THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1921

Every elector should make certain that he or she is on the list for voting on December 6th. The law, in brief, is that every person, male or female, of the age of 21 years, a British subject, and who has resided in the polling subdivision for two months previous to the day of polling, and who has resided in Canada one year, and not otherwise disqualified, will have a vote. The one sure way to be on the list is to get on, and be positive that you are on at the time of registration, which will take place shortly. Don't take it for granted. Be sure about it.

An old "exhibitor" writes: "I noticed an article in your paper from a correspondent regarding the lack of interest and consequently a dropping off of exhibits by producers and especially of farm products at the recent fall fairs. As a farmer, and until lately a regular exhibitor nearly all my life, I am submitting you my views on the question. One reason is the lack of interest on the part of the visiting public, in horses, cattle, sheep and swine, etc. (the backbone of our resources). We fit up, and at a great deal of hard labor to both man and beast, exhibits which get but a passing glance from a few, and the paltry pitance of a prize that would not pay for the feed they eat while at the fair, while some old ringer of a race horse gets the pile, and the attention of the public in this fast age. There is more than money value in a prize at any competition, but it should not be expected that producers will go to so much time, labor and expense while the other fellow reaps the benefit." As your correspondent says, a crowd at a show now means success and certainly to the business of the town as a great many dollars are gathered in from the outside. There is no one in this country likes clean sport better than I do, but when all attention goes to that at an agricultural show, I must leave my produce at home and let it make me something, and go to the midway."

As each successive anniversary of Armistice Day has passed, the sentiment has been expressed among the peoples of the Allied nations that there should be some tangible evidence of the reverence in their hearts for the heroic dead who made peace possible. The children of the devastated areas of France gave the nucleus of an idea which is rapidly gaining recognition, when they gathered the red poppies which grow in profusion in Flanders and Northern France, and decorated the graves of the fallen heroes, near their homes. The suggestion from childish hands was seized upon by the French Children's League, which has been endeavoring to formulate plans in order to provide for the thousands of orphan children in their country. They placed the women and children of the war area at work making silk replicas of the poppy, with the idea in mind that they could be sold and the proceeds devoted to this pressing need.

Glencoe branch of the G. W. V. A. will inaugurate the custom of wearing a silken poppy, and citizens will be asked to "wear-a poppy" as a memorial flower on Armistice Day and thus cherish in perpetuity the memory of the sacred deed.

The approaching Federal election is a challenge to every voter to think out the National problems for himself. The voter should not accept platforms and opinions and hurrah for any definite form of political procedure merely because this leader or that party puts them forward labelled as a panacea for all our National ailments. Every voter should think them out for himself and vote accordingly, keeping in mind that every class of people, not just his own particular class, have a right to expect fair treatment.—Port Colborne Citizen.

What Prosperous Farmers Means

If our farming community is prosperous there is money put in circulation. A crop failure can shut down more industries than any other cause, and by the same sign a bumper crop can make the factories hives of industry. There is no theory about this. "It is plain, well recognized fact." It is so plainly true that nobody will care to dispute it, least of all our manufacturers who closely study conditions. There ought to be a general understanding among all men in the country who possess any degree of wisdom that the prosperity of agriculture must be striven for as the basis of all other forms of prosperity. The notion, on the farms, is that there is not a general acceptance of this truth, but that there is a contrary idea, that the wealth of the farms can be annually hauled away on trains and no adequate returns made to the agricultural class who produced it.

The present-day tendency is to leave the farms and congregate in cities, and to stay in cities, and to keep away from farms. Many explanations of this tendency are given, but are they not all valueless but this one: that people believe that ability, skill and labor can reap larger and quicker rewards off the farm than on it? Make farming pay better and you will make farming more popular. Many politicians are willing to do anything else but that, but, is it not a solid fact that nothing else but that will produce the result?—London Advertiser.

NOWHERE TO GO

An editor in a Kansas county town laments the fact that there is no longer a place in the village where a farmer who drives in with a load of wheat or other farm produce can put up his horses. There are plenty of restaurants where the farmer himself can eat and rest, but there is not a livery stable left in town. The same thing has happened or is happening everywhere. Those hospitable establishments that once furnished "entertainment for man and beast" have been driven out of business by the garage.—Youth's Companion.

Over a quarter of a million well-known men and women from different parts of the country have signed written endorsements for Tanlac.—P. E. Lumley.

ABOUT THE FARM WELL

A Most Important Factor in Agricultural Work.

Purity of the Water a Great Essential—Location Also of Importance—Construction Described—People on Farms Live Longest.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The well is the usual source of the farm water supply, and a good well, that is, one which supplies plenty of pure fresh and wholesome water the year round, is certainly one of the most essential and valuable assets of the farm. Without it no man could live there for long to say nothing about bringing up a healthy family, or building up an efficient dairy herd. The well must be there first and last and all the time, and we cannot conceive of an intelligent man buying a farm without a good well if he intended to live on it and make it pay dividends.

A Good Water Supply is Common. Fortunately most of Ontario's farms are well supplied with water, in fact it is a rare thing to find a farm where it could not be secured in sufficient quantities by drilling to reasonable depths. The supply, therefore, will probably never cause us any serious worry, but judging by a recent report on analysis of many well waters from this province one seems justified in concluding that there is still need for education of the rural public in regard to the protection and care of the farm well. The following suggestions will be found helpful to any farmer desirous of making his water supply safe against possible underground and surface contamination.

Location of the Well Most Important.

The first step in the solution of this problem of pure water supply is the location of the well. This should be by all means on ground higher than any source of contamination such as barnyard cesspool, or outside privy. If there should be no choice in location and this cannot be done, then the well should be kept a considerable distance from such contaminations, at least 100 feet in clay, and 200 feet or more in sandy soils, and the top of the well should be specially protected as detailed later against the entrance of any seepage and surface washings.

How to Keep the Water Uncontaminated.

In the second place the eribbing for at least ten feet below the surface should be made impervious to water so that any contamination in solution reaching the well would have to pass down through this extra depth of soil before getting into the well, when in all probability it would be taken up by the soil and never reach the well water. This may be done in case of an old well by putting a wall of poured concrete around the eribbing and setting the joints thoroughly with rich cement. Before the tile are placed in the well the outside should be washed with pure cement plaster in order to fill up all pores and make the tile absolutely impervious to soil waters. Thirdly, the eribbing should be extended at least one foot above the ground level, and the soil banked up to the top of it, to provide good surface drainage away from the well. Fourthly, the well should be provided with a strong and tight-fitting cover made of heavy plank or concrete so that it will always be safe for man and beast, and proof against the entrance of dirt, small animals like frogs, etc.

Using a Second or Dry Well.

Even better still, the pump may be placed over a shallow dry well to one side and the top of the real well made absolutely tight by a concrete cover. In this case the well should be ventilated by putting a small iron pipe, with the exposed end turning downwards, through the top or cover. And, fifthly, the stock should not be allowed to tramp about close to the well.

What has been said refers chiefly to dug wells, but even the drilled or driven wells should be well drained and protected at the top, for otherwise contamination may work down along the well casing and reach the water, especially if the casing is not tightly driven into the rock below.

Attention to such matters of construction and protection of the farm well as here detailed, and an occasional pumping out and cleansing of the well with a little lime, will assure a pure and wholesome water supply.—R. R. Graham, O. A. College, Guelph.

People on Farms Live the Longest.

Life on the farm is the healthiest and safest, according to statistics compiled by the United States Bureau of Labor showing the average age at death in various occupations. The farmer and farm laborer live longer than other workers. This does not "seem longer," which, it will be remembered, is the joint in the old joke concerning the longevity of married folk contrasted with bachelors and spinsters—it is longer, and official research records prove it. Farmers live to the average age of 58.5 years, blacksmiths are given three years less of life, and masons and bricklayers die at an average age of 55. The list tapers down to bookkeepers and office assistants who are given an average life of no more than 36.5 years.

LIGHT-SIX NOW $1725

Why Studebaker can sell the LIGHT-SIX at the new low price

The LIGHT-SIX is built complete in the most modern automobile plant in the world, designed especially for the production of this car.

Studebaker manufactures in this plant its own drop forgings; its own castings, stampings, motors, axles, transmissions; its own steering gears, springs, bodies, and other vital parts. Under these favorable manufacturing conditions—because of its enormous production and standardized methods of manufacture, Studebaker is able to make important savings, these savings are reflected in the price of the car to you.

The LIGHT-SIX is a real step forward in automobile engineering. No other light, six-cylinder automobile yet produced has a motor so free from vibration, nor so flexible and powerful.

What you should know about the LIGHT-SIX

Power—40 H. P. in a detachable-head motor of great flexibility, remarkably free from vibration, and with the exclusive Studebaker inclined valve feature.

Economy—21 to 26 miles to the gallon—12,000 to 18,000 miles on tires.

Balance—You could cut the LIGHT-SIX in two parts or four parts and find that each section would weigh the same. Such perfect balance means steady road-holding—there is no side sway or creeping.

Comfort—Equal distribution of weight means easy riding and easy handling. The touch of one hand on the steering wheel is sufficient to keep it on the road.

See this car—drive it—test it. You will be won by it. You will understand why it is the Studebaker ideal of what a light, six-cylinder car should be.

James Mulligan and J. F. McGregor of Wardsville have returned from the West. While there they purchased a cartload of potatoes, which will arrive this week.

Rev. James Mackay of New St. James church, London, will give an address at the annual thanksgiving meeting of the Ross Mission Band on Tuesday evening, Nov. 8.

The Carl Kennedy five-piece orchestra of London have been engaged for the G.W.V.A. dance to be held in the town hall on Armistice Day. Admission by invitation only.

It is expected that the minister of education will be present and deliver an address at the annual commencement exercises of Glencoe high school, to be held the latter part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles George and daughter Clara attended to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleford, at Adelaide village last week.

It has been left to a weather prophet in the wild and woolly west to predict the mildest kind of a winter. Evidently this predicting business is open to all, and it is certain that somebody will hit it right.

Evidence of continued weakness in the sugar market is reflected in another drop of the mildest kind of a winter. The price of both Canadian and Cuban brands of granulated. Beet sugar now sells at $8.40 a bag, and the imported product at $8.65. Three weeks ago the latter brand was retailing at $9.25.

A united service of thanksgiving will be held on Monday, November 7th (Thanksgiving Day), at 10.45 a. m., in the Presbyterian church, Glencoe. The service will be interdenominational. There will be a massed choir of the three churches. The local clergy will officiate. All residents of the community are cordially invited.

Several motor car accidents have been reported in the last few days from which no serious consequences resulted. Dr. Freese was called to attend a man injured on the Longwoods Road near No. 20. Edward, Ekfrid, on Thursday, and Sunday evening, a touring car ran into the concrete railing of a culvert near Mayfair, breaking it completely off and badly damaging the car.

Miss Mabel Wright entertained her school friends at a Halloween party at her home on Monday. The guests were all masked on their arrival, which occasioned no end of merriment. A variety of games, spooky and otherwise, occupied the time, and the evening closed all too soon for the young folk. The luncheon served by Mrs. Wright was one of the leading features in the enjoyable evening.

The various regional commands of the Great War Veterans' Association throughout Canada are clamoring for more poppies to sell on "Poppy Day" November 11, than headquarters in Toronto can supply. The huge shipments of poppies received from the French orphanages have all been spoken for, and 50,000 more can be disposed of at once. The G.W.V.A. is now absolutely convinced that the sale of these poppies on Armistice Day will be a phenomenal success.

W. Ralph Lawrence of the Lawrence Lumber Company, Sarnia, was killed in a motor car accident at Delaware early Saturday morning. Mark Stover, also of Sarnia and manager of the Premier Products Company, is in a critical condition in the hospital at London from the same cause. A party of men occupying three cars were returning from a society function held in London on Friday night. On reaching Delaware the party turned to the north in the direction of Komoka, but on making enquiry were advised to cross the bridge on the Longwoods Road and take the Mount Brydges road. In coming back to the Longwoods Road the car in which Lawrence and Stover were was in the lead. Owing to a dense fog which prevailed at the time, the driver of this car was unable to get his bearings and ran past the turning point, through a wire fence and into a concrete lined excavation used as a cellar where a building once stood. The car dropped ten feet into this and turned completely over, pinning its occupants beneath it. Alexander Houston, tea merchant of Sarnia, the driver of the car, was hurt, but not seriously, and the other two men escaped with some bruises.

TOWN AND VICINITY The Grand Trunk purpose laying new 100-lb. rails west of London. Monday, Nov. 7th, will be Thanksgiving Day, and a public holiday. Anyway, prolonged autumn weather shortens up the winter nicely. Come to the fowl supper and concert on Thanksgiving night, in Knox church, Newbury. Halloween pranks are generally very silly, sometimes destructive, and always better left undone. When dame fortune shows a willingness to smile very few people wait for a formal introduction. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the Glencoe Methodist church on Sunday morning, next. November—the month when you should plant some good advertising if you would reap a good Christmas and winter trade. Mrs. A. E. Sutherland is in Victoria Hospital, London, and her condition after a surgical operation is very encouraging. Duncan C. Ross, late M. P., was the unanimous choice of the West Middlesex Liberal convention held at Stratford on Tuesday. John Tait and W. A. Hagerly have been appointed registrars to prepare the list of voters for Glencoe in the coming Federal election. You can't finish Thanksgiving day better than by coming to the fowl supper and concert afterwards, at Knox church, Newbury. The maples have been one glorious riot of color the past few weeks, although the brilliant reds caused by early frosts were missing. Mr. Cunningham was in Toronto last week and booked a number of the most striking and popular film shows for his Glencoe circuit. As Thanksgiving Day approaches, it will be better if the old idea of getting a gun and going out to kill something on that anniversary be abolished. In the weekly high court at London on Saturday in McKellar vs. Mayall and Helgate an order was made restraining the defendants for eight days from trespassing and operating certain oil wells in Moss township. The plaintiff claims that a lease held by the defendants is now operative.

Miss Leotta Gilbert has returned home after spending a few days with relatives in London. Mr. and Mrs. Maginn and son Clarence motored from Petrolia and spent Sunday at C. O. Smith's. Mrs. J. L.
