High School Commencement

The Annual Gathering a Brilliant Success—Harvest of a Successful Year—Principal Gordon Gives an Inspiring Address—A Literary and Musical Treat.

In many homes throughout Leeds County the annual commencement of the Athens High School is looked forward to with very pleasant anticipations, and the high regard in which the event is held was well exemplified by the presence on Wednesday evening of parents, pupils and graduates from many distant points.

The auditorium of the town hall looked very cheery and inviting, the pure white of the walls and gallery facade bringing into bold relief the decorations of flags and bunting.

The opinion is generally held that examinations are becoming more difficult year by year, and certain it is that many high schools and collegiate institutes pass a very low percentage on the papers set for last midsummer exams; but, as usual, the Athens students had been so instructed that they were equal to the occasion, and as a result the staff had the pleasure of seeing in the honor and pass list the following names:—

HONOR MATRICULATION
 Bushfield, Elmer Jones, Eric L.
 Ferguson, Harley Montgomery, Vivian
 Hughes, Edith M. Scott, Edna L.

SENIOR TEACHERS (OR 1ST CLASS)
PART I.
 Eric L. Jones
PART II.
 Edith M. Hughes Eric L. Jones
 Edna L. Scott

UNIVERSITY MATRICULATION
 Bushfield, Elmer Harvey, Anna
 Cary, Joseph Harvey, Ernest
 Churchill, Jonas Johnston, Jean
 Danby, Edith Kerr, Roy
 Donovan, John A. Keyes, Mary
 Doolan, Lizzie Leacock, Fred L.
 Dougall, Anna McMillan, George
 Ferguson, Harley Patterson, Oscar
 Flood, Anthony Pierce, Elma
 Gordon, Claude Taylor, Maude
 Greene, David

JUNIOR TEACHERS (OR 2ND CLASS)
 Cary, Joseph Kerr, Roy
 Conley, Louise Leacock, Fred L.
 Danby, Edith Lockwood, Ambrose
 Donahue, Ida Morris, Mabel
 Doolan, Lizzie Rennie, Erle
 Dougall, Anna Raby, Gertrude
 Flood, Anthony Robinson, Mollie
 Greene, David Taylor, Lily
 Harvey, Ernest Taylor, Maude
 Hughes, Wilfrid Toffey, Muriel
 Johnston, Rose Wittie, Winifred
 Johnston, Jean Young, Jennie

As shown by the Commencement programme, the work of the year also included the training and promotion of 39 students to Form II, and 34 to Form III. The results that attended the taking up of first-class work must have been very gratifying to the teaching staff and highly satisfactory to the students. Six honor matriculations and three first-class certificates constitute what is indeed a creditable record.

One feature of the important work being done by the school is shown by the following:
Successful Graduates of A. H. S.
 A. J. Weart ('01) received M.D. from Toronto Medical College and is now practising in Calgary.
 W. H. Godfrey ('01) received M.D. from Toronto Medical College and was appointed house-surgeon of Grace Hospital, Toronto.
 C. C. Nash ('98) passed final for D.D.S. at the Royal Dental College, Toronto, and is now practising at Bath.
 C. W. Crane ('00) graduated B.A. from McGill University and is now practising near Montreal.
 Miss A. Pierce ('98), B.A., received High School Assistant's professional certificate from the Ontario Normal College.
 Miss V. Bell ('02), Mrs. L. Green ('89), Miss Eva Halladay ('00) graduated from the Normal Schools.
 G. M. Gorrell ('91) completed the course at the Buffalo Dental College.
 Clara Pritchard ('99) graduated D.D.S. from the Royal Dental College, Toronto.
 W. G. Connolly received B.A. from Victoria University and is now taking the B.D. course at the same institution.
 Jos Chant ('00) and R. W. Halladay ('97) B.A., were among M.D. graduates from Queen's this year.

Representatives at the Colleges
 Trinity University—A. G. Parish, W. J. McAndrew, S. B. G. Wright, E. Lyons.
 University College—Miss Vivian Montgomery.

Victoria College—Chris F. Connolly.
 McGill University—C. D. Rilance, H. B. Blanchard, Giles B. Murphy, B.A., Omer Singleton, Claude L. Gordon, Miss Jessie Taplin.
 Ontario Normal College—Miss Edith M. Hughes.
 Normal Schools—Elms Kennedy, Jennie Knapp, Jennie Wittie.
 Regina Normal School—S. F. Teakberry.
 Queen's University—Miss Hattie Patterson, Miss Laura Berney, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Byron C. Reynolds, F. J. O'Connor, Elmer Bolton, F. S. Young, C. S. Dunham, F. C. Kennedy, J. M. Barker, R. R. Barker, R. S. Stevens, J. M. Kelly, K. C. Berney, J. S. Lennox, A. A. Murphy, W. Pinkerton.
 Whitty Ladies' College—Miss Helen Leggett.
 St. Agnes Ladies' College, Belleville—Miss Norma Davis.
 Philadelphia Dental College—Lorne C. Mallory.

On the spacious platform with the chairman, Mr. A. W. Johnston, were Prof. Gordon of Queen's University, Rev. R. B. and Miss Patterson, Rev. Wm. and Mrs. Rilance, Rev. I. N. and Mrs. Beckstedt, Rev. L. M. and Mrs. Weeks, J. R. Dargavel, M.P.P., D. Derbyshire, M.P., A. E. Donovan, W. G. Parish, H. H. Arnold, Johnston A. Green, Fred Soovil, Principal Massey, the members of the graduating class, and representatives of the Recorder, Times and Reporter.

The programme possessed marked literary excellence and was a musical treat as well.

H. Ruthven McDonald is one of the very best singers that ever came to Athens, and at each appearance he was repeatedly encored.

Mr. Sim Manhardt, accompanied by Miss Lester, demonstrated in a pleasing way his mastery of the trombone, playing a difficult selection very artistically.

Mr. John A. Donovan was the valedictorian and he discharged the duty very acceptably. His address was a model of lucidity and brevity, and its high moral tone and clear grasp of what graduation means to the student showed that the students had chosen wisely in electing him to represent them on this occasion.

The prizes in Forms I, and II were won by Miss Lauta Greer and Mr. Ervin L. Stone, and the presentations were made by Rev. I. N. Beckstedt, B.A., and Rev. L. M. Weeks, B.D.

The graduation diplomas were presented by Rev. R. B. Patterson, M.A. and Rev. S. J. Hughes, M.A.

Bright, interesting addresses were given by Mr. John R. Dargavel, M. P. P., and Mr. A. E. Donovan.

The medalists of the year were Miss Edith M. Hughes and Eric L. Jones, and the presentations were made by D. Derbyshire, M. P., and Mr. A. T. Wilgress (for Hon. G. P. Graham, who was unavoidably absent).

The address of Principal Gordon was heard with great pleasure by all. His subject was the general interest that all should take in education. He pointed out the necessity of education in a democratic country, where the people govern so directly, an educational system that, from the primary class to the university, would have the cordial sympathy and support of the people. Some allow their sympathy to stop short at the public or high school, but he pointed out that it was the university that really gave tone to the whole system. He concluded with a brief survey of Canada's vast, undeveloped resources, and counselled the students to find a field in our fair Dominion for the expenditure of their energies.

A vote of thanks, on motion of Principal Massey, seconded by Mr. Arnold, was tendered Principal Gordon for his able and instructive address, to which he made an appropriate reply.

The meeting was closed with the national anthem.

Till Traveling Days are Done.

We all know by reputation, or perhaps if we are fortunate enough, by personal experience, what a trip to the Homeland is like. No two accounts seem the same, depending as they do almost entirely on the weather, our fellow passengers and the comfort of the boat we have taken passage in.

him pumping the right hand of my friend the priest, heard him tell that gentleman to come inside presently, and saw him make what it is not, I trust, improper to designate as a running jump at the six black bishops over in the far corner.

FASHION IN READING.

How the English Woman Makes Up Arrears.

Great boxes of books are going up to Scotland and the shooting moors now, addressed to the chateaux of historic houses. They are not intended to augment the resources of the library or to amuse guests of literary proclivities upon days of storm and rain, but are destined for the particular pursuit of the hostess herself in her own lair.

The very exacting duties of the London season make the pleasure of keeping up their pursuit of literary an impossibility to many women. It may be practicable to dip into the latest novel when it makes its appearance during the few leisure moments that are sandwiched between a busy London hostess's day, but to devote any time to serious reading is quite impossible.

This recourse is the established custom of one very exalted personage who is devoted to literature and whose sympathies are so wide that no good novel ever escapes her personal. It is her custom to keep in a little book throughout the earlier months of the year a carefully compiled list of novels, works of travel, memoirs, autobiographies and so forth that she desires to read, and these her bookshelves forward to her in her highland home for her selection during the autumn.

Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way.

To appreciate the simplicity and ease of washing with Sunlight Soap in the Sunlight way you should follow directions. After rubbing on the soap, roll up each piece, immerse in the water, and go away.

Sunlight Soap

will do its work in thirty to sixty minutes. Your clothes will be cleaner and whiter than if washed in the old-fashioned way with boiler and hard rubbing. Equally good with hard or soft water.

Football and Prize Fighting.

The thing which is radically wrong with football is that it appeals to men and women who would not be seen at a prize fight, an opportunity to gratify their instincts for brutality and for the most spirit and surroundings that are socially correct.

IRON VS. STEEL.

Engineers Divided as to Which Should Be Used. One of the most animated meetings of the recent Washington meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers was whether iron should not be substituted for steel in modern construction work and manufactures.

THOUGHTS HERE AND THERE.

I thought he would have to stop work but the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy Made him Strong and Active. Antigonish, N. S., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Mr. H. M. Spears, a well-known farmer living near here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Placid Life of the Cow.

Dr. W. J. Brady, of Iowa City, complains that life has become a nightmare of noise, canned food, football and indigestible breakfast food. He dodges automobiles, has to contend with the janitor and know no rest in the old farm where the cow is.

DR. AGNEW'S CATARRH POWDER

Has proved a blessing to many a "man before the mast" in cases of hoarseness, bad throat, tonsillitis and catarrh. Some of the most recent evidence of its efficacy comes from a well-known actor, whose home is in New York City. He says: "I have never found anything to equal this remedy for quick relief."

THE PRISONER'S RETORT.

A West Virginia lawyer was trying a case before a jury, being counsel for the prisoner, a man charged with distilling mountain dew. The judge was hard on him, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

The Big Fellows Have No Monopoly.

Sometimes a merchant whose rivals convinced him that publicity pays hesitates to advertise because he believes that the public reads only the big "ads," which are beyond his means. It is a mistake to suppose that consumers cannot be duly impressed without hitting them with a half page club. The skeptical may resolve their doubts by considering what effect would be produced by the publication of two lines reflecting on their business methods.

THE PASTOR'S PITY.

A prominent pastor of Durham, Ont., church, writes: "I suffered intensely from Inflammatory Rheumatism. Just one bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure healed me. I pity them who suffer so much and do not know how near they are to a cure. I feel like proclaiming it from the house-tops."

Calling on the President.

Of a sudden the door of the executive chamber swung open with a bang, and before I could get squared around in my chair, or out of it, T. Two Baltimore Hotels Among the Catcher's Patrons.

There is a rat catcher who visits Baltimore periodically to rid hotels, among other places, of the rodent pests. Among the hotels he has two regular customers, says the News, of that city, and his advent is always the signal for the pleasure of the chase in a small way. He has no methods of charming rats, but goes after them just as any hunter in the big woods would stalk his game.

Bad Milk's Widespread Ills.

A recent note published in the Journal of the American Medical Association is interesting for the illumination it gives of the danger to which communities are exposed in many ways through contamination of food products, and of milk in particular. An account is given of the outbreak of septic sore throat, involving from 500 to 600 persons, the cause of which was traced to the milk of a cow affected with mastitis, an inflammation of the mammary glands.

COULDN'T EMULATE ITS VALUE!

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart never fails. It relieves in 30 minutes, it cures in a few hours, it leads you back to health. W. H. Muselman, of G. A. R. Weisport, Pa., says: "Two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart entirely cured me of palpitation and smothering spells. Its value cannot be estimated."

Lack of Skilled Labor.

A curious phase of the present activity in all branches of industrial enterprise is the scarcity of skilled labor, and the resulting shifts to which manufacturers are sometimes put to retain the services of their employees and to obtain the additional help needed. Some large industrial centres are actually bidding against each other and shops are losing men to neighboring establishments which are willing to offer more attractive terms. Hence the workers are reaping the benefits of the healthy state of the labor market.

Babies of Massachusetts.

Dr. Austin Peters, chief of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, is quoted as saying that rabies is epidemic among the dogs of the State to an extent not known since he became connected with the bureau, nearly ten years ago. He has recorded within the last two months of twenty-nine cases of hydrophobia—twenty-five dogs, one cow, two calves and a pig. These cases appear to be confined to the eastern part of the State.

MURDER AND RAPINE RIFE.

Barbarous Massacres in the Streets of Odessa.

Women and Children Strangled and Hacked to Pieces.

Kishineff Horrors Were Repeated an Hundredfold.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The Council of the workmen's delegates at midnight issued a notice pointing out the necessity of arming workers for a decisive struggle for the convocation of a constituent Assembly based on universal suffrage, with a view to the formation of a democratic republic.

The railroadmen's unions, however, have decided to continue the strike mainly through a desire to prevent the transportation of troops to Finland.

Wreathed a Terrible Vengeance.

Odessa, Nov. 6, 2 p.m.—The troops wrecked a terrible vengeance on the residents of three houses, from balconies of which shots were fired by unknown persons upon the soldiers.

The city is a dismal sight. The streets are filled with Cossack patrols and flying detachments of the Red Cross, which follow the hands of murderous rioters.

The Cossacks eagerly attack the student militia which is courageously trying to stem the tide of the massacring and pillaging principally in the Jewish quarter.

Bombs Thrown From Windows.

London, Nov. 6, 7:05 p.m.—A despatch to the Evening Standard from Odessa, dated 2:30 p.m. today, says: "The city rings with the reports of rifles and revolvers and occasionally a volley is fired. Every house and tenement is bolted and barred. The infantry patrols are doing their duty perfunctorily, declining to fire on the mobs unless they themselves are attacked."

In the Jewish quarters bodiless still strew the streets and sidewalks. Jewish women and children were strangled and hacked to pieces in the streets, where the mobs gained the upper hand.

MAY LOSE ALASKAN STRIP.

United States Has Fears for its Territory.

New York, Nov. 6.—The Herald publishes the following despatch from Tacoma, Wash.: "According to surveys now being made by United States and British engineers, the United States stands in danger of losing a strip of territory four hundred miles wide and between 200 and 300 miles long, containing gold, silver and copper valued at many millions."

When the international boundary was established it was decided that monuments marking the line should be placed ten marine leagues, or thirty-five miles from headquarters of all bays and inlets north of Portland Canal.

Vigorous protests will be made to Congress by United States citizens owning property within the strip. The general opinion among Alaskan miners is that the United States engineers are being "double-crossed" by the British, who have rough sketches of the proposed line, while the United States engineers have none.

SHOUTED FOR REVOLUTION.

And Were Met by the Police With Sharpened Sabres.

Vienna, Nov. 6.—Grave disorders, in which it is reported more than forty persons were injured, occurred to-night as the result of a great socialist meeting in behalf of universal suffrage. The orators used fiery language, declaring that millions of workers were ready to follow the Russian example.

Later at night the turbulence was renewed in many parts of the city, and many persons were hurt.

It is alleged that the Socialists drew the police, compelling them to draw their swords, and it is said that the police acted with brutal violence.

MISS COLLINS' SUICIDE.

East Zorra Woman Swallows Paris Green.

Woodstock despatch: With a false-spoonful of Paris green, Miss Martha Cross Collins, aged forty-four years, of the twelfth line of East Zorra, committed suicide. On Tuesday night, going to the cellar, she secured the poison, dissolved it in a half cup of water and swallowed it.

RIOT VICTIMS' FUNERAL.

Three Hundred Thousand Marched Behind Coffin.

Identified One of the Men.

Boston, Nov. 6.—Chief Wm. Watts, of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, and Superintendent of Police Pierce, with pawnbroker Berkman, who sold the suit cases in which the dismembered parts of Susan Geary's body were found in Boston harbor, Timothy Howard, the cabman who drove two men carrying suit cases to the ferry, and other witnesses, went to New York on the midnight train, to be present today at the examination of Wm. Howard and Louis Crawford, who were arrested in that city last night.

Police Captain Dugan said today that the hearing of Morris Nathan, the theatre book-seller, who is under arrest here, will not be held until next week.

THE MURDERED MISSIONARIES

Were Killed Because They Wanted a Theatre Removed.

Burned Hospital, Girls' School and Missionaries' Houses.

U. S. Gunboat Calton Going to the Scene of Massacre.

Hong Kong, Nov. 6.—Bishop Merrel, of the Catholic Church, has received a letter confirming the news of the massacre of American missionaries at Lienchow, and giving the following particulars:

"Dr. Machle requested the removal of a street theatre near the hospital on account of the noise. The request incensed the Chinese, who, becoming violent, attacked the hospital. The mob then paraded the streets exhibiting the skeleton used in the instruction of the medical class, and alleging that it was an example of the foreigners' inhumanity to the Chinese people."

"Becoming frenzied, the crowd burned the hospital, the girls' school and the residences of the missionaries."

"Dr. Machle, Mrs. Machle, their 10-year-old daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Peale, Dr. Chestnut and Miss Patterson took refuge in caves. The mob pursued them and killed all except Dr. Machle and Miss Patterson, who escaped to the Yamen. Dr. Machle was badly wounded."

The American gunboat Calton and two Chinese gunboats, with members of the American Board of Missions, are proceeding to the scene of the massacre."

Advices from Canton declare that the measures taken to suppress disturbances in the provinces are inadequate, and that the native officials will not give out any information on the subject.

The Catholic converts have written to Bishop Merrel to petition the Viceroy of the province for the protection of the French mission at Lienchow.

It is declared that the worst headquarters at Canton received the first news of the massacre of the American missionaries at Lienchow, but the native gentry assert that the boycotters are not connected with the slaughter.

WARSHIPS ARE ON HAND

To Prevent Trouble Among Rival Fishermen.

A St. John's, Nfld., despatch: Another serious complication arose yesterday in the fishery situation at the Bay of Islands, when the steamer Active, carrying eight small boats of local fishermen, sailed with the intention of proceeding outside the three-mile limit, and there transferring the fishermen to United States fishing vessels, on which they would slip as members of the crews.

The colonial cutter Fiona chased the Active and threatened her with seizure if she went beyond three-mile limit without clearance papers.

X-RAYS SHATTERS LOVE'S HOPES.

The Growing of Rape.

Upwards of forty-five thousand acres of land were used for growing rape in Ontario in 1905. It is a crop easy of cultivation, abundant in growth, and rich in fattening properties.

No less than eleven varieties of rape have been grown in the experimental grounds of the Ontario Agricultural College in each of the past three years. In 1905 the yields varied from 4 to 21 tons per acre, the lightest yielding being the German variety, and the heaviest the Large Seeded Umbrella rape.

The most suitable soils for rape are fairly moist loams, rich in vegetable matter. Land should be prepared for rape similar to that for root crops. Soils deficient in vegetable matter should receive a coating of stable manure.

A dressing of eighty pounds of nitrate of soda per acre when the rape was about two inches high increased the yield of the crop about two tons per acre in the average results of the co-operative experiments conducted over Ontario for a period of five years.

About the month of June, large, plump seed should be sown at the rate of one and one-half pounds per acre in rows about thirty inches apart and to a depth of one-half to one inch.

Rape makes an excellent late summer and autumn pasture crop for fattening cattle, sheep and lambs. In one season upwards of six hundred lambs were pastured and fattened on the Experimental Farm at Guelph.

Animals should never be turned on rape when hungry or when the rape is wet or frosted. There is not much danger of animals bloating if they are turned on gradually at first, allowed free access to an old grass field, and furnished with plenty of salt.

SEIZED UNION'S BOOKS.

Toronto report: With a view to obtaining evidence against the Journeymen Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Union, Crown Attorney Curry searched two places yesterday. He had not examined the contents of the books he had seized last night, but was confident they were the books he was searching for.

"Royal Household" is in a class by itself.

Flour that gives half nourishment and double work to digest is not good flour.

Cheap and inferior flour gives the digestive organs double work and half pay—inferior flours contain indigestible waste—this waste must first be overcome by nature,—that means extra digestive work.

Indigestibles destroy the nutriment of flour, therefore poor flour gives more work and less nutriment to the system.

Royal Household Flour is in a class by itself—it is the only really pure flour—and it is pure because it is purified and sterilized by electricity.—it is the most easily digested and most nourishing because it is absolutely pure.

The moment a woman puts her hands into "Royal Household" she knows it is a finer flour than she ever used before.

Mrs. Hartle of Cornwall, who has been a guest of Mrs. L. B. Kerr, has returned home.

The demand for dry measures is so great that Mr. A. Root can scarcely fill all the orders.

Judging from the number of loads of logs and grain coming into town, the mills must be doing a large business.

Ed. Smith is making some important changes in his dwelling house.

Cowles and Bell are crowding their their sawing machine and are preparing large quantities of stove wood for winter use.

William Justus has lost a trace belonging to his harness and he would be pleased if finder would notify him through the Greenbush post office.

David Johnson has purchased the Keeler farm, and is doing a large amount of ploughing on it.

R. Kerr on Thanksgiving day picked several bunches of black raspberries, the second crop of 1905. He also measured a stalk of a black berry which measures eighteen feet three inches, the growth of this season.

GLEN BUELL

All the farmers are wearing a smile at the handsome figure which was offered for cheese on the board last Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Robins delivered an excellent address from the pulpit here last Sunday evening, delighting all who heard him.

On Oct. 31st a party of some thirty young people drove from Brockville to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eri Hayes, where they had been invited to spend an enjoyable evening. At an early hour the guests arrived and for a time all thought of care was cast aside and every one went in for a good time. Swiftly the happy hours flew by, and not until an early morning hour was a thought of home allowed to intrude itself. Surprised at the lateness of the hour, they immediately prepared for departure and notified their driver of the large band wagon in which they had all arrived of their intended departure. Wraps were soon donned and the horses brought to the door, but—alas!—they found on examination their faithful night watch, who had been placed on duty, fast asleep and that a party of guests had assembled for fun—king outside as well as in. Being a little wakened, these practical jokers had seen fit to remove a wheel from the large wagon and stow it safely away. The watch was rudely awakened from his blissful dreams, but so overcome was he with slumber and weariness that all the response that could be extracted from him as to the whereabouts of the missing wheel was, "wheels in your head." Search parties were immediately organized, but diligent search failed to bring to light the missing wheel. Then it was that the stern realities of the morrow began to loom up, and the search was continued with renewed vigour. All night long the weary company searched the hills and meadows and not until the rising sun was midway in the heavens were they rewarded by finding the truant wheel some two miles on its way home, it having taken a short cut to town and become lost in a vast swamp.

Preparations for home were again resumed, and after a hearty hand-shake with their kind host and hostess, who had assisted them in their search, they embarked for the homeward voyage, laughing heartily at the Irish joke which had been played at their expense, and without a malicious thought of those who had caused them so much inconvenience. As the rapidly moving wagon rolled toward home, their many voices blended in sonorous chorus of the well known refrain "Home Sweet Home."

Semi-ready, the Thoroughbred Suit, for men only, from $15 to $40. United Brand—Men's Suits, $7.50 to $15.00; Youths and Boys, $2.50 up

The "Haw-Haw"

Last Tuesday two young men were seen on a street corner, in Brockville, observing each others clothes very closely. They went through different motions and gestures—all at once, the larger of the two gave the other fellow the "Haw-Haw." They had each new suits on, the one a local tailor make, the other a Semi-ready—the "Haw-Haw" was given because the local tailor-made suit had not the right shoulder or that full appearance that is so desirable in up-to-date garments.

That "Haw-Haw" is given to the other fellow by every young man that wears Semi-ready—all over the world. Semi-ready is the thoroughbred Canadian suit.

The following "Specials" are for this and next week only—

Knee Pants, worth 50c to 75c for 25c
8 doz. Boys' Knee Pants made of strong Canadian tweed, in dark patterns and plain colors, lined with good quality of cotton, sizes from 22 to 32, regular 50c and 75c values—while they last, 25c.

Boys' 3-piece Suits, worth $4.00 to $5.00 for $2.90
48 only Boys' 3-piece Suits in dark and medium colorings, made of splendid heavy tweeds, Italian lining, sizes from 28 to 33, regular $4.00 to $5.00 suits, while they last, for $2.90.

Men's Tweed Suits, regular $14.00 for $9.75
42 Men's Tweed Suits, made of Bannockburn twist tweed, in dark and light mixed plaids, Italian lining, cut the very latest, in double or single breasted sack, sizes from 34 to 44, regular $14.00 suits, for $9.75 while they last.

Men's Black Beaver Overcoat, $15.00 for $10.00
17 only Men's Black Auburn Beaver Overcoats in double or single-breasted style, good Italian lining, silk velvet collar, long coat with loose back and the large shoulder, sizes from 34 to 44—our regular $15.00 coat for $10.00 while they last.

If you take advantage of these specials, you will be able to give some one the "Haw-Haw."

Tell them always that we pay fare the one way if they purchase $10.00.

It is certainly a misfortune that we cannot show quality on paper.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

They are the prescription of a specialist.

This is an age of specialists—men who give all their time, study, and practice to some particular branch of medicine. There are specialists of the eye, specialists in diseases of the lungs, specialists in diseases of women. It costs something to get a prescription from a specialist, but it is worth all it costs, when you get it. Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are the prescription of Dr. Hugo, of Paris, a specialist of forty years' experience in diseases of women.

It embraces the latest medical discoveries of the other-skilled physicians in the world. It might be called a compound prescription of the world's best specialists. No ordinary physician can prescribe such a remedy. The better the physician, the nearer will be his prescription to that of Dr. Hugo.

Thousands of women in Europe have paid $50 for a consultation with Dr. Hugo and got the same remedy. Considering the benefit they received from it, it was worth $50, but it costs women now only 50c for six dozen tablets—enough for an extended treatment.

It is a compound remedy containing all the tonics and alteratives that any woman can need, no matter what her condition. For women suffering from a run-down condition, or any weakness peculiar to her sex, it is now acknowledged to be beyond doubt or question the best remedy available to-day. It makes healthy women.

SASKATCHEWAN

Come out of the field and the fallow,
Thou toiler with tension taut—
Come thou from the desk and the pulpit,
Thy features with strain distraught.
Come ye from the shop and the ship's hold,
Where ye shovel, and scrub and wipe—
Come, shout for our country's gladness!
Cheer, cheer for the time is ripe.
Cheer—but pray.

Lo! out of the gauzy remoteness,
And out of the filmy past,
Looms a figure with misty outline,
A form that is fair of cast.
And a seat with the nation's children,
She takes with a youthful pride,
And the nation's cheer of welcome,
Rolls up, as the roll of the tide.
Cheer—but pray.

For the days and the years of the future
Are waiting over the land,
With diadems, good or evil,
To crown it, through destiny's hand.
And the hands that shall hold the sceptres,
Are the hands of the children of Now.
The years must be years of courage
Start, ye, with a cheerful brow.
Cheer—but pray.

Will good deeds be cast to our credit
In the ledger of future years?
What evils will live in our country?
What hopes, or what cringing fears?
Will nations and rulers land us?
Or powers and kings, will they scorn?
We've a work to perform that is noble,
Rise, ye of the Province new born
Cheer—but pray.

For men with a mission of manhood
Must rule 'neath thy council domes,
And women of taintless virtues
Grace ever thy freemen's homes.
So, long, through the morning's stillness,
And loud, through the noon breeze
wild,
And low, through the evening
zephyrs,
Cheer, ye, for the new found child.
Cheer, but pray.

THE OLD SET-EE

Life's cares retreat with a hurried beat,
And the pathway bright appears,
And my spirit awakes as the memory breaks
Through the dusk to childhood's years.
And my sad heart longs for the sweet old songs
Which my mother sang to me,
Songs I loved so in the long ago,
As I rocked in the old set-ee.
The sonorous strains of the old refrains.
Of the borderland and the sea,
As a mystic dream each glorious theme,
This hour inspires, entrances me.
As a' vespers bell, I can hear them
swell,
Through the humble cottage free,
And again, oh joy, Mother rocks her boy,
To sleep in the old set-ee.
And my heart takes flight through the mist of night,
Afar to the dear home tree,
To the loved ones there to the by-bye-chair,
To mother and the old set-ee.

The Christmas New Idea Woman's Magazine.

The Christmas number of the New Idea Woman's Magazine contains two pages of Christmas recitations which girls and boys fated to distinguish themselves at Christmas school entertainments will welcome. Several full-page drawings show happy and familiar phases of Christmas Day, one by Miss Maud Tousev, "Dot Recites at the Christmas Party," being especially attractive. One of the short stories in the number is entitled "Her Silver Spoons," and gives very humorously the woman's point of view on a man's gifts. Christmas gifts and Christmas cookery figure largely in the magazine, but, there are in addition several very readable articles on more general topics. Miss E. H. Westwood writes on "Woman's Salvation Through the Trade Unions," Miss Harriet Martin on "The Possibilities of Stenography," and Miss Mary Eastwood knevels on "The Foundation of the Home Library," adding a list of standard works desirable for a home library. Four pages are devoted to views of the beautiful spots of the world, such as the Scottish Ben Nevis and the Swiss Matterhorn. An article on "Frocks for Christmas Parties" will be helpful to the mothers of small girls, and a page on smarties and handkerchiefs for men will be suggestive to sisters, mothers and wives who find it difficult to decide what to get for the men.

SENATOR FULFORD'S WILL

The Toronto General Trusts' Corporation are applying for probate of the will of the late Senator Fulford, they having made executors and trustees in the will.

The estate is valued in the aggregate at $4,820,019.74, of which $74,710 is in real estate, the balance being bonds and debentures $907,578; stocks, $2,683,737; mortgages, $26,820; insurance, $100,000; promissory notes, $15,000; household furniture and other personal effects, $58,500.

A period of accumulation of ten years is provided for, at which time 10 per cent of the total amount of the estate, so long as the 10 per cent does not exceed $400,000 in all, shall be set apart out of the personal estate to be paid out to the Brockville General Hospital for the purpose of establishing a home for indigent Protestant old women, residents of Canada, provision being made for the board of the inmates by an endowment fund.

The sum of $25,000 is also left direct to the Brockville General Hospital, and the will further provides that in default finally of all decedent, the estate shall revert to the Brockville General Hospital.

The widow is given the use of the residence and all its contents, together with $25,000 per annum during her life. Each of the daughters is to receive $12,000 a year up to age of 25 years and each shall be provided with a house if she shall so desire, not exceeding in cost $50,000 and to be settled on them and their children.

The following annuities and bequests are made:—

To Mrs. C. McNish and Mrs. E. I. Hitchcock, sisters, $50 per month. To John H. Fulford, brother, $75.00 per month.

H. B. Fulford, Wm. H. McNish, Chas. McNish, G. P. McNish, nephews; Harris Scherer, cousin, and George Fulford Hanson, of Schenectady, sums from one to five thousand dollars.

The Royal Family and Their Animal Pets

A picture that at present is the talk of all England is entitled: "Queen Alexandra, Her Grandchildren, and Dogs." We have seen a sample of this famous picture reproduced, and it certainly is a charming and interesting subject. Annual, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, always on the lookout for the latest and best, have secured the American rights, and their subscribers this season are in for the treat of their lives. The picture must be seen to be appreciated. It shows Queen Alexandra, accompanied by her three grandchildren, Prince Edward, future King of England; Prince Albert, his brother, and their sister, Princess Victoria, all on a visit to the Royal Kennels. The pictures of the Queen and grandchildren are excellent, and the lovely collies and hounds are reproduced true life. It is certainly the best the Family Herald has ever offered its readers, and there is bound to be big demand for it. The publishers have also issued a book entitled: "The Farmer's Manual and Veterinary Guide," that our farmer readers would do well to enquire about. A sample may be seen at this office, or full particulars may be had by writing to the Family Herald office. No farmer should overlook it. All subscribers receive the beautiful picture absolutely free.

ASSURANCE

Despite the fact that we recently held a special sale which reduced our stocks materially, they have been reassorted and replenished by new arrivals of goods on order previous to our decision to close out our business in Brockville.

Leaving Brockville

Two months from date we are leaving Brockville and will leave nothing behind but the good reputation which we justly earned during the 18 years we have been doing business in Brockville. Give us a helping hand and save a few dollars.

Wednesday, Nov. 8th

AT 9 O'CLOCK WE WILL COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLOSING OUT SALE

Our stock includes all new, excellent high grade Clothing for Men, Boys and Children, Up-to-Date Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, etc. The reductions are sweeping. We are bound to convert our entire stock into ready cash.

Cordial Invitation

If you can trust your firmness to resist temptation we cordially invite you to this bargain feast of ours. Let us have a friendly chat and hearty shaking of hands just for old acquaintance sake, but if you are undecided and think yourself incapable of withstanding temptation, keep away, don't come near our store, for just as sure as our bargains are genuine so sure are they to tempt you. Don't listen to us, for we are sure to advise you to spend with us every dollar you can spare to lay in your supply of clothing for present and future needs, simply because you get double value for your money. Come and see us—we will convince you:

—THE REASON—

Our Mr. Silver of the Famous fur manufacturing firm of B. Silver & Co., Montreal, is about to sever his connections with that firm and start in the same business for himself; hence the closing of his Brockville branch, for it will require the investment of all the ready cash he possesses as well as the devotion of his full time to attend to the new business.

Does it require any better proof that we mean business and that we mean well by advising you to come early and urging you to take advantage of this closing out sale?

Seeing is believing, therefore the only thing to do is to come and see us, come and test us. Have you seen our circulars yet? Ask for one. We pay railroad fare if you live within a radius of 25 miles and spend $12.00 with us; for 50 miles if you spend $20.00.

The social in the basement of the Methodist church on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Senior League, was poorly attended. A very enjoyable entertainment was given.

Miss Halladay of Elgin was the guest of Mrs. Halladay here on Thursday.

An English Author Wrote

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves,—November!" Many Americans would a lid no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

How 50c,
Made
$100.00.

Two men had rheumatism. One paid $100.00 to doctors without results, the other found a permanent cure for 50c in Hood's Rheumatic Bone Oil. That rheumatism can be cured with this oil is an established fact. Mrs. Lever of Montague found that it cured. She writes:—

"I had rheumatism so bad that I was crippled with it. For seven months I doctored and tried every thing but my joints only got larger and stiffer and all the time I was suffering dreadfully. For a good deal of those seven months my husband had to lift me in and out of bed and I had to go about finally on crutches. I was advised to try Tuck's Rheumatic Bone Oil and it did me good from the start. It seemed to penetrate right to where the pain was and eased it. Before I had used a bottle my joints relaxed and three bottles cured me completely. I have not used any now for over a year.

Mrs. H. Lever, Montague.

You will find the most convincing proof in a bottle. For sale by all medicine dealers or by The Tuck Bone Oil Co., Limited, Smith's Falls.

Keep Yourself Strong

And you will ward off colds, pneumonia, fevers and other diseases. You need to have pure, rich blood and good digestion. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood rich and pure as no other medicine can do. It tones the stomach, creates an appetite and invigorates the whole system. You will be well to begin taking it now, for it will keep you strong and well.

Hood's Pills are non-irritating. Price 25c.

The Reason Why

The people of Athens, Ont., have a great liking for dignitaries. They had the Premier of Canada to open their new town hall, and now they want the Premier of Ontario and the Minister of Education to open their new school house. Next thing they will be sending for the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to open their oysters—Belleville Ontario.

When the Ontario gets ready for the operation we will send one of our young orators up to open its eyes to the fact that Athens is one of the chief educational centres of a county that makes a special business of producing dignitaries—men prominent in all the higher walks of life. Our people take naturally to dignitaries and try to make them feel at home in the classic village.

After the kindly remarks and covert references made by speakers at the town hall opening respecting the shy, modest, retiring, unpretentious, backward, bashful nature of Athenians, it is a waste of ink for Belleville or any other papers to speak of our humility and diffidence. We know our weakness in this regard; but, all the same, the opening of our beautiful new model school is going to be "a hummer."

LOVE AND A TITLE

"But Bell," says Jeanne. "He likes it—he is never happy when out of the reach of tobacco smoke. He smokes, himself, in secret—don't you, Bell?" "What did you say, Hal?" asks Bell, leaning over the hood, and smiling happily. "Fine view!" shouts Hal. "Now, Jeanne, you can take the ribbons. Keep that near side mare to her work. And is inclined, woman-like, to shirk it. And now for a sign. Steady! hold them in, or they will get the upper hand! They are not a pair of children's ponies, you know."

"I was coming to pay my respects this afternoon," she says. "Senora Titella and I." Jeanne smiles graciously at the pale-faced companion. "Will you come?" she says to Veronita. "I shall be at home." "Then I will come," says the princess, simply. "Is there anything I can do for you at Baden?" says Hal, going around to the companion. "Any books, music, ribbons? I'm good at matching ribbons," he adds, forgetting that she is not likely to carry her wardrobe to work in the pony carriage. The companion smiles coldly. "I do not speak English," she says. "That is a lie, I'll be sworn!" thinks Hal, but, of course, he only bows and smiles, and backs around to the other side again, where Jeanne is saying adieu. "You will come? Be sure!" she adds, in a lower voice. "May I say what I feel?" she asks. "I shall be friends."

concert, and the whole place is lit up with these lamps, and—hullo, what's the row?" he breaks off to inquire, for as they walk down one of the grand paths, lined with fountains, they hear voices raised in dispute. A group of persons is seated around a table at a little distance, and a confused waiter is hovering to and fro, laboring to explain something which some of the party will not allow of explanation. "English," says Hal, sententiously, "I pity the poor waiter," and he turns upon his heel. But good-natured Bell hesitates. "Perhaps we can help them; let us go and see," he says, and they walk on slowly. But suddenly Hal utters an exclamation. "By George!" he says, "it's old Lambton, and Maud and Georgina!" Hal is right. It is Mr. Lambton and his daughters; he is on his feet, presenting a fine specimen of the angry, irascible English squire, in a tourist's suit of broad and startling checks. Maud and Georgina, dressed in elaborate travelling costumes, are seated before a bottle of wine and a tray of biscuits. "What's the row?" asks Hal. "This impudent rascal—whatsoever thought of seeing you here, my lady? This impudent rascal pretends that he will understand English, and won't bring us some pale ale—and how's the marquis, my lady?—and we've asked him a dozen, a hundred times!—and where are you staying, Lady Fernole?" "All right," says Hal. "I think I know enough of German to ask for the bottle of Bass. Here, waiter, bring some pale ale. That's what they call pale ale, Mr. Lambton?" "The waiter, with a grin of intelligence, dashes away, and brings the ale, and it is a fact, they do call it "pale ale." Meanwhile Jeanne has been talking to the two girls. "I am sure of it," says Jeanne, decidedly. "Oh, mamma is at the hotel. She has a headache; she doesn't care to go about much. She says the language makes her ill, and generally stops in bed. Who would have thought seeing you here! How kind of Mr. Bertram to trouble about the ale! And isn't Germany delightful! We are enjoying ourselves so much! But papa gets so angry with every body because they can't understand English; and our German we learned of the governess seems quite different to what they speak here?" "And you've got a castle here?" said Georgina. "How delightful! I don't believe it. You must come and stay with us," says Jeanne. "You must come at once. Vane will be so glad that we have met you; it is a fortunate chance."

Pleasant Dreams Come to those who drink only Pure Tea like Avoid ordinary teas if you care for Sound, Sweet Sleep, and ask for the specially manufactured, carefully packed Blue Ribbon Tea. Try the Red Label. Only One Best Tea. Blue Ribbon's It.

"Yes, my lady; I saw him go into the billiard-room a little while ago." "Tell him," says Jeanne, "to keep out of the way; you understand?" Mrs. Fleming curtseys. "I understand, my lady," and Jeanne goes down. As she enters, the count and the princess arise, and, with a polite greeting to the count, Jeanne shakes hands with the count. Anyone observing her would think that she had instantaneously taken a fancy to the nobleman, and that she had fallen to be prepossessed by the princess, so friendly is Jeanne with the count, so calmly courteous to his companion. "But in every woman is a latent store of artifice, and Jeanne is practicing hers now. "That woman," she thinks, "has gone home, and told the count of our meeting, and he has come here to watch this sweet girl instead of his accomplice. He will expect me to be in him coldly; he shall be disappointed."

the fastest "ocean greyhound" in a speed contest. If there is a fish that can travel faster than all others, it is the tarpon, which can probably "hit her up" to the tune of eighty miles an hour, if pressed for time. Generally speaking, it may be said that finny creatures which live near the surface of the sea are swift swimmers, as compared with those that dwell in the depths. Thus the cod, which is a deep-water species, is sluggish and would stand no show at all in a race with the mackerel or herring. These latter, which are distinctly pelagic, depend for their living upon their activity in pursuing agile prey, and they must be quick in their movements in order to escape their own enemies. If the mackerel was as big as a good-sized shark it would probably be the speed champion of the ocean. No fish is better shaped for rapid going. Some years ago a yacht builder in New York constructed a sloop with a hull patterned exactly after the under body of a Spanish mackerel. She was called the Undine, and, if tradition does not lie, she never was beaten. Like the fish after which she was modelled, she had her greatest breadth of beam forward of amidships—a decidedly novel idea in boat-building. One may say, indeed, that all modern water craft are more or less fishlike in their make-up.—Saturday Evening Post.

NELSON AND TOGO. (From New York Sun, Oct. 25.)

Sir,—I was very much interested in your leader on Togo and Nelson, but in the comparison of the relative merits of these two great admirals I think the crowning glory rests with Nelson. His brilliant career did not consist of the destruction of a fleet, or of a war of a few months. It covered many battles and years of service. England has always been generous to his memory, but she can never repay the debt she owes to his great genius. Nelson has made the deck of the old Victory holy ground to men of all nations who admire gallantry and pluck. When all Europe was trembling with fear of the great Napoleon, England in her isolation, and especially in the face of land attack while Nelson lived as though Napoleon was not in existence. When a comparison is made of the personality of the men that the two admirals contended against, the comparative magnitude of their achievements can be best understood. Without making more than a reference to the glorious victory of Trafalgar, I think that to have won the battle of Copenhagen was a far greater honor than it was to be the destroyer of the Russian fleet. The Danish sailors were the equal of those of England. The engagement was so desperate that the two fleets fought to a standstill. The English admiral in charge ordered the signal "Cease firing" hoisted, and when the attention of Nelson, who was second in command, was called to it he placed his hand over his good eye and then turned his sightless eye, the eye which he had lost in service, toward to signal, and said he could not see it, and proceeded with the battle and gained the victory. Who would rather have won that battle, under such circumstances, and against such sailors as the Danes, than to have the honor of having destroyed a Russian fleet manned by saintly sailors? JOHN F. BAXTER. New York, Oct. 25.

TORTURING NEURALGIA. Suffered for Ten Years, Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Neuralgia is the king of tortures. A tingling or tender skin, a sharp sudden stab from some nerve, then piercing procyons of pain—that's neuralgia. The cause of the trouble is disordered nerves due to thin watery blood. The cure is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Both the girls color up, and thus soothe and strengthen the disordered nerves and cure neuralgia. Among the thousands who have proven that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure neuralgia is Mrs. R. C. Johnson, of Simpson's Corner, N. S. Mrs. Johnson says: "For upwards of ten years I was a sufferer from the awful pains of neuralgia. Over-exertion or the least exposure to a cold wave would set me nearly wild with torture. I consulted with two physicians but they did not cure me. I then tried several advertised medicines, but found no benefit. The trouble continued at intervals that made life miserable, until six or eight months ago when a relation of mine brought me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave me a trial. I used this box and then got a half-dozen more, and by the time I had used them all trace of the trouble had disappeared, and as I have not since had a return, I feel sure that the cure is permanent. My son is one of the best known ladies in the section in which she resides, and is a prominent worker in the Congregational Church. Naturally her family and friends are coming over her cure, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made many warm friends in that section as a result of their good work. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, pure, warm blood that they have such great power to cure disease. They positively cure rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis, kidney and liver troubles, anaemia, and the ailments from which most people suffer. The purchaser must be careful to get the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, by writing to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SPEED OF FISHES. Sharks Travel Fastest, With Tarpon Second and Mackerel Third.

Study of the speed of fishes is embarrassed by unavoidable difficulties. It is not possible, as with birds, to set up tall poles at intervals, of a quarter of a mile, and, with the help of stop watches, time them as they go by. Nevertheless, recent investigation of the subject goes to show that the mackerel, if the champion racer of the briny deep, comes pretty near to carrying off the honors. Unquestionably it travels some times as fast as an express train at high speed—say, at the rate of sixty or possibly seventy miles an hour. Other things being equal, the larger the fish the faster it swims. Just as the huge steamship is able to travel at a speed much greater than the little harbor tug. Undoubtedly the energy employed by a fish of great size, such as a thirty-foot shark, when traveling at its best, is something tremendous. An ordinary tug represents a maximum of energy in a minimum of bulk, utilizing about 200 horse power. Of course, it is only a guess, but it would not seem to be over the mark to suppose that a spongy-foot whale makes use of 600 horse power when it propels its huge bulk through the water at the rate of thirty miles an hour. A whale—which is a mammal, and not a fish—might be compared to a freight train if a shark is a cannon-ball express, but it can beat Feeding the Multitude.

On the daily bill of fare of a first-class restaurant in a large city the hungry diner ordinarily finds from 200 to 300 different ways of satisfying his appetite—to say nothing of the various ways of satisfying his thirst. To consume this array of edibles the proprietor expects daily from two thousand persons up to more than three thousand, according to his location and the size of his patronage. Some days there is an unexpected increase in the number of diners, and other days an equally unexpected falling off; the kind of food demanded varies with the weather. On a warm day, for example, meats and soups are likely to become a drug on the market and the multitude, especially at the noon hour, clamors for salads, cold meats and frozen desserts. A cold snap in the late autumn completely upsets the summer dishes. There is, in fact, almost no fixed demand, and yet there must always be a sufficiency of whatever happens to be the need of the hour—a combination of circumstances that makes the life of the restaurant keeper anything but an existence of dull monotony. Restaurants which feed thousands of people in a day are of recent origin and many of the problems of their managers were unknown to the keepers of eating houses of twenty-five years ago. On the other hand, the man at the head of the present-day establishment has facilities for doing business of which the old-timers had little conception. To be able to store and transport to draw on the gardens of the South, the woods of the North, and the mountains of the West for his supplies. Electric lights and electric fans help to make the restaurant attractive and to keep it cool. The menu includes the latest architectural wrinkles, the air breathed by the diners is purified and guaranteed to be as pure as the spring water served on the tables. And the restaurant keeper has the telephone. "What we would do nowadays without the telephone," said a restaurant keeper the other day, "is hard to imagine. It's the one thing in this day of big business and long bills of fare that enables us to keep things moving without having either to overstock the larder in advance or to persuade our patrons to take something else just as good when there's an unusually hard run on some special article. And we can't tell when there's going to be such a run. For instance, for example, sometimes we don't sell a boiled lobster for half a day, and then again we may get caught in an hour to make us see the finish of the stock that we procured in the morning. That's where the telephone comes in, for if a lobster is being sent door to the market, and whenever we see anything running out, it's a mere matter of pressing the button, so to speak, and the provision dealer does the rest within fifteen or twenty minutes." Although the method of preparing this enormous daily table for its thousands of guests varies with different restaurants, the main plan of campaign is very similar. The restaurant man lays out his bill of fare for a week in advance, very much as an orderly housekeeper might do for a small family—with the marked difference that he considers every reasonable edible and must lay it in the accordance with market prices and a general knowledge of what humanity at large is considering tempting. Beef, of course, is a standby, one well-known restaurant consuming five tons of beef weekly, in summer and more in winter. Flour, for bread, cakes, pies, and various other purposes, is, of course, another commodity that is readily and periodically provided for. But after these and a few other staple articles are settled, the restaurant manager is plunged into a maze of possibilities and probabilities—the whole question of vegetables, fruits, and specialties being more or less dependent upon the weather of a day that has not yet developed. The bill of fare has been so arranged that it part of it will be most seriously attacked covers all possible conditions, but just what by the evening business is the unknown quantity in the restaurant-keeper's equation—and the profits are very largely based on not overdoing in any one thing that will be eaten within a fixed period.—New York Evening Post.

BABY'S AWAKENING.

It ought to be a pleasure to look forward to a baby's awakening. He should awaken bright, smiling and full of life, refreshed by sleep and ready for a good time. How many parents dread their child's voice, because they know when he awakes he will cry and fret and keep everyone on the nerves until he falls asleep again from sheer exhaustion. These crying fits make the life of the inexperienced mother a torment. And yet baby is not crying for the fun of the thing—there is something wrong, though the mother may not know it. Try Baby's Own Tablets in cases of this kind, and you will venture to say baby will wake up happy and smiling—an altogether different child. Here is proof from Mrs. John S. Sutherland, Blissfield, N. S., who says: "My baby was terribly cross, and often kept me awake half the night before I got Baby's Own Tablets for her. Since I began giving her the Tablets, she is perfectly well, sleeps soundly all night, and wakes up bright and fresh in the morning." Baby's Own Tablets are a safe medicine for children of all ages. They cannot do anything but good. You can get them from your druggist, or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Use for the Bible.

The latest dictum in genealogical affairs is that in order to have any consideration at all as a descendant one must be able to produce an old pocket Bible pierced half way through by a bullet of which one may remark with a chilling shudder: "Yes, that Bible saved the life of our great-grandfather at the battle of Princeton. He was in the front rank leading the attack, when a volley was fired by the British from ambush, etc., etc., and had this Bible not been in his pocket—er—no, I mean his breast pocket—etc., etc., it is confidently whispered, indeed, that these Bibles are now so much in demand that they are being made to order by an astute manufacturer of heirlooms, who can imitate the bullet-pierced volume to perfection, and is doing a thriving trade in it. They are somewhat expensive, because the Bible must be an old one and one purchases not only it and the bullet hole, but the silence of the manufacturer.—Philadelphia Record.

Worse Than No Excuse.

Drunkenness as a defense for murder can be reduced to the plain statement that a drunken man bent on commission of crime is more dangerous to the individual against whom he is bent on crime than a sober man who is bent on crime. It is not possible, if one man is acquitted of crime or his sentence is made nothing more than a few years' confinement because the crime was an act done while he was under the influence of liquor, that it will serve to increase the number of felonious characters.

LOCAL ITEMS

Nov. 30th is the date fixed for the A. M. S. oratorical contest.

Quarterly services will be held in the Methodist church on Sunday next.

Master Donald Fisher of Brockville is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Donovan.

During the whole of next week the office of Dr. Lillie, L.D.S., will be closed.

Mr. S. Y. Bullie arrived home from Saskatchewan last week. Frank will remain in the West.

Mrs. Harvey Wing left last Saturday for Boston where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. George Taylor.

The Ladies' Aid Society meets at the home of Mrs. Everts at 3 p.m. on Thursday.

In Athens to have a skating rink this winter? The time for decision is now.

Mr. James Ross, D. D. G. M. of the A. O. U. W., is now making official visits to the lodges in his jurisdiction.

—Live Hens and Chickens bought every Wednesday evening at Wilson's Meat Market. Crops must be empty.

As a result of the recent anniversary services the debt remaining on the Methodist church has been practically wiped out.

Mr. P. S. Trickey, who has been in declining health for some time, is now obliged to spend most of the time in bed.

Cheese, 12c; eggs, 25c; pork, $7 to $7.75; chickens, 70c; butter away up in double 'teenths' figures—no wonder 'he farmers smile!

In the Commencement programme, the name of Mr. Ambrose Shea was inadvertently omitted from the list of students promoted to Form III.

Business is rushing at the A.M.S. building this week. The plasterers, metal workers, steam fitters and carpenters are all at work.

Mr. Alfred Soilder of Addison re-joined the Reporter staff this week, after an appendicitis illness that commenced on July 11.

Some cheese makers are returning home, but as a rule the high price of cheese will cause many factories to continue business longer than usual.

Mr. Sheriff Robinson returned home last week from Dalesville Que., where he has had charge of a cheese factory during the summer.

The big sale of Alex. Taylor's horses, cattle, implements, etc., on Saturday last was well attended, and under the hammer of Auctioneer Eaton fair prices were obtained.

Last Friday Mr. Hagerman of Brockville delivered an address on manual training to the modelities of Prescott who were spending the day in the county town's halls of learning.

The feasibility of Mr. Donovan's proposal for lighting the streets and residences of Athens is now being successfully and satisfactorily demonstrated by Mr. Earl.

Mr. George Doyle, a graduate of the Brockville Business College, has a position in a Brockville Bank. Miss Etta Aimes, another graduate, has a position as stenographer in Toronto.

Perhaps appendicitis is not a disease that can be communicated, but it seems peculiar that three members of the family of Mr. W. J. Ross of Smith's Falls should have been afflicted in this way.

Lieutenant R. J. Mitchell, No. 8 Company Light Rifles, Lansdowne, left for Toronto on Wednesday last to take a special course of instruction at the Royal School of Infantry, Stanley Barracks, Toronto.

Nearly 8,000 boxes of cheese changed hands in Brockville on Saturday. The ruling price was 12c, the highest figure reached this season. Only a few seasons ago the members of the board cheered when cheese reached the 10c mark.

Capt. E. E. Clarke, District Staff Adjutant, M.D. No. 4, was in Lansdowne on Thursday last, 2nd inst., making an inspection of the arms, accoutrements, clothing, etc., of No. 8 Company Light Rifles, all of which he found in good condition.

—Every man owes it to himself and his family to master a trade or profession. Read the display advertisement of the six Morse Schools of Telegraphy, in this issue and learn how easily a young man or lady may learn telegraphy and be assured a position.

The annual parlor meeting of the W. M. S. on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. Donovan was made especially interesting by a Bible reading by Miss Morton, the evangelist. Miss Dora Klyne gave a good report of the branch meeting, and a solo by Miss Culbert was much enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Last week Mr. S. Stinson, secretary of the I. O. E., was notified by the High Court that Mr. Edward Tanner, a member of Court Athens, has been placed on the total disability list. This means that he will have no more dues to pay and at the end of six months will receive half the amount for which he is insured.

Pierce & Wiltse's line of fine fur goods is generally admired.

Westport poultry fair is to be held on Nov. 21st.

Last week Mr. Norton Scott, after an efficient and acceptable service of three years in the bakery of Mr. P. P. Slack, left Athens for his home near Addison, and at the beginning of next year will take a course at the Brockville Business College.

Mrs. G. F. Gainford and Mr. Wilbert Ripley returned home last week after spending the summer in the Canadian West. They report great activity in the building trades and a big boom in land values in all the larger centres of population.

—Don't be fooled to buy old shop worn goods; it don't pay. They are dear at any price. They keep them covered up so you can't see what you are getting. When in Brockville, go to the Globe Clothing House, where you get good reliable and up-to-date goods for the same price you'll have to pay for the old shop-worn goods.

At the meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening of this week, Mrs. Caroline Kendrick was unanimously elected president; Miss Bella Wiltse, treasurer; Mr. Fred Latban, 3rd vice president; and Miss Florence Gain Ford, organist. There will be a reception of new members in two weeks.

Next Monday, Nov. 13, is the date fixed for the grand recital by Miss Marie Edna Weeks and some of her pupils. The recital will be held in the town hall under the auspices of the Baptist church. The programme will include violin solos, Indian club swinging, readings, choruses, duets and other taking numbers. Plan of hall at Lamb's Drug store.

—Poultry raisers in this part of the county will be pleased to learn that the American buyers have announced their intention of holding a fair in Athens this season. To get their highest figure, it is essential that the birds be well fattened and dressed according to their directions. It is not too early now to commence preparing the birds.

Mr. Chas. Wing left here on Monday morning to fulfill a promise to Robert Turnbull, Esq., one of his large spruce timber which yields him $300 per acre. Last year 3 acres yielded $1000. Mr. Wing will drive a team. The belt of timber has been preserved from fire and the axe until it is very valuable. Mr. Turnbull's family comprises four sons and two daughters, three sons professional men, one daughter a school teacher, the two youngest, Miss Hattie and Master Bert, at home with the father.

Born in Athens, on Monday Nov. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Judson, a son.

While in Athens this week, Prof. Gordon of Queen's was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Arnold.

Mr. Harry M. Bennett, who will appear with Mr. Harold Jarvis at the Choir Concert on Wednesday, Dec. 6th, is right at the top of his profession. Toronto Saturday Night sums up his ability very neatly, saying, "he is one of the jolliest humorists in the business." A good laugh is in store for all who attend.

By a vote of 4 to 2, Gananoque town councillors decided not to submit the local option by-law next January. Mr. Geo. Taylor, M.P., opposed local option and spoke in favor of a reduction at one of the number of licensed houses to three and then killing these one at a time as experience warranted.

Mr. Harold Jarvis, the celebrated tenor of Detroit, Mich., who is to sing at the Choir Concert in the new Town Hall on Dec 6th, is easily the most pleasing and most popular singer appearing before Canadian audiences. He is in great demand throughout the season. Certainly, a rich treat is in store for all who can hear him.

Lovers of sartorial excellence will derive special pleasure from a visit to the Greater Semi-ready Wardrobe, Brockville. The merits of Semi-ready are known to good dressers everywhere, and the new manager of the Wardrobe is particularly well qualified to serve the trade with this class of goods. The new brand of clothing, which occupies a handsomely fitted and furnished, well lighted extension, is handled by Mr. Ackland (late with M. Silver), which is an assurance that the goods will be fairly represented and properly fitted. Semi-ready and United Brand are proving a winning combination, and already the wisdom of establishing the "Greater" is shown by a large extension of trade.
