GENERAL SMUTS APPEARS FOR RECONCILIATION WITH GERMANY, WOULD ENCOURAGE REPUBLIC

Head of Union of South Africa Urges Immediate Settlement of Irish Question and Advocates Leaving Russia To Work Out Her Own Salvation.

London, July 18.—Lieut. Gen. Jan Smuts, of the Union of South Africa, and member of the British peace delegation, in a far-reaching message advocates appeasement and reconciliation with Germany and encouragement of the present moderate Republican administration in Germany, which is successfully fighting the European battle against anarchy.

Gen. Smuts strongly urges leaving Russia to settle her own affairs, on the ground that "a general system of appeasement may be better than barbarism, to which the present policy seems inevitably to be tending," and declares that British statesmen should apply the same medicine to Ireland that they applied to Bohemia.

Urges Reconciliation.
An appeal is made by General Smuts for an abiding faith in high ideals despite what he terms the disillusion produced by the peace treaty. He says the fundamental significance of the war has been a victory spiritual, and moreover the material factors of human nature over the baser, and hence there should be no bitterness left in the minds of the peoples.

He pleads for appeasement and reconciliation as the only means of regeneration of exhausted Europe, which, he says, is the most awful spectacle in history.

Deserves Encouragement.
General Smuts, in urging encouragement of the Republican administration in Germany, says the issue of Hobbsy will be decided in Germany, and that President Ebert "deserves our backing and encouragement."

"Do not let us deal with Ebert as we have dealt with Kerensky and Karol (former premier and president respectively of Russia and Hungary)—with results beyond recall today," the statement of General Smuts concludes.

The Irish Question.
Dealing with questions concerning the empire and the dominions, General Smuts says the most pressing of all is the Irish question.

"It has become a chronic wound, whose septic effects are spreading to our whole system and through its influence on America is beginning to poison our most vital foreign relations," says Gen. Smuts. "Unless it is settled on the great principles which form the normally by the Russians themselves must cease to exist. Our statesmen in Paris dealt with racial problems regarding Ireland and in every way as difficult as the Irish problem, and they may not shrink from applying to Ireland the same medicine they applied to Bohemia and many another part of Europe."

Would Leave Russia Alone.
General Smuts regarded whole chapters of the peace treaty as nothing compared with the supreme importance of having a stable domestic Republican Germany represented on the league of nations. He expresses doubt of the wisdom of the policy which seems to be pursued towards Russia and declares that Russia can only be saved internally by the Russians themselves working on Russian methods and ideas.

He says: "Our military forces, tanks and war materials may temporarily bolster up one side, but the real magnitude of the problem is quite beyond such expedients."

He urges the Allies to leave Russia alone, remove the blockade and adopt a policy of friendly dealings and partiality to all factions.

"It may well be," he continues, "that the only ultimate hope for Russia is a sobered, purified soviet system, and that may be far better than barbarism to which our present policy seems inevitably tending. Be patient with sick Russia, give her time and sympathy, and await the results of her convalescence."

Germany's Doom Was Sealed Just One Year Ago Today

It was exactly one year ago today that the Allies began the brilliant, little-known counter-offensive that broke Berlin's last great effort to win a military decision.

For nearly a week the Germans had been gaining steadily. Column after column of the German host advanced in the face of deadly machine gun fire. With the dead piled three feet high, the columns still advanced. Never was human life held so cheap. The flower and elite of the German strength was being thrown into one last mighty effort to win a military victory.

For days the Germans achieved costly success. They were within 50 miles of Paris. They pushed to the Marne, losing heavily on the way. They were three, five, and finally twelve miles of the Marne when in Teuton control. Fifty German divisions in the drive. The Germans were playing their trump card, and were playing it then, out of the apparently clear air broke the Allied counter-offensive.

Along a front extending 25 miles, the Allies opened an early morning preliminary bombardment, and without further warning, advanced. Twenty

Head of Church Expresses Joy At Removal of Blockade.

Paris, July 18.—Pope Benedict has addressed to the bishops of Germany a letter expressing joy over the removal of the blockade. The letter recommends that an attitude of Christian charity be taken toward the question of reparations for war damages.

The pope expressed confidence that the civilized nations of the world, Catholics, will give aid to the populations brought to a state of extreme need. He recommended, in conclusion, that all thoughts of hatred against former enemies be eliminated from the minds of German Catholics.

RAIN IN ALBERTA BRINGS RELIEF FROM EXCESSIVE HEAT

Crops in West Will Be Greatly Benefited.

Calgary, July 18.—Fairly heavy rain following a heavy wind storm and drop in temperature, brought relief to the suffering people of Northern and Central Alberta yesterday and also further improved the pasture condition. From Edmonton to Calgary, the temperature of this city as far as Vulcan, 80 miles south, rain was general. The rain in Calgary district fell between 1 and 2 inches, and in some places as much as 3 inches. No rain has fallen in Southern Alberta; the situation there is very bad. If rain falls within the next week, however, to a good extent, late oat crops will be good and will provide some feed.

FRENCH HAD GUN OF 100 MILES RANGE WHEN TRUCE WAS SIGNED

Paris, July 18.—While giving evidence before a committee at the Chad investigation today, M. L. Bourgeois, chief engineer of the navy department, said that at the time Paris was being bombarded by German long range guns, he had designed a cannon with a range of 100 miles, which could be put in position in one hour.

M. Bourgeois stated that previous to that time he had urged upon Albert Thomas, then under secretary of state for war and munitions, the importance of bombarding the Brey Iron Works, and had been asked to design a long range cannon. His plans, however, were sent from one committee to another, and then ready for action at the time the armistice was signed, he said.

THOUSANDS OF U. S. WORKERS PLEDGED BY I. W. W. TO AID IN DESTROYING GOVERNMENT

New York State Labor Leader Testifies As To Activities of Industrial Workers of the World—Movement Is Controlled by Foreigners.

New York, July 17.—James H. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, testifies today before the joint legislative committee investigating radical and seditious activities in this state, declared that the I. W. W. had organized many thousands of workers throughout the country on a platform which included in its plans one calling for the destruction of the government.

Mr. Holland asserted, was the Amalgamated Garment Workers' Union, with a membership which he estimated at 70,000.

Wide, Sweeping Plans.
As an evidence of the wide, sweeping plans of the I. W. W., letters were read into the testimony, before Mr. Holland took the stand, in which I. W. W. leaders urged European and South American workers to join in a scheme for an "international revolutionary industrial union."

One of the most ambitious projects was the organization of the maritime workers of the two Americas and the maritime European countries into one big union.

Controlled by Foreigners.
Outside of the garment workers, Mr. Holland cited the mobsters and hotel and restaurant employees as two of the trades in which racial propaganda had been successful.

The whole I. W. W. movement is controlled by foreigners, according to the testimony, and he said that 85 per cent of the radicals in this state are not American citizens and that the Amalgamated Garment Workers' Union is controlled by foreigners also.

AMERICANS PROFITED BY LESSONS LEARNED FROM THE BRITISH

So Declares American Commander-General John Pershing.

London, July 18.—General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, met the military members of parliament in the committee room of the House of Commons yesterday. He was introduced by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war.

In an address, in which he discussed the sentiment of the American soldiers and people, General Pershing said that had it not been for the lessons learned from the British "our efforts would not have been what they have been. Our associations from the start were most pleasant. I was accorded a visit to general headquarters and learned from our commander-in-chief what was deemed most important for us to consider first."

"It was our preference to fight beside our brothers in blood, our own kin, whose courage, aggression and tenacity we have always admired, and which has had such an influence on our own military training."

Today Gen. Pershing was presented with the freedom of the city and a sword of honor in the presence of a distinguished company in the historic Guildhall.

RUSSIA MUST BE SAVED FROM BOLSHIEVKI IN ORDER TO ASSURE PEACE OF WORLD

Winston Spencer Churchill Declares First Duty of League of Nations Is To See That Security Is Provided For Russia From the Reign of Trotzky and Lenine.

London, July 18.—Russia at the present moment is the keynote of the future peace of the world and the lifting of that country must be the first duty of the league of nations, said Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, in an address at the British-Russian club dinner last night.

"If the whole of Russia and its resources fall into the hands of Lenin and Trotzky the whole power of the Bolsheviki forces will be thrown against those little states which have been promised the protection of the nations, if the Bolsheviki forces prevail in it might be."

SECURITY OF FRANCE IS GUARANTEED BY TREATY, DECLARES CLEMENCEAU

French Premier Reviews Proceedings of Peace Conference Regarding Left Bank of the Rhine.

Paris, July 18.—The committee of the Chamber of Deputies, which is considering the treaty of peace today, took up a report on German colonies. This report says that the return of Togoland and Kamerun to France only revives the prior rights of France from a political viewpoint. It adds, however, that "it is a recent accord between France and Great Britain, and fixes the limitations and rights of each in those colonies."

Premier Clemenceau, in appearing before the committee, declared that the security of France was guaranteed by the treaty of peace.

He said that the treaty of peace was a recent accord between France and Great Britain, and fixes the limitations and rights of each in those colonies.

Lady Jean Hooper Declares She Saw Spirits Trying To Get Judge Macbeth To Acquit Her In Court Describes These Alleged Figures, Even Spotting One With Astral Wooden Leg—Indulges in Uncomplimentary Remarks About Occupant of Bench, But Was Unable To Affect Him.

Arrayed in a flowing robe of pure white satin, lined with yellow and adorned with stole of mauve, Rev. Lady Jean Hooper last evening, in the Church of Scientific Religious Research, third floor of the Duffell block, dramatically described the astral bodies revealed to her clairvoyant vision in the courtroom in the beginning of July during her trial for fortune telling, at the same time paying her compliments to the judge in the case in set terms.

Judge Talbot Macbeth would scarcely have had reason to feel flattered had he heard the word picture of himself drawn by the lady pastor of the church for the benefit of the substantial audience which had gathered, notwithstanding the fact that it cost 50 cents a head to attend.

Had the judge only known it, according to Lady Jean, relatives, a former teacher, faithful family domestics, who had passed into the spirit world, surrounded the judge during the course of the trial in attitudes of pleading or sorry amazement, trying to bring their vibrations to bear on influencing his mind in order that he might do the fair thing.

Lady Jean declared she wasn't trying to see these people who had slipped off their owners of flesh. She was intent upon expressing just what she meant to say in her answers to questions put to her.

Judge Didn't React.

So remarkable were the things she said she was witnessing in the courtroom that were invisible to the material eye, that she prayed earnestly that the judge would ask her for a demonstration. She brought her will power to bear and tried to beat into the "thick old skull of the judge" this command: "Ask me a question." "That might be the reason the judge sat with his head dropped on his hand a good part of the next day, his eyes covered. Perhaps she was making him uncomfortable. But what would it matter, anyway? It made her think of the story of the rich man and Lazarus in the Bible. If a million angels were sent to the judge he would not believe. But, if he only would!"

The Perfect Medium. If he only would let the light of spiritual truth in for a minute he would discover remarkable powers of mediumship. In fact, said Lady Jean, no one under the roof of the Duffell block last evening had such powers of mediumship as she had discovered in Judge Macbeth, and she didn't make any exception of herself.

All through the trial the judge kept fighting off the influence of his spirit guides. Perhaps his contest with them was responsible for the fact he suspended sentence for a time.

The prejudice of the judge, unmoved even by what the defendant declared, she had heard was the greatest defence ever made in a London courtroom, that of Lawyer McEvoy for herself, was not her only grievance in connection with the trial.

Even with all the skill of the lawyer conducting the defence and the plainness of the facts set before him, the judge obstinately refused to discriminate between spiritual "readings" and

"fortune telling." He couldn't be made to see that charging for the time occupied by a reading, which, according to Lady Jean is a part of "teaching the laws of the universe," by no means one and the same thing as charging for a reading.

These Others. Don't ministers of other churches insist upon a guaranteed salary before they will go into the pulpit to preach? Don't lawyers, doctors, music teachers, writers, also, also, judges? Jolly fat pay, also, those same judges.

Talking of fortune telling, why didn't the Roman Catholic priests, saying and being paid for telling people "Do this and do as you will to hell?" How did they know? What about the Roman Catholic priest who takes money to say a mass to get a soul out of purgatory?

"The priests take money from people to get their friends out of purgatory. The poor things pay hundreds of dollars for such deliverance."

"Does this get people out of purgatory? Not a bit. And yet they don't bring the priests, who make the claims and take the money, into court and put them on trial for fortune telling."

When the old Irishman who had been the gardener at Lady Jean's English home appeared to her after he died, in his astral body, he told how he had been deluded into believing that he was out of purgatory. But, having "passed over," he had learned better.

Not For Sale. Returning to the charge which was responsible for her recent trial, or what she preferred to term the trial of the religion, she passionately declared: "I asked money for my time, not for the readings. You can't sell the gift of the Holy Ghost."

Well, the final day of the trial, the judge had told the lawyer for the defence he need not bring his client into court again. Lady Jean thought, perhaps he was afraid of her.

He tried to "bamboozle" Mr. McEvoy in her absence. But a clever man would have to get up very early in the morning before he could bamboozle so clever a man as her lawyer, said Lady Jean.

The judge insisted that he made it a law that readings and fortune telling were one and the same thing. Mr. McEvoy maintained Lady Jean never told fortunes. But Lady Jean, further, would not speak the law until the case was tried by a higher court. She would refrain from giving private readings, to which the judge took exception.

After the manner of Paul in his defence before King Agrippa, Lady Jean stood proudly at this point upon her citizenship of no mean country. Being English, she would keep her word of honor, even if it cost her the loss of the souls of the constancy of the assurance of the continuity of life.

In the spirit attendants which surrounded the judge in the course of the trial was a man, perhaps 5 feet 10 inches or six feet, with dark eyes, high forehead, heavy moustache. She recognized him as a former teacher of the judge, who was admonishing him to do justice.

Standing to the right of the judge, hands clasped in pleading, was a woman of beautiful, not pretty, face, weighing perhaps 125 or 130 pounds. There seemed to be streaming down her face.

"At first," said Lady Jean, "I thought it might be his mother. Lady Jean, who was his mother, said she never saw him as his wife or sister would do. I afterwards learned that my description was exactly the description of the judge's honored wife, who had believed in the return of spirits. This spirit form that I saw passed away in flames, an indication that the body had been cremated."

Among other invisible witnesses to all but the clairvoyant in the courtroom was a woman with grey hair, who placed her hand on the judge's shoulder. She appeared to have been an upper servant, perhaps a foster mother. Another "guide" was in uniform, like that of a coachman. These two guides were back of the judge, trying to explain to him their spirit beliefs the greater part of the time. Possibly their influence was responsible for the holding up of the trial a few days for investigation.

All No Use. It wasn't any use, however, because of the deep-cut channels of conservatism in which the mind of the judge moved.

There was a wooden-legged spirit person, a woman, who wrung her hands as if in agony, crying, "Why don't you stop it? She'll never tell. Never tell." There was a mother from whom the court ruthlessly took her little child. There was a crippled little boy, who after wards was seen at the age of 20 or 25 in prison stripes. There was an unkempt, bearded old man, who confessed he had made the youth commit the crime.

After true defence style, Lady Jean, in opening her address, drew attention to the history of spiritualism, and, in no new thing. It dated back to the beginning of the world.

Authority Claimed. She had come into Canada as a missionary of the spiritual church, with a mandate which gave her authority to demonstrate and teach the laws of the universe.

Referring to her summons to court in February, she painted a vivid picture of the horrors which the surroundings held for her and a medium and highly developed psychic. She encountered a number of astral bodies of people who had recently been tried there, such as soldiers guilty of breach of the O. T. A. lister to keep herself above reproach in her life. No one could say she had lived as clean as any minister, she said, and cleaner than Catholic priests or members of the ministry, she declared. She suggested that the judge was afraid she would tell what some of the policemen were doing, and this had influenced his decision.

Much stress was laid upon the definition given in an American dictionary of the term "medium." The definition was "a person who is in communication with the spirit world is called a medium." That was the person who placed on the stand by the judge, a person through whom communion with the spirit world is conveyed.

Latest Prediction. In conclusion, Lady Jean predicted that her church will have a great accession of membership and strength by November, because, according to her estimate, about two-thirds of the people are spiritualists at heart in London.

If the believers don't show their faith by their acts, however, she said she wouldn't make any threats, but she would take unto herself the injunction of the Great Master to his disciples whom he sent out, to shake the dust off their feet and turn away from unbelieving places. If she went, she declared, no other spiritual teacher would ever come to London. Further, she says she has a number of good offers with stipend waiting her in California, Toledo, St. Louis and Edmonton.

WHOLE CLASS PASSES FIRST AID EXAMINATION. At the examination of the First Aid class held in connection with the re-organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, which took place in the church on Thursday evening, the entire class of eighteen passed the test made by Dr. H. A. Stevenson, Dr. H. Black had been the medical lecturer, and Sgt. Walcott, A. M. C., lecturer, on bandaging the students.

Frank Grey announced that in all probability the graduates would continue their studies, taking up home nursing and hygiene, and later would organize a St. John nursing division.

Board of Police Commissioners Authorize Chief To Arrange For Pensions.

BRANTFORD, July 17.—The board of police commissioners here this afternoon authorized Chief Stein to secure all data in connection with a pension scheme for the local force, which now consists of seventeen men. The men applied for one day off a week, but, instead of meeting the demand, the commissioners raised the annual vacation of each from ten days to fourteen days on full pay.

Application for reinstatement was received from John Cobden, who recently made charges against the sergeant, A. D. Cobden, who is a veteran of the war, will go back to work on police duty. The commissioners declined to order the purchase of a patrol, as recommended.

VETERANS IN CELEBRATION. All details were completed here today for the celebration in this city on Saturday. STRIKE EPIDEMIC ON; ST. THOMAS CARMEN WANT MORE MONEY

Men Refuse Offer of Additional Five Cents Per Hour From Council.

ST. THOMAS, July 17.—The street railway strike epidemic has apparently reached St. Thomas. The employees appeared tonight before the committee and made a request for 10 cents increase all round. This would bring the schedule to range from 45 cents to 52 cents per hour. The members of the committee, however, decided that they could only grant 5 cents per hour.

This men refused, but after some consideration they decided late tonight to counter with the other employees before taking any definite action.

The committee adjourned until next Friday night.

During tonight's session Chairman Walker made several complaints of the method of handling passengers now in vogue. The men, represented by W. H. McNeice, an old London railwayman, however, in turn offered them complaints. Mr. McNeice said that the local cars are a disgrace and nothing better than a death trap.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. It took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHMAN, 2615 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

INGERSOLL MAN HAD FRIEND'S CAR; SAYS IT CAUSED SPEED

Turned Corner On Two Wheels, Constable Swears.

MAGISTRATE IS LENIENT

Imposes Nominal Fine, But Warns Against More Reckless Driving.

Maurice Murray of Ingersoll was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Bartlett in police court today for reckless driving on Queen's avenue Sunday morning at about 10 o'clock. Sgt. Birrell testified that the accused, driving a Ford car, turned a corner on two wheels, so great was his speed, endangering the lives of pedestrians crossing the road. Murray stated that the car was owned by his friend, and that he was driving it when the accident occurred. He was not reckless but due to his inexperience.

Nominal Fine. Magistrate Bartlett, under the circumstances, imposed a nominal fine, stating that had the offence been a deliberate one the penalty would have been much more severe. "First thing you know, driving in this way is a crime," he said, "and a charge of manslaughter," concluded the magistrate in disposing of the case.

George Wheatcroft, charged with not having his name or number on his wagon while operating a business, stated that he was on his way to the printer to have the work done when arrested. He was fined $5 and costs on condition that he immediately comply with the law.

Two drunken men appeared in court today, one of whom was assessed $10 or ten days on pleading guilty to the charge. The other was fined $5 and costs on condition that he immediately comply with the law.

PLAYING CARDS ON SUNDAY MORNING IS NOW A $5 OFFENCE

Police Catch Some Gamblers by Spying in Window.

McCullough and Snell, who were assessed five dollars and costs each for their part in the game. The case was adjourned until Monday next.

A MEAN TRICK

Some Kill-Joy Has Moved Benches in Park.

The benches which were formerly placed along the path west of the bandstand at Victoria Park, have been moved across to the similar path east of the bandstand this week, and as a result several local swains are peeved. The benches were shaded by trees, and there were no lights along the path, but the benches today line the dark white way, where the hydro shines out brightly, and the bitter comments by the 9 o'clock birds. To doubt a complaint regarding the removal of the benches. "All is fair in love and war," but the war is over, and if the benches are to be removed, the "loving" in Victoria Park will also become extinct in a few days.

MEN IN QUARANTINE AT HEIGHTS BECOME UNRULY IN EVENINGS

Wagons Overturned and Shots Fired by Them.

MILITARY POLICE CALLED

But Only One Lone Corporal Placed Under Arrest by Them.

Members of No. 1 Detachment, Canadian Garrison Regiment, stationed at Carling Heights here, and who have been under quarantine for a few days, owing to one of their ranks being stricken with diphtheria last night and Wednesday night became unruly at their quarters, and the military police were ordered to the scene to quell the disorder. However, when these stalwart soldiers arrived at Carling Heights everything was quiet and the soldiers were in their proper quarters.

Became Bored. The trouble brewed because of the quarantine, the boys in khaki being restricted to their own lines. However, regardless of military discipline, the soldiers involved raided the wagon lines at Carling Heights, and took the wagons a distance away down a hill, where they were overturned and the soldiers were placed under arrest. The trouble brewed because of the quarantine, the boys in khaki being restricted to their own lines. However, regardless of military discipline, the soldiers involved raided the wagon lines at Carling Heights, and took the wagons a distance away down a hill, where they were overturned and the soldiers were placed under arrest.

No Riot. "There was no riot," said one of the responsible officers at Wolseley Barracks today, "the boys were cooped up in quarantine, and were merely sky-rocketing for some fun. Nothing serious happened, and the corporal in charge of the Canadian Garrison Regiment headquarters was the only soldier placed under arrest."

When asked by the military reporter if any blank shots had been fired, the officer replied: "I guess so." He stated, however, that no shots were fired by the police. Several officers of the garrison regiment were ordered on duty last night during the sky-rocketing, one of whom threatened to shoot a soldier who stepped out of the men's quarters. It is likely that a court of inquiry will be held in the near future to investigate and report upon the affair at Carling Heights last night where "nothing happened."

STRUCK BY AUTO AS HE CROSSED STREET, BOY BADLY INJURED

Alfred Edwards Lies in Hospital—Mother Away.

Seriously injured, 5-year-old Alfred Edwards, son of T. H. Edwards, 183 Oxford street, lies in St. Joseph's Hospital as a result of having been struck by an auto while crossing the street at the intersection of Oxford and Richmond streets on Thursday afternoon.

His condition is such that he is unable to undergo an operation. The injuries consist of two contusions of the head and a fracture of the right arm. The hospital authorities today reported that the boy is slightly better today, but that he was not prepared to state that his recovery is certain.

Hugh Day of London Township, was driving the auto which struck the child. The little one was crossing the road at the time. As he stepped from behind the car, he was struck by the auto, which was going in the opposite direction. Neither Dr. W. A. Thompson, who is attending the boy, nor the driver, who is a resident of London, was at home when the accident occurred.

His mother and his brother Allan, four years of age, are in Winnipeg.

Oil Paints and Kindred Lines Advance in Price

Turpentine Jumps Another 10 Cents a Gallon in Week.

Hardware and Metal, July 19, will say, outstanding importance this week is the substantial advance which has been recorded in oil paints and kindred lines. Turpentine has advanced 10 cents a gallon, and oil paints are up 50 cents a gallon.

The early closing bylaw, for which a sufficiently signed petition was received, the council has no power to refuse to do so, but the municipal act provides that such a bylaw may be repealed on a petition signed by one-third of the total number of merchants affected. It is this regulation that the "antics" will invoke.

Several of those who signed the first petition have also signed the one asking for repeal. So far as can be learned, the result will be to keep the bylaw in force, and the shoe store owners will be able to claim to be bona-fide shoe merchants.

FOX BROTHERS THINK ESTATE IN WHICH THEY SHARE WILL PROVE TO TOTAL MILLIONS

Thomas, Home From New York, Tells of Properties — At Present Courts Hold All, But a Division Will Come Later.

Despite reports to the contrary, Thomas Fox, newspaper editor, and his brother, Joseph, both residents of this city, will receive large portions of the estate of their father, Maurice Fox, who died in New York recently. Thomas, who returned from New York but a few days ago, declared that although the total value of the estate is not known definitely, it is estimated at several millions of dollars.

In Guadeloupe, an island in the West Indies, belonging to France, is the greater part of the fortune. Fox is known on every island of the West Indies group. Mr. Fox was noted for his business in business deals. His credit was unlimited, his brother says.

For 25 years in succession he stayed at one hotel in New York, but very few knew that he was possessed of such wealth. He was a member of several clubs. As Mr. Fox had been going to the island since boyhood he had become very popular with the natives, who mourn his loss.

Thomas Fox and his brother intend to continue their business in the city even after the estate is settled. Their sons, however, will take up the business of the deceased brother, they say.

Joseph Fox is at present in New York, and Thomas intends to return to the metropolis in about ten days. Later he will sail for Guadeloupe to view the property in which he is to share.

NO CHANGE MADE IN GOVERNMENT PLANS FOR FEDERAL SQUARE

H. Cronyn, M. P., Writes of Situation.

Major Hume Cronyn, M. P., has written to the city council in reference to the federal square proposal, stating that as he was unable to see the mayor when last in London, and as he is going to the West, he returns the correspondence in the matter.

Reporting on progress in the matter, Major Cronyn states that the situation is in practically the same position as when the deputation from the city was in Ottawa.

Carefully Considered. The minister of militia has given the most careful consideration to the question of the federal square, and has been advised thereon by Gen. Elliott, head of the ordinance department, and by Col. Biggar, judge advocate general, and has declined to do anything in the matter of the King street property, and suggests that, if the council desires to pursue the matter further along these lines, it should write him asking him to submit his recommendation to the council in the matter.

100,000 WORKMEN IN CHICAGO ARE IDLE DUE TO LOCKOUT

Building Operations in Illinois Metropolis At a Standstill.

Chicago, July 18.—Building operations in Chicago are at a standstill today, and more than 100,000 workmen are idle, as a result of the lockout ordered by the executive committee of the Building Construction Employers' Association of Chicago. Yesterday, the organization, which includes in its membership every building contractor in the city, issued an ultimatum, declaring that unless the members of the carpenters, lathers, ironworkers, and other trades, returned to work by 8 o'clock this morning, their joint trade wage contracts, which run until 1921, the buildings would be indefinitely suspended all operations.

The strikers ignored the threat, and refused to return to work as requested. The union committee, which is the executive committee of the building employers, sent a letter by special messenger to the strikers, advising them to return to work immediately, and threatening to take legal action.

CHINA BETRAYED BY THE ALLIES, STATES SHERMAN

Peace Treaty Makes Japan So Strong as To Be a Menace.

MIKADO "ASIATIC KAISER"
Giving of Shantung To Japan Called "Superlative Treachery."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—"The peace treaty makes Japan so strong that the mikado will in time become an Asiatic kaiser, challenging the whole world," Senator Sherman declared today, in attacking the treaty in the Senate.

He denounced the action of the peace conference in giving Shantung to Japan, as "the superlative treachery of modern times."

"Japan," he warned, "will gradually absorb China and menace the world. In that day the United States may be forced to appeal for help to the Chinese, in the dismemberment of whose empire this Government has been made a partner."

Betrayal of China. "The United States has either been over-reached by more capable diplomats, or the indifference of those who are to respond from the neutral nations to the call of our president against enemies."

"China, trusting the United States, the Allies and associated nations at the peace table, finds itself facing another step in the dismemberment of her country. She finds, too, that the United States joins with those who would plunder her territory and rob her of her people. This is done when we were preaching to the world confidence in each other and universal peace based upon justice to all, the strong and the weak alike."

Superlative Treachery. "The perfidy of China, the mistreatment of talents and the poison of the professed altruism with which the league of nations was set up to the world, to crown it the most superlative treachery in the history of modern times."

"It is as plain as the noon-day sun that the Japanese Government is autocratic and that it will add Chinese province upon province, concession upon concession, until an Asiatic kaiser is crowned with all the modern implements of scientific destruction in war will dominate the affairs of the Pacific Ocean. Such a concentrated power is never at rest. In time it is a certainty that Macedonia produced in Alexander, or the French Revolution in Napoleon."

Present Rate Would Re-enlist Whole Army by Spring.

3,000,000 DEMOBILIZED

1,200,000, Still on Strength, Will Soon Be Cut To 600,000.

LONDON, July 17.—(Reuter Dispatch).—Winston Churchill, in a memorandum on the strength of the army, says recruiting for the regular army is proceeding satisfactorily, 209,000 voluntary recruits having already been obtained.

If the present rate of enlistment is maintained the probability is that all men who actually fought in the war will be re-enlisted before April 30 next. Since the armistice nearly three millions have been demobilized, the aggregate remaining on the strength, including volunteer regulars, being 1,200,000. By the end of the year this figure will be reduced by about one-half, leaving approximately 600,000 men under arms.

For the present no reduction can be made in the strength of the army in the middle east, including Egypt and India. It is hoped, however, that as demobilized men in India will be replaced by regulars by the end of the year. In the case of the middle east it will be necessary to effect relief by regular troops as soon as these are available.

KALAHORE CUP WON BY MOTHER COUNTRY AT BISLEY THURSDAY

Australian Team Receives the Colonial Cup—Canadians Away Down in Scores.

BISLEY CAMP, July 17.—In the Kalahore cup, 10 shots at 300, 500 and 600 yards for teams of eight, the Canadian scores were:

At 300 yards—Vincent, 33; Hutchinson, 40; Martin, 41; W. Morris, 42; Smelser, 39; Goodhouse, 40; Hatch, 40; McInnes, 42. Total, 325. Mother country total, 312; New Zealand, 324; South Africa, 428.

The scores at 500 yards were—Vincent, 41; Hutchinson, 40; Martin, 41; W. Morris, 43; Smelser, 44; Goodhouse, 46; Hatch, 38; McInnes, 43. Total, 343. Mother country total, 374; Australia, 356; New Zealand, 325; South Africa, 330.

Some excellent shooting by the mother country team was shown. Capt. Maxwell of the Suffolk Regiment scored a possible at 600. Dr. Kelly of London University shot a possible at 500. Sergeant A. G. Fulton, former King's cup prize-winner, dropped two points. Major Parrell of the Kensington Regiment dropped three points.

In the 600 yards shoot the Canadian scores were:

Vincent, 46; Hutchinson, 37; Martin, 42; W. Morris, 46; Smelser, 40; Goodhouse, 43; Hatch, 44; McInnes, 43. Total, 345. Aggregate all distances: Mother country 344; aggregate 1,059; Australia 322; aggregate 925; South Africa 329, aggregate 985.

The mother country, therefore, wins the Kalahore cup. Australia secures the Colonial cup. One Australian scored 49 at 600 yards. Fulton made 44, finishing with an outer. The Corporation of London cup test, however, will be primarily a colonial one, the association announcement adds, and most of his time will be spent in Canada.

It was understood that the prince during his visit to the United States will go to Washington to make a call on President Wilson, but that the other plans for his tour of that country have not been completed.

PRINCE WILL VISIT U. S. WHILE ON TOUR

LONDON, July 17.—The Prince of Wales will visit the United States during his coming trip, the press association states today. The prince's tour, however, will be primarily a colonial one, the association announcement adds, and most of his time will be spent in Canada.

SPENT A SMALL FORTUNE, HE SAYS

Chappell Suffered Fifteen Years Before Finding Relief—Praises Tanlac.

Remarkable, indeed, was the statement made by W. D. Chappell, a well-known painter and paperhanger, living at 311 South Franklin street, St. Paul, Minn., while in the St. Paul Drug Company's store recently, Mr. Chappell declared that three bottles of Tanlac have done him more real good than other treatment and medicines that cost him a small fortune, which he has paid out during the past fifteen years, trying to get rid of a bad case of stomach trouble and kidney complaint.

"For fifteen years," said Mr. Chappell, "I have suffered from stomach trouble and painful, disordered kidneys. My appetite was gone, and the gas from what little I did eat would blast me up terribly, causing intense pains in my left side and about my heart. My kidneys disturbed me so at night that I never averaged more than about three hours' sleep, and the pains in my back were so bad that it was agony for me to bend over and straighten up. I was also badly constipated and felt tired out all the time. I have spent a small fortune trying to get rid of these troubles, but the only good worse. This spring I got in such a bad shape I was forced to quit work entirely."

"A man I know personally, one whose word I could not doubt recommended Tanlac to me, and while I have taken only three bottles so far, the medicine has done me more real good than everything else I have taken combined, and I am still taking it and improving right along. My stomach feels almost like a new one, and my kidneys are in much better shape. I am sleeping better at night than I have in years, and I get up in the mornings feeling like work. My appetite is so good that I just want to eat all the time, and since the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I am not troubled any more with pains in my side or about my heart. Tanlac commenced to build me up before I had finished the first bottle, and I have been steadily improving ever since. I had about given up hope of ever finding a medicine that would help me, so you may know how thankful I am that Tanlac came my way, and how glad I am to pass the good word along."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

COCONUT OIL FINE For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain, unsifted coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better.

When you are using else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and pour it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly.

The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, buoyant and easy to manage.

You can get multifaceted coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

HER name is Henrita F. Ried, and 10,000 men and women are under her direction. Imagine it—a woman managing director of one of the largest organizations in the world and vice-president of all its subsidiary companies! A woman consulted on all the company's affairs! The rise of Henrita Ried sounds like a fairy story. How did this brilliant Kentucky girl get her start? What is there in this wonderful woman's story which will help you to make a greater success in your present position?

You will find the answers to your questions in Helen Christine Bennett's inspiring account in Pictorial Review for August. She calls it "A Woman of Big Business". It is another of Pictorial Review's big fact-stories of successful American women.

WINIFRED BLACK

Writes About "Human Flowers."

Copyright, 1919, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

Yesterday someone sent me a basket of beautiful white and lavender orchids, and one of the faintest rose color.

They were like butterflies fluttering from the bright sunshine a moment, and lighting for a brief instant in the quiet.

So frail, so delicate, so brilliantly beautiful—they reminded me of a beautiful woman I know whose skin is all too fair and whose eyes are all too bright.

She will not live long, they say, and she has not much strength or will for the simple, homely ways of life.

She sleeps late in the morning, and when she appears in the garden or on the street she is always perfectly dressed—in soft colors of exquisite hue.

Like An Orchid.

Apple green, faint rose, delicate lavender and some shades of pale emerald blue which matches almost exactly the soft azure of her liquid eyes.

Delicate, sensitive, gentle in all her ways, fine—but with a depth of warm affection, no strength of merely human love.

Like an orchid she is exactly for orchids have no perfume, and they aren't surrounded with the green leaves that deck and garnish the homely garden flowers—as the simple, kindly virtues do and garnish the plain little woman we know and love, when we have forgotten the orchid lady entirely.

The wind rustled the vines at the window, and I started as if a serpent moved at the casement.

So I went into the garden and looked at the pink and the hollyhocks and the sweet peas, and then I cut a double and a little mignonette, and a spray of old-fashioned bow, low and broad and shallow, and into that bowl I put the roses and the mignonette and the hollyhocks.

And the room was suddenly filled with sunshine, and with the laughter of children, and with the songs of birds, and with the breath of the clean, sweet breeze singing in from the clean, sweet sea.

And I took the lovely orchids and name.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCIFFE.

She Discusses the Various Advantages of a Suit of Charmeuse Satin.

"Yes, indeed, I am making light silk suits in great profusion," Madame said in answer to an inquiry from Mrs. Linnard.

"I saw several of your poplin suits earlier in the season, but I thought I'd like a suit of rough weave pongee in one of the paler tones of blue," Mrs. Linnard said, as she settled comfortably into a chair to discuss her suit while the girls modeled for her benefit.

"Of course, blue pongee is always pretty and certainly very reasonable," Madame remarked. "But I am developing some of my most effective suits in charmeuse satin."

"Charmeuse satin?" exclaimed Mrs. Linnard. "I always associated that material with dresses."

"With dresses, of course," replied Madame, "but why not with suits also?"

"I line the coats with white or with a line the coats with white or with a contrasting shade of charmeuse, and the double thickness of the satin gives just the necessary weight to the material without any undue discomfort on an excessively warm day. For moon-tain and seashore wear this fabric is ideal in all the lovely light colors, pink, blue, orchid, white, yellow and even American Beauty I am featuring," Madame said.

"That sounds lovely!" Mrs. Linnard exclaimed.

"Another advantage of these charmeuse suits is found in the fact that the coats may be worn separately with white skirts and blouses. They make admirable substitutes for the more commonplace sweaters."

"Your suggestion of charmeuse apparently carries infinite possibilities," Mrs. Linnard remarked, as I appeared on the stage in this suit of pale pink charmeuse lined with yellow.

"Oh, that's simply exquisite!" Mrs. Linnard continued, as I walked toward her. "The combination of the two pale tints of pink and yellow is lovely—that blouse is a poem."

"I came nearer, so she could examine the details of the costume."

"That slashing of the sleeves is lovely, because it shows the undersleeves so beautifully. And the trimming of buttons and bound buttonholes makes just the right finish."

"I thought you would like it," Madame smiled. "The blouse is dainty, isn't it?" she inquired.

"Deliciously dainty!" Mrs. Linnard declared. "Those little tucked squares of white organdie joined with the Val insertion are certainly effective.

"The line of this coat is very pleasing," Madame remarked. "You see, I have varied the turned-back bustle revers with this overlapping pocket, which continues as a border around the coat."

"Yes, that line is very distinctive, Madame, and with the beautiful color and sheen of the fabric it makes a perfect toke ensemble. I particularly like the neck binding and tie of yellow and the further accenting of that color in the skirt."

"I make this organdie accessory either as a vest or a blouse," Madame explained, "depending entirely on how you prefer it."

"I should want a blouse. It seems a pity not to wear anything so perfect occasionally without a coat. I like the costume just as it is, Madame, and if the hat is becoming I'll order that too."

Mrs. Linnard then tried on this hat of pink satin straw, which is made with a slashed upturned brim. It was extremely becoming to her, and she ordered this entire costume reproduced.

HOW WITCHY PERCH AND THE MERBOYS BECAME FRIENDS.

Once upon a time, long, long ago, there lived down at the bottom of a lake among the fishes and frogs a band of merry Merboys.

Everybody loved them dearly, even Witchy Perch, who knew the Merboys made fun of her ugly mouth and sharp horny fins.

She tried her very best to make them like her in return, but the Merboys only laughed and called her "Witchy Perch" because she was so very ugly.

All these things made Witchy Perch very unhappy. She knew she was dreadfully ugly compared with the dear little Merboys, with their long shining tails all covered with sparkling scales, their big blue eyes and long golden hair, and she did everything she could think of to make them forget her ugliness.

"Pretty as a pretty do!" Witchy Perch said to herself one day when the Merboys had teased her more than usual, "so I'll just be kind and good, and maybe they'll forget my ugly mouth and bleary eyes," and two great, big tears rolled down Witchy Perch's shiny face and splashed in the water.

"I tell you!" exclaimed a croaky voice right near a pile of stones, "I've been watching them myself, and I think they must be nice and sweet if they're so plump and pretty."

Witchy Perch picked up her fins and listened with all her might. "Sounds like a Golpin-goo-goo," she whispered to herself, and flipping her little fins ever so lightly so as not to make any noise, Witchy Perch sailed around there, sitting on their great, long, black tails, twirling their thumbs, sat three great, big, ugly Golpin-goo-goo-gos.

Now, in Waterland, Golpin-goo-goo-gos are terrible creatures, and even Witchy Perch had to hold her fins very quiet to keep from swimming away, she was so frightened.

"Plump and sweet is right!" laughed a second Golpin-goo-goo, "smacking his great, big, red lips. 'I've always heard that Merboys made a good dinner. Let's hurry and find them. I'm almost starved.'"

Witchy Perch shook from her head to her tail. She knew the little Merboys were having a frolic over by the big rocks. She could hear them laughing and shouting at the tops of their voices. So flipping her fins ever so fast she hurried to them to warn them of their danger.

The Merboys, on spying her, began making fun of her in such loud tones they couldn't hear what she was saying, and before Witchy Perch could get a second breath the great big, ugly Golpin-goo-goo-gos swept down upon the Merboys.

There was nothing left for Witchy Perch to do but to open her great, big, ugly mouth, and as the first Golpin-goo-goo-goo sailed toward her she swallowed him right down, tail and all. She was seeing the dreadful fate of his brother, turned and fled, taking the third Golpin-goo-goo with him.

As the big, ugly, black tail disappeared down Witchy Perch's throat the Merboys looked at one another very much ashamed, for they knew they had saved their lives.

They crowded around Witchy Perch and thanked her.

"And to think the very mouth we've made so much fun of was the thing that saved our lives!" they whispered to each other, and they begged Witchy Perch to forgive them for all the mean things they had said about her.

"Certainly will," laughed Witchy Perch, flipping her tail and fins with joy.

"Why!" cried the Merboys, as they watched her shiny tail splash in the sunlight. "You're not nearly so ugly as we thought you were."

"That's because I've just done you a kindness," replied Witchy Perch, "which makes me very happy, and happiness makes every one better looking, you know," replied Witchy Perch. "So let's let bygones be bygones and all be friends."

Refreshes Tired Faces

Stop that cough!

Don't let it master you, for a continuous cough is "dangerous. Attack it with a remedy that will quickly stop irritation of the respiratory organs and at the same time build up the body for permanent resistance. Ask your druggist or dealer for—Robert's SYRUP OF 35¢ Cod Liver Oil & TarAs the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent-ionic lotion should be used these days. Dissolve an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half-pint of witch hazel. Rub the face in this and see how quickly the wrinkles and furrows will disappear—and how much younger you will look! There's nothing better for sagging cheeks or double chin, or for enlarged pores.
Use this simple lotion during the heat of the day and you will find it wonderfully refreshing. You will lose that wilted, tired look. The ingredients, of course, are perfectly harmless. Be sure to ask the druggist for powdered saxolite.—Adv.

H.B. Morphy Is Invited to Join "Union" Cabinet

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRAITFORD, July 17.—It is learned on authoritative information from Ottawa today that H. B. Morphy, M. P. for North Perth, has been invited to join the Union cabinet as secretary of state. Mr. Morphy had been mentioned previously in connection with the post of solicitor-general.

Such an appointment would necessitate a by-election in North Perth and the contest would be a lively one.

MENNONITES FINED $5 AND COSTS FOR NOT OBEYING LAW

Appeal May Be Taken To the Privy Council.

WINNIPEG, July 17.—Guilt with a fine of $5 and costs, was the judgment given in the cases of eleven Mennonites charged with unlawfully neglecting to send their children to school or make satisfactory provision for their education by Magistrate C. C. Milne, of Morden, Man.

The charges, which were laid by the Government of Manitoba, constitute a test of whether the Mennonites are immune from the acts of the provincial government so far as education is concerned or not. One of the 11 cases will be appealed as a test case and will be taken by the Mennonites to the highest judicial authority in the empire.

This year the Government sent a teacher to Morden to teach the Mennonite children English, and no one came to school. The prosecutions were then started.

The defence put forward was that the Dominion Government by an order-in-council had granted the Mennonites their arrival in Canada in 1874 the fullest privilege of exercising their religious principles and educating their children as provided by law, without any kind of molestation or restriction whatever. The prosecution, however, claimed that there was no statute under which such order-in-council could be issued, nor was there any statute under which the Federal Government at that time could enter into such agreement.

FORD SPENT $80,000 IN FIGHT AGAINST 'OVER-PREPAREDNESS'

Advertising Man Gives This Information To Jury.

HIS EFFORTS REVIEWED

Said Germany Merely Beat England and France To It in Invading Belgium.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
MR. CLEMENS, Mich., July 17.—It cost Henry Ford $80,000 to circulate three full-page advertisements in leading American newspapers issued during 1916, to combat what the one-time pacifist now refers to as "over-preparedness."

The information was given to the jury in Mr. Ford's million dollar suit against the Chicago Tribune, in Judge Jackson's court today, by Kirkland B. Alexander, former Detroit newspaperman, now in the advertising business. Mr. Alexander told the jury the advertisements were paid for on a basis of 4,000,000 circulation.

Elliot G. Stevenson, senior Tribune counsel, repeatedly referred to the "hundreds of thousands of dollars" spent by Mr. Ford in his peace publicity campaign, and Alfred Lucking, who objected on the ground that the total amount was not believed to be more than $20,000.

Mr. Alexander's figures did not include pamphlets, mailing and correspondence. Mr. Alexander said he afterward, in December, 1917, went to the Ford plant to interview Mr. Ford for magazine purposes. The first interview was brief, but Mr. Alexander was invited to luncheon with Mr. Ford, Mr. Lucking and others.

"Mr. Ford is a man of a general conversation," said Mr. Alexander, "and that is why Germany had invaded Belgium and France to it. He said he believed Germany was ready for peace, but that when Mr. Ford over in his peace ship he was not able to see the Kaiser."

Selling Motors to Government.
"Mr. Ford was selling liberty motors to the Government at the time, but he remarked that he did not do it for profit and that he did not consider them munitions of war."

Referring to the effect of the Russian situation on the value of their bonds, Mr. Ford stated that many were held by widows and orphans in this country, and Mr. Ford said "Tell him to work."

"He said the war would be ended if all the kings, emperors and presidents had to get into the trenches themselves."

Henry Ford's reported flag remark will not do. After the multi-millionaire had listened with various degrees of pleasure to an article by John Reed about Mr. Ford in the Metropolitan for October, 1916, he was confronted by this extract from the article when he returned to the cross-examination of Elliott G. Stevenson.

Designing New Flag.
"I am going to keep an American flag flying on my plant until the war is over, and then I am going to hoist it in the flag of the new nation, which is being designed in my office right now."

"Did you tell Mr. Reed that you did not believe in nations and boundaries?" asked Mr. Stevenson.
"I don't believe I talked with Mr. Reed about boundaries."

"Did you say 'I think nations are silly and flags are silly, too'?"
"I don't know of using the word 'silly' to him or anybody."

"If the country is rotten, then the flag is rotten and nobody ought to respect it?"
"No, sir."

"Did you say the munitions makers, the militarists and the crooked politicians use flags to get people excited when they want to fool them?"
"I may have said that, yes."

Then Mr. Stevenson read from the Metropolitan an article laudatory of Mr. Ford, praising him as a genuine who had devoted his attention to making motor cars, but intended to devote it to social reformation. The article also gave Mr. Ford's ideas from political economy to socialism.

Mr. Ford modestly admitted the story might be "a little exaggerated." He said he did not consider himself a great Democrat, although the article said he was; neither was he able to remember how much his mansion in Dearborn cost; it might have been a million or it might have been more. He really did not recall the amount.

When court adjourned, counsel were arguing over the admission of another literary library to the time an interview with Mr. Ford in the so-called "patriotic number" of San Francisco Bulletin. Published during his visit to San Francisco Exposition in fall of 1915.

LABOR PROBLEMS TO BE FULLY DISCUSSED AT OTTAWA MEETING

Industrial Relations Conference Will Be Open To Public.

MANY VITAL TOPICS

Minimum Wage and Collective Bargaining Among the Subjects.

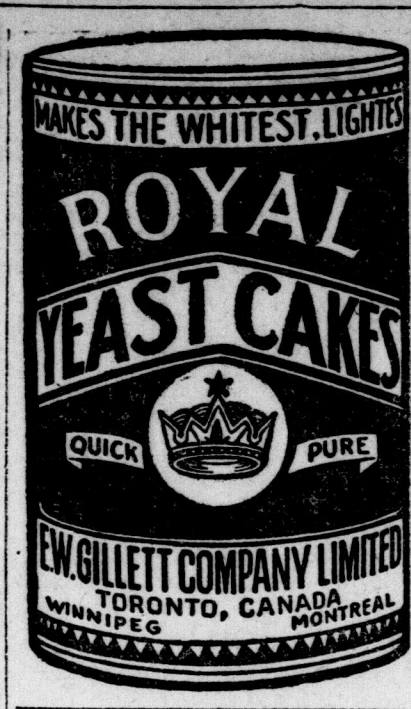

OTTAWA, July 17.—The recommendations of the royal commission on industrial relations for a national conference in Ottawa of federal and provincial ministers with representative employers and workmen on the subject of industrial relations has been accepted by an order-in-council adopted today, which outlines also the basis of representation, the proposed form of procedure and the objects in view.

The conference sessions will be held in the House of Commons chamber, beginning on September 11, and will probably continue for about one week. They will be open to the press and public.

Invitations will be extended to the several provincial governments to be represented by their respective prime ministers and any other ministers who may be designated for the purpose.

All Branches of Trade.
Employers and employees will each be invited by the minister of labor to select approximately 60 representatives to appear for them at the conference. The selection to be arranged through the representative association of employers on the one hand and through the representative bodies of organized labor on the other, in such a way as to make the gathering as representative as possible of all branches of trade and industry throughout Canada. It is expected that the members of the royal commission on industrial relations and representatives of engineering and technical organizations will be invited. The total number of persons attending the conference will not exceed 150 in all. The arrangements for the conference will be made by the Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor.

Agenda Prepared.
A suggested agenda has been prepared by the labor sub-committee of the reconstruction committee of the cabinet, based on the report of the royal commission on industrial rela-

Germany Building Noiseless Airplanes

BERNE, July 17.—According to Ecken dispatches to Swiss newspapers, German manufacturers, after lengthy experiments, have succeeded in creating a gasoline turbine. The engine, it is asserted, will enable an airplane to fly virtually without noise.

The dispatches add that several airplanes fitted with the new engines are being constructed. They will have a capacity of 6 passengers each.

Is Dieting Necessary?

Many medical men prescribe a strict diet for liver troubles of all kinds. The patient must avoid fat and rich food, butter, pastry and sauces.

But scientific study has proven that maladies of the liver and kidneys may be avoided and all the inconvenience of dieting rendered unnecessary if the proper treatment is prescribed.

Dieting is an unnatural method of treating liver and kidneys complaints. Primitive peoples, who live as nature intended them to live, do not know the meaning of dieting. They make their own remedies from herbs and roots and these remedies are highly beneficial.

In modern times intensive research work has been done to find out the causes of liver and kidney troubles. Doctor Clement's Liver Pills are now recognized as the most scientific remedy for all diseases caused by disordered stomach, liver and kidneys.

They bring about a regular, even action of these organs, and thus keep the whole system in a healthy, virile condition.

They cure rheumatism, lumbago, backache, uric acid poisoning, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, inflammation and other bladder troubles. They will keep your system in a healthy condition and make dieting unnecessary.

Your druggist will supply you.

BRITISH LOAN TOTALS 708 MILLION POUNDS

LONDON, July 17.—Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the House of Commons today that the recent issue of the funding loan amounted to £274,000,000. He said the victory bonds issue amounted to £285,000,000. The total conversions of old issues to new were £189,000,000, making a grand total of £708,000,000 for the loan.

PREFER 8-HOUR DAY A WEEK TO 9 HOURS WITH HALF-HOLIDAY

BRANTFORD, July 17.—A vote taken here today among 120 works department employees of the city showed a majority of four in favor of working eight hours a day for six days a week, rather than nine hours per day for five days, with Saturday afternoons off.

Civic authorities expressed surprise at the result of the referendum and Mayor MacBride announced tonight that he deemed another vote would be advisable, as it would be better for all interests to have Saturday afternoons off for the men.

DOMINION TIRES

Royal Cord

The Ideal Touring Tires

Blow-outs and punctures are the bane of the touring motorists. Don't spoil your trip by being held up by such accidents. Equip your car, front and rear, with "DOMINION ROYAL CORD" TIRES.

The tens of thousands of sinewy cords, laid in compact layers and each imbedded in pure rubber, make a tire structure and tire wall free of friction, puncture-proof and practically blow-out proof.

More than this, "DOMINION ROYAL CORD" TIRES in themselves are shock absorbers and prevent side-slipping.

Careful tests also prove that a car equipped with "DOMINION ROYAL CORD" TIRES makes more miles per gallon of gasoline than the same car can make on fabric tires. This means a big saving in actual cash, when touring.

DOMINION INNER TUBES are the touring mates of Dominion Tires. They are made of the same high grade materials; they go well together; and they insure perfectly balanced tires.

No Motor is Better Than its Spark Plugs

You may have the best motor in the world, but it cannot produce maximum power without efficient spark plugs.

On the same principle a spark plug is no better than its insulator which although a seemingly insignificant part of your motor or engine, must withstand the same hammering blows of gas explosions and the same rapid expansion as the steel cylinder in which it is placed. That is where 3450 insulators in

Champion

Dependable Spark Plugs demonstrate their Superiority.

3450 separate experiments have produced in Champion insulators a material so much like steel in its ability to take the hardest kind of punishment that it is practically indestructible.

Do you wonder that four out of five gasoline motors and engines have Champion Plugs as standard equipment?

There is a type of Champion Plug that will enable your motor or engine to produce its highest efficiency no matter what its make or what it is used for.

Any spark plug with "Champion" on the insulator is guaranteed to give you satisfactory service.

IRON FOR STRENGTH

You need iron in the blood! Every healthy man or woman should have about as much iron in his or her body as there is in an ordinary railroad spike. To gain this iron, the best way is to take Tonal-iron Capsules, a combination of iron in its most soluble form, recently discovered, and now having a marvelous sale. Tonal-iron Capsules are a form of iron readily taken up by the blood. The blood cells get round, rich red in color, the cheeks are pink, the appetite improves, and one feels full of "energy" and "vigor"—instead of tired before the day is half done. The eyes take on a lustre and the body feels that tingle which one gets from a cold bath. For sale and guaranteed by all good druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of $1. Tonal-iron Laboratories, Box 134, London, Ont.

CAPACITY AUDIENCES

SEE "SOME BRIDE"

AT GRAND THEATRE

Charming Viola Dana in Clever Comedy Drama Supported by All-Star Cast.

"Some Bride," the clever comedy-drama at the Grand this week, is drawing capacity audiences to every performance. The film, which is one of the best of the season, is a beautiful beginning to end, featuring beautiful and charming Viola Dana.

The story shows that, although a young bride with "can't believe" eyes may like to flirt, she is skating on thin ice. Patricia, lucky enough to have a rich friend who is full of love to give Henry a lesson in the ways of his needless jealousy and at the same time, show the harmlessness of Patricia's flirtations.

How they succeed is cleverly shown in a play which is filled with brilliant and amusing situations. The ending is a happy one and the young husband admits that he has "SOME BRIDE."

Miss Dana is supported by a cast of major players which includes such artists as Irving Cummings, Ruth Sinclair, Billy Mason and Florence Carpenter.

"Blanche Boyd," "The Chameleon Comedienne," a very pretty, petite young lady and a comedienne of much versatility, presents a most original specialty which she bills under the title of "Chameleon Comedienne," consisting of a series of instantaneous changes made in full view of the audience.

Other men's wives, MAJESTIC FEATURE, DELIGHTS AUDIENCES

Dorothy Dalton never has been seen to better advantage than in her latest film, "Other Men's Wives," which played to large audiences at the Majestic on Thursday. This charming screen star is always a box office attraction, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. The story is a strong one, with situations that make the movie fans wonder what comes next. It is the tale of an American girl who, although separated from the luxuries to which she was used, wins her way in the world.

"Cynthia has been reared to be an ornament," said Miss Dalton, in connection with her new characterization, "and she knows of no way to support herself when bereft of her means. Circumstances may have forced her into a compromising situation, but she is determined to do something against which she naturally revolted, but from which she could not escape."

She was forced by clever intrigue to try to force an unsuspecting man into a compromising situation, get a divorce, but while she has never been trained to earn her own way, she has been taught what was right and in the great critical moment her better self triumphs.

She throws off the sham of society and makes herself independent even to the extent of a bare bread and butter fight. In the right mettle, she succeeds. Thus she is a character to be admired, for she has been an actor for the fight.

Jane Holden, a famous contralto, formerly of Sousa's Band, delighted the house with her singing. This excellent performance is concluded by a first-class comedy and a news film. It should draw capacity houses at all showings today.

"THE SPARK DIVINE"

IS APPEALING PLAY

AT THE PATRICIA

Alice Joyce Starring in Excellent Picture Now Showing.

Alice Joyce has a role of fine appeal in "The Spark Divine," her newest picture, which was presented at the Patricia Theatre yesterday and will be repeated today and Saturday. The story was written specially for the star cast as Marcia, the young wife and mother who married, although convinced she never could love anybody because of her unhappy childhood. Marcia's husband married, equally confident that he could find way eventually to awaken the divine spark of love in his wife, and the story centers about his heroic and finally successful endeavors.

Tom Terriss directed the picture, and the cast are William Carlton Jun., Eula He Jensen, Frank Norcross and Mary Carr.

In addition to this feature film, an 11-10 comedy, "A Pair of Stickers," a Mutt and Jeff animated cartoon are shown. Both are replete with exciting and funny situations.

In vaudeville, White and Brown, two clever character vaudevilleans, present a comedy singing and sketch act. The entire program is commendable in every respect.

PEACE DAY CELEBRATION

AT PORT STANLEY WILL BE CONTINUOUS PROGRAM

Sensational Airplane Flights, Fancy Dress Carnival, Fire-works and Band Concerts Provide Day-Long Amusement.

Sensational events on land, water and in the air, following each other in rapid fire order from early morning until midnight; afternoon and evening band concerts by two of the finest bands in Ontario; a fancy dress carnival with patriotic character; a Charlie Chaplin feature; spinning nose dives, the loop-a-loop, and finally the dive of death, Lieut. Nesbet, late of the Royal Air Force, in an army biplane; a ninety-minute program of brilliant fireworks. These are the high spots in the most stupendous program ever staged at Port Stanley, which will mark the celebration of the Empire-wide Peace Victory Day at Port Stanley tomorrow.

The engagement of Lieut. Nesbet for an early evening performance at Port Stanley last night as the capstone of a day of high-priced special attractions.

Sensational Air Stunts.
The young officer will fly to Port Stanley and immediately upon his arrival he will take to a position just above Lake Erie. There he will work a box of tricks that mark the most hazardous exploits developed by the madmen of the Canadian Air Force in their service against the Hun. He will open up with various types of stunts, passes to demonstrate the death-defying vertical to the stars, and then he will suddenly tip the nose of his machine upward and throw a flip as he reverses direction.

The "Immelmann turn," executed at the greatest risk—will stop the hearts of the breathing spectators, but it will be but a prelude to feats which will progressively more regardless of fate or consequence. Following at once will come the seldom-ventured loop-the-loop and a succession of twists, turns, loops and all, and then the climax—reproduction of the fall that ended the life of the German ace Boelcke.

Just before he flies away from Port Stanley on his return trip to London, he will spend some time in the air, throwing at the cafeteria, rides on the meals railway, refreshments at L. & P. S. R. booths, or the privileges of the bath-house.

The airplane attraction was booked last night through T. W. Logan, manager of the Majestic Theatre.

Continuous Program.
The sports program will open at 3 o'clock in the morning, and throughout the day an evening new and amazing features will be staged in a veritable continuous performance.

The annual picnic of the McCleary Manufacturing Company had been postponed for tomorrow before the appointment of the King. The McCleary Company, once agreed to co-operate with the London and Port Stanley Railway to the extent of furnishing many special attractions for land and water sports.

The aquatic sports will include several contests for cash prizes as follows: Walking the greasy pole, prize $25; swimming race, prize $25; 50 yds. race, prize $25; 100 yds. race, prize $25; 200 yds. race, prize $25;
