

Messenger and Visitor.

82.00 per annum: When paid within thirty days, $1.50. Editor: J. H. BARNES, Business Manager: OFFICE: 10 GERRAIN ST., ST. JOHN, N. B.

Messenger and Visitor.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1892. NOW WHAT!

Our Convention and all our associations, save one, for the current ecclesiastical year have been held. The various objects of our denominational charge have been considered.

All the subjects for which our denomination appeals commend themselves with varying degrees of emphasis to the Christian pulse and pulse of our membership.

Opening Services at Wolfville. Thursday, the 15th inst., was a bright day in the history of Acadia Seminary.

The morning meeting was held in the chapel in the seminary. Mr. C. B. Whidden, by appointment of the governors, presided at the morning and afternoon sessions, and filled his office well.

Rev. Dr. Saunders read an able paper upon "The religious aspects of the work of the Seminary." This paper should be published in full in the MESSENGER AND VISITOR.

As Baptists we find a stimulus to Christian endeavor in our history the world over. Our record in civil and religious liberty, in missions, and in Christian learning is such as to excite us in the race to become worthy followers of these who were pre-eminent in these departments.

The old prophet said to Israel: "Enlarge the place of thy tent." Enlarge in all departments of our work should be the rallying cry for this year. In missions and in education there has been a marked advance among us.

The answer to our question, "Now What?" is then briefly this: Let every individual Baptist girl himself for work. Wait not till lines of policy in all respects harmonize with individual preferences. That time will never come.

Let every Baptist labor to promote the welfare of his own church and local and home interests, whether or no all plans toward may be deemed the best. The gravity of the work presses, and the margin of life is too short to wait till all plans are perfect in our judgment.

Let every Baptist, too, keep a warm place in his heart for Christian education, or make one. Of all people in the world we have most to gain and nothing to fear from the advance of knowledge.

According to the amount of money we have raised, the results in all departments of our work are very gratifying. What is true of American Baptist missionary work in India, namely, that a dollar spent shows more results than the same amount spent by other denominations, is partially true among us here in our denominational enterprises.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Rev. J. J. Baker, of Toronto, spoke of the provisions for education in Western Canada. They have only co-education in the government system in Ontario.

Dr. deBlois, who presided, gave each speaker an appropriate introduction, but first made an address containing words of greeting, gratitude and hope. In speaking of the past, he referred in fitting terms to the abiding work of Dr. Hopper, the late principal.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois, who presided, gave each speaker an appropriate introduction, but first made an address containing words of greeting, gratitude and hope. In speaking of the past, he referred in fitting terms to the abiding work of Dr. Hopper, the late principal.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

Dr. deBlois, who presided, gave each speaker an appropriate introduction, but first made an address containing words of greeting, gratitude and hope. In speaking of the past, he referred in fitting terms to the abiding work of Dr. Hopper, the late principal.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

Dr. deBlois, who presided, gave each speaker an appropriate introduction, but first made an address containing words of greeting, gratitude and hope. In speaking of the past, he referred in fitting terms to the abiding work of Dr. Hopper, the late principal.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

The afternoon meeting in College Hall was well attended and the interest well sustained to the close. In opening the exercises Mr. Whidden, the chairman, said that the thought of a new seminary building had taken form two years ago; one year ago the contract was let, and a week ago the building was occupied. This had been a matter of great interest to the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, and especially to the members of the building committee, who during this period had borne a good deal of anxiety. He then called upon Mr. J. W. Bigelow, secretary to the committee, to make a statement as to the cost of construction.

Mr. Bigelow made an apt speech in presenting his statement, which was clear and definite. Rhodes, Curry & Co. had the contract. The building is 136 x 50, containing three stories and a basement. The first floor contains the dining room, three class rooms, and a chapel with a seating capacity of 250. On the second there are twenty rooms for students and teachers, and the reception room. On the third floor twenty rooms for the use of students and a fine studio. The basement contains the gymnasium, boiler room, etc. It is a handsome, well-finished building, reflecting great credit on the architect, J. C. Dumaresq, and on Mr. Beckwith, foreman of Rhodes, Curry & Co., contractors. The sanitary arrangements of the building he considered complete. Dr. Sawyer had been unremittent in his oversight and attention. (At this point some one proposed that three cheers be given to Rev. Dr. Sawyer, which was enthusiastically done.) The building cost $27,000. The accommodation is now sufficient for one hundred and twenty students. While the debt is large the history of the past twelve years encouraged us to expect the growth of the schools to warrant the investment. A boarding-house is necessary for the young ladies attending college.

Rev. A. Cohoon spoke of the generous provision the governors have made for education of young women. In addition to the $27,000 for the building, $6,000 had been paid for the land and buildings thereon, making a total expenditure of $33,000. The students and their friends should show their appreciation of these provisions by advertising the school and supporting it. The Governors had required courage to meet the requirements. He asked for additional annual subscriptions to the value of $300. They desired to reduce the debt by $2,000 a year. He thought $1,000 of this should be contributed by the women. They had reason to hope the women would help. The responses of the people for this work had been cordial to an unusual degree.

Prof. Keirstead followed with an address on the "Purpose of the School," notes of which may hereafter be furnished.

Dr. deBlois now introduced Miss Tucker, who told in a simple yet most impressive way how she happened to leave her New England school and home associations for St. Martins. Nothing was further from her thought when Dr. deBlois first spoke to her in Boston, but when he told her something of the history of the school and something of the purpose that inspired those who were laboring for it, God so laid the matter upon her heart that she felt that if her presence would prove helpful at this crisis in our history, she could not refuse to come.

Mr. Robinson, who will have charge of the departments of elocution and the vocal music, was next introduced. He made a thoughtful address upon the necessity and nature of true "expression," and subsequently read a very difficult selection. His address evinced his enthusiasm for and his understanding of his department, and his reading evidenced his mastery of his art.

Dr. deBlois, who presided, gave each speaker an appropriate introduction, but first made an address containing words of greeting, gratitude and hope. In speaking of the past, he referred in fitting terms to the abiding work of Dr. Hopper, the late principal.

IN LITTLE FOLKS' EYES.

How strange it would be if the pixies came down And set up a shop in the midst of our town...

THE MISER OF MARSEILLES

Marseilles is a city of fountains, and has a fine aqueduct, almost entirely subterranean, by which pure water is brought from the little rivers Hyvonne and Juyot...

all sorts of extra services to earn more than his daily wages, and I almost fear our son will turn miser, since he spends nothing he can avoid.

enough to finish his self-imposed task. Stretched upon his wretched pallet, he emitted and talked to himself.

JUST A THOUGHT. Just a thought, but full of beauty, Full of thought and perfect love, Full of faith and full of longing...

Best Kind of Knowledge. It is self-knowledge. Many people know their neighbors better than they know themselves.

For Bronchitis. "I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis.

La Grippe. "Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage.

Lung Trouble. "For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so incessant at times as to cause hemorrhages, the pursons frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured.

Advertisement for Baltimore Church Bells, featuring text about the quality of the bells and contact information for the manufacturer.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

NEWS SUMMARY.

Domestic. — Woodstock is experimenting successfully with asphalt side-walks. — Diphtheria has again broken out in the St. Roch's and St. Saviour suburbs of Quebec. — A contract has just been let for a new warehouse at St. John, to accommodate the increasing West India trade. — The Carleton Sentinel says: The construction of the Tobique Valley railway is being pushed vigorously to completion. — Jas. Landon, M. A., professor of physics in Toronto University, has been appointed president of the university, succeeding the late Sir Daniel Wilson. — The exodus of French-Canadians from the Quebec district continues at an alarming rate. Within the last few days over twenty-five families in Lewis and its two adjoining parishes of St. David and St. Joseph, have sold out all they had and gone to look for employment on the other side of the line. — The commission which will limitate the Alaska, B. C. boundary will also perform the same in Passamaquoddy Bay. — W. F. King, chief astronomer of the interior department, has been appointed Canadian commissioner. He is a man of great ability. C. Mendar-hall, of Washington, is the United States commissioner. The preliminary meetings of the commission will be held at Ottawa. — Before the prohibition commission, W. B. Lamb, collector of inland revenue, said there were at least 2,000 shobenees and he was inclined to say 4,000, and perhaps more, in Montreal where liquor is sold without license. — Two thousand was certainly an under-estimate. The included such places as bean shops, candy shops, fruit shops, cigar stores, etc., of a lower grade, in many of which the articles sold, were used as a decoy. — A queer case was tried in the Halifax police court recently. Harry Lethbridge, tailor, sued John Larder for a suit of clothes. Lethbridge and his clerk swore that the clothes were ordered by and delivered to Larder. The latter swore that he never ordered and never received the clothes, and a man named Chulou turned up and swore that he purchased and received the suit. Application was made to commit Lethbridge for perjury, but it was not granted. — An Ottawa despatch of September 16th says: At the Carleton Assizes the McGreevy conspiracy case came up today. Mr. O'Neil, on behalf of the crown, said the books and papers of the defendants had not been produced and consequently the government could not proceed with the case, which had better be postponed until the next assizes. S. H. Blake, on behalf of the accused, made a statement, saying that until recently the books were in his possession but some of them had disappeared. Judge McMahon remarked that he could not compel the government to go on with the case. Mr. O'Neil, the crown prosecutor, said it was the decided intention of the government to carry the prosecution through, but it would not be in the interests of justice to go on without the necessary books. The case was then adjourned till the next assizes. Bonds were fixed at two sureties of $2,500 and $5,000 each personal bail. — British and Foreign. — Mr. Lowther, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, declares untrue the statement that England was scheming to secure the harbor of San Quentin, Lower California, as a coaling station, under the cloak of a Mexican international company. — A Lyons despatch says: The ultra-conservative organ, Salut Public, reports a military convention between France and Russia signed at a meeting between President Carnot and M. De Giers, the Russian foreign minister, and Aix Les Bains. He declares an offensive and defensive alliance had been decided upon months ago, but not yet signed, owing to a delay in the settlement of the question of France's attitude towards China in the event of the Anglo-Russian conflict in India. — United States. — On September 14, the New York Board of Health announced five deaths from Asiatic cholera, which had taken place within the previous week in different parts of the city. — The late elections in Vermont and Maine have been disappointing to the Republicans. Of course the Republican tickets have been returned, but the majorities are considerably smaller than those of previous years. — Oliver Wendell Holmes sent a wreath of eighty-five white roses to be placed on Whitlister's coffin, and Sarah Jane Jewett one of ivy leaves. The funeral took place on Saturday at Amesbury, and the quiet little town stopped all of its business and attended the service, which was held in the garden in rear of the house. Interment was in the Quaker ground in the Union cemetery, near Amesbury, and the grave was almost filled with flowers and ferns and palm branches contributed by friends and admirers. — Mrs. Peary, who accompanied her husband, Lieut. Peary, on his polar expedition and spent the winter in Greenland, writes, during one of her hunting trips we had a narrow escape from drowning by having our boat crushed by a here of angry walruses, many of them wounded by us, but who killed us and escaped without a scratch. The winter, although we had a hundred days of darkness, with temperature ranging from 30 to 50 degrees below zero, passed pleasantly. Every day we took long walks on snow shoes, and often I indulged in a sledge ride, drawn by one of my Newfoundlanders, named Esquimaud dog, and yet cannot boast of a single frost bite. — Minard's Liniment cures Burns, &c.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes CENTENIAL MEMORIAL FUND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS with names like W. M. Aid Society, E. R. L., etc.

The Demands Increase. — Dr. A. P. Cornell, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: 'The demand for Pink Pills continues to increase, and I have yet to hear of a single complaint regarding them.' Of all dealers or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brockville, Ont., and Apothecary, N. Y. Beware of imitations.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere. — MOORE-KINGSTON.—At Carleton, Sept. 7, by Rev. A. Judson Kempton, Ardin R. Moore, to Jennie M. Kingston, of St. Martins.

Marriages. — ORAM-RAMSEY.—At the residence of the bride's parents, on the 14th inst., by Rev. Sydney Welton, Geo. Oram to Alma F. Ramsey, both of this city. — HALPKENY-TAYLOR.—At Dorchester, Sept. 7, by Rev. S. W. Kierstead, Herbert A. Halpkenny, of Dorchester, to Adelaide Taylor, of Mill Village, N. S.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Deaths. — GIBSON.—At Carleton, St. John, Aug. 29, the infant son of Geo. Gibson. — BLACK.—At Middleton, Yarmouth Co., N. S., August 25, Robert, aged 23 years, son of James Black.

Advertisement for Cape Overcoat for $3.00. Features the text 'A Cape Overcoat for $3.00!' and 'SCOVIL, FRASER & CO., "OAK HALL," Cor. King & Germain St., St. John, N. B.'

Advertisement for THE ADVANCE THE NATIONAL CONGREGATIONAL PAPER. Includes text: 'THE ADVANCE will issue some very important numbers this fall, among which will be our VERMONT Report of the American Board Meeting at Chicago in October, and our elaborate Report of the papers and proceedings of the National Council at Minneapolis.'

Advertisement for The Great Church Light. Includes text: 'The Great Church Light. Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Schools, Show Windows, Public Offices, Parks, Galleries, etc.'

Advertisement for PATENTERS TAKE NO OTHER. Includes text: 'CANADA: A Monthly Journal for Canadians, Young & Old, at Home & Abroad. Price reduced to 50 cents a year. The cheapest, brightest and best monthly paper in the Dominion.'

Advertisement for The Insular S.S. Co. (LIMITED). Includes text: 'S. S. "WESTPORT" (Capt. J. D. PATON, Commander). LEAVES WESTPORT and returns to Westport every MONDAY and THURSDAY for WEYMOUTH, via FREEPORT and METEGHAN, and returns the same day, touching at the same ports. Sails from Westport every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY for YARMOUTH, via FREEPORT, calling at METEGHAN and CAPE ST. MARY when weather permits, and returning the same day, calling at same ports.'

Advertisement for THE CONQUORER HAS COME! Heart Trouble, Dyspepsia, DIZZINESS, AND Muscular Rheumatism CURED! Includes text: 'Rev. W. L. BROWN. THE CONQUORER HAS COME! Heart Trouble, Dyspepsia, DIZZINESS, AND Muscular Rheumatism CURED! I contracted the Chronic Diarrhoea in the Army, and since 1855 I have been a constant sufferer. In addition to this, I was troubled by following: 1st. Jaundice, 2nd. Dyspepsia, 3rd. Fatigues and an all-gone feeling, 4th. Distress at pit of stomach, 5th. Headache and Dizziness; 6th. Muscular Rheumatism in Chest so I had to lie in bed for weeks at a time; 7th. In bed for 2 weeks at a time; 8th. In bed for 2 weeks at a time; 9th. In bed for 2 weeks at a time; 10th. In bed for 2 weeks at a time.'

Advertisement for SKODA DISCOVERY GOLD. Includes text: 'SKODA DISCOVERY GOLD. THE ONLY MEDICINE SOLD WITH A GUARANTEE CONTRACT WITH EACH BOTTLE. TRY A COUPLE (2 BOTTLES) AT OUR RISK, IF NOT RESTORED RETURN BOTTLES AND GET YOUR MONEY. PAY ONLY FOR THE GOOD YOU RECEIVE. SKODA DISCOVERY GOLD, Wolfville, N.S. Atkinson, Me. THE ONLY MEDICINE SOLD WITH A GUARANTEE CONTRACT WITH EACH BOTTLE. TRY A COUPLE (2 BOTTLES) AT OUR RISK, IF NOT RESTORED RETURN BOTTLES AND GET YOUR MONEY. PAY ONLY FOR THE GOOD YOU RECEIVE. SKODA DISCOVERY GOLD, Wolfville, N.S. Atkinson, Me.'