Sweet Eva!

CHAPTER XXXIV.

"Would you mind?" he began, then stopped, and a little wave of emotion crossed his face. His quick eyes had at a single glance taken in the beauty of his wife's appearance, but after that first curious little flicker he showed no sign of having noticed it. "I was going to ask you if you would mind tying this thing for me," he said apologetically. "I can generally manage it myself, but my fingers seem all thumbs to-night."

He held the black tie to her. "I don't know if you mind," he said again. Eva's heart seemed to throb somewhere in the region of her throat, but she managed to answer lightly: "Not at all—I've often done it for father and the boys." She took the tie from him. "I'm afraid you'll have to stoop," she said rather breathlessly. Philip obeyed; he kept his eyes cast down, and Eva fastened the tie into a not very successful bow.

It was the first time he had ever asked even a small service of her, and it gave her a curious sense of intimacy with him. She thought of the night when she had put her arms round his neck and kissed him of her own accord, and wondered what would happen were she to do it again; the desire was so strong that she almost had to force her hands to her sides. "There—will that do?" she asked. "Thanks." He turned to move away, and their hands touched. Almost unconsciously Philip's fingers closed about her's—he looked at her with a little flash half of irony, half adoration in his eyes, then he bent and kissed her hand.

He let it go almost immediately and turned away. "Do you remember when I was last guilty of such an offence?" he asked lightly. He went back to his room without waiting for an answer, and Eva went on to the drawing-room and stood looking down into the fire.

She hid the hand which Philip had kissed in the folds of her dress. Of course, he had meant nothing—nothing at all, she told herself with severity, but all the same— "Ready?" he asked from the doorway.

He sat beside Eva in the taxi because Calligan insisted, but he kept as far away from her as possible, though the consciousness of her near presence went to his head like wine, and the longing to touch her, to just lay his hand on hers, was almost irresistible. Once the sudden swerving of the cab threw her lightly against his arm, and he heard her laugh nervously in the darkness; what sort of a snubbing she would have dealt out to him this time but for Calligan's timely intervention.

He could not guess from the way in which she talked trivialities and cut up a fire of banter with his friend, that her heart was bleak with disappointment, or that she merely pretended in a shabby, rather than in a dignified, way to be content with golden wheels which for one mad moment she had imagined was to call at the flat and carry her and Philip to the land where dreams come true.

"I'm going to enjoy myself to-night," she said flippantly. "I hope Peter has ordered a good dinner—that sounds greedy, doesn't it?" She laughed. "I never thought the time would ever come when I should look forward to what I was going to eat, but it has! I wonder what it's a sign of—advancing age, do you think, Mr. Calligan?"

"Hunger, I should think," he answered laughingly. "Anyway, here we are, so you won't have long to wait." He got out first, and as he gave her his hand he saw her face in the light from the big restaurant to which they were going. She looked like a flushed, radiant child who had been wakened from sleep by the kiss of a fairy prince.

She went on up the steps ahead of him, and he followed soberly with Philip.

At All Dealers. Distributor: GERALD S. DOYLE.

Peter and Kitty were waiting for them. Peter looked rather downcast—Kitty had not been kind; she had blamed him for coming alone to fetch her—it looked so absurd, she said pettishly; why could he not have waited for Philip—and the others? Her eyes went straight to Philip as he joined them; Peter's jealous eyes saw a difference in the smile which she greeted his brother-in-law. But for Calligan the dinner would have been a failure. Peter was silent and moody. Kitty drank a little too much champagne and her laugh was a little too loud sometimes and her voice too shrill.

She sat between Philip and Peter, and the white shoulder with its too slender strap was nearly always turned to Peter. She talked to Philip almost exclusively, and Calligan wondered that his friend could be so foolish as to permit it.

She was not in the same street with Eva, he thought with loyal indignation. Kitty might have a line of uncles that dated back to the Flood for all he knew or cared, but a small, dolly prettiness was as a rush-light compared with the sunshine of the dear woman whom he loved.

He woke from the reverie into which he had fallen to hear Kitty say: "Do you remember the last time we were here, Phil? How long ago is it?"

We sat over at that table in the corner there. Do you remember? And you bought some pink roses—" "Because you asked for them, Miss Arlington, I'll be bound," Calligan struck in laughingly.

Kitty turned on him snarlingly. She did not like Calligan.

"I have never been in the unfortunate position of having to ask Philip for anything," she said. Eva bit her lip to hide its trembling. Her eyes sought her husband's, but he was too intent on Kitty, and with an effort she controlled herself.

She was sorry for Peter. Her heart ached when she looked at his pale, sullen face. She was angry with Philip. She was used to being hurt by him, but now he was including Peter too she felt it was more than she could stand.

She deliberately devoted herself to Calligan. He was ready enough to talk to her, but to-night even his devotion and admiration passed her by. She longed for the dinner to end.

ANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE.

Public Warned to Beware of a Three Days' Cough and Break It Up Before it's Too Late, by Taking Aspirin, the new Scientific Discovery.

Money Refunded If Aspirin Fails to Bring Relief.

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds just run their course, for it is definitely known that many serious lung complications such as pneumonia, grippe, etc., develop from colds that hang on persistently. Aspirin is curable and preventable, and Aspirin provides the safest, surest and quickest, as well as the most practical, treatment for colds yet discovered. Aspirin is almost magical in its effect. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and discomfort, and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether.

The wonderful efficiency of Aspirin is best shown by the fact that all druggists are instructed to refund money where it fails to give satisfactory results. feb.9,14,16

"MAKING GOOD." This is making good in life: Being patient through the strife; Being glad that you can care; Now and then the touch of care; Being cheerful day by day; Being careful not to say; Bitter things which leave a sting— This, for laborer or king, When the record's understood, Is the depth of "making good."

This is making good on earth: Being glad to prove your worth; Being kind, being true, As you do, and let the burden drop; Even though your strength is faint, Without whimpering or complaint; Being true, doing much, With a brave and manly touch, Drawing water, heaving wood— Cheerfully—"making good."

This is making good with men: Standing up to service when It were easier to bear, And to let the burden drop; Doing more than is your share. More than you were asked to bear, So, when finished is the test, You may say you've done your best— This, in every neighborhood, Is the depth of "making good."

Condemned for Murder MAKES CLEAN GETAWAY.

After overpowering four guards in the county jail at Chicago, "Lucky" Tom O'Connor, a condemned murderer, and two other prisoners made their escape. With the police over a wide area ordered to shoot O'Connor dead on sight, the desperado was believed to have sped northward in an automobile which he seized just after he got clear of the prison environs. O'Connor was to have been hanged shortly for slaying Police Sergeant O'Neil.

The murderer's two companions, James Laporte and Edward Darrow, who were serving sentences for robbery, are also at large. A third convict, Clarence Sponaol, a partner in the enterprise, broke both of his ankles in jumping from one of the prison walls, and is now in the infirmary. The escape, which is characterized by Chief of Police Fitzmaurice as a "frame-up" between O'Connor and jail officials, was discovered in time to prevent more than twenty-five other prisoners from taking advantage of the confusion to gain their liberty.

The coup was effected shortly after 9.30 o'clock in the morning, when the prisoners were exercising in the "hall pen" on the fourth floor. While one of the two guards on duty at the time was away temporarily from his post, the attention of the remaining one was diverted by one of the prisoners, who asked for a pass to attend the prison hospital in order to have a slight ailment attended to. The ruse was successful in lessening the guard's vigilance, as he was in the act of writing the pass, he was seized about the neck by Laporte. O'Connor at the same time pressed a revolver against his ribs and forbade him on pain of death from making any outcry. The murderer's possession of a revolver forms the basis of Chief Fitzmaurice's charges of collusion. The guard was promptly gagged and bound and locked in a cell with his own key.

With the way clear, as far as the fourth floor was concerned, O'Connor and his three companions started on a wild career down the stairs. On the third floor they encountered two other guards. One of them battled with O'Connor, but was subdued by the revolver. Both of them were quickly overcome and were also bound, gagged and thrown into a nearby cell. On the second floor they met similar but equally ineffective opposition from a single guard. After rendering him hopelessly hors de combat, they seized his keys, and opening a steel door, which gave them exit to a narrow passageway leading to the roof of a shed, they rushed headlong, and just where the jail wall runs within a foot or so, they leaped clear. In the drop of 12 feet O'Connor, Laporte and Darrow apparently suffered no injury. Sponaol, being a heavy man with small feet, had both his ankles broken and lay there until he was found unconscious, by some of the prison staff.

Tramping the Rockies.

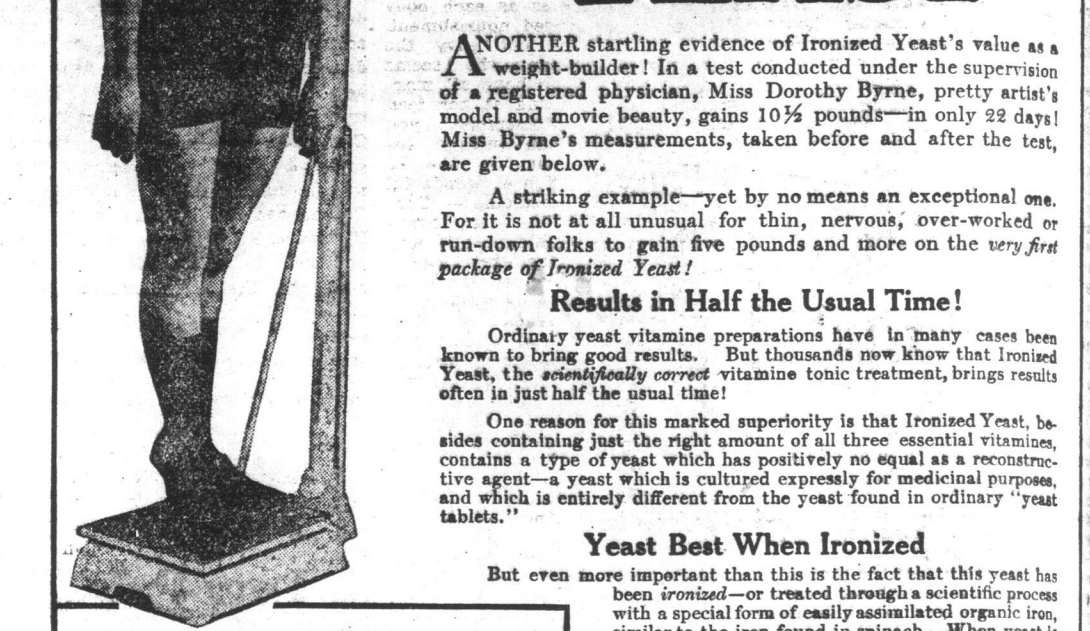

Two Famous Writers Pay Visit to Canada. Stephen Graham, the English writer, and Vachel Lindsay, the poet from Illinois, have been tramping together through the Rocky Mountains. Their adventures are described by Graham in the New York Evening Post.

"As we approach the British Empire," says Vachel, "the huckleberries grow more plentifully. They are more plentiful here than they are in the States, and the raspberries larger, the trees loftier, the air purer."

You May Be Starving In The Midst of Plenty

To Be Plump, Radiant and Attractive Your Body Cells Must Extract Every Particle of Nourishment from the Food You Eat.

TANLAC ASSISTS NATURE IN THIS AS NOTHING ELSE CAN

The wondrous grace of softly blending curves, the enchantment of virile, plump flesh, the lure of dimpling skin and the irresistible magnetism of a body radiant with health and energy give to the normally plump woman an attractiveness and charm that is denied to her thin, angular, unattractive sisters.

Fortunately, emaciation is slightly angles of form give way to soft rounding curves as each body cell receives its needed nourishment. If you are thin, do not envy the plump, radiant woman who seems to have all mankind at her feet. Remember, you can quickly become as she is. The wonderful medicine—Tanlac—is available to all who are thus handicapped. It has already made thousands of thin, frail women perfectly healthy and of normal weight, and it is only waiting for you to give it the opportunity to render you the same service. And Tanlac will not make you abnormally fleshy—Tanlac simply puts the system into normal condition and Nature then builds the body to be the thing of grace and beauty and virile efficiency that it was intended to be. You will learn the truth of this by trying Tanlac. Purchase Tanlac from any drug-gist. Do it to-day, and make a start toward health and greater beauty. Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

SIDE TALKS.

WHEN THE WIFE IS SICK.

Don't you think most men regard it somewhat in the light of a personal grievance when their wives are ill? I don't mean very ill. That's another matter. Anyone who is very ill becomes a privileged character all the love and tenderness for one keeps stowed away in lavender bags. I once happened to see a man for the first time when his wife was dangerously ill. His devotion was beautiful. Afterward I met a man who is a very happy couple. I asked him how he knew them better and he opened her eyes and said, "her mouth in astonishment. They quarrel like cats and dogs." I said, "When I told her on what I had my idea she laughed. 'The family is notorious for that.' He said, 'They adore each other when she is very ill and get all over it soon as they are better.'"

The Minor Illnesses.
To return. The illness which the wife husband unconsciously regards as a minor one—the sick headache, the backache, the sore throat, the spell of overtired nerves. He is always sure that it was totally unnecessary, that the only thing which caused it was his wife's persistence in doing something that he doesn't regard as worth fussing up with unnecessary social obligations, doing too much for some of her relatives. He would like to sympathize with her but the view of the fact that the thing that

BETTER NEWS.
LONDON, Feb. 15. Lord Birkenhead told the Lords to-day that the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the boundary conflicts in Ireland had been agreed to. He said this would lead to further co-operation between Premier Craig and Michael Collins, affording prospect of a pacific settlement. Winston Churchill told the Commons that Collins had secured release of 26 of the Ulstermen kidnapped by Sinn Feiners, and that the British Government desired the Ulster Government to liberate the football players whose detention is probably the only reason why kidnapped captives are still held.

WHY EVACUATION WAS SUSPENDED.
LONDON, Feb. 15. The announcement that the British Government regarded it necessary to suspend evacuation of British troops from Southern Ireland, was made by Winston Churchill in the House of Commons to-day. The sole reason for suspension, said Mr. Churchill, was the disturbed situation of the Northern border, and not because of anything that had happened in the Southern part of Ireland. The Colonial Secretary said Michael Collins, who would cross to England to-night to confer with Cabinet members, had informed the Government he would take steps before leaving Dublin to secure release of the kidnapped Ulstermen as soon as possible. Collins stated in his message that he knew where a number of the kidnapped men were held. Answering questions as to whether British troops would be placed in Monaghan County to prevent further raids from the South, Mr. Churchill said, "quite apart from the serious political reasons the Government has received the unanimous advice of military experts against the adoption of such a course at the present juncture."

A CRITICAL PERIOD.
LONDON, Feb. 15. Lord Birkenhead, head High Chancellor, referring to the Irish Question in the House of Lords to-night, reiterated the statement of Winston Churchill in the Commons, that allowance must be made for the fact that the Provisional Government of the Irish Free State possessed as yet only restricted powers. The High Chancellor said it was obvious the duty of the British Government to support these men in Ireland, who, under almost inconceivable difficulties, were making a courageous attempt to carry out the Treaty. Declaring he still hoped discussions between Premier Craig and Michael Collins would be renewed, Lord Birkenhead said, "we should be deceiving ourselves if we remained blind to the fact that in the next few weeks we are going through the most critical period probably in living memory. Our one hope is that we should keep cool heads and our tongues."

EVACUATION RESUMED.
BELFAST, Feb. 15. Arrangements for the evacuation of British troops from Southern Ireland were resumed to-day after a suspension lasting two days.

22 KILLED, 60 WOUNDED IN BELFAST.
LONDON, Feb. 15. Shooting continued in Belfast to-day, four persons being killed and many wounded. Casualties since Saturday were 22 persons killed and 60 wounded, not counting those receiving minor injuries. British troops were sent into Belfast to-day to restore order. They had hardly assumed duty before one soldier was shot and wounded. Michael Collins sent word to Winston Churchill that he was in a position to secure the release of a number of kidnapped Ulsterites. Collins is on his way to London.

EXTENDING RESTRICTIVE EMIGRATION LAW.
A Bill extending the life of the three per cent. Restrictive Immigration Law until June 30, 1923, was ordered reported to-day by the House Immigration Committee. This law restricts the annual entry of aliens into the United States to about 350,000 persons. It will expire next June unless extended.

TWENTY-FOUR COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.
SYDNEY, Feb. 15. Twenty-four men and boys were to-day committed for trial before the Supreme Court for alleged complicity in the recent riots at New Aberdeen when the Dominion Coal Company Store was looted of goods valued at $80,000. Sydney locals of the United Mine Workers are passing resolutions calling upon the Nova Scotia Government to cancel the leases of the Dominion Coal Company and to work the mines as a public enterprise.

BONAR LAW REPLIES.
LONDON, Feb. 15. Right Hon. A. Bonar Law, former Unionist Government leader, speaking in Glasgow yesterday said he felt in better health than for a great many years, and attributed this to freedom from worry. As far as he could see he did not intend to join any government but hoped to take an interest in public affairs as a private member of the House of Commons. Mr. Bonar Law declared that he would do all he could to prevent a change of government until he felt that the change was likely to improve the difficult situation confronting the country.

Eddie McGinley a Versatile Entertainer

The holiday program drew crowded houses to the Crescent Theatre to see "Eddie" McGinley in a new vaudeville act. Yesterday he appeared in an entirely different characterization. He showed those in doubt that he was not black but could do the white comedy as well. His song which consisted of his opening number, brought rounds of applause and an outbreak of laughter from the huge audience of delighted spectators. "Eddie" asked a boy to name any topic to which they would desire a song rendered to. Quite a number of suggestions were made to which the comedian immediately converted to a well known air which everybody knew. This really brought down the house with enthusiasm. A vaudeville stunt such as this cannot be found any day, and "Eddie" is certainly fortunate in being possessed with the remarkable talent of composing his numbers on such a short notice. This same vaudeville act will be repeated to-night together with catchy songs and dances.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.
The iron hand of President Obregon, which has been used sparingly during the fourteen months of his administration, is now effectively gripping incipient revolutions in Mexico, which in the past month have been more frequent than at any time since the last change of Government. Yesterday morning General Antonio Pruneda, General Antonio Ruiz and Captain Lugardo Perez, all formerly of the Federal Army met death before firing squads.

NOT OVERDRAWN.
LONDON, Feb. 15.
Twenty four hours of calm on the Ulster frontier has brought some relief from the tension surrounding the Irish situation. The statement by Lord High Chancellor Birkenhead yesterday, however, that "in the next few weeks we are going through most grave and critical period, probably in living memory," is generally regarded as in no particular way drawn.

GHANDI DOING PENANCE.
BOMBAY, Feb. 15.
Gandhi, leader of the Non-Co-operationist movement announces that he began, last Sunday, a five days fast as penance for the recent disturbances in Chauri Chaura. He says he will regard his fast as punishment for those who committed "brutal murders, whose no amount of provocation could possibly justify." Gandhi advises those guilty of participating in the Chauri Chaura fighting, in which seventeen native policemen were killed, voluntarily to surrender and confess their crimes. He says he regards this tragedy as the third warning from God against hardy embarking on massed civil disobedience, and as his bitterest proof of humiliation, but he deems such humiliation, ostracism, or even death, preferable to any countenancing of untruth or violence.

NEXT TO CIVIL WAR.
BELFAST, Feb. 15.
Firing in Stanhope Street area, when disorder broke out again this afternoon, after a lull of several hours, became so intense that police, hurried to scene, were forced to use their arms to subdue snipers, but a disorderly crowd continued to gather, and a bayonet charge was ordered, in which one civilian was wounded. The district around simmered with excitement throughout the afternoon. About five o'clock there were outbreaks of firing from old Lodge Road into Townsend Street, one street from Stanhope, where a shopkeeper was shot through the head and taken to Hospital in a dying condition. Two other persons were seriously wounded and many others were taken to Hospital, after rioting early in the afternoon, with those injured in the latest outbreak. The number of casualties for four days passed the hundred mark. Six men, this afternoon, invaded the office of the New Northern Spinning Company, and fired revolvers indiscriminately. Assistant Manager William Duffin was killed, and one clerk wounded. Duffin is a nephew of Adam Duffin, member of the Ulster Senate. A bomb was exploded in the dock district to-night, wounding Father McGrath, Constable O'Rourke, Mary Hart and James Maxwell. Four men entered the house of Charles Millan and shot him. He is dying. Additional troops are on the way here from Ballykishar.

HIS DIARY.
February 14th (Valentine's Day). To walk, my wife and I, and she had on her new fur coat (of which I hear, the latest fashion which is a mighty strange thing, that two men who do stand for an attempt to rescue from the watch, did really give the law assistance. At night, I met there Mr. Hartman, Brooks and Hon. W. Warren. I have some discourse with the dance the lancers, nor does advanced age make me any the less in doing so. To-night, it comes mind to set down how the whole seems mad for amusement. But where people do get these days much of money as he spent is a to think of.

February 15th.—A whole day being the Curlers' Day for the orial. To my chururgeon and he advises me to be cut for my appendix which is advice little to my thinking how it will spoil my plan for the season. But in one way, it being that it will save my my wife's nagging for a night month. To the Club and to the billiards and at bridge. Very of the express train, that it did the Topsails to-day, and it does there these three days, nor any in the country these two weeks night, to the pictures and so on to bed.

Attention was made in the Commemoration after by Edwin Mountray, Secretary for India.

EPIDEMIC OVER.
LONDON, Feb. 15.
The Influenza Epidemic in Paris is practically over, says a Reuters patch. There are now only four feverers in Paris hospitals compared with nine hundred cases only a days ago.

AN ADMIXTURE.
LONDON, Feb. 15.
There was much discussion in the lobby of the House of Commons night regarding the future of the so called coupon principle as by candidates received official approval as good coalitionists. The report that the two wings will next general election as independent allies, forces, is understood to be substantially correct. It is believed that negotiations with a view to allocation of constituencies between them is proceeding, and it is expected that one of the reasons for withdrawal of coupons was to be "the die hard" Unionists to remain the fold of Orthodox Unionists.

LONDON, Feb. 15.
The Bank of England to-day reduced its rate of discount to four and half per cent.

PERFECTLY SATISFIED.
LONDON, Feb. 15.
Michael Collins' return to the after only twelve hours in London and his admission that he was dissatisfied with the result of conferences with the Government here, are taken to mean that British evacuation of South West will be resumed forthwith, and time uninterrupted. This will relieve the situation in Ireland of its serious features.

DOING IT BY HALVES.
LONDON, Feb. 15.
The London Editor of the Bulletin, to-day, asserts that the Government has decided to employ only half of the Irish political prisoners held in Great Britain. This discrimination in classes of political prisoners, the Bulletin has caused intense indignation in Irish residents of the country. Preparations are being made to intensify a campaign of protest against the haggling methods of the Government.

Kirk Men's Association

WIRELESS LECTURE BY EXPERT.
At a general meeting of the Kirk Men's Association held in the Presbyterian Hall on Tuesday Night, Mr. F. L. Southgate gave an address on Wireless Telegraphy and Wireless Telephony. As Mr. Southgate is an expert in these matters, and saw extensive service with the British Army in France as Aeroplane Observer, etc. he was able to explain at first hand how the observation work was carried out, and the manner in which the batteries were given the range of enemy positions, troops, etc., how ships, both land and sea, were able to get their positions exactly from Directional Finding Stations, and a lot of other very interesting information. This was one of the most instructive and interesting addresses the Association has listened to, and it is hoped in a short time that Mr. Southgate will be able to give the Association a practical demonstration of Wireless Telephone. The President, J. W. Morris, then showed a couple of moving pictures of educational subjects which were enjoyed, after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Southgate and Mr. Morris, and the singing of God Save the King brought a very successful and enjoyable evening to a close.

Slumbering Patriotism.
Whilst the cause, from which emanates the effort towards the success of the Officers' Ball, might have been supported by more patriotic effort through fuller realization of its necessity, it remains at last but the plain duty of every person to at least enthusiastically endorse this one and perhaps final effort to the successful erecting of our War Memorial.

This Officers' Ball requires full public patronage. We went for you, won't you come for us? feb16.21

Nfld. Poultry Association.

The regular monthly meeting was held in the Board of Trade Building. The newly-elected President in the chair, and Secretary McCarter with a larger attendance than the average. The members decided to hold their final local egg laying contest for an experiment managed by Vice-President Arch C. Tait, and Messrs. J. F. Calver and John Duff. The contest will be only for three months, beginning March 1st. Members have entered about 12 pens of fowls and will care for them in their own yards reporting to the Committee each month. At the end of three months the number of eggs laid and the breeds will be published. The Association expects poultry men all over the island will watch this with interest and incidentally make records of their own laying birds to compare results. The annual dinner takes place Thursday week, February 23 at West End Candy Store, and each member will be allowed to bring one guest. The dinner is in the hands of Messrs. W. D. McCarter, Con-venor, and Vice-President Arch C. Tait, Shields, Judge's Stanley White, and Lynch to finalise arrangements. Mr. A. J. Bayly addressed the meeting and reported on the lecture at Kelligrews some time ago. As a result two residents there have built model poultry houses and are going to breed pure stock this year. The prize offered for essays were won by Lilly Butler and Thomas Lambwood equal, and Roy Fowler (2nd), all of Codrington School, Kelligrews. The Association hopes to purchase a lantern to illustrate future lectures and visit some of the nearby outposts during the year. The matter of the model poultry house plant submitted by Architect McCarter and the finalizing of arrangements for distributing hatching eggs owing to want of time was left over until next meeting.

The Siege of Kimberley.

The 15th of February, 1900, saw the relief of Kimberley, which had been besieged by the Boers for four months. On Oct. 15, 1899, the inhabitants were warned by the sirens of the mines, that the Boers were about to attack, so the garrison lay ready in their entrenchments, but the enemy contented themselves with driving off cattle and investing the town. The garrison was commanded by Colonel Kekewich, who had about 4,000 men under him, of whom only 700 were regulars, the remainder being miners, workmen and other civilians. On Nov. 4 the Boer, Commandant Wessels summoned the town to surrender, but was refused, so he bombarded the town with 9 pounder guns, but quite ineffectively. The shortage of food was more serious and the inhabitants were put on rations. Later in November the garrison made two sorties, one of which was successful and one disastrous. On Nov. 22 Lord Methuen with 3,000 men, set out from Orange River, 60 miles away, for their relief and after fighting battles at Belmont, Emslin and the Modder River, he met with a severe reverse at Magersfontein and was unable to advance any further. The Kimberley garrison heard the British guns and after a gleam of hope settled down again to wait. In January they made a rifled cannon in the De Beers workshops which did considerable execution on the enemy. The Boers then brought up a large gun, which threw a 96lb. shell four miles, and on Feb. 7 they bombarded the town with it. As no house was safe from its shells the women and children were placed in the mines. Meanwhile Lord Roberts had been making plans for their relief, and when all was ready he sent a large British force in another direction in order to divert the enemy's attention. General (afterwards Lord) French, with the main British force, then advanced 100 miles in three days under a blazing sun, during which many men and horses fell and died, but still the army pushed on. The Boers offered great resistance and were swept aside, and on the night of Feb. 15 General French and his staff entered Kimberley. The Boers got their big gun away, as the British were too exhausted to pursue. Great praise is due to Colonel (afterwards Major-General) Kekewich and his men for their successful defence of an open town for such a long time.

A Lost Continent.

Was there once a mighty continent in the South Seas? This fascinating theory is just now engaging the attention of students of South Sea geography. Many firmly believe that what is now the "milky way" of the Pacific—the isle-dotted sea—was at one time a vast coral and volcanic continent; that it has subsided in one place and been upheaved in another, until broken into myriad fragments. And the day may still come when Nature will raise them from the deep, welded once more into a mighty whole.

of the Dream Ship," while admitting that he is no scientist, points out many facts that support this theory. There is, for example, a wall on Easter Island, not unlike the great wall of China, but which runs for a short distance and then plunges seemingly into the sea. Where did it embrace? On Pitcairn there are the remains of a former and highly advanced civilization. On Lord Howe Island, a mere rock sprouting three thousand feet out of the sea, four hundred and eighty miles from the Australian coast, there are sixty different species of land shell, fifty per cent. of which are not to be found anywhere else in the world. How do they come to be on Lord Howe? In the Carolines you may look down into the water of lagoons and see mosaic floors and broken walls, the remains of a submerged city.

Fashions and Fads.

A dress of blue velvet is effectively trimmed with bands of gray squirrel and a knot of silver ribbon on the shoulder. Curious "looped" armholes are featured among the smartest capes. They are usually edged with chenille dots, loops or buttons. A frock of black Spanish lace has its voluminous slashed sleeves caught at the wrist. Jet and monkey fur serve as trimmings. The fur cape made of soft pelts has its fullness gathered in a yoke effect, from where it falls in graceful lines to the hem of skirt.

A frock of black Canton crepe has hem and yoke at neck edged with scallops and is girdled at a low waist line with metal and green beads. Colors featured for spring are king's blue, French blue, vermilion, the fuchsia shades, gold, golden browns, gray, peacock green and black.

Do you want your choice of a Suit or Overcoat—cut, made and trimmed in the Spurrell way—at almost your own price? We must have work, even if we don't get profits. SPURRELL the Tailor, 365 Water Street. jan30, eod, it Revising the Tariff.

At every general election since Responsible Government was granted Newfoundland, one of the strongest planks in the platform of each political party was "Tariff Revision," and so set was it in lurid language that the phrase fairly shrieked at the voters from every hustings whereon candidates stood. Nor did Tariff Revision fail to play its part in the last general election. It was there in the same old familiar garb, and did yeoman service too. After over two years in power of the party which promised this one of its first acts—we all know how they have raised duties beyond power of payment—it is now announced that a Committee on Tariff Revision is to be appointed and get to work immediately. So far the personnel of this revising board is not known, but let it be hoped that the Government will appoint men who know all about the job they have to undertake, all about conditions generally, and be absolutely impartial in their judgment and determinations.

It will be surprising to many to learn that there has been no general revision of the Tariff since 1898. In that year Mr. A. B. Morine, then acting Minister of Customs, completed an entirely different tariff from that formerly in use, basing it on the Canadian Tariff in form and Assembly of Heads and Items. It was a tariff of confusion. There was no index and though the various departments were supposed to be arranged alphabetically, the sequence or regularity was not maintained, with the result, to give but one illustration out of many that could be quoted, if an importer wanted to find the rate of duty on Tanned Paper, he had to look for it under the head of Stationery. Any reader who is not convinced of the ridiculousness of this, can easily verify the statement by turning up the regular tariff of the current year, and he will find it just as has been alleged, for notwithstanding successive changes of Government, with all the opportunities they have had, no change whatever was made in the printed form of the tariff of 1898. Perhaps successive Ministers of Customs considered it quite good enough, or maybe they could not improve upon it, or again they might have thought that it would be good mental exercise for the Sub-Collectors in the outposts to engage in a game of "Chase the item" through a tortuous chaos of arrangement, or disarrangement, to be more precise. Be that as it may, with certain tinkering and changes in rates, about which we shall have more to say later on, the old 1898 tariff has stood the strain of twenty four years and will probably have achieved its quarter century mark ere it is buried with all tokens of honour and respect.

War Memorial Drive.

S.U.F. CLUB OPENS CAMPAIGN.
A most enjoyable two hours was spent in the Hall of the Society United Fishermen on Tuesday evening last, when some three hundred people assembled to hear Padre Nangle's lecture in aid of the War Memorial. The Executive of the S.U.F. Club is responsible for the promotion of the function, to which His Excellency the Governor extended his distinguished patronage, but regretted his inability to be present. The Chair was taken at 8.30 by the Deputy Grand Master, C. T. James, who briefly explained the object and purpose of the gathering, complimenting the S.U.F. Club on the honor which had fallen to its members in inaugurating the new drive in aid of the proposed War Memorial. Following several musical and vocal selections, the Chairman introduced the lecturer, who at the outset, referred to the spirit manifested by the S.U.F. as being the same which animated our boys during the war when neither class nor creed mattered. He then quoted Kipling as follows:—
"Not as leaders from earth to Heaven
Not as witness to the Creed,
But simple service, simply given
To his own kind in the common need."

He referred to the great send-off our boys were given and to the promises made to them. In touching words he portrayed what our soldiers suffered, quoting incidents which came under his notice during his service as chaplain. He also referred to their treatment when they returned unfit for civil life. In glowing terms he paid an especial tribute to the members of the Royal Naval Reserve whose deeds were so well known and whose valour would be spoken of for ages to come. With regard to those who had not returned nothing had been done to preserve their memory and he emphasized the need of a Memorial which would express the feelings of the community as a whole. At the conclusion of Padre Nangle's very convincing address, the Club usher took up a collection using German Helmets for contribution boxes. A handsome sum was realised and presented the Padre. A vote of thanks, moved by Mr. S. G. Collier and seconded by Mr. P. H. Cowan was accorded by acclamation and tendered the lecturer by the Chairman, Padre Nangle making appropriate response. Prior to closing the Chairman invited the representatives of the various Societies and Clubs present, together with those who took part in the programme, to a social gathering in the Grand Lodge Room, where subsequently a very enjoyable hour was spent. The programme carried through follows:—
Chairman's Remarks.
Piano Voluntary.—Miss M. Burridge.
Song.—Mr. C. Hammond.
Recitation.—Mr. W. White.
Solo.—Miss M. Burridge.
Lecture.—Lt-Col. (Rev.) T. Naangle, C.F.

Express Due To-Morrow

After being nearly six days on the road, the express which left Port aux Basques on Saturday last, has now a clear track and should arrive in town early to-morrow afternoon. The express left Grand Falls at noon to-day. It is preceded by a Rotary pull. This express is bringing the first mail to arrive here for over a week.

The Road-de-Luxe.

Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., Counsel for the defence, in the Road de Luxe case, did not appear in Court to-day to state his willingness or otherwise to have the case tried summarily. The Crown has asked that the evidence taken in the preliminary enquiry should be used and so have the necessity of recalling the numerous witnesses obviated.

Harboured at Trepassey

Schr. Nancy Lee, 35 days from Pernambuco, harboured at Trepassey on Tuesday. S.S. Cabot left in the afternoon to town the schooner to port, but owing to an accident to her circulating pump was obliged to return. The tug John Green left last evening and will endeavour to tow the vessel to port.

Derelict Sighted.

The following message for publicity from the Wireless Station at Mount Pearl was received to-day by the Minister of Shipping.—S.S. Bastian City at 11.35 G.M.T. lat. 41.05 N. long. 54.10 W. passed twelve miles North, a derelict schooner, with hull showing 6 ft. out of water, and jibboom standing. The derelict is supposed to be the schooner Optimist, which was reported abandoned some short time ago.

Coal in Quantity.

Reports from Morley's Cove, Trinity Bay continue to show that the coal seams in that region contain larger deposits than were anticipated or discovered by former surveys. A new seam altogether has been discovered, which shows a surface thickness of six feet, and apparently broadens as it descends. Developing operations will be conducted during the winter and when spring opens it is expected that several cargoes will be loaded at the shipping point, owned by the Company, for local consumption.

Llewellyn Club.

At the Canon Wood Hall to-night Rev. E. C. Barr will lecture on "The Church in the Firing Line." Lt-Col. Nangle will be present and address the gathering. Both being war veterans the addresses are sure to be attractive and inspiring. The lecture will begin at 8 sharp, so that the programme may not be extended unduly. All men are invited and will be welcome.

Promotions Announced.

The Inspector General read the following well deserved promotions amongst the members of the Fire Department yesterday.
Sergeant Neary to be District Chief.
Fire Constable Thomas Benson, to be Sergeant.
Engineer Kavanagh of the Western Station and Engineer Byrne of the Central Station are given the rank of Sergeants.
Fire Constable P. McGinn of the West End Station to be acting Sergeant.
Fire Constable M. Codner, to be Motor Engineer.
Fire Constable Chapman, to be Stable Superintendent.

NEW METHOD OF FINANCING.
The Citizens' Committee on unemployment held a largely attended meeting on Tuesday evening. Matters in connection with the snow shovelling and other work which has been provided was discussed. General Superintendent J. Davey reported that 950 men were now on relief work in the city. He desired that efforts be made to secure closer supervision on the part of the various inspectors. Mr. Purcell, one of the Unemployed Committee, on behalf of that body stated that they should have representation on the Citizens Committee. This was not thought desirable, but it was agreed that for the purpose of helping matters along provision for consultations would be arranged. The delegate also intimated that a number of men were given relief work paid 20 cents to the Unemployed Committee. With the present number on relief work the toll would amount to nearly $200 per week and it is obvious that the Committee are anxious to have as many at work as possible.

Thief's Heavy Sentence.

TWELVE MONTHS HARD LABOUR FOR BAGG—MONEY RECOVERED.
Sentence of twelve months with hard labour, was passed on the man Bagg, convicted of the larceny of over $370 from Butt's store at Badger. This was the accused's second offence. All the money has been recovered. Bagg had been working on the Badger Road and has lately been living in the settlement with his wife. He recently entered the store of B. W. Butt and took all the money from the till. Finding the safe open, he cleaned this out also. Detective Constable Lee was sent to investigate and immediately suspected Bagg. A search of the man's house did not reveal anything. It was found later that the stolen money had been secreted in a snow bank. Later, Bagg, to lull suspicion, applied to the Reliefing Officer for a passage for himself and his wife to St. John's. Detective Lee was notified and proceeded to town before them. He arrested Bagg and his wife at Waterford Bridge. A search revealed that Bagg had $64 on his person, while the woman had $808 hidden in a rag, wrapped round her body. In passing sentence, the Judge said it was very evident that the robbery had been premeditated.

Curlers' Drive.

OVER THE TOP WITH $3,200.
Secretary Salter of the Curlers' Association, announces that as a result of their drive the sum of about $3,200 has been realized. This amount will help to swell the funds for the War Memorial. Lt-Col. Nangle has gained the respect and esteem of the Curlers as the results show. Secretary Salter desires that all should follow the motto of the Curlers: "Be up and don't be short." In this connection he expects a bumper haul at a Sacred Concert, which takes place at the Star Hall on Sunday night next at 8.30 o'clock. The affair promises to be exceptionally good, and is under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor, His Grace the Archbishop, and the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland.

Stole Revolver.

YOUNG GIRL TAKES FIREARMS AND BULLETS—SUSPENDED SENTENCE.
The Washington Disarmament Conference evidently had no effect on the domestic charged before Judge Morris this morning with the larceny of a revolver, 500 rifle bullets and other articles belonging to her mistress. A witness stated that accused had given him the revolver which he had lost. He gave her in exchange, a smaller revolver of his own. Accused pleaded guilty to taking most of the articles, especially good, and is under the charge against her. She said she was 18 years of age, and belonged to Portugal Cove. Inspector General Hutchings asked if there were some way of sending the girl to her home, as her parents are well able to support her. Suspended sentence was passed and the girl's parents will be asked to guarantee her future good behaviour.

Warning to Public.

INTERFERENCE WITH THE POLICE WILL NOT BE BROOKED.
"In future, the police, acting on my orders, will drop their prisoners and arrest any of the public who interfere with them in the execution of their duty," said Inspector General Hutchings in the Police Court to-day. The occasion was the conclusion of the trial of two men, charged with interfering with the arrest of two drunks on Saturday night last. The case had been postponed from Tuesday. Mr. Fox, for the defendants, called witnesses to prove that in reality, accused had the accused's second offence. All things up, he declared that the only thing they were guilty of was officiousness. Inspector General Hutchings said there was too much of this kind of officiousness. He then made the statement quoted above. In fining the accused $5 or 10 days. Judge Morris advised the public to pay particular attention to the Inspector General's warning.

Warning to Public.

INTERFERENCE WITH THE POLICE WILL NOT BE BROOKED.
"In future, the police, acting on my orders, will drop their prisoners and arrest any of the public who interfere with them in the execution of their duty," said Inspector General Hutchings in the Police Court to-day. The occasion was the conclusion of the trial of two men, charged with interfering with the arrest of two drunks on Saturday night last. The case had been postponed from Tuesday. Mr. Fox, for the defendants, called witnesses to prove that in reality, accused had the accused's second offence. All things up, he declared that the only thing they were guilty of was officiousness. Inspector General Hutchings said there was too much of this kind of officiousness. He then made the statement quoted above. In fining the accused $5 or 10 days. Judge Morris advised the public to pay particular attention to the Inspector General's warning.

Must Have the Paper.

Don't stop my paper, printer:
Don't strike my name off yet;
You know the times are stringing,
And dollars hard to get;
But tug a little harder
Is what I mean to do,
And scrape enough together—
Enough for me and you.
I can't afford to drop it,
And I find it doesn't pay
To do without a paper,
However others may.
I hate to ask my neighbors
To give theirs on loan;
They don't just say, but mean it,
"Why don't you have your own?"
You can't tell how we miss it
It is, by any fate.
Shouldn't happen not to reach us,
Or come a little late.
Then all is in a hubbub,
And things go all awry;
And, printer, if you're married,
You'll know the reason why.
The children want those stories,
And wife is anxious too,
At first to glance it over,
And then to read it through;
And I read the editorials
And scan the local news,
And read the correspondence,
And every bit of news.

the bank had not a shilling to buy the papers' dinners on the day the branch doors closed. It was only another lesson to the thrifty not to expect more than a reasonable interest on their money—or better still, only to bank with sound institutions.

The Marvels of a Modern Electric Power-Station.

How would you like to foot a coal bill of 300 tons a day? That is the amount of fuel used by the Metropolitan Railway at their London Power Station.

Every day thirty ten-ton trucks empty their loads into the power house coal-hole. Each truck in turn is shunted into a big iron frame, securely fastened with steel grips, and turned upside down. A quicker method, that, than shovelling out the coal by hand, for to fix a full truck in the frame and turn out every piece of coal takes just three minutes. Inside there are forty huge furnaces, each burning half a ton of coal an hour while working, and each capable of evaporating five tons of water in the same time. Water boils at a temperature of 212 deg. Fahr., but in these boilers the steam is dried and superheated to a temperature of 540 deg. at 180 lb. pressure.

On paper these facts convey nothing of the atmosphere of energy and power that is prevalent everywhere. The furnace house with its forty fires, each 10 feet long and 6 feet wide, is a comparative haven of quietness, there is nothing but the roar of the fires and the rush of the coal coming down the automatic conveyers. But in the engine house that runs behind the furnaces human speech is useless.

Dazed by the noise, you may wonder round pipes, under pipes and over pipes all throbbing with superheated steam. In the distance there is a man wiping his hands on some cotton waste. After much trouble you make your way through a forest of pipes and arrive at his side. You ask him a question, you repeat it, you say it very loud and clear, you go and shout it in his ear; but he only smiles and shakes his head and goes on wiping the oil from his hands. He knows it is useless to try to speak in there to those unaccustomed.

Adjoining the boiler house is the dynamo room, where the air around you and the floor beneath vibrate with the humming of the five great turbo-dynamos. The turbines are of 55,000 horse power, only 10,000 less than the giant liner, the Mauretania, and the dynamos they drive generate electricity at 11,000 volts, 500 of which would kill a man.

To the casual observer it seems odd, with this huge expenditure of fuel and energy, that economy should be the watchword of this great power-house.

Economy the Watchword.

Even the water is supplied on the spot from three artesian wells, the largest of which is 600 feet deep, and gives 20,000 gallons every hour, and when it has gone through the turbines it goes into giant condensers and cooling towers that cool it at the rate of 2,000,000 gallons an hour.

The coal is all carefully weighed and the water measured before going into the furnaces as boilers, and to prevent any undue waste of heat several sensitive instruments have been installed that can show by the turning of a handle how every furnace is working.

These instruments are all kept in a room to themselves away from the noise and heat, and are the very latest of their kind.

Turn the pointer on one of them to a spot marked 20, and an indicator moving across a dial tells you the temperature of the gases coming out of a furnace some 150 feet away. If the temperature is above a certain figure it is a sure sign that the boiler is dirty and needs cleaning.

The next instrument shows the temperature of the smoke going up the 200 feet stack outside, another means of discovering whether or not heat is being wasted.

Economy is one watchword of this giant generating plant, but not the only one; there are three 2 1/2 in the crew of every workman in the building. Economy, Efficiency and Enterprise.

Harbor Grace Notes.

The Grand Fancy Dress Carnival which was set for Wednesday night 8th inst. and had to be postponed owing to the inclement weather, came off on Friday night at the Skating Rink, and was a success. A goodly number of masqueraders were present, and also a fine crowd of spectators. The Ladies prize for the most original costume was won by Miss S. B. Hayes, as "Give us Work"; and the Gentleman's prize had to be settled by a draw between two parties, it being considered that both costumes were most original and called forth a large amount of praise and admiration, equally deserving commendation. Mr. M. P. Stapleton, representing "Bound for Bell Island" secured the prize and the other gentleman referred to, viz.—Mr. Ed White-way, representing "The Hr. Grace Cottage Hospital," although receiving no recognition as the prize winner, was considered worthy of special mention.

Nurse Lizzie Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sheppard, of the General Hospital, St. John's spent the week-end here and returned to the city again by this morning's train.

Miss Frances Casey, R. C. Teacher at North River, spent the week-end here, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Casey and friends.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tapp on Monday, 6th inst.

Mrs. C. Pike who has been very ill for the past week is now much improved and her friends hope to see her fully restored to health again in the course of a few days.

The body of the late Miss Johanna McCormick, whose death took place at the General Hospital, St. John's last week, was brought home for interment and the funeral took place from from Bristol's Hope yesterday (Sunday) afternoon; service being held at the R. C. Cathedral and her remains were laid to rest in the R. C. Cemetery here. A mother, three brothers, and one sister are left to mourn her sudden demise.—R.I.P.

A hockey match is being played at the Skating Rink to-night, Monday, between a team from Carbonear and one from our own town.

Our daily "Iron Horse" which is due to arrive about 2:30 p.m., has been delayed owing to a snow-slide, so we learn, not many miles from the city, and did not put in her appearance until after tea hour.

The Sadlier Frauds.

The recent failure of Farrow's Bank brings to recollection the Sadlier frauds of the last century. John Sadlier was born in Tipperary about the year 1820, and after serving an apprenticeship to a solicitor he became a Parliamentary agent in London, and, entering the circle of finance, established the Tipperary Joint Stock Bank, which became a great success. In 1847 he entered Parliament as the representative of Carlow, and by means of his wealth controlled the action. He trafficked successfully of Irish landed estates, and was deep in many financial enterprises; at one time he is said to have owned every cargo of sugar in port or at sea between England and the Indies. About 1854 it was rumoured that he was insolvent, and in 1856 there was a run on the Tipperary Bank. He applied to a Mr. Wilkinson, of London, for assistance, but it was refused, as the title deeds upon which that gentleman had previously advanced money were found to be forgeries. By this time—February 16, 1856—a still more dreadful tale was known to all the world, for John Sadlier's body, stiff and stark, was found on a little mound on Hampstead Heath a small silver tankard, which smelt strongly of prussic acid, lying by his side. When this news was known a financial panic ensued; for weeks fresh revelations of fraud came hourly to view, and by the month of April the total had reached £1,250,000. In Ireland the people flocked round the Tipperary Bank and its branches, and the scenes of mad despair were heart-rending. Old men went about like maniacs, widows knelt in the streets and implored Providence to protect them; and even the Poor Laws Commissioners, which had kept their accounts at Tragedy of a Duchess.

It was said that "if Europe was searched through no such pretty, merry children as the five daughters of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria would be found." They were allowed to grow up without any restraints, and the corridors of the grim castle of Possenhofen rang with their laughter and their romps. For such children life seemed to hold out its fairest prospect; and yet tragedy brooded over every one of them. The eldest died soon after the bells ceased to ring for her nuptials; the second wore a Crown as Queen of Naples, only to have it snatched from her head after a turbulent and troubled reign; the third sister's wedded happiness was wrecked by her husband's suicide; the fourth, after long years of unhappiness as Empress of Austria, saw her son's life close in tragedy and disgrace, and lost her own to the cowardly blow of an assassin; while, for the youngest sister a fate still more terrible was in store. Whilst wandering as a child in the Possenhofen forest she met a gipsy woman who told her fortune. The gipsy said: "You need never fear water; but that which is the enemy of water is 'thine enemy.'" This prophecy was tragically fulfilled long years later. From her birth on Feb. 15, 1848, to her death, tragedy seemed to dog her footsteps. Against her consent she was betrothed to Ludwig the young King of Bavaria, who was even then showing signs of the madness that was so soon to have him in its grip. Great preparations were made for the marriage, but just before the wedding-day a notice appeared in the "Court Journal" stating that the marriage arranged between his majesty and the Princess Sophie would not take place. All Bavaria was struck with consternation and the Princess was humiliated, but his majesty refused point blank to wed her. Within two years, however, she stood at the altar with Ferdinand, Duc d'Arencon, the handsomest of all the Orleans family and for a time they were ideally happy. But her husband's love grew cold and strayed to others. Her marriage tie becoming odious to her she announced her intention to seek a divorce. The result was that she was taken to a private asylum near Gratz. But the day was drawing near when the gipsy's prediction was to have its tragic fulfillment. At a bazaar held in a light wooden structure near the Champs Elysees in Paris, which she had organized, and at which she attended, a fire broke out. Soon the place was a struggling mass of shouting and weeping women, and wild, struggling men. The duchess alone made no effort to save her life, and when at last the fire fiend had wrought his will the remains of the duchess were found, indentified by a wedding ring which bore the inscription "28 Sept., 1868. Princess d'Orleans, Sophie de Baviere."

"Billeted."

PLAY HAS SUCCESSFUL START

"Billeted," a play which has had a successful run in England, opened at the Casino on Tuesday night under the direction of Mrs. J. Baxter. The production was completely filled. The play deals with certain aspects of modern society, and gives considerable scope for the display of the dramatic talents of the principals. Herbert Outerbridge gave a splendid portrayal of the part of "Mrs. Liptrot," the Vicar's sister. She has already gained a well merited reputation for her excellence in the art of elocution, and her performance in "Billeted" serves only to enhance it. Miss Mary Ryan played the difficult part of "Betty Taradine" charmingly, and showed herself to be possessed of human artistic talent. As "Penelope" Miss K. Frazer demonstrated dramatic powers in a most pleasing manner. It was the first opportunity she has had to perform on the stage and playgoers will be anxious to see her again. Neither Miss Kavanagh nor Mrs. Hutton parts which permitted them to do justice to themselves, and this was a most regrettable thing about the whole performance. Mr. F. J. King was excellent as "Peter Taradine" and Mr. H. J. Dowling as "Colonel Freedy" won well merited applause. In the part of the Rev. Ambrose Liptrot, Mr. Karl Trapnell was provided with a difficult role which he portrayed well. Mr. P. J. Grace as Mr. McFarlane acted up to his reputation as one of the leading actors of the city, though he appeared only in a minor part. Throughout the evening the popular Captain Bulley and C.C.C. Band rendered catchy selections. Between the acts Miss Hilda Krentzlin sang sweetly and beautifully. Messrs. Wallace, Jardine and Hickey the well known city trio, gave comical selections which were greeted with thundering applause. They have acquired the art of pleasing any audience and have kindly consented to appear at each performance. The stage settings were exquisite a credit to Mr. John Baxter who acted as stage director. The flowers were the gratuitous gift of Mr. John McNeil and the theatre was kindly loaned by the ever obliging Mr. P. J. Kiely, whose many contributions of this nature for charitable purposes are highly appreciated. The boys of Mount Gabriel School appeared in a carnival of dancing, featuring a new dance known as "The Banks" and set to our native air

New Superintendent Gazetted.

TELEGRAM FIRST WITH THE NEWS.
As announced in the Telegram nearly two weeks ago, the appointment of Head Constable P. J. O'Neill to the position of Superintendent of Police in place of Superintendent W. Grimes, retired, has just been gazetted. Yesterday morning the announcement was made to the Constabulary at their regular parade, by Inspector General Hutchings. The Telegram reiterates its congratulations to Superintendent O'Neill on the high honour done him, and to Superintendent Grimes on his completion of over 50 years of meritorious service.

DAISY SENT TO HER ASSISTANCE.
A message was received yesterday stating that the S.S. Sisto, 19 days out to this port, with a part cargo of coal, was caught in the ice about 60 miles off port. (The ship has her fore peak full of water, and asked that assistance be sent. The S.S. Daisy was put in readiness and sailed yesterday at 4 p.m. The Sisto is under charter to the Union Trading Company to load fish for the Mediterranean.

Eat MRS. STEWART'S Home Made Bread.—oct18.6mo

George Dale on 5,000 Mile Tour.

FROM MIAMI, FLA., TO ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND.
Mr. George Dale, tenor, who is singing at the Nickel has, in filling this engagement, completed probably one of the longest and most successful tours ever made by an artist singing exclusively in moving picture houses. The standard of artist found in this work has steadily risen from the "shouter" who performed with alacrity to the concert and operatic star. The names of those who are now in this work, read like a list of artists in the Metropolitan Opera Company: Henry Scott; formerly Metropolitan Opera Company; Carl Jörn, formerly Metropolitan Opera Company; Judson House, Greek Evans, William Robyn, George Dale—artists whose success is recognized and whose artistry is unquestioned. The tremendous popularity of the moving picture industry has made it possible to induce the most successful concert and operatic stars into this field, and the moving picture "fan" showed immediate appreciation, demanding with ever-increasing forcefulness the presentation of the most classic works, which up to the entry of the motion picture, were only enjoyed by very few.

LONG LINE OF SINGERS.
Mr. Dale has been exceptionally successful in this work. He comes from a long line of singers, his father received his training in London, then went to the United States and established an enviable reputation with the Bostonian Opera Company, known the world over. Young Mr. Dale received his training under his father, and the innumerable praise comments complimentary to the clarity of his diction can be credited to his early training. Just about one year ago Mr. Dale sailed from New York to Jacksonville, Florida, going from there to Miami, Florida, to fill his first engagement of the season. Here began a tour which covered the entire eastern coast, including Miami, Ft. Jacksonville, Fla., Augusta, Ga., Atlanta, Ga., Charleston, S.C., Norfolk, Va., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, Pa., Pittsburg Pa., Newark, N.J., New York, N.Y., Boston, Mass., Springfield, Mass., Bangor, Me., and finally St. John's, Newfoundland. Success met him at every city, and it has already been shown that his engagement here is another equally successful one.

A TENOR OF GREAT RANGE.
There is a grace and ease about his singing which shows the long careful instruction he has received. It does not seem to matter whether he is singing a love ballad or an operatic aria, always that same ease and assurance is present. There is apparently no limit to the range of his voice, it is purely tenor in quality, and there is never the slightest deviation from the pitch. The quality is remarkably velvety and his interpretations are exceptionally convincing. So often singers gifted with great vocal powers, cheapen their work by exploiting the voice at the expense of the composition—not so with this artist—he never seems to forget that first the song must be rendered as the author intended, and that his voice is an instrument to use solely for that purpose. There is a tenderness and sympathy about his interpretation of heart songs, which is a gift rarely found in the singers of the present day. We hope that Mr. Dale's stay will be long, because the work of such a talented and serious student is worth while and we are grateful to Mr. Kiely for bringing him to us.—Com.

A Beaver Board ceiling will cost no more than a good rug, but unlike a rug, a Beaver Board ceiling will not wear out, it will last as long as your house, and after 20 years' wear will look as good as when first put on.

Within a month or so you will begin house cleaning, won't you decide to do just one ceiling with Beaver Board? It will wonderfully improve the appearance of your room.

If you do one room this year and your main hallway also with Beaver Board, you will be delighted and you will have a home to be proud of. Think it over.

A Beaver Board ceiling costs less and looks better than a plastered or V jointed ceiling. Beaver Board is good enough for your best room and cheap enough for your kitchen; about $9.00 worth of Beaver Board will cover your ceiling.

A dining room with walls and ceiling panelled with Beaver Board is the utmost in style and comfort. You can do your dining room—both walls and ceiling—with about $30.00 worth of Beaver Board.

This is the Beaver Board trade mark. Look for this brand on the back of the board you buy.

If the board you buy as Beaver Board is not branded like this you are being cheated. Give us the information and get $50.00.

Cathedral Debating Club

Another interesting debate was held by the Cathedral debating club last night, when the subject of discussion was the resolution "that modern civilization has increased the sum of human happiness." The vote taken at the conclusion of the debate showed a slight majority for the affirmative side, which was led by H. Hooker and L. Cullen. The negative side was led by Mr. Titford and H. Hawkins. Some light was thrown on this deep subject of philosophy, and the evening was consequently a profitable one to the members. Besides the leaders the following took part from the floor: Arnold Cliff, W. Furneaux, Geo. H. House, Geo. Laite, Geo. Cook (sr.) and Rev. J. Brinton.

Curlers' Memorial Day
GOVERNOR PRESENT—CITY BANDS PLAY—AIR FLIGHTS AUCTIONED.

The much talked of Curlers' Memorial Day dawned bright and frosty. With four splendid sheets of ice the programme for the day opened at nine o'clock with scratch matches being played until eleven. At eleven o'clock a game between the lady and gentleman curlers was played. All the heads were keenly contested and the ladies were mainly victorious. At 12.15 the aeroplane, piloted by Major Cotton, with Capt. Bennett, Mr. A. S. Butler and Col. Nangle aboard, passed over the rink grounds where all the curlers had assembled. Seventy-five of the flight were dropped, but the prevailing high wind carried them out beyond their objective. A special package had been arranged for the curlers, but owing to the winds, it was not found practicable to drop it. In the afternoon a very large number of spectators were present to witness the games as they were played. From two to four scratch matches were played. At four o'clock His Excellency the Governor arrived and was welcomed by President W. H. Duler, the Honorary President and the Secretary. His Excellency remained for the rest of the afternoon. From four to six a costume match was played on one sheet, on the three other sheets the following games were played. Bowling's versus Bankers, Reid Nfld. Co. versus Job's and Lawyers versus Doctors. High teas and suppers were served by the lady curlers in St. Joseph's Hall, which was kindly placed at their disposal by Rev. Fr. Pippy, and were well patronized. During the evening, afternoon teas were also served in the Rink. In this way a considerable amount was added to the total. From seven to nine scratch games were played. During the day the city bands were in attendance, the Guards in the morning, C.C.C. in afternoon, and C.L.B. at night and rendered excellent music.

At nine o'clock the grand Auction of goods donated by the curlers was held. The auction was presided over by Currier John O'Driscoll in his well known style. Refreshments were served during a lull in the auction by the House Committee under the chairmanship of Jas. R. Chalker, in a manner which won the highest praise of all. Throughout the auction, which was the most enthusiastic ever held here, the bidding was very brisk and the prices obtained were in many cases greatly in excess of the values placed originally on the goods. The auction of three flights in the aeroplane, so generously donated by Major Cotton and Captain Bennett, evoked much interest. The first trip, auctioned by Mr. O'Driscoll, was knocked down to Mr. Gerald Harvey, the second put up by Mr. A. S. Butler was knocked down to Sir John Crosbie, the third offered by Major Cotton was bought by Mr. T. Hallitt. Captain Bennett then auctioned the streamers of the packet of tickets for the curlers. These were in German colours and were taken from an enemy plane which he had brought down while in France. The goods then offered for sale a walking stick which was of an unique design and would prove of considerable use to pedestrians. When it had been disposed of he presented a duplicate to the Secretary, Mr. A. H. Salter, to whose efforts and enterprise the success of the whole day was due. The total receipts, which have not yet been figured up, are expected to exceed last year's Charity Day, and the whole affair will serve to prove that "Curlers are never short."

Garlic Has Wonderful Healing Powers.

Most of the greatest inventions of to-day are adaptations or improvements of the main facts were known thousands of years ago, but in most cases the real inventors had no idea of applying them to practical uses. Garlic has been used as a medicinal herb for untold centuries. The old Greek and Roman doctors knew that it had great virtues, but they could see no way of getting over its objectionable taste and smell. An English doctor has made a discovery which may lead to the stamping out of many of the worst diseases. He has discovered an antiseptic which may be used internally as well as externally. We have known for a long time that diseases affecting the outside of the body could be cured rapidly by means of disinfectants; but hitherto it has been impossible to treat diseases of the inner parts in the same way. Antiseptics strong enough to kill these internal diseases could not be administered because of their poisonous effects. End of Consumption? But now an antiseptic has been found which can be taken like ordinary medicine. It is powerful enough to kill the disease, but it has no harmful action on the human body. Of what is this wonderful new stuff made? Garlic! Just the simple common garlic whose healing powers our remote forefathers knew. Modern science has discovered a means of extracting from garlic the essential healing juice, and of ridding them of their offensive taste and odour. It is claimed that by means of the new drug we shall be able successfully to treat such appalling diseases as consumption and cancer. The antiseptic derived from garlic will attack and conquer them without doing the least harm to the delicate tissues of the rest of the body. For Coughs or Colds take Stafford's Phoratoine. It will cure.—Jan 21

He Who Runs May Read
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—My reply to your note attached to my letter of last Tuesday; is simply a request for publication of Section 17 of the Prohibition Plebiscite Act as follows:—
"If the number of votes polled in the affirmative by a majority of the total votes polled at the election, and amount to at least forty per cent of the total number of registered voters upon the revised list of electors, taken for the purpose of the General Election of members of the House of Assembly, held in the year 1913, the Governor in Council shall issue a proclamation prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors into or in this Colony at any time after the first day of Jan. 1917."
The publication of the above Section should settle the matter in dispute: is so far as intelligent people are concerned.
Yours truly,
TRUTH.

League Hockey.
FIRST PLAY OFF FOR SEASON.

A large gathering witnessed the hockey match at the Prince's Rink last night between the St. Andrew's and St. Bon's. The game was won by the former by a score of 3-2 after a play-off. The game was refereed by Mr. Gus Herder. On the whole the match was disappointing. Too much individual play was in evidence and when combination was attempted the effort was not prolonged. Nine minutes after start of play the Saints, through Errol Munn, scored the first goal. The St. Bon's failed to equalize up to the end of the first period. Four penalties were handed out and Coutas, Robertson, Higgins and Halley were given seats in the box in the

SECOND PERIOD
The St. Bon's, through Callahan, were successful in finding the net. No other scoring being done. Phelan, Munn and Callahan were sent to the penalty box. Each team now having a goal to its credit, the was more exciting. Both teams settled down to work and some good play was shown. After 10 minutes of hard work Munn sent in a shot which Halley of the St. Bon's failed to clear. For some minutes after, St. Bon's worked hard to equalize and frequently bombarded Voisey, who on each occasion cleared. With but three minutes to play it looked like a win for the Saints, but Callahan putting in a brilliant piece of work secured the equalizer. The teams now stood, Saints 2, St. Bon's 2. In the play of the first 5 minutes brought no decision. On changing ends Munn sent in the winning goal after about three minutes play.

THIRD PERIOD

The following was the line-up:—

Masonic Dance.

ST. VALENTINE CELEBRATED.

St. Valentine's Night was fittingly celebrated by the Masonic Entertainment Committee, who held the most enjoyable of all their many successful dances. Tuesday's dance was the fourth of the season, and it was impossible owing to the demand for tickets, to supply one half the limited space, to the floor of the spacious banquet room was in excellent condition for dancing. The decorations consisted only of multi-coloured balloons, which were suspended from the ceiling, and were later allowed to float down among the dancers. The orchestra was delightful and played the most intricate selections in excellent time. All the dances were loudly endorsed and in many cases, two and three encores had to be given. The Valentine dances were especially popular, and largely contributed to the amusement of the dancers. In the first, the men had to find their partners by matching a symbol on the backs of their programmes. The second was an elimination dance. In this dance, too, the men did not know who their partners would be. Prizes were offered for the winners of this dance and were awarded to Mr. Cyril Duley and Mrs. W. D. Gunn. A Valentine was presented to Mrs. Tasker Cook, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, by Mr. D. McFarlane, on behalf of the Entertainment Committee. Supper was served in the billiard room by the Ladies' Auxiliary, whose catering has won well merited praise. The Masonic Orchestra under the direction of Mr. E. Fox, and the Entertainment Committee, and particularly Messrs. F. H. Ellis, F. J. Wornell and J. Cocker, four managers, are to be congratulated upon having added one more success to their already lengthy list.

Championship Ice Sports

EVENTS WELL CONTESTED.

Every event in the Championship Ice Sports held at the Prince's Rink on Tuesday night was well contested, over 2700 were present. The championship races were especially interesting, and although there were only two entrants for the veterans' race, this too, created considerable enthusiasm. The affair was carried out under the management of Mr. A. H. Thomas, who was assisted by Messrs. G. Marshall, M. Churchill, J. C. Parsons, P. Dobbin, E. Churchill and C. Hall. The following was the list of events and the winners:—

3 Mile (Open) Championship—1st, G. Squires; 2nd, J. Jacobs. Time, 12.18.

Inter-Collegiate Relay Race—1st, St. Bon's College; 2nd, B.F.C.

1/2 Mile (15 and under)—1st, Caul; 2nd, Monahan (Mount Cashel). Time 2.13.

1 Mile (Open) Championship—1st, P. Coxworthy; 2nd, W. Coultas. Time 4m., 1.5 sec.

Carnival Competition—Won by Mr. J. Conway, Miss F. Conway.

Mercantile Relay Race—1st, Reid Nfld. Co.; 2nd, Royal Stores.

Race For Men (40 years and upwards)—Won by M. Marshall. Time 2.13.

3 Mile (Open) Championship—1st, G. Squires; 2nd, J. Chancey. Time 12-12 1-5 sec.

The prizes have not arrived, but will be presented to the winners as soon as received.

Social and Concert.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild a delightful entertainment was held in George Street Methodist Church school room last evening. High tea was served at 6 p.m., and at its conclusion a splendid concert was given. The following is the programme:—

Pianoforte Duet:—Miss Oates and Mr. Lee.

Solos by Mr. W. A. Tucker, Mr. H. T. Courtenay, Mrs. G. Christian.

Recitation:—Mrs. Messias.

Duet:—Messrs. Pittman.

Piano Solo:—Miss T. Power.

Duet:—Mrs. Garland and Miss Maunder.

Violin Solo:—Mrs. B. E. S. Dunfield.

Another pleasing feature of the evening was a magic lantern exhibition, showing some very fine local views. The show was given by Rev. Mr. Fairbairn and included scenes from his last circuit in Nova Scotia, together with photos taken by himself on his way down from Halifax to St. John's by the S.S. "Rosamund." The ladies of the Guild and the joint chairman, Rev. Mr. Fairbairn and Mr. R. F. Horwood, are to be congratulated on the success of the affair.

Dinner and Smoker.

CITY CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN MASONS.

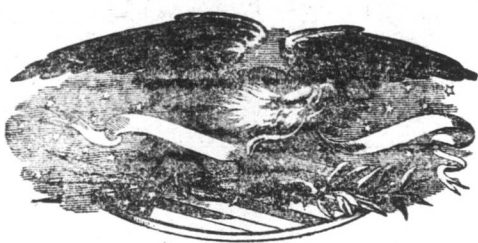

The winners of the recent Masonic vs. City Club Billiard Tournament are being dined to-night at the Osborne Restaurant by the City Club players. Following the dinner which takes place at 7.15, a smoker is being held at the City Club, and members of both Clubs are invited. A splendid programme of music under the direction of the Masonic Orchestra has been prepared and the affair promises to be most enjoyable.
