Local News

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
Giant Apples.—R. M. Palmer, secretary of the Bureau of Provincial Information, has a couple of apples, reared from Franquille, near Kamloops, which are magnificent samples of fruit.

Abolish Royalty.—An order-in-council has been passed at Ottawa abolishing royalty on gold produced from any quartz in the Yukon on which $25,000 has been expended up to June, 1910.

Financial Notes.—According to the latest mail advices from London, British Columbia Three Per Cent. inscribed stock has advanced one to $8.94. There has been quite an upward movement of late in the shares of the B. C. Electric railway company.

Investigate Fisheries.—While a public sitting of the Fisheries Commission will not be held in Nanaimo till October 23 and 24 that does not mean that the members are idle during the meantime.

Exemptions to Fair.—For the Dominion Exhibition which opens at New Westminster tomorrow, the Canadian Pacific railway company has named a specially reduced rate of single fare for the round trip in the limit of the tickets being October 9th, which is two days after the limit of the rate applies either to New Westminster direct by steamer Riblet, sailing at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, or to Vancouver, the sailing date, Oct. 9th, being Sept. 27th and 30th.

Committed for Trial.—At Vancouver on Thursday evening in the case of P. Malone, charged with the murder of Isaac Dykes, Magistrate Yarwood decided that he would have to stand accused up for trial at the assizes to be held in Vancouver on Oct. 19th on the charge of manslaughter. It was quite evident, said the magistrate, that the deceased Isaac Dykes had come to the death at the hands of the accused, and there was nothing left for him to do than to send the case up to a higher court for trial.

Bank Clearings.—The total bank clearings for the week ending September 26, as reported by the Victoria clearing house, were $194,971.

Early Winter.—Information from all points along the northern coast indicates an early winter this season. Four inches of snow fell at Dawson on September 18, according to recent arrivals from the North.

Smuggled Sealions.—The United States officials on holding a trunk when they arrived at Seattle from Alaska by the steamer Explorer on suspicion that it contained sealion skins for export. The inspectors have been informed that the owner may put in an appearance at any time and an officer has been stationed on the wharf to await his coming.

Mark Boundary.—According to advices from the north received by the steamer Princess May a survey has been made by Gov. McInnes and is now being made by H. G. Dickson, Dominion land surveyor, to mark the boundary line in the Windy Arm country. This is being done in order that prospectors may know on what side of the boundary line they are operating and where they are required to record locations made.

Mercury Industry.—Rev. George W. Taylor of Wellwood, who is looking into the mercury industry and is about to visit Pender Harbor, is watching the fishing operations on the coast. He is also looking into the mercury industry and is about to visit Pender Harbor.

Indians for Races.—Among the passengers on the Tees were four Indians from Fort Rupert. They are to be used for a race on the coast. The race is to be held on the coast and the Indians are to be used for a race.

Unlucky End.—News was received yesterday of the death at Monrovia, Liberia, of John Davidson, the noted dog fancier, who was in Victoria a year ago as judge of the dog show. Davidson was a native of Scotland, had just returned from the Toronto fair, where he had been very successful, and he fell dead on the street, the immediate cause being attributed to heart disease.

Victoria Horses at the Fair.—Victoria sportsmen expect to carry off a great many of the honors at the New Westminster fair, which opens tomorrow. The contingent left by the Princess Victoria on Thursday morning will be the principal team to be on time for the opening competition.

Trade With Australia.—At the last meeting of the Australian commonwealth conference it was decided that the value of goods for duty was to be determined on the basis of the cost of the goods in the market and as most commitments cover manufactured goods from factories in Queensland and the eastern states respectively, it meant that a very large amount of goods from Queensland and the eastern states would be exempt from duty.

Spurious Coins.—It is said that counterfeiters are circulating freely in the mainland districts. The counterfeit is not by any means a work of art, though it would pass on the average man in a rush. It is of the Queen Victoria stamp, bearing date of 1858. Both sides of the coin are somewhat worn, particularly the date face. The maple wreath surrounding the Queen's head does not come out very clearly, while the cross grooves around the edge are but faint indications, the whole idea being evidently that of a counterfeit.

Wholesale Markets.—Dealers are offering in round lots for delivery on or about October 1st, as follows:
Barley, per ton, $22.00
Wheat, per ton, $20.00
Rye, per ton, $18.00
Oats, per ton, $15.00
Potatoes (Idaho), per ton, $12.00
Potatoes (Maine), per ton, $10.00
Potatoes (B. C.), per ton, $12.00

North Pole Venture.—F. M. Warrington of the Yukon venture, has come out for the first time in five years, and is on a holiday trip, but also to inspect the recently organized expedition, which is to reach the North Pole.

Reduce Time to Coast.—It is understood that an important change in the schedule of the Colonist is being made. The paper will be published at 10 o'clock, and so interest the people will go into effect at an early date. When the change is effected the train will leave Victoria at 10 o'clock, and passengers will reach Seattle in about 12 hours.

Struck Oil Rich.—It is reported that J. P. Fleming of Victoria has struck oil in a deep hole in the Bulkley Valley. Mr. Fleming was the proprietor of the Hazelton hotel when he struck the oil. He found an exposed ledge of galena three feet thick, and the bulkley oil was found in a shaft twelve feet deep and the vein widened to five feet. He had the prospect examined by a geologist, who assured him and stated that the ore taken out in prospect work, was worth, as he estimated, $50,000.

Nelson Led's Death.—At Seattle on Monday the death of Nelson Led, a native of Scotland, had just returned from the Toronto fair, where he had been very successful, and he fell dead on the street, the immediate cause being attributed to heart disease.

Got Big Game.—A despatch from Ashcroft says Lord Bury has just completed a successful hunting expedition through the Yukon. He has secured a number of fine specimens of game, including a caribou, a moose, and a number of smaller animals.

Investigate Colony Plan.—To gather information and material in connection with the proposed colonization of certain portions of Canada is the mission of Arthur Hawes, special correspondent of the London Morning Post and other English publications, who is visiting the coast cities. Besides the Morning Post, Mr. Hawes represents the Review of Reviews, the British Weekly, the Daily Mail, and other English publications.

Hearty Pioneers.—J. K. Barker, one of the oldest and most prominent miners operating in the Cariboo district, is in the city, having come down to spend the winter months. Yesterday he paid a visit to his old friend, Tom Graham, secretary of the Pioneer Society. Referring to his coming to the coast, the Ashcroft Journal of Saturday says: "Among the pioneer miners of Cariboo who arrived in town this week were J. K. Barker and Ed Humphries. The former will spend the winter at the coast. It is thirty years since Ed Humphries was out of Cariboo, consequently he is seeing for the first time this bustling town. Born in Wales 73 years ago, he was among the pioneer miners who first worked on Williams Creek. His own special

Without a doubt, the Cariboo district is the poor man's friend. For 40 years, it has been the old reliable family medicine. It never fails to relieve pain in every kind. Keep a bottle in the house, as Miss Alice Jones of Dunsmuirville, and save doctors' bills.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY READY FOR OPENING

Description of Interior Arrangements of Pretty Yarrow Street Edifice.
(From Wednesday's Daily.)
A Colored reporter yesterday inspected the Carnegie library, which will be opened for public inspection, though not for the issue of books, on October 2nd. The wide entrance doors open upon a vestibule and rotunda of ample dimensions. Facing the entrance is a semi-circular center for the delivery of books and other business, and behind this is the librarian's table, with stairway leading to the basement story, where a convenient receiving and unpacking center for the boxes of books is arranged. Behind the stairway is the stack-room, from behind which a window looks out upon the street, and the reading room, where an entrance has been arranged for the convenient receiving and unpacking of the boxes of books as they arrive. Double stacks, plainly and substantially made of oak, the room being so arranged that the reader can see the spines of the books, which are capable of being supplemented by duplicate stacks above the present ones as requirements increase.

Next to the right of the counter is the room for the reference library, small but sufficient for present requirements, and on the right of the reference library is the reading room, with open tables, strong, substantial and of admirable design, and along the line of the entrance is a desk for newspaper files. On the right of the entrance is the ladies' reading room of ample size, with lavatory attached. Next on the right is the wide and handsome staircase, lit by an arched window of great size and good design. Behind the staircase is the book room, where are situated the desks for the delivery of books. Ascending the staircase one comes upon a spacious landing, from which open stairs lead to the basement story, where an apartment 50 feet long by 30 wide, and lighted for both day and night and heated by four radiators, is equally distributed to the best advantage. The basement story is a large square, tastefully decorated in artistic and modern frescoes in plain design, and from the centre of the square depends an electric globe.

Next to this room is that which may be destined to become a library of reference books, one imagines, a great and useful addition to the Carnegie library, and admirably adapted. This and the other rooms are of ample size, and come and capable of any enlargement that may be necessary at any time. Although the books when they arrive will, together with the volumes on hand, only partially fill a few of the stacks provided, there is every prospect that the public generally, which has already shown so conspicuously its appreciation, will continue to supplement the institution, independently of the regular increase continually accruing from the press.

BRIEF VISIT OF J. BURNS M.P. Famous British Leader Spent Few Hours in City Yesterday.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) Victoria was visited for a few hours yesterday by John Burns, M. P. for Bute, London, England's foremost representative of labor, arriving from the mainland on the Clarmar in the morning and returning on the same steamer.

He has been coming across Canada in easy stages, seeing what is possible and minutely observing economic conditions and national characteristics. Mr. Burns' rise from an engineer to the prominent position he now occupies is one of the highest and quickest in the annals of success, and indicates a great amount of energy and industry.

It was only natural that he should be asked concerning the prospects of the labor party in the imperial parliament. The labor party will be doubled at the next session, he remarked. "There are 25 members now, and there should be 25 in the next parliament. We do not neglect the whole of our reliance on numbers, and think quantity is the everything in the imperial parliament."

"There are 25 members now, and there should be 25 in the next parliament. We do not neglect the whole of our reliance on numbers, and think quantity is the everything in the imperial parliament."

For a long hour and three-quarters Mr. Burns, O'Farrell, and our common friend waited, and then word came from the watching bell-boy that the lady had arrived. He and Heineze were back in his own room from the door.

From time to time, up to this writing, Barron has solemnly pledged his word to the public that from personal knowledge he would be willing to make oath that Rogers had never met Heineze after the meeting at the Waldorf. Such is "Frenzied Finance." Heineze would make such a contradicting anything however, which he would not do.

"I shall be in the room here, gentlemen, and you can knock when you wish to see me."

John Burns Hated.

Vancouver, Sept. 25.—(Special)—John Burns, the noted English labor leader, is registered at the Vancouver hotel. He is making a three weeks' tour of Canada, studying the people and social and labor conditions. He was asked a question regarding the Nanaimo strike, and said: "As usual, laborers are not agreeing among themselves. There are the same conditions in Europe. If they could agree it would be better for all parties interested. I will study Nanaimo conditions on the spot, but will not interfere." He said he would report on the Haggard scheme of colonization to a parliamentary committee. He said he was impressed with the Dominion's possibilities, and would carry home with him new and wonderful ideas of the colonies.
