DAVID MAGEE INSTANTLY KILLED BY WOMAN*Mrs. Robert Kyle Shoots in Self-Defense Man Who It Is Said Had Repeatedly Annoyed Her.Gives Herself Up to Police at Once, Admitting Deed—Career of Dead Man.[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Ont., July 18.—Because he persisted in coming to her home and insulting her with improper proposals, Mrs. Emily Kyle, wife of Robert Kyle, an employee of the Ingersoll Condensing Company, shot and killed David Magee just outside her house at 7:30 this morning. Three shots were fired from her revolver. The first missed, but the others took fatal effect. Magee dropped on the sidewalk after running a few yards, and died a moment later.

Mrs. Kyle immediately walked to police headquarters, half a mile from her home, and gave herself up.

"I've shot a man," was her exclamation as she rushed into Chief Wright's office. "He is now lying dead on the road near my house. I'm sorry, but I had to do it. He would not stay away from my house, and to protect myself I was forced to do it."

The chief promptly placed her under arrest, and accompanied by Dr. Neff, coroner, went to the scene of the tragedy. There they viewed the remains of Magee lying on the sidewalk. He had a bullet in his head and another in the shoulder. Death was practically instantaneous. The body was taken to Barlett's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial. A jury later viewed them and adjourned to meet this evening.

The Dead Man's Career.

The murdered man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Magee, of Toronto, who lived in Ingersoll up to ten years ago. His family are highly respected, but his life was largely a failure. Eight years ago he was sent to Woodstock jail for assaulting Policeman McConnell here, later he was sent to Central Prison, Toronto, and a couple of years ago was arrested for abducting a Miss McIntyre in Toronto. He was captured with her at Detroit and sentenced to a term in prison. A month ago he returned to Ingersoll, and has been here ever since. He was not working and was frequently to be seen around the Kyle home.

Had Threatened Mrs. Kyle.

Robert Kyle, husband of the woman who now stands accused of murder, interviewed, said: "Three weeks ago Magee came to my home. I did not want him around, but seeing he was out of work, I gave him food and work. I ordered him away. He used to return while I was at work in the factory. My wife was afraid of him, he would threaten to smash in our windows if she did not let him in the house. For the last three days he had kept the doors locked to keep him out. This morning she opened the doors to wash, and less than fifteen minutes after I left for work Magee appeared. My wife told me she told him to leave. He didn't go, so she got a revolver out of the dresser and fired at him as he entered the door. The bullet missed him and he ran out on the walk. My wife went to the door and told him to go on, but instead, he began to return. She fired twice again, and he dropped. I borrowed the revolver last Wednesday from Superintendent Knight, of our factory, that my wife might defend herself. I feared the fellow, as he had been drinking."

Both Kyle and his wife are well thought of here. They have no family. The scene of the tragedy is a neatly-kept frame house on the western outskirts of the town. At noon Mrs. Kyle was removed on a stretcher to a hospital. Both the accused and the murdered man were about 55 years of age.

GRAY ATTEMPTED TO KILL ANOTHER*Twice Tried to End Woman
With Whom He Was Infatuated.

A Detroit dispatch says: "By the testimony of the Druggill woman with whom he was infatuated, and that of his associates during several months of dissipation and debauch, all of whom believe him to be crazy, probably will come the evidence that he sent Daniel Gray, murderer of his wife, Jennie, who, with her husband came here from London, Ont., to an asylum, instead of to stay in prison."

"It is alleged that Gray made at least two attempts to kill Miss Druggill, but was pacified and dissuaded by her, and that after killing his wife he sought the Druggill girl, but was unable to find her. It is believed by Gray's acquaintances that he would have killed the girl, too. The Druggill woman is the daughter of wealthy and respectable parents living on the Canadian side of the river."

THE PACKING OF FRUITExpert McNeil Wants It Shipped in Boxes Instead of Barrels*[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, July 18.—The agricultural committee closed its session this afternoon. Mr. McNeil, chief of the fruit division, advocated the shipping of fruit to Britain in boxes instead of barrels. Some experiments had been made, he said, and they were highly successful. He also favored a central packing station in New York State for the early apple crop of South Ontario.A BAHAMAN PREFERENCE*Attorney-General Advises Colony to Ottawa, July 18.—The people of the Bahamas have been advised to grant Canada a preference by the attorney-general of that colony.

The bills for judges' salaries, indemnity and increase of the Premier's and Mr. Borden's salaries were read a third time today. The annuity bill was held over for correction.

Swept Into River.

Lexington, Ky., July 18.—News received today says that a Great Shamrock, plying about Valleyview, on the Kentucky River, while carrying a party of 50 excursionists up the river three miles from their review, ran into a rope stretched from a log boom. The rope swept Miss Nancy Carpenter into the river, and she was drowned. The smokestack was thrown down on George W. Hutchinson, probably fatally injuring him. Five others were badly hurt.

Stokes-Pastor Wedding.

Stamford, Conn., July 18.—The wedding of Miss Rose Pastor to Mr. John G. Phelps-Stokes, son of Anson Phelps-Stokes, took place at noon today in the pretty little St. Luke's Church at Norton. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Stokes to go abroad for a vacation of about two months. Upon their return they will take up their residence on the lower east side, New York, where they will continue the settlement work in which both have been engaged.

Berthe Claiche Goes to Jail.

New York, July 18.—Berthe Claiche, the French girl indicted for murder in the first degree yesterday by the grand jury for killing Emil Gendron, pleaded not guilty today and was remanded for trial. No attempt was made to secure an early trial for the girl, and she will have to remain in prison until the fall session and until after cases ahead of hers are tried. The girl, who says that for six years past Gendron made her lead a life of slavery, and that she killed him on July 8, to escape this slavery looked very pale and when asked back to her long wall imprisonment. INSANITY ON
THE INCREASE*Ratio Nearly Doubled in Last Ten Years—Middlesex Second County in List.

Toronto, July 18.—"It will be seen that, so far as the figures are evidence, there were in 1884 eight insane persons for every 5,000 of the population, and that in 1904 there are fourteen insane persons to every 5,000 of the population. If there were little or no change in the ratio of the population, that there was no reliable evidence of its increase, but the increase is so great that there is only one conclusion to be arrived at, and that is, that whatever the cause, insanity is increasing in Ontario more rapidly than the population."

So states Mr. R. Burdette, in his annual report, just published, of lunatic and idiot asylums. In the year ending Sept. 30, 1904, the number of lunatics admitted was 878, and of idiots 82, a total of 960. During the previous year the total was 889. In twenty years there had been admitted 16,061, an average of 803 each year. The average daily population of the asylums had increased from 2,867 in 1884 to 5,500 in 1904.

The revenue for the year from asylums was $106,149.48. Twenty years ago it was $48,155.18. The average daily population increased 91 per cent, and the revenue 120 per cent. The total maintenance since Confederation reaches nearly sixteen millions.

York County contributes the largest number of patients, 236; Middlesex comes next, with 197. Westchester, third, with 49. Housekeepers head the list of occupations, 296 patients having succumbed to the monotony of the daily round. Laborers come next, 124, and farmers close up, with 122; domestic servants are next, with 46, clerks 14 and carpenters 13.

Ryan, by purchase from James Hazen Hyde, has been formally transferred to the board of trustees, which is headed by Edward D. Clark. The announcement was made today by Geo. F. Parker, secretary of the Equitable, in the following statement: "Messrs. Grover Cleveland, George Westinghouse and Morgan J. O'Brien, trustees of the majority of the Equitable stock, announce that all of the 502 shares of stock of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, delivered to them by Mr. Thomas F. Ryan, have been transferred to their names as trustees, and that it is now represented by a single certificate held by them, subject to the trust agreement."

JIM HILL'S NEW ROADSays V. V. and E. Is Not Part of Transcontinental Line.

New York, July 18.—That the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern, the new road which the Great Northern interests intend to build in British Columbia, is to be made part of a new transcontinental line through Canada, as was recently reported, has been emphatically denied by James J. Hill, in an interview published by the Times. "Such a suggestion is nonsense," said the capitalist. "There is no such plan. A large part of the territory in British Columbia and in Northern Washington is practically identical in character, and distinguished in no way, one part from the other, except by the drawing of an imaginary line. The new road will cross and recross the frontier, following the streams that run through that territory. It will furnish means of transportation to a rich, low-lying

NEW YORK RIOT RESUMEDPolice Were Fired Upon by Gangs of Negroes.

New York, July 18.—Rioting between whites and blacks was resumed after midnight this morning in the San Juan Hill district on Sixty-sixth and Sixty-second streets between Amsterdam and West End avenues. Many shots were fired and 20 negroes and one white woman were arrested. Policeman David Roche had his skull fractured. Police reserves were called out.

The trouble started when four policemen passing a saloon in West Sixty-third street were fired at by a crowd of 20 negroes who were on the steps. The policemen turned and just then one of the men threw a brick which struck Roche on the head, knocking him senseless. The other three charged with their night sticks and a dash was made into the saloon in which more than 20 negroes were found. The negroes were fired with their revolvers and their fire was returned by the policemen. Then the crowd fled and were pursued to various houses in the block.

The police captured Arthur Moody, who is said to have thrown the brick at Roche, George F. Foster, proprietor of the saloon, and eleven other colored men.

The riot spread to Sixty-first street, where a crowd of 200 negroes gathered in a saloon and when the police entered shots were fired at them. After a long struggle the police succeeded in arresting four men. The other three were taken to the police station. By that time Captain Conroy arrived with all of the reserves and after the last colored man had been driven to the street the riot seemed to be at an end for the time being.

Three of the prisoners were found to have been shot, but none fatally.

THEY TRAVELED BAREFOOTMany Italians Went on a Pilgrimage to New York.

New York, July 17.—More than 100,000 Italians today congregated between One Hundred and Fourth and One Hundred and Sixteenth streets, the "Little Italy" of New York, to celebrate the feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. They came from as far east as Boston and as far west as Pittsburgh. From 30 miles around New York Italians came on foot, many of them barefoot as a still greater penance.

All day was spent in semi-religious festivities. About the colony were scattered altars of wood and tinsel, and on which many of them laid wax reproductions of fingers, limbs, or other parts of the body, which their prayers to the saint would heal. At a street parade the rear end was made up of barefoot women and children carrying candles melting under the combined heat of their own light and the sun. Candles, many of which were expensive importations from Italy, were an important part of the festival and it was estimated that more than seven tons of them were used today.

Hundreds of pilgrims from out of town were forced to live in the streets and 300 patrolmen were detailed to preserve order.

90 IN THE SHADEAT 2 O'CLOCK TODAY

The heat today is more intense than yesterday. Today at eight o'clock the thermometer registered 75 degrees in the shade, and at two o'clock it was 90. In the shade at the observatory, against 85.5 at the warmest time yesterday. A slight breeze which has been blowing since early morning has somewhat nullified the rays of the sun, but nevertheless the day has been very hard on the aged and on the very young. Engineer Simmie reports that since yesterday the water in the reservoir at Springbank has gone down over two feet.

BIG STORM AT ST. KITTSRain, Hail and Lightning Sweep

St. Catharines, Ont., July 18.—A violent storm struck this section last night. Rain and hail fell in sheets, and the lightning was most vivid. Several places were struck, but no damage was done except to some of the barns, which were fired and destroyed. Haynes' loss will be heavy. It is not thought that the fruit was damaged to any extent.

WILL MARQUETTE HIT BACKRumor Says the Shops Will Be Removed From St. Thomas.

Toronto, July 17.—A sensational rumor was current in railway circles here today to the effect that in retaliation for the attempted deportation of their employees a St. Thomas, the Pere Marquette Railway decided to remove their shops from St. Thomas to the American side of the Falls.

THREE MINISTERS
TO LEAVE CABINET*Cartwright, Scott and Fitzpatrick Likely to Retire.*YOUNG BLOOD FOR VACANCIES*Mr. Lemieux May Become Secretary of State and Mr. Campbell Succeed Sir Richard Cartwright.

Ottawa, July 17.—The long-talked-of changes in the cabinet may be looked for about Sept. 1. They are said to involve the retirement of Mr. Fitzpatrick, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Scott. Mr. Fitzpatrick will likely succeed Chief Justice Routhier at Quebec, although he could, if so desirous, become chief justice of the supreme court. But he and his family prefer to live in Quebec. If Mr. Aylesworth can be persuaded to enter the cabinet he will be the new minister of justice.

For a constituency if he has no objection to the score of distance, Gaspé is at his disposal. Mr. Lemieux was elected to Gaspé as well as Nicolet, and will choose to sit for the latter when the protest filed against his return has been withdrawn. When Mr. Scott goes out Mr. Lemieux will be appointed secretary of state, and either Mr. Hugh Guthrie or Mr. Leighton McCarthy, solicitor-general, Mr. Arch. Campbell's name is freely mentioned as Sir Richard Cartwright's successor. With the adoption of the annuity scheme for ex-cabinet ministers Mr. Scott and Sir Richard Cartwright would receive $6,000 per annum, including their senatorial indemnity.

The forecast of the cabinet changes, to take place in September, made above, gives an illustration of the way in which the historic figures of the formative period of confederation are passing from the scene. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier formed his ministry in 1896 the members were Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Oliver Mowat, Mr. Fielding, Mr. L. H. Davies, Mr. Blair, Mr. Paterson, Mr. Mulock, Mr. Tarte, Mr. Borden, Mr. Fisher, Sir Henry Joy, Senator Scott, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Geoffrion and Mr. Dobell — the two latter without portfolio. THE MAIL TEST AND BLUENOSES

Maritime Provinces Consider That Intercolonial De-serves Credit.

Halifax, N. S., July 17. — The attempt which is being made in the west to belittle the success of the British mail test via North Sydney entirely misrepresents the object of the trial of the Cape Breton route. The fact that the turbine Virginian was from ten to fifteen hours late, the slowest of the rendezvous off Sydney has nothing to do with the real test. The slowness of the Virginian's passage was due to delays caused by fog off Cape Breton, a derangement of her steering gear. The main object of the test was to prove that the North Sydney route was materially faster than the Rimouski route, and in that respect, the test has been eminently satisfactory.

The trial shows that British mails landed at North Sydney can be delivered to Montreal from twelve to thirteen hours ahead of those carried by steamer to Rimouski and thence forwarded by train to Montreal.

The Intercolonial carried the mails 381 miles in 20 hours and 24 minutes, almost equalling the record of the Pennsylvania Flyer between New York and Chicago, which runs 351 miles in 20 hours.

In the Maritime Provinces the result of the test is hailed with the greatest satisfaction, where the slow delivery of the British mails has been a long-standing grievance. The mails were distributed to Maritime points on Thursday night, 24 to 36 hours earlier than if they had been sent to Rimouski. The argument is used that by utilizing a Nova Scotia port for landing of mails and passengers the interest of one million people in the Atlantic Provinces will be best served, as there will be a gain of one or two days for both passengers and mails, and the Western Provinces will suffer no inconvenience, in fact, will benefit to the extent of half a day in the quicker delivery of mails by the overland route. But even if the gain is less, Maritime people contend that they should not be compelled to wait two days for their mails or travel eight hundred to a thousand miles to take passage on a steamer that passes their doors.

Shipping men here do not take much stock in the claim that the British route will ever be a factor in the fast Atlantic mail service. Captains who are familiar with the Belle Isle waters state that five times out of seven the navigator will meet fog or ice and frequently both, making it impracticable for high-speed vessels. One captain is quoted as saying that he was detained twenty-four hours in the Straits last summer by fog, and when the fog lifted, one hundred icebergs were in sight.

Before any permanent arrangement is made a test will probably be made of the Halifax route, which is about 130 miles longer by sea, but has the advantage of being 200 miles nearer Montreal by railway.

Purgatives Are Dangerous.

They gripe, cause burning pains, and make the constipated condition even worse. Physicians say the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and disordered digestion, no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c box yourself.

"Sleeping in the open air can only be practiced with safety from arrest by wealthy persons, or those who can show that they have plenty of means and are doing it for experiment—and then only so long as no obstruction is caused," said the magistrate of a London police court the other day.

PLUCKY PEARY'S LAST POLE TRIP

Will Make Supreme Effort to Land the Trophy for the United States.

New York, July 17. — Robert E. Peary, the American explorer, has sailed from Sydney, C. B., to find the north pole, a quest with which his name is inseparably connected as the name of Sir Thomas Lipton with efforts to lift the America's cup.

Peary has the north pole habit to such an extent that he does not set out when he does. Since 1891 he has spent eight years in the Arctic circle. On one trip his wife and daughter and away in the ice-bound wilderness a child was born to the indomitable pair. This time, Mrs. Peary accompanies her husband a part of the way, and then turns home to wait for news of him. It may be September, 1906, before Mr. Peary, but the world will not be left uninformed till then, for Peary is taking a Marconi wireless outfit along, and hopes to send back news every day.

The ship which will carry the adventurer to within 500 miles of the pole is named the Roosevelt, and is a specially constructed steamer, with auxiliary sails. She has many times the horse-power of any previous Arctic exploration ship, and apart from this advantage the Roosevelt's hull is egg-shaped. The theory is that she cannot be caught in the ice, but that the pressure will raise her above the surface. The harder the ice presses the more the ship is squeezed up, until, if the ice gets thick enough, she is forced steadily upward until she rises on top of the pack. Of course, it would smash unless the hull was strongly supported by supports, which it is. An iron beam and iron rods run from the main deck right down to the keel. Then there are oak beams crosswise on the deck and between decks, braced from side to side. There are also, every forty-eight inches, tie beams running from the center iron post diagonally down to the lower beams. It is exactly the same principle that is used in the old-fashioned country highway bridges. No matter how great the resistance of the ice bracing until the fiber of the wood gives way. There are no stairways or quarters below deck. The hold is used for coal and supplies. The accommodations for living and sleeping are all in a light superstructure on top of the deck. In this way the hull of the ship is a solid mass, as well as being braced. No ice floe could possibly smash her.

Route of the Explorer.

From Sydney, Peary will steam to Cape York, where he expects to arrive about Aug. 1. There a picked band of Eskimos, the dogs and supplies of meat will be secured. The dog course will be laid for Cape Sabine, and there is little doubt that the explorer will arrive there on schedule time, which is the middle of August. Three hundred and fifty miles farther north is the spot on Grant Land where Peary expects to establish himself in winter quarters. The expedition journey will be a difficult one, and contingent in point of time, on the condition of the ice and water.

The expedition journey will be a difficult one, and contingent in point of time, on the condition of the ice and water.

Peary's plan is to sail for Cape Sabine, and there is little doubt that the explorer will arrive there on schedule time, which is the middle of August. Three hundred and fifty miles farther north is the spot on Grant Land where Peary expects to establish himself in winter quarters. The Difference Between Expert and Unskilful Tea Blending

THE qualities of different teas prove that there is a distinct difference between expert Red Rose blending methods and the usual methods.

Several kinds of teas may be blended, but if unskilfully selected they will not combine to make a perfect blend; they will retain their original individual characteristics with their roughness and harshness emphasized.

Such tea is bitter, poorly flavored in the cup (and there is much of it in bulk and package form on the market). It emphasizes the result of inexperience, lack of knowledge of combining qualities of different teas, imperfect blending, poor selection, and the hundred and one other causes of poor tea.

But my expert Red Rose blenders select the right grades of strong, rich Indian teas and delicate fragrant Ceylon teas, and produce Red Rose Tea with entirely new characteristics—a tea with that "rich fruity flavor"—a tea so exquisitely different and better than any brand of Ceylon alone, that no one who once tries it ever goes back to Ceylon again.

TORONTO JUNCTION.

Toronto Junction, July 17.—With a large consignment of cattle from the west and the space taken on the boats, and the market quiet in the old country, business at the Union stock yards this morning was quite quiet. A heavy run was also recorded, and with the weather the buyers did not care to buy.

The run today was the largest for some months, being 88 cars, with 1,500 cattle, 102 sheep, 26 calves and 3 horses.

The quality of the exporters was the best this year, and in spite of that the prices dropped about 25¢ per cwt.

Butchers' cattle were also a little lower. There were not many butchers' cattle, but the demand was not great.

Milk cows were not plentiful, and held about the same.

Hogs were steady, at $6.50, off cars, and $2.25 fed and watered.

E. Small bought 5 loads of exporters at $4.40 to $4.45.

W. J. McCall bought 1,000 lbs. of butchers, averaging 1,000 lbs. at $4.40.

Export ewes are reported at $4; bucks, $3.25; spring lambs, $5.75 to $7 for the best, and the majority, $5.50 to $6.25; calves, $5 to $5.50.

W. B. Leveck bought 102 sheep and lambs at $4.

Maybe, Wilson & Hall sold 2 loads of exporters, averaging 1,400 lbs. at $4.85; 1 load, 1,200 lbs. at $4.90; 3 good butchers, 1,000 lbs. at $3.15.

PRESENT FOR MR. ORCHARD

Foreman Kindly Remembered by Employees at Machine Tool Works.

A pleasant affair took place at the London machine tool works the other day, when his fellow-workmen showed their appreciation of their foreman, Mr. John Orchard, by giving him a handsome present. Mr. Orchard was recently married, and the present, which was a silver tea set of five pieces, was therefore most appropriate.

The address, which was signed by Messrs. Ed. Gage, Louis Elsie, and Morley Hunt, on behalf of the employees, was as follows: "Dear Sir—We, the employees of the London Machine Tool Company, take this opportunity of showing our appreciation, in a small way, of your long and successful career among us. As we look back over a period of 20 years or more, we are constantly reminded of the many happy days spent together, and of the knowledge and experience which you have imparted to us. Your genial, good nature has often been an inspiration to us in the arduous duties incident to our calling, and we always look to you with pleasure to the helpful manner and good interest you have manifested in us, and trust the same good fellowship will continue in the future as in the past, and in again taking up the thread of life, we sincerely wish you and your partner a long and happy future, and in doing so, would ask you to accept this silver set as a slight evidence of our esteem for you.

Mr. Orchard was also kindly remembered by his employers on the occasion of his marriage.

So fashionable is appendicitis in British society circles that, says London Opinion, many women would rather have it "than a three-quarter-length photograph in a magazine."

London Sweltered in Heat; Was Over 100 in the Sun

Old Sol Stronger Yesterday Than On Any Previous Day This Year.

Yesterday the heat broke all records for 1905. The thermometer at the official observatory in South London registered 85.5 in the shade. In the sun the mercury registered as high as 105. Sunday night was ideal. A gentle breeze wafted over the city at sunset, reminding one of a night at the lakeside. But Monday morning it was different.

Daybreak was ushered in in a dense, sultry atmosphere—just the kind of weather which makes people in the sunny south live in their cellars until the typhoon goes by. Not a breath of wind stirred the leaves of the trees. All nature was quiescent. All things stood aside while the sun did its best to convert the world into a tremendous barbeque. Men and beasts refused to sing. Such husky specimens of the feathered race as the English sparrow found it impossible to even chirp.

All morning the sun poured its rays over the city like molten metal, until at 11 o'clock it seemed as though business would have to be suspended. The stores were practically deserted; business was at a standstill. Pedestrians took to the shady sides of the streets, while ice cream parlors served to quench the thirst of the ladies, and other places acted equally as well on the men.

"Whew! Isn't it a scorcher?" was heard everywhere.

At day the Springbank cars carried the people to the summer park, and at intervals of an hour or two the Pere Marquette carried hundreds of half-baked Londoners to the lakeside, where they had a chance to dry out.

DIED WHILE WIFE VISITED IN LONDON

Michael Egan Passed Away Suddenly at Martinsburg, Neb., On Sunday.

Mr. Michael Egan, a former resident of this city, passed away suddenly in Martinsburg, Nebraska, on Sunday. A sad circumstance connected with the death was that the deceased's wife came to this city several weeks ago to attend the funeral of her sister, the late Miss Kate Fox, and was still visiting at the Fox home, 235 Grey street, when the sad news of her husband's death reached her. Mrs. Egan had not been aware that her husband was seriously ill. The remains will be brought here this evening over the G. T. R., and the funeral will be held from the residence of Miss Fox, on Grey street, to St. Peter's Cemetery on Wednesday.

The late Mr. Egan, who left this city ten years ago, was 38 years old, and had a large circle of friends here who will be shocked to learn of his sudden death. Besides the widow, two young children survive. Mr. James Egan and Miss Mary Egan, of Toronto, are brother and sister, respectively, of deceased, while Mr. Peter Fox, of St. Thomas, conductor on the M. C. R., is a brother-in-law. The Misses Nellie and Susie Phillips, of this city, are cousins.
