WAS IT SUICIDE OR FOUL PLAY?

Friends Unite In Allegation of Foul Play—Declare Death of J. Slavin Could Not Have Been Accidental.

(Copied from Halifax Herald)

Yarmouth, May 19th—The body of John Slavin (colored), the victim of those still mysterious happenings at Yarmouth, on the night of Nov. 12, 1923, was interred in Mountain Cemetery, Yarmouth. The funeral services were in charge of the Rev. W. J. Davidson, pastor of Disney Chapel. He was assisted by Brother Nathan Smith, local preacher in the colored congregation at Yarmouth. After the committal services at which was recited the simple but beautiful ritual of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, the large number present, nearly all of whom were intimate friends of Slavin's returned to the mortuary chapel, where the Rev. Mr. Davidson read the lessons and preached a short sermon from I Cor. 15, in which he dealt with the suddenness of the departure of the deceased and the need for continual preparedness. The music for the service was furnished by the choir from Disney Chapel. Nathan Smith sang a solo "Fade, Fade Each Earthly Joy." Favorite hymns were sung and the service was brought to a close by the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee." Miss Mary Slavin, the only sister of the victim, came today from Acaciaville to attend the funeral.

Whatever diversity of opinion there may be yet among the public as to the untimely end of John Slavin, there is none among those, his own colored friends, who today, at the simple obsequies, paid to him their final respects. They were a unit in asserting that John Slavin met his death through foul play. They say, with truth, that when last seen he was far from intoxicated and well able to look after himself. What then happened to put him into such a condition that he allowed himself to drown without any effort? For had he fallen off the wharf his cries would have been heard. None question the medical finding that he was still alive when in the water, but the opinion seems firmly established, not only among his friends, but by the public as a whole that he must have been unconscious when placed in the

Another Suggestion to Agents

Concerning the proposed conference for the purpose of laying a foundation for colored business enterprises, Mr. Seymour Brewster, of Sydney, N.S. makes the following suggestion:

"The Dawn of Tomorrow must be congratulated for such a noble thought. My suggestion is that the agents of The Dawn interview the business men of their respective communities and gather suggestions. Then judges, that may be appointed by this paper could judge same and give out their decision, which judgement would be final."

We are therefore requesting our agents to interview, not only their businessmen, but all thoughtful men and women of their community, requesting them either to give to agents written suggestions to forward them to the office of The Dawn. Arrangements are now being made with the railroads for reduced rates for those who may desire to attend the convention.

Southern Baptists Will Handle Own Problem

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Atlanta, Ga., May.—"We will handle the Negro Problem without any help from the outside," was the gist of a spirited address delivered by Dr. B. C. Henning in charge of the Negro work for his branch of Baptists in the South, before the recent Southern Baptist convention held in this city last week. Dr. Livingston, of Raleigh N.C., made the statement that the Roman Catholics were making overtures to the Negroes in every section in the South and were making many converts among them. His statement created quite a stir in the convention.

Presents Animals To French President

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Paris, France, May—Six lions, a big elephant, an African tiger and divers other animals of the African forests were among the gifts that Prince Tafari of the royal house of Ethiopia brought to President Millerand last week. The Prince who is creating no end of furvor here in Paris is rated a direct descendent of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba of Bible fame.

water. It would seem that from the time he was last seen he was assaulted violently or became intoxicated to greater extent, and how a man in anything but a normal condition could get from Cribb's barn to the waterfront, is still a bit of a mystery.

No Nordic Superiority Says Diplomat Howard

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Philadelphia, Pa., May—Sir Esme William Howard, Ambassador from England, addressing the joint banquet of the English-speaking Union and the Transatlantic Society in the Bellevue-Stafford last evening, told them that the unique position of the English-speaking peoples as arbitrators and leaders of the new world movement came more from the geographical position of detached independence than from racial superiority.

He likened Dame Europe to the old lady who bought a set of false teeth, which she put into her pocket and sat upon them, the bite she received therefrom causing a severe case of hydrophobia. Europe had been bitten by her own false teeth, he said that the Dawes Committee plan was the first injection of anti-toxin which would ultimately bring about a cure for evils besetting the Continent.

"This serum I venture to think, can best be found by the English speaking nations because, although they have by no means all the great qualities that are attributed to them exclusively by the upholders of the doctrine of the superiority of the Nordic race, they have, at any rate, a solid gift of common sense, a gift of humor, and last but not least, a knowledge of how to play the game by which I mean a certain sense of fair play."

FROM FARM TO BANK PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Louisville, Ky., May—The story of the American Mutual Savings Bank, with its authorized capital of $150,000 and resources of more than $475,000 reads like a novel. Likewise the life history of its President and founder, W. H. Wright, who first saw the light of day on a farm off in Alabama, struggled hard to acquire a good education finally coming out of Howard University Law School with high honors and an ambition whose limit was the broad expanse of the heavens.

Louisville was the scene of his first triumphs. He early attracted the attention of prominent people by his signal abilities as a practicing lawyer. Among these people was a wealthy ex-confederate General who turned over to him the management of his large property interests and also engaged him as a special attorney for a big bank and trust company whose interests he handled with great success.

With fourteen others Lawyer Wright organized the Mutual Thrift and Savings Bank Club which organization was later organized into the American Mutual Savings Bank. He was also the organizer of the Mammoth Life Insurance Company.

But the real milk in the cocoanut after all is the fact that the American Mutual Savings Bank is one of the substantial business institutions of the City of Louisville. Its president has the fullest confidence of the business men and capitalists of our city. He also enjoys the reputation of being able to raise more money for business purposes than any other coored man in the entire state of Kentucky. A bright business light of the race, this man W. H. Wright, a bachelor with few immediate relatives he has been actuated by the desire "to make a place for our boys and girls where they might have opportunity." May his tribe increase.

Editorial

SATURDAY, MAY 31ST, 1924.

THE AWAKENING.

In the issue of The Dawn of April 19th, we wrote editorially upon the need of co-operation among our people, whereby business enterprises could be established in order to give employment to our boys and girls and in order that we ourselves might become an integral part of the commercial and business world. We invited all persons who might be interested to write us, giving their views upon the proposed convention. Since the editorial appeared we have been surprised beyond measure at the genuine enthusiasm which our people have shown.

Each day letters are pouring into this office, commending The Dawn for taking the initiative in this movement, suggesting places and times for the convention, suggestions of methods of creating interest in the conventions. Some have even submitted concrete and well defined plans for operating certain businesses. Some of these letters we have published, others we intend to publish from time to time, as rapidly as our limited space will permit us to do so.

One of the most pleasing notes which has been sounded—a common note sounded in every letter—is the suggestion to proceed cautiously, to be sure that the organization, when it becomes a living thing, is placed in the hands of honest, competent and scrupulous men and women.

These letters show that our people are becoming interested in their own welfare and in their posterity. When a people are willing to come together and sacrifice and work and INVEST their meagre earnings for a common cause it may be rightly said of them that they have caught the true vision of the future, that they have begun to tread the rugged road which leads to higher civilization and to racial success.

What matters it if some of our group have begun co-operative businesses and have failed? Is that a reason why WE can not begin and can not SUCCEED? Only recently the Home Bank has failed with an enormous loss to its depositors and investors and still the people have not lost faith in banks; nor have they lost confidence in business firms, young or old. So too, with us. We should use our failures as stepping stones to success and as beacon lights warning us against the treacherous shoals and the danger points of the future.

It is said that the Colored people of the States today own 650,000 homes, conduct 60,000 businesses, operate 1,000,000 farms and that their accumulated wealth amounts to $1,500,000,000. They own 45,000 church buildings. They own and control schools, the property of which is worth $30,000,000, and on these schools they expended last year $28,000,000. These figures at first glance seem mythical and yet they are vouched for by the United States Bureau of Statistics. If our brothers and sisters in the South have accomplished thus in spite of race prejudice, disfranchisement, the peonage system, the "share-crop" system (a system of highway robbery), discrimination in every walk of life—what might we do, WE who are his majesty's subjects, who are not proscribed against; we who are surrounded and protected by the spirit of British fair play and love for justice—what might we not do if we only try?

Two things however are obvious. So long as we are willing to do the scavenger work and to be the burden bearers in this country, or in any country, there will be no serious objection on the part of other races. Again, if we ever rise beyond this level it will be through our own efforts, our own intelligence, our own industry and through CO-OPERATION. We can never hope to climb to success upon the shoulders of other peoples. If in this country there are not enough positions for all we can not hope that our children will be given positions if it means that the children of other races must be excluded. But there is an alternative and the alternative is that we make places for our own boys and girls.

What would do more to stimulate race pride among ourselves, what could do more to raise us in the respect of other races, what could do us more good materially or spiritually than seeing a chain of well conducted business places established and conducted throughout the Dominion by our own people?

We feel highly gratified at the results so far obtained through our efforts to work up the convention. We hope soon to be able to announce definitely the plans, the place, and the time of the convention. Keep your eyes on The Dawn.

SENTENCES ARE REDUCED

(By The Associated Negro Press)
Washington, D.C., May—According to a letter written to Walter White, assistant Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, all of the so-called Houston rioters, imprisoned in Leavenworth Penitentiary have received reduced sentences as a result of the recent investigation made by a board of army officers.

Life sentences were cut to thirty years, making these men eligible for home parole not later than 1928.

Others are eligible for parole between August of this year and 1928, it being possible for every prisoner by proper behavior to free himself in a period not to exceed 3 years and 7 months.

68th ANNUAL CONFERENCE B. M. E. CHURCH, JUNE 14th

The 68th Annual Conference Missionary Society and S. S. Convention of the B.M.E. Church will convene at Windsor, June 24th, at 8 p.m., commencing with a public service at the local church, McDougall St.

Rev. T. Dawson, Pastor, and his band of loyal workers are preparing to do their part in making the coming Annual Meeting a great success.

During the past ten years there has been a steady and gratifying increase in the income of the church for both local and connexional purposes. The salaries of all ministers have been increased and larger contributions made to the Benevolent Funds.

Only a few weeks from now until the closing of the Conference year and every possible effort ought to be made to increase this year's income for both local and connexional work. Don't forget any of the Conference Claims—also the Missionary Society and S. S. Convention. These splendid organizations should have our united support.

This is a time for Ministers, Officials, Members and Adherents to prove their gratitude for the past blessings and their faith in the future.

Every organization in the local churches should unite with their pastor in this final drive for the year.

Yours for Advance of the Redeemer's Kingdom,

S. R. DRAKE, General Superintendent.

SERVICE

CLEAN

The baking ready, the cooking finished. Then the meal and afterwards: the washing up, of course.

What a task it would be if the glassy, smooth surface of the enameled cooking utensils did not help to reduce labor.

There is satisfaction in washing enameled ware. The surface is like flint. Sediment and grease cannot lodge in crevices or seams because there are none.

Clean! Just like china, yet stronger than steel. Washed thoroughly with soap and water only.

Bright! and colorful. A pleasure to look at in daily use. Make the kitchen attractive—always retain their gloss and shining beauty.

Mrs. Freeman Berry held a birthday party and dance on Wednesday evening, May 21st. She received a number of very pretty presents.

WINDSOR NOTES

Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyd announce the marriage of their daughter, Edith to Mr. I. H. Edwards, B.A., which took place in October 1922.

The entertainment that was to have been given on May 13th by the Lyons Sisters, Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. E. and F. Kersey, will be given Tuesday June 3rd in Tanner A.M.E. Church.

Miss Hazel Watkins, of Windsor, is the guest of her uncle and cousin, Mrs. Helen Prior of London for a few days.

B.M.E. Church Notes.

The Mock Conference that was held last week was a great success ending up with Ladies Day Sunday, May 25.

The Spring Rally was a grand effort. Our object was a thousand dollars. We have now eight hundred dollars of this amount already in hand.

The last Quarterly Meeting of this year will be held on Sunday, June 22nd. Baptising will be held on June 22nd at 6 p.m. at Sandwich.

Mrs. Grace Dungy wishes to thank the many friends and relatives for their sympathy and beautiful decoration on the occasion of the sad death of her husband.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, Senior Bishop of the Mock Conference and a pillar of the B.M.E. Church, who has been ill this Spring brings in $43.70. What would be the strength of our Churches etc. if our young people could catch the spirit of the mothers and fathers of the Church. Mrs. Brooks has worked zealously for the church and deserves a deal of credit. Let us pray for the restoration of Mrs. Brooks' health.

Mrs. Mary Scott preached the Annual Sermon to the Ladies of the B. M.E. Church on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Scott's brother, Mr. Leroy Grant died on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jenny Johnson and Mrs. Sarah Harrison added much to the wonderful service held in the Church Sunday Morning.

Rev. Saul Lucas and Mr. Pete Lucas were visitors at the B.M.E. Church Sunday morning. All were glad to see them.

The Women's Chorus for Women's Day was a wonderful success.
