

WINTER CARNIVAL: BEST EVER

TERRI

MALONE

It's that time again! UNB's tenth and best Winter Carnival will be taking off on Thursday, February 4th. Tickets went on sale last Tuesday and from the initial sale (300 first day) it appears that those delaying buying may be out of luck.

The fun-packed four days will be headlined with BO DIDDLEY (two 'shows') and KEN HAMILTON with his CARRIBEAN REVUE (three performances). They will be appearing respectively at the gym and the Playhouse.

Numerous other events are scheduled with such attractions as hockey, basketball, para-jumping, a sports car rally, and a free ski-bus to Royal Road's ski area. Of special note will be the Saturday afternoon hoot featuring "Bolt-Upright and the Exciters" along with other campus favourites.

This year's Carnival Committee has tried to provide a well-rounded program and with more events planned than ever before, it is clear that there will be something to appeal to every taste.

Again, to those who haven't purchased their passes yet; "Time is running out! To ensure passes for the night of your choice, buy now."

Hamilton Leads WC

Last year, in March a survey was taken on the campus to determine what you, the student, would like to see at Carnival. What we came up with was Kenny Hamilton. Those who have frequented the night spots in Montreal know him well, and can tell you just how great he is.

Ken is not just another vocalist. Born in Jamaica, he came to Canada in the 50's to further his education and graduated from U. B. C. with a degree in science. While at university, he became well-known along the west coast as a versatile performer, singing anything from calypso to folk ballads. Having played to many college crowds, Ken knows exactly what the student wants to see and hear and gives you just that. He has also produced a few discs, the one coming to mind is "An Evening With Ken Hamilton" and is truly worth listening to. But don't take anyone's word for it. Come and see him yourself. Separate admissions for Ken can be picked up at the Student Centre or the Playhouse box-office.

KENNY HAMILTON

Bo to make scene

The Mount 'A' Argosy hailed Bo Diddley as an "experimenter in sound." And Bo is just that: he plays a variety of guitars which produces a sound that will have everyone stomping; and when Bo starts singing one of his favourites such as I'm a Man, Hey Bo Diddley, Road Runner, or You Can't Judge A Book by Looking at the Cover, then you know that this is a sound that could only come from Bo.

Bo is a Lover, Bo is a Gunslinger, but most of all Bo is a SHOW and anyone who makes it to the gym during the Carnival festivities are assured that they won't be standing around for long, but will find themselves stomping with the rest of their friends. Bo is certainly a showman in all senses of the word.

This is the first time that Maritime audiences will have an opportunity to see this group in action and those who like to have a good time at carnival will certainly be taking in the action.

It's all included in the price of your Winter Carnival pass; this year priced at $4.50 so be sure to see this novel group on your choice of Thursday or Friday night.

A moment to remember ... for one girl

Winter Carnival brings to mind many things, perhaps most popular of all, the seven lovely queens, one of whom will be chosen to reign over the Carnival.

The judges, who are anonymous and unknown to each other will have a variety of opportunities to make their decision since the queens will be on display on television, at the Queen's Tea, and at the Fashion Show and Dinner at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, this activity being the most rigorous of all.

The dinner will be followed by a showing of Spring Fashions from Levine's Ltd. of Fredericton. The queens model the latest styles from especially lovely, ensembles from the popular "Roman Room" and casual sports outfits. They will conclude the Fashion Show making an appearance in formal evening dress when they engage in a spontaneous question-and-answer period.

Miss Engineering, Barbara Ramsay; Business Administration Queen, Claire Grey; Carrie MacMillan, Arts Queen; Nancy MacDonald, Forestry; Pam Hutcheson, this year's Physical Education Queen; Law Queen, Lorraine Caldwell, and Joan Hutchison, Science Queen.

The moment to remember for one of these girls will come on Opening Night, Thursday, when the queen will be chosen. After leading the Torchlight Parade through the UNE Campus, the queens will appear again on the Ice Palace down on Buchanan Field under parti-coloured lights. After Dr. Mackay officially opens our Tenth Annual Winter Carnival, "Kleeky" will wave his wand at the lucky girl who will be the Winter Carnival Queen for 1965.

Floats and Sculptures

A regular feature of past Carnivals and this year's (the greatest ever) will be the float parade and the sculpture exhibits.

It is in these activities that the student body as a whole takes a constructive attitude towards Carnival. Both the floats and the sculptures are built with an eye to entertain and also win one of the coveted trophies offered.

UNB Winter Carnival has a reputation for the finest snow sculptures in both quality and quantity for any university in Canada and reports to the moment assure Carnival-goers of another eye-pleasing display.

Pictured above are prize winning displays from previous years. The engineering "Float Under Construction" and the Jones House "Eagle" are examples of the type of creations that will meet the onlooker's eye.

The Parade can be viewed (?) at ten o'clock, Saturday morning and the sculptures can be seen anytime.

Loyola Warriors in Carnival Tilt

The UNB Red Devils play host to the Loyola Warriors of Montreal on the home ice surface of the Lady Beaverbrook Rink at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 6. For the Warriors, under the tutelage of Jack Kennedy, it will be their second visit to the home freeze.

Admissions will be only by Winter Carnival Pass, only.

Two years ago at the UNB Winter Carnival the Warriors gave the coasting Red Devils more competition than they bargained for, as the home brews came from behind in a stiff checking, hard-fought contest to eke out a 4-2 victory in the final stages.

The Loyola Warriors, members of the Ottawa-St. Lawrence College Conference, can be expected to put up a tough game.

Warriors are rated highly in their league and are noted for their explosive offence. Also, Loyola will probably turn out to be the roughest team physically that the Devils will have faced so far.

The Devils and the Warriors both were hosted at the recent Dalhousie Invitational Hockey Tournament during the Christmas holidays. The Warriors made it into the finals against the University of Montreal where they bowed 4-2. The Red Devils had fallen before the U of M squad by a 7-5 count in the preliminary round.

Prior to the tilt, starting at 1:00 p.m., the fans will be treated to the Carnival Follies, an ice show of local skating stars. Soloists Shirley Doherty, Pat Martin, Sue Leal and Linda Rejall will hold the throng spellbound as they twirl and crinkle the ice to the enchanting tunes of Bo Diddley. Chorus numbers and a male comedy are also on tap.

Parajump

This year the Parajump Club, with the help of jumpers from across Canada and the U. S., will be a spectacular part of Carnival. Jumps will be made throughout Carnival, weather permitting, and should once again prove to be exciting.

There will be a special drill in which the participants will drop in free fall with coloured smoke bombs, which will be held at noon on Friday. Spectators are asked to help the Club in their safety measures by keeping off the river during the show.

Basketball

Two exciting basketball games will be featured in the gym on Friday afternoon; of course all pass holders will be admitted free of charge. At 2:00 p.m. the Red Bloomers take on the Mount A girls team and then at 4:00 p.m. the Red Raiders tackle the Mt. A men's team coached by the colourful Gus MacFarlane.

Seats will be hard to find on Friday so we suggest you come on Thursday.

Swimming

This year's Carnival sees the UNB Beavers hosting Mount Allison University swim team in a dual meet starting at 2:00 p.m. in the Lady Beaverbrook Residence Pool. UNB has been victorious during the last two meets with the "Swampers" and will be looking for another win this year.

The Beavers are undefeated this season and this meet will be the last home meet in the 1964-1965 schedule, so make sure you see them during Carnival.
