A FIVE YEAR OLD TERRIBLY BURNED

The five-year-old daughter of Joseph Radt, 9 Young street, was terribly burned yesterday afternoon, when her clothing caught fire from a bonfire which children had lighted on Niagara street. The youngster's predicament was first noticed by the mother, who took the child to the street and commenced to throw sand on the burning clothing. A passer-by immediately went to the rescue and rolled the child over and over in the sand until the fire was subdued. The little one was burned about the abdomen and hips, her flesh being badly scarred. Dr. William Nichol, who was called, stated that the child had a chance to recover.

HORSE KILLED BY ELECTRICITY

He Touched the Street Car
Tracks in East Ward
This Morning.

A valuable horse belonging to the Brantford Ice Company was instantly electrocuted shortly after 12 o'clock to-day at the corner of Victoria and Brock street. There was an approaching car at the time and it is thought the animal had one foot on one rail and a hind foot on the other rail, completing connection, rendered possible by defective hand wires underground. If a horse could be killed in this way, civic authorities declare, then human life is not safe, in view of the condition of the street railway tracks in the East ward. Ald. McFarland, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee and Hydro Electric Engineer, examined the tracks. The horse killed was a very valuable one, the best owned by Mr. Niehtivale. For a couple of years, residents of Victoria street have been kicking apparently with justice, against the condition of the street railway tracks and this morning's accident may mean that something may be done.

WHERE WERE POLICE HERE?

Disgraceful Conduct by Driver
Nearly Cost Little Girl Her Life.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart, who reside on the corner of Murray and Marlboro streets, met with a painful accident on Saturday afternoon. The child was playing on the lawn in front of her home, when a couple of men in a motor car, probably under the influence of liquor, deliberately drove their team across the lawn, instead of turning the corner of the street. One of the horses knocked the child down and stepped on her chest. She was picked up and carried into the house. Dr. Cole was summoned and attended to her injuries, which were slight. The little one is playing around again today.

Very Sad Drowning of Russell Adams a Heartfelt Blow to Family and Friends.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. David Adams and family, by hundreds of friends both in Brantford and Paris, in their recent sad bereavement of their son.
Russell left Brantford only a week ago on Wednesday to go to a point on the Trans-Continental about 250 miles north of Fort William. While there he was staying with a Mr. Gilbride, until his friend Mr. Jeffrey Preston of Stratford, a chum at school arrived and they were then going to camp out for the summer.
Russell was going to put in a couple of months practical work in the Trans-Continental repair shops at this point.
On the night of the fatality, in company with Mr. Gilbride's stenographer Mr. Miles they started out paddling. Mr. Miles felt cold and came in about eight o'clock. Russell, however stayed out and when at 9 o'clock he had not returned a search party was organized and the upturned canoe was found; later the body was recovered.
The fatality is an exceptionally sad one, in view of the fact that Russell had just completed his first year in the School of Science, and the results were just published on Friday, including Russell as one of the successful law boys.
His many school friends throughout the city and at Toronto, will feel deeply the great loss, as he was one of the most popular boys of the B. C. I. It is expected the body will arrive to-night about 8 o'clock, and the funeral will take place to-morrow to the Paris cemetery.
Complaints
There have been numerous complaints of late regarding motorists speeding up Brant Avenue without their tail lamps lighted. The police intend to stop this practice.

NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting of the directors of the Golf Club, held to-day, some ten new members were elected, the majority of them playing members. The coming season promises to be unusually successful. Arrangements were made to fill the positions of house-keeper and assistant groundsman made vacant by the resignation of the present occupants. The greens will be opened next Saturday afternoon for the first time if the weather conditions remain favorable this week. Mixed

CUT DOWN TREE

MR. GEORGE BALLACHEY was very much annoyed on Saturday when visiting his farm on the back street of Mr. Pleasant to find that during the winter some vandal had cut down a handsome elm tree for the purpose of routing out a loon. The farm house is not occupied during the winter months. There is no trace of the culprit. It is a pity that the miscreant cannot be brought to justice.

LABOR MEN MAKE REQUEST

They Address City Council
Re Sale of Cheese, and Municipal Dwellings.

A communication is on file at the City Hall from the Trades and Labor Council which reads as follows:
Brantford, May 10, 1913.
The Mayor and Aldermen of Brantford, Greetings:
Gentlemen.—The Trades and Labor Council desire to call attention to the communication received by your body, which was forwarded by its municipal committee, regarding the matter of sale of cheese in the market house. We wish that the buildings and grounds committee submit to you its report re our request.
Also, we would ask your honorable body to consider the desirability of procuring lands for the erection of good dwellings by the city, same dwellings to be sold under a proper purchase system to worthy citizens at a reasonable rental rate.
Hoping that these matters will receive the attention they warrant, we remain,
Sincerely Yours, Sir,
The Municipal Committee of the Brantford Trades and Labor Council.

DELEGATES FROM ENGLAND HERE TO ARRANGE FOR WORLD'S GREATEST PEACE CONFERENCE

To confer with American colleagues regarding the international celebration in 1915 of the centenary of the signing of the Treaty of Ghent and the peace centennial among the English speaking nations, delegates from Belgium, Britain, Australia and Canada arrived recently in Brantford. They will arrange the details of what is believed will be the greatest international peace celebration in the history of the world.
At the head of the British delegation is Lord Weardale, President of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, representing the parliaments of twenty-one nations and prominent in the international peace movement in Great Britain. Among the other delegates from Great Britain are Moreton Frewen, formerly a member of Parliament, who married Miss Clara Jerome, daughter of Leonard Jerome, of New York, and Earl Stanhope, nephew of Lord Weardale.

A BIG GRANT TO PORT DOVER HARBOR IN OTTAWA ESTIMATES

Government Will Take Action Which Will be of Great Advantage to Brantford and Other Municipalities-- Supplementary Estimates Will be Down This Week.

It is understood that, acting on the report of engineers, the Ottawa Government has practically decided to make adequate improvements to the harbor at Port Dover. In this regard it is stated that a first grant for the purpose may appear in the supplementary estimates. Just what the significance of this announcement means will perhaps not appear on the surface to those who have not followed the far-reaching significance of such a move—not alone for Brantford primarily, but also for many other places affected by the Lake Erie & Northern Railway now under course of construction. A glance at the map will make the situation clear. Port Dover is, almost directly opposite Erie, the capital city of Erie county, Pennsylvania, and the largest land-locked harbor on the United States side of Lake Erie. Its peculiarly advantageous situation has given it high rank as a shipping point. The port is closest to the Pennsylvania soft coal fields and also to Pittsburgh, the great centre of steel manufacture. With Port Dover harbor dredged and adequate wharves erected, there will be a freight line between Dover and Erie, and the great significance of that fact is shown by these figures. Such a connection with the Lake Erie & Northern Railway at Port Dover would place Brantford manufacturers for soft coal and steel, of which they use large quantities, 76 miles nearer than the haul of the same by the present route to this city. Paris manufacturers would be placed about 70 miles nearer, Galt about 50 miles nearer, and even Hamilton 30 miles nearer than at the present time.

Celebrated Whit Monday

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., May 12.—One of the band of militant suffragettes assigned to interfere with the pastimes of the men of the British Isles, celebrated Whit Monday, which is a general holiday here, by burning down the headquarters of the Nottingham Boat Club on the banks of the Trent River. The structure, which contained many valuable racing boats, skiffs, the loss being $20,000.

Loaded Down With Money

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 12.—Weighted down with coins, which he had taken in at his saloon Saturday night, Edward Ruckmar, a saloonkeeper, was drowned in the Ohio River near here yesterday when his launch upset. Yeager, was running a trout line, and when both leaned over the same side of the launch to pull in a large fish, the boat upset. Yeager was rescued. Ruckmar, whose body had not been found early to-day, had about $150, mostly coins, in his pocket, and it is believed to have caused him to sink.

POST-MASTERS NOT A SUCCESS

As Government Agents For Old Age Annuity System.

[Canadian Press Despatch]

OTTAWA, Ont., May 12.—A general discussion of the scope for the usefulness of post offices took place at the first morning sitting of the Commons to-day. The post-master general introduced a bill increasing the maximum of annuities from 6000 to $10,000 owing to a demand for a higher figure. He admitted that post-masters had not made very efficient annuity agents but said the system would be put on a better working basis. W. F. MacLean suggested that government telephone, telegraph and parcel post systems be consolidated in the post office, open day and night. The minister promised that the Parcel Post Bill would be brought in this week.

Budget Not Down Today

[Canadian Press Despatch]

OTTAWA, May 12.—It is probable that the budget speech will be delivered in the Commons this afternoon, owing to the fact that Hon. W. T. White has to leave on account of the sudden illness of his mother, and the uncertainty of the date of his return. As A. K. McLean, who is to reply to the Minister, is absent to-day, the Opposition will make an agreement to make the delivery of the speech contingent on the adjournment of the debate.

Mothers' Day

Mothers had right of way at Wellington St. Sunday School yesterday afternoon. Mothers announced the hymns, led the singing, presided at the piano, read the lesson, offered prayer, gave the attendance and star reports—a further innovation was a chorus by eight grandmothers—while an appropriate mothers' song was rendered by Mrs. Limburg and Misses Hyde and Limburg, making in all a real live Mothers' Day.

LITTLE TOTS START TO SEE THE BIG CITY

A little girl named Rust and a little boy named French, each three-year-old tots, decided to wander away from their parental home on Sydenham street, in Grand View, early yesterday morning. Hand in hand, they departed to see the gliding autos on the paved streets of the big city, and all the other wonders for big eyes. Their parents, however, became greatly distressed during the afternoon. They asked Chief Lewis to ring the fire bell. The police were also appealed to. Just at dark a resident of Sydenham street noticed the little ones, tired, hungry and in evident childish distress. They lingered with tear-dimmed eyes near Benwell's Hotel on Market street. Had they not been discovered, both would have fallen asleep on a doorstep. They were rushed home, where their parents were overjoyed to receive them.

GREAT CARE EXERCISED

AT the request of Mr. W. P. Cockshutt, M.P., member of the architectural department of the Public Works has been in Brantford to inspect the location and foundations of the new building. Architect Hewitt had the mission, and his report will follow in a day or so. It is determined by the department that the structure shall be a credit in every possible way.

NEAR FATALITY IN SEWER HOLE

Fireman Bolton Saved a Life
This Morning Through His Knowledge of First Aid

An accident, which might have had fatal results occurred this morning on West Mill street, when two employees of the sewer construction gang were overcome by sewer gas in a man-hole in front of 125 West Mill street. William Etheridge, living on West street, in company with Alex. Downes, of Able avenue, and a fireman, Joe Chabbo, were working at a man hole on West Mill street, and in some manner Etheridge's ruler dropped in the hole. Downes immediately volunteered to go down after it. In going down the hole, which was about twenty-five feet deep, he was overcome by the gas and fell in. Joe Chabbo, a foreigner, living on Duke street, went down to help Downes out and he, too, was overcome, by the fumes and fell in. Etheridge realizing the precarious position they were in sent in a call for the firemen. In the meantime he secured a rope and went down the hole, fastened it about the two men and they were pulled out. Shortly after they were taken from the hole, Fireman Bolton, who has passed exams, in first aid works, happened along on his way home, and started work resuscitating Downes, although the bystanders were all of opinion that it was too late. By the time Chief Lewis and five of the firemen arrived with the truck, Bolton had Downes breathing, and showing signs of life.
Dr. Nichol was summoned and Downes was brought around and immediately hustled to the hospital in the ambulance where he is still in a serious condition.
Chabbo was able to walk home shortly afterwards.
Had it not been for the timely arrival of Fireman Bolton and his excellent work, Downes would doubtless have lost his life. Bolton as before mentioned is a first-aid man, and was apparently the only man who knew that Downes still had life in him.
Wm. Etheridge's presence of mind also helped to avoid a serious fatality. Both men deserve great praise for their work in the case.
Chief Lewis stated to a Courier representative this morning that had it not been for Etheridge and Bolton, that Downes and Chabbo would certainly have lost their lives.

Died at Ottawa.

Mrs. E. W. J. Hunt, 141 Rawdon street, has received the sad intelligence of the death of her sister at Ottawa, Miss Alice McGuffey. The deceased formerly resided in Brantford, and many friends will be sorry to learn of her demise. The funeral takes place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Hunt.

ELECTED DIRECTORS

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Kitchen Overall Company, held on Saturday afternoon, Messrs. Joseph Ruddy and J. Schultz were added to the board of directors. The affairs of the company were reported in a very prosperous state, and the industry promises to reach quite large proportions.

LIKE A BOLT FROM THE BLUE

Hotel Doors Were Closed Until 8 O'clock This Morning
—New Act in Force.

Like a bolt from the blue, as far as Brantford was concerned, came the order from Toronto which meant the keeping closed of all hotel bars to 8 o'clock in the morning instead of 6 o'clock, the former hour of opening. License Inspector Eacrett had to notify each hotel man on Sunday, that the new Hanna law went into effect to-day. The other important feature of the amended liquor act is the elimination of the bottle trade over bars, and in future drinks must be consumed on the premises.
Local hotel keepers were pleased with the change this morning. The early morning fellows were surprised when they found doors closed. Some enquired if the hotelkeeper had dropped dead during the night. The bartenders were particularly happy, and liked the change.
The announcement at Toronto was too late to reach the Canadian Press wires and was only carried in late editions of Toronto papers.
A Toronto despatch says: The coming into effect of the new act, closing the hotels until 8 o'clock, by the morning, was not felt by the larger downtown bars here this morning, but in the smaller places, and in the country districts, the places found many men ready to clear up the bars. There were fifty or more working-men in front of one hotel, the Power House, and in the neighborhood of the larger northwest factories, the disappointed were forced to work without the regular "choaster" night new act. Constables were posted at each hotel to watch.

SCHOOL BOARD TO GET $3500

Lake Erie and Northern Will Give That Amount for School Property.

The Lake Erie and Northern Railway Co., have practically arrived at an agreement, which is satisfactory to themselves and the Public School trustees, whereby the latter will receive $3,500 for the Morrell Street school property. This amount includes the building and grounds and the railway will, when the articles are signed be would doubtless through the school property. It might be stated that the survey goes right through the school building, of course necessitating its removal. This was one of the points which the L. E. and N. Ry. had to clear up before the right of way would be complete through that part of the city.

MERCHANTS TO CLOSE MONDAY

Observance of Victoria Day in Brantford Will be Split Up.

Brantford merchants when interviewed this morning, relative to the observance of Victoria Day, almost unanimously declared in favor of keeping shop open on May 24, Saturday, and closing on Monday. The factories, however, will likely keep the statutory holiday, giving their employees the advantage of holiday railway rates, which the clerks would not have, if the holiday is observed on Monday by the merchants. In all likelihood the stores will close Monday and remain open market day, Saturday.

Boyle, tenor; and James Sutton, Cellist. The accompanists were Miss Lillian Sanva, piano; Miss Schlosser, and M. Rusby.

Want Gas
New Merger Will Extend Service from Galt to Waterloo.
A Berlin despatch says: In consequence of an interview with Mr. Sweet, solicitor of the Dominion Natural Gas Company, Brantford, Mr. D. B. Dewilder of this city called a meeting of the municipal representatives of Berlin, Waterloo, Preston and Heseler to discuss joint action of these corporations securing an extension of the present natural gas mains from Galt, meeting will be held in this city, 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. An effort was made some years ago to secure an extension of the service from Galt, but without success owing to the limited supply of the organization of the $15,000,000 merger it is proposed to increase number of wells and more town and cities will be supplied. Artificial gas is being supplied at $1 per the sand, and it is reported that natural gas of higher efficiency can be supplied at less than half this rate.

FIRST BAPTIST BREAKS RECORD

Attendance in Sunday School Yesterday Was a Big One — The Services.

Yesterday was observed as "Mothers' Day" at all the services in First Baptist Church. The pastor preached in the morning upon "God's Grace and Mothers' Love." At the afternoon session the record in the attendance at the Sunday School was broken in the entire history of the church which covers a period of nearly 80 years. There were 400 present yesterday and the offering was nearly $40. This is a splendid showing and the energetic superintendent, Mr. Fred Chalcraft, as well as the pastor expressed themselves as well pleased with the record. The Sunday School is making rapid progress and the aim now is for 500. There were 80 in the Primary Department yesterday and extra accommodation will have to be provided for the school in order to take care of the demands of the growing school. A strong committee has been appointed to take this matter in hand. Two members of the Sunday School presented lovely attendant yesterday with a beautiful fresh rose. These were greatly appreciated.

MR. FRED CHALCRAFT

Superintendent First Baptist Church Sunday School.

STYLES IN HANDCUFFS.

The Old Time "Twisters" Were Instruments of Torture.

It is in the Aecid that we find the first reference to the handcuff. Vergil informs us that Proteus was, by means of such a device, fettered and rendered helpless by Aristaeus.

It is of record that about 400 years before the Christian era an army of victorious Greeks came upon several chariots of Carthaginians which, among other things, contained a large number of handcuffs.

Our term "handcuff" is derived from the Anglo-Saxon "handcup." In the case of nobles, while "footcops" were reserved for kings. The terms employed in the fourteenth century were "shack bot" and "swivel manacle," and the specimens thereof which have come down to us show that the instruments were as cumbersome as their names.

Only two kinds of handcuffs were employed previously to the nineteenth century. One, thus flexible, was very similar to that now in use, and the other, which was called "the figure eight," was utilized to restrain violent prisoners. This "figure eight" was greatly dreaded, since severe pain was occasioned the restrained person did he attempt to move a limb.

There used to be a form of handcuff, now happily abolished, called the "twister." This consisted of a chain with handles at each end. This chain was placed about the wrists, the handles were brought together and clamped until a firm grip was obtained. The least struggle on the part of the unfortunate captive resulted in the greatest suffering, for the chains bit deeply into his flesh. A similar form of handcuff was that called by the French "la ligote."

In some parts of Europe there is still used an exceedingly primitive form of handcuff. It consists of a V-shaped piece of metal, wherein the wrists are inserted, the open ends being drawn together by means of a cross hook, which, however, must be maintained taut during the whole time the captive is held.

The most ingenious and effective of all handcuffs is that used in the United States and, indeed, adopted by the police of most civilized countries. It is much lighter and much less clamped than a old flexible handcuff and is not painful to the wearer.—Harper's Weekly.

A ROYAL INSULT.

Lord Brougham Bided His Time and Repaid George IV.

With all of his knowledge and talent Lord Brougham was eccentric and slovenly in his personal habits. While he was a young and comparatively unknown barrister he was asked to a dinner at which the prince regent presided. Mr. Brougham's hands needed washing. The regent's eyes rested until a firm grip was obtained. The least struggle on the part of the unfortunate captive resulted in the greatest suffering, for the chains bit deeply into his flesh. A similar form of handcuff was that called by the French "la ligote."

Years later, when the prince, now king, tried to divorce his wife, Brougham, as her defender so vehemently sustained her cause that she triumphed. The king's name was not mentioned during the trial, though the nation knew that he was secretly the prosecutor. Brougham in his speech declared that he saw in the distance the nameless persecutor of his innocent client, quoting with terrific effect Milton's verses:

The other shape, it shape it might be called,  black it stood as night,
Fierce as ten furies, terrible as hell,
And shook a dreadful dart; what seem'd his head,
The likeness of a kingly crown had on.

George IV. felt severely this savage attack. The nation sided with the queen, and her defender had paid his debt with interest.

Correcting a Quotation.

In his book, "A Wanderer in Florence," E. V. Lucas furnishes a new reading for that quotation about the leaves on the brooks of Vallombrosa, though he credits it to a cousin across the pond. Mr. Lucas visited Vallombrosa and, describing the extortionate rates of the hotels there, tells the story: A departing American was eyeing his bill with a rueful glance as we were leaving. "Milton had it wrong," he said to me, with the freemasonry of the plucked, "for I know him not. 'What he meant was 'thick as thieves.'"

OLD NORTH GERMAN LLOYD CAPTAIN ENDS SERVICE

CAPTAIN DIETRICH HÖGEMANN.

Ending a distinguished career of forty-four years at sea, thirty-four of which have been in the service of the North German Lloyd Line, Captain Dietrich Högemann, commander of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie and commodore of the North German Lloyd fleet, will retire to a well earned leisure ashore when the Kronprinzessin Cecilie returns to Bremen. She will leave New York again on May 13.

Twenty-two years of Captain Högemann's career as a sailor have been spent in active command without an accident of any kind, and in that period he has been responsible for the lives of more than seven hundred and fifty thousand passengers, not one of whom met with injury when under his care.

Captain Högemann estimates that in all his years as a sailor he has travelled 2,387,743 miles. When in dress uniform he wears on his breast the insignia of the orders of the Red Eagle, the Prussian Crown, the Knights of Oldenburg, the Swedish Order of Waserman and the Order of the Italian Crown. On his retirement he will make his home at his villa near Bremen.

AS TO BOUNDARIES

One of the things in which the Expositor took the initiative, and which was afterwards put through, was the enlargement of the city's boundaries so as to take in Eagle Place and Terrace Hill. That this was something for the benefit of the entire people is trying to stir up interest in another boundary enlargement which is sadly needed, but it receives no support from its local contemporary. Why?

Well, your local contemporary is not supporting the same, largely because it thinks the move would be a very foolish one to make at this time.

On the last occasion county residents were brought in, it was on a preferential basis, having the township assessment left on their properties for a term of years, and on top of that a much less rate of taxation for a term of years than the rest of us were paying.

The same kind of thing would likely be demanded in connection with the Expositor's ill-digested scheme of another enlargement. Let us first take care of what we have in this town which is one of the largest of the small city areas, without seeking to have more roads to look after, and more schools, and more water and sewer mains, and more police, and more fire protection, and all the rest of it.

Moreover, when the time does come for extension, it should be on the basis of the new-comers paying full taxes on values named by the city assessors.

Our cotem makes the assertion regarding the last extension "that this was something for the benefit of the entire people will not be denied."

How? Those who choose to live in the township because of cheaper rents and cheaper land do so for their own reasons. Bringing them in wouldn't make the distance any the less to the factories. It might be argued that they would enjoy more conveniences. So they would, but the same should be paid for in full, which was not done last time.

What our esteemed cotem really seems to imagine is that by some mysterious hocus pocus those who live on the other side of the invisible line known as the city boundary, would eat more, or buy more, or help the trade of this community more, if said line was moved back of them.

It ought to write a book of ethics on that subject and ask Mr. C. B. Heyd to contribute a couple of illuminating chapters on how a farmer can get more for his produce while a consumer is paying him less.

THE AMUSING EXPOSITOR

Our esteemed contemporary on the cupola corner is a source of never-ending joy and delight when it attempts, as it generally does, to say that what he once said it didn't mean, or if so, some other fellow had charge.

Recently it has been seized with a wild desire to show that the Courier has not always stood for municipal ownership of public utilities.

To this end it has been searching through the Courier files of many years back, and that course of reading is calculated to do it some much-needed good.

However, this is not the point. The shriek of joy which our cotem emits is that it has found that the Courier in 1892 (or 21 years ago) opposed the city taking over the electric lighting company, and in the course of articles on the subject said:

The solid sentiment of the community is unreservedly unfavorable to civic control of the electric lights. There are very many reasons for this.—Brantford Courier, Aug. 24, 1892.

They (the citizens) repudiate the attempt without just reason of the municipality entering into competition with private citizens, and they recognize that the whole scheme is ill-advised, incomplete and uncalculated.—Brantford Courier, Aug. 24, 1892.

Well, what of it? This paper has never contended that it has fought for everything to be municipalized, or to be subject to competition, but only in such cases and at such times as that seemed advisable.

That's why it fought for public ownership of the waterworks while the Expositor was fighting for private ownership.

That's why it was the first to fight for telephone competition and the breaking of the Bell monopoly.

That's why it fought for Hydro-Electric while the Expositor was fighting to keep the community in the grasp of a private corporation.

That's why it is now fighting for municipal ownership of the Street Railway, as a period has arrived which would fully warrant such a step.

In this matter of the hysterical Expositor having discovered that twenty-one years ago the Courier supported a private company, this paper does not, like its cotem, seek to take refuge in the childish plea, "It wasn't me;" "twas another fellow," because it wasn't.

At that period it appeared to this paper that for many reasons municipal ownership of electric lighting was not then desirable, and the after vicissitudes of the private company fully warranted that contention.

Under like circumstances the same attitude would very properly be taken.

It is true that the Expositor supported municipal ownership in this instance, but in all likelihood it was not for any yearning for that, but because Mr. Robert Henry, whom the organ always misrepresented, even to the extent of a libel suit with resulting damages, was at the head of the then existing company.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Right to the last Pugsley demonstrated that his name should be Mugsley.

Dr. M. Steele, M.P., proposes to have bank bills sterilized. For most of us the crop is too sterile already.

It is stated that you can live in Japan for $23 a year, and if you want amusement, why just go out and look at the cherry blossoms. All aboard for the land of the geisha girls!

It is with the thankful feeling of the true missionary that this paper learns of the fact that its esteemed cotem, is taking a study course of Courier articles.

A Boston man in his will left $25,000 for his wife's next husband, on the basis, he said, of "compensation." That's enough to make her duplicate the trick right off, just by way of spite.

The navy bill has been put through by what the Toronto Globe declares as "Steam Roller" and "Gag Methods," and a lot more bally-rot talk of that nature. The simple and unchallenged fact is that the Canadian House, like the British House, will in future be under the wise check of a closure rule, so that public business may be carried on in an efficient and business-like way. And the vast sentiment of the people is heartily behind such a sensible plan.

Says the Hamilton Herald (Independent), during the course of an article referring to the conduct of the Laurierites over the application of closure:

They kicked against the operation of the rules apparently just for the sake of kicking, conscious that the kicking would be ineffectual. Petulant, spiteful, unreasonable, they behaved like naughty children who merit a sound spanking.

But for the closure it would have been impossible for the Government to advance its navy measure thus far. The closure rules are accomplishing the purpose designed, and in spite of them "gagged" members appear to be able to say all that is worth saying, and a good deal more.

Why did the Courier oppose a municipal lighting plant for Brantford in 1892? Was it because its political friends were interested in having private monopoly continued?—Expositor.

As to that, Mr. George H. Wilkes was one of the private owners, and the organ might state how much of a Conservative he is. However, that is not at all material. What our cotem, evidently seeks to intimate is that because Mr. Robert Henry was largely interested, the Courier shouted for a private concern. As to that, Mr. Robert Henry, then mayor, favored private ownership of the waterworks, and the Courier opposed him tooth and nail on that. So much for the attempted innuendo of the organ.

It is unofficially rumored that Asquith, Lloyd-George, Winston Churchill and the rest have thus massacred Kipling's Recessional:

The tumult and the shouting grows
The militants will not depart,
Still stand for any sacrifice,
No humble and no contrite heart,
May the fates protect us yet,
Here comes another suffragette.

Far called, they will not-melt away,
Still use the hammer and the fire,
Lo all our pomp of yesterday,
Is now enough to make us tire.
We hope the fates will spare us yet,
Here comes another suffragette.

Obsessed for voting power they loose
Wild tongues that hold not us in awe,
Such language as the violent use,
And threats not proper under law,
May the fates be with us yet,

Here comes another suffragette.

For reckless heart that puts her trust,
In nitro tube and heckling band,
All valiant busts that try to bust,
And cause for us a separate guard,
With frantic boast and foolish word,
They have us all quite much perturbed.

FIREMEN HAVE EXCITING DAY

The Department's Run to West Brantford Was Full of Incidents.

It never rains but it pours with the Brantford fire department. On Saturday the department answered three alarms. In the morning the Oxford street dump got ablaze and threatened several houses. In the afternoon at 129 Cayuga street, smoke crept into the other side of the dwelling from a gas stove which had been given a coat of preparation and fire was suspected. It was all smoke however.

The department was later called to the Agricultural Park grandstands. The stands seem to catch fire every time a crowd gets over there. On their way over, Driver Maize in turning from Oxford to Gilkinson street, showed a great driving feat in avoiding two little children who ran directly to the middle of the roadway. Men shut their eyes and women screamed when it looked as if the children would be ground down beneath the horses and the heavy load. The driver, however, jerked his horses fairly into the ditch, the whole outfit coming within an ace of toppling over. The fire was extinguished when the department arrived.

On their return, it remained for Fireman Howarth to enter the hail of fame. He was driving the big truck on Lorne bridge when a wagon loaded with swill was encountered. The wheel caught on the car track and took two wheels off the swill wagon as clean as a whistle and dumped two barrels of hog feed on the bridge. The firemen are wondering who will have to pay. It was entirely accidental.

A Hitch

Board of Works Wants $1500 for its Old Gravel Pit

The corporation gravel pit on West Mill street, in the Holmedale, section of the city is one point in dispute between the Lake Erie and Northern Railway and the Board of Works Department. The city fathers who comprise that honorable body of the city council, are asking the Lake Erie and Northern Company $1,500 for the right of way through that section of the city, which price the railway people think is exorbitant and altogether too high and out of all proportion. The railway company are of the opinion that the best of the gravel has been excavated, while the Board of Works on the other hand are of the opinion that the land and gravel pit is as good as ever.

Strength comes from well digested and thoroughly assimilated food. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the digestive organs, and thus builds up the strength. If you are getting "run down," begin taking Hood's at once. It gives nerve, mental and digestive strength.

READY-TO-WEAR WEEK

We are sole agents for the Baldwin 4-in-1 House Dresses.

For the Next Week we are going to make it interesting for you in our large Ready-to-wear Dept. Our entire stock of Suits and Coats is being reduced for this week's special selling.

Baldwin 4-in-1 House Dresses

The Baldwin House Dress is a garment women have long been looking for—a one-piece dress, neat and tidy in appearance, which can be slipped on or off in an instant, and which, when soiled, may be easily laundered. SNAP, AND IT'S ON.

The Baldwin House Dress is not a wrapper, but it is so trim and perfect fitting that it may be worn at any time and in any room of the house. It is not an apron, but it has all the protection of two aprons. The two fronts are reversible, thus giving double service. The Baldwin is more than a mere working dress—IT IS THE PERFECT HOUSE GARMENT. From the budding young housekeeper to the grandmother of the family—from the servant in the kitchen to the mistress of the house—every woman needs one. IT IS PUT ON JUST LIKE A COAT, and fastens even more quickly or easily. There is not a button, hook or eye anywhere on it, just two conveniently placed self-clasping catches at the back. SNAP, AND IT'S ON.

Prices are 2.00 and 2.15. Come and try one and see how easy it is!

Exciting Runaway

The horse attached to Fred Harp's grocery delivery wagon became frightened at the ringing of the bell on the ambulance as it came tearing along Dalhousie drawn by a span of lively horses, and ran away. The animals ran up Dalhousie street, turned the corner of King street and was racing for Colborne street when the rig collided with a tie post in front of the paint shop of R. C. Ballantyne & Sons. The tie post was bent but the horse and rig escaped luckily without damage of any account being done.

Salvation Army

The special theme last night at the S. A. citadel was "Memories of Mother." The far reaching effects of an ungodly woman's life was shown in the life of Jezebel and the influence of a good woman's life in Deborah, the prophetess, Mary, Mrs. Booth, Florence, Nightingale, and others. A male quartette was rendered by four bandmen at the market square. Ensign Hammond of San Francisco, who has charge of a children's home there, where 250 little ones are cared for, spoke of her branch of work. Brigadier Addy of Hamilton was announced for Tuesday night next. A young peoples' drill class are practicing for a program to be given in the near future.

The Spit Ball

By HOWARD L. RANN

THE spit ball is a popular form of murder in a straight degree which descends in the lineage from the Roman catapult and the Grecian meat axe. It is thrown with one hand and the tongue, and it is hard to tell which is the more effective.

The spit ball is comparatively recent invention, but is now used in all parts of the country whenever it becomes necessary to whip a nifty pinch hitter who is standing in the breach in a pigeon-toed calm. No one ever heard of the spit ball until a few years ago when one day Jack Chesbro walked into the pitcher's box wearing a determined look and eight ounces of spruce gum and wrapped his tongue around a new league ball, after which he revolved rapidly on one heel, closed both eyes and threw in the general direction of the batter. Ever since that day, any pitcher who can show a great storage capacity for spruce gum and a graduating diploma as a contestant is sure of a steady job at good wages.

The spit ball is a special favorite with umpires, as it is liable to induce the pleasantries known as the foul tip, which has a tendency to miss the catcher entirely and land on the jugular vein of the umpire before slowing up. It is also popular with the catcher who never knows whether it is going to locate in the mitt or tear off his right ankle. When the shortstop has a hit made to him off a spit ball, he finds it about as easy to throw the ball to first as it would be to hold a greased pig through a key hole.

The greatest living exponent of the spit ball is Edward Walsh of the Chicago White Sox, who has succeeded in taming it to such an extent that he can get within four feet of whatever point he throws at three times out of five. Edward has a remarkable salivary powers combined with a ruby neck and great endurance, and he can throw the spit ball all day without becoming noticeably parched. He has many imitators, but as nearly all of them have to change gum between innings he still sits high on the salivated throne.

DROVE NAILS IN AUTO TIRE

Took Vigorous Means of Proving That New Tire Could Not be Punctured.

A man hammering nails into the tires of an automobile which has been left standing outside of the Lumsden building aroused the attention of a large number of pedestrians and passing automobilists yesterday afternoon, and probably most of them are still wondering at the reason for his strange behavior, for he was apparently wantonly destroying a valuable set of tires.

As a matter of fact the gentleman in question was demonstrating to a party of newspaper representatives the final test of a new puncture proof tire that is going to revolutionize the automobile business all over Canada and the United States. As the result of several rigorous tests and experiments held on the streets of Toronto last week, the inventors have proven to the satisfaction of all who were present that they have discovered the secret of an absolutely puncture-proof automobile tire.

The final test yesterday was a hard one. A three-inch wire nail was hammered into the tire which had been previously put on a touring car, and inflated to a pressure which registered 70 by test, one of the newspapermen taking the pressure test himself. The nail was then withdrawn, leaving what would have been a disastrous puncture in an ordinary tire. In this case, however, there was apparently no loss of air. Then another nail was driven into the tire in another spot. This nail was not withdrawn, but the reporters were taken for a ride through Rosedale and finally out on Yonge street and north to Bedford Park, then back to the Lumsden Building on the corner of Adelaide and Yonge street.

A most remarkable feature of the ride was a test made of the tire while the party were on north Yonge St. when it was discovered that the pressure had risen from 70 to 75. This was accounted for by the fact that the heating up of the tires through fast travel had increased the expansion of the air in the tubes which were not leaking in the slightest degree in spite of the fact that there was a nail hole in one part of the tire and a nail embedded in another part. On reaching the Lumsden Building the air pressure still registered 75, though this gradually cooled down to 70, the original pressure, showing no loss of air through the trip.

Secret is the Inner Tube. This is the first time on record that a pneumatic tire has ever come through the test without the aid of a tire-filler or some such preparation first being put into the tubes to stop the leaks. The secret lies in the inner tube, which will fit into any standard tire of any make, and the most remarkable feature of the whole thing is its simplicity. The tube is moulded on a circular aluminum pole, and this alone does away with the stretching of the outer "tread" side of the tire, which is the case with the ordinary tire, which is moulded on a straight pole and then bent round to meet the shape of the wheel rim, causing a strain from the start on the stretched surface. The tread side of the puncture proof inner tube is moulded to a thickness of about half an inch, which gradually reduces with the roundness of the tube, the inner rim side of which is of ordinary thickness. Thus, all nails, glass or other sharp objects which are the bane of both city and country roads, will pierce the thick side of the inner tube, which automatically closes on the sharp point, rendering the escape of air impossible. If the nail or other sharp object breaks off or is pulled wholly out, as in the case of the test, the hole closes up tight immediately preventing any loss of pressure from within and rendering a flat tire impossible.

Big Men Interested. "No matter where you get a puncture, our tire will bring you home," said Mr. R. L. Henderson, who is the inventor of the new tire. Mr. Henderson pointed out that his tire weighed only 6 1/2 pounds, whereas tire-fillers have been known to greatly increase the weight of the tire, causing a strain on the engine that is hard to overcome on a rough road.

The new tire will be known as the Simplex Puncture Proof Tire, and the company behind it is the Simplex Puncture Proof Tire Company, Limited. The president is Hon. F. H. Phippen, K.C.; the vice-president is Mr. D. B. Hanna of the Canadian Northern Railway and Mr. R. J. Henderson is the other director. The tire will be put on the market immediately as the result of these successful tests.

SLAYER OF GREEK KING KILLS HIMSELF

Aleko Schinas, who assassinated King George of Greece on March 23 at Salonica, committed suicide recently by flinging himself out of a window of the police station in that city. Schinas, who was a native of the town of Volo, Thessaly, killed the King by firing point blank into his back while he was walking along the streets of Salonica, accompanied by an aide de camp. He gave as an explanation of the crime that in 1911 he had applied for assistance at the King's palace and had been driven away by an aide de camp. A few days ago physicians examined Schinas and afterward announced that he was suffering from tuberculosis.

Inspiring Services for Mothers' Day

Splendid Discourses Were Delivered in Local Churches of a Very Uplifting Character.

The services in Sydenham Street Methodist church were inspiring yesterday. In the morning the pastor's address was to "Mothers" and it is needless to say was very appropriate for the occasion. His text was Isaiah 46:1 "As one whom his mother comforteth so will I comfort you."

In the evening the subject was the "Home" a series of sermons on "Home" topics. This one was "Harmony or discord—which will you have in your homes?"

The church was filled as it is every Sunday evening and the Rev. Mr. Snyder certainly did full justice to the subject. The text was Amos 3:3 "Can two walk together except they be agreed?"

The thousand seven hundred years ago the prophet Amos, as of this question. A great many questions had been asked since—some hard some easy—but he could answer this question and said emphatically no.

When the Indian gives the war-whoop it is taken up by the others in camp very soon they put on the war paint and discord follows. It is true in family affairs that when once discord is started by one in a family very soon the whole family circle is involved.

One unkind remark in the home calls for another, and so onwards. A nation within a nation can be spelled by one word—the letters—"home."

A man right in the home is right outside of the home and everywhere. If home is right in the city, the county, the province and the Dominion will be right. Cattle go to the market, fish to the wharves but families move in circles; a continuous circle—you don't know where it stops or where it starts.

God, out the human family in circles. God gave Wesley to the Methodist church, Knox to the Presbyterian church and General Booth to the Salvation Army—these are the circles which approached this subject with fear and trembling. The home circle is God's place. The more divinity there is in the home, the more we get out of it.

Jesus ministered to Martha and Mary. Without Martha Jesus would have had no supper, without Mary he would have had no audience. Weddings and funerals are solemn times in our lives, and we should call on God at such times for it is a time of great moment.

Man is to find the home woman is to take care of it. Home should be a place, without any man, a menagerie. When there are difficulties in the home do not act like cats and dogs. Difficulties must spring up in the home but it was only the grace of God that could soothe the troubled waters.

The first need in the home was Christ, without him home will be a failure. We do not thank God for what he is doing for us in our homes. The brave young man Eddie Spencer saved seventeen people from drowning but not one of them thanked him for doing so. Did we not treat God in the same way in times? What would our lives and homes be without God. Begin with God and end with heaven. Do not say mean things in your home—it echoes back every time.

A man has to spark of manhood in him who will humiliate his wife in the presence of friends. Be a gentleman in the home. Home is a woman's throne. Ladies were called upon to make home attractive as well as themselves in it; make home a paradise for her husband and "not to put on war paint."

Women were requested to remember who and what their husbands are. He was a man not an angel—a human being like herself. Husbands were told to let their wives know about their business and to take their wives into their confidence. Plan for happiness but above all plan for heaven.

The musical part of the services of the day were exceptionally good, under the able leadership of Mr. A. K. Knott.

Mr. Millard of Carp, Ont., addressed the brotherhood. A special session of the Sunday school was held in celebration of Mother's Day. Mr. (Sheriff) Ross gave an address. Mrs. Pryce sang solo the W. M. S. quartette rendered a selection and several children sang.

AT ALEXANDRIA. George Cronan officiated as pastor at Alexandria Presbyterian church yesterday with much acceptance. A solo was pleasingly sung by Edward Barton. In the two beautiful anthems by the choir, the two parts were acceptably sung by Josephine Waldron.

At Wellington Street. The services at Wellington street Methodist church yesterday were well attended. In the morning Rev. R. Hamilton, the pastor, preached an appropriate Mother's Day sermon, taking for his text "Honor Thy Mother."

The members of the congregation were carterations. The special feature of the session of the Sunday school was a choir of grandmothers. There was an attendance of 125.

scholars of the school composed the choir. Miss Phyllis Sayles rendered very pleasingly "Do the roses bloom in Heaven?" The pastor preached an object sermon.

At the Sunday school service there was an attendance of 672, which is a decided increase over last year. Rev. A. E. Lavell gave an illustrated talk on the text "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled."

At the evening service the pastor preached an appropriate Mother's Day sermon from the text, "Her children shall rise up and call her blessed." Proverbs 31:28.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Holling said: "We are met to-night to pay our tribute to our best earthly friend—mother—not forgetful that this is a service for the worship of Almighty God. It is not difficult to see the material connection between worship of God and a tribute to motherhood. For amongst the countless gifts of God for which we must thank Him is this gift of good mothers to the world."

"The emblem, a white carnation," said the speaker, "is very appropriate. Its whiteness stands for purity, its form for beauty, its fragrance love, its wide field of growth, charity, its lasting qualities faithfulness—all attributes of a true mother. But our appreciation of mother can never be fully expressed by a day or a flower; it requires a lifetime of devotion and kindness."

The speaker during his remarks dwelt upon the three reasons why mothers are called blessed, because of her labors, her love and her loyalty.

During his remarks, Rev. Holling said, speaking of a mother's labor: "She does not watch the clock for quitting time; she forgets sleep, because of her obligation to the passing time if she can soothe the feverish brow of a sick child or care for her offspring in any way."

While speaking of the love of a mother, the speaker gave this quotation from Dawson: "No language can express the power and beauty, and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man covers and grows stronger when man faints and over wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of its queenly fidelity like a star in the heaven."

In speaking of a mother's loyalty the speaker said: "A father may turn his back on his child, brothers and sisters may abandon the weak ones, husbands may distrust their wives and wives their husbands, but a mother's love endures through all, in good repute, in bad repute, in the face of the world's condemnation a mother still lives on and still hopes that the child may turn from his evil ways and repent."

During his closing remarks, Rev. Holling urged those who had not written to mother to do so.

Music. At the evening service the choir rendered "Say Watchman What of the Night," by Grant, solo parts taken by Miss Butler and Mr. Albert Martin.

Mr. J. B. Hillis sang "Remember Thy Creator" in good voice. After the sermon Mr. Martin sang "My Mother's Prayer" very effectively. During the taking of the offertory the organist, Mr. White, played an arrangement of "Home, Sweet Home." At its conclusion at the request of Mr. Holling, the congregation sang the refrain several times.

To-night's parade of the Dufferin Rifles will be the last before the annual inspection which takes place next Monday night. General Le Zard and Capt. Sutherland Brown, R.C.R., will be here to inspect the Dufferin company drill by captains and lieutenants, telling of the company for out-past duty, and a few questions regarding protection on the march and the attack and defence.

LT-Col. Howard and staff will give the regiment a preliminary inspection which they are expected to have all leather and brass in perfect condition.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local medicine, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They look for his text "The Young People's Opportunity for Christ and the Church."

At Colborne Street Yesterday was the anniversary of the Colborne street Sunday school. At the morning service the teachers and their scholars occupied the centre seats. Sixty of the younger

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR COUGH

You may dislike taking medicine—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Catarrhoxone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor, full of pine-essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore; from coughing. Every spot that's congested is healed, irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhoxone. In 25 ct. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Miss Eileen Kearney Has Quiet Wedding

Former Brantford Girl Who Has Won Great Success in Theatrical World.

A great many Brantford friends will learn with great interest of the marriage which recently took place of Miss Eileen Kearney, a former Brantford girl, who won an enviable place on the American stage. Miss Kearney and Mr. Charles B. Dillingham, proprietor of the Globe and one of the best known and most popular of New York theatrical managers, were recently united, and they succeeded in escaping a fusillade of congratulatory hand-shaking by leaving for the Kronprinz Wilhelm for a honeymoon to Europe.

Unless notified by phone or mail to the contrary, the calling lists for the various days of the week will continue to be published in the columns of the woman's page of the Brantford Daily Courier until the end of May, when they will be dropped until October again comes around and the social season reopens.

Mr. George Watt is in Stratford to-day on business.

Mrs. O. V. Jarvis and daughter, Thelma, are leaving to-day for their home in Aitabasca Landing.

Mr. Strong and Mr. Wilson, of the I.O.F., left this morning on a business trip to Toronto.

Mr. Bertram Waterous and Donald Waterous of the L. E. & N., spent Sunday in Brantford.

The Misses Wye, Dufferin avenue, will receive on Tuesday, 13th of May, but not again this season.

Mrs. C. W. Aird has returned from an extended business trip throughout the west.

Mrs. Hugh Howie, 23 Chestnut Avenue, will not receive on Tuesday the 13th May nor again this season.

Mrs. Hugh Howie and small son leave to-day for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Forbes at Hespeler.

Mr. Harry Genet, son of Major and Mrs. Genet, Chatham street, left to-day for Toronto where he will try the R. M. C. examinations.

Mrs. R. R. Harris and Mrs. Marks of Pittsburg, are guests of honor at a little "tea" this afternoon given by a North Ward hostess.

County Treasurer A. Foster and Mrs. Foster are in Brantford, attending the funeral of Mr. Foster's brother.

Miss Margaret Armstrong of Montreal is the guest of Miss Marjorie Wilkes, Darling Street.

Mr. J. S. Crawford of Syracuse, N.Y., father of Mrs. (Rev) T. E. Holling, is the week-end visitor at the Colborne Street parsonage.

Mrs. Arthur Garrett of Brantford is staying with Mrs. Charles E. Lugsdin, Nanton Court Apartments, Nanton avenue.—(Toronto Globe).

The subjects for the story hours at the public library this week are: Tuesday, "The Fire Bringer," by Sara Bryant and on Thursday, "Horatius" by Alfred Church.

Mrs. Joseph Stratford left for Toronto this morning, the guest for the day of her daughter Mrs. R. G. Thompson and Mr. Thompson in the Queen City.

Mrs. Wm. Agnew and Miss Kathleen Agnew of Montreal, are spending to-day in Buffalo with relatives in that city, but return to Brantford again this evening.

Mrs. Harry Genet, Chatham Street left to-day for Toronto, where she will be the guest of Rev. John and Mrs. Bushell for a short visit.

Mrs. (Dr.) Logan, who has been spending a few weeks in the city, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Waterous and Mr. Waterous, leaves for Chicago again on Tuesday of this week.

Many friends are glad to welcome back to Brantford Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mellish of Denver, Colorado, who arrived in the city yesterday, and will be guests at the parental home, 24 Egerton street, for three or four weeks.

A number of our Brantfordites spent the week-end at Caledon Club, some leaving the city on Saturday, while others motored from Brantford early Sunday morning for this popular resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Verner and daughters, who have been in residence at Atlantic City for several months, take possession of their Lakewood summer home, about the middle of the month.

Mrs. Frank Cockshutt entertained most delightfully though informally on Saturday afternoon, at the tea hour, in honor of Mrs. William Agnew of Montreal—a popular guest in town at present.

Despite the cool weather the attendance at Saturday's ball game was very large—grandstand and bleachers being well filled, and quite a line-up also of motors and carriages. The game was just close enough to make it interesting, and so long as Brantford won out nobody minded Peterboro's score.

When the national council of the Daughters of Empire convene in Winnipeg May 12, 13 and 14 they will be the guests of the city at a reception to be held in the city park on the night of May 13. The matter was discussed by the board of control, and Ald. Wallace suggested that C. E. Cambridge, city electrician, be instructed to put up an electric sign outside the city hall reading "Welcome Daughters of Empire."

Word received in the city from Niagara Falls on Sunday afternoon by telephone, confirmed the rumor of the serious nature of Mr. A. H. Murray's condition. The case has been most critical, and although everything is being done to aid recovery, the outcome is as yet doubtful.

Victoria Hall was en fete on Saturday afternoon, when the Board of Management were the hostesses of a talent tea for the benefit of the Association. The dainty refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. James Cockshutt and Mrs. Applewell—and pretty and attractive booths were in charge of the affliating clubs. Centering the room, was the home-made cooking table, laden with tempting edibles—and prettily decorated with flowers—this was in charge of Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. D. J. Waterous, Mrs. Livingston and Mrs. John Agnew.

Miss Peggy Webling who lived in Brantford for a short while has scored another big success in the Old Land with her latest novel, "The Pearl Stringer." The London Illustrated News during a review of the book says:

"Miss Peggy Webling's cheerfulness is worth the attention of her fellow novelists. * * * The work is a sympathetic but sagely balanced study of human endurance. Nancy Mordaunt in 'The Pearl Stringer,' carries her burden and her figure line—well—and vivid in the mind. Prof. Mordaunt, the poor magician, is a very clever piece of work. Miss Webling walks familiarly in the show world where conjurers and acrobats, and 'artists' of all sorts serve an exacting public. 'The Pearl Stringer' apart altogether from its romance, is noteworthy for the originality of the subsidiary characters."

Sherman Townsend, a member of the Chartered Accountants' Association, and an auditor for Brantford firms, has been appointed auditor of the Sterling Bank. Mr. Townsend for some time resided in Brantford Township.

The candy booth, in charge of the I. W. T. Club—The Harris Club who had a booth filled with most attractive Raffia baskets for sale—while the Daisy Club exhibited in their booth, fancy work of various kinds and also ran a post office department. Altogether the affair was most successful and largely attended—the financial results also being most gratifying.

Very cosy looked the tea room at the Brantford Golf and Country Club on Saturday afternoon, when the ladies of the Match committee were the hostesses of the weekly tea—the refreshment table centered with white lilies and apple blossoms, was presided over by Mrs. Herbert R. Yates and Mrs. David Gibson, who as the afternoon wore on, were relieved by various members of the committee, many afterwards settling down to informal little games of "Bridge." The cheery crackling of the logs in the big fire-place, radiating warmth and brightness. The next "tea" will be on Saturday June 17th, the hostesses for that date, Mesdames J. Agnew, C. W. Aird, N. Ashton, B. C. Bell, Misses Ashbury, Brooke and B. Brooke.

The 70th birthday of Mrs. M. D. Thompson of 48 Superior street was celebrated in a most pleasing and unique manner by her family and friends. A shower of cards was received from near and far, some coming from Tennessee, British Columbia and Winnipeg, also seventy roses from her daughters and a brand new dollar bill for each of her seventy years from her son, Mr. H. H. Thompson of North Bay. The birthday occurred on Sunday, May 11th, which happened to be Mother's Day when two of Mrs. Thompson's grandchildren, John Wesley Passmore and Wellwood Moyer were baptized in Wesley Methodist Church. Mrs. Thompson, who had long been unable to attend church, was well enough to be present on that occasion.

SPORTING COMMENT

By FREE LANCE

Brantford fans won't see the Red Sox until Monday, May 19, when London opens a three game series. The Red Sox will be home until May 24; afternoon, when they will fill an annual engagement in the Hamilton ball yard.

Brooklyn in the National, and Cleveland in the American, are big league surprises this year. Both teams are playing fine ball. Last year's champions, the Giants and Boston, are in the ruck.

We don't like sending out C.O.D.'s in this column, or hollering before we are hurt, but the absence of Linneborn from the Red Sox line-up this week will doubtless weaken the team unless it can get all the breaks of the luck on the road. Linneborn proved a star lead-off man, and he regretted the necessity of returning to London. It was Linneborn's hit which started the rally which won the game on Saturday, and he proved an adept in getting on base.

Kane will be out of the game for more than a week yet, and Burrill, who reports Wednesday, will be somewhat of an uncertain quantity in view of his recent illness. There would be no occasion for worry if Amby and Huster were back there, because, in spite of the fine showing by the substitutes, this pair is about the best in the Canadian League when it comes to outfield work. It may fall to the lot of Chubby Coose to play left field pending a return to work by Burrill or Kane.

The Red Sox have not gotten off to such a bad start, winning three out of four. In the first game they outplayed Ottawa, and in the second did the same for several innings. Peterboro will win games yet if the Petes can only shake the jinx which seems to trail along. Brantford will improve a lot with warmer weather. Any way you look at it, the Canadian League race should be a grand one.

Kane apparently has players with whom he can pull off a lot of baseball stuff for which good men are required. The winning of Saturday's game was due to a little bit of this work. With Tracey in there pitching great guns, a bunt by Wagner which caught the third baseman flat-footed looked good. When Wagner came up again the third baseman looked for another bunt and crept in. Then Wag, whizzed one to him a mile a minute, and Wagner was safe enough. At that, Byrne nearly speared it, but Wagner was safe enough. This method of attack on Tracey came from the bench. It is good when there is a man like Wagner available who can carry it out. It looks foolish when an unreliable batter tries it and gets caught. That's baseball.

CANADIAN LEAGUE

Saints Beaten.
LONDON, May 12—The Tecumseh made their initial win of the season on Saturday afternoon by beating St. Thomas, their previous conquerors, 11 to 9 in a mediocre conflict. The Saints were again in very fair trim, but Leroy went off color in the fifth, and had to be yanked from the mound. He was supplanted by Bush, who allowed four bing in the remainder of the struggle. Higgins continued the hearing for the locals, but was derrick in favor of Fitzpatrick in the fourth. The latter was in exceptionally fine shape and was hit only twice during five innings. Score: St. Thomas, 9; Tecumseh, 11.

Ottawa Again.
OTTAWA, May 12—Ottawa champions made it two straight victories from Keenan's Krew here on Saturday by winning a see-saw game by the score of 14 to 10. Pitchers of both teams were wild, and no less than 23 passes were issued by the four slab artists during the game. Bramble stayed with the game during the nine periods, and in addition to 7 passes he allowed 14 hits, which enabled the Senators to complete the circuit as many times. Manager Shaughnessy used three pitchers, Mullin, Lill and Rogers, each of whom were wild, but succeeded in keeping the Dutchmen down to six hits. With the score 11 to 6 against them the local team came from behind and scored four runs, coming within a run of tying the score. It looked as if Berlin would tie the score in the final period, but the Senators added three more in their half of the final spasm. Despite the cold weather there was a very large crowd of enthusiastic fans in attendance. Score: Ottawa, 14; Senators, 10.

Hamilton Won.
HAMILTON, May 12—Hamilton defeated Guelph here Saturday in one of the best exhibitions of baseball that has been dished up here this season by a score of 7 to 6. Regular

"BEAR" BRUNDAGE IS A WONDER A NATURAL BORN BLUDGEON ARTIST

The New Recruit Shows That He is a Diamond in the Rough for Brantford

There are manifold reasons why we should present in the great vehicle of veracity to-day the picture of one "Bear" Brundage, the Red Sox fence buster from Chatham. After four days of worthy trial we are pleased to announce that no diamond in the rough ever stepped into Canadian League fame and fortune who sparkled so genuinely and as strongly as Bear Brundage. It would be useless to recount mighty swats from his bludgeon which have been gathered all in a four day stay. We don't expect for a minute that the big boy can keep up that work, but his hitting thus far warrants the belief that he will be the sensation of the Canadian League this year.

Brundage is a natural clouter. He hits the ball to all fields and it won't be long before the outfielders when they see him come in will get away back to the extreme outposts. Another feature which impresses us greatly is that it will take some time for the pitchers to dope out his weakness, because Brundage apparently hasn't got one. He hits a ball at any angle and in any direction. He doesn't chase curve balls and he likes speed. Moreover he is no fool on the bases.

He Made Three Hits on Saturday Again.

Kane Thinks He Will be the Sensation of Canadian League This Season

Fans on Saturday who saw his work opined that President Nelson would pull down a barrel of money for the lad. He is only 22 years old; modest, unassuming and strictly temperate, Brundage, it may be, gets his quickness and accuracy of eye from pool playing. He astounded the natives in a local-room on Saturday by running 45 balls in a row.

In the outfield he seems to be getting better, although fans may expect that he will make errors. At that he plays the outer garden as well as any one who has been there.

After all there is somewhat of a method behind the madness of Brundage. Quite early in the season Kane made up his mind that it would be folly to ask Brundage to do anything at the plate except pick the one he wanted. Amby believes that when he gets in the outfield with him, Brundage will develop into a great ground coverer.

The picture of Brundage herewith presented shows him with a bouquet of carnations presented to him by the fans on Friday. He immediately returned the compliment by banging out a homer with two men on.

Red Sox Liners Right Off the Bat

When we saw Tracey we thought it was all off. Gabby Ivers saved Brundage the trouble of cleaning the bases.

Peterboro played better ball than Brantford in the field.

Three out of four is not a bad start.

Brantford opens at Peterboro today.

Lamond again caught a beautiful game.

Chapdelaine was sold to Peterboro by Brantford Saturday and Catcher McCarthy and infielder Shea were released.

Shortstop Tesch hasn't got used to Brantford grounds yet. He fights the ball considerably in his territory.

It was with regret that Brantford had to let Linneborn go back to London Saturday night. He was only a borrowed player and certainly made a good lead off man for the Red Sox.

When Tracey went in Kane switched the dope. He ordered Wagner to bunt. Later when Wagner came up the Peterboro third baseman played for another bunt and Wagner nearly knocked him over. Ball playing like that wins.

Over 1,200 fans shivered and cheered.

Ray Collins, before he was bad on the fourth had asked Kane to pull him out. He couldn't get his curve ball to break and had to groove the ball over the plate. The sympathy of the fans who yelled at Kane for taking Collins out was wasted.

Collins has yet to lose a game. Coose was a life saver Saturday and he gets credit for the victory.

There was some argument as to whether Brundage should have had a hit on his first one to right field.

Any time a fielder has to make something better than ordinary catch, the batter should get the benefit of the doubt. White could only get one hand near Brundage's wallop.

Del Orcutt seems to have been left pounds too heavy by his typhoid fever illness. He will come however.

Brant's beautiful three-line base wallop in fourth almost spilled Brantford beans. Last summer the Red Sox could have secured this little fellow for a mickle, when London cut him loose.

The Red Sox with three others are at the head of the league.

Let's see what the Sox will do on the road this week.

London won a game at last. (Continued on Page 10)

LOCAL FOOTBALL RESULTS

Interesting Games Were Played in Brantford League on Saturday

All Scots 3, Tutela 1
The All Scots and Tutela played a league game at Mohawk Park. This was a good game, one of the best seen for some time. Both teams played nice clean football and were evenly matched. The refereeing of the game was in the hands of Mr. Elliott, who lined up the teams as follows:

Scots—Muir; Forgie; Taylor; Davis; McGregor; Little; Ormiston; Connochan; Stewart; Maich; Martin; Tutela — Nuttycombe; Wright; Bowden; Wright; McLeod; Vinity; Parker; McLeod; Johnston; Usher; Usher.

The game ended, Scots 3, Tutela 1. The goal scorers were: Scots, Stewart, 1; Ormiston 1; Martin 1; Tutela; Usher 1; Bowden 1.

Brent Dragons 1, Oakville F.B.C. 0
The match on Saturday between Oak Park and the Dragons resulted in a win for the latter of 1-0. The star players of the Oak Park team were Lieut. Sanderson and F. Matta, who as left back and left half back did much to prevent a bigger score. For the Dragons Bonner as centre forward kicked the only goal scored and proved himself a valuable addition to the team. Atkinson right back and Tommy Harbour left back, played in their usual brilliant form and are among the brightest stars of this season's players.

The management of the Dragon's team are satisfied that with the players they have the soldiers will secure a good position in the league this season.

Cockshuts 3, S. O. E. 1
The S.O.E. and Cockshut's met in the first game of the John Hill Charity cup on Saturday and it ended in a win for the plow makers by 3 to 1. Biggs won the toss and selected to play towards the road-goal. Cockshut's at once pressed and looked like scoring in the first minute but Holmes was safe and sure in goal. The Sons now got going and were having the better of the game and should have scored on several occasions. Mid-field play followed and both teams were trying hard to score but at half time they crossed over with the score 0-0.

The second half was more exciting both teams playing hard to get a lead and after 15 minutes play Plant scored for the plow makers with a lovely cross shot, which gave S.O. E. goalkeeper no chance. This put more life into the Sons and they

Increasing The Wear Of Your Shoe Sole

Did you ever hear of a VITALIZED Shoe Sole? Probably not. It is a NEW IDEA in shoe building—to be found only in the Slater Shoe. Sole leather, as it comes to the Slater factory, is first cut up into shoe sizes, and then put through A SPECIAL SLATER PROCESS, which greatly increases its wearing qualities.

We call this process Vitalizing the sole—putting into it extra life and vitality, making the fibre of the leather extra plump, tough and resilient, giving them added life, springness and strength. And this extra process doesn't cost the buyer of Slater Shoes a single penny extra. You get this extra wear in the sole of Slater Shoes FREE OF CHARGE.

The Vitalized Sole is one of the features that makes the new Slater Shoe line the greatest shoe values ever shown. Extra style, extra wear, price plainly stamped on the sole at the factory for YOUR protection—these are the things that make the SLATER SHOE attractive to sensible buyers.

Ball Notes

Anything that travels a mile a minute now might be called a Brundage bingle.

There must be a lot of weak hearts in Brantford if any more of those ninth-inning rattles are staged.

Coose got into trouble in the ninth and it looked all off. With Peterboro one run in the lead, two on and no one out the visitors should have had more runs. But Chubby was there!

Buster Barrill will be here this week.

Umpire Daly who hails from Rochester, liked Brantford. He went to Hamilton to-day.

Tracey is one of the best pitchers in the Canadian League, but Brantford seems able to beat him.

Brantford, Berlin's star twirler lost out again to Ottawa.

were now playing harder than ever and by a nice run on the left, by Keightley and Johnson ended in Keightley hitting the cross bar. Miller got the ball and again shot, but Roach saved with a corner from which Johnson laid the kick and dropped the ball in the mouth of the goal, but Smith headed outside, missing the post by inches only. The ball was now taken to the other end and Richardson scored number two goal for the factory boys. The Sons pressed again and Miller put in a shot which was saved by Roach, but he was brought up for going more than three steps with the ball and a free kick was awarded the S. O. E. almost on the goal line, with which Keightley scored. The kick was ordered to be taken again and he again put the ball in the net.

Toward the finish Cocksbutt had most of the play and the game was getting rough. Trainer Clay being called on the field several times. Cocksbutt's scored again about ten minutes from time, through R. Richardson. After this a penalty fell to Cocksbutt's for hands. Again Harris Plant took the kick but Holmes saved, but Keightley run over the line and the kick had to be taken again, but this time the ball went wide. Both teams played hard toward the finish but time soon came with Cocksbutt's the winners by the above score. About 300 saw the game and nearly twenty dollars was collected for the hospital, by President Speechley.

The following was the line-up:
S. O. E. - Holmes, Harris and Smith; Mitchel, Clark and Biggs (Capt.) O'Daud, Miller, Walter

Smith, Keightley and Johnson. Cocksbutt's - Roach, Lockley and Stubbs (Capt) March, Robinson and Ganish, Plant, B. Richardson, G. Richardson, Small and Jeffries. Every player played a good game. Plant and Stubbs being the stars for the winners.

Johnson and Keightley were the pick of the S. O. E. forwards, the backs were good and the half back, Mitchell, Clark and Biggs were as good as ever.

Holmes was good between the sticks and could not be blamed for any of the goals.

Smith and Miller, the Sons new men look good.

Notes

Up Duffs and at them was the war cry on Saturday and gamely they responded to a man.

The man with the bag (not the flag) had the blues alright, but it was by name.

The soldiers, can do Holland alright.

The little Scotch was put down by him alright after three tries.

The soldiers elevation was a little high at times, which showed they were shooting too strong. It looked more like independent firing for a time.

The "Y's" for twenty minutes could not find their feet.

Thanks to Tigwell he kept the target alright but was forced to give Bingham a bull, a good one at that. Humphries' shot was also too good for him.

The football executive council beg to announce that the collection at the S. O. E. vs. Cocksbutt cup tie game amounted to $16.50. The amount was a record for a football game in this city. The president and vice-president who went round with the hat, beg to thank those present at the game for their generous support for so worthy an object as the Tuberculosis Hospital Fund. They beg to thank Mr. Goatley who so ably conducted the game, and also for adding his fee to the collection.

Also the linesman whose services were freely given and who ably supported the referee. The thanks of the executive council are extended to Mr. Maskell of Terrace Hill and Mr. Clurg of the S. O. E. for checking of collections; also for the use of the dressing room for the players, so that every cent goes to the fund without one cent of expense.

What a few minutes the Y's gave the soldiers after they got that goal. The Cook (Davie) cooked Fisher's goose alright.

Trainer Blues is getting more popular every game, treating friends and foes alike. That is what should be. Good luck to him.

S. O. E. will be played on Saturday, 17th inst. when another great game is expected.

The rear guard of the soldiers (supposed to be weak) would not yield. They knew what was expected from them and did it.

The old war horse at centre half was in his element and nearly had one on his own.

What about the man who walked eleven miles and then played a great game. That's going some.

The position of the Y. M. C. A. and Duffs is very interesting, six points each.

The Duffs marksmen scored two bulls last Saturday.

Blues again proved himself useful. He treats all alike, friends or foe. Humphries has scored in each game he has played for the Duffs.

Was Mercer happy last Saturday? Rather.

Richardson, the Duffs centre forward, gave a fine exhibition at left back.

Manager Crouch is undoubtedly satisfied with his boys now.

There was no pick among the Duffs players last Saturday. All played good clean football.

Fourteen goals in four games is going some.

Cocksbutts are in the second round and are out for more scalps. But they had to go all the way.

The Richardson brothers were stars for the winners.

Not forgetting the sturdy right back of S. O. E. who played a whirling game to the finish.

Biggs was always in the limelight. Plant and Maich did good work. Charlie Stubbs still keeps up his splendid form.

The S. O. E. should have made a draw. Oh, those open goals.

The crowd was splendid.

Speechley and Bowle had a smile

Canadian League

football weather was very much in evidence, but it did not seem to hinder the attendance, there being over 2000 present.

Garlow, the Indian, was on the mound for the Hams, but he was unable to do anything with his benders in the first innings, and Guelph put three runs across the plate before the smoke had died away. Hamilton came back in their half and by timely hitting succeeded in getting four runs over.

Murphy, the first man up, singled, and went to second on a passed ball. Corns and Killilea were easy outs but Barton singled and Murphy scored; Fisher then hit for two bases, and Tyson scored them both with a homer when Hamilton got a run. In the 9th the Leafs got a run putting them on an even standing, but in the ninth after Killilea had singled, Barton hit for two bases, scoring Killilea with the winning run.

In the seventh Black, the umpire, gave what looked like a bad decision and Cook refused to stand for it, putting up such an argument that it was found necessary to have him put out of the grounds. Score.

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Penniless?" Marjorie echoed the word with wondering eyes again.
"Why, Norah, you said just now that you were to be rich!"

"Yes—were!" assented Norah quietly. "But could I or my husband, Marjorie, even if our marriage were made known to him, calculated upon my adopted father's treating me as though I had never cruelly deceived him?"

"But he will—I am sure he will," cried Marjorie confidently. Inwardly she thought this idea extremely high-flown. Of course Mr. Chadburn in forgiving Norah would forgive her entirely; he was too fond of her not to do that.

"I think I understand, Norah.
You would not let anyone know because of Lotus's creditors? I don't see what he wants with so many creditors myself—and were waiting until he could settle things and get something to do—that post he was telling me about? That's it, isn't it?"

She stopped, looking up into the beautiful grave face. "But, oh, my dear, it must have been very hard for you! I wonder you could bear it."

"I was his wife," said Norah quietly. "I could bear anything, knowing that."
A silence ensued—of surprise on Marjorie's part; she was beginning to believe it remotely possible that Norah might really love Lotus as much as she herself loved Gerard.
Amazing, but apparently possible.
She left it to be thought over at some future time, and spoke again.

"I've plagued you enough with my bothering curiosity, Norah, but there is one thing more I want you to tell me, please. That time—when I ran away—like a little fool as I was—she laughed and blushed—"I saw directly that, although Gerard did not know Lotus—had never seen him before, I mean—that Lotus knew Gerard. How was that?"

"Easily explained, dear. When I was down in that country place Gerard came twice to see me. Lotus saw him then."
"Oh! And Gerard didn't see Lotus?" I see. And—when he followed me Lotus did not see him, please. That time—when I ran away—like a little fool as I was—
she laughed and blushed—"I saw

A Clear Brain and healthy body are essential for success. Business men, teachers, students, housewives, and other workers, say Hood's Sarsaparilla gives them appetite and strength, and makes their work seem easy. It overcomes that tired feeling.

A dramatic story of the arrest of a stockbroker at Brighton was told at Guildhall, London, a few days ago, when Howard Inchbald, 46, living at East Howard Street, was charged in conjunction with his brother, Charles Elderton, (who had been remanded on the previous day), with the fraudulent conversion of securities amounting to twenty thousand pounds. A detective-constable named Burgess, on a recent afternoon, accompanied by officers of the Brighton police kept an eye on a house at Brighton. Early in the afternoon, they saw Howard Inchbald around, and having glanced cautiously around him, enter an inn. Burgess and a detective-sergeant named Taylor followed. As soon as Howard saw them, he clapped his hands to his pockets. He was at once seized, but struggled violently to get free. From the man's right hand coat pocket, Burgess took from him a pistol, four chambers filled with ball cartridges and from the left-hand pocket a second revolver loaded in five chambers with blank cartridges.
Inchbald, on the weapons being produced, said, "Don't be alarmed I was only going up to the dyke to practice.
There's something wrong with one of the cylinders."

A revolver accident which happened during a motor ride through the Wye Valley has placed the life of a Cardiff, Wales lady, Mrs. Clarice Nellie Lewis, in grave peril, and she is lying in Newport Hospital in a critical condition. Mrs. Lewis and her legal adviser J. H. Cross, of Cardiff, were motoring through the Wye Valley on a recent afternoon when the accident occurred. Cross did his utmost to stop the flow of blood, and driving on met a farmer named Howells, who directed him towards Tintern. To Howells, Mrs. Lewis stated that she had shot herself accidentally.
She repeated this to two clergymen who were met subsequently, and to a police constable named Kier, of the Monmouth Constabulary.
Kier sent Cross on to Dr. Barlett, where it was found that the bullet had entered Mrs. Lewis's side below the breast. Dr. Bartlett, recognizing the case was dangerous, treated Mrs. Lewis, and she was taken to Newport Hospital, where the bullet was extracted. Hopes are entertained of her recovery. During the motor drive, Mrs. Lewis took the revolver from the pocket of the car, and while Cross was telling her to replace it, knowing it was loaded, the revolver was accidentally discharged.
Cross explained that he carried a revolver in the pocket of his car because on one occasion he ran over a dog, and its agonizing cries so upset him that he determined to carry a revolver so that he could put any similar sufferer out of his misery.

ANY WEAKNESS IN YOUR BACK?
Sometimes you experience pain and weakness without much suffering. Later on the pain will surely come. The trouble can be stopped now by rubbing on Nerviline—rub it in deeply over the spine, and then put on a Nerviline Porous Plaster. In-these remedies you will find wonderful and quick relief. They will spare you from an attack of Lumbago, which is the outcome of neglected pain in the back or side. For all muscular pains, strains, and weakness, Polson's Nerviline and Nervil-

GREAT GRAND STAND FINISH IN NINTH INNING WON SATURDAY

Peterboro Humbled by 7-6---Ivers Cleaned the Bases in the Ninth With a Wallop to Left---Brundage Again a Hero at the Bat---Collins Withdrawn from the Contest for Coose.

Brantford took the last game from Peterboro on Saturday 7-6 in a whirlwind finish. The Sox pulled the game out of the fire in the last innings by a sensational batting rally that sent the fans screaming with delight. It was one of those most spectacular finishes and a fitting climax to a hard and stubbornly fought game. It was a very cold day but a red hot finish. The Red Sox covered themselves with glory and won their way into the hearts of the fans. The final charge came in the ninth and was irresistible by the Petes. With the score 6-5 against them Kane issued the signal of distress and hissed his order "up guards and at them" while the crowd in the grand stand were on pins and needles. Some of the rooters were satisfied in their own mind that the Brants would be equal to the occasion.

As the Red Sox came to the wire, Kane yelled "Go!" and they were off. Linneburn opened the rally with a clean single and the crowd were on their feet in an instant. Wagner singled and the fans were screaming like mad. Orcutt came along with a perfect bunt and advanced the runners and the bases were full and none out. The attendance was in a tumult of excitement. Men, women and kids had lost all self control. They whooped, they yelled, they screamed, they stamped their feet and the people in the autos around the fence started tooting their horns and the ball park had the appearance of Bedlam let loose. Tracey tried his best to pull himself together, and it was only a matter of two balls and the game was won and lost. As Ivers stepped to the plate he was given a greater reception by long odds than any political leader ever received in the Telephone city. The crowd yelled for a hit and they got it. Tracey wound up and sent a hot one towards the plate. "Ball" yelled. Umpire Daly. Tracey wound up again and let her go. "Biff" resounded through the air, and the ball bounced off Ivers' bat and sped high into left field. It looked as though the Peterboro fielder would catch the fly, and the runners held their bags, and the crowd in the stands did not lose heart for Brundage was next batter up. In his anxiety to catch the ball, Hannigan, the Peterboro fielder, misjudged it, and Linneburn came across the plate with the run that tied the score, while Wagner came tearing around the third bag like a race horse, and started for the plate at a ten second clip, and ere the ball could be returned he had crossed the plate with the winning run and the crowd went fairly into hysterics. It was a hurricane finish. The crowd forgot all about the chilly weather and in their excitement got warmed up. It was a joyous crowd that left the park on Saturday night. It was one of those grand finishes you read about but seldom see, and the Sox are to be congratulated on their magnificent victory. What in the dying stages of the game had every appearance of defeat was in a twinkling of time converted into a glorious victory.

Belding was selected to do the twirling for the visitors. He worked for five innings and gave a pretty good account of himself being relieved by Tracey. Belding had the Red Sox down 5-4 when he retired. There was a bitter cold wind blowing across the park and the 1,200 fans who turned out were chilled to the bone but were amply repaid for their suffering by the sensational finish in the ninth.

Kane sent Ray Collins into the box and for three innings he went along at a great clip but in the fourth he fell by the way side and had to be relieved by Coose, who by the way is the best relief pitcher in the league.

The Red Sox got down to business in their half and scored a run. Linneburn singled. Wagner and Orcutt were easy out. Brundage laced the ball to the right field fence and the runner scored.

The fourth saw Collins' down fall due to his wisdom and Peterboro scored five runs. McNeill was safe on Orcutt's error. White was an easy out at first. Beard received free transportation. Byrne singled and the bases were full. Collins gave Sargent and Totten their bases on balls, forcing in two runs. Cresswell fanned. Brant drove the ball to left field fence for three bases and scored three runs.

Kane called Collins to the bench and sent Coose to the firing line who struck out Hannigan and retired the side.

In the locals half Brundage opened up with a corking drive to the deep left for three bases but he fell while rounding second and was unable to make third. He scrambled back to second until he got his wind. He took a nasty fall, knocking the wind out of him, and it was thought at first he was hurt but fortunately he was not. Lamond sent him home with a single.

The Brants came to life again in the fifth when Linneburn singled. Wagner and Orcutt beat out short hits by great bursts of speed. Ivers singled and the pair came galloping home.

Manager Rowan replaced Cresswell with Tracey in the sixth and he held the Sox safe for one inning.

Sox Evened Up

The Sox evened up the score in their half of the seventh. Wagner beat out a bunt and took second on a passed ball, going to third on Orcutt's out Ivers sent the ball sailing for a single and Wagner came in, making the score 5 all.

The Petes became dangerous in the eighth, for after two men were out Tatton and Tracey singled and the pair were perched on second and third with the dangerous Brant up. Things looked rosy for a brace of runs for the visitors, but Brant, contrary to expectations hit a foul fly which Ivers gathered in. The Brants went out 1, 2, 3 in their half.

The Ninth

The visitors forged ahead in their half of the ninth and scored one run which to many looked good enough to win, as Tracey was pitching grand ball, but a great batting rally by the Sox upset the dope.

Hannigan opened with a single. McNeill was safe, as Orcutt fumbled his hit. White singled and Hannigan crossed the plate and the Petes were one to the good. The next three batters were retired in order.

The Finale

With the score 6-5 against, the crowd asked themselves, can the Sox win; can they even up? Is Tracey too much for them? Is it a victory for Peterboro? Are we down and out? Can they get to Tracey? All these questions were flashing through the minds of the rooters while the players were coming in and going out.

"Batter up," said Daly. As Linneburn advanced to the plate he was loudly applauded, and many were there who regretted that he had to go back to London. Lindy singled. Wagner singled, Orcutt bunted safe. Three on and no one out. Ivers picked up his favorite bat, let the first ball go by and then laced the second out to left field and it was all over. Linneburn came across the plate with the run that tied the score and Wagner followed immediately with the winning run and the Red Sox came off the field victorious 7-6.

Music and Drama

Annie Russell Coming

Miss Annie Russell has successfully come forward this season in the role and capacity of actress-directress. Her own company, of which she is a member, called Annie Russell's Old English Comedy Company has just completed a brilliant season of nine weeks in New York, where at the 30th Street Theatre, a repertoire of the classical English comedies has been played with artistic achievement and financial reward. A brief road tour has been arranged and the Brantford offering is to be "She Stoops to Conquer," Oliver Goldsmith's famous comedy.

Miss Russell was last seen with the New Theatre Company, of which she was the leading woman member. The realization of Miss Russell's long cherished ideal represents her own capital and experience gained through years of faithful service in our theatre—a service that has touched practically and ideally the theatre's best traditions. The undertaking of the present organization was greatly encouraged by a number of New York men and women variously distinguished in artistic, social and public life, who endorsed her plans and generously subscribed to the series of performances. The success of the New York engagement has made it possible for Miss Russell to make the organization permanent, enlarging the repertoire, which next season will include other classical plays, and perhaps some modern ones in harmony with the others now in the repertoire.

Miss Russell begins modestly but earnestly, in the matter of productions. She has aimed not for any stupendous effects but rather an artistic expression of the period, colorful, quaint and in good taste. Studios' consideration has been given to historical accuracy. The company was also selected with a knowledge of the requirements and demands of the old comedies. The

Senator Works

By WALT MASON

Senator Works, he ups and jerks a brand-new kind of caper, tales of crime, in prose or rhyme, he'd have in any paper. The daily sheet won't dare repeat a yarn of scrap or riot, but it may print a timely hint of moral things and quiet. It dare not spring a grisly thing, though greatly it may need it; that sheet might prove a helpful move—but who, O Works, would read it? Of Epworth rules and Sunday schools it might print all the tidings; of picnic jaunts in woodland haunts afar from railway sidings. And if some duck should run amuck and kill a gross of people, the sheet must tell about the bell bought for the village steeple. The sheet must skip the sporting tip, all news of Luth McCarty, and print a ream about the cream served up at Jimpson's party.

This scheme of Works sure beats the Turks—may guardian angels speed it! Oh, such a sheet would be too sweet, but who in Troy would read it? Senator Works should hire some clerks, engage a legislature, to toil for years, like blind led, reforming human nature. Then tales of crime, perhaps, in time, more will be demanded; and sheets that print in crimson tint crime stories will be stranded.

The Telephone Brings Companionship

WHEN her morning's work is done and lunch disposed of, the housewife turns to the social side of housekeeping—she calls up her friends and brightens the day by a personal chat. Books, piano, needlework—these are sometimes diverting, but a woman craves real companionship. She longs to hear a living, laughing, human voice—longs for someone to talk to about the little, intimate, personal things. She talks and listens to the voice that talks to her about the things she likes best. The telephone has banished her loneliness.
