RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

Two Alleged Conditions in Connection With the Commercial Treaty.
Berlin, Aug. 5.—The papers yesterday printed a statement which is regarded as semi-official, to the effect that Russia will insist on two conditions as indispensable to the new German commercial treaty with Russia: First, a heavy reduction in the duties on meat and animals; secondly, to confine the minimum duties on grain to States entering into treaty relations with Germany, to the exclusion of the United States and Argentina.

SABBATH PROTECTION.

EXECUTIVE OF LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE MEET.

Old Upper Canada Act in Force in Ontario—Amendments Desired to Charters for Electric Railways.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—The Executive Board of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance met yesterday afternoon in the office of the Alliance, when the judgment of the Privy Council in the appeal case invalidating the Lord's Day act, and the future policy of the Alliance, were the questions which occupied the consideration of the board.

It was shown that, while the Ontario Lord's Day act is ultra vires, there is still in force in this Province the Lord's Day act of 1845, passed by the Parliament of Upper Canada, which is identical with the act which is now invalidated, with the exception of sections dealing with Sunday excursions and electric railways. The standing order of the Minister of Customs, refusing clearance to vessels carrying Sunday excursions; the electric railway act of this Province, which is still valid, prohibiting the operation on Sundays of all electric railways, and also prohibiting the opening of parks owned by such roads; the shops regulation act, prohibiting barbers and bakers from working or keeping open shop on Sundays, give this Province strong legal protection for the Lord's Day. The sale of refreshments and the doing of ordinary work on Sunday are still prohibited.

Realizing, however, the importance of securing legislation covering the whole Dominion, the following resolution was passed:—

Resolved, that this Executive Board of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance hereby recommends to the Board of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada that an effort be made at the earliest possible date to obtain from the Parliament of Canada a Dominion Lord's Day act that will secure to every Canadian on the Lord's Day the right to rest and the opportunity to worship as conscience may direct; and, further, that the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada be asked to obtain amendments to the charters for electric railways now before the Dominion Parliament which will effectively protect the weekly rest day.

A letter of sympathy with Dr. Caven in his recent illness was directed to be sent by the Secretary.

LORD ROBERTS NOT COMING.

A Definite Statement Made in a Letter From Lord Denbigh.

Boston, Aug. 4.—Colonel Hedges received definite information yesterday that Lord Roberts will not accompany the London Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company to America on their trip this fall. Lord Denbigh, who has the English end of the trip in charge, in a letter dated July 23 says:—"With regard to Lord Roberts, I have ascertained definitely that, much as he would like to visit the States this autumn, it will be quite impossible for him to get away. You may therefore take this as definite and authoritative."

PLUNGED INTO MUD.

Scow Captain Fell From a Plank and Was Asphyxiated.

New York, Aug. 5.—Daniel Neilson, captain of a scow of the department of street cleaning, met his death in a peculiar manner Monday afternoon at Ricker's Island. He fell from a plank into a few feet of water, and his head was plunged into the mud at the bottom. It was held fast and he was asphyxiated. No one saw Neilson fall. Late in the afternoon Andrew Eschman, an employee of a contractor doing work on the island, saw a foot sticking out of the water near the scow. He grasped the foot, and by pulling hard brought to the surface the body of the scow captain.

Neilson was blind in one eye, and that he held accountable for his having made a misstep and falling off the plank. It was a narrow one and was used as a passageway from the boat to the land.

ELECTROLYTIC STEEL PLANT.

A New Industry on the Welland River at Chippewa.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 5.—It was currently reported on both sides of the river on good authority that Canadian capitalists had secured the Ruthenberg process of making steel by electricity, and in the near future will construct a mammoth electrolytic steel plant on the Welland River at Chippewa, using a large block of Canadian Niagara power.

THE CUNARD AGREEMENT.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS OF STRINGENT PROVISIONS.

New Vessels Will be Ready for Use as Cruisers Whenever Needed—Government Loan.

London, Aug. 5.—The agreement between the Admiralty, the Board of Trade, the Postmaster-General and the Cunard Steamship Co., dated July 30, was issued in a Parliamentary paper. Accompanying the agreement is the draft of a trust deed, securing the debenture stock, on which the Government's advance of $13,000,000 for building the two new steamships is made. The new mail carrying agreement substitutes for payments by weight a fixed annual payment of $340,000 during the life of the contract, which is for twenty years, dating from the first sailing of the company failing to carry out the terms of the contract.

All the company's steamers between Liverpool, New York, Boston, the Mediterranean ports and Havre, including the new steamships, which will have a speed of 22 to 26 knots an hour, will be at the disposal of the Admiralty for hire or purchase in the event of war. The vessels must be maintained under the British flag and under British management, without any undue increase in freight charges or undue preference against British subjects. The company's officers and engineers of all the vessels must always be British subjects, and the same condition applies to at least three-fourths of the crew. On the Campania, Umbria and Lucania, until the new vessels have been completed, thereafter on the new vessels, all the certificated officers other than the engineers, and not less than half the crews, must belong to the Royal Naval Reserve. The company is not allowed to sell any vessel, whose speed is 17 knots and upwards, without the consent of the Government, which will supervise the plans for the new vessels, with a view to their conversion into armed cruisers. The company must maintain the gun-mountings, etc., ready for use. For these concessions the Government agrees to subsidize the new vessels at $75,000 per year each. The loan of $13,000,000, which will bear interest at 2 3/4 per cent., and is to be repaid in twenty annual installments, will rank as a first charge on the whole Cunard fleet, and be secured by debentures. The agreement provides for a reduction in the subsidy for the new steamships in the case of their failure to attain a minimum speed of 23 1/2 knots.

DRUGGISTS ELECT OFFICERS.

Council of College of Pharmacy in Session.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—The Parliament of the druggists of Ontario—the Council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy—convened yesterday for the midsummer session, and of the constituents in the Province were represented. The first duty of the council was to elect a new head, and the honor went to Mr. W. B. Graham of Ridgeway. The other officers elected were:—Vice-President, Edward W. Case, Picton; Registrar, Isaac T. Lewis; Auditors, Messrs. James Watt and James H. Mackenzie.

FIREMEN AT TRENTON.

Opening of the Three Days' Convention.

Trenton, Aug. 5.—The fourth Provincial volunteer firemen's convention opened here yesterday and will continue for three days. On account of the unsettled weather only a fair number of people from the surrounding country came to town, but firemen delegates from almost every town in Ontario were present, and, getting down to business, made new rules and permitted American companies, on payment of a $5 fee, to enter in their towns. On account of the intention of asking the Legislature for some assistance by way of taxing the insurance companies doing business, a small fee, which measure was lost on second reading last session.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

First International Conference in Session at Berlin—Proceedings Secret.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The first international congress on wireless telegraphy, convened by the Imperial Postoffice, began yesterday. Forty-four delegates attended, representing Germany, Russia, France, Italy, Austro-Hungary, Spain, and the United States. The invitation was called upon Germany's agreement on international regulations to control the operations of wireless telegraph systems, and prevent any one system getting a monopoly. The proceedings are secret.

LORD CURZON ACCEPTS.

To Stay in India for Several More Years.

Simla, India, Aug. 5.—Viceroy Curzon informed the Council at yesterday's sitting that he had decided to accept the Government's offer of an extension of his term of office, with permission to take a vacation in England in 1904, should he so desire. Lord Curzon said five years was too short a term for a Government which had embarked on wide schemes of reform, and it would be a neglect of duty to abandon his share of the work.

SARTO IS POPE.

PATRIARCH OF VENICE RECEIVES ALL THE VOTES.

A Scene of Enthusiasm—Brief Sketch of Career of New Pope, Who Assumes Title of Pius Tenth.

Rome, Aug. 5.—Yesterday the conclave, after being in session for four days, elected Giuseppe Sarto, Patriarch of Venice as Pope, to succeed Leo XIII., and he now reigns at the Vatican and over the Catholic world as Pius X. Last night all Rome was illuminated in his honor. His election and the assumption of his office were marked by a striking demonstration and impressive ceremonies at the Vatican, which only ended this evening. Tomorrow the new Pope, clad in his full Pontifical robes, and with all the ritualistic ceremony, will receive the members of the diplomatic corps, the Cardinals, and the Bishops, who will then offer official homage, this notwithstanding the fact that twice to-day the Cardinals and many high officials of the Vatican went through a similar ceremony. The date upon which the canonization of Pius X. will occur has not yet been officially decided, but the impression prevails that it will take place August 9.

The election of the Patriarch of Venice yesterday was unanimous. After Monday's ballots it was a foregone conclusion that he was the only candidate satisfactory to all to secure the necessary two-thirds vote. One of the Cardinals said to the representative of the Associated Press that he believed Pius X. would follow the broad lines of Leo's policy, although not likely to accentuate it. This voice was the general feeling here, which is one of satisfaction. The new Pontiff is a man of simple origin, and, although not a very prominent candidate, he had been frequently mentioned as one of the many Cardinals who might be taken up as a compromise. In several respects he resembles his venerable predecessor, notably in his reputation for culture and piety. Having been associated with no factions, this fact alone won him much favor from foreign Cardinals, who were without an especial candidate. Pius X. was humorously called "a country mouse, who could not possibly find his way about Rome." Venetians who know the new Pope well say that he will soon be as much beloved as Pontiff as he was yesterday as the beloved Patriarch of the poor of the Adriatic. In appearance Pius X. is a very handsome man. He has a fine, erect figure despite his sixty-eight years. When he pronounced his first benediction to-day at St. Peter's his voice rang out with splendid resonance.

The announcement of Cardinal Sarto's election was received with wild enthusiasm on the part of the thousands of persons who had gathered outside St. Peter's. The scene within the Basilica, when the Pope pronounced his benediction, was one of unparalleled excitement and enthusiasm. Thousands of persons within the cathedral cheered and waved their hats.

While Prince Chigi, the master of the conclave, was drawing up the official act of the election and acceptance of the new Pope, the latter, surrounded by his friends, disappeared into a small room near the altar, where he donned the white robes of his office. Pius X. was assisted by his Conclavist, who first knelt and kissed his master's hand, and thus received the first Apostolic blessing given by Pius X. When he was robed, the Secretary of the Conclave, Monsignor Merry Del Val, kneeling, offered him the Papal white cap amidst breathless silence. He did not follow the precedent created by Pope Leo, who declined to give his red cap to the master of ceremonies, but, with a slight smile, Sarto took the white cap, placed it calmly on his head and dropped the red one lightly on the head of Mgr. Merry Del Val amidst a murmur of approval. This is taken as a certain indication that the happy recipient is soon to be raised to the Cardinalate.

DIED FROM THEIR INJURIES.

Three Cases Result Fatally at London.

London, Ont., Aug. 5.—Mr. Frank Logan, contractor, of Thorndale, who while engaged at work missed his footing and fell from a barn to the ground, succumbed to his injuries on Monday evening. Deceased was unmarried and about 25 years of age.
J. W. Brown of West Bay City, Mich., who attempted suicide a few days ago by jumping off a shed at the Dominion House, died at Victoria Hospital early this morning. He never regained consciousness. Coronor MacLaren was asked to inquire into the case, and he did so, coming to the conclusion that an inquest was unnecessary.
As a result of injuries received by being knocked over by a dog last Wednesday, Mrs. Elizabeth Hill died at Victoria Hospital on Monday. She had resided in London for thirty years, and came here from Glasgow.

SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTMENTS

McKeough and Central School Kindergartens Are Re-Organized.

Praise for Retiring Teacher—New Principal Appointed—Two Good Assistants.

The Public School Board did not meet last evening. Many of the trustees were out of the city and others had business engagements which prevented their attendance.

In view of this fact the trustees held a special committee meeting to deal with the only important matter awaiting consideration.

The departure of Miss V. Aylesworth, for the past few years the successful principal of the McKeough school kindergarten, created a vacancy and the matter was dealt with by the Kindergarten committee. Trustee G. S. Heyward paid a high tribute to the ability and worth of Miss Aylesworth, and expressed the regret of the Board at losing the services of so excellent a teacher. Miss Aylesworth is entering the advanced school of kindergarten work at Baltimore.

The committee decided to appoint Miss Helen McTaggart as the new principal. Miss McTaggart has for some time past been Miss Aylesworth's capable assistant and holds the qualifications for her new position.

Miss Rose Morrison was appointed as assistant kindergarten. Miss Morrison studied with Miss Aylesworth and has taught with much success in both the McKeough and Central school kindergartens.

Miss Mildred Turner was appointed to take the position of assistant kindergarten at the Central school vacated by the transfer of Miss Morrison. Miss Turner is a recent member of the training departments of the McKeough and Central schools and a graduate of the former.

A number of small accounts were left over until the next regular meeting of the Board.

It is very satisfactory to note the attention which is paid by the trustees to the kindergartens. This branch of the school work is gaining deserved recognition as among the most important in educational effort.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, responding Sec'y Mich. It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will surely cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of hundreds which we have, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

"HOOPING THE HOOP."
How Miss Mina Allix thrills the Londoners in an Automobile.

Miss Mina Allix, who has been thrilling the Londoners at the Hippodrome with a sensational spin in an automobile around a big hoop, makes three complete circuits at lightning speed and then makes an effective exit.

The feat is called "hooping the hoop" and is the invention of Eddie Gifford, the one-legged cyclist. The principal difference between Miss

"HOOPING THE HOOP" IN AN AUTO.

Allix's lightning swirl and other centrifugal force exhibitions that have preceded it lies in the fact that Miss Allix's car completes a perfect circle instead of running round a twisted loop.

The car runs down a track fifty-eight feet in length, and after making three circuits of the hoop runs through a trap door suddenly opened in one side by an attendant and is stopped by a net. The spectacle is sensational and highly thrilling, the element of danger giving spice to the performance.

A Story of Lord Curzon.

Here is a story of one of Lord Curzon's boyish ambitions. When he was appointed to the Vice-Royalty of India the news created some surprise, but in receiving the congratulations from his fellow countrymen before his departure he stated that the office was one to which he had aspired while still at school. From the time he first knew that the Government house at Calcutta was a replica of his ancestral home, Kedleston Hall, near Derby, he determined to occupy it as Governor-General of India. When the old East India Company decided to erect a palace in Calcutta for the residence of the Viceroy they inspected the stately homes of England in search of a model. The palm was awarded to Kedleston Hall, and the Governor-General's house at Calcutta was accordingly built in facsimile of it.—London Tit-Bits.

Germany's Socialist Leader.

The man of the hour in Germany is August Bebel, leader of the Social Democratic party, which increased its vote in the recent election to over 2,800,000. This makes it the strongest political organization in Germany, with eighty-one members in the Reichstag. Ferdinand August Bebel was born in 1840. He entered political life as a Socialist in 1867 and was a member of the first Reichstag of the German Empire in 1871. With Liebknecht he for years stood at the front of the Socialist agitation.

As a member from the Hamburg district he also leads the party in the Reichstag. Bebel has been several times in prison for political offences. An Object Lesson on Insects.

"I don't see how you can say I've been neglecting my home and wasting my time attending club meetings," protested Mrs. Dorcas. "You men are so sordid in your views you can't see good in anything unless there's money in it."

"Well, what good is there in that club of yours that keeps you from home most of the time?" "Intellectual good, my dear," returned his better half; "something more to be desired than all the money in the world. For instance, our club has gone in for nature study, and I have learned all about the habits of the interesting little creatures of the insect world." "You have, eh?" sneered Dorcas. "Well, all I can say is that if you'd kept away from your old club and studied insect life at home I would have been spared the shock I received on opening the wardrobe and finding all my best clothes full of moth holes."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and relieves the mental anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Coffee Co., Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicine for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my poor-house. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum combined. Your Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of change of life. I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also learned that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent for it. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Doctor Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to give them back their money and charge it to me. I have never found anything to equal the Favorite Prescription for diseases of women."

FINDS IN ROMAN FORUM.

The Foundations of Temple of Janus Discovered.

Rome, Aug. 3.—Important finds have just been made in the Roman Forum. The foundations have been discovered of the temple of Janus, close to the temple of the Caesars. Discoveries have also been made of subterranean passages and rooms with theatrical machinery, from which the gladiators evidently issued on the amphitheatre above. This is probably the earliest amphitheatre in Rome which is recorded in the classics. It antedated the Colosseum.

Canada's Greatest Holiday Spot.

Few can afford either the time or the money for a summer in the Rockies. There are other places in Canada, but they are only others. This is the place. Travelers have said that for massive grandeur the Alps must yield the palm to our own great hills. He who is awakened by the negro train porter when the snow-clad peaks first come into view just east of Calgary will never forget the sight on the far horizon. In the old geographies there is a picture of the Rockies, and many must have commented on the striking likeness achieved by the artist. The Rockies look just like the old woodcut who, never seeing a hill more than six feet two inches high, yet penned the most magnificent description of mountain scenery in our language. However, this may be doing the artist an injustice. If by taking no holidays for three years one would be able on the fourth to go to Banff, he would be repaid tenfold.

RAILWAY IN THE AIR

NOVEL GERMAN ROAD THAT IS SOON TO BE OPENED.

Has the Unique Distinction of Being the Only Suspended Electric Railway in the World—Cars Appear to Be Upside Down and Railway Passes Over the Street at Right Angles.

An event of unusual interest, notable even in these days of rapidly changing methods of public conveyance, will shortly occur in Germany, the occasion being the formal opening by Emperor William of the only suspended electric railway in the world.

The road, which is already in experimental operation, connects the towns of Barmen, Elberfeld and Vohwinkel and for a great part of the way runs over the river Wupper. To the casual observer the most striking feature of the suspended road is that the cars have the appearance of being upside down, for they are hung beneath the supporting structure, and the trucks and the rails on which they run are above the car. Below the space is free and clear, and in case of an accident that would derail the car it would fall to the ground.

There are several points in favor of this "upside down" railway. It does not interfere with street traffic, and it is cheaper to construct than the ordinary road, as it can be slung over rivers and back streets, and the only land required is that necessary to plant the supports of the structure.

In the case of the German line the conclusion was arrived at that an overhead railway over the river Wupper was the only kind possible under the circumstances, as an underground road would have been too costly, and there was absolutely no room for a surface railway. The question for the engineers to consider was whether the road should be on the ordinary plan of elevated railways, with the necessary girders placed in the bed of the river, or whether the suspended plan should be adopted. The latter prevailed.

The promoters of the system claim that the suspended railway, in consequence of its high and light construction, does not deprive the inhabitants of the houses along which it runs of either light, air or free outlook; also that it is much less noisy than competing systems. In respect to earth vibration, that caused by the suspended road is markedly less than that caused from surface street cars, whose speed and carrying capacity are much less, while it is insignificant compared with that emanating from the ordinary heavy railway traffic.

The main objection to the suspended railway is its rather unattractive appearance, but the German structure, painted a delicate shade of blue, presents a very light appearance. It would appear much lighter if relieved of the plank flooring provided for the escape of passengers in case of accidents, which, by the way, have not occurred in the course of several months of experimental running.

It is claimed that the suspended railway will solve the problem of high speed passenger traffic and also interurban communication. Already there are projects on foot for a hundred mile suspended railway line between London and Brighton, England, and for another across the British metropolis from east to west.

PRETTY WEDDING

A pleasant event occurred this morning at the residence of Stephen Tillson, Wellington St., the occasion being the marriage of his eldest daughter, Maybelle, to Mr. Andrew F. Dillon, of Chicago. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. E. Malott, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride was beautifully gowned in chambray with real cluny lace over tan taffeta. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations tied with pink and white duchess satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid was Miss Myrtle Tillson, sister of the bride. Mr. Chas.
M. Buck, of Shortsville, N. Y., supported the groom. After the ceremony the company sat down to a delightful wedding breakfast. The table was beautifully decorated with white silk ribbon trimmed with smilax and bouquets of asters and sweet peas.

The happy couple left on the 107
Whitash train for St. Joseph, Mich.,
and other points west.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOL.

To the Editor of The Planet:
Mr. Editor—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few words. I see in your issue of the 4th inst. a report of the Separate School Board that a motion had been passed at the last meeting to have the trustees elected by ballot, was rescinded. Now, Mr. Ratepayer, think of what kind of men you have on that board. How would you like to step in any polling sub-division and vote open voices to-day. You would say no. It was all right 50 years ago, but not today. Why, we vote secret ballot in our lodge room, or in any society room. We live in a civilized country now, and the ratepayer won't vote that way. Consequently the trustees are simply appointed. They are simply a tool to get a government grant.
Nothing else. Why, they tell you that our school stands second to none of the separate or public schools in the province of Ontario. It is simply a farce. They might tell you, though, that they stand next to Big Point, where they never sent a pupil to the C. I. These gentlemen that are so wise about the Welsh (Chairman), Holbert, Tschirhart, Drew, Pinsonneault, Blonde, Gordon. Those are the gentlemen to whom you would give the credit. Those are the trustees that keep the school back, and work against the separate school supporters. These gentlemen have got to do better or get out. It is a shame the way they represent us on that board.

MARRIED 10 YEARS

Ten years ago Monday Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Tschirhart, of this city, were made man and wife. The day was made the occasion of a family gathering, at which the following relatives were present:—Mr. and Mrs.
J. Tschirhart, Anson Tschirhart, Miss
Myrtle Tschirhart, Mr. and Mrs.
Alex. Tschirhart, Nathan Tschir-hart, Mr. and Mrs. Stanfield, Mr. and Mrs. Stammel, Mrs. Floyd, Mr. Philip Austed, Mr. and Mrs. J. Austed and Frank Austed, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. P. Tschirhart and two sons, of Windsor, and Mrs. L. Edwards, and Miss Stewart, of Blenheim.

In the evening pedro and dancing were indulged in. The prizes in the pedro were awarded to—first, Mrs.
Flynn and Mr. Morrell; second, Miss
T. Welch and W. Coupland; booby's,
Mrs. F. Gerber and John Smith. There were about 100 guests present.

The evening broke up after the guests had wished Mr. and Mrs.
Tschirhart many happy returns of the day.

LOST A HORSE

C. Hancock, drayman and piano mover, is to-day mourning the loss of one of his dray horses. Peter Jackson started out this morning with the horse and a dump cart to carry earth from the Garner House to the bank of the creek at the rear of G. G. Taylor's hide store. Peter arrived at the bank with his first load of earth, jumped off the load and was just going to dump the earth when the horse commenced to back up towards the creek. Peter saw the danger and caught the horse by the bridle. The horse had a sore mouth and this action on Peter's part only tended to make matters worse. The animal made a lurch backward and dump-cart, horse, earth and all were soon rolling in one confused mass down the steep bank of the creek. They entered the water with a splash, and that was the last time the horse was seen alive. Cy, it is claimed, is out $50.

After probing with pikepoles and grappling irons for a few minutes the horse was finally extricated from the mud and mire at the bottom of the creek and hauled up to the top of the bank. It was thought useless to apply the usual restoratives, as it was quite evident that the horse was beyond all human aid.
The funeral took place this morning and was largely attended by a gathering of small boys.

Expansion Sale.

Just one year ago we added to our ever increasing business our Furniture Dept. We did not limit our stock to fine goods alone, nor did we go to the other extreme and sell trash. We have studied the wants of the people and carry goods that nine out of every ten want. That we have succeeded in our endeavor is evidenced by the fact that we have made arrangements for

Double the Space Now Occupied by Our Furniture Department.

The work of enlarging and refitting is now in the contractor's hands and in order that no goods now on hand need be moved into our new quarters we will sell, during this Expansion Sale, Parlor Suites, Bedroom Suites, Sideboards, Buf-fets, China Cabinets, Book Cases, Couches and any other piece of furniture now in stock, at prices so low that it will be

"School children now-a-days don't know how well off they are," remarked Samuel Simmons, the tonsorial parlor proprietor. "The boy or girl of to-day has the school almost next door. When I was a boy, living near Dresden, I had to walk six miles to school, and that was the nearest school. It was too far, however. Why you forgot all you had learned before you got home."

"Wipe your feet right," called out Major Coogan to the scribe as he gently drew his 24th tribby across the new scraper just to try it, and then deftly turned away. "There, the County Council go to the expense of providing these fine fittings and then the people don't use them," continued the Major. "But they will have to." From all of which it may be gathered that the entrances to Harrison Hall have been fitted with scrapers and wire mats.

The first well of the Chatham Oil Co. on the Doyle farm is pumping better than ever. This well is known as O'Keefe's Pride. Monday, J. T. O'Keefe thought the pump was not pumping the well, so he had the two-inch pump put back in the well and it has been pumping a steady stream ever since. This is the best well yet struck in the oil field. It was reported that O'Keefe's Pride was producing at the rate of over a hundred barrels a day since the two-inch pump had been put in.

EVENTIDE WEDDING

A quiet but happy event occurred last evening at seven o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Taylor avenue, when Miss Rose E. Smith was united in marriage to William H. Reid, of Detroit, son of ex-Alb. J. H. Reid, of this city. Miss Mary Burke, of St. Thomas, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, while S. A. Reid, brother of the groom was best man. After the very pretty ceremony, a sumptuous repast was served and the happy young couple left on the 8.10 train for a few days trip to Goderich and Kincardine, amid the congratulations, best wishes and showers of rice from their many friends. On return from their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Reid will reside at 174 Meldrum ave., Detroit.

MORLEY & CO.,

A QUAIN OLD TOWN

LYME REGIS BEING BOOMED AS A NEW SEASIDE RESORT.

Great Annual Agricultural Exhibition is held there—Popular Show of Englishmen Where the Prince of Wales' Fat Steers Were Want to Be Seen—Superiority of British Animals—Canadian Farm Machines.

Lyme Regis, England, is a quaint old town at the southwest point of Dorset County, England, and is about to have a boom as a seaside resort. Other south England coast towns have become overcrowded and overrun, so some new place had to be blocked out for those who could pay more money and go farther for their outings, and Lyme Regis was hit upon as the choice.

That name, Lyme Regis, sounds odd. The way in which the name started is as odd as the name itself. All hereabout is a great lime region. Centuries ago, as long ago as when the English spelled lime with a "y," the kilns here were famous. The ground upon which they were situated were part of the English crown lands, therefore belonged to the King, therefore "lyme regis," lime of the King. The Latin-Norman law designation sounded more stately than merely "King's lime," so Lyme Regis it remains to this day.

The town lies at the mouth of the tiny river Lyme just where it enters the English Channel. Sheltered by the great cliffs that rise behind the town to the north, one can sit beside the Lyme Regis sea promenade in winter and gaze out southward over the sun-bathed waves. The sun is southern, even though biting winds blow upon the cliffs above.

One of the best of British country fairs is maintained here by a large and influential agricultural and live stock organization called the Bath and Western and Southern Counties Society. The members unite their forces from the several counties in the organization—Dorset, Somerset, Devon and others—and hold annually in Bath or some other city a farming and live stock show. To get a summarized view of the richest, fattest part of agricultural England and its people one has only to attend this show.

The fair has been for generations one of the noted rural events of England. King Edward himself when he was Prince of Wales used to send hither his finest, fattest, beest. Tremendous red brown Shorthorn bulls covered with just the common blankets of a bovine drew crowds of adoring English to their stalls merely by the magic "P. W." (Prince of Wales) marked in dingy letters in the rusty corner of one of these blankets. What is more, the P. W. beest were apt to take first premium.

It would be a mistake to take for granted that the animals in a British live stock show were in every case superior to those of Canada. Beef cattle in Canadian shows are as large as those in England, but they are not so handsome. Now the British stockmen secure the sleek, lustrous coats and perfectly round bodies, smooth as marble, for their beest is a mystery. Perhaps the moister English climate has something to do with it. Perhaps farmers here take more pains with their beest than Canadian farmers do. At any rate, the show British beest is superior in looks to the one raised in the Dominion.

Neither is the Canadian bred draft horse quite equal to the British one. Such splendid draft creatures one never lays eyes on as the Shire horses of England and the pure bred Clydes of Scotland. The Shires, or cart horses, so-called, were more numerous at this west of England show than any other breed. At the close of the fair one day all the animals that had taken prizes were hustled around in the ring and the draft horses were a sight to remember, great chested, large limbed and stately, yet active as well and perfectly trained.

At this fair some of the large white Yorkshire hogs were five feet from snout to tail and weighed 700 pounds. The Tamworth, in some sections the favorite swine of the British farmer, is a close second to the large white Yorkshire both in size and ugliness. It is a huge, rusty red hog, with perked up ears, not floppy ones, and large samples of the breed are as heavy as an ordinary two-year-old heifer. It is hard to believe these creatures, in looks as fearsome as the old-fashioned idea of the arch fiend, furnish the tender, delicate flavored bacon which the Britisher is so fond of morning, noon and night, yet they do. And, although Canadian sheep are as large and as well woolled as English, the British mutton of the finest quality is usually rather better than that of the Dominion.

There were Jersey cows there of the British beef type, which only give from twenty-five to twenty-eight quarts a day for the best of them, rows of tiny red Dexter cows and infinitesimal black Irish Kerry cows, with their shining sharp black horns, like those of a chamois; quacking ducks and squawking chickens, and dairy and churning machinery. Here the crowd gathered round like bees, and one stands apart while the throng passes and studies people, the most interesting live stock of all.

It is a fine opportunity to note the rural population of the best part of agricultural England, the section famous for Devonshire clotted cream for one thing. They were to be taken as the superior farming people of England, girls with their sweethearts, mothers with their children, rustic men clad in the farm tog fashion of their grandfathers. There is a marked difference here between the dress of city and country people. They seem to constitute two quite separate classes. There is, to be sure, not any pronounced peasant class, such as still lingers in France, but there is in dress and manner a far greater difference between city and country than in Canada.

Neither are the country people here generally so good looking as well dressed or so prosperous appearing as in Canada, and they are by no means the strong, rosy class we have thought of as belonging to rural England. As a class they are neither large, strong looking nor rosy, and they have very bad teeth, of which they seem to take no care at all. Some curious pronouncements are noted among them. Many of them call a horse a "harsh" and an orchard an "archoard," changing the "o" into "a" in many words.

Next was the agricultural machinery. It looked heavy and clumsy to the Canadian visitor. So did the British carriages and wagons. But suddenly I caught sight of a big white pavilion, with a great collection of machinery underneath it—reapers, mowers, harrows, planters. It was perfectly finished, light, flexible, yet strong. The pavilion held an exhibit of Canadian agricultural machinery, and that was why it did not look heavy and ungainly, like the rest at the fair. It was the pleasantest sight at the fair.

People will find fault. It seems inherent in human nature. The surprising part is, so much fault is found when so few seem to lose any of their faults.

Half-Crown Eyelashes.

"Art eyelashes" are the latest invention of a hair specialist in Great Castle street.

Before noon yesterday, six ladies with downcast eyes emerged from the specialist's establishment. They had long silken eyelashes.

An Express representative who entered the shop gleaned some interesting information. On the counter were cardboard boxes containing countless cards. On each card was a delicate set of lashes, attached to a scarcely visible strip of fish-skin.

A small bottle containing a "skin fluid," patented in America, and two cards complete the outfit. The eyelashes are 2s. 6d. per pair for "society wear," and 1s. 6d. per pair for theatrical wear.

"On our customer's first visit," said the manager, "we fix the skin on the eyelid with the fluid, and the false lashes mix with the lashes of the lady. It is beautiful—beautiful!"

The lashes last 10 days, usually, but 20 with care.

The manager declared that the 2s. 6d. pairs were proof against even a prolonged fit of hysterics, but he admitted, of course, that he had no direct evidence to that effect.

The theatrical lashes are black and very long, and made of coarser material. The hairs are of vegetable origin, and of every shade. They can be curled with the tongs when they become aggressively downcast.

Eyebrows at 10s. 6d. per pair, lasting from three to six months, are another specialty at this shop, and into those sold to elderly ladies grey hairs are cunningly inserted.—London Express.

Individuality in Trees.

Those who are planting hardy varieties of trees for the purpose of top-grafting them with the best varieties of marketable apples, are working along right lines to secure profitable orchards, providing other details, such as pruning, spraying, cultivation, fertilizing, etc., are attended to. But there is a pointer here for the grower: Whether he intends to do his own grafting or to employ someone else to do it, he should be casting his eye around at this time of year to see where he can secure the right kind of scions with which to top work his young orchard. Not only should he be on the lookout where to secure the proper varieties, but there is another point of very great importance to the future bearing of his orchard. He should observe the individuality of the trees from which he intends to cut his scions.

This is a new theory to most people, and many are incredulous, but there can be no doubt from the evidence gained by experience that this is not a theory, but a well-established fact—the individuality of fruit trees—that some individual trees will far surpass others of the same variety under the very same conditions as to soil and care, and that scions obtained from such a tree and grafted into another will carry that individuality with it and perpetuate it. Here is simply another evidence of our ability to control the forces of nature for our own benefit, and the fruit-grower should not be slow to take advantage of it.

Caricaturing Crookes.
Sir William Crookes, F.R.S., the subject of a genial caricature by "Sisy" in a recent number of "Vanity Fair," was born one and seventy years ago, and at sixteen, after damaging much of the paternal furniture by acids and explosions, he was an active student in the Royal College of Chemistry, since when he has done much to advance the science of chemistry and physics. He invented the radio-metric, discovered thallium and radiant matter generally; he evolved the genesis of the elements, and founded the "Chemical News." He is a past President of all our best scientific societies, and he has published many practical works on many applied sciences. Without the Crookes tube the Roentgen rays were unknown, and had this week shown at the Royal Society his newest invention, the spintharoscope, by which the curious scintillations of the newest element, radium, may be readily seen. Altogether he is a very great man of science, who has done much to benefit the world very practically.—London Star.

Early Rising Proverbs.

A father was telling his son of the advantage of early rising, which he emphasized by using the well worn (but much appreciated) adage, "It is the early bird that catches the worm." The precocious juvenile replied, "All right, father; you get up in the early morning and catch the worms, and I'll go fishing with them in the afternoon." Charles Sothorn (of illustrious memory), in his famous character play of "Lord Dundreary," used to quote the proverb, "Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," on which he commented as follows: "Now, there's my brother Sam; he used to go to bed early, sometimes as early as 4 o'clock (in the morning), and he was not particularly healthy. As for being wealthy, he would borrow a half crown from anybody without the slightest hope of being able (or even willing) to pay it back. And I never knew him to be wise, but confoundedly otherwise."

Desolate St. Helena.
A recent leading article in the only paper printed on the Napoleonic rock advocates the conversion of St. Helena into a sort of penal settlement as the only mode of salvation. St. Helena had an extraordinary boom of prosperity during the South African war, when thousands of Boer prisoners were isolated there. Now there is no market for the local beef and vegetables, and the agriculturists are in despair. "Their lands are full of weeds, their gardens unplanted."

Trouble in Ant Colonies.
The chief cause of the hostility of different colonies of ants is found to be difference of odor and of ages.

PLAYFELLOWS AT HOME.

Countess of Minto and Her Children—Where the Governor-General Also Joins in Their Ramps.

People who complain of the so-called American method of dealing with the rising generation may be interested to know that it is the one pursued by the Countess of Minto, whose husband is the Governor-General of Canada, says a writer in the New York Times. Time was when it was almost impossible to see the children of a Governor-General, if he had any, but Lord Minto's children are always in evidence, they and their parents are the jolliest kind of comrades, and are constantly together. The children share in all the pleasures of their elders, and with the exception of functions of state are present at all social affairs at Government House. They are prominent figures in the private theatricals, which are a favorite form of entertainment under the present regime, and the older ones appear with their parents at the theatre, at skating carnivals, and at various other places.

The Earl and Countess seem, indeed, more like an elder brother and sister with their children than like father and mother. The Governor-General can't be like a school-boy, it is said in the privacy of his family, and Lady Minto, so far from being characterized by that severity which is often associated with the English mother, is the most sympathetic of confidantes for childish troubles.

"I have no doubt you did very well," she is reported to have said once to a small daughter who was complaining of the zeal of her governess, "but you know Froy—a family abbreviation for Fraulein—is never satisfied."

Lady Minto thinks that nothing is too good for her children, and in spite of her numerous social duties and the burdens of public work which she has voluntarily assumed, she finds time to attend personally to their dress and education and everything pertaining to their welfare.

Three of the best and pleasantest rooms at Government House have been set apart for their use, and all sorts of pleasant affairs, which the other children of the Canadian capital often get the benefit, are constantly being planned for them.

Christmas, though celebrated quietly, with only the household and house party, is a great occasion, and much trouble is taken to make the advent of Santa Claus interesting.

One year the great ball-room was converted into a winter garden, with trees that bore the presents, real socks and any quantity of frost and snow. On another occasion the good ship Santa Claus, ablaze with lights from stem to stern, cast anchor at Port Elliott and proved to have all sorts of wonderful things in her hold.

Whatever may be the effect of this system of education on American children, it has certainly produced none but the most desirable results in the case of the young Elliots.

They are absolutely simple and unassuming young people, and appear to be quite unconscious that their position in life is any different from that of ordinary mortals.

Lady Eileen, who came out only last winter, and is now eighteen years of age, is immensely popular in Canadian society, and of Lord Minto's eldest son, who is about twelve, many pretty stories are told. One of these dates back to the great Ottawa fire, when his small lordship attracted much attention by giving his boots to a little fire sufferer who had the misfortune to be without footwear.

"I didn't need them," he explained to the hundreds of admirers of his party, from whom he had strayed for a few minutes, "as I am going to drive home, and the other boy hadn't any."

There is one other son, the Hon. Edmond Elliot, a fascinating little fellow of six or seven, and two daughters, who are between Lord Minto and Lady Eileen. Lady Ruby is just a little younger than the eldest sister, and will probably be introduced with her to English society next year.

Lady Violet is a jolly little girl in her earliest teens, who is generally regarded as her father's favorite.

As a housewife Lady Minto can scarcely be said to have any American characteristics, for she gives careful attention to the prosaic details of housekeeping, and is an excellent manager.

Lady Minto's public work has not attracted so much attention as that of her predecessor, the Countess of Aberdeen, but it is perhaps not less important. She does things in a different way, but she works very nearly as hard and to quite as much purpose. Her chief public interest in Canada has been the Victorian Order of Nurses, and the organization owes much to her untiring exertions.

Through her efforts numerous cottage hospitals which cannot fail to have an important effect on immigration have been established in the sparsely settled districts of Canada, and she is now engaged in getting the order endowed at an expense of $125,000.

For education, particularly manual training and domestic science, Lady Minto also does much, and it is mainly through her efforts that the graves of the Canadian soldiers who fell in South Africa are now being located and marked.

In appearance Lady Minto is strikingly youthful and so like her eldest daughter that they are often taken for one another. She is a tall, slight woman, dresses very artistically, and always wears and has flowers about her. Her manner has a charm which is not easily defined, but which has combined with her rarer and more serious qualities to make her one of the most popular of British Vice-Queens.

Warning for Young People. Woebeaden intends to warn young persons from plays that are not suited to them. The theatre management has decided to advertise plays that they may see with white posters, while those they should keep away from are printed on red paper.

NEW FASHIONS.

Walking Suits Most Popular—Eton Suits.

A walking suit, ankle length, will be found indispensable this summer. Black or navy blue, either in mixed or plain goods, is the most serviceable. The jacket should be blouse and the skirt strapped or plaited.

For afternoon wear nothing can be prettier than an etamine, either in SPRING HAT.

White, cream or pale gray with touches of satin or panne and a little white about the neck and front.

Light crushed strawberry is admirably with black and pale blue and lends itself admirably to touches of ecru lace.

For cool days there are very effective flannel shirt waists with bands of embroidery which transform them, and for warm weather very smart linens and batiste embroidered in white. There is besides, of course, a full line of dainty sheer waists.

Skirts with yokes are just now very fashionable, and this is a very becoming style for the woman whose hips incline to plumpness.

The hat in the illustration is of red straw, trimmed with poppies.

Artistic Bits of Lace and Fringe Which "Make" a Gown.

Lace collars are greatly improved by touches of embroidery, and it is quite easy to find some large wheel or scroll which can be removed or altered to admit an embroidered medallion.

The very deep collar of Richelieu shape is extremely chic for present

EVENING DRESS.

Wear and will appear on all the new costumes and boleros and on evening coats and carriage wraps. Everything will be done to give an air of novelty to these collars, and velvet tabs of various designs will be used and ribbons run in and out of the more open designs.

Fringe is used to give a good effect on smart wraps, and it is seen on dressy gowns of all kinds. It is dyed to match the gown with which it is used.

Dresses with the trimmings, even to the lace, dyed to match are a fad of the hour. Utility dresses of black and white figured and checked foulards will be much seen this year. These gowns are made without any lace as trimming, and they are decorated simply with strappings, tiny pipings and fancy buttons.

The all black gown is, as a rule, very effective, particularly if the bodice be embroidered with really good jet or silver. Black lace robes with many ruffles around the bottom are trimmed with jet stripes or detached figures.

The picture shows an evening gown of cream mull over green silk. It is trimmed with medallions of black and white lace.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

Sufferers from this Disease are in Great Peril and Should Not Experiment with Other Medicines.

From the Sun, Seaford, Ont.

The kidneys are the most important organs. They must filter every drop of blood in the body. If the blood is weak the kidneys cannot do their work, so the blood is left unfiltered and foul, and the kidneys are left clogged with poisonous impurities. Then come the backaches that mean fatal kidney disease. Don't neglect that backache for a moment. Strike at the root of the very first symptoms of kidney trouble by enriching the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—the only medicine that makes the blood rich, red and healthy.

Mr. William Holland, of Seaford, Ont., has proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the most obstinate case of kidney trouble. To a reporter of the Sun he freely gave the particulars of his case: "I have suffered from kidney trouble for about two years," said Mr. Holland.

"Sometimes the backache which accompanied the trouble would be so severe that I would be unable to work, and I have often suffered severely for weeks at a time. I tried a number of medicines said to be a cure for kidney trouble, but I found nothing to help me until on the advice of a friend I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills soon began to make their good work felt, and after using them for about a month every vestige of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not since had a single symptom of the disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a great blessing to me and I am always glad to say a good word in their favor."

As a curative medicine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never yet been equalled. They build up the blood and nerves, give new strength and enable the body to resist disease. Among the complaints cured by these pills are rheumatism, nervous disorder, paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, indigestion, anaemia, lung troubles, and the troubles that make the lives of so many women miserable. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent post paid at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Don't take a substitute at any price—only the genuine pills can cure.

An Excellent Reason. "Why do you call it a feminine complaint?" "Because there is a sting in it." Minneapolis Tribune.

Correct. "The plural, then, of 'wife' is what?" The teacher asked. Said Boss, "A most precocious little tot, 'It's bigamy, I vesse.'"

Miss Edna Rankin and Miss Lillian McCornie visited the fair on Tuesday.

Mr. Laird, of Blenheim, moved out to his cottage at Centerville yesterday.

Will Geary, of St. Thomas, is the guest of Norman Harper, at Sandair.

T. D. Shillington, of Blenheim has moved his family out to his summer cottage.

Messrs. Norm and Florence Stephenson, of Chatham, are guests at Sandy Knowe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McDonald, of New York, are registered at the Lakeview House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McPherson, of Windsor, who have been holidaying at the Eau, returned home this morning.

Miss Margaret Bennett, of Bagin, and Miss Ethel Titus, of Imley City, were the guests of Miss Alkie Samson at Drumtochty Lodge.

Wilfred McCornie returned to Chatham last night, and intends leaving for Mull this morning, where he will spend the rest of the week.

Misses Hattie and Mamie Northwood, of Chatham, and Miss Daisy Rolfe, of Detroit, spent Tuesday with Miss Grace Houston, at Hazeldean.

Miss B. Dewey, of Cleveland, who has been spending a short vacation at the Eau, returned home by the steamer Pere-Marquette last evening.

Quite a large number attended the band concert excursion last evening. The music was excellent and included a trombone solo, "Romance," by Roger Philip, which was much appreciated.

Miss Ruth Massey, of Uxbridge, Rest Cottage, lost a fascinating last week. A gentleman picked it up and gave it to a Chatham lady. Miss Massey would be thankful for the return of her wrap.

Little Willie Bruner is carrying off the fishing honors this season. He has been catching from ten to fifteen good sized bass for the past two weeks. Yesterday he landed a four pound rock bass at the railroad bridge.

The Erieau boys accept the challenge of the Garner House guests to play a friendly game of ball here on Friday afternoon. Walter Bray, one of Chatham's best baseball players, has signed with the Erieau boys so they are quite confident of an easy victory.

There is a touching incident in connection with the death of the setter dog of Henry Dagneau which was killed last night by the engine of the band train at the creek bridge. After supper a young nephew of Mr. Dagneau and David King's boy went to the creek bridge to fish. They were so interested in their sport that they didn't notice the band train coming. The dog noticed the approaching engine when only a few yards away and attracted the attention of the boys. They had just time to jump from the track before the train thundered by. The noble canine, however, sacrificed its own life. The dog refused to leave the track before the boys and the engine caught it, cruelly crushing out its life.

HE COULD NOT LACE HIS SHOE

Till Dodd's Kidney Pills Drove Away His Rheumatism.

Story of W. J. Dixon, has set the Rainy River Settlement Talking.

Barwick P. O., Aug. 3.—(Special).—Among the settlers here the cure of William John Dixon of Rheumatism is causing much talk. The story of the cure, as told by Mr. Dixon himself, is as follows:

"During the summer of 1901, I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and after I got over it Rheumatism set in. I had pains in my back and in my right hip so bad that I had to use a stick to walk and had no comfort in sleeping.

"I could scarcely dress myself for nearly two months, and for three or four weeks I could not lace my right shoe or put my right leg on my left knee.

"My brother advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes, I began to walk to my work and lace up my shoes. And the best of it is, I have had no Rheumatism since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills take the uric acid out of the blood and the Rheumatism goes with it.

We often hear of love at first sight, but after that love is just as blind as ever.

LABORERS' EXCURSIONS.

Fully as Many Men as Usual Will be Wanted.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—The farm laborers' excursions to the west this year promise to be well attended, but in view of the large number of hands that will be required the railway passenger officials are making every effort to secure men. Hundreds of inquiries have already come in to the Canadian Pacific offices asking the terms and dates of the excursions. It is apparent, too, from the inquiries received that a large contingent will go from New York State. The date of the first excursion this year is Monday, August 17, and the fares and other arrangements are just the same as last year.

Mr. A. H. Notman, assistant general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, discussing the excursions with a Globe representative yesterday, said: "I observe items in the papers stating that only a very few laborers will be needed to work in the harvest fields of Manitoba and the Northwest during the present season.

"This statement is wholly incorrect, as although large numbers of settlers have gone into the west this year, they are entirely occupied in preparing their new homes and getting ready for a start in the country.

"At the present time there are no idle men in Winnipeg, and we find the greatest difficulty in obtaining workmen of any class, from the laborer up to the mechanic. Therefore there is no doubt that as many men will be needed this year as any previous seasons. Last year we took up 18,000, and we are satisfied that as many will be required this season to take care of the work."

SHIP GRAIN BY WATER.

Sir William Van Horne's Objection to Grand Trunk Pacific.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—That there is no need for any other transcontinental line is the opinion of Sir William Van Horne, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway, expressed in an interview yesterday. Moreover, an all-rail grain-carrying route, Sir William thinks is impossible.

"Neither the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, nor any other all-Canadian route," said Sir William, "will ever voluntarily carry a carload of wheat by the all-railway route around the great lakes to the eastern Canadian port for shipment abroad, for the simple reason that it will never pay any road to do so. Nor will the transportation problems in the west ever be solved by the construction of an all-Canadian route from coast to coast."

Continuing, Sir William stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway shipped every carload of wheat that it was possible to ship by their steamship line on the great lakes from Fort William to Owen Sound, and thence east by rail, or else by way of Buffalo and the Erie Canal. The long haul around the great lakes was dreaded because it was unprofitable, and the bulk of the grain brought by that route was carried during the winter months, and used by the millers of Ontario to keep their mills in operation during the cold season. Sir William was, moreover, of opinion that, as far as the development of the west was concerned, there was no need for any other transcontinental line. The idea of a line being built for strategic purposes has been charged as the result of the bogey which now and again seized upon some minds, through an excess of fear of the States.

Mr. Monk's Charge Fails.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—The Privileges and Elections Committee met yesterday and disposed of the charge of breach of the independence of Parliament act made by Mr. Monk against Geo. M. Loy, the sitting member for which was entrusted the duty of summing up the sworn testimony before the committee submitted a report, operating Mr. Loy from any violation of the law. Mr. Monk, on behalf of the minority, presented a report, setting forth that since 1898 effort had been made to induce the Government to purchase Mr. Loy's property for a postoffice, that Mr. Loy when Mayor of the town accompanied civic deputations to Ottawa to urge the purchase of the property, that, following the election of Mr. Loy in the autumn of 1900, a vote was placed in the estimates for the purpose of purchasing the site, that Mr. Loy could not have been in ignorance of the fact that Mr. Johnston was the agent of the Government, and that he should not therefore have signed the deed.

Winnipeg Catholics' Grievances.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—Messrs. Deegan and Russell had a second interview with the Prime Minister and Mr. Fitzpatrick to-day in regard to the grievances of the Roman Catholics of Winnipeg. The Prime Minister promised to give the delegation a written reply to their representations on Thursday. The latter are hopeful that the Federal Government may be able to induce the Provincial authorities to make such changes in the administration of the law as will put the minority in Winnipeg on a better footing. Mr. Deegan left for Toronto to-night, with the intention of returning to Winnipeg by way of Owen Sound. Mr. Russell follows by Canadian Pacific direct on Thursday.

Death of Hon. Wm. Proudfoot.

Hamilton, Aug. 5.—Hon. William Proudfoot, former Vice-Chancellor of the Ontario Court of Chancery, died at his summer home here yesterday. He had been ill about a week, and his death was hastened by a fall, in which he was shaken up a few days ago. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 3 p.m., and will be private.

His Newspaper Caught Fire.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—Emery Thibault, a resident of Lower Town, sat in his house last night reading a newspaper by the light of a candle, when the sheet caught fire and ignited his shirt. He tore off his clothing, and the occupants of the house were badly burned about the chest and arms. He was removed to the General Hospital, Water street.

BRUTALITY TO SOLDIERS.

A Non-commissioned Officer Justly Punished.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The details are published of a court-martial held at Metz, on a non-commissioned officer named Dunkel for maltreating private soldiers at Merchingen, Loraine. Five hundred and seventy-six instances of brutality, occurring since last December, were cited. The evidence showed Dunkel's fertile inventiveness in novel methods of punishment, such as compelling a soldier to run at full tilt across a room, and ram his head against a wardrobe. The court decided that 366 counts of th indictment had been proven, and sentenced Dunkel to two years and a half imprisonment and degradation to the ranks. The scandal became known to the military authorities through the suicide of one of the maltreated men, which an anonymous letter ascribed to Dunkel's brutality.

Presidency of the G. T. Pacific.

Montreal, Aug. 5.—A report has gained credence here that Senator Cox of Toronto has written to Mr. Charles M. Hays Vice-President and General Manager of the G.T.R., declining, owing to other pressing interests, to accept the Presidency of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. It could not be confirmed, as Mr. Hays was on the way to New York, where he will embark for England. At the head offices of the company, however, no knowledge of the matter was admitted. There was, nevertheless, an undercurrent suggesting that there is a growing belief that Mr. Hays will be the official head of the new railway. Mr. Hays goes to England on business connected with the new project, and it is explained that he will place the details of the agreement with the Government before those who are largely responsible for the capital involved in the G.T.R.'s part in the undertaking. His visit will be in the nature of a flying trip, as he is expected to return in two or three weeks. In quarters where it is believed that Senator Cox will not accept the Presidency there is a feeling that the important position will therefore naturally fall to Mr. Hays.

IRON AND STEEL BOUNTIES.

The Resolutions Debated and the Bill Introduced.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—The resolutions proposed by the Minister of Finance for the further encouragement of the iron and steel industry were debated yesterday, and a bill giving effect thereto received its initial stage. This evening Hon. Mr. Sifton's bill amending the Manitoba grain act, 1900, was considered in committee. Incidentally, the Minister of the Interior expressed the belief that the railways will, owing to the increase in their rolling stock, be much better able to handle the grain crop this year. The elevator capacity had, he said, been enormously increased.

Mr. R. L. Borden inquired whether there was any truth in the report in the press that the Imperial Government had asked the various colonial Governments, including that of Canada, for permission to make public certain proceedings before the Colonial Conference, which have been heretofore regarded as of a private nature. The Premier could give no reply to the questions until he had consulted with the Governor-General, which he would do at the earliest possible moment, and give a reply to-morrow or the day after.

MARTINEAU DEFALCATION.

Auditor-General's Reply to the Commission's Report.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—A return was brought down which contains a letter from the Auditor-General in reply to the report of the royal commission, whose report practically found that the responsibility for the Martineau defalcation rested with the Audit Department. Mr. McDougall says, in effect, that the forgeries have caused no loss to the Government, and that the Bank of Montreal has to bear the deficiency. He also states that the audit office has performed its duty in accordance with the law, and he will not pass one dollar to cover the defalcation unless especially appropriated by Parliament. He suggests a number of amendments which he thinks will prevent a repetition of frauds of the Martineau type.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

It is definitely stated that Lord Roberts will not visit America this year.

An international conference on wireless telegraphy is in session at Berlin.

Mr. Thomas McLean, one of Brantford's foremost business men, is dead.

Lord Strathcona has consented to open the Dominion Exhibition on Saturday, August 29.

A number of Catholics men throughout Ontario are protesting against the erection of a statue to General Washington in Westminster Abbey.

Dr. Schnarr, license inspector for Rainy River west, has resigned, and Mr. A. M. Rose of Rat Portage has been appointed in his place.

The second reading of the bill for the ratification of the agreement for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will be moved on Thursday afternoon.

The good offices of Miss Helen Gould as arbitrator in the Holyoke, Mass., strike of the paper mill operatives have been requested by one of the girls on the strikers' committee.

The employees in the workshops of the Southwestern Railway and other works in Russia have struck. Battalions of infantry have occupied the railroad station at Kieff and the neighboring workshops.

A strong movement against the participation of Chile in the St. Louis Exposition has been initiated. The principal papers oppose any official representation at the Fair, and the commission of deputies considering the matter is also unfavorable to it.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At the Chatham Grand:—
"Quincy Adams Sawyer,"—Sept. 29.

"QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER" COMING.

"The best New England play ever written" will be here soon.

One of the first attractions of importance to be seen at the Grand Opera House will be the big rural comedy-drama, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," which is now in the third season of continued success. The engagement here will be Tuesday, Sept. 29, 1903, and a rare treat is in store for all theatre-goers who love that which is clean and execrably funny, with brilliant touches of refined pathos, in the bucolic drama. "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has achieved an enviable distinction as the best of all the country plays, for the faults of production of this class were avoided by the dramatist in making his play from that book of the same name, which is still having a big sale throughout the entire country, though now in its fourth year, and the result is that there is no element, such as realism, comedy, pathos, or sentiment predominating, but a subtle combination of all.

Above everything else the aim in "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has been to be lifelike and true to nature in both the characters and the story. The accomplishment of this purpose has spelled the word success in capital letters. The time-honored villains, farm mortgages, lost wills, cruel uncles, wronged girls, etc., which have done such valiant service in rural dramas for years, are conspicuously and pleasantly absent in this play.

Aside from the engagement here, "Quincy Adams Sawyer" will spend over four months of his time, during the coming season, in four cities only. It will be seen for two months in New York City, one month in Philadelphia, three weeks in Boston, and two weeks in Chicago.

The production is a very elaborate one and includes some fine effects in scenic realism, all the acts taking place in the country, and all the characters, except "Quincy Adams Sawyer" himself and one other, being rural types. This is one of the very few plays that the theatre-goer really cannot afford to miss. Its tremendous success elsewhere and the lavish encomiums of the press liberally endorse this assertion.

When a man has decided to make his ways he likes to fix a future date for commencement.
