BISHOP OF CORK ORDERS HUNGER STRIKERS TO EAT, BUT COMMANDS ARE DISOBEYED BY PRISONERS

Nuns Prepare Food, But Offer Is Rejected by All—Church Official Appeals to Sinn Fein Leaders To Release Men From Promises.

Cork, Ireland, Oct. 30.—Bishop Cohalan of Cork visited the jail yesterday and peremptorily ordered the hunger strikers there to take food. All of them refused. Thereupon Bishop Cohalan instructed the nuns attending the hunger strikers to prepare food. The nuns, having no alternative, obeyed the command and offered food to each of the prisoners, but all refused it.

Bishop Cohalan now is appealing personally to the Sinn Fein leaders to release the prisoners from their hunger strike. At noon today they had completed the 80th day of their fast. Michael Burke collapsed this morning. Sean Hennessy and Thomas Donovan are reported to be very low.

MEIGHEN UPHOLDS GOVERNMENT RECORD

Premier Meets With Interruptions From Audience At Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 30.—Canadian Press.—Premier Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder addressed two meetings in Vancouver last night. While Mr. Meighen was delivering an address in the ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver, Mr. Calder spoke at the Allen Theatre. Both places were crowded to the doors and a great many persons were unable to gain admission. Interruptions at both meetings were frequent. The opening statement of the prime minister was greeted with applause mingled with jeers.

"If some of those present persist in trying to prevent a presentation of the government's side," he said, "I must accept that as a compliment to the strength of the case. Those who do not fear the presentation of their opponents' side will readily allow it to be given a hearing." (Cheers.)

He dwelt briefly on Canada's achievements in the war, and how Canadians had distinguished themselves on the battlefields; said that leading newspapers which formerly opposed the former union government did not now dare to challenge its record; and declared that more had been done for the returned soldiers in Canada than in any other belligerent country.

Eulogizes Land Settlement.

Mr. Calder eulogized the land settlement scheme established by the government, which, he said, was the best in the world. There were 27,000 returned men on the land, he asserted. In conclusion, evidently referring to the interruptions, he said: "Well, we have all had a good time."

The premier's voice showed evidence of the strain to which it had been subjected during the day, which was the most strenuous experienced so far on the western tour, including their presentations of addresses of welcome and their public meetings.

Referring to the Grand Trunk Railway, Premier Meighen stated that as far back as 1918, Sir Robert Borden told the House of Commons that the railway would be acquired, and the then opposition leader had replied that he had no objections. They had gone to parliament with no bargain closed, as the leader of the opposition had asserted at Victoria. No government under the British North America Act could possibly ignore parliament, as had been alleged. They could be beaten at any time by a majority of one, he said.

Someone shouted: "Resign!"

"The government will resign the moment it occurs," retorted the premier. Judging from recent votes, that was unlikely.

KING OF BELGIANS HONORS DR. BELAND

For "Generous, Brave and Devoted Services" at the Hospital of Ste. Elizabeth in Antwerp during the war. Hon. Dr. H. S. Beland, M. P., has received the title of the Most Distinguished Order of the Crown of Belgium from King Albert.

IN TIGHTS, SCHOOL GIRLS GIVE SHOCK TO TOWN'S CLERGY

Nyack, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Six Nyack girls, four of them school girls, who displayed their movie ambitions in tights on the stage of a local theatre, have this town all excited.

The church element, led by Rev. J. R. Latham and others, professes to be shocked. The bachelor faction of the population, both young and old, is excited also.

The trouble began when the manager of a theatre offered a chance to boys and girls with movie ambitions to get into real pictures. The boys were more or less backward, but six girls jumped at the chance, and the film was duly produced. After a shimmie exhibition came a view of "bathing beauties," with the girls in tights.

Rev. Sartell Prentice, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, who was among the spectators, immediately left the theatre. He took his son with him. After that things began to happen.

WRANGEL MAKES READY FOR DRIVE OF BOLSHEVIKI

Anti-Soviet Leader Drawing Lines Tighter.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—Gen. Baron Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia, is drawing in his lines preparatory to expected attacks by the Russian soviet forces, according to advices received here from the Southern Russian front.

Gen. Wrangel has given up Orlekhov, but is repulsing the Bolsheviki, who are attempting to cross the Dnieper at Aleshki, southeast of Kherson, and other points.

MURDERED MAN IS IDENTIFIED; FORMER CANADIAN SOLDIER

Chicago, Oct. 30.—"The ragged stranger," for whose murder Carl Wanderer was sentenced yesterday to 25 years' imprisonment, was identified today as John Barrett, ex-Canadian soldier. The identification was made at the county morgue by Herbert Potter, also a Canadian, who said he had known Barrett well for some time prior to the murder.

He led detectives to a hotel where he said Barrett had been staying.

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO ARREST MEXICANS WHO KILLED AMERICAN

Mexico City, Oct. 30.—Every effort is being made to apprehend the criminals who held up and killed Arthur Mosely and Gustavo Salazer near Tamtico recently, declared a note handed Matthew E. Hanna, acting United States charge d'affaires, at the Mexican foreign office yesterday. The note was in answer to representations made by Mr. Hanna last Wednesday, on which occasion he asked that the persons guilty of the outrage be apprehended and punished.

The foreign office note, which has been sent to Washington, said arrests were imminent.

TROOPS ARE SUMMONED.

Mexico City, Oct. 30.—Military aid is being called to prevent disorders in a number of cities, notably Puebla and Vera Cruz, in connection with the general strike situation, which apparently is far from settlement. The general strike continues in Puebla.

SMALLER STATES TO HOLD A CONFERENCE

Questions of Interest to the Newly-Created Territories To Be Discussed.

Vienna, Oct. 30.—Plans for a "junior Brussels conference" to include states newly created as a result of the war, those receiving territorial advantages from the dismemberment of Austria, and possibly certain contiguous countries are understood to have been formulated by the Austria section of the reparations commission. This conference would be non-political and would be intended solely to bring the new states together to discuss vital problems such as trade, transport, frontier restrictions, imports and export licenses and similar matters. It is believed a discussion of these affairs would be further trade relations between the countries interested and would promote commercial goodwill, better understanding and the common welfare of all.

The contemplated conference would be attended by representative of the departments of finance, transport, industries and trade of each country on the reparations commission, except Great Britain and France and the United States, each of which would have unofficial representatives present. Hungary will be admitted, it is probable, if she ratifies the treaty of peace before the meeting is held. In a general way, the proposed conference would be modelled on the lines of the Brussels council as outlined in resolutions adopted there, providing for "the restoration of a freedom of commerce which prevailed before the war." It is expected the meeting will be held as soon as possible in a city convenient to Vienna.

NINETEEN LIVES ARE LOST WHEN SHIPS COLLIDE

Concrete Steamer Sinks Rapidly After Being Struck.

OTHER BOAT DAMAGED

Accident Occurs Last Night in Narragansett Bay.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 30.—Members of the coastguard crew stationed here reported early today that no trace had been found of any of the 19 missing members of the crew of 34 who were on the concrete steamer Cape Fear when that vessel was sunk in Narragansett Bay last night in a collision with the Savannah Line steamer City of Atlanta.

The coastguardsmen conducted an all-night search and found only quantities of wreckage that had been parts of the upper deck of the Cape Fear, which was a United States shipping board vessel. Points along the shore reported wreckage washed on to the beach, but there was no word of the missing men. Both vessels carried only their crews.

The weather was clear, with but a slight cloudiness when the accident occurred. The Cape Fear was struck amidships and sank in three minutes, about half-way between Castle Hill on the Newport shore and Rose Island, going down box first in 125 fathoms, the greatest depth in the bay.

The City of Atlanta's bow was damaged badly and there was a seven-foot hole above her main deck. Her bulkheads held, however, and she anchored in the bay. She struck squarely with her bow and cut a deep hole in the Cape Fear, shattering the concrete. The Cape Fear went down so quickly that the lines that had been thrown aboard immediately after the crash were of little help and the majority of the crew had to jump into the water.

ARMENIANS WILL PERMIT PASSAGE OF SOVIET TROOPS

Condition Demanded Is That Turk Nationalist Forces Be Withdrawn.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—The Armenians have agreed to permit the passage of soviet troops through Armenia, as recently demanded in an ultimatum presented by the Russian soviet representative, Legrand, on condition that the Turkish Nationalist troops are withdrawn, says a dispatch from Tiflis, dated last Wednesday.

Sir Adam Says Taxes Are High

Property To Be Sub-divided If Not Bought For School.

"The sale of my property would not necessarily mean my leaving London," said Sir Adam Beck to The Advertiser today. "The property has been on the market for some time. If it is not sold for school purposes it will be subdivided and sold that way. Taxes are high in London, and you can imagine that property of that kind is expensive. I made up my mind a year ago to get rid of it, and had plans prepared."

BRITISH EMERGENCY BILL GOES THROUGH

London, Oct. 29.—The government's emergency powers bill passed the final parliamentary stages today and received the royal assent.

The emergency powers bill virtually gives to the British Government wartime authority. It was introduced in parliament with the advent of the miners' strike, and when it seemed probable that the railway and transport workers might also become involved in the strike.

PROJECTILE FOUND IN N. Y. STATION

New York, Oct. 30.—The projectile of a three-inch shrapnel shell attached to a six-inch copper tube of one-half inch diameter, with a burned fuse, was found in the Thirty-first street driveway of the Pennsylvania station here early today. It was carried in a pail of water to the bomb squad room at police headquarters for analysis.

The projectile would not have caused much damage had it exploded, the police said.

CANADIAN WHISKEY LABELLED "SOUP" APPEARS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Characterized by many of the old "tipplers" as having "a distinct bearish movement in the whiskey board of trade," liquor disguised, labelled, and billed as soup, coming from Canada, made its appearance here today, according to federal officials. The liquor, said by imbibers not to have the strength of "the old stuff," sold "cheap." A carload arrived on the market today, federal officials declared.

The discovery of a draft for $31,000 on a Louisville bank may disclose, federal officials said today, the purchaser of the recent shipment of whiskey into Chicago, which was delivered to the saloon keeper "customers" and almost immediately thereafter stolen from the "customers" through the connivance of men posing as city policemen.

Complaints to police and federal officers as a result of this "theft" led to the present federal court whiskey investigation.

Federal officials discovered that the $31,000 draft was for the purchase of 1,000 cases of whiskey which corresponds to the amount of the shipments forming the chief feature of the investigation.

WILL FIGHT IF GAS IS CUT OFF

Injunction May Be Issued in Belmont Case Next Week.

[By Staff Reporter.

Belmont, Oct. 30.—Consumers of natural gas in Belmont and vicinity will fight to a finish efforts of the company supplying them to raise the price to 85 cents. At a conference in progress here today it was decided to immediately issue an injunction in case the company attempts to cut off the supply. Commissioner Estlin is attending the conference, and also Major A. Sweet of Brantford, who is looking after the intests of the company. The residents of Belmont and farmers dependent upon gas for their fuel supply are keenly interested in the matter, and followed the arguments closely. In the absence of J. M. McEvoy of London, who is looking ofter the interests of the consumers, P. H. Bartlett was present.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT TO APPROPRIATE SUM OF 20,000,000 LIRE

London, Oct. 30.—Appropriation of 20,000,000 lire to be used for the establishment of a national credit institution to finance co-operative measures and to secure a reduction in the cost of living, has been authorized by the Italian cabinet, says a Rome dispatch from the Stefani News Bureau, a semi-official organization.

SAYS SHORTAGE WOULD BE GREATER

"Instead of being short 2,500-horsepower, we would be short about 12,000 if we had relied on Judge Barron," was the reply made today by General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the Public Utilities Commission to the letter by the judge criticising hydro management.

Mr. Buchanan contended that only the fact that hydro was developed to its present extent was keeping local factories open and local workmen busy. If the city was relying on electricity from privately-owned plants generating electricity with coal, the shortage would be far more acute.

TWO CHILDREN KILLED.

North Sydney, N. S., Oct. 30.—Willie Hood, aged 9, lost his life yesterday when he attempted to get on one of the cars of a passing Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company's ore train and fell under the wheels. Both legs were cut off.

Ginerva, the 4-year-old daughter of Peter Mancini, was burned to death Thursday when her clothing caught fire. Her parents were absent at the time.

HALF MILLION BOOZE PROFIT

Revelations of "Whiskey Ring" To Hit Many Officials in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Federal officials, probing the activities of Chicago's "whiskey ring," have learned what a hard-working bootlegger can do when he has thoroughly mastered the profession.

"Mike de Pike" Heitler, a notorious underworld character, confessed to U. S. District Attorney Charles F. Clyne, it is declared, that his bootleg operations in the last six months have netted him $500,000.

Heitler's confession has brought to a head a condition which may involve city officials, scores of police officers and patrolmen, and, according to intimation at the district attorney's office on Wednesday, some prohibition officials. A grand jury is now hearing evidence that is expected to bring the first results in a hitherto unsuccessful effort to control booze traffic in the city.

It is estimated that $4,000,000 worth of liquor has been disposed of here in the last few months. Much of this liquor has been stolen from warehouses and from legitimate purchasers. Secret channels have allowed a steady flow of the forbidden "fruit." Saloon men have declared that a powerful organization was in control of the traffic. They admitted this when whiskey purchased by them and paid for was not delivered, through fake robberies of trucks and by other devices.

A federal subpoena may be issued for Chief of Police Garrity to obtain possession of original documents obtained by the police chief in an independent investigation of conditions. Chief Garrity made this investigation when it was charged that a score of police helped "Mike de Pike" Heitler to unload a $175,000 cargo of liquor in a railroad yard, and then double-crossed the bootleg prince by robbing him of it at the point of pistols. He subsequently refused to turn over the results of his investigation to federal authorities.

Following on the heels of the Heitler confession, ten saloon men, who are alleged to have paid the bootlegger $175,000 for liquor they never received, were taken into custody.

It is expected that Judge Landis will appoint a special liquor grand jury and a special prosecutor to clean up the bootleggers who have made life miserable for the prohibition agents during the last year. If this is done, it is declared, the revelations will disclose conditions that will produce dismay in many walks of official life in Chicago.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 30.—Fred Fisher, aged 25 and married, of Halifax, was instantly killed when struck by a C. N. R. freight engine last night.

HARDING WILL MAKE HIS FINAL APPEALS TO AMERICAN VOTERS

Republican Candidate For the Presidency On Last Lap of Campaign.

COX AT CHICAGO

Democratic Aspirant to Close Contest With Spectacular Features.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 30.—On the last lap of his campaign travels, Senator Harding conferred with Ohio Republican leaders here today, as he completed preparation of his last speeches before election, to be delivered tonight in Columbus.

Leaving here at noon, the Republican nominee was to make several stops at smaller cities on his way to the state capital. He planned to conserve his voice, however, for the night address, in which he will sum up his campaign and rest his plea for support.

With his speech tonight, Senator Harding will have made more than 170 addresses long and short, since he was nominated in Chicago. He may issue before election a final statement outlining once more the policies for which he stands.

COX WILL CLOSE FIGHT WITH OLD-TIME DEMONSTRATION

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Five speeches in Chicago, one in Gary, Ind., and an old-time torchlight parade, are on the schedule of Gov. Cox today for the windup of his campaign for the presidency. One of the greatest demonstrations of the campaign is planned preparatory to the evening speech at the Coliseum, where Gov. Cox's opponent, Senator Harding, was nominated.

The governor's first address is to women at a theatre under the auspices of the Chicago Women's Democratic Committee, at noon. At 2:30 p.m. he is to speak to a throng of steel workers at the Gary steel mills, returning quickly to Chicago for a speech at the Patton Gymnasium, Northwestern University, in Evanston.

After the address at the Coliseum come visits to auditoriums in different parts of the city, and a visit to the South Shore Country Club about midnight are planned.

Gaily-decorated and illuminated automobiles are to form the main section of the evening torchlight parade from the governor's hotel to the Coliseum.

Governor Cox made public here today a telegram to a woman supporter, in which he stated his intention to consult with both Democrat and Republican, if elected, to secure ratification of the peace treaty, and to consult with other leaders regarding Irish and Jewish racial questions.

"If I am elected," said the governor, "I shall recognize the mandate for entrance into the league of nations, and shall work out that solution by conference with the Senate, but accepting such helpful reservations as are necessary to that end. I shall consult with Woodrow Wilson, with Elihu Root, with William Howard Taft and any others who by virtue of their experience can render helpful service.

"Furthermore, in the consideration of specific matters like the cause of Ireland it is my purpose to consult with men who nurture the traditions and desires of the Irish people, such men as Bourke Cochran and Alfred Smith of New York, and David Walsh of Massachusetts, and in connection with he Jewish question I will consult with leaders of Jewish thought in America."

CITIZENS WILL GET $500,000

Londoners' Payment of Interest On Victory Bonds Due Monday.

When the annual interest is paid on all Victory bonds issued in Canada on the first day of November, the hearts of Londoners will be gladdened by a sum exceeding $500,000, which will be paid to them by the Government through the local banks. This will represent interest on $20,000,000, which the citizens of London loaned to their country during years of the war.

Nearly every home will be affected by the payment of the money, as it is estimated that there is hardly a house in the city which has not a Victory bond to its credit. Another payment of interest will be made on the first of December. The two payments will cover every issue of bonds.

Stork Had Busy Time This Month

Brought Sixty-Four Boys and Fifty-Three Girls To London Homes.

With fewer deaths, more marriages and more births than in October, 1919, the present month has been a most satisfactory one for London. One hundred and seventeen lusty young citizens were added to the population via the stork route. Sixty-four were boys and 53 girls.

The number of marriages was almost double. Seventy-four couples took the momentous step compared to only 44 last October. Twenty-seven male and 34 female citizens died, a total of 61. Last year 39 male and 32 male residents died.

This popular officer has been on the force since before the war, at the outbreak of which he enlisted and went overseas. After he was demobilized he went back to his old position. P. C. JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—St. George's (Anglican) Church tomorrow will enter upon a jubilee celebration, which will continue for the following fortnight. LIBERAL CHIEF SCORES PERSONAL TRIUMPH ON SASKATCHEWAN TRIP, ACTS AS GODFATHER TO FIRSTBORN

People of All Shades of Political Faith Greet Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King—Farmers Flock to the Wayside Depots and Cheer As Train Carrying Statesman Passes.

North Battleford, Sask., Oct. 29.—Traveling all morning through Northern Saskatchewan, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his party were the central figures of a number of informal receptions. The farmers flocked down to the small wayside stations to greet Mr. King as his train passed through. At Hafford the reception was more elaborate in its nature, although it lasted only for a few minutes.

There was a brass band at the station, and a crowd of farmers, mostly Ruthenians, who insisted on a speech. The train was held for a few moments while Mr. King addressed the meeting. His reference to treatment of Ruthenian and other citizens of alien birth by the Government's election act touched a responsive chord, and the train drew out of the station to the sound of ringing cheers from the crowd.

Mr. King's trip through this province has become a personal triumph, even more marked than in Alberta. As the train traveled to this city at each small station it was boarded by farmers coming in to attend the big meeting tonight.

GODFATHER TO BABY.

They are not all Liberals who join in the welcomes that are being extended. Mayor Klaeper, whose affiliations are with the opposite party, presented the address of welcome.

At North Battleford citizens and all parties of all shades of political opinion pressed eagerly to meet Mr. King at the reception which was organized by the ladies of the city. The personal character of the response which is meeting Mr. King in his trip was emphasized by an incident at Saskatoon, when Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gillespie, who own a farm 36 miles out of the city, came to ask Mr. King to act as godfather to their first baby. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were both Conservatives, but with a constant reminder in the family in the person of William Mackenzie King Gillespie they might be counted upon to cast their votes in the future in favor of the principles of Liberalism which the leader of the Liberal party is so ably expounding throughout the west.

REV. S. J. MOORE of Toronto, who has been elected president of the Baptist Association of Ontario and Quebec by the convention at Erantford, Ont.

THUGS TRY TO BURN U. S. PREACHER ALIVE

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 30.—Lured to a lonely part of the city by a fake telephone call, the Rev. Dr. D. E. Cleveland, pastor of the Dodge Memorial Church, and prominent in civic affairs, late last night was slugged, bound and gagged by four thugs, who threw him into an automobile truck, soaked his clothes in oil, and then set fire to the car. He saved himself from being burned to death by rolling out of the truck. Two boys who were attracted by the blazing car found Dr. Cleveland. He was taken to a local hospital where it was reported today his condition is critical.

Dr. Cleveland said he was certain the motive for the attack on him was revenge for steps taken by him to suppress a wave of crime in the section of the city in which his church is located.

According to information given to The Advertiser today, negotiations have been completed for the purchase of 35 acres in East London on which the Stansell Motors Company, Limited, purposes to erect a plant for the manufacture of automobiles.

The firm's Canadian branch plant is at present located in Amherstburg, but a deal is under way there by which the premises may be sold to a Kingsville concern. Stansell Company, it is stated, wants much larger buildings and has interested local capital and will erect a plant employing a large number of hands.

LAST OF WAR CONTRACTED STEAMERS LEAVES YARDS OF TOLEDO SHIPBUILDERS

Toledo, Oct. 30.—The steamer Santa Veronica, the last of 35 to be constructed for the Government under war-time contracts, sailed from the slip of the Toledo Shipbuilding Company early today.

The steamer will go direct to Sault Ste. Marie, where a cargo will be taken on for New York parties. It was bought by the American-Cuban Steamship Company and is expected to be used in the Cuban sugar trade.

Capt. MacKenzie, who took the other two boats to the coast, was in charge of the crew, which came from New York.

The Santa Veronica, like the two that preceded it, the Santa Eulalia and the Santa Isabel, is an oil-burner, and built to pass through the locks of the Welland Canal.

It is believed that the vessel, after delivering its maiden cargo, will go to Hamilton and take on a cargo of steel for Cuba, as did the Santa Eulalia.

IRISH SHOPS WRECKED.

Details as to the circumstances and perpetrators were lacking this forenoon.

BOLSHEVIKI ARE RETREATING OVER EXTENDED FRONT

Ukrainian Forces Administer Severe Defeat to Reds.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—Bolshevik Russian forces which have been fighting against the Ukrainians along the Dniester River are retreating over the entire front, it is stated in dispatches received here. Their line at present passes through the town of Zmerinka, about 140 miles southwest of Kiev.

Paris, Oct. 30.—Assertion is made by the French Government in its repiy to the British note announcing Great Britain had decided to renounce the right to confiscate German property in the United Kingdom, that the paragraph of the Versailles treaty which Great Britain is prepared to waive is an integral part of the convention, says the Petit Parisien. The government holds, therefore, that this or any other clause of the treaty cannot be revised without a preliminary agreement between the signatories of the pact.

The note, the newspaper says, is couched in extremely courteous but firm language, and expresses the hope that an agreement between the nations on the subject may be reached soon.

WILL START POLISH LOAN.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—It has been decided by the Polish Government to open subscriptions to the long term Polish loan on December 5.

POLISH GOVERNMENT COMMANDEER ROOMS IN WARSAW HOUSES

Drastic Action Is Taken To Meet Housing Shortage.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—All rooms in private dwellings have been commandeered by the Government to meet the housing situation in this city. This action was taken because of the approach of cold weather and the serious shortage of living accommodation in Warsaw. Only three rooms will be allowed for a family with children, regardless of the wealth or social position of the tenant.

Warsaw has doubled in population since the war, and further complications were caused by recent arrival of thousands of Bolshevik prisoners who had not been disposed of by the peace terms.

Food distribution will be largely in the hands of the United States relief administration this winter, as in the past, Hoover food drafts, which pour into the country with every mail, are saving thousands from death by starvation.

COMRADE FRENCH ASKED TO REMAIN HEAD OF G. A. U. V.

Enlisted As "Buck"—To Protest Export of Hydro Power.

WANT HOLIDAY NOV. 11

Deputation Will Ask 1920 Council To Raise Tax Exemption Limit.

Considerable comment has been in circulation during the past two weeks to the effect that Comrade French, president of the local post of the Grand Army of United Veterans, was not the man wanted by the association for the position of president. At the meeting last evening, Comrade French offered to resign, but a standing vote was taken, which was unanimous that Comrade French continue to hold the position.

"The only reason why some of the members do not want Comrade French in the chair is because he is a commissioned officer," said one of the members. "Comrade French enlisted as a buck private and went to South Africa and won promotion on the field. In the late war hhe again enlisted as a private with the P.P.C.L.I., and won his present rank of colonel on the field, fighting beside the rest of us. What better man and having the record that Comrade French has, do we want for our president? Fellows that do this kicking are just jealous because they have not thhe record Comrade French has, and those kind are always the ruination of any club," concluded the speaker.

Want a Holiday.

Plans for Armistice Day were discussed and a resolution was passed giving power to Secretary Lavender to write to the secretary of the Central Veterans' Council, asking them to appoint a committee to approach Mayor Little and the city council to ask them to proclaim November 11 a public holiday.

Secretary Lavender brought the matter up regarding the shortage of hydro power in the city, of which he was a victim last evening, his supper being delayed several minutes. Permission was given him to write the head of the hydro commission, protesting vigorously against the cities in the United States using the hydro that should be coming to Canadians. He will also write the secretaries of the Great War Veterans, the Army and Navy Veterans and the Central Veterans' Council, asking them to voice strong protests agianst the States getting the power

A deputation will be sent to next year's city council, asking them to raise the tax exemption for the soldiers in the city to $4,000 instead of $3,000. Judging from the interest shown when this conclusion was arrived at, all members of the post were willing to stand behind the deputation asking for this grant.

The political program that the Grand Army of United Veterans will take up at the next Dominion election was read.

Comrades McDonald and Swindle were elected as auditors for the coming year. Several new members were admitted to the organization, and more are expected at the next meeting, owing to the fact that there is a membership drive under way.

NOMINATIONS FOR BOARD ARE MADE

Final Ballot For Election of Chamber of Commerce Directors Thursday.

The results of the primary nomination election for seven members of the board of directors of the London Chamber of Commerce, the balloting in connection with which closed at 6 o'clock last night, were later reported as follows: John Bridge, Col. W. J. Brown, John Cottam, Prof. W. Sherwood Fox, Col. W. M. Gartshore, Ray Lawson, Mayor E. S. Little, J. K. McDermid, W. M. Manning, John S. Moore, Gerald Pearson, H. F. Skey, George Wenige and W. R. Yendell. These fourteen names were selected from the whole membership, and that special interest was taken in the election was indicated by an unusually large poll.

The election committee, which was responsible for the taking of the poll and the announcement of the results, was as follows: E. W. Gairns, Malcolm Davis, W. H. Biggs, G. H. Montgomery, Dr. Detwiller and Dr. Partridge. The final ballot will close at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening, and it is expected that the result will be ready for announcement in the morning papers of next Friday.

The new directors will meet on Friday, Nov. 5, and appoint the various officers.

St. George's, No. 42, A., F. and A. M., held a Halloween party last night at the Masonic Temple, the success of which was in keeping with those achieved by this organization on all similar occasions. Three hundred persons were in attendance, and each one was delighted with the evening's program.

Much credit was given to the committee, of which Charles W. Heaman was chairman, for the success of the entertainment. Musical numbers were given by the Harmony Quartet, E. W. Quantz and Mrs. King. The evening's fun was rounded off with an enjoyable banquet.

FIRST SNOWFALL

Great White Flakes Seen in City on Friday Afternoon.

London saw the first real fall of the "beautiful" Friday afternoon, when for more than an hour great white flakes of snow fell. The temperature fell considerably during the day, the high mark being 41 degrees Fahrenheit, and the lowest 29 degrees. Although several weeks ago points in Western Ontario reported a fall of snow, London was not so favored until yesterday.

LABOR DECIDES TO ENTER CANDIDATES WITHIN FORTNIGHT

Will Ask Locals To Send Representatives To Consider Municipal Situation.

KNOCK HYDRO CONTROL

To Get Accurate Reports On Coal Price, Monthly, Resolved.

Decision to enter the municipal political field within the next two weeks was made by the Labor representation committee last night. Representatives of all locals connected with the organization will be asked to attend a meeting Friday, November 12, to discuss the situation.

The power situation was discussed, and the one-man control of the hydro system outlined by Judge Barron of Stratford was condemned. No resolution was passed.

All locals were asked to press for the publication by the Government of monthly returns on the cost of coal delivered at local sidings.

The election question was raised by the secretary, William Tite. He said that Mayor Little in his campaign for the mayoralty last year had said the citizens should decide a public improvement by ballot, but that at the last meeting of No. 2 committee of the council he had urged that an expenditure of $175,000 for storm sewers be placed in the London bill without a vote. The mayor also pressed for spending $538,000 in sanitary sewers without a vote. "Several other items will be brought up before November 20 by this same democratic gentleman, who wishes to force taxes on the people willy-nilly, and it is up to us to take action," said Mr. Tite.

Quickest Way.

Delegate J. F. Thompson said the quickest way to do it was to call a special meeting for action in regard to the election, and to change the personnel of the city council. The majority of them are opposed to labor, he charged.

Ald. John Ashton said that sanitary sewers did not require a vote of the people in the London bill. No pavements could be laid unless storm sewers were built, he said, and the city council would be at a standstill in this regard if a bylaw was submitted and turned down.

Mayor Little was not wholly responsible, as he had only been present at the latter part of the meeting.

Judge Barron's article on the power situation was warmly commended by one delegate. Although there was an acute power shortage, the hydro was talking of expanding. The hydro shop was lit up brilliantly at nights and the people were being urged to buy electrical appliances. The proposed shut-down of factories for one hour a day was unfair in his opinion.

Develop Resources.

W. G. Tite thought the country should develop its coal resources to a greater extent and relieve the situation in this way.

E. M. Hawkins advised against protesting the export of power to the United States, as this might involve many complications. He thought the trouble was due to the fact that steam plants which might have served as auxiliaries had been forced out of business.

J. G. Hothersall asked where power would be obtained for the hydro radial scheme if it was so short at the present time. J. Hill said there would be plenty available by the time the radials were completed. He though the situation should be met by curtailing the hydro activities to obtain new customers. Labor was supporting the hydro system as a public ownership project, and it was up to them to see that it was run democratically and did not become a one-man project, he said.

J. F. Thomson suggested the creation of accumulators to store the surplus power at nights for use in the day time. H. B. Ashplant also advised against protesting the export of power, as he said the United States would retaliate by refusing to export coal to Canada.

It was finally decided to take no action on the question.

Varying coal prices in the city were reported by the delegates, and it was alleged that Toronto prices were much lower than here. Mr. Ashplant thought the best way to deal effectively with the matter was to get accurate government reports on the prices monthly, and his resolution to this effect was adopted.

TEACHERS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS APPOINTED

Trustees Employ Manual Training, Domestic Science Specialists — Western Ontario Residents.

The only business transacted at the meeting of No. 1 committee of the board of education yesterday was the appointing of a domestic science teacher and a manual training teacher to the teaching staff of the public schools. Some members of the committee were not in favor of making the appointments in the middle of the term but Inspector C. B. Edwards said it was most necessary that they be appointed immediately, as there were thirteen classes which were not taught these two subjects.

After the reading of applications, Miss Grace E. Graham of Rodney and Robert Hartrey of Seaforth were appointed. Of the applicants these two were the most experienced. Mrs. A. T. Edwards said that should fully-qualified London teachers apply for such positions they should be given the preference over applicants from other cities. Chairman T. Coleridge presided.

APPENDICITIS

Warm Water Properly Applied Prevents Operations, and Has Cured Many Advanced Cases.

Hundreds of operations for Appendicitis have been avoided by the "J. B. L. Cascade," and thousands of others who have had Stomach Trouble and Constipation for years have regained their health completely. Most troubles arise from poison accumulated in the Colon, which is absorbed into the system. Internal Bathing keeps the system clean, cures Constipation and the hundreds of ills which are directly traceable to it.

These letters from among thousands in our possession should convince you that Internal Bathing brings positive results. Mr. James McLaughlin, 91 Evanston street, Winnipeg, writes:

"I bought a 'J. B. L. Cascade' for the cure of a bad case of Appendicitis. My doctors told me I must have an operation at once. I had spent more than fifty dollars in doctor bills, but the Cascade completely removed in a few days every trace of soreness and pain. I eat and sleep well now, have regained my former weight, and am now in perfect health."

A Mother from R. R. No. 1, Leamington, Ont., writes: "About two weeks ago our eldest son took sick with Cramps in the Bowels, so bad he could not move. Our doctor gave him hypodermic injections and ordered him to the hospital to be operated on at once. Before doing so, however, I induced him to use the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' and in less than a week he was up and around, and has been well ever since. It also cured me of severe Headaches and Constipation. I cannot praise the Cascade enough. It certainly is a wonderful invention."

If you have Constipation, Headaches, Appendicitis, or feel languid and not just right, don't drug yourself, bathe internally. The "J. B. L. Cascade" is being shown and explained at Standard Drug Company, London. Ask for booklet, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College street, Toronto.

CONSULT EDUCATION DEPT. RE NEW HIGH SCHOOL IS DECISION

Plan To Build On Beck Property Ardently Opposed by Trustee.

NO SEPARATE SCHOOL

Dr. Tillmann Knows Nothing of Proposal—$75,000 "Headley" Price.

The collegiate institute committee of the board of education recommended at a meeting Friday afternoon that the department of education be consulted again in regard to the location of the new collegiate institute, for the construction of which plans have been prepared.

Trustee Edwin Smith ardently opposed the proposal to build the new school on the property of Sir Adam Beck on Richmond street north, known as "Headley." Some of the separate school pupils had already stopped going to the commercial department of the collegiate institute, he said, and he understood that it might not be long before there were no pupils from the separate schools entering the collegiate institute at all. He knew that plans were already prepared for a separate high school for Roman Catholic school supporters.

Trustee Dr. Tillmann, with quite evident frankness, declared that he knew nothing about the proposal to build a separate high school. Secretary McElheran pointed out that there was no provision in the Ontario department of education regulations for the maintenance of a separate high school. An act of legislature would have to be passed to authorize it.

"It is entirely new to me," said Dr. Tillmann.

Private School.

Somebody pointed out to Trustee Smith that if any new secondary school was planned by the Roman Catholics in London, it must be of the nature of a private school, and Dr. Tillmann observed that Roman Catholic students in such an event would exercise their own judgment just as they do at present, whether they attended a private academy or the collegiate institute.

Mr. Smith happened to refer to Trustee A. A. Langford as "promoting the scheme" to build the new collegiate institute on the Beck property. Trustee Rowe protested against this insinuation quite warmly, and wanted Mr. Smith to understand that Mr. Langford was "not promoting the scheme any more than any other trustees who has at heart the best interests of secondary education in the city of London."

Mrs. A. T. Edwards here declared that it was she who had first suggested the proposal to change the site, and Sir Adam Beck had asked her to suggest a figure which she thought would be a fair price. She had suggested $75,000, and Sir Adam had promised to let the board of education have an opportunity to purchase it at this figure, before it would be sold to any other purchaser.

Central High.

Trustee (Mrs.) Ronald Harris raised the question whether it was definitely decided to have a central high school or not. Trustee Rowe, chairman of the committee, pointed out that the department of education had recommended three new schools for London as the ideal to build towards. This was before the burning of the old collegiate, and the construction of north, south and east high schools would have meant four high schools in all. Now by disposing of the old site, and building far enough north and near enough to West London, with South London and East London schools added in a few years' time, London could be accommodated by three schools.

Inspector Rogers had told Mr. Rowe personally that many cities in Ontario wished they were free, as London is, to locate their high schools wherever they wished, without regard to existing schools.

East London Pupils.

East London pupils could be largelr accommodated in the Princess avenue school building for some time, and in a year or two, it could be decided whether a new school in South London or East London was needed most.

Trustee Smith declared that there were only two upper school pupils attending Collegiate from South London. Other members of the board thought it would not be much trouble for two pupils from South London to go to a north-end school. The city might well afford to pay their street car fare, if it would save building a school in South London.

Trustee Coleridge favored going to the department of education without any decision in the matter, and accordingly a committee was appointed to go to Toronto early next week and report back at the first board meeting. The members of the deputation are Chairman Rowe of the committee, Trustees Coleridge and Tillmann, and Chairman Harry Hayman of the board.

Purchase of two residences to enlarge the old collegiate grounds would cost $30,000, it was said.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS ALWAYS IN THE HOME

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she always keeps a supply on hand, for the first trial convinces her there is nothing to equal them in keeping children well. The Tablets are a mild, but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers and making teething easier. Concerning them, Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Dumas, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and am never without them in the house. They have always given the greatest satisfaction and I can gladly recommend them to all mothers of little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Orientals From St. Thomas Are Guests of London Members.

Thebes Sanctorum, No. 26, Order of Humility and Perfection, staged a most successful "at home" Friday night, when 200 Orientals, their wives and lady friends, gathered in the Alma Block. After three hours of dancing, during which the Odd Fellows' orchestra, under the direction of William Gladstone, provided the music, a banquet which to say the least was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd, was held.

Members of Mohammed Sanctorum, No. 14, of St. Thomas, were among the guests of the evening. Much of the entertainment was given by the Brunswick Trio. Jock Ballantyne delighted with his witty sayings and comic songs. William Walker acted in the capacity of chairman.

A DIFFERENCE.

[The Christian Register, Boston.]

"What!" said Lord Coleridge once to a puzzled cabman, "you a London cabby and don't know where the Law Courts are?"

"Oh, the Law Courts, is it? I know them; but you said the Courts of Justice."

What is a Dollar?

A Dollar, whether on Government paper or in gold, is of no value in itself but only as it represents the products of man's labor.

∴

It is not the number of dollars a man owns that makes him rich but the amount of the necessaries of life the dollars actually represent.

∴

The value of the dollar therefore depends upon production which to-day is inadequate, so that we require many more dollars "to get along with."

∴

A period of scarcity like the present demands more money than would be needed were the production of food, clothing, houses, furniture, etc., more abundant.

∴

AMERICAN SCHOONER LEADING IN RACE FOR INTERNATIONAL PRIZE

Esperanto Ahead of Delawana As Race Nears End.

Halifax, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Coasting easily along in a gentle southwesterly breeze, with every stitch of round white canvas gleaming in the morning sun, the Esperanto and Delawana, representing respectively the United States and Canadian fishing fleets, are contending off Halifax harbor this morning for the blue ribbon honors of the North Atlantic. The eyes of most of Halifax and some parts of Gloucester and Boston were fastened on the Delawana as she swept grandly across the starting line leading by 22 seconds.

In a 13-knot breeze, the vessels were logging over nine knots an hour, and it is considered probable that if the wind held they would be able to finish the forty-mile course in the time allowance of nine hours.

The course chosen gives the schooners a 6½-mile reach, close hauled, from the starting line at Point Pleasant breakwater to the inner automatic buoy, thence over an irregular, triangle, 6-mile reach to the automatic buoy, a 9¼-mile run to the bell buoy off Shut In Island, an 11-mile beat to the inner automatic buoy and a 6½-mile broad reach back to the starting line.

At 9:21 both schooners were off Herring Cove. It was a nip-and-tuck struggle, with Delawana slightly ahead, though to leeward of the Esperanto. At 9:27 Delawana had worked through Esperanto's lee and was leading by a length and a half. It was in this position that the schooners passed the Tyrian, steaming out to take the official time at the first buoy. Tyrian was logging nine knots.

Delawana rounded first mark at 9:35:10; Esperanto at 9:35:22. The race so far is a dead heat.

At 9:50 Esperanto was fully a minute ahead of Delawana. Esperanto's headsail seemed to have greater fullness than the Canadian, and when Himmelman eased his headsail sheets Delawana seemed to foot faster.

Halifax, Oct. 30.—Esperanto rounded southeast automatic mark at 10:14:50. Delawana rounded second mark at 10:17:54.

Rounding the second mark three minutes and four seconds ahead of the Delawana, Esperanto took in fore topsail and started the run down the wind to Shut-In Island buoy. Esperanto had gained three minutes and eleven seconds on Delawana on the reach from inner automatic buoy. Delawana took in fore topsail before coming up to the mark, and on leaving it appeared to be holding her own with Esperanto.

With half the run to Shut-In Island buoy completed it was estimated Esperanto was just about holding her three-minute lead, with both schooners carrying staysails.

The race is a dead heat, with no time allowance. The first boat that crosses the line wins. At 10:30 with Esperanto half a mile from Shut In Island buoy, Delawana appeared to be gaining slightly on Esperanto. Esperanto found on sighting the buoy that she had made considerably to lee of it. Sheets were immediately tightened by Marty, and, Delawana, astern, taking cue, followed it. Esperanto turned Shut in Island buoy at 11:01:15.

Delawana turned Shut In Island buoy at 11:07:09.

Passing Shut In Island buoy, Marby brought Esperanto about on starboard tack and set foretop sail after having started to clew it up. Esperanto's crew handled sails in fine fashion.

Delawana, which lost 2 minutes and 38 seconds on the run from the outer automatic buoy on top of the 3 minutes and 16 seconds lost on reach from inner to outer automatic split tacks with Esperanto in coming up to buoy and continued inshore on port tack.

Esperanto came about on port tack six minutes later, and the net result was that Marty had wasted a tack at the start of the eleven-mile beat to windward to the inner automatic buoy.

Capt. Himmelman brought Delawana about on starboard tack. Esperanto, which continued inshore, appeared to be pointing higher than the Canadian schooner.

At 11:30 Esperanto, which had gone well in on the eastern shore, came about, heading toward Sambrouid.

Both vessels were carrying full sail, Himmelman's mainsail was setting like a charm, but Capt. Marty's headsails appeared to be acting better, and his ship continued to point higher, the wind appeared to be lightening a little, and both schooners were covering their lee rails well clear of the water, though Delawana was obviously stiffer than her rival.

CARD INDEX PLAN FOR ASSESSMENT MAY BE ADOPTED

Committee Will Go Into the Matter Very Shortly.

A card index system of assessment may replace the present mode of valuing property in London, if a suggestion advanced by Mayor Little is adopted. The plan is strongly approved by J. G. Richter, who has been conferring with Assessment Commissioner Grant on the revision of the assessment.

Mayor Little states that the aim of the work should be the equalization rather than the increase of assessment, and that the valuations should be made by the expert heads of departments, rather than by men who go out on the general rounds. He believes that the assessment for 1920 has been reasonably satisfactory on the whole.

According to Mr. Richter London's assessment is equal to the average in Ontario cities. He believes that the apportionment between land and buildings might be more.

The consensus of opinion on the special assessment committee is that only land should be revalued this year.

RUTHVEN

RUTHVEN, Oct. 28.—The most valuable and abundant harvest of all kinds of crops ever grown in this district has about come to a close, and all the growers are jubilant, for crops worth millions of dollars are now safely under shelter and yet no signs of frost have come to do damage.

Flowers of all kinds are blooming just as they were in mid-summer. The second crop of tobacco is in the pink of condition and in a few days can be cut and cured. The crop is of first-class quality.

Ripe tomatoes are still clinging to the vines, while the bushes are loaded with the very best of green fruit. Peaches can still be seen hanging on the trees, though all of the earlier varieties have been shipped, for which good prices were received.

The large corn crop is now being husked and thousands of bushels of the best grain grown here in many years are being hauled to the corn cribs every day. Roots of all kinds are turning out good, and so we just keep on picking till the harvest is finished up right.

Fishermen along the shore have their twine all in, but this mild weather has knocked out their calculations. They are, however, getting a few fish at every lift. They are waiting for rough, cold weather to start the whitefish moving into the nets.

All the silos in this district have been filled to the roof with the best quality of green feed ever grown here. Cattle and horses will bring big prices in a short time.

The late potato crop grown in this district is a wonder, and cellars and root houses are filled with the best murphys grown here in years.

Field mice have made their appearance in large numbers west of here, and a little poisoned wheat or corn seems to be sending many of them on their way to the happy hunting grounds.

One hundred and thirty-three permits were issued for a total of $267,305, making the total for the year $1,789,820. Last October the total was $178,145, while the total for the year at that time stood at $1,914,010.

BELCHER IS SENT TO REFORMATORY

Convicted of Obtaining Money Under False Pretences.

Norman Belcher, the local youth who was convicted a few weeks ago of obtaining $25 under false pretences, and who had been remanded from week to week pending a medical report on his condition, was this morning sentenced to not less than three months or more than two years in the Ontario Reformatory.

Because Belcher was in need of treatment, efforts were made by those interested to have the youth taken on the strength of Westminster Hospital. So that this could be done, the magistrate remanded Belcher from week to week. When Secretary E. C. Lance of the soldiers' aid commission reported that all efforts of his department to induce the Government to put the boy on the strength of the hospital had failed, the magistrate decided to dispose of the case.

Belcher was convicted of passing a worthless check on a local businessman under the pretence that he expected more than enough money to cover the amount of the check from the Government, which would be deposited in a local bank within a few days. It was afterwards learned that Belcher never had an account at the bank, and that the money due from the Government was owed to the soldiers' aid commission.

DRURY NEGOTIATES WITH PRIVATE FIRM TO GET MORE POWER

Hopes To Succeed in Getting 25,000 Horsepower Additional.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Premier E. C. Drury inspected the development work at Chippawa yesterday and today expressed himself as pleased with the progress of the work there, and the prospect that this big undertaking of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission would be completed next year, and within the estimated cost. With its completion, Ontario's power troubles will be over, it is hoped. In the meantime practically every city and town which uses hydro power is experiencing a shortage of power that is not only annoying but a positive loss.

With reference to the refusal of the Electrical Development Company to sell 25,000-horsepower to the hydro commission, the president, Sir William Mackenzie, is quoted as stating that to relieve the hydro power shortage it would be necessary for his company's plant to generate power in excess of the 125,000 authorized by its charter, and the company would be liable to a forfeiture of its charter if it did this.

R. J. Fleming, manager of the Electrical Development Company, suggested today to a local paper that the shortage of power was caused by the hydro system, and the remedy would be for the Federal Government to prevent the hydro system exporting 50,000-horsepower.

Premier Drury intimated tonight that negotiations were under way with a view to getting the Electrical Development Company to produce 20,000 or 25,000-horsepower to relieve the hydro shortage, and that the negotiations were likely to prove successful. The premier did not state what arrangements were being made to obtain the needed power, but it is said the government would protect the company from loss of its charter if it furnished the power to the hydro commission.

TOOK BICYCLE OF POLICE OFFICER

Lads Out For Halloween Pranks Secured Cop's Wheel.

Deep mystery will surround the movements of the local police force tonight when they will be called upon to use every means in their powers to protect citizens from Halloween pranks.

Chief of Police R. Birrell refused to disclose any of his plans. He politely said that what he intended to do concerned no one, and that he wouldn't tell them if it did.

The members of the force, however, are full of misgivings, as it is feared by them that many of the boys have not the proper respect for the protectors of the public peace. Friday night a gang of boys even went as far as to invade the property of P. C. Albert Northcott. They took a bicycle which was the personal property of the officer and deposited near the railway tracks, and then proceeded to commit further vandalism.

October barley 1c higher at $1 23, and December ¼c up at 98c.

October rye ½c higher at $1 85.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A drop in the price of flour and weakness in Argentine were influential factors today in the wheat market. The demand for wheat, however, was well scattered and in small lots, mostly from commission houses. One large elevator house led the selling but the trade was light. Initial quotations which were unchanged to 1¼c higher were soon followed by material further gains.

Trade in corn was quiet. Commission houses led by a house with eastern connections were free sellers. A two-cent drop in Argentine corn had its effect on the market, which started ⅛c lower to 1¼c highr and then firmed up.

Oats were listless at the start, first quotations being ⅛c to ⅜c up, with December 54⅞c to 55c. These were soon followed by slight advances.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 30.—Stocks were irregular and frequently unsettled, the market evincing no signs of any attempt on the part of speculative interests to create a pre-election boom.

Such efforts probably would have failed in any event by reason of the further stiffness of money rates and backward conditions in many lines of trade and commerce, the latter being attended by additional commodities price reductions

Industrials of the group represented by steels and equipments were among the most reactionary issues, together with numerous shares of basic raw products, notably leather, rubber, cotton and grains. Although lower quotations were posted by the metal companies, those issues were but slightly affected.

These conditions were ignored by the investment market, where further underwritings were consummated and carried to successful flotations. Foreign offerings were included in the list of new issues and negotiations are said to be under way for loans to Brazil.

The foreign exchange market reflected in greater measure the outstanding position of the United States in the world's trade and finance. French and Italian rates continued to decline to rates unknown even during the war, and remittances to Holland and Spain, also Scandinavian centres were at severe discounts.

WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 30.—Buying of high grade rails, shippings and oils infused a measure of strength to the stock market at the beginning of today's operations. This was neutralized later, however, by heaviness of rubber issues and related specialties which broke partly as a result of recent late announced price concessions. Southern Pacifics, which is expected to benefit by resumption of relations between this country and Mexico rose almost two points, and associated oil, in which Southern Pacific has large interests, gained 3½ points. Shippings and oils gave way in the final dealings with some of the rails. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 250,000 shares. Exchange on all the leading foreign countries was lower.

New York, Oct. 30.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Prices were irregular, but principally higher at the outset of today's market session. Shippings and rails were the conspicuous issues, United Fruit soon adding 3¼ points to yesterday's rise, while Southern Pacific denoted further substantial accumulations. New York Central, Rock Island, Pittsburg and West Virginia and Gulf States Steel were moderately higher. Mexican oils were responsive to prospects of early recognition of that Government by the United States. Another slump in Italian exchange rates to the lowest quotation yet recorded was the feature of the foreign exchange market.

SOME PUBLICATIONS BY UNIVERSITY MEN RECENTLY ANNOUNCED

Original Contributions To Science, Letters Made by Professors—Research Encouraged.

In addition to teaching, the members of Western University faculty endeavor to make from time to time original contributions to science and letters. A staff that is producing something new is likely to be more inspiring in the class room than one that devotes itself entirely to teaching. Some publications by Western University men have been announced recently.

Professor A. G. Borland, who has joined the faculty this session, has contributed the chapter on British North America to the volume, "The Expansion of the Anglo-Saxon Nations," which has just been issued by the firm A. & C. Black of London, England. The chapter is exceedingly readable and is especially informing to those who wish to see the political development of Canada as a unit of the British Empire. An article on Eugene Fromentin, the French artist-writer by Prof. L. P. Shanks, is to appear in an early number of the Open Court of Chicago. A paper on "Aphrodite: Mother Earth," by Dean W. Sherwood Fox has just been published in the last number of the American Journal of Philology, issued by the Johns Hopkins Press.

It is pobably not known to the general public that research work in literature, language and science is encouraged in Western University by the Arts and Science Club. This club is divided into two sections, a literary and a scientific, each section meeting once a month. The appended statement has just been issued bythe literary section.

The literary section of the Arts and Science Club is intended to stimulate interest in research as done elsewhere, and to encourage literary scholarship in the humanities. It solicits original papers or notes, accounts of new discoveries of interest to those outside the special field concerned, and, in general, any "chips from the scholar's and teacher's workshop." The literary section is intended to bring together the humanists of the faculty, those interested in the broader field of culture and scholarship, to make them better acquainted with each other's fields and with each other through informal discussions and incidentally to promote co-ordination through mutual intelligence. The papers given are limited to 50 minutes. In the absence of a men's university club or a faculty club, this little group, which so far has enjoyed complete informality and a delightfully conversational tone, would seem to afford opportunities which might be found of great practical benefit to the faculty and the university.

ORIENT CLUB HOLDS VERY SUCCESSFUL EVENT

In Honor of Old Members—Musical Program Enjoyable.

Members of the Orient Club held an enjoyable social evening in honor of the old members of the club Friday night. The first part of the evening was spent in progressive euchre.

Among the features were a song and dances by E. (Dago) Henry, a recitation and comic sketches by Frank Tucker and an address by Ben Parkinson, the honorary president.

In part, the event was a smoker. At the close of the proceedings a light lunch was ssrved.

GOODERHAM—MULKERN

A very pretty wedding, as well as one of wide public interest was solemnized at 1:30 o'clock today at St. Peter's Cathedral rectory, when Dorothy, daughter of the late Mr. Patrick Mulkern and Mrs. Mulkern of Wellington street, became the bride of Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gooderham of Toronto.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Laurence Mulkern, looked lovely in a smart tailored suit of brown velour with beaver trimming, and wore a chic brown hat to match and corsage of orchids and sunset roses.

Mrs. Raymond Boeckh of Toronto attended as matron of honor, wearing a pretty suit of navy serge embroidered in gold, a black French hat and corsage Richmond roses. Mr. Dean Gooderham of Toronto, brother of the groom, attended him as best man, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father McKeon.

After the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Masuret, 500 Wellington street, the house having been prettily decorated throughout with great shaggy 'mums in golden and pink shades. A buffet luncheon was served, the bride's table being arranged artistically with Columbia and sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gooderham left this afternoon for Hot Springs, Virginia, where they will spend their honeymoon.

SUGAR, TEA, BUTTER, CANNED TOMATOES REDUCED IN PRICE

Rolled Oats, Oatmeal and Rice Are Also Cheaper.

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuff appears in Canadian Grocer this week:

The feature of the grocery markets is the substantial reductions on sugar by all refineries. The general trend of the markets continues easy with slight reductions manifest on some lines. Dried fruits continue at high figures, but retailers are showing little buying interest.

Montreal—Reductions in the cost of provisions and groceries feature the market this week. Pork will be reduced in price as a result of the lower cost of hogs. The supply of hogs offered on the market is much improved. The same, however, cannot be said of beef, as only the supply of western cattle is keeping up the supply. A slight reduction on beef carcases is quoted, however. Butter is lower in price, but eggs are holding firm at the high prices. The same can be said of lard and shortening, which is very firm at the present time. Sugar is reduced in price this week. Corn syrup and corn starches as well as laundry starches are all reduced in price as a result of the lower cost of corn. Some of the medium grade teas are lower in price, but the better grades are holding firm in price. Rolled oats, oatmeal and rice are reduced in price. The oat market is very weak and quotations vary considerably. Canned tomatoes are reduced seven and nine-half cents per dozen. The new nut crop now on the market is quoted a little higher, but there are supplies of nuts on the market which are further reduced in price. Cotton twine is twelve cents a pound cheaper on account of the lower cotton market. California oranges are dearer this week.

Toronto—Sugar quotations show substantial reductions. There are still second-hand sugars available at lower prices than refiners' new quotations. Following the bumper corn crops and lower prices on same, corn syrups have been reduced. Starches both laundry and culinary are also reduced. Rolled oats are holding steady, although a slight shading in prices is noted in some quarters. A shipment of new layer Smyrna figs is due to arrive on this market at the end of the week. New seedless raisins in packages have arrived. Old crop prunes are being offered at lower prices to clear up stocks pending the arrival of new crop supplies. Teas and coffees are ruling quiet and unchanged. Shelled almonds and peanuts continue weak and quotations on spot stocks are further reduced. Canned goods are moving slowly, some jobbers continue to offer new pack corn and tomatoes at prices below canners' opening quotations. New pack jams are holding steady under a very limited inquiry. Shipments of potatoes are arriving freely but dealers report a great deal of rot from some districts. It is the general opinion the prices have reached the lowest level. Fancy Ontario apples packed in new barrels are being offered at high figures, the fact that barrels, labor and freight are much higher this year is the reason for the high prices to the trade. Valencia oranges are nearing the end of the season and quotations are higher. Flour and millfeeds are unchanged. One brand of maple syrup is reduced. One brand of yeast, lye and baking powder are quoted higher.

The run of cattle at the Union Stock Yards was heavy during the week, with trading rather slow. Choice cattle are holding at firm figures, but the poorer grades are inclined to be easier. Live hogs are in an easy market, with quotations reduced. Receipts of fresh eggs continue to decline, and indications point to higher prices for the best grades and a firm market for the other grades. Butter continues weak, with quotations again reduced. The cheese market is quiet with quotations a shade lower.

CORDAGE CHEAPER

Hardware Markets Show Little Change With Business Somewhat Quiet.

Prices of hardware commodities are ruling firmly this week, says Hardware and Metal, with the exception of products of cotton, such as sash cord, cotton cordage, twines, etc., which show a further decline as the result of lower raw cotton prices.

New quotations for screen doors and window screens and refrigerators for next season show some advances.

Polish mops, repair links and new extras on tinning wire show increases.

The metal markets, with the exception of lead and copper, hold firm, but reports from Pittsburg indicate a general dullness, with cancellations in steel and pig iron.

Country business is fair, but would be improved by a spell of cooler weather.

Italian and Jugo-Slav Repres entatives To Begin Negotiations Early in November—Allies Send Ultimatum To Hungary Demanding Treaty Ratification by November 15.

ROME, Oct. 29.—Direct negotiations will begin early in November between Italian and Jugo-Slav representatives to settle the Adriatic question, according to a semi-official note issued today.

A Rome dispatch on October 26 said the Italian council of ministers had decided to resume negotiations with the Jugo-Slavs concerning the Adriatic problem, in order to bring them to a conclusion in one way or another before the reopening of Parliament, fixed for November 10.

The negotiations, it was said, would be conducted on Isola Bella, one of the Borromean Islands in the Bay of Tosa, and would have a two-fold aim—territorial and economic.

ULTIMATUM TO HUNGARY.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The Allies have sent a note to the Hungarian Government, demanding ratification of the Treaty of Trianon not later than November 15, it was learned today. In the event that no action is taken by that time, the note points out, "certain consequences" will result. A law providing for ratification has been introduced in the Hungarian Parliament.

ITALIAN COURT DECLARES COCCHI GUILTY OF KILLING GIRL IN NEW YORK CITY

After Nearly Four Years Law Brings Criminal To Justice —Conviction On Four Charges Results On Sentence of Twenty-Seven Years.

BOLOGNA, Italy, Oct. 29.—Alfredo Cocchi, on trial here for the murder of Ruth Cruger in New York City in February, 1917, was today found guilty on four charges.

The prosecution asked Cocchi's conviction for murder in the first degree, attempted criminal assault, falsifying passports and false enrollment in the military service.

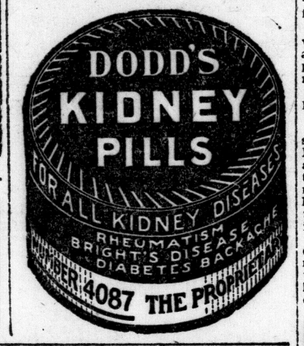

Cocchi was sentenced to 27 years imprisonment.

Ruth Cruger, an eighteen-year-old student at the Wadleigh High School, New York City, disappeared in February, 1917, after a visit to Cocchi's shop to have her skates sharpened. For almost six months nothing was learned of her whereabouts. When the bottom of the cellar in Cocchi's shop was dug up in June her body was brought to light.

At his first trial, in June 1919, Cocchi declared his wife had committed the murder, and the trial was interrupted to determine the thruth or falsity of his charge. Mrs. Cocchi, however, was completely exonerated.

Soldiers' Memorial.

The soldiers' memorial committee has resumed activity after the summer vacation. Already about $15,000 has been subscribed, and $5,000 paid in for the erection in Simcoe of a monument to Norfolk's fallen in the great war. Although no active canvass for funds was made outside, a few very liberal contributions have come in from the townships.

The congregation of Old St. Paul's has finally decided on a successor to the Rev. R. H. Shaw, who resigned recently and retired from the ministry. The choice has fallen on Rev. John Morris, who assumes his duties the first Sunday in December. The new pastor, who is at present in London, is a graduate of Huron College, and came to Canada a few years ago from Ireland.

Mrs. Barbara Phillips died early this morning in Buffalo. The deceased is a former resident of Oxford, and burial will take place in Ingersoll. She is survived by her husband, Albert Phillips.

RICH, RED BLOOD THE GREATEST NEED

Nearly All Ills Are Due to Poor, Watery Blood—How To Improve Its Condition.

To be in a healthy condition the human body requires a constant supply of new, rich blood. Nearly all the ills from which people suffer arise from one cause—poverty of the blood. If the blood is rich and red it absorbs nourishment from the food which passes into the stomach and distributes that nourishment to the brain, nerves, muscles and all the organs of the body. When the blood is weak and poor in quality it cannot do its natural work of feeding the brain and body, and the result is weakness and disease.

Headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, pimples and unsightly blotches on the skin, all indicate that the blood has become impure—that it is not doing its appointed work. If this condition is not remedied it will grow worse and worse, and a complete breakdown will eventually occur. To bring about a healthy condition of the blood no medicine can equal Dr. William's Pink Pills. Their one mission is to make new, rich blood, which reaches every part of the body bringing with it new health and increasing vitality. Thousands have testified to the benefit they have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when rundown in health. Among these is Mrs. Bertha Kendall, Darling avenue, Toronto, who says: "In the summer of 1918 I was in poor health. My appetite was variable, and I was weak and unfit for work, and I suffered a great deal from nervous headache and palpitation of the heart. A lady friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I used with splendid results, as by the time I had taken six boxes I felt like a new woman. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold to every nervous, sick woman, as they cure quickly and save big doctor bills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

OPEN VERDICT IS RETURNED BY JURY IN SULLIVAN DEATH

No Fresh Light Shed On Woman's Prior Movements At Inquest.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 29.—Nothing of an important character was developed at the adjourned inquest tonight into the facts leading up to the death of Maggie Sullivan, colored woman of London, who was found with her neck broken and her body crushed, below the Pere Marquette bridge on Sunday, October 10.

The remains had been lying under the structure for three or four days, and were badly decomposed. They were identified by her brother-in-law, Mr. Harris of London, some days after the finding of the body.

The Verdict.

The jury gave an open verdict and found that the deceased was last seen on October 7. And the body was found under the north side of the Pere Marquette bridge near the west entrance in the township of Yarmouth. The jury further said that death may have been caused by a broken neck and other injuries.

Neither was there any evidence adduced, declared the jury, as to how the body came to be placed where it was found other than that the woman had fallen from the bridge.

The witnesses, Herbert Thorn, John Taylor, Charles Dalton and Clarence Barrett, gave unimportant evidence, Constable McCully, who was detailed to find C. H. Benson, testified that he went to London, but failed to reach Mr. Benson, who is described as the husband of the dead woman. Mr. McCully was told by the relatives of Benson that the man had not been home since October 14, and his place of residence was unknown.

Mr. Thorn of London saw a man with the deceased on the Wednesday, prior to October 10, and both were leaving Talbot street, London, in an auto.

Coroner Dr. Ewin presided. A. McCrimmon represented the crown.

SPLENDID WORK SAVED DAM OF THE NORFOLK MILLING CO.

Leak in Spillway Threatened To Cause Serious Destruction.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, Oct. 29.—By vigilance, prompt action and splendid strategy the Norfolk Milling Company was saved thousands of dollars today, when the dam at the mill sprang a leak under the spillway at the eastern section.

Arch. Everett, one of the employees, noticed the small leak at 12:30, showed the manager at once and immediately began to raise the gates. The fire alarm was sent in, and citizens, including workmen on the sewer contract, rushed down. Bales of straw were effectually hurled into the water, which threatened to carry out the entire embankment under the spillway. A parapet of sand bags was then built outside of this, the bags being filled and passed in with incredible alacrity by volunteer workers, while the last gate of the west spillway and release gates were lifted by others. The erosion was arrested and the pond lowered below the danger point in less than half an hour. It was splendid work.

British Government Bans Uniforms At MacSwiney Funeral.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Irish home rule bill was passed through committee stage in the House of Commons today without further important amendment. Some important modifications are intended by the Government, including the question of making candidates for Parliament take the oath of allegiance. These were postponed during the report stage of the bill. The discussion in committee throughout have been quiet, in view of the fact that the Labor and Liberal members declined to participate in the committee sessions.

CLAIMS FUNERAL SHOWS TOLERANCE

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—Special Cable to the Star.—The London press today declared that the orderliness of the MacSwiney funeral exposed the hollowness of Sinn Fein claims of ruthless tyranny in the government of Ireland.

"Here is a man, claiming to be at war with England, whose coffin bore the legend: 'Murdered by the Foreigner,' borne along London streets, with sympathizers carrying flags and declaring their enmity toward the people whose tolerance they enjoy," the Morning Post said. "In what other country would such tolerance be possible? Would America have tolerated in the streets of New York a demonstration in favor of secessionists? Would relatives of a murdered British soldier have been permitted a procession with Union Jacks in the streets of Cork or Dublin?"

"It was a most amazing example of English tolerance," the Daily Graphic said. "Picture thousands of rebels marching openly, guarded by police for their own protection! Such a procession would have been impossible in any other capital. The United States would not have tolerated it. If Debs were to die of self-murder as MacSwiney did, and such a procession were attempted it would have been broken up by the Irish policemen of New York City."

ARREST SPANIARDS FOR IRISH DEMONSTRATION

MADRID, Oct. 29.—Three arrests of Catalonian Nationalists have been made in connection with the demonstration carried out at Barcelona yesterday by students in front of the British Consulate, where they cheered for Ireland and free Catalonia and shouted "Down with England!" and smashed the windows of the consulate, when their demands for an interview with the consul were denied.

The Governor of Barcelona paid a visit today to the consul, who had made an official protest over the incident, the governor explaining the circumstances leading up to the demonstration.

The Government has sent a dispatch to the Spanish ambassador in London minimizing the importance of the incident.

REMAINS ARRIVE.

CORK, Ireland, Oct. 29.—The body of Terence MacSwiney, former lord mayor, arrived here at 4 o'clock on an admiralty tug, flying her flag at half mast. Enormous crowds lined the quays and nearby bridges.

The government authorities in Cork immediately notified Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and the Bishop of Cork that no military display would be permitted in connection with the funeral of MacSwiney, and that neither drilling, uniforms nor republican army badges would be allowed.

The funeral party, which refused to board the packet Rathmore at Holyhead, arrived in Cork shortly before 7 o'clock this evening.

Perfect order prevails in the city tonight.

Shortly after 9 o'clock this evening a company of Irish Volunteers and relatives of the dead lord mayor went to the dock and took formal possession of the coffin. It was removed to the city hall, where it will lie in state until the funeral is held on Sunday.

WARNED RELATIVES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A dispatch to the Central News from Cork reports that the relatives of Lord Mayor MacSwiney were warned that unless the body was removed from the quay by 9 o'clock Friday evening it would be taken to the Cork barracks and buried there.

INCREASE IN PRICE OF GAS AT TORONTO

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—An advance of fifteen cents per thousand cubic feet in the price of gas in this city will go into effect in December, when the price will be $1.25 per 1,000 cubic feet. This is the sceond advance made by the Consumers' Gas Company this year, the last one being in June, when the price was increased ten cents. Increased cost of essentials for gas production is the reason given by the company for the advance.

BECK MEETS DRURY OVER POWER SHORTAGE

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—It is understood that Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and Hon. E. C. Drury, premier of Ontario, have been in conference with the object of securing the development of an additional 25,000 horsepower at Niagara Falls, through the Toronto Power Company, for the relief of the present power situation in Southwestern Ontario.

"But I Am Not Nervous, Doctor, See How Strong I Am"

"YES, you are strong, all right, and I find after a careful examination that there is no indication of organic disease."

"Then what does seem to be the trouble?"

"It is your nerves, the internal nerves which control the action of the vital organs such as the heart, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, etc. This is called the sympathetic nervous system. It is not at all uncommon for strong, healthy-looking people to suffer from this form of nervous trouble."

"I never thought I was nervous."

"How do you act in the dentist's chair?"

"Well, I generally keel over in a faint."

"That is just it. Your sympathetic nervous system is affected by the thought that you are going to be hurt. Your digestive troubles are due to the run-down condition of your nerves."

"I never thought of that."

"No, and not many people realize the all-important part played by the nerves in the digestion of the food and the functioning of the vital organs. The flow of the digestive fluids in the stomach, the filtering of bile from the blood by the liver, the purifying of the blood by the kidneys—all these functions and many more are controlled by the sympathetic nervous system. Consequently when the nervous energy runs low all these processes are slowed up and you suffer accordingly.

"While examination shows that there is no organic disease, the action of these organs is weak because of the exhausted condition of the nerves. You need a good nerve tonic."

"What about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"There is nothing better that I know of. I find evidence everywhere I go of the exceptional restorative power of this popular treatment. But do not expect to get well in a day. It takes time to bring back strength and vigor to an exhausted nervous system."

"How long will I need to use the Nerve Food?"

"That is hard to say. Perhaps two or three months. But you will soon feel the benefit of this treatment and then keep right on using it until you are fully restored."

UNITED STATES ELECTORS WILL NOT GO DRY

Reports From Montreal Say $250,000 Worth of Liquor Sent Over.

SPRACKLIN DOUBTS

Cannot Imagine How Such a Quantity Crossed the Border.

WINDSOR, Oct. 29.—In spite of a flat denial made today by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, "fighting parson" of the border, that liquor was being smuggled across the river by rum runners for use during the elections next week in the United States, it is known here that a considerable quantity of amber refreshment is finding its way across to the other side to cheer up political workers in the presidential campaign that terminates on Tuesday next.

Six Carloads of Liquor.

Reports from Montreal and Toronto that $250,000 worth of whiskey and gin has been taken across to Detroit within the past few days are declared absurd by Mr. Spracklin, who tonight said that this would represent about six carloads of liquor, and he could not imagine how one big deal or a number of smaller ones involving this amount of liquor could be sucessfully consummated.

Prevention, Not Prosecution.

According to Mr. Spracklin, during the past week rum running has tightened up here more than at any time previous under the Ontario temperance act, and smuggling operations between the two countries have been reduced to a minimum, he declared. Discussing the situation, he said: "Prevention, rather than prosecution, is our aim, and to that end our staff has now been thoroughly organized, and we have perfected a system for checking up on the traffic before it comes to a head."

"PUMPED" MILK COSTS FARMER $50 FINE

TORONTO, Oct. 29. — Every eight-gallon can of milk in three shipments from the farm of Fred Pearson of Milliken, Ont., to a Toronto milk dealer, all of which milk has been seized by the Toronto Department of Health, was found to contain two gallons of water, according to evidence given at the police court here today. The farmer contended that he had not put a spoonful of water into the milk, and that the milk must have been watered on the way to this city, but the health department produced evidence to show that the cans had been sealed before taken off the farm and were seized before being opened here. The farmer was fined $50 and costs.

Hundreds Cheer As Visitor Reaches Station — Urges Young People To Be Ready To Perform Great Tasks Before Them.

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—Gen. Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, arrived here from Montreal this evening, and was officially welcomed at the Union Station by Commissioner W. J. Richards, head of the Salvaton Army work in Eastern Canada, and unofficially by hundreds of cheering members of the Army and other citizens.

The general's first address in this city was given before a large assemblage of young people tonight in Salvation Army Temple. He pointed out that while his executive duties occupied a good deal of his time, he still was one of the workers. Although advanced in years, the general assured the gathering that he felt as young as any of them. He urged the young people to be ready to perform the great tasks that would confront them in the coming years. He predicted a wonderful future for the Salvation Army.

Gen. Booth paid a tribute to the work the Toronto Salvation Army workers had accomplished.

Saturday afternoon there will be a big parade of Salvation Army people from the Parliament Buildings, Queen's Park, to the City Hall steps, where the mayor and others will formally welcome Gen. Booth to the city. The general will address a meeting in Massey Hall Sunday afternoon, also Sunday night, and again Monday night. At the Sunday meeting, Chief Justice Sir William Mulock will preside, and besides Gen. Booth, Attorney-General W. E. Raney and Sir Robert Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, will speak.

INJUNCTION AGAINST CHATHAM GAS CO. TO BE ISSUED

City Solicitor Ordered To Proceed With Action At Once.

CHATHAM, Oct. 29.—City Solicitor O. L. Lewis has been instructed to proceed with the injunction to restrain the Chatham Gas Company from raising their rates, commencing November 1, according to a statement issued this morning by Alderman Ed. Prudhomme, chairman of the gas committee of the city council.

On Track of Liquor.

Lieut. Petter and Detective Hare of the Pere Marquette Railway police, have made Chatham their headquarters for an investigation which they are making relative to the supposed traffic of liquor in carlots over their lines in Western Ontario. It is expected that interesting developments will follow their investigation.

An Additional Grant.

Advice has just been received by C. E. Beeston, treasurer of the local board of education, that an additional grant of $2,051.25 has been made by the department of education for the day and night industrial schools of the city. This additional grant, coupled with the amount received earlier in the year will make the total grant for this year $9,144.67.

Annex to Hostel.

Owing to the volume of business at the local Salvation Army Hostel, a building next to it, on King street west, has been leased, and will be opened shortly as an annex to the hostel. This annex will provide for an additional 20 bedrooms, also a lounge and reading-room. It is also expected that the ymnasium in connection with the hostel will be ready for use in about three weeks' time.

Farmers Alleged To Charge Higher Prices Than in Other Cities.

SARNIA, Oct. 28.—Tonight an attack was opened on the prices charged by farmers for their products on the local market, and headed by Rev. John Morrison of this city, numerous complaints were registered over the difference between the charges made on this market and the markets of other cities.

It is claimed that the farmers are charging exceptionally high prices on the Sarnia market, it was stated today. Many housewives are reported in favor of a boycott of the farmers who attend the local market on Saturday. A number of citizens state they will ask the city council to take action against the farmers at the next meeting of the city council.

Secrets of London Complexion Doctors

Famous London specialists who cater to titled ladies and others of social prominence, employ a remarkable method of complexion rejuvenation. One undergoing this treatment visits the beauty doctor late in the afternoon, has something dabbed over her face, then, heavily veiled, departs in her motor car. This is repeated daily for a week or so, when a complexion of snowy purity and exquisite delicacy is in evidence. The secret of this method is—ordinary mercolized wax. Anyone can apply the wax without assistance of a specialist. An ounce of it (obtainable at drug stores here as well as in England), usually suffices. It is used like cold cream before retiring, and washed off mornings. Its success is due to a peculiar absorbent property which gradually removes wornout particles of cuticle, revealing the younger, healthier skin beneath.

A wonderful wrinkle-chaser, also in vogue among Englishwomen, is prepared by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint of witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion, this completely and quickly effaces even the deepest lines. —Advt.

Building Inspector Issues Order Forbidding Use of Temporary Structures.

DRUG FIGHT ON

Windsor Doctor Summoned For Issuing Illegal Drug Permits.

WINDSOR, Oct. 29. — Because a number of persons are living in temporary dwelling-houses on the border, Robert Parker, building inspector, tonight, issued a warning that no temporary buildings on alleys may be used as permanent residences.

John Harocian, who for some time has been living in temporary quarters off Wyandotte street, was fined $10 and costs and ordered to tear down the building which he has just completed by Capt. G. Chene and F. U. Bolton, justice of the peace, acting as magistrate of Windsor police court.

Mr. Parker stated that the prosecution is only the second made under the building code by a building inspector. At least three hundred persons are reported to be living in temporary houses on alleys, according to the statistics of the building department of the city. None of these houses can be made over into permanent dwellings.

First Step In Drug Campaign.

W. C. Doyle, Essex and Windsor physician for fifteen years, today faced nine charges of selling narcotics and issuing permits for their purchase illegally. The charges were brought as a first step in the campaign recently started by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to end the drug traffic in the border cities, which are acknowledged to be a drug channel to the United States. When the doctor's case was called in court, Dr. Doyle was not present, having sent affidavits that he was ill. The case was therefore put over to next Tuesday.

FARMERS ASK PROBE OF INTEREST RATES; FAVOR CROP HOLDING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Resolutions urging that all crops in the United States be marketed as the demand requires, and that Congress conduct an investigation of interest rates charged by banks were adopted today by the farmers' conference in session here.

Delegates to the conference interpreted the resolution for marketing as the demand requires, as authorizing a holding movement of cotton, wheat and other great farm staples.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

We think we hear your exclamation. You want to forget the war and all its aftermath. We are with you in your desire to forget—but we must not, in forgetfulness, bury the solemn obligations undertaken in the days of sacrifice.

Canadians have bounden duties to those who must bear a burden until the "graves are opened and the sea gives up its dead"—who must forever carry the memory of sons and husbands and fathers who went down to the sea in ships and never returned.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. A campaign from which the Navy League does not flinch; but on the contrary is proud to bring before the people—because it is the people's trustee.

The obligation to provide for our merchant sailors' dependents was undertaken by the people during the war, and must be maintained by them, until the need for it is no more.

After this year, however, the League expects to cease asking for funds for the relief of the Canadian dependents of Merchant Sailors who were killed on active service. With the Trust Funds now in hand, together with the sum set aside in the Budget, to be raised by public subscription this week, it should be possible to establish an endowment, the income from which will be sufficient to provide these dependents with a pension equal to that granted to the dependents of Naval men killed on active service.

As many of these dependents are young children, the endowment must continue for a number of years, until the children become self-supporting.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. Is it nothing to you? Maybe not; but there are wives and mothers and children praying anxiously this week, knowing that upon the results of the campaign must depend their sustenance for many years.

Navy League—What—Another Campaign?

Yes, another campaign. The people accepted this responsibility during the war. The people must live up to it now. Give generously when you are called upon.

LIKE THE GREEK HORSE.

The experience of the people of Canada with the Board of Commerce is not unlike that of the Trojans of the remoter times with the Greek horse. After successfully withstanding siege by the Greeks for ten years, the Trojans fell prey to curiosity. Forgetting caution for the moment, they dragged within the walls of Troy the great wooden horse which the Greeks had left as a decoy. Then came the revelation. In the night Grecian soldiers issued from the horse, opened the gates of Troy and the city fell.

So, when in Canada some fourteen months ago, the Board of Commerce was established, there was a feeling of pride. It was no secret that the Government had been loath to establish the board. But a special committee of the House of Commons had recommended it; there was a public demand for it, and the board was established. At last—so thought the men in the street—the power of "big business" over the nation was to be broken. The secrets of "big interests" were to be revealed. Perhaps the man in the street is to be pardoned if he gloated a little as he thought that now his curiosity would be satisfied, if he felt that in Government control the solution of his problems would be found. For the early declarations of the board itself breathed a tender solicitude for the consumer.

Now, the public is rudely awakened. The Board of Commerce has changed its character as completely as the Greek horse of old. In the public mind, at any rate, the board stands as the shield of the "big interests," and it may all be attributed to an unobtrusive declaration, said to have been made by a member of the board last spring—that it would be the duty of the board to protect the vendor in a falling market just as it was the duty of the board to protect the consumer on a rising market. The statement alone, unaccompanied by action, had a merely theoretic value. But the present Board of Commerce gave effect to it in supporting the sugar refiners in a falling market.

THE ADVANCE OF GOSPEL UNITY.

Conspicuous among modern movements furthering unity of spirit and aim within the ranks of the Christian church have been the growth of the International Sunday School Association, which lately held a historic world session in Japan, the adoption and spread of the uniform Sunday school lesson system, the advent of co-operation or co-ordination in certain fields of home mission work, and among vast populations like those of Asia, co-operative campaigns for social reform and evangelism, and the necessities of war-time. There are also enlarging conceptions of brotherhood derivable from the resources of faith in the Divine Redeemer.

Originally, the church undertook its commission to disciple all nations as a simple group, the outgrowth of the seed-bed fertilized by the Holy Spirit in the upper room of Pentecost at Jerusalem. From that epochal gathering the apostles went forth to declare and witness the Gospel of the Risen Christ. Following its spread to the Gentile world by the propaganda of Paul and Peter, Christianity, about the fourth century, became the recognized religion of the all-powerful Roman Empire. However, from an early date tendencies to divergence grew out of political and ecclesiastical differences, as well as varying views of truth, finally culminating in the division into the Eastern and Western churches, representing in a general way Greek and Roman types, which materially affected conceptions of doctrine and policy. Naturally, there were those strongly attached to the salient maxim of Christianity that the Gospel was to be propagated by its own spiritual and moral potency, and distrustful of reliance upon the secular arm of emperors. Modern controversies would seem tame compared with some that rent men's minds in those early assemblies. Notwithstanding all this, and still more drastic developments later on, it is evidence of inherent vitality and truth that the recognized essentials of the Scriptures abide until this day.

Finally came the great religious revolution of the early sixteenth century in Europe and also in Great Britain, when the English Church came into being. Although of one organism before that, uniformity was less complete than would appear, for those of Norman extraction prized an ornate and more elaborate ritual, while the Saxon element preferred simpler forms of worship. Speaking generally, history indicates that what had moved as one church current became separate streams, many of them world-wide and beneficent in their flow. Whole libraries are required to recount the rise and growth of the "Independent," "Free" and "Non-Conformist" communions. In perspective, some striking religious developments in Britain during later years appear to have been in response to very real needs that might have been met had existing churches shown more adaptability in organization and policy. Sometimes, as the Master Himself once declared, the children of this world in their generation seem to be wiser than the children of light. The rise of those communions emphasized digerent phases of doctrine, revived spiritual life and practice, and stimulated church activities. At present, in Britain, specific movements are proceeding for unifying each of two important church groups. Some years ago Canada provided an object lesson of material and religious gain by the fusion into one of four branches of Methodism.

During the present year notable steps were taken to promote the wider idea of a reunion of Christendom, and plans are laid for future world congresses to that end. Good should result when in a real spirit of Christian brotherhood and recognition men of different types and communions confer upon their common faith and purposes. It will be wise, doubtless, not to become over-sanguine in respect to vast mechanical organization. Such could only wisely mature by reason of need, and the free yet Divinely led will of the people. Since that involves a unity of spirit, mind and organic life, it would develop gradually in that order. Doubtless the majority of church communicants become so identified through the cricumstance of parentage. However, there need be allowances for differences of individuality and education. A forest all of maple trees would possess neither the charm nor utility of one composed of several varieties. Because of the nature of language itself, the grasp and expression by different persons of certain aspects of truth are often far from identical, and with experience take on new and surprising qualities. Who could say that the complete mastery by the Christian faith of human wills and plans had been reached? Consequently, without any departure from generally recognized fundamentals of "the faith once delivered to the saints," it is to be held not only in sincerity, but spoken in love, as enjoined by St. Paul, whose intellectual and spiritual calibre is beyond question. He had to warn the Corinthians against dividing into rival groups one saying "I am of Paul," and another, "I am of Apollos," as though Christ were to be divided. The wasteful divisions being engendered were far removed from that wonderful intercession previous to Gethsemane by the Lord Himself, who again and again prayed that His followers might be one and perfected by union with Himself. The possession of His spirit by the individual and the church is the dynamic with which effectually to manifest Christ to the world.

SYLVIA IN DISGRACE.

It was shocking and distinctly disappointing to learn that Sylvia Pankhurst had gone over bag and baggage to the Bolshevists, heading a conspiracy to bring on a Red revolution in England. In these times of social unrest and change nobody imagined that the militant Sylvia was sitting back and leisurely tatting or idly picking at a ukelele, but that she should have carried her well-known passion for "starting something" to the point of linking up with the infamous Lenine was not expected. The most of us rather admired Sylvia for the brave and spectacular fight she put up as a grand champion of woman suffrage. We were all with her on that occasion, even when she was gumming up the empire's mail matter or dropping malodorous drugs in the House of Commons. She was resourceful, courageous in an excellent cause. Furthermore, her rilings and goadings of the Government contributed a most joyous note to the gayety of nations. Every day we were tense for something amazingly fresh and original in suffragette "outrages," and Sylvia never failed us. But it's a far cry from a campaign to ridicule and harass Parliament into passing a measure that was due decades ago, to a conspiracy to throw a nation into Red disorder. The people of the United Kingdom have no intention of permitting the bullet to take the place of the ballot, and Sylvia has been given six months to ponder this cold fact.

One thing about Sylvia encourages us to believe she is not altogether lost to redemption. She announces that hunger-strikes are futile and foolish. This shows her possessed of common sense and reasonableness that may yet direct her dynamic personality into channels rational and entertaining. We are sorry about Sylvia's lapse, but do not despair of her.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Soon the country's jailers will be asking guests the question: "With or without bath"?

Speaking of ancient history, the Board of Commerce "K. O.'d" itself when it "O. K.'d" the sugar order.

"Four-Cornered Election Contest in Toronto"—headline. That doesn't necessarily mean that it will be on the square.

Six months in the "cooler" may help quiet Sylvia Pankhurst, as judging by her letters to Lenine, the heat must have gone to her head.

Canada does not desire quantity so much as quality in the matter of immigrants. One good egg is of more value than many uncertain bad ones.

Although the war is over as far as Canadian soldiers are concerned, Imperial troops still "carry on." One hundred thousand of them are in Mesopotamia awaiting the signing of a treaty with Turkey, which will bid them "fall out."

Wages and tobacco may soon be supplied to prisoners at Kingston. When that becomes the rule one may expect to hear many eloquent appeals in court to be sent to the "pen" rather than to one of those common jails, where no other amusement than playing "How Dry I Am" on a stone with a sledge-hammer is available.

ICELAND WARMER THAN ENGLAND.

[Boston Evening Transcript.]

One of the current topics of conversation in England is the weather of the past summer. England never knew anything quite like it. Snow fell in Durham during July. Frost was twice reported in Oxfordshire during August. On the last day of August, in Manchester, a screened thermometer four feet above the ground recorded a temperature only three degrees above the freezing point. It now appears that while England was shivering the summer through, Iceland was enjoying the kind of weather that England wanted and did not get. On a day when the mercury recorded a temperature of 53 degrees in London, it was 72 in Northern Iceland—entirely inappropriate to an island of that name.

Of course there is an explanation. It is pointed out that during the summer, while England was swept by icy blasts from the Arctic, Iceland was favored by pleasant breezes from the Western Atlantic. The experience of the two islands serves to illustrate the extent to which the weather will sometimes depart from normal conditions. It will doubtless set people in England and Iceland to gossiping about the change in the climate. But the climate does not change within a lifetime of a man. Iceland and England will in the main have the same kind of weather they have had for centuries.

Letters to the Editor

GOOD PLUMBING.

To the Editor of The London Advertiser:

The Bennett & Wright Company of Toronto, who did the plumbing for the new building of the Holeproof Hosiery Company of Canada, and who are now doing the plumbing for the new Medical School, have called my attention to the article on Page 3 of your paper of October 22.

These people have done the plumbing in both of these buildings in strict accordance with the Toronto bylaw, and in strict accordance with the bylaw which it was proposed to enforce in this city. In justice to the owners of the above buildings and to the contractors, I think you should make plain that, no matter what is the general condition of the plumbing in this city, the plumbing in the two above-mentioned buildings is first-class in every respect.

I feel, as consulting engineer for the owners of both of these buildings, that I should call your attention to this matter, and I believe that Mr. James Young, the city plumbing inspector, will heartily agree with me.

I believe that Mr. Buchanan, general manager of the Public Utilities Commission, and who is superintending the work at the new Medical School, will also be glad to bear me out in stating that the plumbing work done at that building is first-class in every respect, and is a credit to the Board of Governors of the Western University and to the contractors who did the work. Yours truly,

H. P. ELLIOTT, Consulting Engineer.

The article referred to was the report of an address delivered before a gathering of local plumbers. It was not an expression of opinion by The Advertiser.

A CHANCE FOR INVENTORS.

To the Editor of the London Advertiser:

It has oft been said that electricity is only in its infancy. It has certainly made some strides in the way of light since the old tallow candle time, which many of us can well remember.

But what about the potential ether energy that surrounds our globe in natural phenomena which science tells us is really electricity; and what of our globe in its daily revolution and its orbit around the sun each year, carrying our fair city some 93,000 miles per hour through space? And yet we enjoy ourselves as though this earth was really standing perfectly still. And what about the 5,000 planets and stars that are said to be visible to the naked eye, and the 300,000 to be seen through the telescope? All these self-luminous bodies revolving around our sun, using the sun as their exit—fancy the power of the sun! And as there is such mighty electrical power around us, why cannot some of this mighty power be harnessed up in some kind of a large aerated ball extended over the housetop at a reasonable height, attached to a mechanical magnet properly grounded, for the producing of electric light, heat, etc., in each home, to assist the present electric system?

It seems to me some such experiment is worth trying, and may be accomplished by someone of inventive ability. Surely electricity has not reached its top notch yet, and we may be in darkness half the time this coming winter. Yours for better light, SAMUEL T. COOK.

THE TEACHER IN THE WEST.

[By Mrs. George Hambleton, M.A.]

Throughout nearly the whole Province of Alberta the insurgent movement of school teachers has spread with astonishing rapidity. Scarcely more than two years old, the Teachers' Alliance of Alberta now numbers within its ranks almost all the four thousand rural and urban teachers of that section of Canada. Were the organization one merely for the protection of the teaching profession, we could pass it by with but passing comment. But it is more than that. Its challenge is a challenge to Canada, for the alliance is endeavoring to solve difficulties underlying the rural problem, difficulties standing in the way of a healthy growth in our national civilization.

Agitation for increase in salary is not the driving force of the Teachers' Alliance of Alberta. The impulse which created it and gives it strength is a deeply democratic sympathy with the needs of the isolated farmer—and a faith in the future of Canada. Three years ago a young Canadian girl wrote as follows to the then existing National Service Council at Ottawa:

"Every evening after school I ride, and find not a single person speaking English. I have passed at various times school after school in the districts surrounding my own section, all closed down. University students came out in the summer time for two, three or four months and taught in these schools. When they are gone, the boys and girls of foreign parents soon forget the few words of English they have learned. I teach from seventy to eighty pupils for the whole school year for $750 per annum. In the whole of rural Alberta there is hardly a man teacher. How could he support a family on that salary? In almost any career of domestic, commercial or national service I could earn more, no doubt. But my idea of national service is to stick it out here."

Would Not Remain.

To understand the courage of this resolution, one must know that these girl teachers went into foreign sections where often not a single person spoke English, lived in houses which would probably be condemned as unsanitary, and, in school, had to teach older boys who scarcely understood anything said to them. Small wonder was it that usually only the young, inexperienced girl teacher took these schools, and that, after one term or a year, the trustees had again to advertise for a teacher—who again stayed but a few months. The career of teacher after teacher followed almost monotonously the same order—just a term in a foreign farming section, then a few terms in an older settled English-speaking section, then, ultimately, the teacher drifted to the town or city or out of the profession entirely. Men teachers, except as principals in town or city schools, seldom stayed in the profession more than a few years.

Such is the real story of the "Melting Pot," whereof inhabitants of the United States have made a fetish. We are gradually beginning to realize, as we should have realized before, that the efficacy of the "melting" depends finally on the rural teacher and on the elementary teacher in towns. And in the Canadian West it was evident that the melting pot was in danger of becoming a meaningless figure of speech, and nothing more.

A Minimum Salary.

But some of the finer members of the teaching profession thought that their work was something more than a stepping-stone to other things. They felt the tremendous demands of a young and growing civilization. They determined to establish high standards and to cultivate among teachers a wider respect for their calling. Soon the Teachers' Alliance of Alberta was formed. Public agitation and teachers' petitions resulted in an advanced bill being introduced into the Legislature. The bill, which was passed, established a minimum salary of $840 per annum for all teachers. Hon. Mr. Smith stated this week that the bill had been a success in spite of individual school boards, here and there, trying hard to circumvent it. Now and again, however, the department of education for the province is still forced to issue permits for unqualified teachers at lower salaries.

The present demands of the Teachers' Alliance of Alberta include: A minimum salary of $1,200 per annum; teachers' residences in the rural communities, and recognition of the teacher's right to submit matters in dispute between himself and the school board to some independent tribunal on which teachers will be represented. Such a tribunal would have control over dismissals. Other demands made concern three-year contracts and length of notice.

BEATING OFF THE BURGLARS.

[New York Times.]

Burglary, its prevalence in town and country, its cause and cure—these things have not been made an issue in the presidential campaign, probably because the party orators on both sides would have had to view the situation with the same alarm, and there could have been no pointing with pride in either direction. None the less, so many are the robberies, so bold are the robbers becoming, and so nearly helpless either to prevent or to apprehend are the police, urban and rustic, that there is no end of talk on the subject, and the victims are beginning to discuss among themselves the possibility of devising new means for meeting a danger which, if not exactly new, is so much greater than it ever was before in this country that the element of familiarity disappears from consideration.

Some are advising the abandonment of the habit of living in isolated houses, and the adoption of that of building little towns at the top of high hills, and well walled in, after the mediæval custom in Italy. Others contemplate the employment of guards, one for each house, each guard carrying through the night watches a gun, say a 10-gauge, 12-pound fowling-piece, using cartridges charged with about three drams of nitro powder.

Poetry and Jest

"FRENCHIE."

[Frank McCarthy, A. E. F.]

I found him in a shell-hole,
With a gash across his head.
Standing guard beside his master,
Though he knew the boy was dead.

Hell was raining all around us,
We could only lie there tight,
Got to sort o' like each other
Through the misery of that night.

When I crawled back to the trenches,
—And I took his master, too—
Frenchie followed. Guess he figured,
Just because of that, I'd do.

You wouldn't say he's handsome.
He's been hit a dozen times—
But when we boys "go over."
Over with us Frenchie climbs.

He has fleas, and I have "cooties."
He speaks French; I "no compree."
So the rule of fifty-fifty
Goes between my dog and me.

And when for home I'm starting,
If I live to see this through,
Just one thing is sure as shooting;
That my dog is going too.

REASSURING.

[Youth's Companion.]

An officer was inspecting at one of the camps, a daily paper tells us, when he came upon a big, round-eyed private doing sentry duty with a gun that he held in anything but the approved manner.

"Don't you know better, demanded the officer, "than to point an empty gun at me?"

"But it ain't empty, sir," protested the private. "It's loaded!"

ALL-HALLOW'S EVE.

There is a superstition in Ireland that upon the eve of All-Saint's Day, which we call "Halloween," the dead are allowed to visit their friends upon earth, to break bread with them until midnight strikes.

Will you not come, dear heart? Tonight alone
Of all the weary year,
God's tender hand has opened wide the door
That stands between us and the loves of yore,
Between us, with our mortal hope and fear,
And those from doubting gone.

See, I have swept the hearth and piled the fire
With glowing turf and set
Your chair once more in its accustomed place;
Will you not leave your heaven and turn your face
For this one night, where I, who love you yet,
Wait you with wild desire?

Forego one hour your heaven's warmth and light;
They cannot need you there
As I, who only long once more to place
My hand in yours, to see once more your face,
And feel your fingers lying on my hair;
Give me at least tonight!

FRIENDLY ADVICE.

The Young Thing—What kind of husband would you advise me to look out for?

Wellmeaning Friend—You let husbands alone, my dear—it's asking for trouble—you get a single man?—Passing Show.

THE LITTLE HOMES OF LAUGHTER

The little homes of laughter can be found on many a street,
And it's there that men and women in the bonds of friendship meet;
Oh, the mansions on the highway may be handsomer to see,
And the rich man's lawn be lovely with the bloom of plant and tree,
But the glory of the nation and its strength from day to day
Are the little homes of laughter where the children romp and play.

There are millions of them smiling underneath the flag at morn—
The homes that know the bedroom where the little ones were born,
The homes without pretention, very clean and neat inside,
That know the scars of sorrow, and the room where one has died;
It's beneath these roofs of kindness and within these walls of love
Where abides the strength and courage that shall keep the flag above.

The little homes of laughter, homes the thousads know and keep,
Where the mothers croon at evening as they rock their babes to sleep
And the fathers in their shirt sleeves find some little task to do—
Oh, it's there you'll see the glory of the old red, white and blue;
In the little homes of laughter, standing North, South, East or West,
It is there you'll see the nation at its finest and its best.

INQUIRY MISINTERPRETED.

[Boston Transcript.]

He—Does your mother object to kissing?

She—Now, just because I allow you to kiss me, you needn't think you can kiss the whole family.

WE—GROWN OLD.

[Theodosia Garrison.]

I who, yesterday was young,
Now am old instead;
All of youth a glad song sung.
All a story said.
It was love who sang the song,
Love the story told.
Ah, but we remember long,
We, grown old.

Only yesterday I quaffed
Life's enkindling wine;
Only yesterday I laughed
Youth's light laugh divine.
It was love who played the host,
Brimmed the cup of gold.
Ah, but we remember most,
We, grown old.

Only yesterday my eyes
Held Love's marvellings;
Nay, it is not Time that flies—
Love alone has wings.
Time plods slow, in very truth;
Love—what man may hold?
Ah, we know who filched our youth,
We, grown old.

HER FIRST THOUGHT.

A woman from the middle west spent a few weeks in Gloucester last summer and in conversation with a new acquaintance she made known the fact that it was her very first glimpse of the ocean.

"It must have been quite a treat," remarked the other. "And how did the ocean impress you?"

"Well," was the reply, "when I saw the amount of water they have here it struck me that fish might be a little bit cheaper."

I MET A SAILOR.

[Walter de la Mare.]

I met a sailor in the wods,
A silver ring wore he.
His hair hung black, his eyes shone blue,
And thus he said to me:

"What country, say, of this round earth,
What shore of what salt sea,
Be this, my son, I wander in,
And looks so strange to me?"

Says I, "O foreign sailorman,
In England now you be;
This is her wood, and there her sky,
And that her roaring sea."

He lifts his voice yet louder,
"What smell be this," says he;
"My nose on the sharp morning air
Snuffs up so greedily?"

Says I, "It is wild roses
Do smell so winsomely,
And winy briar, too," says I,
"That in these thickets be."

"And, oh!" says he, "what leetle bird
Is singing in you high tree,
So every shrill and long-drawn note
Like bubbles breaks in me?"

Says I, "It is the mavis,
That perches in the tree,
And sings so shrirll, and sings so sweet,
When dawn comes up by the sea."

Every Man For Himself

BY HOPKINS MOORHOUSE.

As he spoke he took from his pocket a roll of greenbacks and peeled off five ten-dollar bills which he handed to the foreman with a twinkle of the eye. It was what they had been waiting for with a vast interest. And while Svenson, the big Swede, and the two Norwegians snatched off their caps and grinned, Thorlakson endeavored to convey their entire satisfaction.

"Yaow, Meester Vade, sir, it is wery suffeecient," he assured in his best English as he shook hands with profound respect. When he turned to Kendrick there was added his evident admiration of the young man's generosity.

Smoke was curling up from the kitchen end of the private car and the welcome aroma of coffee announced that Taylor had breakfast ready. They climbed aboard forthwith, but the special remained sidetracked to pass a fast freight. It thundered by before they finished the meal and by the time Kendrick found himself on the observation platform at the rear of the car the special was on its way.

Wade carefully shut the door behind them. Podmore had fallen into a sound slumber while Cranston was busy at the writing-desk, and it was with a lively interest that Phil settled himself to listen to whatever confidences Ben Wade might see fit to impart. For some time, however, the president of the C. L. S. smoked in silence, his shaggy eyebrows puckered in a frown and his gaze fastened thoughtfully upon the serrated skyline of the spruce tops that ran rearward unceasingly.

"We've come across two or three places like that on this division the past two weeks," said Phil to break the silence. He nodded towards the disused station building that was receding down the track, its boarded windows and broken platform eloquent of desolation. "I've wondered why a perfectly good station like that should be built in the first place if it was to be abandoned later on without even a day telegraph operator?"

"Eh? Oh, there used to be some lumbering around here when we first opened up. Also the road's required to put up a station every so many miles without regard to the surrounding country—just a fool charter obligation, that's all; sometimes we use an old box car—" Wade carefully picked away the band of his cigar. "Phil, I'm going to ask you to undertake a somewhat unusual commission for me with no very definite idea of what it may lead you into. There may be even some danger attached to it. It is my duty to mention this possibility, although I know you'll consider that not at all when I tell you that the results may have some bearing upon he welfare of—your uncle; indirectly, perhaps your aunt.

"Let me give you a few facts. If you've cut your eye teeth you know that just as man does not live by bread alone so elections in this fair land are not won nowadays by mass meetings and fine speeches, but by hard cold cash and organization. Things have come to such a pass that it is largely a matter of machinery. The side with the biggest machine and the most oil—and gas—is pretty sure of passing the grandstand in the lead. The oil is most important, and long before the race it is gathered into a large tank called the 'party campaign fund,' by henchmen who call upon various friendly corporate institutions. You follow me?"

"Right at your heels," smiled Kendrick.

"Well then, one of these substantial little contributions not long since while on its devious way to the 'place of burnt offerings' was ambushed by somebody with a hankering for the flesh pots of Egypt—fifty thousand dollars cold, stolen as slick as a whistle. I happen to be one of the very few, outside of the principals in the transaction, who know anything about it; for campaign fund contributions are among those things which men of discretion do not discuss from the housetops. I'm not going to say just now how this information reached me; but it is necessary for you to know that the Interprovincial Loan and Savings Company is vitally interested in the recovery of this money, or at least the identity of the thief. And when we speak of the Interprovincial in these halcyon days we speak of J. Cuthbert Nickleby, its astute president. A thing like this could never have happened if Nat Lawson had been in the saddle.

"Mention of Nickleby brings me to Podmore, who is nothing more than a tool of Nickleby's. I knew when I hired Podmore as my secretary that I was hiring a spy. I knew his record. You see, they were aware of the fact that I was interesting myself on behalf of my friend, Lawson. Podmore hadn't been with me two days before the beggar had the combination of the safe aboard this car. He's a smooth one. But I figured to learn as much from him as he got from me. Before we go to Toronto I'll give you the inside history of that Lawson situation; for it's mixed up with the rest of it.

"But let me get back to this stolen money. It was done up in an envelope just like this one which Podmore stole from the car the other night; fact is, they're duplicates. It was a little experiment which Cranston and I decided to try out to get Podmore where we wanted him. We're going to have an interesting session with him after a bit on the off chance of securing some information. I haven't a great deal of confidence in third-degree methods; but I'm letting Cranston have a fling at it on the chance that Podmore will drop a stitch. He's yellow enough for anything.

"Now, here's where you come in, Phil. Podmore thinks you intend to help him out and that is exactly what I want you to pretend to do. We'll stage a little drama and we'll have you on the carpet along with him. You'll deny all knowledge of the envelope. I'll fire you. You'll get mad and come back at me with red-hot talk for doubting your word and so on. We're going to let Podmore go when we get to the city. You'll go with him. The chance to sick you onto him is too good to miss. So we'll turn you loose together; it will be up to you then to mix in where you see fit. Is that all clear?

"All right. What I want you to do is to keep an eye on him. Find out what his next move is. He told you he was the reporter who had located the evidence that convicted Rives. Did he tell you how he got hold of it?—how he double-crossed Rives by low-down trickery? He doesn't know how to be loyal to anybody. I'll be surprised if he doesn't repeat on Nickleby.

"Then there are some things I want to find out about Nickleby and his associates. I want you to move carefully, Phil. I had one of Cranston's best men on the job until recently; but his usefulness was ended by unexpected developments. I'm working to put Nat Lawson back at the head of the loan company; Nickleby is an interloper and he's playing ducks and drakes with the concern. Tell you about it later. Are you agreeable to act as my secretary in these matters and to carry out instructions—blindfolded, so to speak?"

Kendrick had listened intently to this recital. Now he deliberately lighted his pipe before replying, and when he did it was to ask a blunt question.

"Does Uncle Milt figure in this?" and he noted the shadow that crossed the magnate's face.

"I wish I really knew that, Phil," said Wade seriously. "Time will tell. I'm banking on your uncle to stay square to the finish; but there's nothing to be gained by shutting one's eyes to the fact that many a good man has found the political game as it's being played these days too many for him. There are those who are inclined to doubt all politicians, your uncle included. I don't set myself up as any high-minded reformer; if you're sitting in on a game at all, you've got to play it according to the rules that are handed you—or quit."

Phil smoked in silence. He was thinking of that strange interview with his uncle the night of the fog; but he gave no voice to his thoughts.

"Your aunt has some of her private funds invested in the Interprovincial Loan and that's one of the reasons I want you with me, Phil." Wade turned and laid a hand on Kendrick's knee while he looked the young man quietly in the eye. "There are stronger considerations than the money side of it, though. All I can say is that the happiness of your aunt is as dear to me as it is to you, or as it would be to anyone who had learned to respect and admire her as we have. That happiness has got to be guarded, Phil, even at the sacrifice of—everything else."

His gaze wandered away again to where the twin rails converged, and for a moment the rhythmic beat of the wheels over the joints held sway. Rather surprised, Phil stole a glance at the virile face that was turned so steadfastly away and recalled an item of gossip he had once overheard somewhere—that Mrs. Waring was the real reason Benjamin Wade was still a bachelor. He wondered if there could be any truth in that idle rumor.

"I'm sorry that I can't be more explicit. Did you ever try to piece out a puzzle, Phil? That's what I'm up against now. I'll tell you all about it—as soon as I know myself. There are men in this world who stop at nothing—"

Phil turned abruptly, a startled look in his eyes; but the other did not finish the sentence.

"Harrington Rives is out of jail—" he began.

"A case in point, if you like," nodded Wade. "But don't let's talk to no purpose. We'll be passing Rutland's car in a minute. Do we stop for your things?"

"You hired me back there at Thorlakson's," Kendrick reminded.

In this simple fashion were events conspiring.

As a result of the tremendous strain of modern living, so many people find that the nerve cells have become devitalized, the whole system weakened, and thousands of men and women are today losing their grip on health, simply because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving through lack of iron It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life-sustaining oxygen enters the body and enables the blood to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again, and see how much you have gained. MEIGHEN POSES AS ENEMY OF BIG INTERESTS

Contends That Railway Nationalization Was Defying "Big Business."

CALDER SELF-RIGHTEOUS

Feels That Union Government Saved Country by Hanging To Power.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Oct 29.—(By Canadian Press).—Before an audience which packed the opera house here this afternoon, Premier Arthur Meighen and J. A. Calder delivered brief addresses describing their party's attitude on various questions of public interest.

En route to New Westminster the party stopped at Burnaby, where Reeve Thomas Sanderson presented an address of welcome to the premier and a similar presentation was made at New Westminster by Mayor J. J. Johnston on behalf of New Westminster and surrounding municipalities.

Discussing the tariff, Premier Meighen said he thought the best plan would be to pursue a course of moderation; find a common middelground between the two extremes of high protection and free trade.

The leader of the Opposition had not stated how he would form a tariff policy, he asserted.

Favored Interests.

The cry frequently raised that the administration favored the big interetsts were without foundation, he said. Had the nationalization of 20,000 miles of railway been in the interests of the big business? "Mr. MacKenzie King," he said, "knows that we took action in defiance of the wishes of big business interests."

Had Bigger Job.

Hon. J. A. Calder said that Canada had a bigger job after the armistice than before the war, and were the Government to have gone to pieces, as some persons had suggested, it would have been a criminal act. There were grave problems to be solved. While mistakes had been made no belligerent country in the world had done the work Canada had done.

Party patronage, he said, was practically a thing of the past in Canada.

BOOES GREET CALDER'S SPEECH

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 29.—Premier Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder spoke here tonight. Mention of Hon. J. A. Calder's name by Chairman J. H. Senkler, K.C., evoked loud cheers and booes. Noisy uproars caused the chairman to appeal for a fair and impartial hearing.

Mr. Calder said: "I judge this meeting is in good humor. If I correctly interpret the temper of the meeting, this crowd is here to hear the questions of the day discussed. The strongest government you could have in Canada is a government that stands for clear-cut politics."

M'DERMAND, U. F. O., CAUSE OF THE THREE-CORNERED FIGHT

W. G. Charlton Declares in Campaign Speech At Springfield Last Night.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 29.—"As a Canadian citizen I have the right to run. I am not a criminal nor an insane person," said W. G. Charlton, Liberal candidate in the East Elgin by-elections, when speaking in the concert hall here tonight.

Mr. Charlton stated that he must have been misunderstood in his reply at Union on Wednesday to R. W. E. Burnaby's speech made at the U. F. O. meeting in Aylmer on Tuesday.

"Mr. S. S. McDermand, the U. F. O. candidate, is the man responsible for the three-cornered fight, but I have no quarrel with the U. F. O. because they have brought a candidate in the field," declared Mr. Charlton. "McDermand was not indorsed by the ladies in the 1917 election, when he offered himself as Liberal candidate and was advised by his Conservative friends to secure nomination as a U. F. O. candidate, which course he followed."

"The reason that the farmers organized a party of their own was because they were not satisfied with the parties that have been in power, and claim they had done no good," declared Mr. Charlton.

"When the Laurier Government was in power the reciprocity agreement with the United States was put into effect. The United States did not get all they wanted, but it gave Canadian farmers all they wanted. The farmer's neglected their duty, and the Laurier Government went out of power. The Laurier Government controlled the affairs of Canada better and more economically than any other government that ever was in power. When Canada went through the great strain of 1917 the Canadian Government carried her safely through that period. There was no unrest when the Laurier Government was in power.

When the Laurier Government was in power, out of the 771 articles dutiable at that time, 253, or more than a third, were put on the free list. The Liberals have lived up to every promise that they have made.

When speaking of the protective tariff he made reference to Premier Meighen's address at Straffordville on moderate protection. "Protection is only favoritism. Who thinks the manufacturer needs protection? They have lived a life of virility. They are now old enough to stand on their own feet without any more protection from the state," he stated.

"There is a debt on Canada of two billion dollars, caused through the war. War services cost us a great deal more than it should. The Government of Canada was extravagant through its favoritism. They need not have paid such high prices for shells. The high price paid was what made war millionaires. It was not the shell manufacturer's fult; he was ofefred the work, but through favoritism he was paid an enormous price for the shells he turned out."

ELECTRIC HEATERS PUT CITY IN DARK

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 29.—As a result of half the transformers in the local sub-station of the hydro-electric power commission being burned out on Wednesday night by reason of many electric heaters being brought into service, following the arrival of the cold snap, this city was practically in darkness Wednesday and Thursday nights, and many factories were without power. There was an improvement in the situation here tonight. It is expected that the power shortage will last for about a week pending the installation of new transformers.

MAGISTRATE MIERS OF WINDSOR DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Was in Toronto Planning Shooting Trip To the North.

DIED ON STREET

Had Shortly Before Had Interview With the Attorney-General.

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—Alfred Miers, police magistrate of Windsor and Walkerville, died suddenly here this afternoon. He was crossing the York street bridge when seized with heart-failure, and expired almost immediately. Mr. Miers was accompanied at the time by a Walkerville friend, H. D. Drake.

The late Magistrate Miers arrived in Toronto this morning, intending to go on a hunting trip to the north with friends. He had a brief conference this morning with Attorney-General W. E. Raney at the Parliament Buildings. He was returning from Dean's boathouse at the foot of York street when stricken. Up to then he had appeared to be in good health and spirits.

Mr. Miers intended leaving this city tonight for Northern Ontario, and had planned to spend two or three weeks shooting.

The chief of police of Walkerville was notified by the local authorities of Magistrate Miers' death.

Death of C. L. Potter

Charles L. Potter, aged 92 years, a resident of Windsor for over 40 years, died at the family residence, 490 Church street. Deceased, who was a native of Candor, N.Y., was one of the border's best known residents, and was particularly prominent except for the past few years in local Methodist church circles. The funeral will take place Monday, interment being made in Sandwich cemetery.

Alderman George A. Urquhart, is the new president of the St. Andrew's Society on the border, succeeding Lt.-Col. Walter McGregor, as the result of the annual elections in which other officers appointed were: Donald Ross, vice-president; George J. MacDonald, secretary and Alexander Gow, treasurer.

Had Narrow Escape.

Wesley Pott, Detroit merchant, narrowly escaped death here when his automobile in which he was driving alone at the time skidded, struck a railing and overturned at a sharp turn and elevation on Sandwich street along the river front, late last night. The accident occurred directly opposite the Peabody plant in Walkerville, at an elevated crossing where a score of automobilists have met death and serious injury within the past few years.

A Peculiar Case.

When faced with civil suit for money alleged owing for repairs on his house and other properties, Robert E. Flattery, of Tecumseh, entered a counter claim for $120 for rent and $104 for liquor said to have been taken from his premises by the complainant. Judge Coughlin in county court at Sandwich was confronted with one of the most puzzling and unique cases heard here in some time. Flattery claimed that while working on his premises, the complainant, Anthony J. Vermette, a carpenter, of Tecumseh, had taken away 26 bottles of liquor valued at $i a bottle.

WHATEVER YOU DO, DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES, SAYS DR. LEWIS, WHO

Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all leading druggists, including Standard Drug Stores and Strong's Drug Store.

EXPECT ARRESTS AND DISMISSALS AT PENITENTIARY

Kingston Hears That Evidence Implicates Employees of Prison.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 29.—It is reported here that a dozen or more officials of the Portsmouth penitentiary are to be dismissed in connection with a general clean-up of the situation at the big prison, and that a number of arrests are likely to be made shortly.

It is said that the mounted police who have been working on the case have secured evidence showing that a gang of employees in the penitentiary have been co-operating with "Wash" Kalis, the supposed ringleader in the plot to effect a general jail delivery. Former members of the mounted police may take the places of the dismissed officials.

John Hughes, a guard at the penitentiary, has resigned after twenty-six years' service.

HUGHES NON-COMMITTAL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINGSTON, Oct. 29.—Brig.-Gen. W. H. Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries, Ottawa, arrived at Portsmouth today. When interviewed, he said there was nothing of special significance connected with his visit. He was absent from Canada, attending the International Prison Congress, at the time of the strike of the convicts, and therefore had no knowledge of the circumstances connected with the events that gained such wide publicity and were, to say the least, greatly exaggerated, from what he learned after his return.

Asked when the investigation would open at the institution, Superintendent Hughes stated that there would be no investigation, as no commission had been appointed that he knew of. Certain gentlemen had been appointed to look into the penitentiaries act and to report upon certain matters relative to sentences, etc., but it was not the intention that they should go into matters of internal economy, discipline, etc. He will stay at the institution until Saturday.

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every women in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Read the Experience of These Two Women

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' And there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines which I gladly recommend.'"—Mrs. Wm. Stein, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

(University Extension Committee of Western University.)
BY H. W. HILL, M.B., M.D., D.P.H.
Director Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, Ontario, Canada.

A Column Devoted to Public Health in All Phases. Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

IS THIS TRUE?

The Literary Digest for October 16, 1920, quotes Frank C. Lockwood, "dean of the University of Arizona," to the following effect:

"We ought to teach our children 'in terms of strength, and beauty and joy, rather than of weakness and disease.' We should tell a boy that if he keeps clean and sleeps long hours and takes plenty of outdoor exercise he will feel well, and will grow up to be a good athlete and hunter and fighter for the weak and for good causes, like Theodore Roosevelt. The girls should be told that by keeping clean and well they will have a sense of bodily comfort, and will grow up fresh, pretty, and attractive, like the girls in the advertisements of the high-grade magazines—or at least as near like them as an actual human being could ever become."

Very attractive, very simple, and so easy! Be clean, sleep well, exercise well, and the whole problem of physical success is solved! True, cleanliness, sleep and exercise are all very excellent things; he who can sleep well and exercise well cannot be suffering from the worst of physical condition and is able to meet the fundamental needs of life. But is it fair or right to say to the coming generations that cleanliness, sleep and exercise include the whole duty of mankind regarding physical condition?

Surely it is not fair to mislead anyone on any subject and it is most unfair for teachers in high positions of trust to do so. Of all the unfair things in this world, the most unfair is the misleading of children — the telling to them of things that are not so with all the emphasis and authority possible! If cleanliness, sleep and exercise result in the physical development necessary to the good athlete, hunter and fighter, what a dirty, sleepless, lazy race we have! Let us see what the actual situation of our children's physical condition now is and to what extent cleanliness, sleep and exercise would have helped.

Now let us see which of these defects cleanliness, sleep and exercise would prevent.

ABOUT EYE-STRAIN.

How about eye-strain? How many baths a week would take the place of properly-adjusted glasses in making the blackboard more visible to the poor youngster who can't see well? How much cleanliness, sleep or exercise will be necessary to correct the crooked jaw of the child with irregular teeth, or tonsils that are too large? Will soap and water make the flat-footed child's arch rise gradually to its proper position?

AVERAGE FIGURES SHOWING DEFECTS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

	Per cent.
Eye-strain (sufficient to warrant glasses)	28
Enlarged tonsils	6 to 12
Nasal obstruction (usually adenoid)	12 to 24
Defective hearing	2 to 5
Decayed teeth, primary grades (decreasing with age until 10 years)	50 to 75
Decayed teeth, grammar grades (increasing with age)	10 to 30
Nervous disorders	5 to 20
Orthopedic defects (including flat-foot, etc.—
Noticeable stoop shoulders (increasing with age and more prevalent among girls)	0 to 20
Spinal curvature (increasing with age and more prevalent among girls)—
Noticeable	3
Actually existing in some degree	23
Skin diseases—
Eczema	1 to 15
Pediculosis	0 to 67
Under weight (7 to 10 per cent. below proper weight for height)	30

How about the child whose food is improper? Will bathing or sleeping or exercise correct the diet?

The physical troubles of the children of the human race are seldom due to lack of exercise. Lack of exercise is generally a symptom, not a cause, in a child—a symptom of something wrong—for the child who has nothing the matter with it will usually be active enough in all directions, physically. So also with sleep—seldom is it that a healthy child does not sleep enough. It is true that sometimes a child otherwise all right fails to grow normally because of too little time spent in bed—but really the reasons why the child does not spend enough time in bed will usually be the reasons for its poor health—not the mere lack of sleep alone. If a child spends the proper time in bed and still fails to sleep, some defect or disease or improper diet is at fault.

A WRONG ATTITUDE.

The harm done in such teaching as that quoted—the harm done in telling children that cleanliness, exercise and sleep will make splendid adults of them is simply that it is not true. It is a most one-sided and improper misstatement of the facts. What is true is this—that without these things, and without also many other things not mentioned, of which good food and good nourishment generally is a most important one, not mentioned at all—a successful physical life cannot be lived. One might as well tell a man who has just bought a new automobile that if he will only keep it clean, run it so many miles a day and see it does not run too far nothing else need bother him! A thousand things may go wrong with an automobile that have nothing to do with its cleanliness, how far it is run, or resting it when it gets too hot. The new beginner who blissfully accepts such teaching will quickly find that all his cleanliness will not adjust his carburetor when winter comes on; nor adjust his timer, or keep his battery charged, or prevent a loose brake - band from slipping or avoid punctures or take the place of oil, or prevent his spark plugs missing. Just so with the human body. The "simple rules of health" are very far from simple, in our day and generation. To say that cleanliness, sleep and exercise include all the attention the body needs is to assume that every other condition of the body is perfect and is working on its own account; and does not need attention—and that every other function of the body will continue to do work, if these things are looked out for.

FALLACIOUS PROMISE.

Cleanliness, sleep and exercise are very excellent things; but so are honesty, repose and energy in other spheres. To promise a man mental development of the highest if he will only be honest and work hard is as fallacious as to promise him physical success on the same points. Success in business, in farming, in engineering in any line of life does not depend on simple honesty, hard work and proper relaxation. We see too many instances every day of failure to achieve success where honesty and hard work are not lacking. It is true that none can be successful without these—but it is not true that these alone mean success.

Only by search for the particular thing which is wrong in each case and the correction of it when found can physical success be achieved. After correction of defects comes proper physical development by good food, proper exercise, sufficient rest, etc.

PARTY OF SCIENTISTS FROM UNITED STATES TO EXPLORE AMAZON

Will Reach Portion of Ground Covered by Roosevelt Expedition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(By Canadian Press).—A large party of scientists from the United States, next January will explore about 1,000 miles of almost unknown territory in the Amazon basin along Eastern Ecuador and Peru, it is announced at Columbia University. The ground to be covered includes a portion traversed by the Roosevelt expedition along the Madeira River.

Among the members of the expedition, which will take an entire year, will be Henry H. Rusby, dean of Columbia School of Pharmacy, who will head the party; Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stamford University, to with Dr. Carl H. Eigenmann, dean of the University of Indiana, will study fishes and reptiles; Dr. F. Kremers, University of Wisconsin, an authority on volatile oils; Professor Gill, Boston Institute of Technology; Dr. Ruthvan, University of Michigan, and many zoologists from the American Museum of Natural History, Harvard and Johns Hopkins University are also co-operating in the expedition for a study of drugs as to physical, chemical and clinical properties.

Dr. Rusby, who headed a similar South American expedition in 1885, said he learned from natives of narcotics in the section and he hopes to find specimens for valuable medicines. The expedition will be known as the Mulford Biological Exploration of the Amazon Basin, he said.

The start will be made from Bogota by mule to Calamar, thence by canoe down the Jaupes River and the Rio Negro. After reaching the Amazon, the second half of the journey will be begun July 1 up the Madeira. The party plans to avoid the difficult high land encountered by the Roosevelt expedition by going up the Mamore River. The Pacific coast is expected to be reached at the end of the year.

WILD AND WOOLLY BOY FROM WEST "CUTS HER LOOSE"

James Hardy Creates a Real Disturbance in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—"My name is Hardy," he boomed. "I'm hard and that's the way I like my potatoes. Set 'er up, barkeep. This one's on me."

Tall and bronzed, wearing a William S. Hart waistcoat and a "big Bill" sombrero, James Hardy, otherwise known as "The Lone Wolf of Montana," and variously of Giltedge, Mont., Red Dog, Wyoming, and all points west, projected himself into the barroom of the New Gault House and made his demand upon the bartender for some hard likker. It pleased the barkeep to make reply:

"Brother, don't you know you're in a prohibition town in a non-tippling area? How come you to seek the juice of the maize?"

"Now I'll say something," ejaculated Mr. Hardy, as he swept a forty-four from his hip pocket. "Out in my country I'm known as a timber wolf and am given to spells of howling when I don't get, damn pronto, what I ask for.

"Do you know what's the longest river in the world? Y' don't, eh? Well, I tell you. It's the Powder river. It's a mile wide and a foot deep and it flows up hill. We'll now dance and I'll play."

The forty-four belched and a bisque statue of the Venus de Milo crashed to the floor. Another shot splintered the cigar case.

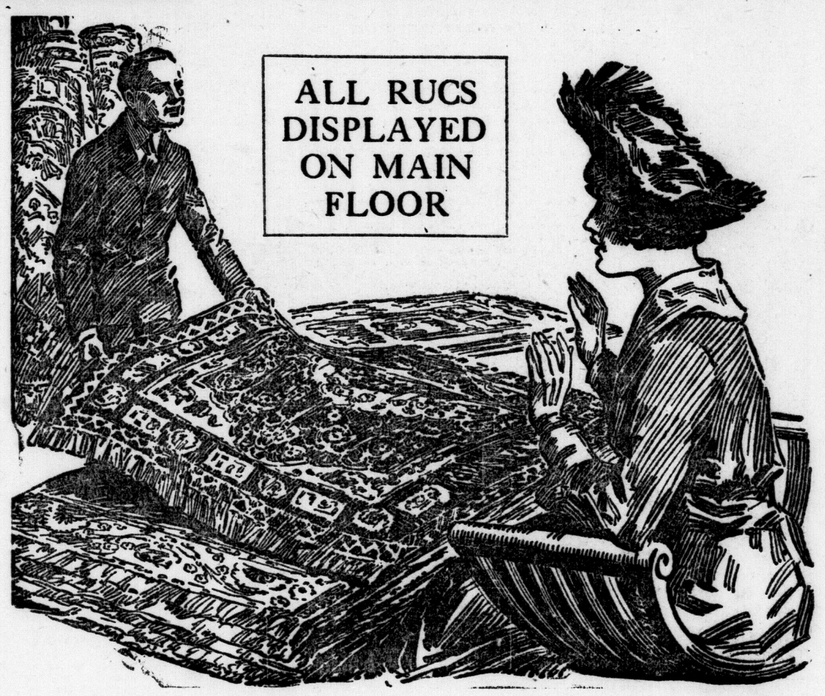

"Orange phosphate — denatured cherry bounce, bah!" roared Hardy as he sent a bullet through the floor directly between the feet of the barkeep. He had just shot a match box off the bar, twenty feet distant, and shot out a knothole in a panel, when a lone policeman came in, smacked him on the coco once or twice and led him away to the "hoose-gow" to think it over.

Here and there one sees a rich Wedgewood Blue or a Persian rose, that sparkle on a dark background, bearing hieroglyphics, or deeper blues, and rose on fawn and terra cotta rose fields. You will also be delighted to know that runners and small rugs may be had to match all the larger rugs at present on display, in Oriental, Persian and medallion designs, together with more formal patterns.

TUESDAY OF NEXT WEEK WILL MAKE HISTORY IN AMERICA

United States Will Decide On Administration For Next Four Years.

LEAGUE QUESTION UP

Voters To Face Issue of Nations' World Covenant. For Peace.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—By Canadian Press.—Tuesday of next week will make history in the United States, for on that date it will be determined whether the administration of the republic for the next four years is to be Democratic, as now, or Republican, as for many years prior to 1912. It will be decided on that day whether the first citizen of the United States for the four years from March 1 next is to be Senator Warren Gamaliel Harding of Ohio or Gov. James Middleton Cox of the same state. The fate of the League of Nations covenant, so far as the United States Government is concerned with that covenant, also hangs on Tuesday's voting, as well as numerous other matters of public policy now being threshed out on the hustings.

Thanks to the terms of a rigid constitution, the people of the United States always know when their elections are coming. The presidential election comes once in four years, and, to make the occasion properly thrilling, many states have their local political tilts for the election of state officers on the same day. But, of course, the federal contest stands our before everything, more especially at a time when the issues involved are of such tremendous importance and the policies of the rival parties so directly opposed to each other. There are many minor parties in the field, but the struggle is between Democrats and Republicans, between Cox and Harding.

The electors of the republic, joined this year by many millions of women voters, do not vote directly for their presidential candidates. They merely elect members to an electoral college, and the electoral college does the rest, reporting its findings formally on Congress. Of course, when the final returns are in on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, everybody will know who the next tenant of the White House will be. But, strictly speaking, the new president will not be elected until January, and will not take office until March. The constitution has surrounded the important job of president-making with safeguards and red tape enough to make it a very solemn ritual indeed.

According to the statutes, "the electors of president and vice-president shall be appointed in each state on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, in every fourth year succeeding every election of a president and vice-president." That settles the date. Now for the electors themselves:

"The number of electors shall be equal to the number of senators and representatives to which the several states are by law entitled at the time when the president and vice-president to be chosen come into office."

That is to say, when a United States voter goes to the polls next Tuesday to perform his duty (or her duty) as a citizen, he (or she) will vote for electors, not presidential candidates. In each state a slate of presidential electors will be elected in this way, by the popular vote. The Republican slate, if elected, will cast its vote in the electoral college for Harding; the Democratic slate, if chosen, will record in favor of Cox. By this method of selection, in which each state influences the choice of president and vice-president according to its representation in Congress, it is mathematically possible for a candidate to secure election even when the popular vote favors his opponent.

There are several instances on record where a president has been elected by a majority of the electorial college when the popular verdict was against him. In the year 1876 Rutherford B. Hayes, Republican, was elected president, receiving 185 votes in the electoral college as against 184 for his opponent, Samuel J. Tilden, Democrat. Tilden had a plurality in the popular vote of 250,935. Similarly, in 1888, when Grover Cleveland, Democrat, had a popular plurality of 98,017 over Benjamin Harrison, Republican, the latter secured 233 votes in the electoral college to 168 votes polled for Cleveland, and was declared president. This happens when populous states, entitled to a heavy representation in Congress, and so to many members in the electoral college, are carried by the winning party by small majorities, while other states less fortunate in their congressional representation, give majorities to the loser.

In the year 1908, for instance, President Taft won 321 votes in the electoral college as against 162 for his Democratic opponent, William Jennings Bryan, and the popular plurality in favor of Taft was 1,269,804. In 1912 Woodrow Wilson secured 435 electoral college votes, as against 8 for Taft, his Republican antagonist, and 88 for Theodore Roosevelt, who ran on the Progressive ticket. Wilson's vote plurality in the country generally was 2,173,512. In the election of 1916, which was a close contest, Wilson received 277 votes in the electoral college as against 254 for Charles E. Hughes, who led the Republican ticket. Wilson's plurality in the popular vote was 581,941.

On Tuesday next, then, the members of the electoral college will be named, and, so far as the general public is concerned, the result of the struggle will be known. But the law does not deem the election of president and vice-president complete at that stage. The electors have now their duties to perform. The statutes set forth these duties in the following terms:

"The electors of each state shall meet and give their votes on the second Monday next following their appointment, at such place in each state as the legislature of such state shall direct. . . .

"It shall be the duty of the executive of each state, as soon as practicable after the conclusion of the appointment of the electors in such state . . . to communicate, under the seal of the state, to the secretary of state of the United States, a certificate of such ascertainment of the electors appointed, setting forth the names of such electors and the canvass of the number of votes cast for the appointment."

The electors meet on the day appointed and go through the formalities set forth in the statutes. Their work is then done. The next step is taken by Congress. The act continues:

"Congress shall be in session on the second Wednesday of February succeeding every meeting of the electors. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet in the hall of House of Representatives at the hour of 1 o'clock in the afternoon on that day, and the president of the Senate shall be their presiding officer. Two tellers shall be previously appointed on the part of the Senate and two on the part of the House of Representatives, to whom shall be handed, as they are opened by the president of the Senate, all the certificates and papers purporting to be certificates of the electoral votes, which certificates and papers shall be opened, presented and acted upon in the alphabetical order of the states, beginning with the letter A."

The tellers must read the certificates in the presence and hearing of the two houses, and make a list of the votes as they appear from the certificates. The votes are counted, and the result handed to the president of the Senate, "who shall thereupon announce the state of the vote, which announcement shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of the persons, if any, elected president and vice-president of the United States, and shall, together with a list of the votes, be entered in the Journals of the two houses."

There are elaborate safeguards provided in case of disputed election returns and the like, but the general system of choosing the chief executive of the republic has been described in these paragraphs. There is special procedure in the event that the offices of president and vice-president should both fall vacant during a presidential term, but this has no application to the present instance.

The 1920 presidential election in the United States will be the 34th in the history of the republic. Former elections resulted as follows:

1789—Previous to 1804 each elector voted for two candidates for president. The one who received the largest number of votes was declared president, and the one who received the next largest number of votes was declared vice-president. George Washington was declared president and John Adams vice-president.

1792—George Washington, president; John Adams, vice-president.

1796—John Adams, president; Thomas Jefferson, vice-president.

1800—There being a tie between Thomas Jefferson, Republican, and Aaron Burr, Republican, the choice devolved upon the House of Representatives. Jefferson received the votes of ten states, which, being the largest vote cast for a candidate, elected him President. Burr received the votes of four states, which, being the next largest vote, elected him vice-president. There were two blank votes.

1804—The constitution of the United States having been amended, the electors at this election voted for a president and a vice-president, instead of for two candidates for president. Thomas Jefferson, Republican, president; Geo. Clinton, Republican, vice-president.

1808—James Madison, Republican, president; George Clinton, vice-president.

1812—James Madison, Republican, president; Elbridge Gerry, Republican, vice-president.

1816—James Monroe, Republican, president; Daniel D. Tompkins, Republican, vice-president.

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE GRAND

"BABES IN THE WOOD" AT THE GRAND TWICE TODAY.

Though only in her 'teens, Dorothy Mackay, who will be seen at the Grand twice today as the featured player with F. Stuart Whyte's fifth annual pantomime, is one of the world's greatest globe-trotters, having already toured the British Isles, France, India, South Africa, Australia, and is now on her second tour of Canada.

Last season Mr. Whyte brought little Miss Mackay over from London to appear in the name part of "Little Red Riding Hood," in which she scored such a pronounced success that he arranged to produce "The Babes in the Wood" this season in order that she might be given another opportunity to display her really wonderful ability for the benefit of Canadian playgoers. To secure this clever youngster's services for this season Mr. Whyte was forced to outbid some of the biggest pantomime producers in England.

During her travels Miss Mackay has made a practice of meeting as many of the children in the different cities visited as possible, and the number of little chums she has throughout the British Emprie runs well into the thousands.

THE ROYAL ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY AT THE GRAND NEXT WEEK.

Max Bendix, conductor of the symphony orchestra and director of the celebrated chorus of "The Royal English Opera Company," who will be here under the direction of John J. McArthur and Lawrence A. Lambert, for a brief season of light opera next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is a firm believer in municipal opera and is of the opinion that the musical situation in America can only be saved through the municipal opera, because of the inability of the traveling organization properly to cover the territory.

"Municipal opera in any city is either a mere amusement enterprise, different only in magnitude from the hackneyed entertainment known as "summer stock" and, like it, bent upon the sordid purpose of taking in so many dollars; or else it is an undertaking for the advancement, uplift and cultural education of the public such as the purpose of Messrs. MacArthur and Lambert was in re-assembling the Gallo English Opera Company for this tour as The Royal English Opera Company."

"Fifteen years ago the most popular phonographic records were those of comic recitations, ragtime, xylophone marches and piccolo and trumpet polkas. Today in nearly every home where there is a phonograph you will find Caruso, McCormack, Kreisler and Galli-Curci records. Why this change from the basest to the best of music? Simply because the phonograph companies brought the best music to the public. How can your taste be cultivated if you never have an opportunity to hear the best things? Good music always drives out poor music, if it is given a chance. The one is true, the other false and the truth must prevail."

"Thus has the tour of The Royal English Opera Company had been most gratifying to me as to all the others connected with the organization. It is a pleasure to work for houses filled with people who appreciate the best, and people who are desirous of becoming educated to the best. Yet I cannot but deplore the fact that it is impossible to remain for a longer period in each city. Were we to stay, we would never complete our tour, therefore I urge all municipal authorities to look forward and see to the establishment of municipal operas. Seats now selling.

"JACK O'LANTERN" AT THE GRAND NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Playgoers of this city will doubtless take more than a perfunctory interest in the announcement that Charles Dillingham will present his musical extravaganza, "Jack O'Lantern," at The Grand next Friday and Saturday with Saturday matinee.

"Jack O'Lantern" comes here direct from the Dillingham Studios in New York, freshened up in every essential and as spic and span as when it was first produced in the Globe Theatre, New York. This indicates, to those at all acquainted with Mr. Dillingham's methods and productions, that theatre patrons are to see a really elaborate musical comedy, presented by a cast and company of more than one hundred.

Doyle and Dixon, two of Mr. Dillingham's most popular stars, have the chief parts. These unique dancers and comedians were last seen in "The Canary" and the season before in "Chin Chin," and today they have a personal following comparable to that of the most famous stage stars.

"Jack O'Lantern," one of the most prodigious productions ever made by Mr. Dillingham, ran for one solid year in the Globe Theatre, New York, and from six to sixteen weeks in three other cities, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, constituting a record not equalled by any other musical comedy in the last four or five years.

The book is by Anne Caldwell and R. H. Burnside, stage director for the New York Hippodrome, and its music is by Ivan Caryll, three names which automatically remove experimentation from offerings of this sort. This collaboration has written and staged some of the most successful as well as unconventional musical comedies in the last decade.

In the cast besides Doyle and Dixon, are Bessie Franklin, Joseph Robison, Marie Callahan, Charles Silber, Ethel Laurence, Frank Herbert, Mark Freeman, Charles George, Lucia Lorraine, Elve Magnus, Eilleen Christie and Tom Brown's Clown Band are some of the other principals who will interpret parts in "Jack O'Lantern." Seats Tuesday.

"THE WANDERER" COMING TO THE GRAND.

A play which carries with it a wonderful moral lesson, and which does not fail to deeply impress everyone who sees it, will be presented at The Grand Nov. 8, 9 and 10. "The Wanderer" is the dramatization of the famous Biblical theme by Messrs. Comstock and Gest.

The story is magnificently written and is really one of the gems of the later year drama of the enlightening type. One sees life in its sweetest, saddest and finally its brightest themes, when all of the past life of "The Wanderer" is washed away by the love of a mother and father, despite bitterness of a brother, who also saw the light shining forth at the climax of the last act. The story shows the ambitious young Jether, a son of Jesse, and the scenes are laid 1,000 years before Jesus Christ. He falls in love with Naomi, his cousin. The boy is ambitious, while, Caal, his brother, is industrious. Tola, a wanderer, tells of the vivid life of the big city and induces Jether to get his portion from his father, and he finally reaches Jerusalem, where he is soon mixed up with high life people, who lead him astray and he mingles with a woman named Rissah. He flatters her with presents. He goes from bad to worse. Naomi, in search of her lover, goes to Jerusalem and finds him in the arms of Rissah. He is finally brought back home, a wreck, and is scorned by his brother. His mother and Naomi recognize him, and finally as a most fitting climax his father welcomes him with open arms, after a dramatic scene, and the brother also forgets the past.

"THE MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS" COMING TO THE GRAND NOVEMBER 11, 12, 13.

Miss Theresa Mills, who will appear in the role of Angela, the governor's daughter, in "The Maid of the Mountains" at the Grand Theatre here November 11, 12, 13, played the same role in England. Miss Mills began her professional career as a member of the company which presented "Arlette" at the Shaftesbury Theatre in London under the direction of Messrs. Grossmith and Laurillard. While that production was still running she was selected to play an important role in the George Edwardes' original production of "Southern Maid" for the Manchester season.

Miss Mills has remained with the George Edwardes firm ever since, and appeared at Daly's Theatre in the same role which she will play here. She left Daly's to join the special company organized for the trans-Canada tour.

The possessor of a delightful singing voice, Miss Mills studied in England with Signor Gaetano Losia, Professor of singing to Princess Mary and Prince Albert.

AT ALLEN'S

HAILED EVERYWHERE AS THE GREATEST EMOTIONAL PICTURE EVER MADE, "MADAM X," OPENS AT THE ALLEN MONDAY.

You must not miss this production. "Madam X" is the supreme accomplishment of the Goldywn studios, and its showing at the Allen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is heralded as one of the most worthy screen attractions of the season.

Is woman's love deeper and more lasting than man's? Let Pauline Frederick answer this question for you in "Madam X." Jacqueline Floriot's love for her son knew no past, no present, no future. It encompassed all time. It was a love more fiery than passion, more tenacious than desire. It was a love stronger than death itself, for Jacqueline Floriot's death will ever live.

Heralded as one of the greatest successes the stage ever knew upon its appearance and bearing a record for attendance which has yet to be rivalled, "Madam X" took the entire continent by storm. The great courtroom scene remains in the memory of many as a moment from their own lives, so vivid is it, so appealing, so throbbing with all the high lights and shadows of life. It is poignant with tragedy, yet so human in its appeal that you will follow every episode with breathless interest.

Overture will be "Echoes from the Metropolitan"; comedy, a Christie laugh producer, and a beautiful Chester outing picture will complete the program.

ALLEN TO SHOW MARY R. RINEHART'S "IT'S A GREAT LIFE"—SHOULD PROVE OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO ALL CHILDREN.

What was your idea of a great life when you were seventeen? Did your imagination carry you off to distant lands; scented mysterious islands in far off seas, where blue waves hissed upon a coral strand, and the sun splashed the cliffs with gold? Mary Robert Rinehart's famous book, "The Enspire Builders," told an enchanting tale of two boys in a prep school and the dreams they wove. So cleverly did she catch the spirit of boyhood, the ludicrous aspects of puppy love, the atmosphere of the school and its scholars, that the book rivaled the greatest of her successes in popularity.

All you children, here's the story, the picture you have been always dreaming of with all your air castles done to order, and it's your one great chance to take a trip to that land where dreams come true, where you are really king, and your Mary, Jane or Ann is your sweetheart queen. All you adults, who have tired of over-sophisticated heroines, of cave man heroes, of English drawing-room dramas, and are eager for a different note, here is something really original, which will afford you immeasurable entertainment and many a good wholesome laugh.

The picture abounds in gorgeous views of tropical island kingdoms, pearl oysters pave the sands, where great palms wave; dusky maidens dance a jungle jazz to their white conquerers, and row upon row of giant warriors in full war paint serve cannibal cookery, and fight savage battles; scenes portrayed with a thrilling realism that will gladden the heart of everyone who has ever allowed his imagination to go aroaming.

HAVE YOU HEARD OF ANNETTE KELLERMAN'S NEW PICTURE OF THE SEA, "WHAT WOMEN LOVE"?

Have you heard of Annette Kellerman'a new picture, a modern story of the sea, of great pleasure resorts, of villians bold, and a hero who might have been a sissy, but who became a regular caveman? Packed with thrills, with wonderful hair-raising stunts, and all the romance that the world of ships, of fashion and adventure can give, it's the complete picture, the perfect picture, and so naturally it is coming to the Allen within a week or so. Mark that in your engagement book.

AT THE PATRICIA

Tom Mix, the daredevil Fox star, has been announced as the attraction at the Patricia Theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in what is declared to be the most fitting picture of the Mix type of prowess seen in many months. The picture, entitled "The Untamed," is an adaptation of Max Brand's novel of the same name. It was produced by William Fox and directed by Emmett J. Flynn. It boasts a very fine cast of players, all favorites of motion picture devotees.

Pauline Starke, a popular leading woman, plays opposite the star, George Seigmann, as well known as any heavy man in the industry—and remembered especially for his work in such plays as "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World"—enacts the role of Jim Silent, the outlaw leader. Others in the cast are P. M. McCullough, Charles K. French, James O. Barrows, Pat Chrisman, J. A. McGuire.

"The Untamed" is a story of the West in which Max Brand has introduced three strange comrades. The trio consists of a sort of superman, wild and primitive, a real child of the Outdoors, who recognizes no man-made laws; a big, fiery stallion known as Satan, and a gigantic dog, Black Bart. These three beings, unlike any others of their kind, find their companionship only in each other. With this idea the author and director have created a most unusual picture.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL EXTRAORDINARY.

The Canadian public is just in the mood to welcome the colossal array of talent produced in this Dominion and coming here in the three-day Canadian All-Star Festival, at the Patricia Theatre on November 8, 9 and 10. On the first day will be heard Harold Jarvis, who has probably sang before more people than any living artist, and whose glorious voice is just as good as ever; Mabel Manley Pickard, the best-known Toronto Soprano; Theresa Sheehan, the inimitable Irish-Canadian girl, now of Detroit, America's foremost entertainer; Madge Williamson, one of the most gifted pianists in Canada, and the celebrated juvenile violinists, trained by Luigi von Kunits, the famous teacher of the Academy of Music. These boys have been playing in the big musical festivals in the United States, and have taken every city by storm. Nothing like them is to be found on this continent today.

On the second day the Classic Dancers, staged and directed by Miss Sternberg of Toronto, will be the feature. They have triumphed in Massey Hall, and Canadian cities are fortunate in seeing their artistic work. The vocal part of this day is in the hands of the National Quintet, an extraordinary singing organization. The Thiele Music Makers play saxophones, marimbaphone, cornet, etc. Miss Pearl O'Neil of Toronto is the gifted entertainer. This program is beautifully costumed.

The Canadian Big Four handle the third day. Mr. Frank Oldfield is noted for his wonderful baritone voice, unexcelled on this continent. Mr. J. H. Cameron has long been Canada's best entertainer. Miss Maud Buschlen is undoubtedly the finest violinist in the country, and Mrs. Oldfield is a gifted soprano.

Everywhere this festival is being greeted with full houses, and this city will be no exception. Plans open at the Patricia box office on Wednesday, November 3.

AT LOEW'S

CONSTANCE BINNEY, IN "39 EAST," AT LOEW'S MONDAY.

Did you ever leave your home town somewhere in America to seek your fortune with the millions of the metropolis? Then, when you arrived there, did you have a hard time to obtain employment of any kind and on more than one occasion did you have to ask your landlady to wait a few weeks for the room rent? And did you suffer lonesomeness—the kind that gnaws at the heart and causes insomnia and melancholia?

If you are one of the thousands who have had such experiences you will doubtless find much interest in the picture version of "39 East," the Rachel Crothers play in which Constance Binney is appearing next Monday at Loew's Theatre. Miss Crothers has got at the heart of the experience which an ambitious girl has upon coming to New York, without money and friends, seeking without success employment that is to her liking, and finally having to do work which she considers much beneath her. Miss Crothers' heroine, however, comes out of her experiences all the purer and stronger—as well as wiser.

Constance Binney was ideally cast for the heroine, Penelope Penn, because she herself won success in New York without "pull" and by sheer grit and force of personality.

A funny Alice Howell comic, Loew's Pictorial, and a supreme vaudeville bill, headed by a miniature musical comedy, and Fashion Revue with 10 people entitled "Fads and Frolics." Tuneful songs, gorgeous costumes and pretty girls, should make it the biggest feature act of the season.

WALLACE REID, IN "A DANCING FOOL," AT LOEW'S NEXT THURSDAY.

When Wallace Reid, the screen star, was yet a little lad, as the poets say, his parents decided that he had in him the soul of a musical genius. So they turned him over to a teacher of the pianoforte and had the professor do his worst with the boy. After three lessons, it was discovered that young Wallace was practicing ten minutes, shoving the clock ahead fifty, then reporting to his mother that his daily attack on the ivories was o'er and departing for the baseball field. One day Father Reid stayed home from toil. He discovered Wallie's subterfuge, and the music lessons were abruptly terminated.

Today Wallace Reid can't play music the way it is written. But oh, boy! he can certainly jazz it off by ear, as anybody in the Lasky studio who has ever heard him operating on his saxophone can testify. Wallie Reid is the champeen saxophonist of the west coast. He has a jazz band all his own, which has played at several affairs in Los Angeles and vicinity. The band appears in the newest Reid comedy, "The Dancin' Fool," which will be on view at Loew's Theatre on Thursday next.

Jazz is Wallie's middle name. His feet are even full of it. He proves it in this new picture, which casts him as a rube who comes to New York to make his fortune in the jug business and startles Broadway as a cabaret dancer. Bebe Daniels is the leading woman and Wallie's dancing partner. The story was originally a magazine serial.

A funny Sunshine comic and Loew's Pictorial, with Loew's supreme vaudeville completes the bill.

Edith Benmin, prima donna, with "The Royal English Opera Company," at The Grand next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Scene from "The Maid of the Moun tains," which come to The Grand for three days, Thursday, Friday and Satur day, November 11th, 12th and 13th.

James Doyle and Ethel Lawrence with "Jack O'Lantern," at The Grand Opera House next Friday and Saturday with popular Saturday matinee at 2:15.

THE LAW OF THE YUKON"
A CHARLES MILLER PRODUCTION
MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION
At the Patricia next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

MAN-O'-WAR'S GREAT VICTORY LIVES FOREVER IN "THE RACE OF THE AGE"

Never before in the history of motion pictures has there been such careful and complete arrangements made for the filming of a great event, and never have all arrangements worked out so perfectly as in the making of "The Race of the Age," the picture which makes Man-o'-War's great victory live forever, and which is to be shown exclusively at the Allen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Cameras, both slow and fast motion, were staged at every vantage point, fourteen in all, in carefully prepared positions, the stage fully set for the greatest sporting drama in the world's history, when Man-o'-War proved himself the fastest horse in the world by beating Sir Barton by something like five lengths. Every moment of the race is pictured for you, and solely in these two reels. The horses run right before you—every step of the entire race, in the most thrilling panoramic record that cameras have ever made. "The Race of the Age" is far more than a picture of a horse race. It is the story of accomplishment, a pulsing record of the super horse, a thrilling gripping lesson that clean living, honesty and the stout heart always wins victory.

The comedy attraction for the last half of next week will be Billy Parsons' special. "The Potum of Swat," two reels of fun, beauty and action.

He pleaded with his heart's blood for this wretch in the prisoner's box, not knowing that it was his mother—the big scene of that greatest of all em otional pictures, showing at the Alle n Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

PREHISTORIC RELICS.

Glasgow, Oct. 26.—A party of archaeologists, who have been searching for some time in the Isle of Risga, in Loch Sunart, for prehistoric relics, has discovered what is believed to be a sacred isle of a date long before the Christian era. The rock sculpturing of the priestly leaders of long past ages have been found and the lines of the walls of their homes and temples have been traced. The excavations reveal rows of black circular spots where uprights stood.

Every bristle gripped everlastingly in hard rubber!

It's a grip that defies use and abuse

Naturally, neglect or misuse will spoil the bristles of any brush. Once "water-logged" and decaying they must some day break off, but it's not at all likely that they will ever pull out or work loose from that everlasting grip of hard vulcanized rubber—original in RUBBERSET brushes.

RUBBERSET
TRADE MARK
Brushes bearing this trade mark Are made in CANADA

BE GUIDED BY OUR TRADE MARK
—the "silent spokesman" which bears evidence that the bristles in the brush are gripped everlastingly in hard vulcanized rubber.

BE GUARDED BY OUR GUARANTEE
—the abiding principle of fair dealing which protects your every purchase in our line: "RUBBERSET must make good —or WE WILL!"

The trade mark and guarantee form the one real "insurance policy" in the realm of brushes, and if by chance any brush of our manufacture has failed to "make good" in your service, WE MUST BEAR THE LOSS, not you. Send it to us for FREE replacement.

BRITISH ENGINEER TO MARKET INVENTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press).—Arthur J. Elverson, British engineer, who was with the Royal Air Force during the great war, has arrived from England with his attorney, John C. St. L. Stallwood, with an invention that he hopes to dispose of in the United States called the "oscilloscopo," by which high-speed machinery may be seen by the eye running at slow speed.

Mr. Elverson said the instrument could detect mechanical defects in high-speed machinery so they might be remedied in time. The oscilloscopo has been used for the examination of aeroplane engines and has been adopted by the British in their works at Farnborough.

Prominent Citizens Strongly Indorse London's New Hotel

LETTERS received by Mr. George M. Reid, president of the London Chamber of Commerce, since he undertook the organization of London's new hotel, contain the opinions of prominent Londoners regarding the need for a hotel.

Practically all of the writers have supported their sentiments by large subscriptions.

MAYOR E. S. LITTLE:
"The City of London is badly in need of a first-class hotel, and there should be no doubt in the mind of anyone conversant with the situation here as to the ability of such a proposition to pay."

H. F. SKEY, manager of the Bank of Montreal:
"We certainly wish you success and believe that those of us who are backing the proposition financially will have no reason to regret the investment."

T. J. MURPHY, barrister:
"As one of our first citizens, you deserve the commendation, goodwill and assistance of every other citizen in London for your determination to give the traveling public and our numerous visitors hotel accomodation."

ARTHUR W. WHITE, president of George White & Sons:
"There is not a city of its size in Ontario that requires a hotel as badly as London does, and where there is a greater opportunity for a hotel to succeed."

JOHN S. MOORE, manager the London and Western Trusts Co., Ltd.
"We wish you every success in your effort to provide real hotel accommodation for the hub of Western Ontario."

THE C. S. HYMAN COMPANY, LIMITED.
"We consider this one of the best moves that has been made here in years. The shortage of hotel accommodation has been a great handicap to the city, and the building of a new hotel should prove of the greatest benefit to the city, and without doubt, a money-maker."

ALBERT O. JEFFERY, president London Life Insurance Company:
"So far as this company is concerned, we may say that we have frequently held conventions at other points, simply because there was not hotel accommodation of such a nature as would permit the holding of a convention of our agents in London in a satisfactory manner."

COL. W. M. GARTSHORE, of the McClary Mfg. Co.:
"With reference to the desirability of having a first-class hotel, there can be no two opinions as to the necessity of it."

T. F. KINGSMILL, of Kingsmill's:
"Nearly every day I am having complaints from the traveling public in regard to hotel accommodation in our city, and I deem it my duty to call your attention to the great need, that you may place it before your associates in an official capacity."

Information gladly furnished by members and officials of the Chamber of Commerce.

Loan your money in first mortgage bonds to build the new hotel, and mark another milestone in London's forward march.

ESCAPED FROM BURNING BUILDING JUST IN TIME

Fire in Kitchener House Caused by Defective Fireplace.

Kitchener, Oct. 29.—The occupants of a house on Hohner avenue, barely escaped with their lives this morning when fire broke out as a result of a defective fireplace. The fireplace had been recently put in by a building contractor, and according to Fire Chief Guerin, the job was done without a permit and contrary to the regulations of the fire bylaws.

It appears that after the occupants of the house had gone to bed, the fire, which had been smoldering in the lathing of the wall directly behind the fireplace broke out. It was discovered by the maid. The occupants were only taken from the burning building in the nick of time, as a minute after they were out, the flames cut off all exits. The firemen were able to confine the flames to one part of the building, thus saving the structure from destruction.

CONTROVERSY OVER AGRICULTURAL REP.

Warden and Reeve of Perth County Differ Over Appointment.

Stratford, Oct. 29.—G. H. Gustar of the Ontario Division of the Navy League is making an effort to revive the local branch. Stratford, he says, has fallen sadly behind in its navy league efforts.

The refusal of the department of agriculture to place the course of lectures in agriculture at the disposal of Perth farmers because there is no county representative of agriculture, has resulted in a controversy over the appointment of such an official. Warden J. M. McCallum declares that the county is losing each year by not having such an official, while Reeve Armstrong of Ellice, who is a leader of those opposed to the idea, claims that such officials are not doing much good work in other counties. "I don't want one," he said.

No successor has been appointed to the vacancy of locomotive foreman at the local G. T. R. roundhouse caused by the removal to Windsor of J. D. Rhynd.

During the early part of the evening instrumental solos were given by Misses Edna Burwell and Zona Peters, after which Rev. Mr. Cralk gave an interesting talk on the topic.

POTATO PRICES FIRMER AGAIN

Commission Men's Quotations Are Lowest On Market At Present.

Prices of potatoes showed a wide variation on the local market today. Commission men were offering from $1.50 to $1.60 per bag. Many farmers asked as high as $2. Sales were fairly brisk. The market is firm and it would occasion no surprise if quotations move up to $2.25 next week.

Pears were offered in abundance, but sales were slow at $1.25 per bushel.

Eggs are in demand and prices ranged from 70 to 75 cents. A few women asked 80 cents. Wholesale prices were 66 to 68 cents.

Oats were slightl yeasier at $1.75 and $1.85 per cwt. By the bushel they sold for from 61¼ to 62¾ cents. The demand is slow.

Large supplies of poultry were offered today, but no changes were recorded.

GENERAL EVENING UP OF CONTRACTS BEING CARRIED ON AT 'PEG

Short Covering Cause of Higher Wheat Prices Early in Day.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 29.—A general evening up of October contracts was being carried on throughout today's market, and near the close it was reported that all shorts had been able to cover without any difficulty. This short covering was responsible for the higher wheat prices prevailing during the early part of the session, and which fell away near the close on a decreasing demand. There was no new business reported, and none is expected until the October month is out of the way.

Cash wheat, especially No. 2 northern, which was selling at a premium of 1c, was in good demand. There was little change in the coarse grains. The demand for rye has fallen off and a decline of 8½c for the futures, and 4c for the cash was recorded.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¾c higher; oats, ⅛c lower to ⅜c higher; barley, 3c higher to ½c decline; flax, 2c lower to ½c in advance, and rye, ½c down. Cash wheat closed ¼c higher.

FROST REPORTS GIVE BULLS ADVANTAGE IN MARKET FOR WHEAT

Word That Farm Strike Serious Helps—Corn, Oats Are Up.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Bulls had the advantage in the wheat market today, owing largely to the frost reports from Argentina, and to views expressed by a widely-known trade authority that the farm strike in the United States was serious. The market closed unsettled, 1½c to 2½c higher, with December, $2.09½ to $2.09¾, and March, $2.03. Corn finished 1½c to 1⅝c up, and oats gained ½c to ⅝c. In provisions the outcome varied from 25c decline to 35c advance.

More than usual significance was attached to Argentine frost news inasmuch as the wheat crop damage was implied, and any great impairment of yield in the southern hemisphere would likely be to bring about a more active European demand for supplies from the United States.

Aside from the Argentina situation, interest among wheat traders centred about developments touching the holding attitude of farmers. It was contended that nothwithstanding primary receipts continued liberal, an adequate implied, and any great impairment of rural selling would require at least ten days. Under such circumstances the trade was largely at sea, and venturesome dealers were quick to act on an opinion which held that the farm strike was not altogether visionary.

Corn and oats borrowed their strength from wheat.

Provisions were irregular, influenced on the one side by higher quotations on hogs, and on the other, by packers' selling.

THE EXCHANGE RATE

V.—What Controls It?

THE previous numbers of this series explained that the foreign dollar is not money but a commodity, and that the inconvenience of settling international debts in gold has led to the use of Bills of Exchange. We now come to the effect of the Trade Balance on the exchange value of the dollar.

If we bought from the United States goods to exactly the same value as those we sold to them, broadly speaking, there would be no exchange problem between us, since the amount of Bills of Exchange offered for sale in each country would just cover the requirements of those wanting to pay debts in the other.

At present, however, we are buying from the United States far more than they are from us. In consequence many Bills of Exchange, representing Canadian dollars, are being offered in the money markets of the United States by American vendors and few bids are being made for them. The holders, to dispose of them, lower the price until they become a tempting bargain. The Canadian dollars are therefore at a discount in the United States.

On the other hand, only comparatively few United States dollar Bills of Exchange, created by the sale of Canadian goods, are being offered in Canada and there are many bidders who want to buy them to pay their debts in the United States. In consequence the competition is keen, the price rises and United States dollars are at a premium here.

We will deal next week in No. VI. with the effect on the exchange rate of one result of war financing, namely the Inflation of the Currency.

PENNSYLVANIA MAY BUY PERE MARQUETTE, RUMORS IN SARNIA

Imperial City Hopes To Be Big Railway Terminal Soon.

SARNIA, Oct. 29.—Sarnia, it was announced in railway circles today, may, in the near future, be one of the leading railway terminals in Ontario, according to information received from Windsor and St. Thomas to the effect that the Pennsylvania interests are seeking to purchase the Canadian division of the Pere Marquette Railway.

A week ago the Pennsylvania Railway Company, it is said, secured property in the border cities for a terminal with the object of building extensive railway yards. Following the buying of the Windsor site the officials are reported to have opened a conference with the Pere Marquette Railway officials.

Tonight a message from St. Thomas states that a Pere Marquette official in that city has said that the Pennsylvania people have been negotiating for the purchase outright of the Pere Marquette for some time, and that if they secured the road they would run it from Sarnia to St. Thomas, and then on to the Niagara frontier, with a terminal in Welland. The Pere Marquette recently made a survey from St. Thomas to Welland, and it was stated that this action was taken for the Pennsylvania interests. Another message from St. Thomas stated that it was expected that during the next month officials of the Pennsylvania Railway will visit Sarnia and inspect the property and rolling stock of the Pere Marquette here.

McGRAW PLEADS NOT GUILTY OF HAVING BOTTLE OF WHISKEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, pleaded not guilty today to the federal indictment charging him with violation of the Volstead act by illegally possessing a bottle of whiskey. He was released on $500 bail. The indictment was returned yesterday, following investigation of an affray at the Lambs Club last August, in which McGraw was involved.

"It seems like a sort of joke to me," the Giants' pilot said on leaving the court room.

REVENUE INCREASES.

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—Ontario's revenue from the fish and game department for the fiscal year ending October 31, is $100,000 in excess of the revenue for last year, and greatly in advance of any other year in the history of the department. This department has been under the jurisdiction of the minister of public works, but henceforth it will be under the guidance of Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines.

ELECTRIC SIGNS AND WINDOWS MAY BE DARK

Windsor City Council Propose Method of Saving Electric Power.

ONLY 3,000 H. P.

City Needs 4,500 H. P. To Meet Industrial and Domestic Demands.

WINDSOR, Oct. 29.—With the border suffering seriously from curtailed supplies of hydro power, Windsor city council was today appealed to by the Windsor Hydro-Electric Commission to pass a bylaw prohibiting the operation of all electric signs, and illuminating of store windows in the city. Similar action will probably be asked in other border towns, some of which come under the jurisdiction of the Walkerville commission.

Just what action will be taken by the council is problematical, but Acting Mayor Jackson is in full sympathy with the request and it is probable the bylaw will be passed at a special meeting of the city fathers o be held early next week.

Discussing the local hydro situation today, O. M. Perry declared that if the power were available, Windsor could easily use 4,500 horsepower, while at the present time difficulty is being experienced in getting 3,500 h. p. The best that can possibly be hoped for during the coming winter months is a supply of 3,500 horsepower, he said.

Scheme Not Abandoned

Commending the Essex Border Utilities Commission on its progressive plans for establishment of a joint water system and parks chain to serve all the border municipalities, the executive of the Border Chamber of Commerce today passed a resolution urging the Utilities Board not to contemplate abondonment of its plans following the defeat of its park proposal by the electors last week, but to substitute some alternative plan.

The Utilitiees Commission is now working on some such basis, and it is probable that when the question of amalgamation of the border towns is submitted to a vote of electors at the annual municipal elections in January, a new plan for a metropolitan parks system will also be voted on, along with the joint water scheme, which involves an expenditure of $1,500,000.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD DROWNED IN WELL NEAR ITS HOME

Body Recovered and Pulmotor Used, But Without Success.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 29.—Falling into a well near the house, Ross Slaughter, the three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Slaughter, Steele street, Yarmouth Heights, was drowned this evening. The child was found shortly after being missed, but life was extinct. A doctor was called and brought the body to the fire hall, where the pulmotor was used in efforts at resuscitation, but after working for some time on the little one all means failed to restore life. The coroner did not consider an inquest necessary.

VICE RING IN PANIC RESULT OF NEW LAW

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—As a dramatic consequence of the recent amendment to the criminal code which makes prison sentence compulsory after the third conviction of a keeper of a disorderly house, the vice ring, as represented by Tony Frank, called on an official of the committee of sixteen here today and intimated that there was something very profitable in it for that official if a string of houses in the central part of the city could be protected from the operations of the law.

A number of interviews were arranged, and at the final one Frank appeared with a list of houses he wanted protected. The court's stenographer was in hiding and took down the whole conversation.

The vice ring here is in a panic, and the committee of sixteen which has been waging war against commercialized vice for months past have scored a notable victory.

Beaver Colony Near Duart

DUART, Oct. 29.—Much local interest is being taken in the evident growth of the beaver colony on the creek at the Cochrane farm, between Duart and Clearville, where the beavers have constructed an extensive dam across the creek, which retains a body of water fully seven feet in depth.

The dam was started last year, but was destroyed before it was completed by a freshet. Nothing daunted, however, the beavers have rebuilt it and carried its construction not only across the creek itself, but also for a considerable distance across the gully They have also constructed a smaller dam further down the creek, apparently as a sort of breakwater to lessen the force of any future freshets before they reach the main dam.

That the colony has decided to permanently locate here seems to be indicated by the fact that in addition to the construction of the dam, the beavers have added another story to their house, which is located in the creek between the two dams. The site chosen by the industrious little animals is an ideal one, as the creek is fed from numerous springs and runs the entire year.

LANGLEY IS UNABLE TO HELP E. ELGIN FARMER CANDIDATE

Saskatchewan Minister Is Too Busy To Enter Election Fight.

REGINA, Oct. 29.—Hon. George Langley, Saskatchewan minister of municipal affairs, has turned down an invitation to participate in the East Elgin by-election, extended him by the secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario.

"Owing to the fact that the Saskatchewan Assembly meets next week, and that I am at present busy preparing legislation, I could not attend, otherwise I would have been only too pleased to go down and support the Farmers' candidate," he said.

MILL DAM BREAKS.

SIMCOE, Oct. 29.—The Norfolk Milling Company had a mishap in the breaking of the dam and the draining of the pond supplying power to the flour mills. The entire pond went out in less than an hour. The company has an auxillary gas engine plant.

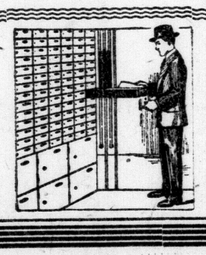

On Sunday, October 17th

local police headquarters received five reports of house-breaking. Sneak thieves and burglars show no mercy when in search of bonds, money and jewelry. Somehow they know where to look for these things.

URGES MEIGHEN TO ELIMINATE DELAY IN MAIL TO ORIENT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 29.—Right Honorable Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder were given an enthusiastic reception upon their arrival here this morning. A large number of citizens met the premier's party at the depot, and Mayor R. H. Gale presented Mr. Meighen with an illuminated address.

A deputation representing the board of trade waited on the premier shortly after his arrival and urged upon him the necessity of eliminating the present delay in the dispatch of mail to the Orient. The appointment of a Canadian customs officer at New York was also asked for.

Mr. Meighen promised consideration of both requests.
