There are letters from the "Morning Chronicle," "The Public Advertiser," "The Gazetteer," "St. James' Chronicle," "Public Ledger," "Lloyds Evening Post." There are also numerous letters and articles on American affairs, it is complete in two vols.

Roman Advertiser (The) 104 Nos. for 1843. 2 vols, roy 4to, hf vellum, $2.75, published at Rome. 105

NOTE—These vols contain a vast amount of information relative to the Topography, Public Buildings and Antiquities of the City. The Position, Profession and Practice of the Church of Rome.

Wilks (John) The North Briton, a complete set from its commencement on June 5th, 1762 to its discontinuance as a separate paper with No. 218 on the 11th of May 1771. Bound in 3 vols. folio $6.50 106

NOTE—It will be remembered this celebrated man was M.P. for Aylesbury, when he commenced a strenuous opposition to Lord Bute's Administration. The minister fairly quailed before the above paper and it was No. 45 which was ordered to be burnt by the hands of the common hangman. Wilks having charged the King with falsehood that No. was suppressed and it is supplied in MS. on 20 pages of foolscap, beautifully written by a contemporary hand. Wilks was committed to the Tower and his outlawry was afterwards reversed by Lord Mansfield. A complete set of this paper is now extremely rare.

Observer (The) in dialogue, by Roger L'Estrange, 2 thick folio vols, 931 numbers. A complete set from its commencement on April 13th, 1681 to the farewell number on March 9th, 1687. It has the two Portraits,

Titles and Contents, and the well known Address to Posterity on the History of the Times, a paper of 40 pages, will be found at the commencement of 3rd vol. in vol 2, $7.50. 107

Free Trade and the Corn Laws. "The League," the organ of the National Anti-Corn-Law League from its commencement with No. 1 in Sept. 1843, to its conclusion with No. 144 in June 1846, 3 vols. folio, cl, very scarce $10.00. 108

NOTE.—These volumes contain the history of one of the most important controversies ever entered into by Englishmen. They contain some master-pieces of eloquence by the best men of the time. There are hundreds of speeches by Sir Robert Peel, Lord John Russell, Lord Brougham, the Duke of Wellington, Richard Cobden, John Bright and Mr. Gladstone; and on page 633, vol. 3 will be found Canada's "Address to the Queen," on the "Repeal of the Corn Laws," with Mr. Gladstone's answer. It had for its object "The total and final overthrow of the monopoly in human food," No. 1 Sept. 30th, 1843. And "Grateful to Providence that has bestowed upon us such blessings, we call upon our country to accept her high mission and fulfil her great destiny. 'Arise, shine for thy light is come; and the glory of the Lord hath risen upon thee!' is the way they finish in their last No. July 4th, 1846.

London Gazette (The) upwards of 160 numbers for the years 1777-8-9, in 3 vols. boards, but not quite consecutive, very rare, $6.50. 109

NOTE.—In these 3 vols will be found numerous important dispatches from Sir Henry Clinton relative to the doings of the American Army in the State of New York, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; returns of the killed and wounded; also Royal Proclamation to the inhabitants, etc. It also presents a view of the deplorable state of English Law in those days as to imprisonment for debt.

London Chronicle (The) or Universal Evening Post. Upwards of four hundred and ninety numbers, eight pages to each number of this well known and scarce old London newspaper, between the years 1763 and 1779. They are bound in 14 vols. boards, and are nice and clean, $22.50. 110

NOTE.—There are hundreds of references to the English in America. The troubles with the Six Nations, the progress made in the various settlements, arrival and departure of ships, etc. One number gives us the preliminary articles of peace between Sir William Johnson and the Seneca Nation; another gives an account of Whitefield's farewell sermon, extracts from private letters, Fort Ontario, Detroit, and the Little Falls; another tells us the "smallpox is got amongst the Cree Indians" and that out of "50 men who bear arms 40 are dead." In short these vols. abound in the most valuable and interesting information not only to those interested in American affairs, but also to the historian, the antiquary and the politician.

Monthly Review (The) a periodical work giving an account, with proper abstracts of, and extracts from the new books, pamphlets, etc., as they come out. From its commencement in May, 1749 to Dec. 1789, 81 vols. The second series from 1790 to 1816, with two vols. of index. Vols. 1 to 70 by Asysecough, together 164 vols. mostly whole cf, all backs being nice and uniform, 1749-1816, $50.00. 111

NOTE.—There are 206 vols. in a complete set of this valuable review, it being discontinued in 1845. 175 vols. sold some years ago for £44, and another copy for £38. Such a series as the above may not be obtained again for many years.

Spectator by Addison, Nos. 90 to 505. The 4to 1721 edition in one 4to vol., large type $1.25. 112

NOTE.—There are 635 Nos. in a complete series of the Spectator.

Sphinx (The) and London News Gazette. Various Nos. in one vol. 4to for 1828. 113

NOTE.—About 20 Political Biographies entitled "Parliamentary Portraits," will be found in this vol., amongst others Lord Holland, Lord King and the Miserable Methodists, in No. 29, William Huskinson, Lord Nugent, Henry Grattan, about 500 pages, $1.00

Somerset House Gazette and Literary Museum. A weekly miscellany of Fine Arts, Antiquities and Literary Chit-Chat. Edited by Ephraim Hardcastle, author of Wine and Walnuts, 2 vols., sm 4to, $3.50, Lon 1824. 114

NOTE.—This is a complete series as will be seen by reference to No. 52. They are complete and clean but poorly bound; whoever becomes the owner of these vols. will possess a literary museum in its true sense.

This is a scarce collection relating to the above celebrated trial. 5.00. 195

Trial of a cause instituted by the Attorney-General for the repeal of a patent granted on the 16th Dec. 1775, to Mr. Richard Arkwright, for an invention of instruments and machines for preparing silk, cotton, flax and wool for spinning, before the Hon. Francis Buller, at Westminster Hall, June 1785. Folio, with the folding plate, 191 pp, 2.00. 196

NOTE.—Richard Arkwright was the youngest of a family of 13. He began life as a barber, became a hawker and a dealer in hair. Turning his attention to weaving, his sharp intelligence perceived the defects in the existing machinery. His patents were contested, and he was subject to years of opposition. The lad who was formerly a barber's boy became High Sheriff of Derby in 1786, and was afterwards honoured by the King. He died in 1792, aged 60. He lost the above case, but will be known and honoured in the annals of his country.
