Neglected and Dependent Children.

The Report for 1915 of the Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent children of Nova Scotia is printed by the order of the Legislature. There are eleven Children's Aid Societies organized under the Children's Protection Act of 1912. In addition to these, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty which has branches in different parts of the Province has been approved as a Children's Aid Society and is under the direction of this Department. The Report also refers to the work of two Juvenile Courts, one for the City of Halifax and the other for New Glasgow. Judge Wallace conducts the former, and Judge Patterson of the County Court, the latter. The Halifax Industrial School, The Maritime Home for Girls, in Turro, are engaged in similar work, as are also more than a dozen Societies, under Protestant and Roman Catholic control, chiefly located in Halifax, but extending from Sydney to Bridgewater. Mr. Ernest H. Blois, the Superintendent of the Children's Aid Societies, keeps also in touch more or less directly with all the other institutions to which reference has been made.

At first thought one might naturally ask, "what need can there be for so many of these organizations in a Province such as our own, where population comparatively a very favorable position as respects industry and morality?" But, a reading of the individual reports from local Societies, and of the Superintendent's record of his journeys from place to place in the interest of neglected children, reveals a condition of things which will be a surprise to many.

Some very sad cases are referred to. A little girl, seven years of age, father dead and mother had taken up with a tramp. The child was almost abandoned, but being committed to good looking expeditions. She had been cruelly beaten, showing marks from head to foot.

A girl under age, living with a man not being married. The parents knew the facts and admitted them at the trial. The man is now serving a two years' sentence in Dorchester.

A father of a family of very young children addicted to "drugs," and would not work. The family were destitute. Legal action was taken against the man and he was sent to the County Jail for a month. This was a good effect on the man who is an excellent mechanic, and is now sober and industrious. He has a comfortable home for wife and children and has expressed his appreciation of the drastic remedy.

The Juvenile Court, Halifax, has had 194 delinquents and 34 neglected children before it during the past year. It deals also with adults who contribute to the delinquency or neglect.

In this Court there is none of the legal formalities usual in Courts of Justice. The object is to avail what might familiarize the boy or girl with legal ceremony, and to endeavor to reach the conscience. Record is made of the age, the religion, the home condition, the physical and mental condition. "Released on probation" means that the child is released under the care and supervision of the probation officer. "Released conditionally" means that a sentence has been imposed with some conditions, and if they are not met, the sentence will be carried out. "Discharged" or "dismissed" means that the child was technically guilty, but either the offence was very slight, or it was judged by the Court that a warning was sufficient. If commitment to an institution is made it is always for an indefinite period, and the child is released when his condition in the home warrants it.

There is no publicity given to the proceedings of the Court. The newspapers are prohibited from publishing the names of children brought before the court. A woman probation officer assists in the case of a delinquent girl, also her mother or some woman friend. These women and the Judge are generally the only persons present.

The Superintendent says, "when the Court has done its full part, and the Probation Officer has, there is yet something lacking to obtain the perfect results sought. What that something is and how to secure it are questions which lead to wide discussions. Some of us are old fashioned enough to believe it to be that form of religion which comes from the grace of God in the heart."

"It's very hard," said the messenger.
"How?" asked the kangaroo.
"To be starved when living, and stuffed when dead."

The "Romance" of Nursing.

A book was published a short while ago entitled "The way of the Red Cross" (Miss Holder and Sought-on 25-65 pp.). It gives some vivid descriptions of things as they really are. Dealing with the work of the nurses, the writer tells us: "If the average domestic servant were asked to do the work that these nursing sisters accomplish every day, she would desert without giving notice, for the ordinary conception of nursing, and especially of nursing in military hospitals, bears little or no relation to the reality. From the time of Florence Nightingale down to the present the nursing in military hospitals have been regarded as an arduous task which smoothed the pillows of sick soldiers, and take their last messages for home, varying the work by going out on to the actual battle field with cups of water, and other little things, for the recently wounded. There is no romance in nursing, though on the part of the nurses there is the sheer heroism demanded of any man or woman who sets out to do arduous and unpleasant things. The nurse who goes out to look for romance at the front must take it with her. St. Vitus Dance.

A TROUBLED MOTHER THROUGH THE HELP OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

St. Vitus dance is a disease that usually attacks young children—chiefly of a school age—though older persons may be afflicted with it. In most cases it is a twitching of the muscles of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses this twitching takes the form of spasms in which the jerking motions may be affected. The patient is frequently unable to hold anything in his hands, or to walk steadily, and in severe cases even the speech may be affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves and is always cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood, tone and strengthen the nerves and in this way restore the sufferer to good health. Any symptoms of nerve trouble in young children should be promptly treated as it is almost sure to lead to St. Vitus dance. The following is proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure this trouble. Mrs. Hanna, Oshawa, Ont. says: "My daughter, Minnie, at the age of 12 years, was attacked with St. Vitus dance. She was under the care of a doctor for three months, but did not improve. One side of her body was entirely useless when the trouble was at its worst, and she could not even dress herself, nor hold anything in the hand on the affected side. One day I came across a little book advertising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and saw where they had cured similar cases. I then decided to try these Pills, and by the time she had taken two boxes she began to improve, and by the time she had taken five boxes every symptom of the trouble had disappeared, and she was as well as ever."

A fair trial with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure all such cases. You can get the Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $3.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Facing the Emergency.

Elwin loved Amelia, but he was also more than a little superstitious. One evening he came to her, pale of face.

"I consulted a palmist last night," he began solemnly, "and she told me I should marry a dark-haired woman before I starve."

His voice died huskily away, and his troubled eyes sought the carpet.

For Amelia owned the yellowest of coiffures.

But the modern girl is not lacking in resource. The downcast youth started in amazement as a ripple of laughter fell on his ear.

"That's all right, boy," said Amelia, "bating her golden curls; I can easily be a brunette by that time."

He was a morbid youth and a nervous lover. Often had he wished to make her all his own. Again and again had his nerve failed him. But tonight there was a "do-or-die" look in his eye.

They started for their usual walk, and rested awhile upon his favorite seat—a grave-stone in the village churchyard. A happy inspiration seized him. "Marry! When you die—how would you like to be buried here with my name on the stone over you?"

"Guess I'll have to rig up a middle name," declared Flubdub. "I never had one, but I gotta have one now."

"Why so?"

"My wife demands one to print on her visiting cards."

Food Must Be Chewed.

The idea prevails in most minds that the purpose of chewing food thoroughly is to break it up into small particles, with the main idea that small particles are easily digestible, while large particles are impossible or difficult to digest. That idea is incorrect. It has been shown in the laboratory that a cube of meat which measures 1 in. will digest at most as quickly as one which measures 1/2 in. A dog will swallow a piece of meat 3/4 in. or 1 in. long, and almost as thick, without chewing it at all. Yet a dog seldom has indigestion, except when some food is fed in large pieces to make the brute less brutal by turning a naturally carnivorous creature into a vegetarian animal. The point is that thorough mastication makes digestion more easy, not because the food is broken up into finer particles, but because food held in the mouth a great length of time and more carefully masticated has usually mixed with it a greater amount of saliva and its ptyalin ferment for the digestion of starch elements. To hold food in the mouth until it is thoroughly masticated requires a certain amount of attention, which, by the way, the all-important thing in the digestion of foods. This attention people do not always give. Saliva does not flow well when your mind is not on your eating.

Not Sad Enough.

A certain droll, vainglorious whose vanity had made him unpopular with his troops, was putting a party of recruits through the funeral service. Opening the ranks so as to admit the passage of the supposed cortege between them, the instructor, by way of explanation, walked slowly down the line forward by the two ranks saying, as he did so, "The first man to die is the first to be buried."

"Now I'm the corpse. Pay attention."

Having reached the end of the path he turned round, repeated them steadily with a scrutinizing eye for a moment or two, then exclaimed:—"Your heads is right, and your heads is right, but you haven't got that look of regret you ought to have."

Free Spraying Killing Birds.

A most deplorable result of the spraying of trees to exterminate moths is the killing of birds. Many instances are related of this most regrettable outcome. Birds are the friends of humanity. Their attack upon insects, this constituting nine-tenths of their means of subsistence, does more to keep down the ravages of pests than all the artificial means resorted to by man ever has or ever can accomplish. Investigations which have been made by bird lovers have resulted in the information that in an area as large as the State of Massachusetts birds destroy 20,000 bushels of insects every day in the summer season, and in view of such a demonstration of the usefulness of birds it seems incomprehensible that everyone is not their friend and ready to do everything possible to assist in their propagation and longevity. It was only recently that three robins were found dead in a single tree which had been sprayed in Canada; their death having been caused by the poison used for the destruction of moths. If this free spraying should be so conducted as to kill the birds or some other way of combating moths should be devised. The birds are our friends and they should be protected. —From the Manchester Mirror and American.

Eczema on the Head.

Mr. Peterson South Bay, Ont., writes: "For years I suffered a sort of eczema on the head. I tried four different doctors, giving each a fair trial, but the disease grew worse and spread to my arm. I got Dr. Casso's Ointment and it thoroughly cured me. I give you my name because I want other sufferers to know about this splendid Ointment."

A bachelor friend of the young couple was being entertained at dinner, and during the evening he was presented by the proud mother to her infant son.

"Now, Fred, which of us do you think he is like?" she asked gayly, holding up the baby for inspection.

The guest viewed the tiny mite for a moment as he replied: "Well, of course intelligence has not really dawned in his countenance yet, but he's wonderfully like both of you!"

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., JUNE 16, 1916.

Editorial Brevities.

It is now claimed that a mine and not a torpedo rent the Hamshire to the bottom.

Latest reports state that 295 Canadian officers have been killed, wounded or missing since June 2nd.

An exchanged says: It is satisfactory to learn, from American advices, that the prize on hard coal is more likely to fall than to rise.

On Tuesday next the people will have another opportunity to express themselves at the poll.

The news that Canadian battalions at the front must receive reinforcements from England, and that troops in Canada will be forwarded to the reserve stations, should remind eligible men what is their duty to the Empire.

The woman suffrage cause is making progress. In the platform adopted by the Republican convention at Chicago there is a declaration in favor of woman suffrage.

Kaiser Bill says the Germans recently won a great victory in the North Sea over the British.

In the last issue of the Outlook, Dr. Lyman Abbott says: "I have lived through one terrible war fought against slavery and secession."

The June issue of Rod and Gun is on the news stands and its list of contents is of interest as usual to the sportsman and lover of life in the open.

With the unlimited possibilities that Maritime Canada possesses for summer enjoyment—conditions as enjoyable as those in the most favored part of the world that may be chosen for comparison—sunny skies, delightful temperature, invigorating air, an endless variety of picturesque beauty, nature evidently intended the "provinces by the sea" to be a land for recreation.

Value of Fresh Air

One of the chief essentials to good health is a constant supply of pure and wholesome air. This is as necessary in the home as in the office or factory.

Forest Protection

The estate of Maine makes an annual appropriation of $71,400 for forestry work.

In Massachusetts, the annual forestry appropriation is $83,000, of which $33,000 is for fire protection, $10,000 for nurseries and reforestation work, and $40,000 for the purchase and maintenance of state forests.

Let the People Judge.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN. DEAR SIR.—From the editorial in the 'Advertiser' of the 9th inst., under the heading of 'Forsaking the Party,' the inference would be drawn that I had left the Liberal party.

Your readers will probably remember that in my letter some two years ago, in making my protest for the treatment I had received from the Government, in taking my commission from me, without an investigation, I then said, 'there was no appeal from the decision of the Legislature to a higher Court but that I would leave it to the people of the County, when the opportunity arrived, to say whether I had been fairly treated or not.'

There is no moral question before the people at this time, but the question of the dismissal of a public servant, and on such evidence as was used in my case without an investigation.

Under the circumstances I cannot say my vote at this election. Ex-Chief Justice Townshend has told us what should be done with a Magistrate who would make the statement that 'he would convict one, whom he thought guilty, whether he had any evidence or not, and I quite agree with him in his denunciation. I wonder what he would say should be done with a member of the Legislature who would come into a Magistrate's office a few hours previous to a trial, in which he thought he was interested, and threaten the Magistrate, who was to give judgment in the matter? Would he say that the proper place for that person was in the Legislative Council, where he would be free to assist in making the laws of our Country?

Now, Mr. Editor, I wish to repeat what I have said before, namely, that I do not regret the decision I gave in the King and Rand matter for I believe my decision was right, notwithstanding all I have suffered and am likely to suffer on account of it.

EDWARD M. BECKWITH. Canning, June 12, 1916.

Summer Tourist Travel

The United States railway authorities are expecting a big tourist travel to New England resorts this year, and advance many reasons for their optimism in this respect.

The value of summer tourist business to the New England States is estimated in the millions. Now is the time for our Maritime people having accommodation for summer visitors to put their house in order, advertise the fact at home and abroad, welcome the stranger and reap the golden harvest.

U. S. Politics.

The Dominion government has appointed Major J. P. Edwards, Inspector of taxation for Nova Scotia. It will be his duty to explain and adjust all war taxations imposed on the Province.

Dancing Pope Bened'ct has put a ban on dancing under the auspices of churches in the United States and Canada. The text of the Vatican ruling has come public in Roman Catholic circles on Tuesday last and caused consternation. One rita on that many parishes depend on an annual ball to help meet the expenses. What can be a substitute is a problem yet unsolved. The Vatican ruling affects only the United States and Canada. It bases its edict on the fact that the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore in 1885 promulgated such a decree, and affirms this council's action, which it will know has been ignored almost entirely. Although the ruling does not prohibit Roman Catholic organizations outside of Parish jurisdiction from giving balls, it does prohibit any priest from attending such a function or giving it his sanction. The Minister of Militia was at Alvershot on Tuesday and inspected the camp.

Calculating Cows. In various parts of the district probably among the 100,000 pasturing factory, it is possible to find contrasts ranging something like this: one herd of 14 cows gives on the average 7,734 lb. milk and 248 lb. fat, while a neighbor's herd of 14 cows averages only 4,337 lb. milk and 155 lb. fat. Indeed, in looking over the records in eleven districts the average difference between the high herd averages and the low ones amount to 4,697 lb. milk and 149 lb. fat per cow. This is certainly an extraordinary difference, and indicates that it will pay to calculate what cows can do. Take it another way: in 1914 sixty patrons of two creameries began this cow calculation, cow testing. It was found in 1914 that their herds had made a gain over their 1913 record of 71 pounds of fat per cow, a gain of eight per cent. But on the other hand the 1913 patrons of the same two creameries who did not go in for cow calculations fell off 87 pounds of fat per cow, seventeen per cent. If the men not cow testing had made gains with their cows in the two years as those made who were testing, it would have meant an increase in the output of 58,362 pounds of butter! It pays to test. Record forms are furnished free of charge on application to the Dairy Division, Ottawa.

An Unfair Canvass. Among the many inventions which are being launched publicly and privately against Mr. Spidell in the present contest is that which holds him up as having abandoned his much applauded resolution to go to the front as a combatant officer in the fight waged for civilization in which so many Canadians are now engaged. The proof of this offered is that he does not appear in uniform at political meetings. Ignorance cannot be set up as an excuse for this. Mr. Wickwire was connected with the militia for a while and even a novice should be so far acquainted with the Kings Canadian regulations and orders as to be ashamed to make such a statement. The 367th paragraph is as follows: "367—An officer or soldier is forbidden to institute or take part in any meetings, demonstrations or processions for party or political purposes, in barracks, quarters, camp or their vicinity, under no circumstances whatever will either attend such meetings wherever held, in uniform."

Mr. Spidell holds a permanent appointment as Lieutenant in the 21st Regiment, and but for the political contest now going on would be at Camp Aldershot with Captain George B. Cutten and other chieftains who have conspicuously occupied pulpits in this County. He could not, without becoming amenable to military discipline, appear at any political gathering in uniform, and those who have been referring to the absence of his uniform better have conceived some other device less easily exposed.—E.K.

Two men from the Maritime Provinces will graduate from Newton Theological Inst. in June. The anniversary exercises will be held from the 4th to the 8th. President Herr will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon and Dr. A. K. DeBia, of the First church, Boston, will address the Alumni Society.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FOR OVERSEAS CONSTRUCTION GIANTIC steam shovels weighing sixty-five tons each, capable of eating up the earth at the rate of 150 to 200 cubic yards an hour, and self propelling extension track-laying drivers, are part of the equipment recently purchased by the Government for Col. C. W. P. Ramsay, of the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps. This plant was selected by Col. Ramsay's colleagues in the Engineering Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is being prepared by that company at the request of the Government for shipment abroad. The Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps has already built many miles of track at strategic points and is at the time engaged in surveys for further construction. The work has often to be done under fire, and though there have been so many narrow escapes there have been no serious casualties. One of the non-commissioned officers and sappers that enlisted on the foundation of the Corps is having already received commissions in the Royal Engineers, a remarkable tribute to their efficiency, while Col. Ramsay and Major Harvey have been mentioned in dispatches. The splendid work of these Canadian engineers has been highly appreciated by the allied commanders.

Death of F. W. Curry.

The death, after a lengthy illness, of Foster W., youngest and only surviving son of the late Captain E. H. Curry, of Hortonville, occurred at his home at an early hour on Saturday morning, at the age of sixty-five years.

Mr. Curry was well known and highly respected throughout the county. In former years he was a merchant and postmaster.

Besides his widow, who is a daughter of the late William Crane, of Grand Pre, an aged mother, three daughters: Gerlie, wife of R. H. Woodman, Grand Pre; Jean and Lena, at home; two sons: Kenneth in the west, and Ralph at home, survive him.

The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place on Sunday afternoon and was conducted by the Rev. A. Hockin.

WINCHESTER—BLAIR.

A pretty wedding took place in West Newton, Mass., on the evening of June 3rd, 1916, at the residence of Mr. C. W. Blair, when their only daughter, Louise Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Alfred Ernest Winchester, of Roxbury, Mass., third son of the late Capt. Alfred Winchester, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N. S. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Higginbotham, of Bethany Baptist church, of Roxbury, Mass., in the presence of about fifty invited guests.

The bride was prettily gowned in white satin with court train. Her tulle veil was fastened with lilies-of-the-valley and pearl bandeau. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and maiden-hair fern.

She was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Mrs. Frank Blair as matron of honor, who was dressed in pink tulle and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Winchester was attended by Mr. Frank Blair, brother of the bride.

Just before the ceremony Miss Marion Kibbi Shaw, of Roxbury, sang, "O Promise Me," and Miss Hough, of West Newton, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. At the close of the very impressive ceremony Miss Shaw again sang, "O Perfect Love."

Mr. Coleman Winchester, of Eversett, and Mr. George Winchester, cousins of the groom, performed the duties of ushers.

The parlors were very tastefully decorated with bridal wreath, fleur-de-lis and ferns. The presents were numerous and costly, several checks being in evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Winchester will reside at 93 Warren St., Roxbury, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Blair and family were formerly of Wolfville.

Gin Pills How They Help

ST. RAPHAEL, ONT. Four years ago I had such pains in my back that I could not work. The pains extended to my arms, sides and shoulders. I used many kinds of medicine for over a year, none of which did me very much good. I read about Gin Pills and sent for a sample and used them. I found the pains were leaving me and that I was feeling better. So I bought one box and before I used them all, the pains were almost gone and I could keep at work. After I had used six other boxes of Gin Pills, I felt as well strong as I did at the age of 30. I am a farmer, now 61 years old.

Use "Corona" Dry Ansenate of Lead

For Spraying Orchards and Potato Plants.

"Corona" dry, is not an experiment, it has been used by many of our leading farmers for years. One pound of "Corona" will do the work of from two to three pounds of Arsenate of Lead and be more effective, because:—
It is a perfect, dry, fine, white powder, and does not contain 50 per cent water.
It is pure and contains nothing but lead oxide and arsenic oxide, the only two chemicals essential to an Arsenate of Lead.
It gives an even application, covers more thoroughly, and sticks to foliage longer.
It mixes easily and readily in water, no working up to prepare for the spray tank, no straining. It is only necessary to shake the proportional amount into the spray tank.
By using the same weight each time you spray your mixture is always the same strength.
No sediments, no lumps, no waste. Never clogs spray nozzles.

In Our Father's Care.

The ships glide into the harbor's mouth
And the ships sail out to sea,
And the wind that sweeps from the sunny south
Is as sweet as sweet can be,
There's a world of toil and a world of pains,
There's a world of trouble and care,
But, oh, in a world where our Father reigns
There is gladness everywhere.

The earth is fair in the breezy morn,
And the foilers sow and reap,
And the fullness comes to the tassels corn
Whether we wake or sleep;
And far on the hills by feet untrod
There are blossoms that scent the air,
For, oh, in this world of our Father's God,
There is beauty everywhere.

The babe lies soft on the mother's breast,
And the thrill of joy flows in
Her gentle, harketh, and knoweth best,
The heart—to whom we win,
And oh, when the soul is with truth
Tossed,
For never a soul that loves is lost,
And our Father is everywhere.

The ships sail over the harbor bar,
Away and away to sea,
The ships sail in with the evening star
To the port where no tempests be,
The harvest waves on the summer hills,
And the bands go forth to reap,
And all is right, as our Father wills,
Whether we wake or sleep.

Swedish Parliament.

It is not generally known that it has been determined to discontinue the sale of intoxicants in the Rigsdag or Swedish Houses of Parliament in future no liquors will be sold which contain more than two per cent of alcohol. In Britain no liquors are excisable if they contain less than two per cent of alcohol. This resolution has given lively satisfaction to the Temperance Reformers of Sweden. The chief illustrated paper, "Puck," has had as its frontispiece a picture of the main entrance to the Rigsdag with the letters I. O. G. T. above the door, thus emphasizing in striking fashion the strict exclusion of intoxicants from the popular legislative chamber of Sweden.—Australian Christian Globe.

In Dread of Croup.

Every mother dreads croup unless she knows about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Given in frequent small doses, as the first indication of trouble, this treatment loosens the cough and affords relief and comfort. Its use should be kept up until the child is entirely recovered.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their babies and allow them to suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if you are nervous or excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

If you possess in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Poultry.

To anyone who has not carefully followed the direction of poultry development in Canada, an understanding of the status, which the poultry industry has now reached must constitute a distinct surprise. Whether viewed from the standpoint of the farmer or of the produce trade, it is now one of the best organized and most progressive of any of our live stock industries. Co-operation among farmers in marketing is improving the product and realizing for them a higher price than they have hitherto been able to obtain. The reorganization of methods by the trade is providing against loss in handling, insuring to the consumer a better article and establishing our export business upon a firm basis.

It is estimated that Canada and Cuba, during the last twenty years received from the United States about three-fourths of all the eggs exported by that country during that period. This situation, however, has now changed. As against an importation in 1913 of 13,240,111 dozen, we imported in 1915 more than 3,781,952 dozen. On the other hand, while in 1913 we exported only 117,149 dozen, in 1915 we exported 7,898,322 dozen. This constitutes a net increase in production, in two years, of at least 17,000,000 dozen. Practically all of these exports went to the United Kingdom.

Notwithstanding the surplus in Canada which these figures indicate, prices during March, April and May have remained at an extraordinary high level. For the first quarter of the year 1916, the price of producers, selling co-operatively, has been at least 10 per cent in advance of the price received for the same period, in 1915. For the month of March, it was at least 50 per cent in advance and for the month of April at least 30 per cent in advance of last year's price for the respective months. The demand for eggs for local consumption, for storage purposes and for immediate export, has lately been so keen as at the present moment. This situation is clearly reflected in the prices just quoted. Heavy domestic consumption is the fact of the high price for meat, poultry exports this condition. Confidence in the export market, on the part of the producer, has led to a firmity of price, rather than to a speculative one. The egg and poultry business in Canada is in a very strong position at the present time.

Under these circumstances, we believe that it will be a very wise practice to raise as many chickens as it is possible or practicable to handle. Early hatched chicks make good winter layers. Rough grains will probably be produced in abundance in Canada this year and the feeding of poultry at a profit should be materially assisted from this source. Eggs at winter prices are a paying proposition, in any event. Poultry, alive or dressed, under present and prospective market conditions, can unquestionably be raised and marketed at a profit. A good flock of poultry, if carefully handled, will serve to provide a source of income, and provide economy in living expenses, such as particularly necessary when a farm produces no money, when a market and a ready sale.

Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you of all the troubles of PILES. It is the only medicine that will cure them. It is the only medicine that will cure them. It is the only medicine that will cure them.

His Last Moments.

The dangers of travel by sea at this time have played havoc with the nerves of timid passengers.

Early one morning recently there was considerable commotion on the decks of a coastwise vessel plying between Savannah and Baltimore, when a scantily clad man hurried from his stateroom and dashed toward the upper deck.

"What's the matter, captain?" he managed to gasp. "Have we been torpedoed?"

"Calm yourself, my dear sir, and be prepared for the worst," answered the official.

"Oh, don't tell me we're going down!" moaned the other. "Quick, where are the life preservers?"

"They wouldn't be of any service at this stage," explained the captain. "Too late!" quavered the despairing passenger.

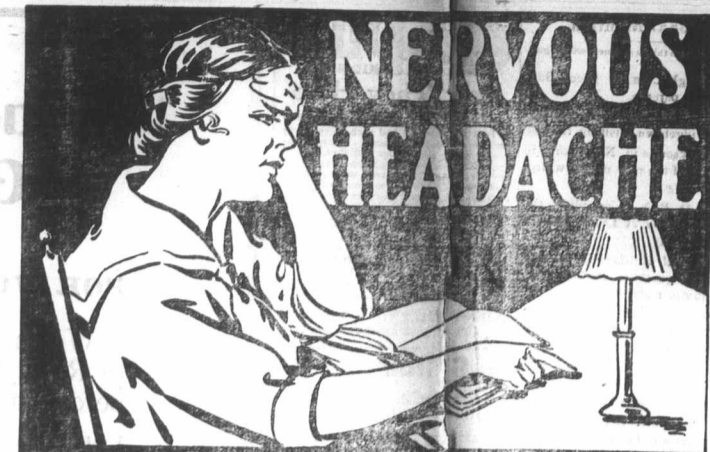

"Yes," said the captain, very solemnly. "We've done all we can for you. You'll have to look out for yourself from now on. You see, we've just tied up to the dock."

Hamburg Roast.

Procure one and one-half lbs. of Hamburg steak freshly chopped. Add two slices of fat salt pork finely chopped, one-half cup of soft stale bread crumbs, one egg slightly beaten three-fourths of a teaspoon of salt and a few grains of pepper. Shape in the form of a loaf, place on rack in dripping pan, dredge with flour and arrange thin strips of fat salt pork over the top. Roast for 45 minutes in a hot oven, basting every seven minutes, at first with hot water and then with the fat in the pan. Serve with gravy made with the fat remaining in the pan, hot water and browned flour.

NERVOUS HEADACHE

Headache is not a disease in itself, but comes as a warning to tell you that there is something wrong with the system. Consequently when you stop a headache by the use of powerful narcotic drugs, you merely stifle the "danger signal" by which Nature tells you that there is trouble ahead.

A starved condition of the nervous system is by far the most frequent cause of headache. You may be going too fast and burning the candle at both ends. The nervous system has no opportunity to renew its vigor, and the result is nervous headache, sleeplessness, indigestion and irritability.

Why not select a treatment that aims to remove the cause of trouble by enriching the blood and building up the starved and exhausted nerves. Such is the purpose of Chase's Nerve Food, and the effectiveness of this food cure is so well known that we scarcely need tell you about it.

In almost every newspaper you will find some case reported as a result of using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The mention of it among your friends will reveal the fact that nearly everybody knows it as the standard medicine for diseases of the nerves and other ailments arising from a watery condition of the blood.

British Endurance

A great English writer, Mr. G. K. Chesterton, has lately been offering the suggestion that among many other things the Britisher has one fine virtue—the virtue of being duffer with a don't care man, of going into battle singing a comic song. A hundred Zepelin raids do not disturb him a thousand severe headlines of the daily press do not stampede him in the least.

Queen Elizabeth's Coal.

Queen Elizabeth's coal was the first English coal to be made in the United States. It is the only coal in the world that is made in the United States.

WHEN A MAN MARRIES

This One Fancied Himself in Love With His Fiancee's Avowed Rival.

By GEORGE MUMSON.

"I'll walk home with you, Dick," said Frank Fayles to his friend Richard Talbot, and started away with him from Miss Landis' door. At the corner of the block he stopped and wrung his friend's hand violently.

"I congratulate you, old man," he said warmly. "I think your fiancée is one of the finest girls I've ever met—and just suited to you, too."

"It's odd, Dick," he continued, "but I never gave you credit for being able to pick a winner like that. I don't believe any of your friends did, either. I suppose you must be an artist maker as you think you must be an artist maker."

He had thought Elsie Landis all that could be desired in any woman until—until he had met Edith Spinner. A friend had introduced them, and then Talbot knew that, deeply as he had been in love during his thirty-four years of life, he had never surrendered so completely to the divine passion before.

He thought over his future that night. He could not withdraw. He was bound to make the world go right. But only to discover and to do with cheerful heart, the things that God appoints.—I am a foghorn.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill.—"While going through the change of life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my health and my life. I am a married woman and I have had a very happy home life since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my health and my life. I am a married woman and I have had a very happy home life since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richard said his fiancée, looking at him curiously, "do you know you have been acting in a very odd manner lately?"

"How is that?" he stammered. "You haven't seemed to love me as much as you used to," she stammered. "I have been thinking—O, Richard, don't you care for me?"

"I don't mean that I've missed anybody else," he sobbed. "Richard, you are so simple and noble, I would never understand. Well, I had been wondering whether our marriage was going to be happy. It had begun to seem so ordinary, our love. And then I met a man—just two weeks ago. He fascinated me and I loved him more than you, dear."

Richard sat up very straight. This was a turning of the tables with a vengeance. "We never told each other," she went on, weeping bitterly. "But he knew and I knew, and it seemed so."

Those interested in building lots at the west end, would do well to confer with E. C. Johnson, as he is now offering for sale the only available lots at this center.

"BE FIRST AT A FEAST AND LAST AT A FIGHT"

Richard said at very straight. This was a turning of the tables with a vengeance. "We never told each other," she went on, weeping bitterly. "But he knew and I knew, and it seemed so."

hopeless that that only added to the fever between us. And I was frantic. I felt that we ought not to be married until you knew—and I didn't dare to tell you until today."

"Why today?" inquired Richard kindly.

"Because he is married now," sobbed Elsie. "He got married yesterday. And he had been engaged to her for a whole year—just in time that I had just been flirting with me and fooling me. And then a sudden revulsion came over me and I knew that it was you I had loved all the time. Richard can you forgive me or shall I give you back your ring?"

She rose to her feet and stood before him, a picture of tragic misery and despair.

"Who was the man?" inquired Richard, conscious of an odd sense of helplessness.

"Nobody you know, Richard," she answered. "So if I wouldn't do you any good to tell you his name, I believe you met her once. It was a Miss Spinner."

"Edith Spinner?" he shouted and out of the tumult of emotions in his heart he was conscious of a mad rage that dominated all others.

"Yes, Richard," she said to be a dreadful flirt and to have had affairs with half a dozen men at the same time. I don't believe there will be much happiness for them. Why, what is the matter?"

"Come here, Elsie," said Richard and led her to the lounge. "Elsie, dearest, I have been as big a fool as you. We have both behaved like animals. Do you know I have been fancying myself in love with Edith?"

"You, Richard? Since we were engaged? Why, how dared you?"

"How dared you?" he retorted. "I didn't," she cried. "It was purely imagination. I just feared that we mightn't be quite suited to each other and—"

"That's what I did!"

"You never kissed her, Dick?"

"Never!" he said, looking her in the eyes, and then suddenly he drew her upon his knee and kissed her.

"You see, dearest," he said, "it amounts to this: I guess when two people are going to get married they ought to be sure of things of each other, and then, when they don't quite measure up to the mark, each thinks the marriage is going to be unhappy. Well, I guess that isn't the proper basis for marriage. There must be a sort of mutual trust and confidence and—what I'll call faith. Elsie, darling, shall we start over again in that spirit?"

"Yes, Richard," she answered, raising her lips to his. "But—your wife sure that you never kissed her, Dick?"

Germany is a big country. Moreover, it is the most interesting country in Europe save Italy. Towns can be found there that are, as Henry James would call them, "medieval all-bouteries"; and there also are the most ultra modern cities in the world, cities that are more representative of the best of the twentieth century's thought on municipal life and municipal problems than is any American municipality, says the Travel Magazine. It is an empire of peoples as diverse as the peoples of the empire; the brusque and domineering Prussians, living in the vast plain of northern Germany; the ancient Saxons, still clinging to former superstitions and still living in the beautiful environment of their exquisite old-time towns and in the atmosphere of legend and romance that lingers yet around the regions of the Harz; the gay Wurtembergers, with their brilliant capital of Stuttgart; and best of all, beautiful, enchanted Bavaria, land of castles, of lakes, of the kindly, sun-faced men and women who live there, let me outline a charming trip from Cologne to Hagenburg.

From Cologne to Hagenburg, which constitutes the tourist's Rhine, is 117 miles, and the trip can be made in a day on steamers that are comfortable. The narrow stream, seldom more than a quarter of a mile in width, and more frequently much less, is crowded with boats of every description; on the banks are large cities of modern look, and villages that still preserve in wall and tower the appearance of a distant past; terraced vineyards lead from the water's edge up steep hillsides to ruined castles on the summits; and over all is an atmosphere of legend and of wild and thrilling historic fact that makes of the rhine country one of the great objective points in every European tour. His Side Line.

"That poet who wrote an ode to a bunch of daffodils and won the $10,000 prize offered by that eastern magazine—is that all he does for a living?"

"By no means. He is also an authority on onion culture and is a staff contributor to three agricultural journals."

Step Lively.
