pilation of the other volume of this work. Ilis affiftance has been engaged, for the double purpufe of leffening the literary labours of the Author, and of increafing the value of the work, by the aid of his extenfive refearches into fubjects of this nature, and of his peculiar talent in condenfing the fubfance of large volumes into 2 fmail compafs.

A fpecific name for our country has long been a defideratum. The want of it has been felt by our citizens, who have vifited foreign countries, by our Legilators, and efpecially by geographical writers. Much has been faid in private converfation, and fome things have been written, on the fubject. The epoch of the addition of Louifiana to the United States, is thought to be a fit time to introduce fuch a generic name for our country. Several names have been fuggefted, Fredonia; Columbia, and America, havo cach thcir advocates. The latter, could is be appropriated to the territory under the government of the United States, and dif:tinguifh its inhabitants from all other Americans, would undoubtedly be entitled to the preference. But this is thought to be impracticable. Several reafons have been urged in favor of Columbia. It would be honorary to the memory of the difcoverer of America, and it is already partially introduced ; but it will not fo happily run through all the variations, important in a generic name, as Fredonia. For no other reafon has the latter the preference. With a view merely to introduce the fubject before the public, and to invite their attention to it, an example is given, in the Appendix, under the head, Fridonia, to fhew the convenience and utility of fuch a general name, The Author has not the temerity or the vanity to think of giving a name to his country. He would not be confidered as the ftrenuous advocate of any one of thofe above fuggefted. He only wifhes that the government, whofe right it is, would fix upon and eftablifh a feecific name, which fhall honourably diftinguifh our country and its inhabit. ants, from the reft of the world,

PREFACE.

THE firf edition of the american cazetterer was publifhed in the year 1797. The:work was confidered as incomplete without a fecond volume, which fhould embrace the other three quarters of the globe. This was accordingly compiled and publifhed, under the title of "A NEW GAZETTEER OF THE EASTERN CONTINENT, in 1802. Thefe two volumes profeffedly defcribe, from the beft authorities, all the places of importance on the habitable earth.

A new edition of the firf volume being called for, the Author now offers it to the public, whofe patronage he has liberally and gratefully fhared, and which it has been, and will be, his ambition to deferve. Neither labour nor expenfe have been. fpared to enrich this new edition from the numerous fources of information, which have been opened fince the firf was publifhed. Much has been derived from obliging correfpondents, whofe favors are thankfully, though they cannot be particularly, acknowledged. More has been collected from the very valuable Maps and Publications, which have appeared fince the laft feven years. Several of the moft moft important of thefe are named as authorities in the body of the Work.

A topographical defcription of Upper Canada, drawn up by David W. Smith, Efq. Surveyor General of that Province, and his excellent Maps of Upper and Lower Canada, have furnifhed a particular and correct view of this portion of the Britifh dominions. The new and valuable Map of New York, by B. Simeon de Witt, Efq. Surveyor General of that State, has alfo been faithfully confulted. The cenfus of 1800 has been of important ufe in perfecting this edition.

Moft of the articles, efpecially in the United States, have been improved, and feveral thoufand new ones have been added. To give place to thefe additions, without fwelling the work to too expenfive a fize, many articles have been abridged, abbreviations have been adopted, and a type of a fmaller fize, than in the firft edition, has been ufed.

The article Louisiana,* has received all the attention, which its newly acquired importance to the United States, demands.

In the revifion of this edition, the Author has received the affiftance of his worthy literary friend, the Rev. Elijah Parish, his partner in the compilation

Its harbour is fo fpacious that feveral handred hlips may ride in it with convenience. The mouth, which is defended by a lowifland, about a mile and 2 half lung, and half a mile broad, having a wide and deep channel at each end; the wefternmon channel is the narroweft, but fo deep that there is no anchoring ; and the Manilla alips pafs in that way; but thofe from Lima enter through the S W channel. This harbour runs $N$ about 3 miles; then growing very narrow, turns fliort to the W , and a mile farther it terminates. The town ftands at the mouth of this paffage, on the $\mathrm{N} \mathbf{W}$ fide, clofe by the fea, and at the end of the town is a platform mounted with guns. Oppofite to the town, on the E fide, is a high' and ftrong cafte, with guns of a large fize. Ships commonly ride near the bottom of the harbour, under' the command of the cafte and platform. The town, furrounded by very high mountains, is fo unhealthy, fo denttute of good water, and fo difagrecable, that except when the Manilla galeon is there, and while the confequent fair continues, it is almon deferted by the inhabitants. When fle arrives in this port, fhe is generally moored on its wethern fide ; and her cargo, confifting of Spices;

The commerce of this place with Peru is not, as many writers have fuppofed, confined only to the annual flip from Lima; for at all other feafons of the year, except that wherein the Acapulco ihip arrives, the trade is open, and thips from Peru come hither frequently tọ exchange the commodities of that country for thofe of Mexico. From the enid of November to the end of May, they have no rain here, and it is fo hot in January when the fair generally begins, that merchants are obliged to do their bufinefs chiefly in the morning. When the fair is over, alinoft every body leaves the place but a few blacks and mulattocs. The town is governed by a chicf juftice, who has 20,000 pieces of eight per annum ; and the curate, though allowed but 180 pieces of eight, makes his place worth 14,000 by the burial fees of frangers who die here, or on board the flips in the harbour. Alatamuba, a navigalle river of Georgia. It rifes in the Cherokec monntains, near the head of a weftern branch of Savannah river, called 'rugulo. In its defeent through the mountains it receives feveral auxiliary freams; thence it winds, with confiderable rapidity, through the hilly country 250 miles, whence it enters into theopen, flat country, by the name of Oakmilgec. Thence after mandering for 150 miles, it is joined by the Oconct, which likewife has its Gurce in the mountains. After this junction, it aflumes the name of Alatamaha, whon it becomes a large majeftic river; and flowing with a gentle current through forefts and plains 100 miles, difcharges itfelf into the Atlantic hy feveral mouths. The north channel glides by the heights of Darien, about 10 miles above the bar, and after feveral turnings, enters the occan between Sapelo and Wolf inands. Its inhehitants are colleded from varaug parts of the world, and ficeak a great varicty of languages, lut the Englinh frow donsinates. and the ufe of cvery other is gradually lefforing. Albany is univalited for lituation, being nearly at the had of

It enjoys a falubrions air, and is the natural emporium of the increafing trade of a large extent of courtry $W$ and $N$; a country of an excellent fiil, abounding in every article for the W India market ; plentifully watered, with navigable lakes, creeks and rivere. fettling with almoft uncxampled rapidity, and capable of after dingo liblifítence tomitlions of inlabitants: and when the contemphated locks arkl canals are con:pleted, and convenient roads opened into every part of the country, which arc in grent part accomplihasd, Allany will probably increafc in a more rapid degree. The corporation confifs of a mayor, recorder, fix aldermen, and as many aflifants. The improvements in this city, within a few ycars pan, have been very great in alnion all refpects. Wharves have been built on the river, the frects have been paved, a bank inftituted, a new and handfome fyle of building introduced, and excellent water is conducted into the various parts of the city, from a fine fpring 5 miles wett of the city. For thefe improvements the inhabitants are indebted to the patriotie exertions of a very fow gentlemen. One mile north of this city, in its fuburlis, near the manor houfe of the late licutenant governor Van Renffalaer, are very ingenioully conflucted, extenfive and uleful works, for the manufacture of Scotch and rappee finuif, roll and cut tobacco of different kinds, chocolate, mutard, ftarch, hairpowder, fplit peafe, and hulled barley. Mr. Evans obferveg, with refpect to that patt of thefie mountaias which he travelled over, viz. in the back parts of Pennfylvania, that farcely one acre in ten is capable of culture. 'This, however, is far from being the cafe in all parts of this range. Numerous tracts of fine arable and grazing land intervene between the ridyes. The different ridges which compofe this immenfe range of mountains, lave different names in the different lates, viz the Blue Ridge, the North Mountain, or North Ridre, or Devil's Backlone, Laurel Ridre, '7uckfon's Mountains, and Kitt.ttinny Mountains; which fee under thefe names. All thefe ridges, except the Allegisany, are broken through by rivers, which appear to bave forced their way through folid rocks. This principal ridge is mure immeditely called Alleghany, and is defcriptively naned the Backbone of the United States. From thefe feveral ridges proceed innumerable branches, or fpurs. The gencral name of the whole range, taken collectivcly, feems not yct to have been determined. Mr. Evans calls them the Endlofs Mountains; others have called them the Appalacbuin Mountuins, from a tribe of Indians who live on a river which proceeds from this mountain, called the Appalachicola; but the mof common name is the A'cgbany Mountains, fo called probably, from the principal sidge of the range. Even the plain of Quito, which may be confidered as the bafe of the Andes, is clevated farther above the level of the fea than the top of the Pyrenees in Europe; and Chimbnrazo, the moft elevated point of the Andes, is 20,280 fcet high, which is at leaft 7102 fcet above the peak of 'tencriffe. From the lofty and extenfive mountains of America, defecud rivers, with which the freams of Europe, of Afia, or of Africa, are not to be compared, either for lengh of eourie, or for the vaft hody of water, which they convey to the ocean. 'The Danube, the Indus, the Ganges, or the Nile, in the eaftern hemifphere, are not of equal magnitude even with the St. Lawrence, the Mifouri, or the Miffifippi, in North America; and fall far flurt of the Amazon, and the L3 Plata in South America. The lakes of the New World are no lefs confpicuous for grandenr than its mountiins and rivers. There is nothing in other parts of the globe which refembles the prodigious chain of lakes in North America, viz. Supcrior, Michigan, Huron, Frie, and Ontario. They may be properly termed inland feas of frefh water. Ancl even thofe of the fecond or third clafs, are of greater circuit, (the Cafpinn fea excepted) than the greaten lake of the ancient continent. The luxuriance of the vegetable creation in the New World is extremely great. In the fouthern provinces, where the mointure of the climate is aided by the warmth of the fun, the woods are almof impervious, and the furface of the ground is hid from the eye under a thick covering of fhrubs, of herbs, and weeds. In the northern provinces, although the forefts are not incumbered with the fame will luxuriance of vegetation, the trecs of various fpecies are genernily more lofty, and often much larger, than are to be feen in any other parte of the world. This vaft country produces mof of the metals, minerals, plants, fruits, \&c. to be met with in the other parts of the world, and many of them in grealer quantities, and in high perfection. The gold and lilver of Ainerica have fupplied Europe with thofc precious metals. The gold and. Gilver of Europe now bear little proportion to the high price fet upon thein before the difcovery of America. It alfo producce diamonds, pearls, emeralds, annethylts, and other valuable fones. To thefe, which are chiefly the productions of South America, may be added a great number of other connoodities, which though of lefs price, are of much greater ufe. Of thicfe are the plentiful fupplics of cochincal, indigo, anatto, logwood, brazil, fufic, pimenta, lignumvita, rice, ginger, escoa, or the chocolate nut, fugar, cotuon, tobacce, banillas, redwood, the balfams of Tolu, Peru, and Chili, that valuable article in medicine, the Jefuit's bark, mechoacan, faffafras, farfaparilla, catfia, tamarinds, hides, furs, ambergrife, and a great variety of wouds, roots, and plants, to which, before the difcovery of Americar the Europeans were cither entire frangers, or which they were forced to buy at in extravalgant rate from Afia and Africa, through the hands of the Ve netians and Genoefe, who then engroffed the trate of the eaftern world. On this. continent there grows alfo a variety of excellent native fruits; as pine apples, citrons, lenions, orauges, pomegranates, fugs, grapes, a great variety of culinary, medicinal, and other herbs, roots and plants, with many exotic productiors, which are hrought to as great perfection as in their native foil. Notwithtanding the many fettlements of the Furopeans on this contincnt, great part of America remains almuft unknown. N America contains the four Britifh provinces, viz. $\mathbf{z}$. Upper Canada; 2. Lowerr Canada, to which are annexed Nezv Britain, and the illand of Cape Breton: 3. Neru Brunf firk : 4. Nova Scotia, to which is annext.t St. Fohn's Ifland. Befides thefe are th. iflands of Nezufoundland, and the United States. It contains alfo the Spanifl territories of Florida, Nezv Mexico, California, Mexico, and Louifina, lately purchafed by the U States. Befide thefe, there are immenfe unexplored reginns to the $W$ and $N W$. In the fouthern continent, lie the Spanifl provinces of Terra Firma, Guiana, Peru, Parag:ary, and Chili; together with that of Brazil, belonging to the Portuguefe, and the country of Surinam, belonging to the Dutch. sonia, formerly called Maragnon. A large diftrict alfo lies between the ftraits of Magellan and the province of Paraguay, called Putagonis, little known. America, fo far as known, is chiefly claimed and divided into colonies, by three European nations, the Spaaiards, Britifh, and Portuguefe. The Spaniards, as they firf difcovered it, have the largeft and richent portion, extending from Louifiana and New Mexico, in N America, to the fraits of Magellay, in the South Sea, excepting the large province of Brazil, which belongs to Yortagal ; for, though the French and Dutch have fone forts upon Surinam and Guiana, they fuarcely deicreve to be coatidered as proprietors of auy part of the fouthern continent. Next to "spain the moft confiderable propricior of Aimerica was Great Britain, who derived her claim to $\mathbf{N}$ America from the firft difcovery of that continent, by Sebaftian Cabot, in the name of Henry VII. of England, in the year. I497, about 6 years after the difcovery of $S$ America by Columbus, in the same of the king of Spain. The country was in general called Nery foundland, a name which is now appropriated folely to an inland on its coaft. It was a long time bet fore the Englifl made any attempt to fetthe in this country. Sir Walter Raleigh, an uncommon genius, and a brave commnander, firft flewed the way, by plauting a colony in the fouthern part, which he called Virginia, in honor of queen Elizabeth, who was unmarried. The French, indeed, from this period until the conclufion of the war of 1756 , laid a claim to, and actually poffeffed, Canada and Louifi2na ; but, in that war, they were not only slriven from Canada, and its dependencies, but obliged to relinquifh all that part of Louifiana lying on the E fide of the Miffifippi ; and the Britifh colonies, at the yeace of $\mathbf{1 7 6 3}$, extended fo far as to render it difficult to aftertain the precife bounds of the empire of G Britain in N America. To the northward, Britain unight have extended her claims quite to the pole. From that extremity, fhe had a territory extending fouthward to Cape Florida, in the Gulf of Mexico, in N lat. 25, and, confequently, near 4050 miles in a direct line. And to the weftward, the boundaries were unknown; but having entered into impolitic difputes with her colonies, fie brought on a war, of which fhe felt the ruinous effects, by the difmemberment of her empire in N America : and Britills America, at the peace in 1783, was circumfribed within the parrow limits already mentioned. America was very probably peopled early after the flood. See Wall Subterranean. Who were the firt people of America ? And whence did they come? are quentions concerning which much has been faid and written. Dr.Robertfon and the AbbeClavigero have attempted a folution of them. A fummary of their opinions may be found in the American Univerfal Geograpby. It has been common, in eftimating the population of the whole world, to allow 150 millions to Ameaica. But this is probably five times their real number. For if we fuppiofe every part of the whole continent of A. merica to be as populous as the $U$ Stutes, (which is not the cafe) the whole number will be but about 60 millions. The exact number is probably not more than 30,000,000. The prefent Americans may be divided into two general clafles. Firft, the proper Americans,commonly calledindians, fometimes Aborigines, or thofe who arc defcended from the firft inhabitants of the new world, and who have not mixed theirblood with the inhabitants of the old contipent. Scondly, thofe who have migrated, or have been tranfported to America, fince its difcovery by Columbus, and their defcendants. The fornicr may be fubdivided into threc clafies. Firft, the S American Indians, who probably came over from the northern and wefern parts of Africa, and the fouthern parts of Afia and Europe. Sccondly, the Mexicans, and all the Indians fouth of the lakes and weft of the Miffifippi. Thirdly, the inhabitants of Equimeaux, Labrador, and the countries around them. The latter may alfo be diftinguifled into three claffes. Firft, Europeans of many different nations, who have migrated to America, and their defcendants, of unmixed blood. In this clafs we include the -Spaniards, Englifl, Scotch, Irifh, French, Portugitefe, Germans, Dutch, Swedes, \&c. botin in N and S America. Secondly. Africans, who have been tranfported to Arperica and its iflands, and their defcendants. Thirdly, the mixed breeds called by the spaniards, Caffas, by the Englifh, Mulattoes, that is, thofe who are defeended from an European and an American, or from an European and African, or froman African and American.

Under this form of gov, crnment, they maintained themfelves againf the rulers of Mcxico ; and continaed their ariflocracy till their reception of the Spaniards under Cortez, whom they afinted with their numerous forces, and accomplifhed the ruin of that enpire in 1521. It lies 9 miles S W by S from Skenefborough Fort ; io E S E from Furt George, and 12 N E by N from Fort Edward, on Hudfon River. Such was the fivage fate of this part of the country, and the layers of trees laid lengthwife and acrofs, and fo broken with creeks and marnhes, that Ceneral Burgoyue's army, in July, 1777, could fcarcely advance above a mile in a day, on the road to Fort Edward. They had no fewer than 40 bridges to confruct, one of which was of $\log$ work 2 miles in length ; circumftances which in after ages will appear hardly credible.

The whole river, 250 yards wide, falls parpenclicularly above 30 fect, and furms a mort pleafing cataract. The rapids below, in the f pace of 3, 00 yards, render the defcent confiderably greater; fo that when viewed at a diftance, they appear to be much higher than they really are. In the midale of the falls is à linall ifland, about 40 feet broad, and fomewhat longer, on which grow a few hemlock and fpruce trees; and about half way between this ifland and the eaftern ilhure, is a rock, lying at the very edge of the fall, in an obligue pofition, 5 or 6 fect broad, and 30 or 40 long. Thefe falls are peculiarly fituated, as they are approachable without the leaft offruction from any intervening hill or precipice ; which cannot be faid, perhaps, of any other confiderable fall in the world. The feenc around is exceedingly beautiful. It is not an uninterrapted plain, where the eye finds no relief, but compofed of many gentle afcents, which, in the fpring and fummer, are covered with verdure, and interfperfed with little gioves, that give a pleafing variety to the profpect. At a little diftance below the falls is a fmall ifland, about 2 acres, on which grow a great number of oak trees, all the branches of which, alle to bear the weight, are, in the proper feafon of the year, loaded with eagle's nefts. It is almof circular ; being about 15 miles long and 10 broad, containing 59,838 acres of land, of which about 34,000 are appropriated to the growth of fugar and piflurage annexed. lis other flaples are cotton and tohaceo. The foil is naturalIy rich, and when not checked by exceffive droughts, to which Antigua is particularly fubject, is very productive. Columbus, who difcovered this ifland, named it from a church in Seville, Santa Maria de la Antigua ; and his fon, Ferdinand, fays that its Indian name was Jamaica. It is a fingular circunifance, that this word, which in the language of the larger iflands Fignified a countryalounding with fprings, Thould, in the dialect of the Caribbees, have been applied to an ifland that, has not a fingle fpring or rivulet of frefh water in it. The inhabitants make ufe of rain water, which, when preferved in cifterns, is light, pure and wholefome. From drought and other circumftances, it is difficult to furnifh an average return of the crops, which vary to fuch a degree, that the quantity of fugar exported in fome years, is five times greater than in others; thus in 1779, were fhipped 3382 hogfheads, and 579 tierces; in 1782 , the crop was 15,382 hoglleads, and 1603 tierces; and in the years 1770,1773 , and 1778, there were no crops at all; the canes being deftroyed by a long drought, and the whole body of negrocs muft have perifhed, for want of food, if American veffels had not fupplied them with corn and flour. On an average, 17,000 hogfheads of fugar, of 16 cwt . each, are reckoned a good faving crop. Antigua exported in one year, ending the sth JanuaFy 1778 , to the value of $592,596 \mathrm{l}$. 15 ss .8 d . terling, in 233 vefels: the cargoes were \$84,526 cwt. I qr. 18 lbs . fugar ; 719,546 tal. molaffes; 26 lbs . indigo; dying woods end other fmall articles. The value exported to the United States, inclucled in he above, was $\mathrm{f}_{\mathrm{F}} \mathrm{II}, \mathbf{0}, 3 \mathrm{I}-15-4$. The inland bounds in black cattle, hogs, fowls, and roft of the aninals in common with the ther ilands. The number of inhabitants, oth white and black, feem to have dereafed progreflively. In 1774, the white Ghabitants amounted to 2590 , and the aves to 37.808 . The ifland is divided pto 6 parinites and in difricts. The arifhes are St. John's, St. Mary's, St. corge, St. Peter, St. Paul, and St. Philip. has 6 towns and villages. St. John's the capital) Parham, Falmouth, Willoughy Bay, Old Bay, Old Road, and James

Port; the two firt of which are legal ports of entry. No ifland in this part of the Weft Indies can boaft of fo many excellent harbours; of thefe the principal are Englifi Harbour, and St John's, both well fortified; and at the former are a royal navy yard, and arfenal, with conveniences for careening hlips of war. The military eftablinument generally confifs of 2 regiments of infantry, and 2 of foct militia. There are likewife a fyuadron of dragoons, and a battallion of artillery, both raifed in the ifland; and the regulars receive additional pay as in Jamaica. The governor or captain generalof theleeward Caribbean Ifands, generally refides in Antigua, but vifits occafionally each ifand within his government ; and, in hearing and determining cautes from the other iflands, prefiles alone. He is chancellor of each iffand by his office; but in ceafcs arifing in Antigua, he is affifed by his council, after the practice of Barbadces ; and the prefident, together with a certain number of the council, may determine chauncery caufes during the abfence of the governor general. The other courts of this ifland are a court of king's bench, a court of common pleas, and a court of exchequer. The church of the United Bretliren has been very fucceffitul in converting to chrifianity many of the negro flaves of this and the other illands. The climate here is hotter than at Darliadoes, and like that ifland fubject to hurricanes. The firft grant of Antigua was made by Charles II. about 16.63 , to William Lord Willoughby of Parham, and three years after, a colony was planted. It was furprifed the fame year by the French. It made no figure in commerse, till Col. Chrifopher Codrington, lieut. governor of Barbadoes, came and fettled here in 1690. There happened a mot terr:ble hurricane here in 1707, that did vaft damage to this ifland and Nevis, more than to any of the Caribbee Inands. In October, 1736, was the plot of Court, Tonbay and Hercules, three Indians who had conveyed gun powder under the ball room, where the governor was to give a ball; but it was happily difcovered, and they were all exccuted.  Batuam, Ihands.B.tbama Ifants, in the W. Indies, called by the Spaniards Lucayos, compreliend under this denomination all the illands, in general, which are to the N of Cuba and St. Damingo. The firft difonvery of the New World, by Columbus, began Otober ri, i492, at Guanahani, or Cats Jlland, one of the Bahamas. 'They were then full of people ; who were fingile, mild, and lived happy in the midft of plenty. Thefe unfortunate people were tranfported to the mines of St. Domingo, atter the cruet Spaniards had exterminated the numerous inhahitants of that large ifland; 14 years after the difcovery of thefe iflands, not one perfon remained in any of the Eahamas At this time Charles II. graited the Bahamas to the proprictors of Carolina. They fent feveral governors, and built the town of Naflau, which is now the feat of gevernmient in the I. of Providence. The inand of Providence afterwards became an harbour for pirates, who, for a long time, infefted the American navigation. In 1718, Capt. Wood3 Rogers was fent to "difolge the pirates, and form a fettlement. This the captain effected; and the inands have been improving fince by a low progrefs. In time of war, the people gain contiderably by the prizes condemned there; and in the courfe of the late war between G. The Spauiaris and Ameripens captured thefe illands during the Americ:ln war; but they were retaken April 7 . 1793. The Rahamas are faid to be 500 in number; fome of them only rocks, others very low and narrow, or little fpots of land on a level with the water's edge; but I - of then are large and fertile, forse indeed rocky and barren Five of them only are inhabited, viz. Bald Eagle, or Warrior Mountaint, lie about 200 miles W of Philadelphia, in Bedford co. Pemnfylvania, and forms the weftern boundary of Bald Eagle Valley. Bald Eagle is likewife the name of a river which runs a NE courfe 44 miles, and falls into the W branch of Sufquehannah River. The head water of Huron River which falls into Lake Erie, is called Bald Engle Creek.

Bald Eagle Valtey, or, as it is commonly called, Sinking Spring. Valley, lies upon the frontiers of Bedford co in Pennfylvania, about 200 miles N N W from Philadelphia. It has on the E a chain of high, rugged mountains, ealled the Canoe Ridige, and on the W, the Bald Eagle, or Warrior Mountains. This is a pleafant vale, of limeftone bottom, 5 miles in extent where wideft ; and in the vicinity are great quantities of lead ore It contained, in 1779, about 60 or 70 families, living in $\log$ houfes, who formed, in the fpace of 7 or 8 years, feveral valuable plantations fome of whicl are remarkably agreeable on account of their fituation. In the Antumn of 1799, the yellow fever proved mortal to a number of the inhabitants. During the late war with Great Britain, lead was much wanted, and very difficult to be procured, which induced a cont pany under the promifes of the State, to fettle here, and eftablifh a regular fet of works. A fort of logs, was erected for the protection of the miners; and a confiderable quantity of ore was produced, from which lead enough was made, to give a competent idea of the real value of the mines in general. The danger of the fituation, however, while an hidian war continued, occafioned the failure of the undertaking. The lead ore was of many kinds; fone in broad flakes, and others of the feely texture. Several regular Chafts were funk to a confiderable depth ; one of which was on the hith, upon which the fort was erected, and from which many datigemaffes of ore were procured; but nof thming a regidar vein, it was difónethuna, and anotler opened about a mild .fom the foti, nearer to Frank's Towne Hure the miners continued until they fin ly relinquifhed the bufinefs. When they frit began, they found in the upper furface or vegetable carth, feveral hundred weight of cubic lead ore, clean and unmixed with any fubfance whatever, which continued as a clue, leading them down through the different ftrata of earth, marl, \&e. until they came to the rock, which is here in general of the limeftone kind. Among other curiofities of this place, is that called the Swoallows, which abforb feveral of the largef freams of the valley, and after conveying them feveral miles under grourd, is a fubterraneons. courfe, return them again upon the fur-v face. Thefe fubterraneons paflages have given rife to the name, Sinking Spring Valley. Of thefe the moft remarkable is calted the Arch Springs, and run ciofe upon the road from the town to the fort. It is a deep hollow, formed in the limentone rock, about 30 feet wide, with a rude natural fone arch hanging over it, forming a paflage for the water, which it throws out with fome degree of violence, and in fuch plenty as to form a fine Itream, which at length buries itfelf again in the bowels of the earth. Some of thefe pits are near 300 feet deep; the water at the bottom lecms in rapid motion; and is apparently as black asink; though it is as pure as the fineft rprings can produce. Many of thefe pits are placed along the courfe of this fubterraneous river, which foon after takes an opportunity of an opening at a declivity of the ground, and keeps along the furface among the rocky hills for a iew rods, then enters the mouth of a large cave, whofe exterior aperture would be fufficient

This opening in the hill continues about 400 yards, when the cave widens, after you have got round a findden turning (which prevents its being difcovered till you are within it) into a fpacious. roon, at the bottom of which is a vortex, the water that falls into it whirling round with amazing force; ficks, or even pieces of timber, are immediately abforbed, and carried out of fight, the water boiling up with excefive violence, which fubfides by degrees, until the experiment is renewed. From the top of the Bald Eagle Mountains is a fine profpect of the Alleghany, frocching along until they feem to meet the clouds. Much flate is found here, with frong figns of pit coal. Bald Head, at the mouth of Cape Fear River, N. Carolina, is at the S W end of Smith's I. and with Oak I. forms the main entrance into the river. The light houfe, which was erected here in Dec. 1794, bears 4 miles NNW from the point of Cape Fear, and 24 miles N W by N, from the extremity of the Frying Pan fhoals.

Bald Head makes the S W part of what is called Wclls Bay, in the Diftrict of Maine. Between Cape Neddick harbour on the S S W, and Wells Bay are feveral coves, where fmall veffels in a fmooth tine, and with a wefterly wind, haul ahore, and are loaded with wood in the courfe of a tide, with cafe and fafety.
Buldivia, or Valdivia, a feapurt town in the province of Chili Proper, in the kingdom of Chili, S. America. It was built by the Spanifh General Baldivia, about the year 1551, and fands between the rivers Callacalles and P.ortero, where they fall into the S. Sea. In the year 1559, the Chilefe chafed the Spaniards from this fettlement, burned the town, and.put the inhabitants to the fivord; pouring melted gold down the governor's throat. when alive, and afterwards ufed his fkull for a cup to drink in. There are many gold mines here, and the Spaniards have fortified the place frongly, as it is fuppofed to be the key of the S. Seas. The whites of Peru and Chili, banifhed for their crimes, are fent hither to fupport the fortifications. The Dutch made themfelves mafters of it in 1643 ; but were forced to abandon it, leaving all their cannon, 30 or 40 pieces, baggage and fores; on advice that fuccours werc arriving to oppofe them from Peru. - The viceroy fends 30,000 crowns a year, to fupport the garrifon. There are great rains here during 3 months of the year. S lat. 3238 , W ion. 73 20. Baldivia is alfo the name of a river in Chili.

Balize, old and $N_{\epsilon}$, 105 miles below New Orleans, were formerly incoofiderable pofts, at the mouths of the Miflifippi, with 3 or 4 cannon in each, and garrifoned by a fubaltern's command. They appear to have been eftablifhed for the purpofes of affifing veffels, coming into the river, and forwarding interigence to New Orleans. They are fo fituated as not to defend the entrance into the river, not being fufficiently near its deepeft channel. With a fair wind the voyage from the Balize to New Orleans ros miles, is performed in 3 or 4 days, commonly in. 7 cs 8 days.

S of Lake George, and 190 above the city of N. York. The fprings are found in the bottom of a valloy, or excavation, furming a kind of baion of ahout 50 acres in extent. The woods are pretty well cleared near the fprings. There are feveral large houfes for entertainment, with neat bathing houfes, and hower baths for the convenience of invalids. The larget fpring belongs to the public. Sir William Johnfon made this obfervation, when he fold this tract of land to privateindividuals: "In tracing the hifory of thefe medicinal fprings, 1 could only learn that an Indian chief difcovered them to a fick French officer in the early part of their wars with the Englifit. But whether they were thefe very fprings in this bafon, or thofe at 10 miles diftance, properly called the Saratoga Sptings, I know not "The foil for half a dozen miles in fome directions round this place, is poor and fandy, producing little elfe than pine trees, flurub oaks, fern, and mullen. In the hills in the vicinity, ores have been found, efpecially irop and copper, or rather what the mineralogifts call ferruginous and capreuss pyrites. The valley of Balltown and its environs may be made an enchanting fpot, equal, nay, fuperior in fome refpects to any of the watering places in Europe. The Kayaderafforas aiver, which is about 10 yards wide, gives feveral hints to the man of tafte, to turn its waters to the ufe and beauty of the future town, which thefe medicinal furings will one day raife in this place. The medicinal waters which have made this fpot fo famous of late, are remarkably limpid, confidering they contain iron, a mineral alkali, common falt, and line. They are brik and fparkling like champaigne. In drinking they affect the nofe and palate like bottled cider, and nightly affect the head of fonie pcople, by their inebriating quality. They derive this exhilirating quality from what Dr. Priefly calls fixed air, and is that animating fometbing which gives activity to yeaf, and life to malt liquors. It is uled in the neighbourhood of the fprings inftead of yeaft in making bread; and makes it rife more fpeedily and effectually than any other ferment in ordinary ufe. Hories drink thefe waters with avidity. The ignorant country people fee, with aftonifhment, that a candle will not burn near the furface of thefe waters. Fifh and frogs are killed in a few minutes, and geefe and ducks can only fwim in them a few minutes before they expire. Thefe waters are apt to burft bottles, when corked in very warm weather, efpecially during a thunder form ; but with care may be tranfported in bottles to any difance. They boil with a very moderate degree of heat ; they are neverthelefs, remarkably cold ; for when the mercury in Fahrenheit's thermometer food at 86 in the open air, and 79 in the brook running near the fpring, it flood in one of thefe mineral fprings at 49, and in the other at 5 I . The firt was conftantly fecluded from the rays of the fun; the laft always expofed without a covering. Phyficians feldom direct their patients to drink more than three quarts of thefe waters in 12 hours; but fome drink the enormous quantity of 3 gallons, and even more, in a day. Cold as they are they may be drunken with fafety in the hottef weather. They increafe every natural evacuation; nay, they are cathartic, diuretic and fudorific, at the fame time. On the firlt trial they are apt to difagree with many people, they create uncatinefs in the fomach. and howels, and caufc a heat in the glands of the throat, until they begin to pais off freely ly the kidneys. They then becomeplealant and opcrate agrecably. They blacken the teeth and alfo the alvine faces. They are deemed a fpecific in lofa of appetite and indigeftion. They are highly ferviceable in hypochondriac and billious cafes, in obftructions, and in the ftone and gravel, and cutaneous diforders. Their credit is not fo well eftablifhed in the gout or theumatifm. They are hurtful in inflammatory diforders and confumptions. Their ufe occafions heat in the glands of the throat, and ftiffnefs of the neck, and in fuch as are fubject to the toothache, an aggravation of the pain. They are a powerful and precious remedy in the hands of the judicious, but ought never to be ufed without the advice of a ikilful phyfician.

Middle R. has little or no fupply of frefh water. There are numerous iron works in this county ; and it contains 50,030 inhabitants, including 9673 flaves. Its chief town is Baltimore.
Baltimore, a pof town in the above county, and the largeft in the flate of Maryland. It is larger than Bofton. It is lituated on the N fide of Patapico R. at a finall diftance from its junction with the Cheliapeak. The entrance of the harbour is defended by Whetfone Fort; hardly a piftol fhot acrofs, and of courfe may eafily be defended againt naval force. From the head of Elk R. at the head of the bay to Baltimore, is about 60 miles. The town is built around what is called the bafon, reckoned one of the fineft harbours in America. The water rifes 5 or 6 feet at common tides. It is divided into what is called the town and Fell's Point, by a creek; aver which are two bridges : but the houfes extend, in an irregular manner, from the one to the other. At Fell's Point the water is deep enough for fhips of burden, but fmall veffels only go up to the town. The fituation is low, and was formerly thought unhealthy, but, by its rapid increafe, improvements have taken place, which have corrected the dampnefs of the air, and it is now judged to be healthy. In 1787, it containell 1955 dwelling houfes; of which 1200 were in the town, and the reft at Fell's Point. It then had 152 ftores. The inhabitants now are 26,5I4, of whom 2843 are faves. Before the emigration of the French people from Cape François, and other iflands, the houres had increafed to 2300 . Thofe untortunate people, flying from their mercilefs countrymen, who had burned and pillaged their cities and towns, and murdered their relations and frients, found here an hefpitable afylum, after fufferings hardly paralleled in the annals of hiftory. Here are II places of public worlhip, which belong to Roman Catholics, Geıman Calvinitts and Lutherans, Epifcopalians, Prefhyterians, Baptifts, Methodifts, Quakers, Nicolitef, or New Quakers, and the diffiples of Baron Swedenborg, who all livo together in peace. It is inhabited by people from mon parts of Europe. The principal freet is Market freet, which rums nearly E and W a mile in length, parallel with the water. This is crofleal by a number of other freets, which run from the water; a number of which, particularly Calvert and Gay ftreets, are well built. N and E of the town, the land rifes, and prefents a noble view of the town and bay. In 1790, this city owned 27 fhips, 1 finow, 31 brigantines, 34 fchooners, and 9 floops -lotal 102; tonnage 13,564. In the beginning of 1798 the flipping amounted to 59,837 tons. The exports in 1790 amounted to $2,027,770$, and the imports to 1,945,890 dollars. In 1798 the exports exceeded $12,000,000$ dollars. The affairs of the town are managed by a board of town commiffioners, a board of fpecial commilfioners, and a board of wardens ; the firt board fills its own vacancies, and is perpetual; the two laf are appointed by electors, chofen every 5 th year by the citizens. It is about 21 miles in length from High Point, its northern extremity, to South Point; and 14 in breadth, fron the Chair near Kitridge Bay E. to Valiant Royalift Fcrt, $W$, and contains 106,470 acres of land, mofl of which is under cultivation. It lies

20 leagues E from St. Vincent, which may be feen in a clear day; $2 s$ from St. Lucia; 28 SE from Martinico; 60 N E from Trinidad, and 100 S E from St. Chrifopher's. It is divided into 5 difrichs, and II parifhes; and contains 4 towns, viz. Bridgetown, the capital ; Oflins, or Charieftown; St. James, formerly called the Hoie ; and Speights Town. The names of the parines are St. Lucy'h St. Peter's, St. James's, St. Andrew's, St. Thomas'p, St. Jofeph's, St. John's, St. Gcorge's, St. Michael's, St. Philip's, and Chrif Church. Its foil muft be allowed to be highly fertile, if it be true, that it contained in $1670,50,000$ whites, and 100,000 blacks ; whufe labours employed 60,000 tons of flipping. This is thought to be exaggerated ; but it is certain that its population has decreafed rapidly. In 1786 the numbers were 16,167 whites ; 838 free people of color, and 62,115 negroes, The exports, on an average, of 1784,1785 , and 1786 , had fallcu to 9.554 hhds. of fugar ; 5448 puncheons of rum ; 6320 bags of ginger ; 8.332 bags of cotton, exclufive of fmall articles, as aloes, fweet meats, \&s. In the year ending the sth of Jan. 1788, 243 veffels cleared outwards ; and the London marlet price of their cargoes in ferl. money, amounted to $£ 539,605-14-10$; of which the value exported to the United States, was f. 2 3,217-13-4. That the dreadful fucceffion of hurricanes, with which this and the other W. India iflands have been vifited, for many years paft, has contributed to this great d alcation, cannot be doubted. Bridgetown was fcarcely rifen from the afhes to which two dreadful fires had reduced it, when it was torn from its foundations, and the whole country made a feene of defolation, by the form of the roth of Oct. 1780, in which no lefs than 4326 o. the inhabitants, blacks and whites, miferably perified; and the damage done to property was computed at $\pm \mathrm{t}, 320,564-\mathrm{x} 5$. fterl. The force of the wind was at one place fo great as to lift fome pieces of cannon, with their carriages, feveral paces from the ramparts. The trade of this, and fome others of the iflands, fuffers confiderably by a duty of $4 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on exported produce ; out of which, however, the governor's falary, $£^{2} 2000$ a year, is paid. The crown acquired this revenue in the reign of Charles II. which the planters agreed to, in order to fecure poffeffions to which they had uncertain tities. Barbadoes was probably difcovered firft by the Portuguefe. It is ufually ranked among the windward divifion of the Caribbees, being a day or two's fail from Surinam. From its being the firft difcovered of any of thefe inands, it is called Mother of the Sugar Colonics.The firft of the Englifh who are known to have landed herc, were the crew of the Olive Blofom, fitted out by Sir Olive Leigh, in 1605 . It was found abfolutely deliolate; nor had it the appearance of having been peopled even by the moft barbarous Indians. The inand is fortified by nature, all along the windward Ihore, by rocks and Choals, fo as to be almot inacceffible; on the leeward fide it has good harbours ; but the whole coaft is protected by a good line, of feveral miles in length, and feveral forts to defend it, at the moft material places. The military, civil, and religious eftablihments are well provided for. Herc is a college founded by Col Codrington ; the only inflitution of the kind in the W. Indies ; but it has not anfwered the intention of the founder. The houfes of the planters aretery thickly fown. all along the country, which, with the luxa. uriant productions of the foil, and the. gently fwelling hills, form a delightful icene. The earlief planters of Barbadoes: were fometimes reproached with the guilt: of forcing or decoying into תavery, the Indians of the neighboring continent. The hiftory of Inkle and Yarico, which the Spectator has recorded for the deteftation: of mankind, took its. rife in this ifland; but happily this fpecies of flavery was foon abolifhed. Bermuda Jhunds. Thefe received thit name from the difcoverer, John Bermudas, 2 Spaniard; and were called Sommer's Ifes, from Sir George Sommers, who was nipwrecked on their rocks in: 1609, in his paffage to Virginia. The number of this clufter, in the form of a Ghepherd's crook, has been computed to be about 400 , difant from the land's end in. England, 1500 leagues, from the Madeiras 1200, from Hifpaniola 400, and 200 frum Cape Hatteras in Carolina, which lant is the, nearent land to them. The iflande are walled with rocks; and by reafon of thefe, together with flioals, are dificult to approach. The entrances into the harbours and channels ave narrow as well as floaly, and are more dangerous by reafor-of the ffrong current which fets to the NE from the gulf of Florida. They contain from 12 to 13,000 acres of poor land, of which 9 parts in Io are either uncultivated, or referved in woods, which conifit chiefly, of cedar, for the fupply of hip-building .There arte about 200 acres laid out in cotton. The main iland is about 16 miles long, and from one to two in breadth. The parifh ot St. George's, is an I. to the eaftward of the main land, in which fands the town of St. Genrge's, containing about 500 houfes. Contiguous to that is St. David's. I. which fupplies the town with pioxirions. The air is healthy, and a continu'd fpring prevails ; and mont of the productions of the W. Indics might he cultivated here. The houtics are built of a foft fone, which is fawn like tiraber, hut heing wafled with lime, it becomes hard; thefe tones are greatly in requef through; out the W. Indies, for filtrating water. The houfes are white as fuow; which, bcheld from an eminence, contrafted with the grecunefs of the cedars, and pafture ground, and the multitude of inando full in view, realize what the poets have feigned of the Elyfian Fields.' Some accounts fay that thefe iflands contain from 15 to 20,000 inhabitants ; but Mr. Edwards fays the number of whise people is 546 z , of blacks 4919 . Old writers ubferve that there ware 3000 Englin in thefe iflands, in 1623.300 or 400 g annually to Turks 1. to rake falt, which is carried to America for provifions, ot fold, to fuch as may call for it there, for call. The fhip Régulator, a privateer, was cartied into Bofton, and had 70 flaves on hoard: 60 of them returned in 2 flag of truce, 9 returned by way of N. York; one only was miffing, who died. The goverimment is conducted uuder a governor, named by the Britifh crown, a council, and a general affembly. There are 9 churches, of which 3 clergymen have the charge; and there ls noe Prefbyterian church. Bofton is built upon a peninfula of irregular form, at the bottom of Maffachufetts Bay, and is joined to the main land by an ifthmus on the fouth end of the tnwn leading to Roxbury. It is two miles long, but is of unequal breadth; the broadeft part is 726 yards. The peninfula contains ahout 700 acres (other accounts fay 1000) on which are about 2600 dwelling houres. The number of inlabitants in 1790 was 18,038 , in 1800 , 24,937. The town is interfected by 97 ftreets, 36 lanes, and 26 alleys, befides 18 courts, \&c, mot of the [e are irregular, and not very convenient. State Areet, Common itreet, and a few others, are exeeptions to this general character; the former is very fpacious, and being on a line with Long Wharf, where Rrangers ufualty land, cxlibits a flattering idea of the town. Here are nineteen cdifices for public worShip, of which nine are for Congregationalifts, threc for Epifcopalians, and two for Baptifts; the Friends, Roman Catholics, Methodifts, San lemanians and Univerfalits have one cach. Moft of thefe are ornamented with beantifulfpires, with clocks and bells. The other putblic buildings are the old State Houfe, now converted into officcs, ftores, \&e. Here are kept, in capacious rooms given and fitted up for the parpofe, the Bofton Library, and the valuable Collections of the Hiftorical Society. Mont of the pulalic buildings are handfome, and fome of them are elegant ; particularly the new State Houfe, erected on the S fide of Beacon Hill, fronting the Mall, the eorner fone of which was laid witla great formality and parade on the 4 th of July, 1795. 'This building overtops the monument on Beacon Hill, and is onc of the moft elegant in the United States. It is an oblong building, 173 feet front, and 61 derp, it confints externally of a bafement ftory, 20 feet high, alud a ptincipal fory, 30 fect. This in the centre of the front is crowned with an Attic 60 feet wide, 20 feet high, which is covered with a pediment: Inmediately above this rifes a dome 50 feet diameter and 30 high, the whole terminated with an elegant circular lanthorn, fupporting a gilt pine coue, ant emblem of one of our principal faples. The bafement ftory is finiflied plain on the wings with fquare windows. The centre is 94 feet in length, and formed of arches which project 14 feet; they form a covered walk below, and fupport a colonade of Corinthian columns of the fame extent above. The outfide walls arc of large patent bricks, with white marble fafcias, impofts and key fones. The lower Rory is divided into a large hall or public walk in the centre, 55 feet fquare and 20 high, fupported liy Doric columns; two entrics, each 16 feet wide, with two flights of nairs in each, and at the ends offices for the 'Ireafurce and Secretary of the eominonwealtl. Unihed in compartments of nuceo, in a fylc of fimple clegance. The centre of the dume is so feet from the flour. The feats for the members are rauged femicircularly, and the Speaker's chair in face of the whole. North of the centre suom is the Senate chamber, 55 fect long, 33 wide, and 30 ligh ; highly fininled in the Ionic order ; two fereens of eolumna, support with their entablature a rich and elegant arched ceiling. This room is alfo ornamented with lonic pilafters, and with the arma of the State, and of the United States, placed in opponite paninels : it is accommodated with a gallery for publle ufe. The Council chamber is on the oppofite quarter of the building; it is 27 feet §quare, and 20 high, with a flat ceiling; the walls are finilled with Corintliian pilaftere and pannelis of fluceo; thefe pannels are ehriched with the State Arms, with cmblems of Executive Power, the fcale and fword of Juftiee, and the inlignia of Arts and Freedom, the Caduceus and Cap of Llberty. The fairs are fpacious, and two flights of them lead to the top of the outer dome, 170 fleps from the foundation. This fight affords an uninterrupted view of one of the finefl ficenes in nature. Indeed the beauty and advantages of this fituation which induced the Legillature to make choise of it for the prefent building, are acknowledged by both natives and foreigners: It vies with the moft pieturefque fencs in Yurope, and will bear comparifon with the Cafle Hill of Edinhurgh, the famous liay of Naples, or any other moft commanding profpect. The foundation of this building is about 100 feet above the level of the harloour ; its elevation and fize, make it a very confpicuous object. It is alour 60 feet ahove the level of the Mall, and from this fituation appears to mof advantage. The Market Place, in which Faneuil Hall is fituated, is fupplied with all kinds of provilions which the couniry affords. The Gifi market in particular, liy the bounteous fupplies of the ocean and rivers, not only furnifies the rich with the rareft productions, but often provides the poor with a cheap and grateful repaf. Bofton harbour is formed by Point Alderton on the S, and by Nabant Poiut on the N . The hatbour is capacious enough for 500 velicle to ride at anchor in good depth of

The Light Houfe fands on a fmall illand on the $\mathbb{N}$ entrance of the channel, (Point Alderton and Nantafket Heights being on the S) and is about 65 feet high. To feer for it frum Cape Cod, the courfe is W N W when within one league of the Cape; from Cape Cod to the Light Houfe is about 16 leagues; from Cape Ann the courfe is $\mathbf{S} \mathbf{W}$, diftant io leaguca. Noddle's, Hug, Long, Deer, Spectacle, Governor's, and Apple llands. The wharves and quays in Bofton are about So in number, and very convenient for veffels. Long Wharf, or Bufton Pier, in particular, extends from the bottom of State flrect 1743 feet into the harbour in a fraight line. Thie breadth is 104 feet. At the end are 17 feet of water at ebb tide. Adjoining to this wharf on the $\mathbf{N}$ is a convenient wharf called Minot's T, from the name of its former proprietor and ith form. Veffels are fupplied here with frefl water from a well furrounded by falt water, which has been dug at a great expenfe. I.ong Wharf is covered on the N fide with large and commodious fores, feveral of which are fire pronf, and in every refpect exceeds any thing of the kind in the United States. A company, ineorporated for the purpofe in 1796, have cut a canal, on the $E$ fide of Boflon neck, connecting the harliour of Bufon, with Roxbury. The vicw of the town, as it is approached from the fea, is truly beautiful and pieturefque. It lies in a circular and pleafingly irregular form round the harbour, and is ornamented with fpires, above which the monument of Beacon Hill rifes, which is now, however, overtopped by the new State Houfe.

The rivers in this country annually overflow their banks, and like the Nile leave a fort of flime upon the lands; and the foil is in many places amazingly rich. The vegetable productions are, Indian corn, fugar canes, tobacco, indigo, balfam, ipecacuanha, brazil wood. The laft is of a red colour, hard and dry ; and is chiefly ufed in dying, but not the red of the befl kind. Here is alfo the yellow fuftic, of ufe in dying ycllow, and a beantiful kind of fpeckled wood ufed in cabinet work. Here are five different forts of palm trees, curious ebony, and a great variety of cotton trees. 'This country abounds in horned cattle, which are hunted for their hides only, 20,000 being fent annually to Europe. There is great plenty of deers, hares, and other game. Befide the bealts cominon in the neighbouring parts of the continent, are janouveras, and a fierce aninal fomewhat like a grcyhound, tbe topiralfou, a creature between a bull and an afs, but without horns, and entirely harmlefs, the flefh is vesy good, and has the flavour of beef. The remarkable birde are the humming bird; the lankima, fometimes called the unicorn bird, from its having a horn, 2 or 3 inches long, growing out of its forehead; the guira, famous for changing its colour often, being firfi black, then afh coloured, next white, afterwards fcarlet, and laft of all crimfon; which colours grow deeper and richer the. longer the bird lives. Of filh, there is one called the globe fifh, fo called from its form, which is fo befet with fpikes like a hedgehog, that it bids defiance to all fifm of prey. Brazil breeds a variety of ferpents and venonious creatures, among which are the Indian falamander, a four legged infect, whofe fting is mortal ; the ibivaboca, a fpecies of ferpent about 7 yards long, and half a yard in circumference, whofe poifon is inftantaneoufly fatal; the rattle faake attains there an enor-

" There is a numberlefs variety of fowl, wild and tame in this country. The trade of Brazil is very great, and increafes every year. They import as many as 40,000 as ly. The exports of Brazil are diamonds, gold, fugar, tobacco, hides, drugs and medicines ; and they receive in return, woollen goods of all kinds, linens, laces, filks, hats, lead, tin, pewter, copper, iron, beef, and cheefe. They alfo receive from Madeira, a great quantity of wine, vinẹgar and brandy; and from the Azores, £ 25,000 worth of other liquors. The gold and diamond mines are but a recent difcovery ; they were firf opened in 1681, and have fince yielded above $5,000,000$ ferling annually, of which a fifth part belongs to the crown. Thefe, with the fugar plantations, occupy fo many hands, that agric' 'ture lies neglected, and Brazil depends upon Europe for its daily bread; although before the difcovery of thefe mines, the foil was found very fufficient for fubfifing the inhabitants. The diamonds here are neither fo hard, nor fo clear as thofe of the E. Indies, neither do they fparkle fo much, but they are whiter. The Brazilian diamonds are fold to per cent cheaper than the oriental ones, fuppofing the weights to be equal. The crown revenue arifing from this colony, amounts annually to $2,000,000$ ferling in gold, if fome late writers are to be credited, befide the duties and cuftoms on merchandife imported from that quarter. This indeed, is more than a fifth of the precious metal produced by the mines ; but every other confequent advantage confidered, it probably does not much exceed the truth. The Portuguefe here live in the mon effeminate luxury. When people appear abroad they are carried in 2 kind of cotton hammocks, called ferpentines, which are borne on negroes' floulders : fimilar to palanquins in India. The poitrait drawn of the manners, cuftome, and morals of that nation, in America, by judicious travellers, is very far from being favourable. The native Brazilians are about the fize of the Europeans, but not fo flout. They are fubject to fewer diftempers and are long lived. They wear no clothing ; the women wear their hair extremely long, the men cut their's fhort ; the women wear bracelets of bones of a beautiful white; the men necklaces of the fame; the women paint their faces, and tho men their bodies. Though the king of Portugal, as grand manter of the Order of Chrift, be folely in poffeffion of the titles, and though the produce of the crufade belongs entirely to him ; yet in this extenfive country, fir bifhopricks have been fucceflively founded, which acknowledge for their fuperior, the archbihop of Bohia; which fee was cfablihed inis52. Only half of the 16 captainfhips, into which the country is divided, belong to the crown; the others being fiefs made over to fome of the nobility, who do little more than acknowledge the fovereignty of the king of Portugal. The Portuguefe difcovered this country in 1500, butdid not plant it till the year 1549, when they tonk poffeffion of All Saints Bay, and built the city of St. Salvadore. The Dutch invaded Brazil ha 1623 , and fuldued the northern provipces ; but the Portugucfo agreed in $\mathbf{1 6 6 1}$, to pay the Dutch 8 tons of gole, to relinquifh their intereft in this country, which was accepted; and the Portugueie remained in peaceable poffeffion of Erazil, till about the end of 1762 ; when the Spanifh governor of Buenos Ayres, hearing of a war between Portugal and Spain, took, after a month's fiege, the Portuguefe frontier fortrefi, St. Sacrament; but by the treaty of peace it was reftored.

Breton, Cape. The illand, or rather collection of iflands, called by the French Les Ifes de Madame, which lics fo contiguous as that they are commonly called but one, and comprehended under the name of the Illand of Cape Breton, lies between lat. 4528 , and 47 N , and between 5944 , and 6129 W lon. and about 45 leagues to the eaftward of Halifax. It is about 109 miles in length, and from 20 to 84 in breadth; and is feparated from Nova Scotia, by a narrow ftrait, called the Gut of Canfo, which is the communication between the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of s. I Iatwrence. It is furrounded with litsle fharp pointed rocks, feparated from each other by the waves; above which fome of their tops are vifible, and interfected with lakes and rivers. The great Braís d'Or is a very extenfive flieet of water which formsinto arris and branches, and opens an eafy communication with all parts of the ifland. All its harbours are open to the eaft, turning towards the fouth. On the other parts of the coaft there are but a few anchoring places for mall veffels, in creeks; or between iflets. The harbour of St. Peter's, at the W end of the infand, is a very commodious place for carrving on the fifhery. This ifland was ronfidered as annexed to Nova Scotia in refpect to matters of government till 1784, when-it was crected into a feparate government by the name of Sydncy. There is a great proportion of arable land on this illand; and it abounds in timber and hard wood, fuch as pine, beach, birch, maple, fpruce, and fir. Here are about 1000 inhabitants, who have a lientenant governor refident among them, appointed by the king. Ile Madame, which is an appendage to this govern. ment, is fettled for the mof part with French Acadians, about 50 families, whofe chief employment is the fifhery at Afhmot, the principal harbour in this little ifland. The principal towns are Sydney, the capital, and louilburg, which has the $b$ ift harbour in the ifland. The prefent feat of government is at Spanifh river, on the N file of the iffand. This illand may be confidered as the key to Canada, and the very valuable fifhery in its neighbourhood depends for its proteceion on the
poffeffion of this ifland ; as no nation can carry it on without fome convenient harbour of Atrength to fupply and protect it, and Louilburg is the principal one for thefe purpofes. The peltry trade was ever a very inconfiderable object. It confifted only in the fkins of a few lynxes, elks, mulk rats, wild cats, bears, otters, and foxes, both of a red, filver, and grey colour. Some of thefe were procured from a colony of Micmac Indians, who had fetcled on the inand with the French, and never could raife more than 60 men able to bear arms. The refl came from Sr. John's, or the neighbouring continent. Greater advantages are now derived from the coal mines which are fituated near the entrance of the harbour, the working of which, and the filhery, are the chief employment of the inhabitants. They lie in a horizontal direction; and being no more than 6 or 8 feet below the furface, may be worked without digging deep, or draining off the waters. Notwithfanding the prodigious demand for this coal from N. England, from the year 174.5 to 1749, thefe mines would probably have been forfaken, had not the fhips which were fent out to the French iflands wanted ballaft. In one of thefe mines, a fire has been kindled, which could never yet be extinguifhed. Thefe mines yield is revenue of $£_{0} 12,000$ yearly to the crown. In 1743, while this ifland belonged to the French, they caught 1,149,000 quintals of dry figh, and $3,500,000$ do. of mud fifh, the value of both which, including $3,1 \times \frac{1}{+}$ tons of train oil, drawn from the blubber, amounted to $£ 926,577$ 10f fterling, according to the prime coft of the fifl at Newfoundland. . The whole value of this trade, annually, at that period, amounted to a million fe: "ng. No lefs than 564 fhips, hefide fhahlops, and 27,000 feamen, were employed in this trade. At prefent the inhabitants of this ifland take about 30,00 quintals of fifl, annually, which are Thipped for Spain and the Straits, principally by merchants from Jerfey (in England) who ycarly refort $k$ here, apd keep ftores of fupplies for the fifhermen. Though fome fifiermen had long reforted to this inland every fummer, the French, who took poffeflion of it in Auguft, 1713 , were properly the firf fettled inlabitants. They clanged its name into that of Tje Royale, and fixed upon Fort Dauphin for their principal fettlement. In 1720, the fortifications of Louifburg were begun. The other fettle ments

Britain, Nezv. The country lying round Hudfon bay, or the country of the Efquimaux, comprehending Labrador, New North and South Wales, has obtained the general name of New Britain, and is attached to the government of Lower Canada. A fuperintendant of trade, appointed by the governor general of the four Britifh provinces, and refponfible to him; refides at Labrador. The principal rivers which water this country, are the Wager, Monk, Seal, Pockereke!ko, Churchill, Nelfon, Hayes, New Severn, Albany and Moofe rivers, all which empty into Hudfon and James' bay, from the $W$ and $S$. The mouths of all the rivers are filled with fhoals, except Churchill's, in which the largeft fhips may lie; but ten miles higher the channel is obftructed by fand banks. All the rivers, as far as they have been explured, are full of rapids and cataracts, from ' 10 to 60 feet perpendicular. Down thefe rivers the Indian traders find a quick paffage; but their return is a labour of many months. Copper Mine, and Mc Kenzies rivers, fall into the $\mathrm{N}_{3}$ Sea. As far inland as the Hudfon Bay company have fettlements, which is 600 miles to the weft of fort Churchill, at a place called Hudfon House, lat. 53, lon. 10627 W from London, is flat cuuntry; nor is it known thow far to the euftward, the great chain feen by navigators from the Pacific ocean, branches :off. From Moofe river, or the bottom of the Bay, to Cape Churchill, the land is flat, marilhy and wooded with pines, tirch, larch and willows. From Cape Churchill, to Wager's river, the coafts are high and rocky to the very fea, and woodlefs, except the mouths of Pockerekeiko and Seal rivess. The hills on their back are naked, nor are there any trees for a great diftance inland. The eaftern coaft is barren, paft the efforts - of culkivation. The furface is every where uneven, and covered with maffes of ftone of an amazing fize. It is a country of barren vallies and frightful mountains, fome of an aftonifhing height. The vallies are full of lakes, formed not of fprings, but rain and fnow, fo chilly as to be productive of fmall trout and a few other fins. The mountains have here and there a blighted fhrub, or a little mofs. The vallics are full of crooked, finted trees, pinea, fir, birch, and cedars, or rather a fpecies of the juniper. In lat. 60 , on the coaft, vegetation ceafes. The whole fhore, like that on the weft, is faced with .iflands at fome diftance from land. As difinal and frozen' as thefe regions are, they are becoming ftill more cold and intolerable. The forefts here are furrounded with ftumps and old dead trecs for 20 miles and more. The fturdy woods bow to the ftorms; the winds and fnows forbid then to rife. There was an intercourie between Denmark and Greentand from the tenth to the fifteenth ecntury, when the Greenlanders became imprifoned by the increafe of arctic ice. 'Thus while other climes are becoming more mild, the north part of N. America is more inhof pitable, and frightful. The laudable zcal of the Moravian clergy induced them, in the year 1752, to fend miflionaries froun Greenland to this country. 'I hey fixed on Nefbit's harbour for their fettlement; but of the firt party, fome of them were killed, and the others driven away. In 1764, under the protection of the Britilh government, another attempt was made. The miftionaries were well received by the Efquimaux, and the mifion goes on with fuccefs. The knowledge of thefe northern feas and countries was owing to a project ftarted in England for the dilcovery of a NW paffage to China and the Eaft Indies, as early as the year 1756 . Since then it has been frequently cropped and as often revived, thut sever yet completed. Frobifier; about the year 1576, difcovered the Main of New Britain, or Terra de Labrador, and thofe ftraits to which he has given his name. In 1585 , John Davis failed from Portfmouth, and viewed that and the more northern coalts, but he femms never to have entered the bay. Hudfon made three veyages on the fame adventure, the firf in 1607 , the. fecond in 1608 , and his third and laft in 1610. This bold and judicious navigator entered the fraits that lead into the bay known by his name, coafed a great part of it, and penetrated to eighty degrecs: and a half, into the heart of the frozen zone. His ardor for the difcovery not being abated by the dificulties he fruggled with in this empire of winter, and. world of frof and fnow, he ftayed here until the enfuing fpring, and prepared, in the beginning of $\mathbf{1 6 1 x}$, to purfue his difcoveries, but his crew, who fuffered equal hardflips, without the fame fpirit to fupport them, mutinied, feized upon him and feven of thofe who were moft faithful to him, and committed them to the fury of the icy feas, in an open boat. Hudfon and his companions were either fiwallowed up by the waves, or gaining the inhorpitable coaft, were defroyed by the favages; but the ghip and the reft of the men returned Lome. Though the adventurers failed in the original purpofe for which they navigated Hudfon bay, yet the project, even in ite failure, has been of great advantage ta England. The vaft countries which furcound Hudfon bay, alound with animals, whofe fur and fkins are excellent. In 1670 , 3 charter was graited to the Hudfon bay company, which does not confift of above 9 or 10 perfons, for the exclufive trade to this hay, and they have acted under it ever fince, with great benefit to the individuals who compoie the company, though comparatively with little advantage to Britain. The company employ 4 hlips, and 130 feamen. They have feveral forti, viz. Prince of Wales fort, Churchill river, Nelfon, New Severn, Albany, on the W fide of the bay, and are garrifoned by 186 men. There is nothing yet difcovered peculiarly different in its productions or its inhabitants, from thofe of the other ifands in its neighbourhood. It has the appearance of a mountainous country, and is covered with large and frately trees. Britijo America. Under the general name of Britifh America, we comprehend the vaft extent of country, bounded $S$ by the United States of America, and the Atlantic ocean; E by the fame ocean and Davis's fraits, which divide it from Greenland; extending $N$ to the northern limits of Hudfon bay charter; and weftward indefinitely; lying between 4230 and 70 N lat. and between 50 and 96 W lon from Greenwich. Britifh America is divided into four provinces, viz. i. Upper Canada; 2. Lower Canada, to which is annexed New Britain, or the country lying round Hudfon bay, and the ifland of Cape Breton; which ifland, in $¥ 784$, was formed into a feparate government by the name of Sydney. 3. New Brunfwick; 4. Novi Scotia, to which is annexed the ifland of \$t. John's. Befide thefe, there is the inland of Newfoundland, which is governed by the admiral for the time being, and two lieytenant governors, who refide at Placentia and St. John's. The troops flationed at Newfoundland, however, arc fubject to the orders of the goverpor general of the four Britih provinces. The number of people in the whole of the northern Britifh colonies is perhaps 160,000 or 180,000 . Since the four provinces have been put under a general governor; the governor of each is fyled lieutenant governor. "The refidence of the general governor is at Quebec. The river St. Lawrence remains ufually locked up one half of the year; and although, in 1784 , it was confidently faid, that the Britifl provinces would be able in three years to fupply all the Wea Indies with lumber and provifions, yet it was found neceffary to import lumber and provifions iuto Nova Scutia, from the U. Canada, or the Province of Quebec. By the Royal Proclamation of the 7 th of $\mathbf{O c t}$. 1763, this province was bounded on the $E$ by the river St. John, and from thence by $a$ line drawn from the head of that river through Lake St. John, to the S end of the Lake Nepifling; from whence the line crotling the river Et . Lawrence and lake Champlain in the 4 sth parallel of $\mathbf{N}$ latitude, paffes along the high lands which divide the rivers that empty themfelves into the river St. Lawrence, from thofe which fall into the fea; and alfo along the $\mathbf{N}$ coaft of the Baye de Chaleurs, and the coaft of the gulf of St. Lawrence to Cape Roficrs; and from thence croffing the mouth of the river St. Lawrence, by the W end of the iftand of Anticofti, terminates at the river St. John. An act of Parliament paffed in 1774, has removed the northern and weftern limits of Quebec, adding to its jurifdiction alt the lands comprifed between the northern bounds of N. York, the weftern line of Pennfylvania, the Ohin, the Miffifippi, and the fouthern boundaries of Hudfon's Bay Company.

Canada, $U_{P p e r}$, commences at a fone boundary on the $\mathbf{N}$ bank of the lake St. Francis, at the cove W of Pointe au Bodêt, in the limit between the townflip of Lancafter and the Seigniory of New Longuculul, running along the faid limit in the dircetion of $\mathrm{N} 34^{\circ} \mathrm{W}$, to the wefternmon angle of the Seigniory of New Longueiul; thence along the $N$ weftern boundary of the Seigniory of Vaudreuil, running $\mathbf{N}$ $25^{\circ} \mathrm{F}$, until it frikes the Ottawa river, and a sends hyit into lake Tomifcanning; and fiom the head of that lake, by a line drawn due N , un:il it frikes the boundary line of Hudfon's Bay, which is the parallel of $49^{\circ} \mathrm{N}$ latitude, inchading all the territory to the weftward and fouthward of thic lald line, to the utmof extent of the conntry known by the name of Uamila. This province was divided into 19 connties hy Proclamation the 16th of July, t 792,iz. Yrom the lake St. Francis, up the St. Lawsence to lake Ontario, the notthern bank of the river, is laid out in regular counsies and townfhips ; the land is for the moft part fertile, and under as high a flate of cultivation as can be expected from the time it has been fetted; the firf improvements being made fince the peace in $178_{3}$, when all was in a flate of nature, and heavily timbered. There are now bctween 30 and 40 mills in the extent mensioned on this river, the mof remarkable of which are on the Gananoque. Good roads have been npened and bridges well conftructed; fome of them over wet lands, and the mouths of creeks and rivers of very confiderable extent ; and the firft fetters have been able, by their very great indufry, to erectcomfortable houfes. In the rear of thefe townfhips on the St. Lawrence are upwards of twenty others, in which fettlements have commenced, to the fouthward of the Ottawa or Grand xiver, which many of them front; others are well fupplied by the waters of the Radeau, and river Petite Nation, with the Gananoque lakes and freams, all of which afford abundance of fituations for mills. Thefe rivers, like moft others in Cauada, ahound in carpe, Aurgeon, perch, and cat fifl ; the ponds affording green and other rurtle, with fifh of various forts. The lands in their vicinity are differently timbered according to their quality and fituation. The dry lands, which are generally high, bear oak and hickory; the low grounds produce walnut, ahh, poplar, cherry, fycamore, beach, maple, elmi, \&ce and in fome places there are fwamps full of cedar and cyprefs. The banks of mont of the creeks abound in fine pine timber, and the creeks themfelves afford in general good feats for faw mills; materials for building are readily procured. The heads of the rivers Radean, and Fetite Nation, communicate by fhort portages, or carrying places, with the waters that fall into the St. Lawrence, and promife so afford great advantages to all kinds of inland cunmunication. The forks of the Radeau, abwee which are the townflips of Oxford, Marlborough, and Gower, promife to be ai fiate future period, an eniporium for interior commerce. All the townfluips on the N fide of lake Ontario are well watered by fmall ftreans, at the mouths of which are poinds and low land, capable of being drained and converted into meadows.

Canada, Lozver, is divided into 6 dif. tricts, (which are filedivided into counties and townihips) viz. Montreal, next to U. Canada; Tbree Rivers, adjoining it on the E; Quebec, next eaftward. Thefe three diftricts extend acrofs Li. Canada, from $N$ to $S$, and are interfected lyy the St. Lawrence. E of Quebec Diftrict, extending along the $\mathbf{N}$ bank of the St. Lawrence to its mouth, is Nortbumberland, and on the $S$ fide oppofite is Cornvallis; E of which is the diffrict and county of Gafpec, on the point of land, furrounded on the $\mathrm{N}, \mathrm{E}, \mathrm{S}$, and S W, by the St. Lawrence river and gulf, and the Bay of Chaleurs. Of Canada in general, embracing both provinces, it may be faid, that winter continues with fuch feverity, from December to April, as that the largef rivers are frozen over, and the fnow lies commonly from four to fix feet deep during the winter. But the air is fo ferene and clear, and the inhabitants fo well defended againf the cold, that this feafon is neither unhealthy nor unpleafant. The fpring opens fuddenly, and vegetation is furprifingly rapid. The fumener is delightful, except that a part of it is extremely hot. Though the climate be cold, and the winter long and tedious, the foil is in general very good, and in many parts both pleafant and fertile, producing wheat, barley, rye, with many other forts of grain, fruits and vegetables ; tobacco, in particular, thrives well, and is much cultivated. The ine of Orleans, near Quebec, and the lands upon the river St . Lawrence, and other rivers, are renarkable for the richinefs of the foil. The meadow grounds in Canada, which are well watered, yield excellent grafs, and feed great numbers of great and finall cattlc. From Quebsc, to Montrcal, which is about 170 miles, in failing up the river St. Lawrence, the eye is entertained with beautiful laudfcapes, the banks being in many places very bold and necp, and flated with lofty trees. The farma lie pretty clofe all the way, feveral gentlemen's houfcs, ncatly built, thew themfelves at intervals, and there is all the appearance of a flourihing colony. Many beautiful inlands are interiperfed in the chanucl of the river, which have an agrecable effect upon the eyc. As many as about 9 roths of the inhabitants of thefe provinces are Roman Catholics, who enjoy, under the prefent government, the fame provifion, rights, and privileges, as were granted them in 1774; by the act of the I 4 th of George III. The reft of the people are Epifcopalians, Prefbyterians, and a few of almoft all the different fects of chriftians. The amount of the exports from the province of Quebec, in the year 1786, was $£ 343,262: 19: 6$. The amount of imports in the fame year was $£ \cdot 325,116$. The exports confifted of wheat, flour, bifcuit, flaxfeed, lumber of various kinds, fifh, potafl, oil, ginfeng and other medicinal roots, but principally of furs and peltries,tothe amount of $285,977 \%$. The imports confifted of rum, brandy, molaffes, coffee, fugar, wines, tobacco, falt, chocolate, provifions for the troops, and dry goods.  nds to the es and 13 agrefs. It of whomarifing from fo many chinnies, render this city more healthy than any part of the low country in the fouthern flates. On this account it io the refort of great numbers of gentlemen, invalids from the W. India inands, and of the rich planters fron: the country, who come here to fpend the fickly monthe, as they are called, in quett of health and of the focial enjoyments which the city affords. And in no part of America are the focial bleflings enjoyed more rationally and liberally than here. Unaffected holpitality, affability, eafe of manners and addrefs, and a difpofition to make their guefts welcome, eafy and pleafed with themfelves, are characterifics of the refpectable people of Charlefton. In fpeaking of the capital, it ought to be obferved, for the honour of the people $r^{-}$ Carolina in general, that when in common with the other colonies, in the conteft with Britain, they refolved againft the ufe of certain luxuries, and even neceffaries of life ; thofe articles, which improve the mind, enlarge the underftanding, and correct the tafte, were excepted; the importation of books was permitted as formerly. The land on which the town is built, is flat and low, and the water brackih and unwholefome. The city is about $\frac{4}{4}$ of a mile wide and a mile and $\frac{1}{4}$ in length The ground on which it fands is level, and but a few feet above the height of Spring tides ; in 1699,1728 and 1752 , the tide raifed by a hurricane, covered the town, the people retiring to the higher Stories of their dwellings. The ftreets are pretty regularly cut, and open heautiful profpects, and have fubterranean drains to carry off filth and keep the city clean and healthy ; but are two narrow for fo large a place and fo warm a climate. Their general breadth is from 35 to 66 feet. The houres which have been lately built, are brick, with tiled roofs. The buildings in general are elegant, and moft of them are neat, airy and well furnifhed. The city is divided into $x_{3}$ wards, which choofe 13 wardens, from whom the intendant is chofen. 'The public buildings are, an exchange, a ftate houfe, an armoury, a poor houfe, and an orphan's houfe. From 1790 to 1796, 126 boys and 70 girls were admitted into the orphan houfe. Here are feveral reficctable academies. Part of the old barracks has been handfomely fitted up, and converted into a college, and there are a number of fudents; but it can only be called as yet a refpectable academy. Here are three banke, a branch of the national bank, the S. Carclina bank, eftahlifted in 1792, and the State Bauk, incorporated Dec. 1802. The fate owns tha of the capital. The houfes for public worfhip are 2 Epifcopal churches, 2 for Independents, 1 for Scutch Preflyteriana, 1 for Baptifts, 1 for German Lutherans, 2 for Methodina, $z$ for French Proteflants, a mceting houie for Quakers, a Roman Catholic chapel, and a Jewilh fynagugue. Little attention is paid to the public markets ; a great proportion of the mon wealthy inhabitants having plantations from which they receive fupplies of almon every article of living. The country abounds with poultry and wild ducks. Their beef, mutton and vcal are not generally of the bell kind; and few fifh are found in the market. In 1787 , it was computed that there were 1600 houres in this city, and 15,000 inhalitants, including 5,400 llaves; and what evinces the healthirefs of the place, upwards of 200 of the white inhabitants were above 60 years of age. $\ln$ 1791, there were $16,3: 59$ inbabitants, of whom 7684 were flaven. This city has often fuffered much by fire, the laft and moft deftructive happened as late as June, 1796. Charlefton was incorporated in 1783, and divided into 3 wards, which chofe as ma.. ny wardens, from among whom the citizens elect an intendant of the nity. The intendant and wardens fors the city council, who havc power to make and enforce bye laws for the regulation of the city. The value of exports from this port, in the year ending Nov. 1787, amounted to $£_{505,279-19-5 \text { fer. The number of }}$ vefiels cleared from the cuftom houfe the fame ycar, was 947 , meafuring 62,1 8 tons; 735 of thefe, meafuring i1. 53 tons, were American ; the others belonged to $\mathbf{G}$. Britain, Ireland, Spain, France, and the United Netherlands. In the year 1704, the value of exports amounted to $3,846,392$ dollars. The light houfe lies in N lat. 324152 . White Point at the $S$ end of the town, $N$ lat. 324430 , $W$ lon. 8039 45. Like all favages ignorant of revelation, they are extremely fuperfitious. Their notions of religion are worthy natice. This bird defcended to the oncean, the earth rofe to the furface. He called all the animals into exiftence. Though the Spaniards reckon this one of their pooren provinces in America, as having no mines: or fand of gold, nor any harbour on the S. Sea, yet. in fize it is inferior to none but Gautimala Befide, it is a place of great importance to the Spaniards, becaufe the ftrength of all their empire in America depends on. it ; and intoit is an eafy entrance by theriver Tabafco, Puerto Real, and its vicinity to Yucatan.

It is delightfully fituated on a plai; furrounded with mountains, and almof et, wally diftant from the North and South Seas, and 100 leagues N W from Guatimala. The bifiop's revenue is 8000 ducats a year. The place is neither populous nor rich; and the Spanifl gentry here are become a proverb on account of their pride, ignorance, and poverty. It has feveral monafteries; and the cathedral is an elegant fructure. The other town, called Chiape de los Indos, that is, as belonging to the Inclians, is the largeft they have in this country, and lies in a valley near the river Tabafco, which abounds with fifh, and is about 12 leagues N W of Chiapa, or Cividad Real. The celebrated Bartholomew de las Cafas, the friend of mankind, was the firt bifhop of Chiapa; and having complained to the court of Madrid of the crueltics of the Spaniards here, procured the people great privileget, and exemption from flavery. This is a very large and rich place, with many cloifters aud churches in it, and no town has fo many Dons of Indian blood as this Chiapa. On the river they have feveral boats, in which they often exhibit fea fights and fieges. In the environs are feveral farms well focked with cattle, and fome fugar plantations. Wheat is brought here from the Spanifh Chiapa, and of it they make hard bifcuit, which the poorer Spaniards and Indians carry about and exchange for cotton wool, or fuch little things as they want. There are about 30,000 Indians in this town.

Cbickafazus, a famous nation of Indians, who inhabit the country on the E fide of the Miflifippi, on the head branches of the Tombigbee, Mobile and Yazoo rivers, in the N W corner of the fate of Georgia and $\mathbf{N}$ of the country of the Choctaws. Their country is an extenfive plain, tolerably well watered from fprings, and of a pretty good fuil. They have 7 towna, the central one of which is in Nlat. 34.23, W lon. 89 30. The number of fouls in this nation has been formerly reckoned at 1725, of which 575 were fighting men. There are fome negroes among the Chickafaws, who either were taken captive in war, or ran away from their mafters, and fought fafety among the Indians. Their origin as given to a late Mifionary, Mr. Bullen, is this: "We are only a family from a great, rich nation, towards the fetting fun, as far as Indians travel in two moons; our fathers dreamed that towards the rifing fun was the landoflife ; thefepeople knowt more than Indians, andareabove want; from them our ponerity will learn good things. Our fathers then travelled, came here; this is the land of life. Our great Father's. qubits children, know more than Indians; Chickalaws not hart any of them. hive merited more from the United ffatates than all the other Indian tribes. Like other faviges they believe in witchcraft ; every man has as many wives as he pleaf-es; their connection is only during the pleafure of the parties; the children when the parents feparate belong to the mother. A Chickafaw beau is loaded with ornamente, and covered with various paintings, with a lookiag glafs in his pocket, or fufpended by his fide. They have lately given a kind reception to a Chrifian Miffionary from N. York, and it may be hoped that foon morals and the fate of fociety will be improved among them. They have fields well cultivated, plenty of cows, horfes, hogs, and corn. Numbers of white people have fettled in their neighbourhood, over whom our agent with the Indlans acts as magiftrate. In one of their towns is a pof office. In 1539, Ferdinand de Soto, with 900 men, befide feamen, failed from Cuba with a defign to conquer Florida. Chill, in S. America, is bounded by Peru, on the N ; by Paraguay or La Plata, on the E; by Patagonia, on the S; and loy the Pacific Ocean on the W. It is in length about 1260 milcs, in breadth 580 ; between 25 and 44 S lat. and hetween 65 and 85 IV lon. It lies on both lides of the Andes. Chili proper, lies on the W; and Cuyo or Cutio, on the E. The principal towns in the former, are St. Jago and Baldivia ; in the latter, St. John de Frontiera. The climate of Chili, is one of the moft delightful in the world, being a medium between the intenfe heats of the torrid, and the piercing colds of the frigid zones. Along the coaft of the Pacific ocean, they enjoy a fine temperate air, and a clear ferene iky, mont part of the year ; but fometimes the winds that blow from the mountains, in winter, are exceedingly fharp. There are few places in this extenfive country, where the foil is not exuberantly rich; and were its natural advantages feconded by the induftry of the inhabitants, Chili would be the mont opulent kingdom in America. The horfes and mules of Chili, are in great efteem, particularly the former. Prodigious numbers of oxen, goats and ficep, are fattened in the luxuriant pafures of Chili, and indeed this is the only part of hufbandry to which the inhabitants pay any confiderable attention. An ox well fattened may be purchafed, for four dollars. Turkeys, geefe, and all kinds of poultry, are found here in the fame profufion. The coafts abound with many excellent fifh; there are alfo vaft numbers of whales and fca wolves. The foil produces Indian and European corn, hemp, grapes, and all other fruits. The European ruit trees are obliged to be propped to enable them to fuftain the weight of the fruit. Orange trees are in bloom, and bear fruit throughout the year. Olives alfo, and almond trees, thrive exceedingly well; and the inhabitants prefs a kind of mufcadine wine from the grapes, which far exceeds any of the kind made in Spain. Mines of gold, filver, conper, tin, quickfilver, iron and led, abound in this country. Vaft quantities of gold are wafled down from the mountains by books and torrents; the annual amount of which when manufactured, is eflimated at no lefs than $8<0,000$ dollars. cial connedions with the neighbouring ludians on its frontiers, with Peru and Paragua. The Indians, in their tranfactions, are found to be perfectly honef. Chili fupplies Peru with hides, dried fruit, copper, falt meat, horfes, hemp, and corn; and receives in exchange, tobacco, fugar, cocoa, earthen ware, fome manufactures made at Quito, and fone articles of luxury brought from Europe. To Paraguay fle fends wine, brandy, oil, and chiefly gold ; and receives in payment, mules, wax, cotton, the herb of Paraguay, negroes, \&c. The commerce between the two colonics is not carried on by fea; it hath been found more expeditious, fafer, and cven lefs expenfive, to go by land, though it is 354 leagues from St. Jago to Buenos Ayres, and more than 40 leagues of the way are amidft the fnows and precipices of the Cordilleras. The Indians in this country are fill in a great meafure unconquered; they live fcattered in the deferts and forefts, and it is impoffible to afcertain their numbers. Thofe Indians, which are not fubject to the Spanifh yoke, are very honeft in their commercial tranfactions; but like almont all other Indians, they are very fond of fpirituous liquors. They live in fimall huts, which they build in the courfe of a day or two at fartheft ; and which they abandon when hard pufled hy an enemy. They are brave and warlike, and all the attempts of theSpaniards to fubduc them have proved ineffectual. It is almoft equally difficult to afcertain the number of Spaniards in Chiti. The Abbe Raynal fays, there are 40,000 in the city of St. Jago; if this be true, the aggregate number in all the provinces of Chili muft be more confiderable than has been generally fuppofed. St. Jago is the capital of this country, and the feat of government. The conmandant there is fubordinate to the Viceroy of Peru, in all matters relating to the government, to the finances, and to war; but he is independent of him as chief adminiflrator of juftice, and prefident of the royal audiance. Eleven inferior officers, diffributed in the province, are eharged, under hïd orders, with the details of adminiffration. This country was firft difcovered by Don Diego d'Almagro, in 1525.

The people of Connecticut are remarkably fond of having all their difputes, even thofe of the mont trivial kind, fettled according to law. The prevalence of this litigious fpirit, affords employment and fupport for a numerous. body of lawyers. 'That party fyirit, how: ever, which is the bane of political happinefs, has not raged with fuch vialence in this fate, as in Maflachufetts and Rhode I. Public proceedings hava been conducled generally with much calmners and candor. The people are well informed as to their rights, and judicious in fecuring them. poHitical Iranquillity and unanimity follow. All religions, that are corififent with the peace of fociety, are tolerated in Connecticut; liberality and catholicifm prevail. There are very few religious feels in this flate. The bulk of the peopie are Cora gregationalitts,

The clergy of this fate are a refpectable body of learn--d and ferious men, enjoying a happy and ufeful flare of influence among their people, efpecially of late, fince the revivale of religion through a great part of the fate. The damage fuftained by this fate in the late war, was eftimated at $£ 461,2,35-16-1$. To compenfate the fufferers, the General Court, in May 7792,granted them 500,000 acres of the weftern part of the referved lands of Counecticut, which lie W of PennSylvania. There are a great number of very pleafant towns, both maritime and inland, in Connecticut. It contains five cities, incorporated with extenfive jurifdiction in civil caufcs. 'Two of thefe, Hartford and N. Haven, are capitals of the fate. The general ar ${ }^{\top}$ :mbly is holden at the former in May, and at the latter in OCober, annually. The other cities are New London, Norwich, and Middleton. Weathersfleld,Windfor, Prarmington,Litchfield,Milford,Stratford, Fairfield, Guilford, Stamford, Windham, Suffield, and Enfield, are all confiderable and very pleafant towns. Every town in the fate is divided into diftricts, and each diftrict has a public fchool kept in it at a greater or lefa par! oi cvery year. Somewhat more than one chird of the monics arifing from a tax on the polls and rateable eflate of the inhahitants, is appropriated to the fupport of fchools in the feveral tewns, for the edtucation of children and youth. The law directs that a grammar fchool fhall be kept in every county town throughout the fate. Yale Collegc is an eminent feminary of learning, and was founded in the year 1700. Sec Tale College. Academics have been eftablifhed at Greenfield, Plainfeld, Norwich, Windham, and Ponfret, fome of which are flourifting. The confitution of Connecticut is founded on their charter, which was granted by Charles II. in 1662, and on a law of the tate. Contented with this form of government, the people have not been difpofed to run the hazard of framing a new conflitution fince the declaration of independence. Agreeably to this charter, the fupreme legillative authority of the flate is vefted in a governor, deputy governor, twelve affifants or counfellors, and the reprefentatives of the people, fyled the General Affembly. The governor, deputy governor and alfinants arc annually chofen ty the freemen in the month of May. The reprefentatives (their number not exceed two from each town) are chofen bly the freemen twice a year, to attend thd two annual feffions, on the fecond Tuefdays of May and October. The General Afferably io divided into two branches called the upper and lower houfen. The upper houre is compored of the governor, deputy governor and affifants The lower houfe of the reprefentatives of the peo: ple. Nolaw can pafs without the concurrence of both houfed. Connecticut hat ever made rapid advances in population. There have been more emigrations from this, than from any of the other fates : and yet is it full of inhabitante. This increafe may be afcribed to feveral caufes. The buik of the inhabitants are induftrious, fagacious hufbandmien. Their farme furnifi them with all the neceffaries, mon of the conveniencies, and but few of the luxuries of lifc. They, of courfe, muft be generally temperate, and if they choofe, can fubiift with as much independence as is confifent with happinefs. The fubfifence of the farmer is fubftantial, and does not depend on incidental circumfances, like that of moft other profefiona There is no neceffity of ferving an appren:ticefhip to the bufinefs, nor of a large flock of money to commence it to advantage. Farmers, who deal much in barter, have lefs need of money than any other clafs of people. The eafe with which a comfortable fubfiftence is obtained, induces the hufbandman to marry young. The cultivation of his farm makes him frong and healthful. He toils cheerfully through the day; eatio the fruit of his own labour with a gladfome heart; at night devoutly thanks his bounteous God for his daily bleifings ; retires to reft, and his fleep is fweet. Such circumftances as thefe have greatly contributed to the amazing increafe of inhabitants in this flate. Property is equally enough divided, and muft continue to be fo, as long as eflates defcend as they now do. To vote for leginators a perfon muft take the frecman's oath. No perfon is allowed to take this oath till he is approved by the felectmen of the town, and two jultices of the peace, as a man of peaceable hehaviour, and good moral character, and alfo that he poffeffes a freehold eftate of 40 finllings, or a perional eftate of fis 40 . Hence there is never fuch a low mob at clections here as in fome neighbouring ftates. He who has the moft inerit, not he who has the moft money, is generally chofen into pubLic office. dbferved, that many of the citizens of Connecticut, from the humble walks of life, have arifen to the firft offices in the flate, and filled them with dignity and reputation. That bafe bufinefs of electioneering, which is fo directly calculated to introduce wicked and defigaing men into ollice, is yet but little known in Comeecticut. A man who wifhes to be chofen into office, acts wifely, for that end, when he keeps his defires to himfelf. A thirft for learning prevails among all ranks of people in the flate More of the young inen in Conriecticut, in proportion to their numbers, receive a public education, than in any of the fates. The revolution, which fo effentially affected the government of moft of the colonies, pioduced no very perceptible alteration in the governsnent of Connecticut. While under the jurifdiction of Great Britain, they elected their own governors, and all fubordinate civil officers, and made their own laws, in the fame manner, and with as little control as they now do. Connecticut has ever been a republic; and perhaps as perfect and as happy a republic as ever exifted. While other fates, more monarchical in their government and manners, have been under a neceflity of undertaking the difficult taik of altering their old, or forming new conftitutions, and of changing their monarchical for republican manners, Connecticut has unintersuptedly proceeded in her old track, both as to government and mambers ; and, by thefe means, has avoided thofe convulfions which have rent other fates into violent parties. The prefent territory of Connecticut, at the time of the firft arrival of the Englifh, was poffeffed by the Pequot, the Mohegan, Podunk, and many other finaller tribes of Indians. In 1774 there were of the defcendants of the ancient natives, only x.363 perfons; the greater part of whom lived at Mohegan, between Norwich and New London. Fron the natural decreafe of the Indians, it is imagined that their number in this fate does not now exceed 400. The firf grant of Connecticut was made by the Plymouth council to the Earl of Warwick, in 16,30 . The year following the Earl affigned this grant to Lord Say and Seal, Lord Brook, and nine others. Some Indian traders fettled at Windfor in 163.3 . The fame year, a little before the arrival of the Fnglifh, a few Dutch traders fettled at Hartford, and the remains of the fettlement are fill vifible on the bank of Conneckicut R. Vol. I.

In 1644, the Connecticut adventurers purchafed of Mr. Fenwick, agent for Lords Say and Scal, and Lord Brook, their right to the colony, for $£ 1600$. Connecticut and N. Haven continued two difinct governments for many years. At length, John Winthrop, Efy. who had been chofen governor of Connecticut, was employed to folicit a royal charter. In 1662, Charles II. granted a charter, confituting the two colonies forever one body corporate and politic, by the name of " 7 'he governor and company of Connecticut." New Haven took the affair ill; hut in 1665, all difficultics were amicably adjuftel; and as has been already obferved, this charter ftill continues to be the bafis of their government.

Connceficut, the mof confiderable river in the eaftern part of the United States, rifes in the highlands which feparate the ftates of Vermont and N. Hampflire from L. Canada. It has been furveyed about 25 miles beyond the 45 th degree of lat. to the head fpring of its northern branch; from which, to its mouth, is upwards of 300 miles, through a thick fettled country; having upon its hanks a great number of the moft flourifling and pleafant towns in the U.States. It is from 80 to 100 rods wide, $130^{\circ}$ miles from its mouth. Its courfe between Vermont and N. Hemphlire is generally SS W, as likewife through Maffachufetts, and part of Connecticut, until it reaches the city of Middleton; after which it runs a S S E courfe to its mouth. The navigation of this bcautiful river, which, like the Nile, fertilizes the lands through which it runs, is much obfruced by falls. Two of thefe are between N. Hamplhire and Vermont, the firf are called the Fifteen mile falls. Here the river is rapid for 20 miles. The fecond remarkable fall is at Walpole, formerly called the Great Fall, but now named Rellows' Falls. Above theie, the breadth of the river is, in fome places, 22 , in other places not above 16 rods. The depth of the channel is about 25 feet ; and commonly runs full of water. In Scpt. 1792, however, owing to the fevere drought, the water of the river, is faid, "paffed within the fpace of 12 feet wide, and $2 \frac{1}{}$ feet deep." A large rock divides the fream into two channels, each about 90 feet wide. When the river is low the eaftern channel is dry, being croffed by a folid rock; and the whole fream falls into the weftern channel, where it is contracted to the brealth of 16 feet, and flows with aftonifhing rapidity. There are feveral pitches, one above another, in the length of half a mile; the largef of which is that where the rock divides the frean. $A$ hridge of timber was projected over this fall, by Col. Hale, in the year 1784,365 feet long, and fupported in the middle by the illand rock; under which the higheft floods pafs without injuring it. It connects Walpole in New Hampllhire, with Rockingham in Vermont. Notwithfanding the velocity of the current at Bellows' Falls above defcribect, the falmon pafs up the river, and are taken many miles above; but the thad proceed no farther. On the ftecp fides of the inand rock, at the fall, hang feveral arm chairs, fecured by a counterpoife ; in thefe the filherumen fit to catch falmon with fining nets. In the courfe of the river through Maflachufetts, are the falls at South Hadley, around whiclh, locks and canals were completed in 1795 , by an enterprifing company, incorporated for that purpofe in 1492, by the legiflature of Maffachufetts. In Connecticut the river is obfructed by falls at Enfield; to render which navigable in boats, a company has been incorporated, and a fum of money raifed by lottery, but nothing effectual is yet done. The average defcent of this river from Weathersfield in Vermont, 150 miles from its mouth, is two feet to a mile, according to the barometrical obfervau tions of J . Winthrop, Efq. made in $\mathbf{1} 786$. The rivers or freams which fall into Connecticut R. are numerous; fuch of them as are worthy of notice will be feen under their refpective names. At its mouth is a bar of fand which confiderably obftruefs the navigation ; it has to feet water on it at full tides, and the fame depth to Middleton, from which the bar is 36 miles diftant. Above Middleton, there are fhoals which have only 6 feet water at high tide ; and here the tide ebbs and flows but about 8 inches. Three miles above that city, the river is contracted to about 40 rods in breadth, by two high mountains. On almoft every other part of the river the banks are low, and fpread into fine extanive meadows. In the fpring floods, which generally happen in May, thets meadows are covered with water. At Hartford, the water fonetimes rifes 20 feet above the common furface of the river, and the water having no other ordet, but the abovementioned frait it is fometimes 2 or 3 weeks before it returns to its ufual bed. Thefe floods add nothing to the depth of water on the bar at the mouth of the river, as the bar lies too far off in the found to be affected by them. This river is navigable to Hartford city, upwards of so miles from its mouth; and the produce of the country for 200 miles above it is brought thither in boats. The hoats which are ufed in this bufmefs are flat bottomed, long and narrow, and of fo light a make as to be purtable in carts. Before the confruction of locks and canals on this river, they were taken out at 3 different carrying places, all of which mado 15 miles. It is expected that in a few years the obiftructions will be all removed. Sturgeon, falmon, and flad, are caught in plenty in their feafon, from the mouth of the river upwards, excepting flurgeon, which do not afcend the upper falls ; befide a variety of fmall fifh, fiuch as pike, carp, perch, \&c. There is yet a ftrong expectation of opening a communication between this river and the Merrimack, through Sugar R, which runs into the Connecticut at Claremont in N. Hamplaire, and the Contoocook, which falls into the Merrimack at Bofcawen. From this river were employed in 1789 , three brigs, of 180 tons each, in the European trade; and about 60 fail, from 60 to 150 tons, in the W. India trade, befide a few fifhermen, and 40 or 50 coafting veffels. The number las coufiderably increafed fince.

The accounts brought by the Indians of this river to the Britifl ports in Hudfon bay, ant! the fpecimens of copper produced by then, induced Mr. Hearne to fet out from Fort Prince of Wales, in Dec. 1770: on a journey of difcovery. He reached the river at 40 miles diftance from the fea, and found it all the way incumbered with Choals and falls, and emptying itfelf ioto it over a dry flat of the fhore, the tide being then out, which feemed by the edges of the ice to rife ahout 12 or 14 feet. 'The Creeks äre veiy badly armed; having few rifles, and are moftly armed with mukets. For near 40 years paft, the Creck Indians have had little intercourfe with any other forcigners, but thofe of the Englifh nation. Their prejudice in favour of ev ery thing Englifh, has been cat efully kept alive by tories and others to this day. The country is naturally divided into 3 diftricts, viz the Upper Creeks, Lower and Middle Creeks, and Seminoles. The upperdittrictincludes all the waters of the Tallapoofee, Coofahatchee, and Alabama rivers, and is called the Abbacoes. The Lower or Middle diftriet includes all the waters of the Chattahoofee and Flint rivers, down to their junction, and although occupied by a great number of different tribes, the whole are called Cowetaulgas, or Coweta people, from the Cowetan town and tribe, the moft warlike and ancient of any in the whole nation. The Lower or Southein diftrict, takes in the river Appalachicola, and extends to the point of E. Florida, and is called the country of the Seminoles. Agriculture is as far advanced with the Indians, as it can well be, without the proper implements of hulbandry. A very large majority of the nation being devoted to hunting in winter, and to war or idlenefs in the fummer, cultivate but fmall parcels of ground, barely fufficient for fubfiftence. But many individuals, (particularly on Flint river, among the Chehaws, who poffers numbers of negroes) have fenced fields, tolerably well cultivated : having no ploughs, they break up the ground with hoes, and fcatter the feed promilcuoufly over the groundin hills, but not in rows. It feems as if it were fated, that the ingenuity and patience of the Hollanders fhould every where, both in Europe and Amcrica, be cmployed in fighting againft an unfriendly nature ; for the ifland is not only barren, and dependent on the rains for its water, but the harbour is naturally one of the worf in America ; yet the Dutch have entirely remedied that defect ; they have upon this harbour one of the largent, and ly far the moft elegant and cleanly towns in the Wert Indies. The public buildicge are numerous and handfome; the private houfes commodious; and the magazines large, convenient, and well filled. All kind of labour is here performed by engines ; fome of them io well contrived, that hips are at once lifted into the dock. Though this ifland is naturally barren, the induftry of the Dutch has brought it to produce a confiderable quantity hoth of tobacco and fugar; it has befide, good falt works, for the produce of which there is a brifk demand from the Englifh inands, and the colonies on the continent. But what renders this ifland of moft advantage to the Dutch, is the contraband trade which is carried on between the inhabitants and the Spaniards, aud their harbour heing the rendezvous to all nations in time of war. The Dutch flips from Europe touch at this ifland for intelligence, or pilots, and then proceed to the Spanifh coafts for trade,which they force with a ftrong hand, it being very difficult for the spanifl guarda coftas to take thefc veffels; for they are not only fout flips, with a number of guns, but are manned with large crews of chofen $t$ mmen, deeply interefted in the fafety of the veffel and the fuccefs of the voyage. They have each a thare in the cargo, of a value proportioned to the fation of the owner, fupplied by the me:chants upon credit, and at prime coß This animates them with an uncommon courage, and they fight bravely, becaufe every man fights in defence of his own property. Befide this, there is a conftant intercourfe between this ifland and the Spanifh continent. Curaffou has nume. rous warchoufes, always full of the commodities of Europe and the Eaft Indies, Here are all forts of woolten and linen cloth, laces, filks, ribbands, iron utenfils, naval and military ftores, brandy, the fpices of the moluccas, and the calicoes of India, white and painted. Hither the Dutch Wef India, which is alfo their African company, annually bring three or four cargoes of flaves; and to this mart the Spaniards themfelves come in fmall veflels, and carry off not only the befl of the negroes, at a very high price, but great quantities of all the ahove forts of goods; and the feller has this advantage, that the refufe of warehoufes and mercers' flwps, and every thing that is grown ur. flionable and unfuleable in Furope, go of here extremely well ; every thing being fufficiently recommended by its being European. The iflands in the bay of Panama are numerous: in the gulf of Darien are three of contiderable fize, viz. Golden ifand; another, the largeft of the three, and the ifland of Pines; befide fmaller ones... The narrowen part of the ifthmus is called fometimes the ifthmus of Panama. The country atout it is made up of low fickly vallies, and mountains of fuch fupendous height, that they feem to be placed by nature as cternal harriers between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, which here approach fo near tach other, that, from thefe mountains, the waters, of hoth can The plainly feen at the fame time, and feemingly at a very fmall diftance. The rocky mountains here forbid the idea of a canal; but by going into 12 N lat. and joining the head of Nicaragua lake to a fmall river, which russ into, the Pacific ncean, a communication between the two feas hecomes practicable; and by digging 30 miles through a level, low country, a sedinus navigation, of 10,000 miles, round Cape Horn, might be faved. What would be the confequences of fuch a junction, io not eafy to fay; hut it is very proballe, that, in a length of years, fuch a junction would wear away the earthy particles of the ifthmus, and form a broad frait between the oceans; in which cafe, the gulf fream would ceafe, being turned into a different chaunel; and a voyage round the world become an inconfiderable thing. The Scotch nation had fo juf an idea of the great importance of this ifthmus, that they got poffefion of a part of the province in 1699, and though among the pooref nations in Europe; attempted to form an eftablifhment more ufeful and of more real importance, all the parts of the plan confidered, than had perhaps ever been undertaken by the greatert nation in the world. The projector and leader of the Darien expedition was a clergyman, of the name of Paterfon. The rife, progrefs, and cataftrophe, of this well conceived, but ill fated undertaking, has been deferibed, in a very interefting manner, by Sir John Dalrymple, in the zoth vol. of his memoirs of Great Britain and Ireland. The fund fubferibed, for carrying this great project into effect, amounted to E. 900,000 fterl. viz. $£ .400,000$ fubferibed by the Scotch, $£ .300,000$ hy the Englifh, and $f .200,000$ by the Dutch and Hainburghers. The Darien council aver, in their pipers, that the right of the company was dehated before king William III, in the prefence of the Spanion Ambaffador, hefore the colony left Scotland; and while the effabliflmment of the colony had beenin agitatinn, Spain had made no complaiuts to England or Scotland agaioft it. In finc, of 1200 brave men, only 30 ever furvived war, flipwreck, and difeafe, and returned to Scotland. The rnin of this unhappy colony happened through the fhameful partiality of William III. and the jealoufy of the Englifh nation. 'The frong country, where the colony fettled and built their forts, was a territory nevcr poffeffed hy the Spaniards, and inhahited by a people continually at war with them. It is in contemplation to connect the waters of Chefapeak bay with thofe of Delaware R. by 4 different canals, viz Flk R. with Chriftiana creek; Broad crcek, another branch with Red Lion creek; EOhemia, a third branch of the Elk, with Apoquinemy creek; and Chefter K. with Duck creek.

Delaware, a fmall river of Eaf Florida. See Charlotte Haven.

Delaware, one of the United States of N. America, is fituated between. 3829 30, and 3954 N lat. and between 75 and 75 48 W lon. bẹing in length 92 miles, and in breadth 24 milcs; containing 2000 fquare miles, or $1,200,000$ acres. It is bounded $E$ by the river and bay of the fame name, and the Atlantic ocean ; on the $S$ by a line from Fenewick's illand, in N lat. 3829 30, drawn W till it interfects what is commonly called the tangent line, dividing it from the flate of Maryland; on the $W$ by the faid tangent line, paffing northward up the peninfula, till it touches the weftern part of the territorial circle ; and thence on the N by the faid circle, defcribed with a radus of 12 miles about the town of Newcafte, which divides this fate from Pennfylvania. This fate derived its name from Lord De La War, who was inflrumental in eftablifliing the firft fettlement of Vir ginia. It is divided into 3 counties, Newcafle, Kent, and Suffex; whofe clief towns are Wilmington, Newcaftle, Dover and Lewes. Dover is the feat of Government. The munber of inhabitants is 64,273 , of whom $6{ }^{5} 53$ are flaves. The eaftern fide of the ftate is indented witha large number of crecks, or fmall rivers, which generally have a flort courfe, foft banks, numerous ihoals, and are firted with very extenive narihes, and enipty into the river and bay of Delaware. rivers, all falling into Chefapeak bay; rome of them are navigable 20 or 30 miles into the country, for veffels of 50 or 60 tons. The fate of Delaware, the upper parts of the county of Newcafle excepted, is, to fpeak generally, low and level. large quantities of flagnant water, at particular feafons of the year, overfyreading a great proportion of the land, render it equally unfit for the purpofes of agriculture, and injurious to the health of the inhabitants. The fpine, or ligheft ridge of the peninfula, runs through the fate of Delaware, inclined to the eaftern or Delaware fide. : : is defignated in Suffex, Kent, and part of Newcafle co. by a remarkable chain of fwamps, from which the waters defcend on each fide, paffing on the caft, to the Delaware, and on the weft to the Chefapeak. Delaware is chicfly an agricultural ftate. It includes a very fertile tract of country ; and fcarcely any part of the United States is better adapted to the different purpofes of agriculture, or in which a greater varicty of the mont ufeful prodnctions can be fo conveniently and plentifully reared. The foil along the Delaware river, and from 8 to 10 miles into the interior country, is generally a rich clay. From thence to the fwamps abovementioned, the foil is light, fandy, and of an inferior quality. Excepting fome of the upper parts of the county of Newcafte, the furface of the fate is very little broken or irregular. The heights of Chrifiana are lofty and commanding ; fome of the hills of Brandywine are rough and fony; but defcending from thefe, and a few others, the lower country is fo little diverfified as almof to form one extended plain. In the county of Newcafte the foil confifs of a frong clay; in Kent, there is a confiderable mixture of fand ; and in Suffex, the quantity of fand altogether predominates. Wheat grows here in fuch perfection as not only to be particularly fought by the manufacturers cf flour throughout the Union, but alfo to be diftinguifhed and preferred, for its fuperior qualities, in toreign markets. This wheat poffefles an uncommon foftnefs and whitenefs, and nakes the bent fuperfine flour, and in other refpects far exceeds the hard and flinty grains raifed in general on the highor lauds. Befide wheat, this ftate generally produces plentiful crops of Indian eorn, barley, rye, oats, flax, luck wheat, and potatoes, and the various kinds of rruit in great perfection. It abounds in natural and artificial meadows, containing a large variety of grafies. Hemp, cotton, and lilk, if properly attended to, doubtlefa would flourini very well. The county of Suffex, has excellent grazing lands. From it alfo are exported very large gquantities of lumber, obtained chiefly from an extenfive fwamp, called the Indian R. or Cyprefs Swamp, lying partly within this ftate, and partly in the flate of Maryland. This morafs extends 6 miles from $E$ to $W^{\text {r }}$, and nearly 12 from $N$ to $S$, including an area of nearly 50,000 acres of land. The whole of this fivamp is a high and level bafon, very wet, though undoubtedly the highef land between the fea and the bay, whence the Pokamoke defcends on one fide; and Indian R. and St. Martin's on the other. This fwamp contains a great variety of plants, trees, wild beafs, birds and reptiles. Almoft the whole of the fureign exports of Delaware are from Wilmington : the trade from this Rate to Philadelphia is great, being the principal fource whence that city draws its faple commodity. No fefs than 265,000 barrels of flour, 300,000 buftels of wheat, 170,000 bufleels of Indian corn, befide barley, oats, flaxfeed, paper, flit iron, fnuff, falted provifions, \&c. \&c. to a very confiderable amount, are annually fent from the waters of the Delaware llate; of which the Chriftiana is by far the moft productive, and probablymany times as much foasany other creek or river of like magnitude in the Union; 245,000 bärrels of flour, andother articles, to the amount of 80,000 dolls. more, being exported from this creek; of which, to the value of 550,000 dollars, are manufactured on its northern bank, within two or three miles of the navigation. Aniong other branches of induftry excrcifed in and near Wilmington, are a cotton manufactory ; a bolting cloth manufactory has lately been eftablifhed by an ingenious Juropean; both of which have promifed fair to be a lafting advantage to the country. In the ccunty of Newcallle are feveral fulling mills, 2 fnufimills, 1 Iliting mill, 4 paper mills, and 60 mills for gririing grain, all of which are turned by water. But though Wilmington and its neightourlood are probably already the greatelf feat of manufactures in the U. S. yet they are capable of being much improved in this refpect, as the country is hilly and abounds with running water; the Brandy wine alone might, with a moderate expenfe, when compared with the object, be brought to the top of the hili upon which Wilmington is fituated, whereby a fall fufficient for forty mills, in addition to thofe already built, would be obtained. The legillature, during their feflion in January 1796, paffed an act to create a fund for, the eftablifhment of fchools throughout the flate. The manufacture of flour is carried to a higher degree of perfection in this ftate than in any other in the Union. Befide the well ennfructed mills on Red clay and White clay creeks, and other freams in different parts of the flate, the celebrated collection of mills at Brandywine merit a particular defcription. Here are to be feen, at one view, 12 merchant mills (befide a faw mill) which have double that number of pairs of fones, all of fuperior dimenfions, and excelfent conftruction. Thefe mills are 3 miles from the mouth of the creek on which they ftand, half a mile from Wilmington, and 27 from Philadelphia, on the poft road from the eaftern to the fouthern flates. They are called the Brandywine mills, from the fream on which they are erected. This fream rifes near the Welch mountains in Pennfylvania, and after a winding courfe of 30 or 40 miles through falls, which furnith numerous feats ( r 30 of which are already occupied) for every fpecies of water works, empties into Chrifiana creek, near Wilmington. The quantity of wheat manufactured at thefe mills, annually , is not accurately afcertained. It is eflimated, however, by the beft informed on the fubjest, that thefe mills can grind 400,000 bufhels in a year. But although they are capable of manufacturing this quantity yearly, yet from the difficulty of procuring a permanent fupply of grain, the inftability of the flour market and other circumitances, there are not commonly more than from about 290 to 300,000 buthels of wheat and corn manufactured here annually. In the fall of 1789 , and fpring of 1790 , there were made at the Brandywine mills 50,000 barrels of fuperfine flour, 1354 do. of common. 400 don middling, as many of flip ftuff, and 2000 do. corn meal. The quantity of wheat and eorn ground, from which this flour, \&e. was made, was 308,000 buficls, equal to the export in thofe articles from the port of Philadelphia for the fame year. Thefe mills give employment to about 200 perfons, viz. about 40 to tend the mills, from so to 70 conpers to make calces for the flour, a fufficient number to man 12 floops of about 30 tons each; which, are employed in the tranfportation of the wheat and flour, the ref in various other occupations connected with the mills. The navigation quite to thefe mills is fuch, that a veffel carrying 1000 bufhels of wheat may be laid along fide of any of thefe mills; and befide fome of them the water in of fuflicient depth to admit veflels of twice the above fize. The veffels are unloaded with aftonifling expedition. .There have been inftances of 1000 bufhels being car ried to the height of 4 fories in 4 hours. It is frequently the cafe that veffels with sooo buffiels of wheat come up with flood tide, unlade and go away the fucceeding ebb with 300 barrels of flour on board. In confequence of the machines introduced by the ingenious Mr. Oliver Evans, $\frac{3}{4}$ ths of the manval labour before found neceffiry is now fufficient for every purpofe. By means of thefe machines, when made ule of in the full extent propofed by the inventor, the wheat will he received on the flallop's deck, thence carried to the upper loft of the mill, and a confiderable portion of the fame returned in flour on the lower floor, ready for packing, without the affifance of manual labour but in a very fmall degrec, in proportion to the bufinefs done. "The traniportation of flour from the mills to the port of WiImington, docs not require half an hour ; and it is frequently the cafe that a cargo is taken from the mills and delivered at Philadelphia the fame day. The fituation of thefe mills is very pleafant and healthful. The firt mill was built here about 60 years fince. There is now a fmall town of 40 houfes, principally fone and hrick, which, together with the mills. and the veffels loading and unloading befide thom, furnifh a charming prolpect from the bridge, from whence they are all in full view.. Befide the wheat and flour trade, this fate exports lumber and various other articles. The amount of exports for the year ending September 30th, 1791, was I 99,878 dolls. 93 cents; don. 1792, 133.97z dolls. 27 cents; do. 1793, 93,559 dolls. 45 cents ; do. 1794, 207,985 dolls. 33 cents ; do. 1795 , 158.041 dolls. 21 cents ; do. r801, 440,504 dolls. In: this flate there is a variety of religious denominations. Of Prefhyterians there are 24 churches ; of Epifcopalians 14 ; of Baptifts 7 ; of Met hodifts, a confiderable number, efpecially in the two lower counties of Kent and Suffex; the number of their churches is not exactly afcertained. Befide thefe there is a Swedih church at Wilmington, Wilmington, which is one of the oldent churches in the United States. There are few minerals in this fate, except iron; large quantities of bog iron ore, very fit for caftings, are found in Suffer co. among the branches of Nanticoke : R. Before the revolution thia ore was worked to 2 great amount: but this bufinefs has fince declined. Wheat and lumber are the ftaple commodities of this flate. The other articles of produce and maniufacture, are Indian corn, barley, oats, flaxfeed, falted provifions, paper, fit iron, fnuff, \&ce. Settlements were made here by the Dutch aibout the year 1623, and by the Swedes about the year 1627. Their fettlements were comprehended in the grant to the duke of York; and William Penn united them to his government by puirchafe. They were afterwards feparated, in fome meafure, from Penifylvania, and denominated the Three Lower Counties They had their own affembliee, but the governor of Pénnfylvania ufed to attend, as he did in his own proper government. At the late revolution, the three counties were erected into 2 fovereigu flate; and have eflablifhèd a republican conftitution.

D' Rtroit River, or Strait of St. Clair, iffuce from lake St. Clair and enters the $W$ end of lake Erie, forming part of the boundary between the United States and U. Canada. In afcending it, its entrance is more tian 3 niles wide,but it perceptibly dininifhes; fo that oppofite the fort, 18 miles from like Erie, it does not exceed half a mile in width; from thence to lake St . Clair it widens to more than a mile. The channel of the frait is gente, and wide and deep enough for fhipping of great burden, although it is incommoded by feveral illands, one of which is more than 7 miles in length. 'fhefe inands are of a fertile foil, and from their fituation afford a very agreeable appearance. The length of the river is 28 miles ; and feveral freams fall into it chiefly from the N W, viz. Bauche, Clora, Curriere, D'Etroit, and Huron rivers. There are feveral windmills on the D'Stroit, and an orehard adjoining alnoft every houfe. The fettlers are numerous, and the improvements handfome and extenfive. When the fruit trees are in bloffon, the profpect as you pafs through the flrait is perhaps as delightful as any in the world.

the foil is fo replete with this clement, drained from the high lands that furround it, that it can abundantly afford thefe fupplies. This is mof probable, as the ground of the fwamp in a mere quagmire, trembling under the feet of thofe that walk upon it, and every imprefion is infantly tilled with water. The ikirtu of the Lwamp, towards the E are overgrown with reeds, 10 or 12 feet high, interiperfedevery where with frong bamboo bricrs. Among thefe grow here and there a cyprefo or white cedir, which latt is commonly miftaken for the juniper Towards the S end of it is a large tract of reeds, which being confantly green, and waving in the wind, is called the green fea. In many parts. efpecially on the bordera, grows an evergreen flrub, very plentifully, called the gell buth. It heafs a berry which dies a black colour like the gall of an oak, whence it has its name. Near the middle of the Difmal the trees grow much thicker, both cyprefs and cedar. Thefe being always green, and loadod with very large tops, are much expofed to the wind and eafily blown down, the boggy ground affording but a fender hold to the roots. Neither beant, bird, infect pr reptile, approacl the heart of this horrible defert; perhaps deterred by the everlanting flade, oceafioned by the thisk fhrubs and buifhes, which the fun can never penctrate, to warm the earth : nor indeed do any birdo care to fly quer it, any more than they are faid to do over the lake Avernus, for fear of the noiforne exhalations that rife from this valt body of filth and naftinefs. Thefe noxious vapours infect the air round about, giving agues and other difsempers to the neighbouring inhabitants. On the weftern horder of the Difmal is a pine fwamp, above a mile in breadth, great part of which is covered with water knce deep; the bot:om, however, is firm, and the, pines grow very tall, and an? not eafily blonn down by the wind. With all thefe difadvantages, the Difmal is, in mary places, pleafing to the eye, though difagreeable to the other fenfes This dreadful fwamp was judged impaffable, till the line, dividing Virginia from N. Carolina, was carried through it, in N lat. 3628 , in the year 1728 , by order of king George II. Although it happened then to be a very dry fealon, the men who were employed in pufling the line were not altogether free from apprehenfions of being flarved; it being so whole days before the work was acconplifhed, though they proceeded with all poffible diligence and refolution, and befide had no difafter to retard them. This fwamp is cheifly owned by two companies. The Virginia company, of which Gen. Wasuinoton was one, owns 100,000 acres : the N. Carolina company owns 40,000 acres. In the midik of the fwamp is a lake, about 7 miles long, called Drummond's pond, whofe waters difcharge themfelven to the $S$ into Pafquotank river, which empties into Albenarle found; on the $N$ into Elizabeth and Nanfcmond rivera, which fall into James R. A navigable canal is now digging to connect the navigable watere of the Pafquotank and Elizabeth rivers. The difance about 14 miles, This canal will pafi about a mile. This canal, when finihh. ed, will open an inland navigation from the head of Chefapeak bay, including all the rivers in Virginia, to Georgetown in S. Carolina; and when the fhort canal from Elk river to Chrintiana creek is opened, the communication will extend to Philadelphia and the other ports connected with Delaware river. Such an extenfive inland communication muft be beneficial in time of peace, and in time of war will be effentially ferviceable.

Domingo, St. an ifland in ihe Atlantic ocean, at the entrance of the gulf of Mcxico, ls the largeft of the four great Antilles, except the inand of Cuba, and proved the cradie of European power in the new world. Chriftopher Columbus landed on it the 6th of Dec. 1472, The natives called it Hayti, fignifying high or mouneainous land Charlevoix fays it was called Quifgucyn, that is, great country, op mother of countries. Others fay it had the name of Bobio, which means, a country full of habitations and villages. Columbus ealled it Hifpaniola, or Little Spain, which name the Spaniards Aill retain, though St, Domingo is the name commonly uted by other natipns; fo called from St. Dom ings, the capital of the Spanid part; which was thus named by Columbus in honor of his father. St. Domingo is fituated between $\times 755$ and 20 N lat. and between 71 and 77 W lon from Paris. It lies 45 jeagues E N E of Jamaica, 22 S E of Cuba, and 20 NW by W of Porto Rico; and is, not including the fmall dependent iflands, that furround it, 160 leagnes long from $E$ to $W$, and from 60 to 70 broad from N to S. When the Spaniards difcovered the ifland, there were on it at leaft a million of happy inhabitauts, and Bartholonew de las Cafas fays there were three millions. Such, however, were the cruclties of the Spaniards, and to fuch an infamous height did they carry their oppreffion of the poor natives, that they were reduced to 60,000 in the flort fpace of 15 years! It formed five kingdoms, each governed by fovereigns called caciques. The names of thefe kingdoms were Maqua, Marien, Higuay, Maguana, and Xaraguay. The Spaniards had poffeflion of the whole of the ifland for 120 years. At laft, about the year 1630,2 handful of Englifh, French, and other Europeans, came and forced them to fight in its defence, and after repeated wars for 50 years, they were foreed to divide the ifland with the French. Thefe latter, being the only furvivors of the firif freebooters or buccaniers, or having infenfibly acquired an afcendency among them, had, fo early as 1640, formed this affembly of individuals, born under the domination of almont all the powers of Europe, into a French colony, under the direction of the general government, firf e\{ablifhed at St. Chriftophers, and afterwards at Martinico. The Bpanifh part is by far the molt extenfive and the mon fertile; that $n f$ the French the beft cultivated. The whule illand now belongs to the French republic, the Spaniarda having ceded their part of it to that power in tae treaty of $1 ; 95$. The Spiniards, however ungrateful to the ditcoverer of the new world during his life, would not leave his duft out of their territories. The remains of Coluntbus, who died the 20th of May, 1506, were tir? dopofited in Seville, atterwards remeved to the cathedral in the city of st. Domingo, and laflly conveyed to the liavannah in a 74 gun thip; and on the 1gth of Janiary, 1796, all that was mortal of that great man, was committed to the earth the third time, with great parade and ceremony. The French and Spanifh territorics, which are now united under one head, are both alike in poflefling the various productions common to the W. Indics. The Estopean cattle are fo multiplied here, that they run wild in the woods; few of thefe are in the French part, in compariton with the Spanifh. The two great chains of niountains, which extend from E: to W, and their numerous fpurs, give the illand an afpect, at a difance, not fo favourable as it deferves. Thes are, however, the caufe of the fertility of the inand. They give fource to innumerable rivers, repel the violence of the winds, vary the temperature of the air, and multiply the refources of human induftry. They abound with excellent timber, and mincs of iron, lead, copper, filver, gold, fome precious foncs, and even mercury. Herc are the nountains of Cibao, Selle, and Fiotte, reckoned 1000 fathoms above the level of the fea. In the bowels of the firf, the cruel spaniards condemned thoufands of the natives to facrifice their lives, in fearch of gold. The mines are not now worked. In the plains, in the Spanifl part, the heat is nearly uniform, but varies in proportion to their diftance from the mountains. In the plains, the thermometer is fometimes at 99. In the mountains it rarely rifes above 77. There the nights are cool enough to render a blanket not unvelcome; and there are mountains where even a fire is a very agreeable companion in fome evenings. 'The contraft of violent heats and heavy rains renders St. Domingo humid; hence the tarnifhed appearance of almoft all metals, however brilliant the polifh they may originally have had. This is particularly obfervable on the fea fiore, which is more unlicalthy than the interior parts of the inland. The fouther pintiners part of the intard is futject to moricanes, called here fouthern gaten, Tweaufe they are are attended with fuete dovadful cunfegurnces as the huricanes in the windward iflanda. The Spminf part is computed to contain alrut 90 heagues in its greatef length from E to $\mathrm{w}, 60$ leagues is its greaten breadth; huving a furface of about 3200 fquare learace. About 400 fquare leagurs of this Liuface is in mountains, which are generally norre capable of cukivation than thofe in the Prencls part, and have founctimes a Sil that difputes the preference with that of the vallies. There remaim, therefore, $\pi$ fime fertile furface of more than 2700 tquare leaguen, divided into vallies and plains of varions lengths and breadths Many circumftances confpired to render this ifland a place of importance to the Spaniafls. It was a key to the gulf of Mexico, a convenient phace for their fibipping to touch at, an excellent rendezvons for their fyluadrons and flets, and an in!portant hold for naval operations of all Corts; but from the impolitic neafires of the government, and the reffraints on commerce, it proved rather a burden than an advantage to the mother country. The cuntons or jurifdictions, beginning at the wefteramof paint of the Spanifh frontiers, on the fouthern coult or narsows, are, Bakaruco, (poffeffed by the brigands or fugitive Spanih and French negroes, who inhabit the mommain of Bahoruco) Neybo, Azur, Bani or Vani, the city of St. Domingo, and territory dependent thereon, St. Laurent des. Mines, Samana, Cotuy, La Vega, St. Yagt, Daxabon, St. Rapbael, Hincbe, Banique, and St. Fobn of Maguaza. Over the whole of the Spanifi part of the inand, mountains and plains, were \{pread, aecording to St. Mery, 125,000 inhabitants; of whom 110,000 were free, and 15,000 faves; not 40 individuals to one fquare league. The Spanifh creoles are infenfible of all the treafures which furround them, and pafs their lives without wifhing to change their lot; while the French portion, whell they poffeffed it, furniiked three fifths of the produce of all the French W. India colonies put together; or more than to millions fterling. The drefs and mode of living of the Spanifh creoles indicate pride, lazinefs, and poverty. A capial, which of itfelf indicates decay, little infignificant towns here and there, a few colonial fettlements, for which the name of manufactorics would be too reat an honor, immenfe poffefions called

Hofter, where linalls and cattie are raifed with little care, in different grades of domuctication ; as the domaftic, the gentle, and the fuy. Thofe called wild or aroantaineers, as affo the fiy, cof the herdfurm. called pioneers and laucers, immenfo ho home und dianger in the chafe. The hattez are the nuof numierous fort of Spansich fettlements, and of an extent far difproportioned to their utility. The fupply of horned cattle to the Freach part of the illand was eflimated, by SL. Mery, at lefs thas is,000 head anmually; of which the spraniarcs farmifhed four fifthe Whefe at 30 dolls, a head, and bringing them try the Speniarts, amounted to 450,000 chillarn This formed three quarters of the produse of the colony ; and the inmpon paid to givernment was so per cent. The number of 300,000 head of cattie was the nuniters in the general cenfus taken by oriler of the prefident in 1780 , and the cattle exempted from the tribute, amounted to 250,000; withont compreliending hories, mules and affer, which, with an augmentation cllimated fince 1780, made a fock of 300,000 head, and an annual production of 60,000 ; and fuppafe $x$ finh part of the young ones perifi accidentally, there fill remains 48,000 . 'the refources of the coloni̊s were very comfined, and their few eftabliffiments beluw mediocrity. There were but 22 fugar mannfactorics of any confequence ; the reft being not worth maming; and even thefe 22 had altogether but about 600 negroes. Of thefe, 6 produced fyrop, and fome fugar ; but the others, called traphacie3, where animals were employed to turn the mills and prefs the canes, without helter, in the open air, made nothing but fyrop. The whole of which produce was generally ufed in the colony; fmall quantities were fometimes fent to Porto Rico, or to Old Spain; and the goodnefs of the fugar proved that of the foil, but nothing in favour of the manufacturer. The coffee raifed here is excellent; each tree in a fate of bearing will produce on an average a pound weight, and is fometimes of a quality equal to that of Mocha yet chocolate is preferred to it. Cotton grows naturally at St. Domingo, of an excellent quality, even without care, in fony land, and in the crevices of the rocks. The numerous roots of indigo are only obftacles to the feeble cultivation of the fietils, where it grows fpontaneoully. All thefe valuable produclions have chared the fate of depopulation. It is as much elleensed as this latter, in the manuficsures of Seville, and is cven preferable to it in fegars. The kernel of the cocoa mut of St. Domingo in more acidulated than that of the conos nut of Venczuela and Carsea, to which it is not inferior ; and experience proves, that the chocolate made of the two cocoan, has a more delicate flavor than that made of the cucoz of Caraca alone. Achiote, ginger, and eaffia have thared the fate of the other productions. The ropulation of the ipanilh part is compaled of whites, fired people, and flaves. There are alfo a few creoles refembling the Ind: sns, waving long, feraight and black hair, who preteind to be defcendants of the ancient atativen risey are, however, thought to be defte: !ed from a mixture of the aborigine at at we Spaniards. There were, in 1744 h ie veral Indians at Banique, whe juroved their defcent from the fubjects if tice unfortmate. cacique Hcuri; allhor gh hitorical zuthority affirms that the whole race was exterminated. The freed people are few in number, if compared with the whites, hut confderable in proportion to the uuniler of flaves. The people of colour are excluded from almoft all employments, civil as well as military, as long as the coiour of the Rein betrays its origin ; but the poolitical conflitution of the country admits of no difinction between the civil righate of a white inhabitant and thofe of a free perfon. Indeed the major part of the Spanifh colonifts are of 2 mized race: this an ?.frican feature, and fometimei more then nys, is often betrayed; bnt its frequency tas filenced a prejudiee tbat would otherwife be a troublefome remenbrancer. People of colour are admitted to che priefthood without difficulty; but tto Spaniards have not yet brought theinrelves to make negro priefte and bifhops like the Portuguefe. Slaves are treated with extreme mildnefs, and are ufually fed as well as their mafters. A religions principle and an illicit affection tend to their emancipation. A flave can redeem himfelf at a price fixed by law. Thus the fate of the flave is foftened by the hope of freedom, and the authority of the mafter by the habit of being confounded, in fome Sort, with thofe who were the other day in flavery. The laws againft flaves are much negle Oted; thofe in their favour are very exadly oblerved. Few of the ereobes can either read or write; hence the want of focial intercourfe, wbich is aldis augmented by the baduefs of the reads. The soads are noxhing but paths pafialite only on foot and on horfelack; and 5 leagues a day is very great work, in which fpace the traveller often doen not moet with a fingle halitation, and mult oconcequently carry with him every neoelliary for nourifluwent aod lodging. Such is the low fate of combruerce in the spranifu part, that Don Antonio de Valverde, a native crevie, goes to tar as to afert, in his account of the terfitory, that the conmerce in catle, with the French part, io its only fupport. The whole inaxid is in general well watcred by rivers and brooke without nuwher, but certain fpuces are deprived of thin advantige. From the fomation of the illand, thcir courjes are but fiort, and few of them uavigable to any diaance. It is gancrally impoffible to conceive, from the taanquil afpect that the rivers ufualiy wear, what they becone when they overlow their banks. A river that but nonv lardly covered the pebhiles on its ide: , or wet the foot of the traveller, is clanged hy one tempeftuons Shuwer into a flood, menacing all that is aipureachos ; and thould its banke give way, it fireads its watery devaftation over the plains. Many of thefe are infefted with alliyators. The only lakes or ponds worth mutice are thof of Henriquelle and Salt pond; the forner is a great curiesity. See Hinriguille. The chief of the illands which furround St. Domingo, part of which belonged to the Spanifh part, are Altavele, Saone, Beate, St. Catherine, on the S lide, from W to E. Mone, anil Moniquc on the S E. Caymite, and Gonave on the $W$ between the two peninfulas, and La Tortue, on the $\mathbf{N}$ fide, towards the W end of the illand, and that of Avache on the $S$ fide of the fouthern peninfula. Serthe foil, prefenting an agreeable varicty of hills, vallies, woods and ftreams. 'The French part of St. Domingo, containing 2,500,000 acres, of which $1,500,000$ were under high cultivation in 1789, was then divided into 10 jurifdictions, which were fubdivided into 52 parihes. Wert jurifdictons, Port ant Prince, St. Mark, Le Pceit Goave, and Jeremie ; in the N. Cape Frangoib, Fort Dauphin, and Port de Paix ; thofe in the S, Les Cayes, St. Louis, and Jacmel. Before the late revolution, there were in thefe parifles about 42,000 white people, 44,000 free people of colour, and $600, \dot{c} 0$ llaves. Other accounts nake theni confiderably lefs; the aloove, however, is fron good authority. The numWer of deaths, during 1789 , according to the bills of mortality, 7121 ; the number of births the lame year, 42 j2. The excefs of dcaths, 288 ; , will be the lefs aftoninhing, when it is confidered, that in the years 5787 , and 1788 , there had been inported into the colong nearly 60,000 new negrues. The exports from Jan. 1,1789 , to Dcc. 3 1, of the fame year, were $47,516,53 \mathrm{I}$ 156. white fugar, $93,573,300$ brown fugar; 76,835,219 lbs coffee; $7,004,274$ lbs cotton ; 758,628 lbs. indigo; and other articles, as tauned hides, molalles, fririts, \&c. to the value of 46,873 liveres. The total valuc of duties on the above exportations, amounted to 770,801 dolis. 3 cents. Port au Prince is the feat of the French government in this ifland, in time of peace, and a place of confiderable trade. Cape François exceeds Port au Prince in the Value of its productions, the elegance of its buildings, and the advantageous fituasion of its port. It is the Governor's refidence in time of war. The Mole, though inferior to thefe in other refipects, is the fisft port in the ifland for fafety in time of war, being by nature and art frongly fortified. The other towns and ports of any note, are Fort Dauphirr, St. Mark, Leogane, Petit Goave, Jeremic, Les Cayes, St. Louis, and Jacmel, which fee under their different names. The moft ancient town in this ifland, and in all America, huilt by Europeans, is St. Domingo ; of which an account is given below. To thefe particular obfervations, we add the following, of a more general nature: The fugar and indigo plantations were in the flat, the coffee in the mountainous lands. The plantations were for the moft part enclofed with live hedges, fraight and well drefled ; the dwelling and manufactory houfes were built and haid out with great neatiefs and tafte ; every habitatiox poffenied a private hofpital for the accommodation of its fick negrocs, who wern parcutally dealt with; the roads were excellent ; and from the gencral hofpitality and cheerfulnefs of its former inhabitants, it was confidered as one of the moft enviable fpots on earth. Such was the French part of St. Domingo in $1 ; 89$; but, alas ! It is no more; the deftructive ravages of an unrelenting infurrection, of frightaf maflacres and conflagrations, have laid wafte all thofe beautiful fettements, icduced the buildings to afles, and laid low in duft or fcattered in exile, its wretched inhabitants. The firf interference of the National Affembly, in the affairs of the colonies, was by a decree of the 8ith of March, 1790, which declared, "That all free perfons, who were proprietors and refidents of two years flanding, and who contributed to the exigencies of the ftate, flould exercife the rights of voting, which conftitute the quality of French cicizens." This decree, though in fact it gave no new rights to the people of colour, was regarded with a jealous eye by the white planters ; whofe pride and refentment dictated to them to exyel the people of colour from their atfemblies. 'This feems to be the true fource of their calamities; to develope which, and the dreadful confequences, belong to the profeffed hiftorian.
Domingo, St. the capital of the Spanifh part of the ifland of St. Domingo or Hifpaniola, is fituated on the W bank of the Ozama, a league below the mouth of Ifabella river, in which diftance it is 24 feet deep, having a bottom of mud or foft fand, and banks 20 fect perpendicular height ; but N of the city this height is reduced to 4 fect. The Ozama is navigable for 9 or to leagues, and has feveral fugar manufactories, tile kilns, and provifion farms on its banks. The road hefore the mouth of the Oziama is very indifferent, axd lies expofed from W SW to E. It is impofible to anchor in it in the time of the fouth winds; and the north winde drive the vefficls from their moorings out into the fea, which here runs extremely high. The port of St. Domingo is magnificent in every refpect ; a real natural bafon, witti a great number of careenings for the veffels that can get at them. There is a rock at the entrance, which will only admit vcifels drawing i 8 or 20 fect water; which it is afferted might be removed without great difficulty. the Ozama, in 1494, by Bartholomew Columbus, who gave it the name of New lfahella. Authors aftert that Chrifopher Columbus gave it the name of his father, and that the inhahitants of Ifabella on the N cualh of the ifland, founded by Chriftopher Columbus in 1493 , removed to New lfahella in 1496. In 1502 a hurricane deftroyed mont of its buildings, which induced Ovando to remove the inlabitants to the $\mathbf{w}$ fide of the river. The new city was foon built, and that with a grandecur of defign not unworthy the firt metropolis of the New World. The plan of the city is a trapczium of about 540 fathons on the E lide, along the Ozama; near 500 fathoms on the $S$ bordering on the fea; and of abour 1800 fathoms in circumference. To the W and to the N of the city, the land is rough and rocky for about half a league, but after that it becomes good, and the country delightful. Towards the fea the fcite of the city lies very high, which forms an infurmountable dyke againf the fury of the waves. It is furrounded with a rampart 8 feet in diameter, and about 10 feet high. There is a great deal of ordnance at St. Domingo, particularly caft ordnatice, but the fortifications are not frong; and the height of the Ileignes commands it entirely; and its crown is not more than 250 fathoms from the ditch. The freets are fpacious, and fraiglt as a line, which gives it a pleafing appearance. Ten of thefe friets run from N to S , and 10 others from Eto W. The greatelt part of the houles, firt built, are of a fort of marble found in the vicinity, and in the nile of the ancient towns of Spain athd Italy : thofe of a more recent confruction are of tapia, a fort of pife. 'To erect thefe buildings, a cafe is made of planks, between pillars of mafonry : this cafe is filled by degre-s with a reddifh clay, which is rammed down as it is thrown in, until it forms a folid, or fort of wall, between the pillars. The clay thus preffed together, acquires an amazing hardnefs, and the walls are fometimes fo folid and frong, that the pillars of mafonry are ufelelis. The houfes of St. Domingo are tolerably landfome, in a fimple file, and nearly uniform. A confiderable part of thefe, built within thefe few years, are of wood, covered with the leaves or taches of palm trees. The roofs are generally platformed, being fhaped fo as to conduct the rain water to the cifterns. The climate of the c:pital is, happily, very temVol. I. perate. The nights of thofe months which aufiwer to the winter in Europe, are even found to be cold. Among a number of public edifices that merit attention, in this declining city, we may reckon the ruins of the houfe that Diego, fon of Clarifopher Columbus, had begun, entirely of hewn ftone. The walls are yet remaining, and fome of the fculpture round the windows. The roof and ccilings are fallen in, the lower floor is become a pen for cattle; and a Latin infeription over the purtal, is now hidden by the hut of a herdfiman. The cathedral, of the fame fort of fone as the houfe of Diego Columbus, flands on the S E. Oppoiite its entrtace is a fine fpacious obiong fquare, at the $S$ W end of which is the town houfe. The cathedral is a nolle Gothic pile begun in $1 \leq 12$, and finifhed in 1540 , and was conftructed after the model of a church at Rome. It merits admiration on acceunt of the boldnefs of its vault, which, notwithftanding the ravages of carthquakes in its neighbourhood, has never, till within thefe 15 or 20 years, had a fingle flaw. The duft of Columbus refted within this pile until the year $1 ; 96$, when it was removed. Here are 3 convents for men ; which have increafed in import-a college, and a gaol. The convent of the Cerdelicre was built ly Ovahdo in 1503, on a little hill containing a mine of inercury. All the 3 parochial churches of St. Domingo, are bcautiful, rith in ornaments, in vafes, of gold and filver fet with precious fones, in picturcs, in ftutues of marble and of metal; but the cathedral furpaffes the others in every refpect. The population of the city of Sr . Domingo is not very confideralule; yet it is extraordinarily augmented fince the. ycar 1780 . The cenfus lately taken, amountal to 20.000 , of every age and fex. But this is far below the exact number. The confus is taken by the Spanifh pricits or vicars, who go from houfe to houfe to verify thofe who do not perform their pafelial dutics. This lift does not comprehcud children under 7 years of age, nor heads of families abfent frum their home or from the city. But the principal caufe of the inexactnefs, is, one half of the parochial territory of the city is on the outfide of the walls. 'lhis territory comprehonds the part called the 1'lains, a great part of the Mont dc l'late, and again as well to the E as to the W of the city, a very confiderable number of country feats and provifion habitations, where there are a great many families of blacks, of pcople of colour, and white cultivators; fo that there are always 5 or 6000 not included in the cenfus. Notwithftanding the declining fituation of the Spanifin territory of the illand, it is far more profperous than it was 60 years ago. A cenfus even of 1737 flows, that the total population at that time did not furpafs 6000 fouls, and the capital contained hardly soo. St. John, St Andrew, St. Peter, St. Jofeph, St. Paul, St. David, St. Gcorge, St. Patrick, St. Luke, and St. Martin. The illend contains many high and rugged mountains, interfperfed with fertile vallies, and is watered by upwards of 30 rivers, befide anumber of rivulets. Several of the mountains contain unextinguifhed volcanoes, which frequently difcharge vaft quantities of burning fulphur. Here are feveral hot fprings, efteemed efficacious in removing ropical diforders. Some of the waters are faid to be hot enough to coagulate an egg. Here are valt iwarms of becs, which produce a great quantity of wax and honey ; they hive in the trees, and are thought to have be en tranfported from Europe : the native bee of the W. Indics being a fraller fpecies, unprovided with ftings, and very different in its manners from the Eurupean. The forefts afford an inexhauftible quantity of rofe wost, for citeemed by cabinet makers. The fruitsand other productions are fimilar to thofe in the neighbouring iflands; but the foil being generally thin, is more adapted to the rearing of cotton than fugar. The beft eye ftones that are known, are found on the fhores of this illand. They have their name from the ufe which is made of them, for clearing the eyes of any dirt. They are chaped like a lentil, fmuoth and fleek, but much fmaller, and of a grey colour. The only towns here of any note are Charlotte wwn, the capital and the feat of government, formerly called Rofleau, on the S W fide of the ifland, and Portfmouth, fituated at the head of Prince Rupert's. bay. Dominica, from its local fituation, between Martinico and Guadaloupe, is the beft calculated of all the Britifl poffefions in that part of the world, for fecuring to her the dominion of the Charaibbean fea. A few hipps of war in Prince Rupert's bay would effectually ftop all intercourfe of the French fettle-ments with each other, as not-a veffel can. pais. but is lialle to capture, by thips cruifing off that bay, and to windward of the illand. But what is moft to be admired, is the fkelcton of a large fuake, turned into folid fone by the petrifying quality of the water beforenerationed. Dutch America. The only poffeftion which thie Seven United Provinces, now called the Batavian Republic, retain on the continent of America, is the province called Dutch Guiana. province; the chief of which ave Effequebo, Surrinam, Demarara, Berbifch, and Canya. Effequebo is 21 miles wide at its mowth, and is more than 300 milein length. The others are navigable, and are deficribed under their different names. The chicf towns are Paramarilo and Stacliroeck. In the months of Scpieniber, Otober, and Noveniber, the climate is unhealthy, particularly to frangers. The common difeafes are putrid and other fevers, the dry'belly ache, and the dropfy. 100 miles back from the fea, you come to quite a different foil, a hilly country, a pure, dry, wholefome air, where a fire fometimes would not be difagreeable. Along the fea coant, the water is brackifh and unwholefome; the air damp and fultry. The thermometer ranges from 75 to 20 through the year. A N E breeze never fails to blow from about 9 o'clock in the morning through the day in the hutter fcafons. As the days and nights, throughout thic year, are very nearly of equal length, the air can never become extremely heated, nor the inhabitants fo greatly incommoded by the heat, as thofe who live at a greater diftance from the equator. The fafons were formerly divided regularly into rainy and dry ; but of late years fo much dependence cannot be placed upon them, owing probably to the country's being more clearcd, by which means a free paffage is opened for the air and vapours. The water of the lower parts of the rivers is brackifh, and unfit for ufe; and the inhabitants are obliged to make ufe of rain water, which is here uncommonly fweet and good. About 70 miles from the fea, ou the river Surrinam, is a village of about 40 or so houles, inhabited by Jews. This village and the towns abovementioned, with the intervening plantations, contain all the inhabitants in this colony, which amount to 3200 whites; and 43,000 flaves. The buildings on the plantations are many of them cofly, convenient and airy. The country around is thinly inhabited with the native Indians, a harmlefs friendly fet of beings. They are, in general, hort of fature, but rema.kably well made, of a light copper colour, flraight black hair, without beards, high cheek bones, and broad fhoulders. In thcir ears, nofes, and bair, the women wear ornaments of filver, \&c. Both men and women go naked. One nation or tribe of then tie the lower part of the leg of the female children, when young

This, though it muft render them very weak, is reckoned a great leauty by them. The language of the Indians appears to be very fuft. They are mortal enemies to cvery hind of la ixuir ; but neverthelefs, manutacture a few articles, fuch as very fine coton hammocks, carthen watcr pots, hafkets, a red or yellow dye called Roucau, and fome other trifles, all of which they bring to town and exchange for finch articles as they fand in need of. 'They paint themfelves red, and fome are eurioufly figured with black. Their food confifts chiefly of fith and crabs and caflava, of which they plaut great quantities, and this is almoft the only produce they attend to. They cannot be faid to be abtolutely wandering tribes, but their huts being mercly a few crofs nicks, covered with branches, fo as to defend them from the rain and fun, they frequently quit thcir habitations, if they fee occafion, and efcablifh them elfewhere. They do not flum the whites, and have been ferviceable againf the runaway negroes. On each fide of the rivers and creeks are fituated the plantations, containing from 500 to 2000 ncres each, in number about $\$ 50$ in the whole colony, produci.ing at prefent annually about 16,000 hhds. of fugar, $12,000,000 \mathrm{lb}$. coffee, $700,000 \mathrm{lb}$. cocoa, $850,000 \mathrm{lb}$. cotton: All which articles (cotton excepted) have fallen off within 15 years, at leaft one third, owing to bad management, both here and in Holland, and to other caufes. Of the proprictors of thefe plantations, not ahove 80 refide here. In the wonds are found many kinds of good and durable timber, and fome woods for ornamental purpofes; particularly a kind of mahogany called copic. The foil is perhaps as rich and as luxuriant as any in the world; it is generally a rich, fat, clayey earth, lying in fome places above the leve! of the rivers at high water (which rifes about 8 feet) and in moft places below it. Whenever from a continued courfe of cultivation for many years, a piece of land becomes impoverifhed (for manure is not known herc) it is laid under water for a certain number of years, and thereby regains its

Land is not wantiug; it is finely interfected by nohle tivcrs, and abundant crecks; the foil is of the belt kind, it is well fituated, and the climate is not very unhealthy, and is growing better, and will continue to to do the more the country is cleared of its woods, and cultivated. The rivers abound with fifl, fome of which are good; at eertain fealons of the year therc is plenty of turtlc. The woods abound with plenty of decr, harcs, and rabbits, a kind of buffaloe, and two fpecies of wild hogs, one of which (the peccary) is remarkable for laving lomething like its navel on the back. Tl- woods are inff fied with feveral fpecics of tygers, but with no other ravenous or dangerous animals. The rivers are rendercd dangerous by alligators from 4 to 7 feet long, and a man was a fhort time fince cruflicd between the jaws of a fifh, but its name is not known. Scorpions and tarantulas are found here of a large fize and great venom, and other infects without number, fome of them very dangerous and troublcfome. The torporific cel alfo, the touch of which, by means of the bare hand or any conductor, has the effect of a frong elcectrical hock. Serpents alfo, fome of which are venomous, and nthers, as has been afferted by many crediblc perfons, are from as to 50 feet long. In the woods are monkcys, the foth, and parrots in all their varicties; alfo fumc birds of beautiful plumage, among others the flamingo, but fcw or no finging birds. The civer Surinam is guarded by a fort and two redoubes at the entrance, and a fort at Paramaribo, Lut none of them of any frength, fo that one or two frigates would be fufficient to make thenfelves mafters of the whole colony; and never was there a people who more ardently wifhed for a change of government than the inlabitants of this colony. Thefe troops, together with a corps of about 250 free negrues, paid by the court here, and another fmall corps of chaffiurs, and fo many flaves as the court thinks fit to order from the planters from time to time, are difperfed at ponts placed at proper diftances on a Cordon, furrnunding the colony on the land fide, in order, as iar as poflible, to defend the diftant plautations and the colony in general from the attacks of feveral dangerous bands of runaway flaves, which from very finall beginnings have, from the natural prolificacy of the negro race, and the continual addition of frefh fugitives, arrived at fuch an heiglat as to have coft the country very great fums of moncy and much lofs of men, without being able to do thefe negroes any effectual injury. This colony was firft potfeffed by the French as early as the year 1630 or 40 , and was abandoned by them on account of its unhealthy climate. In the year 2650 it was taken up liy fome Englifhmen, and in 1662 a charter was granted by Charles II. About this time it was confiderably augmented by the fettlement of a number of Jews, who had been driven out of Cayenne and the Brazils, whofe defcendants (with other Jews) compofe at prefent one half of the white inhahitants of the colony, and are allowed great privileges. In 1667 it was taken hy the Dutch, and the Englifl having got poffeflion about the fame time of the then Dutch colony of N. Eric, a lake of the fourth magnitude in N. America, and through whiclı runs the line between the United States and Upper Canada. D'Etroit K. on the W brings the waters of the great lakes with which lake Erie has a communication on the $\mathrm{N} \mathbf{W}$, and Niagara R. on the Z forms its communication with the waters of lake Ontario and the river St. Lawrence. It is lituated between $4^{x}$ and 43 N lat. and between 7848 and 83 W lon. Its form is eliptical. Its length is about 225 miles; and its medium breadth about 40. It affords good navigation for chipping of any burden. The coatt on both tides of the lake is generally favourable for the paflage of batteaux and canoes. Its banks in many places have a flat landy flore, particularly to the enftward of the perinfula called Long Point, which runs upwards of 18 miles into the lake, and being compofed of fand, is very convenient to haul boats ouk of the furf upon it, when the lake is too rough for failing and rowing; yet in fome places, chiefly on the S fide towards both ends of the lake, it would be dangerous to approach, and innpoffible to land, by reafon of the perpendicular height of the rocks. Some of thete, (as at Cayahoga, which are already deferibed) are magnificent beyond defcription, and muft allio infuire dread in the boldeft breaft, when viewed from the water. Lake Eric has a great variety of fine fifh, fuch as fturgeon, eel, white fifh, trout, perch, \&c. Lakes Huron and Michigan afford commumcation with lake Erie, by veffels of 8 feet draught. There are portages into the waters of lake Erie from the Waball, Creal Miami, Muikingum, and Alleghany, from 2 to 16 miles. 'The portage between the () in and Potownac will be about 20 miles, shen the oliftructions in the Monongahels and Cheat rivers are removed.

Fhotila, Edf and $W_{g f} f$, belonging to Spain, fituated betiveen 25 and 3 in N lat. and between 80 and it W lon. ahout 600 miles in leugth. Its loreadth is various ; the broadef part of W. Flarida is about 530 miles, while the narrow peninfula ot E. lilorida extends, in the fame direction, from $S$ to $\mathbf{N} 400$ miles. It is bounded is by Georgia, $S$ by the gulf of Mexico, E hy the Atlantic ocean, and W by the Miflilippi, which feparates it from Louifiana, and is nearly of the form of the letter L. W. Florida is bounced el by the river Appalachicela : lience it extends W to the Regotets, at the ererance into lake Ponchartrain; thence through the lakes Ponchartrain and Miurepas, and alung the river therville to the Miffifippi, and thence to the S boundary of the U . S. [Hutchins.] Among its rivers that fall into the Atlantic, St. John's and Indian rivers are the chief. Scguana, Appalachicola, Chatahatchi, Efcambia, Mobile, laícagoula and Pearl rivers all rife in Georgia, and run foutherly into the gulf of Mexico. The principal bays are St. Bernard's, Afecnfiun, Mobile, Penfacola, Dauphin, Jofeph, A palachy, Spiritu Sancto ; and the chief capes are Banco, St. Blaize, Anclote, and Cape Florida at the extronity of the peninifla. The climate is little different from that of Gcorgia. There are, in this country, a great variety of foils; the eatern part of it, near to, and about St. Auguftine, is by far the moft unfruitful; yet even there, two crops of Indian corn are anmally produced. The banks of the rivers which water the Floridas, and the parts contignous, are of a fuperior quality, and well adipted to the culture of rice and corn. The finc lands near the river ilfeambia, are deferihed under the account of that river. The interior country, which i, high and pleafant, ahounds with wood of almoft every kind, particularly white and red oak, live oak, laurch magnolia, pine, hickory, evprefo, red and white cedar. The live oaks, though not tall, contain a prodionious quantity of timber. The trunk is generally from 12 to 20 feet in circumference, and rifes 10 or 12 feet from the carth, and then branches into 4 or 5 great limbs, which grow in nearly a horizontal ditection, torning a gencle curve. 'The trunks make excelicat fhingles, hoards, and ofher timber; and when hullowed, make darable and convenient canocs. The garden vegetables are in high perfection; the orange and bemontrees grow here, without cultivation, to a large fize, and produce better fruit than in Spain and Portugal. The intervales between the hilly prarts of this country are catrenty y rich. The principal town in W. Forida is Penfacolz; in E. Florida, St. Auguftine. The Spanilh ftrength in the Floridas, and Louiliana, in r790; was as follows, aecording to Mr. Melford's account: Troops and levies at St. Augufline and on St. Joln's river, 400 ; St. Marks, 100 ; Penfacola, 350; Mobile and Tombighes, 150; at the Natchez, 200; Red river, 1co; Illinois river, 300 ; in all 1 teoo men, called the Orleans or Louifiana regiment. Befide thefe the flate yields cotton, filk, corn, potatoes, oranges, figs, olives, pomegranates, \&c. The forefts confift of oak, hickory, mulberry, pine, cedar, \&\&. The whole coaft is bordered with iflands; the principal of which are Skidaway, Walfaw, oflabaw, St. Catherines, Sapelo, Frederica, Jekyl, Cumberland, \&c. Thefe illands are furrounded by navigable creeks, between whi $h$ and the main land is a large extent of falt marih, fronting the whole flate, not lefs, on an average, than 4 or 5 miles in breadth, interfected with creeks in various directions, admitting, through the whole, an inland navigation, hetween the ifands and the main land, from the NE to the S E corners of the flate. The $E$ fides of thefe iffands are, for the noft part, clean, hard, fandy beaches, expofed to the wafio of the ocean. Between thefe iflands are the entrances of the rivers from the interior country, winding through the low falt marihes, and delivering their waters into the founds, which form capacious harbours of frum 3 to 8 miles over, and which communicate with each other by parallel falt creeks. The foil and its fertility are various, according to fituation and different improvement. 'rhe iflands in their natural fate are coverci with a plentiful growth of pine, oak, Vol. i.
bickory, live oak (an uncommonly hard and very valuable wood) and fome red cedar. The foil is a mixturc of fand and black mould, making what is commonly called a grey foil. A confiderable part of it, particularly that whercon grow the oak, lickory, and live oak, is very rich, and yields on cultivation, good crops of indigo, cotton, corn, and poratoes. The foil of the main land,adjoining the marflics and creeks, is ncarly of the lame quality with that of the illands: except that which borders in thote rivers and creeks, which fretelh far bacis into the comerry. On thefe, immediately after you leave the falts, legin the valuable rice fwamps, which, on cultivation, afford the prefert chicf faple of conmerec. The will letween the rivers, after yon leave the fea board, and the edge of the framps, at the diftance of 20 or 30 miles, changes from a grey to a red colour; on which grows plenty of oak and hickory, with a confiderable intermixture of pine. In fome places it is gravelly, but fertile, and fo continucs for a number of miles gradually deepening the reddifh colour of the earth, till it changes into what is called the mulatto fuil, conififing of a black and red earth. The mulatto lands are generally frong, and yield large crops of wheat, tobicco, corn, &c. To this kind of land fucceeds by turns a foil nearly black and very rich, on which grow targe quantities of thack walout, mulberry, &c. This fucceflion of difierent fuils continues uniforn and regular, though there are fome large veins of all the difierent foils intermixed; and what is nore remarkable, this fucceflion, in the order mentioned, ftretches acrofs this fate nearly parallel with the feacoaft, and extends through the feveral flates, nearly in the fume direction, to the banks of Hudfon river. Cotton was formerly planted here, only by the poorcr clafs of pcople, and that only for family ufe. They planted two kinds, the annual and the Wof Indian; the furmer is low, and planted. every ycar; the halls are large, and the phlox long, flrong, and perfectly white. The later is a tall perennial plant, the falk fomewhat thrubby, feveril of which rife up from the root for feveral years fucceffively, the ftems of the former year heing killed by the winter frofs. The balls of the W. India enton are not quite fo large as the other, lyut the phlox or wool is long, cxtremely fine, filky and white.; A. plantation of this kind will laft feveral

Years, with moderate labour and carc. 'The culture of cotton is now much more attended to ; feveral indigo planters have converted their plantations into cotton fields., A new fipecies is about to be introduced into this flate, the feed of which was lately brought by Capt. Jofiah Ruberts from Waitihoo, one of the Marquelas intands, in the S. Pacific ocean, and fent to a gentleman in Genrgia by a member of the Hiforical.Society in Bofton. This cotton is of a very fine texture, and it is expected will prove a confiderable acqu:fition to the fonthern fates. The cotton at prefent raifed in Georgia, is diftuguifhed by fome into two kinds, the greelrand black feed; the former is planted in the Upper Country, the latter on the fal illands and adjacent lands, and was brought, abont the year 1988 , from the Bahanas. And there is now a profpect, that in afew years the fates of S. Carolina and. Georgia may be able to raife more than ton millions of pounds of cotton annually for exportation. Moft of the tropicatfrists would flourifl in this fate, with proper attention. 'The $S$ weftern part of this fate, and the parts of E. and W. Florida, which lie adjoining, will, probahly, in fome future time, hecome the vineyard of America. The chief articles of export arc ricc, tobacco, indigo, fago, lumber, naval ftores, leather, deer ikins, fuake root, myrtle and bees wax, corn; and live fock. The planters and farmers raife large ftocks of cattle, from 2000 to 1500 head, and fome more. The value in fterling money, of the exports of Georgia, intine year 1755, was 15,7441. in 1772, 1.21,6771. in 1791, valhe in dolls. 491,472; in 1792, 458,973 ; in $1793,501,38.3$; in 1794,676,154; in 1796,950,158; and in 1.801, 1,854,951. In 1790, the tonnage employed in this fate was 23,54 , and the number of American feamen.in,225. Ia return for her cxports, Georgia receives W: fudia gouds, teas, wines, clothing, and dry goods of all kinds. From the northern fates, cheefe, fith, potatoes, apples, cider, and houes. The imports an:l cepurits are principally to and from Savanaah, which has afinc hartoour, and is the place where the principal commercial butinef of the fate is tranfacted. According to the cenfus of r790, the number of inimbitants amountod to $82.54 \%$ of whom $29,21 x_{4}$ were flaves. The increafe by immigration and otherwife, hag becn very contiderable fince. 'The citizens of Georgia have lately revifed and altercd their conftitution, and formed it upon a plan fumilar to the federal conftitution of the United States. The litcrature of this ftate, which is yet in its infancy, is commencing on a plan which, if ever carricd into efficet, will be very advantageone to the fatc. A college with ample and libcral endowments, is inftituted in Louifviile, a high and healthy part of the comur-* try, near the centre of the flate. 'Ihere is allo provifion made for the inftitution of an academy in each county of the itate, to be fupported from the fame funds, and confidered as parts and members of the fame inftitution, under the general fiperintendance and direction of a pretident and board of truftees, felected for their literary accomplithments from the differcut parts of the flate, and invefted with the cuftomary powers of corporations. 'Tinis inftitution is denominated $\cdot T b_{e}$ Univerfity of Georgia. The funds for the fupport of literary inftitutions are principally in lands, anounaing in the whole to 50,000 acres, a great part of which is of the beft quality, and at prefent very valuable; together with nearly 60001 . Aterling in bonds. houfes, and town lots in Angulta. Other public property to the amount of rocol. in each county, bas been fet' apart for the purpofes of building and furnihning their refpective academies. The funds originally defigned to Gupport the literary, orphiar houfe, founded by the Rev. George Whitefield, a few. miles $S$ of Savanozh, are chiefly in rice plantations and negrocs.; On the death. of the Countefs of Huntingdon, to whom. Mr . Whitefield begueathed this property, as truftes, the legifature, in the ycar r 792 , palfed a law, vefliug it in 13 commiflioners, with powers to carry the original intention of Mr, Whitefield into execution; and in conpliment to the Countcfs, the leminary is Ailed Huntingdon Cy)lege. The, dilfarent religious fects are: Baptiltz, Methodifts, Irchyterians, Epif* copalians, Roman Catholics, Quakers and. Jews. The two firft are the mof numerous, and inhabit the uppect part of the fatc. The Eprifiopalians and Prefoytetians ave abent equal is number. The Citholies and Jyws have eitel oue chureh. Great kitge, one of the ridges of the Alleghany Mountains, which leparates the waters of the Savanuah and Alatanalia. At the S E promontory of the Great Ridge is that extraordinary place called Buildue Lick, diftant about 80 miles from Augufta. It uccupies feveral acres of ground. A large cane fwamp and meadows, formiag an immente plain, lics S E from it; in this fiwanp. Mr. Eartram thinks the lranches of the Great Ogeeche take their rife. The lick is nearly level, and lies between the head of the cane fwanp, and the afcent of the Ridge. 'The earth, from the finperfices to an unknown depth, is an almof white or cinerous coloured, tenacious, fattills clay, which all kinds of cattle lick into great caves, purfuing the delicious vein. Mr. Bartram could not dificover any thing faline in its tafte, but an infipid iwectnefs. Horned cattle, horfes, and decr, are immoderately fond of it ; infomuch that their excrement, which almoft totally covers the earth to fome diftance round this place, appears to be perfect clay; which when dried by the fun and air, is almolt as hard as brick.

Great Springs, is an amazing fountain of tranfparent, cool water lituated near the road, about midway between Augufta and Savannah. The ebullition is copious, active, and continual, over the ragged apertures in the rocks, which lic 7 or 8 feet below, fwelling the furface, confuderably, imnicdiatcly above it ; the waters defeend fwiftly from the fountain, forming at once alarge hrook, 6 or 8 yards over, and 5 or 6 feat decp. There are multitudes of $f f_{3}$ in the founs. tain of various tribes; chicily the feveral fpecies of bream, trout, cat finh, and sart, which are behelu continually alecuding and defeeuding through the rocky ajpertures. Greenland. This extenfive country properly belongs to neither of the two continents ; unlefs, as feems probable, it be united to Amcrica to the nothward of Davis's fraits. It is bounded by Davis's fraits on the W ; to the northward by fome unknown ocean, or by the N pole: E by the lcy fea, and a frait which feparates it from Iccland; S E by the Atlantic ocean; $S$ it terminates in a point called Farewell, in N lat. 59. The wefters coaft, which is wafled hy Davis's fraite, is high, rocky, lad land, which rears its head, clofe to the fea, in lofty meuntains covered with fnow, and inacceffille cliffs, and meets the mariner's cye 40 leagues at fea. againt another, filthe mind with horror. As this country is covered, in moft places, with everlafing ice and fnow, it is eafy to imagine that it muft be extremcly cold. Anong the veget.ables of this cold country, are forrel of various forts, angelica, wild tanfey, fcurvy grafs in great quantities, wild rofemary, dandalions in plenty, and various forts of grafs; whoretleberries and cranberries grow here. Europeans have fown barley and oats, which grow as high and as thrifty as in warmer climates, but feldom advance fo far as to ear, and never, even in the warmeft places, to maturity, becanfe the frofy nights begin too foon. Unfruitful as this country is, it affords food for fome, though but few kinds of beafts, which furnifi the natives with food and raiment. Of the wild game are white hares, rein deer, foxes, and white bears, who are fierce and mifchievous, feals, \&c. The Greenlanders have no tame animals lut a fpecics of dogs, who refemble wolves. The Greenlanders believe in the doctrine of the tranfmigration of fouls, and have very fingular and romantic notions concerning a future ftate. Weft Greenland was frlk peopled by Europeans in the eighth censury. At that time a company of Icelanders, headed by one Ericke Rande, were by accident driven on the coaft. On his return he reprefented the country in fuch a favourable light, that fome families again followed him thither, where they foon became a thriving colony, and beftowed on their new habitation the name of Graenland or Greenland, ou account of its verdant appearance. This colony was converted to Chriftianity by a miffionary from Norway, fent thither by the celebrated Olaf, the firt Norwegian monarch, who embraced the true religion. The Greenland fettlement continucd to increafe and thrive under his protection, and in a little time the country was provided with many towns, clurclies, convents, bilhops, \&c. under the jurifdiction of the archbillop of Dronthein. A confiderable commerce was carried on hetween Greenland and Norway; and a regular intercourfe maintained hetween the two countries till the year 1406, when the laf biflop was fent over. Irom that time all correfpondence was cut off, and all knowiedge of Greculand hata been buried in oblivion. This nation, called Scbrellings, Skralingus, or dwarfini people, from their fmall flature, at length prevailed over thie Iceland fettlers, who inlabited the weftern diftrict, and exterminated them in the 14th eentury ; infomuch, that when their brethren of the eaftern diftrict came to their anittance, they found nothing alive but fome cattle and flocks of fieep rumuing wild about the country. The Schrellings have a tradition that thefe were likewife exterminated, and affirm that the ruins of their houfcs and villages ftill appear. There are reafons, however, for believing that there may be fill fome defccndants of the ancient Iceland colony remaining in the eaftern diftriet, though they cannot be vifited by land, on account of the fupendous mountains, perpetually covered with fnow, which divide the two parts of Greenland; whilt they have been rendered inacceffible by fea, by the valt quantity of ice driven from Spitfbergen, or Eaft Greenland, one would imagine that there nuft have been fome confiderable alteration in the northern parts of the world fince the isth century, fo that the coaft of Greenland is now become almoft totally inaceeffible, though formerly vifited with very little difficulty. The fame alteration in the climate of New Britian is vifible. The forefts are furrounded with a circle of flumps and dead trees, 20 miles and more in diameter. This flows that fnow and frof are more powerful than formerly. Where the fturdy forefl rofe, not a flirub now is feen. While other climates become more mild, that of the northern part of $\mathbf{N}$. America is more difmal. Numerous attempts have licen made in the laft and prefent century to difcover the eaftern diftrict; but they have all proved abortive. In thefe attempts ore has been found, every hundred pounds of which yielded 26 ounces of filver; and fand, from which an eminent clicmift extracted pure gold. It is thought the only practicable method of reaching tha: part of the country will be to coalt north about in fmall velfels, between the great flakes of ice and the hore; as the Greenlanders have declared, that the currents contimally iffuing from the bays and inkets, and running $S$ wenward along the fhore, hinder the ice from adhering to the land; fo that there is always a channel open, through which vefiels of fmall burden might pafs, efpecially if lodges were built at fuitable diftances on

Gulf Strean. This remarkable phenomenon is a current in the ocean, which runs along the couft, at unequal diftances from Cape Florida to the Ille of Sables and the hanks of Newfoundland, where it turns off and runs down through the Weftern iflands; thence to the coall of Africa, and along that coaft in a fouthern direction, till it arrives at, and fupplice the place of thofe wateri carricd by the conflant trade winds from the coait of Africa towards the W , thus producing a conflant circulating current. This ftreame is about 75 miles from the flores of the fonthern ftates, and the diftance inereales as you proced northward. The width of it is ahout 40 or 50 milcs, widening towards the $\mathbf{N}$. Its common rapidity is threc miles an hour. A N E wind narrows the ftream, renders it more rapid. and drives it nearcr the coaft. N W and W winds have a contrary effect. The Gulf Stream is fuppofed to be occafioned by the trade winds that are conftantly driving the water to the weflward, which being compreffed in the Gulf of Mexien, finds a paflage between Florida and the Bahania illauds, and runs to the N E aloug the American coaft. This lypothcfis is confirmed by another fact: It is faid that the water in the Gulf of Mexico is many yards higher than on the weftern fide of the continent in the Pacific ocean. It is bighly probable that the fand carrisd down by grat rivers into bays, and the current ourrent out of thefe bays meeting with whe Gulf Stream, by their eddics, have -formed Nantucket Shoals, Capc Cod, George's Bank, the Inand of Sable, \&e. . Ekilful-navigators, who have acyuired a knowledge of the extent to which this Aream renches on the New England coaf, have learnt, in their vayages fiom Europe to New England, New York, or Penniylvania, to pafs the banks of Newfoundland in about 44 or 4.5 N lit. to fail thence in a courfe between the northern edge of the Gulf Stre:am, and the fluals and banks of Sable Mand, Gcorge's Bank, and Nantucket, by which they make hetter and quicker voyages to America.

Hutteros, is the moft remarkable and dangerous cape on the coaft of N. America. This point extends far into the ocean, from the coatt of N. Carolina, in 3515 N lat. The water is very hloal at a great diftance from the cape, which is remarkabie for fudden fqualls of wind, and for the monf fcvere forms of thunder, lightning and rain, which happen almont every day, during one half the year. At the time of Sir Watter Raleigh's approaching this coaft, the thoals in the vicinity of Hatteras were fonnd fo dangerous, focxtenfive, and fo fiallow, many of them eovered with not more than 5 or 6 fuct water, that no veficle, in that latitude, sentured within 7 leagues of the land. At prefent the out fhoals, which lie about 14 miles S W of the cape, are but of 5 or 6 acres extent, and where they are really dangerous to veficle of moderate draught, not above half that extent. On the dloaleft part of thefc is about to feet at low watcr ; and here, at times, the ocean breaks in a tremendous manner, fpouting, ${ }^{28}$ it were, to the clouds, from the violent agitation of the Gulf Stream, which touches the eaftern cdge of the banks, from which the declivity is fudden, that is to fay, from to fathoms to no foundings. On the fpot abovementioned, which is firm fand, it has been the lot of many 2 good veficl to ftrike, in a gale of wind, and go to pieces. In moderate weather, howerer, thefe floala may he pafied over, if neceffary, at full tide, without much danger, by veffels not drawing more than 8,9 , or io fet water. Fron this bank, formerly of vaft extent, and called the Eull Mioon Skoail, a ridge ruis the whicle difabes to tie cape about a N W. courfe, is about half a mile wide, and at low witter has generally 10,11 , and 12 fect water; There are gap 3 at equal intervals, affordiag channels of about 15 or 16 fees water. 'The moft noted of thefe is about 2, mile and a balf from the land, and is at Icaft two miles and a half wide, and might at full fea be fafely paficd by the largeit nips ; but is rarely ufed cxcept by coadiing vefiels. It lies between 55 and 65 degrees of $N$ lat. The eaftern boundary of the bay is Terra de Labrador; the northern part has a ftraight coaft, facing the bay, guarded with a line of ines innumerable. A vatt bay, called the Archiwinnipy Sea, lies within it, and opens into Hudfon's Bay, by means of GLif Hazard, through which the Beluga whales pafs in great numbers. The entrance of the bay, from the Atlantic Ocean, after leaving, to the N, Cape Farevell and Davis's Straits, is between Refolution Ines on the $\mathbf{N}$, and Button's INes, on the Labrador coaf, to the S , forming the eaftern extremity of Hudfon's Straits. The coalts are very high, rocky and rugged at top; in fome places precipitous, but fometimes exhibit extenfive beaches. The illands of Salifhury, Nottingham, and Digges are very lefty and naked The depth of water in the middle of the bay is 140 fathoms. From Cape Churchill to the S end of the bay, are regular foundings; near the flore, fhallow, with muddy or fandy hottom. To the northward of Churchill, the foundings are irregular, the bottom rocky, and in fome parts the rocks appear above the furface at low water. Hudfon's Bay is reckoned about 300 leagues wide, from $N$ to $S$ : Its breadth is unequal, being about 132 lcagues where broadef ; but it grows narrower at both extremities, being not much above 35 leagues in fome places. In the account of N. Britain, we have given a general account of the Findfon's Bay Company's fettlements on both fides of Janes's Bay. The commerce in the countrics adjacent to this inland fea is in the hands of an exclufive Britifh Company of its name, who employ only 4 hips, and 130 feamen. The forts Prince of Wales, Churchill river, Nelfon, New Severn, and Albany, are garrifoned by '186 men. The French, in 1782, took and deftroycd thefe fettiements, \&c. faid to amount to the value of $£_{6} \cdot 500,000$ fterling. The Company's exports are to the amount of $£_{1} 16,000$, monty the drugs of the market, which produce returns, ehiefly in Deaver fkins, and rich furs, to the value of $£ .29,000$; yielding government a clear revenue of $6.3,734$. This includes the fifhery in Hudfon's Bay. The Rkins and furs procured by this trade, when manufactured, afford articles for trading with many nations of Europe, togreat advantage.

Hudfon River, paffes its whole courfe in the flate of $\mathbf{N}$. York, and is one of the largeft and fineft rivers in the United States. It rifes in a mountainou3 coun* try, bet ween the lakes Ontario and Champlain. In its courfe foutheafterly it approaches within 6 or 8 miles of lake George ; then, after a flort courfe $\mathbf{E}$ turns foutherly, and receives the Sacondaga from the $S W$, which heads in the neighbourhood of Mohawk river. The courfe of the river thence to N . York, where it empties into York Bay, is very uniformly 512 or 15 W . Its whole length is ahout 250 miles. From Albany to lake George is 6 s milcs. This diftance, the river is navigablic only for battenux, and has two poitages, occalioned by falls, of half a mile each. The banks of Hudfon's river, efpecially on the weftern fide, as far as the highlands extend, are chiefly rocky cliffs. The paffage through the Highlands, which is 16 or 18 miles, affords a wild romantic fcene. In this narrow pafs, on each fide of which the mountains cower to a great height, the wind, if there be any, is collected and compreffed, and blows continually as through a bellows ; veffels, in paffing through it are often obliged to lower their fails. The bed of this river, which is deep and fmonth to an aftonifhing diftance, through a hilly, rocky country, and even through ridges of fome of the higheft mountains in the United States, mult undoubtedly have been produced by fome mighty convulfion in nature. The tide flows a few miles above Albany, which is 160 miles from N. York. The advantages of this river for carrying on the fur trade with Canada, by means of the lakes, are very great. Its conveniences for internal commerce are fingularly happy. The produce of the remotent farms is eafily and fpeedily conveyed to a certain and profitable market, and at the loweft expenfe. In this refpect, N. York has greatly the advantage of Phijadelphia. A great proportion of the produce of Pennfylvania, is carried to market in waggons, over a great extent of country, fomc of which is rough ; hence it is that Philadelphia is crowded with waggons, carts, horfes and their drivers, to do the fame bufinefs that is done in N. In the autunn of 1783 , Meffrs. Seth and Thomas Jenkins, from Providence, of Rhode Ifland, fixed on the unfettled fpot, whereon this city flands, for a town, to which the city is navigable for vefiels of any fize. The city is laid out into large fquares, bbrdering on the river, and divided into 30 lots. Other adventurers were admitted to proportions, and the town was laid out in quares, formed by fpacions ftrees, croffing each other at right angles. Each fquare contains 30 lots, two deep, divided by a 20 feet alley. Each lot is 50 feet in front and 120 feet in depth. In the fpring of 1784 , feveral houfes and fores were erected. The increafe of the town from this period to the fpring of 1786 , two years only, was aftonininingly rapid, and reflects great honor upon the enterprifing and perfevering fipirit of the original founders. In the fpace of time juft mentioned no lefs than 150 dwelling houfes, befide flops, barns and other buildings, 4 warchoufes, feveral wharves, fpermaceti works, a covered ropewalk, and one of the beft diftilleries in America, were erected, and 1500 fouls collected on a fpot. which three years before, was improved as a farm, and but two years before began. to be built. Its increafe fince has been very rapid; a printing office has been eftablifhed, and reveral pullic buildings have been erected, befide dwelling boufct, fores, \&c. The inhabitants are pientifully and conveniently fupplied with water, brought to their cellars in wooden pipes, from a fpring 2 miles from the town. It has a large bay to the fouthward, and fands on an eniinence from which are extenlive and delightful views to the $\mathbf{N} \mathbf{w}$, N , and round that way to the S E, confifting of hills and vallies, variegated with woods and orchards, corn fields and mendows, with the river, which is in moft places a mile over, and inay be feen a confiderable diftance to the northward, forming a number of bays and crecks. From the $S$ E to the $S W$, the city is fcreened with hills, at different diftances, and weft afar off over the river and a large valley, the profpect is bounded by a chain of nupendous mountains, called the Kaats Kill, running to the W N W, which add inagnificence and fublinity to the whole feene. Upwards of 200 neighs enteredthe city daily, for feveral days together, in Feliruary. 1786, loaded with grain of various kinds, boards, flingles, fiaves, hoop3, iron ware, flone for building, firewood, and fundry articles of provition for the market, from which fome idea may be forned of the advantage of its fituation, with refpect to the country adjacent, which is every way evtenfive and fertile, particularly weftward. The original proprietors of Hudfon, offered to purchafe a tract of land adjoining the S part of the city of Albany, and were conftrained, by a refufal of the propofition, to become competitors for the commerce of the northern country, when otherwife they would have added great wealth and confequence to Albany. There is a bank here, called Bank of Columbia, whofe capital may not exceed 160,000 dullars. It is compofed of 400 nlarcs, at 400 dollars each. Indir :. The amount of Indian population, in Anerica; cant oinly be gueffed at. The new difcovered iflands in the $S$ Sea, and part of the N W coaft are probably the mon populous. The heft informed have conjectured the number of aboriginal inlaabitants, or Indians, in Annerica, to be under two millions and a half. Thie decreafe fince the difcovery of Americe, has been amazing: at that period, the illand of Hifpaniola alone contained at lcaft a million of inhabitants ; Bartholomew de las Cafas eftimated the number at three millions. Millions were buried in the mines, or hunted to death by the Splaniards, both on the iflands and continent. In the northcrn parts of Americi, numbers werc doubtlefs deftriyed in forming the Englifh, Dutch, and French colonies ; but notwithfanding the ruptures between the colonifls and the Indians, very few comparatively perifhed by war. Famine, and its companion the peftilence, frequently deftroy whole tribes. The difeafes allo introduced by the Europeans, have made great havock; the ipiriturי"s liquors, in the ufe of which they have been initiated by the whites, prove perhaps mof of all repugnant to population. They wafte as the Luropeans advance ; they moulder away, and difappear. The moft numerous tribes art at the greatent diftance from the fettlements of the whites, and it is very certain that in proportion to their diftance they are unacquainted with the ufe of fire arms. All the nations N of lake Superior, and thofe beyond the Miffifippi, ufe only bows and arrows, fo that when their feattered fituation is confidered, the various cufloms and fuperfitions which it would be neceffary to reconcile, in order to produce unity of action, and what a fmall proportion of them have the apparatus, or underfand the ufe of mufquctry, or poffefs refources to enable them to carry on lafting hottilities againft the power of the United states, it mult be obvious that even partial defeats of the federal troops will haten their ruin, notwithtanding the wonderful dexterity and intrepidity which they have exhibited in feveral actions with the regular troops in late wars. states; they ought to teach them the bleffings of peace, and curb the exorbitant luft of farther extent of territory. A lift of Indian tribes, in Imlay's Hifory of Kentucky, makes the aggregate number lefs than 60,000 who inhabit the country from the Gulf of Mexico on both fides of the Miffifippi, to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and as far weft as the country has been generally explored, that is, to the head water of the Miffifippi, and from thence a goud way up the Miffouri, and between that river and Santa Fe. To give any account of the nations farther fouth, far lefs in S. America, would be a talk beyond all hounds; the chief of thefe are noticed under their refpeczive names. The population of the Indian nations in the fouthern parts of the United States, fomewhat different from Imlay, is, according to Mr. Purcell, who refided among them in 1780 , as follows : Mufcogees, cemmon- Gun men. Total. $\begin{array}{lll}\text { ly called Crecks, } & 5860 & \mathbf{1 7 , 2 8 0}\end{array}$ Chactaws,

The whites incorporated among them arefew in number, and lead a vagabond life, going from tribe to tribe as their reflefs difpofition leads them. The increafe of population is confiderably ehecked by the quantities of adulterated and poifonous ipirituous liquors, and the venereal difteraper introduced among them by the whites. In the northern difrict of $\mathbf{N}$. America, Mr. Hutchins, in $\mathbf{1 7 7 8}$, eftimates the Indians, $\mathbf{N}$ of the Ohio, and E of the Mififippi, at 13,800, and thofe weftwart of Lake Superior and the Miflifippi, at $\mathbf{x} 0,000$. He particularly enumerates the tribes, the number in each, their dwelling and thèir hunting grounds. Major Gen. Anthony Wayne put an end to the defrugive war with the Indians by a treaty of peace and friendhip concluded at Greenville, Auguf 3, 1795, which was ratified by the Prefident of the United States, December 22, 1795. The Indian tribes figned the treaty in the following order : Wyandots, Delaqvares, Sbazvanoes, Ottarvas, Cbipawaas, Ottawa, Patawatames of the river of St. Jofeph, Patawatames of Hurou, Miamies, Miamis YoL. .

In 1792, Mr . Stewart, faid to be in the employ of the Britifi court, relurned from four yeare travels through the hitherto unexplored regions to the weftward. Taking his courfe weft fouthwefterly from the pofts on the lakes, he penetrated to the head of the Miffouri, and from thence due W , to within 500 miles of the hiores of the Pacific ocean. H: joined the interior Indians in feveral battles againft the fhore Indians, all which coming fhort of his object, the procuring a peace, fo that he might explore the continent from fea to fea; after fome flay, he returned nearly by the fame route he had purfued in going out. Beyond the Miffouri, Mr. Stewart met with many powerful nations, in general hofpitable and courteoun. The Indian nations he vifited wetward, appeared to be a polifhed and civilized peonple, having towns regularly built, and being in a flate of fociety not far removed from that of the Europeans, and only wanting the ufe of iron and fteel to be perfectly fo. They are always clad in Kins, cut in an elegant manner, and in many refpects preferable to the garments in ufe among the whites. Adjacent to thefe nations is a valt ridge of mountains, which may be called the Alleghany of the weitern parts of America, and ferves as a barrier againtt the too frequent incurfions of the coalt Indians, who entertain a mortal antipathy to the nations and tribes inhabiting the country eaftward of the mountains. Thefe iflands, lying hetween 83 and 924 S'lat. and beiween 14019 and 14118 W lon. from Greenwich, are monly inhabited, and appear to be generally variegated with hills and valleys, abounding with timber, and very pleafant. Since the above act paffed, the following new Cuuntics have been made ; Floyd, Knox, Nicholas, Breckenridge, and Adair. The fate has 220,955 inhabitants, of whom 40,343 are flaves. The river Ohio wallhes the $\mathbf{N}$ weftern fide of Kentucky, in its whole extent. Its principal branches which water this fertile tract of country, ure Sandy, Licking, Kentucky; Salt, Green, Tencffee, and Cumberlzal rivers. Thefe again branch in various directions, into rivulcts of different magnitudes, fertilizing the country in all its parts. The fprings and freams leffen in June, and continue low, hindering navigation, until Novcmber, when the aut:umal rains fivell the rivers, and replenifh the whole country with water.' At the bottoms of thefe water courfes ihe limeftone rock, which is common in this country, appaiss of a greyih: rolour ; and wherc is is expofed to the air, in its natural nate, it looks like brown iree fone. On the banks of thefe rivers and rivulets, this fone has the appearance of fine marble, being of the fame texture, and is found in the greatelt plenty. After hicavy rains, the waters in the rivers rife between the higb limefone bankis from 10 to 30 feet. There are 5 noted falt fprings or licks, is this country, riz. the higher and lower Blue fprings, the Big Boac Lick, Drimnon's Lick, Man's and Bullet's Lick. Tie two lan of thefe Licks have tupplied this country and part of fllinois with falt, at une dollar 2 bufhel; and fome is exported to the Illinuis consery. The method of procuring water from thefe Licks, is ly finking wells from 30 to 40 feet deep, which vield water more ferongly inqpreguated with falt, thau the water from the fea. This whole country, as far as has yct been difcovered, lies upon a bed of limefouc, which in general is about 6 feet below the furface, except in the vallies, where the foil is much thinner. Atract of about 20 miles wide, aloug the banks of the Ohio, is hilly, broken land, interfiperfed with many fertile fpots. The ren of the country is agreeably ureven, gently afcending and defcending at no grcat diftances. The angles of afeent are from 8 to 24 degrees, and fometimes mort. The vallies in comneon are very narrow, and the foil in thetn is very thin, and of an inferiur quality ; and that along che afeending gromud, is frequently not much better; for where you fee a tree blown up, you lind the route clinging to the upper parte of the rock. The foil on thefe agreeable afcents (for they cannot be callcd hills) is fufficiently deep, as is evident from the fize of the trees. The foil is either black, or tinged with a lighter or deeper vermilion, or is of the colour of dark afhes. 'In'many places there are appearances of potter's clay, and coal in abandance. The country promifes to be well fupplied with wholefone, well tafted water. In Nclfon co. N W of Rolling fork, a branch of Salt river, is a tract of about 40 miles fquare, moftly barren, interfperfed with plains and Atrips of good land, which are advantageous fituations for raifing cattle, as the neighbouring barrens; as thèy are improperly flyled, are covered-with grafs, and afford good pafturage. The linds E of Nolin creek, a branch of Green river, are in general of an inferior quality; but the banks cf Green river afford mańy defirable fituations. Toward the head waters of Kentucky river, which interlock with the waters of Cumberhaind and Sandy rivers, and the whole country eaftward and fouthward as far as the Hollton river, is broken aud mountainous; and from the defcription given by hunters, it has been nituch doubted whether it would ever be practicable to makie a paffalile road from Kentucky acrofs to Winchefler, in Virginia, on the $E$ fide of the inountains, which, on a fraight line, is not perhaps more than 400 miles, and the way now travelled is 600 . This doubt, however, is now removed, and a company have lateIy undertaken to cut 'a road (it is thought a waggon ruad may be madc) from Kcntucky, to pafs by the Sweet siprings in Virginia ; thence to Winchefls. This new road, it is fuppofed; will be nearly 200 miles fhorter than the one now travelled. This country in general is well timbered. Of the natural groweth which is peculiar to this country, we may reckon the elm, the heech, the :Aht, the juniper, the fugar, the cuffee, the papaw, the hack bêrry, and the cucumber trees. The two laft are fofs wond, and bear a fruit of the ilhape and fize of a cucumber. The coffee tree refembles the black oak; and bears a pod, which enclofs a feed, of which a drink is made not unlike coffe. Befide thefe, there is the honcy locult, black mullicrty, wild cherry, of a large fize. The buckeye, an exeeedingly fort wood, is the horfe chefnut of Euroje. The magnolia bears a beautifinl bloflom of a rich and exquifite fragraves, Such is the variety and

Veauity of the flowering flirubs and plants which grow fpontancoufly in this country, that in the proper feafon the wildersiefs appears in tioffom. The accounts of the fertility of the foil in this conatry, have, in fome inflances, exceeded beliet, and probably have been exaggerated. That fome parts of Kentucky, particularly the high gronnds, are remarkably good, all accounts agree. The lands of the firt rate are too rich for wheat, and will produce 50 and 60 , and in tome infances, 100 buthels of good corn an aere. In common, the laud will produce 25 bullels of wheat or rye an acre. Barley, oars, fiax, hemp, and vegetables of all kinds semmon in this cliniste, yield abindantly. Irifh potatocs produce in abundance: fivect potatace are raifed with difficulty. Tobacco and cotton are raifed in contGderable quantities. In the ti , ers are plenty of buffiloe, pike, cels, catfinh of uncominon fize, falmon, mullts, rock; perch, garifi, etfuckers, funfif, s.c. Shad have not been caught in the weftern waters. 3wamps are rare in Kentucky; andr of courre the reptiles which they produce, fuch as fuakes, frogs, \&e. are nst rumerous. The honcy bee may be called a domeftic infict, as it is faid not to be found but incivilized countries. This is confirmed hy a faying which is common among the Indians, when they fec a fivarm of bees in the wooids, "Well, brothers, it is time for us to decamp, for the white people are coming." Neverthelefs, hces, of late years, have abounded, to their amazement, even 200 miles $\mathbf{N}$ and $\mathrm{N} \mathbf{W}$ of the Ohio. The quadrupeds, except the buffaloe, are the fame as in Virginia and the Carolinas. Between Cumberland and Green rivers a valuable lead mine has been difcovered. Marle, chalk, gypfiem and ochres are fcund in different places. From the caves on Green river, earth is collected for faltpetre, many of the inhabitants manufaisure their own gunpowder. The moft numerous religTous fede are the Prelbyterians, the Baptifts, and Methodifts. The climate is bealthy and delightful, fome few places int the neightibourthood of ponds and low grounds excepted. The inhalitants do not experience the extremes of heat and cold. Snow feldom falls deep, or lies long. The winter, which begins about Chrifman, is never longer than threc months, and is commonly but two, and is fo mild as that cattle can fubfift without fodder. Keatucky experiences a greater degree of temperature than any of the neighbouring States; Falirenheit's thermometer feldoun falling lelow $35^{\circ}$ in winter, nor rifing above $80^{\circ}$ in fummer. The approach of the fcafons is gradual. The fummer continues moftly to the middle of Oitaber. The autumn or mida weathcr, generally continucs'until Chriltmas, when there is fome cold and frof' until February, when the fpring approaches; and by the beginuing of March fcveral lirubs and trees begin to fhoot forth their buds, by the middle of the month the buckeye or Horle chefnut is clad in' Summer's" atray ; and by the middle of Apsil the foliage of the forefts is completely expanded; which is a fortnight earlicr than the leaves are thot forich in Virginia aní Maryland: and Cumberlend is porportionally more temperate than N. Carolina, as Kentucky is to Virginia. Malt liquor, fpirits diftilled from corn and rye, and the juice of the fium gar tree mixed with water contitute the ordinary beverage of the country. Here are various minerals ; as iron, copper, lead, fulyhur, nitre, \&c: Iron works are in fuch forwardneff, as to furnifh large quantities of caltings. There are crected'a paper mill, oil mills, fulling mills, faw mills, and a great number of valuable grin milfs. Several valuable tanneries' have becn eftabliahed in different parts of the country. Their' falt works are n:ore than fuffitient to fupply all their inhabitants, at a low price. They make confiderable quantities of fugar from the fugar trees. The amount of exports from this fate in $180{ }^{\prime}$ was 626,673 dollars. The banks or. rather prccipiccs, of Kentucky and Dick't river, are to be reckoned among the natural curiofities of this country. Here the aftonilicd eye beholds 3 or 400 feet of follid perpendicular rock, in fome parts of the lineftione kind, and in others of fine white marble, curioully checkerees. with Arata of aftonifling regularity. Thefe rivers have the appearance of decp artificial canals. Their high rocky banks are covered with red cedar groves. Caves' lave been dificovered in this country of' feveral miles in length, under a fine limetone rack, fipported by curiouz arches and pillars. Spriugs that emit fulphureons matter have been found in feveral parts of the country. One is near a falt figring, in the neighhourhood of Boonfborough. Therc are three fpringa of ponds of bitunce pedre Grgen river, Near Lexington are found curious fepulchres full of human ficletons. It has been aflerted that a man in ot incar Lexingzon, having dug fire or fix fect below the furface of the ground, came to a large flat ftone, tunder which was a weil of common depth, regularly and artificially ftoned. The diftance of Philadelphia, hy land, to Kentucky is between $\gamma$ and 800 miles; from Baltimore nearly 700 ; ncarly 600 from Alezandria, and upwards of 500 from Richmond. From the Rapids of the Ohio to Santa Fe , is 1000 miles, and from thence to the city of Mexico, 1500 .

The fruitful vale of Kowe is for 8 miles in extent, whon a high ridge of hills terminatcs the vale, hut ppens again below the ridge, and continues io or 12 miles down to Sinica, and in width 1 or 2 milcs. Having reccived in its courie befide Ottawa, St. John's Seguina, Defpraires, Trois Rivieres, and innumerable other fmaller flreams, it falls into the ocean at Cape Rofieras, hy a mouth about 90 miles broad, in which is the ifland of Anticofti. In its courfe it forms a great variety of bays, harbours, and iflands, many of them fruitful and extremely plealant. The St. Lawrence may be claffed with the mon noble rivers in the world; its whaters flow 2000 milcs before they reach the ocean : the commercial advantages from fuch a fituation increafe in proportion to the population of its banks. The Indian trade, in a great meafure, takes its current down the St . Lawrence, particnlarly fince veffels of a confiderable fize are conttantly building for the narigation of the lakes. Smyth.

tains called Andes E, the audience of Los Charcos $S$, and the Pacific oceau $W$. 'I'here are many wild heafts in the audience.

Lima, the capital of Peru, in S. Amcrica, is alfo called Los Reycs, or the City of Kings, and is the emporium of this part of the world. It was fonnded by Don Francilco Pizarro on the r8th of January, 1535 ; is fituated in a large, fpicious, and fertile plain, called the valley of Rimac, on the $S$ fide of the river Rimie, which ruus weftward. The name of Lima being only a corrupt promunciation of the Indian word, which is derived from an idol to which the Ind'ans and their Yncas ufed to facrifice. This idol theing fuppofed to returnanfwers to the prayers offered to it, they called it, by way of diftinction, Rimac, i. e. the fpeaker. It is fo well watered by the river. Rimac, that the inhabitants command a fre ${ }^{\mathrm{m}} \mathrm{m}$, each for his own ufe. The N fide of the town runs nearly clofe to the river for: the length of about 10 furlongs. At about $\frac{1}{3}$ of this fpace, from the weftern extent, an elegant ftone bridge of 4 or 5 arches is built acrofs the river leading $S$, about 200 yards to the great Square, of which the fide is about 140 yards. The flrcet continues $S$ from the luridge, for near a mile, having parallel ftreets 8 to the W , and 6 to the E , bcide other ftreets which run obliquely $S$ eafward. The 15 fnects, running $N$ and $S$, are croffed by 8 others, running $E$ and W, befide ieverial to the fouthward, not parallel to the former, and others in the eattern parts, which have different directions. The figure of the town is nearly quadrilateral. A diagonal line running $F$. and $W$, would be 18 furlongg in length; and the fouthern perpendicular, about 7 furlongs, and the northern about 4 furlongs; fo that the city ftands on a fpace of ground, nearly equal to a mile and a quarter fquare. The northern fide for about 3 quarters of a mile next the river, is fortived monly by redans; the relt of the circnit is enclofed with 34 hollow baftions and their intermediate curtains. The whole is faced with a brick wall, and furrounded with a ditch, but has no covered way, glacis nor outworks. Eight gates, befide that at the bridge, furnilli a communication with the adjacent country. The city fands about 6 miles from Callao, which is the feaport to Lima, and 180 N W of Guamanga. The white people in Lima ape eftimated at about 15,000 , and the whole number of inhabitants are about 60,000, or 5 ,, 000 according to Pinkertom: One remarkable fact is fufficient to demonftrate the wealth of this city. When the viceroy, the Duke de la Palada, made his entry into Lima, in 1682, the inhabitants to do him honour, caufed the freets to be paved with ingots of filver, amounting to 17 millions ferling. All travellers fpeak with amazement of the decorations of the churches with gold, filver, and precions flones, which load and ornament even the walls. The only thing that could juftify thefe accounts, is the immenfe riches and extenfive commerce of the inhabitants. The merchants of Lima mar be faid to deal with all the qua rtcrs of the world ; and that both on theie own account, and as factors for others. Here, all the productions of the fouthern provincen are conveyed, in order to be exchanged at the harbour of tima, for fuch articles an the inhabitants of Peru fand in need of. The fleet from Europe and the E. Indies land at the fame harbour; and the commodities of Afia, Europe, and America, are there bartered for each other. But all the wealth of the inhabitants, all the beauty of the fituation, and the fertility of the climate of Lima, are infufficient to compenfate for the difafter which threatens, and has fometimes actually befalles them. Earthquakes are very frequent. Since the year 1582 , there have happened about 15 cc. ncuffions, befide that on: the 28th of Octuber, 1746, at half an hour after io at night, 5 hours ahd 3 quarters before the full of the moon which began with fuch violence, that in little more than 3 minutes, the greaten part, if not all the buildings, great and cmall, in the whole. city, were deftroyed; burying under their ruins thofe inhalitants who had not made fufficient hafe into the ftreets and fquares, the only probable places of fafety in thofe terrible connvulions of natute. At length the dreadful effects of the firft fhock ceafed, but the tranquility was of fhort duration ; concuflions returning fo repeatedly, that the inhabitants, according to the account fent of it, computed 200 in the firft 24 hours; and to the 24 th of February, the followiug year, 1747, when the narrative was dated, no lefo than 45 a fhocks were obferved; fome of which, if lefs permanent, were equal to the firt in violerce. The fort of Callao, at the very fame hour, tumbled into ruins. But what it fuffured from the earthquake in its buildings, was inconfiderable when comnpated with the terrible eataftrophe which followed. For occalions, rece tance, returned fpaming with $t$ tion, and fudde and the neighbo not, however, fwelling of the ing further, rel impetuofity, the ing hoth the twal the place $;$ fo th the firf, was $n$ by thofe terribl and nothing rem the wall of the fo morial of this ter were then 23 fhi fmall, in the har funk, and the ot] a frigate called the force of the diftance up the This terrible in ather parts of the Guanape ; the to ra, and the valli and Fativilca, un as the city of Lim count fent to Lim volcano in Lucan night, and ejected ter, that the who flown; and in the called Converfion other volca $f$ b ful torrents \& Xwa manner as that of the fee of an arch an univerfity. follomed. For the fea, as is ufual on fuet necalions, receding to a confiderable diftance, returned in mountainous waves, fnaming with the violence of the agitation, and fuddenly overwhelmed Callao and the ueighbouring country. This was not, however, ' performed by the firft fwelling of the waves; for the fea retiring further, returned with fill greater impetuofity, the fupendous water covering both the walls and other huildings of the place $;$ fo that whatever had efraped the firf, was now totally ovcrwhelmed by thofe terrible mountains of waves ; and nothing remained, except a piece of the wall of the fort of Santa Cruz, as a memorial of this terrible devattation. Here were then 23 hips and veffela, great and frall, in the harbour, of which 19 were funk, and the other 4 , among which was a frigate called St. Fermin, carried hy the force of the waves to a confiderable diftance up the country. See Callao. This terrible inundation extended to ather parts of the coaft, as Cavallos and Guanape ; the towns of Cliancay, Guaura, and the vallies Della Baranco, Sape, and Fativilca, underwent the fame fate as the city of Lima. According to an account fent to Lima after this accident, a volcano in Lucanos burft forth the fame night, and cjected fuch quantities of water, that the whole country was overflown; and in the mountain near patas, cálled Converfiones de Caxamarquilla, 3 other volcan fburf, difcharging frightful torrents © water ; and in the fame manner as that of Carguayraffo. Lima is the fee of an archbiflop, and the feat of an univerfity. The inhabitants are very debauched; and the monks and nuns; of whom there are great numbers, are no more chafte than the reft of the inhabitants. If any one happens to rival a monk, he is in danger of his life, for they always carry daggers concealed. Canada, who was the firft who traverfed the river Minifippi [Hutcbins.] La Salle was of Norman extract, an inhabitant of New France, a pupil and difciple of the Jefuits, and a bold enterprifing character. In 1683, he repaired to France, where he made fuch reprefentations to the court, of his difcoveries, as induced them to furnifi him with four fmall veffels, in which he emharked, with a little colony of about 170 men, for the mouths of the Miffifippi. By miftake, they paffed the place of deftination, and landed Feb. 1685, in the Bay of St. Bernard's, about 300 miles W of the mouths of the Minfifippi. This little colony, " moft of whoin were very corrupt," were badly provided with provifions and ammunition, moft of them being fwallowed up in the waves, through the perflidy of the fea officers intrufted with the landing of them ; and after encountering many hardhhips, La Salle was murdered by fome of his own men, and the whole colony miferably perifhed in various ways, except feven, who penetrated through the country to Canada. [Raynal.] Thus ended the firf European attempt to fetthe Louifiana. In 1699, Mon. Ibberville, of Canada, a brave naval officer, having obtained the patronage of the French court, failed from Rochfort for the Miflifippi, with two flips, and a number of men, and laid the foundation of the firt French colony on the Miffifippi. The country now for the firft time, was called Louifiana.* Two years after a new recruit offetters arrived; hut the unfavourable fituation in which they were planted, the death of Ibberville, in $1706, \dagger$ and the war in which France was at this time engaged; contributed to reduce the colony to great wretchednefs; and in 1712 bad diminifhed their number to twenty eight families. At this period Crozat, a merchant of immenfe fortune, petitioned for, and obtained the excluive trade of Louifiana. His plans wcre patriotic and extenfive, but he failed in carrying them into effect ; and in 1717, he religned his charter to a company formed hy that famous projector, John Law. The mont extravagant accounts of this country were now induftrioully circulated through various parts of Europe ; and "the Miffifip. pi became the center of all men's wifles, hopes and fpeculations." In the years 1718 and 1719, while this frenzy pre-

[^3]vailed, a numerous colony of labourers collected from France, Germany and Switzerland, and allured by the moff flattering promifes and expectations, were conveyed to Louifiana, and fettled in 2. difrice called biloxi, on the illand of Orleans, oppofite to ard about 12 miles from Ship Inand, a "fituation the molt barren. unhcalthy and inconvenient of any on the coaft," where thefc unfortunate adventurers died ly hundreds, through want and vexation. The miferable fate of this colony ruined the reputation of Louifiana; and this cnchanting country was now execrated, and its very name for a while, became a reproach. The Miffifippi was the terror of freemen. No recruits were to be found to fend thither, but fuch as were taken from prifons and houfes of ill fame, and ot courfe it brcame the reccptacle of the loweft and mof profigate perfons in the kingdom. In this flate the colony languifhed, till $x_{73 x}$, when the company, at the expenfe of $1,450, c 00$ livres, purchafed the favour of relinquifhing their concerns into the hands of the government. [Raynal.] The boundaries of Louifiana, as granted to Crozat, were $\mathbf{N}$, by the illinois river and Lake, [Hutcbins] or hy Canada and unknown lands. [Raynal] E hy Carolina and Florida, S by the Gulf of Mexico ; W by New Mexico. Its length was not afeertained; its mean breadth was eftimated at about 600 miles.' [Raynal.] By the Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713 , the northern boundary of Louifiana was extended to an imaginary line drawn from a promontory in New Britain, in N lat. 58 30, S W through lake Mifgofink, or Miftaim, till it ftrikc the 49 th degree of N lat. All the country S of this line, as far as the river St. Lawrence, was annexed to Louifiana ; all $\mathbf{N}$ of it was confirmed to Great Britain. [Hutcbins.] And yet Danville, in his map of Louifiana, publifhed in 1752, limits it to lat. 32 IoN. By what authority is not known. [Pinkerton.] The Frenclz for ought that appears reniained in quiet' poffeffion of this extenfive country, except frequent conteffs with the Indians, till 1762. The Spaniards of New Mexico indeed, in 1720 , jealous of their active neighbours, formed a fchcme of eftablinhing a large colony on the Mifouri, far beyond the limits which they had been wont to prefcribe for themfelves, for the purpofe of reducing the limits, and overawing the French colonifs. Accordingly, numerous caravans, who were to confi-

sate this colony, procceded from St. Fe, and directed their march towards the country of the Gffages Indians, with defign to engage this nation, the mortal enemies of the Miffouries, to join them in conquering the country of the latter, which they refolved to occupy. The Spaniards mified their way, and went directly to the nation whofe ruin they meditated ; and ignorant of their miftake, communicated theirdefign without referve. The Miffouri chief, who, by this fingular miftake, became acquainted with the danger which threatened him and his people, concealcd his feclings, and informed the Spaniards that he would readily affit in accomplithing their plan, and requefted 48 hours to affemble his warriors. In the mean time, the unliffecting Spaniards were amuled with fports, till 2000 warriors had collerted with their arms, when they fell upon the Spaniards while alleep, and flew every foul, except the chaplain, who owed his prefervation to the fingularity of his drefs. [Raynal.] The Natchez tribe of Indians proved for atime a formidable enemy to the colony; but in the ycar $\mathbf{1 7 3 1}$, the whole tribe was nearly extirpated. In 1736, and again in 1.740, the colonifts were engaged in bloody wars with the Chickafaw Indians, in the former of which, the French were defeated; the latter, terminated in peace, which has not fuce been interrupted. The colonifts had fruggled through many difficulties, and overcome many obftacles in the way of their profperity, and their profpecks were now brightening. The peltry trade with the Indians, and their commerce with the $W$. Indies were increafing. Two hundred Acadian families had already planted themfelves on the banks of the Miflifippi, and more were preparing to follow them. As many as 12 or 1500 Canadians were on their way to fettle in Louifana, and confiderable acceffions of inlalitants from other places, were expected. Such was the Sate of this colooy, when, in April 1764, the. French court announced to the inhalitants, that in Nov. 1762, Louifiana, embracing New Orleans, and the whole territory $W$ of the Miffifippi, had been ceded to Spain by a fecret treaty. This meafure was feverely and juftly cenfured, not only as impolitic, but as an offence againt morality. The colonifts, without their knowledge or confent, were given avay to a foreign power. The day following, fuch of the citizens as chofe, took the oaths of allegiance to the king of Spain. "Every thing was now completed but revenge. Victins were required. The others, perbaps more unfortunate, were fent to languin out their lives in the dungeons of the Havannah; and this horrible tragedy was ordered by the Spanih miniftry, while the French minittry hewed no indignation!" [Rayral.] By the treaty of peace in 1763 , Canada, with the whole territory belonging to France, eaftward of the middle of the Miffifppito the thberville, thencethrough the middle of that river to the Lakes Maurepas and Ponchartrain to the Gulf of Mexico, was ceded to -Great Britain. [Sce Treaty.] By this treaty the boundaries of the Eritifl provinces were extended fouthward to the Gulf of Mexico, and weftivard to the Miffifippi, the navigation of which to its mouth was to be frce to both nations, and I.mifiana was limited N by Canada, and E by the Milim filippi, excepting that it incinded the illand of N. Orleans, on its E bank. This fate of things remained till the American revolutionary war, during which, Spain, in $1779,1,80$, and 1781 , took from Great Britain, the two Floridas; the United States, according to their prefent limits, became an independent government, leaving to Great Britain, of all her American provinces, thofe only which lie N and E of the U . States. All thefe changes were fanctioned and confirmed by the treaty of 1783 . From that period, thefe refpective portions of N. Ainerica, remained without any change of proprietors, till the treaty of St. Idelfonfo, of Oct. f, 1800 . By this treaty Spain " oomm ifes and engages on ber part, to cede t the Frencl Republic, fix months after tbe full ond entire execution of the conditions and flipulations therein comtained relative to the Duke of P'arma, the colony or province of Louifiana, with the fame extent thot it acivally bus in the bands of Sprin, that it bad weben lirance poffrfed it, and fuch as it foould be after the treaties fubfiguently entered into betzucen Spuin. and other States." Tith. The above recited claufe from the treaty of Idelfonfo, which makes a part of the treaty of the 30th of April, 1803; between the United States and the French Republic; contains our title to Louifiana. 'The validity of this title has been doubted: Events will foon decide this interefting queftion. For the above ritle" The government of the United States engages to pay to the French government, in the manner fpecified in the following article, the fum of $60,000,000$ of francs, ithependent of the fum which fhall be fixed by another convention for the payment of the debts due by France to:the citizens of the United.States.
"For the payment of the fumiof $60,000,000$ francs, mentioned in the preceding article, the United States fiball create 1 a flock of $11,250,000$ dollars, bearing an intereft of fix per centum per annum, payable half yearly in London, Amfterdam or Paris, amounting by the half year to 337,500 dollars, according to the proportions which fhall be determined by the French goverament to be paid at either place: The principal of the faid fock to be reimburfed at the treafury of the $U$ nited States, in annual payments of not lefs than $3,000,000$ of dollars each ; of which the firt payment thall commence IS years after the date of the exchange of ratifications; this ftock fhall be tranfferred to the governmient of France, or to fuch perfon or'perfons as fhall be sauthorifed to reccive it, in tbree montbs, at mof, after the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, and after Louifiana thall be taken poffeffion of in the nam " of the government of the United States."
-Boundaries. Louifiana is ceded to the United States " with the fame extent that it has in the hands of Spain, that it had when France poffeffed it." "What then were the limits of Louifinna when in the hands of France in 1762, and fince it has been in poffeffion of Spain? For thefe are to be its prefent" limits. "It is proper here to obferve that Weff Florida is known' neither in French nor Spanifh Geography.: It originated with the Britifh in 1763 , at which time, as has heen mentioned, all the country $E$ of the Miffifippi, except New Orleans; was ceded to this nation, who then for the firf time divided .the Territory S of Georgia, and $E$ of the Ibberville, into $E$. and W. Florida. This territorial divifion continued only till the country was taken by, and confirmed to. Spain, in 1783, except in the books of Englith and Americar: Geography. [ Mitcbell's Ms. Letter.] " Eefore the treaty of peace, in 1762 , L.ouiliana extended, in the French maps, from the Gulf of Mexico, to near 45 degrees of N lat. on the W fide of the Mifilippi, and to near)39 degrees on its eaftern bank. Its: boundaries were Canada on the N, N. York, Peinfylvania, Virginia, Carolina, and the N.W: part of the eafternmoft pe-- ninfula of Florida on the E, the Gulf of Mexico S, and N. Mexico W." [Hutibins.] Aecording to Du Pratz, Louifiana is hounded $S$ and $W$ as above ; $N$ in part by Canada.; "ip part it exiends without any affignable bounds, to the Terra Incognita, adjoining to Hudion's bay ; 1 E by the Britifl provinces abovementioncd, and by Rio Perdido, fignifying Loft river, aptly lo called by the Spaniards, becaufeit lofes itfelf under ground, and afterwards appears again and difcharges itfelf into the fea a little to the E of Mohile, on which the firt French planters fettled." Thefe limits of Louigana, as poffeffed by France and Spain, and acknowledged by other powers, are from the beft authorities, and it is prefumed may, beconfidered as correct; and they give as the extent of our newly acquired terrioory; the boundaries of which, as far as can be afcertained, are as follows, viz. S on the Gulf of Mexico, from the bay of St. Barnard, S W of the Miffifippi, to the mouth of the Rio Perdido, above deferibed; : up this river to its, fource, and thence, (if it rife not $N$ of the 3 r t degrec of lat.) on a fraight line $\mathbf{N}$ to that parallel; thence aleng the fouthern boundary of the U. States $W$ to the Miflifippi; then up this river to its fource, as edablifhed by the treaty of 1178 j . Beyond this, point the limits, (which are conjectural and have never been afcertained) may be confidered as including all the country lying between the White Bear Lake, or other head of the Miffifippi, and the fource of the Miffourt;"and between this laft and the head fprings of the Arkanfas, Red river, and other copious freams which fall into the Miffifippi, or in other words, we may confider Louifiana as bounded $\mathbf{N}$ and $\mathbf{N}$ W by the high lands, which di-

America, and which turn the wavers' on the $\mathbf{W}$ of them to the Pacfiic, and thole on the E to the Ailantic Ócean. If embraces, in one word, the whole flope, or inclined plain fronting the $S E$ and $E$ down whicli the freams of all fizcs, flow into the hed of the Milficippi. On the S W it is bounded hy New Mexico, between which and Louisiana, the divifional line hat never been fettled. Some pretend that this boundary is a right line from the head of Red river, to that of the Rio Bravo, and thence down its channel to the Gulf of Mexico. Others make the Rio Colerido, and others with more prob--ability, make the Rio Mexicano, the S W boundary of Levifiana.

Divifions. L.oüifiana, as above defined, may naturally lie divided into three grand Uivifions, viz. E.Jfern, Lozuer, and UPper Loiifiana.

The Eaffern divilion comprehends all that part of this territory which lies $\mathbf{E}$ of the Miffifippi, bounded $S$ by the Gulf of Mexico, E Ly Perdido river, N by the Miflitippi Territory, and W by the Mif-- Gfippi tiver. This divifion embraces the Mand of New Orleans, and is watered by the Mobile, Pafcagoula, Pearl, Boguechico, Tanfipaho, and Amit rivers, with Thompfon's Creek, and Bayou Sara. [Eluicott:] The whole coaft of this divifion embracing the old Biloxi diftrict, which was the firf inhabited by the French, 'whofe dwellings were fuddeuly deftroyed liy a great fire, confifts of ${ }^{\omega}$ a very fine fand, white as fnow, very injurious to the eyes, and fó dry as not to be fit to produce any thing but pine, cedar; and fome crergreen oaks." [Du Pratz.] The Mobile river - rolls its waters over a pure fand which cantot make it muddy." " 1 It has few tilh'; and "its lianks and neighbourhood are nor very fertile. The ground is tony and fearce any thing but gravel mixed with a little earth." "ibid.] Between the Yafeagoula and Minifippi rivers, fome diftance from the coalt, "the country is intermixed with extenfive hills, fine meadows, numbers of thickets, and fometines with woods thick fet with eane, particularly on the batiks of rivers and brooks, and exeremcly proper for agricultare." [ibid.] The coaft, though flat, fandy and dry, abounds with delicious thell and other tilh, and aftiords fecurity againft the defcent of an enemy.

Loverer Louifinnu, embraces that part of this territory liounded E by the Millifippi river, 8 liy the Gulf of Mexico, $S$ W and W by New Mexicu, $N$ by a line drawn from the Miffifippi $W$, dividing the country in which fone is found from that where there is none. This line, aceording to Du Pratz, commences on the W fide of the Miffifippi, at Manchac in N ldt. 3020 , and runs a varied courfe W to N. Mexico. This part of Louifiana is watered by Red river, and a great number of rivers which fall into the Gulf of Mexico. On buth fides of the musuths of the Miffifippi,which ate unpleafant to the cye, quagmires; incapable of bearing up the traveller, and which afforda fafe retreat for wafer fowl, gnats and muketoes, continue for more than 20 miles، All the coaft from the Miffifippi W, as far as Sti Bernard's Bay and beyond, refembles the coaft already defcribed, of the eaftern divifion, " it is equally flat; formed of a like fand, and a bar of ifles, which lengthen out the coalt, and hinder a defcent ; and its foil is. barren." [Du Prutz.] In afcending the Miffifippi, after you leave the marfhes you conne to narrow frips of firm land, bordered with marihes, on each fide of the river, which for fome difance are bare of trees, and afterwards are covered fo thickly, as to intercept the winds in afcending the river; thefe narrow necks of land, fit for cultivation, are continued as far as the Englifh Turn. [Du Prate.] This flat country is without fones or hiils, and full of marfhes and lakes. "It appears to have been formed by every thing that comes down to the fea. Pretty near the Natchitoches are found banks of muícle flells. The neighbouring nation affirms, that according to their old tradition, the fea formerly came up to this place. Every thing indeed in this country flews that the Lower Louifiana, as above defined, is a country gained from the fea, whofe bottom is a chryftal fand, white as fnow, fine as flour, and fuch as is found both $\mathbf{E}$ and $\mathbf{W}$ of the Miffigippi; and we may expea that in future ages, the river and fea, may form another track of country like Lower Louifiana. Rivirs. "The greateft objechion to this country; is, the difficulty of accefs to it. Therc is no river of any confequence, or prort or harbour for fhips or veliels, to the W, from the mouths of the Mijpippito the cape where the W boundary of Louifiane commences confequently, the only way toand from the Ocean, mult be through the channel of the Miffifipi, up as far as Red river, and theoce up along that river to the high fand in the Appaluufu country, or $\boldsymbol{\lambda}$ atchitocles, where the firf high landfit for extenfive fettlements is to be found. From the Balife; or middle mouth of the Mifrifippi, which is the fhip channel, up to the city of Nezv Orisans, it is about 100 miles; from Netv Orleans to Manclaac, at the mouth of the Ibserville, which is the north ern extremity of the inand, it is about 100 miles more. From thence up the Miffitppi to the mouth of Red river it is about 200 miles further, and from the mouth of Red river to the firt high land, it is conjectured cannot be much flort of another 100 miles. 'Thus you have between 4 and 500 miles to afeend rivers with rapid currents, before you can ftep on the high grounds or country of Louifiana, fit for an extenfive cultivation. There is another circumftance attending this country, not very generally known, which is; that the whole of the lands on the. W fide of the Miffifppi, except a Sip of one plantation deep, oppofite part of the ifland of Nevo Orleans; and the fettlement at $P$ oint Coupee, is a low funken country, almoft as far up as the OBio; great part of it is covered for near 4 nionths in the year, with water from 20 to 30 feet deep, and extending nearly 30 miles hack from the edge of the river, while on the contrary, on the E fide except here and there a few low places, is a high bold country. It is actofs thofe low grounds on the $W$ fide principally, thit the valt quantity of furplus waters, which flow into the Milfifitibi above, are difcharged ; the channel of that river done, which is upon an average not more inn three fointlis of a mile wide, could not vent the fiftieth part of thefe furplus waters, if it was not conveyed over thefe low grounds, through ten thoufand chanels, towards 1,ake Barrataria and other kes, on the $\mathbf{N}$ coatt of the Gulf of Mexico and Sc. worfe, the lalour of :an cannot prevent it." The Mififippi is the principal river of Louifiana, and the largeft in the United States. It rifes in white Bear Lake, lat. 4815 N . Its courfe is foutherly , and its tributary ftreams large and numerous. In lat. $370^{\circ} 23 \mathrm{~N}$, lon. $5 \mathrm{~h} 55^{\prime} 38^{\prime \prime}$ W from Greenwich. It receives the Ohio a noble river 1188 miles in length. The confluence of thefe mighty rivers does not prefent a ficene grand or romantic. The country is level, and the profpect of their union is not different from the meeting of founds or rivers on the fea coaf. Thefe rivers unite in that immenfe fwamp through which the Miffilippi paffes into the gulf of Mexice. This twamp extends from the high lands in the United States to the high lands in Louifiana, through different parts of which the R. has had ita courl'e at different times. It is generally from 36 to 45 miles in width; which at cvery inundation is many feet under water ; the greater part of it being on the W fide of the river. From the mouth of the Ohio to the fouthern line of the U.S. there are hut two or three places not covered wisla water a part of evcry year, and thofe for a time are annually infulated. On the E fide arceleven places elevated above the highen floods. Like the Nile and all rivers fubject to inundation, the banks are higher on the margin of the river than at a diftance from them. Thofe fivamps and lakes, which communicate immediately with the gulf of Mexico, ncver become full, confequently freams run from the Miffifippi into them till its waters fall. On thefe periodical and temporary freams valuable faw mills are erected in the vicinity of Netri Onleans. The firft permanent body of water, which leaves the Miffifipio, and feeks tsigulf of Mexicu by another channel, is the Chafalia. It has made its way through the weftern bank, juft below the fuuthernline of the United States, and when the water of the river is high, its current is frong, frequently drawing rafts and hoats down its channel, which are generally loft. Notwithflanding the magnitude of this fream, it is not navigable to the gulf of Mexico. It had formed animmenfe floating bridge of trees, fo compact, that cattle and horlesare driven over it. lage or port of Natchisoches, which is about 50 miles, and for 25 miles above it, the banks of one branch of Red river are fettled in the fame manner as the Miffiifpi. It is impoifible to conceive of mare beautiful fields and plantations, or nore luxuriant crops of corn, cotton and tobacco. The town or port of Natchitoches, (where is a charch, the reficence of the commandant, prien, 10 or 12 merchants, and 30 or 49 families) was formerly, a French garricon, aud an out pont. It is handfomely fituated on a hill, which overlooks a great extent of well cultivated fieids : it was much larger 50 or 60 years ago than at prefent, owing to many of the inlabitants, who before lived in the garrifon, having, withis thefe 30 or 40 years paf, lettled on plantations up and down the river. From this place the great welte:n road takesoff towards Merico, and it will ever be an important. place, being the key to an inmenfe rich country. The pripulation of the diftrict of Natclitoches, is between 4 and 5000. The low grounds of Ked river, are generally 5 or 6 miles wide, and no foil can be richer, and nearly ail alike ; cunfiderable : part of which is overflowed ansually in the month of April; but it continues up but a fhort time, ind always falls in time to plant corn and topacio, and rifes no more till the fame time the next year. There are fields that, from the beft account I can obtain, hive been planted fuccelfivoly for near 100 years in corn or tobacco; and never known to fail in producing plentiul creps, nor is the foil apparently in theleaf exhaufted. It is particularly favourable for tobacco, which grows remarkably luxuriant, and has a very fine flavour. The foil has a faline impregnation, which imparts fomething of it to the tobacco. The we'l and river water is fomewhat brackifh. One hand here can make as nuch tobaceo in a feafon, as 4 or 5 on the beft landsian Virginia or N. Carolina. It is made without any hills being raifed, and grows fo quick (from the frength and warmti of the foil) that they ufually cue it three times: when prepared for market, it is fermmed and made into: twifts of five pounds each. From 80 to 100 huflels of corn can be made to the acre. Cotton produces equally well. The gardens on the natural foil (for they cannot be made richer with manure) are not lefs aftonithing or extraordinary. I have particular. ly obferved the very great height to which the artichoke grows; they are ufu-

Two men, with 10 or 12 old pots and kettles, fupply the fettlement on Red river with falt. . The fprings are alinoft inexhauftible, and would admit of very large quantitios of falt being made from them. There are likewife plenty of iron and copper ore, pit coat, ikell and fone lime. The different branches of the river, the lakes, creeks and bayans, abound with very fine fifl, cockles, foft fhelled turtle and Thrimps, and in winter great varieties of wild fowl. This country is far from being fickly. The river being very deap, does not get much heated; the houfes are immediately on its banks, which are kept perfectly clean: and the water being faltill, prevents the exhalation of fickly vapours; and it is happily freed from many of thofe troublefome infecls fo cammion in the foukhern fates, particularly the bed bug. The mofchetto is very rarely feen here. The high lands, which are all vacant and unfetted, are covered with a thick growth af oak, hickory, afh, gum, faftafras, dogwood, buckeyc, grape vines, $\%$ c. intermixed with fome gort leaved pine, and interfperfed with prairies, creeks, lakes and fountains : it is not mountainous,but gently rifing hills and vallies, and generally a ftrong clay foil. But the appearance of both the timber and land is very much injured by the frequent burning of the woods. The country on Red river is mont valuable, begins about 50 or 60 , milesabove the upperfettlements, and extends 4 or 500 miles. 'The R, there never overllowsits banks ; the low grounds are wide, and from the river, for 40 niles on each fide, the lands are remarkally rich, interfperfed svith handfome prairies, beauciful freams and fountains; alfo quarries of freeftone, lime, flint, flate, grit, and almoft every kind of ftone. In afcending Red R. ahout 30 miles from the mouth of it, Black kiver falls in on the N fide; this is always a clear navigable fream, for 5 or 600 milea. 'About 100 miles up it, it branches, at the fame place, in three different directions. The E branch, called the Tenfaw, is navigable for many miles, affords rich land, which is all vacant. The middle or main branch, called Wanheta, is navigable 500 miles, on which is an old fettlement, affords excellicnt lands, falt fringe, lead. oxes and plenty of very good mill and grind fones. It is watercd ly Red river, the Arkanfas, St. Francis, and the Miflouri, with a vant number of fmadler freams, which fall into thefe or the Mififippi. "From the lower fettement, at Sans la Grace, to the upper fottememts on the Mifouri (a diftance of upwards of 250 miles) containing a populat on of 50 or 60,000 , is a country equal to Kcntucky, or any part of our welcen territory ; and the lead and iron mines containced in it, render it a country of vaft impurtance." [Siuley.] "The bottom of the lands on the hills, is a jed clay, and fo compact as might afford a falid foundation for any building. This clay is covered by a light earth almon blach, and rery fcrtile. The grals grows hiene knee high; and in the botteme, which feparate thicfe fmall eminences, it is ligher than the taileft man. Towards the end of September this grafs is fot on fire; and in 8 or 10 days after, young grafs nioots up half a foot high. One will cafily judge that in fuch pathures herds of all creatures fatten extraordinarily." [Du Prazz.] As you advance northivard towards thic Arkdnfas and St. Francis, the ccantry becones more beautiful and fertile, abounding in various kinds of game, as beavers, \&ce. herds of deer, elk, and buffaloes, of from 6 to ico in a drove, are frequently mct with in this wildernefs. In this vicinity have been found fipecimens of rock chryfal, plaffer of Paris, lead and iron ore, limefone and pit coal. Hemp grows here naturally; tar is produced from the pines on the fea coaft; and the country affurds every material for thip building Here are " van meadows which need not be grubbed up, but are ready for the plough and feed. Beans grow without culcure; and their falks fubfift feveral years, bearing fruit at the proper feafons. The falks are as big as one's arm, and like ivy climb the higheft trees. The peach trees are fo fruitiul that they break if not fupported. The forcts are full of mulberry and plum trees Here are pomegranate and chefnut trees covered with vines whofe grapes are very large and fweet. They have 3 or 4 crops of In diau corn in one year; for they have no other winter than fome rains. Mines of pit colal, lead and copper were fhewn us by the Indians; alfo quarrics of free flone, and of black, white and jafper like marble, of which they make their calumets." [ $\mathrm{Hen}_{\text {en }}$ n:pin's Nezo Dif, of a large country in Ameriaca, p.139.] One fpecies of timber, which is common from the mouth of the Ohio down the Mimfippi fwamp, is cotton wood. It refembles the Lonibardy poplar in the quicknefs of ite growth, ada theloftnefy of the timber. There are alfo the pipaw and black afh, button wood or fycamore, hickory, and cyprefs. This linh is 2 valuable kind of timber, and grows in great abundance. Here is alfo wild cherry, faffafras, beech, chefint and Bermudian mulberry trees. From the waldut hills to Point Coupee, and eafterly 15 or 20 miles, the whole country in its natural fate was one continued cane brake. The cane is generally 36 feet highl, often 42 ; intermingled with a fmaller fpesies, they continue thence on all the creeks to the gulf of Mexico. [Ellicott:] In the $S$ weffern part of L. Louifiana, bordering on N . Mexico, the lands are excellent, covercd in fome places with open woods of tall trees, through which one may, without difficulty, ride on horfehack; in other places the wonds are thicker. Meadows of a rich foii are interfperfed, the whole conuntry is watered by numerous rivers, and inhabited by an abmendance of wild animals, and other gance. A ridge ci high land from one to fixleagues in breadth. commences fome difance $W$ of, the Miflifippi, and continues quite to N. Mexico. The Red river bounds it on the N , towards which it declines ly windings, where it is diverfified: alternately with meadows and woods. The top of this ridge is almox bare, producing a fine grafs which grows between the fonec. The buffaloes, when driven from the plains by the rain, feed on this grafs, but becaufe they find here neither water nor falt petre, they at other times confline themfelven to the plains. As all cloven footed animals are exiremely fond of falt, it is worthy of remark, that Louifana, in general, contains a great deal of faltpetre. Du Pratz.

Minerals and fult quaters. Above the Nachitoches dwell the Cadodaquitbos Indians. Near one of their villages is a rich filver mine. The filver lies in a ficne of chefnut colour. Further $N$ is another Gilver mine. Lead ore is alfo found in different places; allo iron ore, pit coal, marlAe, flate, and plafter of Paris. Afcending Black river, about 30 leagues, it receives from the W a brook of falt water. Its fource is a lake of fale water 2 feagues diflant, which is about 6 miles long, and 3 broad; 3 miles N of this is another falt lake nearly as large. N of Red river is a fipring of water very falt. [Du Pratz.] Abous 600 miles up the Millouri are found large quantitics of fonile falt. Whole hills of it are near the river, and, from fpecimens which have been exhibited, it appears of an excelleno quality. The lead ore at St. Genvieve is remarkably pure and productive. There is no reguliar company for procuring and working it ; but the fettlera at their lcilure dig for it, fatisficd with what they find within 15 feet depth. Mr. Auftin (fron Couneaticut) fettled in the neighbourhood, purchafes confiderable of the inhabitants for the works he has fet up for making fheet lead and foot. It is found to yield from 60 to 74 per cent: from the native ore. The common method the prople ufe for fmelting it, is only to make a fire wilh loga and decayed timber, and then pile on the ore and let it melt, and take up the lead from the afthes of the heap. Subdivifions and Population. We have already divided Louifiana, as ceded te the U. States, into thrce grand divficons, viz. Euflern, Kozver and Upper Louifianu. We flall now notice their, fubdivifions. It will be propier previoufly to remark, that the modern divifional line between U. ánd L. Louifiana does not correfpond with the one already deferibed by Dü Pratz, feparating the terriiory wittoua from the territury with floncs; it commences much higher up the Miffifippi, at La Petite Prairic, near New Madrid, a-bout lat. $3^{6} 30 \mathrm{~N}$. Red River and the Arkanfas there are bin a few Indiane the revnains of tribca almof eatinct. On this laftriver is the nation of the fame name, confifing of aloutt 260 warriors, they are lirave yet pesecable and well difpofed, and have always been attached to the French, and efooured their caufe in their wain with the Chickifaws, whom they have always refifted with fucceff. They live in three villages, the frit in at 18 leagues from the Millicippi on the Arkanfas river, and the otheri are at 3 and 6 leagues from the firf. A fearcity of game on the eaftern fide of the MiffGippi has lately induced a number of Cherokeen, Choctaws, Chickafaws, \&e. to frcquent the neighbourhood of Arkanfa4, where game is till in abundance; they have contracted marriages with the Arkanfas, and feem inclined to make a permanent fettement and incorporate themfelves with that nation. The number is unknown, but is coafideralle and is cvery day increaling. On the river St. Francia, in the neigburhood of New Madrid, Cape Girarileau, Reviere a la Pomnes,and the environs, are fetted a number of iag. abonds, einigrants from the Delewares, Shawnefe, Mianis, Clickafiw, Cherokeet, Piorias, and fuppofed to congit in all of 500 familics ; they are nt times trouble. fome to the buats defiending the siver, and have even plundered fome of $t$ them and committ d a few murder*. "On the Mifouri. On the Miflemriand its watess are nany and numerous nations, the left known of which are ; The Ofigen, lituated on the river of the lame name ons the right bank of the Miffouri, at ahout 80 leagues from its confluence with it; they confitt of 1000 warriora, who live in two fettlements at no great difance from each other. They are of a giganti fature and well proportioned, are eniemics of the whites and of all other Indian rations, and commit deprcdations from the lllinnis to the Arkanfas. The trade of this mation is faid to be under an exclufive grant. They are a cruel and ferocious race, and are lated and fequed by all the other indians. The confluence of the Ofaga river with the Miffouri is about 8 leagues from the Milfifippi. Sixty leagues higher up the Miffouri, and on the fame bank, is the river Kanzas, and on it the nation of the fame name, but at about 70 or 80 leagucs from its mouth. It confifts of about 250 warriors, who are as fierce and cruel as the Ofages, and often moleft and ill treat thofe who go to trade among them. Sixty leagues above the river Kanzas, and at about 200 from the month of the Miffouri, fill on the right bank, is the Rivierre Platte, or Shallow River, remarkable for its quickfands and bad navigation; and near its confluence with the Miffouri dwells the nation of Octolactos, commonly called Otos, confifing of about 200 wartiors, among whom arc 25 or 30 of the nation of Miffouri, who took refuge among them about 25 ycars fince. Forty laggacs up the Riter Pialte you come to the nation of the Panis, compofed of about 700 warriors in 4 neighbouring villages; they hunt but little, and are ill provided with fire arms : they often make watr on the Spaniards in the neighbourhoud of Santa Fe , from which liey are not far diftant. At 300 leagues from the Miffifippi and soo from the River Plattc on the fame bank, are fituated the villages of the Mahas. They confifted in 1799, of 500 warriors, but are faid to have been almoft cut off laft year by the finallpox. At 50 leagues ahove the Mahas, and on the teft bank of the Mifouri, dwell the Poncas, to the number of 250 warriors, poffefing in common with the Mahas their language, ferocity, and vices. Their trade has never been of nuch value, and thofe engaged in it are expofed to pillage and ill treatment. At the diftance of 450 leagues from the Mifilitippi, and on the right bank of the Miffuri, dwell the Aricaras, to the number of 700 warriors, and 60 leagues above then, the Mandane nation, conbifing of abount 700 warriors likewife. Thefe two late nations are well difpofed to the whites, but have been the victims of the Sioux, or Nandoweflics, who being themfelves well provided with fire arms, have taken advantage of the defencelcfs fituation of the others, and have on all occations murdered then without mercy. No difeoverics on the Millouri, beyond the Mandane nation, lhave been aecurately deailed, though the traders have been informed, that many mavigable divers difilarge their waters into it, alowe it, and that thereatemany muncrowsnetions fetted on them. The Sioux, or Mandoweflics, who frequent the country between the N bank of the Miffouri and Miflifippi, are a great impediment to trade and navigation. They endeavour to prevent all communication with the nations dwelling high up the Miffouri, to deprive them of ammunition and arms, and thus keep thens fubfervient to themfelves. In che winter they are chiefly on the banks of the Miffouri and mafficre all who fall into their hands. There are a number of nations at 2 diflance from the banks of the Miffouri, to the N and S , concerning whom but little information has been received. Returning to the Miflifippi and afeending it from the Miffouri, about 75 leagues above the mouth of the latter, the River Moingona or Rivicre de Moine enters the Miflifippi on the W fide, and on it are fituated the Ayoas, is nation originally from the Mifouri, fpeaking the language of the $\mathbf{O}$ tachatas : it conlifted of 200 warriors, before the fmallpox lately raged among them. The Saes and Renards dwell on the Mifilippi, ahout 300 leagues above St. Louis, and frequently trade with it ; they live together, and couffled of 500 warriers; their chicf trade is with Michilimakinac, and they have always been peaceable and friendly. The other nations on the Miffilippi, higher up, are but little known to us. The nations of the Miffouri, though cruel, treacherous, and infolent, may doubtiefs be kept in order by the United States, if proper regulations are adopted with refpect to them. It is faid that no treaties have been entered into hy Spain with the Indian nations weftward of the Mifflippi, and that its treaties with the Crecks, Choctaws, \&c. are in effect fuperceded by our treaty with that power of tha 27th Octuler, 1795." ilid.

It is about 27 miles long from N to S , and 12 broad. Here are feveral hills, 2 of which being very rinud and Reep, are called the Pins' heat of sti lucy, and were voleainocs. At the fogt of them are fine valies, having a salf trees with the timber of which the planteth of Martinico and Barbadoes build their houfes and wind mills. Here is alfu plenty of cocoa nud futic. The air is reckoned healthy, the hills not being fo high as to intercept the trade winds, which always fan it from the E, by which means the beat of the climate is moderated and rendered agrecable. Iu St. Lucia are fcveral commodious bays and harhours, with gond anchorage, particularly the Little Careenage, one of the pruicipal inducements for the Freuch to prefer it to the other neutral illands. 'This port has feveral noted advantages ; there is every where depth cnough, and the quality of the bottom is excellent. Nature has formed there thrce carecning places, which do not want a key, and require nothing but a capftern to turn the keel above ground. Thirty fhips of the line might lie there fheltered from hurricanes, without the trouble of being moored. The boats of the country which have been kept a long time in this harbour, have never lieen caten by the worms; however, they do not expeet that this advantage will laft, whatever We the caufe. For the other harbours, the winds are always good to go out with, and the largeft fquadron might be in the offing in lefs than an hour. There are g parifhes in the illand, 8 to the Iceward, and only one to the windward. This preference given to one part of the illand more than another, does not procecd from the fuperiority of the foil, but from the greater or lefs conveniency in fending out or recciving flips. A high road is made round the inand, and two others which crofs it from E to W , afford all manncr of facilities to carry the commodities of the plantations to the barcaderes, or landing places. In January 1769, the free inhatitants of the inand amounted to 2524 ; the flaves to 10,270 , It had in cattle $s 98$ mules and horfen, 1819 horne:d beant, and $23 ; 8$ flacep. Its plancations

Bofton and the W. Inclies in fifl, lumber, \&c. A regular port between this town and Halifax, in Nova Scotia, has been eftablifhed. The name of the town is aliered irom the Indian nane Mechifies, given to the river in the oldeft maps. It is 400 miles NE of Bufton, and about 300 by water. Harly attempts were made to fettle here, but the firf permanent fettlement was made in 1763 , by 15 perfons of both lexes from Scarborough, in Cumberland co. and in 1784 the town was incorporated. The chief fettlements are at the E and WV Falls, and at Middle river. Maibias River, after running a north courfe, 6 miles diftance from- Crofs inand, (which forms its entrance) feparates at a place called the Rim; one branch taking a NE E directions runs $2 \frac{1}{2}$ miles, with a width of 30 rods to the head of the tide, where are two donble faw mills; and one grift mill: The main branch runs a N W courfe, nearly 3 miles, and is 70 rods wide, to the head of the tide, where are two double and fingle faw mills, and two grift mills. The chief fettiement is at $W$ Falls, the county courts being held and the gaol erected there. The main channel of the river takes itscourfe to thefe falls, which, though erooked and narrow, admits velfel's of burden to load at the wharves within 50 rods of the mills. This advantage no other part of the town can enjoy. The entrance of Machias river is in N lat. 4435 , W lon. 66 56. The to: $n$ is divided into 4 diftricks for the fupport of felnools; and into 2 for the convenience of public worOhip. In 1792 Wafhington academy was eftablified here. The general court incorporated a number of gentlemen as truftecs, and gave for its fupport a townflip of land: . In 1790 the town contained 818 , and in 1800 , 1014 inhabitauts. The exports of Machias conlift principally of lumber, viz: boards, flingles, claphoards, laths, and various kinds of hewed timber. The cod fithery might be earried on to advantage, though it las been greatiy neglected. In 1793, between 70 and 80 tons were employed in the filhery; and not above 500 quintals were exported. The farv mills, of which there are 17, cut on an average three million fect of boards annually. A great proportion of timber is ufaally ihipped in Britith velfels. 'The total amonit of exports annually excceds 15,002 dollars. From Machias Bay to the mouth of St. Croix, there areagreat many fine iflands; but the navigation is generally without thele in the open fea, In the year 1;04, when Col. The negroes kill the alligators, knock out their teeth, and fill them to make corals, the garniture of which ferves to mark the degree of luxury or pride of thofe who hang them to the necks of their children. In this country are interfperfed many fountains of different qualities. There are an infinity of nitrous, fulphurcous, vitriolic, and alluminous mineral watcrs, fome of which fpring out fo hot, that in a thort time any kind of fruit or animal food is hoiled in them. There are alfo petrifying waters, with which they make little white fmooth fones, not difplealing to the tafte; ferapings from which taken in broth, or in gruel made of Indian corn, are mof powerful diaphoretics, and are ufed with remarkable fuccefs in various kinds of fevers.

The climate of this extenfive country is various. The maritime parts are hot, and for the noof part moif and unhealthy. Lands, which are very high, or very near to high mountains, which are perpetually covered with fnow, are cold.
The mountains of Mexico abound in ores of every kind of metal, and a great varicty of foffils. There arc entire mountains of loadfone, and among. others, one very confiderable bet ween Tcoiltylan and Chilapan, in the country of the Gohuix cas.

However plentiful and rich the mineral kingdom of Mexico may be, the vegetable kingdom is nill more various and abundant. Dr. Hernandez, defcribes in his natural hiftory, about $\mathbf{1 , 2 0 0}$ medicinal plante, natives of that country. The fruits of Mexico are, pine-apples, plums, dates, water-melons, apples, peaches, quinces, apricots, pears, pomegranates, figs, black-cherrics, walnuts, almonds, olives, chefnuts, and grapes. The cocodnut, vanilla, chia, great-pepper, tomati, the pepper of Talvafco, and cotton, are very common with the Mexicans. Wheat, barley,peas, leans and rice have been fucceffaully cultivated in this country. With refpect to plants which yield profitable refins, gums, oils or juices, the country of Mexico is fingularly fertile. Of quadrupeds there have been tranfporied into this country, horfes, affcs, bulls, Theep, goats, hogs, dogs and cats, which have all multiplied. Of the ancient quadrupeds, by which is meant thofe that from time innmemorial have been in that country, fome are common to both the continents of Europe and America, fome peculiar to the new world, others natives only of the kingdom of Mexico. The ancient quadrupeds common to Mexico and the old continents, are lions, tigers, wild-cats, bears, wolves, foxes, the commun ftags and white fags, bucks, wild-goats, badgers, pole-cats, weazles, martins, fquirrels,

The civil government of Mexico, is adminiftered by tribunals called audiences. In thefe. courts, the viceroy of the king of Spain prefides. His employment. is the greateft truft and power his Catholic Majefty has: at his difoofal, and is perhaps the richef government entrufted to any fubject in the vorld. The viceroy continues in office three years. The clergy are extremely numerous in Mexico. The prieft, monks and nuns of al!. orders, make a fifth of the white inhabitants, both here and in other parts of Spanifl America. The empire of Mexico was fubdued by Cortez in 1521.

Mexico, the capital of the above province, is the oldef city in America, of which we have any account; its foundation being dated as far hack as 1325 . It is fituated in the charming vale of Mexico, en feveral fmallifands, in Lake Tetzuco, in N lat: 19 26, and 10335 W long. from Ferro. This vale is furrounded with lofty and verdant mountains, and formerly contained no lefs than 40 emi nent cities, belides villages and hamlets, Concerning the ancient population of this city there are various opinions. The hiftorians mof to be relied on fay, that it was nearly nine miles in circumference ; and contained upwards of 60, Ooo houfes, containing each from 4 to 10 inhabitants. By a late accurate enumeration, made by the magifrates and priefs, it appears that the prefent number of inhabitants exceeds 200,000 . The greateft curiofity in the city of Mexico, is their floating gardens. When the Mexicans, about the year $\mathbf{3} 325$, were fubdued by the Colhuan and Tepancead nations, and confined to the fmali inands in the lake, litving no land to cultivate, they were taught by neceffly to form moveable gardens, which floated on the lake. Their confruction is very fimple. They take willows and the roots of marfl plants, and other materials which are light, and twift them together, and fo firmly unite them as to form a fort of platform, which is capable of fupporting the earth of the garden. Upon this foundation they lay the light bufies which float on the lake, and over them fpread the mud and dirt

Whith they draw up from the hottom of the lake. Their regular figure is quadrangular ; their length and breadth various, but generally about 8 rods long and 3 wide; and their elevation from the furface of the water is lefs than a foot. Thefe were the firff fields that the Mexicans owned after the foundation of Mexico; there they firf cultivated the maize, great pepper, and other plants neceffary for their fupport. From the induftry of the people thefe fields foon hecame numerous. At prefent they cultivate flowers and every fort of garden herbs upon them. Every day of the ycar at funrife, innumerable veffels or boats, loaded with various kinds of flowers and herbs, which are cultivated in thefe gardens, are feen arriving by the canal, at the great mar-ket-place of Mexico. All plants thrive in them furpriingly; and the mud of the take makes a very rich foil, which requires no water from the clouds. In the targeft gardens there is commonly a little tree and a little hut to fielter the cultivator and defend him from the rain or the fun. When the owner of a garden or the Chinampa, as he is called, wifhes to change his fituation, to get out of a bad neighbourhood, or to come nearer to his family, he gets into his little boat, and by his own flrength alone, if the garden is fmall, or with the affiftance of others, if it is large, conducts it wherever he pleafes, with the little tree and hut upon it. That part of the ifland where thefe floating gardens are, is a place of delightful recreation, where the fenfes receive the higheft poffible gratification. The buildings, which are of tone, are convenient, and the public edifices, efpecially the churches, are magnificent; and the city has the appearance of immenfe wealth. The trade of Mexico confifts of 3 great branches, which extend over the whole worla. It carries on a traffic with Europe, by La Vera Cruz, fitated on the Gulf of Mexico, or North Sea ; with the E. Indies, by Acapulco, on the S. Sea, 2 : 0 miles $S$ W of Mexico; and with S. America, by the fame port. Thefe two feaports, Vera Cruz and Acapulco, are admirably well fituated for the commereial purpofes to which they are applied.

and on the S by the Gulf of Darien, or perhaps ftill more properly by the $\mathbf{N} \mathbf{W}$ poiut of the Ifthmus of Darien, fuppofing a line to be drawn from one to the other. The Culf of Mexico is therefore to be confidcred as the weftern part of the great gulf between the northern and fouthern continents of America. This fpacious gulf contains a great many illands of various extent and fize; and it reccives feveral great rivers, particularly the Miff fippi, the $\mathbf{N}$ river, and a multitude of others of comparatively lefs note. Its corifts are fo irregular and indented, that its leffer gulfs and lays are almoft innumerable; the chief of thefe are the gulf of Honduras, and Guanajos, and the bays of Campeachy, Palaxay, and St. Louis. It is conjectured by forne to have been formerly land; and that the conflant attrition of the waters in the Gulf Stream, has worn it to its prefent form. See Gulf Stream, and Gulf of Florida.

The bottom of Affowamfet Pond may be faid to be an entire mine of iron ore. Men go out with boats, and ufe infruments like oyfter dredges, to get up the ore from the bottom of the pond. It h now fo much exhaufied, that half a ton is thought a good day's work for one man; but for a number of years one man could take up four times the quantity. In an adjacent pond there is yet great plenty at 20 feet decp, as well as from Shoaler water. Great quantities of nails are made hcre. In winter, the farmers and young men are employed in this manufacture. Here, and at Milton in Norfolk county, the firf rolling and flitting mills were erected about 50 years ago, but were imperfect and unproductive, in comparifon with thofe of the prefent time. The prints of naked hands and feet are to befeen on feveral rocks in this town, fuppofed to have been done by the Indians. to the fort, then ealtward 110 miles, and after receiving manytributary ftreams, falls into Hudfon's river, by three mouths oppofite to the cities of Lanfinburgh and Troy, from 7 to tomiles Nof Albany. The produce that is conveyed down this riv. er is landed at Schenectady, on its S hank; and is thence conveyed by land 16 miles, over a barren, fandy, fhrub plain, to Albany. It is in contemplation either to cut a canal from Schenectady to the navigable waters of Hudfon's river, or to eftablifh a turnpike road between Schenectady and Albany. This fine river is now navigable for boats, from Schenectady, nearly or quite to its fource, the locks and canals round the Little Falls, 56 miles above Alhany, having been completed in the Autumn of 1795 ; fo that boats full loaded now pafs them. The canal round them is nearly $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile, cut almof the whule diftance through an uncommonly hard rock. The opening of this navigation is of great advantage to the commerce of the State. A thore of at lealt 1000 miles in length is, in confequence of it, wafled by boatable waters, exclufive of all the great lakes; and many millions of acres of excellent tillage land, rapidly fettling, are aecommodated with water communication for conveying their produce to market. The intervals on both fides of this river are of various width; and, now and then interrupted by the projection of the hills quite to the banks of the river, are fome of the richeft and left lands in the world. The fine farms which embrace thefe intervals, are owned and cultivated principally by Dutch people, whofe mode of managing them wonld admit of great improvement. The manure of their barns they confider as a nuifance, and inftead of fpreading it on their upland, which they think of little value, (their meadow lands do not require it) they either let it remain for years in heaps, and remove their barns when accefe to them becomes difficult, or elfe throw it into the river, or the gullics and freams which communicate with it. The hanks of this river were formerly thickly fettled with Indians. At the period when Alliany was firlt fettled, it has heen faid by refpectable authority, that there were 800 warriors in Schenectady ; and that 300 warriors lived within a fpace which is now occupied as one farm. The Coheez in this river are a great curiofity ; thicy are 3 miles from its entrance into the Hudfon. The river is about 1000 feet wide; the rock over which it pours, at over a mill.dam, cxtends from S W to N E almofl in a line from one lide of the river to the other, and is about 40 feet perpendicular height, and including the defcent above, the falt is as much as 60 or 90 feet. Abrout a mile below the falls, is a handfome bridge, finiflaed in July, $\mathbf{1 7 9 5}$. It is 1100 fcet in length, 24 in lireadth, and 15 feet above the bed of the river, which for the mont part is rock, and is fupported by thirteen folid ftone pillars. Including the expenfe of cutring through a ledge on the NE fide of the river, it cult 12,000 dollars. It is now out of repair. The river immediately below the bridge divides into three branches, which form feveral large iflands. The branches are forci, ble at low water, but are dangerous. Myofguito SLore, The exact lomindaries of this country have never heen accurateIy drawn. The king and his chiefs liave generally confilered their timits in ex. tend a lítle $W$ of Black River, whence the fea coaft trends about $\mathbf{E}$ by " io or go leagues. This brings yon to the . $\mathcal{E} \mathrm{E}$ extremity of this comatry, or, as it is called lyy the Spaniards, the Cope of Gort's Gracio on account of the great difliculty they find in beating up from the welf. From this cape, in almoft every direction toward the fea, lic a great number of finall iflands or keys, with recis, rocks and Ghallows adjoining them, to the extent of 15 or 25 leagues, and fome of them 50 or 60, which have never been properly furveyed, and which of courfe makes all this part of the Carribbean fea a very dangerous navigation, efpecially to frangers. After doubling the above mentioned cape, on the $S$ fide of which is a tolerably gond harbour, of 18 feet of water, the courfe trends nearly S , about 50 leagues, this brings you to Pearl Key Lagoon, to the caftward of which lies the two Corn Inands, 7 leagues diftant, and a number of fmaller iltands lie round this layoon; but the two former only are inhabited, and that fparingly. In running this 50 leagues, you pafs feveral barred rivers, with water only for boats to pafs, and at the eltrance of this lagoon there is 9 feet of water. About 8 leagues further $S$, you come to the harbour of Bluefields, which in a good harbour; there is but 12 feet of water on the bar. There ends the Mofquito King's real jurifrliction, but be claims a tribute from all the fea flore inhabitants, whether Spaniards or Indians, for 100 leagues to the fouthward. The whole of the Mofquito fhore is very low land, except back of Black River, where it begins, and back of Bluefields where it ends, From Bluefields the coaft trends a little to the caftward of S , until you come to the harbour of St. Johns, which is a good one, hut has no town. A river of the fame name empties into this harbour from the lake of Nicaragua. On the caltern fide of which lake flands the city of Granada, and on the tiver, fome leagues hefore you enter this lake, fands fort

Charles. Canocs afeend this river. In prosecding along the coaft about fifteen leagues from tit. John's, to the foushward and eaf ward, you come to a vace called Turtle Banige, (the high land which began at 13lueficlds, Alll continuing.) This place has no harhour, but is remarkable for an annaing great refort of green turtle in the leafon when the females lay their egas, which is from the latter part of Auguin to the laft of September. This place, comprehending a bay or beach of white fansl, about 5 leagucs in extent, draws, as is reckoned hy the inhabitants, $\frac{7}{9}$ the of the green turtle from fome hundred of leagues on each fide of it. This is the more curious, as they pafs in their rout to this place innumerable bays or tracts of fand, which appear to the hilman eye equally convenient with this, It has licen fated on good authority, that 800 Ghe turtle have been fopped on this beach in one night, averaging $2501 b s$, by 10 men . The feafon being over for laying their eggs, they return to their homes with the fame diligenee they came. The meat, eggs and entrails of thefe turtle are excellent. Each turtle lays three litters of eggs in a feafon, one of 170 , one of 100, and one of 60 ; which is done at intervals of ahout 14 or 15 days. They cover their egge $2 \frac{1}{2}$ or 3 feet deep in the fand, and in 3 wecks the fun hatches them, They then emerge, (being aboust the big. nefs of a dollar) and mak.' llowly to wards the fea, which is perhaps 50 yards off ; but on this flort paflage they have many enemier, fuch as tigers, eagles, hawks, viltures, \&c, and when they reach the water, the fharks, which are here in amazing plenty, prove the worft enemy of all, fo that but few of the original number (330) are left to grow; however, a fufficient number efrape, to caufe a general increafe. The Englifh evacuated this country in the year 1787 , and '88, after holding it about 80 years. Their firft poffeffiou was entirely accideotal. A crew of Buckancers being caft away iz the Pacific Ocean, and happening to fall in by travelling with the river Warks, which empties itfelf at the afore-nameal cape, they by degrees fettled themfelves at the mof convenient places, for cutting and manufacturing mahogany, with which this couutry abounds, and were in fact mafters of the country. The Chicafaw and Chactaw language, the Mufkogulges fay, is a dialect of theirs. The Mufkogulges eminently deferve the encomiam of all nations for their wiflom and virtue, in expelling the greateft, and even the common enemy of mankind, viz. Spirituous liquirs. The firft and moft cogent atticle in all their treatics with the white people is, that "there flall not be any kind of fpirituous liquors fold or brought into their towns." Inflances have frequently occurred, on the difcovery of attempts to run kegs of fipirits into thei conntry, of the Indians flriking them with their tomahawks, and giving the liquor to the thirfy fand, not tafting a drop themfelves. It is difficult to account for their excellent policy in civii governm:nt ; it cannot derive its efficacy from coercive laws, for they have no fuch artificial fyftem. Some of their mont favourite fongs and dances they have from their enemics, the Chactaws; for it feems that nation is very eminent for poctry ard mulic. The Mulkogulges allow of palygany in the utmont latitude ; every man takes as many wives as he pleafes, but the firt is queen, and the others her handmaids and affociates. The Creek or Mufkogulge confederacy have 55 towns, befides many villages. The powerful empire of the Mufkogulges eftablifhed itfelf upon the ruin of that of the Natchez. The Oakmulge Fields was the firf fettlement they fat down upna, after their emigration from the weft, heyond the Miffifippi, their original native country. They gradually fubdued their furrounding enemies, frengthening themfelves by taking into confedcracy the vanquifhed tribes. Their whole number, fome years fince, was 17,280, of which 5,860 were fighting men. Later accounts fay 6,000 fighting men, and 26,000 fouls in all. Every town and village has one eftablifhed white trader in it, and gencrally a family of whites, who have fied from fome part of the frontiers. They often, to have revenge, and to obtain plunder that may be taken, wife their influence to fend out predatory partics againft the fettlements in their vicinity. with any other foreigners, but thofe of the Englifl nation. Their prejudice in favour of every thing Englifh, has been carefolly kept alive by tories and others to this day. Moft of their towns have now in their poffeflion, Britifh drums with the arnis of the nation, and other emblems painted cn then, and fome of their fquaws preferve the remnants of Rritill flags! They fill believe that "The Great King over the water" is able to keep the whole world in fubjection. The land of the country is a common llock; and any individual may remove from one part of it to another, and occupy vacant ground wherc he can find it. The country is naturally divided into 3 diftricts. viz. the Upper Creeke, Lower and Middle Creeks, and Seminoles. The upper diffrict includes all the waters of the Tallapoofee, Coofahatchee, and Alabama rivers, and is called the Abbacoes. The Lower or Middle diftrict includes all the waters of the Chattahoofee and Flint rivers, down to their junction, and although occupied by a great number of different tribes, the whole are called Cowetaulgas, or Coweta pcople, from the Cowetan town and tribe, the mof warlike and ancient of any in the whole nation. The Lower or Southern diftrict takes in the riv.r Appalachicola, and extends to the point of E. Florida, and is called the country of the Seminoles. Agriculture is as far advanced with the Indiaus, as it can well be, without the proper implements of hufbandry. A very large majority of the nation heing devoted to hunting in the winter, and to war or idlenefis in fummer, cultivate but fmall pareels of ground, barely fufficient for fubfiftence. But many individuals, (particularly on Flint river, and among the Chehaws, who poffers numbers of negroes) have fenced fields, tolerably well cultivated: having no ploughs, they break up the ground with hoes, and featter the feed promifcuoully over the ground in hills, but not in rows. They raife horfes, cattle, fowls, and hogs. The only articles they manufacture are earthern pots and pans, bafkets, horfe-ropes or halters, fmoaked leather, black marble pipes, wooden fpoons, and oil from acorns, hickory nuts and chcfnuts. They confift of the Appalachics, Alibamas, A hecas, Cawittaws, Coofas, Confhacks, Coofactees, Chacihoomas, Natchez, Oconies, Oakmulgies, Okohoys, Pakzoas, Taenfas, Talepoofas, Weetumkas, and fome othery.

Their union has rendered them victorious over the Chactaws, and formidable to all the nations around them. They are a well made, expert, hardy, fagacious, politic people, cxtremely jealous of their rights, and averfe to paiting with their lands. They have abundance of tame cattle and fwine, turkies, ducks, and othcr poultry ; they cultivate tobacco, rice, Indian corn, patatoes, beans, peas, cabtage, melons, and have plenty of peaches, plums, grapcs, ftrawberries, and other fruits. They are frithful friends, hut inveterate enermies; hofpitable to ftrangers, and honelt and $f$ dir in cheir dealings. No nation has a more contemptible opinion of the white men's faith in general than thefe people, yet they place great confidence in the Untited Stetes, and wifl to agree with them upon a permanent boundary, over which the fouthern States fhall not trefpals. The country which they claim is bounded northward by about the 34th degree of latitude; and extends from the Tombeckliee, or Mohile river, to the Atlantic ocean, though they have ceded a part of this tract on the fea coaf, lov different treatics, to the State of Georgia. Their principal towns lie in lat. 32 and long. 1120 from Philadelphia. They are fettled in a hilly burt not mountainous country. The foil is fruitful in a high degree, and well watered, abounding in creeks and rivulets, from whence they are called the Creek Indirns.

A late writer has obferved, that "in other countries, men are divided according th their wealth or indigence, into three claffes; the opulent, the middling, and the poor; the idleneffy lüxurice, and debaucheries of the firf, and the mifery, and too frequent intemperance. of the laft; deftroy the greater proportion of thefe two. The intermediate clafs in below thofe indulgencien which prove fatal to the rich, and above thofe fufferings to which the unfortunate poor fall vietims: this is therefore the happicft divifion of the three. Of tie rich and poor, the Neiw England Staica furnif a much fmaller proportion than any other diftrict of the known world. In Connecticut, particularly, the diftributlon of wealth and its concomitante, is more equal than elfewhere, and therefore, as far as excefi or want of wealth, may prove deftructive or falutary to life, the inhabitante of this State may plead exemption from difcafes." What this writer, Dr. Foulke, fays of Connecticut in particular, will, with very few exceptions, apply to New England at large.

New England is a high, hilly, and in fome parts a mountainous country, formed by nature to be inhabited by a hardy race of free, independent republicans. The mountains are comparatively fmall, running nearly north and fouth in ridges parallel to each other. Between thefe ridges, flow the great rivers in majeftic meandera, receiving the innumerable rivulete and larger freams which proceed from the mountains on each Gide. To a fpectator on the top of, a neighbouring mountain, the vales between the ridges while in a flate of nature, exhibit a romantic appearance. They feem an ocean. of woods, fwelled and depreffed in its furface like that of the ocean itfelf. A richer, though lefs romantic view is prefented, when the valies have been cleared of their natural growth by the indurtrious humbandmen, and the fruit of their labour appears in loaded orchards, extenfive meadows, covered with large herds' of fieep and neat cattle, and rich fields of A.x. corn, and the various kinds of grain. Thefe vallies are of various breadths from $\mathbf{z}$ to 2.0 miles; and by the annual inundations of the rivers and fmaller ftreäms, which flow through them, there is frequently an accumulation of rich, fat foil left upon the furface when the waters retire. The principal rivers in New Eugland, are Penobfcot, Kenuebeck, Androfcoggin. or Amarifcoggin. Saco, Merrinıack, Connecticut, Houfatmenc, Otter Creck, and Onion rivers; befiden many fmaller ones: New Eugland, generally fpeaking, is better adapted for grazing than for grain, though a fufticient quantity of the latter is raifed for home confumption, if we exeept wheat, which is imported, particularly into Maffachufette, in confiderable quantitien from the middie and fouthern States. Indian corn rye, oats, barley, buek-wheat, faz and hemp, generally fucceed very well. Apples are common, and are generally plenty in New England. Cider contritutes the principal drink of the inhabitante in the northerly and cafterly parta. Peachen do not thrive fo well at formerly. The other common fruits are more or left cultivated in different parti. The high and rocky ground is in many parts covered with clover, and generally affords the beft of pafture; and here are raifed fome of the fineft cattle in the world. The quantity of butter and cheefe made for exportation is, very great. Confiderable attention is now paid to the raifing of Sheep. This is the moft populous divifion of the United Statea. The great body of the inhalitante are landholdera and cultivators of the foil. As they porfefs, in fee fimple, the farms which they cultivate, they are naturally attached to their country; the cultivation of the foil makes them robuft and healthy, and enables them to defend it. New England may, with propriety, he called a nurfery of men, whence are annually tranfplanted, into other parts of the Unied States, thoufands of its natives. Vaft numbers of them, tince the war, have immigrated into the northern parta of N. York, Canadd, Kentucky and the Weftern Territory, and Georgia, and fome are fcattered into: every State and every town of note in the Union.
The inhahitants of Nevs England are, almoft univerfally, of Englifh defeent; and it is owing to this circumfance, and to the great and general attention that has heen paid to education, that the Englifh language has been preferved among them fo free frum corruption. Learning is diffufed more univerfally, among all ranks of people here, than in any othor part of the globe; arifing from the excellent eftablifhment of fchools, not only in every townihip, but almoft io every neighbourlood; the extenfive circulation of newfpapers; and the focial libraries in a great part of the parifhes. The firft attempt to form a regular fettlement in this country, was at Sagadahock, in 2607, but the year after, the whole number who furvived the winter, returned to England. The firf company that laid the founda. tion of the New England States, planted themfelves at Plymouth, November, 1620 .

ry to the royal navy. This fifiery is computed to increafe the national ftuck 300,000l. a year in gold and filver, renitted for the cod foid in the nerth, in Sprin, Portugal, Italy, and the l.evant. The plenty of cod, both oa the great bank and the leffer ones, which lie to the E and $S$ E of this ifland, is inconceivable ; and not only cod, but feveral other fipcics of fint are caught there in abundance; all of which are in nearly an equal plenty along the fhores of Newfoundland, Nova-Scotia, New-England, and the ille of CapcBreton; and very profitable fifheries are carried on upon all their coafts.
This ifland, after various difputes aloout the property, was entirely ceded to England by the treaty of Utrecht, in 1713; but the Fiench were left at liberty to dry their nets on the northern flores of the inland; and by the treaty of 1763 they were permitted to fint in the gulf of st. Lawrence, but with this limitation, that they flould not approach within thrce leagues of any of the confts belonging to England. The fniall ifands of St. Picrre and Miquelon, fituated to the fouthward of Newfoundland, were alfo ceded to the French, who ftipulated to ered no fortifications on thefe iflands, nor to keep more than so foldiers to enforce the poliee. By the laft treaty of peace, the French are to enjoy the fifhecties on the N and on the W coafts of the ifland; and the inhahitants of the United States are allowed the fame privileges in filhing, as before their independence. The clief tow.: :s Newfoundland are, Placentia, Bonavir' a, and St. John's; buc not above 1,000 families remain here in winter. A finall fquadron of men of war are fenic out every spring to prutect the fifherices and inhabitants, the admiral of which, for the time being, is governor of the. ifland, befides whom, there is a lieutenantgovernor, who refides at Placentia. In 1:85, Great Eritain employed in the Newfoundland filhery, 292 filling fluipy, and 58 colnny thips, whofe tonnage amounted to 4 r.990. The fame ytar, they carried to foreign markets 591,476 quintals of fiff. In 1799, 34 C veifels, whofe tonuage amounted ro 34,225 , carrying 2,449 men, were employed in this. fithery. Thefe alfo are contiguous to each other, heing feparsted ufually only by a point of land, feldom exceeding 2 leagues in breadth. But the towns and villages are only on the larger and more commodious buys. The cod are ufually found to be mont abundant whiere the bottom is fandy, and the leaft numerous where it is muddy, and the ben depth is alfo between 30 aud 40 fathoms. When a thip has taken her fation, the is immediately unrigged, and a proper place felected for curing and fecuring the fifh, and huts erected for the men who work afhore; a large feaffold is alfo erected at the water's edge, where the number of fhallops deftined for the fifhery is got ready, and alfo fecured after the feafon is over, till the following fummer. Ships firt entering any hay, have the privilege of applying thefe to their own ufe. The mafter who arrives firt in the feafon in each of the numerous harbours, is for that year fyled Lord of the Harbour; who alio fettles difputes among the filhermen. We fhall not detail the mode of managing and curing the fifh, which is purfued with much perfevering labour; we fhall only add, that the Great Bank of Newfoundland, which may properly be deemed a vall mountain under water, is not lefs than 330 miles in length, and about 75 in breadth. The depth of the water upon it varies from 15 to 60 fathoms, and the bottom is covered with a vaft quantity of fhells, and frequented by vall fioals of fmall finh, moft of which ferve as food to the cod, that are inconceivably numerous and voracious. It is a fact, in proof of the plenty of cod here, that though fo many hundred veffels have been annually leaded with them, for two centuries panf, yet the prodigious confumption has not yet leffened their plenty. The number of fowls called penguins, are certain marks for the bank, and are never found off it; thefe are fometimes feen in flocks, hut more ufually in pairs. The filhery on the banks of Newfoundland may be jufly ly efteemed a mine of greater value than of thofein Mexicn or Peru. The French ufed to employ in this fifhery 264 תlips,

In this diftance there are feveral coves for finhing veffels, but the only harbour for thips is the entrance of Pifcataqua River, the thores of which are rocky. The fhore is moftly a fandy beach, adjnining to which are falt marthet, interfeeted by creeks, which produce good pafture for cattle and theep. The interval lands on the margin of the great rivers are moft valuable, becaufe they are overflowed and enriched by the water from the uplands which brings a fat lime or fediment. On Connecticut River thefe lands are from 2 quarter of a mile to a mile and a half on each fide, and produce corn, grain, and grafs, efpecially wheat, in greater abundance and perfection than the fame kind of foil does in the higher lands. The wide fpreading hills are efteemed as warm and rich; rocky moift land is accounted good for pafture; drained fwamps liave a deep mellow foil; and the vallies between the hills are yen. erally very productive. and among the third range, Chocnrua, Oflapee, and Kyarfarge, are the principal. Beyond thefe is the lofty tidge which divides the branches of Conneeticut and Merrimack rivers, denominated the Height of Land. In this ridge is the celcbrated Monadnnck mountain. Thirty miles $N$ of which is sunapec, and 48 milea further is Moofehilluck, called alfo MonGheluck mountai!!. The ridge is then cuntinued northerly, dividing the waters of the tiver Conneclicut from thofe of Saco, and Amarifcoggin. Here the mountains rile much higher, and the moftelevated fumnits in this range are the White Mountains. The lands $\mathbf{W}$ of this laft mentioned range of mountains, bordering on Comnecticut River, are interfperfed with extenfive meadows, rich and well watcred. Ollapee Mountair lies adjoining the town of Moultonhorough on the $\mathbf{N}$ E. In this town it is ohferved, that in 2 N E form the wind falls over the mountain, like water over a dam; and with fuch force, as frequently to unroof houfe. People who live near thefe mountaina, by noticing the various movements of attracted vapours, can form a pretty accurate judgment of the weather; and they hence תyle thefe mountains their Alma. nack. If a cloud is attracted hy a mountain, and hovers on its top, they prediat rain ; and if, after rain, the mountain continues capped, they expect a repetition of thowers. A form is preceded for feveral hours by a roaring of the mountain, which may he heard 10 or 12 miles. But the White Mountains are undoubtedly the higheft land in New England, and, in clear weather, are difcovered before any other land, by veffels coming in to the eaftern coalt; but by reafon of their white appearance, are frequently miftaken for clouds. They are vifible on the land at the diftance of 80 miles, on the S and S E fides ; they appear high. er when vicwed from the N $E$, and it is faid, they are feen from the neighbourhood of Chamblee and Quebec. The Indians gave them the name of Agincochook. The number of fummits in this clufter of mountains cannot at prefent be afcertained, the country around them being a thick wildernefs. The greatef number which can be feen at once, is at Dartmouth, on the N W fide, where feren fummits appear at one view, of which four are bald. mountain which makes fo majenic an appearance all alung the thore of the eafern counties of Matfachufetts: It has lately been dianguifhed by the tame of Mount Wafbington. During the perind of 9 or 10 months, shefe mountains exhihit more or lefs of that brighit appearance, from which they are denominated white. In the fpring, when the fnow is partly diffolved, they appear of a pale bue, freaked with white; and after it is wholly gone, at the dinance of 60 miles, they are altogether of the fame pale blue, nearly approaching a Iky colour; while at the fame time, viewed at the diflatice of 8 miles or lefs, they appear of the proper colour of the rock. Thefe changes are obsferved by people who live within conftant view of them; and from thefe facts and obfervations, it may with certainty he corcluded, that the whitencis of then is wholly caufed by the finow, and not by any orher white fubrtance, for in foct there is unoc.

The reader ivill find an elegant defeription of thefe mountains in the 3 d vol. of Dr. Belknap's Hintory of New Hamp. nhire, from which the above is extracted.

Before the war, fhipbuilding was a fource of confiderable wealth to this State; about 200 vefiels were then annually built, and fold in Europe and in the W. Indies; but that trade is much declined. Although this is not to be ranked among the great commercial States, yet its trade is confiderable. Its exports conlift of lumber, Thiptimber, whale oil, flax-feed, live fock, bcef, pork, Indian corn, pot and pearl afhes, &c. &cc. 'In 1790, there belonged to Pifcataqua 33 veffels above 100 tons, and 50 under that burden. The tonnage of foreign and American veffels cleared out from the 1 th of October, 1789 , to the yt of Octuber, 1791, was 31,097 tons, of which 26.560 tons were Amcrican veflels. The finceries at Pifcataqua, including the The of Shoals, employ annually 27 fchooners and 20 boats. In 1791, thic produce was 25,850 quintals of cod and feale filh. The exports from the fort of Pifcataqua in two years, viz. from the it of Octoeer, 1789 , to the if of October, 1791 , pmountced to the value of 296,839 dolls.

It is about 160 miles long and 52 broad, containing about 8,320 fquare miles, equal to $5,3 \% 4,800$ acreo. It is divided into 13 counties, viz. Cape May, Cumberland, Salem, Glouce fter, Burlington, Hunterdon, and Suffex; there $y$ lie from S to N on Delaware River; Cape May and Gloucefter extend acrofs to the fea; Bergen, Effex, Middlefex, and Munmouth, lie fron $\mathbf{N}$ to $S$ on the eaftern fide of the State; Somerfet and Morris are inland counties. The number of inhabitants is $2 \mathrm{Ix}, \mathrm{I} 49$, of whom 12,422 are flaves. The noft remarkable bay is Arthur Kull, or Newark Bay, formed by the union of Paffack and Hackinfac rivers. The rivers in this State, though not large, are numerous. A triveller, in palling the common road from New York to Philadelphia, croffes three confiderable rivers, viz. the Hackinfac and Paffaick, hetween Bergen and Newark, and the Rariton by Bruifwici.. Paffaick is a very crooked river. It is navigable ahout ro miles, and is 230 yards wide at the ferry. The cataract, or Great Falls, in this river, is one of the greateft natural curiofities in the State. The river is alout 40 yards wide, and moves in a flow, gentle current, until coming within a hhorr diftance of a deep cleft in a rock, which croffes the channel, it defcends and falls above 70 feet perpendicularly, in one entire fheet. One end of the cleft, whirh was evidently made hy fome violent convulfion in nature, is clofed; at the other, the water rufhes out with incredible fwiftnefo, forming an acute angle with its former direction, and is received into a large bafon, whence it takes a winding courfe through the rocks, and fpreada in. to a broad fmooth fream. The cleft is from 4 to 12 feet broad. The falling of the water necafions 2 cloud of vapour to arife, which, by floating amidn the funheams, prefenta rainbows to the view, which adds beauty to the tremendous feene. The new manufacturing town of Paterfon is erected upon the Great Falls in this river. Rariton River is formed by two confiderable freama, called the N and S branches ; one of which has ita Source in Morris, the other in Hunterdon county. It paffes by Brunfwick and

Amboy, and, mingling with the waters of the Arthur Kull Sound, helpa to form the fine harbour of Amboy. Bridges have lately been erected over the Paffaick, Hackinfac and Rariton rivers, on the poft road between New York and Philadelphia. Thefe bridges will greatly facilitate the incercourfe between thefe two great citice. The counties of Suffex, Morris, and the northern part of Bergen, are mountainoua. As much as five-eightha of mon of the fouthern counties, or $\frac{1}{4}$ of the whole State, is almof entirely a fandy harren, unfit in many parta for cultivation. All the varieties of foil, from the wort to the beft kiod, may be found here. The good land in the fouthern counties lies principally on the banks of rivers and creeks. The barrens produce litile elfe but fhrub oaks and yellow pines. Thefe fandy lands yield an immenfe quantity of bog iron ore, which is worked up to great advantage in the iron works in thefe counties. In the hilly and mountainous parts which are not too rocky for cultivation, the fuil is of a frop̣ger kind, and covered io its natural fate with fately oaks, hickories, chefruta, \&e. and, when cultivated, produces wheat, rye, Indian corn, buck wheat, oata, barley, flax, and fruita of all kinda common to the climate. The land in this billy country is good for grazing, and farmers feed great inmbers of cattle for N. York and Philadelphia markets. The orchards in many parts of the State equal any in the United States, and their cider is faid, and not without reafon, to he the beft in the world. The markete of New York and Philadelphia reecive a very confiderable proportion of their fupplies from the contiguous parts of New Jerfey. Thefe fupplies confift of vegetables of many kinds, apples, peara, peachet, plums, frawberries, cherries and other iruits; cider in large quantitics, butter, cheefe, heef, pork, mutton, and the leffer meats. The trade is carried on almoft folely with and from thofe two great eommercial cities, N. York on onc fide, and Philadel;hid on the other; though it wants uot good ports of ita own. Manufactures have hitherto been inconfiderable, not fufficient to fupply its own confamption, if we except the artielcs of iron, nails, and leather. A fpirit of induftry and improvement, particularly in manufactures, haa however, of late, greatly increafed. The iron manufacture is, of all others, the greateft fource of wealth to the State. Iron works are erected in Gloucefter, Burlington; Suffex, Morris, and other counties. The mountaina in the co. of Morris give rife, to a number of freams, neceffary and convenient for thefe worke, and at the fame time furnifh a copious fupply of wood and ore of a fuperior quality. In this county alone are no lefs than 7 rich iron mindes, from which might be taken ore fufficient to fupply the United States ; and to work it into iron, there are two furnaces, 2 rolling and fitting mills; and about 30 forges, containing from 2 to 4 fires each. Thefe works produce annually about 540 tons of bar iron, 800 tons of pigs, befides large quantities of hollow ware, fhett iron, and nail rods. In the whole State it is fuppofed there is yearly made about 1200 tons of bar iron, 1200 do . of pigs, 80 do. of nail-rods, exclufive of hollow ware, and various other caftings, of which van quantities are made. The inhabitants are a collection of Low Dutch, Germans, Englifh, Scoteb, Irifh, and New Englaniders, and their defcendants. National attachment, and mutual convenience, have generally induced thefe feveral kinds of people to fettle together in a body, and in this way their peculiar national mianners, cuftoms and character are ftill preferved, efpecially among the poorer clafs of people, who have little intercourfe with any but thofe of their own nation. The people of $N$. Jerfey are generally induftrious, frugal and hofpitable. There are in this State about 50 Prelbyterian congregation, fubject to the carc of 3 Prelbyteries ; hefides upwards of 40 congregations of Friends, 30 of Baptifs, 25 of Epifcopalians, 28 of Dutch Reformed, befides Methodits, and a fettlement of Moravians. All thefe religious denominations live together in peace and harmony; and are allowed, by the conflitution of the State, to wor隹品 Almighty God agreeably to the dictates of their own confciences. The college at Princeton, called Naflau Hall, has been under the care of a fucceffion of Prefidents, eminent for piety and learning; and has furnifhed a number of Civilians, Divines, and Phyficians, of the firft rank in America. It hiz confiderable funds, is under excellent regulations, and has generally from 80 to 100 fudenta, principally from the fouthern States. There are academies at Frechold, Trenton, Hackinfak, Orangcdalc, Elizabeth-Town, Burlingron, and Ncwark; anid grammar tchnols at Springficld, Morriftown, Bordentown, and Amboy. There are a number of towns in this State nearly of equal fize and importance, and none that has more than 300 houfes compactly built. Trenton is one of the largef, and the capital of the State: The other principal towns arc Brunfwick, Burlington, Amboy, Bordentown, Princetown, Elizabeth Town, Newark, and Moriftown. This State was the feat of war for feveral years, during the bloody conteft between Great Britain and America. Her loffes both of mell and property, in proportion to the population and wealth of the State, was greater than of any other of the Thirteen States. When Gen. Walhington was retreating through the Jetfies, almon forfaken by all others, her militia were at all times ohedient to his orders, and, for a confiderable length of time, compofed the !trength of his army. There is hardly a town in the State that lay in the progrefs of the Britifh army, that was not rendered fignal, by fome enterprife or exploit. The exports from this State in 1801, amounted to 26,227 dullars.

New 7erfey Company's Grant of Lands lies on the $E$ fide of Miffifippi River; $S$ of Illinois, and N W of the Army lands, which form the tract fhaped by the confuence of Ohio with Miffifippi.

New Lebamon, a village in the townhip of Canaan, Col:umbia co. N. York, celebrated for its medicinal iprings. The fpring is on the $S$ fide, and near the hottom of a gentle hill, bur a few rods W of the Maflacl:ufetts' W line, and is furrounded with, feveral grod houfes, which afford convenient accommodations for the valetudinatians who vifit thefe waters. Concerning the medicinal virtues of this fpring, Dr. Waterhonfe, Profeffor of the theory and practice of plyylic, at Harvard Univerfity, and who vifited it the fummer of 1794 , obferves, "I confefs mylelf at a lofs to determine the contents of thefe waters by chymical analyfis, or any of the ordinary tefts: 1 furpect their impregnation is from fome caufe weakened. Excepting from their warmth, which is about that of new milk, 1 never fhould have furpected them to come under the head of medicinal waters. They are uicd for the various purpofes of cookery, and for common drink by the neightours, and I never could difoover any other cffects from drinking them, than what we might expect from rain or river water of that temperature. There was no vifible change produced in this water by the addition of an alkali, nor by a folution of allum ; nor was any effervefcence raifed by the oil of vitriol; neither did it change the colours of gold, filver, or copper; nor did it redden beef or mutron boiled in it ; nor did it extract a black tincture from galls; neither did it curdle milk, the whites of eggs or foxp. The quality of the waters of the pool at Lebanon is, therefore, very different from thofe of Saratoga. Thefe are warm and warminh, thofe very cold, fmart, and exhilerating. Frogs are found in the pool of Lebanon, and plants grow and flourifh in and around it ; but plants will not grow within the vapour of thofe of Sararoga, and as for fmall animals, they foon expire in it. Heace we conclude that that fpiritus mineralis, which fome call aerial acid, or fixed air, abounds in the one, but not in theother. Yet the Lebanon pool is famous for having wrought many cures, efpecially in rheumatifms, niff joints, fcably eruptions, and even in vifceral obfructions and indigeftions ; all of which is very probable. If a perfon who has brought on a train of chronic complaints, by intemperance in eating and drinking, fhould fwallow 4 or 5 quates of rain or river water in a day, he would not feel fo keen an appetite for animal food, or thirf for firituous lipuors. Hence fuch a courfe of water drinking will open obfructions, rinfc out impuritics, reuder perfpiration free, ami thus remove that unnatural lead from the animal machine, which caufcs and keeps up its diforders. Poffibly, however, there inay be fometling fo fubtle in thefe waters dit to clude the fcrutinizing hand of the chymifts, fince they all allow that the analytis of mineral waters is one among the mof diflicult things in the chynical art." A fuciety of Shakers inhahit the $S$ part of the town in two fettlements, onc of which is in view of the main fage-road, which pafies through this town. The publie buildings are a handfome Catholic church, a Goverument houle for the accommodation of the governor and his fuite, a calabozo or prifon, which alfo ferves as a court houfe, a convent, barracks for the foldiers, king's hofpital, and one built for the reception of lunatice, and a very fmall, inconvenient market houf. Real eftate is extremely valuable, and rents are forieching higher than in any part of the United States. The fide next the river is cpen, and is fecured from the inundations of the river, by 2 raifed bank, generally called the levee, which extends from the Englifh Turn, to the upper fettlements of the Germina, a diftance of more than so miles. N E of the town are large marlies, occafioned principally by a gradual defcent, which is found from the bank of the river to the back part of the town. This circumfance tends to render the town unwholefome in fummer and autumn, efpecially to ftrangers, but the inhabitants are never afflictod by the epidemic difenfes which prevail among foreiguers, and live to as great ages as the inhabitants of the northern parts of the United States. Intemperance is the forerunner and principal caufe of the deaths of many of the weftern people, who carry down the produce, and indeed a fingle debsuch is often found to throw the mof robult confitution into 2 fever which frequently ends fatally; more efpecially with perfons of plethoric habits. There is a communication from lake Ponchartrain so the town, by means of the bayouk or creek, St. John, which runs from the lake a courfe of 6 miles, till it goes within 2 miles of the town. A bar at the entrance of this creek prevents veffels of more than 3 to 4 feet draught of water from entering, but numbers of fmall craft from Mobile, Penfa. cola, and the adjacent country, bring their tar, lime, \&c. to market by means of this communication. From the Dayouk to the town is a canal of about 2 miles in length, navigable for fmall boats only, which was dug about the year 1792, by order of the Baron de Carondelet, who was then Governnr, and called by his zame. At the month of the Bayouk, where it enters into the lake, is a fmall fort of 6 guns. land is higher than on the banks of the Milififpi, and does not require the affintance of dykes. In the year 1802, the principal aggregate exports of American Spanifh produce have been eftimated at, 30,000 bales cotton, value $1.2,000,000$ 8,000 lhds. fugar, do. 480,000 $90,000 \mathrm{bbls}$. Contiderable quantitics of deer 隹年s, and fome furs, att alívexported ; alfo tobaceo, falt beef and pork, hams, lard, \&c. from the Illinois and Olin rivers. Of the cotton which is expurted, about one half may be calculated as American produce, and the flour catirely fo, as well as the tobacco, falt piovifions, \&c. The fugar cane is entirely Spanifh produce, none heing raifed in the American fettlements, and it is fide to come to maturity in one half the time that it does in any part of the W. hadies. There is a road, which is very good for travelling on horfeback, and paliable for light carriages from the Eng'ina Turn, as far as Natches, by the :banks of the river. A bar at the principal entrance of the Miffifippi, renders it cxtremely hazardous for veffels of more than 13 feet draught of water to attempt the pafs. On the mouth of the river, on the Louifiana fide, is a blockhoufe, formerly garrifoned and called Fort Balife, now merely a refidence for the pilots, who are regulated by an officer authorifed by the giverimient. The pilota are of the loweft order of people, and 20 dollars is paid for the pilotage of every veffel, large or finall, through the pafs, of ahout one mile and a half. The face of the comatry is entircly uncultivated and martly, as far as Fint dhacamina, so miles from the mouth of the river. This fort is garrifoned, and meunts a few guns. It is cuntomary for the counmander of this fort to examine the papers of al! veflels that pafs, and to talec cugnizance of any whichare found toll gefeffing the laws of the country. . catomhoufe ofineer is alfo always reladent at the mouth of the river, for the purpore of examining veffels. Atter palling Fort Placamina, the country dflumes a noure inproved appearance, and withiu 30 or 40 miles of the town, the banks of the river are thickly fettled, and many vary large and expenfive fugar works are feen in palling up the river. The veffets which fail up the Miffifippi haul clofe along filde the bank next to New Orleans, te which they make fant, and take in or diSuharge their cargocs with the fane cafe as at a wharf. The foil on the hanks of the Miffifippi, is probably as rich and productive as any in the known world. The cotton plant, and fugar canc, grow alnoof without $l_{2}$. bour. It has been the calculation of the coiton planters, fur fome yeare path, that each hand they conld employ, fhould produce them from 300 to 400 dollars annually. Some plantations have gone far begond tiise and one infance was known, that two men, hy their own labour, in nne year produced cotton that fold for 2000 dollars. The inportation of faves had been for founc years pafforbidden by the Spanifh government, under very heavy penaities; and although fome have been introduced, fill the prohibition lias tended to enhance the price of them extremely: (fay from 700 to $\mathrm{f}, 200$ dollars. cach.) The water of the river is the only water that is or can be ufed; it is very. agrecable and wholefome, although when takea from the river, efpecially in the time of high tiden, it has a ve:y muddy and dirty appearance. It is efteemed the beff in the world for keeping at fea, and becomes clear and limpid after fettling a few hours, although filtering fones are generally ufed by thofe who can afford them. The river hegins to rife about the Ift of March, and to fall about the ift of June. The perpendicular rife at Natches is faid to be 60 fect. The market is fupplicd with wild fowl and poul. try of every kind; at the proper feafons feveral kinds of fine finh, ayftcrs, which are paffable, and beef, veal, pork, and mutton in abundance, as well as vegetables of every defeription. The cattle are very fine and large, though not fat, which mult be more owing to the want of attention than any other eaufe. The price of bcef fold in the market is limited by the police at one fixteenth of a dollar per pound, and other animal food in proportion. Moft of the tropical fruits grow here in great abundance. The Spanifh government at New Orleans, till its late ceffion to the U. States, included Louiliana and Florida. The governor of the province refided at St. Auguftine in Eaft Florida. The inhabitants of the port of New Orleans, are eflimated to amount ( 2802 ) to 10 or 11,000. The number cannot be exactly afcertained, as no, cenfus has becn taken.

The number of inhabitants is 586,050 , of whom 20,613 are flaves. The clief rivers are Hudfon, Moliawk and their branches. The rivers Delaware and Suf. quehannah, rife in this State. The principal lakes, are Otfego, Oneida, George, Seneca, Cayuga, Salt, and Chautaughque. The principal bay is that of York, which fpreads to the fouthward before the city of N. Yoik. The legiflature of N. York, ftimulated by the enterprizing and active Pennfylvanians, who are competitors for the trade of the weftern country, have lately granted very liberal fums, towards improving thofe roads that traverfe the moft fettled parts of the country, and opening fuch as lead into the weftern and northern parts of the State, uniting as far as pofible the eftablifhments on Hudfon's river, and the moft populous parts of the interior country by the neareft practica. ble diftances. By late eftablifiments of port roads a fafe and direct conveyance is opened between the moft interior weftern parts of this State, and the feveral Statcs in the Union: and when the obltructions between Hudfon's river and Lake Ontario are removed, there will not be a great deal to do to continue the water communication by the lakes and through Illinois river to the Miflifippi. N. York, to fpeak generally, is interfected by ridges of mountains extending in a $N E$ and $S \mathrm{~W}$ direction. Beyond the Alleghany Mountains, however, the country is level, of a fanc rich foil, covered in its matural flate with maple, beech, birch, cherry, locuf, hickory, and fome mulberry tree. O the banky of Lake Erie are a few chefnut and oak ridges. Hcmlock fwampe are interfpericd thinly through the country. All the creeks that empty iato Lake Erie have falls, which aftird many excellent mill-feats. The lands between the Scneca and Cayuga Lakex, are reprefented as uncommonly excellent, being moft agreeably diverfified with gentle rifings, and timbered with lofty trees, with little underwood. The leginature have granted a million and a half actes of land, as a gratuity to the officers and foldiers of the line of this State. This tract forms the military townflips of the co. of Onondago. See Miitiary Town/lips, and Ononidago. E of the Alleghany Mountains, which commence with the Kaat's Kill, on the W fide of Hudfon's river, the country is broken into hills with rich intervening vallies. The hills are elothed thick with timber, and when cleared, affurd fine pafture; the vallies, when cultivated, produce wheat, hemp, flax, peas, grafs, oats, Indian corn, \&c. Of the commoditics produced from culture, wheat is the principal. Iudian corn and peas are likewife. raifed for exportation; and rye, oatt, barley, \&c. for home confumption. The befl lands in the State, along Mohawk river and N of it and W of the Alleghany Mountains, but a few years age was mof'ly in a flate of nature, but has been of late rapidly fetsling. In the northern and unfettled parts of the State are plenty of moofe, deer, bears, feme beavers, martins, and mof other inhabitants of the foref, except wolves. The Balllown, Saratoga; and New Lebanon medicinal fprings are much eelebrated : thefe arc noticed under their refpective heads. The falt made from the Salt Springs here is cqual in goodnefs to that imported from Turk's Ifland. The weight of a bunfel of the falt is 136 lb. [See Salina.] A fpring is reported to have been difcovered in the Sufquchannah country, impregnated with nitre,ftom which faltetre is made in the fame manner that common falt is made from the Onondago fprings. Large quantities of iron ore are found here. A filver mine has been worked at Phillipfburg, which produced virgin filver. Lead is found in Herhemer co. and fulphur in Montgomery. Spar, zinc or fpelter, a femi-metal, magnez, ufed in glazings, pyrites of a golden hue, various kinds of copper ore, and lead and coal mines, are found

A fmall hilack fone has allo been found, which vitrifies with a fmall heat; and it is faid makes excellent glafs. The chief nianufactures are iron, glaft; paper, pot and pearl athes, earthen ware, maple fugar and molaffes ; and the citizens in general manufacture their own clothing. Thii State, having a fhort and eifý accefo to the ocean, coinmands the trade of a great proportion of the beff fettled and Left cultivated parts of the United States. Their exporta to the Weff Indied are; bifcuit, peas, Indian corn; appled, onions, boards, flaves, horfes, lheep, buitter, cheefe, pickled oyteri, beef and pork. But Wheat is the flaple commodity of the State, of which no lefs chan 677,700 buthels werc exported fo long ago as thic year 1775, befides 2,555 tons of bread, and $2,8.28$ tons of flour. The increafé finte has been in proportion to the increafe of the population In wheat and flour above a million buifheis are now annually exporied. W. India goods are received in return for the above ariticles. Befides the articles alfeady enuimerated are ciported flaz-feed, cotton ivool, farfaparilla, coffee, indigo, rice, pig-iron, bai-iron, pot-afh, peatl-aih, furs, deer-ikins, logwood, fuftic, mahogahy, bees-wax, oilf Madeira wine; rum, tar, pitch, turpentine, whale fins, fill, fugars, molatied, falt, tobacco, lard, \&c. but mon of thefe aiticles are imported for reexportation. The exports to foreign parts, for the year ending Sepit. 30, 1791, 1792, \& c. confining principally of the articles above enumerated, amounted as fillows ; in 1791, to $2,505,465$ dolls. io cents; 1722-2,535,790 dolls. 25 cents; 17932,932,370 doils.; 1794-5,442,183 dolls. 10 cents; 1795-10,304,580 dolls. 78 cents; 1801-13,792,126 dollars. This State owned in ry92, 46,626 tons of hipping, befides which fie finds employment for ahout 40,000 tons of fotcign vefiels. There are in this State, two handfornely endow d and flourining colleges, viz Columbia, formerly King's College, in the city of N. York, and Union College, at Sclenectady. See Nezo Tork City and s:Lenetiady. Befides thefe, there are difperfed in different parts of the State, 14 incorporated Academies, containing in the whole, as many as 6 or 700 ftudents. Thefe, with the eftablifloment of fchools, at lealt in every diftrict of 4 fquare miles, for the common branchei of edu': cation, mun have the moft beneficial ef: fects on the flate of fociety. The fumd graited hy the leginature of this State for the encouragement of literature fince the year 1790, have heen very liheral and if evincive of the wifeft policy In March, 1790, thie legiflature grated to the regentio of the Univerfity, who have by lavi the firperiatendance and management of the literature of the State,feveral large and valuable tracti of land, on the wateri of Laked George and Chámplain, and alfo Governor'i Illaid in the harbour of New York; with intent that the rents and income thereof flould be by theiti applied to the advancement of literature. At the fame time they granted them $\mathscr{E}_{1}$,000 currency, for the rame general purpofe: In April; 179i, they ordered to be paid to the regents, fo, 500 for ehlarging the library; (200 for à eliemical apparatus, $£ 5,200$ for ereding a wall to fupport the college grounds, and 65,000 for erecting a hall and an additional wing to the college: Allo $f_{0}$ is 500 annually for $s$ years to be diferctionally diftributed among the acad:emier of the State. Alfo d750; for fivé years, to be applied to the payment of the falaries of additional profefiors. Ini their feffions fince iygs, the fums they have granted for the fuppott of the colleged, acidemiez, and of common fchoola throughout the State, have been very liberal. The religious fects or denominations in this State are, Englini Preflyterians; Dutch Reformed, Baptifti, Epifcopalians, Friends of Quakers; German Liutherans, Moravians, Methodift, Rnman' Catholics, Shakers, a few followers of Jemima Wilkinfon at Geneva, and fome Jews in the city of A. York, The treafury of this State is one of the richeft int the Union. The treafurer of the State reported to the legifatare in Jan. 1796, that the funds amnunted to $2,1 \times 9,068$ dolls. 33 cents, which yields an annuity of 234,218 dolls. Befides the ahove immenfe fum, there was at that period in the treafury, £ $34,207: 19: 10 \frac{3}{4}$ currency. The ability of the State, therefore, is aburidantly competent to ald public inflitutions of every kind, to make roads, crect liridges, open canals, and pulin every kind of improvement to the moft defirable length. Aod the increafe of Englifh fehoots has already had a perceptible effect in the improvement of the Englifi language. Befides the Dutch and Englifh, there are in this State many emigrants from Scotland, Ireland, Germany, and lome few from France. Many Germans are fettled on the Mohawk, and fome Scots people on the Hudfon, in the county of Wafhington. The principal part of the two former fettled in the eity of N. The French etmigrants fettled principally at New Rochelle, and on Staten Ifland, and their defcendanti, feveral of them, lave filled fome of the higbef offices in the United States. The weftern parts of the State are fettied and fettling principally from New Eng. land. There are 3 incorporated cities in this State, N. York, Albany, and Hudfon.

Now York County, in the above State, comprehending the ifland of N. York, or Manhattan, on which the metropolis Hands, and the following fmall iflands: Great Barn, Little Barn, Manning's, Nutten, Bedlow's, Bucking, and Oyfer Iflands. It contained in $1790,33,13 \times$ inhabitants, in 1800, 60,489: The numher of flaves in 1790, was 2,369 , in 1800, 2,868 .

New York City, is fituated on the S W point of York Inand, at the confluence of Hudfon and Eaft Rivers, and is the metropolis of the State of its name, and the fecond in rank in the Union. The length of the city on Edf River is alnut 3 miles, and rapidly increafing, but falls fhort of that diftance on the lanks of the Hudfon. Its breadth on an average, is aloout a mile, and its circumference 5 or 6 miles. The plan of the city is not perfectly regular, but is laid out with reference to the fituation of the ground. The ground which was unoccupied before the peace of $1 ; 83$, was laid out in parallel ftreets of convenient width, which has had a good effect upon the parts of the city lately built. The principal freets run nearly parallel with the rivers. Thefe are interfected, though not at right angles, by dtrects running from river to river. In the width of the freets there is a gecat diverfity.

Water frect and Pearl freet, which occupy the banke of Eal River, are very conveniently fituated for bufinefs, but they are low and too natrow; not ad. nitting in fome places of walks on the fides for foot paffengers. Broad Street, extending from the Exchange to city hall, is fufticicntly wide. This was originally built on each fide of the creek, which penetrated almust to the city hall. This ftreet is low, but pleafant. But the moft convenient and agrecable part of the city is the Broadway. It begins at a point which is furmed hy the junction of the Hudfon and Eaft Rivers-occupies the height of land between them, upon a true meridional line -rifes gently to the northward-is nearly 70 feet wide-adorned, where the fort food, (which has lately been levelled) with an elcgant brick edifice, for the accommodation of the governor of the State, and a public walk from the extremity of the point, occupying the ground of the lower battery which is now demolifhed; alfo with two Epifcopal churches and a number of elegant private buildings. It terminates, to the northward, in a triangulat area, fronting the bridewell and alms-house, and cummands from any point, a view of the Bay and Narrows. Since the year $\mathbf{1 7 8 8}$, that part of the city, which was buried in ruins during the war, has been rapidly rebuilding. the Areets widened, fraightened, raifed in the middle under an angle fufficient to carry of the water to the fide gutters, and footways of brick made on each fide. At this time the part that was deftroyed by fite is all covered with elegant brick houfes. Wall freet is generally 50 feet wide and clevated, and the buildings elegant. Hanover fquare and Dock ftreet are convcniently fituated for hufinefs, and the houfes well built. Whiia, Ameet is alfo elevated and convenient, and is the prin-cipal-market for retailing dry goods. Many of the orleer ftrcets are pleafant, but niuf of them are irregular and narrow. The houfes are generally built of brick, and the roofs tiled. There are remaining a feew houfcs built after the old Dutch manner ; but the Fingliih tafte has prevailed almof a century. The mott magnificent edifice in the city is Federal Holl, fituated at the head of Broad Areet, where its front appears to grear advanthge, in which is a gallery 12 feet dcep, guarded by an elegant iron railing. In this gallery our beloved $W$ ofbington, attended by the feuate and houfe of repre-

fentatives, took his oath of office in the face of Heaven, and in prefence of a large concourfe of people affembled in front, at the commencement of the operation of the Federal Connitution, April 30 th, 1789. The Nezv York State Prifon, is fituated at Greenwich, ahout 2 miles diftant from the fouthernmof point of the city, upon a lot of ahout 4 acref, on the E bank of Hudfon's River, and inclofed by a wall from 16 to 20 fcet high. The building comprehende t:e following fubdivifions and apartments : $\mathbf{x}$. In the ceatre facing Greenwich freet, and in the rear facing the siver, is the building containing the apartments for the accomimodation of the keeper and his affifaats, and rooms for the ufe of the infpectors, \&e. its dimenfions being 64 feet fquare, and in the rear a fpacious hall. 2. Adjoining the foregoing, on each fide frouting the freet, is a building of the fame height with the centre, each of which contsins 30 prifons eapable of containing each 6 prifoners for lodging. 3. Adjoining, and extending wefterly on the northerly fide, is a building of about 56 feet in length, aud 36 feet in breddth, intended for a place of worflup for the prifoners. On the foutherly fide in a building of the fame dimenfions, intended fon the hofpital and dining apartmenter: adjoining to, and cxtending wefterly arentwo other fets of prifons of equil have with thofe in front. To complete the plan, there will be folitary cells at the end of the laft defcribed prifons, each of which calculated to contain 8 perfons in folitude. Within the walls, workGhops are erected, in which the prifoners are employed at hard labous. The whole of the buildings will thew a front and rear of about 307 fect. The whole is built of hard fone. The walls are thick. The prifon grates are of fout iron bars, fteeied and hardened. The height of the whole, except the folitary cells, is 3 fories; the lower one being funk 3 fect bclow the furface, is so feet from the floor to the ceiling. The two other ftories are $13 \frac{4}{2}$ feet each, between the floor and ceiling. The building is covered with תate, and in the centre, over a handfome pediment, is an elegant cupola, which commands a pleafing view of all the veffels palfing to and from the city through the Narrows, and down as far as Sandy Hook, and alfo for fome confiderable diftance up Hudfon's River. The other public buildings in the city are, 3 houles for public worlhip for the Dutch Reformed church, 5 Prefbyterian churchea, 4 Epifcopal churchen, 3 for Grman Lutheram and Calvinifte, 2 Irieids' meeting houfen, 2 for Baptift, 3 for Methodifo, ifor Seceders, I for Univerfalift, 1 for Moravians, 1 Roman Catholic church, I French Proteftant chureh, and a Jews' 'ynagogue. Befides thefe there is the governot's houfe, alrcady mentioned, a handfome building, the college, gaol, and feveral other buildings of lefs note. The city is accommodated with 4 markets in different parts, which are furninted with a great plenty and varitty of provifions in neat and excellent order.

King's College, in the city of N. Yoik, was prineipally founded by the voluntary contributions of the inhabitanta of the province, afififed by the general affembly, and the corporation of Trinity Church: In the year 1754, a royal charter (and grant of money) was obtained, incorporating a number of gentlemen therein mentioned, by the name of "The Governors of the College of the province of New York, in the city of New York, in America;" and granting to them and their fucceffors forever, amongf various other rights and privileges, the power of comerring all fuch degrees as are ufually conferred by either of the Englifh univerfities. By the charter it was provided that the prefident fhall always be a mam her of the church of England, and that a form of prayer collected from the liturgy of that church, with a particular prayer for the college, fhall be daily ufed, morning and evening, in the college chapel ; at the fame time, no tett of their religinus perfuafion was required from any of the fellows, profeffora or tutors; and the advantages of education were equally extended to fudents of all denominations. The luuilding (which is only $f$ of the intended fructure) confifts of an elegant tone edifice, 3 complete fories high,with 4 ftair-cafes, 12 apartments in each, a chapel, hall, library, mufeum, anatomical theatre, and a fchool for experimental philofoply. The college is fituated on a dry gravelly foil, ahout $\$ 50$ yards from the bank of Hudfon's River, which it overlonks, commanding a mon extenfive and beautiful profpect. Since the revolution, the legiflature paffed an act conflituting 21 gentlemen (of whom the governor and lientenant-governor, for the time being, are menibers ex afficiis) a hody corporate and politic, by the name and nyle of "The Regents of the Univerfity of the State of New York." King's College, which we have ulready defcribed, is now called Columbia College. This college, by an act of the leg:illature, palled In the Ipring of 1987, was pur under the care of 24 gentlemen, who are a hody corporate, by the nanes and flyle of "The Truftees of Columbia College in the city of New York.". This hody poffefs all the powers vefted in the governory of King's college, before the revolution, or in the regents of the univerify, fince the revolution, fo far as their power refpected this infitutiun. No regent can be a truftee of auy particular cullege or academy in the State. The regents of the univerfity have power to confer the higher degrees, and them only. The college edifice ham received no addition fince the peace, though the erection of a hall and ang have been contemplated, and Pands for the purpofe granted by the leginature. The annual revenue arifing from the eftate belonging to the college, exelufive of fome bonds which are not at prefent productive, amounts to ¢ $_{6} 1,535$ currency. Columbia College confifts of 2 faculties; a faculty of arts and a faculty of phyfic. The firf has a prefident and 7 profeffory, and the fecond a dean and 7 profefors. The fudents attending both the faculties at the beginning of the year 1795, amounted to 840 . The offieers of inftruction and immediate government in the faculty of arts, are, a prefident, profeffor of mathematics and natural philofophy, a profeffor of logic and gergraphy, and a profeffor of languages. To thefe have lately been added a profeffor of chymiftry and agriculture, a profeffor of oriental languages, a profeffor of lav, and a profeflor of the French language. In the faculty of phyfie, the dean is lecturer on clinical medicine in the N. York hofpital; and there are the profefforfhips of botany, of anatomy, of the obftetric art, of materia medica, of the inftitutes of medicine, of furgery, and the practic, of phyfic. Thefe profeflors afford the neceffary inftruction in the healing art. The library and mufeum were defroyed during the war. Upwards of $£ 800$ (of monies granted by the legillature) have been lately expended in broks to increafe the lihrary. The philofophical apparatus is new and complete. The gnvernment of the city (which was incorporated in $\mathbf{3 6 9 6}$ ) is now in the hands of a in: or, aldermen, and common council. The city is divided intu 7 warde, in each of which there is chofen annually by the people, an aldermat and an alfiftant, whe, together with the recorder, are appointea annually ly the council of appointment. The mayor's court, which is held from time to time by adjournnient, is in high reputation as a court uf lav. A court of feffions is likewife held for the trial of criminal caufes. The fituation of the city is both healthy and pleafaur, Surrounded on all fides hy water, it is refrefhed with cool lireczes in fummer, and the air in winter is more temperate than in other places under the fame parallel. This city is cfeemed the molt cligible fituation for commerce in the United States. It commands the trade of onc-half New Jerfey, moft of that of Connecticut, part of that of Maffachuretts, almont the whole of Vermont, and a part of that of New Hampthire, lying on Connecticut River ; befides the whole fertile interior country, which is penetrated by one of the largeft rivers in America. This city and Baltimore, it is faid, export thirec-fourtha of the produce fent from the U. States. This city imports moft of the goods confumed between a line of 30 milcs $E$ of Connecticut River, and 20 miles W of the Hndfon, which is 130 miles; and between the ocean and the confines of Canada, about 400 miles; a confiderable portion of which is the beft peopled of any part of nf the U. States ; and the whole territory contains nearly a million people, or oncfifth of the inhabitants of the Union. Befides, fome of the other States are partially fupplied with goods from N. York. But in the ftaple commodity, flour, Pennfylvania and Maryland have execeded it, the fuperfine flour of thoic States commanding a higher price than that of N. York ; not that the quality of the grain is worfe, but becaufe greater attention is paid in thofe States tothe infpection and manufacture of that article. In the manufacture likewife of iron, paper, cabinet works, \&e. Pennfylvania exceeds not only N. York, but all her fifter States. In times of peace, however, N. York will command more commercial bufinefi than any town in the U . Statce. In time of war it will he infecure, without a marine force; but a fmall numher of llips will be able to defend it from the mof formidable attacks by fea. A want of good water has been a great inconvenience to the citizens; the e heing few wells in the city. Moft of the people were till lately fupplied every slay with frefh water, conveyed to their doors in calks, from a pump near the hearl of Queen frect, which receives it from 2 fpring alanot a mile from the centre of the city. This well is a!out 20 feet deep, and 4 feet diameter. The average quantity drawn daily from this remarkable well, was 1 to hogheads of 130 gallons each. In fome hot fummer days 216 hogiheads have heen drawn from it ; and what is very fingular, there is never more or Icfs than about 3 feet water in the well. The water was fold commonly at 3 pence a hogilucad at the pump. The Manhattan Company now fupply or have agreed to fupply the citizens with water by pipes. On a general view of this city, as defcribed 40 years ago, and in its prefent fate, the comparifon is flattering to the prefent age ; particularly the improvements in tafle, elegance of manacrs, and that eafy maffected civility and politenefs which form the happinefs of focial intercourfe. The number of inhabitants in the city and cnunty of N. York in 1756, was ro,881; 1771, 21,863; 1786, $23.614 ; 1790,33,131 ; 1800,60,489$ There is no balon for the reception of veffels, but the road where they lie in Eaft River, which is protected from the violence of the fea by the circumjacent illands. The great rapidity of the tides in the narrow channels hetween long Inand and York Inand, and between Long Inland and Staten Ifland, increafed by the water of Hudfon and Eaft rivers, preferves the chaunel from being obitructed by ice; fo that mavigation is always open, except a few days when the weather is uncommonly fevere. Niybe, or Neiva, a fertile plain on the $S$ fide of the inand of St.Domingo; bounded E ly the bay and river of its name, on the $W$ by the siver of Dames, and the Pond of Henriquelle. It contains about 80 fquare leagues, abounds with game, and is a chofen fpot for ilamingoes, pheafants, and royal or crowned peacocks. Thefe laft have a more delicate flavout and more brilliant plumage than the peacocks of Europe. Nine leagues from the W bank of the Neybe is the town, containing about 200 houfes, and can tura out 300 men fit to bear arms. This town is 15 leagues $W$ by $N$ of Azua, and 16 from the point where the line of demarcation cuts Brackifh Pond. This territory produces a fort of plaifter, talc, and fonft falt. The natural re-production of the falt: is fo rapid, that a pretty large hollow is abfolutely filled up again in the courfe of a year. The river inight be rendered navigable for fmall craft, and the jlain is able. to afford eligible fituations for 150 fugar. plantations.

Niggara River and Falle: Niagara River connects the N E end of L. Erie with L. Ontario, and is about 30 miles in length ${ }_{2}$ from Fort Erie to Niagara Fort, and forms a part of the boundary between the $U$. States and U. Canada. It receives Chippeway or Welland River from the W, and Tonewanto Crcek from the E, and embofoms Great and Navy Iflands. Fort Slufler fands on the $\mathbf{E}$ fide of this river, near Navy Ifand. The Falls in this rivcr, are oppofite Fort Sluther, about 7 or 9 miles $S$ of L. Ontario, and form the greateft curiofity which this or any other country affords. In order to have a tol. crable idea of this ftupendous fall of water, it will oe necentary to conceive that part of the country in which Lake Erie is fituated to be elevated above that which contains Lake Ontario about 300 feet; the flope which feparates the upper and lower country is generaily very fteep, anil in many plares almoft perpendicular:

[^8]it is formed by horizontal frata of fone, great part of which is lime-fone. The tlope may be traced by the $\mathbf{N}$ fide of L . Ontario, near the bay of Torento, round the W end of the Lake; thence the direction is generally E. Between L. Ontario and L. Erie it croffes the frait of Niagara and the Genneffee River; after which it becomes laft in the country towards Seneca Lake. It is to this flope the country is indebted both for the Cataract of Niagara and the great Falls of Genneffee. The Cataract of Niagara, fome have fuppofed, was formerly at the northern fide of the flope near the landing; and that from the great length of time, the quantity of water, and the diftance which it falls, the folid fone is worn away for about 7 miles up towards Lake Erie,* and a chafm is formed which no perfon can approach without terror. Down this chafm the water rufhes with a moft aftonilhing noife and velocity, after it makes the great pitch. Here the fancy is conftantly engaged in the contemplation of the moft romantic and awful profpect imaginable; when the eye catches the falls, the contemplation is inftantly arreted, and the heholder admires in filence. The river is about 742 yards wide at the falls. The perpendicular pitch of this valt body of water produces a found that is frequently heard at the diftance of 20 miles, and in a clear day and fair wind, 10, and even 50 miles. A perceptible, tremuleus motion in the earth is felt for feveral rods round. A heavy cloud or fog is conflantly afcending from the falls, in which rainhows may always be feen when the fun fhines: This fog or fpray, in the winter feafon, falls upon the neighbouring trees, where it congeals, and produces a moft beautiful cryftaline appearance : this remark is applicible alfo to the Falls of Genneffice. It is conjectured that the water munt fall at leaft $6_{5}$ fect in the chaim; the perpendicular pitch at the cataract is $\times 50$ feet; other accuunts fay only 137 feet: to thefe add 58 feet, which the water falls the lat half mile iminediately above the falls, and we have 273, which the water falls in the diftance of $7 \frac{\pi}{2}$ miles. Animals fivimning near the Rapids above the Great Cataract are iuflantly hurried to deftruction. Juft be-

[^9]low the Great Pitch, the water and foam may be feen puffed up in large foherical figures ; they burft at the top, and project a column of the lpray to a prodigiuns height, and then fublicie, and are fucceeded by others which burft in like manner. This appearance is moft remarkable about half way between the ifland that divides the falls and the wefl fide of the frait, where the largeft column of water dcfeends. The defcent into the chaim of this Rupendous cataract is very difficult, on account of the great height of the banks; but when once a perfon has diefcended, he may go up to the foot of the Falls, and take fhelter belind the defceading colunn of water, between that and the precipice, where there is fpace fufficient to contain a number of people in perfect fafety, and where converfation may be held without interruption from the noife, which is lefs here than at a conGiderable diftance. On Clurittmas night, 1795, a fevere floock of an earthquake was felt here, and by which a large piece of the rock that forms the famous cataract was broken off.

Hin tomb. fone contains nothing but his name and the fimple record of the days and yeare of his birth and death: "Here, (fays the elegant writer of his eulogy, Dr. Rufo) thall the philofuphers of future ages refort to do homage to his tomb, and children yet unhorn hlad puint to the dome which covers it, and exultingly fay, "There lies our RittenDouff."

North America comprehen.3s all that part of the continent of America which lies N of the inthmus of Darien, extending N and 8 from about the s oth dcg . of N lat. to the North Pole; and E and W from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, between the 57 th and 168 th dege of $W$ long. from Greenwich. Beyond the 70th degree $N$ lat. few difcoveries have been made. North America was difcovered in 1495, in the reign of Henry VII. by John Cal,ot, a Venctian; and was then thickly inhabited by Indians. It is now fuppofed that therc are not more than two millinne and an half of the aborigines in N. and S. America. In July, 1779, Capt. Cuok, and fince Capt. Vancouver and miany others, have explored and dcferibed the weftern coaft of $N$. America. The formes proceeded as far as lat. 71 , when he canse to a folid body of ice from continent to continent. Thic interior country has been explured ly Mcfrs. Hearne and Mackenzie. The former went northward to the Frozen Ocean, at the muilh of Coppermine River. The latter embarked at Fort Chepewyan on the y of the Lake of the Fills, in lat. 5840 N , long. 110 30 W , in June ${ }_{3} 1789$, in a cance of bitch lark, with ro aflociates, 3 of whom were in anotier canoe. His courfe was northwefterly to feck the Frozen Occan. Mountains and vallies, dreary waftes and wide fpreading furefts, lakss and rivers, fucceed each other in his deferiptions. Very fmall bands of wandering lavigea were the only people lie difcoveted. Atter leavin? the Lake of the Hills, he entercd the slave Kiver, foom which he palted to the Slave Lake, a large body of frefh watcr, in alout lat. 6 I and $\mathrm{C}_{2} \mathrm{~N}$, and long. 1 ro to 120 W . The country round wears a barren afpect,but produccy a great variety of berrics, and is covered with large trees of fpruce-pine and white birch. Where thefe are deftroyed, poplare fucceed, though none were feen before. Firom this lake he entered Mackenzio's River, a deep and ipaciuus fream. On its banke he feund encampouente of Kuiftencail Indians, This wandering tribe fpread over a yaft extent of copntty. Their linguage is the fame as. that of the nativcs on the waters of the St. Lawrence and the coan of dabrador. They are of a moderate ftature, well proportioned and active. Their drefs i. fimple, conite thance open, and eycs hack. Thcir women are the moft comely of fivags, and not inattentive to their own porfons, but fill pay more attention to the decoration of the meii: Thefe people are affable, indulgent to their chitdren, and hofpitahile to frangers. Chanity they cemfider not as a virtuc ; they make remparary cxchanges of wives, and a proficr of thein to frangers is a part of the:r hofpitality; inect and le Ciality are not uncommon. At their funcerals the mourners cut off theihair, hacerate their Reth, hacken their faces ; and widens, as in the I. nf, fome. times facrifive thenfelves Smaking precodes all maters of importance. 'This facred rite ferths all diflerences berween contencing, perfons; it is never violated. No' petfoin may join in this folmm act, who has colabititcd with a wouran within 24 hours-he "is unclean."

After proceeding down this river to lat. 69 i N , and about long. 334 W , he reached the tide waters of the Frozen Occan; but in the middle of July was forbidden to procecd any further by cxtenfive fields of ice, and returned to Chepcwyan Fort, having been abfent roz daye. In Qetober, 1792, be procecded on a voyage to the N. Pacific Ocean. From the Lake of the Hills he afeended the Peace River, which in the dricft feafon is a quarter of a mile in breadth; the foil on each fide is low and rich. Like other unchrifianized people, the Indians on this river practife polygany. The women arc in the loweff tite of de hatement; more indecont and filthy than the men. The fciales perform all the drudery al. Jotted to brutes in civilized fociety, execpting what aid they reccive from a few finall dugs. While the mere carry nothing but a guin, hheir wivesand danghters follo or with fuch oppreflive burdens, that if they lay then down they are mable to raile them again. The property of the perfon deceafed is all deftroyed, that the fight of things con. nected with him, may not renew their grief. Thefe favages are great gamefters, purfuing the lonfinefs fometimes for a fuctcction of days and nights.
In the mountains which feparate the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceanis, are feveral chafins, which emit fmnke and fire with a fulphurenus fmell. Finding the freams of the well did not tend directly to the fea, Mr; Mackenzie proceeded by land for a confiderable time; finting in gencral a tolerable road or path made hy the favages. As he advanced nearce the ocean, the fettlements of the natives were more numerous and permaneut ; the manner of living more comtortable, the nate of fuciety furnewhat improved: men took a flare in domentic lahoure, and women were more refpected. A rchitecture was inproved ; painting and carving had made fome progrefs. The timber of a houfe was feen hewn on two fides; the cnd of the ridge-pole was carved in the form of a fuake's head; the infide of feveral buildings were decorated with painted hicroglyphics. In fome of their villages are temples fupported by pillars, carved in the fhape of men. Thefe are painted black and red. Their waters are fored with falmon, and they hof pitably invite the franger to flare in their plenty: a variety of berries enrich the feaf. Copper, iron and brafs are frequently fecin near the fea, which the natives had purchafed of European nipu. The foil is good; alder trees are $7 \frac{1}{6}$ feet in circumference and 40 fect without a branch; cedars are 24 feet in circumference and proportionably high. Willows, fpruce, hirch, and hemlock are common. Their cauocs of cedar carry 50 perfons. In fome inftances, when a perfon dics lic io buried till another of the family thall dereafe, then he is taken up and burned, :..d the other perfon laid in the fame grave. They holicue in a grod and exil Spirit, and have fealions for public and private worflip. Vines flourith here, and promife to be an article of profit. The wine is not inferior to Port. A great proportion of the produce of the back country, confifting of tobacco, wheat, Indian corn, \&ec. is carried to mat ket in S. Carolina and Virgin-: ia. The fouthern interior counties carry. their 'produce to Charlefton,' and the northern to Peterfburg, in Virginia. The exports from the lower parts of the State are tar, pitch, turpentine, rofin, Indian corn, boards, feantling, flaves, flingles; furs, tohacco, pork, lard, tallow, bees-wax; myrtle-ivax, and a few other articles; amounting in the year ending Sept. 30 th, 1791, to 524,548 dollars; in 1801, to 659,390 dollars. ' Their trade is chiefly with the Weft Indies and the northern States. 'In the flat country tiear the feacoaft, the inhabitants, during the fuminer and autumn; are fubject to intermitting fevers, which often prove fatal, as bilious or nervous fomptoms prevail. In the maritime diflricts the prevailing seligions are the Epifcopalian and Methodift. The weftern parts of this State, which have been fettled within the laft 40 years, are chiefly inhabited by Prefbyterians from Pennfylvania, the defcendants of people from the North of Ireland, and are exceedingly attached to the doctrines, difcipline and ufages of the church of Scotland. They are a regular and in. duftrious people. The Moravians have feveral flourifhing fettlements in the upper part of the State. The Friends or Quakers have a fettlement in New Gar. den in Guilford co. and feveral congregations at Pcrquimins and Pafquotank, The Methodifts and Baptifts are numerous and increafing. The General Affembly of N. Carolina, in Dec. 1789, paffed d law incorporating 40 gentlemen, 5 from tach diftrict, as truftes of the Univerlity of N. There is a tery good acadeiny at Warrenton, another in Williamborough, in Granville, and 3 or 4 ithers in the State, of confiderable note. It is now, in point of numbers, the fifth State in the Union. By the conflitution of this State, which was tatified in Dec.

The fenate is compofed of reprefentatives, $$$ from each co. chosen anuually by ballot. The houfe of conmons confifts of reprefentatives chofen in the fame way, 2 for each county, and onc for each of the towns of Edenton, New bern, Wilmington, Salifbury, Hilliborough, Halifax, and Faycttevillc. The hiftory of N. Carolina is lefs known than that of any other of the States. From the belt accounts that hiltory affords the firft permanent fettlement in N. Carolina was made about the year 1710, by a number of Palatines from Germany, who had been reduced to circumftances of great indigence, by a calainitous war. The infant colony renained under the general government of S. Carolina, till about the year 1729, when 7 of the proprictors, for a valuable confideration, vefted their property and jurifdiction in the crown; and the colony was erected into a feparate province, by the name of N. Carolina, and its prefent limits eftablifhed by an order of George II.

broad chine. They have 3 or 4 parallel Arokcs marked black on each clicek. They are meroie, covctrus and ungrateful. Always pleading poverty, they are mafters of deception. When they vilit the Englifh factorics, to obtain their wifl. .en, they will groan, ligh, and thed tears, affict to be laine, blind, bathe one elieck in tears, while the other exhibits a lignificant fimile. The leat refpet renders them insolerably infoleut, They will difguife their perfons, change their names, and fuborn falle witncifes to evade the payment of an honeft deht. Still they have fome good qualities; heing mild, temperate in drinking, bever guity of riot and violence. Their marriages are not attended with any cercmony. The woincn have no choice, but are betrothed by their parents in childhood. Men 40 years old often have wives 10 or 12. A man has as many wives as he pleafes, who perform all the drudgery, and hardert labour. The men art jealous, and divorces are common. The only cercmony for this is a drubbing, and turning the woman sut of doors. There are certain periods when the women are not allowed to dwell in the fame tent with their huf bands. At thofe times they a:c mbliged to build a frall hovel for themíelves. The women fometimes turn this cufom to their account: when they wifh to teave their hubbands, they have only, as is neceffary at thofe perinds, to creep under the eves of the tent, for they are not allowed to pafs through the door. Sometimes a woman will fio lcave her hulband for 4 or 5 days, twn or three times in a e:omb. Delicacy on the part of the hufbands forl lids inguiries. At thefe periods, the women may not walk on the ise of a river or lake, nor near the place where the men arc hurting beaver, ner near a tifhing net, whicls is fet, nor may they eat the head of any animal, nor may they walk in or acrof, the track where the head of a deer, movef, heaver, and fiveral other animals have becon drawn cer car. sidd. Many of thofe people boil their fond in vefels of biesh biatk, by cafting in hut fones, and ofica for want of wond their meat and fith are caren raw. Maggots, lice and hood ate among their dainties. The water and woods curuifl their fuppert ; fifh and game are plenty. When thefe fail, a black, hard mofs from the recks is a fubflitute. This is boiled, and affords comfortable, nourihment. Their principal difeaifs arc the feuryy, confumption, and flux. They have ne remedics, but the tricks of theis conjurutb. Supcrtition covers their minds with a difmal veil. The firft fifh caught in a new net, nuft be bioiled whole, wot a joint broken, the hones burned entire, or the net would not be wortha farthing. In the !raits which unite two lakes, they might often unite a few nets and fill the channel, and catch every gith that thouli pafn, but they featter them, faying that nie net wnuld be jcaleus of another, and not a filh would be taken. When any of their principal ladians die, it is believed they are conjured to death. So penstrated are their minds with the power of conjurors that only a threat has been known actually 10 occafion death. For a dear friend they mourn a ycar. The ciead are left on the ground to be de vocred by fowls and beafts. The aged and fick, who cannot travel, are left with a little water and provicions to die alone. The aged are always treated with ncglect, and fed with the meanef food. It has ever been 2 cuftom for a man to wreftle for the woman of his choice. A weak hufband is at the mercy of cvery neighbour Aronger than himfelf for the poffeflion of his wife. Hie is obliged to accept a challenge, and if thrown mult selign the friend of his life. A cuntom prevails of exchanging a night's lodging with each others wives. . This, inftead of being confidered as a brutal crime, as the pure morality of the gofpel teaches, is a feal of latting friendaip between the two familice. When either of the men die, the sther confiders himfelf bound to fupport the family deprived of a hufband and father. Two or three fifters are often wives to the fame hufband. Of religion they feem more deftitute than almont any other people. Their conjurors prectend to converfe with (pirits, hut neither they nor the people have any juft ideas of moralsa or religion. Nothing but prefont perfonal, or dumentic eviés difurtb their ninds. Of futurity thicy fem to bave no idea. To indulge their own paffions, and promote their.own intercll are their only oljects, total frangers to the morality of Chrifians, and the benevolence of the gofpel. How defirable it is that thefe ctreary abodes, of paganifon flould be checred with the glad tidings of life and immortality. . But of this the profpect is very remote, their wandering hife, their want of that fubordination which is common eyer among favagcs.

The coaft is inhabited by numerous but fmall tribes of Indians ; each tribe appearing to be independent, and governed by its own chief. They differ from each other in their language and cuftoms, and are frequently at war. It is impofible to afeertain with any degree of certainty the number of inhabitants ; but they have been computed at ro,000, from Nontka Sound to Cook's River, an extent of about 1,000 miles. The natives are for the mon part fhort in ftature, their faces, then and women; are in general flat and round, with high cheek bones and flat nofes, and their teeth white and regular. Their complexions are lighter than the fnathern Indians, and fome of their women have rofy cheeks. They have a cuftom of making a longitudinal nit in the under lip, between the mouth and chin; fome of them as large as the moutil; in which they wear a piece of bone, wood or ivory, fitted with holes in it, from which they fufpend beads as low as the chin. There appears to be a greater uniformity in the drefs of the differeht iribes, than in their ornaments. The chief object of civilized nations in navigating this coant litherto, has been to traffic with the natives for furs ; which they give in exchange for pieces of iron, nails, beads, penknives, and other trifing trinkets. Thefe firs are carried to China, and difpofed of to great protit. The fkins obtained are thufe of the fea otter, racoon, pine martin, land heaver, carlefs mammot, &c. The number of inhabitants in this State, in 1800 , was 42,179 . The principal rivers are the Murkingum, Hockhocking, Scioto, and Little and Great Miam:, which fall into the Ohio; and the Grand Miami of the Lakes, Sanduiky; Hurou, and Cayahoga, which empty into Lake Erie. The lands on thefe rivers are interfperfed with all the variety of foil which conduces to pieafautnefs of fituacion, and lays the foundation for the wealth of an agricultural and manufacturing people. Large level bottoms, or natural meadows, from 20 to 50 miles in circuit, are found bordering the rivers, and variegating the country in the interior parts. Thefe afford as rich a foil as can be imagined, and may be reduced to proper cultivation with very little labour. The prevailing growth of timber, and the more ufeful trees, are maple or fugar-tree, fycamore, black and white mulherry, bhack and white walnut, butternut, chef-nut, white, black, Spanifh and chefnnt oaks, hickory, cherry, buckwood or horfe chefnut, honey-locult, elm, cucumber tree, gum tree, iton wood, afly, afpin, faffafras, crab-apple tree, paupav, or cuftard apple, a variety of plum trees, nine bark fpice and leather wood buithes. White and black nak, and chefnut, with moft of the above mentioned timbers, grow large and plenty upon the high grounds. Both the high and low lands prodece greas quantities of natural grapes of various kinds. The fugar maple is the moft valuable tree, for an inland country. The inhabitunts may be fupplied with a fupficiency of ftigar, by preferving a few trees for the ufe of each family. A tree will yield about ten pounde of fugar a year, and the labour is very trifling. Springs of excellent water abound in this territory; and fmall and large fireams, for mills and other purpofes, are actually inierfperfed, as if hy art, that there be no deficiency in any of the conveniences of life. Very little wafte land is to be found in any part of this tract of country. There are no fwamps but fuch as may be readily drained, and made into arable and meadow land; and though the hills are frequent, they are gentle, and fwelling, no where high or incapable of tillage. They are of a deep rich foil, covered with a heavy growth of timber, and well adapted to the production of wheat, rye, indigo, tobacco, &ce. The hills and mountains on the E fide of the Ohio generally increafe io magnitude, till they unite with the Alleghany, but on the other fide, in the State of Ohio, they decreafe till the country becomes almoft a dead level. [Ellicoth.] The communication between this country and the fea, will principally be in the 3 following directions: 1 . The route through the Scioto and Mufkingum to Lake Erie, and fo to the rlver Hudion. 2. The paffage up the Ohin and Monongahela to the portage above mentioned, which leads to the navigable waters of the Patowmack. This portage is 30 miles, and will probably be rendered much lels by the execution of the plans now on foot for opening the navigation of thofe waters. 3. But the current down the Ohio and Miflifippi, for heavy articles that fuit the Florida and We&t india marikets, fuch as corn, flour, heef, lumber, &c. will be more frequently loaded than any freams on earth. The diftance from the Scioto to the Miffifippi, is 8co miles; fom thance to the fea, is 900.

This whole courfe is run in 15 daya. Vcf. Cels proper for the WeR India trade may be advantageouly built on the Ohio, and taken with a cargo, evcry anoual rife of the waters, down to New Orleans, or to she Wefl India Iflands. The experiment has already been made with fuccefs. [Ellicott.] No country is better flocked with wild game. The rivers are well nored with filh of various kinds, and many of them are of an excellent quality. They are generally large, though of different fizes; the cat-fifl, which is the largen, and of a delicious flavour, weighs from 6 to 80 pounds. The number of old forts, found in this wenern country, are the admiration of the curious, and a matter of much fpeculation. They are monlly of an oblong form, Gituated on ftrong; well chofen ground, and coutiguous to water. Wheu, hy whom, and for what purpofe thefe were thrown up, is uncertaid. They are undoubtedly very ancient, as there is not the lean vifible difference in the age or fize of the timber growing on or within thefe forts, and that which grows without ; and the oldof natives have lof all tradition refpecting them. By an ordinance of Congref!, paffed on the ${ }^{3}$ th of July, 1787, this country, including the Indiana Territory, the country $\mathbf{N}$ of it, and Wayne Ter:itory E of Lake Michigan, for the pirpofen of temporary government, was erected iato one diftriet, fubject, however, to a divifion, when circumntsuces fhould make it esped ent. The ordinance of Congrefs, of July $\mathrm{I}_{3}{ }^{\text {th }}$ ' 87 , article sth, provided that there flould be formed in this territory, not lefs than 3, nor more than 5 States; and that the boundaries of the States thould become fixed and eftaolifhed as follows, viz. the weftern State in the faid territory to be bounded on the Miflifippi, the Ohio and Walaflı Rivers ; a direet line drawn from the Wabaifi and Pofe Vincents due $\mathbf{N}$ to the territorial line hetween the United States and Canada, and by the faid territorial line to the Lake of the Woods and Miffifippi. The middle State to be bounded by the faid direet line, the Waballa from Port Vincents to the Ohio ; by the Ohio by a dirę line drawn due $\mathbf{N}$ from the mouth of the Great Miami to the faid territorial line, and by the faid territorial line. The eaftern State to be bounded by the lant mentioned direct line, the Ohio, Pennfylvania, and the faid territorial line : Provided however, that the boundarica of thefe three States fhall be fubject fo far to be altered, that if Congrefs licreafter flall find it expedient, they haall have authority to form one or two States, in that part of the faid territory which lies N of an $E$ and W line drawn through the foutherly hend or extreme of Lake Michigan ; and when any of the faid States fhall have 60,000 free inhabitants therein, fuch fate to be admitted hy its delcgates into the Congrefs of the United States, on an equal footing with the original States in all refpects whatever; and to be at libcrey to form a permanent confritution and State government. On the 3d of Augun, 1795, a treaty was formed at Grenvillc, hetween Major Geu. Anthony Wayne, on the part of the United States, and the Chiefs of the following tribes of Indians, viz, the Wyandots, Delawares, Shawanoes, Ottawas, Chippewas, Putawatimes, Miamis, Eel River, Weeas, Kickapuos, Pian-Kanhaws and Kalkafkias. By the 3 d article of this treaty, the Indiane cede to the United States, for a valuable confideration, all lands lying eaftward and fouthward of a line "heginning at the mou:h of Cayahoga River, and running theace up the fame to.the portageletweca :hat and the Tufcarawas branch of the Mufkingum ; thence down that branch to the crofing place above Fort Lawrcuce ; thence wefterly to a fork of that branch of the Great Miami River, running into the Ohio, where cornmences the portage between the Miami of the Ohio, and St. Mary's River, which is a liranch of the Miami of the Lake ; thence a we? erly courfe to Fort Recovery, which ftands on a branch of the Wabafh, then fouthwefterly in a direct line to the Oinio, fo as to interfect that river oppofite the mouth of Kentucky or Catawa River." Sixteen tracts of land of 6 and 12 miles fquare, interiperfed at cenvenient diflances in the Indian country, werc, by the rame treaty, ceded to the United States, for the couvenience of keeping up a friendly and beneficial intcrcourfe between ibe partics. The United States, on their part, "relinquill their claims to all other Indian lands northward of the river Ohio, eaftward of the Mififippi, and weftward and fouthward of the Great Lakes and the watcrs uniting them, according to the houndary line agrced on by the United States and the king of Great Eritain, in the treaty of peace made between them in the year $1 ; 83$. The bed of the nirthern branch is worn into channely by the couflant courfe of the water, and attrition of the pehble-ीnnes carried on with that, fo as to be paffable for batteaux through the greater part of the year. Yet it is thought that the frouthern arns may be mun eafily opened for conflant navigation. The rife of the waters in there Rapids does not exceed 20 or 25 feet. In fome places the fall is perpendicular, but the main body of the water, when the rivcr is low, rums along a clannel of a tolerally regular flope which has been worn in the rock. In the Spring, when the river is full, the rapids are fcarcely pereeprible, and boats defcend, without difficulty or danger. The situation of the Rapids is truly delightful. In levelling the defcent of thefe Rapids, it has been found to be $22 \frac{1}{2}$ feet in two miles. In defcending them, the danger arifes not fo much froin the fivifnefo of the current $2 s$ from funken roeks, and the fhallownefs of the water. Oronoke, or Oronoque, one of the lárgct rivers of S . Thefe alternate changes are regular, and even invariable. Pcrhaps the rifing of the waters of the river may depend on the rains which conflantIy fall in the mountains of the Andes, (where the river has its fource) every year about the month of April ; and though the height of the flood depends much upon breadth or extent of the hed of the river, yet in one part where it :s narrowcft, it rifes to the aftonifhing height of 120 feet. The mouth of the rivcr is Shy E of the Gulf of Paria, in lat. 830 N , and long. 5950 W , and oppofite to the Inand of Trinidad. It may be confidered, however, as having many mouths, which are formed by the iflands that lie before its opertipg towards the ocean ; yet there are only tivo that are confidered as of any wfe for the purpofes of inavigation. Thefe are the channels of Sabarina and Corobana, otherwife called Caribbiana. But pilots pretend to fay, that the mouth of this great river begins from the river Amugora, reaching from thence to the river Sabarima, and from thence about to the river Caribbiana: and fome aecounts fate its mouths to be 40 in number, as if it were a collection of many rivers, all uniting at the motin of the great river, and affiling to convey the main fream of that river into the ocean. The weft paffage or channel of the river Oronoko, called by the Spaniards the Gulf of Paria, lies between Cape Salinas on the main and the north-weft point of the ifland of Trinidad. It contains feveral iflands, which divide the fream of the river into feveral branches, particularly the Great Boco, or Mouth, which is the eafternmoft, being about gun-hot wide, but having 10 foundings, with 300 fathoms, and the Little Boco, or Mouth, which is the wefternmof, being almon as wide as the other; and having ground at from 50 to 60 fathoms. The inhabitants of late years have taiken down their grain with faffty, on rafts, to the Muntreal markets. Many think that the lumber trade is carried on with more fafety down thefe rapids, than by thofe which pafs Chambly, from Lake Champlain ; it being a frequent obfervation at Quebec, that the rafts from the upper St. Lawreace are lefo ragged than thofe which come from Lake Champlain. There is however fome little additional tifk to the rafts from U. Canada, by reafon of having to pafs the fmall lakes St. Francis and St. Louis ; all broad waters bcing more or lefs againt the rafting trade. But as the lake St. Pierre, which is larger than either St. Francis or St. Louis, mulh be paffed, whethet from Lake Champlain or the Upper St. Lawrence, there is no doubt but the lumber trade will find its way down the St. Lawrence. Some fetlers have already macle the attempt, even from the head of the Bay of Quinti; and when the produce of that very fertile country fliall he exported for the Montreal or foreign markets, the raft will anfwer a double purpofe; it requircs but a fcw hands to manage it, and grain or pot-afl may be carried as dry as in any other way.

The whole illand is furrounded by a reef of coral rocks, within, which the flore forms feveral excellent bays and harbours, where there is room and depth of water for any number of the largent fluips. The face of the comntry, except that part of it which borders upon the fea, is very uneven; it rifes in ridges that run up into the middle of the illand, and there form mountains, that may be feen at the diftance of 60 miles. Between thefe ridges and the fea is a horder of low land cxtending along all the coaft, except in a few places, where the ridges rife directly from the fca. The houfes do not form villages or towns, but are ranged along the whole hurder, at the difance of about so yards from each other. When the inind was firlt difeovered, hogs, dogs and poultry were the only tame auimals; ducks, pigeons, paroquets, with a few other birds, and rats, the onily wild animals. Patterfon, a town in Bergen co. N. Jerfey, called fo in honour of the governor of the State of that name, and now one of the judges of the Supreme Federal Court. It was eftablifted in confequence of an act of the legiflature of N. Jerfcy, in 179x, incorporating a manufacturing company with peculiar privileges. Its fituation, on the Great 1alls of Pafraic River, is healthy and agrecable. It now contains about 50 dwelling houres, independent of thofe appropriated for the machinery; and it is certainly one of the moft convenient fituations for a manufacturing town, of any on the continent. This company was incorporated to enconrage all kinds of manufactures, and the fure of 500,000 dollars was foon fubfcribed; liut for want of expetience, and a proper knowledge of the bufinefs, much was cxpended to little purpofe; and they were at laft reduced to the neceflity of having recourfe to a lottery to anlift them in carrying their plan into execution. It is 19 miles $\mathbf{N E}$ of Morriftown, 10 N of Newark. N lat. 40 12, W loug. 74 57.

The confluent fream empties into Providence River about a milc below Weyloffet, or the Great Bridge. The fall, in its whole length, is upwards of fifty fect; and the water paffes through feveral chafms in a rock, which, extending diametrically acrofs the bed of the fream, ferves as a dam to the water. Several mills have been erected upon thefe falls; and the fpouts and channcls which have been confructed to conduct the freams to their refpective wheels, and the bridge, have taken very much from the heauty. and grandcur of the feene; which would otherwife have been indefcribably charming and romautic.

There are fix coniderable rivers, which, with their numerous branches, peninfulate the whole State, viz. the Delaware, Schuylkill, Sufquehannah, Youghiogany, Mo nongahela, Alleghany, and Juniatta. The bay and river Delaware are navigable up? to the Great or Lower Falls at Trenton, 155 miles from the fea, and a thip of the line can afcend to Pbiludicplin, the metropolis, $\mathbf{1 2 0}$ miles from the fea, by the thip channel of the Dclaware. The other parto of the State are gencrally level, or agreeahly variegated with hills and vallies.'The foll of Pennfylvania is of varinus kinds; in fome parts it is barren, but a great proportion of the State in good land; and no inconfideralle part of it is very good. The richeffernct that it in fetted, is Lancafter co. and the valley thruigh Cumberland, Yurk and Franklin. The richefl that is unfetted, is between Alleghany River and Lake Frie, in the northoef part of the state, and in the country on the heads of the eaftern branches of the Alleghany. Pennfylvania includes the greater part of the kinds of trees, flhrubh, and plants, that grow within the U. States. Oaks, of feveral fpecies, form the bulk of the woods. Hickory and walnut make a greater proportion than in the northern States. Saliairas, mulberry, tulip tree, and cedar, are cummon and grow to perfection. The moanolia glouca, or fwamp faffafras, is found in low grounds; the twigs and roots are ufed buth in bath and decoction for removing the rheumatifin. The magnolin acuminata, or cucunber tree, grows very tall about the wefeen mountains. The micgumbic tripetola, of cunbrella tree, is found in Come parts 16 or 20 feet high. The bark is fmuoth, and the leaves fometines exceed 12 or 15 inches in length, and 5 or 6 in hreadth, terminating in a point at each extremity. The leaves are plaeed at the ends of the branches, in a circular form, refenbling an umbrelia; heace the name. The hark of the tulip tree is efteemed a tolerable fubftitute for the Peruvian bark; but the comus florida, or dogwond, which is frequent in the State, is preferred. Befides nany other valuabletrece and Ihrubs, are the feveral fpecics of maple : of thefe the fearlet fowered and fugar maple are the mof ufeful; they are common in the horthern and weftern parts of the State, and are larger than the other fpecles, growing from 50 to 60 feet high, and yield ahundinnce of fap for the making of flugar. The afh-lcaved tooth-ach tree, is found here and in Maryland. The bark and caprales have an acrid tafte, and are ufed in relieving the tooth-ach, whence it has got its name. The fhrubby bithwort growe near Fort Pitt. It thrives in the thade, in a rich foil; growa about 30 feet high, and feuds off many twining branches. The roots have a lively aromatic tante, and are thought to have equal medicinal virtue to the finall Virginfa finake-rout, The fambucess canedenfis, or red-herried elder, in found here. Among the Indians it is called fever-buth; and a decoction of its wood and buda io highly efleemed by them. It would be endlefs to deicribe the beautiful flowering fhrubs, and uffeful as allo ornamental planto in this Stere. Grapes of feveral forts are common: the late kind, when mellowed by frof, makc, with the addition of fugar, goond wine. The apples, pears, plums, and peaches nre good. At prefent, the cultivation of the vine is much in rogue in Pennfylvania, and good wine has beetls already inade. Iron ore alounds in this State: copper, lead, and allum appear in fome places. limefone is commion, as alfo feveral kinds of marble. In the middice atd weffern country is abundance of coal. At the head of the wefern bransh of Sufquehamiah is an cxtenfive bed, whirh fretches over the country fouthweftwardly, fo as to be found in the greaten plenty about Pittburg. There are alfo confideratle bodies on the head waters of the Sehaylkill and Lehigh; and at Wyoniug there is a bed open, which gives very intenfe heat. Ufeful quadru. peds, in the new diftrles, are deer, in great numbers, beavers, otects,' racoons, and martins. Buffalues rarely crofs the Ohio, and elks feddom advamce from the N. Panthers; wild cats, hears, foxes and wolves are not rare; the laft do mort mifchief, efpecially in the winter; but the fur and faing of all are valuable. In the thick fetemente, rabbits and fquirrels are frequent; alfo minks and murkrats in marhes; partridges are yet inumerous, though the late hard winters have deftroyed many, and wild turkies in the new fetterments; pheafants and groufe are hecome fearce; pigeons, ducks and wild geefe are generaliy found in pleney in their proper feafons. Here are a great number of finging birds, as many migrate to this State from $\mathbf{N}$ and S in certain feafens. Trouts are common in the rivulets, in length feldom above a foont. In the caftern rivers, the principal fifh are rock and flicep's head, with fhad and herring, which, in the fpring, come up from the fea in great theals. Thefe are not found in the weftern waters, which are faid to have their own valuable kinds, éfpecially a fpecies of cat-fith, weighing from 50 to 100 pnunds; yellow perch and pike are alfo in them much larget und more numerous. The $S$ fide of PennSylvania is the beft fettled throughout, -wing entirely to the circumfance of the wenern'road having been run by the armiet, priar to $\$ 762$, through the themus of Lancafter, Carlite and Bedford, and thence to Pittiburg. For the purpofe of turning the side of fetlert from this old channei into the unfetted parts of the State, the goverament and landed intersit of Peanfylvania have been, and are nill, bufy in cutting convenient roads. A road is cut from the mouth of the ticuga, fouthward to the mouth of Loyal, which empties inte the $W$ hranch of sufquechannah. Anuther road is cut from Hunting. dun town, on Frank', Town branch of Juniatta, wh 30 miles to Conemagh, a navigable branch of the Alteghany. A turipike road has been lately completed from Philadelphia to Lancafter, which fhortens the diftance hetween thefe places 8 miles; and another in made between Philadelphia and Germantown. From Swetara to the Tulpehoken branch of the Schuylkill, a canal and lock navigation is un dertaken, and the works commenced, by au incorporated company, whufe capital is 400,000 dollary. This leads through the Schuylkill to Philadelphia. When this shall be effected, which it is expected will be in" few yearn, a palfage will be open to Philadelphia from the Juniatta, the Tioga, and the E and W branches of the Sufquehannah, which water at leant 25,000,000 of acres. From this junction, the general courfe of the Sufqueliannah is about $S \mathrm{E}$, until it falls into the head of Chefapeak Bay at Havre de Grace. See Tioga River. On the completion of the prefent plans, the State will be as conveniently interfected loy roads as any other of its fize in the Uaion, which will greatly facilitate the fettlement of its new lands. A lighe view of the map of Pennfolvania will beft fhew how fincly it is lituated for inland navigation. Nature has done fo much for inland land carriage, that although Philadelphia and Lake Erie are diftant from each other ahove 300 miles, there is no doubt but that the rivers of the State may be fo improved, as to reduce the land carriage between them nine tenths. In the fame way the navigation to Pittfburg, after due improvement, may be ufed infead of land carriage for the whole diffance except 23 miles. By thefe routes it is clear, that a large proportipn of the foreign articles ufed on the weftern waters what be trayfpotied, and their furs, fkins, ginfeng, hemp, flaz, pue afl, and other commodities brought to Philadelphia. Pennfylvania has the various kinds of grain, \&e. common to the nelghbouring States, liut wheat is the principal grain of very general cultivation. The manufactures of this State are of numerous kinds. Irou works are of long fanding, and their products increafe in quavtity, and improve in quality. The furnaces, feveral years ago, were 16 , and the forges 37. There were 18 rolling and flitting millw, which eut and rolled 1500 tons a ycar. The forges, if properly conducted, manufacture each 170 tuns of bar iron a ycartotal 6,290 tous. Befides pigs can at the furnaces, there are pots, kettels, pans, ovens, lades, longs, thnvels, andirons, plough-irons, fpades, hoes, fhectirm, hoops; ; iron and fiecl work for pleafure and working carriages; anails, bolts, fikes; various iron-work for hips, mills and buildings, cannon balls, and fome mulk. ets ; feythes, fickles, axcs, drawing-kuives, fome faws and planes, and othicr tools. The other extenfive manufactures are ninmerous, viz. thofe of leather, ikins, and fur, wood, paper, gurnpowder, bricks, earthen ware, copper, lead, tin warc. pewter, cotton, fagar, molafies, robacco, \&e. \&ec. There are upwards of 52 paper mills in the State; and their annual pror duct is computed at 25,000 dolls. Since the year 1770, 25 gunpowder mills have been crected. There are ahout 300,000 wool and fur hats mannfaqured atmually in the State; nearly one half of which are of fur. In the manufacture of iron, paper, pleafure carriages, and calinet work, Pennfylvania exieeds not enly New Xork, but all her fifter States. Much cotton is vorked up in families; and imported linen is now printed, in an increafing dcgree. The manufactures of Penufylvania lave greatly increafed within a fem years, as well by mater werkmen a ad journeymen from abroad, as by the kill and indultiy of the natives. Sume perfons have begun to prefs oil from hickoty nuts. The Mefirs. Marfialls of Philiadelphia, have commenced the making of Glauler falt, fal ammoniac, and volatiie falts ; they already fupply the whole Union with the iorirl article, and export a part of the othors. A mill of Rumiay's (the impravencent of Barker's) near (lyns city. grindas by Fater, flour, chucolite, fnuff, hair-powder, and muhurd ; , Nielly chocolate nuts urefifs and cute totaceo fot hewwing and fruaking; and holts theil. The water-works near the falls of Trenton, which grind grain, roll and fit Iron, and pround plaifter of Paris, exhibit greit mechanifa. Card manufactories are lately fot up. The hand machines for carding and fpinming cotton have heen introduced and Improved. Sir Richard Arkwright's fammis water riill for fpinniug cotton yarn has been obtained; alfo the machinery to fivcr, tove, and fpin flax and hicmp into threded, eit for linen of thirty cuts to the pound; which will alfo ferve fir the roving and fpiuning eombed wom into worted yarn. Screws for paper mills are now cint from folid caft iron. Lanterns for light houfes are made by Mr. Wheeler of Philadelphia; who alfo executes work for fugar mills in the Wefl Indies: during the war he made cannon fromia wrought iron. The commerce of Pennfylvania with the caftern and fouthec: States, is in great part, an exclange oif faple commodities. Wheat flour and bar iron are expotsed to New England for whale oil and bone, fpermaceti, feal ikins, mackerel, cod filh and falmon, Rhode Mand and Conuecticut cheefe; to South Carolina and Georgia for live oak, cedar, cotton, rice, and indigo; to North Carolina for tar, pitch, turpentine, and lureber. Much of the trade with the fouthern States arifes from the fuperiority of Pennfylvania in manufactures and commerce. Great quantities of deer finins. with thofe of otters, racoons, foxes, mufk rats, and beavers, are imported from the back conntry. Virginia lends a ge eat deal of wheat, and unmanufactured tohacco. In return, flre rectives many articles of clothing, furniture, farning utenifls, equipage; fome Eaft India and European gnods; and even Wen India produce; of all thefe, more or lefts, according to the local inprovement and fituation. Hats, faddlery, flocs, windfor chairs, earriages, tiewn fones, iton caltings for domeftic ufe, wheel tire, fpades, hoes, axes, paper, books, tin ware, and lirufhes, conftitute a great proportion of the exports to the fouthward. Numerous droves of lean cattle come from the weftera parts of thefe States, where they have a wide range, hut want meadow. Virginia fends coal, fome lead, and peach hrandy. This liquor ako comes from Maryland; but from both in quantity very fmall, conlidering its value, and the facility of raifing the fruit, The eaftern Suore of Maryland femade to Philadclplia concidèrabie quantities of wheat, and int dian corn : from the weftern comes the kite-font tolacea. The trade with New York depends chiefly or the fuctuation of the market. American and foreign goods, of the fame kinds; ate carried between the rwo capital cities, as thicre prices fall and rife. Alhany peas and craw fifh are; however; articles in regular demand from New York: Great past of Netw Jerfey and Delaware State have, as neighbours, much intercourfe with Pennfylvania. The firf fupports in a great meafure the market of Philadelphia, furnilhes rye meal, much tndian corn and lumber, and fome iron bloomery : the other fends great quantlics of excellemt flour from the mills of Brandywiac, lumber from the diftrict on the bay, and fat cattle froni the paftures adjoining Delaware. Many of thefe, and of thofe fatténed in the vicinity of Philadelphia, are brouglt from the $S$; and alfo from the banks of Hudfon and Connecticut Rivers; as far as Vermont and Maffachufetts; The commerce of Pennfylvania, in the W, is ly the Ohio with Louifianai, and by the lakes with the Britifh dominions; and both ways with the Indian tribes. At prefent nearly the whole foreign commerce is carried on by the port of Philadelphia. Its diftance from thic fea, and its clofing by ice in the winter; are difadvantages ; but the firt is leffened by improved pilotage: the other by the conItruction of the piers helow; and by the occafional thaws which pernit vefiels to clear their way dnining the winter. Ir common feafons the navigation is obfructed fix weeks; a fhorter peric: is as probalile as a longer; though it fome hard wintera, loads of wood have paffed the river, near the city, in the firft days of March. The amount of exports from this State, in 1801 , was $\mathbf{~} 2,6,67,475$ dolls: The inhahitants are principally the defcendants of Englifit Irih and Germans, with fome Scorch, welch, Swedes, ard a few Dutch. There are many of the Irifh and Germans who emigrated when young or midelle aged: The Priends and Epiff copalians are chiefly of Englifh extraction, and compofe about one third of the inhahitanta. A proportionate affemblage of the national prejudices, the manners, cuftoms, religions and political fentiments of all thefe, will form the Pennfylvanian character. The literary, humane, and other ufeful focictics, are numerous in Pennfylvania. There is an univcraty at Philadelphia, mand colleges at Carline, Lancafter, and Wahhington. The Epifcopalians have an acaidemy at Yorktown in York co. There are al. foacademies at Germantowa, w litthburg, at Wallington, at Allen's 'Town, and owher places; thefe are endowed by donatious from the legiflature, and hy liberal contributions of individuals. The bar lies in lat. $30 \mathrm{r} 5^{*} \mathrm{~N}$, and long. 8714 W , and admits of veffels drawing no more than 21 feet water. The town of Penfacola, the capital of W. Florida, lying along the beach of the bay, is of an oblong form, healthy and dclightfully fituated, and is al:out a mile in length, and a quarter of a unite in breadth. While in poffeffion of the Britifh it contained feveral hundred habitations ; and many of the public buildings and houfes were fpacious and ele gant. The governor's palace is a large ftone building, ornamented with a tower, built by the Spayiards. Since this place has been in poffefion of the Spaniards it has been on the decline. The exports from this town, confifting of fkins, logwond, dying. ftuff and filver dollars, amounted, while in the poffeflion of the Britinh, to $\oint_{6} 6,000$ annually. The average value of imports. for three years, from Great-Britain, was f07,000. The town and fort of Penfacola furrendered to the arms of Spain, in the ycar 1781, and with then the whole province. The old fortifications flood on fone fand hills back of the eity, too diftant to yield any fubflantial protection. The eutrance into the bay is defended by a fmall fort on the W end of Rofe' Hiland, and a battery on the main land nearly oppofite. It is remarkable, riat in fome places it never rains, which defect in fupplied by a dew that falls every night, and fufficiently refrefhes the vegecable creation; but in Quito they have prodigious rains, attended by dicadful porms of thunder and lightning. In the inland parts of Peru, and by the banho of the rivers, the fai! is ufually very fertile; but along the fea-coaft, it is a barron fand. Vaft numbers of cattle were imported by the Spaniards into Peru, when they took poffeffion of that country; theie are now fo increafed, that they run wild and ate hunted like game. This country produces fruits peculiar to the climate and moft of thofe in Europe. The culture of maize, of pimento and of cotton, which was found eftablified there, has not been neglected; and that of wheat, barley, caffava, potatoes, fugar, and of the plive and vine is attended to. The goat has thriven very well; hut the fleep have degenerated, and their wool is become extremely coarfe. In the northern parts of Peru are feveral gold mines; but thofe of filver are found all over the country, particularly in the neighbourhood of Potofi. Nature never offered to the avidity of mankind, in any country on the globe, fuch rich mines as thofe of Potofi. Thefc famous mines were accidentally difcovered in the year 1545 , in this manner : ' An Indian, named Hualpa, one day following fome deer, which made directly up the hill of Potofi, came to a fteep craggy part of the hill, and the better to pnable him to climb up, laid hold of a thrulh, which came up by the roots, and laid open a mafs of filver ore. He for Come time kept it a fecret, but afterwards revealed it to his friend Guanca, who, pecaufe he would not difcover to him the method of refining it, aequainted the Spaniard his mafter, named Valaroel, with the difcovery. Valaroel regiftered the mine in 1545 ; and from that time till 1638 chefe mines of Potofi had yielded $395,619,000$ pieces of eight, which is about $4,255,000$ pieces a year. Potofi is about 20 or 25 leagues from the city of La Plata. The hill, and alfo the country for a confiderable diftance round, is quite barren and defart, and produces nẹither mee, plant nor herb, fo that the inlrabit-

ants of Potofi, which is fituated at the foot of the hill, on the S fide, are obliged to procure all the neceffaries of life from Peru. Thefe mines begin to decreafc, and others rife in reputation. It is impoffible to afcertain with any degree of precifion the number of inlabitants in Peru. The city of Iima is faid so contain 54,000 ; Guagaquill, 20,000; Potofi, 25,000; La Pas, 20,0c0, and Cufco, 26,000. Aming all the inhabitants of Pcru, pride and la. zinefs are faid to be the moft predurninant paliions. Avarice may likewife be attributed to fome of them with a great deal of propriety. There is very little commes ie in this fine country, except in the cities and large towns, which are deferibed under their refpective names, The ehief manufacturea are carried on by the Indians; thefe confift chietly of leather, woollen and cotton ftuff, and earthen ware; in the fabrication of which, they are faid to be peculiarly ingenicing. The Indians and negroes are forbidden, under the fevereft pemalties, to intermarry; for divifion between thefe two claffes, is the great inftrument, in which the Spaniards truff for the prefervation of the colonies. Peru is governed by a viceroy, whn is abfolute; but it being impoffible for him to fuperintend the whole extent of his government, be delegates a part of his authority to the feveral andiences and courts, eftabliflied at different placos throughout his territories. At Lima there is a treafury court for receiving a fifth of the mines, and certain taxes paid by the Indians, which belong to the king of spain. Thereare certain waters in this country, which in their courfe turn into fone; and fountains of Hiquid matter, called enppey, refembling pitch and tar, and uled by leimen for tie fame purpofe. On the coatha of Guagaquill and Guatimala are found a certain fpecies of fnails, which yield the purple dye liveclehrated by the ancients, and which the moderns have fuppofed to have heen loft. The thell that contains them is fixed to rweks, watered by the fea. It is of the lize of a large. nut. Various methods are ufed to cxtract the purple matter from the animal. There is no colour that can be compared to this, either in luftre or permanence. Here is allo found a new fubitance ealled the Platina, and which may be condere. ed as an cigblb metal. nothing more than a combination of thefe two metals; but late experiments of ehymifts fully prove, that it is a purc and fimple metal, with properties peculiar to itfelf. It cannot be affected by any fimple acid, or by any known folvent, exeept the aqua regia ; it will not tarnif, in the air, neither will it ruft ; it unites to the fixednefs of gold, and to the property it has of not being fufceptible of defruction, a hardnefs almoft equal to that of iron, and a much greater difficulty of fufion. It is of an intermediate colour, between that of iron and filver; it can be forged and extended into thin plates; and when diffolved in aqua regia, it may be made to aflime, by precipitatio: an infinite diverfity of colours ; and Couut Milby has fucceeded in varying thefe precipitates fo much, that he has a piccure painted, in the colouring of which there is fearce any thing but platina made ufe of. Upon the whole, from conGidering the adv: atages of the platina, we cannot but conclude that this tnetal deferves, at leaf, from its fupcriority to all others, to fhare the title of king of metals, of which gold has fo lorig becn in porseflion. The Peruvian bark, fo famous at prefent for curing intermittent fevers, is likewife found here. The tree from which it is taken grows upon the gope of mountains, and is about the fize of a common eherry-tree. 'It is diftinguifled into three kinds; the red, yellow, and the white; hut the red is found to be the beft and moft efficacious. The Jefuits carried this bark to Rome as early as $\times 639$; but the natives are fuppofed to have been acquainted with its medicinal qualities many ages before.

by it was intended, in the urigina! plan, to ferve only as a cart way to decomnodate the wharves and furee, fo that the river thould be open to the view from Front ftrect. Dock ftreet was tormerly a fwamp. with a fmall frcam ruming liremgh, the middle of it. It is from 9, to 100 fect wide, and wind norihweltward iva a ferpentine track, through teveral fiteets. It is planted ins each tide with a row of Lomliardy poplars, and pramifes to be one of the pleafinteft freets in the city. No lefs thin 662 lamps of two hiranches cach, difpofed at coovenient dift.nnes, in all parts of the city, are lighted every night, and are eftimated to comfunc annually, acarly 9,000 gallono of oil. The houfes in the city and fururis, are generally of brick, thiree forics high, in a plain neat ftyle, without muth difplay of ornanment. The gencral height of the ground on which the city ft.nds, is nearly 40 feet above the Delawre; but fome of the ftreets are confiderably lonver, particularly Watcr flrect; feveral fores in which, have fometimes reccived nuueh damage when the river happened to he raifcil by a high flood, and n nocug S E wind. Stases. Mr. D. Tanclicrger, a member of the Society of the United Brethren, at Letiz, a m.nn of extraordinary mechanical genius, completed and erected a large organ for this church, but it received much injury when the roof and infide of the building were confumed, before the pipes could be difengaged. Chrift Chureh flands on the W fide of Second ftrect, bezween High and Mullerry flreets. It is an old Guthic Aructure, and is orunmented with 2 handfone feeple, alad furnithed with a chine of hells. The Eyifcopal churches are furnifhed each with an organ, as are the German, and twn of the Roman Catholic churches. The African shurch is a large, neat building. It is fupplied with a negro clergyman, who has been latcly ordained by the biflop. They are of the Epifcopalian order. The othcr public luildings are a Prefloterian church in Arch frcet, at the corner of Mullerry and Third frect, a State houfe and offices, 2 city cours houfes, a county court houfe, an univerfity, the philufophical fociety's hali, a pultic filbrary, an hofpital, difpenfaty, an almshoufe, a gacl, 3 incorporated bank:s, 2 dramatic theaures, a medical theatre, a labaratory, an amphitheatre, 3 brick market houfes, and one which is to be erected in Front flrcet, in the Northern Liberties, a fifh market, a houfe of corrcction, and a powder magazine which contains often upwards of 50,000 quarter calks of gunpowder. Two fteam engine houfes have lately been erected for fupplying the city with whelefome water from the Schuyikill. One of thefe is a handfome marble builciing, the bafe of which is fquare, and the fupcrfructure circular. It fands in the centre of High and Broad freets, exactly upon the point of interfection, and is furrounded by a large circular inclofure, which is platted wirh trees. This huilding commands a vicw of High ftrect in its whole extent from river to river, and is itfelf a handfome oljecet, as feen from various parts of the city. The fate houfe flands on the $S$ fide of Chefnut frreet, hetween Fifth and Sixth fireets, and was erected about the year 1753; and, conEdering the infancy of the colony, the architecture is much admired. The fate houfe garden occupics a whole fquare; it is a fimall neat place, ornanented with feveral rows of trees and gravel walks, and inclofed by a light brick wall on three fides, and the fate houfe, &c. on the other. Pottersfield, formerly a public burying

When the treas arc zruwn, and the ground levelled, it will ve nuc of the mon pleafant promenades in the vicinity. In the $\mathbf{N} \mathbf{E}$ corner of the yard, adjoining the left wing of the fate houfe, is the cuwn hall or new court linufe; $S$ of which is the philofupliical hall. Thofe who prefer their chamhers to read in, may reeeive books out of the library, by leaving a depofit, as fecurity for the return of them, and paying a moderate fum for the ufe of them. The propric. tors amount to feveral hundreds, and each fubferiber pays ten fillings annually, for defraying expenfes and making new additions. To the litrary is annes ed a rare and valuahle collection of hook the bequeft of Jarnes Logan, Efg. to the pullic. This town was laid out on Penn's plan, in the year 1765, on the caftern bank of the Monongaliela, about 200 yards from Fort du Quefne, which was taken from the French, by the Britifh, in 1760, and who changed its name to Fort Pitt, in honour of the late Earl of Chatham. On every fide,' hills covercd with trees, appear to add fimplicity and heauty to the feene. At the diftance of roo miles up the Alleghany is a fmall creck, which, in fome places, boils or bubbles forth, like the waters of Hell Gate, in N. York 'State, from which proceeds an oily fulsfance, deemed by the people of this comntry, fingularly beneficial, and an infallible cure for weaknefs in the ftomach, for sheumatic pains, for fore hreafts in women, bruifes, \&c. The oil is gathered by the country people and Indians, who boil it, and briug it to Pittfburg for fale; and Vol. I.

Formerly the produce of the finhery was fold at $3ofon, or Satem ; it is now almof wholly exported from'the town, and core Ciderable guantities of filit have been lately purchafed at Botton, and exported from Plymouth. 'The proceeds of the forcign voyages are generally conveycd to Bofon for a market.

The loffes and fufferings of the inhahitants of Plymouth, during the war for independence, were extreme. Their vef rels were almoft all captured or loft. The men who ufed to be employed in them, were difperfed in the fea and land fervice, in whicli many of them lof their lives; a great number of widowe and orphans were left deflitute; bufinefs languilhed; houres, fores, and wharves went to decay, and a general appearance of poverty and deprition prevailed. A few years of peace and good goveroment have reveried this melancholy fate of things. A young, induftrious, and enterprizing sace of feamen has fuccecded to thofe whe are gone; bufinefs has revived; the navigation and comunerce of the plase are more refpectuble thate at any iormer period; the houlse ate in gionl ripair, many new oncs are erecled, and a pirit of citerprize and inprovement is apparent. An academy is contemplated: a valuable fituing mill, and other work., arcereated on the Town Brook. A.fage, which goes twice a weck to Doflon, is well suppotted; and an aqueduct for luringing itefla water to the houfea of the inhabitanss is more than half completed. The tuwnotip abuuads with ponds aud frcams. More than 1 1co ponds appear on the map lately caken by a committex of the tuwn, and tranfinitted to the Secretary' office. Billington Sca is about 2 miles from the town, and covers near 300 acres, From the fream flowing from this pond, the aqueduct will be fupplicd, Soull' Pond is much larger. Further $S$ is Half Way Pond and Long Pond. Near Sandwich line is the Greas Herring Pond, To Billingion Sea, Halfway Pona, and the Great Herring Pond, alewives refort in their feafon in great alundance. The Great Herving Pond bas heen contemplated as a refervoir for the projected canal acrofs the ifthmus hetween Buxsard and Barufable Bays. Many of the pondo abound with white and red perch, pike, and other freh water fill ; and in the numerous bronke which run into the fea in different parts of the townhip, are found exeellent trout, Thefe pondo and Areams are often the fcencs of amufer mient for partics of both fexes, in the fum, mer feafon.
At the village of Monument Ponds and Eel River, and in fome other parts of the towndhip, many of the inhabitants are farmers. In the Town, the gardens are numerous and well cultivated, and when aided by the aqueduch, will be productive equal to the wants of the inhabitants.

The Gituation of the town is pleafans and healthful. The eafterly winds of the Spring, however, are diftrefling to perfons of tender habits, and are uncomfortable even to the robuf. The market is not regularly fupplied. Fuel, fint, poultry, and wild fowl are plentiful and cheaper, perhapa, than in any other fea. port of the lize. The people are fober, friendly, and indufrioua. It is the firf fettlement in New- England, and is peopled, principally, by the defcendants of the ancient flock. But few foreigners are among them. The cheapnefs of living, the plenty of fuel, and the convenient mill-feats which are to be found in Plymouth, will probably render ft, at fome future period, a confidérable minufacturing town. Domeflic mannfactitres are now very geacral there. town, fo thinly iahabited by reafon of its noxious air, the fearcity of provifions, and the barrennefs of its foil, becomes, at the time of the galleons, one of the mun populcus places in all S. America. Its fituation on the ifthmus betwixt the $S$ and N fea, the goodrefy of its harbour, and its fmall diltance from Panama, have given it the preference for the rendezvous of the joint commerce of Spain and Peru, at its fair.

On advice being received at Carthagena, that the Peru fleet has unloaded at Panama, the galleoos make the heft of their way to Porto Bello, in order to avoid the difempers which have their fource from iditenefs. The concourfe of penple, on this occafion, is fo great as to raife the rent of lodging to an exceffive degree; a middling chamber, with a clof, et, lets, during the fair, for a thoufand crowns, and fome large houfes for four, five, or fix thoufand.

The thips are no fooner moored in the harhour, than the firf work is, to erect, in the fquare, a tent, made of the flip's fails, for receiving its cargo; at which the proprietors of the goods are prefent, in order to find the bales, by the marka which diftinguish them. Thefe bales are drawn on nedgee, to their refpective places, hy the crew of every fhip, and the money given them is proportionably die vided. Whiln the feamen and European traders are thus employed, the laṇd is covered with droves of mules from Pa'nama, each drove confifing of above an hundred, loaded with chefts of gold and gilver, on account of the merchants of Peru. Some unload them at the exclange, others in the middle of the fquare; yet, amidf the hurry and confufion of fuch crowds, no theft, lofs or difturbance, is ever known. He who has feen this place during the tiempo muerto, or dead time,folitary, poor, and a perpetual filence reigning every where, the harbour quite empty, and every place wearing a melancholy afpect, munt be fillied with aftniifliment at the fudden change, to fee the bufling multitudes, every houfe crowded, the fquare and Areeta encumbered with bales and chefts of gold and filver of all kinds: the harbous full of flips and vef. fels, fome bringing, by the way of Rio de Chape, the goods of Peru, as caca, quinquina, or Jefuits' bark, Viensa wool and heznar fones; others coming frum Carthagena, loaded with provifions; and thus a spor, at all other times detefted for its deleterious qualities, becomes the Raple of the riches of the old and new world, and the feene of one of the mort confiderable branches of commerce on the whole earth.

The lhips being unloaded, and the merchants of Peru, together with the prefident of Panama, arrived, the fair comes under deliberation; and for this purpore the deputies of the feveral parties repair on board the commodore of the gallcons, where, in prefence of the commodore, and the prefident of Panama (the former, as patron of the Europeany, and the la:ter, of the Peruvians) the prices of the feveral kinds of merchandife are fettled; and all prelimiuaries being adjufted in three or four meeting, the contracts are figned and made public, that every one may confurm himfelf to them in the fale of his effects. Thus all fraud is precluded. The purchafes and fales, as likewife the exchanges of money, are tranfacted by brokers, both from Spain and Yeru. After this, every one hegins to difpofe of hls goods; the Spanifh brokers embarking their chefta of money, and thofe of Peru fending away the goods they have purchafed, in vefiela called chatas and bongos, up the river Chagre, And thus the fair of Porto Bello ends.
Formerly this fair was limited to no particular time; but as a long ftay, in fuch a fickly place, extremely affected the health of the traders, his Catholic midjefty tranfmitted an order, that the fair hould not laft above forty days, reckoning from that in which the fluips came to an anchor in the harbour ; and that, if in this fpace of time the merchants could not agree in their rates, thofe of Spain hould be allowed to carry their goods up the country to Peru; and accordingly the commodore of the galleons has orders to rembark them, and return to Carthagena; other wife, by virtue of a compact between the merchants of both kingdonns, and ratifitd by the king, ne Spanifh trader is to fend his goods, on his own account, beyoud Porto Bello: aud, on the contrary, thofe of Pert cannot fend temittances to Spain, for purchafing goods there.
WhilR the Englift were permitted to fend an annual flip, called mavio de permifo, fle ufed to bring to the fair a large rargo on her own acecunt, never failing firff to touch at Jamaica, fo that her loading alone was tnore than half of all thuse brought by the galleons; for, hefides that her burthen fo far exceeded 500 Spanith tons. that it was even more than 900 , fhe had no provifions, water, or other things, which fill a great part of the hole; the indeed took them in at Janaica, from whence the was attended by five or fix fmaller veffiels, loaded with gonds, which, when arrived near Porto, Bello, were put on loard her, and the provifions removed into the tenders; hy which artifice the fingle fhip was mate to carry more than five or fix of the largett galicons. This nation having a free tradc, and feiling cheaper than the Spaniards, that indulgence was of infinite detriment to the commerce of Spain.
In the dead time, all the trade flirring here confifts in provitions from Carthagena; and cacao and quinquina, duwn the river Chagre : the former is carried in fmall vefiels to Vera cruz, and the quinquina either depofited in ware houfes, or put on hoard hhips, which, with permiflioa, come from Spain to Nacaraqua, and Honduras ; thefe lilips alfo take in cacao. Some fmall veffels likewife come from the iflands of Cuha, La Trinidad and St. Domingo, with cacao and rum.
Frefh water pours down in freams from the mountains, fume running without the town, and others crolling it. Thele waters are very light and digeftive, and in thofe who are hef ufed to them, good to create an appetite; qualities. which in other countrics would be very valuable; but are here pernicious. 'this country feemis fo curfed by nature, that what is in itfelf good becomes here defructive. For doubtefs, this water is too fine and active for the fomachs of the inlabitants; and thus proctuces dyfentarics, the laft flage of all other dittempers, azd which the patient very feldoin furvives. Thefe rivulets, in their defeent from the mountains, form litite rcfervoits or ponds, whofe conlnefs is increafed by the fhade of the trees, and in thefe all the imharitants of the town batie themielves conflantly every day at is in the morning; and the Europeans fail not to follow an example fo plealaut and conducive to health.
As thefe forefts almont horder on the houles of the town, the tigers oitel make incurfinus into the firecta during the night, carrying ofl' fowls, dogs, and other donteflic creatures; and lometimes even boys have fallen a prey to them; and, ic is certain, that ravenous beafts which pro. vide themfelves with food in this manner, are afterwards known to defpife what the foreft affords; and, that after tafting human flefly, they flight that of besfts. Befides the fnarea ufually laid for them, the Negroes and Mulattoes, who fell wood in the forefts of the mountains, are very dexterous in encountering the tiger; and fome, even on account of the fiender reward, feek them in their retreats. The arms in this combat, feemingly fo dangerous, are only a lance, of 2 or 3 yards in length, mate of very frong wood, with the point of the fame hardened in the firc, and a kind of fcimetar, about 3 quarters of a yard in kength. Thus armed, they ftay rill the creature makes an affault on the left arm, which holds the lance, and is wrapped np in a fhort cloke of baize. Sometimes the tiger, aware of the danger, feems to decline the combat; but his antagonift provokes him with a flight touch of the lance, in order, while he is defending himfelf, to Arike a fure blow; for as foon as the creature feela the lance, he grafps it with one of his paws and with the other ftrikes at the arm which holds it. Then it is that the perfon nimbly aims a blow rith his fcimetar, which te kept concealed with the other hand, and hamftrings the creature, which immediately draws back enraged, but yeturns to the charge; when receiving another foch froke, he is totally deprived of his mont dangerous weapous, and rendered incapable of moving. After which the perfon kills him at his leifure, and Atripping off the fkin, eutting off the head, and the fore and hind feet, returns to the town, difplaying thefe as the trophics. of his vietory:"

The tract of land lying leriveen North and South Kingfa town on the eaft, and Connecticut on the weft, called Sbamnock country, or Purcbafe, is excellent grazing land, and is inhablted by a number of wealthy farmers, who raife fome of the fineft neat cattle in NervEngland, weighing from 1,600 to 1,800 weight. They keep large dairien, and. make butter and checfe of the beft quality, and in large quantities for exportation. Iron ore is found in great plenty in fereral parts of the State. The ironworks on Paturet River, 12 miles from Providence, are fupplied with ore from a bed $4 \frac{1}{2}$ miles diftant, which lies in a valley, through which runs a brook. The brook is turned into a new channel, and the ore-pits are cleared of water by $x$ fteam engme. There are feveral mineral fprings in this state; to one of which, near Providence, many people refort to hathe, and drink the water. Newport and Yrovidence are the shief towns of thin State. The barbarous fave-trade, thich was a fource of wealth to many of the people in Newport, and other parts of the State, has happily been alolifhed. But fince permiflion has heen again given by law to impore faves from Africa to s. Carolina, it is faid this , inhuman traffic is reviving again in this State. The town of Briftul carries on a confidelable trade to Aftica, the WentIndies, and to different parts of the United Staten.' But by far the greatef part of the commerce of Rhode-1nand is at prefent carried on by the inhabitanta of the flourifhing town of Providence, which had, in 1791 , 129 fiail of veffelo, containing di,942 tona. The exporits frotm the State are flax-feed, lymber, horfes, cattle, beef, pork, fifh, foulery; onions, butter, cheéfe, bariey, grain, Spirity, coutori and linen goodf. The importi' conifif of European and $\mathbf{W}$. India goods, and, logwód from the Ba* of Honduras: Upwards of 600 veffels enter and clear annually at the different ports in this Statc. The inhabitants of this State are advanicing rapidily ip manufacturce., A cotton manufactory has been ereeted at Providence. Jeans, fuftianc; denims, thiskferg,' velvets, \&c. \& $c$. are here manufactured and fent to the fouthern States. Latge quautities of linen and tow cloth are made in different parts of this state for exportation. But the moft confiderahle manufactares in this State ate thofe of iron ; fuch as bar and fleet iron, fleel, nail-rods, and niails, implements of hufbandry, foves, pots, and other houfehold utenfils, the iron work of flupping, anchors, bellis, \&c. \&e. The conttitution of this state is fuunded win the charter grantied hy Charles II. in 1663 ; and the frame of government was not effentially altered by the revolation. The leginature of the State confina of two branches; a fenate or upper herule, compofed of tea members luefides the governor and deputy governor, called in the clartcr;, afiflanis; ; and a houfe of repre-

The members of the leg' inature are ebiofan twice $a$ year; and there are two ferfions of this hody anuually, viz. on the firt Wednefday in May, and the lạ Wcednefday la Ocober: This State wai drat fettled from Maf. fachufettic Mr. Roger Williame, a min': ither, who came uver to New England in 163 t, wain charged with holding a variety of errors, aud on that accnunt was, banithed from Maffachufetts. But that place being within the bounds of Plymouth colon', Gov. Winfow; in a friendly manier, ativifed him to remove to the other fide of the river, whete the lands were siot covired by any. patent. Accordingly, in $15_{3} 6$. Mr. Williame and 4 others crofled Sedkhonk River, and landed among the Indiana, by whom they. were horpitably receiped, and thus laid the foundation, of a sowx, which, from a fenfe of God's merciful providence to him, he called providonce.' Here hé, wa! foon after joined by a number of others; and, though, they were fecured from the. It is prob-ably for thefe rexfona, that fo many different:fects have ever heen found here; and that the Salbbath and ath religions. inftitutions; as well as good morals, have been leff regarded in this than in any. other of the New-England States. Herc the river is broken by Indian Illand, over which is the puft road. A bridge is thrnwn over cach of the laranches. A number of millsare erected here, to which logs are floatcil from 40 to 50 miles ahove; and veffels, can come quite to the mills to take in the lamber. Fourr million feet of pinc hoards were annually fawed at thefe mills before the war. The mouth of this river lies 4 miles E of Cape Porpoife. There is a bar which will not allow a vefficl of above 100 tons burden to pafs, if fully loaded. Without the bar, and between Fletcher's Ncek and the main land, is a pool, wherein veffels of any fize may lie at all fentons of the year, and take in their ladiuss at pleafure. On the $W$ fide of the riser a finall neck of land divides it from the pool, which might be eafily cur, and fo fave the hazard of palling the bar. On the branches of this river, as well as on the main fream, are a great many mills and valuable works : 30 miles frem the fca, a finall frcam iffuing from Little Ofrapee pond, joins it ; and 20 miles furcher up Great Ofapee river, from another pond, fivells the Saco, and impcls its courfe. Proceeding up the Saco, its fource is found on the $S$ fide of the White Mountains, in N. Hamphire. From thele mountains the watets runinto Connecti-

Salem, a port of entry and poft town of Maffechafetts, and the capital of Effix co. 4 miles N W of Marhlehead, and 19 N liy E of Bofton. It is the fecond town for fize in the Commonweath, coutaining 980 houfes, and 9457 inliahitants, and, cxcept Plymouth,the oldef, way fettled in 1628, by Governor Endicot, and was called liv the Indians, Naumkeig. Here are a focin ty oi Quakers, an Epifiopal church, and 5 Congregational Jaciesics. The town is fituated on a peninfula, formed by two finall inlets of the fa, called North and South rivers. 'the formucr of thefe paffes into Beverly harbour, and has a draw bridge acrufs it, huilt many years ago at private cxpenfe. At this place Come part of the fhipping of the town is fitted out ; but the principal hatbour and place for bufinefs is on the other fide of the town, at Sonth river, if that may properly be called a river which depends on the flowing of the fea for the water it contains. So flod is this harbour, that veffels which diaw more than roor 12 fect of water, nuift be laden and unladen at a diftance from the wharves by the affiftance of lighters. Notwithfanding this inconvenience, more navigation is owned, and more trade carried on in Salem, than in any port in the Conmonwealth, Botton excepted. The inhabitants are richer than in any town in the U. S. The filhery, the trade to the W. Indies, to Europe, to the coalt of Africa, to the E. Indies, and the freighting bufinefs from the fouthern States, are here alt purfued with energy and fpirit.' A bank was eftabliflied and incorporated here in 1792, and another in 1803. The enterprife of the merchants of this place is equalled by nothing but their indefatigable induftry and economy. This latter virtue forms a diftinguifing feature in the character of the people of this town. Some perfons of rank, in former times, having carried it to an unbecoming length, gave a character to the people in general, of a difgraceful parfimony. But whether this reproach was evet juftly applied in fo extenfive a meafure or not, nothing can lie more injurious than to continuc it at the prefent time ; for it may jufly be faid of the in-babitants of Salem at this day, that, with a laudable attention to the acquifition of pruperty, they exhibit a public fpirit and hofpitality, alike honourable to themfelves and their country. A general plaisnefs and neatnefs in drefs, buildings and equipage, and a certain fillnefs and gravity of manncr, perhaps in fome degree peculiar to comancreial people, diftinguifin them from the citizens of the metropsolis. It is indeed to be wifhed that the fober induftry here fo univerfalIy practifed, may become more extenfive chrough the Union, and form the natioual character of Federal Americans. A court houfe, built in 1786, at the joint expenfe of the county and town, forms a principal ornament, and is cxecuted in a Ityle of architecture that would add to the elegance of any city in the Union. The fupreme judicial court holds a terin licre the fecond Tuefday of Nov. the courts of common pleas and feffions, the fecond Tuefday of March and Scpt. A manufactory of duck and failcloth was litely inftituted liere, and in profecuted with much fpirit. The neclancholy delufivn of 1692 , refpecling witcheraft, originated in this town, in the family of the Rev. Mr. Paris, the then minifter, and liere was the principal theatre of the bloody bufinefs. At the upper end of the town, at a place called, from the number of executions which took place there, Gallows Hill, the graves of the unhappy fufferers may yet be traced. Though this unfortunate and difgraceful bufinelis was chiefly tranfacted here, it is well known that the leading people, both of church and fate, in the colony, took an active part in it. Unjuft therefore and highly absurd it is to fix a peculiar odium on the town of Salem for what was the general weaknefs or crime of the country. The town of Salem is connected with Beverly by Fffex bridge, upwards of 1500 feet in length, erected in $\mathbf{7 8 9}$. It is high water here, at full and change, 30 minutes after in o'clock. It will ever be renowned in hittory, as the place where the Britifh General Burgoyne, furrendered his whole army to General Gates, Oct. 17th, 1777, an event which greatly contributed to a favourable iflie of the war. This town is alfo famous for its medicinal waters, called the Saratoga Springs. .They are 10 miles from Ballfowin, in a fhallow vale or marfh, in feveral refpects refembling that of Ballfown. Thefe waters appear to have received fronger impregnation of the fame kind of ingredients that enter thofe of Ballifown, and may be a fream of the fame fountain running through the fane kind of ealcarcous earth. One of thefe fprings is covered over by a natural cretacious, or rather calcareous pyranid, about five or fix feet high. This hollow pyramid, or coue, has a hole in the top about fix inches over. If we look into this hole we fee the mineral water builing veliemently like a pot over the fire; the water is nevcrthelefs intenfely cold, and is faid to be, in every refpect, finarter than that at Ballfown. The calcareous matter extends for feveral rods from the hafis of this pyramid. Dr: Scaman of N. York, examined thefe waters in 1795. His experiments fhew that each quart contains about to cubic inches of cretiVoL. l.

cious acid; 52 grains mineral alkali; $3^{1} 6$ common marine falt; 38 xrated lime; 17 xrated iron; and a fulphureous impregnation. He believes the water uieful in ftone and gravelly complaints, chronic rheumatifm, difpepfia, and fome other long ftanding complaints of debility, and likewife in old phagedenic ulcers and febrbutic affections, alfo dyfentery, all cutaneous eraptions, and probably may be ufffil in ferophula. He doubts their beiug ule? in hypuchondriafis and other nervous affections, alfo in confumptions, as fixed air, which is the predominant agent in the operation of thefe waters, has been found prejudicial in phthifical complaints. The foregoing experinients were made before the Cungrefs Springs were difcovered. Probably thefe fprings contain fonie new ingredients, as they are found reflorative in cafes of afthma and plathific. Sume chrytals have been found at this place, fpecimens of which have been depofited in the Mufeum of Yale College.

The publie buildings are a Dutch, Prefbyterian and an Epificopal church, and a large and handrome college edifice. The windings of the river, through the town and fields which are often overflowed in the fpring. afford a rich and charming profpect about harveft time. This town, being at the foot of navigation, on a long river which palfes through a very fine country rapidly fettling, it would he natural to conclude, would embrace much of its commerce; but originally knowing no other than the fur trade, which, fince the revolution, has almoft ceafed, and having taken no advantage of its happy fituition for other comneree, the place has very confiderably decayed. Union College was eftablifhed and incorporated here in 1994, and is under the direction of 24 truftees. It took its name from the union of various denominations of Chrifians in its eftabliniment.- The Dutch were, however, by far the mof liberal benefactors to this inflitation. Thefe divifions comprehend 9 brigades, 39 regiments of infantry, 8 regiments, and a fquadron of cavalry, and one regiment and hatallion of artillery; belide arillery companies attached to fonse regiments of infantry. The whole include $35,78 \mathrm{~s}$ men. This fate is watered by many navigahle rivers, the principal of which are Savannah, Edifto, Santec, Pedee, and their branches. The Sautee is the largeft river in the flate. Thofe of a fecondary fize, as you pafs from $\mathbf{N}$ to S, are Wakkamaw, Black, Cooper, Afficpoo, and Combahee rivers. In the third clafs are comprehended thore rivers which extend but a fhort diftance from theocean, and ferve, by branching into numberlefs creeks, as drains to carry off the rain water which comes down from the large inland fwamps, or are merely arms of the fea. The tide in no part of the flate, flows alsove 25 miles from the fca, A canal of 21 miles in lengih, connecting Cooper and Santee rivers, is cumpleted, which coft $\mathrm{fig}_{50,000}$ fterling; the company are allowed to raile a toll of 25 per cent. on the fum actually expended. It is 35 feet wide at top, 20 at the bottom. It is death by the law for any man willfully to break or deftroy any part of it. Another canal is iuon to be begun to unite the Edifto with Afhley. Soveral companies are incorporated for the improvement of inland navigation. It is alfo int contemplation to make. a waggon road from the fettlements in S. Carolina, over the mountains to Knoxville, in Teneffee; and a fum of money has been voted for that purpofe. The only harbours of note, are thofe of Cnarlefton, Port Rnyal, and Geargetown. The climate is different in dilferint parto of the flatc. Along the fica coan, bilious difenfes and fevers of vations kinds are prevalent between July and Oqober. The probability of dying is much greater betwe en the zoth of June and the noth o. October, than in the other eight montis in the ycar. One caufe of thefe difeafes, is, a low marily country, which is overflowed for the fake of cultivating ricc. The exhilations from thefe llag iated waters, from the rivers, and from the neighbouring ocean, and the profufe peripiration of vegerables of all kiads, which cover the ground, fill the air wiht moifure. This moiflure falls in frequent raius and copious dews. From actual ohfervation, it has been found that the average annual fall of rain, for ten ycars, wass 43 inches, without regarding the moifture that fell in fogs and dews. The great heat of the day reliaxes the body, and the agreeable coolnefs of the evening invites to an expoffure to thefe heavy dews. Bat not only docs the water on the low grounds and rice fwamps become in a degree putrid, and conit an unwholefomedeapour, but when it is dried up or drawn off from the furface of the ground, a quantity of wreds and grafs which have been rotted by the water, and animals and fifa which have been dieftruyed by it, are expofed to the intenfe heat of the fina, and liclp to infect the air with a quantity of poifonous efluvia. Within the limits of Charlcifton, the cafe is ve "y different, and the danger of contracting difeafes arifes from indolence and excefs. Though a refidcnce in or near the fivamps is very injurious to health, yet it has been fati,factorily afcortained, that by renoving thrce miles from them, into the pine land which occupies the iniddle ground betwech the rivers, an excmption from autumnal fcvers may be obtaincl. The difagreealle effects of this climate, experience h:13 provel, might in a preat meatiure be avoided $\mathrm{d}_{3}$ by thofe inhabitants whofe cirumitances will admit of their remaval from the neigbourhood of the rice fwanps, to healthice fituations, dinring the monthis of July, Auguf, September and October; and in the worft dituations, by temperance and care. Violent excrecife on horfeback chicfly, expofure to the meridian raye of thefin, fudden flowers of rain, and the night air, are tou frequcntly the caufes of fevers and other diferders. Wculd the fporfinen deny themfelves, during the fall months, their favourite annfements of huutiag and filling, or confine themitelves to a very few hours, in the morning or ceening ; would the induftrious phinter vifit his ficlds only at the lame hours; or would the poorcr clafs of people pay due atteution to their manncr of hiving, and offerve the precautions recommended to them by men of knowledge andi cxpcrience, much ficknefs and many diltrefling events might be prevented. The upper country, fituated in the moclium hetween extrome heat and cold, is as healthful as any part of the U. States. The mountains are ranged in regular direclions. The elimate is agreeable; the fluow is feldom more than an inch deep, thawing at the firft appearance of the fun. Sometimes the ponds permit lliding and fkating. Vegceation commences in 1 rel. The inaple, the willow and alder firl; foon after the plumb) and pedch treas are in bloffom. Hurricanes and ftorms are not unfrequent in this climate. Execpe the high hills of Santec, the Ridge, and lome fow other hills, this country is like one cxtenfive plain, till you reach the Tryon and Hogback Mountains, ${ }^{220}$ miles $\mathrm{N} \mathbf{W}$ of Charlefon. There is exhibited from the top of thefe mountains an extenfive view of this fate, N. Carolina, and Gcorgia. And as no obyect intervenes to obfruct the view, a man with telefocopic eyes might difcern veffels at fa. The nountains W and N W rife much higher than thefe, and foron a ridge, which divides the waters of Tenefice and Santee rivers. The fea coaft is hordered with a chain of fine fea inluds, around which the fea flows, opening in excellent inland navigation, for the conveyance of produce to market. N of Charlciton liar: lour, lic Rall's, Dewce's and Sullivan's iflands, which form the $\mathbf{N}$ part of the harbour. James' ifland lies on the other fide of the liarl:our, oppofite Charleflon, containing about 50 familics. Further S W is Jolin's illand, larger than James'; Stono river, which fornss a convenicnt and fafe hatbour, divides thefe illands, Contiguouts to John's ifland, and councercll with it by a bridge, is Wadmelder ; : of which arc the fmall ifles of Keywaw and Simmon. Adjacent to Port Royal lie St. Helena, Ladies Ifand, Paris Ifland, and the Hunting Iflands 5 or 6 in number, bordering on the occan, fo called from'the number of deer and other wild game found upon them. All thefe iflands, and fome others of lefs note, belong to St. Helena parifh. Croffing Broad river, you come to Hilton Head, the mof fouthern fea inand in Carolina. $W$ and © W of Hilton Head, lie Pinckney's, Bull's, Dawfunkies', and fome fmaller iflands, between which and Hilton Head, arc Calibogie river and found, which form the outlet of May and New rivers. 'The foil on thefe iflands is generally better adapted to the culture of indigo and cotton than the main, and lefs finited to rice. The natural growth is the live oak, which is fo excellent for flip timber ; and the palmetto or cabbage trece, the utility of which, in the confruction of forts, was experienced during the late war. Alfo fma!l pines, b:ly trees, cedar, myrtle, wild olive, prickly pear, fealide oats, and coarfe faline gralles. Other fpots morc fcrtite produce white, red and live oak, hickory, faffafras, ilm and laurel. The whole ftate, to the diflance of 80 or 100 miles from the fea, generally fpeaking, is low and level, alaot withont a fronc, and ahounds innere or lefs, efprcially on and near the rivers, with fwamps nr marflies, which, when elcared and cultivated, yield, in lavourahlic feafons, on average, an annual income of from 20 to 40 dollars for each acre, and ofteo much more ; but this fpecies of foil cannot be cultivated by white men, without cudangering both healthand life. Thefe fwamps do not cover an havdredth part of the fate of Carolina. In this difance, by a gradul afent from the fea coan, the land rifes about 190 feet. Here, if you proceed ina $W$ N $W$ courfe from Charlefton, commences a curioully uneven country. The traveller is conftantly afcending or defeending little fand hills, which nature feems to have difunited in a frolic. If a pretty high fea were fuddenly arrefted, and transformed into fand hills, in the vely form the waves exifted at the moment of transformation, it would prefent the eyc with fuch a view as is here feen. Some little herbage, and a few fmall pines, grow on this foil. The inhahitants are few, and have but a fcanty fubfiffence on corn and fivect potatoes, which grow here tolerably well. Yet fertile vcins of land upon'a clay or marl fomadation occifionally interfect thefe harrens, producing white and red oak, chefinut oak, flort leaved pine, gum, lickory, elm, beech, walnut, maple and mimy other kinds of wood, which love a gencrous foil. This curin'ts couitry continnes till you arrive at a place called the Ridge, 140 miles from Charleflon. This ridge is a remarkalde tract of high ground, is you approach it from the fed, hut tevel as you advance $\mathbf{N}$ W from its fummit. It is a finc, high, I calthy belt of land, well watered, and of a good foil, and cxtends iroin the Savimuah $\because$ Broad river, in abour $6,30 \mathrm{~W}$ lon. from Philadelphia. Beyoud this ridere, commences a conutry exactly refienibing the northern States, or hike Devonilire in England, or Langucdoc in France. Here hills and dales, with all cheir verdure and varicgated leauty, prefent themfelves to the cye. Wheat ficlds, which are rare in the low country, begin to grow common. Here Heaven bas leftowed its bedingg with a mun bounteous hand. The air is much more temperate and healthful than nearer the fica. The hills are covered with valuable wonds, the vallies watered wirh beautiful eivers, and the furtility of the foil is equal to every vegatable production. This, hy way of diftinction, is callesl the Upper Country, where are difterent mo:les, and different articles of cultivation; where the manners of the people, and even their language have a different tone. 'The land fith rifes by a gradual alicent ; each fuccceding hill overlonks that which immediatcly procedes it, till, having admanced 220 milcs in a N W dircetien from Charlefon, the clevation of the land above the fea conft, is found liy menfuration to be 800 feet. Here commences a mountainous comutry, which continues rifing to the weftern terminating point of this fate. The mountains are ranged in regular directions. Of the particular fummits Table mountain is the mon remarkable. It rifes in Pendleton diffrict, $W$ of the S fork of Saludat river, 4 or 5 miles from the N boundary of the fate. It is $3 \times 68$ feet higher than the furrmanding country, prolyably 4300 .hnve the orean. On ove fide is a precipice of fulid rock, 900 feet perpendicular ; the valley below is equally deep on that ficle, making the height of the chafm 6 or 800 yard. Wchward and feparated ouly by a valley rifes
the lofty Colenoy. In the fame ditrict the Occonnee mountain lifts its fummit 5 or 600 yards above the adjacent lands. From Paris's mountain is a delightful profpect. Much iron ore and a fpecimen of gold have been found here. Near its bale is a fulphur fpring of frong powers. The fuil may be divided into four kinds ; firf, the pine barren, which is valuable only for its timber. Interfperfed among the pine barren, are tracls of land free of tiinlece and every kind of growth but that of grafs. Thefe tracts are called Suvonnas, conftituting a focond kind of foil, good for grazing. The ebird kind is that of the fwampss and low zrounds on the rivers, which is a mixture of black luam and fat clay, prodicing naturally cames In great plenty, cypsifa, bays, loblolly pines, &e. In the fe fivamps.rice is cultivated, which conflitutes the flaphe commodity of the ftate. The high lanclo, commonly known by the name of oak, and hickory lands, connitute the fourth kind of foil. The natural growth is oak, hickary, walnut, pine, and lucuf. On thefe lands, in the low country, are cultivated ladian corn priacipally; and in the back country, befide thefe, they raife tobacco in large quantities, whent, ryc, barley, oats, hemp, flax, and coticon. From experiments which have been made, it is well afcertained that olives, tilk, and madder may be as abundantly produced in S. Carolina, and we may add in Gcorgia alfo, as in the S of France. There is fittle fruit in this flate, cfpecially in the lower parts of it. They have oranges, twhich are chiefly four, and figs in plenty, a few limes and lemons, pomegranates, pears, and peaches; apples are fearce, and are imported from the northorn flates. Meluns, efpecially the water mellon, are raifed here in great porfection. The river fwamps, in which rice can be cultivated with any tolerable degree of fafety and fuccecs, do not extend lighice up the rivers than the head of the tides; and in eftimating the value of this fpecics of rice Jand, the height which the tide rifes is taken into confideration, thofe lying where it rifes to a proper pitch for niverflowing the fwamps being the moft valuable. 'I'he heet inland fwanps, which contitutute a fecond ipecies of rice land, are fuch as are furnified with referves of wa. ter. Thefe referves are formed by means of large banks thrown up at the upper parts of the fwamps, whence it is conveyedt, when needed, to the fields of rice.

At the diflance of about $x$ romiles from the fea, the river fwamps terninate, and the high lands extend quite to the rivers, and form banks, in fome places, feveral hundred feet high from the furface of the water, and afford many extenfive and delightul views. Thefe high banks are interwoven with layers of leaves, and different coloured earth, and abound with quarries of free fone, pcbbles, flint, cr yftals, iron ore in abundance, filver, lead, fulphur, and coarie diamonds. The fwamps, above the head of the tide, are. occufiumally planted with corn, cotton, and indigo. The fuil is very rich, yielding from 40 to 50 buflects of corn an acre. It is curions to obliferve the gradations from the fea coaft to the upper country, with refpect to the produce, the mode of cultivation, and the cultivators. On the iflands upo: the fea coaft, and for an or 50 milcs back, and on the rivers nuch farther, the cultivators are all faves. No white man, to fpeak generally, ever thimhs of fettling a farm, and improving it for himfelf, without negroes; if he has no uegroes, he hires himifelf as ovcrfeer to fome rich planter, till he can purelafe for himflf.' The atrticles cultivated are corn, rye, oats, every ficcics of pulic; and potatocs, which with the fuall rice, are food for the negrots ; rice, indigo, cotton, and fome hamp, for expurtation. The culture of cotton is capathle of being increafed cqual to almoft any demand. 'The foil was cultivated, till lately, almont wholly by manual labour. The plough, till fince the peace was fcarccly ufed. Now the plongh and harrow, and other inprovements are introduced intu the rice liwamps with great fuccels, and will no doubt become general. In the middle fettlements, negroes are not fo mimerous. The mafter attcuds perfon:lly to his own bufinefs. The land is not properly fituated for rice. It products tolerable good indigo weed, and fome tobacco is raifed for exportation. The farmer is contented to raife corn, pota. toes, oats, rye, poultry, and a little wheat. In the upper country, there are but few negrues ; gencrally fpeaking, the farmers have none, and depend, like the inhabitants of the northern ftates, upon the lathour of dhemfelves and fanities for fubfiftence ; the plough is ufed almote whotly. ludian corn in great quantitics, wheat, ryc, barlcy, oats, potatoes, &c, arc raifed for food; and tolaicco, wheat, eonton, hemp, fax and indigo, for expertso

Superior, Lake, formerly termed the Upper Lake, from its northern fituation. It may jufly be termed the Calpian Sea of America, and in fuppofed to be the largen body of frefh water on the globe. According. to the French chars it is 1,500 miles int circumference. According to Mackenzie its greateft breadth is 120 miles, and its eircumference, including the bays, but $\mathbf{1 2 0 0}$. A great part of the coaff is toounded by rocks and uneven ground. It is fituated between 46 and 50 N !at. and between 8430 and 92 W ton. 'The water is very clear, and tranfparent. If the fun flines hright, it is impoffible through this medium to look at the rocks at the sottom, above a minute or two. Although the water, at the furface, is much warmed by the heat of the fun, yet, when drawn up at about a fathom depth, it is very cold. Storms are more dreadful here than on the ocean. Point, to Port Blount upon Cumberland R. through which there is a waggon road, opened in the fummer of ry95, and now kept interairby a turnpike company. Therc are fuv countries fis well watered with rivers and creeks. The pincipal rivers are the Mififippi, Tenneffec, Cumherland, Holfon, and Clinclı. The erait calle d the lroken Ground, sends immnediately into the Miffifippi, the Wolf, Hatchee, Forked Deer, Ubian or Obean, and Reclfoot ; which are from 30 to 80 yards wide at their mouths; moft of the rivers hare exceedingly rich low grounds, at the extremity of which is a fecond bank; as on moft of the lands of the Miffifpi. Befide thefe rivers, there are feveral fmaller ones, and innumerable crects, tome of which are navigable. In Mort, there is hardly a fort in this counry, orlich is more than 20 niles from anavigaBipfream. Thechicf mountains are Stone, Yellow, Iron, Bald, and Unaka, adjoining to inne another, from the eafern boundary of the 'hate, and feparate it from N. Carolina; their direction is uearly from N E to S W. The other mountains are Clinch and Cumberland. It would require a volume to defcribe the mountains of this State, above half of which is covercd with thofe that are uninhabitable. Some of thefe mountains, particularly the Cumberland or Great Laurel Ridge, are the moft flupendous piles in the United States: They abound with ginfeng and coal. Their caverns and cafcades are innumerable. The Encbanted Mountain, about 2 miles $S$ of Brafs Town, is famed for the curiofities on its rocks. There are on feveral rocks a number of impreftions refembling the tracks of curkies, bears, horffs, and human beings, as vifible and, prefect as they could be made on fhow or fand. The latter were remarkable for having 6 toes each; one only excepted, which appeared to he the print of a negro's foot. By this we muit fuppofe the originals to have been the progeny of Titan or Anak.' One of thefe tracks was very large, the length of the foot 16 inches, the diftance of the extremes of the outer toes 13 inches, the proximate breadth behind the toes 7 inches, the diameter of the lieel ball 5 . If it be a lufus natura, lie rever fported more ferioufly. If the opicration of chavce, perhaps there was never mure ápparent defign. If it were done by art, it might be to perpetuate the remenbrance of fome remarkalle event' of war, or r gaigement fuught on the ground. 'I he valt heaps of foines near the place, faid to be tomlis of warriors Adin in latile, fecm. to favour the fuppofition. The texture of the rocks is foft. The part on which the fun had the greateft influence, and which was the moft incurated, could cafily bi cut with a knife, a ad appeared to le of the nato ture of the pipe fone. Some of the Cherokces cutertain an opiuion that it always rains whets any perfon vifits the place, as if fympathetic nature wept at the recollection of the dreadful cataftrophe which thofe figures were intended to commemorate. The principal towns are Knoxville, the feat of government, Nalliville, and Jonelborough, befide 8 other towns, which are as yet of little importance. In 1791, the number of inhabitants was eftimated at 35,691. In November, 1795, the number had increafed to 77,262 perfons. In 1800 there were 105, to2 inhabitants, of whom 13,584 were flaves. The foil is luxuriant, and will afford every production, the growth of any of the United States. The ufual crop of cotton is $800 / \mathrm{lbe}$. to the acre, of a long and fine flaple; and of corn frim 60 to 80, and fometimes id buflicls. It is afferted, however; that the lands on the fmall rivers, that empry into the Miffifippi, have a decided preference to thofe on Cumberland river, fur the production of cotton, rice, and indigo. of trees, the general growth is poplar, hickory, black and white watnat, all kinds of oaks, huckeye, beech, fycamore, black and boney locult; ath, hornbeam, elm, mulberry, cherry, dogwood, fiffafras, poppaw, cucumber tree, and the fagar tree.: The undergrowth, efpecially on low lands, is cane; fome of which are upwards of 20 feet high, and fo thick' as to prevent any other plant from growing. Of herbs, roots, and Glurubs, there are Virginia and Seneca fuakeroot, ginfeng, angelica, fpice wood, wild plum, crab apple, fweet anuife, red bud, ginger, fpikenard, wild hop and grape vines. The gladet are covered with

Whid rye, wild oats, clover, buffloe, grafs, Arawlierries and pea vines. On the hills at the head of rivers, and in fome high clifs of Cumberland, are found majeftic red cedars; many of thefe are 4 feet in diameter, and 40 feet clear of limbs. The animale are fuch as are found in the neighbouring States. The rivers are well flocked wi:h all kinds of freth water finh; 2 mong which are trout, perch, cat fifh, buffalue fifh, red borfe, eells, \&e. Sone cat fiih have been caught which weighed upwards of 100 pounds : the weftern waters being more clear wnd pure than the eaftern. rivers, the filh are in the fane degree more firm and favoury to the tafte. In 1799, a fifh was caught in the Holthou, a tew miles below Kroxville, about 6 feet long, the fcales of which were large, and thickfet, and gave fire by collifion with a lint, like Ateel. The climate is temperate and hesithful: the fummers are ve:y coul and plearant it, that part which is contiguous to the monutaius that dipide this State from N. Carolioa; but on the weftern dide of the Cumberland Mountain the heat is mure intenfo, which renders that part better calculated for the production of tobaico, cotion and indigo. Lime flone is common ou both fides of, Cumberlaud Mountzin. T'here are nd nagnaut waters ; and this is certainly one of the reafons why the lnhabitants are not aflicted with thofe billious and intermitting fuvers, which are fo frequent, and often fatal, mear the farme latitude on the coalt of the Southern States. Whatever may be the caufes, the inhabitauts have been remarkaBly healithy fince they fettled on the waters - Cumbertand $R$. The country abounds mith mineral fprings. Salt lic̣ks are found in many parts of the country. [See Campbelf, Selines.] Iron ore abounds in the dif tries of Wallington aud Hamiltoin, and fine freams to put iron works in operation. Ifon ore was lately difcovered, upon the S of Cumberland river, about 30 miles below Nahhille, and a furnạce is now ereding. There is a bloomery, furnace, and 2 forges in Robertfon co. Several legd mines have been difcovered, and one on French Broad has been worked; the ere produced 75 per cent. in pure lead. The Indians fay that there are rich Gilver mipes in Cumberland Mountain, but canpot be tempted to difcures any of them so the white poople. It is taid that gold has been found here ; but the nine from which that metal was extrached jis now un'knowe to the white people. Ores and \{prings ftrongly inpregnated with fulphur are found in various parts. Saltpetre caves are numerous; and in the couric of the year 1796, feveral tohs of faltpetre were fent to the Atlanite markets. This country furniges all the valuable articles of the fouthern States. Fine waggon and faddle horfes, becf cattle, gimeng, decr akins and furs, cotton in great quantities, hemp, and Alax, may be tranfpurted by land; alfo iron, luinber, pork and flour may be exported in great quantitios, now that the navigation of the Millifippi is opened to the citizens of the United State. $\ln$ 1801, the exports of this State, the $\mathbf{N}$ W. Territory and Millifippi, amounted to 443,955 dolls. The Prefbyterians are the prevailing denomination of Chrifians ; in 1788, they had 23 large congregations, who were then fupplied by only 6 minif. ters. Ten or tivelve large, belide a greater number of fmaller ftreams fall into it. The Defaguadero is here bet ween 80 and 100 yardo in breadth, flowing with a very impetuous current, under a fmooth, and, as it were, feeping furface. The Inca, to overcome this dif. ficulty, ordered 4 very large cables to te made of a kind of grafs, which covers the lofty heathe and mountains of that coun-

people ate an induftrious, brave, hardy, activt, frugal race. The foil is deep, and of a dark colour, rich, moif, warm, and loamy. It bears corn, wheat, and other kinds of grain, in large quantities, as foon as it in cleared of the wood, without any ploughing or preparation ; and after the firft crops, naturally turns to rich pafture or mowing. The face of the country exhibits very different profpects. Adjoining to the rivers, there are the wide extenfive plains of a fine level country. At a fmall diftance from them, the land rifes into a chain of high mountains, interfected with deep and long vallies. Defcending from the mountains, the treams and rivers appear in every part of the country, and afford a plentiful fupply of water. Through this State there is one continued range of mountains, which are called the Gren Mountains, from their perpetual verdure, and gives name to the State. They extend from Lower Canada S, through the States of Vermont, Maffachuffett, and Connecticut, and terminate within a few miles of the fea-coaf. Their general direction is from N NE to S S W, and their extent is through'a tract of country not lefs than 400 miles in length. They are generally from 10 to 15 miles in breadth, are muclı interfected with vallies, abound with fprings and freams of water, and are covered with woods. ${ }^{\text {. }}$ Kellingtion Pcak, oue of the higheft of the Gieen Mountains, is 3,454 feet above the level of the ocean. All the freams and riyers of Vermont rife among the Green Mountains; about 35 of then have an eafterly direction, and fall into Conneclicut River; about 25 run wefterly, and pay tribute to Lake Champlain. Two or three running in the fame direction fall into Hudion's River. In the norti-eafterly parts of the State, 4 or 5 freans have a northerly direction, and difcharge their waters into Lake Mcmphrenagog ; from thence through the river St. Francis, they communicate with the river St. Lawrence. The moft confiderable on the $W$ fide of the Green Mountains, are Otter Creek, Onion River, La Moille, and Michilcoui. Iron and lead ores of feveral kinds, pipe clay, which has been wrought into durablecrucibles, and vaft quantities of white, grey, and variegated marhle, have becn found in differemt parts of this fate. The trade of Vermout is principally to Boften, Portland, Hartford and N. York; to which places the inhabitants export horfes, beef, pork, butter, cheefe, whicat, flour, iron, nails, pot and pearl afles. Great advantages may accrue to Vermont, from the manufactures of iron. Larye quanitics of iron ore are fouind in feveral of the towns on the W fide of the Greca Mountains. Tinmouth, Rutland, Pittsford, and Shoreham contain great quantitics. The ore in thefe towns is of a rectidih kind, mixed with carth, tinctured with ycllow ore. It melts eafily, and produces from one fourth to one feventh of iton. The iron is mofly of a coldaiirc kisd; works cafily, and makes excelleut nails. The principal part of the ore hitherto ufed, has bccn brought from a mountain on the W fide of Lake Champlain, about 4 miles N of Crown Point. Some grains of pure iron nearly as big as a pca have been found in this ore is fo rich, that, when well tnanaged, it will yield four feveaths of pure iron, hut is very hard to melt. In 1792 feveral forges and furnaces were erected. In Bennington co. they have 1 forge; in Rutland co. $\mathbf{1 4}$; in Addifon co. 4 ; and in Chittenden co. 2. In addition to which rhere are 3 furnaces in Rutiand co. Prom thefe, great quantities of har iron and mails are madc. Nature, indeed, feems to have defigned llis part of the United States to be the frat of fourifling manufactures ofi every thing that can he made of iron or feel. The other chief manufactures are pot and pearl afles, maple fugar, and fpirits dif tilled from grain. Muff families manufacture a confiderable part of their clocting. No country is more attentive to edueation. A clartcr for a richly endowed univerlity was granted by the leginature of this nate, in $\mathbf{1 7 9 1}$, to be effallifiled at Burlington ; and 33,0 ,oco acres of land have been referved, in the feveral grants made by this fate, for its ufe. In an extenfive country, it will he expect ed that the climate is not the fame in all its $p$ irts. It is remarkable that, procecding on the fame parallel of latitude wef. wardly, the climate becomes colder in like manner as when you proceed northwardly. This continues tu be the cafe till you attain the fummit of the Alleghany. From thence, defcending in the fame latitude to the Miffifippi, the change reverfes; and, if we may believe travellers, it hecomes warmer there than it is in the fame latitude on the fea fide. Their teftimony is Arengthened by the vegetables and animals which fubfift and multiply there naturally, and do not on the fea coaf. Thus catalpas grow fpontancoufly on the Miffifippi, as far as the latitude of 37 , and reeds as far as 38 . Parroquets even winter on the Scioto, in the 39th degree of latitude. The S W winds, $E$ of the mountains, are moft predominant. Next to thefe, on the fea coaf, the N E and at the mountains, the N W wi ds prevail. The N E is loaded with vapous, infomuch that the falt manufacturers have found that their cryftals would nut fioot while that blows; it occafions a difrefling chill, and a heavinefb and deprefion of the fpirits. The $N$ W is dry, cooling, elaftic and animating. The E and S E breczes come on generally in the afternoon. They have advanced into the country very fenfibly within the memory of people now living. Mr. Jefferfon reckons the extromes of heat and cold to be 98 above, and 6 bclow 0 , in Farenheit's Thermometcr. The months of June and July, though often the hotteft, are the muft healthy in the year. The weather is then dry and lefs liable to change than in Auguit and September, when the rain commences, and fudden variations take place. On the fea coaft, the land is low. generally within 12 feet of the level of the fea, interfected in all directions with falt creeks and rivers, the heads of which form fwamps and marihis, and fenny ground, covered with water, in wet feafons. The uncultivated lands are covered with large trees, and thick underwood. The vicinity of the fea, and falt crecks and rivers occafion a conftant moifure and warmth of the atmofphere, fo that although under the fame latitude, 100 or 150 miles in the country, deep fnows, and frozen rivers frequen:ly happen, for a fhort feafon, yet here fuch occurrences are confidered

The chief? rivers are Roanoke, James', Nanfemond, Chickahominy, Appamatox, Rivanna, York, Piankatank, Rappahannock, Patowmack, Shenandoalh, the great and little Kanhaway, Staunton and Green Briar. Thefe rivers and creeks are deferibed under their refpective names. They abound with fifh of various kinds, as Rurgeon, Giad, bafs, carp, fheepihead, drum, herrings, perch, catfifh, oyfters, crabs, \&cc. It is worthy notice, that the mountains are not folitary and fcattered confufedly over the face of the country; but commence at about 150 miles from the fea coant, are difpofed in ridges one behind another, running nearly parallel with the fea coaf, though rather approaching it as they advance north eaftwardly. See Allegbany Mountuins. In the fame direction generally are the veins of limeftone, coal, and other minerals hitherto difcovered; and fo range the falls of the great rivers. But the courfes of the great rivers are at right angles with thefe. James and $\mathrm{Pa}-$ Lowmack penetrate through all the ri.lges of mountains eattward of the Alleghany, which is broken by no water courte. It is in fact the fpine of the country between the Atlantic on one fide, and the Miflifippi and St. Lawrence on the other. The pafage of the Patowmack through the Blue Ridge is perhaps one of the moft ftupendous fcenes in nature. The mountains of the Bluc Ridge, and of thefe, the Peaks of Otter, are thought to be of a greater height meafured from their bafe, than any others in Virginia, and perhaps in N. America. From data, which may found a tolerable conjecture, we fuppofe the higheft peak to be about 4000 feet perpendicular, which is not a fifth part of the height of the mountains of S. America, nor one third of the height which would be neceffary in our latitude to preferve ice in the open air unmelted through the year. The ridge of mountains next beyond the Blue Ridge, called the North Mountain, is of the greatef extent ; for which reafon they are named by the Indians the Endlefs Mountains: The Onafioto Mountaini are 50 or 60 miles wide at the Gap. Thefe mountains abound in coal, lime, and free fone; the fummita of them are generally covered with a good foil, and a variety of timber; and the low, intervale lands are rich and remarkably well watered. . The whule comintry Lelow the mountains, which are about 150, fume fay 200 miles from the fea, is level, and feems from various appearances to have been once wafled ly the fea. The land between York and James rivers is very level, and its fiurface about 40 feet aloove high water mark. It appears from otfervation, to have arifon to its prefent height at different periods far diftant from eash other, and that at thefe periods it was walhed by the fea; for near Yorktown, where the banks are perpocudicular, you firft fce a fratum, intermixed with linall flelly refiembling a mixture of clay and fand, and alsuut 5 teet thick; on this lies horizontally, fmall white fitells, cockle, clan, es. an inch or two thick; then a body of enth fimilar to that firf mentioned, 18 inchus thick; then a lajer of faclls atd another booly of earth ; on this a layer of 3 fect of white fhells mixed with fand, on which lay a body of oyfter fhells 6 feet thick, which were covered with earth to the furface. The oyfter thells are fo united by a very frong cement, that they fall only vhlen undermined, and then in large bodies from ito 20 tons weight. They have the appearance of large rocks on the ghore. The foil below the monutains feems to have acquired a character for goodnefs which it by no means delerves. Though not rich, it is well fuited to the growth of tobacco and indian corn, and parts of it for wheat. Good crops of cotton, flax and hemp are alfo raifed; and in fome counties they have plenty of cyder, and exquifite brandy, diftilled from peaches, which grow in great alundance upon the numerous rivers of the Chefapeak. The plantets, before the war, paid their principal attention to the culture of tolacco, of which there ufed to be exported, genera:ly, 55,000 hogfineads a year. Since the revolution, they are turning their attention more to the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, barley, flax and hemp. It is expected that this State will add the art:cle of rice to the lift of her exports; as it is fuppofed, a large hody of fwanp in the eafternmoft counties, is capab!c of producing it. Horned or neat cattle are bred in great numbers in the weftern counties of Virginia, as well as in the States $S$ of it , where they have an exten-

Give range, and mild winters, without any permanent fnowa. They run at large, are not houfed, and multiply very fan. The gentlemen, being fond of pleafure, have taken much pains to raife a good breed of horfes, and have fucceeded in it beyond any of the States. They will give roool. ferling for a good feed horfe. Horic racing has had a great tendency to encourage the breeding of good horfen, as it affords an opportunity of putting them to the trial of their fpeed. They are more elegant, and will perform more fervice, than the horfes of the northern Statcs.' ${ }^{\prime}$ Caves among the mountaius, have lately been difcovered, which yield falt petre in fuch abundance, that 500,000 pounds of it inght be collected from them annually. Virginia is thought to be the moft pregnant with minerals and foffils of any State in the Union. A tingle lump of gold ore has been found, near the falls of Rappahannock river, which yielded $i 7$ dwt. of gold, of extraordinary ductility. No other indication of gold has been difcovered in its neighbourhood. On the great Kanhaway, oppofite to the mouth of Cripple Creek, and alfo about 25 miles from the fouthern houndary of the State, in the county of Montgomery, are mines of lead. The metal is mixed, fumetimes with carth,and fometimes with rock, which requires the force of gunpowder to open it; and is accompanied with a portion of filver, too fmall to be worth feparation, under any procefs hitherto attempted there. The proportion yielded is from 50 to 80 lb of pure metal from 100 lb . of wahhed ore. The moft cominon is that of 60 to the 100 ll . Copper, iron, hlack lead, coal, marble, lineftone, \&c. are found in this country. Cryfala are common. Some amechyfte, and one emerald have been difcovered. Every able bodied freeman, herween the ages of 16 and 50 , is enrolled in the militia. Those of every county are formed into companies, and thefe again into one or more battalions, pecording to the numbers in the county. They are commanded by Colonels and pther fubordinate officers, as in the regular fervice. In every county is a county licutenant, who commands the whole militia in his county, but ranks only as a Culonel in the ficld. They have no general officers always exinting. Thefe are appointed occafionally, when an invafion or infurrection bappens, and their commiflion ceafes with the occafior. The GQvernor is head of the military as well
ascivil power. The law requires every militia man to provide himfelf with the a rma ufual in the regular fervice The interfection of Virginia byfo many navigable rivera,renders it almoftincapable of defence. As the land will not fupport a great number of people, a force cannot foon be collected to repel a fudden invafion. If the militia bear the fame proportion to the number of inhabitants now, as in 1782, they amount to about 75,000 . This fate is not divided into townfhips, nor are there any towns of confequence, owing prohably to the interfection of the country by navigable rivers, which brings the trade to the doors of the inlabitants. Norfolk will probably become the emporium for all the trade of the Chefapeak Bay and its waters ; and a canal of 8 or 10 miles, which is contemplated, will bring to it all that of Albemarle Sound and its waters. The College of William and Mary was founded about the hegin. ning of the laft century. See Williamburg. In Prince Edward county is a college by the name of Hampden Sydney college. Wafhington College, at Lexington, is handfomely endowed, and is one of the monf flourifhing literary inflitutions in the State. There are academies at Alexandria, Norfolk, Hanover, and other places. The prefent denominations of Chrifians in Virginia are Preflyterians, who are muif numerous, Epifcopalians, Baptifts, and Methodifts. The exports of this State, in the year 179r, ending Sept. 30th, amounted to 3,131,227 dollart ; in 1792, 3,549,499 dollars ; in 1793, 2,984,3 $\times 7$ dollars; in 1794, $3,321,494$ dollars ; in 1796,5,268,6 1 dollars; in $1797,4,908,713$ dollars ; in 1798, 6,113,451 dollars ; in 180x, $4,660,36 \mathrm{x}$ dollars. The tonnage of Virginia in 1798 wat, 69,586 tons. In 1790, about 40,000 hogheads of tobacco were exported; but its culture has fince declined, and that of wheat taken its place. The greatefl quantity of tobacco ever produced io this country, in one year, was 70,000 hhds. in the year 1758 . Virginia was fetted permanently, after feveral preceding unfuceefisful attempts, in 1610, being the earlieft efablifhed of any of the United Staies.

Above the pit it extends 150 feet in a direct line. 'Ihe face, on each fide the wall, is fmooth and even; all the flones of an irregular fize and fhape. The large ftones are all laid lengthwife, acrofs the wall; the fmall, of which there is a great number, are ufed to fill up the interfices between them. The texture of the ftone is of a peculiar kind, and different from any in the neighloourhood, except one quatry, whi. is at the diftance from the wall of about one half of a mile. The cement is of a whitifh colour, and appears to contain much lime; but when analyzed, yields iron without any lime. The difcovery of this wall, which cau farcely be Voz. I.

Wafbington City, in the territory of Columbia, was ceded by the State of Virgiaia and Maryland to the United State, and by them eflablifhed as the feat of their government, after the year 1800 . This city fands at the junction of the river Patowmack, and the Eaftern Branch, lat. 3853 N, - extending nearly 4 miles up each. For although the land in general appears level, yet by gentle and gradual fwellings, a variety of elegant profpect. are produced, and a fufficient defient formed for conveying off the water oceafioned by rain. Within the limits of the city are a great number of excellent fprings ; and by digging wells, water of the ben quality may readily be had. Befide, the never failing freams that now rnn through that territory, may alfo be collected for the ufe of the city. The waters of Reedy Branch, and of Tiber Creek, may be conveyed to the Prefident's houfe. The fource of Tiber Creek is elevated about 236 feet above the level of the tide in faid Creck. The perpendicular height of the ground on which the capitol fands, is 78 feet above the level of the tide in Tiber Creck. The water of Tiber Creek may therefore be conveyed to the capitol, and after watering that part of the city, may be deftined to other ufeful purpofes. The Eaftern Branch forms a fafe and commodious harbour, being fufficiently deep for the largent liips, for about 4 miles above its inouth, while the channel lies clofe along the bank adjoining the city, and affords a large and convenient harbour. The Patowmack, although only navigable for fmall craft, for a confiderable difance from its banks next the city, (excepting about half a mile above the junction of the rivers) will neverthelefs afford a capacious fummer harbour; as a great number of fhips may ride in the great channel, oppofite to, and below the city. The fituation of this metropols is upon the great poft road, equi diflant from the northern and fouthern extremities of the Union, and nearly fo from the Atlantic and Pitthburg, upon the ben navigation, and in the midft of a commercial territory, probably the richeft, and commanding the moft extenfive internal refnurce of any in America. It has therefore many advantages to recommend it, as an eligible place for the pernanent feat of the general government. The plan of this city appears to contain fome important improvements upon that of the beft planned cities in the world, combining, in a remarkable degree, convenience, reguJarity, eleganee of profpect, and a free circulation of air. The Prefident's houfe fands on a rifing ground, polfefiing a delightful water profpect, together with a commanding view of the ciuitol; and the mof material parts of the city. Lines or avenues of direct communication, have been devifed to connect the mort diftant and important objects. Thefe tranfiverfe avenues, or diagonal nreets, arc liid out on the moft adrantageous giound for profpect and convenience, and are calculated not only to produce a variety of charming profpects, but greatly to facilitate t's communication throughout the city. Nand $\$$ lines, interfected by others running due $E$ and $W$, make the diftribution of the city into freets, fquares, \&c. and thofe lines have been fo combined, as to meet at certain given points, with the divergent avenues, fo as to form, on the fpaces firf determincd, the different fquares or areas. The grand avenues, and fuch freets as lead immediately to public places, are from 130 to 160 feet wide, and may be conveniently divided into foot ways, a walk planted with trees on each fide, and a paved way for carriages. The other freets are from 90 to 110 feet wide. In order to execute this plan, Mr. Ellicott drew a true meridional line by celeftial obfervation, which pafles through the area intended for the capitol. This line he crofled by another, running due $\mathbf{E}$ and $\mathbf{W}$, which paffes through the fame area. Thefe lines were accurately meafured and made the bafes on which the whole plan was executed. He ran all the lines by a tranfit infrument, and determined the acute angles by actual meafurement, leaving nothing to the uncertainty of the compars. The city contained in 1803 , about 880 houfes, 350 of brick, and a few of tone, the refl are of wood; many of thefe houfes are large and handfome. Thefe buildings are in s Separate divifions or villages, one is near the capitol, one near the navy yard, one at Greenleaf's Point, one near the Prefident's houfe, and one near Georgesown. This laft is the fmalleft, and that at Greenleaf's Point is the mon folitary. Of 7 ranges of buildings, each having from 2 to 4 tenements, 2 and 3 flories ligh, not more than 3 are inhabited, all the other large and clegant buildings are falling into ruins. Of 26 brick houles, 2 ftories high near the capitol, not more than 3 or 4 are habitable. The uthers are rapidly decaying. There are 3 places for public workhip, one.for Roman Catholics, one for Bapt fts, and one for Epifcopaliaus. During the feflion of Congrefs the chaplaing are permitted to preach in the reprefentatives' room. 'The hall of the treafury department is alfo occafionallyufed forpublic worfhip. The Preficlent's lioufe is 170 by 85 fect, two nories high. It is built of free white fone, the roof covertd with flate. The plan of the capitol is to prefent, when completed, a front of 362 feet, but only the $\mathbf{N}$ wing is yet erected. The Horel flands at the corncr of 7 th and 8th freets, extciding 60 feet on the firft, 120 on the other. The building is of brick, the bafement is of cut white fone, 10 fect high, half of which is under ground. It is three fories high; the firft and fecond are 14 fect high, the third is eleven. The gaol is 100 feet by $\mathbf{2 6}$, two forics high, the firf 9 the fecond 8 feet high. In the city are three market houfes. At the navy yard are three large brick buildings for the reception of naval tores. Barrack: are crected for the marines, having a front of 300 feet. A canal, connecting Tiber creek with the Eafiern Branch, has bcen partially executed for a number of years ; the tide flows into it 5 or 6 inches deep. At Greenleaf's Point is a powder magazine and a guard houfe. Two bridges are built over Rock creek, which divides the city from Georgetown. The bridge near the mouth of the creck has three archcs, is about 135 feet in length, and 36 wide. The other, 6 jo yards above, is fupported by piles, is about $\mathbf{2 8 0}$ feet long and 18 wide. The public offices occupy two buildings, each about 450 feet from the Prefident's houfe, and having a front of 120 feet, 60 feet wide, two fories high, with a white fone balement 5 or 6 feet above the furface of the ground ; each fory is 16 feet high. The method of killing fmall birds and fowl that perch on the lieach, is by making a light; the prefent mode is with hog's lard in a frying pan; but the Indians are fuppofed to lave ufed a pine torch. Birds, in a dark night, will flock to the light, and may be killed with a walking-cane. The banks of the river Montmoroncy are perfectly perpendicular both below and above the falls, and are conspofed of a foft fione, refembling in colour and texture, the flunes brought and fo much eftecmed, from the Comecticut river. 'This fuftnefs of the fones, and the rapidity of the current, have occafioned the moft perfect regularity in the banks, which are nearly as fmooth as if they had been under the hand of an artif. The river does not exceed 50 yards in width ; but the rapidity of it is fuch, that the body of water, which is precipitated over the falls, is very great. About so feet above the perpendicular caficade, the water begins to tumble over rocks at an angle of about 45 degrees, till it arrives to its greas leap, where it falls in one unbroken, uninterrupted fieet, to the bottom. The height of the perpendicular fall has been diftinctly meafured, which may be done with much more accuracy than thofe of Niagara, and from the refult of the menfuration it is alcertained, that the height is at leaft 240 feet, and is probably greater than that of any other hitherto difcovered. Thefe falls may he viewed to more advantage than any other in Amcrica, as Gen. Haldeman, when governor of Canada, erected a fummer houfe, which by means of long fills upon the bank, is projected direclly over the siver, and within a few fect of the falls. If thefe falls are inferior to thofe of Niagara, in point of grandeur and fublimity, they certainly rival them in beauty, and excel them in height. They will therefore be vifited by all travellers into this part of America, who are admirers of the fupendous and wonderful works of the God of nature.
