Guelph Evening Mercury

SATURDAY EV'NG, MARCH 29, 1873.

Town and County News.

I HAVE MISSED YOU MOLLIE DARLING.—This is the title of a new song and chorus, for sale at the bookstore of Mr. John Anderson, Wyndham Street. Secure a copy without delay as the number on sale is limited.

THE WEATHER.—Present appearances indicate heavy floods, and the consequent destruction of large amount of property. The heavy snow storm has been followed by rain, which has been falling without intermission during last night and to-day. The streets of the town are flooded, and walking is positively dangerous.

NEW CONFECTIONERY STORE.—Messrs. Warner & Sutton have opened a new confectionery store in J. R. Porter's old watch and jewelry store, Wyndham street, where they will always have on hand cakes, crackers, and everything in the confectionery line. Coffee and ice cream rooms will shortly be opened in connection with the establishment.

THE ROBBING GAME.—The return match between the Weavers and the Amateurs took place on the covered rink here, on Friday night, for a supper, when the former came off the victors by twelve shots. Time two hours and a half. The following is the score:

Wm. Roper, R. Buchan, Charles Seading, Wm. Heffernan, H. Congdon, Joe Mitchell, John Anderson, Robert Mitchell, J. Spalding, skip 17. A. Robertson, skip 6.

Y. M. C. A. Bazaar.—A meeting of the ladies representing the different churches of the town was held yesterday (Friday) afternoon in the Association Rooms. This was the first meeting and judging from the large number, there being 43 present, and from the hearty manner in which all entered into the movement, we have no doubt but that the proposed Bazaar will be an entire success. A Committee representing each congregation was appointed and will report at the next meeting which will be held in the same place on Friday, April 18th. The first contribution a very fine worked Ottoman cover has already been handed in by Mrs. David Allan.

NEW ORLEANS MINSTRELS.—This (Saturday) evening the New Orleans Minstrels play in the town hall here when we expect to see the hall crowded to its utmost capacity. The company played in Hamilton on Thursday evening, and the Times says that every one present appeared well pleased with the performance. Danley sang several beautiful songs during the evening and was loudly cheered, responding each time with something prettier than the first. Mr. C. Platt's clarinet solo had many admirers, and Frank West kept the audience in the corridors of laughter with his banjo soliloquies. Both gentlemen are masters of the instruments they play. There is nothing low or mean in the conversation between the "end men" but a great deal that is witty and interesting, while the vocal abilities of each is far above mediocrity. Towards the close of the entertainment, Mr. W. Wentworth gave some of his marvellous feats of contortion. To see him, alone, is worth the price of admission. Go early to-night and secure seats.

POLICE COURT.
Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M.
March 29, 1873.

Some time since Chief Constable Kelly charged the proprietor of the new eating house, at the station of the Great Western Railway, with selling liquor over the bar. The Police Magistrate reserved his decision until to-day, when it was given against the defendant, who was fined $20 and costs.

His worship took occasion to remark that it was contrary to law to sell liquor over more than one bar, at any one time, in any house of public entertainment.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—At the Welland Interim Court, just closed, the coroner man, Samuel Howel, who committed the assault on Mrs. Nese, the particulars of whose case have already appeared in the Mercury, was sentenced to 18 months in the common jail at hard labor, and to receive the end of the first month twenty lashes; at the end of the third month twenty more; and at the end of the nine months twenty more. We trust that the lashes will be given with a will, as the rascal richly deserves it and something more.

Chalmers' Church S. S. Concert.

The concert given by the children attending Chalmers' Church Sabbath-School, in the Town Hall, on Friday night, was a great success both in point of attendance and in the character of the entertainment. Every available foot of room in the Hall was occupied, and quite a number were obliged to stand during the performance. The children, numbering about 200, were seated on the steps at the south end of the Hall, the girls on one side and the boys on the other. Mr. Maitland fully understands the power of effect on an audience, as was seen by the manner in which he had them arranged according to age. The young folks in their best attire and with smiling faces presented a most pleasing and attractive picture. Their behavior throughout was excellent, which is alike creditable to themselves and their talented teacher. As Mr. Guthrie, the Superintendent, remarked at the beginning of the concert, Mr. Maitland was only and rendered and elicited repeated and hearty applause. The little ladies who sang the solos were Misses Barclay, Emily, S. Cossitt, McPherson, Scorgie and Little, and Master Jas. Maitland. All of them did remarkably well, especially Annie McPherson, who has a sweet, clear and mellow voice, and whose beautiful singing of a sweet little piece called forth a hearty encore. Even the infant class had their little hymn to sing, and though a little scared at the sea of faces before them, they did it very well. Some of the choruses were given with great expression and feeling. Miss Cossitt played the accompaniments on the organ with excellent taste.

During the performance the Rev. Messrs. Wardrop, Torrance and Dr. Hogg gave short and very suitable addresses, dwelling on the power of music and the effect for good it has on our nature, especially the beneficial effect it has on the young. Mr. Torrance in speaking on this subject dwelt on the importance of imparting musical instruction to the children attending our public schools, and hoped that before long the Trustees of our Board would follow the example of other Boards, and secure such instruction for the young people of this town. At the close of the programme the Dismission Hymn was sung, and before the audience broke up the boys of the school gave three rousing cheers for their able teacher, Mr. Maitland, who well deserved the compliment. We trust that this is only the first of many such concerts of similar character which Mr. Maitland and his pupils may give, for we can assure them that they will be exceedingly popular and will always be well attended.

Where's the Inspector?
So soon as we can find the whereabouts of the Health Inspector, or any member of the Board of Health, or the chief constable, we mean to inform them that about ten days ago some person, contrary to section 22 of by-law 164, threw a load of night soil off the bridge crossing the Speed on Neeve Street, into the river. This is one of the filthiest acts any person could be guilty of, and we are glad to say that a heavy penalty—$50—has been provided. We hope this is the last of this kind of work.

Manitoba Items.
We clip the following interesting items of news from the Free Press of a recent date:

AN ABSURDITY.—After the close of the Session of the Legislature, the Government took it into its head, for some reason or another, that the Parliament buildings were in danger, and caused a guard of Her Majesty's servants to be put thereon, and up to the time of the departure of the stage on Thursday, the most diminutive and harmless looking specimen of humanity couldn't gain admittance to the sacred pile without the "who comes there?" and an inspection by the commander of the guard.

JIM wants to know if the "boom" of the nine o'clock gun at the Fort couldn't be utilized in keeping the village from floating down stream next month.

EFFROY.—On Saturday evening last an Effroy of the Honorable Chief Commissioner of the Honorable Hudson's Bay Company, and representative of the constituency of Winnipeg and St. John's, was burned about five hundred yards west of the Gazette Office.

MIRAGE.—Each morning for some time one of these phenomena has been on exhibition in the direction of Rockwood, Manitoba, and yesterday it was particularly distinct, so much so indeed, that localities at a distance of thirty miles could be plainly seen.

BETTER TERMS.—A deputation consisting of Hon. Messrs. Clarke, Royal and Howard took their departure for Ottawa on Thursday. It is given to be understood that their mission is to press the Dominion Government for "better terms."

JURY DISCHARGED.—A nice tale of a Jury from Ireland. At Clonmel (South Tipperary) Assizes, they had been hearing a murder case for two days, when a juror began to interrupt the Crown Counsel in an unseemly manner, asking him if he had any evidence to sustain the statements he was making. This happened so often that the Lord Chief Justice directed the juror to be examined by a medical man, who reported that he was, though not exactly drunk, just a bit balmy. Upon this the Court at once discharged the jury, and the whole case is to be tried over again.

THE TELESCOPE. Walkerton, has just passed into the hands of Craig Bros., one of whom has published it for some time past on account of the owner, Mr. Ross, a lawyer in that town. It is intended to be conducted on the same political principles as in the past, and we wish the new proprietors all reasonable success in their investment.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

An American Claims the Queen to be his Mother.

He was Arrested by the Guards

Another Murder in New York.

A Negro Hanged for Rape.

Loss of a Vessel.

London, March 28.—An insane American appeared at the lodge-gate, Windsor Castle, yesterday, and demanded admittance to see the Queen, alleging that Her Majesty was his mother. He was arrested by the guards, and upon being threatened with incarceration in a mad-house, promised to return to the United States.

The steamship Great Western, which was ashore at Blackmore, got off and returned to Bristol. The extent of her injuries, if any, are not yet ascertained.

New York, March 28.—Catharine Kermon, a married woman, was this evening found in the saloon, No. 61, Washington Street, suffering from severe wounds. She was taken to Park Hospital, where she died ten minutes after being admitted. Her husband was arrested on suspicion of being her murderer. The couple resided over the saloon, and were addicted to drink, and constantly quarrelling.

St. Louis, March 28.—George Bryan, a negro, was hanged by a mob at Chillico, on Wednesday night, for committing rape on Miss Fiske, a highly respectable young white lady, living about twenty miles from that place.

San Francisco, March 29.—Last week the schooner Lark sailed from San Diego for the East Indies. Among the passengers were six persons convicted of murders, to be taken to Lapay, Lower California. The bodies of four men have been found, washed ashore, and chained together. Pieces of a wreck have been picked up near where the bodies were discovered, and it is feared that the vessel was lost, with all hands.

LIFE'S BETTER MOMENTS.
Life is its moments
Of beauty and bloom,
But they hang like sweet roses
On the edge of the tomb.
Blessings they bring us,
As lovely as brief
They meet us with happy
And leave us in grief.
Hues of the morning,
Tinging the sky;
Colors of the sunbeams,
And off with them fly;
Shadows of evening
Hang soft on the shore,
Darkness wraps them—
We see them no more.
So life's better moments
Are numbered and near,
Dawning in beauty,
Our journey to cheer;
Round us they ring,
Like shadows of even,
Would that we, like them,
Might melt into heaven!

A Deserved Tribute.
A correspondent of the Hamilton Times writing from Alma, over the signature of Typo, gives a graphic description of the recent snow storms, and the consequent detention of trains on the Wellington, Grey & Bruce Railway. In speaking of Conductor Quirk, he says that gentleman worked like a Trojan, and rendered valuable assistance when the train was so snowed up that it could not move. All hope was given up of proceeding any further Wednesday night, and provision was immediately made to do the best that could be done for the comfort of the passengers who were so unfortunate as to be detained on their journey, with the wind blowing a perfect hurricane and drifting the snow with such fury that it was almost impossible to see in what direction to proceed to the village. It was announced that the passengers would have to do the best they could to gain the same, but Conductor Quirk somehow managed to get a comfortable conveyance for the ladies, and the gentlemen had to plod through snow about two or three feet deep towards the village, at the same time facing the drifting storm. Arriving at the village all were made comfortable, and the passengers assembled in front of the Commercial Hotel, and presented Conductor Quirk with the following address, which he fully merited for his very kind and considerate attention for the benefit of the passengers:—

Alma, March 27, 1873.
Mr. JOHN QUIRK.—Before we part from you, sir, this morning, we, the passengers on the W. G. & B. Railway, train south, feel bound to express to you our gratitude and thanks for your unanimity, kindness and attention to all on board your train, under the circumstances. This train blocked up in the snow, unable to move a distance of over half a mile from the village of Alma, with four disabled engines in front of the train of which you had charge, you exerted yourself in a manner which was pleasing to all, and sent to the train a hot and comfortable meal to all on board who were unable to walk to the village; and afterwards procured teams to draw them through unbroken snow drifts, across the fields, the ladies and children to the village, and then, owing to your exertions, all were made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances.

Unpleasant as it is to be delayed on the road, to say nothing of the expense to the G. W., still that unpleasantness was greatly softened by your kind, thoughtful and gentlemanly conduct towards us. We cannot part from you now, sir, without again thanking you on behalf of ourselves and fellow passengers, and add, in conclusion, the W. G. & B. are indeed well off in having the services of one like you.

(Signed) on behalf of the passengers,
REV. A. TOMLIN, Southampton.
C. W. STUBBS, Walkerton.
EDWIN A. SKEEL, Southampton.
THOS. COWAN, London.
J. H. PESTER, Hamilton.
R. C. TRUBY, Port Elgin.

Conductor Quirk replied in a few appropriate remarks, thanking the passengers for this token of their esteem.

IMAGINARY EVILS.

Let to-morrow take care of to-morrow, Leave things of the future to fate; What's the use of worrying to-day? Life's troubles never came too late! If to hope over much be an error, 'Tis clear that the wise have preferred: A-d'bol often have hearts been in terror, Of evils—that never occurred.

Have faith—and thy faith shall sustain thee; Permit not suspicion and fear; With invisible bonds to enchain thee, But bear what God gives thee with ease; By His spirit supported and gladdened, But never by forebodings deterred; Think of how many hearts have been saddened By fear of—what never occurred!

Let to-morrow take care of to-morrow, Short and dark as life may appear; We may make it still darker by sorrow, Still lighter by folly and fear! Half our troubles are made in our invention; And often from blessings conferred Have we sunk in the wild apprehension 'Of evils—that never occurred!

The Dawson Route.

As much diversity of opinion still prevails as to the availability of the Dawson route, for a cheap and comfortable passage to the Province of Manitoba, it is desirable to have the experience of some who have travelled it. Mr. F. B. Marshall contributes to Pure Gold a long communication upon the subject, for the special purpose of giving information to intending emigrants to the North West. The calculation he makes in cost between the Duluth and the Dawson routes, makes a contrast very much in favor of the latter, and the accommodations provided for travellers seem to be ample, holding out to us the opportunity of enjoying an interesting summer trip for very little expense. He says:

As regards the best way of reaching this new country, I strongly recommend emigrants going together in a company, as each can assist the other, and make the journey more congenial. The passage from Toronto to Fort Garry has been reduced for the ensuing season from thirty to fifteen dollars, and children under twelve years of age half price, with allowances for each adult of 150 lbs of luggage free. All emigrants must start from Toronto by railway via Northern Railway to Collingwood, and from thence by steamer to Prince Arthur's Landing, Thunder Bay, which will take about three and one half days, and on arrival at Thunder Bay, the emigrants will find a large commodious emigrant house, with every accommodation for their reception on landing from the steamer.

They then proceed from Prince Arthur's Landing by Government stage over a most splendid road forty-five miles long, to Lake Shebandowan, and for accommodation of passengers to obtain money, there are buses every ten miles. On arrival at Shebandowan, another first-class emigrant house will be found there, with good bed-rooms for rest for the night. From this place commences the journey by water, which is made easy and comfortable by a small steamer on each lake. As a portage of land divides the several lakes, the emigrant will find these houses erected for their accommodation. By this way of pleasant travelling after a few days the emigrants will arrive at Fargo Portage, or Kettle Falls, and then commences Rainy Lake, where a large steamer, 100 feet long, (built by the contractor, Captain James Dick), will convey passengers and freight to Fort Francis, and be met by another steamer 150 feet long, to take them down Rainy River and across the Lake of the Woods, terminating at the North West Angle. Then comes a land journey of 93 miles of good road to be travelled by first-class stages and teams, with resting places in Government houses at Brick River, White Mud River, and at Oak Point, about 30 miles from Fort Garry. On arrival at their destination a very large Government house is erected, with every accommodation and comfort, where the emigrant can remain until he settles his business or finds employment. It will thus be seen that the water and land passage to Red River can be made a summer excursion, with the opportunity of viewing some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. The lakes studied with thousands of islands, covered with trees and rich foliage. By this sketch it will be seen that 96 miles by railway to Collingwood, 532 by steamer to Prince Arthur's Landing, 45 miles by stage or wagon from Thunder Bay to Lake Shebandowan

Close of the Session.

The Session of the Ontario Legislature which met on the 8th of January last, closed its labors at two o'clock to-day, after eleven weeks of faithful legislation for the advancement of the Province of Ontario. There were many when the House opened, who predicted the early downfall of the Ministry, from sheer inability to grapple with the great public questions which their predecessors were unable to settle. But the Ministry has shown itself equal to the task undertaken, and has not only silenced many fault-finders, by the fairness and impartiality characterizing the public acts passed, but made many faithful and firm friends of those who were before inclined to be captious.

When we consider that, despite the long and windy debates of the obstructionists, no less than two hundred and thirty-three Bills have been introduced, and some one hundred and sixty-four passed into law, we think we have good reason to be proud of the men of our choice.

Our readers are aware that for the last decade, the great question of the Municipal Loan Fund indebtedness hung like a pall over our fair Dominion, crippling our energies, and preventing foreign capitalists from investing in Canadian securities, to any great extent. In vain did we look to our public men for a solution of the difficulty. Time and again were efforts made to solve the great problem: new pieces of cloth were patched upon the old, but the rent was only made the worse thereby, and the question became so complicated that the matter was practically given up in despair.

The new Reform government faced the difficulty manfully, and looked the question fair in the face, and to-day we have the satisfaction of knowing that the load has been lifted from our shoulders, and that hereafter we can breathe more freely. Had the Ministry spent the whole time of the Session in the settlement of this all-important and vital question, it would have received the deserved thanks of the people generally. As a matter of course, the manner in which the Ministry dealt with it does not receive universal approbation, and if it did we should have been inclined to think there was something radically wrong. We are satisfied with the provision made, and those who are not will be obliged to gain and learn what any lover of his country will characterize as neither more nor less than an imaginary wrong.

Then, again, we have the question of the Agricultural College settled. A farm of some five or six hundred acres, in Mimico, within half a dozen miles of Toronto, had been purchased. The land, on examination was not of a suitable quality for the purpose. Feeling a deep interest in the advancement of agriculture, and determined that a suitable farm should be obtained, the Government set itself to work with commendable zeal, and the result is that, to-day, we point with pride and satisfaction to the eligible land obtained for the purpose of an Agricultural Farm and College within view of the town of Guelph. It is unnecessary to say that a more suitable spot could not have been selected; nor one which will, eventually, give more general satisfaction. The government ran a great risk in grappling with this question, but duty was the watchword, though the heavens should fall.

The establishment of an asylum for the poor imbricates of the Province is a step in the right direction, and it will be well productive of much good.

The consolidation of the municipal law of the Province taxed the energies of our legislators, and was a work of great labour and importance. The Acts for the drainage of wet and swamp lands were necessary, and will be highly beneficial. The further amendment of the Election Law whereby electoral purity and independence will be maintained was a necessity. The measures for facilitating arrangements between masters and workmen, and the Bill to give mechanics a lien on buildings in course of construction, in order that unpunctured builders may not have an opportunity of defrauding them out of their wages, were among the most important questions of a minor character which occupied the attention of the Government. Independent of the many public measures, the Session has been productive of a vast number of private Bills calculated to have a good influence on the country. The protection of insectivorous and other birds beneficial to agriculture, introduced by Mr. Clarke, of Centre Wellington, being not the least among the number passed.

A DEATH GRASP.—From Ottawa we learn that the facility with which the Administration abandons every principle of policy to which they cling so persistently last session, is alienating many of their friends, who now perceive that they are prepared to abandon everything to the demands of the opposition, so long as they can hold on to office. The vote Thursday night, on Mr. Mills' Dual Representation Bill, is regarded as a complete condemnation of the Government's policy of last year.

HOSTILITY OF THE INDIANS IN MANITOBA.—Despatches received at Ottawa yesterday (Friday), and confirmed by Mr. Christie, who has just arrived from the North-West, and who has a thorough knowledge of the Indian population of that region, state that the gravest fears are entertained of hostile demonstrations against the settlements in Manitoba and the Territories. It appears that certain promises were made to the Indians by Governor Archibald at the instance of the Government at Ottawa, to be fulfilled at a certain time now many months past. Those promises have not yet been fulfilled, and if it turns out that life and property have been sacrificed through the bad faith kept by the Government of the Dominion, a grave responsibility will have been incurred.

SATISFACTORY EXPLANATION.—We learn from Toronto that the full, straight forward and comprehensive explanations of Hon. Mr. McKellar, in the House Thursday night, and refutation of the gross slanders in the Elgin Association matter, are conceded as most satisfactory by all unprejudiced persons.

Ontario Legislature.

March 28. The Attorney-General moved the resolution empowering the Lieut. Governor in Council to compromise the land claims of the Canada Central Railway Company, Carried.

Orders in Council were then ratified, granting aid to the Coloung, Peterboro' & Marmora, and Credit Valley Railways.

After a conversation, which ended in the Attorney-General's consent to lay over the School Law Consolidation Acts and the Public and High Schools Amendment Act till next session.

On motion of Attorney-General Mowat the bill to continue the provisions of the Act passed last year, respecting the Council of Public Instruction, was put through all its stages and passed.

On motion of Attorney-General Mowat Bills incorporating the Municipalities of Thunder Bay and Muskoka were passed through Committee and read a third time.

Attorney-General Mowat moved that the House go into Committee on the Bill respecting the Municipal Loan Fund Debts, and respecting certain payments to municipalities. Carried.

Mr. Deacon moved that clause 30 be struck out of the Bill, as he considered it was uncalculated. The clause read as follows:—"The reduction of the debts due by Lanark and Renfrew, Elizabeth-town and Brockville, is subject to the condition that the liability of the Brockville and Ottawa Railway Company to the said municipalities is reduced to the said amount."

Attorney-General Mowat consented to the clause being expunged.

The Committee rose and reported the Bill.

The Bill was then read a third time and passed, its passage being greeted by a hearty round of applause.

The House went into Committee of Ways and Means, and having reported, Mr. Crooks introduced the Supply Bill, which was read first, second and third times and passed.

Attorney-General Mowat stated that it was the intention of His Excellency to prorogue the House to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—A serious railway accident occurred about four miles from Port Hope, on the Midland railway, on Thursday evening. The passenger coach of one of the trains was thrown from the track and tumbled over the embankment ten or twelve feet, turning right side up, partly in the ditch and partly in the field. Several of the passengers sustained severe, but it is thought not fatal, injuries. The names of the injured are as follows:—Mr. Valmev, of Port Hope, a severe scalp wound and injured internally; Dr. Dewar, of Port Hope, severe injuries to head and face, with injuries to spine; Mr. W. C. Panton, of Toronto, knee-joint hurt; Mr. Davis, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., head and face severely bruised and cut; Mr. Preston, reeve of Manvers, scalp wound, one leg cut, and bruised about the back and shoulders; Captain Isaac Preston, of Manvers, and a gentleman from Buffalo, escaped with slight injuries. The accident created a great deal of excitement. The Railway Company procured the services of all the medical men in Port Hope to attend the wounded passengers.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION IN MONTREAL.—Thursday afternoon, a dreadful explosion took place in a house in Berri lane, which shook the neighborhood. Flames issued forth, and upon the fire brigade coming down, a stick of dynamite was just being extricated. She is not burned. The flames were extinguished, when a man named DeCola, an Italian, who manufactured fireworks in the buildings, was found inside lying dead on the floor. He presented a horrible sight, and must have been killed instantly, as quantities of sky-rockets were stored in the room. He was filling these rockets, and by some means caused the explosion. An inquest was held to-day, and a verdict of accidental death returned.

A FAR JOURNEY RESOLVED ON—A DEEP BEHIND THE SCENES—"THE TEMPTATION" APPROACHES.

Half an hour later, when the lights were all out, and the mansion had been abandoned to utter silence, two forms stole stealthily forth by different doors and met in a secluded place among the shrubbery.

"Barnard!" she whispered, in a low voice. "I am here," answered her brother, from the deep darkness under the yew.

She came instantly forward and joined him, the intense gloom effectually concealing them from observation even had anyone chanced to be abroad at that hour.

"Well, Augusta, this is a pretty turn things have taken. All my former work goes for nothing."

"No; that would have been the sure way to defeat, for he is impracticable. He would not join us in this, though bankruptcy and beggary stared him in the face."

"I fear it is. If this man is found—this Jerry Just—a word from his mouth will reveal the place of the marriage."

"Never—I tell you, never," burst forth Mrs. Langton. "Mean—must be taken to prevent such an issue."

"What can be done? We can't prevent Weston from going to America; we can't prevent him finding Jerry Just, if he is still there."

"Are you sure of that?" asked Mrs. Langton, in a low, fierce whisper. "I can't see how—do you?"

"You have heard what Philip Weston said about the American agent named Yorke. He is evidently no friend to Jerry. Could he not be communicated with?"

"To what purpose? What could we learn from him?"

"If he knows anything of the man, and where he is."

"What then? Do you contemplate getting at Jerry and bribing him before Weston comes across him? That is a vain project. The character given of him to night shows me so."

"Then what is it?"

"Yorke is evidently his enemy; he is unscrupulous, and might be induced to—"

She paused. She did not dare to say what she thought Yorke might be induced to do, but the sudden pause was terribly significant, and Barnard started violently back.
