Fixing Responsibility For The Dardanelles Campaign

It Was on the Initiative of Winston Spencer Churchill — Lord Fisher Should Have Spoken — Political Advantages Gained But at Heavy Cost — Lord Kitchener Tried to do Too Much Himself

London, Mar. 8.—The Dardanelles expedition so far as Great Britain was concerned, was undertaken on the initiative of Col. Winston Spencer Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty, according to a majority report of a commission appointed to inquire into the responsibility for the expedition. The report was issued today. The report summarizes the conclusions reached as follows:—

"The question of attacking the Dardanelles was on the initiative of Mr. Churchill, brought under the consideration of the war council on November 19, 1914, as the ideal method of defending Egypt. It may reasonably be assumed that inasmuch as all the authorities concerned were prime factors in favor of a joint military, rather than a purely naval attack, such an attack, if undertaken at all, would have been on the former rather than the latter character, had not other circumstances led to a modification of the programme.

"A communication from the Russian government of January 4, introduced a fresh element into the case. The British government considered that the thing must be done in response to it, and in this connection the question of attacking the Dardanelles was again raised.

"The secretary of state for war declared that were not troops immediately available for operations in the east, and his statement was accepted by the war council, who took no steps to satisfy themselves by reports of estimates as to what troops were available then or in the near future. Had this been done, the commissioners think it would have been ascertained that sufficient troops would be available for a joint military and naval operations at an earlier date than supposed, but this matter was not adequately investigated by the war council. Thus the question before the war council on January 18 was whether any steps of any kind should for the time being be undertaken or whether action should be taken by the fleet alone, the latter being held to be the only force available.

"Political arguments, which were adduced to the war council in favor of a prompt and effective action if such were practicable, were valid and of the highest importance, but the practicability of whatever action was proposed was of equal importance. The highest importance, but the practicability of whatever action was proposed was of equal importance. The highest importance, but the practicability of whatever action was proposed was of equal importance.

IT WOULD BE AN UNNEUTRAL ACT

Holland May Keep Her Vessels In Port

ALIES ARE IRRITATED

Would Turn Towards Making German Submarine Policy Effective — Head-up of Neutral Shipping More Serious Than Attack on Entente Tonnage

London, Mar. 8.—A report that Holland is determined to say up her ships rather than expose them to the dangers of the German submarine war zone is causing so much irritation that it would not be surprising if the governments of the Entente adopted retaliatory measures unless negotiations between London and the Hague reach a successful conclusion. A well informed diplomat expressed the prevailing feeling and policy even to the possible extent of using force, which would enable the Entente governments to regulate Dutch shipping in the waters of the North Sea.

"Such action on the part of the Dutch would tend to make the German policy effective, at the holding up of neutral shipping is more serious than an attack on Entente tonnage, which proceeds delicately.

"No complaint in this direction has been made against the United States, which has already taken steps to turn the matter to war. Therefore the American government is justified in laying down a policy which would make it impossible for the Dutch to take any steps which would be detrimental to the interests of the Entente.

"We are unable to concur in the view put forth by Lord Fisher and other members of the war council, that the adoption of any such principle generally would impair the efficiency of public services.

"We think that although the main object was not attained certain important political advantages have been gained which we have already dwelt upon, and which we have already dwelt upon, and which we have already dwelt upon.

THE LION COMES BY HIS OWN

LEND, TURKS $624,445,000

Germany's Advances Will Have Reached That Figure by August

Amsterdam, Mar. 8.—A Constantinople dispatch quotes the Turkish finance minister as saying to the parliament that the advances from Germany to Turkey by August would have reached a total of 142,000,000 pounds, Turkish, ($244,445,000) at normal exchange rates. The minister spoke of the stability of Turkish paper money and announced that a treaty had been concluded with Germany under which the price of each money advanced by Germany would be maintained on an even basis with German paper.

"Germany, he said, had agreed to send Turkey each year 3,000,000 pounds Turkish in gold for the retirement of paper. This would be in addition to whatever paper was retired by means of commercial transactions. In return Turkey had agreed to favor her allies in the matter of imports after the war. The agreement with Germany, he said, indicated the retirement of all paper currency in eleven years, and Germany would collect no interest on the advances to be made to Turkey until the process was completed.

"The minister said that Turkey would receive 100,000,000 pounds Turkish which would be increased to 150,000,000 pounds by supplementary sources of revenue due to the adoption of measures similar to those put into effect by other belligerents. On behalf of the government he promised strict avoidance of all superfluous expenditures.

THE BIG GUNS ARE BUSY BETWEEN OISE AND AISNE

French Make Successful Raid in Lorraine and Check Enemy Attack

Paris, Mar. 8.—Spirited artillery action continued during the night between the Oise and the Aisne, says today's official report. The French took prisoners in raids in Lorraine and in an unsuccessful German attack on French positions at Sepois-Le-Hurt. The announcement reads:—

"Between the Oise and the Aisne there were rather lively artillery engagements. Patrol encounters occurred in the region of Moulin-Sous-Tourvent.

"In Lorraine, northeast of Emberrn, French detachments penetrated German trenches and brought back fifteen prisoners, after doing considerable damage to the enemy's works. In Alsace a German attack on our positions near Sepois-Le-Hurt was repulsed completely. We took prisoners. Near Hilsenfranz French reconnoitering parties inflicted losses on the enemy. The night passed in quiet on the remainder of the front.

Berlin, Mar. 8.—(By wireless to the Associated Press, via Sayville.—The Admiralty made the following announcement today: Twenty-one steamers, ten sailing vessels and sixteen fishing craft, with an aggregate gross tonnage of 91,000, have been sunk recently by German submarines."

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Hague Killed Canadian Officer Who Had Him Prisoner on Train

Windsor, Ont., March 7.—Sentence of death was passed last night upon John Hogue, alias James Stewart, who on the night of January 26 last shot and killed William Marshall Jackson of Winnipeg, a Canadian immigration officer on a train.

The trial was one of the briefest in Essex county criminal annals, consuming only ten hours and five minutes. Hogue was unable to produce any witnesses in his own defence and his attorney, P. C. Kerby, of Windsor, put his client on the stand after the crown had proved the shooting.

Hogue's story told of only kindness from the man he had killed. He declared he carried a revolver in his hand with the intention of "bluffing" his captor, not to shoot and that he thought the fact of the train caused the gun to be discharged.

The only motive the crown could show for the shooting was Hogue's desire to escape before crossing the boundary line.

SAW HOLY LAND FROM SEAPLANE

Flight Lieutenant Dover in St. John Today

YEAR AND A HALF IN EGYPT

Speaks of British Work There — Officers Look on Turks as Bes of Their Feet But Victims of German Intrigue

To get one's first glimpse of the Holy Land, of Mount Carmel, of Jerusalem, of all the places around which Biblical history centres, from the sea of an aeroplane, seems a strange mingling of the old and the new. This was the experience of Flight Lieutenant M. A. Dover, who is in St. John today on his way from his headquarters at Port Said, Egypt, to his former home for a short furlough.

Lieutenant Dover went overseas with the 28th Winnipeg battalion (100th Grenadiers) and then secured his transfer to the Royal avial air service. He was sent to Egypt and there has seen active service for a year and a half. That it has been active service, fact as well as name is shown by the fact that he is one of the two survivors of the 28th Winnipeg battalion which was shot down in the Jordan valley. The British aviators with the Turkish forces were bold and daring enough to give the British flyers their full measure of work and danger and was a good man went down in aerial combat. Working in conjunction with the navy, the British flying men used seaplanes exclusively and the fact that these machines could not land and rise again from the land accounted for the loss of many of their men. Their operations were along the coast but their flights often carried them fifty miles inland and during his work Lieutenant Dover covered large areas of Egypt, Arabia and nearly all of Palestine.

The British forces in Egypt have been moving forward steadily, having gained seventy miles since Christmas. Lieutenant Dover said that they have to build the railway lines needed to bring up their men and supplies and that the rate of progress will continue along the line of the railway. Eventually a junction will be effected with the Russian troops operating from the opposite side.

Although officers may not appreciate our March snow storms, the snow looked good to Lieutenant Dover as convincing evidence that he really was on Canadian soil once more and far from the land where the mercury would climb to 112 in the shade.

CANADIENS WIN FIRST OF POST-SEASON GAMES

Montreal, Mar. 8.—Notwithstanding the fact that "Dane Fortune" lined up with the Senators, the Canadiens last night established a lead of three goals in the Ottawa series for the first time in the initial game of the post-season series for the National Hockey Association championship. The final result was a 3-1 victory for the Canadiens over the Senators. The game was the fastest, most brilliant and exciting battles that has been seen this season at the Arena. The final result of the score board was five goals to two, but the final score is not really representative of the play. The Canadiens certainly came through in a pinch, but they not only many of their men. Their operations were along the coast but their flights often carried them fifty miles inland and during his work Lieutenant Dover covered large areas of Egypt, Arabia and nearly all of Palestine. The British forces in Egypt have been moving forward steadily, having gained seventy miles since Christmas. Lieutenant Dover said that they have to build the railway lines needed to bring up their men and supplies and that the rate of progress will continue along the line of the railway. Eventually a junction will be effected with the Russian troops operating from the opposite side. Although officers may not appreciate our March snow storms, the snow looked good to Lieutenant Dover as convincing evidence that he really was on Canadian soil once more and far from the land where the mercury would climb to 112 in the shade.

ILLNESS OF JUROR HAS CAUSED DELAY

MONCTON SOLDIER, ONE OF THREE BROTHERS IN WAR, WOUNDED

Moncton, Mar. 8.—Another Moncton soldier, Pte. Arthur Kenneth Robertson, has been wounded in action. His mother, Mrs. William Robertson, received an official telegram from Ottawa stating that he was admitted to hospital on February 26 suffering from severe gun shot wounds in the legs. He enlisted in the 88th battalion in St. Catharines, N.Y., 1915, and in England was transferred to another unit. Mrs. Robertson has two other sons overseas.

NO EMBARGO ON THE EXPORTING OF POTATOES

Ottawa, Ont., Mar. 8.—That an embargo will be placed on the export of potatoes from Canada is improbable in the light of the information collected by the minister of agriculture regarding the situation throughout the country.

It is apparent that over and above what is required for domestic consumption and seed purposes there are two million bushels of potatoes in the country, whereas the average annual export is only slightly in excess of 1,100,000 bushels.

FURTHER STEPS TOWARDS AMALGAMATION OF TWO LOCAL CHURCHES

Frank Baird of Woodstock, convener of the Presbytery committee on the matter, will preside. He arrived in the city today. The meeting will be attended by representatives of both congregations. So far the work has been preliminary, and this meeting will mark the step towards the actual union. It is to say, any cup, mug, glass, fork, spoon, finger bowl, jar, spittoon, non-stick, napkin, towel, or similar article. The meeting also will make arrangements for the formal application to the presbytery for permission to effect the union and to dispose of the church property, which will not be required for the future.

IRISH PARTY DECIDING COURSE AT MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

London, March 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Pending a decision, which is to be taken at an adjourned meeting of the Irish party at two o'clock this afternoon, the outcome of the new house was regarded with the greatest uncertainty and no little anxiety. Whether the exit of John Redmond and his followers was spontaneous or as Unionists say, carefully organized beforehand for effect, it took the house somewhat by surprise and has created a situation which is regarded in some quarters as acute as at any period in the long drawn out home rule struggle.

Speculation in the lobbies and in political circles concerning the next move of the Nationalists is exceedingly active, and the result of today's party meeting is eagerly awaited. The usual news says: "Some alternative courses of action were put before the meeting. These, which will be further considered today, were, briefly, whether the party shall withdraw from Westminster altogether or stay and if it shall stay what it shall act towards the government."

KING WANTS 5,000 MORE CANADIANS FOR FORESTRY WORK

Ottawa, March 8.—Prohibition of the import of timber into Great Britain will necessitate increased domestic production in the United Kingdom and as a result of this a call has come for 5,000 more Canadians for forestry work. The men will go over to supplement the 5,000 who have already gone over in forestry work. Experience in lumbering is necessary. The medical tests are relaxed somewhat and the age limit is raised to forty-eight. Flat footed people are eligible. "As the men are to go in drafts rather than by battalions of men will not be needed.

Recruiting will be carried on in Montreal, Ottawa, Hanford, Brockville, Toronto, North Bay, Halden, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Suxcess, N.B., and Halifax.

The hauling up of the lumbering camps, it is thought, will easily provide the number required.

PRESIDENT WILSON KEPT TO BED TODAY; CASE NOT SERIOUS

Washington, March 8.—President Wilson, who is suffering from a cold taken a week ago and made worse during his inauguration on Monday, remained in bed today, by order of his physician.

No engagements were made by the president for today, and he will rest as much as possible during the next few days.

FEAST OF PURIM
The Jewish feast of Purim is being celebrated today in commemoration of the delivery of the Jews from Aman who had obtained from King Xerxes I an edict authorizing the massacre of the Jews. Queen Esther used her influence with King Xerxes to have the decree revoked and was successful. Special services were held last evening and this morning in honor of the feast, in local synagogues.

MAINE SENATE IS FOR UNIVERSAL MILITARY SERVICE

Augusta, Me., March 8.—The committee on military affairs reported today in the senate on Wednesday on a resolution passed by Sen. Holt of Cumberland in favor of universal military service.

In asking for the adoption of the resolution, Sen. Holt said that he believed there would be a terrific awakening in this country unless we had universal military training. "The men will go over to supplement the 5,000 who have already gone over in forestry work. Experience in lumbering is necessary. The medical tests are relaxed somewhat and the age limit is raised to forty-eight. Flat footed people are eligible. "As the men are to go in drafts rather than by battalions of men will not be needed.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "SNOW WHITE" AT IMPERIAL
That the days of fairy tales are not passed in the estimation of the St. John public was unmistakably evidenced by the volume of patronage at Imperial Theatre yesterday when Marguerite Clark was the star performer in the well-known fantasy, "Snow White." To mention this little actress in this connection is an assurance of a delightful entertainment, and such was the experience of yesterday's crowds. "Snow White" is a seven-act Famous Players production, chock full of mysterious surprises, trick photography, gorgeous scenes, etc., and as wicker fancies and birds and animals that talk and sing. The whole thing was very pretty, and at the matinee especially the applause was frenzied. "Snow White" will be continued tonight and Saturday afternoon for the school children. On Friday afternoon, Friday evening and Saturday evening that roaring farce comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," featuring good-natured and fat Frank McIntyre, will be the feature, also the concluding chapter of the "Beatrice Fairfax" serial.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN "EASY STREET" NEWEST MUTUAL COMEDY, UNIQUE TONIGHT

Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be gala days at the Unique when Charlie Chaplin will be presented in his latest Mutual comedy "Easy Street." This is a continuous road from beginning to end. Other features will include "The Police Reporter," and "Universal Screen Magazine." First matinee performance will commence at 2 o'clock and the Unique will not close until 10 at night, running special supper hour shows at 6 and 8 o'clock. Do not fail to see Chaplin in "Easy Street."

The directors of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company are holding a meeting here today with all present except W. S. Fisher. They are not expected to make any extensive plans for the future. Members of the government, except Hon. Dr. Landry, are here today. A meeting was held this morning and another will be held this afternoon. Miss St. John Wilman of Montreal is here endeavoring to arouse public sentiment in favor of the establishment of a dominion labor bureau. This morning she interviewed Governor Wood, Chancellor Jones and members of the trades and labor council. From here she will proceed to St. John. Two Scott Act violators were sentenced this morning to thirty days imprisonment.

THE WHEAT MARKET
Chicago, March 8.—Wheat prices tended downward today owing largely to the improving outlook for a removal of shipping difficulties. Opening prices, which ranged from one-half cent decline to one-quarter cent advance, with May at 187 to 187 1/4, and July at 187 to 187 1/4, were followed by material setbacks all around, but then a fair reaction.

Hidden Treasure on the Battlefield
On a recent Sunday (writes a correspondent at British Headquarters) a group of a dozen country folk came to a village on the Somme battlefield which was once their home. When in 1914 they fled from the threat of the Uhlans they did not take their money with them, but buried it in their gardens. Now, scarcely daring to hope to find their treasure in the wilderness of ruin, they had returned and were allowed to dig for it. A cure showed the way to one party. Going straight to a place that was a shapeless sea of clay he pointed to the edge of a shell crater. A foot below the soil an English digger turned up the hidden money. At another point, a farmer's wife among the debris of her old home led the way to a spot where a safe containing 30,000 francs was uncovered.

I intended having this done, but changed my mind when my brother recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. Before I had finished one box of the ointment this skin trouble had gone, and has not bothered me since. I cannot praise Dr. Chase's Ointment too much, and you are at liberty to publish this letter."

This Ointment Possesses Power to Heal the Skin

Two Cases Which Prove the Extraordinary Healing Power of Dr. Chase's Ointment

The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is wonderfully satisfactory because you can actually see the results accomplished. It is surprising what change can be brought about in a single night by this great healing ointment in Coleraine, Ireland. Mr. George Bevis, 119 James street, Peterboro, Ont., writes: "As a healing ointment, I consider Dr. Chase's the best obtainable. I had a large running sore on my leg, and although I had tried all the prescriptions of two doctors I was unable to get any relief from the pain or to get the sore healed. One day my druggist handed me a sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I used it with such good results that I decided to give the ointment a fair trial. Altogether I used four boxes, and am glad to be able to say that the sore on my leg is entirely healed up. My experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment I have recommended it to many people."

as besides the Grady property in this city, which this company recently purchased, it also has control of the largest sardine factory at Chamcook, N.B., and are negotiating for a site on the water front here, near the Maine Central wharf, upon which they expect to erect the large cement cold storage plant which the company expects to give a great boom to the sardine business in this section of the coast, as the Booth Fisheries is considered the largest concern dealing in fish products in the country.

THE NEW LEADER.

Any young man who has a taste for public life might well envy Mr. Walter E. Foster the opportunity that has come to him. The honor also, if you like—but especially the opportunity.

Mr. Foster is young, and in possession of vigorous health. He has won success in business, and has established a reputation for integrity that no man questions. He has intelligence, capacity, industry, and honorable motives.

Thus equipped, he is asked to take the helm of affairs in his native province at a time when the office carries with it far heavier responsibilities than have fallen upon the shoulders of any of his predecessors since confederation. Not only is this true because of the problems arising out of the war, but because misgovernment and graft have brought the affairs of the province into such a state that only wise and prudent leadership can restore the public services and the public finances to a healthy condition.

But difficulty, Gladstone once said, is the condition of success, and so Mr. Foster's opportunity for success is in proportion to the difficulty which challenges him to the test of his quality and his leadership. If now he is able to gather around him men who realize as he does the significance of the challenge that comes to all of them, and if they set themselves seriously to their task, the year 1917 will be marked in New Brunswick history as the beginning of an era of honest and efficient government, of cleaner politics, and of honor in public life. And with that era the name of the leader, Mr. Walter E. Foster, would forever be associated.

When Mr. J. K. Flemming swept the province in 1912, the Times pointed out how great was his opportunity as a leader. Only two men in opposition were elected, and Mr. Flemming could have afforded to lose the support of a large number of members and still carry on the government in accord with the highest principles of honesty and efficiency. He failed to do so, and now we know that it was because he deemed to fail, and because the government press for days past about many aspirants for the premiership. It is not worth while to attempt to answer the allegations and insinuations and utterly false statements given out as reliable news to the deluded believers in the truthfulness of what is printed in the Tory press. The answer will always be found in the record of his life, and in the record of the opposition party, which is united and determined to expose the grafters and give the province better government.

St. John Standard.—"W. E. Foster was yesterday chosen the leader of the new provincial government, and he will seek election at a by-election for the premiership. Mr. Foster is a successful business man of this city, and while new to the legislature, the disposition of the public generally will be to give him a fair show, providing he is successful in securing the endorsement of the electors for himself and his ministers at the polls."

Toronto Star Weekly.—"Sir Robert Borden in a message cabled from London to the Hamilton Canadian Club on Tuesday evening in regard to its recruitment campaign said: 'The most vigorous effort is vitally necessary, and I hope for a splendid result from your efforts.' A few vigorous and vitally necessary efforts by the prime minister and his government might produce even more splendid results than any that are within power of attainment by the Hamilton Canadian Club."

A Nationalist from Montreal came down to Restigouche during the election campaign and read to French-speaking electors Sir Robert Borden's statement in parliament that there would be no conscription. The inference was that a vote for a government candidate was a vote against conscription. Evidently the electors of Restigouche were not moved by this appeal. Conscription or no conscription they wanted a new government at Fredericton.

China is on the verge of severing relations with Germany. Everywhere the Hun plays a losing game.

It is unfortunate that the Irish question should be made the subject of so fierce a controversy in parliament as to lead to the withdrawal of the National members from the Commons chamber. It may be hoped a basis of agreement will be reached which will solve the question till the war is over.

LOOKING FORWARD

"All I ask of the party in provincial politics is that it give honest government in Fredericton," said Mr. F. B. Carvell at the Manor House luncheon yesterday.

Mr. Carvell had a large part in the investigations which overthrew the Murray government and he voiced the feeling of the great majority of the people of this province when he added yesterday that the work of investigation should be completed. His tribute to Mr. Dugal, Mr. Veniot and Mr. Carter was the tribute of a man who knows how much the province owes to them, and his listeners by their applause showed that they are not unmindful of the great public service these men performed when the days were dark and a corrupt government seemed firmly entrenched in power. The same men can be trusted to labor as earnestly to give the province honest government as they did to expose the dishonesty which caused the downfall of those upon whose heads the people have pronounced judgment.

The remarks of Mr. E. M. McDonald yesterday were also appreciative of the work of the men who in the face of such great obstacles clung to their task until the cause of better government triumphed at the polls. The people of his own province, he said, were not unmindful of the work done in New Brunswick to bring this province into line with Manitoba and British Columbia, and to add volume to the wave of political reform that is sweeping over Canada.

In all the speeches at the Manor House there was an expression of confidence in the determination of the opposition party to carry out its pledges. And that argues well for the future of the party and the welfare of the province.

Mr. Walter E. Foster is to be the leader of the new provincial government. He is the unanimous choice of the party and will be given a free hand. This is sufficient answer to all the foolish talk in the government press for days past about many aspirants for the premiership. It is not worth while to attempt to answer the allegations and insinuations and utterly false statements given out as reliable news to the deluded believers in the truthfulness of what is printed in the Tory press. The answer will always be found in the record of his life, and in the record of the opposition party, which is united and determined to expose the grafters and give the province better government.

Major Greenhields Now With Montreal Highlanders—Party of Two Hundred Soldiers Arrive From Overseas

Among the officers who arrived in the city last night on an ocean liner was Major Gordon Greenhields, son of J. H. Greenhields of Montreal, who at the outbreak of the war was visiting in Paris and enlisted as a private with the famous Foreign Legion. After five months he was granted furlough from the Montreal Highlanders and soon promotion. Major Greenhields was twice wounded and is home on two months leave.
Captain C. G. Greenhields, an officer in the 8th Royal Highlanders of Montreal, also arrived in St. John on the steamer. He said the financial situation in England is splendid at the present time.
Among the party was Flight Lieutenant Reid of the Royal Naval Air Service, who is a son of Hon. Robert Reid of Newfoundland. As a private he was to Gallipoli with a Newfoundland contingent and later joined the air service. He has the honor of having flown from Saloniki over the Bulgarian lines to the Roumanian front. During the great offensive at the Somme his brother was killed.
Major R. Cramm was in charge of the party. He is a Torontonian and was attached to the 56th Battalion. Major R. Maynard of Quebec was the medical officer in charge of the party.
In addition to over two hundred returned soldiers the steamer brought out a number of passengers and $400 bags of Canadian mail and 1,100 bags of overseas mail.

THIS SIMPLE RULE SOON STRENGTHENS A DELICATE STOMACH

It really is unnecessary to dose yourself with peppin pills or artificial digestives or to live on a miserable nursery diet. If you will observe one easy rule you can eat the hearty, nourishing foods that your appetite craves and your body needs. That rule is to take a teaspoonful of Bismarck's Magnesia in a half glass of hot water with each meal. Bismarck's Magnesia is non-laxative and harmless and possesses medicinal qualities that promptly overcome impaired digestion, fermentation, acidity, catarrhal conditions of the stomach, gas, distress after eating and other stomach disorders. As magnesia is prepared in various ways be certain to insist on obtaining it in the Bismarck form, especially recommended for stomach purposes. Sold by all druggists.

Recruiting Call For Serbians

Reservists in Canada to be Mobilized at Camp Sussex - Nine St. John Recruits Yesterday

The military authorities have decided to open a special recruiting campaign throughout Canada for Serbians and the military camp at Sussex is to be used as the mobilizing centre. It is hoped that from 1000 to 1500 Serbs will be recruited during the spring and summer of 1917. It is reported that Capt. J. McNally, of the 236th Battalion at Fredrickton, may be attached to the camp commandant's staff.

Nine recruits were secured in the city yesterday: R. D. Johnson, L. E. Vaughan, Windsor, 16th Field Ambulance; John Roberts, England, 289th Battalion; V. S. Dingley, Richard Whalley, St. John; Alex. McInnes, New Mills; Frank LaPointe, Edward Hickey, New Mills; John Mahoney, C.A.S.C.; John Mahoney, St. John West, Royal Navy.

Buffets at Y.M.C.A.

The executive of the St. John Y. M. C. A. royally entertained about 40 members of the 16th Field Ambulance, Canadian Buffs, last evening. Games of all kinds were played and many athletic contests were carried out, including match games in basketball ball, indoor baseball and bowling. Many spectators including the members of the Young Ladies' League, and the ladies' Auxiliary of the association, filled the balcony and watched the contests. During the evening coffee, sandwiches and cake were served.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to disinfect it then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely destroy and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Opposition Candidates Refute False And Slanderous Charges

Unqualified Denial From Every Constituency of Story That Conscription Canvass Was Used in Provincial Elections

At the afternoon session of the opposition conference yesterday considerable indignation was expressed by both successful and unsuccessful candidates over a statement in the government press to the effect that a canvass had been made in the North Shore counties on the question of conscription, it being alleged the electors were told that conscription would be introduced if the Murray-Baxter government was returned to power. This statement of the government press, the Standard in particular, was denounced absolutely as false and slanderous, and representatives from all parts of the North Shore counties made definite and speeded denials of it. These they felt to be unnecessary, among people who knew them and their records, but the denials were made nevertheless for the purpose of refuting a base slander and keeping the record clear.

Hon. C. W. Robinson said that in Moncton the conscription issue had never been discussed during the campaign at all, and that the Standard's statements were merely manufactured slanders.

C. M. Leger said that he had been among the first to sign a National Service card and that he had advised others to sign it. Neither he nor his associates had made any canvass on conscription or anything approaching it. This was corroborated by Fred Magee, Dr. Smith and Hon. F. J. Sweeney, who denied and repudiated the slander in the Standard.

F. J. Veniot, of Gloucester, who has two sons at the front, said that there had been no mention of conscription by him or his colleagues during the campaign. The whole thing was a lie, pure and simple.

BADE GOOD-BYE TO SOLDIER SON YESTERDAY.

S. R. Leger, who bade good-bye to his soldier son yesterday, corroborated Mr. Veniot's statement, as did Mr. Byrne, who said he had relatives in the army and that neither he nor his associates had resorted to any such canvass.

A MEAN GOVERNMENT CANVASS.

A. T. LeBlanc, of Restigouche, said that he and his running mate had not only not mentioned this issue, but that his opponents, Colligan and Stewart, had brought in a Nationalist named Deroger from Quebec who had actually made use of the conscription issue against the Opposition. He said he had written a letter to Messrs. Colligan and Stewart demanding that they give him the name of any person who alleged that he or Mr. Currie had made use of any such canvass.

FALSE AND MALICIOUS, SAYS MR. MURRAY.

Robert Murray, of Northumberland, also denounced the Standard's story as false and malicious, saying that such a canvass had never been heard of in the campaign.

A DENIAL FROM KENT.

Philias Edmondson, of Kent, said no such issue had been discussed in the campaign, and he pointed out that Dr. Landry, on declaration day, said that only provincial issues had been talked of during the campaign.

WOUNDED SON JUST HOME.

Mr. Dugal, of Madawaska, whose eldest son has just returned from the front, wounded, said that no such issue had been mentioned in Madawaska. He himself had signed the National Service card, and had spoken with his colleague, Mr. Michaud, at recruiting meeting.

LIQUOR DEALER'S STATEMENT DENIED.

Mr. Burgess, of Victoria, said that neither he nor Mr. Tweedie had ever heard of the conscription canvass until William Pitt, a liquor dealer, the Thursday day night before election day, speaking at a meeting with J. K. Fitzmaurice, had made the ridiculous charge that he (Burgess) and others had used this conscription canvass. As soon as he heard it Mr. Burgess gave it an unqualified and emphatic denial, and he said that he had consulted lawyers with the idea of prosecuting Pitt. He was ready to go before any tribunal and substantiate his statement.

NEVER HEARD OF IT.

D. W. Meserere, of Sunbury, said that he never had heard a word of any such issue in the whole campaign. He added that his colleague, R. B. Smith, who is ill, had just telephoned pleading his unqualified fidelity and support to W. E. Foster as leader.

HAD NOT THOUGHT OF IT EVEN.

Dr. Hethington, of Quebec, said that he had never thought of the conscription issue in his county, much less mentioned it, and Mr. Sinclair, of St. John, said the same thing regarding this constituency.

The sense of the meeting was that the whole thing was a shameful fabrication introduced by the beaten party in the hope of confusing the public mind as to the causes of their defeat and diverting attention from exposures which are bound to come.

Redmond Rejects Further Mediation House in a Body - Premier Offers Conference

London, March 7.—The presentation by the Irish Nationalists in the house of commons this evening of a resolution calling for the immediate application of the home rule statute to Ireland precipitated one of the most bitter sessions in the history of the British parliament.

THE BEST NERVE TONIC

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of today. Sufferers find themselves tired, nervous, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears and do not sleep well at night. Headaches, neuritis and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctoring the nerves with poisonous remedies is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich red blood. Therefore to cure nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills actually make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, imparts the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto depressed people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin caring yourself today by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

months, and threw the home rule question back into its old position of uncertainty.

Premier Lloyd George, at the outset of his speech, admitted that the temperate speeches, without bitterness, which he had just heard impressed him with the difficulty of the problem more than violent speeches would have done. They showed how widely separated were the views of the two sections of the Irish people. The British people would accept of no settlement which was not acceptable to the whole Irish people, but he declared that during the war controversies that might impair national unity must be postponed.

There were two fundamental facts of the situation which were ignored by the controversialists, but whose recognition was conditional to any possible settlement. Ireland's grievance was not a material one, but had something to do with pride and self-respect.

It is indisputable, he said, that although Ireland was more prosperous than ever, she was no more reconciled to British rule than she was in Cromwell's day. The second fact was that the population in northeast Ireland was as bitterly opposed to Irish rule as the Nationalists were opposed to British rule. It would be as glaring an outrage upon the principle of self-government to place this population under Irish rule as to deny self-government to the rest of the Irish people.

The government, said the premier, was ready to confer self-government on those parts of Ireland clearly demanding it. That was the position of the late government. Was there any party in the house, or were there any home rulers who contemplated using force to compel Ulster to submit? No party would support such a demand.

Among many other interruptions was one by John Dillon, who exclaimed angrily: "You are turning your back on home rule."

Replying to Mr. Dillon's interruption the premier said: "Not only is that not true, but the honorable gentleman knows he has not deviated a hairbreadth from the line I have taken in the last five or six years with regard to Ulster. Frank acceptance of the position that Ulster will not be coerced is more likely to achieve the object of a united Ireland than a hundred times more than coercive measures."

"The deal is national unity for Ireland, and the method of attaining it is to offer facilities and inducements for Ulster to come in, and I believe that Ulster will come in at no distant date."

"My offer of self-government to parts of Ireland is an offer which would take immediate effect. I am not in the least afraid of submitting the proposal of the government to the judgment of any unbiased friend of Ireland in any quarter of the globe. I put it again, and I want not merely Irishmen to know, but I want men outside the confines of the United Kingdom and of the British empire to know, what it is that today we offer. It is that that part of Ireland that clearly demands home rule—self-government shall get it. There are two questions to be asked by all of us. The first is: "Are the people of this country prepared to confer self-government on the parts of Ireland which unmistakably demand it?" The answer which I give is: "Yes, and I believe that the government are firmly of that opinion, and are firmly of the opinion that that represents the view of the vast majority of the people of this country."

Floral, Foliage, Stripe and Conventional Designs are shown in great variety. The lighter and daintier patterns in floral and novel effects are now used, almost exclusively, for over-curtains and draperies, and offer greater latitude for the exercise of individual taste than any other medium of interior decoration. No other method of treatment makes possible as great contrasts in the furnishing of the various rooms. The darker fabrics and over-print materials make most serviceable coverings for different articles of furniture, serving a double purpose, utility and decoration.

"The next point is this: Are the people of this country prepared to force the population of the northeastern corner of Ireland to submit to be governed by a population with whom they are completely out of sympathy, in my judgment, and here I speak in behalf of the government, they are not."

The premier contended that the present government were not departing, in the least from the policy the former premier, Mr. Asquith, laid down on several occasions.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, took the floor, and after a few minutes of heated speaking, during which he declared he would have nothing further to do with mediation conferences, as suggested by Mr. Asquith, he asked the Irish members to leave the house and consult with him. They did so, and there was an exciting scene as the Nationalists left, with cheering among the Irishmen and opprobrious epithets against the government.

The Nationalists did not return to the house. After their dramatic withdrawal they held a party meeting in one of the committee rooms. The meeting lasted only two minutes and, it is understood, unanimously carried a resolution approving of Mr. Redmond's action. An adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning, when the position will be given further consideration.

Redmond, obviously suffering from the effects of his recent illness, spoke with much difficulty, and great emphasis was extended to him by the members generally.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Asquith, "the only solution is that parliament should invite some outside impartial authority to whom they might entrust the task of adjustment between all the interests and sentiments concerned. The position of this body might be facilitated by the presence among us of a number of disinterested statesmen, to whom the problems of local autonomy have presented themselves in different forms, and by whom they have been solved in different ways."

Premier Lloyd George, intervening, said: "This is an important suggestion. I wish to know whether it is a number of disinterested statesmen, or was it to be merely advisory, or was it to have statutory powers, and I think it is his decisions to have statutory effect."

Mr. Asquith resumed, saying: "No, I should make it a decision subject to the approval of parliament, and entrust it with the power of moulding and adjusting the course which played into the hands of the revolutionaries."

In Ireland the position was serious. There were men there with influence and money who were combined in the enterprise of smothering the constitutional movement, and the premier was playing into their hands. The premier, Mr. Redmond declared, would have to govern Ireland with the naked sword if he continued the course which played into the hands of the revolutionaries.

Sir Henry Dalziel, Liberal, in order to give the premier an opportunity to say whether he supported Mr. Asquith's suggestion and to make a statement, moved the adjournment of the house.

The premier, rising, said he had already submitted certain propositions. He suggested two alternatives. One was a conference of Irishmen; the other was a commission of inquiry; to report to the government and parliament. The government, he said, could not, in the middle of the war, adopt the suggestion that they should introduce a measure for the settlement of the problem which they had no sort of guarantee would be acceptable to any party. It would be folly for the war cabinet to introduce a measure of a high controversial character.

Sir Henry Dalziel then withdrew his motion.

Timothy Healy, who did not follow Mr. Redmond's lead in quitting the house, sarcastically predicted, in the course of a speech late tonight, that "Mr. Redmond, who made such a dramatic skedaddle from the house, will return with his tail between his legs." He also declared that the Irish people would "be able to take the measure of this prearranged play acting."

From the day the home rule bill was introduced in 1902, Mr. Healy had never known Mr. Redmond to hold out the ing a scheme to meet the interests and sentiments of all concerned.

Mr. Lloyd George having promised to consider Mr. Asquith's suggestion, John Redmond had taken their political lives in their hands, and they had been betrayed. The government should have had the courage to carry his professions into practice. The naked reality of the speech was that his policy was absolutely one of "wait and see."

The premier had suggested negotiations, but he for one would enter no such negotiations. The effect of the debate would be most injurious to the empire's best interests. The government by their actions, were playing into the hands of revolutionaries in Ireland.

"Works Both Ways"

The getting of two distinct values when purchasing one article applies pretty generally in the field of merchandise these times, extending even to ailments. While most articles of this nature are intended for external use only, a notable exception is the famous Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Powerful enough for every requirement of outside application when needed for sprains, strains, muscular rheumatism, all aches, pains, and soreness, it is, in addition, a wonderfully effective preparation for internal use in the case of colds, coughs, sore throat, cramps, chills, etc., when necessary that its remarkable soothing and healing qualities go direct to the seat of an inward trouble. You, in Johnson's Anodyne Liniment you get two in one—internal and external use—the double value liniment as it is known. Over 100 years of splendid service to humanity has made Dr. Abernethy Johnson's prescription a household word, and present day users speak of it as "an angel in disguise."

From the outside it appears that Sam Ross, the Richmond left hander, and Bill Finney, the right hander from the Salt Lake City club, are the most likely to stick with the Yanks. Both tried out here a year ago and then pitched ball in the minors. With added experience they should have the edge over the young bowmen who see here for the first time, most of them lacking this same experience. Finney won 20 games and lost 15 last season, while Ross won 15 and lost 18.

It seems probable that there will be a new pennant winner in the American League this season. The Boston Red Sox have now occupied a high place in the game so long that it is only natural to expect them to slip back. The retirement of Manager Bill Carrigan will be a great loss to the club. While it would never admit defeat, a trait which he also imparted to his players. There are some veterans on the Boston Club and veterans, no matter how good they are, cannot last forever. Whether they are to be reckoned with during the coming season. The Yankees, in particular, have bright prospects. If Mabel fits in at second base, Donovan's team will be strong in every position. Hanover, N. H., March 8.—A broad jump of 23 feet 2 1/4 inches, said to be the best indoor performance of which there is an available amateur record, was made by Captain Harry T. Worthington of the Dartmouth College track team in an exhibition event here today. Another record performance was made by Earl J. Thomson, a freshman from Long Beach, Cal., in an exhibition 45-yard high hurdles event, his time of six seconds equalling the world's amateur indoor mark. Thomson is the national amateur junior hurdle champion. Both performances were features of the Dartmouth interscholastic track meet.

Gets Option on Cardinals
An option on the St. Louis National Baseball Club was obtained by James C. Jones, attorney for the club, the other afternoon when he gave Mrs. Helen E. Britton, owner, a check for $25,000 as earnest money. Sixty days was allowed in which to make a payment of $150,000 on the purchase price of $350,000. Mr. Jones said, however, that he would not make the second payment, unless $250,000 is available at the end of the sixty-day period.

Mr. Jones said John K. Tener, president of the National League, would confer with the promoters of the new company in St. Louis this week.

"While I have no right to speak for the incoming directors," Mr. Jones declared, "I think there will be no change in the team management. Miller Huggins will continue in charge. Herman Seekamp will continue to manage the business affairs of the club at the park.

"I think there is no doubt that the president of the club will be a baseball efficiency expert. I have no individual

May Pass Up Montreal
Syracuse, N.Y., March 8.—The question of an International League baseball franchise for Syracuse has been discussed at a conference here between John F. Farrell, president of the New York State League, and Secretary of the National Board of Minor Leagues, Edward B. Barrow, president of the International League, and President Charles Chapin, of the Rochester Club of that league.

President Farrell has agreed to release the Syracuse territory to the International League in 1918, under conditions which were not made public. Mr. Barrow and Mr. Chapin promised to transfer the franchise either of Montreal or Providence to Syracuse in that year, if proper support were assured in Syracuse.

Plans at first were discussed for the change this year, but because the schedules of both leagues are practically completed, and most of the players under contract, it was decided to postpone action until next year.

Hobbitel Not Yet Signed
Parkerburg, W. Va., March 6.—Before leaving his home here for Cincinnati yesterday, Richard C. Hobbitel, Boston Red Sox first baseman, said that he had not decided to sign a 1917 contract yet, and that he did not know whether he would sign a contract at all. Hobbitel was one of the officers of the Players' Fraternity.

Nora Doesn't Mind.
"Nora," began Mrs. Newlived timidly, "I don't suppose—that you would object to my getting an alarm clock?" "Not at all, mem," replied the sleepy one, "them clocks never disturbs me!"

Ten for 1148, Best Ever Done on Black Alloys

Thomas L. Wilson, manager of Black's bowling alleys, has been howling in sensational form during the last few weeks. On Wednesday he rolled ten strings for a total of 1,148 and while it surpassed the alley record by seventeen pins it was not recognized as a new record as there was no official referee on the line. The scores were 107, 138, 100, 96, 107, 133, 123, 111, 110. Yesterday Mr. Wilson bowled two strings making 137 in the first and 128 in the second.

Owing to the approaching tournament in Calais for the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company's trophy which has been held by Black's alley team for some years and which Mr. Black is taking to Calais this year to defend, competition among the leaders in the City League is keen. The five high bowlers will constitute the team which will be sent to defend the highly prized silver pin and the eagerness of all the crack pin-fall artists to participate in the tournament is apparent. Only a few points separate several of the members and the result of each game is being watched with interest.

Reports from Calais indicate that interest in the approaching tournament is widespread and the outlook is bright for making it a bonny event of the season. Clubs in New Brunswick and Eastern Maine have signified their intention of participating in the tournament. As the leading candle pin bowlers of the city will go to Calais to defend the trophy the team that vanquishes them will have to hit them hard and consistently.

SHORT WEIGHT BUTTER

The inspector of weights and measures said to the Times this morning that he is receiving numerous complaints about short weight butter. He points out that the only protection for the purchaser is to have the butter weighed when it is bought. If for any reason it is short the scales will tell the story, as they are frequently inspected and reliable. It is impossible for the department to see and weigh every pound of butter, but the purchaser can have it weighed and there is a penalty for every pound that is sold under-weight.

NO. 11 WEST MOUNTED

POLICE MAN IN CITY

Sergeant Darling of Regina—They Want to Go Overseas as Fighting Unit

The scarlet tunic of the uniform of the Royal North West Mounted Police, a rare sight in St. John, attracted much attention on the streets this morning. The wearer was Sergeant H. Darling of Regina who has been home to England on furlough and who now is on his return journey. The broad-brimmed Stetson, the scarlet tunic with blue facings, riding breeches and leather leggings make a dashing uniform and appear especially noticeable in contrast with the dull khaki now the universal garb of our soldiers.

"Thank Heaven! That may mean that we are to have a chance to get overseas as a fighting unit," was the sergeant's comment on the news that the police work in Alberta has been taken over by a provincial body. He added that ever since the war began, the mounted men have been looking forward to an opportunity to take a hand in the big game in Europe, but so far they have been required to continue their regular duties.

The fame of this body of picked men is known throughout the world and it would be generally conceded that no finer body of fighting men could be sent overseas with Canada's forces if they could be spared from their police duties in the west.

Sergeant Darling is a typical representative of his noted corps around which much of the romance of the west has centred. Tall and broad-shouldered, with the slender waist of the athlete and the swinging carriage developed by many hundreds of miles in the saddle, he well represents the men who have made the mounted police a corps whose deeds are known wherever red-blooded men are held in esteem.

In a letter received by friends in St. John from Sergeant Leo Duffy, he reports meeting his brother, Gerard, who had been in France for nearly eighteen months. At time of writing, Gerard, who is a driver with the C. A. S. C., was on furlough and had joined his brother in London.

Sergeant Duffy is attached to the Canadian pay corps in the Empire metropolis. Both soldiers were enjoying excellent health.

IS HOME WITH THE MILITARY MEDAL

Private J. Dolan Of Little River

GALLANT ACT UNDER FIRE

Himself Wounded, Carried Comrade Across Open to Safety in Trenches — Speaks of War Work

One of the maritime province men who arrived here last evening en route to their homes from the battlefields of France and Belgium—Private J. Dolan, of Little River, St. John county—saw the heaviest and thickest of the fighting. He led for carrying a wounded comrade 150 yards across the open to the trenches. He enlisted in September, 1916, with the motor machine gun and saw service at both Ypres and along the Somme front.

With four others he was in a shell hole, well up past the first line trenches, facing the heaviest of the German fire, when a huge shell struck the machine gun placement, instantly killing two of the five men, wounding the sergeant in charge, and the other survivor. As Private Dolan fell into the hole, part of the placement fell across him, crushing his back and hip. Himself bleeding and badly hurt, he picked up the machine gun whose shoulder was crushed and whose throat was bleeding from shrapnel wounds, and hurried across the 150 yards separating him from the first line trenches. The sergeant, a Montreal man, is now alive in England.

Private Dolan was able to compare the fighting at Ypres with that along the Somme. At the former he said the fighting was intermittent, with three and often four days between charges, but along the Somme it was the same grand day after day, going over the top once and often twice a day.

The machine gun, Private Dolan said, were the mainstay these days. The fire is so heavy over the top of the trenches that the infantry can hardly at times venture to put their heads up. The Hunns have used the machine guns to great effect.

"Did you do much damage," he was asked.

"That's pretty hard to tell. We were told to fire at a certain mark, and directed all our efforts there until told to change the aim. We, the men in the holes, could hardly see what we were shooting at."

After a long stay in the hospital, Private Dolan has been discharged. The tip of his index and second finger on his left hand were taken off when the placement fell across him. Lacking the physical fitness to carry on his work, he is back home, but he has well done his part.

REACHED ENGLAND BUT TURNED DOWN THERE; UNDER AGE

Two Nova Scotia Brothers Here Very Much Disappointed—Experiences of Some Others

Of the maritime province men who reached here yesterday from overseas there were two young lads who seemed to be most disappointed. They were Privates Anderson, brothers, from Parrishboro. Both lads had joined the 10th Battalion and had been successful in passing all medical tests prior to leaving with that unit. One of the boys, reaching England both were turned down owing to the fact that they were under age.

What seemed to bother them most was the fact that others around them were telling their experiences at the front and they had none to tell, and through no fault of theirs. Both say that their time may come yet, when they can serve their king and country.

Private J. M. Young, a shoemaking smith, went overseas with the 12th Battalion and was later attached to another battalion. He was injured in the shoulder by being kicked by a horse and was obliged to spend practically all his time in England.

Private H. B. Rolston left Canada with the 40th Battalion. He spent thirteen months in France, but saw little fighting. He badly sprained his ankle and was returned to England, and became afflicted with the 18th Little Battalion, only to be discharged a short time later because of rheumatism.

Private Colwell's stay at the front was exceptionally short. He was sent overseas as part of a re-inforcing draft for the 8th Battalion. This was in June, 1916, and on the 18th he was struck in the shoulder and forearm by shrapnel, and has since been treated in the base and military hospitals. He was for a long time at Manchester. Even during his short time at the front he recalls one case of seeing a battalion going into the trenches, 1,100 strong and returning with but fifty men. This took place at the battle of Ypres, where so many of the Canadian boys made the supreme sacrifice.

Private Houghton, of Falmouth, N. S., went overseas with the 6th C. M. R. and when the unit was broken up he was transferred to the Fort Garry Horse, with which unit he crossed to France. This was a cavalry unit and most of their work was behind the lines. Private Houghton had the misfortune of being hurt across the back by a horse falling on him.

The maritime province party included A. R. Anderson, Parrishboro, N. S.; M. W. Houghton, Falmouth, N. S.; C. W. Simpson, Carleton Place, N. S.; R. W. Rite, Middleton, N. S.; J. Young, St. John; J. Dolan, Little River; R. Wilkin, Salisbury road; W. Anderson, Parrishboro, N. S.; W. J. Brownell, Amherst, N. S.; F. W. Oliver, Lunenburg, N. S.; T. Banks, Sunny Brae, N. B.; I. T. Jones, Truro, N. S.; A. Colwell, Arlington, N. S.; H. Rolston, Sydney, N. S., and C. D. Molins, Moncton.

PURSE OF $1,000 FOR HEROIC ACT

Petitcodiac Man Distinguishes Himself in Saving Some People From Drowning

Moncton, March 8.—George E. Arthur, who a few days ago saved a man from drowning and helped to rescue three others, is a son of Gilbert Arthur of Petitcodiac. Three hotel patrons in Dayton on February 25, while bathing, went too far out from shore and were unable to return. Arthur and another man, Edward Ortung, went to their rescue. They were successful. Today a tragedy quickly made up a purse of $1,000 and presented it to the young hero from Petitcodiac.

WIFE FOLLOWS HER HUSBAND HERE AND HAS HIM ARRESTED

Yesterday morning a well dressed woman called at police headquarters and swore out a warrant for the arrest of her husband, who she alleged, was living with another woman in this city. The warrant was executed last evening by Detectives Lupton and Briggs. The man and the other woman were in a boarding house in Leinster street. He was arrested.

In the police court this morning evidence was taken. The wife said that she was married to the defendant about nine years ago in some part of Maine. She produced the marriage certificate. She said that she had three children, the oldest nine years and the youngest two years. Her husband left her about nine months ago and she has been receiving no support from him since. Following information she had to hand she came to St. John and swore out the warrant. The witness also said that about four weeks after the disappearance of her husband, the "other woman" also disappeared. All three belonged to the same place.

Detectives Duncan and Briggs also appeared. It is understood that since the defendant came here he has been engaged as a bartender in a city saloon, and it is also said that he and the other woman have been passing as man and wife.

The magistrate suggested an amicable settlement and it is said that this may possibly be arranged.
