PREFACE.

A NEW Constitution having been prepared in England, for the regulation of the Craft, under the Jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the mother Country; and it having been found upon inspection that many of its rules are inapplicable and irrelevant to the Lodges in this Province, a Committee, consisting of the Worshipful JOHN ALBRO, Esq. Deputy Grand Master, D. S. CLARKE, Esq. Senior Grand Warden, ADOLPHUS VEITH, Esq. Grand Secretary, and J. S. ALPORT, Esq. Grand Treasurer, was appointed by the Grand Lodge of Nova-Scotia, which was directed to select from the Book of Constitution, such parts as were deemed requisite for the government of the Craft under its controul; for the purpose of publishing it in a separate volume. The Committee appointed accordingly met, and having performed the service required of them, reported the following Compendium to the Grand Lodge for its approbation; which having been granted, it was directed that it should be published as speedily as possible; and is now recommended to the careful perusal of every zealous Mason, and most particularly to the different Lodges under the Jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Nova-Scotia, who are in future to be governed by the Laws and Regulations therein contained.

It was also deemed proper to preface this work with a brief account of the rise and progress of Masonry in this Province, and the names of the several Grand Masters which have since filled the chair of the Grand Lodge, with so much honor to themselves and benefit to the Fraternity.

RISE AND PROGRESS

OF

FREE MASONRY

IN

NOVA-SCOTIA, &c. &c. &c.

FREE MASONRY, like other useful Arts, hath flourished in different periods of the world with different degrees of success. It began very early in the East, and hath been travelling Westward ever since, being approved and admired in every age by the enlightened part of mankind. It receives no dishonour from not being tolerated in countries where the terrors of the inquisition have a malignant influence on every public measure, and fatally blast the most useful designs. In Europe, with the exception of the Papal States, it is highly esteemed and liberally encouraged by persons of the first distinction; and indeed hath a very general establishment among all ranks of Men, from the highest to the lowest.

FROM Europe, the Royal Art crossed the Atlantic with the first Emigrants, and settled in various parts of America. It is said to have been known in Nova-Scotia, while in the hands of the French. But however this may be; it is certain, that as soon as the English took possession of it, they took care to encourage this charitable institution. They saw that it had a tendency to relieve distress and to promote good order. By this early attention to it, discovered in the first planters, it had the happiness to rise into repute with the rising Province, as the ivy climbs around the oak, contributing to its beauty, shade, and magnificence.

As early as the year 1750, which was as soon almost as there were any houses erected at Halifax, we find a number of the Brethren met together with Governor Cornwallis at their head, " Deeming it, as they expressed it, for " the good of the fraternity that Masoury should be propa-

"gated in the Province, and that there was a necessity of encouraging it in this place."

ERASMUS JAMES PHILIPS, Esquire of Annapolis-Royal was Provincial Grand Master at that time. And they agreed to petition him for a Warrant to hold a Lodge at Halifax, and that His Excellency might be Master of it. This warrant was received on the 19th of July; and on the same evening, Lord COLVILL, and a number of the Navy Gentlemen, were entered Apprentices in this Lodge. It had also the honour of making many of the principal inhabitants, and most of the Gentlemen holding considerable offices in the Province.

GOVERNOR CORNWALLIS, indeed, while he resided in the Province was Master of this Lodge, and governed it by a Deputy, according to the custom prevailing in Scotland. He was succeeded in the Government and in the Chair by Governor LAWRENCE, who enjoyed both till his death. Under the auspices of these Gentlemen, the Fraternity met with every reasonable encouragement, and it flourished with great success.

FOR it is a remark which must offer itself to every person, in the least acquainted with the state and progress of Masonry in this Province, that it has ever been conducted by persons of the most respectable characters; and that those who have had the direction and management of public affairs, have generally been zealous and active in promoting its growth.

ON March the 18th, 1751, the second Lodge was formed at Halifax. On this occasion Brother MURREY, acted as Deputy Grand Master, and Brother NESBITT, the late Attorney-General, as Senior Grand Warden in installing the officers. The next St. John's Day, they resolved to celebrate the Festival with the usual pomp, to walk in procession to the Governor's house, and from thence to Church to hear prayers. But receiving the melancholy news of the death of our Brother, the late Prince of WALES,* they resolved to appear in mourning as a mark of respect to his memory.

AT this time, our R. W. Brother PHILIPS, probably acted only under a deputation: for we find a Grand Warrant dated seven years after this, from the Right Wor-

* Father to the present King GEORGE the III.

ACCOUNT OF FREE MASONRY.

Whipsful and Honourable WILLIAM STUART, Earl of Blessington, Grand Master of England, constituting ERANMUS JAMES PHILIPS, Esq. Provincial Grand Master of Nova-Scotia, and of the territories thereunto belonging.

IT was granted by the consent and approbation of 47 regular Lodges held in the cities and suburbs of London and Westminster, authorizing the brethren residing in the Province of Nova-Scotia, to hold a Provincial Grand Lodge, independent of any former dispensation or constitution granted by him or his predecessor to New-England or elsewhere; empowering our Right Worshipful Brother PHILIPS, to constitute regular Lodges within his own jurisdiction, which might make Masons according to the ancient custom of the Royal Craft in all ages and nations throughout the known world: giving the said Grand Lodge authority to hear and determine all matters relating to the Craft within the said jurisdiction, and requiring all the worthy Brethren under the same to conform to all the rules and orders which, from time to time, might be issued by the Provincial Grand Lodge.

GRAND MASTER PHILIPS, was succeeded in his high office by his Honour JONATHAN BELCHER, Esq. Lieut. Governor of the Province. But the Province being in its infancy, and having to struggle with many difficulties unfavourable to the cultivation of the Arts, the Grand Warrant, after the death of the Right Worshipful Brother BELCHER, lay dormant for many years; a misfortune severely felt by the Craft. To remedy this evil, the Lodges about Halifax, had a meeting in the year 1783, and determined to petition the Grand Lodge of England for a renewal of their former Grand Warrant. Accordingly a new Warrant referring to the old one was granted, and arrived here in September, 1784, constituting the Right Worshipful JOHN GEORGE PYKE, Esq. Grand Master of Nova-Scotia, agreeable to the choice and request of the petitioners.

BUT, attentive to the good of Masonry, and wishing to see it placed on the most respectable footing, the next year he signified to the Grand Lodge his desire of resigning his high office, and nominated as his successor, His Excellency Governor PARR, who had ever shewn a friendly disposition to promote the honour and welfare of the Craft. This was received by the Fraternity with universal applause; and he was unanimously chosen by the Grand Lodge, and was installed and proclaimed GRAND MASTER, December, 27, 1786, in the presence of a numerous concourse of Brethren. His Excellency died on the 25th November, 1791, and was buried with masonic honours on the 29th of the same month. During his Grand Mastership the following Lodges were instituted:—Cornwallis, No. 15, at Halifax; Sydney, No. 16, at Sydney, Cape-Breton; Hiram, No. 17, at St. John, New-Brunswick; Royal Navy, No. 18, at Halifax; St. George's, No. 19, at Maugerville, New-Brunswick; Union, No. 20, at Sissiboo, Nova-Scotia.

GOVERNOR PARR was succeeded as Grand Master, by the Right Worshipful Hon. RICHARD BULKELEY, President of His Majesty's Council, who was installed on the 27th December, 1791, and continued to hold the office until the 27th December, 1800, when he resigned it. The following Lodges were instituted during this period:—Sion, No. 21, at Kingston, New-Brunswick; Solomon's, No. 22, at Fredericton, New-Brunswick; Hiram, No. 23, at do. do. Royal Nova-Scotia Regiment, No. 24, Travelling Warrant; Annapolis Royal, No. 25, at Annapolis Royal, Nova-Scotia; St. John, No. 26, at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island; Hibernia, No. 27, at Liverpool, Nova-Scotia; Harmony, No. 28, at Sydney, Cape-Breton. On the 5th June, 1800, the Foundation Stone was laid by His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent on behalf of the Grand Master,

THE Right Worshipful DUNCAN CLARKE was then elevated to the chair on the 27th December, 1800, but resigned the situation on the 27th December, 1801. St. John, No. 29, at St. John's, N. B. was instituted at this time.

ON the 28th December, 1801, His Excellency Sir JOHN WENTWORTH, L. I. D. Lieutenant Governor of the Province was elected to fill the office of Grand Master, which he held until the 11th January, 1810, when he resigned it. The following Lodges were instituted during His Excellency's Grand Mastership:—Trinity, No. 30, at Halifax, N. S. Midian, No. 31, Kingston, N. Brunswick; Wentworth, No. 32, Yarmouth, N. S. Royal Welsh Fusileers, No. 33, Travelling Warrant; Orphan's Friend, No. 34, at St. Stephens, New-Brunswick.

THE Right Worshipful JOHN GEORGE PYKE, Past Grand Master, was installed Grand Master on the 27th December following; and still retains the office. The following are the names of the Lodges installed since that period:—New Caledonia, No. 35, Pictou, N. S. Newport, No. 36, Newport, N. S. Eastern Star, No. 37, at St. Andrews, N. B. THE CHARGES OF A FREE MASON.

I.

A MASON is obliged, by his tenure, to obey the moral law; and if he rightly understands the art, he will never be a stupid atheist nor an irreligious libertine. He, of all men, should best understand that God seeth not us man seeth; for man looketh at the outward appearance, but God looketh to the heart. A mason is, therefore, particularly bound never to act against the dictates of his conscience. Let a man's religion or mode of worship be what it may, he is not excluded from the order, provided he believe in the glorious Architect of heaven and earth; and practise the sacred duties of morality. Masons unite with the virtuous of every persuasion in the firm and pleasing bond of fraternal love; they are taught to view the errors of mankind with compassion,

Concerning God and Religion.

and to strive, by the purity of their own conduct, to demonstrate the superior excellence of the faith they may profess. Thus masonry is the centre of union between good men and true, and the happy means of conciliating friendship amongst those who must otherwise have remained at a perpetual distance.

II.

Of Civil Magistrates supreme and subordinate.

A MASON is a peaceable subject to the civil powers wherever he resides or works, and is never to be concerned in plots and conspiracies against the peace and welfare of the nation, nor to behave himself undutifully to inferior magistrates. He is cheerfully to conform to every lawful authority, to uphold on every occasion, the interest of the community, and zealously promote the prosperity of his own country. Masonry has ever flourished in times of peace and been always injured by war, bloodshed, and confusion; so that kings and princes, in every age, have been much disposed to encourage the craftsmen on account of their peaceableness and loyalty, whereby they practically answer the cavils of their adversaries and promote the honor of the fraternity. Craftsmen are bound by peculiar ties to promote peace, cultivate harmony, and live in concord and brotherly love.

III.

A Lodge is a place where free-masons assemble to work and to instruct and improve themselves in the mysteries of their antient science. In an extended sense it applies to persons as well as to place; hence every regular assembly or duly organised meeting of masons is called a Lodge. Every brother ought to belong to some Lodge and be subject to its by-laws and the general regulations of the craft. A Lodge may be either general or particular, as will be best understood by attending it, and there a knowledge of the established usages and customs of the craft are alone to be acquired. From antient times no master or fellow could be absent from his Lodge, especially when warned to appear at it, without incurring a severe censure, unless it appeared to the master and wardens that pure necessity hindered him.

Of Lodges

THE persons made masons or admitted members of a Lodge must be good and true men, free born, and of mature and discreet age and sound judgment, no bondmen, no women, no immoral or scandalous men, but of good report.

IV.

ALL preferment among masons is grounded upon real worth and personal merit only; that so the lords may be well served, the brethren not put to shame, nor the royal craft despised: therefore no master or warden is chosen by seniority, but for his merit. It is impossible to describe these things in writing, and therefore every brother must attend in his place, and learn them in a way peculiar to this fraternity. Candidates may, nevertheless, know that no master should take an apprentice, unless he has sufficient employment for him; and, unless he be a perfect youth, having no maim or defect in his body, that may render him incapable of learning the art, of serving his master's lord, and of being made a brother, and then a fellow craft in due time, after he has served such a term of years as the custom of the country directs; and that he should be descended of honest parents; that so, when otherwise qualified, he may arrive to the honour of being the warden, and then the master of the Lodge, the grand warden, and at length the grand master of all the lodges, according to his merit.

No brother can be a warden until he has passed the part of a fellow craft, nor a master until he has acted as a warden, nor grand warden until he has been master of a lodge, nor grand master unless he has been a fellow craft before his election, who is also to be nobly born, or a gentleman of the best fashion, or some eminent scholar, or some curious architect, or other artist, descended of honest parents, and who is of singularly great merit in the opinion of the lodges. And for the better, and easier, and more honorable discharge of his office, the grand master has a power to chuse his own deputy grand master, who must then be, or have formerly been, the master of a particular Lodge, and who has the privilege of acting whatever the grand master his principal, should act, unless the said principal be present, or interpose his authority by letter.

THESE rulers and governors supreme and subordinate, of the ancient Lodge, are to be obeyed in their respective stations by all the brethren according to the old charges and regulations, with all humility, reverence, love and alacrity.

N. B. IN ancient times no brother, however skilled in the craft, was called a master mason until he had been elected into the chair of a Lodge.

V.

ALL masons shall work honestly on working days, that they may live creditably on holy days; and the time appointed by the law of the land or confirmed by custom, shall be observed.

Of Management of the Craft in working.

THE most expert of the fellow craftsmen shall be chosen or appointed the master, or overseer of the lord's work; who is to be called master by those that work under him. The craftsmen are to avoid all ill language, and to call each other by no disoblising name, but brother or fellow; and to behave themselves courteously within and without the Lodge.

THE master knowing himself to be able of cunning, shall undertake the lord's work as reasonable as possible, and truly dispend his goods as if they were his own; nor to give more wages to any brother or apprentice than he really may deserve.

BOTH the master and the masons receiving their wages justly, shall be faithful to the lord, and honestly finish their work, whether task or journey; nor put the work to task that hath been accustomed to journey.

NONE shall discover envy at the prosperity of a brother nor supplant him or put him out of his work, if he be capable to finish the same; for no man can finish another's work so much to the lord's profit, unless he be thoroughly acquainted with the designs and draughts of him that began it.

WHEN a fellow-craftsman is chosen warden of the work under the master, he shall be true both to master and fellows, shall carefully oversee the work in the master's absence, to the lord's profit and his brethren shall obey him.

ALL masons employed shall meekly receive their wages without murmuring or mutiny, and not to desert the master till the work be finished.

A YOUNGER brother shall be instructed in working to prevent spoiling the materials for want of judgment, and for increasing and continuing of brotherly love.

ALL the tools used in working shall be approved by the Grand Lodge.

No labourer shall be employed in the proper work of masonry; nor shall free masons work with those that are not free, without an urgent necessity; nor shall they teach labourers and unaccepted masons, as they should teach a brother or fellow.

VI.

1. You are not to hold private committees, or separate conversation without leave from the master, nor to talk of any thing impertinently or unseemly, nor interrupt the master or wardens, or any brother speaking to the master: nor behave yourself ludicrously or jestingly while the Lodge is engaged in what is serious and solemn; nor unbecoming language upon any pretence whatsoever; but to pay due reverence to your master, wardens and fellows and put them to worship.

If any complaint be brought, the brother found guilty shall stand to the award and determination of the Lodge, who are the proper and competent judges of all such controversies (unless you carry them by appeal to the Grand Lodge) and to whom they ought to be referred, unless a lord's work be hindered the mean while, in which case a particular reference may be made; but you must never go to law about what concerneth masonry without an absolute necessity apparent to the Lodge.

After the Lodge is over, and the brethren not gone.

2. You may enjoy yourselves with innocent mirth treating one another according to ability, but avoiding all excess, or forcing any brother to eat or drink beyond his inclination, or hindring him from going when his occasions call him, or doing or saying any thing offensive, or that may forbid an easy and free conversation; for that would blast our harmony and defeat our laudable purposes. Therefore no private piques nor quarrels must be brought within the door of the Lodge, far less any quarrels about religion, or nations, or state policy; (we being only, as masons, of the universal religion above mentioned) as we are of all nations, tongues, kindreds and languages and are resolved against all politics, as what never yet conduced to the welfare of the Lodge, nor ever will.

3. You are to salute one another in a courteous manner, as you will be instructed, calling each other brother, freely giving mutual instruction as shall be thought expedient, without being overseen or overheard, and without encroaching upon each other, or derogating from that respect, which is due to any brother, were he not a mason: for though all masons are, as brethren, upon the same level, yet masonry takes no honor from a man that he had before; nay rather it adds to his honor, especially if he has deserved well of the brotherhood, who must give honor to whom it is due and avoid ill manners.

When brethren meet without strangers but not in a Lodge formed.

4. You shall be cautious in your words and carriage, that the most penetrating stranger shall not be able to discover or find out what is not proper to be intimated; and some times you shall divert a discourse, and manage it prudently for the honor of the worshipful fraternity.

In presence of strangers not masons

At home and in your neighbourhood.

5. You are to act as becomes a moral and wise man; particularly, not to let your family, friends, and neighbours know the concerns of the Lodge, &c. but wisely to consult your own honor, and that of your antient brotherhood, for reasons not to be mentioned here. You must also consult your health by not continuing together too late or too long from home after Lodge hours are past, and by avoiding of gluttony or drunkenness, that your families be not neglected or injured, nor you disabled from working.

Behaviour towards a strange brother.

6. You are cautiously to examine him in such a method, as prudence shall direct you, that you may not be imposed upon by an ignorant false pretender, whom you are to reject with contempt and derision, and beware of giving him any hints of knowledge.

But if you discover him to be a true and genuine brother, you are to respect him accordingly; and if he is in want you must relieve him if you can, or else direct him how he may be relieved. You must employ him some days, or else recommend him to be employed. But you are not charged to do beyond your ability; only to prefer a poor brother, that is a good man and true before any other poor people in the same circumstance.

FINALLY—All these charges you are to observe, and also those that shall be communicated to you in another way; cultivating brotherly love the foundation and capstone, the cement and glory of this antient fraternity, avoiding all wrangling and quarrelling, all slander and back-biting, nor permitting others to slander any honest brother, but defending his character and doing him all good offices, as far as it is consistent with your honor and safety, and no farther. And if any of them do you injury, you must apply to your own or his Lodge; and from thence you may appeal to the Grand Lodge at the quarterly communication, as has been the antient laudable conduct of our forefathers in every nation; never taking a legal course, but when the case cannot be otherwise decided, and patiently listening to the honest and friendly advice of master and fellows, when they would prevent your going to law with strangers, or would excite you to put a speedy period to all law suits, that so you may find the affair of masonry with the more alacrity and success; but with respect to brothers and fellows at law, the master and brethren should kindly offer their mediation, which ought to be thankfully submitted to by the contending brethren; and if that submission is impracticable they must, however, carry on their process, or lawsuit, without wrath and rancour, (not in the common way) saying or doing nothing which may hinder brotherly love and good offices to be renewed and continued, that all may see the benign influence of masonry, as all true masons have done from the beginning of the world, and will do to the end of time. Amen so mote it be.

OF CONSTITUTING A NEW LODGE.

Constituting a new Lodge.

EVERY application for a warrant to hold a new lodge must be by petition to the grand master, signed by at least seven regular registered masons; and the lodges to which they formerly belonged must be specified. The petition must be recommended by the officers of some regular lodge and be transmitted to the grand secretary.

THE following is the form of the petition:—

To the Right Worshipful Grand Master of the Fraternity of anti-ent Free and Accepted Masons of the Province of Nova-Scotia, and Masonical Jurisdiction thereunto belonging.

Lodge.

In order to avoid irregularities every new Lodge should be solemnly constituted, by the grand master, with his deputy and wardens; or in the absence of the grand master, by his deputy, who shall chuse some master to assist him. If the deputy be absent, the grand master may appoint some other grand officer or master of a Lodge to act as deputy pro tempore.

THE following is the manner of constituting a new Lodge, as practised by His Grace the Duke of Wharton, when grand master, in the year 1722, according to the antient usages of masons:

A LODGE is duly formed; and, after prayer, an ode in honour of masonry is sung. The grand master is then informed, by the secretary, that the brethren desire to be formed into a new Lodge, &c. &c. The petition, the dispensation and the warrant, or charter of constitution, are now read. The minutes of the Lodge, while under dispensation are likewise read; and being approved, are declared regular and valid, and signed by the grand master. The grand master then inquires if the brethren approve of the officers who are nominated in the warrant to preside over them. This being signified in masonic form, an oration on the nature and design of the institution is delivered. The Lodge is then consecrated according to the ceremonies proper and usual on those occasions, but not proper to be written, and the grand master constitutes the Lodge in ancient form. The candidates, or the new master and wardens, being yet among the brethren, the grand master asks his deputy, if he hath examined them, and found the candidate master well skilled in the noble science and the royal art, and duly instructed in our mysteries, &c. The deputy answering in the affirmative, he shall (by the grand master's order) take the candidate from among his fellows, and present him to the grand master; saying, "most worshipful grand master, I present this my worthy brother to be installed master of the Lodge, whom I know to be of good morals, and great skill, true and trusty, and a lover of the whole fraternity, wheresoever dispersed over the face of the earth."

Lodge.

THEN the grand master, placing the candidate on his left hand, having asked and obtained the unanimous consent of all the brethren, shall say: "I appoint you the master of this Lodge, not doubting your capacity and care to preserve the cement of the Lodge," &c. with some other expressions that are proper and usual on that occasion, but not proper to be written. Upon this the deputy shall rehearse the charges, and regulations of a master, and the grand master shall ask the candidate, saying "Do you submit to these charges and promise to uphold these regulations, as masters have done in all ages?" The candidate signifying his cordial submission thereunto, the grand master shall, by certain significant ceremonies and antient usages, instal him, and present him with the constitutions, the Lodge book, and the instruments of his office, not altogether, but one after another; and, after each of them, the grand master, or his deputy, shall rehearse the short and pithy charge that is suitable to the thing presented.

AFTER this, the members of this new Lodge, bowing all together to the grand master, shall return him thanks, and immediately do their homage to their new master, and signify their promise of subjection and obedience to him, by the usual congratulation.

THE deputy and the grand wardens, and any other brethren present, that are not members of the new Lodge, shall next congratulate the new master; and he shall return his becoming acknowledgements to the grand master first, and to the rest in their order.

THEN the grand master desires the new master to enter immediately upon the exercise of his office, in choosing his wardens; and the new master, calling forth to two brothers, presents them to the grand master, for his approbation, and to the new Lodge for their consent: That being granted, the senior or junior grand warden, or some brother for him, shall rehearse the charges of wardens; and the candidates being solemnly asked, by the new master, shall signify their submission thereunto.

Constituting a new Lodge.

UPON which, the new master, presenting them with the instruments of their office, shall, in due form, instal them in their proper places; and the brethren shall signify their obedience to the new wardens, by the usual congratulation. The other officers of the Lodge are then appointed, and invested in antient form.

THE Lodge, being thus completely constituted, shall be registered in the grand master's book, and by his order notified to the other Lodges.

Persons to be made masons.

THE Lodges in the town or suburbs of Halifax shall after the regular proposition of the person to be made a mason, give notice thereof to the grand secretary, describing the candidate's residence, age, name, occupation and by whom proposed, in order to acquaint the grand officers and inspecting committee (which shall be composed of a past master of each Lodge in town) that they or any of them may inquire of and concerning the character and occupation of such person so proposed; and no Lodge in Halifax shall enter any person, who shall be disapproved of by the grand officers or inspecting committee.

GREAT irregularities having arisen, as well from the admission of candidates without due notice and inquiry into their character and qualifications, as from the passing and raising of masons without due instruction in the respective degrees, to the great discredit of our antient and honourable fraternity, it is determined that no Lodge shall make a new brother, or give a brother a farther degree in masonry at a Lodge of emergency, unless the person proposed to be made at an emergency, or to receive a farther degree, shall be about leaving the province, and not then to receive a farther step, unless the brother applying shall have previously undergone an examination in open Lodge, and that any Lodge offending against this regulation shall be liable to erasure.

18. No man shall be made a mason under the age of twenty one years, unless by dispensation from the grand master. Every candidate must be a free man and his own master, and at the time of his initiation, be known to be in reputable circumstances. He should be a lover of the liberal arts and

He must also shew that, at the time of his initiation into masonry; he was in good, or at least tolerable circumstances.

24. No Lodge shall admit a visitor, unless he be personally known, recommended, or well vouched for, by one of the brethren present. Such visitor must comply with the regulations of the craft, as established for the first visit of any brother to a Lodge, and during his continuance, must be subject to the by-laws of the Lodge. The master is particularly bound to enforce these regulations. A brother, who is not a subscribing member to some Lodge shall not be permitted to visit any one Lodge more than once during his secession from the craft; but this regulation is not to extend to brethren whose usual place of residence shall be in foreign parts.

In order to preserve this uniformity, and to cultivate a good understanding amongst free masons, some members of every Lodge should be deputed to visit the other Lodges, as often as shall be found convenient.

Any brother disturbing the Lodge to be admonished, or punished according to the by-laws.

27. If any brother behave in such a way as to disturb the harmony of the Lodge, he shall be thrice formally admonished, by the master : and if he persists in his irregular conduct, he shall be punished according to the by-laws of that particular Lodge, or the case may be reported to higher masonic authority.

No member to be excluded without giving him due notice.

30. No Lodge shall presume to make application to the grand master, on business concerning masonry but through the deputy grand master or grand secretary.

Of applications.

31. The master and wardens and one past master to be delegated by the brethren of each Lodge, are members of the Grand Lodge, but they cannot be admitted without their proper jewels and clothing. By the articles of union, all brethren who were past masters on the 27th December, 1813, and who had continued members of a warranted Lodge, are also members of the Grand Lodge; but this privilege ceases on the death of such past master or their discontinuance as subscribing members of a Lodge, and in future is to be confined to one past master only of each Lodge as above described.

The master, wardens, and past master to be delegated to attend the Grand Lodge.

32. THE master or wardens of a Lodge, not being able to attend their duty in Grand Lodge may, by a written document, appoint other members of the Lodge, duly qualified, to represent them: namely a past-

34. THE majority of the members of a Lodge, when congregated, have the privilege of giving instructions to their master, wardens and past master, before the meeting of the Grand Lodge, because such officers are their representatives, and are supposed to speak their sentiments, and are bound to act upon such instructions as may be given to them, by the members, in a Lodge duly assembled.

35. Each lodge shall make its returns regularly to the grand secretary. The returns to be conformable to the form annexed and are to contain a regular list of its members and of the brethren initiated or admitted therein since their last return, with the dates of initiating, passing and raising of every brother, also their ages as near as possible at that time, and their titles, professions or trades, together with all the monies due or payable to the Grand Lodge, which list is to be signed by the master and secretary.

36. If a Lodge be dissolved, the constitution shall be delivered up to the grand master, and shall not on any account be transferred without his consent.

Lodge dissolved.

37. As every warranted Lodge is a constituent part of the Grand Lodge, in which assembly all the power of the fraternity resides, it is clear that no other authority can destroy the power granted by a warrant; if, therefore, the majority of any Lodge shall determine to quit the society, the constitution, or power of assembling, remains with the rest of the members who adhere to their allegiance. If all the members of a Lodge withdraw themselves, their constitution ceases and becomes extinct, and all the authority thereby granted or enjoyed, reverts to the Grand Lodge.

39. THE master, wardens and members of every Lodge are bound to attend the grand master or his deputy, Grand Stewards Lodge, or committee appointed by the Grand Lodge; if therefore any Lodge, master, wardens or members, be summoned to attend, or to produce the warrant, books, papers or accounts of the Lodge, to the grand master, or his deputy, Grand Stewards Lodge or any board or committee authorized by the Grand Lodge, and do not comply, or give sufficient reason for noncompliance, the summons is to be repeated; and if they still persist in their contumacy, such Lodge the master, wardens or members may be suspended and the proceeding notified to the Grand Lodge.

40. A LODGE, or the officers or members of a Lodge offending against any law or regulation of the craft, to the breach of which no specific penalty is attached, shall, at the discretion of the Grand Lodge, or any of its delegated authorities, be subject either to admonition, fine or suspension.

41. A BROTHER who has been concerned in making masons clandestinely, or at a Lodge which is not a regular Lodge, or for small and unworthy considerations, or who may form and assist in forming a new Lodge, without the grand master's authority, shall not be admitted as a member, nor even as a visitor, into any regular Lodge, nor partake of the general charity or other masonic privilege till he make due submission and obtain grace.

A brother concerned in making masons clandestinely, not to be admitted.

42. No brother shall presume to print or publish, or cause to be printed or published, the proceedings of any Lodge, nor any part thereof, or the names of the persons present at such Lodge, without the direction of the grand master, under pain of being expelled from the order.

No brother to publish proceedings.

THIS law is not to extend to the writing, printing, or publishing, of any notice or summons, issued by the authority of the master of any Lodge to its different members.

43. THE majority of the members present at any Lodge duly summoned have an undoubted right to regulate their own proceedings, provided that they are consistent with the general laws and regulations of the craft; no member, therefore shall be permitted to enter in the minute book of his Lodge a protest against any resolution or proceeding which may have taken place, unless it shall appear to him to be contrary to

All complaints that cannot be accommodated to be reduced into writing and transmitted to the grand secretary.

45. All differences or complaints, that cannot be accommodated privately, or in some regular Lodge, shall be reduced into writing and delivered to the grand secretary, to lay them before the grand master, or the proper board or committee appointed by the Grand Lodge. When all parties shall have been summoned to attend thereon, and the case shall have been investigated, such order and adjudication may be made as shall be authorized by the laws and regulations of masonry.

Lodge to have a seal.

46. EVERY Lodge should have a masonic seal, to be affixed to all certificates and other documents proper to be issued.

50. ALL applications for Grand Lodge certificates must be made direct to the grand secretary; and if the name of the brother, wishing for the certificate, has not been previously registered, the money payable on registration must be transmitted at the same time, as no certificate can, on any account be issued until such be paid.

52. The tylers are to be chosen by the members of the Lodge, and may at any time be removed for cause deemed sufficient by a majority of the brethren present, at a regular meeting of the Lodge.

Appeal to the Grand Lodge.

53. As the Grand Lodge, when congregated is a representation of every individual member of the fraternity, it necessarily possesses a supreme superintending authority, and the power of finally deciding on every case which concerns the interest of the craft. Any Lodge or brother therefore, who may feel aggrieved by the decision of any other masonic authority or jurisdiction, may appeal to the Grand Lodge against such decision. The appeal must be made in writing, specifying the particular grievance complained of, and be transmitted to the grand secretary. A notice and copy of the appeal must also be sent by the appellant to the party against whose decision the appeal is made. All appeals must be made in proper and decent language; no others will be received.

MILITARY LODGES.

IT being essential to the interest of the craft, that all Military Lodges should be strictly confined to the purposes for which their warrants were originally obtained; and, very great abuses having arisen from the improper initiation of masons by such Lodges, every warrant, therefore, which is held by a Military Lodge, shall be forfeited, unless the following laws be complied with, in addition to those specified under the head of private Lodges.

1. No warrant shall be granted, for the establishment of a Military Lodge, without the consent of the commanding officer of the regiment, battalion or company, to which it is to be attached, having been first obtained.

No military Lodge to initiate an inhabitant, nor under the rank of a corporal.

2. No Military Lodge shall, on any pretence, initiate into masonry any inhabitant or sojourner in any town or place at which its members may be stationed, or through which they may be marching, nor any person who does not, at the time belong to the military profession, nor any military person below the rank of corporal, except as serving brethren, or by dispensation from the grand master.

Military Lodges.

3. ANY Military Lodge in this Country, shall conduct itself conformably to the regulations of the Grand Lodge of Nova-Scotia.

If a regiment be disbanded the warrant to be transmitted to the Grand Lodge.

4. If the regiment, battalion or military body to which the Military Lodge is attached, be disbanded or reduced, the brethren shall take care that the warrant be carefully transmitted to the Grand Lodge, that it may not fall into improper hands; but, if a competent number of the brethren remain together, they may apply for another warrant, of the same number, to be holden as a civil Lodge, at such place as may be convenient, and which may be approved by the grand master.

AN ODE.

AN ODE TO MASONRY.

GENIUS of Masonry descend,
In mystic numbers while we sing;
Enlarge our souls, the Craft defend,
And hither all thy influence bring.
With social thoughts our bosoms fill,
And give thy turn to every will.

Behold the Lodge rise into view,
The work of Industry and Art;
'Tis grand, and regular, and true,
For so is each true Mason's heart.
Friendship cements it from the ground,
And Secrecy shall fence it round.

A stately dome o'erlooks our east,
Like orient Phœbus in the morn;
And two tall pillars in the west
At once support us and adorn.
Upholden thus the structure stands,
Untouch'd by sacrilegious hands.

For concord form'd, our souls agree,
Nor fate this union shall destroy:
Our toils and sports alike are free,
And all is harmony and joy.
So SALEM's temple rose by rule,
Without the noise of noxious tool.

As when AMPHION tun'd his song,
Ev'n rugged rocks the music knew;
Smooth'd into form, they glide along,
And to a THEBES the desert grew:
So at the sound of HIRAM's voice
We rise, we join and we rejoice.

Then may our vows to Virtue move,
To Virtue own'd in all her parts:
Come Candour, Innocence and Love,
Come and possess our faithful hearts;
Mercy, who feeds the hungry poor,
And Silence, guardian of the door.

And thou ASTREA (tho' from earth,
When men on men began to prey,
Thou fled'st to claim celestial birth)
Down from Olympus wing thy way;
And mindful of thy ancient seat,
Be present still where Masons meet.

AN ODE.

Immortal Science too be near,
(We own thy empire o'er the mind)
Dress'd in thy radiant robes appear,
With all thy beauteous train behind;
Invention young and blooming there,
Here Geometry with rule and square.

In Egypt's fabric* learning dwelt,
And Roman breasts could virtue hide:
But Vulcan's rage the building felt,
And BRUTUS, last of Romans, died:
Since when, dispers'd the Sisters rove,
Or fill paternal thrones above.

But lost to half of human race,
With us the Virtues shall revive;
And driv'n no more from place to place,
Here Science shall be kept alive:
And manly Taste, the child of Sense,
Shall banish vice and dulness hence.

United thus, and for these ends,
Let Scorn deride, and Envy rail;
From age to age the Craft descends,
And what we build shall never fail:
Nor shall the world our works survey;
But every brother keep the key!
