ROME, via Paris, May 31, 11.30 p.m.— An official statement issued by the ministry of marine announced that an Italian dirigible has made a raid on the Austrian naval base of Pola, doing damage to the railroad station and the arsenal. The statement follows:
"Several large boats laden with flour were surprised and destroyed
by the same flotilla, which returned, having accomplished its mission, without being hit by the fire of the guns on the Austrian coast. The crews suffered no loss."

The Kaiser-Devil, Not the So-Called Facts, is on Trial.

The Americans are finding the Kaiser
out. Everybody else has found him out, but it took time.

He is an outlaw now, as everyone knows; he broke all the rules of international warfare.

He is an absolute enemy of modern parliamentary or democratic government; he believes in irresponsible military rule.

He professes to have his right to rule of God; he says any means however deceitful or dastardly justifies a God-appointed ruler in attaining his end!

He is a physical and moral degenerate
—a paranoiac; and yet wants to be treated as a sensible, balanced-minded man.

He is a man who has no scruples, his scruples, his scruple-of-paper conduct, his falseness, espionage, bribery, his madness, puts him out of all negotiations with fair men and reasonable government—and therefore not to be tolerated.

And yet he wants to argue his case after the manner of men who are of the square-dealing class.

America can't afford to deal with a pervert of this kind. He'd only bumco Uncle Sam if he sat in with him. Therefore Uncle Sam must treat him as he is —a degenerate in morals and in moral responsibility.

He's played this game on Britain and on Englishmen until he has made them
the most humiliated government known to history. And he wants now to do it on the States. The Devil could always quote scripture, but that is no reason why you should discuss a point with him.
So the Kaiser—he is not to be entertained.

A man of that kind must be put where he can do no more harm; his dynasty must be rooted out; and the hosts of officers and men that he has unmoralized must be kept out of any responsible post. No dealings with them.

And why should a nation whose one reason for existence is "that government by the people shall not perish from the earth" have dealings with a man who would wipe it out for ever by any and every resort to deceit, to savagery, to all the inhumanities?

In other words, the issue that is up to the American nation is not facts, but the man. The Kaiser wants to discuss the facts; the Americans' strongest case is the devil-man known as the Kaiser. Try the Kaiser, not the facts, Uncle Sam!
A president that would talk to Huerta
can't sit down with the Devil-Kaiser!

King David Knew Him

The psalmist, David, knew the Kaiser,
and outlined him thus:

Why boastest thou thyself in mischerif, O mighty man?
Thy tongue deviseth mischief;
like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

Thou lovest evil more than good,
and hatest the word of the Lord;
Thou lovest all devouring words,
O thou deceitful tongue.

God shall likewise destroy thee forever; he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living.

Thy righteousness also shall see, and fear, and laugh at him.
Lo, this is the man that has made no account of God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.

Can President Wilson or congress have anything to do with a mighty man of this kind?

Ask the people of Belgium, the passengers of the Lusitania, the ten millions of Germans in America who have forever put in a false and humiliating position! Not for two generations will these people recover from his enormities! The Kaiser has belittled more people than any other of his kind!

LONDON, May 31.—The first im-

the Defence of the Realm Act, on the charge of printing information useful to enemies of Great Britain, was begun today against The Times, and also against the printers of that paper and Major E. H. Richardson, a retired officer. The prosecution is based on a letter written by Major Richardson,
published in The Times of May 21,
which said:

"The last of the French reserves are out. At the present moment young men who have been called up."

The letter was a plea for conscrip-

Hostile Aircraft Seen Over Ramsgate, Brentwood and Outlying Districts of London—Many Fires Reported.

LONDON, Tuesday, June 1.—(1.38 a.m.)—The official press bureau issued the following announcement last night: Zeppelins are reported to have been seen near Ramsgate (on the Kentish coast, 67 miles east-southeast of London) and Brentwood (17 miles east-northeast of London) and in certain outlying districts of London.
Many fires are reported, but these cannot be absolutely connected with the airship visits.

Further particulars will be issued as soon as they can be collected and collated.
Prior to giving out the above communication, the official press bureau issued a notice reminding the newspapers that, in the interest of public safety, no statement whatever should be published dealing with places in the neighborhood of London reached by aircraft, or the course supposed to be taken by them. It was added that an admiralty communication would give all the information which might properly be published.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Wilson intends to so shape the course of the United States Government in the international crisis which has arisen as to leave no doubt abroad of the country's purpose not to speak,
but, if necessary, to act, for the cause of humanity.

Two things were practically determined upon by the president today in the solemn atmosphere with which Memorial Day enveloped the national capital.

First, that Germany's avoidance of the larger questions of humanity and the spirit of international law, by a technical argument of the United ment to a "strict accountability" for all violations of American rights on the high seas.

"NOT A MAN FALTERED IN THE RANKS" SAYS COL. RENNIE IN OFFICIAL REPORT

Vivid Detailed Description of the Part Toronto Men Took in the Battle of Langemarck—Splendid Work of Major Kirkpatrick and His Followers, Who Were Captured.

"Not a man faltered where movements under fire had to be made, and the cheerfulness and willingness to share the work of relief to the suffering of other battalions was marked with pride. The men all behaved splendidly."

What happened in that fight against tremendous odds—poisonous gases and a huge force of Germans—is given in the following narrative. My Dear Sir Henry, As you will have been informed, we have been in action—myself and a severe affair—and I am very glad to be able to tell you that all ranks have given a good account of themselves. As you are the C. O. of the 3rd Battalion from which the Third Battalion was recruited, it is fitting that you should have an official report of the part which this unit played in the operations of the 3rd Battalion.

Not a man faltered where movements under fire had to be made, and the cheerfulness and willingness to share the work of relief to the suffering of other battalions was marked with pride. The men all behaved splendidly in the operations of the 3rd Battalion.

The engagement itself was a more trying experience. With death and destruction surrounding us continually, with wounded and mangled men looking for help, and the dressing stations crowded, and the dressing stations crowded, and the dressing stations crowded, and the dressing stations crowded.

Since the above was written word has been received from Capt. L. S. Morrison, who reported that the 3rd Battalion was captured in the battle of Langemarck.

At 3 p.m. a heavy bombardment was heard from the direction of Ploeghem. The unusual noise denoted something more than an ordinary artillery engagement.

At 5:30 p.m. instructions were issued by the commanding officer to have all men of the 3rd Brigade kept in billets in readiness for a quick move.

the headquarters of the 3rd Brigade and reported to Brigadier-General Turner. Instructions were there issued to Lieut.-Col. Watson to move the 2nd Battalion about 1/2 mile east and entrench.

Battalions operated separately under orders from Gen. Turner. The 3rd Battalion was ordered to follow the 2nd Battalion, but to halt and entrench near Cross Roads, northwest of Wietje.

This was done about 1.15 a.m. in two lines—"A" and "B" Companies on the road facing north, and "C" and "D" Companies on the road facing south. The 3rd Battalion was ordered to follow the 2nd Battalion, but to halt and entrench near Cross Roads, northwest of Wietje.

At about 1 a.m. a hostile shell exploded in our line, resulting in the following casualties: Killed: Lieut. D. M. Macdonald, machine gun officer. No. 10181, Sgt. E. H. Mulloy. No. 8178, Pte. D. Broughall. No. 10205, Lance-Corp. J. R. Blockstaff.

Wounded: No. 9052, Sgt. A. S. Houston. No. 9054, Sgt. C. J. Fox. No. 9281, Corp. W. B. Townsend. Telephone communication was established with brigade headquarters and with 14th brigade detachment, 400 yards north of our position.

At 10:15 a.m. a message dated 7:45 a.m. was received from Major Kirkpatrick, dated 7:10 a.m., in which he reported that the 3rd Battalion was captured in the battle of Langemarck.

At 8:40 p.m. orders were issued by the G. O. C. 1st Brigade, to move the 2nd and 3rd Battalions to Ploeghem, and the remaining companies to O. C. at divisional headquarters.

Ruling The Seas The men who paid the price in blood and toil in the days of the "wooden walls" assured England the freedom of the seas upon which her life now depends. The cost was great but the cause worthy.

The cost to you of an absolute guarantee of the future comfort of your dependents would be trifling in view of the service returned and your own satisfaction in having done your duty. With the absolute guarantee would go substantial profit.

Doctor Said Sciatica--- Rheumatism---Lumbago

But He Could Not Help Me, and Endorsed the Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Mr. William Cameron, 105 Cayuga street, Brantford, Ont., tells in the following letter of his remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills: "My doctor treated me for some time for Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, but to no purpose. I had to lay off work. The visiting physician advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, stating that he had been cured of the same trouble by their use. I asked the druggist about them and he recommended them highly. Not being satisfied with them, I went back to my doctor and he said they were good I began to take them. The promptness with which they relieved the action of my kidneys and bowels was wonderful. It was as if I had been cured of all my troubles."

At 8:40 p.m. orders were issued by the G. O. C. 1st Brigade, to move the 2nd and 3rd Battalions to Ploeghem, and the remaining companies to O. C. at divisional headquarters.

Information received to the effect that General Currie had to fall back owing to reduction in his fighting strength, the result of losses. Preparations were made to hold the Headquarters line at all costs. All between and headquarters people ordered to trenches. Captain D. H. C. Mason took over command of all 3rd Battalion employed men and occupied trench south of Brigade Headquarters.

Reinforcements Sent. 3:45 a.m.—Orders from Brigade to send 10 men and two officers to reinforce Colonel Lomis on Fortuin road, southeast of St. Julien. Party marched off in small bodies under Captain Morrison and Lieut. Curry.

At 11:35 a.m.—"We are holding on nicely. Very time enemy starts something he goes back before we come close but we have been lucky, as the enemy's artillery have left us alone fairly well; 2nd Battalion need ammunition for their machine guns. Very time enemy starts something he goes back before we come close but we have been lucky, as the enemy's artillery have left us alone fairly well; 2nd Battalion need ammunition for their machine guns."

At 12:35 p.m.—"I fear. Straight right flank will be turned. Enemy has secured all front trenches in St. Julien. We will drop back our right flank and hang on."

MUSICAL NOVELTY WAS INTRODUCED

Academy String Quartet Gave First Performance of Difficult Work.

EXCELLENT RENDERING

Audience Applauded Heartily at the Conclusion of the Concert.

A decided musical novelty was introduced to the artistic public of Toronto last night at the Academy of Music recital hall, Spadina road, when the Academy String Quartet gave the first performance in Canada of the celebrated Schoenberg Quartet, opus 7. Luigi von Kunitz gave a most interesting explanatory explanation of the themes on the piano, and making it possible for those unfamiliar with the score, or even with the intention of the composer, to follow the work with some degree of intelligence. It would be absurd to say that the work appealed to all who heard it. One well-known critic, with the courage of his convictions, left the hall when the quartet had been half played, with an expression on his face of determination that he, at least, was not going to be tempted to suicide. But most of the audience remained and displayed patience, if not the interest and appreciation which are possible only to the initiated. Mr. von Kunitz frankly warned the audience that they must not expect to come for entertainment or pleasure, for their most intense mental co-operation was indispensable to an understanding of the work. With that it was possible to reach a rare aesthetic enjoyment, or to experience the uplift of a great work of art, which was possible to one who could abandon himself to it heart and soul with earnest endeavor. It required no more special initiation than various works of Beethoven, Bach, Wagner, Brahms or Strauss. The quartet is in two parts, the first of which suggested, he said, the longing doubt and vain longing of human life and love, passing into extreme self-confidence, and ending in extreme self-despair. The second part dealt with the higher life of the spirit, and the end of all earthly sorrow, and the absorption of earthly life into the higher and grander unity of the spirit, where the soul sees and knows itself in such peace as the world cannot give. This could only be reached by those who had wrestled in the world with doubt and despair, and could not appeal to those who had never known such a struggle. All their life had adhered to some conventional creed, or some superior attitude of self-complacency. The difficulties of the score were such that he asked the indulgence of the audience if they did not attain a complete success or failed to interpret the meaning. Their failure was to be

PHILLIPS-SHAW CO. IN SUMMER STOCK

"St. Elmo" Opening Attraction. Given With Splendid Stage Production.

THE PLAY IS POPULAR

Characterizations by Company Appreciated by a Large Audience.

The inauguration of the summer stock season at the Grand Opera House last night by the Phillips-Shaw Company indicated that the policy adopted by the company in the matter of productions and prices is appreciated by theatre-goers. The atmosphere of success prevailed, and the efforts of the members of the organization were liberally applauded. The dramatization of "St. Elmo" as presented by the company follows the original story with a fidelity that is readily recognizable by readers of the popular novel. The sequence of events and characterizations of the play are practically the same as in the book with only the condensation necessary to tell a story within the limits of an ordinary theatrical performance and to preserve the unities of time and place. "St. Elmo" represents a departure from the ordinary lines of melodrama in its class and refinement. The play depicts the life of St. Elmo, a cynic upon the surface of his nature. Bitter experiences in his life have made him assume a distrust for all save his mother, into his life. Filled with unhappiness he will not own comes the love of a girl, pure and true. She hates the cynicism which St. Elmo has built about himself, but underneath this she sees, half despite herself, the better nature. The task set for the turbulent, fiery young man is to clear off the dross of his nature. This he does and wins the girl. The production was a meritorious one throughout, and the company exhibits a finish and deftness in acting attained only by thorough training. Mr. Phillips as St. Elmo gave a splendid portrayal of the character, while Miss Shaw as Edna Earle brought out all the sympathetic touches that make the character a lovable one. The popularity of the novel and the excellence of this stage production should attract large audiences all week long, especially at the matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

performed in very shallow water, and the length of time that she was able to remain under water was almost incredible. Two excellent dancers were Fred and Adele Astair. Their numbers were well chosen and popular, and Miss Starr revealed marked talent as well as a decidedly dainty personality. "The Marriage of Maggie," a bright little skit, in which Dansey McNaughton and Co. evoked many a laugh, was a Scotch story involving a rebellious daughter and her highland sweetheart, whose dashing uniform caused a real sensation with the audience. Minnie Harrison offered a program of catchy songs, her coon numbers being especially well received. The pretty frocks worn by Miss Harrison lent an attractive note. Ben Welch, a monologist who creates a laugh with every other word, is well known in Toronto. Marlo and Duffy in acrobatic excentricities, and a number of new films complete a good bill.

REFUTATION OF SLANDER

Our attention has been called to rumors circulated by certain parties with the object of giving the impression that The Boeck Bros. Company, Ltd., is a German concern. We therefore think it only fair to ourselves to inform the Public that there is no foundation whatever for such rumors. Not only is this Company not a German concern, but not one of its Shareholders or Officers is either of German birth or descent, and every one of its employees is a loyal Canadian and a British subject. The Company lately manufactured a very large quantity of goods both for the Canadian Government and the British War Office.

The founder of the business of this Company, the late Charles Boeckh, was born in Strasbourg, Alsace, in 1817, then a FRENCH Province, his ancestors having come from Holland in the latter part of the 18th Century. At his death he was a naturalized loyal Canadian citizen.

The business carried on by this Company, founded in 1856, is one of the oldest established in Canada. It has grown to be one of the largest, if not the largest of its kind in the city of Toronto, and has always enjoyed a very high reputation both for fair dealing and the quality of its goods.

This Company will take legal proceedings to recover damages against any person known to have circulated these rumors, in order to put a stop to same.

POSTPONED MEET.

After a great deal of negotiating, Manager Hughes of the Motorists has succeeded in getting the greatest quartet of professional motor-race followers to get together for one race that Toronto has ever seen, and they are going to fight it out in a big one-hour trial at the local saucer next Saturday night. The "big boys" are Bobby Walthour, the famous "Dixie Flyer," and holder of many records; Jimmy Moran of Chelsea, Fran Corry of Australia and Pinkie Turville.

In addition to this sixty-minute struggle, the program will include a first of a series of amateur motor-race events. Four of the best local riders will be picked for this fight, which will be a five-mile affair behind the motors. There will also be four motorcycle races and a half-mile bicycle handicap, all of which makes up one of the best cards possible. That all interest has been postponed so that all attention can be given to the preparations for Saturday night's wonderful contests.

TRANSPORTATION MEN ARRIVE.

REPLY OF WILSON WILL BE POINTED

Germany Cannot Evade Clear Issue and Will Be So Told.

The nation with his cabinet tomorrow will not be materially affected.

Action in Mexico.

Second, that notwithstanding the critical situation with Germany there shall be issued tomorrow the statement which has been in preparation for several days to be communicated to the leaders of all factions in Mexico, serving notice that unless they themselves bring to an early end the deplorable conditions which their warfare has wrought, some other means will be found by the United States, in the interest of humanity, to save the millions of non-combatant Mexicans from the throes of starvation and further devastation of property.

Tomorrow the president will lay before the cabinet both questions. The effect of the warning to Mexico, the president hopes, will be the coalition within the next few weeks of the best element in the southern republic to form a provisional government which the United States and other countries can accord early recognition.

Brief United States Note.

Some of those familiar with the position of high officials said the note to be sent by the United States would probably be very brief and would be despatched by Thursday or before the end of the present week. The German Government's request for an agreement on the facts as to whether the Lusitania was armed or unarmed and whether the vessels owners violated American law by taking passengers on ships carrying munitions was not carried. The statement with the statement that German submarines were used in the future along humane lines, assuring Americans of the safety of their lives and their ships on the high seas.

Retracting that the Lusitania, therefore, was a peaceful merchantman, entitled to the right of visit and search, and the transfer of her passengers and crew to places of safety, previous to any attempt to destroy any contraband was aboard her. It is believed the United States will insist upon a disavowal of such acts and a guarantee that German submarines will not be used in the future along humane lines, assuring Americans of the safety of their lives and their ships on the high seas.

Proposals on the part of Germany to protract the argument with regard to the Lusitania were in the possession of the German embassy here to prove that the Lusitania carried guns will not be carried. It is believed that the Lusitania was torpedoed by a German submarine.

The northern flanking attack and the German main attack on Peremyel having failed, the Germans have turned an increased attention to the remaining part of their plan of operations. They made a flank attack from the south-east, and at the same time reinforcements were moved around to strengthen their attack. On the front of Peremyel and the great Dniester marshes, the Russians continue to hold their line which defend the main line of railway from Peremyel to Lvoff (Lemberg). The Germans made a week of attacks day and night, with a total disregard for their losses, have thrice succeeded in capturing some small sections of the Russian first line defences. On two occasions they were speedily destroyed, but the last time they appear still to remain in possession of a considerable section of trenches defended by two Russian battalions a few miles east of Huszkow. Their attempts to follow up this success by three vigorous assaults in dense masses brought them right up to the wire entanglements of the Russian second line, but there the German attack melted away, and the survivors returned to the starting place. This section connects the German front, advancing eastward with a flanking attack, moving from east Galicia towards the northwest. On this flank the Germans are in great strength.

Win on Southern Flank.

Combined with the Austrians determined attacks were delivered throughout Thursday and Friday along the whole front from Dolina to the great Dniester marshes. Altogether attacks have been incessant on this front since Tuesday, but during the last two days the enemy has moved up heavy masses with a determination to force the Russian defence, regardless of losses. They failed, and the Russians attacked night countered by a highly successful movement along the left bank of the Svitza River, and along the whole front as far as the Lomnitz river. Presumably this section had been entrusted to the Austrians for the Russians' success was attended by a large capture of prisoners.

To Move Men to Italy.

It is believed that the Germans are making a last tremendous effort to accomplish something definite in Galicia before withdrawing the remnants of their picked troops for a sharp and short campaign on the Italian front. If they succeed in retreating their best troops from the Galician failure, it will be the first time, for hitherto there have been no signs or instances even of a regiment which once met the Russians being afterwards used on any other front.

In the Baltic provinces, Russian successes continue in spite of considerably increased German forces, which have been drafted in piecemeal along a considerable section. Here the Germans are now in full retreat, pursued by the Russians, while the German attacks which had been in progress a couple of days suddenly ceased in a disorderly retreat from the neighboring sections.

OTTAWA, May 31.—In a letter from the front Lieut.-Col. Morrison, commander of the First Artillery Brigade, mentions the narrow escape of Lieut. L. Moore A. Cosgrave of Toronto, a member of the Brigade Staff. A burning shell threw him 20 feet into the air, but his only injury was a sprained wrist, sustained when he struck the ground.

ATTACK ON GULF LIGHT IS TERMED MISTAKE

Commander of Submarine Says He Thought Steamer Was British.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, today cabled the state department that the Gulf Light was torpedoed by mistake by a German submarine. The department's announcement was as follows:

"The American ambassador at Berlin reports that the chief of the admiralty staff, Admiral Behning, has informed him that the commander of the submarine which sank the ship did not really sink the Gulf Light but so thru mistake because two boats, similar to trawlers, one carrying wireless apparatus, were apparently accompanying the Gulf Light."

"The commander, therefore, thought it a British boat and did not notice the American flag on the stern until just after giving the order to fire."

7000 YARDS of IMPORTED CLOTHS TRANSFORMED INTO

The Greatest Suit Sale of the Year

This morning at half past eight how many men will be slipping off their old coats and slipping into these new suits that have just been completed for us by one of the finest suit manufacturers in Canada!

All the wise ones will be there and all the men who saw these suits in the Yonge St. window yesterday, that's a certainty.

Here Are a Few Details of Tomorrow's Thousand Suit Sale

There are only two or three suits of any one pattern, as they were made from "short ends" of the best English tweeds and fancy worsteds. All the most desirable of this season's cloths are included in the collection; good shades of browns and grays, as well as various mixed colors. The styles are the most approved of this season's tendencies; men, both young and old, have been provided for, and some of the young men's styles are particularly smart; single-breasted sack, with two and three-button, soft roll lapels, natural shoulders and snugly-fitting coats that will satisfy the smartest dresser; single-breasted vest, medium and high cut; the trousers are well cut, with five pockets and belt loops; the suit finished with fine twill mohair linings. Everyone is sure of getting a suit to fit him, as the sizes run from 33 to 44. The regular values of these suits are very easily determined; the manufacturer who owned the cloths is so well known that his products will be found in nearly all stocks of high-class, ready-to-wear clothes for men. You will find some of these very identical suits selling at $18.00 in most of these stocks; others are at $16.00, $15.00, and some down to $12.00. But all are great value for the money at our Tuesday, 8.30, price of $7.85

Today you have the opportunity of getting one of these excellent suits at a saving of from four to ten dollars.

This is made possible by the fact that the highest paid work-people of a famous manufacturer were idle and he was eager to tackle this big order, just to give his people employment and with no hope of making anything on the deal.
