POETRY.

The Little Grave.

"It's only a little grave," they said,

"Only just a child that's dead."

And so they gaily turned away.

From the mound the spade had made that day.

But they did not know how deep a shade

That little grave in our home had made.

That it was narrow and small,

One yard would have served for an ample grave.

And one man in his arms could have borne away.

The rosewood and its freight of clay.

But I know that darling hopes were hid

Beneath that little coffin-lid.

I know that a mother stood that day

With folded hands by that form of clay;

I know that burning tears were hid

Neath the drooping lash and aching lid;

And I know her lip, and cheek, and brow

Were almost as white as her baby's, now.

I know something were hidden away,

With the red rosewood and its freight of clay;

The cap with its plumes and tassels blue;

The cap with its plumes and tassels blue;

And an empty crib with its covers spread,

As white as the face of the silent dead.

"It's a little grave; but, oh! I have care!"

For world-wide hopes are buried there;

And he, perhaps, in coming year,

May see like her, through building tear,

How much of light, how much of joy?

It is buried up with an only boy!

SELECF STORY.

TWO TRAMPS.

A young fellow was swinging along up the dusty road whistling in a way that made the robins cock their heads to listen. He was a good-looking young fellow, with dark curly hair and a fine bronzed complexion. His clothes were coarse and stout, he wore a slouch hat turned down all round, and from that to show he was gray with dust.

He bore a stout stick in his hand and walked with a light, sprightly step, whistling gayly as he advanced.

He had just reached the brow of the hill

WOLFVILLE, N. S., AUG. 28, 1897.

Editorial Notes.

We understand that a number of our citizens intend leaving for the Klondike in the spring. The chief problem that is worrying them now is how they shall invest their money.

It is the opinion of leading orchardists of the county that the apple crop of the Valley as a whole will not be more than a quarter of last year's crop. The fruit is also of an inferior quality. There is a large crop of pears, and about half a crop of plums.

Mr. Beer before commencing his entertainment last Tuesday evening stated that in all his peregrinations throughout the United States and Canada the "scenery in and around 'Evangeline Valley'" was the loveliest he had ever beheld. That's what they will all say—if they tell the truth.

The Toronto Mail and Empire is having considerable fun at the expense of Premier Hardy of Ontario and Hon. J. Israel Tarte. In a clever cartoon published in a recent issue, it rather satirically styles them the "Heavenly Twins." The originators of the "cold justice" and "business is business" political principles are meeting with many a "cold crack" these days.

The international half-rater yacht race between the American boat Momo, and the Canadian yacht Glencairn II, was won by the Canadian boat. It was Momo Secundus, instead of Glencairn II. Mr. J. Ross Duggan, who sailed the winning boat this year, also had the pleasure of putting the Glencairn II over the line last year. The Canadian half-raters have set late way with them.

* Miss Mabel Biggart, the well known American writer and dramatist, is at present visiting this part of the Province, seeking for improved health in our invigorating climate, and gathering data for a book she is writing to be entitled "Ourselves and our Neighbors." She has also given readings in some of the towns and may favor Wolfville. Miss Biggart was formerly on the staff of the State College of Colorado, as teacher of rhetoric and oratory, and has the highest testimonial from prominent newspapers and public men. Her interpretation of the masterpieces: "Adam Bede," "Bar Hur," and "Les Misérables" etc., have won for her a name and fame all over the continent and we are sure our people will hail with delight an opportunity of listening to her in Wolfville.

Island, Avonport, on Tuesday of this week was a most successful affair. Although the attendance was not so large as it would have been had the weather been more promising in the morning, it was estimated that more than a thousand sons and daughters of temperance were present. Quite a number of Divisions were represented. The day was a delightful one and was most pleasantly spent by all. Oak Island is an ideal place for such a picnic, with its cool groves, wide fields and smooth beach, and the proprietor, Mr. Huntley, was on hand and did all in his power to add to the comfort and enjoyment of the visitors. Messrs. Walton and Newcombe, of Port Williams, had a refreshment stand on the grounds and did a thriving trade.

The ACADIAN wishes to inform its readers and patrons that it recently received a quantity of new type, of the latest face, and is in a better position than ever to do neat and tidy job work—always at low price. The additions that have been made to our plan during the past year have been very considerable, and as the typefounders are in the main grasping individuals, who demand payment for their goods, our outlay has been large. We don't like to complain, but our treasury is at present in a somewhat pathetic condition, and any contributions on account would be most gladly taken charge of by the treasurer. It has been our ambition to make the ACADIAN a live, local newspaper, as free from flaws in orthography and construction as possible—a paper which the residents of our town and county might be proud, and we believe our efforts have been appreciated. But say, can't you let us have that dollar!

The farmers' and fruit growers' picnic advertised by posters to be held at Aylesford on Friday, the 27th of this month, promises to be an interesting affair. One of the objects of the meeting is to again show to the people the necessity of completing the organization set on foot one year ago known as the Nova Scotia Apple and Produce Shipping Co., Ltd. The directors of this company with prominent farmers and fruit growers of the Valley are more and more convinced that the present better shelter mode of packing and shipping, of storage, of steamship rebates and innumerable commissions are inimical to their interests, and so long as the custom prevails the fruit growers of this Valley as a mass will not meet the growing demand for choice fruit.

All are welcome to take advantage of the cheap excursion on that date. Amusements and music will be provided. Refreshments furnished for any who may not provide for themselves. Addresses by the directors and prominent farmers of the Valley.

Notes from Halifax.

EXHIBITION NEWS—THE U. S. BATTLE SHIP, ETC.

DEAR ACADIAN.—A few notes from the capital may be interesting just now. The all absorbing point of interest the past week has been the U. S. warship Indiana. Military, naval and civil circles have been moved with curiosity to see and examine the big ship. The electric car service has been heavily taxed to convey visitors up town to the dry dock. The interior of the ship was not accessible to visitors until Sunday when great throngs of sightseers crowded her decks, and swamids.

Embryos' generals and admirals aired their opinions as to her fighting qualities, and the briny ones allowed that the English ships could sink her and not be lost. However she is a formidable looking ship. Her construction is different from any warship yet in this port, inasmuch as her guns are all on deck enclosed in turrets which can be revolved to fire in any direction. In looking at her one gets the idea that an enemy's shell could play havoc with her deck equipment.

The nationality of her sailors appears to be varied, but they seem to be an average body of men, although not accustomed to that strict and systematic discipline so noticeable on our own warships. A very cordial feeling has been manifested towards our U. S. consuls while in port and nothing has occurred to mar it.

Exhibition matters are also well to the front. The buildings are gradually approaching completion.

The race track is having a chequered history, and there are those who say that if it is intended principally to exhibit the speed of our hack and truck horses of moused antecedents it will be loss to the sightseers if the track remains unfinished. The racing of overworked cart and hack horses should certainly be discouraged. If we must have a speed track as an accessory to our exhibition, it should be for genuine racing horses, and not any old plug that an individual fancies there is a possible chance of capturing a $5,000 prize with.

The propriety of granting space for a liquor exhibit has been under consideration by the Commission. One member thought it would have a bad effect on our youth. I think not; if the genuine product of the liquor traffic, the up to date drinkard, is also included in the exhibit; and no exhibit can be said to be complete without the furnished product.

The electric trains have now a quick north and south service which will be much appreciated by exhibition visitors. The I. C. Railway will run a siding in to the grounds so that exhibits can be unloaded quickly.

Machinery operated by steam power will be very much in evidence. A long list of novel attractions are also promised in the line of amusements.

The several contractors are pushing the construction work along rapidly.

We have to chronicle two drowning accidents as happening yesterday in our harbor, the result of carelessness boating. The dry dock has been kept very busy this season. The big iron four masted ship Knight Bachelor which ran against an iceberg last April, sailed a few days ago for Baltimore with $40,000 worth of revenue.

EVANGELINE BEACH.

A swimming tournament is to take place at the Beach in the near future. Further particulars later on.

Six picnics visited the Beach on Thursday last. They consisted of the Baptists from Hantsport, Falmouth, Mt. Dennis, New Minas and the Presbyterians from Kentville. In all they numbered over seven hundred.

Miss Melinda Higgins, Misses Maggie and Maggie Vanderpool, with Miss Wilkins and Connie Higgins, from Wolfville, have taken one of the cottages for a week's outing here.

Mr. Archibald and family, from Windsor, are staying at Cape View Cottage for a short time.

Tourist visitors are on the increase. Large parties drive down every day. They much advise the building of a hotel for summer tourists here.

A picnic of one hundred and fifty came down from Kentville on Tuesday. What with boating, bathing, swinging and riding on the merry-go-round, the time passed quickly away.

Quite a number of the S. of T. picnickers stopped on their homeward way from Oak Island for a ride and a boat row at the Beach.

The Hantsport Episcopal S. S. held their annual picnic here on Wednesday of this week. A private picnic from Church St. B. were over on the same day.

Misses Bert Curry, Roland Sandford, Wallace Hutchinson and Arvard Cohen are camping out on the point above the bathing houses. The boys have two horns and a gong with which they regale the occupants of the Beach with choice music.

Mr. Hinestor from Windsor has taken Bayberry Cottage for a week or so.

Misses Randall, Hardwick and Van-Buskirk are tenting on the grounds.

MARITIME COAST STAKES.

The first two races of the maritime coast stakes meeting at Amherst were trotted on Wednesday. The three-year-old stake was won by Willmott, the sensational son of Rampart, owned by J. A. Leaman & Co., and bred by H. C. Lydiard. In the second heat Willmott got a mark of 2.30, which is now the maritime record for three-year-olds.

Flashlight, by Parkside, won the four-year-old race, but Button, by Bronze Chief, owned by J. A. Leaman & Co., won the first heat in 2.26, breaking the maritime four-year-old record.

All are welcome to take advantage of the cheap excursion on that date.

Amusements and music will be provided. Refreshments furnished for any who may not provide for themselves.

Addressess by the directors and prominent farmers of the Valley.

n their Uppers

A good Shoe differs from its wearer in that it should always be properly "on their uppers."

How it gets there, has everything to do with the comfort it brings to the foot. Putting soles on their uppers is hardly a spiritual work, but it's the big end of Shoe making.

There are three ways of doing it—by the use of pegs, Mackay stitching, and the Goodyear welt or hand sewn process (Slater method).

Pegged or Mackay stitched shoes are known from the other make by their putting webs on the sole of the foot instead of having them put on the sole of the shoe.

They do this, because the pegs, or stitching, go clear through the sole, under the foot, where the full weight of the body, pressing upon the surrounding leather, raises hard lumps around every peg or stitch, and these in turn raise painful callousness, and corny spots on the foot.

The soles of the Slater Shoes, are sewn to the welt (or strip of leather which projects beyond the sides of the shoe), away from the foot, leaving a smooth and pliant surface under the foot while retaining all the elasticity and springiness of the sole leather.

This is the Goodyear welted or hand made method, and these "best in the land" shoes are stamped on the soles at $3.00 per pair. Other facts about feet you'll find in a little book "The Sick Man of Leatherhouse". Ask for a free copy from Deceased was thirty-nine years of age, and at the time of his death was an engineer on the Boston & Maine railroad.

About forty of the members and relatives of the Shaw family (from different parts of this province and Mass.) assembled at Aberdeen Beach on Wednesday of last week, where a very pleasant day was enjoyed by all. The ladies of Gaspe are to hold a Gaiety Party on the grounds opposite the parsonage this evening. Newton Beers, the dramatic reader and impersonator, who appeared in Temperance Hall last Tuesday evening, was greeted by a full house. "Roger the Vagabond," a comedy drama founded on Trowbridge's masterpiece, "Roger and I," was recited and the eight different characters impersonated by him in a manner that riveted the attention of the audience from the first. The play is full of bright humor, and contains many startling and dramatic situations. The auditors were at one moment convulsed with laughter at the bright Bohemian wit of "Roger," and the next through almost tears by the pathos introduced by the next character. Mr Beers can impersonate the gentle and sunny thoughts of life with equal facility as passions as dark and bracing as the thunderstorm. He is a fine actor, and the Forsters are to be congratulated on securing for the people of Wolfville such a delightful entertainer.

Money to loan on Real Estate straight loan or instalment plan—Apply to A. V. Pine, Barrister, Wolfville, N. S.

Miss Biggart's programme on that occasion will consist of a condensed dramatization of George Eliot's famous work "Adam Bede," with musical accompaniment. Miss Biggart recently appeared before the Brussels street church St. John, where her rendering of "Ben Hur" was spoken of as most stirring term by the press of that city.

Last Sunday night we had the most severe electrical storm that has visited us this season. It was a somewhat damp kind of a storm, too. The services in the various churches were shortened to give the congregations a chance to get home in time to have their Sunday dinner from getting rained, but also in some cases the adjournment was delayed too long, and the milliners are reaping a golden harvest in consequence.

During the storm last Sunday evening a barn belonging to Mr Andrew Horne, who lives at the east end of the town, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. A cow was saved with some difficulty from the burning building, but a quantity of hay was destroyed, as well as a pig and several tons of hay.

Mr Horne's loss will be a severe one, as the building was uninsured. The elements should rent their malice on insured barns.

A HAPPY GIRL.

Miss Amina Kelly Tells of Her Illness and Subsequent Cure—A Statement That Should be Read by Every Girl in Canada.

Miss Amina Kelly, a well known and much esteemed young lady living at Maplewood, N.B., writes: "I consider it my duty to let you know what your wonderful medicine has done for me. In April, 1896, I began to lose flesh and color; my appetite failed and on going up stairs I would be so tired I would have to rest. I continued in this condition for three months when I was taken suddenly ill and not able to go about. Our family doctor was called in and he pronounced my illness chlorosis (poverty of the blood). At first his treatment appeared to do me good, but only for a time, and I then began to grow worse. I continued taking his medicine for three months, when I was so disengaged at not regaining my health that I decided taking it any longer. I then tried a liquid medicine advertised to cure cases like mine, but did not obtain the slightest benefit. I had become terribly emaciated and weak. There was a constant terrible roaring noise in my head; my feet and ankles were swollen and I was as pale as a corpse. One day while in this condition my father brought home a boy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all substitutes and nostrums alleged to be just as good.

Some New Commandments.

1. Thou shalt not go away from home to do thy trading, thou nor thy sons nor thy daughters.

2. Thou shalt patronize those own merchants, also the printer, and they shall patronize thee. Make haste, therefore, and purchase that which will cause thy countenance to shine with intelligence, bring prosperity to both.

3. Thou shalt not ask for credit, as goods cost more than twice as much if the merchant's horse is wornied with bills. His children clamor daily for bread, and his wife abideth at the home for want of such as islement as adorneth her sisters. Three blessed is the man who pays cash.

4. Thou shalt employ thine own mechanics that they be not driven from their home to find bread for their little ones. Thou shalt also consider him that is thy neighbor above him that dwelleth in a strange town.

5. Thou shalt not ask for reduced prices for thy imports, for before long it is in thy hand and the merchant wealtheth like an open book, he laugheth these to scorn and shouteth to his clerks, ha! ha!

6. Thou shalt do whatever lieth in thy power to encourage and promote the welfare of thy town, thine now people.

7. Thou shalt spend thy earnings at home that they may return from whence they came, and give nourishment to such as may come after thee.

8. Thou shalt not suffer the voice of pride to overcome thee, and other towns enice, because, however, not unto them, for thou must be deceived.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against the town wherein thou dwellest, but speak well of it to all men.

Mrs Peter Brown and Her Brown Dress.

Mrs Peter Brown was a worthy and thrifty housewife, and though proud of her Brown family, she got tired of brown—she referred to brown colors.

Now Mrs Brown had a brown cabinet made that had domed on Sunday, full of dried fruit, and used to church in sun, rain, sleet, and snow for such a length of time had discolored and faded Mrs Brown's brown dress. The material still good gave Mrs Brown hope that the brown dress could be changed in color and made to do service until times were better and money more plentiful with her.

Mrs Peter Brown had heard of the marvellous Diamond Fast Black for Wool, and decided to experiment in the work of dyeing. The dye was purchased from her druggist, and the operation carried on per direction on the vellum, and what a transformation resulted! A deep, rich, pure black, equal to the finest blacks produced by French professional dyers—a new dress at a cost of about thirty cents.

Mrs Peter Brown's experience is just the experience of thousands of economizing women in Canada to-day. They find the Diamond Dyes so indispensable that home would be robbed of half its pleasure if they could not procure these great money-savers.

A Lady Cured after Seventeen Years' Affliction with Disorders peculiar to her sex by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

—Other Unfortunates can be Cured as Well as She.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—The publication of the letter of Mac Roarty, of Ashland, Wis., concerning her cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills after 17 years of sickness, has awakened wide spread interest amongst the women of Canada. It is truly marvelous that a woman afflicted as long as she was, who had tried all the remedies within her reach and all the doctors could do for her, should be cured by so simple and easily accessible a remedy as these pills. What they did for her they will do for all other women suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex.

A Small Boy's Temperance Speech.

Some people laugh and wonder What little boys can do To help the temperance thunder Roll all the big world through; I've had them look behind them When they were small and then I'd like to just remind them That little boys make men!

The bud becomes a flower, The soon grows a tree, The minutes make the hour— "Tis just the same with me. I'm small, but I am growing As quickly as I can;

A tempo'rance boy like me is bound To make a tempe'rance man.

Youths Examiner.

Why He Quits.

BY REV. D. V. LUCAS, D. D.

A young married man in Philadelphia has a salary of $2,000 a year in one of the largest business houses of that big city. There was near his office one of the most gorgeous of gin palaces, where he used to spend all his evenings card-playing and drinking.

So much of his salary was consumed in this way that he had to take a cheaper house farther out from the centre; in fact, a little outside the corporation.

Coming down one beautiful May morning he saw Tom, the saloon-keeper in the street in front of his saloon talking to a couple of bright young girls in a splendid two horse carriage.

Tom turned his head, and seeing his punctual customer, said, "I'll be there in a minute, Bill."

Bill walked inside and waited.

When Tom came in he immediately went behind the bar to prepare the usual drink for his familiar friend and patron.

Bill asked, "Whose carriage is that, Tom?"

"Why, Bill's, that's mine. Do you know, Bill, that get up cost me very nearly $2,000. My girls gave me no peace until I got them something they wouldn't be ashamed of to drive around the city with.

I tell you, Bill, there's no getting along with girls nowadays, without giving them what they want. I think that rig ought to do them. I can't be the best in the city."

Bill was pacing up and down the room, apparently forgetful of what he came for, till Tom said, "Bill, why don't you drink your brandy?"

"Oh, Tom," said he, "I don't care for it this way this morning."

"Why, Bill, what's the matter; are you sick?"

"No, Tom, I'm not sick; I don't care for the brandy, and I'll tell you why.

"I have the best wife that any mortal man ever had, and our little baby, three months old, is the prettiest and loveliest, baby ever born into any family—as sweet, I think, as any angel let loose in heaven. A half hour ago, when I came out of my house, I found my wife had got an old pasteboard box, and had tied it with some strings to the front wheels of an old wrecked baby wagon. In this pauper dog-cart she was wheeling a sweet little baby around to give it a little fresh air. She said to me, "Bill, Mrs Jones' baby across the street is dead. She has a baby carriage for which she paid five dollars; she says she does not need it now, and that if I will give her a dollar and a half for it I may have it. Can you let me have that, Bill, Bill, that I may get it?" Tom do you know that I cursed my wife for an extravagant, a deep, rich, pure black, equal to the finest blacks produced by French professional dyers—a new dress at a cost of about thirty cents.

Mrs Peter Brown's experience is just the experience of thousands of economizing women in Canada to-day. They find the Diamond Dyes so indispensable that home would be robbed of half its pleasure if they could not procure these great money-savers.
