THE GERMAN NAVY IS ON THE RUN! THE INCREASE IN COST OF FOOD WILL BE ALLOWED IN CANADA

PREPARE FOR THE GREAT CHANGE

The Great Dislocation in Europe has changed things forever, and in the twinkling of an eye. There is to be a new world henceforth.

"And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away."

It is the recognition of this great and revolutionary fact that will test us all. This revolution will show itself in many things, and each man and woman must read the change for its own guidance. As individuals, or as organizations, we may have, some forthwith, some a little later on, to adjust ourselves to the great changes that are at hand.

Let us try and shed a ray of light on what we are urging, say in the greater politics of the English-speaking nations—Great Britain and the United States. We have completed a hundred years of peace under many discouraging conditions. We believe that if not a closer union, MORE UNION is the first clear better understanding, if not a closer union. MORE UNION is the first clear note. The two parties—the four parties—got together in England when the King summoned them to meet, nominally over the Irish situation, in 1801. From now on there will be great revolutions in government, in man-making, in the association of nations, in political economy, in finance, in human conditions generally. Perhaps the Madman of Berlin is but the match that has fired the mine!

And our statesmen ought to be the first to see the changes and to anticipate them, at least in the main. Wooden men, trained in the past, and who cannot even read the past, will be least able to guide the future. So in finance, in production and distribution, in almost every department of human organization.

Let us try and shed a ray of light on what we are urging, say in the greater politics of the English-speaking nations—Great Britain and the United States. We have completed a hundred years of peace under many discouraging conditions. We believe that if not a closer union, MORE UNION is the first clear better understanding, if not a closer union. MORE UNION is the first clear note. The two parties—the four parties—got together in England when the King summoned them to meet, nominally over the Irish situation, in 1801. From now on there will be great revolutions in government, in man-making, in the association of nations, in political economy, in finance, in human conditions generally. Perhaps the Madman of Berlin is but the match that has fired the mine!

And before we leave the question of finance, could there have been anything worse in our past history or the history of the United States than the creation of that great gambling machine known as Wall street, and which, as they say, is the cause of our greatest property and our best investment—the Canadian Pacific, to wit—a pawn for gamblers to play with, and not only that, but a machine to ruin thousands and thousands of Canadian, British and American investors. We all know now that the first sign of the war, if any that could have read it, was the immense selling of the C.P.R. shares in Germany! Even the financial heads of that company in Montreal did not know when the lightning was coming from, although they say the flash; perhaps they think, in league with the war lord, started to wreck the shareholders of our great road; and not only that, later on they even apparently gave selling orders to New York brokers and banks with whom they had a large credit to sell this same stock short, and in a few days to the millions of money for themselves! Surely there is to be no more future for this Wall street and this kind of financing. It is one of the things that are about to disappear forever. What President Wilson has been working on for four years, and what many other states have been working on, is now to put an end to it, will probably find further efforts unnecessary. Wall street belongs to the days before the great readjustment which is now under way!

Take next our parliamentary machine. Most of the parliaments concerned in this great war throughout the world are in session today. In less than two weeks we will have the Canadian Parliament at work; but surely it will never attempt to do business again in its own name. We do not know of a more unworkable proposition: it had about become discredited, and the one thing that marked more than anything else Canadian parliamentary institutions as we have had them in recent years was the effort to shut them down and get the members to league with the war lord, and the modern new parliamentary machine, whatever it is, will, as a result of the great dislocation, and as a result of the new readjustment, take on a new and better form, and seek to serve the country rather than the members of the machine, as it has been in the past in Canada, a more talking machine, a machine that talks about nothing but personal or local prejudices.

Do you notice that the English railways are in the hands of the government—brought about in less than twenty-four hours! They will never go back: when the war is over England will refund the securities and keep the property. Who two weeks ago would have suggested public ownership in this respect without a great struggle?

And among new things that are to come and may come rapidly is the dawn of a genuine movement to do away with war. There will be no more Kaisers going on the one side, and no more armaments firms bedeviling the newspapers and public bodies into voting war supplies and things of that kind. In the interval of readjustment, great organizations in the shape of army and navy, perhaps; but they will be purely of a police character, and not for war. The man who is bent on making war hereafter, and the nation bent on the same thing, will be caged.

And our belief is that if the present conflagration in Europe is not soon checked in its own name, in its own interest, if for no other interest, will we have to step in and become one of the allies for the complete suppression of the Kaiser and his mendacity, his duplicity, and his infernal ambition to dominate civilization by means of highly organized and scientific machines for human slaughter! The States is the last country to sit quiet when Caesarism is to meet its Brutus!

The more one thinks of things, and the more you try to grasp what is going on, the more one sees in its own interest, the enormous problems that are before humanity, the more one is forced to admit that the great dislocation of which we have spoken is and was for the purpose of bringing about the great regeneration of civilization as we happen to know it in this fraction of this century.

The Bavaria will discharge all passengers and freight at the docks here and will then be held awaiting orders from company.

BRITISH FLEET CHASES GERMAN

Bulletin, London, Aug. 7, 1.42 a.m.
---The British Fleet has engaged the German Fleet on the high seas. The British Warships are reported to be driving the Germans towards the Dutch coast.

FIRST CANADIAN CONTINGENT WILL BE READY IN FEW DAYS

Lists of Recruits Will Be Sent to Ottawa, Where Selections of Officers, Non-Coms and Men Will Be Made—Rush Orders for Rifles and Ammunition.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The necessary order-in-council providing for the mobilization of the Canadian troops for service outside of Canada, was passed by the cabinet this afternoon and was telegraphed at once to the commanding officer of each divisional area. He in turn will notify the commander of each military unit. It had already begun or not, the commanders of the units will send their lists of recruits direct to headquarters at Ottawa, where the selections will be made of officers, non-commissioned officers and men who will form the army division that will take only a couple of days. The rolls are expected to be all received at headquarters by the middle of next week. An army division ordinarily includes three brigades of artillery of three batteries each, but it is not known yet whether the artillery of the army division will be of this strength. It is confidently believed here that Canada has a splendid supply of horses for artillery and other service. After the recruiting all over the country it is presumed that the troops will at once be gathered at Quebec, thence there is nothing certain about this yet. By the time the men are ready to be moved it will probably be known just what course is to be followed. The Canadian authorities will act in closest and heartiest co-operation with the imperial authorities in all the plans that are adopted. Rush orders, however, have been placed for tents and tractors are working night and day to fill these orders. The Dominion arsenal at Quebec is also working overtime on ammunition of all kinds, and thousands of Ross rifles have been ordered for quick delivery from the factory at Quebec.

WAR SUMMARY

The World asks its readers to remember that while every effort is being made to keep them in touch with the events of the war all that has yet transpired is only of the nature of preliminary and indecisive clashes. The Germans are only feeling their way into Belgium and at least a week will elapse before the real struggle commences. The Belgians have put up a brave resistance to the entry of German troops and have done incalculable service in delaying their advance. France in this way will be enabled to line up with the Belgian forces in preparation for the main attack, and this again will secure the additional time necessary for the British expeditionary force to reinforce the allies.

Much depends on the naval engagement that is awaited with intense anxiety. But here again unless the German fleet emerges from the protection of Germany's land fortifications, little can be done. It will take time to chase the German U-boats away from the coast, and the British navy within its stronghold.

Canada
Cable accepting offer of a Canadian contingent received by government from imperial authorities. Force will sail in about two weeks. Government takes steps to prevent undue rise in price of food. Board to censor all despatches appointed. It is stated that Hon. Sam Hughes will not command contingent. The wireless station at Toronto Island was taken over by the government last night. A guard will be stationed there immediately. The necessary order in council calling for the mobilization of the Canadian troops was passed by the cabinet and sent to the commanding officer of each divisional area. Recruiting will only take a couple of days at most.

Britain
The British cruiser Amphion with 130 men was sunk by striking a mine. Twenty-eight German prisoners were landed at Harwich after a German steamer was sunk by the British destroyer Lence. Parliament votes additional war credit of $500,000,000 and empowers Earl Kitchener to increase the British army strength by half a million men. Premier Asquith discloses infamous proposal by Germany for partition of Belgium and colonies as price of Britain's neutrality. German ambassador leaves London for continent. Bank of England rate reduced from ten to six per cent. Sir Ian Hamilton likely to command home army.

France
Fleet captures German cruiser. Food supply of Paris plentiful. Publication of weekly statement of Bank of France, suspended.

Russia
Russian cruiser Askol and German cruiser Emden reported sunk after engagement off Wlchawal, China. German squadron bombards Sveaborg, the "Gibraltar of Baltic."

Austria
Declares war on Russia. Russian ambassador in Vienna given his passports.

Italy
May declare war against Austria, following Germany's ultimatum.

WOMEN PATRIOTS PLAN TO RAISE BIG AMOUNT

O. D. E. Organize Whirlwind Campaign to Obtain One Hundred Thousand Dollars in Six Days for Purchasing and Equipping Hospital Ship—Premier Borden Approves.

Canadian women everywhere received a clarion call to arms yesterday afternoon, when, on the invitation of Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, president of the National Chapter, O.D.E., a mass meeting of women representatives of many societies assembled at the headquarters of the I.O.D.E., Bloor and Sherbourne streets, to devise ways and means of assisting in the present impending crisis. The women were filled with patriotism and the desire to do their bit for King and country, and to the men who would in all probability soon need womanly assistance and encouragement.

A preliminary meeting had been held, at which it had been decided to act on the suggestion for the buying and equipping of a hospital ship, to be presented thru the Canadian Government to the British admiralty. After the opening prayer Mrs. Gooderham advised the meeting of the purpose of the call. She then read a telegram from Miss Mollie Plummer, secretary of the National I.O.D.E., who happens to be in the west, but who will arrive in a few days, setting out her suggestion of the hospital ship and the details of its equipment. The suggestion had been accepted by the preliminary meeting, and a wire offering the ship on behalf of the women of Canada had been sent. To this the following answer was received from the premier: "The government most warmly appreciates the resolution of the I.O.D.E., and on behalf of the Canadian people, we send our thanks."—Signed R.L.B. Duchess is Pleased. Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught had also been communicated with, and sent the following reply: "I am delighted to hear of splendid proposal of women of Canada to equip (Continued on Page 7, Column 4)

GERMANY OFFERED TO GIVE BELGIUM TO GREAT BRITAIN

Kaiser's Government Proposed to Barter That Country and French Colonies in Return for British Neutrality, Says Premier Asquith, But Infamous Proposals Were Promptly and Indignantly Declined—Only Four Shots Needed to Sink German Steamer—Russian Grand Duke Held as Prisoner of War.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Aug. 6.—One of the most sensational features of the day's developments has been Premier Asquith's exposure, in the house of commons this evening, of what he characterized as the "infamous proposals" made to the British Government by Germany in its desperate efforts to induce Great Britain to take up an attitude of neutrality in regard to the war.

It was announced yesterday that the premier would today make a statement in the house concerning the negotiations which took place between the British and German governments preceding the declaration of war, and it was anticipated that he would have some startling revelations to make. The most daring propositions concerning the nature of the revelations fell short, however, of the actual facts and Mr. Asquith's exposure of what is universally denounced as German proposals, caused a tremendous and painful sensation. The premier stated that the Kaiser's government went so far as to propose to barter the French colonies and Belgium in return for British neutrality, and his statement that the British Government promptly and indignantly declined to entertain the "infamous proposals," was greeted with round after round of cheering.

The premier made a brief reference to the appointment of Field Marshal Kitchener as secretary of war. He said that Earl Kitchener's connection with the government did not identify him with any political party. In a great public emergency he had responded to a great public call, and he would have in the discharge of his most arduous task the complete confidence of all. To increase the Army. In behalf of Lord Kitchener, the premier asked power to increase the army by not less than half a million men. "I am encouraged to ask this," he said, "not only by reason of our own sense of the gravity of the circumstances, but the knowledge that India is prepared to send us two divisions, and everyone of the self-governing dominions has spontaneously tendered in the utmost limits of its possibility, both in men and money all the help it can afford the empire. The mother country must set an example, while at the same time responding with gratitude and affection to the final overtures of the outlying members of the family." War Credit Voted. There was another stirring scene when the house of commons was asked to vote a war credit amounting to £100,000,000 sterling ($500,000,000). The enormous appropriation was passed almost in the twinkling of an eye, and with complete unanimity, the members rising and cheering vociferously. German Prisoners Landed. The horrors of modern warfare were brought closely home to the residents of the little Essex seaport town of Harwich this morning when twenty-eight German prisoners were landed there. Several of them were in a horribly mutilated condition and were conveyed at once to the barracks hospital, some being in a dying condition. Four of the Germans had lost their legs, whilst two had their arms blown off. The prisoners were not the result of an engagement between British and German warships, as at first reported, but were the survivors of the crew of their German mine-laying steamer Koenigsluise, which was sunk yesterday by the British torpedo boat destroyer Lance while in the act of laying mines about three miles off Harwich. The destruction of the Koenigsluise only required the firing of four shots by the Lance. The third shot wrecked the vessel's bridge and tore a great hole in her nearly amidships, and the fourth carried away the stern of the vessel, which sank in six minutes. Two Steamers Seized. Two steamers belonging to the Hamburg-American Line now lying in Falmouth harbor, the Krossing and Cecile and the Prinz Adalbert, have been seized by the British Government as prizes of war. A St. Petersburg despatch to The Central News states that, according to The Bourne Gazette, the Grand Duke Constantine Constantinovitch had been arrested by Germans at Bad Wildungen, whither he was taking the cure. The grand duke is being held as a prisoner of war.

Letter from German Officer to Canadian Wife Reveals Kaiser's Sinister Scheme.

The World has it on excellent authority that a Canadian lady, who is married to a German military officer, and who has been over staying with her friends in Toronto, received a letter from her husband, dated June 2, telling her that if she was returning to Germany she must hasten to do so, as all the ports would be closed by August 1, and it would be impossible for her to get into Germany after that date.

There seems to be no doubt from all that can be gathered, and from the news that leaks out from time to time that Germany had the whole situation arranged. The assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince gave a plausible pretext to start operations, and the clash in Dublin gave the Kaiser the cue, as he thought, to the psychological moment. The moment may prove to be suicidal, not psychological.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

The Witnesses Who Ran Away

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

WE sat at the tea table the other day, six or seven of us—women from all over the world and a man or two from nowhere in particular, and everywhere in general—and we talked of many things. We talked of the latest mental arithmetic problem, and of the latest music, where you have to get a diagram to know what it is all about, and of the latest food fads, and of how to be happy though starving, and of who is really the prettiest woman we ever saw, and who the cleverest man, and many, many interesting things.

Winifred Black

And one of the men told us how he had just come from a mining camp in the frozen north.

"I didn't expect to get down so soon," said the man with so much feeling, that she made the tears come to our eyes, and we were all a little proud of our sentiment and sympathy—I think. And it was all a very charming afternoon.

And one of the women laughed lightly and said: "Yes—that was like me and the automobile accident. We heard afterward that the machine killed the poor woman—we didn't wait to see."

Presence of Mind.

"I was so excited I would have run right out—but my husband hurried me into the house—he always thinks so much more quickly than I do."

"Just imagine it, if he hadn't done that, some one would have seen us on the porch and we would have had to appear as witnesses—and we knew the man who was to blame."

"He lives right down our street—wouldn't it have been awful?"

And we all said, "Dear me—what an escape!" and "Well, that was exactly like Jim to see the whole situation in an instant."

And only one of us asked whether the man was arrested—and we found that he was not and that nothing was ever done about it. That was quite natural, of course, we all seemed to think, because the woman he killed was a very poor woman who worked for her living and was just going home to her children after a long day scrubbing and cleaning.

And the lady who was so glad that she didn't have to appear as a witness in that case played for us and sang, "My Heart It Is a Garden," and she sang it so beautifully, and again, that she made the tears come to our eyes, and we were all a little proud of our sentiment and sympathy—I think. And it was all a very charming afternoon.

People Born Wrong.

But today I keep thinking of the man who stood in his own doorway and was shot down by a cruel brute, and somehow, I do not like the man who came down from the frozen north before he expected to—because he did not want to be a witness in that case.

And the woman who died—there in the open street, struck down as if she had been some poor creeping worm of the dust—mangled and torn. Who went to her poor little home and told her children that she would never come home to them again?

Was it not my duty, would it not have been yours, to speak out—for once—and say what we thought of such heartless selfishness? Those people who told these stories had told them often before—and will tell them often again. They are born wrong, such people as that—something is missing in the brain—or in the heart. Whose duty is it to help to educate them? Is it yours—wasn't it mine?

A Well-Planted Rockery

I hesitated a minute before deciding on this heading. I was in doubt whether the heading "A Badly-Planted Rockery" would not attract the attention more quickly.

The truth is that yesterday, prowling around the north portion (I will not say how far north) of the city my eyes fell upon a wondrous sight. It first resembled a tumbled waste heap (upon which withered weeds had some weeks ago flourished) made me doubt if the pile was or was not a rock garden; but a closer look discovered the fact that I was gazing on a badly-planted heap of stones and rocks, that, under decent conditions, sensible planting and careful attention might easily be the one beauty spot on an already lovely and well-ordered street. It was in the middle of a fine lawn.

Because it was a rockery. A splendid rockery of nice large, fat, rough and cornered boulders. Plenty of rocks—enough to bombard the Germans from here to—from here to the North Sea.

Giant phlox had been planted on that rockery if you please. They are nothing now but tall dried up stems. And ten weeks' stock, also gone the way of all neglected or badly placed plants. Some straggling nasturtiums were sprawling in their usual vulgar fashion, and worn-out of course. My fingers did ache to jerk those nasturtiums up! I didn't.

From the general waste heap I picked ed out a plant of two of dead sweet sultan, some blighted aster—asters, do you mind—and in a rock-garden, of all other spots in the garden.

There were other plants there, every single and solitary one wrongly placed, but when I rubbed my amazed eyes before I could really acknowledge that the prickly thing waving hysterically to the north side of the rockery was a crimson rambler I had to confess to myself that the limit in ignorant and asinine rockery planting had been reached. No, indeed, that last is not a little bit too strong.

Now on that rockery should be such plants as produce sword-and-lance-like leaves. When these flowers bloom they improve. When they bloom has departed the effect of the healthy sword leaves is always good. These plants do not show the result of lack of water, unless the lack is very pressing. Ferns of the sword kind should be on that rockery, and deep-rooted annuals or perennials, whose fibres penetrate deep among crevices, alpine, suitable for that especially sunny situation can be readily chosen and as readily obtained. And in various spots, alpine to carpet should be planted.

BREAD SCARE.

BROCKVILLE, August 6.—Brockville is threatened with a bread famine on account of the shortage of flour, due to the increased buying occasioned by the war. Local dealers say they have shipments on the way, and give assurance that there is no need of a panic.

The NURSERY CONDUCTED BY Elsie Murray CHILDREN'S CLOTHES

For finely-tucked yokes or waists it is easier and better to tuck the material and then cut it by a plain pattern. If lace insertion is to be placed between a tuck or a group of tucks allow for this space in the tucking. When the material is cut by the pattern the insertion should be placed in the proper position, but not before, as it is likely to waste it. Baste both edges of the insertion to the material, and if the insertion is narrow cut thru the centre of the goods, turn under the edges and baste, in readiness for machine stitching. If evenly done this machine stitching looks very well indeed, and for the busy mother is more sensible than handwork for any but an unusually fine material. For wider insertion, instead of cutting thru the centre of the material under the lace, cut away the material nearly the width of the insertion, simply allowing a seam on each side. Turn in these edges, baste and stitch on the right side.

In applying insertion above a hem the method differs slightly; the insertion is basted in place, with the lower edge at the exact top of the hem. The material is cut away and turned in at the upper edge, as described, while the lower edge is turned over but completed by meeting the top of the hem, then one row of stitching answers for the insertion and the hem. In linen where a heavy embroidery is used it can be inserted by means of a French seam which shows no stitching. This is possible, as there is always a margin of plain material on each side of embroidery insertions.

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST. Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless, one following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 5 ounces; Lavender de Compose, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous ingredients so frequently found in hair tonics.

THE NEW HOUSEKEEPING
BY MRS. CHRISTINE FREDERICK

Housework as a Paid Profession

HOUSEKEEPING is no longer wholly a matter of washing dishes and peeling potatoes. The mechanical washer and peeler are doing much of this drudgery. Housekeeping is now emphasizing the "management" side, the ethical qualities. More and more women need competent, really intelligent help in their homes. The points to be considered are not how much manual work a girl can do, but how intelligent she is, whether she can run the family finances on a budget plan, care for children, serve and cook food prepared according to "balanced" and dietetic standards, etc.

I earnestly call the sweet girl graduate's attention to the fact that a new type of house worker is coming. She is the trained, intelligent young woman who sees in home making not only a means to earn a certain sum a week, but a means of developing every taste and faculty she possesses. Ponder it a moment, you will see that the worker in the home is the only individual not hit by the high cost of living. Compare her $6 a week and maintenance with the average weekly shopgirl wage of $5, without board or lodging; or the thousands of business girls getting only $8 to $9.

But wages for the trained worker in the future will be much higher than $6, because there is a great demand, a low supply, and because the work itself is worth it. Even now several large corporations are employing visiting housekeepers among their employes. Such a girl visits the family, shows the mother how to buy, market, care for children, furnish the house. She may stay a day, or several weeks. Then there is the girl who likes to cook, who is already turning her energy into a tea room, diet kitchen, care of children's lunch room. The girl who can successfully launder fine lingerie has a field all her own. The matron, the trained house worker, the "mother's helper" are in consistent demand.

These various lines all radiate from the home. The more skill, the more science, the better knowledge of tools, mechanics and modern business a girl possesses, the more does the field of the home call her. Not the old 6 x 4 home—but the new, scientific home, the home of the future, who is going to run the co-operative home? The sloppy, waddling inefficient Hilda or Lizzie? No, the alert, trained, skilled Miss Brown! If the advances of the co-operative home would condescend to ask the opinion of a plain mother I should say that the success of the co-operative home will depend almost entirely not on the building, or the plans, nor on the backers—but on the trained, skilled, intelligent women and house workers who are going to do the actual work. The more trained house workers, the sooner the co-operative home will be a reality; and the sooner the "servant problem" will be solved. The girls who see this will have the advantage of an uncrowded profession, with a big demand, big wages and constant chance for improvement.

At the same time they will be doing work to fit them for a possible motherhood and homemaking of their own—which no typewriting or selling shoes could ever do. Where are the far-sighted girls, willing to exchange a diploma for an apron—with money in its pocket?

ANDREW CARNEGIE SUPPORTS BRITAIN

HOUSEWIVES FIGHT ADVANCE IN FOODS

Members in United States Requested to Investigate Action All Round.

Canadian Press Despatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Andrew Carnegie, the world's most distinguished advocate of peace, approves of Great Britain's course in the present crisis. In a cable message from Scotland to The New York Evening Post, he says: "Germany having declined Britain's proposed peace conference, and then having asked Britain to agree to her march thru Belgium, Britain was bound to decline, and to declare that she would protect Belgium by land and sea."

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The National Housewives' League sent this notice to members throughout the United States: "Call a meeting to consider the prices of foodstuffs in your city. Investigate from every angle. Honest mechanics will not take advantage of the present war crisis to advance prices, but we must have the subject well in hand to protect the consumer from any unwarranted rise. Watch prices and report any advance to the national executive committee."

Don't Be Without It—10c

If Music Bores You, Why Not Confess It? By Winifred Black

THE preacher doesn't like music—classical music—and the other day he came right out and said so in plain English.

Foolish False Culture.

After him comes the man who doesn't care a snap of his finger for pictures, and who spends hours in art galleries posing, because he thinks it is the thing.

When "Atmosphere" Strayed.

But no. Somebody at some dinner mentioned Bernard Shaw—and the woman I know perceived that clever people seemed to be reading something by a man named Shaw, so she joined a culture class and learned a criticism of "Candida" by him, and she said it off very prettily, too.

She asked me the other day if I didn't think Kipling's love songs were really a little er—er, well—hardly the thing for drawing rooms. I couldn't make out whether she was trying to talk about "Danny Deever" or the "Road to Mandalay"—or could it be possible that she considered "Gunga Dhin" a love song?

Pictures—if I liked a chromo of "Wide Awake and Fast Asleep," or a red and yellow lithograph of the baby asking the dog if he could talk, better than I liked a Millet or a Rembrandt, I'd say so and he done with it.

Advice to Girls

Dear Annie Laurie: Is it the proper thing for a girl to ask a boy in after he brings her home from some place of amusement about 10:30?

On which side of a girl should a boy walk? Should he hold her arm? Should a girl let a boy bring her home or take her any place the first time she ever saw him?

No, it is not the proper thing for a girl to ask a boy in after 10:30 at night. And the reason that it is not the proper thing is perfectly plain.

A boy walks on the outside—always—something unpleasant comes along on the inside, and then he takes that place.

No, it is not customary for a boy to take a girl's arm, and girls do not take a man's arm unless the road is unusually rough or something of that sort.

It certainly would not be sensible to "correspond" with a boy after seeing him only once, and what is not sensible is never quite proper, is it?

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

Harmony Once More. I SHALL not forget my mother-in-law's eyes when I walked in with Mary. I won't say that they gazed, but for a bitter moment I could only think of a cannibal inspecting his prey.

Mary was charmingly a w-e-e-t and tried to make it as easy as possible for me. Her manner of easing the situation made me writhe. I had made up my mind exactly what I intended to say. Mary gave me no opportunity. She took the bull by the horns—and, doubtless to help me, made my apology for me.

"Mother," she said, kissing the lady with daughterly effusiveness, "Peter is so sorry he insulted you—so very sorry, aren't you Peter, dear? And you two are going to shake hands and we're all going to be just as happy again as we can."

It was so saccharine—so honeyed that it cloyed. Why do women adopt the horribly sentimental phraseology that makes every robust son of Adam writhe within himself. It's the sort of talk that drives a man, when he desires to mimic a woman, to pursue his lips, away his shoulders and pipe forth tantalizing inanities. I know very well that there are fine, sensible women who never talk in Italics—who never fringe their "so's" and their "so very much's" with verbal sugar, but there's an alarming percentage who do.

I know that Mary's apology made me blither. "I'm very sorry, Mrs. Penfield," I spoke up, "that I forgot the courtesy due to any woman, and to my elders."

The good lady writhed. She can never accept any reference to age with comfort. And I think she realized that, while I was apologizing whole-heartedly for discourtesy to a woman, I wasn't apologizing for the gist of my remarks.

"That's all right, Peter," she said, nodding her elaborately coiffed head at me with airy graciousness. "We'll forget all about it."

Other link in the chain which she was winding about my home, I knew her mother. There was an interval of constraint during which we talked of commonplace things.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why a Red and Shiny Nose May Often Be Due to Tea

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

OF the drinking of tea there is no end, but the coloring of tea with artificial green pigments there will be an end, if the prosecutions of the federal government against certain tea importers mean anything.

Tea is a soft, sobering, venerable liquid. It is a tongue-softening, smile-bringing, heart-opening cordial, to whose glorious insipidity many a man owes his tremors and his insomnia, his happiness and his moments of bubbling originality.

It is the cup that cheers and never inebriates, whatever else its excessive use may do. Although a little tea will go a great way, and is of a nature so mild and benign and proportioned to the human constitution as to warm without heating, the tea mania is responsible for many obscure complaints.

Across the seas tea ailments are not by any means confined to the feminine division, but in the "States" the tremblings and heartburns, twitches and executives of the homes are the victims.

To be sure, professional tea tasters might be expected to be horrible examples and extremes as far as any disorders which might be due to tea are concerned, and so they are.

The tannin, the oils and the alkaloid in tea affect professional tea tasters in an exaggerated way. They are full of muscular twitches and tremors and they may have various types and degrees of "enteritis" or inflamed intestines.

You need not be a tea fiend to be thus affected. Many persons, unknown to themselves, are hyper-sensitive, super-susceptible or "anaphylactic" to tea.

That is to say, one tiny cup of this home-brewed beverage influences many unfavorably. You are then said to have an idiosyncrasy to it, just as one man falls ill at the taste of pineapple, another at oysters, a third from carbonated waters.

The Chinese and Japanese seem to be almost immune to the unpleasant symptoms of tea drinking. This may be due to its ancient use in those countries, where it has been a thirst quencher for upward of 10,000 years.

All the weaklings in the Orient not able to withstand tea were eliminated ages ago. A little tea not only goes a great way, but its alkaloid—or essential ingredient—has been observed by Prof. Hollingsworth in his experiments upon a series of psychologists actually to increase efficiency, aid the muscles in work, enhance the powers of thought and imagination and to overcome fatigue.

The precise point at which a confirmed tea drinker passes over the border line of first aid and into the land of despond differs with different individuals. Usually it will be found that more than two cups of weak tea will set your nerves atingle-ingle-ingle like those of the doctor in "Elph Jinks."

Furthermore, tea should not be drunk with meats. When so taken there is formed a rock-like mass of indigestible stuff that even the stomach of a healthy girl who would otherwise have returned to the streets when they left the door of the jail.

Grass stains may be removed from white clothes by first of all rubbing the soiled parts carefully with a little fresh lard before washing in the usual way. After being treated in this manner the stains will have entirely disappeared.

Soda should be thoroughly dissolved in the washing water before the clothes are put in. Never allow it to lie about on the clothes, as this sometimes causes iron mould. Soda should never be added to water in which woolen things are being washed, as it causes them to shrink.

Directly the milk is left at the house take it at once into a cool larder or cellar and stand the jug in a basin of cold water with a handful of salt in it. Place a piece of wet butter-cloth over the top of the jug. The water must reach the milk-line in the jug. When infants are being fed on milk this method should always be put into practice. Cream should be treated in the same way.

Three Minute Journeys

Where SAIL BOATS Are Made of GRASS By TEMPLE MANNING

ON Lake Titicaca, high in the Andes of South America, there are several small steamers plying its 3000 square miles of water, but most of the boats used are actually made of grass. My first view of one was from the deck of a Titicaca steamer, but later I had an opportunity to sail in a grass boat, and to watch an old Indian while he was making one.

I came across the Indian as he was deftly plaiting the grass through the wooden ribs that he had stuck in the earth, and I watched his deft fingers fly in and out as sure and swift as a machine, but he would not talk to me. Nevertheless, he made no objection to my following him when his grass supply was exhausted and he went off to the lake shores to gather more. With him he took his household, composed of several women and half a dozen children, and they all trailed off to camp for a few days.

The shores of the lake are fringed by a kind of marsh grass that is very tough and wiry, but so pliable that it can easily be braided about the little cane ribs. Before the grass is woven it is slightly dried, not enough to split the texture, but sufficiently to cause it to swell a little and make the boat-hull watertight.

One of the squaws assured me that it would be the best boat in the world, and I saw, myself, that for their purpose it was admirable, and large enough to transport the 15 persons in the camp. It was the third boat that the old man had made; each of his other boats had lasted for years.

are stretched sails made of the same curious material as their hulls. These boats are not swift, because they are rather heavy, nor can they tack against the wind. But they suit the lazy Andean Indians to perfection, for they have all the time there is to wait for the wind to blow the way they wish to go.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 7.

BRavo, Belgium!

When one comes to consider it, the typical examples of absolutely unselfish patriotism have all come from the smaller nations that in defiance of inequality have resolutely set themselves to maintain and defend their independence. Scotland, Switzerland, the Netherlands all provide material for the historian and the poet. Confronted with more powerful neighbors and often menaced by internal troubles they have always been able to sink their domestic troubles when divisions entailed loss of independence. At the advent of the common foe internal broils ceased. United by the bond of country even the most bitter of feuds was suspended until the menace of national danger had passed.

The world has seen in those last days the splendid rally of the Belgians at the same inspiring call. Belgium ranks among the small powers of Europe, and has had a checkered history, and indeed for centuries had no independent existence. The modern kingdom originated in 1830 with the severance from the Netherlands of its southern provinces, the former Austrian Netherlands and the bishopric of Liege. Composed in race and language it has developed strong national patriotism of which its spirited defence to the invading German armies has supplied splendid proof. Britain, pledged to protect the independence of Belgium, has good reason to extend a helping hand to the people who willingly faced death rather than sacrifice their independence.

A NEW EUROPE.

Suspense is the worst of all things to bear. Whether what is coming be evil or good, when it does come it brings a certain sense of relief. For all thru history at the crises that have made and unmade nations, the point of tension is reached before the final issue is known. With knowledge comes the supreme test, whether the issue be favorable or unfavorable. Calmness, in the hour either of victory or defeat, marks the nation that has found itself, and even out of the ashes of its hopes it will gather new resolution and new strength. For the darkest hour is that before the dawn, as many a nation has found that persisted to the end.

In the olden time free nations, free cities, valued their independence far above material advantage. They helped to keep alive the spirit and the impulse that has carried the world along the path that is slowly but surely leading to the triumph of democratic government. This was in only another and possibly the last of the many conflicts that mark the rise of the people to a point where they shall rule and not any one man, obsessed with the notion that of divine right he is born to control the destiny of life and death. No cause of quarrel exists among the nations themselves. This conflict is not the act of the peoples but of individuals, dressed with a little brief authority whose only support is inculcated obedience. Of it will come a new Europe and the beginning of a new age.

LET US KEEP CLEAN HANDS.

A good deal of satisfaction must be felt over the denial yesterday of the story that an attack had been made upon the German legation in London and that it had been wrecked. Many regretted exceedingly that such an outbreak of the worst side of the mob spirit should have occurred in the British capital. In this time of all times the people of imperial Britain should stand as an example to all the world of self-control and moderation. We have been goaded terribly. Things are happening today at the instance of the German Empire which will make the name of Germany, as it made the name of Ulihan in France in 1870, stink over the earth. There should be nothing petty and nothing maliciously vindictive in our dealings with individuals of the nations with which we are at war.

Toronto has reason to think seriously of this in view of the alleged attacks upon the Liederkranz Hall. Canadians, above all others, should put far from them any feeling of the kind that would dictate such conduct, or tolerate it or condone it. We are proud to think that nothing of the sort occurred in London. Let us have no reason to be ashamed that anything of the sort happened in Toronto. The stranger within our gates may be a citizen any day. He is already a man and a brother. Do not let us have anything done that might make him less respectful of British rule or less eager to join us or to establish a similar regard for law and order in his own land.

AFTER THE WAR.

After the war, says Rev. Byron Stauffer, many Germans in the United States might go back to Germany to help make it a republic. There is little German sympathy across the border for the kaiser. Most of the Germans who left their fatherland, left it on account of the military despotism there.

While the present war continues and however long it continues, Britishers must never forget that the liberties they have inherited, which their fathers had to fight for, which were wrung from oppressors of the past, not greatly different from the kaiser of the present—that the inheritance of these liberties involves a responsibility towards the rest of the world which has not yet come under the beneficent sway of freedom. Our example as a nation is a challenge to every man with a spark of the divine fire in him, wherever he may live or whatever language he may speak. And when we challenge the rest of the world, by our example and precept, to live for liberty, we must not shrink when they call upon us to show them how also to die for it.

This is the great heart-stirring international bond which makes the people of all the nations brothers, whatever their rulers may say or do. No people are ripe for liberty that the German people. The great mistake the kaiser has made is to localize and materialize his aspiration, and to forget that before England was great she had to be free. The German nation will never be great in the highest sense, nor in any sense which the rest of the world will be glad to recognize, until her people also are free.

We have already recorded our view that the close of the present war is likely to be marked by the dissolution of the present German Empire. The formation of a German republic is the most logical step to follow. But there may be many internal questions to be settled in Germany before that is possible. If Prussia has a leader as stubborn and as magnetic as Frederick the Great, who fought for seven years for his existence and the existence of his people, the unification of Germany might not be attained under republican ideals for a long time. Modern warfare, however, is a very different matter from the warfare of the 18th century, and the Germans of today in all the nations of the German federation, are a vastly different people in education, in training, in experience and in ideals.

Should it happen that the kaiser meets with defeat in his French and Russian campaigns, and the allies begin to carry the war across the Rhine, a desperate struggle may be anticipated. This may only be a few weeks away. But it will remain to be seen whether the sensible, level-headed Germans, having met with defeat outside their borders, will be willing to have their own country over-run with bloodshed and destruction.

If the Germans at home have any of the sentiments of the expatriated fatherlanders of the United States they will be glad to seize the opportunity to dethrone their oppressors and set up a republic without delay, even as France did in 1870. To wait for the evolution of a constitutional monarchy at the end of a disastrous war would not be likely to appeal to the stricken nation as a reasonable alternative.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF SUMMER SCHOOLS

Large Number of Ontario Teachers Attending Special Courses.

The courses of instruction offered by the Ontario Department of Education are carried in character. In Guelpa 150 teachers are in attendance at the Agricultural College, where the courses fit them for giving instruction in agriculture and in the various branches of public schools. This course is in accord with the policy of the education department to promote and dignify the subject of agriculture as an essential part of the curriculum of rural schools.

In Toronto, London and Ottawa more than 300 men teachers are pursuing courses in physical training leading to the elementary and special certificates. If to these are added the 100 women who applied for similar courses at Toronto, the inference is clear that a new interest is being awakened in the teachers regarding the physical well-being of the school child.

SUGAR REFINERY TO OPEN SOON

JOHN, N.B., August 6.—Within the next few weeks the new refinery plant of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., which is regarded as one of the best equipped in the Dominion, will be in operation. Construction work began in January, 1913, the contractors being E. G. M. Cape and Co., Ltd., and the Dominion Bridge Company. The building, nine stories high, covers a ground area of seven acres, with a floor space of 175,000 square feet. The motive power is electricity, generated by a large steam plant on the premises. The raw product will be drawn from the British West Indies. The finished article will be shipped in barrels, bags, boxes and cartons. The chief market will be the Dominion of Canada. NOW WILLIE WE ARE GOING ON A PICNIC TO DAY—AND YOU ARE TO CARRY THE LUNCH-BASKET

Our Jack Is On The Firing Line.

By William Henry Taylor, Author of "Canadian Seasons."

Allo! abroad! around the world! Saint George's banner waves! The Lion seeks his challengers, and welcomes them to graves! His whelps are calling to their sire, and bounding to his aid; The Kaiser soon will learn that they are not on dress parade. New Zealand and Australian boys, from Cape and Hindostan, Will run a Marathon, to show John Bull that not a man Will flinch from fire or steel, to guard the paths across the brine, And Jack Canuck, his oldest whelp, is on the firing line.

The forest and the river, with the lakes and rolling sea, Expanded deep and wide his soul, and his pure pedigree Was carved upon Laurentian rock, on prairie, field and town, In picture-writing, bold and clear, by sires of high renown; You trace his line to France the Fair, whose sons on death could smile, To Albion's stalwart stock, and those bred in the Emerald Isle; They had a noble history, and thoughts of high design; They feared no danger, heat nor cold, when on the firing line.

A streak of Indian blood has Jack, absorbed from air and soil, A Mohawk in the battle front, a Chippewa to toll, A Mississippi on a horse, a Cree in a canoe, A Blackfoot on a scouting trail—that's Johnny's picture true. The Beaver is his coat-of-arms in times of peace, but he, In war is like a catamount, when leaping from a tree; He's good for field—no garrison, nor planning out the game; On fatted pork, and toughest beef—or nails—Canuck can dine, No dainty feeder is our boy, when on the firing line.

In French-Canadian-Indian wars his A B C's he spelt, In later lessons led his class on Africa's bloody veldt; At Chateaugay he went to school, and played a game of ball At Lundy's Lane with Jonathan—who tasted Johnny's gall; Upon the Nile and at Batouche, his card he handed in, Which Mister Bull was glad to play—the Jack of Trumps—to win; No parlor-sarpet knight is he, no pouter-pigeon fine, No dainty feeder is at the front, upon the firing line.

With rifle on his shoulder, and his paddle in his hand, His war-canoe upon the wave, our gallant lad will land, Upon his feet, beside the best of Greater Britain's host, And bear the Maple Leaf in front, where foes are bragging most. He's good for field—not garrison, nor planning out the game— But give him ammunition and he'll get there just the same; And hoch der Kaiser's lager-bier, and drain the Spree and Rhine, To drink to his Canadian girl, when on the firing line.

CHIEF IN COMMAND GENERAL JOFFRE

Head of France's Great Army Drew Up Mobilization Plans in Spring.

Canadian Press Despatch.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—France's great army has been placed under the supreme command of Gen. Joseph Joffre, who enjoys great popularity with the men, as he does with the French nation generally. He is known as a man of strong will, and it is a common saying in the army that when Gen. Joffre has once made up his mind nothing will force him to change it. French military men express the fullest confidence in his skill. Gen. Joffre is 62. He has been married ten years, but is childless. He is of medium height and stout, with a massive head, very fair hair, and thick drooping mustache. He is noted for his excellent horsemanship. He was trained as an engineer, and while on duty in Madagascar constructed the harbor of Diego Suarez, the principal one in the island. The mobilization plans for the French army were drawn up by Gen. Joffre last April and the results of their execution have exceeded all expectations.

Indignation in Russia. LONDON—A despatch to The Post from St. Petersburg says that the indignation in the Russian capital over the detention of the Dowager Empress Maria Feodorovna at Berlin has been increased by reports that Grand Duke Constantine, who was undergoing the cure at Wildungen, is being treated as a prisoner of war.

Respect Burns' Course. LONDON—The resignation of Viscount Morley and John Burns from the cabinet has provoked no hostility, as both have followed their policy of holding aloof as they did during the South African war. The action of John Burns has commanded respect because of the fact that he is a comparatively poor man, and has sacrificed a salary of $25,000 to his convictions.

CLEOPA MAKES NEW MARK AT DUFFERIN

War Has No Effect on the Attendance at the Half-Mile Track—Results.

The occasional visitor to Dufferin Park is impressed with the tolerably fair character of the racing. The sport looks as good as is physically possible under the circumstances except that the betting ring is not open. The fields are large but the turns so quick the wonder is that the horses do not often go down. Horse racing is one business not affected by the war. Yesterday was an off day, but the crowd was ample. The stands were packed, and between races the books did a brisk business. Eight events were decided, the feature being Cleopa's fast stepping in the seventh, 6 1/4 furlongs. In 1 1/4 a new mark for Dufferin Park was set.

Many New Members Attended Last Night—Will Agitate for Station.

Much enthusiasm for the improvement of their village marked the second meeting of the recently constituted Mimico Board of Trade, held last night, with the president, James A. Gernally, occupying the chair. In view of the proposal to equip Mimico with water and sewerage systems, special interest attached to the address of H. R. Smith, A.M.I.E., assistant electrical engineer to the City of Toronto, dealing primarily with the Toronto water supply.

On the recommendation of the civic improvement committee, of which C. Ockhead is chairman, it was decided that this committee, with other members interested, should approach the village council at its meeting next Monday night, to ask that Hillside avenue be extended to Lake Shore rd., that suitable dressing rooms for bathers be placed on the lake shore at the foot of Superior avenue, and that the council should look after the shade trees of the village.

Transportation Question. A deputation of the transportation committee, of which Wm. W. Burgess is chairman, will also wait upon the council next Monday night to ask that action be taken to make the Grand Trunk Railway provide for the safety of boarding trains at Mimico, by erecting a proper station.

NEWS OF WARD SEVEN CLERGYMAN'S FUNERAL

Austrian Workman Injured at Harris Abattoir—Orange Demonstration.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to Prospect Cemetery of the late Rev. H. Tomlinson of Kansas. The late Mr. Tomlinson was an Episcopal clergyman and a brother-in-law of Dr. McCormack of the High Park Sanitarium. The funeral service was conducted in St. John's Church by the Rev. Canon Daniel, rector-in-charge. While at work in the dressing department of the Harris Abattoir yesterday afternoon an Austrian employe got his foot badly mangled in some revolving machinery. He was taken in Speers' motor ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital, where the amputation of several toes was found necessary.

TOWNSHIP COUNCILLORS REPUDIATE CHARGES

Deputy Reeve Miller and Councillor Graham Issue Formal Statement.

The following explanatory statement was made by Deputy Reeve Miller with reference to the lumber deal charges: "Reeve George Syme, Councillor William Graham and I were visiting the Fairbank district last fall, and were invited to look at some second-hand lumber, which we did, and we said that we would ask our road commissioner to inspect it, as he did the buying for the township. The road commissioner bought a quantity of it for use, but we emphatically deny that Commissioner Sinder bought the whole lot from the owner.

"If any ratepayers have any charges against the York Township Council, or any member thereof, we assure them the council will be only too glad to hear them at the council chamber, and we courteously invite an investigation before the county judge if there is any truth in the charges against the council."

Councillor W. M. Graham endorsed the deputy reeve's statement and said he would be glad to answer any of the charges at a council meeting.

STOUFFVILLE PROTESTS—HIGHWAY IN BAD SHAPE

Board of Trade Asks Council to Call Public Meeting of Ratepayers.

At a meeting of the Stouffville Board of Trade last night a resolution was passed asking the council to call a public meeting to discuss the deplorable condition of Main street. The townspeople are determined that the road, which is costing $400 a year to be put in shape at once, or else the corporation will take steps to get out of the county road scheme. "Cairnbrogie," the family seat of the Graham Bros, was the scene of a monster garden party on Tuesday night.

On Wednesday afternoon Balmly Beach bowlers (4 rinks) motored to Stouffville and played a friendly game, winning by a goodly number of shots.

May Not Use Foreigners. PARIS—General Victor Michel, military governor of Paris, appreciating the good-will of such foreigners in France as are offering their services in the French army and wish to organize a special army corps, says he does not believe that the army can at present utilize such volunteer troops because the general staff is occupied with the general mobilization.

Woman Volunteer. LONDON—Women volunteers for nursing number thousands and several wealthy residents of London have offered their houses for hospitals.

LONDON—German news as to the happenings of the past day or two in the conflict in which the armies of nearly the whole of Europe are engaged, is still lacking, and it is pointed out here that when it reaches this country it may alter the perspective of the war picture, painted by Belgian and French artists. Not a word has reached London from Berlin, while the isolated and delayed messages from Vienna throw no light on the military situation.

WHEAT WENT UP THEN CAME DOWN

Report of Deal for Export at Montreal Excited Chicago Traders. Canadian Press Despatch. CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—On a sudden flurry, but unaccompanied by any heavy trading, the wheat market today in the December and May options ran up to the highest prices of the year. Before any extensive profit-taking could be accomplished, however, quotations had dropped back and the market closed weak at 1 1/4c to 1 3/4c advance over last night. The only basis for the brief advance appeared to be a report that some wheat had been sold here today to go to Montreal. Corn wound up 1 1/8c to 1 7/8c higher, oats with a gain of 1/4c to 1/2c and provisions at 2 1/4c to 1 1/4c advance.

MONTREAL GRAIN PRICES SOARING

Oats Particularly Strong and Active — No Change in Flour Prices. MONTREAL, Aug. 6.—A very excited feeling has developed in the local market and prices under an active demand from local and country buyers are fairly booming, the advance in oats being 2c to 3-1/2c per bushel, with sales of car lots of No. 3 Canadian western at 50c to 51c and of 100,000 bushels of No. 1, sold c.i.f. bay ports at from 48c to 47-1/2c per bushel. Manitoba barley was also strong and C. P. R. bay sales of car lots of No. 4 at 62c and of repected at 60c per bushel ex-store. Beans are very strong, with sales of 20 to 50 bag lots of three-lb. pickers at $2.75 per bushel. There is no further change in prices for flour, but the condition of the market is strong under an active demand from local and country buyers and the continued upward tendency of prices for wheat, and in consequence some of the leading millers have withdrawn travelers from the road and are refusing offers from Ontario millers and stocks on spot are about exhausted, with prices for 90 cent patent quoted at 12 1/2c to 13c. In rolled oats the feeling is very strong and prices have scored another advance of 15 cents per bag, with the leading millers have withdrawn travelers from the road and are refusing offers from Ontario millers and stocks on spot are about exhausted, with prices for 90 cent patent quoted at 12 1/2c to 13c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6.—The wheat market opened 1c to 1/2c lower, oats 1/2c to 3/4c higher. Trading was quiet in the absence of selling pressure, prices advanced over the opening of 1/2c to 3/4c, and at noon wheat was 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c, oats 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c, and flour 44c to 45c. The demand for butter is good and the undertone of the market is strong, with prices working toward a higher level. There is considerable demand for cheese between houses and a fair trade is doing at strong price. Eggs active and firm.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 6.—Wheat—Cash—No. 1 hard, $1.00; No. 2 northern, $1.02; No. 3 white, 75c to 76c. Oats—No. 3 yellow, 37c to 38c. Flour—Fancy patent, $2.75; first clear, $2.60; second clear, $2.50. Bran—$2.25. DULUTH GRAIN MARKET. DULUTH, Aug. 6.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.07; No. 2 northern, $1.05; No. 3 white, $1.02; No. 4 white, $1.00. CHICAGO LIVE STOCK. WHEAT WENT UP THEN CAME DOWN

Report of Deal for Export at Montreal Excited Chicago Traders. Canadian Press Despatch. CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—On a sudden flurry, but unaccompanied by any heavy trading, the wheat market today in the December and May options ran up to the highest prices of the year. Before any extensive profit-taking could be accomplished, however, quotations had dropped back and the market closed weak at 1 1/4c to 1 3/4c advance over last night. The only basis for the brief advance appeared to be a report that some wheat had been sold here today to go to Montreal. Corn wound up 1 1/8c to 1 7/8c higher, oats with a gain of 1/4c to 1/2c and provisions at 2 1/4c to 1 1/4c advance.

MONTREAL GRAIN PRICES SOARING

Oats Particularly Strong and Active — No Change in Flour Prices. MONTREAL, Aug. 6.—A very excited feeling has developed in the local market and prices under an active demand from local and country buyers are fairly booming, the advance in oats being 2c to 3-1/2c per bushel, with sales of car lots of No. 3 Canadian western at 50c to 51c and of 100,000 bushels of No. 1, sold c.i.f. bay ports at from 48c to 47-1/2c per bushel. Manitoba barley was also strong and C. P. R. bay sales of car lots of No. 4 at 62c and of repected at 60c per bushel ex-store. Beans are very strong, with sales of 20 to 50 bag lots of three-lb. pickers at $2.75 per bushel. There is no further change in prices for flour, but the condition of the market is strong under an active demand from local and country buyers and the continued upward tendency of prices for wheat, and in consequence some of the leading millers have withdrawn travelers from the road and are refusing offers from Ontario millers and stocks on spot are about exhausted, with prices for 90 cent patent quoted at 12 1/2c to 13c. In rolled oats the feeling is very strong and prices have scored another advance of 15 cents per bag, with the leading millers have withdrawn travelers from the road and are refusing offers from Ontario millers and stocks on spot are about exhausted, with prices for 90 cent patent quoted at 12 1/2c to 13c.
