Piles for 15 Years.

Mr. Jas. Bowles, Councilor, Embro, Ont., writes: "For over 15 years I suffered the misery of bleeding, protruding piles. The many remedies I tried all failed. I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and must say that the first application gave relief, after the third day the bleeding stopped, and two boxes cured me completely."

The Boers Advancing

Their Artillery Moving Toward the Natal Frontier

And Are Said to Have Occupied Laing's Neck.

Inhabitants of Newcastle Will Not Defend the Town.

Seizure of Gold by the Boers Regarded as an Act of War—British Liberal Members Will Support the Government.

London, Oct. 5.—A special from Newcastle, Natal, says: The Boers have left the laager at Volksrust, and are moving towards the frontier. The situation is most critical. The magistrates and municipal officers have assembled in the town hall to concert measures for the defense of the town against an unexpected attack. All the women and children have been ordered to leave for the interior of Natal.

The British cruiser Philae has arrived in the harbor of Durban, Natal.

The Daily Telegraph publishes in its second edition this morning a dispatch from Newcastle, Natal, dated yesterday, announcing that Boer advance began yesterday, with a general movement of artillery.

The dispatch continues: "The Boers are occupying Laing's Neck, and now hold the mountains to the southwest of Volksrust. There are no British troops nearer than Ladysmith, and preparations are being made to abandon Natal from the frontier to Glencoe.

"The inhabitants of Newcastle met today and decided not to attempt to defend the town in the event of a Boer advance in force. Gen Symons is prepared to evacuate within 24 hours. The people are crowding the trains for Ladysmith.

London, Thursday, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Bloemfontein says: "The Free State Government publishes a statement from Bushof stating that the British forces have crossed the border, and that fighting has commenced. Another telegram says that troops have crossed the border, but that no fighting has yet occurred. The government discredits the report." Other telegrams represent that a Boer attack upon Natal is expected at any moment, but assert that Commandant Gen. Joubert has threatened to shoot any man who moves without orders.

The London morning papers are inclined to regard the seizure of gold by the Transvaal Government as an act of war.

No absolute confirmation is obtainable that a Boer ultimatum has been presented, but the news comes from good Boer sources.

Although today's news from South Africa is unmistakably grave, the advocates of peace still derive a glimpse of hope from some of the dispatches that the stage of negotiations is not yet finally terminated.

CONTRADICTORY.

The news is contradictory. Side by side with the announcement that the Boers have occupied Laing's Neck is printed a dispatch from Pretoria stating that the Transvaal Government has issued strict injunctions to the commandants that British territory must not be invaded, and that Commandant-General Joubert has issued a proclamation threatening to shoot any man who crosses the border.

PARLIAMENT TO MEET OCT. 17.

Parliament has been summoned to meet on Oct. 17. Relations with the Transvaal and the immediate requirements of the war department in case of hostilities will, no doubt, be the main subjects for consideration.

The Press Association learns that the dispatch drawn up by the cabinet on Thursday was still unsent last evening.

LIBERAL SUPPORT.

A meeting of Liberal members of the House of Commons, including several former members of Liberal cabinets, was held yesterday morning at the private residence of the leader of the Liberal opposition in the house, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. The subject under consideration was the government's South African policy, and the meeting resolved to support the government on the reassembling of parliament, even at the expense of placing the present official leaders of the Liberal party in conflict with their former colleagues, Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. John Morley.

SINEWS OF WAR.

The most interesting communication in connection with the Transvaal is that the first lord of the exchequer, Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, has already sanctioned the expenditure of £3,000,000, and that the government will not exceed that limit without authority from parliament, which will be asked to vote a sum not exceeding £8,000,000.

FORTY THOUSAND MEN FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

A meeting of the war board yesterday made some further arrangements to insure the safety of the route from Durban to Laing's Neck, so that large bodies of troops may rapidly be forwarded up the country to the front without confusion or crowding at the base.

It is stated that the war office has decided that the war force for service in South Africa will be far larger than at first estimated, and consists of over 40,000 men. The preparations for the dispatch of this force, including the chartering of the big ocean liners, is steadily and rapidly proceeding.

GEN. WHITE'S OPINION.

The confidence of the military authorities at the Cape is shown by a message received which states that at a conference held to consider the situation, Gen. White expressed himself as confident that the British would be able to send a force sufficient to repel any attack. Gen. White, who intended to go to Durban on board a warship in order to save time, has now abandoned the idea, and will go by train.

THE GOLD SEIZURE.

A special dispatch from Pretoria says that the Transvaal Government has captured gold to the value of $800,000, which is now lodged in the state mint. The government authorities will indemnify the banks to which the gold is consigned.

JOINT DEMAND.

Mr. Montague White, consul-general of the South African Republic in London, informed the Associated Press this afternoon that the Transvaal and the Orange Free State agreed some days ago to present a joint demand to Great Britain to withdraw her troops from the frontier; but he asserts that he advised against its presentation, and so far as he knows, the demand has never reached the British foreign office.

The British foreign office at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, assured the Associated Press that absolutely nothing was known there of any Transvaal demand for the withdrawal of the British troops from the frontier.

CAPE TOWN REPORTS.

Advices from Cape Town announce that Gen. Sir George Stewart White, V. C., who will command the British forces in Natal, proceeds to Durban at once. On his arrival at Cape Town he found the situation on the Natal border so grave that he wired for immediate transportation for himself and staff to Durban, and the British second-class cruiser Forte was placed at his disposal.

A special dispatch from Johannesburg says the Boer officials there continue to urge the British subjects who remain to leave.

Orders have been issued from Pretoria, closing all the saloons in the gold fields. The Transvaal Government has taken over the Ferreir's mines, and all the mines in the gold fields. A group of five of the Eckstein mines have been closed.

Additional transports, with troops from India, arrived yesterday at Durban, Natal, and will proceed to the front immediately.

A dispatch from Volksrust says the Boer camp on the Natal border now comprises 8,000 men, and is growing daily. The camp breathes with outrageous fervor. One of the largest corps is encamped on the veldt, without covering, in a heavy thunderstorm. Commandant Joubert is momentarily expected to assume command of the Boer forces.

BOERS MAY YIELD.

Late advices from Cape Town last evening indicated a widespread impression there that unless the Boers began hostilities on Thursday, they would not fight.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Newcastle telegraphs a similar message as that sent to the Daily Chronicle. He is sure half the Boers will offer no serious resistance to the British troops. The Free State has made no preparations, and it is doubtful if it can put a thousand men in the field at present. Thousands of the uitlanders are unable to leave the Transvaal, and their terror is so great that many of them have joined the Boer levies as the best means of escaping. Johannesburg can offer no serious resistance if attacked, and Pretoria, despite its five forts, is hopelessly weak. The whole Boer population has been called to arms, and the result is a strangely garbed mob of unreliable numbers. Thousands of the burghers are so attired that it is difficult to distinguish them from British troops. Last Friday the British Government arrived at the conclusion that the real danger of a Boer attack lies on the Natal side, and thousands of men who have been landed on the Rhodesia and Delagoa Bay have been recalled and dispatched toward Sanderton and Sand River. I understand that Gen. Joubert has 15,000 men between Sanderton and Sand River, and he is likely to invade Natal with that strength. Certainly bloody and fierce struggles are impending, as soon as the Boers have recovered from the fatigue of traveling. There is no doubt that the women and children will be well treated, as will also be the unmarked citizen.

MESSAGE FROM PRETORIA.

Mr. Gavin Clark, Liberal member of parliament for Caithness-shire, who telegraphed to Pretoria portions of the speech delivered last Saturday at Manchester by the lord president of the council, the Duke of Devonshire, which, Mr. Clark said, afforded an opening for a pacific settlement, has received the following reply from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 3: "The government of the South African Republic are gratified to learn that powerful influences are at work to secure a peaceful settlement. Considering, however, the manner in which their five-year franchise proposals were rejected, after the government had every reason to believe that these would be accepted; considering also the abandonment of the joint commission by Great Britain, as well as the declaration that the British Government regard all former proposals as abandoned and are formulating fresh proposals, the government of the South African republic do not feel at liberty themselves to reformulate the rejected proposals. If the desire for peace be earnest and sincere, an opening is afforded by the Transvaal's acceptance of the joint commission—a proposition emanating from the British Government, which, if carried out, would undoubtedly bring a satisfactory and honorable settlement."

IN LABOR'S REALM

Record-Breaking Type-Setting—What C. P. R. Machinists Want.

Baltimore, Oct. 5.—William S. Stubbs, compositor on the Baltimore Sun, broke the world's record for machine type-setting at Philadelphia, in a contest for $450 a side, with William Duffy, of the Philadelphia Inquirer. Stubbs set 66,617 ems in 5 hours and 35 minutes, an average of 11,940 ems an hour. The previous record was 10,800 ems an hour.

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—The machinists employed in the C. P. R. shops from Fort William to Vancouver, including Winnipeg, struck yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. About 200 men are out. The strike is the result of a movement by which the machinists wish to have their order—the International Association of Machinists of America—recognized by the railway company. Delegates met here for several days, and could come to no agreement with the company, and the strike was ordered. W. McLean, of Vancouver, vice-president of the union, stated the case for the men as: "What we want may be summed up under three heads: (1) Recognition of our union. (2) establishment of a minimum wage clause, and (3) increase of the allowance made for overtime.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The local district assembly of the International Longshoresmen's Association has voted to withdraw from the United Trades and Labor Council. The dock workers number about 7,000.

The Health of the Hair is indicated by its condition. When the natural secretions decrease; when the hair becomes dry, splits at the ends and comes out in combing; when the gloss disappears and the hair becomes gray or faded, the ill-health of the hair is indicated. The success of Oriental Rum and Quinine Hair Tonic is due to the fact that it restores the hair-producing organs to their natural vigor.

It also encourages and promotes the secretions of the hair follicles, and thus gray or faded hair regains its original color, new growth begins, and freshness and beauty is restored. 50c bottle.

THE SHAMROCK AND COLUMBIA

Start Their Second Race for the America's Cup

With a Light Breeze That Promises to Increase.

In Jockeying for Positions—Shamrock Secured a Slight Advantage—The Britisher Leading.

New York, Oct. 5.—When yachting New York arose this morning the first glances out of the windows caused a feeling of disappointment. Hardly a breath of air was stirring and a blanket of mist hovered over the roofs. But as the sun peered up on the horizon and gave color to the tall buildings, the mists began to flit, the sky showed up clear and of a glorious blue, while the wind, at first but a faint flutter from the south began to veer to the westward and freshen with the mounting sun. The mist had been almost melted away by 7 o'clock. The sailing craft hoisted sails and started for the Hook, and the early birds of the steam craft began the journey to the scene of the combat between the Shamrock and the Columbia for the coveted cup. The first report from the Highlands of Navesink, at 7:35 a.m. said the wind was about west, blowing eight knots and showing signs of increasing.

The Earl of Minto, governor-general of Canada, and Lady Minto, who are guests of Sir Roderick Cameron, drove down to the quarantine wharf at 8 o'clock, where they boarded the steamboat Governor Flower, which proceeded down the bay to intercept Commodore Morgan's steam yacht The Corsair. Lord Minto's party will be the guests of Commodore Morgan during today's yacht race. Only a few tugs and one or two steam yachts accompanied the racers to the starting point. The old cu defender Vigilant ran out ahead of the two newer boats with her working topsail set to enable the skippers on both boats to judge as to the direction and velocity of the wind.

BULLETINS.

Highlands of Navesink, Oct. 5.—11 a.m.—The boats have started, with the Shamrock in the lead about half a hundred yards, but they sail so slowly that she is probably 20 or 30 seconds ahead of the Columbia. Both boats are carrying spinnakers, balloon jibs, mainsails and club topsails.

11:14 a.m.—The Shamrock appears to be drawing away from Columbia, but the haze renders observation extremely difficult.

11:17 a.m.—The Shamrock still leads and still seems to be pulling out a bit on her rival. From this point she looks to be 100 yards ahead. The excursion fleet is keeping well astern, which is very fortunate, as the wind is so light that any crowding would affect the racers materially.

Western Union cableboat, 11:20 a.m.—The Shamrock crossed the line at 11:01:01. Columbia crossed at 11:01:03½.

The start was beautiful. The Shamrock, at the preparatory signal, made ready her spinnaker, and as the gun fired broke it out. She had been timed so well that in a second after the

THE HUB OF MIDDLESEX

Was the Annual Fair at Dorchester Yesterday.

Attendance Was Over 2,000, Breaking All Records—Splendid Exhibits and Good Races.

Dorchester village was the hub of Middlesex yesterday. The North Dorchester Agricultural Society's fair was on there. It was the society's 44th annual fair, and in quality, quantity, fun, interest and attendance it surpassed even its own splendid predecessors. "Donnybrook," as it is affectionately called, always draws large crowds from all parts of Middlesex and the adojining counties. The attendance yesterday was estimated by the directors at from 8,000 to 10,000, a considerable increase over last year's figures, which had held the record. About 200 Londoners were present yesterday.

There are some fairs to which one may go and select certain points of excellence, but with "Donnybrook" it is not particularly the agricultural exhibition nor the exhibits in the main building, nor the side shows, nor is it the speeding contests that inspire you with the desire to go again, but it is the intermixture of all the warp and woof of the sights and the crowd and the hilarity that make it the magnet that draws people from all parts of the countryside.

There were no bare spaces along the walks of the main building at Dorchester yesterday. Every inch of space was utilized to hold some ladies' work, some dairy product, or the thousand and one articles that make the sum total of a successful agricultural fair.

SPEEDING IN THE RING.

The horse racing on the track lately built by the association was, to many, the most interesting event of the day. The races were speedy considering the purses offered, and owing to the energy of the judge, Ald. Robt. Carrothers and Starter Ald. Dreaney, there were none of the tedious delays so often experienced in the starts. Summary of the events:

Gate—President, vice-president and G. Wade. Overseer of grounds—G. Wade.

The prize list is unavoidably crowded out of this issue.

THE KICKER.

Kicking in the morning,
Kicking all the day,
Kicking if he's busy,
Kicking at delay.
Thus the chronic kicker
Fills his life with woes,
Frowning, grumbling, wrangling,
Everywhere he goes.

Kicking in the morning,
Kicking all the day,
Kicking in the evening,
Kicking should he pray.
Kicking when he's thinking
Kicking when in bed,
Wonder if he'll keep on
Kicking when he's dead.

INITIATION OF THE FRESHMEN

Hazing at the London Medical School—A Keen, but Brief Struggle.

The freshmen class at the London Medical School were duly initiated this morning with all the pomp and ceremony characteristic of such events. The first part of the proceedings, the subjection of the freshmen by the second year men, or sophomores, was never more interesting. The opposing forces each had eighteen or twenty men, with the advantage numerically in favor of the freshmen. But the advantage of numbers was overcome by good generalship. The fray began about 9 a.m., when the sophomores rushed into the lecture room, where the freshmen were. The latter struggled hard, but in seven minutes every man of them had been introduced to the black hole in the dissecting-room, where the subjects are kept. A grewsome and weird ceremony, the administration of the oath, followed. Mr. P. H. Tom was administrator. The departed brother, numerous giant firecrackers, two thundering clappers and a basket of fresh eggs figured in the ceremony. The best of feeling prevailed after the combat. An impromptu concert in the lecture-room, with Dr. N. P. Alexander as chairman, followed. Mr. C. H. Abbott, a sophomore, photographed the conquered and conquerors. A supper is announced for this evening.

AMUSEMENTS

A HUMOROUS COMEDY.

One of the most pronounced features of this season's dramatic and musical visitations will be the initial presentation, at the Grand Opera House, on Tuesday evening next, of the deliciously melodic and brilliantly humorous operatic comedy, "A Runaway Girl," which scored such an unprecedented success at Daly's and Fifth Avenue Theaters, New York city, where it attracted immense throngs of theater-goers for several months. The dainty musical comedy will be presented here by the Augustin Daly Musical Company, precisely as in New York, as all of its magnificent stage appointments, including a series of gorgeous scenic-pictures, brilliant costumes and dresses, superb draperies, and other expensive necessaries will be employed. The local management state that a superb cast and grand chorus of 60 will be in evidence. The engagement in this city is positively limited to one night only. The sale of seats opens on Saturday morning.

WILLIAM H. WEST'S IDEA OF MODERN MINSTRELSY.

At the time of the formation of William H. West's Big Minstrel Jubilee, which is to be seen here at the Grand Saturday night, there was considerable talk of how different it was to be from all that had gone before. The public, not unnaturally, perhaps, inquired somewhat doubtingly how, after all, one minstrel show could differ from another. Mr. West has positive opinions on this subject. His idea of modern minstrelsy is that it must, in a musical way, have all the value of opera; that it must exceed in novelty anything known in vaudeville; that it must retain only a tinge of the picturesqueness of the plantation; that it must please the ear by vocal and orchestral excellence; must surprise and delight the eye by the beauty of its costumes and stage settings; and must astonish the mind by the absolute novelty of its special features and the spectacular character of its finale. The brightest, latest jests, a touching ballad, a screamingly funny song, a refrain of the old-time darky, a daring feat of a stage athlete, the lightning marvelousness of a clever juggler, a monologue of quaintest humor, the twinkling of dancing feet; grace, skill, melody, fun—all these following on one another's heels with electric swiftness, and with color, light, beauty, brilliancy everywhere—that's modern minstrelsy according to "Billy" West's ideas. That, too, is what he promises for his "Big Minstrel Jubilee."

The Jones Southern Quadroons Company gave matinee and afternoon performance at the Grand Opera House last evening. Songs, musical, acrobatic and dancing specialties, including a cakewalk made a somewhat lengthy programme.

Obituary.

GEORGE SCOTT, SEN.

The death occurred this morning of George Scott, at the family residence, 608 King street. Deceased was 58 years of age, and had been ailing for several months with cancer of the liver. Deceased at one time traveled for W. S. B. Barkwell, druggist, city, and was well known throughout Western Ontario. Mrs. Scott and two married sons, George and Frederick, survive. The funeral will take place tomorrow to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

MR. DANIEL O'SHEA.

Mr. Daniel O'Shea, the well-known dog fancier, passed away at his late residence at the corner of Talbot and Regent streets this morning, from general debility. Deceased was 58 years of age. Some time ago he was committed to the asylum, being judged insane, but two weeks ago was removed home, the doctors knowing that his life was fast drawing to a close. His widow survives. The funeral will take place Saturday morning from St. Peter's Cathedral.

THE ORIGIN OF RUBBERNECK.

[New York Sun.]

To the Editor of the Sun.—Sir: I first heard the term "rubbernecks" in Arizona, about four years ago, applied, as it seemed very appropriately, to the throngs of onlookers in the gambling houses, who strive to get a better view of the games in progress by stretching or bending their necks, as well as shifting their position.

ESTIMATE OF BRITAIN'S BILL

Cost of Campaign in Transvaal to Insure Victory.

High Estimate of the South African Forces.

ESTIMATE OF BRITAIN'S BILL.

London, Oct. 5.—In the event of war between Great Britain and the Boers the cost to England will be decidedly heavy. It is thought that England will adopt the method successfully used in the late Egyptian campaign and send an overwhelming force to the Transvaal, says the London Leader. Taking a force of 60,000 men as about the number of troops to be sent, the cost is estimated on the basis of other wars.

In the Abyssinian war of 1866 England had a fighting force of 12,000 men. The actual number of troops landed in the country was 14,300 Europeans and "natives," together with the enormous number of 27,000 followers of all kinds. This war, fought by 12,000 men, cost Great Britain £8,609,000 ($43,000,000). War nowadays would be at least 50 per cent more expensive, and at this rate a Boer war engaging 60,000 men would cost £65,000,000 ($325,000,000).

The Egyptian campaign of 1883 cost Great Britain a total of £13,600,000 ($68,000,000). Increase this by 50 per cent, and multiply it by three, and you have the probable cost of a Boer war fought by 60,000 men. It works out a little more than £61,000,000 ($305,000,000), and thus confirms the approximate correctness of the previous estimate.

The gross cost of the Afghan war was £24,500,000 ($122,500,000), but the military operations alone (exclusive of railway construction) cost less than £20,000,000 ($100,000,000). Calculating from this campaign as in the other cases, the result shows a total cost for the Transvaal war of £71,000,000 ($355,000,000).

Then there would be the value of the men killed. An average workingman 25 years old is worth about £300 ($1,500) to the community. England should probably lose 2,000 men; value £600,000 ($3,000,000), in a Boer war. Many more would come home disabled. Children would be left fatherless and wives husbandless. And the total cost by loss of life would not fall short of £1,000,000 ($5,000,000).

Then there would be considerable dislocation of industry. The men sent out to Africa would have to be replaced at home. And a draft of 50,000 from the various industries would be a serious matter.

The shipping trade, too, would suffer.

The total cost to England would figure up to £75,000,000 ($375,000,000), about £9 10s (about $47) per family of five.

STRENGTH OF THE BOERS.

Most of the English estimates concur in placing the combined forces of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State at about 50,000 men, exclusive of the contingents that may be obtained from Natal and the Cape Colony. The Morning Post's Johannesburg correspondent says that the Boer official estimates is greatly in excess of this number, namely, 125,000 from the Transvaal and Orange Free State, 8,000 from Natal and 30,000 from the Cape Colony.

The correspondent adds that the plan of campaign formulated at Pretoria proposes the sending of 2,000 men into Rhodesia to overcome the slender force there, after which the territory will be handed over to the natives. Ten thousand men will rush the Natal border, capture the forts and prevent the landing of British reinforcements. The Boers rely on having sufficient supplies for a year. They expect that Russia will meanwhile intervene indirectly by creating a diversion somewhere in the British dominions.

CHEAP WATER IN GLASGOW.

In Glasgow a £15 householder obtains for 7½d per annum a continuous, never failing unrestricted stream of the purest water in the world delivered right into his kitchen, washhouse and bath room. It is calculated that 330 gallons of pure water are delivered to the citizens of Glasgow for every penny paid. And it is water of such peculiar softness that the householders of Glasgow can pay their water rate out of what they save on soap.

Loch Katrine water is not only soft—It is remarkably bright, clear and free from vegetable matter, because of the bare and precipitous character of the hills which drain into the loch. It is uniform in color, temperature and quality, is absolutely free from pollution, and must remain so, because the corporation have now bought up the building rights of the whole drainage area. It needs no filtration, and is practically unaffected by the change of seasons.—Benjamin Taylor, in the Engineering Magazine for September.

Paton, missionary, illustrated by lime-light views, in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening, Oct. 12, lecture to begin at 7:30.

DELAWARE.

Delaware, Oct. 5.—The Delaware Agricultural Society's fall fair will be held here on Wednesday, Oct. 11, and judging it by previous years, and the liberal prize list offered this year, it promises to be a great success. Delaware fair has long been regarded as the banner township fair of the county of Middlesex, and clearly demonstrates the fact that township fairs are not on the decline. Mr. W. Bodkin, our able secretary, has issued an attractive prize list, containing many liberal awards, embracing every branch of rural industry.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church are preparing to serve hot dinners and suppers to all who wish to patronize them on fair day. This enterprise of the ladies has tended greatly to encourage visitors from a distance to come early and enjoy the full day at the fair. No fakirs will be allowed on the grounds, like they were at the London fair.

Mr. L. Mahler's fruit evaporating establishment continues to do a rushing business, having been running since Sept. 1 last, and is expected to run for two months yet, with a capacity of 300 bushels of apples daily. Notwithstanding the poor prospects of the apple crop this year, Mr. Mahler has been able to procure a constant supply, for which he is paying liberal prices. He has recently erected a large kiln in which to dry the parings, which are now being used largely in the manufacture of jams and jellies.

Mr. J. Ackland has recently placed a 32-horse power engine in his grist mill, owing to the failure of the water supply, which formerly ran his mill.

The enterprising firm of Butcher Bros. has recently purchased a New Hamburg separator, which proves to be a marvel of perfection in the threshing business.

Miss F. Steel has returned to her position as nurse in the Hamilton general hospital after a two weeks' vacation at her home here.

Mr. G. Glennie, brother of Mr. J. D. Glennie, is expected to arrive here from Cuba this week.

GOLF.

CANADA VS. UNITED STATES.

At Morris county, N. J., on Saturday, the second international golf match between teams representing the United States and Canada will be played. Last year in Toronto the United States representatives won by 20 holes, with a team considered weak. The Canadian team will not be as strong as it might be, as several players selected could not go on the trip. The following team will represent Canada: A. W. Smith, Toronto; G. S. Lyon, Rosedale; V. C. Brown, Toronto; J. S. Gillespie, Quebec; F. Taylor, Montreal; J. R. McPherson, Montreal; Stuart Gordon, London; A. Z. Palmer, Ottawa; K. G. Law, Toronto. George S. Lyon will captain the team.

WESTERN ONTARIO

Elijah Mann, formerly of Middlemarch, died very suddenly on Sunday evening at Copenhagen.

Mr. Elijah Mann, an old and highly respected resident of Copenhagen, died Sunday evening. He had been ailing a few days.

The Walkerville Novelty Company has been incorporated with $10,000 capital, to manufacture buttons and other small wares.

Death came suddenly on Friday morning to John McQueen, one of the best known residents of Egremont. Deceased was a native of Isla, Scotland, and was 67 years and 6 months old.

The plant of the Loomis Salt Company, of Akron, Ohio, has been sold to E. G. Henderson, manager of the Windsor Salt Company, for $100,000. It is said that the purchase was made for the salt trust, and that the plant will be closed.

Mrs. G. M. Anderson, of London, Ont., spent Tuesday with her father, Wm. Stone, of Woodstock. Mrs. Anderson has been on a visit to London, England, and was on her way home. Her voyage on the Vancouver was a very rough one.

The death is announced of an old and very highly-esteemed resident of Shedden, in the person of Richard N. Stafford. In earlier years Mr. Stafford taught school in Yarmouth and Fingal. He was born on the old homestead some 61 years ago, and resided there pretty much ever since.

Rev. Henry F. Mellish, rector of All Saints', Caledonia, and formerly a clergyman of the diocese of Huron, in which he filled the office of incumbent in the parishes of Haysville, in Waterloo, and Mount Pleasant, in Brant, respectively, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Allan M. Dymond, Toronto, on Sunday.

The following graduated nurses of the Stratford Hospital have been awarded diplomas and medals: Miss Florence Van Camp, of Mansfield, O.; Miss Mariam Wanless, of Walkerton; Miss Mary Burnette, of Listowel; Miss Annie Ross, of Guelph; Miss Maude Spence, of Brantford; Miss Campbell, of Guelph, and Miss Jessie Moffat, of Mitchell.

William Pott is legally dead. The courts have decided that having disappeared from Woodstock over seven years ago, and not having since been heard of, he is dead in a legal sense, and the Canadian Order of Foresters, of which he was a member, must pay over the $1,000 his policy calls for, and on which his wife has paid the assessment ever since he has left Woodstock, in February, 1891.

Mr. Michael Moylan died at his son's residence, 66 Alma street, St. Thomas, Tuesday. He resided in the city for about nine years, coming from Petrolia. He was born in Ireland and coming to this country settled in Biddulph and engaged in farming. His wife died about a year ago. He leaves three sons—Edward, Michael and James, of St. Thomas, and two daughters, Mrs. Quinn, Cassville, Mich., and Mrs. Breen, London township.

On Thursday there died at his residence in Tilbury, an old settler in the person of Mr. Richard Carless. Deceased, who was in his 85th year, was born in Cambridgeshire, England, and emigrated to this country with his family in 1856. They settled first in Southwold, near Frome, but in 1867 removed to a bush farm, four miles from the present village of Tilbury. Fifteen years ago he retired from farming and took up his present residence in Tilbury.

Mr. Warren L. Loope died Monday night at his residence, No. 66 Catherine street, St. Thomas, after a seven weeks' illness with cancer. Deceased was 66 years of age and had lived in St. Thomas twenty years. Mr. Loope was a well-known carpenter, having been employed many years in the M. C. R. carpenter department. He was a member of the Baptist Church and was insured in the P. P. I. for $2,000. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

John E. Brooke, a retired merchant of Chatham, was thrown from his rig Monday and severely injured about the head. He was carried home suffering from concussion of the brain. But slight hopes are entertained of his recovery. This is the second accident of a similar nature Mr. Brooks has met with in the past three months. Mr. Brooke was born in Toronto, and holds some valuable property on Yonge street. He also has some splendid farms near Penetanguishene. He is estimated to be worth about $30,000.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights there were heavy frosts for this time of the year in the vicinity of Chatham. To estimate the loss or damage to the fruit crops thereabouts would be a difficult matter, but so far as learned it is thought that what little fruit was still out has been nipped. The grape crop is suffering the most severely. The fruits have about all been gathered, excepting the very latest kinds, such as grapes and late apples. The former will suffer and the latter will be unharmed. Tomatoes suffer much, while the root crop will be safe.

ASSESSMENT OF MACHINERY

Interesting Effect of a Motion in Council Which Did Not Pass—Comment on the Assessment Figures.

The innovation in the assessment system this year of classifying machinery and real property separately has occasioned much comment. The figures, which have previously been published in The Advertiser, are eloquent. The total assessment for machinery in the city is only $304,800; that in ward 5, for instance, it is only $30,500, or less than half the supposed value of the plant in a single establishment in that part of the city. The machinery assessment by wards for 1900 is: Ward 1, $145,700; ward 2, $63,900; West London, $2,600; ward 3, $61,700; ward 4, $10,600; ward 5, $30,500; ward 6, $400. This innovation was an interesting one for the owners of machinery. When the assessors started on their rounds, a notice of motion was before the council having in view the abolition of the assessment on machinery. Some owners, it is said, feeling convinced that the motion would pass, did not calculate with their usual care the value of their machinery—for assessment purposes—and were consequently disappointed when the motion, which had been made by Ald. Carrothers, did not pass.

In the resume of the assessment figures for the various wards of the city, published in The Advertiser a few days ago, the total assessment at first sight seems to have decreased the sum of $297,587 28 since last year, but after deducting assessments over which the department had no control, the natural gain has been $202,678 on real estate, $206,449 on income and $15,920 on personal, or a total gain of $425,047. The uncontrollable reductions were as follows:

Local assessment on loan companies struck off by mutual consent	$372,200
Personal assessment on loan companies struck off by court of revision	46,118
Reduction on loan companies' personal, on account of revenue bill	225,500
Personal on street cars, struck off by board of judges	50,000
Difference in assessment on street railway, as allowed by board of judges	28,817
Total	$722,635

By deducting this sum of $722,635 from the total last year, $17,941,749, the net assessment of $17,219,114 is given, which shows that the present assessment, $17,644,161, is greater than that of last year by $425,047.

The population has increased from 38,575 to 38,902, a total of 327. Decreases of 100 and 149 are shown in Nos. 1 and 2 wards, respectively. West London shows an increase of 89, and in the other wards the increases are: No. 3, 126; No. 4, 161; No. 5, 108, and No. 6, 92.

Mounted Rifles in Canada.

There is no good reason why General Hutton should not succeed in his project of forming a mounted rifle battalion in Manitoba and another in the Northwest Territories. There are hundreds of young men in both divisions of the Dominion who, by training and inclination, would make the very best of mounted soldiers, and could do good service for Canada and for the Empire should occasion unfortunately arise. These young men, on every farm and on every ranch, are from their earliest years accustomed to ride horses. The presence of so much game and the frequent necessity of augmenting the domestic stores by the product of the hunt, has also made them expert shots, while the fact that they spend a large portion of their lives in the open air, has given them a rugged physique that would, if need be, enable them to stand the fatigue of a campaign better than the average military corps.

There is the patriotic side to this question, which should make the men of the West anxious to stand by their brethren in the East in the future defense of the country as the young men of the East stood by them at a critical time in their history. But there is a selfish consideration which ought to secure for the scheme the hearty indorsation not only of the young men, but of all classes of the community. The head of the Canadian army has expressed himself as hopeful that, as a result of the formation of these corps, all the horses for the mounted branches of the permanent force will be drawn from Manitoba and the Northwest, and, further, that a large proportion of the horses for the Imperial service may subsequently be drawn from the same districts. The advertisement which will be given to the Canadian West, through the establishment of these mounted rifles and through the proof they will afford of the thorough adaptability of the Canadian horse for the service of the Imperial army, may indeed be far-reaching in its effects, and add to the market for this product of the great prairies. Hitherto a very large number of the horses which have been drafted into the British army have been procured from the continent, and army officers have had a prejudice in their favor. But if General Hutton succeeds in establishing this new branch of the Canadian volunteer service, he will be able to so thoroughly test the qualities of the Canadian horses as to show that, like our cattle, cheese, butter, wheat and apples, we cannot be beaten in a fair competition with the world.

That the young men of Manitoba and the West will readily respond to this patriotic call we can scarcely doubt. We learn that in the Northwest the young men everywhere look upon the scheme with favor, and express themselves ready to lend a hand.

The Help That Harms.

Bishop Potter, of New York, writes impressively on "The Help That Harms," in the October number of the Science Monthly. The Bishop makes out a strong case against indiscriminate alms-giving, basing his protest, not so much on its wanton waste as on the degrading effect which even well-regulated charity has on the character and self respect of a growing class of society. The spread of institutional beneficence, he asserts, has been attended by grave dangers and possibilities of mischief, through habituating people to the idea of dependence upon charitable agencies. The old pride of spirit, to which the acceptance of a dole was like the acceptance of a blow, is dying out. The existence of an institution, whether hospital, almshouse, or orphanage, to the care of which one may easily dismiss a sick member of the household, or to which one may turn for gratuitous care and treatment, must inevitably act as strong temptations to those who are willing to evade personal obligations that honestly belong to them. The bishop relates that in connection with an institution for the treatment of the eye and ear, with which he was officially connected, it was found, not long ago, that a number of patients sought gratuitous treatment, who came to the hospital in their own carriages, which they prudently left around the corner. Such incidents are symptomatic of a tendency which must inevitably degrade those who yield to it, and which is at once vicious and deteriorating. The bishop, while deploring these effects of organized charity, points out that for a sincere and self-sacrificing purpose to help our less fortunate fellow-men, there were never so many inspiring and encouraging opportunities. He says:

"With the undeniably increasing complexity of our modern life there have arisen those attractive instrumentalities for a genuine beneficence which find their most impressive illustrations in the improvements of the homes of the poor in college settlements, in young men's and young girls' clubs in connection with our mission churches, in the kindergartens and in the cooking schools founded by these and other beneficent agencies, in juvenile societies for teaching handicrafts and encouraging savings, and, best of all, in that resolute purpose to know how the other half live, of which the noble service of Edward Denison in England; of college graduates in England and in America, who have made the college and university settlements their post-graduate courses; of such women here and in Chicago as Miss Jane Addams, and the charming group of gentlewomen living in the house in Henry street, New York, maintained with such modest munificence by Mr. Jacob Schiff; of such laborious and discerning scrutiny and sympathy as have been shown in the studies and writings of my friend, Mr. Jacob Riis—are such noble and enkindling examples."

The bishop, in conclusion, relates an interesting portion of his own experience thus:

"During some six weeks spent, a few years ago, in the most crowded ward in the world, among thousands of people who lived in the narrowest quarter and upon the most scanty wage, I gave six hours every day to receiving anybody and everybody who came to me. During that time I had visits from dilapidated gentlemen from Albany and Jersey City and Philadelphia and the like, who supposed that I was a credulous fool whose money and himself would be soon parted, and who gave me what they considered many excellent reasons for presenting them with $5 apiece. But, during that whole period, not one of the many thousands who lived in the crowded tenements all around me, asked me for a penny. Not one! They came to me by day and by night, men and women, boys and girls, for counsel, courage, sympathy, admonition, reproof, guidance, and such light as I could give them—but never, one of them, for money. They are my friends today, and they know that I am theirs; and, as little as that last may mean to the weakest and worst of them, I believe that, in the case of any man or woman who tries to understand and hearten his fellow, it counts for a thousandfold more than doles, or bread, or institutional relief."

The verdict in the Venezuelan boundary dispute gives Great Britain the gold mines and that is probably all she really wanted.

President Kruger remarks that the Lord rules the world. But the Uitlanders seem to doubt the kind of piety that rules the Transvaal.

The Dominion Government have taken the hint and fixed Thanksgiving Day for October 19, a month earlier than usual. This an added cause for thanksgiving. The people will have the holiday in holiday season.

Poultney Bigelow says that he fears the United States is learning her colonial lesson at an extravagant price. The Americans do not seem to be worrying about it, when they can spend $20,000,000 in hurrahing for Dewey.

Twenty-five thousand Englishmen surrounded the London newspaper offices until after midnight to scan the yacht race bulletins. The sporting instinct in the Anglo-Saxon is only exceeded by the fighting instinct.

There is something piquant in the fact that the American Society of Municipal Improvements is meeting in Toronto's new city hall. That building, which cost six times as much as originally estimated, is a splendid example of what the society should seek to avoid.

A great deal of rot has been uttered about the alleged financial loss incurred by the street railway strike. The fact is that hundreds, yes thousands, of citizens are money in pocket through walking instead of riding on the cars. This money remains in London instead of going to Cleveland.

It seems that Venezuela got only some 100 or 200 square miles of the 60,000 square miles which she claimed, and not 10,000, as first reports led us to suppose. As a matter of fact, Great Britain offered to give Venezuela much more of the disputed territory than Venezuela has secured by arbitration. The British have been the real gainers by Uncle Sam's interference. It would be somewhat of a joke if the little South African Republic should now get mad at the United States.

The Californian State Board of Health has suggested a quarantine against "all human beings with tuberculosis entering the state." If this is adopted and enforced California will be deprived of 20,000 tourists every year. It is not likely, however, that so harsh a measure would be permitted, but it is an indication of the increasing attention being paid to consumption, now that its contagious nature is realized. The fight against the malady is growing more vigorous and enlightened.

What Others Say.

Advice Not to Overdo.

[Prof. Goldwin Smith in Toronto Sun.]

Admiral Dewey, all the world is agreed in saying, is an excellent commander and a very worthy man. The more reason is there for not overloading him with extravagant honors, which will make his name an object of ridicule in times to come. The magnitude of his achievement at Manila can hardly yet be settled. The Spanish government said at the time that the harbor was not mined, and it is difficult to believe that, when Manila swarmed with enemies of Spain, the state of the Spanish fleet can have been kept a secret. Spanish sailors are good, but not without ships or without practice in gunnery. These are points which future historians will determine. Suffice it to say, that Admiral Dewey did what was given him to do bravely and well. History will never place the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila on a par with a victory in a great naval battle. Yet, no victor in the greatest of naval battles has received a tenth part of the homage paid to Admiral Dewey. Not one of the greatest benefactors of the human race has ever received a hundredth part of it. We have reluctantly to admit that services rendered to mankind in peace do not compare in the estimation of the crowd with a single leaf of the bloody laurels of war.

French Canadian Loyalty.

[La Presse, Montreal.]

Our allegiance to the English crown is as natural as the air we breathe, because we are born in it. We see nothing in this respect which distinguishes us from our English fellow-citizens.

Naturally we do not deny that our ancestry is of French origin, for there is noting to be ashamed of in it, and if we were ashamed the true Englishman would despise us. We strive to make our French-Canadian nationality more manly in its spirit and in its method of work. Is there anything evil in that? * * * Certainly, we love France deeply, our ancient mother land, but we have no longer any friends there, we have no relations there, and of all the glorious principles and ideas of France we adopt but few. None of these things hinder us from giving without question, our loyalty to England.

WICKED MANILA

Missionary Peyton Calls the Town a "Hell-Hole"—The American Troops "Drunkards, Rakes and Gambiers,"

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Army Secretary Peyton, of the Brotherhood of St. Andrews, who has just returned from a stay of six months in the Philippines, declares that the United States has 45,000 "drunkards, rakes and gamblers" in and around Manila, and that religious progress is quite out of the question while American soldiers are there."

Peyton went to the Philippines under commission from Bishop Doane, of Albany, chairman of the board of domestic and foreign missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, to examine conditions and return in time to report at the missionary council, which will meet this month in St. Louis. In an interview, Peyton said:

"Without any qualifying exceptions, the Tagalos are the most moral and religious people I ever saw, but they are mere children in ability to govern themselves. It would never do, in my judgment, for the United States to abandon them. The Tagalos could not hope to control the other principal races of the islands and with American power gone, the friars would not let the Tagalos rule themselves.

"At present there is no chance for Protestant effort. It is practically useless to undertake to do anything until the United States troops depart or reform. The United States has in and around Manila 45,000 drunkards, rakes and gamblers. Of course, there are exceptions, but they are not worth mentioning. The statement is sufficiently accurate.

"When the American troops landed in Manila there was only a saloon or two in the whole place. Today Manila is a hell hole. There are 430 or more saloons, typical places of the western frontier, or worse, and the saloons are more respectable than are many of the other places within the city which Americans have either planted or keep alive by their support.

"With the coming of the Americans a common danger has brought the Tagalos and Spaniards together, and old sores have been healed. Today, not only Luzon, but the islands in the west and south, are covered with friars, who are active as they never were before. Everywhere they are saying to the people: 'These men are sample Americans. An infidel nation has sent the flower of its men here, and behold them. Your lots may be hard. You may have had grievances in the past. We may have sinned, but your state is certainly better than that of Americans. You are moral. You are religious.'

"Just as long as these priests have 45,000 such Americans there as examples of what they are pleased to call 'an infidel civilization,' so long it is useless for Protestants to try to convert Tagalos and other Filipinos. Let the army do its work and get away. Then, and not till then, will Methodists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians stand any chance."

SUMMER PASTURE

How London Asylum Horses Lived on the Fat of the Land.

While most farmers of Western Ontario have had to keep their horses in the stable during the night of the past summer because of the parched pastures, the teams of the London Asylum farm have waded above the knees in verdant growth of luscious food. About June 20 a 9-acre field of very thin clover was plowed cultivated and sowed with equal parts of Hungarian grass and Japanese millet seed—four bushels on the field. It came on well, and on July 25, 15 working horses were turned into it during nights and Sundays. We saw both the horses and field on Aug. 25, and came to the conclusion that the farm manager, Mr. Murdock conceived a happy thought when he decided to provide in this way for the drought which almost invariably comes at this season. The horses eat their fill in about an hour after being turned out, and are ready to lie down for the night. In the morning they came in full, requiring no hay, and they have done remarkably well. The crop continued to grow where it was eaten off, so that it would remain green and luxuriant as late in the season as the horses can be turned out.

We noticed that the horses of that institution are fed the year round with economy that is worthy of emulation. Their hay is cut and mixed with chopped oats and soaked for 12 to 20 hours before feeding. During the idle season cut straw is mixed with the hay or less grain is mixed with the food. The horses relish their rations and make the best use of them.—Farmer's Advocate.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

PIMPLES CURED BY Cuticura SOAP

The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It is the only preventive of pimples, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless nails, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes. It is so because it strikes at the cause of most complexional disfigurations, viz., THE CLOGGED, IRRITATED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORE.

My face was covered with a pimply, ruptured, and itching skin. After using CUTICURA SOAP for six weeks my skin made a remarkable change, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet.
H. CROME, 203 Melrose St., Chicago, Ill.

I was troubled with pimples, especially on the chin and forehead. I tried several home remedies, but as they proved to be of no value, I decided to use CUTICURA SOAP, and in six weeks I was entirely rid of them.
HENRY P. DAHLKE, 611 So. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.

My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. Some would be all red, and others would be full of white matter. The blackheads would be all over my face. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicines, etc., but they never did me any good. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, and it only took three cakes to cure my face. JOSEPH B. Heat Rashes.

In the warm weather, many suffer from various forms of eruptions, known as "heat rashes," which often cause considerable discomfort on account of their intolerable burning and itching.

These skin diseases are simply an outward manifestation of the impure, perhaps over heated blood and can easily and permanently be cured by

Burdock Blood Bitters.

It keeps the bowels regular, the kidneys free, and stimulates the liver to healthy action. In this way, through the natural excretory channels of the body, it removes all poisons and impurities from the blood, and in consequence the skin becomes clear and smooth and free from spot or blemish.

Local Market.

London, Thursday, Oct. 5.

With fair weather, the attendance at the market was slim. Roads throughout the country are not in good condition, and the farmers are busy attending to their roots, which may account for the small number on the market.

In the fruit market the prices are firm. Pears and plums are about done. The following prices ruled: Peaches, per basket, 50c to 90c; plums, 65c to 75c; grapes, per ten-pound basket, 20c to 30c; pears, 50c to 75c per basket; tomatoes, 25c per basket. Different grades of apples varied from 30c to 70c a bag.

American Markets

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Delay in the expected outbreak of hostilities in the Transvaal flattened the market badly, and was mainly responsible for the decline of ⅞c to 1c which marked the close. Falling off in the export demand was also a feature. Coarse grains were affected somewhat by high ocean freights, closing ½c to ⅝c lower, and oats ¼c to ⅜c lower. Provisions declined about 2½c to 5c. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 926 cars, against 799 last week and 910 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 181 cars, 5 of contract grade. Total primary receipts were 1,371,000 bu, compared with 1,948,000 bu a year ago. Atlantic port clearances of wheat and flour were 487,000 bu. The seaboard reported 35 loads taken for export.

The leading futures closed as follows: Wheat—Oct., 71¼c; Dec., 73c to 73½c; May, 76c to 76½c. Corn—Oct., 31c; Dec., 30c to 30½c; May, 31c to 31¾c. Oats—No. 2 Dec., 22½c to 22c; May, 24¼c to 24½c. Pork—Oct., $8 10; Dec., $8 30; Jan., $9 75. Lard—Oct., $5 37½; Dec., $5 45; Jan., $5 60. Short ribs—Oct., $5 12½; Jan., $5 15. Matrimonial.

HODGINS—CHARLTON.

On Wednesday even, Mr. George Hodgins, a highly-respected farmer of 10th concession, London township, wedded Miss Aggie Charlton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Cousins, in the presence of the near relatives and friends at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. E. Charlton, 8th concession, London. The bride was assisted by Miss T. Hodgins, sister of the groom, while Mr. Chas. Charlton, brother of the bride, was best man.

NILES—HARRIS.

A very pretty and fashionable wedding took place at high noon today (Wednesday), when Miss Mary R. Harris, youngest daughter of the late John Harris, was united in wedlock to Mr. Charles Blake Niles, a prominent young business man, of London, Ont. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, 34 Lorne avenue, and was in the presence of the relatives and a few immediate friends of the contracting parties only. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with smilax, ferns, palms and white and yellow roses. The ceremony took place in the drawing-room before a large mirror, banked with palms, and with a lovely statue at the side. The whole reflected a very pretty picture. The happy knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Spencer. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Lloyd Harris, looked very pretty, attired in white ivory satin, trimmed with real lace, and chiffon, with long trail, and with a beautiful veil. She carried a shower bouquet of cream roses. Miss Edythe Johnson, of London, supported the bride. She was becomingly attired in white muslin over yellow silk, and carried yellow roses. Mr. Ellis W. Niles, brother of the groom, discharged the duties of best man. Mrs. Harris, the mother of the bride, wore a rich black silk, trimmed with real lace. Mr. A. S. Vogt, a well known musician from Toronto, presided at the piano, and as the bridal party took their places, the full, rich tones of Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the room. At the conclusion of the happy ceremony an adjournment was made to the dining-room, where a dainty dejeuner was served, and the bride and groom toasted. Mr. and Mrs. Niles left on the afternoon train on a honeymoon trip in western American cities, after which they will take up their residence in London. The bride was very popular in church and society circles in the city, and will be greatly missed from Brantford.—Brantford Courier.

MILLS—ELEMENT.

The residence of Mr. W. J. Element, 161 Clarence street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Tuesday evening, being the marriage of Mr. Element's youngest daughter, Miss Beezy, to Mr. Geo. F. Mills, city traveler for the London Hardware Company. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 by Rev. J. H. Moorhouse, rector of Christ Church, of which the bride is a member. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Ettie Element, and Mr. Arthur Marriott, of this city, acted as groomsman. About 50 relatives and friends were present.

After congratulations had been extended to the young couple, the wedding breakfast was served, the health of Mr. and Mrs. Mills proposed and a number of happy speeches were made.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills will reside at the corner of Tecumseh avenue and Cathcart street, South London.

Concert at Dorchester.

A concert in aid of the Dorchester public library was given last evening in the Town Hall, at Dorchester, under the auspices of Mr. J. T. Dalton, of this city. It was a most successful and the adjoining counties. The attendance crowded to the doors, and every number was applauded to the echo. Mr. E. T. Essery was chairman. The accompanists were Mr. Fred Fitzgerald and Miss Cora Pickard. The programme:

DOCTORS IN LINE.

Prejudices All Vanish, and They Prescribe Dr. Agnew's Ointment Because Its Virtues Demand Recognition.

Dr. M. Barkman, of Binghampton, N. Y., writes: "Send me 12 dozen more of Dr. Agnew's Ointment. I prescribe large quantities of it in my practice. It is a grand remedy for tetter, salt rheum, eczema and all skin diseases, and a never-failing cure for piles." The strongest evidence of this virtues is that doctors can so highly recommend it. One application relieves. Sold by C. McCallum & Co.

An Old Lady Loses Her Life in a Sarnia Hotel.

Sarnia, Oct. 5.—About 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, a lady, apparently about 50 years of age, arrived in town on the G. T. R. and repaired to the Belchamber House for accommodation. She gave her name as Mrs. Emma Smith, and stated that she was on her way to Duluth, and was intending taking passage on the steamer United Empire. As the steamer was not going to leave until early in the morning she requested to be shown to a room, and a call left to waken her when the boat came to the wharf to take on her passengers. When the boat arrived at Clark's wharf the night clerk at the hotel proceeded to awaken the guests who were to take passage on the boat, and after vainly endeavoring to arouse the old lady, opened the door, and found the woman unconscious on the bed. Doctors who were immediately summoned found she had been dead for some time. The jury brought in a verdict at the inquest to the effect that deceased came to her death by being suffocated by gas, the result of an accident, and no blame attached to any person. It is said the deceased has a daughter—a Mrs. Hancock—residing at Duluth.

BY THE ST. LAWRENCE.

Mr. W. H. Odell, of Brockville, a Strong Believer In Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 2.—Nowhere in Ontario are Dodd's Kidney Pills more appreciated than along the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes. Where there is water there is damp and danger from Rheumatism and Colds. The kidneys are the organs most susceptible to colds, and their getting out of order therefrom causes rheumatism, backache, etc. Mr. W. H. Odell, of Brockville, writes to an inquirer as follows:

Brockville, Aug. 28.

Dear Sir,—I received your letter and intended to answer it before, but I am ashamed to say neglected to do so. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me the world of good. They are a splendid cure for the kidneys and I am always ready to say so. I remain, yours truly, W. H. ODELL.

WIRE FROM DAWSON

First Telegraph Message Was Sent to Toronto Globe.

"To Daily Globe, Toronto: Dawson, N. W. T., Sept. 28.—Greetings. Telegraph reached Dawson today. First press message goes to Globe. Hurrah! Faith Fenton."

The above message was received over the Canadian Pacific Telegraph line last night shortly after 11 o'clock from Faith Fenton, the Globe correspondent at Dawson City. It was dispatched Sept. 28, and was brought from Skaguay to the coast, a six-day voyage, and wired via New Westminster. Dawson City is thus brought within six days of the rest of the world, while all points between Skaguay and the capital of the Yukon are now in constant touch with each other by wire.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES

Fresh Air and Generous Diet—Open Windows All the Year Round.

Dr. Dawson, writing in Young Men, says: "Someone wants to know whether consumption is really curable, and how? The latest science asserts two things: first, that consumption is not hereditary, but that it is infectious; second, that it is curable by fresh air and a generous diet. As to the first, continental peoples have long treated consumption as infectious—and they are right. A Swiss is very cautious in going near the resorts of the consumptive. He knows better than to travel first-class; he prefers bare seats, with a less chance of infection. A room where a consumptive patient has died is fumigated and disinfected, as it would be in case of malignant fever. English doctors have now come to this point of view, and insist on the isolation of the consumptive. As regards the second, I do not speak from hearsay, but from knowledge. There is a sanatorium in Gloucestershire to which a friend of mine went recently. It stands high among beech woods, in a perfectly pure air. It contains no closed rooms. The widows are removed, even in the bedrooms, and the fresh air blows through the house winter and summer. No medicine is administered. But instead of medicine there is a most generous dietary, consisting of all sorts of fatty foods. So much milk has to be drunk, so much food consumed by the patient, every day. It is no use saying you can't eat; you have to learn to eat. Walks have to be taken in all weathers. Overcoats are not allowed. The patient has to go out and get wet in the rains, and when he comes in he does not even change his clothes. In fact, he has to return to a primitive life, spent in the open air; he is not even allowed any sort of exciting books or intellectual exercise; he is for the time a human animal, leading an animal existence.

Now for the results. My friend was very ill. He had been to New Zealand and Australia, with only temporary benefit. In a happy moment he went to this sanatarium in the Cotswolds. In the first week he gained flesh; then week by week added several pounds. He never took a cold. He sat in the strongest drafts, and liked it. He got wet through without the least physical injury. He was away three or four months. When he came back he was bronzed, broad-shouldered, full of health and vigor, and a doctor who examined him said he was quite prepared to recommend him as a first-class life to any insurance society. If anyone over whom the dread shadow of consumption hangs reads these words, let him take heart. Here is the story of a natural cure by natural means. And we may all learn something of the value of fresh air. Live with open windows all the year round, and you won't want a doctor. Half cities, spring from close rooms and lack of oxygen.

Latest Probabilities

Toronto, Oct. 5—10 a.m.—Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the lower lakes region:

Light, variable winds; fine today.

Friday—East and northeast winds, probably increasing to gales by night, with rain.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

—The "Messiah" chorus will practice this evening in the city hall.

—A. K. Calcott will build a two-story brick veneer residence on the Wortley road.

—Mrs. Oliver B. Leslie will be at home Thursday and Friday afternoon, Oct. 12 and 13, from 4 to 6 o'clock, 311 Hyman street.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy have returned to their home, 66 Byron avenue, South London. Mrs. Kennedy (nee Miss Agnes F. Gilmour) will be at home Oct. 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, and following Thursdays.

—Raymond Gracheau, a vagrant, hailing from Sarnia, was remanded for a week at the police court this morning. Gracheau came through from Sarnia in an express baggage car, and was intoxicated when put off here. A drunk was allowed to go.

—The union revival meetings being held in the town hall, East London, took the form of a song service last evening. Mr. Tregreza presided at the organ. Evangelist McLean gave an address on practical religion. Four persons went forward for prayers. Rev. Mr. Fallis pronounced the benediction.

—The annual election of officers of the Arlington Club took place last evening, resulting as follows: President, C. H. Ward; vice-president, Geo. Young; secretary, John Collison; treasurer, P. H. Ranahan. Amusements for the winter months will soon be on in full swing. Numerous applications for membership were received, but few were accepted, as the club has reached its limit.

—Joseph T. Marks, of this city, addressed a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council of Brantford last night, and asked their support for the London street railway strikers. A committee was appointed to get up a concert for that purpose. The members of the council said they would take further steps to aid the London men. A benefit concert for the London strikers is also being arranged for at Ingersoll.

—Five young men employed at Gurd's broom factory, West London, quit work yesterday because Mr. Gurd refused to discharge one of the hands, who, they say, rode on the street cars, and whose father was employed as a conductor in the street railway since the strike. Mr. Gurd says the young man objected to learned his trade in the factory, and is a good workman, and he is, therefore, unwilling to discharge him. He says further, that the young man's father no longer works for the street railway company.

—Mr. John R. Wilson, of Rochester, N. Y., brother of Rev. Thomas Wilson, of this city, has returned from the Philippines, where he was with the American army. Mr. Wilson enlisted in North Dakota in April, 1898. He was at Manila when Admiral Dewey bombarded the city. Later he was transferred to the hospital corps. He was in 21 skirmishes, and escaped without being seriously wounded. He says most of the sickness was caused by the poor rations given out. Mr. Wilson says the insurgents are brave and good fighters. Mr. Wilson left Manila Aug. 12.

MRS. GORDON WRIGHT IS PRESIDENT.

At the meeting of the W. F. M. S. this morning Mrs. Gordon Wright, of this city, was elected president of the society.

THE WESTERN FAIR.

A meeting of the executive and finance committees of the Western Fair was held in the offices on Richmond street yesterday afternoon for the purpose of closing up the few outstanding accounts. There were present: Mr. Jas. Brown, Mr. J. W. Little, the secretary, Mr. J. A. Nelles and Mr. A. M. Smart, who presided. Accounts to the amount of $2,000 were passed. It was shown that the Western is one of the few fairs of any importance in the Dominion that has come through the season without a deficit. Now that all expenses have been paid there is a very satisfactory balance with which to begin work next year.

MUST CARRY TROOPS

Allan Line Throw Up the Canadian Mail Contract.

Unless the Government Will Accept Slower Boats—Matter Under Consideration.

[C. P. R. Special.]

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 5.—It is understood that the Allan Line has either sold or leased two of their fastest steamers to the British admiralty to be used for conveying troops to the Transvaal. In consequence of this the company has notified the department of trade and commerce that they cannot accept the contract for carrying the British mails with the present steamers, which it calls for. If slower vessels will be accepted then they will, of course accept. The matter is now under the consideration of the parliament. Very recently an order-in-council was passed giving the contract for two years from November next to the Allans, but it was not signed, as there was some trouble about freight at St. John, owing to the difference of opinion that existed between Mr. Shaughnnessy and Mr. Blair on that matter. The Allans were afraid that the C. P. R. might run to Boston, and in that case their boats might not get the necessary freight at St. John.

DAWSON GREETS THE PREMIER!

The New Telegraph Line Is Now Open.

Mr. Ogilvie Sends a Congratulatory Message to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.]

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier received the following telegram this morning by the new telegraph line, which has just reached Dawson City. There is now telegraphic communication between Skaguay and Dawson and intervening points. The dispatch was forwarded by steamer to Vancouver. It was sent from Dawson on Thursday last, taking five days to reach here. It reads: "Dawson City, Sept. 28.—Vancouver, Oct. 5.—To the Right Hon. the Premier, Ottawa: The people of Dawson desire me to convey to the government their high and grateful appreciation of the telegraph line, which has just reached Dawson; also for the rapid and skillful manner in which the work was done in spite of the many difficulties. It is felt this and similar works will greatly benefit this country by inducing settlement, helping trade and diminishing the weariness of distance and tedious communication. (Signed) Wm. Ogilvie, commissioner."

STARTLING RUMOR

A dispatch was received this afternoon by Messrs. Roath Bros., brokers, to the effect that the Grand Republic, an excursion steamer from which a large crowd of people were viewing the yacht race, had sunk, and that many of the passengers were drowned.

Inquiry at the newspaper offices in New York failed to confirm the rumor.

The New York Journal stated that the report was untrue, and the New York World stated that there was a rumor of such an accident, but that it had not been verified.

FOUR HOT DAYS

Filipinos Gave the Boys in Blue Plenty of Fighting.

New York, Oct. 5.—A Sun special from Manila says: There have been four days of the liveliest kind of fighting this week. The insurgents planned to attack Imus last Saturday. Then Calamba and Mexico were to be attacked.

A large force, which had been hovering in the neighborhood, attacked from the south and northwest yesterday, using two rapid-fire guns and one machine gun. Col. Kline advanced two companies of the Twenty-first Infantry and one gun, and dislodged the weaker wing of the attacking party. Meanwhile two companies of the Twenty-first crossed the bridge and repulsed a vigorous attack from the northwest hills.

The American loss was two killed and seven wounded, including one officer. The insurgents' gun was not captured. In the afternoon some cavalrymen made a reconnoissance close to Mexico, but were outnumbered. One cavalryman was wounded.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF BURNS.

Though Scotland boasts a thousand nams
Of patriot, king and peer,
The noblest, grandest, of them all
Was loved and cradled here;
Here lived the gentle peasant prince,
The loving cotter king,
Compared with whom the greatest lord
Is but a titled thing.

'Tis but a cot roofed in with straw,
A hovel made of clay;
One door shuts out the snow and storm,
One window greets the day,
And yet I stand within this room
And hold all thrones in scorn,
For here, beneath this lowly thatch,
Love's sweetest bard was born.

Within this hallowed hut I feel
Like one who grasps a shrine,
When the glad lips at last have touched
The something deemed divine;
And here the world through all the years,
As long as day returns,
The tribute of its love and tears
Will pay to Robert Burns.

—By the late Col. Ingersoll.

IN DANGER OF CONFISCATION!

Another $5,000,000 That the Boers May Seize.

Members of the Cape Assembly Send a Petition to the Queen.

London, Oct. 5.—It is reported that another Rand shipment of bullion to the value of £1,000,000, is in danger of confiscation by the Transvaal authorities.

A petition to Queen Victoria, signed by 58 members of the Cape House of Assembly, has been forwarded through the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner, pointing out that the petitioners, who are related by blood and through marriage to residents of the Transvaal, are materially interested in the maintenance of peace, urging the abandonment of warlike measures, as the Transvaal is now fully awakened to the wisdom of liberal concessions, and praying her majesty to appoint a commission forthwith to confer with the Boers, as the petitioners are convinced that if the present franchise act is inadequate, the Transvaal Government is prepared to make further concessions to the outlanders. The petitioners, in closing, declare their loyal devotion to the throne and person of the Queen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S REPLY.

Today the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, sent the following reply:

"The imperial government is not unmindful of the sympathies and interest of British subjects of Dutch descent in South Africa. One of the main objects of the imperial policy is to secure for the non-Dutch inhabitants of the Transvaal rights and privileges similar to those enjoyed by the Dutch in Cape Colony. The imperial government have shown the Transvaal every consideration consistent with this object, and deeply regret that their efforts for a peaceful settlement have hitherto been unsuccessful. The imperial authorities are unable to adopt the suggestion of the petition for the reasons stated in the note to the Transvaal of Sept. 12. In view of the refusal of the Transvaal to entertain that moderate and conciliatory offer, the imperial authorities have been compelled to formulate their own proposals regarding a final settlement, which will shortly be communicated to the Transvaal."

CONTRADICTED.

London, Oct. 5.—Another Newcastle special forwarded later than that to the Daily Telegraph contradicts it and declares that all was quiet on the border last evening, and that there was no sign of a Boer advance. The next news regarding this alleged invasion of Natal is awaited with anxious interest. The statement in the Daily Telegraph's special that there are no British troops nearer Newcastle than those at Ladysmith is obviously an error, as three thousand British troops are encamped at Dundee. The alleged Boer advance coincides very curiously with simultaneous telegrams from various quarters, regarding a Boer ultimatum and the expiration of the time limit last evening.

UGLY RUMOR.

A distinctly serious and ugly statement comes from Newcastle to the effect that armed Kaffirs accompany the Boer commandoes. This would be an absolute breach of the conditions supposed to govern warfare among civilized nations, and, if true, presages scenes worse than even the gloomiest forecastes.

STATEMENT BY TRANSVAAL SECRETARY OF STATE.

Pretoria, Oct. 5.—F. W. Reitz, the Transvaal secretary of state, in the course of an interview given to a representative of the Associated Press, says:

"The Transvaal Government is awaiting the next imperial dispatch, which ought to contain the final proposals of Great Britain. The British agent, Mr. Conyngham Greene, has informed me that the dispatch is in course of preparation, but that some days will elapse before it will be ready.

"In the meantime the Transvaal forces are mobilizing and going to the frontier. The government, however, has issued instructions to commandants and all other military officers on no account to violate British territory."

GOLD SEIZED.

Several boxes of bar gold, which were lodged at the National Bank of the South African Republic, were this afternoon commanded, by the Transafternoon demanded, by the Transvaal Government, who gave the company full receipts.

The storekeepers are barricading their stores.

GEOGRAPHICAL CONGRESS.

Briefly summarized, the labors of the International Geographical Congress are the following: Resolutions regarding the appointment of an international committee for the organization of magnetic meteorological work in connection with Antarctic expeditions; recommendations for the universal employment of meteoric works and measures in scientific work; the maintenance of the present division of time degrees without prejudice to any future change in degree; the establishment of an interiational seismological society; the constitution of an international seismic research commission; the designing of a uniform map of the globe on a scale of one to a million, and the designation of the Danish meteorological institute for drift ice observations, and a proposal to urge the respective governments represented by the delegates to favor carrying out the decisions of the Stockholm oceanographic conference.

CABLE NOTES.

The failure is announced of Messrs. F. W. & O. Brickman, the well-known whisky brokers, of Leith, Scotland. Liabilities, £550,000, and assets estimated at £79,000.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal and the Earl of Aberdeen will represent the Dominion Government on the Pacific cable board. Australia has three member and Great Britain three.

At the same time the Columbia had gybed, and was endeavoring to get out her spinnaker, but she was not as quick as the Shamrock, and had gone over the line before it was up, and then some few seconds passed before it drew well. The wind is blowing not more than three knots.

Sandy Hook Lightship, 11:35.—The yachts are about five miles away. Looks as if Columbia had made a gain an was somewhat ahead of the Shamrock, but a hardly appreciable lead. Boats will be out of sight in haze in ten minutes.

Western Union Cable Boat, 11:41 a. m.—Almost a dead calm.

11:45 a.m.—Conditions at this time are decidedly unfavorable for the race.

Far Rockaway, 12:10—Yachts in sight, but unable to distinguish one from the other. Observation, seven miles.

Highlands, 12:15—Very light west northwest wind blowing here.

Long Branch, Oct. 5.—12:25—The yachts can just be made out from here. The Shamrock appears to have the lead on the Columbia.

12:31—Weather bureau reports the wind veering to southwest, velocity 10 miles an hour. Shamrock seems to have increased her lead. As near as can be seen from here Shamrock is carrying balloon jib, topsail, fore staysail, mainsail and club topsail.

Long Beach, 2:04 p.m.—Both boats are still becalmed, one heading to the eastward; the other appears to be heading southward.

When the Associated Press dispatch boat left the race at 12:20 the Columbia was an eighth of a mile in the lead.

In New York, the betting on the yacht races this afternoon was $100 to $60 that the Columbia would win the series, and $100 to $80 was offered that she would win today's race.

Mackay-Bennett cable boat, 1:45 — p.m.—The two boats are just in sight. There is a wide difference between them; very hazy; little wind.

1:50—The wind has shifted to the south southwest, and is freshening slightly.

Far Rockaway, 1:47 p.m.—The yachts are apaprently coming back. It is impossible from here to tell them apart.

Sandy Hook Lightship, 2:10 p.m.—Wind freshening considerably, and the prospects are that if the yachts turn or have turned in time, they may finish within the limit.

Long Beach, 2:11 p.m.—The boats appear from here to be completely becalmed and separated by no very great distance. Wind south.

Long Beach, 2:20 p.m.—Both boats are now catching a light breath from the south. They seem to be heading east and only about a hundred yards apart.

Mackay-Bennett cable boat, 2:21 p.m. —The steam yacht Adele reports the yachts having covered two-thirds of the course. The Columbia is a mile ahead.

Far Rockaway, 2:34 p.m.—A United States life-saving telephone report from Point Lookout says the yachts have not turned the stake-boat yet. Point Lookout is five miles from Long Beach.

Sandy Hook lightship, 2:30 p.m.—The yachts are just visible. Both on starboard tack, and from here it would seem that they have not yet rounded the stake boat. The wind freshens every minute, and will be with them on the home reach.

Long Beach, 2:35 p.m.—Both yachts are now hearing due east on the starboard tack. They have caught a light breeze from the southward. The yachts do not seem from here to be more than a hundred yards apart.

Long Beach, 2:37 p.m.—Both yachts have taken in their balloon jib topsails and are carrying their staysails, jibs and small jib topsails. At 2:38 both yachts tacked to port, and were heading about south southwest, with a light southerly breezle blowing.

THE TWO ENGLANDS

A Biographer of John Morley Describes Them—Opposite Tendencies.

Mr. Morley's anonymous biographer in the October Century thus characterizes the political situation in England:

There are two Englands, and never were the two in greater contrast and conflict than at this moment. There is the England pushful, greedy of money, of power, of all the lusts of the flesh, the England of the bourse, of the race-course, of the gold mine, of the battle-fields; or, to put it briefly, and concretely, the England of the Rand and of Omdurman. And there is the other England, the England of the conventicle; of men who cling with something of narrowness and unworldliness, and now and then of obscurantism, to tendencies that made the Roundhead the master, and for a time the tyrant, of England. Even when the voice of the one England is loudest, that of the other England is not altogether silent, though there are many epochs when the voice of the one rises so thunderous that it is difficult to believe in the existence of the other.

We are passing through such an epoch now. The vast and rapid fortunes made in the Transvaal, the crowning triumph of Kitchener in Central Africa, the full springtide of prosperity, luxury, self-glorification, which all these things have produced, and which today make London, with its vast hotels, its brilliant restaurants, its crowded race-courses, its glittering equipages, its frenzied pursuit of pleasure, the most luxurious capital in the world—all these things have created an epoch in which the old puritanic spirit of England seems for the moment submerged and destroyed. And, by a curious coincidence, the Liberal party, which is by the very roots of its being largely arrayed against all these things, which finds its real inspiration, strength, and being in the modest bourgeois, the severe simplicity of the conventicle, and the simple homes of the poor, is at this moment largely influenced by a man who is the very type and embodiment of all the other tendencies of the time. A lover of the race-course, a relative of the greatest financial house of our times, a friend of princes and a confidant of the court, an ardent imperialist, with a sincere and vehement faith in his race and in its mission of expansion and conquest, Lord Rosebery has, to a large extnet, arrayed the Liberal party on the side of that England of luxury and conquest and arrogance to which the Liberal party ought, in the natural course of things, to be opposed.

One voice raises itself most eloquently against all these tendencies. It is the voice of a men who, having left all the churches and the chapels, yet retains their innermost faiths and tendencies. The conflict between Lord Rosebery and Mr. Morley is not a conflict of persons nor of today, but a chapter, an episode, in a secular English struggle.

By a strange paradox, the open and avowed iconoclast of the old dogmas is yet the most faithful exponent of their best and innermost tendencies. Mr. Morley is today England's greatest nonconformist.

SWALLOWING THE CAMERA

Dr. Max Einhorn, of New York city, made a communication to the medical journal some seven years ago regarding "gastrodiaphany," in which a miniature Edison lamp in a special mounting attached to a soft rubber tube containing a wire was introduced into the stomach so that an examination can be made of it. This method was called "gastrodiaphany," as the stomach became translucent. The object of this device was to show the size and situation of the stomach to the eye, and also to recognize tumors or other gross anatomical changes of the anterior wall of the stomach. This was, of course, a different apparatus than the "polyscope," which is used for looking into the stomach, and was not intended to replace any such device. It has been found to be of considerable value to physicians.

In the same paper Dr. Einhorn described a camera for photographing the interior of the stomach, but owing to technical difficulties, the camera was not constructed by Dr. Einhorn. Such a camera has, however, been perfected by Dr. Fritz Lange, of Munich, Germany, on almost the identical lines given by Dr. Einhorn.

The camera is a marvel of compactness, and is constructed on exactly the same principles as all cameras for taking moving photographs, although, of course, there is no attempt made to combine them so as to project the actual operations of the stomach. The camera itself is swallowed by the patient, and it contains a small electric lamp for illuminating the walls of the stomach. A photographic film twenty inches long and a quarter of an inch wide is wound at the bottom of the camera. One end of the film is fastened to the cord, which runs freely in the tube. When the cord is pulled, the film is drawn slowly past the lens. The cord and the conducting wires must, of course, be swallowed with the camera itself. When the camera reaches the bottom of the stomach the surgeon begins to pull the cord, which runs the film past the lens. The electric light is then turned on, and, after the sensitive film has been impressed with the image, the current is turned off and another section of film is brought into play until the requisite number of pictures have been obtained, then the entire apparatus is withdrawn from the stomach of the patient and the films are carefully developed and enlarged.

The Strange Metamorphosis.

"Talking of smoking," he went on, with a soft chuckle, as at recollections of unspeakable deviltry, "did I ever tell you chaps of a tremendous scrape I very nearly got into up at the 'Varsity? Well, you must know, there's a foolish rule there against smoking in the streets. Not that that made any difference to some of us! Well, one night about nine, I was strolling down Petty Cury with two other men, smoking (Bosher of 'Pothouse,' and Peebles of 'Cats,' both pretty well known up there for general rowdineses, you know—dear old friends of mine!) and, just as we turned the corner, who should we see coming straight down on us but a proctor with his bull-dogs (not dogs, you know, but the strongest 'gyps' in the college). Bosher said, 'Let's cut it!' and he and Peebles bolted. (They were neither of them funks, of course, but they lost their heads.) I went calmly on, smoking my cigar as if nothing was the matter. That put the proctor in a bait, I can tell you! He came fuming up to me. 'What do you mean, sir,' says he, quite pale with anger (he was a great bull-headed fellow, one of the strongest dons of his year, that's why they made him proctor)—'what do you mean by breaking the university statutes in this way?' 'It is a fine evening,' said I (I was determined to keep cool). 'Do you mean to insult me?' said he. 'No, old boy,' said I, 'I don't; have a cigar?' He couldn't stand that, so he called up his bull-dogs, 'I give him in charge!' he screamed out. 'I'll have him sent down!' 'I'll send you down first,' said I, and I just gave him a push—I never meant to hurt the fellow—and over he went. I rolled over a bull-dog to keep him company, and, as the other fellow didn't want any more and stood aside to let me pass, I finished my stroll and my cigar."

"Was the proctor hurt, sir?" inquired a small boy with great respect.

"More frightened than hurt, I always said," said Mr. Tinkler lightly, "but somehow he never would proctorize any more—it spoilt his nerve. He was a good deal chaffed about it, but, of course, no one ever knew I had anything to do with it."

With such tales of Homeric exploit did Mr. Tinkler inculcate a spirit of discipline and respect for authority. But although he had indeed once encountered a proctor, and at night, he did himself great injustice by his version of the proceedings, which were, as a matter of fact, of a most peaceable and law-abiding character, and, though followed by a pecuniary transaction the next day in which six-and-eightpence changed pockets, the proctors continued their duties much as before, while Mr. Tinkler's feelings toward them, which had ever been reverential in the extreme, were, if anything, intensified by the experience.

Upon this incident, however, he had gradually embroidered the above exciting episode, until he grew to believe at intervals that he really had been a devil of a fellow in his time, which, to do him justice, was far from the case.

He might have gone on still further to calumniate himself, and excite general envy and admiration thereby, if at that moment Dr. Grimstone had not happened to appear at the head of the cast-iron staircase that led down into the playground; whereupon Mr. Tinkler affected to be intensely interested in the game, which, as a kind of involuntary compliment to the principal, about this time was galvanized into a sort of vigor.

But the doctor, after frowning gloomily down upon them for a minute or two, suddenly called "All in."

He had several ways of saying this. Sometimes he would do so in a half-regretful tone, as one himself obeying the call of duty; sometimes he would appear for some minutes a benignant spectator, upon the balcony, and summon them to work at length with a lenient pity—for he was by no means a hard-hearted man; but at other times he would step sharply and suddenly out and shout the word of command with a grim and ominous expression. On these last occasions the school generally prepared itself for a rather formidable quarter of an hour.

This was the case now, and, as a further protest, Mr. Blinkhorn was observed to come down and, after a few words with Mr. Tinkler, withdraw with him through the school gate.

"He's sent them out for a walk," said Siggers, who was skilled in omens. "It's a row!"

Rows at Crichton House, although periodical, and therefore things to be forearmed against in some degree, were serious matters. Dr. Grimstone was a quick-tempered man, with a copious flow of words and a taste for indulging it. He was also strongly prejudiced against many breaches of discipline which others might have considered trifling, and whenever he had discovered any such breach he could not rest until by all the means in his power he had ascertained exactly how many were implicated in the offense, and to what extent.

His usual method of doing this was to summon the school formally together and deliver an elaborate harangue, during which hew orked himself by degrees into such a state of indignation that his hearers were most of the time terrified out of their senses, and very often conscience-stricken offenders would give themselves up as hopelessly detected and reveal thansgressions altogether unsuspected by him—much as a net brings up fish of all degrees of merit, or as heavy firing will raise drowned corpses to the surface.

Paul naturally knew nothing of this peculiarity; he had kept himself as usual apart from the others, and was now trying to compel himself to brave the terrors of an avowal at the first opportunity. He followed the others up the steps with an uneasy wonder whether, after all, he would not find himself ignominiously set down to learn lessons.

The boys filed into the schoolroom in solemn silence, and took their seats at the desks and along the brown tables. The doctor was there before them, standing up with one elbow resting upon a reading stand, and with a suggestion of coming thunder in his look and attitude that, combined with the oppressive silence, made some of the boys positively ill.

Presently he began. He said that, since they had come together again, he had made a discovery concerning one among them which, astounding as it was to him, and painful as he felt it to be compelled to make it known, concerned them all to beware of.

Mr. Bultitude could scarcely believe his ears. His secret was discovered, then; the injury done him by Dick about to be repaired, and open restitution and apology offered him! It was not, perhaps, precisely delicate on the doctor's part to make so public an affair of it, but, so long as it ended well, he could afford to overlook that.

So he settled himself comfortably on a form with his back against a desk, and his legs crossed, his expression indicating plainly that he knew what was coming, and, on the whole, approved of it.

"Ever since I have devoted myself to the cause of tuition," continued the doctor, "I have made it my object to provide boys under my roof with fare so abundant and so palatable that they should have no excuse for obtaining extraneous luxuries. I have presided myself at their meals, I have superintended their very sports with a fatherly eye—"

Here he paused and fixed one or two of those nearest him with the fatherly eye in such a manner that they writhed in confusion.

"I have done all this on one understanding—that the robustness of your constitutions, acquired by the plain, simple, but abundant regimen of my table, shall not be tampered with by the indulgence in any of the pampering products of confectionery. They are absolutely and unconditionally prohibited—as every boy who hears me knows perfectly well!"

"And yet" (here he began gradually to relax his self-restraint and lash himself into a frenzy of indignation), what do I find? There are some natures so essentially base, so incapable of being affected by kindness, so dead to honor and generosity, that they will not scruple to conspire or set themselves individually to escape and baffle the wise precautions undertaken for their benefit. I will not name the dastards at present—they themselves can look into their hearts and see their guilt reflected there—"

At this every boy, beginning to see the tendency of his denunciations, tried hard to assume an air of conscious innocence and grieved interest, the majority achieving conspicuous failure.

"I do not like to think," said Dr. Grimstone; "Cornelius Coggs—stand existence than I yet know of. It may be so; nothing will surprise me now. There may be some before me trembling with the consciousness of secret guilt. If so, let those boys make the only reparation in their power, and give themselves up in an honorable and straightforward manner!"

To this invitation, which indeed resembled that of the duck-destroying Mrs. Bond, no one made any response. They had grown too wary, and now preferred to play a waiting game.

"Then let the being—for I will not call him boy—who is known to me, step forth and confess his fault publicly and sue for pardon!" thundered the doctor, now warmed to his theme.

But the being declined from a feeling of modesty and a faint hope that somebody else might, after all, be the person aimed at.

"Then I name him!" stormed Dr. Grimstone; 'Cornelius Coggs—stand up!"

Coggs half rose in a limp manner, whimpering feebly, "Me, sir? Oh, please sir—no, not me, sir!"

(To be Continued.)

Treasurer Bunnell's financial statement for the city of Brantford for September shows that the receipts for the month were $7,116 52. The disbursements were $15,623 38. There was a balance from August of $14,346 63, so that the city has now $5,839 77 to its credit.

Pandora, so runs the myth, let all the ills of life out of her box to prey upon mankind, but shut the cover soon enough to prevent the escape of hope. Hope remains to every sufferer but it is only an ignis-fatuus unless it takes on some tangible form. The hope of recovery is treasured by every one who suffers from weak or bleeding lungs, obstinate and lingering cough, bronchitis or similar ailments, which, if neglected, or unskilfully treated lead on to consumption. That hope becomes a practical and tangible thing when it is based on the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Such a hope is reasonable because thousands of men and women emaciated and weakened by disease have been made sound and well by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter. All letters are carefully and considerately read and answered. Each letter is held as a sacred confidence and every answer is mailed in a plain envelope without any printing upon it. Write without fear and without fee.

"I was taken sick in July last year, and was not able to do any kind of work until November," writes Mr. Noel W. Orvin, of Langley, Aiken Co., S. C. "Had been coughing up small, hard lumps of phlegm for about a year before I was taken down. I then called on a doctor, who attended me for two months, and said that one-half of my left lung was gone, and advised me to leave my home (Charleston, S. C.), and go to the country, but did not say what sort of disease I had. I thought it was consumption, and wrote to you for advice. I took four bottles of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I sincerely believe has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken."

MOUNT BRYDGE'S FALL SHOW

The Prizewinners and Those Who Won the Races.

Yesterday the Caradoc Fall Show was held in Mount Brydges, and though a large number turned out there was not the attendance of former years, when weather conditions were as favorable. The display was not up to the record of former years, in quality, neither was the number of entries.

The quiet little village began to assume a business appearance shortly after noon, when the farmers, accompanied by their families, commenced to arrive, and everyone seemed to enjoy the social side of the gathering, which, after all, is the strongest and most attractive feature of the fall fairs to those outside the exhibiting class.

A reference to the prize list below will show the classes to have been rather scantily filled, there being, in many cases, no competitors whatever.

By four o'clock the goods were nearly all removed from the main building as well as the grounds, and people commenced going home. The speeding caused but little excitement, as there is no track on Small's pasture, where the fair is held, and no records stand a chance of being demolished. Oaks had his sulky broken by J. H. Fisher, who ran into him, preparatory to the race, and was forced to use an old-time vehicle.

Mrs. B. Getty came from St. Marys to win in the lady drivers' contest, and handled the ribbons well. Miss Burwell also demonstrated she knew how to handle a horse.

W. E. Sawyer has been secretary of the society for 36 years, a record not approached by another official in the country. He says this year is his last. Mr. Sawyer has been a good officer, and his friends, who know his value, will hardly allow him to retire.

The races resulted as follows:

Farmers' speeding race or trot, for horses never having won public money: Oaks first, Tull second, Phillips third, Chalecroft fourth.

Trotting race for green horses, never having competed for public money: Oaks first, Paisley second, Pierce third.

Wild With Eczema

For 12 Years She Suffered Terribly—Completely Cured by Three Boxes of

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. R. Stoddard, Delhi, Norfolk county, Ont., writes as follows: "I was troubled with Eczema or Salt Rheum for over 12 years, and during that time doctored with different physicians, but found that they could only give temporary relief. I saw Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, decided to try it, and before I had used half a box found great relief and change. Altogether, I have used three boxes, and am now completely cured. I have recommended it to my neighbors, and can say it is the best I have ever used, and in my estimation, worth its weight in gold."

That Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure any case of Eczema, Salt Rheum or itching skin is fully indorsed by the evidence of scores and hundreds of cured ones. 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

There are about 80 distinct tribes among the natives of the Philippines. The Moros are the most bloodthirsty savages known.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

A Pain Remedy.

For over fifty years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world.

The True Relief, Radway's Ready Relief

For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes.

PAIN CURED IN AN INSTANT

No matter how violent or excruciating the pains the Rheumatic, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgic or prostrated with disease may suffer.

Radway's Ready Relief

Will Afford Instant Ease.

A CURE FOR

Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus.

A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a flannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure.

No bad after effects (which are invariably the sequel of dosing with opium, etc.), will follow the use of Radway's Ready Relief, but the bowels will be left in a healthy, normal condition.

A half to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will, in a few minutes, cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pains.

MALARIA,

Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague Conquered.

Radway's Ready Relief

Not only cures the patient seized with this terrible foe to settlers in newly settled districts, where the Malaria or Ague exists, but if people exposed to it will, every morning on getting out of bed, take twenty or thirty drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water, and eat, say, a cracker, they will escape attacks. This must be done before going out.

There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other malarial, bilious and other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILLS, so quickly as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL.

Mr. Edmund L. Yeigh, of Toronto, chairman-elect of the union of Ontario and Quebec, who has just returned from the council held at Boston, Mass., was present at last evening's prayer meeting at the First Congregational Church, and gave a brief resume of the proceedings at that notable gathering. Reference was made to the especial fitness of holding such a reunion in a city where Congregationalism on this continent had its birth. The fact that representatives of Great Britain, the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Japan and China met in Holy Communion at the new Old South Church, Boston, was mentioned as a notable event. And Mr. Yeigh could not speak in adequate terms of the hospitality of the people of Boston and vicinity, who anticipated every want with lavish hand and thoughtful kindness. Some of the notable speakers at Tremont Temple, where the thousands gathered, and the subjects discussed, were of absorbing interest to those who were present to listen to Mr. Yeigh's glowing eulogy.

INDUCTION AT BURNS' CHURCH.

On Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Isaac McDonald, lately of Glammis, was inducted at Burns' Church, Mosa, into the pastorate of that congregation. A meeting of the London Presbytery was held there for that purpose, among the ministers present being Rev. Messrs. John Milloy, moderator, who presided; H. W. Reede, of Alma Street, St. Thomas, who delivered the induction sermon; D. C. Johnston, the stated clerk of the presbytery; R. Stewart, of Melbourne; J. H. Barnet, of Kintyre; A. Wilson, of Newbury; Alex. Henderson, of Melbourne; J. W. Bell, Napier, and Archibald Stuart, of this city, who was for many years the pastor of the congregation. The induction prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Milloy, the charge to the minister was delivered by Rev. Mr. Henderson, and the congregation was addressed by Rev. Mr. Stewart. The ladies of the congregation entertained those present to refreshments at the conclusion of the services.

Hospital Management.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I should like to express, through your paper, my experience in connection with the city hospital within the last month. I received a very severe injury, and was removed at once to the hospital and placed in a private room, which, with other high expenses to meet, I felt that I was not able to pay for, and I asked the superintendent if I could be moved into the public ward, and pay the usual fee there, and still have my own friend and physician to attend me, and was told the Medical School would object, so I was forced to be carted back to my home, where I lost the care of a proper nurse, which I needed so badly. I write this not so much for myself, but for brothers of the society of which I belong, as well as others, who might be placed in that unfortunate position. We all pay taxes, and I consider it a great injustice. Kindly insert this and you will do the general public a great kindness.

Yours truly, ALF. CORBETT.

A LABOR OF LOVE

Missionaries From Japan and Tibet Tell of Their Work.

Interesting Session of the W. F. M. S. Last Evening—Large Crowd at the First Methodist Church.

The open session of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society at the First Methodist Church last evening was largely attended. The speakers of the evening were Miss Preston, who has spent ten years in missionary work in Japan, and Dr. Susie Rijnhart.

Rev. Dr. Smith, pastor of the church, in his introductory remarks as chairman, commented on the increased strength of the society, numerically and financially, as shown by the present annual report. He also complimented the ladies upon their business-like tact—their sanctified common sense—exhibited in conducting their business sessions.

In the absence of the corresponding secretary, Miss Ethel Webster, Mrs. Crews presented the report of mission bands and circles. The number of bands is 20, with a membership of 893, and the sum raised during the year was $834 42. An interesting paper by Miss Webster, containing numerous helpful suggestions as to methods of increasing the interest in mission circles and bands, was also read by Mrs. Crews.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of the prize banner to the Wellington Street Mission Band, and of a number of books to the Mission Circle of Grace Church, St. Thomas. Mrs. (Dr.) Burns, president of the branch, made the presentations, and Mrs. Cunningham explained the method of making the awards. Miss Doty represented the winning band, and Miss Cook the winning circle.

Miss Preston, a returned missionary from Josu, Japan, was then called upon. She had addressed the Hamilton branch at Brantford on Tuesday evening, and presented the greetings of the branch assembled there to the members of the London branch before speaking of her work in Japan. Of the Japanese girls Miss Preston said most of them received a public school education, four years' training. There was very little higher education for them except in the hands of the missionaries. They had good memories, but little originative power. Of them socially, she said they had no rights, merely the privilege of pleasing the men. Though much more favorably situated than in China, the women in Japan were looked down upon by the men. The girls married young, and the matches were made by the parents. As a result for every three or four marriages there was a divorce. The latter might be obtained by a man on the ground that his wife talked too much, or on any pretext whatever. The speaker cited a number of instances of the suffering caused through the prevalence of the divorce custom. Of the Japanese women religiously, Miss Preston said they were superstitious, and used charms a great deal. Referring to the educational work done at Josu, Miss Preston said there were 100 pupils in the school, and that many of the graduates become evangelistic workers. The evangelistic work, including home visiting, work among the non-Christians, visiting the factories, work among the children, etc., was also vividly pictured by Miss Preston.

Mrs. Ross, president of the W. F. M. S. of Canada, being called upon by Dr. Smith, supplemented Miss Preston's address by calling attention to some of the difficulties and trials which Miss Preston had encountered, but which she did not refer to herself.

Dr. Susie Rijnhart spoke entertainingly and at some length about the manners and customs of the Tibetans, among whom she and her husband spent so much time.

BUSINESS SESSIONS

Proposed Amedments to the Constitution Variously Dealt With.

The business sessions yesterday were important. Mrs. Mason, of Muncey, presided, and a number of notices of motion to amend the constitution were considered at the morning session. A clause to provide for the election of nine ladies by the board, who with the officers should constitute the executive, was not approved. A clause to provide for alternates to act for branch presidents or corresponding secretaries on occasions was approved. The proposed reduction of the number of delegates to the board from each branch from one in 600 to one in 800, was not approved. A provision that each branch have two or more vice-presidents was approved. The convention voted against having the financial year close May 15 instead of Sept. 15, and against reducing the fee for mission bands to 25 cents; and against changing the name of the society from Woman's Missionary Society to Women's Missionary Society. A request from the Manitoba branch that the next Easter offering be for Indian work was granted, but the convention declined a request from the same quarter to continue the publication of the monthly letter as heretofore. Mrs. Harrison gave notice of motion to amend the composition of the executive to transact business during the year, as follows: "The officers of the board of managers, with the corresponding secretary of each branch or her representative, residing in or near the last place of meeting, nominated by said secretary and elected annually by the board, shall form the executive committee, seven of whom shall constitute a quorum."

In the afternoon Mrs. Tennant, superintendent of systematic giving, read her report, showing that a circular letter on systematic giving had been sent to each auxiliary; 1,000 tracts had been distributed, and 43 local superintendents had been appointed. The interest in the subject was greatly increasing.

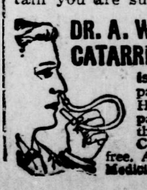

Mrs. Gordon Wright gave a report on the Outlook, a publication for which, a year ago, the society assumed the financial responsibility. The circulation had reached 10,000, of whom 6,402 subscribers were in Ontario. Mrs. Wright urged the convention to greater efforts to increase the circulation.

Miss Webster, corresponding secretary of mission bands, urged that the auxiliaries keep in closer touch with the mission bands, and that the district convention pay more attention to them.

The organizers' reports showed satisfactory progress and growth in the society.

A DINNER PILL—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

Be sure you are right, then be certain you are sure.
