITH A MANTEL CLOCK

Mr. Chas. Beattie, Derwent, Surprised By His Friends.

An agreeable event transpired at the family residence of Mr. Chas. Beattie, of Derwent, on Monday evening, when he was presented by the trustee board of Salem Methodist Church with a beautiful marble clock in recognition of the valuable services he had rendered in superintending the work during the erection of the new edifice. Mr. W. Anderson made the presentation and Mr. G. R. Thompson, secretary, read the address.

Rev. A. E. Jones, the pastor, of Belmont, added a few congratulatory and well-chosen words. Though taken completely unawares, Mr. Beattie replied briefly in suitable terms, saying that the aid he had endeavored to render was cheerfully given from a sense of duty, and he was quite undeserving of their kindness.

QUESTION IN THE COMMONS

Postmaster Explains Why Parcels Are Destroyed in the Mails.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The Minister of Marine today gave the details of the fishery agreement of which Mr. Aylesworth had discussed last week.

At question time Mr. Sharpe (Lisgar), asked how many acres of land had been sold by the Government to the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company and at what price. This company is one of the subsidiary companies of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Mr. Oliver replied that 16,516 acres had been sold at $3 per acre for Government land and $7 60 an acre for Indian lands.

A question by Mr. J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton), standing for some time, in regard to conditions under which the Review of Review magazine entered Canada, was answered by the postmaster-general to the effect that this magazine entered Canada under the same conditions and terms of all other magazines.

Mr. Armstrong also asked as to why such numbers of letters, parcels and papers were torn or destroyed in transit through the mails. Mr. Lemieux replied that wrappings were often of poor paper and not sufficient to stand the wear and tear necessary to a trip through the mails. He also explained that any complaints of destroyed mail or lost registered letters were at once investigated. Dead letters were supposed to be returned to the writer just as soon as possible.

THE PULLMAN MYSTERY.

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—The baggage checked through to the border by L. R. Lewis, on whose ticket the man who died at Thief River Falls was travelling, has been sent to Glen Lewis, brother of L. R. Lewis, at Miami, Man., not Morris, as was previously reported. Glen Lewis today over the long distance phone said he did not know where his brother is, though he was told he was in Kansas. As far as he is concerned the mystery is as deep as ever as to the whereabouts of L. R. Lewis.

RAILWAYMEN INJURED.

Moncton, N. B., Jan. 25.—Hiram Graves was instantly killed and Geo. Wilson probably fatally injured today. They were car inspectors for the Intercolonial, and had just finished work on a car on a siding. Stepping from behind the car, they walked in front of No. 2 train, just entering the station. Graves' scalp was torn off, and he was fearfully mangled. Wilson was thrown some distance and very badly hurt. He is now in the hospital, where, it is said, he cannot recover. Both men have families.

This shot wounded one of the robbers, and later the injured bandit was captured when he attempted to board a car to come into the city for treatment. He gave the name of Roy Fox, 19 years old.

LONDON, THURSDAY, JAN. 26.

MR. EWART'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Ewart's address yesterday carried the familiar lesson that apparent differences of opinion are often due to a lack of precise definition of words. Many Canadians shy at the word "independence," because in their minds it connotes separation, although today the Dominion is independent in everything but name.

The successive stages of the evolution of Canadian independence were rapidly but clearly sketched by Mr. Ewart. Following the establishment of responsible government, mainly through the struggles of Mackenzie, Papineau, Baldwin and Lafontaine, came the assertion of Canada's fiscal independence by Sir John Macdonald in 1859, when the Imperial authorities were told that if they insisted on framing Canada's tariff they would have to assume the government of the country regardless of the wishes of the Canadian people. Canada's legislative, executive and fiscal autonomy have been long conceded, but until recent years she has not had the power of making treaties. This right, asserted by both political parties from time to time, has now been fully granted her. In matters of war, as well as of peace, she is likewise her own mistress. She is under no compulsion to take part in the mother country's wars; and the mother country is under no obligation to aid Canada. It is interesting to note that the last remnant of Canada's subordination is now in process of removal, the Imperial Government having yielded to Canada's claim to make her own copyright law.

The subjection of the Dominion to the Parliament of the United Kingdom being only a constitutional figment, Canada is in substance an independent nation, with all the attributes of nationhood but the name and title. Mr. Ewart asks that these be given her, as without them she takes rank below the petty states of South or Central America, or even the negro republic of Hayti. Mr. Ewart distinguished between independence and separation: he would have the crown remain as the link between the mother country and the daughter nations. The King would be in theory, as he is now in fact, answerable to his Canadian or Australian or South African ministers. Mr. Ewart predicted that a Canada independent in name would frame a treaty of alliance with the United Kingdom to supersede their present undefined relations in regard to war.

The speaker had not time to fully develop his thesis, and he did not indicate the exact steps that should be taken to bring about the new status of Canadian nationhood. One thing is certain: British statesmen have left Canada no grievances, and will deny her nothing she asks. Her position and destiny are entirely in the hands of her own people.

MUNICIPAL LAW BREAKERS.

The city council of Woodstock has voted the sum of $1,250 to the board of trade "for industrial purposes." The Woodstock Sentinel-Review shows courage in exposing the nature of the transaction, as follows:

> "What the industrial purposes are is well understood. The money is intended as a direct gift or bonus to a certain manufacturing concern (the Maximillian Company), and the council adopted the method of handing over the money to the board of trade in order that the law might be evaded. The law prohibits the granting of bonuses by municipal councils, and by municipalities, except under certain well-defined conditions. The action of the Woodstock council was, therefore, taken in defiance of the law.
>
> "More than that, the council knew that its action was illegal. Ald. Kemp, who is a lawyer, told the council that not only was the grant illegal, but it was in violation of the oath of office taken by the members of the council."

This is an instance of what London has to contend against. Woodstock is only one of many municipalities which regularly grant disguised bonuses to industries in violation of the law. London is fighting this cutthroat competition by means of fixed assessments, but has done it legally and above board.

The question should be raised at the present session of the Legislature, and steps taken to compel the municipalities to stop their under-handed rivalry and abide by the law.

THE ATTACK UPON MR. FIELDING

The Toronto Globe says that a "despicable scoundrel" is trying to lie away the good name of Mr. Fielding by insinuating that General Manager Travers, now in prison, subscribed $2,500 to the fund raised for the finance minister by his friends, and that Mr. Fielding's attitude toward the Farmers' Bank was influenced by the subscription. The Globe's reference to a despicable scoundrel is not too strong. Mr. Fielding was purposely kept in ignorance of the names of the men who contributed to his testimonial, and Travers was not on the list. In view of the facts, the following from the London Free Press carries its own comment:

> "And yet, if the money (Travers' supposed gift), made up a portion of that colossal gift (the Fielding fund), it was an immoral contribution. The money belonged to the depositors and shareholders of the bank, who must now suffer the loss of it.
>
> "The situation is not helped at all by the charges which have been made that Mr. Fielding ignored a warning from the New York state department of insurance that stealing was going on in connection with the bank.
>
> "Also, there is that fact that Mr. Travers and his associates, some of whom are fugitives from justice, obtained the charter for the Farmers' Bank from the department over which Mr. Fielding presides."

The Toronto Mail and Empire asks what Mr. Fielding will do with the Travers' subscription. The author of the falsehood was not mistaken in assuming that others would help him to give it currency.

SIR CHARLES DILKE.

A great English statesman, Sir Charles Dilke, died today. But for a scandal that blasted his career, he might have been prime minister. Thirty years ago he was Chamberlain's right-hand man in the Radical wing of the Gladstone Government. Unlike Chamberlain, he remained a Radical, and followed Gladstone on the home rule issue. There seemed to be no height to which he could not rise. He was a profound scholar, an effective speaker and debater, and an unrivalled authority on foreign and imperial questions. He struggled to rehabilitate himself after the exposures of the Crawford divorce case, but found the door to political preferment closed. The Forest of Dean division of Gloucestershire returned him to the House of Commons in every election since 1892 by enormous majorities, but he had to remain a private member, although his opinions had much influence with all parties. His brilliant wife, who died a few years ago, remained loyal to him. She was the widow of Mark Pattison, who was the original of the pedant in George Eliot's novel, "Middlemarch."

A HINT FROM NEW YORK.

Agriculture in New York is making very decided advances is the observations of Mr. W. Thompson, of the Farmers' Advocate editorial staff, who recently paid a month's visit to the state. People once enamored of town life or the west are now returning freely to the occupancy of New York farms. The most marked improvement is to be seen in dairying, fruit growing, poultry-keeping for egg production, and road making. That farmers are in earnest quest of a better understanding of their business is seen in the fact that the state college of agriculture is over-crowded, and several hundred thousand dollars will shortly be expended on new buildings and equipment. Agricultural literature is keenly sought and agricultural discussions are going on in every county.

In view of the agricultural policies of the state it would behoove Ontario, lying right alongside so progressive a commonwealth, not to rest upon past traditions, but to be keenly alive to the needs and opportunities of a newer agriculture.

General regret is expressed at the retirement to the supreme court of ex-Governor Hughes, whose clean, fearless and efficient administration commended him with the people. How permanent the regeneration of public affairs will prove time only will determine, but signs are not wanting that the cumulative effects of it will largely abide, as there is a powerful and widespread revulsion among the masses against graft and public crookedness.

The January thaw has worn out its welcome.

At least Dr. Beattie Nesbitt can't complain that he was not given a good start.

The announcement Mr. Fielding will make today may add to the value of every acre of farm land in Ontario.

The new warden of Middlesex is a professional man. The farmers have not the narrow-mindedness loosely ascribed to them at election time.

The Finance Minister will let the reciprocity cat out of the bag today. Even Mr. Fielding's slanderers will admit his ability to keep a secret of state.

A writer in the Woman's National Daily says that 10,000 men in New York city are being supported by their wives. Probably the majority of these husbands would oppose a demand for the ballot by their wives.

Mr. Lemieux spoke at a banquet in Montreal last week, and was reported as saying that the fiscal policy adopted by Canada 25 years ago was the admiration of the world. Mr. Lemieux questioned in Parliament, said that he used the words "fifteen years" and referred to the Fielding tariff. The context bears him out. Mr. Borden, who spoke after Mr. Lemieux at the banquet, remarked at the time that Mr. Lemieux should have gone further back—meaning the National Policy. Mr. Lemieux is accused of denying his own words by some Opposition journals. Scoring an imaginary point against a cabinet minister is more important, it seems, than truth and fair play.

CHILD LABOR IN JAPAN.

[New York Sun.]

According to Dr. Kuwada, a member of the Japanese House of Peers, more than two-fifths of the 1,000,000 factory hands are women and children. With no laws to fear or evade, says a writer in Success, the mill owners are employing 70,000 children under the age of 14. In the match and tobacco industries particularly the work is for the most part done by children, and of these many are under 10 years of age.

In the spinning mills these child workers are often compelled to continue at their tasks at night without receiving extra pay or chance for rest. For disobedience of shop rules they are lashed and fined, this latter imposition usually wiping out their meagre wages.

Most of these girls are recruited from the poor rural districts by agents, who lure them on with fascinating tales of city life. The ignorant parents, persuaded that the city will afford their daughters greater opportunity for education and refinement, offer up their children to an existence from which few live to return, and these broken in health and morals.

A BIG PROBLEM SOLVED.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

In these days when eggs are practically as valuable as uncut diamonds, it may be just as well to emphasize, for the benefit of our country readers at least, a discovery which has been made by a man in Massachusetts, which will, he says, compel hens to lay with energy even in weather such as we have had the last few days.

His remedy is a very simple one. It is: "If the man who owns a flock of hens will only wear a red flannel shirt whenever he comes within sight of the hens, the hens will lay prodigiously, no matter what the weather."

We would advise the Ottawa merchants who cater chiefly to the farmers' trade to at once proceed to lay in large stocks of red flannel.

"Well," said the farmer constituent, "Joe, don't you think it would be cheaper for you to board at a livery stable?"

GERMANY'S POOR NOBILITY.

[London Globe.]

Professor Kekule von Stradnoltz has just made an interesting study of the condition of many of the ancient ennobled families of Germany. The professor takes his facts from the records of the Central Society for the Assistance of German Nobles. Here he finds that the descendants of families whose nobility is beyond question, are in some instances gaining a livelihood, such as it is, as clerks, shopmen and minor officials. Many have emigrated to America. Among these are scions of houses justly distinguished in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Not a few, having put in their term of military service, are now passing their days in the ranks.

SCHOOL DEBATE FOR THE HOUSE

Legislature May Discuss the Bilingual Question.

RESOLUTION ON MATTER

One Member Asks That Nothing But English Be Taught in Provincial Schools.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Four innocent typewritten lines, comprising a notice of motion, given yesterday in the Ontario Legislature, may stir up a bitter debate and cause the bilingual school question to become a strong issue in Ontario politics. The notice of motion, given by Mr. Ferguson, M. P. P. for Grenville, is as follows:

"That in the opinion of this House, no language, other than the English language, should be used as a medium of instruction in the schools of this province."

The remainder of the day's proceedings were lacking in interest, consisting only of the cut-and-dried addresses of the mover and seconder of the address in reply to the speech from the throne, a speech by the Hamilton Labor member, and some routine business.

Something of a surprise was sprung when no member of the Opposition rose to follow Mr. James Torrence, of North Perth, when he seconded the motion which will be sent to the Lieutenant-Governor in reply to the speech from the throne. Mr. Allan Studholme, the Labor member for East Hamilton, spoke briefly, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon the debate will be brought to a close by speeches from Hon. A. G. MacKay and Sir James P. Whitney. Mr. A. C. Pratt and Mr. Torrence moved and seconded the address in reply to the speech, and each made a most comprehensive and lucid speech.

Moving the Address.

In moving the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Mr. Pratt (Norfolk) referred particularly to the question of industrial and technical education. Everyone was glad, he said, that the Government intended to do something more along that line. In Ontario a satisfactory apprenticeship system had not been established, and the result had been disastrous. It was with a great deal of satisfaction that the people of the Province learned that the great National Park was to be preserved and conserved, he said. There was just a question, he continued, whether tourists should be given free and unrestricted access to the park.

Champion of Alfalfa.

The splendid prosperity which characterized the farmers of the Province was a matter for great satisfaction. During the year, Ontario had produced $250,000,000 worth of farm products. What Ontario needed, he said, was a $10,000 publicity man, who could spread broadcast the resources of the Province. Something should be done, he said to interest the farmers in the growing of alfalfa. The Government should send out 1,000 bushels of seed.

He commended the Government for its work along the line of conservation.

Referring to the question of reciprocity, Mr. Pratt said no one in Canada should favor it. If the United States wanted any reciprocal arrangement with Canada, he said, they should reduce their tariffs, and come to Canada for any concessions.

Since 1906, he said, 556 taverns and 16 shops had been removed, but better than all that was the fact that the liquor law had been enforced.

During his trip to the old country, said Mr. Pratt, he had been told that the Whitney Government was a government which was unlike any other government in the world.

Mr. Torrance (North Perth), who followed, said it was a matter for congratulation that the Provincial Treasurer, in spite of the large expenditures of the year, was able to announce a surplus. It was commendable also that the expenditure on the hydro-electric line had been within the estimate. He commented favorably on the way the public institutions of the Province were administered, especially the London asylum. The Central Prison farm at Guelph, he said, was the most successful of the kind on the continent. It was an object lesson to the people of the entire Dominion. Ontario, he said, owed a great debt of gratitude to the Provincial Secretary for his work in connection with prison reform. His name would go down in history along with that of the great prison reformer, John Howard.

Mr. Torrance favored the recent change in the system of licensing companies incorporated under Dominion charter, and he also thought the time had arrived when the Government should deal with the question of the licensing of automobiles.

Mr. Studholme (East Hamilton) expressed the opinion that all the discussion was a waste of time. He was glad the farmers were so prosperous, but claimed that most of the money came from the wage-earners. He did not think there was any necessity for the Government to spend money to bring out help for the farmers, when the farmers were so well able to pay. The Government should cut out the system altogether, he claimed. He reserved the right to make a longer speech at some other time.

Hon. A. G. MacKay moved the adjournment of the debate.

Owing to the illness of Mr. S. J. Fox, of East Victoria, it is unlikely that he will occupy a seat in the House during the session.

Several bills were introduced yesterday by Sir James Whitney and the Hon. J. J. Foy, all being consolidations and statute revisions.

PATERSON AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Hon. Wm. Paterson arrived from Washington this afternoon, but when interviewed refused absolutely to make any statement on the reciprocity agreement. "It will be communicated in the House in due course," was all he would say.

ATTEMPT TO PROCURE ARSON CHARGED

John B. and A. J. Trolley of Brooke Township Arrested —The Latter Bailed.

Alvinston, Jan. 25.—John B. Trolley was taken to Sarnia jail last night where he will await trial at the spring assizes on a charge of offering money to three parties to set fire to the barns of Neil A. McLean, of Brooke Township.

A. J. Trolley was arrested on a similar charge, but was bailed in the sum of $1,600.

George Irving and George Parry, of Alvinston, and Charles Hanley, of Brooke, said J. B. Trolley had offered them each $25 to set fire to McLean's barns. Irving implicated A. J. Trolley by stating that he had offered him a certain sum to commit the same act. The building was destroyed by fire on the night of Jan. 11.

WESTERN MEMBERS DISCUSS ELEVATORS

Urge the Government to Take Immediate Action For Investigation.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Representatives of the prairie provinces on either side of the House availed themselves of the resolution of Mr. Martin (Regina) to devote the four hours' sitting of the House to local campaigning. Mr. Martin's resolution set forth that "in view of the investigations recently made by the Government into the conditions existing in the terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, such measures be adopted by the Government as will more effectually prevent the improper admixture of grain delivered to the several elevators through which the grain of the western provinces passes."

In support of his resolution Mr. Martin recited the grievances of the farmers, as communicated to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the west, and impressed upon the House the necessity for immediate action. He suggested that the remedy might be wrought either through the channel of Government operation or by special Government commission.

Mr. MacNutt, as a practical farmer, related the experience of the grain from the time it left the farm as an A1 commodity until it reached the miller in deteriorated form. The problem was one, in his opinion, which demanded federal action.

Messrs. Neely, Conmee, and Turriff were the other Liberal speakers on the resolution.

The member for Rainy River declared that the reported condition of affairs was much exaggerated, and proper administration of existing regulations would prove a sufficient remedy.

Messrs. Meighen and Schaffner, who spoke from the Opposition benches, criticised the resolution, on the ground that it had not specified the remedy. Both declared themselves advocates of government ownership and operation.

ELOPERS CAUGHT

Albert Marsden and Frances Heuber Taken Back to Port Huron.

Windsor, Jan. 25.—Albert Marsden, 26 years old, and Frances Heuber, a girl under 16 years, whom he induced to run away from her home in Port Huron, were picked up by the police here this afternoon and turned over to the Port Huron deputy sheriff, with whom they returned. Marsden was arrested on a warrant secured by the girl's mother, and will be prosecuted.

The pair eloped from Port Huron last Saturday, and came to Detroit this morning. They crossed to Windsor, and Marsden went to work at the new tunnel yards of the Michigan Central, after securing lodging for the girl at a Goyeau street boarding-house, where she was found later in the day by Patrolman Cunliffe. Marsden and the girl told the police they came to Windsor with the intention of being married.

STRONG MEASURES TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

The Government Rangers To Be Granted Larger Powers Than Formerly.

[Canada Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Granted large powers by the railway commission through its rangers, who are given all the authority of inspectors of the commission, the Dominion forestry department will this year make a special effort to enforce the recent regulations of the commission in regard to forest fires caused by the railways. A separate official will be appointed to look after this part of the work.

The latest step, that of constituting the department's rangers inspectors, is one of the most important that have yet been taken with the view of preserving the Canadian forest wealth. The forest service was formerly greatly hampered by the inability of its employees to go to any length in their investigations, but as now empowered they will be able to inspect locomotives to see if they are properly equipped with spark-preventing devices, and in other ways to act directly as agents of the railway commission.

The department will this year initiate a new side of its work, which may eventually require a separate laboratory for itself as in the American forest service. This is the testing of preservatives for fence posts and the like, a matter of great interest in the west.

THEATRE CHAPLAINS

Montreal Places of Amusements Join the Actors' Union.

Montreal, Jan. 25.—Each of Montreal's theatres, music halls and similar places of amusement will have its own particular chaplain when the Actors' Church Union gets its branch in this city into working order.

The Actors' Church Union is solely for the purpose of placing some of the really higher things within the reach of its members, and will, in the not far distant future, come into existence here.

Edward Terry, the English actor who was here last week, is responsible for the formation of this society, which will be made a branch of the Actors' Church Union now flourishing to a large extent in England, where some of the most prominent divines are on the committee.

While in Montreal Mr. Terry approached the Anglican Bishop of Montreal, who called a meeting of his clergy for the purpose of organizing a branch of the union. All the clergymen present at that meeting were most enthusiastic, and willing to help the union along.

A NEW BANK

Montreal Capitalists to Launch a Ten Million Dollar Concern.

(Canada Press.)

Montreal, Jan. 25.—It is stated in financial circles here that application has been made to Ottawa for a charter for La Banque Generale du Canada, with a capital of $10,000,000.

It is believed that a group of rich capitalists headed by Mr. Rudolphe Forget, M. P., and J. N. Greenshields, K. C., are behind the new banking project, which plans to give Canada a powerful French chartered bank, which will be known the world over.

CHINK SUES MONTREAL.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—Wong Ling, laundry expert, of celestial extraction, has started action before Mr. Justice Greenshields against the city for $1,900 damages for injuries he sustained by falling on the street and smashing his knee. Wong Ling claimed that while stepping from a car in March, 1909, opposite the customs house, he slipped and fell, breaking his kneecap and suffering other injuries which sent him to the hospital for three weeks and laid him up for five months. The accident, he claimed, was caused by the bad condition of the street.

CONSERVATIVES TO HOLD SCHOOL CAUCUS

Bilingual Problem To Be Discussed By Whitney and His Aides.

Toronto, Jan. 25. — The question of bilingual schools will be taken up at the first caucus of the Conservative members of the Legislature, to be held this week.

There is a division of opinion among the members as to how far this matter can be discussed with benefit to the party. As a matter of policy many desire it be left alone, while others think that if Sir James Whitney takes the "bull by the horns" and wipes out bilingual schools altogether, that he will materially strengthen himself.

With the French element and the Irish element in the Roman Catholic Church at variance, and the Orangemen solid for it, the time is regarded as opportune. The strong enemy of the bilingual school situation is T. W. McGarry, M. P. P. for Renfrew North, a forceful fighter and a good debater. He is an Irish Roman Catholic.

The cabinet ministers are relieved of considerable embarrassment at the coming caucus because of the absence of Hon. Dr. Reaume.

PRELATES AT ANN ARBOR

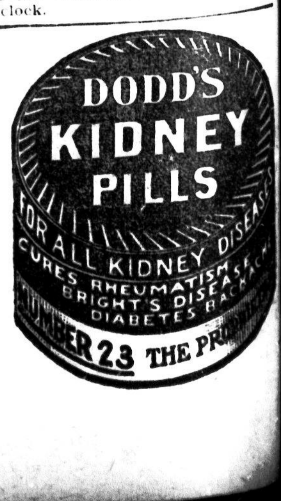
Bishop Fallon to Attend Notable Gathering of Hierarchy.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 25.—Never did this old university town entertain within its gates so distinguished an assembly of churchmen as has gathered to elevate Rev. Edward D. Kelly to the episcopate. This afternoon the bishop-elect, accompanied by Father Edward Taylor, formerly Father Kelly's assistant, and now pastor of the church in Laingsburg; Father W. M. Murphy, his present assistant; Dr. William A. Scullen, of Cleveland, and Father Joseph McCabe, of Hubbardston, met the special train from the east with its burden of distinguished prelates. There were in the party Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Maes, of Covington; Bishop Foley, of Detroit, Dr. Shahan, of the Catholic University at Washington, and Dr. Dyer, president of St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore.

Tonight Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, Bishop Richter, of Grand Rapids, Bishop John P. Farrelly, of Cleveland, and Archbishop Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati, arrived to join the big party of dignitaries. Tomorrow morning Bishop T. F. Hickey, of Rochester, Bishop Gabriels, of Ogdensburg, and Bishop M. F. Fallon, of London, Ont., will be among the arrivals on a special train.

PARTY FOR FUNERAL.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 25.—Attached to the Toronto express last night were the private cars of Superintendent Busteed, from Vancouver, and General Superintendent Arundel, with a party of C. P. R. officials, going to Ottawa to attend the funeral of the late J. E. Schwitzer. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Busteed, Mr. and Mrs. Maison, H. B. Lake (chemist), J. C. Holden (assistant division engineer), Frederick Crossley (assistant engineer), J. H. Curle (solicitor), James A. Heskett (assistant engineer). The party was made up in two hours, the decision to go not being arrived at until eight o'clock.



THE WOMAN'S CORNER

A DAINTY MISS IN A LACE-TRIMMED DRESS

Fashion's wheels slowly turn, and the old styles come back to sight now and then. The last turn brought rickrack for trimming into vogue once more.

This little dress is made of sheerest linen, tucked and trimmedl with bands of rickrack insertion, and the skirt has a full flounce edged with wide rickrack lace. The collar and cuffs are made of fine German valenciennes in sharp contrast to the heavier lace of rickrack.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: (1) We are two girls of fourteen. Is it proper to go to the theatre in the afternoon with a boy friend? (2) How should we wear our hair, and how long should our dresses be?

D. B. AND M. B.

A.—(1) Yes, if your mother approves. (2) Arrange your hair just as simply and girlishly as possible. Your skirts should be three or four inches above your shoetops.

Dear Miss Grey: If a young man does not ask if he may see a girl home when circumstances indicated that he should, and afterward treats the girl as if she had been indifferent through not waiting, how should she show him that it is modesty on her part and not indifference? MISUNDERSTOOD.

A.—Since the young man had not the consideration for the young girl to signify his intention of taking her home, she certainly should not worry about what he thinks or how he treats her.

Dear Miss Grey: Please publish recipe for English plum pudding, also complete following quotation and state author.

A SUBSCRIBER.

A.—English Plum Pudding: Mix in the following order 6 ounces flour, 6 ounces stale bread crumbs, ¾ pound seeded raisins, ¾ pound currants, ¾ pound suet chopped fine, 10 ounces granulated sugar, 1 cup molasses, 3 ounces finely cut orange peel, 1 teaspoon each nutmeg and mace, 6 well-beaten eggs and tablespoon salt. Turn out on a well-floured cloth, tie securely, leaving space for pudding to swell, and put into kettle boiling water. Boil 5 hours, keeping covered with water.

Oh, woman! In our hours of ease
Uncertain, coy, and hard to please,
And variable as the shade
By the light quivering aspen made—
When pain and anguish wring the brow
A ministering angel thou.

—Sir Walter Scott.

USE FOR STOCKING LEGS.

Cut off the feet and hem neatly, then get three-quarters of a yard of one-inch elastic, stitch it on to the top of the stocking, and you will find them a great blessing to invalids, to wear on the top of the nightdress or underneath. The arms can be moved as the invalid requires, as the elastic stretches any way. This little hint was sent to an invalid in the Royal Infirmary, London, and was approved of by the doctor. Another way to use up old stocking legs is to turn in a small hem, get a crochet needle and do a small chain round the leg. Then you can make fresh loops and knit on the same as any other stocking, and commence to make heel and foot. This has been tried with great success, and looks well and saves wool and labor.

IN THE KITCHEN.

To keep tins from rusting, it is a good plan to place them near the fire after they have been washed and dried.

To clean a japanned tray, by far the best plan is to rub the surface with a little olive oil and then polish it with a piece of flannel. Boiling water should never be used. If it is done, the japanning will wear off or crack.

In washing a pastry board, care should be taken to use the scrubbing brush and sand in the direction of the grain of wood. The dirt is by this means removed without scratching the surface. The sand should be washed off with plenty of water, and the board first wiped with a clean cloth and then placed in the air to dry.

If the boiler is rusty, the best method of cleaning it is to rub it with a piece of coarse kitchen flannel dipped in ashes. Should this method fail to succeed, the experiment should be tried of scouring the surface of the boiler with a mixture of paraffine and ashes.

TO WASH AN UMBRELLA.

If your umbrella falls into the mud and you cannot brush the dirt off, the best way is to wash it with a soap lather. First grease the inside wires to prevent them from rusting; then proceed to wash the cover, scrubbing the dirty parts with a soft brush. Next rinse it with cold water, inside and out, and hang in the sun to dry. The umbrella must be kept open all the time. It will look quite new when done.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

Useful Hints For Housewives

It is not generally known that if a lemon is warmed before squeezing nearly double the quantity of juice will be obtained.

To prevent a patient being disturbed or awakened when asleep, have a few paper bags made by hand, filled with coal. Replenish fire when required.

When your hot-water bottles leak do not throw them away, but fill with hot sand. Make the sand hot in the oven and pour into the bottle. It will keep hot much longer than water.

Mutton dripping will not set hard and suety, as it usually does, if directly the fat is poured from the baking tin, the vessel containing it is put at the back of the stove and allowed to stay there until the stove itself cools.

To remove grease from a kitchen table scrub well with hot water to which half a teaspoonful of whiting has been added; wipe, and then dry thoroughly with a clean cloth. This will make the table look equal to new.

Immediately pudding cloths have been used scald them, wash them thoroughly, using soda but no soap, and hang them up to dry. A great deal of trouble is saved in this way, for if left till cold it is most difficult to wash them. Let them air well before they are put away, or they will have a nasty odor when next used.

FASHIONS

The general outline of the figure will still be the narrow silhouet.

Skirts made with the waistband a couple of inches above the normal, so as to do away with the belt, are meeting with considerable favor.

Raglan and peasant sleeves are seen on many of the smartest coats, but the regulation coat sleeve is in the lead.

Wide braids are seen on many of the white serge and mohair suits.

Shading is in such favor in Paris that feathers, veils and even gowns are shaded.

The raglan sleeve predominates in the evening coat, the kimono sleeve is next in favor, and after that the orthodox coat sleeve of generous size.

USEFUL HINTS.

After an umbrella has been in use for a short time, put a drop of oil in the centre of the top about once a month. This prevents the ribs from rusting.

If two thin glasses have stuck one in the other, place them in rather warm water and pour cold water in the upper glass. The expansion of one and the contraction of the other loosens them.

A little soap or black lead rubbed on the hinge of a squeaking door will often remedy matters.

Brown boots may be blackened by rubbing the blacking well into the soles with a raw potato and then polishing.

Celery Toast.

A dainty dish for lunch is celery toast. For a small family clean one moderate-sized stalk of tender celery, using all the stalk and the tender leaves. Cut in small pieces and place in a dish over fire, with just enough water to cook it. Add a generous pint of milk and let it remain over the fire until scalded. Thicken slightly with flour, and add a small pinch of butter. Pour over slices of well browned toast.

Baked Veal.

Buy two or more veal steaks or as many as needed, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Have yolks of one or two eggs well beaten, and a crock of cracker crumbs ready for use. Dip veal in egg, then in crumbs, and fry until a golden brown. Have one or two cans of peas opened and drained, or use fresh peas in season. Put veal in baking pan and cover with peas. Season with salt, pepper and butter. Do not quite cover with water. Put into oven and bake for half an hour, basting at intervals to keep peas from hardening.

Banana Pudding.

Slice three large bananas thin. Make a custard of the yolks of three eggs, two cups milk, one-half cup sugar, small piece of butter, pinch salt, two tablespoonfuls of flour, and a little vanilla. Beat all together and boil in a double boiler until it thickens, then pour over the bananas and serve with whipped cream.

The Penniless Millionaire

BY DAVID CHRISTIE MURRAY.

(Copyrighted: All Rights Reserved.)

"Well," Maitland pursued, "there is no doubt whatever that on that date a marriage was contracted in Shanghai between Miss Angela and Mr. Bernhard Bernheim."

"And," struck in Sir Jonas, "as I have already informed my friend, Mr. Maitland, all the responses I have received to the inquiries I have made confirm the belief that Mrs. Belthorpe and that lady are identical."

"I have an additional confirmation here," said Angela. "I found it among some old letters only yesterday. My father, who performed the ceremony, was an amateur photographer, and he took this before we left the consulate."

She passed the photograph over which her fingers had been toying to Sir Jonas.

"That is young Bernheim," he said. "I haven't seen him since he went to the east, but there is no change indicated here. I don't think you'll have any doubt as to the identity of the lady, either."

He handed the photograph to Maitland, who polished his glasses carefully before he looked at it.

"Yes," he said, after a moment's scrutiny, "this is Bernheim, and this is Mrs. Belthorpe."

The two young people, he a type of youthful, manly beauty, and she radiant in her early womanhood, were twined together in a lover's attitude, his arm about her neck, and hers about his waist, and two hands fondly clasped. The room in which they stood was furnished as an office, and on the wall was a shield bearing the American Eagle and the letters "U. S. A."

"This affords some confirmation, don't you think, Maitland?" asked the lawyer.

"Strong confirmation, I am willing to admit," said Maitland; "but I am beginning to hope that we shall find the best confirmation of all, that which will be afforded by Mr. Bernheim in person."

"Oh," cried Angela, "is there any real hope of that?"

"I have received a letter which purports to come from him," Maitland answered. "I think that in the position at which we have arrived, Levy, we are justified in explaining the whole of the alleged circumstances to Mrs. Belthorpe."

Sir Jones handed across the table the letter which Angela had read long before either of them—the letter which Dolan had been instructed to post in Constantinople. It was so deeply imprinted on her mind that she could have recited it with almost verbal accuracy, but she went over it with scrupulous attention.

"The Dragon's Horn?" she said in a tone of wonder. "The great emerald? It is the most precious jewel in the world, and it was jealously guarded. How could anyone—any foreigner above all—have succeded in stealing the Dragon's Horn? But the signature is Bernhard's. It looks as if it were written in illness or in pain, but that makes its character all the less deniable."

"Now," said Sir Jonas, taking the letter from her and handing her a sheet of paper on which a small newspaper cutting was pasted, "we have in answer to that letter issued this advertisement."

"One million sterling?" looking with eyes of astonishment from one to the other. "Is it worth so much? It is worth ten times more to restore poor Bernhard to liberty, but isn't it an audaciously grasping request?"

"This is somewhat more so," returned Sir Jonas, withdrawing the advertisement and substituting for it a third document. "Run off on a typewriter, you see. I have consulted an expert, who tells me that there are a hundred thousand machines of this particular kind in use, so that it affords us no practical clue at all."

This document had an interest of its own. It was the only one with which she was not familiar.

"Say double, and the owners close. The thief can well afford to pay a far higher price than that. If the Llamas of the Yellow Monastery want the Dragon's Horn back again, as they seem to do, they might be persuaded to spring a part of it. But it is very essential that those who are trying to negotiate should understand that the present holders of the jewel are not going to be drawn into any peril of the law. They may offer you a dozen rendezvous, and until the transaction is closed each one of these must be instantly kept on your side, although it may be neglected upon theirs. They will insist upon a prolonged trial of your bona fides, and any attempt at treachery will result in silence."

"In answer to that absurdity," said Sir Jonas, "I have drafted this advertisement."

Angela read in his precise legal hand:

"J. L. guarantees immediate payment of claim as amended, but the confidence trick is as little likely to succeed with him as its practice is to be attempted on his side. It is hoped that this assurance will be regarded as explicit and complete. After a promise so publicly given it is not to be imagined that persons in the position of the intending purchasers could disgrace themselves in the eyes of the world by recoiling from their solemn declaration. Vendors and purchasers may meet to arrange preliminaries at any place appointed by the former."

This very explicit statement was preceded by detached lines which read as follows:

"Green typed letter addressed 'J. L.,' unsigned, posted in Strand, W., six o'clock p.m., 9th inst."

"I think that ought to bring them into the open," said Maitland.

"I'm not so sure that it will, though," responded Maitland. "But we'll have it broadcast over London in an hour, in any case, and I think there is a ray of hope for you, Mrs. Belthorpe, that you may recover your husband. You see, we can't tell into whose hands the jewel may have fallen. If bold and determined people back it if they will, as my friend puts it, come into the open. But after thirty years of criminal experience I have found that there is nothing more difficult than to court a receiver of stolen goods into an open negotiation with the rightful owner."

"I do not think we can do more at present," said Maitland, rising and taking his hat in his hand. "I am hoping for a speedy restoration of my poor dear young friend to liberty—my poor dear young master is the term I should have used—and I am satisfied to believe, madam, that with his reappearance your claims will be established. I ought to have told you, perhaps, that Captain Bevan, of the New Orient, one of the most trusted of our officers on our China line, is now homeward bound, and cables me from Trieste that he had the honor of knowing Mrs. Bernheim before her marriage."

"I know dear Captain Bevan well," said Angela, warmly. "He has been on the China line for years. He used to carry me on his shoulders when I was a child."

"That again confirms Mrs. Belthorpe's statement, you see, Maitland," said Sir Jonas. "I think that before long we shall be congratulating you, Mrs. Belthorpe, on your coming into your kingdom."

CHAPTER XX.

Mr. Dolan had been in many disagreeable places in his time, but the place with which he learned to associate his most unpleasant memories was the city of Constantinople. Thither he had been dispatched by the high destinies that ruled his fate. He had been provided with a considerable amount of business of one sort or another, most of which he believed to have been invented for the express purpose of covering the real object of this journey, which, as he conceived it, was neither more nor less than to hand over Bernheim's letter to a person who would see it dispatched to England. Dolan was one of those people who, in the most settled and civilized quarter of the world, believe themselves to be insufficiently equipped for the affairs of life unless they carry a leaded revolver in a hip pocket. Except that he was immeasurably a lower kind of brute from the social point of view, he was a sort of modern Bombadil—a sham survivor of the days of Bret Harte's Argonauts, an embodied truculence, which in its own fashion had gone about the world bullying timid people, and preying for the most part on the cowardly instincts of the criminal class. Dolan was one of the dogs who eat dog, and his whiskified wits had always been at work for the imposition of blackmail.

Every nation has its own types of scoundrelism. Dolan's type is only bred in the great republic of the west, and is rapidly dying before the advance of justice and civilization even there. He had naturally encountered a setback here and there, but on the whole he had taken his semi-drunken, hectoring way through life in triumph, and it had not been his habit to exist, as he did now, in a state of abject terror. There rested on him a constant suspicion that he was being watched and followed. The knowledge of his movements and designs which had been displayed at the legation seemed more than human. In Dolan's apprehension it displayed a union of omniscience and omnipresence. He feared in every momentary fellow-passenger, in every official who inspected his ticket, in every station lounger who looked at him when the train paused for refreshment, an emissary of the Yellow Monastery; and, well as he had been paid for the services he had rendered, he cursed that institution for having ever beguiled him into its employ.

He was carried further and further away from the life he knew, and he was able to hold less and less communion with his kind. When he met a travelling Englishman or American he fastened on him with a slavish propitiation. Dolan, as the chartered bully, the untamed denizen of the wild and woolly west, was not an ingratiating person, but Dolan as toady and lickspittle was even more trying to the nerves.

Whether, his fancy being set on the idea that he was being watched, he grew fearful and anxious, and so took to an unconscious exaggeration, or whether he did really encounter a greater number of Chinamen than are commonly to be seen in a journey across Europe, he had never believed that the race was so ubiquitous as he appeared to be. He seemed to be meeting Chinamen everywhere, and all their oblique eyes seemed to be furtively directed towards him. And when, after five days of discomfort, he found himself in Pera, his fears were translated in certainties. There was no longer the slightest doubt that he was under surveillance. Perhaps the watch that was exercised over him was actually intended to be evident. Even if that were not so there was a least no pretense at disguise. He was not shadowed in the way with which the police of his native country had made him unpleasantly familiar. He was openly and persistently dogged from the time at which he entered the city of the Golden Horn until he left it. The only explanation he could think of was that for some reason his employers were determined to prevent him from entering into communication with Angela, though why that should seem like a vital matter to them he could not guess.

BODIES OF FAMILY LAID IN THE VAULT

Pathetic Scenes Mark Burial of Mother and Children, Victims of Fire.

Toronto, Jan. 24.—Silent and sorrowing, remembering with a horror too deep for words, the awful death of the mother and her little ones in the Indian road tragedy of Saturday, men and women gathered this afternoon at 2:30 for the funeral service at 171 Robert street.

The home is that of Professor Wallace, who is a close friend of Mr. Percy Brooks, and who was one of the first to greet him when he returned to Toronto yesterday morning to learn that his wife and children and home were gone.

Mrs. Brooks had met many of the women present today at the meeting of the Aid Society on Thursday, in the First Unitarian Church on Jarvis street, and the memory of her thus, as she smiled and chatted, a happy wife and mother, was strongly with them.

Sorrow For Children.

There were friends here who had visited in the home at 435 Indian road, who had listened to the prattle of baby "Woodie," who had enjoyed the merry play of 7-year-old Percy, and his brother George, two years younger.

It was hard to remember that the soft baby flesh was lying charred and blackened, that the little restless feet and hands of the children were forever quieted on earth. Yet there was some comfort in remembering that the fearful struggle to escape from the burning building, the awful moments of choking, gasping death were but moments for the little ones.

The mother and her three little ones and the maid who had attended them lay at peace forever.

Bereaved Husband.

But the husband and father! Only since yesterday morning he has known the full extent of his bereavement. A telegram received at Indianapolis, on his way home from Chicago, told but partially of his awful loss.

At Detroit, two brothers, Mr. Laurence R. Brooks, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Mr. U. Brooks, of New York City, joined the stricken man, and have since been with him in his ordeal of suffering.

It was a little later than 2:30 when the four caskets containing the little charred bodies, and that of their mother, were taken from the doors at the undertaking establishment of F. W. Matthews, Spadina avenue, and placed in the hearses awaiting them.

Those Present.

In the carriages which followed were Mr. Brooks and his brothers, a brother-in-law, Mr. George Sparks, who arrived Saturday night from Youngstown, Ohio; Mr. Geo. Sparks, sen., and Mrs. Sparks, parents of the deceased lady; Professor Wallace and other close friends.

The father and mother of Mrs. Brooks did not arrive until about 11 o'clock this morning, as they have had a long journey from Jacksonville, Florida.

A second short service was conducted at the chapel of St. James' Cemetery ere the bodies were laid in the vault.

But few comparatively were in attendance, as it was the wish of the bereaved relatives to have the whole affair as quiet as possible.

A few words, replete with sympathy, were spoken by Rev. R. J. Hutcheon, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, where the family had attended, both at the house and the later service at the chapel.

This morning at 9:45 the bereaved father of Violet Duddy, the maid who was the fifth and last victim of the holocaust, met the body of his daughter at the Union station, and proceeded with it to Eady, Ontario, where the family lives. Eady is a small town some seven or eight miles from Orillia.

Mr. Duddy arrived at 7:30, and was therefore in time to take part in the short funeral service which was held at the Matthews undertaking parlors at 8:30.

The funeral service for the unfortunate girl will be held tomorrow afternoon at Eady, and her remains interred there.

BLOWN THROUGH WINDOW.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—In an explosion of a large tank containing ammonia in the Locust laundry at Ninth and Locust streets, here, today, one woman was killed, 15 to 20 girls were slightly injured, and 250 other employees, mostly young women, were thrown into a wild panic. Fortunately fire did not follow the explosion.

The woman killed was Annie Hall, an elderly employee, who was near the tank on the first floor when it exploded. She was blown through a window into the street and was badly mangled. The building was not damaged beyond the breaking of the window-glass.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

CRAWFORD'S SLIP.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Hon. Thomas Crawford is being twitted today on his little slip yesterday at the opening of the Legislature. In reading the prayers he used the old form. Monsignor McCann stood with Bishop Sweeney on one side of him, and the Methodist general superintendent, Rev. Dr. Carman, on the other, with his grey head bowed during the prayers. But the vicar-general's thoughts must have been of the growing Catholicity of the speaker, and he must have had some great premonition of the ultimate triumph of the Roman Church, when he heard that sturdy Orangeman offer prayers for the late King Edward.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief, and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite, and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc.

Mix 2 cups of granulated sugar with 1 cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best-known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guiaicol and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Company, Toronto, Ont.

A DEAD LOSS

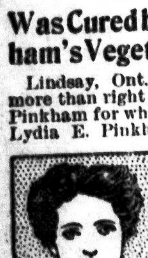
INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA MEANS THAT TO THOUSANDS EVERY YEAR.

The majority of men and women do not estimate the stomach at its proper valuation. It is the source of physical health and mental vigor—the engine of the body in the broadest sense. Once the stomach ceases to perform its vital functions, mental and bodily health is impaired. Indigestion and Dyspepsia are the bane of our age—the most insidious maladies of the twentieth century. They eat into general health, curtail our capacity for enjoyment of life and lessen our ability to do things. Is it reasonable to handicap yourself by suffering from the results of these diseases when "Little Digesters" are positively guaranteed to cure even chronic cases of Indigestion and Dyspepsia—guaranteed to make you strong and well and fit to succeed in the battle of life? And you can try "Little Digesters" at our expense. We instruct your druggist to return your money if they do not cure you—you, not somebody else. Insist on Little Digesters—25 cents the box at your druggist's or by mail. The Coleman Medicine Co., Toronto, Ont.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.



We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

MOTORS FOR ALL NOW BEING MADE

Armored Money Wagons For Paymasters, Sandcarts For Contractors.

WHOLE FIRE BRIGADES

Machine to Pump 600 Gallons a Minute, Carry Twelve Men, Hose, Ladders and Chemical Engine.

New York, Jan. 25.—An armored wagon designed for transporting gold and greenbacks, and dump trucks to carry five tons each of sand, gravel or coal, drygoods trucks and brewers' vans—these are some of the extremities illustrating the wide scope of the commercial motor vehicles on exhibition in Madison Square Garden.

An enormous ten-ton milk wagon, a whole fire department on four wheels, ambulances, trolley tower wagon, sight-seeing and hotel 'buses, an oil tank truck, moving vans and delivery wagons of many sizes are some of the other features.

The armored wagon has a two-cylinder opposed motor, and the closed body is of steel plates. There is a side entrance equipped with a combination lock, and inside is a safe, also with combination lock.

Paymaster's Car.

The machine was built to order, and is to be used as a paymaster's car. The windows are grated, and at the rear is a pay window, with a small platform upon which one man can stand at a time while he is receiving his pay. The car is equipped with a burglar alarm, and if the doors or windows are tampered with three gongs are set ringing. Several makers of large trucks are showing dump wagons for sand, gravel, coal, etc. Among the largest is a six-ton vehicle, which has a dump body operated by a hand crank on the side. The exhibit includes also a drygoods stake truck of three tons capacity, an oil tank wagon of 1,000 gallons capacity, similar to the one that is in use in Boston, a 1½-ton screen wagon, two five-ton brewery trucks and a six-ton platform wagon. These large trucks have a four-cylinder motor, carry the transmission and differential amidships and use platform rear springs.

Contractor's Wagon.

In another exhibit is a contractor's dump wagon with a power lift to raise the front end of the body for dumping purposes. There are also a padded furniture wagon, a ton and one-half screen body truck, a police patrol and a team ambulance for Bellevue Hospital.

Among the civic vehicles are fire trucks, police patrols and ambulances, and a complete fire department. It is the truck that was given a demonstration in Boston recently, and consists of engine, hose truck and chemical all on one chassis. The triple combination, as the firemen call the truck, has 170-inch wheel base and is equipped with a six-cylinder 60-horsepower motor capable of driving it at 30 miles an hour through the streets with twelve men aboard, and when coupled up to the double reciprocating plunger pump, of throwing 600 gallons of water a minute.

Fire Department.

The motor is in front, with the driver's seat above it. Behind the motor is the pump, which is connected up to the motor by a gear, and back of the pump is a platform body that has a capacity of 1,500 feet of hose, carries a monitor nozzle, a 35-gallon chemical tank and ladders on both sides. There are running-boards on either side and behind. The company also is exhibiting a combination police patrol and ambulance with seating room for fourteen men and a speed with full load of 40 miles an hour. It has a 40-horsepower, 4-cylinder motor and shaft drive.

The largest truck on exhibit is one of ten tons, built for a company that supplies milk in New York City. It is a huge affair with high sides and a fifteen-foot loading body.

A Big Fellow.

The wheel base is 138 inches and the tires are 44-inch rear and 36-inch front; dual tires being used both front and rear. The motor is a 40-horsepower, 4-cylinder, 4¼-inch bore by 6-inch stroke, the transmission is planetary and the final drive is by double side chains. The reduction of speed from motor to rear wheels is 20 to 1. Throughout the truck is of massive construction and capable of carrying its full load at good speed.

Besides the commercial motor vehicles there is in the Garden a comprehensive display of motor cycles and an historical exhibit. The latter includes bicycles from the hobbyhorse and bone-racker of a half-century ago to the modern cycle, with high wheels and safeties of different periods.

FOUND MANY STOWAWAYS.

St. Johns, N. B., Jan. 25.—The Canadian Pacific Railway liner Mount Temple, from London and Antwerp, arrived in port today. The steamer had a rough trip, but sustained no damage.

The second day out, four stowaways were discovered, all Armenians. The quartette were handed over to the police when the steamer docked at Sand Point, and Sergt. Finlay took them to the central station. Their names are Jagon J. Jackie, aged 50; Leon J. Jackie, aged 19, father and son; Hugon Chunrai, aged 25, and Oran Ossradie, aged 28. All will be sent back.

DR. JOWETT ACCEPTS NEW YORK OFFER

Will Be the New Pastor of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

New York, Jan. 26.—Rev. John H. Jowett will be the new pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. The elders of the church have received a cable from him stating that he accepts their offer of $12,000 a year and a home and that he will begin his pastoral duties the latter part of March or the first part of April.

Wanted Him Badly.

Since December, 1909, the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church has been trying to get Dr. Jowett as the successor of the Rev. Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, who resigned in June of that year. The call aroused extraordinary interest in England. People from all parts of the island wrote Dr. Jowett advancing reasons why he should not leave. The city magistrate of Birmingham met and signed a document appealing to the famous preacher not to go. Even bishops of the established church indicated that he should continue his work in England. The greatest pressure was brought to bear and for a long time Dr. Jowett remained undecided.

Dr. Jowett is a few months more than forty-six years of age. He was born in Halifax, N. S., and was educated at Edinburgh University and in Mansfield College, Oxford.

Needs a Change.

Birmingham, Jan. 25.—Dr. Jowett, announced his acceptance of the call to New York to his congregation this evening. The congregation unanimously approved his action. Dr. Jowett told them that the strain of his sixteen years' ministry had caused him to grow old too fast, and he hoped to find refreshment of body in a change of pastorate. He added:

"I have accepted the call on condition that the salary shall not exceed the equivalent of what I am getting here. I have got to do the work. If money comes to me I shall give it away."

RESCUED SAILORS HAD AWFUL TIME

Tell of Privations Endured For Days Before They Were Picked Up.

Boston, Jan. 26.—The crew of the British schooner Helen Shafner arrived here last night on board the fishing schooner Josie, and they report having had terrible experiences before they were picked up.

Their gaunt faces and emaciated bodies testify to the horrors through which they passed, while clinging to their sinking ship for four days, and subsisting only on nearly raw meat and condensed milk.

Were Picked Up.

Capt. Larry Norris, of the fishing schooner, picked up the men about 40 miles west of Seal Island, off the Nova Scotia coast, today.

The rescued men were Captain Isaac A. Hopkins, of Halifax; Mate William Green, Cook George Harpell, Seamen Stephen Verge, William McGrath and Bruce Austin.

Captain Hopkins said he left Port Hastings, N. S., early in January with 130,000 feet of lumber, for this city. Severe weather forced the vessel into port at Sheibourne, N. S., where she remained until Jan. 15.

On day out of port the schooner sprang a leak in a heavy gale, and went over on her beamends, when it became necessary to cut away both masts.

Terrible Hardships.

For four days the men lived on condensed milk and meat heated by being held over a blazing can of paint. After they were rescued the wreck was fired to prevent her from becoming a menace to navigation.

The crew of the Shafner will be sent back to their homes in Nova Scotia tomorrow.

The Helen Shafner was a two-masted schooner of 180 tons net, and was owned principally by A. W. Girroir, of Annapolis, N. S.

GUARANTEE PEACE

Writer Says Big Navies Can Only Have That Effect.

London, Jan. 25.—The forthcoming issue of the Fortnightly Review will contain a notable article on the subject of an Anglo-American entente by Editor Archibald S. Hurdell, whose writings on naval topics have been widely read.

After pointing out the enormous increase in the armaments of the nations, the writer says:

"The higher standard of expenditure upon navies and armies by democratic countries is not a presage of war, but a guarantee of peace. The realization of the increasing horror of war by those who have control of the affairs of these nations with their complicated commercial and social systems, is making for peace and also for increased armaments. The terror of war acting on democracies largely unwarlike must force the statesmen of the world to further efforts toward the consolidation of national interest."

Mr. Hurdell says that it will not be an easy matter to reconcile a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance with the movement for the consolidation of the English-speaking races, but he holds that the concordat is inevitable and may pave the way for an American-Japanese entente which will allay the nervousness and irritability in Australia and Canada.

He concludes that the preparedness of Great Britain and the United States for war is the best omen of world tranquility.

C. N. R. EXTENSIONS.

Port Arthur, Jan. 25.—City Solicitor Keefer, who returned from Toronto today, reports that Sir Donald Mann told him that the Canadian Northern Railway would be commenced east of Port Arthur in the spring, and by December would have trains running as far as Nipigon.

IMPORTANT REFORMS.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 25.—The death knell of the public drinking cup in New Hampshire was sounded today when the lower branch of the Legislature, concurring with the Senate, passed a bill to give the state board of health authority to restrict the use of common drinking cups in public places.

The House today also passed a bill providing for the registration of all cases of tuberculosis.

SERIOUS SITUATION AT KEELEY MINE

Men Still Working Are Constantly Receiving Threating Letters.

Cobalt, Jan. 26.—Matters are rapidly approaching a crisis in the mine troubles in this district. The Keeley mine is in a state of siege. Western Federation pickets are stationed at Loon Lake, where the trail from Silver Centre passes to the mine, and subject all passers-by to scrutiny. The men still working at the mine are receiving threatening letters. The cook, while driving, was pulled from his sleigh and warned, and other men are turned back.

The manager and his superintendent are in Cobalt today trying to obtain men to run the property. No operations are going on under ground, and everything is being run at a dead loss. If money cannot be obtained inside of the month the mine will be shut down temporarily.

The cut in wages brings the scale of wages down to the Cobalt mine managers' rates, initiated by the Wettlauffer.

The Western Federation have applied for a conciliation board in reference to the Wettlauffer, and are not calling a strike till they learn if Government action will be taken. The Wettlauffer is in South Lorraine, 18 miles from Cobalt, and can be isolated, the trail from Haileybury being the only road at present.

A HARD BLOW TO THE TRIPLE ENTENTE

Russia's Agreement With Germany Disturbs the Balance of Power.

London, Jan. 25.—Enough has transpired regarding the negotiations between Germany and Russia over the middle east to make plain a new diplomatic situation of first importance and interest to Europe.

The action has been treated in the past several days in a long series of official and semi-official announcements, the loudest and most formal in Paris. All are to the effect that the triple entente never was stronger or more cordial than today, and that the general balance of power is untouched by the Potsdam agreement.

These declarations are echoed and re-echoed in London and St. Petersburg. They soon became so persistent that they overreached their object and even the unsuspicious public perceived at length that they do protest too much. Such, indeed, is the case.

It is no longer doubted in the diplomatic world that the degree of rapprochement of far-reaching significance exists today between Russia and Germany. This does not imply any treachery on the part of Russia to its French ally or its understanding with Britain. It signifies only the most peaceful motives on the part of the Czar.

Faith Not Broken.

It means that he has consulted Russian interests alone in matters concerning Persia and Turkey, wherewith his new agreement is most directly concerned and has not knowingly antagonized the British and French interests, or violated even the spirit, of the Russo-British understanding regarding Persia.

Russia has obtained Germany's full recognition of Russia's exclusive sphere of influence in northern Persia and promises to link up Germany's Bagdad railway with the Russo-Persian system by a branch line via Kanikin. It is even possible that Germany has gone so far as to renounce the Russian sphere of influence in northeast Anatolia.

Britain cannot utter a word of protest against the German recognition of the Russian features of the recent Anglo-Russian agreement regarding Persia, for Russia can invite England to negotiate a similar agreement with Germany regarding the British status in southern Persia.

Triple Entente Is Shaky.

Beyond all this, however, the impression daily gains ground that the greater result of the recent meetings of the Czar and Kaiser is the general understanding that Russia will be no party to any anti-German coalition. This, while nominally a peaceful move, would mean in effect Russia's withdrawal from the triple entente. It would signify a complete restoration of Bismarck's foreign policy in Germany.

Even a neutral Russia would mean the upsetting of the European balance of power and a chaos of diplomatic condition, the issue whereof no man could foretell. It goes without saying that Germany would willingly pay a big price to gain such an end.

It is already apparent that Turkey has taken alarm and has demanded explanations which the German ambassador at Constantinople has striven to make satisfactory. One thing at least is clear. Germany has won a diplomatic success of the first magnitude whatever may be the full scope of her new understanding with Russia.

LIBEL CASE POSTPONED.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—The master-in-chambers at Osgoode Hall today gave his decision in the motions of the defendants, preparing for a postponement for libel suits brought by John E. Wilkinson against the Toronto Mail and Empire and the Hamilton Spectator, in connection with their reports of Wilkinson's arrest on charges of receiving ore stolen from Cobalt. The postponement is granted, but the newspapers must pay the costs of the motion and be prepared to go to trial at the March assizes.

CHANGE IN PASTORS.

Hespeler, Jan. 25.—Rev. H. E. Bray, of Port Rowan, has been appointed to the pastorate of St. James' Church, to succeed Rev. W. W. Duthie, who has resigned on account of ill-health.

"SLEEPLESSNESS."

Thousands of people all over this land toss night after night on a sleepless pillow. The eyes do not close in the refreshing slumber that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right.

Some are troubled with weak and smothering spells; others palpitation of the heart; others have their nerves unhinged; but whatever the cause—it comes entirely from a derangement of either the heart or nerves, or both. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber. They do this by their invigorating effect on the heart and nerves and will tone up the whole system to perfect condition.

Mr. H. Jewel, Keswick, Ont., writes: "I am glad to have the pleasure of telling you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I would have weak spells, seemed to lose my breath, and would have to get up in the night as I could not sleep. LONDON'S SPLENDID RALLY TIES SCORE IN GAME AT PARIS AND WINS DISTRICT HONORS 22-21

Local Crew Scored Three in Final Ten Minutes of Play Snatching the Victory From Confident Opponents---Ice Rather Slushy in Last Half, But Winners Put Up a Great Battle Toward the Finish---Several Players Penalized For Loafing By Referee Kinder, Who Officiated Very Satisfactorily---London Players Were All Stars.

[By Our Own Reporter.]

Paris, Ont., Jan. 25.—With the score 5 to 2 against them, and to all appearances hopelessly beaten, the London team suddenly woke up, and in the last ten minutes of tonight's game succeeded in tying the score, and incidentally winning the district honors by the small margin of one goal. The total in the district stood 22 to 21.

Although the ice was considerably slushy in the second half, the game was the fastest ever seen in Paris. Combination play was mostly indulged in by both teams, although toward the last the Paris septette showed the results of the terrific pace, and confined their work to individual rushes.

Before their splendid rally the London boys seemed all in, and many of the Paris spectators left the rink, when Paris notched their fifth goal, confident that their home team had the game. Most of the penalties were for minor offences, and the game was comparatively clean. Both teams checked hard, and in the first half individual rushes were out of the question.

Owing to the delayed arrival of the London special, the game was late in starting, but as soon as the London team got on the ice, Referee Kinder faced the puck.

At the face-off the rubber was secured by Paris, and rushed into London territory. Parkinson made a pretty stop, and after a scrimmage in the corner, Cossey secured the disk and carried it to the other end of the ice, but his shot was blocked, and the play was confined to the Paris end for a time.

PARIS SCORES FIRST GOAL.

A couple of shots were rained in on Fraser, but he cleared them easily. Some good combination play was indulged in by Paris, and after a couple of minutes N. Gill put one behind Parkinson for the first tally of the game. With the face-off, Gordon Gill tripped Orr and was sent to the penalty box.

A minute later London got the combination going, and rushed to the Paris goal. Fraser, however, blocked the shot, and Orr rushed in and tripped him. Two minutes for Orr.

The play then raged around the Paris net, and with a neat shot from the side Cossey placed one behind Fraser. This seemed to tickle the London fans, who numbered about four hundred, and they nearly raised the roof with their yelling. During the next two minutes the puck was kept in London territory, but Carrothers and Wagner were right on the job, and Paris did not get a chance to shoot. A minute later, however, Gordon Gill and Thompson made a two-man rush and Gill placed the rubber into the nets for Paris' second goal.

Both teams had been travelling at a whirlwind pace up to this time, and the strain was beginning to tell. A great deal of kicking the puck was done by the Paris players, but Referee Kinder saw it all, and they could not get away with it.

GORDON GILL CONTINUES TO LOAF.

Gordon Gill, the champion loafer, got two minutes to rest up, and a minute later Parkinson made a dandy stop of what looked like a sure goal.

Cossey and Lackey then got some nice combination going, but were unable to score. Wagner got one minute for tripping Gill, and a little later Lackey was put off for slashing. The game then centred around the London goal, and Parkinson had a busy minute or so. Carrothers got the puck and passed to Collins, who passed back, and "Crow" placed a neat one into the twine behind Fraser. The game began to drag at this point, and Gordon Gill and Thompson were penalized for slashing. Paris was now playing with five men, and London made a great effort to score, but was unable to. Gill came back on the ice again, and started to loaf. Back to the penalty box for Gordon. While he was off A. Peebles scored the third for the black and green. A minute later Peebles was off for deliberately hitting Lackey with his stick when he thought Kinder's back was turned. Cossey was then discovered loafing, and he was given a minute to think it over. Thompson and Gill then put some life into the play by making a brilliant combination rush and scoring. The ice was becoming sticky at this point, and a great deal of kicking the puck was done by both teams. Wagner was sent off for tripping just as the half-time bell rang. Half-time score, 4-2, in favor of Paris.

LOOKED BAD FOR LONDON.

The second half opened with Wagner serving the balance of his time, during which Paris made great efforts to score. W. Gill was injured at this point, but continued the game.

Carrothers lifted the puck straight on the goal, but Fraser made a neat catch, and it was carried back into London territory.

Paris was now playing a fast game, and London appeared to be all in. Gill got right in front of the nets with the puck, but Parkinson made a great stop. A little later Peebles scored a shot on the side.

The London fans were quiet at this juncture, and things looked pretty blue for the Forest City bunch. Paris was playing a great game, and the puck was constantly in London territory. W. Gill was penalized for tripping, and the game developed into a slugging match. Paris was now showing signs of tiring, and confined players themselves to short indidivdual rushes, which were easily broken up.

Only ten minutes remained to play when Orr got the puck, and with a brilliant piece of stick-handling landed it into the nets. London now began to wake up. The fans in the gallery started that famous battlecry, "Come on, London," and the game developed into a whirlwind contest.

London was now playing the offensive, and was constantly raining shots on the Paris goal. Fraser made some great stops, and a little later Lackey and Peebles were given a rest for tripping.

PARIS DROPS LEAD.

The play was now all in Paris territory, and in a couple of minutes Collins scored on a pass from Orr. At the face-off P. Gill tripped Orr, and was sent to the penalty box. Thompson also got two minutes for tripping, and was followed by Cossey, who was also tripping.

The Paris crowd was now on its feet yelling, which continued when Orr was sent off for tripping Gill. Collins was playing a great game at this point, and together with Lackey, pulled off some great combination. Tripping was done by both teams, mostly Paris, and Gill was again sent off. One minute remained to play, and the London fans were shouting for one more goal. The Paris nets were in constant danger, but the defence were playing a great game, and shots were blocked repeatedly. With 30 seconds to play Orr secured the puck and shot. Fraser made a great stop but the puck bounced out in front of the goal. Orr pounced upon it and fell, but reached out with his stick and shoved the puck into the nets. The puck was being faced off when the bell rang for the end of the game.

For London every man played a good game. The defence was splendid, both Wagner and Carrothers playing well. Parkinson in goal stopped some great shots, and played his usual good game. On the forward line Orr and Collins were the stars, while Lackey and Cossey were also good. Cossey could not stand the fast pace in the first half, but gingered up at the last. Lackey had trouble getting started, and he was closely checked. In the last half, however, he played a brilliant game.

GILL BOYS IN LIGHT.

For Paris the Gill boys were most prominent, while the two Peebles were always in the game. Fraser, in goal, played a star game, and Thompson at rover was also good. Referee Kinder is one of the best in the business, and there was nothing that he did not see last night. The teams lined up as follows:

WOLGAST'S MILLS MAY FALL THROUGH

Champion Pulled Off a Nice One in Those Articles With Jack O'Brien.

JONES STILL MANAGER

Says the Champion, So Tommy Will Probably Call Battles Off for an Indefinite Period

What a clever little person is the champion lightweight, Ad Wolgast!

After almost a year of inactivity, save an occasional arm-breaking sprint against some second-rater, paying about as much attention to offers as a blind man to street car advertising, he suddenly agrees to meet K. O. Brown, Packey McFarland and Owen Moran at Jack O'Brien's club in Philadelphia.

Fine! The press associations and correspondents fall over their feet getting the stuff on the wire. Fight circles are knocked into equilateral triangles and other things like that.

Then for a couple of days while the big stuff is being digested and Jack O'Brien gets credit for putting one across, the thing is discussed pro. and con. Perhaps, after all, Wolgast has been misjudged.

Enter Tom Jones.

But in the meantime P. McFarland does that thing to J. Goodman in New York. Then up bobs Tommy Jones, of managerial fame, and insists the task Wolgast has laid out for himself is too much, and as the champion's manager he horns in.

Right away come rumors of a split in the Wolgast-Jones family. Then Wolgast denies it, and proves that after all he isn't the fearlessly careless young champion we imagined him. Fine advertising.

He makes it known that in the articles he signed for O'Brien, it was expressly stipulated that if he couldn't get into condition he can defer the fights. How long they may be set back isn't specified, but this glimpse of Ad's far-sightedness leads one to believe it may be indefinite.

Dire Possibility.

So perhaps Wolgast won't meet the three shining lights. He says Tom Jones continues to be his manager, and that what he says goes. Knowing Jones, it is reasonably safe to assume that he won't let his fighter take too many chances, but will work the title business to the limit, and continue to gather in the kale with as little exertion as possible.

COLUMBUS BEATS OUT CHICAGO FOR SHOOT

Chicago, Jan. 26.—The Grand American handicap, the premier event in the trapshooting world, will not be held in Chicago this coming summer, as was generally supposed it would be. Word has been received from Elmore E. Shaner, secretary of the inter-state association, to the effect that Columbus, O., has been the successful bidder. The dates of the Grand American are still in doubt, but will most likely be held during the third week of June.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Bill Dahlen thinks Garry Herrmann's proposed inter-league world's season, in which all the major league clubs would figure, should prove a capital idea for the Dodgers. The Superbas could finish in their ordinary berth and still have a chance for the world's championship.

Shortstop Joe Tinker, of the Cubs, picks Cincinnati as the team to beat for the 1911 National League pennant. Tinker says that Griffith's chances depend entirely upon Pitcher McQuillan. "If big Mac behaves and pitches the ball of which he is capable, I believe the Reds will run one-two," declares Tinker.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants, is another expert critic who thinks well of Redland's chances. The New York boss thinks the big swap between Philadelphia and Cincinnati will prove of benefit to both clubs, and that all the men involved will play much better ball for their new employers. At the same time John J. is losing no sleep over the possibility of Cincinnati beating him out.

Larry Lejune, long-distance throwing champion among professional baseball players, had a mighty nifty season with Evansville, in the Central League, in 1910. Lejune led the association in batting, base stealing and home run hitting. He swatted at a .328 clip, stole 54 bases and made 18 home runs. Lejune is the leading candidate for right field on the Brooklyn club.

Long Larry McLean, the "bug" backstop of the Cincinnati Reds, declares that he will discard shinguards. Instead he will wear leather caps for his knees. McLean says the shin-guards slow him up and interfere with his speed both on the bases and behind the bat.

Has Packey McFarland Call On Lightweight Championship?

New York, Jan. 25.—Is Packey McFarland to be the next lightweight champion of the world, literally as he is generally accepted to be by followers of the ring right now? The Chicago fighter made 132½ pounds for Jack Goodman, and disposed of the West Side boy with neatness and dispatch at the Fairmont Club.

Packey made Goodman, a clever boxer, as clever boxers are judged, look like a novice. Despite the impression that he could not make 133 and be strong, McFarland was a young giant at a half-pound over the class limit. His work in the ring was impressive, and he looked every inch a champion. Apparently there is no comparison between the stockyarder and Wolgast, who wears the title, tough as the latter is. The decisive manner in which he outboxed and then knocked out Goodman has made McFarland New York's favorite in the lightweight handicap.

PACKEY McFARLAND.

KING COLE WORKS OUT AT CHICAGO BALL PARK

Beats the Barrier by 3 Days and Says He's in Fine Shape—Out of Vaudeville.

[By Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25.—Booming Chicago as a baseball training camp, and beating the barrier by 32 days, "King" Cole took his first 1911 workout at the West Side ball yard yesterday afternoon. The premature training stunt had no bad effects on the pitching potentate. After "shooting them over" for half an hour and working up a good perspiration, the elongated pitcher announced that he was fit to go the entire route at a minute's notice.

Cole will continue the daily workout for the remainder of the week, having no vaudeville engagements to worry him, and expects to be in the pink of condition when his pals assemble here on Feb. 26 for the invasion of the south.

HARRY FORBES WINS BY KNOCKOUT

Beats Bartley in Five Rounds at Fort Wayne, Ind.

[By Canadian Press.]

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 26.—Harry Forbes was victor last night by a knockout over Mike Bartley in a fight that lasted five rounds. The fighting was fast from the tap of the bell to the end. In the fifth round Forbes landed a hard blow on Bartley's chin, sending him to the floor for the count.

WHEN THE TITLE WAS CAPTURED

About four hundred fans accompanied the team down, and when the train arrived in Paris everybody marched to the rink to the tune of blowing horns and Indian war-hoops.

It was a great game, and the best team won. That last ten minutes was the best of the whole game, and the spectators of both towns were on their feet shouting all the time.

The Paris goalkeeper pulled off a funny stunt just after London scored its first goal. While the puck was being faced off he rushed out to the Paris coverpoint and whispered something in his ear. They both left the ice, and Referee Kinder called them back, but the point man also followed him, and Kinder went to investigate. The players then returned, and Kinder threatened to put them off if they did it again. There was no apparent reason for the leaving.

Referee Kinder is one of the best that we have seen in a long while. We only hope he comes to London for a game before the end of the season.

Kenny Casselman was eagerly looked for when the fans arrived at the rink, but there was no Kenny, and everybody was disappointed.

Oscar Bernhardt, of last year's team, but now of Preston, came down to see the game. He was a happy boy when the locals won, and predicted that they would meet Preston yet. Preston has yet to lose a game, and they look good for the finals.

"Check" Parkinson pulled off a good one on the fans going down on the special. "Check" had a new jackknife, which he was proudly displaying. Several offers were made to buy it, but they were refused. At last he was persuaded to raffle it, and a pack of cards was secured. The lucky card was to be an eight, with the highest one the eight of hearts. The cards cost ten cents apiece and "Check" sold about a dozen. The lucky winner was Harold Garner, and when the knife was handed over it was discovered that the big blade was broken. Everybody had a good laugh, but Garner

HARRY LEWIS PUTS K. O. ON J. SUMMERS

American Scaled Eight Pounds More Than English Opponent and Paid $500.

ENDED IN FOURTH ROUND

Winner Carried Unconscious Man to His Corner and Was Chered by a Big Crowd.

[By Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 25.—Harry Lewis, the American pugilist and holder of the welterweight championship of England, tonight won his fight with Johnny Summers, the English fighter, in the fourth round.

A big crowd witnessed the go, every seat in the Olympia being filled. It was a savage fight while it lasted, and honors were even for the first two rounds. The men insisted on clinching at every possible chance and the referee frequently was compelled to step in and separate them by main strength.

The third round was the hottest of the go, both men trying desperately for a knockout. It ended in a clinch. In the fourth Lewis rushed Summers to the ropes and knocked him out with a straight right. After Summers had taken the count Lewis picked him up and carried him to his corner, amid great cheering.

The men were matched at 144 pounds, but when they weighed in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, it was found that the American tipped the scales at 148¾. Summers weighed 140¾. As a result of his overweight, Lewis paid a forfeit of $500.

QUEBEC SPORTS TO HAVE FINE NEW MILE TRACK

As Well as Two-and-a-Half-Mile Auto Track and Aviation Field Near St. Lambert's.

[By Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Jan. 26.—A new one-mile running and trotting race track is to be inaugurated next June on the south shore of the St. Lawrence, just east of St. Lambert's. The property which will be devoted to the purpose will comprise 350 acres, and application was made today by the owners, the Montreal Aero Club, to Mr. Fraser, of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Racing Association, for membership. The property will comprise: A mile inside race track, for steeplechasing and trotting; a 2½-mile outside track, for motor racing; a perfect aviation field without trees, three hundred acres in area.

Work on the tracks will be commenced right after the snow disappears. The club is said to have a backing of $250,000.

BALL PLAYER IN A FARMER'S TOGS

This One Looks Difficult, But Real Fans Know the Face Well.

YOU HAVE SEEN THIS ONE

Picture Has Been Published Frequently in The Advertiser, So Get in On the Prize Contest.

Suppose this picture had been printed without being smeared by an artist. Whose face would stare at you from the page?

That's the question you must answer if you want to get in on The Advertiser guessing contest.

The man is a chicken fancier and farmer and some ball player. In fact, he is one of the country's leading diamond lights. The guise in which he is presented is that of the farmer-chicken fancier, and he doesn't look so familiar as in diamond regalia. However, it shouldn't be difficult for the real fans to "make him," as his picture has been printed time and again on this page. Send your guess to the sporting editor not later than noon Saturday.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM IN LONDON TOWNSHIP

The "Farmers' Advocate" Will Manage a 135-Acre Farm Near St. Johns.

The next number of the Farmer's Advocate will say:

"Following up the demonstration-orchard work we have been carrying on for the last two seasons, our readers will be interested to learn that the William Weld Company, publishers of the Farmer's Advocate, have purchased a farm of 135 acres, more or less—the neighbors say less—between six and seven miles north of London, just beyond the village of St. Johns. The managing editor of the Farmer's Advocate is to live on the property (driving into the city daily), and superintend it, with the assistance of a competent working foreman. The farm is to be run for profit, 'Good farming without frills,' being the motto. It is not to be an experimental farm, save, perhaps, incidentally, to a very slight extent. Neither will it be a 'model farm,' except in so far as any well-managed farm should be such. It is simply a farm run on a straight commercial basis, where the ideas continually recommended through the Farmer's Advocate will be worked out in practice, and where new ideas that look good may be tested before being advocated for general adoption. Strict account will be kept of every item of expenditure and income, the results being published from time to time for the information of our readers. While all our editors are country-bred, and two of the present staff already live on the land, still this farm will be in a peculiarly valuable sense a public one; that is, as to results obtained and profit made.

The farm purchased is what is known as the old Sifton place. It has a good house, but no barns or fences to amount to anything, and is said to be infested with pretty nearly every kind of noxious weed known in Eastern Canada, from wild oats and mustard to bindweed and perennial sow thistle. At present, the most conspicuous feature of the fields is the gray, tall stalks of thistles standing up through the snow. There is apparently no meadow, except some creek pasture. The farm has been bought, however, at a price that will admit of the sacrifice of two or three years' profits while putting it into condition. Until this is accomplished, we shall probably have little to say about returns or profits, but facts will be reported from time to time regarding progress in exterminating weeds, systems of cropping and rotation, and any other points concerning which our experience could be helpful to others. Many advantages to the paper and its readers should accrue from the operation of "The Farmer's Advocate" farm.

WOODSTOCK PROBE RESUMES ON 31ST

SUING A BISHOP

Sale of Big Tract in Alberta Was Rescinded by Government.

[Canada Press.]

Montreal, Jan. 26.—Mr. Justice Bruneau was engaged yesterday afternoon in the practice court hearing an application of Mr. C. S. Edwards for a writ of quo warranto against Bishop Bernard, of Ste. Hyacinthe, while the little seminary of Ste. Marie Mannoire, and Rev. J. A. Lemieux were also made parties defendant to the action with the corporation of the seminary. This is a move in the action brought by Mr. Edwards to recover a sum of $100,000, alleged to have been paid by him for a tract of land in the Peace River district of Northern Alberta, and which he purchased from the seminary. The land, it is claimed, was a concession from the Government, which subsequently rescinded the grant, although Mr. Edwards claims that he had already paid over the purchase money.

But in the meantime the seminary had trouble with Mgr. Sbarretti, the papal ablegate, who dissolved the corporation. Under these circumstances Mr. Edwards, through Messrs. Elliott & Davidson, is taking proceedings for a writ of quo warranto against the bishop and others connected with the seminary. Judge Bruneau took the case on delibere.

KAISER TO CELEBRATE NATAL DAY TOMORROW

German Emperor to Make the Occasion a Notable One at Berlin

Berlin, Jan. 26.—Emperor William celebrates his birthday Friday. He was born Jan. 27, 1859. His birthday is celebrated as a national holiday, and on this occasion the celebration will be really noteworthy. It will be made the occasion of an elaborate revival of Mozart's "The Magic Flute" at the Royal Opera. The impresario general, Count von Hulsen, intends that the presentation shall outdo all previous revivals, even his gorgeous production of "Aida" two years ago.

It is stated that no less than $63,000 have been spent upon providing "The Magic Flute" with its setting, including most costly costumes and scenic effects. Practically every solo artist on the Royal Opera roster will be in the cast for the Kaiser's birthday performance, which will be given, as usual, before an audience consisting exclusively of the Emperor's personally invited guests.

New Portrait Is Issued.

Well in advance of the celebration, a new portrait of William has been published. It was taken shortly before the holidays for the benefit of a philanthropic organization, and shows the Emperor in a charming homely attitude, with his right arm entwined around his handsome eldest grandson, Prince Frederick William of Prussia. The young Hohenzollern will be the better known to Americans some day because they will be celebrating the birthday of their country, the Fourth of July, on the day on which his birthday, as Kaiser, will be honored as a German national holiday.

The new photograph, which has been issued as a postcard for popular consumption, depicts the Kaiser in the only "fatigue uniform" he ever wears—his greyish khaki hunting suit, with Norfolk jacket, black velvet collar, and epaulettes.

The war lord is smiling good-naturedly. His entire bearing differs radically from the stern-visaged presentment of his most familiar pictures.

Speech Is Expected.

It is to be expected that William will make some sort of an address or speech to the nation, and there are predictions that he will have something to say of army and navy affairs to command interest outside Germany. In this connection it is interesting to note that William now has the ability to send 5,200,000 armed men into action. That is, Germany's soldiers and sailors available reach that colossal total.

Col. Gaedke calculates that Germany will have actually under arms in 1911 a total of not less than 714,000 soldiers and sailors, "and probably more." Without calling upon the "substitute reserve," Col. Gaedke states, Germany can at any time now put 4,800,000 trained men in the field from among those who have done service with the colors by land and a during the last twenty-five years.

The official North German Gazette describes the next year's "Kaiser manoeuvres," which are to be on an extraordinarily extensive scale. The theatre of war will embrace portions of Schleswig-Holstein, the grand duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and Mecklenburg-Strelitz, and the provinces of Pomerania, Hanover and Brandenburg. The manoeuvres will consist of joint operations between the army and navy, and the Guard corps, the Second and Third army corps, and the battleships and cruisers of the high seas fleet will all take part. The navy's operations will be mainly in the neighborhood of the east coast of southern Schleswig-Holstein and the island of Ruegen.

WATERLOO ST. COUPLE ARE AT PEACE AGAIN

A Domestic Row Aired in the Police Court.

There was a happy family reunion at the police court this morning. It followed a domestic row at a home on Waterloo street.

The woman had her husband arrested on a charge of assault. Her real trouble, however, seemed to be that she wanted her baby, which the husband confiscated after a quarrel and took to his mother's.

According to her story he struck her and then made off with the baby. She went to the police station, and had a charge of assault laid.

Thanks to the good offices of Deputy Magistrate Graydon and the wife's mother, who settled up all the costs of the case, the husband and wife and baby were all reunited, and decided to try and live happily in future.

Stella Johnston, a young colored girl, who has been on remand for some weeks on a charge of insanity, was discharged.

THE PULLMAN MYSTERY

Man Carrying Lowe's Ticket Was Not Lowes, Says Brother.

[Canadian Press.]

Miami, Man., Jan. 26.—Glen Lowes, local merchant, brother of L. K. Lowes, who figured in the Thief Falls mystery, said today the mystery as far as L. K. Lowes is concerned is no mystery. "The little baggage carried on the ticket on which the man who died was travelling, proves not to belong to my brother," he said. "The authorities held it at first for me, and later concluded it belonged to the dead man. There were only a few old clothes in a box. My brother communicated with me, not however, since the dead man was found. I had a postal card from him Jan. 24, dated Kansas City, Jan. 21. That was two days after the dead man supposed to be him was found. When I got that I was relieved. He did not say why he sold his ticket or went to Kansas City instead of coming on to Western Canada as he started out to do, but as he is a businessman, I take for granted he changed his plans for business reasons, and sold or exchanged his ticket, which was then secured by the man found dead on the train."

UNEASY LIES HEAD OF SERVIA'S MONARCH

Prince George Now Threatens to Start a Rebellion.

Belgrade, Jan. 26.—Prince George has been and is giving his father, King Peter, his brother, Crown Prince Alexander, and the nobility of the kingdom many uneasy hours by daring threats. George is King Peter's eldest son, and as such was entitled to the succession to the throne. But owing to his disgraceful conduct his father deprived him of the title of crown prince and bestowed it, with the consent of the Skuptschina, otherwise Parliament, on his younger brother, Alexander, who is a good boy and doesn't even smoke cigarettes.

Now comes George with a threat to disregard the change and to claim the succession for himself. Servia has for ages been a land of bloodshed, a war arena, full of assassinations. And Peter recalls that he came to the throne as a consequence of the most sensational murder of history, the slaughter in the royal palace of King Alexander and Queen Draga. So he trembles and Belgrade feels nervous.

Row Starts Over Money.

The story goes that on his father's refusing to raise his allowance the prince announced that he himself did not consider his abdication of the position of heir apparent in favor of his brother Alexander as at all an insuperable bar to his ultimate succession to the throne and went on with some warmth to explain that if necessary he should not hesitate to secure this end even at the cost of rebellion against his own father. Here he laid his hand on his sword, whereupon King Peter boxed his ears and had him put out of the room by attendants.

It seems also that though a keen card player, the prince is a bad loser. Recently he struck an officer who had taken a large sum from him a heavy blow in the face. The officer drew his saber and Prince George was equally ready with his revolver. Only the quick intervention of some older officers in the room prevented serious developments.

May Be Sent Into Exile.

It is reported that as a consequence of this misbehavior Prince George is to be sent to France to continue his military duties. In view of the easy manner in which the prince has hitherto escaped punishment nobody believes that he will leave Belgrade unless it be for his own pleasure.

And whenever he thinks of exiling George, King Peter hesitates. For to send the young scamp away means to give him a better chance to surround himself with plotters and to run the gamut of disgrace.

Meanwhile Alexander keeps out of George's way. Alexander is much younger than George, and is reported to be anything but sturdy.

It would not surprise anyone to hear that George has stabbed his father or started a rebellion.

Moved by T. H. Anderson, seconded by T. T. Whitsett, that Mr. Frank Brock be warden for 1911.

Moved by T. B. Woodhale, seconded by A. McCrae, that Mr. McGugan be warden for 1911.

The clerk then proceeded to take the vote in the order of the nominations of the several candidates.

On the first vote Mr. Darvill received 12, Mr. Frank Brock 11, Mr. N. McGugan 6.

On the second vote—Mr. Darvill 14, Mr. Brock 11, Mr. McGugan 6.

Mr. McGugan then requested that his mover and seconder should allow his name to be withdrawn. To this they agreed. On the third vote Mr. Darville received 17, a majority of the council, and was declared by the clerk to be elected warden for the county of Lambton for the year 1911. This was subsequently carried by a standing vote. The warden, in his speech, said he experienced considerable diffidence in assuming the responsibilities of the position, but would do his utmost to discharge the duties acceptably. He was vigorously applauded.

County Auditors.

The first order of business was the appointment of county auditors.

Council moved into committee of the whole. The warden called Mr. F. Brock to the chair. The chairman reported the blank filled with the names of D. N. Sinclair and M. D. Cameron, and adopted.

Mr. T. Newton, president of the Conservative Association, being present, extended an invitation to the members of the council to be present at a meeting to be held in Woods' Hall on Friday next at 8 p.m., when the Hon. Mr. Cochrane, minister of crown lands, will deliver an address on the resources of New Ontario, and the Hon. W. T. Hanna, provincial secretary, will deliver an address on prison reform.

The chairmanships of the standing committees were distributed as follows:

Finance—Stirrett.
Public Buildings—T. Goodison.
Internal Improvements—F. Brock.
Printing—A. Spearman.
Equalization—W. A. Brock.
Education—Dr. Fairbanks.
Legislation—T. F. Donald.
House of Refuge—T. Payne.

A number of bylaws were introduced, and some advanced to the stage of the second reading.

There was a meeting of the select committee appointed re the county map, with Mr. Fitzgerald, of Watford, as chairman, and Mr. Neil McDougall as secretary. It was arranged with the Scarborough Map Company that all imperfect maps should be replaced free of charge by a more perfect issue.

Appeal to Legislature.

A motion to petition the Legislature was introduced by Mr. Stirrett, seconded by C. McClean, to amend the act, so as to give municipal councils control over the issuance of licenses for billiard and pool rooms. It was referred to the legislative committee.

A new bylaw was introduced by Mr. W. A. Brock asking a grant in aid of the Englehart Hospital at Petrolea.

The matter of good roads for the county of Lambton has been actively before the county council. A strong committee has been appointed to make a report in June. It is generally conceded among members of the council that advantage should be taken of the Government aid in this matter.

A case which had been standing since last May came up today in the police court. George Ellinor was fined $2 and costs for violation of the public health act and for disobeying a summons for the same. He was reprimanded and discharged. Stewart Smith was reprimanded for disobeying a summons. He was discharged. Albert Stangland told an ingenious story to the effect that his home was in Chicago; but it having come to the notice of the police authorities that he had availed himself of the advantages of a free ride on the G. T. R. he was, as a reward, deported.

FAST DRIVERS IN THE POLICE COURT

Two Were Fined and One Is Still To Come Up.

Three local horsemen, who got into an argument as to the speed of their respective animals, and undertook to demonstrate to each other that each had the fastest nag, were charged in the police court with immoderate driving.

Two of the drivers appeared this morning and were fined $2 for racing. The third would have come up only he was ill, and his case was adjourned. The three had a little tryout on Piccadilly street a couple of days ago, and all was going merrily until a stalwart officer appeared on the scene and took the racers' names.

It is whispered that the speed trial is not yet settled, and that the three have it all framed up to have another little race in the course of a few days on a nice stretch of country road, far from the haunts of bluecoats.

SMUGGLING ALIENS INTO THE COUNTRY

Organized Gang Said To Be Working at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 25.—That there exists an organized band of foreign smugglers in Niagara Falls and nearby cities, who are engaged in bringing into Canada undesirable foreigners, is the statement made by Chief Inspector Willox, of the immigration department. At the lower steel arch bridge Officer Carter noticed two foreigners acting in a suspicious manner. Following the men up Bridge street the officer saw enough to convince him that it was a case of smuggling. He placed both men under arrest, and notified Inspector Willox. The younger of the men, named Hagpop Abraham, was charged before Magistrate Fraser with unlawfully smuggling the older man, named Hermino Piloian, a Sicilian, into Canada from the United States. The old man claims he had a passport, which he produced, and letters to friends. He also had $200 before he met Abrahim, but he had paid the latter $17 to get him into Canada. Piloian could not tell one bill from another, and did not know how to count American money, but his friend Abrahamin did this for him. They were going first to St. Catharines. From there the old man was expected to shift for himself. Abrahamin was found guilty of smuggling foreigners into Canada, and fined $75 or three months in jail. He was sent back to the cells, while his friends are communicating with Brantford, where he says he belongs, to raise money to liberate him. He is an Italian or a Sicilian. Piloian will be deported as there was no charge against him.

FINANCIAL

[From Charles Head & Co., by private wire to J. J. Tearney.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Noon letter.—The stock market all through the first hour was mixed and uncertain, some issues showing a fair degree of strength, while others were weak and without demand. The stocks in which there is still some active speculative interest, including Reading, Union Pacific and Steel, were stubbornly held, and although recessions in these issues were forced at times by very vigorous bear attacks, losses were recovered quickly, and at the end of the first hour they ranged slightly above yesterday's close.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF A CUT IN RATES

Pullman Business Amounts to About $15,000 a Year.

The official circular announcing the reductions in Pullman rates has been received at the local Grand Trunk offices, and after Feb. 1 there will be a reduction by which all upper berths will be charged for at the rate of 80 per cent of the prices for lower berths.

"Our principal Pullman business is to Toronto, Montreal, Chicago, and New York," said Grand Trunk Ticket Agent Ernest Ruse to The Advertiser today. "The price of upper berths to Chicago after Feb. 1 will be $1 60, to Montreal $2 20, and to New York $2 40."

$15,000 a Year.

A railroad man stated to The Advertiser that the Pullman business out of London amounts to about $15,000 a year.

"One effect of the reduction in upper berths rates," said another, "will be to cut out the stories that travellers tell us in order to get lower berths. Since I have been on the job I have found out more people who, in order to get lower berths, were willing to spin a yarn about having injured limbs, sore backs, and other ailments, that would prevent them from climbing up, than I ever dreamed of. I guess they will be all right, though now that they can get the top berths cheaper."

On the C. P. R.

At the C. P. R. offices a rather different situation exists to that of the G. T. R. offices, in that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company control their own sleeping cars, and are altogether independent of the Pullman cars.

"Of course in many instances we haul their cars," said an official.

When informed by the reporter that the Pullman company would inaugurate the new rate on Feb. 1, he said that there was a possibility of the C. P. R. doing so on the same date, but he thought that Feb. 15 would probably see the new rates on the C. P. R. sleeping cars. The C. P. R. has not as yet received the full revised list of prices. There will be a reduction in lower berths from Toronto to Winnipeg of from $8 to $7 40, and upper berths of from $8 to $5 95. The present rate of $30 for a drawing-room to Winnipeg, which has been growing in popularity with ladies travelling to the west especially when accompanied by children, will not be reduced to a considerable extent.

The C. P. R. will not change the rate for lower berths from Toronto to Montreal from $2, but the upper berths to Montreal will drop to $1 50.

A DARING ROBBERY

Ottawa Thief Carried Off $500 During Society Dance.

[Canada Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Circulars have been sent out by the local police for Sam. W. Betts, alias Le Steer or Lester, suspected of having pulled off a daring $500 robbery during a dance at the home of a prominent citizen a few nights since. Betts, who was seen here at the time, has a long criminal record. He was sent to Kingston twice from Ottawa. He has served half a dozen terms for offences elsewhere. He was sent to St. Vincent de Paul from Montreal for theft in 1893, and to Kingston from Toronto in 1898 for five years for housebreaking and assault. He is 34 years of age, and an American by birth, though brought up in Ottawa.

TURKEY AFTER SHIPS.

Bremer Haven, Germany Jan. 26.—The Turkish commissioners, who are here to pick up second-hand vessels for use as transports in the navy of Turkey, today purchased the Oldenbury and Darmstadt from the North German Lloyd Steamship Company. The steamers will be remodelled here and immediately will sail for Constantinople.

CAR PORTER LIFTED MAGNATES' FAT ROLL

Carried Off $1,000 in Bills, But Was Later Caught and Confessed.

[By Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—A story which was hushed up for several weeks came out here this morning, concerning a daring robbery of the private car of Sir William Mackenzie while in Ottawa the day after he obtained his knighthood. The railway magnate had an appointment with Hon. George P. Graham, and, sleeping rather late, he rushed off to keep it, leaving a roll of $6,000 in bills of large denominations lying exposed in the state room of his private car at the Central station.

Found the Thief.

It develops that a car porter found the money, but was evidently afraid to take it all. Two bills of $500 denomination on the outside were stripped off and the man disappeared, the rest of the money, $5,000, being afterwards found on the car floor. The robbery was kept secret here, but two private detectives of Sir William caught the man at Windsor, Ont., where it is said he made a full confession and returned the $1,000. Sir William dismissed him without instituting criminal proceedings.

MARQUETTE BRAKEMAN HAS DAMAGES REDUCED

Court of Appeal Cuts $4,000 to $2,600 After Much Liquidation.

[Canada Press.]

Toronto, Jan. 26.—The court of appeal has decided that $4,000 damages is too much for Frank Leitch, a spare brakeman on the Pere Marquette Railway, and has reduced the amount, after the case has dragged through six courts, to $2,600.

Frank Leitch, who comes from Ridgetown, was struck by a defective switch stand while he was climbing the ladder on the side of a freight car. The conductor coming down took his attention and he did not see his danger. He was thrown down and under the wheels. A portion of both feet was cut off.

Maccabees Convention.

The Knights of the Maccabees of District No. 3 are holding their annual convention in London today. The meeting is well attended. Supreme and provincial officers are present. The delegates will be entertained by the London members this evening.

Superintendent Gillen Ill.

Superintendent C. E. Gillen, of the Grand Trunk Railway, went to Windsor on Wednesday, expecting to attend the hearing which Judge Barron commenced today into the cases of the G. T. R. strikers. He was, however, taken so ill that he had to return to Toronto last night.

Wanted Another Chance.

Fred Fuller, a colored citizen, who a few days ago produced a pledge he had signed and was allowed to go, failed to make good, and this morning was again behind the bars of the prisoners' cage, when Deputy Magistrate Graydon opened the proceedings. Mr. Fuller was absolutely unabashed at his failure to keep his promises, and wanted another chance. He was remanded for a week.

Don't Miss This!

There is a large demand for tickets for the musical offering, "When Sweet Sixteen," which will be given at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, matinee and evening. Manager Minhinnick announces that it will be one of the best attractions of the season, and if the cast is any criterion of its merits this can very readily be indorsed. Among those who will have leading roles will be Eugene Cowles, the well-known basso, last heard in London with Marie Cahill; Scott Welsh and Frances Gordon, who made a great hit here in George Cohan's "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway"; May McCabe; Frank Doane, a well-known comedian; Harriet Standon, Harrison Brockbank and other celebrities. "This should be one of the musical events of the season," declared Mr. Minhinnick. "I would be sorry to think that any of our patrons would miss this rare theatrical treat. We guarantee it absolutely to our patrons."

The widow of Mr. Henry Winder has just received a check for $2,000 from the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., through the recorder of Fidelity Lodge, in payment of claim under his beneficiary. Mr. Winder had been carried for twenty years at a cost of only $552 06. This speaks exceedingly well for the order.

NEW PAPAL DELEGATE COMING NEXT MONTH

[Canada Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—It is expected that Mgr. Stagnie, the new papal delegate to Canada, now in London, England, will preside here on the 22nd of next month at the installation of Mgr. Gauthie, of Kingston, as archbishop of Ottawa. Roman Catholic prelates from all over Canada will be present.

OBITUARY

Word has been received by Mrs. J. O. Robinson, of Prospect avenue, that her brother, Nathan Cooper, of Unionville, Mich., died on Jan. 18, after a long and painful illness. A widow, three children, two sisters and three brothers, survive.

The funeral of Arthur Boug, of 572 Adelaide street, was held this afternoon from his late residence to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. W. T. Hill, of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. The pall-bearers were four sons—William, Aubrey, Percy and Oliver Boug—and two sons-in-law—Mr. Clarke Teeple and Mr. Harry Jeffries.

The funeral of Frank Browning, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. William Browning, was held from the parents' residence, 526 Hamilton road, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery this afternoon.

TELEPHONES WILL SOON BE INSTALLED

Linemen Arrive in London Who Are Erecting Wires For the C. P. R.

WORKING IN SIX WEEKS

No Reduction Will Be Made in the Staff of the Company as at Present Constituted.

The C. P. R. linemen who have charge of the work of building the telephone line between Toronto and London, by which all trains will be operated by phone, arrived in the city yesterday.

"Within six weeks," said an official to The Advertiser this afternoon, "we will be operating all our trains between London and Toronto by means of the telephone instead of the telegraph. Work on the new system will be rushed."

Asked if the installation of the telephone would mean any reduction in the staff, the official replied that exactly the same staff will be required as before.

Will Keep Telegraph.

"Besides that," he said, "we will not dispense with our telegraph system at all, but will use it for carrying messages, as under our regulations the telephones are to be used exclusively for dispatching trains. In case of any trouble we will be able to use the telegraph system as an auxiliary.

"We expect the new system will prove invaluable in every way. It has been in use for some time in other parts of the country and has proven a great timesaver and is absolutely safe and reliable."

LONDON MAN DEFENDS THE CANADIAN WEST

Winters Are Not So Cold As Have Been Painted, He Says.

Mr. J. C. Graham, of 572 William street, takes exception to the statement of a gentleman recently returned to London to the effect that the cold is unbearable in the Canadian West. Mr. Graham has spent two winters and a part of the present in Saskatchewan, and he claims that the weather there is healthful and invigorating.

"During the winter of 1908," he told The Advertiser, "I worked out all the time around Qu'Appelle, and I did not wear an overcoat. The west is the place for the young men, and though I am no longer young, I am going back, too. Cities, towns and villages are springing up everywhere, and the opportunities to get along are much greater than in the east. I hear much talk about Englishmen who get to the west and do not make good. For my part, all I have observed were getting along well.

"Farming in the west is easy compared with farming in the east, and those who are not afraid of work can soon be independent. Work, too, is plentiful, and the wages in all lines are vastly better than in the east."

HIGH GRADE LUMBER NEVER SO SCARCE

And Prices Ruling at Present the Highest Ever Obtained.

[Canada Press.]

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—"The prices paid for high-grade lumber at the present time are the highest ever obtained in the market, and the quantity now on hand was never less in the history of lumber and in the Ottawa Valley. In fact, in high-grade lumber there is a famine just now."

Such was the somewhat surprising statement made today by one of the most prominent manufacturers and exporters on the Ottawa River. The cut of low-grade lumber will be about average, but that of the better export qualities away below normal this winter. The cut in the Ottawa Valley will probably total 500,000,000 feet. Conditions in the woods at the present time are satisfactory. The water is, of course, low, but this is no indication of what it will be in the spring. Market prospects are fairly good.

SLEIGH RIDE PARTY HAD ROUGH TIME

One Gentleman Had His Wrist Broken When Rig Tipped Over.

A sleigh-ride party, made up of four 'bus-loads of young people, left the city last night for Hyde Park. The driver of one 'bus missed his way, and went to Arva instead.

One of the remaining sleighs was tipped over, throwing the occupants out, with the result that one of them, Mr. J. J. Feeney, had his wrist seriously broken. He was taken on to Hyde Park, where he was attended by Dr. Ross, and afterwards was brought back to London by a Hyde Park resident. The other young people returned later after spending an eventful but pleasant evening.

GEN. OTTER IN LONDON

Inspection Is Going on at Wolseley Barracks.

General Otter arrived in the city today from Ottawa, and this afternoon made an inspection of the classes of instruction that are being held at Wolseley Barracks. He leaves this evening for Toronto.

STATED CASE ALLOWED.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—The court of appeal has decided to allow a stated case on the application of Annie Lumgair, of Hamilton, from her appeal by Judge Monck. The questions which are to be figured when the case comes again before the court are whether the judge was right in admitting evidence as to a statement made by an agent of Miss Lumgair, but not in her presence, and whether the evidence of Mrs. Edith Ford as to a conversation with an agent and W. S. Lumgair at the defendant's store was properly admissible.

ADA LA DARE'S FRIEND APPEARS FOR DRUNKENESS

Police Learning Some of the History of Young Woman With High Notions.

Another chapter in the case of Ada La Dare was unfolded at the police court this morning, when Robert Elliott, the man with whom she has been living, was remanded for a week for drunkenness.

The police have been making a close investigation regarding the girl who created such a sensation by appearing in a practically nude condition on the roof of a building near the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets on Tuesday at midnight and threatened to jump off.

They have learned that the girl is 21 years old, and not 17, as she claims, that her real name is Clarke, and that she was born in London, and lived here until her mother committed suicide, after which her father deserted the girl and her brother.

Then she was adopted by a St. Thomas family, and lived with them until the death of her foster mother. The woman, it is said, left her $1,000, but her foster father protested the payment of the money, and managed to get it reduced to $500, on the ground that his wife at the time she signed the check was not in full possession of her mental faculties.

It is said that from the time the girl was 13 years old the St. Thomas family had a great deal of trouble with her, as she was very wild. Miss La Dare was yesterday remanded for a week by Deputy Magistrate Graydon until the police investigate her history thoroughly.

EAST LONDON NEWS

A NARROW ESCAPE FROM ASPHYXIATION

Peculiar Mishap Befalls East London Resident.

Mr. Verne Burgess, son of Mr. H. F. Burgess, 768 Dundas street, had a close call from being suffocated by gas. Mr. Burgess has been ill for several days with the grippe. Late Tuesday evening he got up to take a dose of medicine, and was just turning on the jet to light the gas when he took a dizzy spell and fell back on the bed. He had turned the jet partly on, and the fumes soon filled the room. The sick man lay there for a short time and then awoke with the sensation of slowly smothering. In a half-dazed way he discovered that the gas was escaping, and with a supreme effort he managed to turn the jet off. The fumes had affected him so badly, however, that it was necessary to call in a doctor, and he was confined to his bed all day yesterday. This morning he was a little better, but it will be a few days before he fully recovers from his experience.

EAST END CURLERS HAVING GRAND TIME

Ice Is Still in Good Condition Despite the Mild Weather.

The east end curlers are having a great time in their rink on the fair grounds. Since the first cold spell there has been curling going on in this rink, and despite all the mild weather the ice is still in excellent condition. The reason for this is hard to explain, but nevertheless it is a fact, and games will be played this afternoon on all the rinks. This morning one of the prominent curlers of this rink was telling The Advertiser all about it. "There is only one thing we are worrying about," he said, "and that is that we will have to close up a couple of weeks in the fall so that the fair can be held. However we expect to be curling all summer, and no doubt a couple of weeks' rest in the fall will put us in good condition for the winter games."

Wednesday four rinks from the Thistles played four rinks of the east enders, and managed to come out ahead by three shots.

The rinks were as follows:

eye, on his right wrist, and marks of a dog-bite on his leg.

"The little fellow was always getting hurt some way or other," she added, remembering his baby falls and hurts.

"He cannot be in the river, no one thinks he is in the river," she said, "and if he had wandered into some barn or shed, he would have been found before this."

Organized Search.

The managers of the rolling mills, where Mr. Wilson works, have offered to do anything that can be suggested by way of an organized search, but there are absolutely no clues to begin on.

The case is admitted to be the most mysterious disappearance reported in the city for years. The general view of the matter is that the child is being detained somewhere for unknown reasons, but where or by whom, neither his parents nor others can suggest.

COAL HOLDINGS SOLD.

Winnipeg, Jan. 26.—The Cardiff Coal Company, Limited, have sold their holdings in Alberta to an entirely new company, operating under the name of the Cardiff Collieries, Limited, for $820,000.

Investment Suggestions

The stock market fluctuates—conditions change—an investment may be attractive from the standpoint of income and security this month, and not the next, or vice versa.

So once a month, on an average, we publish some suggestions for investments in the form of a list embodying what we consider the most attractive stocks at the time of writing, with description of the securities and pertinent and timely comments. These lists are mailed, as issued, to our clients and others who are interested in investment securities.

We find that investors like to receive this list—write to know the reason why if by any accident they fail to receive their copies when due.

As an investor, or one interested in investments, you should be on our mailing list. This, whether you are a regular client of ours or not.

A request will bring you these lists—there is no charge—you are placed under no obligations of any kind. Our list for this period is now ready.

$100 REWARD

of charity, the money to be devoted to finding the lad.

"If it is not legal, let us raise the money ourselves," declared Ald. Tancock. "I will start the ball rolling with $10."

Too Much Law.

"That would be all right enough, but the council, as I said before, can make the grant on the grounds of charity," said Mayor Beattie. "I am somewhat tired of having the legality of every move thrown in the face of the council. I would favor making a grant, and then if any person disputes the legality of it, let him go ahead. I do not think there is any person mean enough to do it."

"It is our duty to offer the reward," declared Ald. Cooper. "A child's life may be in the balance."

The motion making the grant carried unanimously.

A New Fire Engine.

By the consent of the council, Ald. Ashplant brought up the question of a fire engine. He pointed out that the time had almost elapsed for including a clause in the city of London bill empowering the city to issue debentures for $10,000 for a fire engine. He thought something should be done at once.

"I think we should make the amount $10,000," he declared. "If we purchased a steam engine we would have to alter the station, and that would cost considerable money. Perhaps it could be done for $8,500, but this council has not decided whether or not they want an auto engine or a steam engine. We had better provide for an auto engine in any event. If we find that we do not want such a machine, we need not expend the money."

The other members of the council agreed to this, and the motion passed.

Those present were Mayor Beattie, Ald. Cooper, Ald. Donnelly, Ald. Wilson, Ald. Tancock, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Morgan and City Clerk Baker.

RADICALS SNEER AT CROWN PRINCE

They Say the German Heir Has Fooled Away His Time on His Trip to India.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—The radical newspapers of Germany are not satisfied with the manner in which the Crown Prince has spent his time during his visit to India. It is alleged that instead of devoting himself to a serious study of Indian affairs, the object of his visit, he gave himself up entirely to his own personal enjoyment, his whole time being taken up either in sport or festivity.

These newspapers publish many bitter comments, and declare that the prince could have learned more about India had he stayed at home and read useful books. In several of the Berlin theatres humorous references have been made to the Crown Prince's studies.

The official explanation that he has taken with him a valuable library on Indian questions is laughed at. The books, say the humorists, consist of "The Sport Calendar," "Tiger Shooting for Beginners," and "High Society at Simla."

GRASSHOPPERS ATE MONEY.

F. B. Crane recently walked into the government office with a five-dollar bill in his hand, or, rather, what was left of the bill after the grasshoppers had got through with it, relates the Denver Post. It was picked up on the farm of Potato Clark, seven miles from Parker, and turned over to Crane for redemption by the treasury department.

From the manner in which the bill was chewed up by the insects, it must have been attacked from all sides at once, but the brigade that sailed into the head must have had the sharpest grasshopper teeth, for there was little left of the Indian head that once adorned the bill. When lost it was new, and evidently just out of the money-making plants of the Government.

THE CZAR'S WATCH.

There is in the possession of the Czar a very remarkable watch. It was made by a Polish mechanic named Jules Curron. The Czar had heard some wonderful tales about the inventive ability of this man, and, wishing personally to test his skill, he sent him a parcel containing a few copper nails, some wood chippings, a piece of broken glass, an old cracked china cup, some wire and a few cribbage board pegs. Accompanying this was a command to make them into a timepiece. Within a remarkably short time the Czar received them back in the shape of a watch. The case was made of china, and the works of the other odds and ends. So pleased and astonished was the Czar that he sent for the man and conferred several distinctions upon him.

BANANA AN OUTLAW.

Some people believe that the banana was the original forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden. In any case, it is one of the curiosities of the vegetable kingdom, being not a tree, a palm, a bush, a shrub, a vegetable or an herb, but a herbaceous plant with the status of a tree. Although it sometimes attains a height of 30 feet, there is no woody fiber in any part of its structure, and the bunches growing on the dwarf banana plant are often heavier than the stalk which supports them. No other plant gives such a quantity of food to the acre as the banana; it yields 44 times more weight than the potato, and 133 times more than wheat. Moreover, no insect will attack it, and it is always immune from disease of any kind.

WARSHIP TO BEAR NAME OF THE KING

The King George V. Is Selected For Great Fighter.

THE NEW CRUISER IDEA

System Patterned Somewhat on the American Lines Is To Be Used in the British Navy.

London, Jan. 25.—The Herald's naval correspondent writes:

"The decision of the naval authorities in the matter of the name of the first battleship to be laid down in the present reign has been the cause of some discussion on naval nomenclature. It had been thought likely that this ship would be called the Royal George, although that name is in the minds of most people only connected with the disaster commemorated in Cowper's dirge:

Toll for the brave!
  The brave that are no more!
All sunk beneath the wave,
  Fast by their native shore!

"However, the precedent of the last reign, when the first battleship was named the King Edward VII., is to be followed, and the next ship will be christened the King George V.

"It is an open secret that King George himself has selected this name, and there is a consensus of opinion that in this matter the choice is judicious. When Queen Victoria was on the throne it does not appear to have been her practice to worry much about the names of ships, but with King Edward this was changed, and although the controller sent a suggested list to the first lord his late majesty took a decided interest in the matter.

"Seeing the close relationship in which Lord Fisher stood to the throne, doubtless his advice was taken. This was certainly so in the case of the Dreadnought. Considering his close association with the navy, it would have been surprising if King George had not followed his father's example. His interest in naval traditions is also shown by the further selection of names like the Centurion, the Ajax and the Audacious for the three sister ships to the King George V., all these names having been borne by ships of mark in the service.

A New System.

"In regard to cruisers a new system was instituted some little time back approximating to that which is a law in the United States. A territorial connection was set up, first, with the counties and then with the principal towns. This has in late years been extended also to the colonies and the overseas dominions. As in America, so here the localities honored have responded to the invitation, and have in nearly every case presented their namesakes afloat with some souvenir of the connection.

"Two of the cruisers now building for the colonies are to be named the Sydney and the Melbourne, and those about to be laid down for the imperial navy will be named after Chatham, Dublin and Southampton. Many of these territorial names are not new to the navy, but they were first introduced to commemorate people of distinction and title.

"It is, however, in regard to small craft that greater diversity of opinion prevails. Objections and protests are constantly made to the use of such names as Dove, Violet, Stag, Zephyr and Grasshopper for fighting ships, especially as they have no conection with maritime affairs or the navy. The suggestion has been made more than once to substitute for these botanical, zoological and entomological names those of naval officers who have distinguished themselves by gallantry in action.

"This would again be to follow the American rule, which gives to destroyers the names of naval officers, a practice, moreover, which obtains in several of the European fleets. The American plan, however, appears to be open to this objection, that no disposition is made between officers of different grades, no baptismal names are given in the usual lists, and the principle of discrimination is not clear. Thus there are, among the names of small craft, Farragut and Decatur, of a rank and distinction which in the British navy have been honored by a battleship or big cruiser; Cushing and Flusser, whose exploits are well known, and Subrick and Smith, names which must be puzzling because of their frequency, to anyone not intimately acquainted with American naval history.

"The English proposal is to commemorate the names of officers below those of flag rank who have lost their lives in face of the enemy. King George has been said to favor this plea, but upon what authority the statement is made is not known. In a navy like that of Great Britain custom and tradition stand for a great deal, and there is no sign at present that this change will be made."

PHILLIPS' WOMEN COST HIM LIFE

Acquaintances of Fitzhugh Coyle Goldsborough Say He Was Incensed.

New York, Jan. 26.—The body of Fitzhugh Coyle Goldsborough, the poet-musician who slew Phillips, which was borne to the railway station in Jersey City as the novelist was breathing his last, will be buried in Washington today. What is regarded as an explanation for his crime—or the explanation that might be given by a man obsessed—is found in extracts from his diary, made public by the district attorney and a statement made today by Goldsborough's uncle, T. H. Powers Farr, of this city.

Entries in Book.

One of the entries in the diary is: "I believed G. Phillips is trying to fake a case against me or to do me serious bodily harm, or both. Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock I was sitting in my window when I noticed a pretty looking woman seated at the second story window in the Arts Society building. This woman was about 20 years old or a little more, I should say, and had a large hat with flowers around it.

"She smiled over at me in a pointed manner and on first catching sight of me lifted her hand and waved it. I could not quite decide whether this was an involuntary motion of interest on seeing me or was meant as a sign of encouragement for me to start me flirting with her. I got rather the latter impression. A man was half in sight near the window. I think it was D. G. P. I looked steadily at this woman for a few momenes and glanced away just as the man came to the window to look out. I then kept my eyes from that window as much as possible.

"The woman, however, continued for perhaps a half hour or three-quarters, enough longer to sit there, and take evident notice of me. I concluded it was Mrs. Frevent, D. G. P.'s sister, and that they were amusing themselves after receipt of my last letter to him and at my expense. But later, as I left my house some woman left hers and looked at me fixedly and I do not think it was Mrs. Frevent. Now, why did she make these advances?"

The novel, "Joshua Craig," tells the story of an ambitious young westerner, a man of the people, who came to Washington, and by sheer force of personality, won the hand of a proud and over-refined young woman, who at first ridiculed his uncouthness and lack of polish.

"Fitzhugh had all the eccentricities of genius," Mr. Farr said. "The entire family is musical and the development of music seemed to have been strongest in the boy. He was far from being practical.

"He was most courtly in his ideas about women, and we are of the opinion that he became incensed with Mr. Phillips because of his treatment of some of his women characters in his books. We think he brooded over this until he began to look on Mr. Phillips as an enemy, and decided to kill him. We can explain his mad action in no other way."

Phillips died game. He knew that the end was near, but he often repeated the declaration that he would not die. As the final moment approached, however, he realized.

"I could fight two wounds, but not six. I fear that the odds are too great," were his last words, whispered to Dr. Eugene Fuller.

Praise From Chambers.

Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, who had been, perhaps, his closest associate in New York city, said:

"He was one of the best of men. He was high-minded and true, one of the finest of American writers. His best work seemed yet to come—he was just finding himself and had struck a vein that promised richly for the future."

Miss Hildegard Hawthorn, speaking of her personal acquaintance with Mr. Phillips, said:

"The desire to work out the ideas of his country and his age was always uppermost in his ambition, and he was growing so rapidly toward his ideal in this direction that his friends had already allotted him a lofty place in letters. We believed him destined to lasting fame as the exponent of American life and the problems that beset."

Slayer Was Demented.

That Mr. Phillips' assailant was demented appears to have been demonstrated conclusively, not only by the curious testimony of his diary and notebooks, but also by his appeals to Mayor Gaynor's secretary and other officials for protection from persons who he believed were hounding him.

The entries in his diary showed that he had translated to personal abuse the author's picturesque characterization of a class in his novel on Washington life, "The Adventures of Joshua Craig," and under this construction has conceived a homicidal hatred of which the victim was unaware.

HARRIMAN'S AMBITION.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Tribune says: "If Mr. Harriman had lived he would have had a railroad around the world. This was one of his great ambitions. Another was to see the completion of the Panama Canal. If the Government had not taken up the talk of constructing this great waterway, he would have built it himself.

These two secrets, showing the extent to which the late railroad man's ambitions were leading him at the time of his death, were revealed last night by Otto H. Kuhn, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
