A Money Famine Be Near

On the line of our discussion of the banking situation, let us add some more information as to the scarcity of money, and as to the demands greater than ever on the banks.

The City of Toronto for many years has been a large financial centre. We have here trust companies, some of which have over $20,000,000 of money in their hands for investment. We have insurance companies, some of which have a good deal over $10,000,000 of reserve funds in their hands for investment, and there are many smaller companies with smaller sums. We have loan companies which have millions on loan, and the principal of which is coming in and going out all the time.

These loan companies have been getting their money in England, where they sell 4 per cent. debentures. A debenture is a document saying that at the end of its term the seller thereof, namely the loan company, will repay the money and pay regularly interest at 4 per cent. and that the debenture is secured by the mortgages of the company. These propositions have been well received in the old country, and especially in Scotland, but they are not quite so attractive a prospect as they formerly were, inasmuch as capitalists and investors are being somewhat seduced from the old and steady path by offers of bonus stock in consideration of the purchase of the bonds of various industrial.

But independent of all that, as we said, the loan companies have been bringing a lot of money into Toronto, and there are other corporations of various kinds which have large accumulated funds here in Toronto, and there are individuals of wealth who have large sums of money for investment. And while these conditions prevailed loans on Toronto real estate were to be had seven or eight years ago as low as 4 1/2 per cent., and since that at 5 and now 6 per cent. is being asked. But it is not so much that the rate has changed, but the fact that nearly all these trust and other funds are obtained out of Ontario to the Canadian west as fast as they can be shipped and loaned there on mortgage, at 8 per cent., 9 and 10 per cent., and apparently on good security. Formerly a lot of this money lay in the banks, and the banks knew that they could rely upon a percentage of it always remaining there, and they therefore could make loans as against the security of their customers; but that is the case to-day, and the banks find themselves hampered by reason of the scarcity of money for real estate purposes and by the rapidly with which the insurance, trust and loan companies switch every available cent for investment to the west.

As a consequence, then, the banks are every day refusing accommodation to their customers, and they are moving heaven and earth in their own way to increase their banking capital. Some of them are increasing their share issue, but only a million dollars at a time, and this very slowly, because the greatest asset in conducting a bank that has got on its feet and is successful is the control of it; and no one in a group who has the control of a bank is willing to lose it by allowing outsiders to come in and have a voice—and outsiders are bound to come in unless the controlling group can take up the additional shares themselves. Perhaps the most pointed case would be that of the Bank of Toronto, with its immense surplus and standing in this community, and which is supposed to be controlled by the group of banks. If that bank were to suddenly increase its capital by $5,000,000 more and put it out at between $200 and $300 a share, the Goderham group would have to put up at least $5,000,000 more, or substantially spot cash, to keep control of the bank which they have had for years. And this is more or less true of all our banks, excepting the very large ones where one interest has control, so that there is very little relief from increase in capital.

And it comes down that the only big relief in sight is to increase the deposits of the banks, and the fight in banking to-day is not who shall lend money, but who shall get the deposits from the people, and especially from the people in the small places. And that is why there are so many branches, not so much to serve the small places with loans as to get the deposits therefrom for use in the big centres.

There remains then the question of offering inducements to get deposits or going abroad to get deposits. We do not believe the banks are putting up a vigorous enough campaign to get deposits from outside, and probably they do not give enough interest on deposits, and they may have to break their trade agreement to pay no more than 3 per cent., and to institute some kind of competition in the way of increasing the interest in order to get larger sums on deposit, and not only on deposit, but deposits on notice of withdrawal.

But even this is hard work, and finally it comes down to The World's proposition that if not much additional money is forthcoming in the way of increased bank shares, and not much more is to be got in the way of deposits, THEN THE ONLY WAY OF RELIEF IS A LIBERAL ISSUE OF NATIONAL NOTES LOANED TO THE BANKS, SAY, ON A 5 PER CENT. BASIS. We have no hesitation in saying that great relief would be given to the business of Canada if parliament were to authorize the issue of $50,000,000 of national notes at all denominations, to be loaned to the banks on the banks' security at a per cent., these to take the place of the

CANADIAN PACIFIC INTENDS TO DISTRIBUTE ITS ASSETS BY DOUBLING THE CAPITAL

Because of Agreement to Reduce Freight Rates Whenever Dividend is Raised Above Ten Per Cent., the Plan is to Pay Six Per Cent. on Increased Capital, Equivalent to Twelve Per Cent. on Old Stock.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(C.A.P.)—The World will say to-morrow morning:
The stock of the Canadian Pacific Railroad sold yesterday at 270 a share, an advance of about 20 points within the last month. The rise is supposed to be due to a plan of the company to distribute its assets by doubling the present capitalization, which is $237,000,000. Another reason for this increase in capital is that the road has an agreement with the Canadian government to reduce the freight rates whenever its dividend is raised above 10 per cent. The earnings of the company for several years have justified this increase. The plan is to pay 6 per cent. on the increased capital, equivalent to 12 per cent. on the old stock.

It is recalled that a couple of years ago, when a generous melon-cutting by the C.P.R. was the subject of much adverse criticism, The Toronto Globe published a series of articles intended to support the view that there could not be such a thing as a melon-cutting; and that the C.P.R.'s operation was neither injurious to the public nor of benefit to the stockholders. The position of chief journalistic apologist for the railway's methods of doing business is one that we should be very sorry to see The Globe occupying; but that is the way our contemporary is heading. It seems to be a case for "full speed astern" if there is not to be a collision with the iceberg of public opinion.—Manitoba Free Press.

FIRE DAMAGED BED FACTORY

Loss of $20,000 Caused to the Anchor Manufacturing Co., Mostly in Feathers and Wool.

A fire that traveled fast and threatened for some time to assume serious proportions, broke out at the factory of the Anchor Mfg. Co., 46 Niagara street, manufacturers of iron beds and bedding, at six o'clock last night.
H. F. Coombes, the manager, discovered the blaze. He stated that the watchman came into the office just as he was leaving and informed him that there was a fire in the building room behind the office. Mr. Coombes immediately opened the door leading to the room and was faced with a solid wall of flame. He then rushed to the phone and turned in an alarm. Seven sections promptly responded, but the fire had assumed such serious proportions on their arrival that District Chief Smith immediately sent for five more sections.
The blaze confined itself chiefly to the feathers and cotton wool stored in the building and the fireman had a hard time dousing it out. The damage to the building will amount to about $5000 and $15,000 will cover the loss to stock, which is covered by insurance.
Mr. Coombes, the manager, states that the company already has plans prepared for a new factory with 20,000 feet of floor space, to cost $35,000, and that construction work will start at once.

Present bank note issue of five hundred millions.

This is the question that The World wants Canadians to think over, and above all we want to hear what the banks have to say about it, and what the public men have to say about it, and what the newspapers have to say about it, because it is worth thinking about. A money famine is in sight.

P. S.—The World has in one of these articles said The Globe first approved and then disapproved of bank mergers. That paper says it never approved. No Toronto paper now approves. The minister of finance will, in view of this unanimous disapproval of mergers, hardly dare to sanction the Traders' Royal deal. He should not defy public opinion. We do not now believe he will. The writer accordingly regrets that the last pair of spectacles he got from a St. Lawrence Market optician are not adapted to reading Delphic deceptions. Perhaps, therefore, instead of imitating the Pythian priestess, The Globe might write more for those who have to use the simplest and cheapest kind of spectacles, and who are not able in any case to read in Delphi.

For the famous oracle that told Croesus in a dozen words what would happen if he invaded Persia, took 200 words to explain it after the catastrophe to that king had occurred. The oracle said: "Had Croesus desired to be fully informed, he ought to have sent again to enquire. . . . what was meant. But since he neither understood the oracle nor sent again, let him lay the blame on himself." The Globe's oracle claims that it, too, must be consulted twice before it can be understood. W. F. M.

STOLE DELEGATES FROM ROOSEVELT

Split Slate From Washington Rouses Colonel's Deepest Ire as He Marches Thru Ohio.

DELIANCE, O., May 16.—(Can. Press.)—When Col. Roosevelt learned of the outcome of the Republican state convention in the State of Washington, as a result of which two sets of delegates are to be sent to the national convention, he denounced the action of the supporters of President Taft there as "scandalous."
A Paulding, he said: "The most scandalous thing our opponents have recently tried and failed in is to steal from the State of Washington the delegates from that state. Wherever we beat them two to one. Where they were not so strong we beat them about eight to one. They had no chance of any kind, and so they have endeavored to steal what they could not earn, to get by theft to get what they could not get by the people."
Montana Loyal to Taft.
LIVINGSTON, Mont., May 16.—(Can. Press.)—When Montana Republicans met in the state convention to-day the Taft forces were in control with 434 delegates against 222 for Roosevelt. The delegation to the national convention will go with the following from the resolutions to guide them:
"We express our convictions that the best interests of the people demand the re-nomination and re-election of William H. Taft, and to that end, while we rest on our delegates full discretionary powers, we request that they use all honorable means to secure such recommendation."

OTTAWA FAILED TO HELP QUEBEC

MONTREAL, May 16.—(Special.)—The things heard here to-day about the Ottawa Government and especially the minister of finance would make very interesting reading. The minister is held to have absolutely failed to bring any support to the opposition in spite of the speech made at the Gaeltacht nomination by the minister of justice and the speech of the minister of public works at the Tullier demonstration.
Hon. Mr. Hobery comes down here on Sundays and apart from his visit to the other ministers for the district have scarcely been seen since the government came to power and they have for the most part adopted a neutral policy in the provincial contest. Manufacturers who were so badly scared when the federal elections were on did absolutely nothing for the Conservative party here yesterday. Others supported Liberal candidates because they were members of the same yacht club.
French Liberal papers are saying that Laurier has been avenged and will be back to power in Ottawa in two years time.

Conservatives Gain One.
MONTREAL, May 16.—(Special.)—P. D'Auteuil, Conservative, has been elected in Charlevoix and Saguenay by majority of 90, giving the opposition 15 seats. The member-elect is a brother-in-law of Sir Rudolph Forget, M.P. for Charlevoix.

PILED UP RIGUES BY ROBBING CHURCH

Lloyd-George Hotly Assails Nobility in Debate Preceding Passage of Welsh Disestablishment Bill's Second Reading—Stormy Scene in the House of Commons.

LONDON, May 16.—(Can. Press.)—The Welsh disestablishment bill passed its second reading in a vote of 846 to 267.
The chancellor of the exchequer, Mr. Lloyd-George, effectively used the charge that the noble families, whose representatives were the most strenuous opponents of the bill on the ground that it pillaged the established church, obtained their vast wealth by the spoliation of the church in the time of the Reformation.
A stormy scene followed his reference to a political leaflet in which, he said, the Duke of Devonshire charged them with "robbery of God."
"Doesn't he know," queried the chancellor, "that the very foundations of his fortunes were laid deep in sacrilege and built on desecrated shrines and pillaged altars?"
Pillaged Catholic Church.
Among the voices raised in angry protest, Lord Hugh Cecil's was the most conspicuous, to which Lloyd-George retorted:
"These charges that we are robbing the church ought not to be brought by those whose family tree is laden with the fruits of sacrilege at the Reformation. Their ancestors robbed the Catholic church, the monasteries, the altars, the almshouses. They robbed the poor. They robbed the dead. Then when we try to recover some part of this spoliated property for the poor, their descendants accuse us of theft—they whose hands are dripping with the fat of sacrilege."

Canadian Cattle Shipped to France

Consignment of 315 Stockers Will Leave for Calais To-day.

A shipment of 315 Canadian cattle will leave the Union Stock Yards (stockers) in Calais, France, this morning, which point they will be distributed to be fattened in various parts of Normandy.
The consignment is being made by the French-Canadian Live Stock Co. of Montreal. Under a reaty with France Canadian cattle are given a preference over other countries, and they are admitted alive. This will permit of their being fed and put in good condition before being marketed.
Donald Munro, a cattle exporter of Montreal, has collected the trial shipment in Ontario, and intends to accompany the cattle to Calais and supervise their destination. The cattle will be shipped on the Thompson-Freeman Line to Montreal.

Mr. Munro says that if the trial is a success a lucrative cattle trade will be built up. He thinks that the experiment should have some legitimacy from the government.

WALL COLLAPSED WHEN HOIST STARTED

Vibration of Inside Machinery and Drying of the Bricks Cause of Disaster at Neilson Building, Says Contractor Who Examined the Construction Work.

When the Neilson inquest resumed last night in the morgue, only one witness was heard, but his evidence was more practical and instructive than that given by any other person during the previous sittings.
Robert Newell, who has had 45 years' experience as a contractor in construction work, and who examined the Neilson building at the direction of the crown, lately stated that the combined causes of vibration and a drying process in the bricks, as well as the old foundation not being in as solid a state as formerly, had, in his opinion, caused the collapse. The ties in the old wall were not as good as in the new wall. In all probability the first weakness in the wall occurred just about the first floor. The starting of the bricklayers' hoist, the vibration caused by the inside machinery, the fact that a strong man followed a heavy roof before the accident, all tended to bring about the disaster.
Bricks Had Frozen.
In addition to this he had found that some of the bricks in the foundation of the old wall froze after being laid two years ago and became weakened by the heat, so that they were not as strong as formerly. The nature of the wall stirrups and the pressure of the hoist would have the most decided effect, he declared. The manner of conveying material to the upper storeys of the Neilson building was very unusual, as this is generally done with a hoist in the centre of the structure and not on the outside.
If there had been no machinery near the building, or inside, there would likely not have been any collapse.
In answer to a question as to the present condition of the building, Newell said that an extraordinary storm might cause wind-pockets to form.
The witness was put thru a rigid examination by Lally McCarthy, K.C., but did not change his opinions. He admitted, however, that the Neilson building was constructed on the same lines as many other structures, and if he was repairing the break, he would go about it in the same manner as the contractors, with the exception that he would tie the joists under after the flooring was laid. The throwing had an effect on the wall, said Mr. Newell.

Few Walls Plumb.

During his work all over the country, he only found one wall that was absolutely plumb, and that was in Hamilton, the witness contended amid laughter.
Examined by Mr. H. L. Drayton, K.C., Mr. Newell said that the slipping of the joists from the stirrups and the dropping of the floor would cause sufficient pressure on the wall to result in the collapse.
This point of attack on the part of Mr. Drayton was likely an attempt to establish the fact that the flooring started to move first, thus bringing about the bulging of the wall. The enquiry was adjourned until to-night.

COFFEE CORNER FOSTERED BY U.S. BANKS

Three Institutions of Money Trust Supplied Sinews to the Brazilian Government to Swell Planter's Profits and Add to Woes of American Consumer.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(Can. Press.)—The first illustration of the activity of the so-called money trust given to the house investigating committee to-day was testimony that three New York banking institutions, the National City Bank, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the First National Bank, lent financial assistance to the government of Brazil to limit the output of coffee and maintain prices of coffee at a profitable figure for the benefit of Brazilian planters and American and European coffee dealers. This testimony came from Herman Sleicken of the New York firm of Coorsman & Sleicken, large dealers in green coffee. Mr. Sleicken was on the stand for more than three hours and his testimony was the first oral information given to the committee.

Mr. Sleicken questioned the propriety of the committee going into Brazil's affairs and challenged the attorney-general of the United States and all the attorneys of the country to discover any illegality in his actions as a coffee merchant.
The witness said that unless something had been done to help the planters of Brazil there might have been a revolution. The price of coffee had grown so low thru over-production that the Brazilian government exercised its right to encourage planters to diversify their crops.

"Which would have been the worst, revolution in Sao Paulo or for the consumers of this country to pay much more for all their coffee?" asked Senator Undermyer, counsel for the committee.
"You would have had to pay that anyhow," said Mr. Sleicken.
He argued that coffee would be still higher if the valorization scheme had not been put into operation.
Doubled in Price.
Mr. Undermyer read from tables to show that the production of coffee for several years amounted to but 6,000,000 bags and that it sold at from 5.10 to 7c a pound. Now the production was 14,000,000 bags and the price was between 13c and 14c a pound.
Mr. Sleicken testified that there were 4,000,000 bags of coffee now being held out of the market by the valorization committee of seven, of which he is a member. Of that amount 500,000 bags were in warehouses in New York.

The big loan by which the valorization scheme was floated was $15,000,000 sterling. English, German, French and Belgian bankers took $13,000,000 of it thru J. H. Schroder of London, who sold to the National City Bank $2,000,000. This amount was pro-rated between the Morgan firm, the National City and the First National.
Mr. Sleicken made a statement to the committee attributing to the National City a display of patriotism and an earnest desire to encourage the commerce of the United States with South America.

"They wanted to see our flag there," he said.
Dollar Diplomacy.
"Did Schroder of London have the same patriotic motive to place the American flag in South American waters?" asked Mr. Undermyer. "Did the French, the German and the Belgian bankers have the same motive?"
"Of course not," answered Mr. Sleicken, "but it is none of the business of the United States to pry into these matters. What if England or some other country would come over to us and go into the south and try to find out how the price of cotton is kept up? We would throw them out."
Chairman Pujo announced at the conclusion of the hearing that the future course of the committee would be determined by counsel and that no other witnesses were to be called immediately.

THE MARRIAGE LAW.

It is by no means clear that the decision of the judicial committee of the privy council, in the companies case, bears the dock for an opinion from their lordships on the validity of the proposed Lancaster bill or any decision of hypothetical questions respecting the jurisdiction of the federal and provincial governments respectively over the subject of marriage. In the companies case the government relied upon a statute which compels the supreme court to answer hypothetical questions and decide abstract cases. Even in the teeth of this statute some of the supreme court doubted whether they could be compelled to interpret the law unless and until it became necessary to so interpret it for the purpose of deciding a concrete case. Yesterday's decision of the privy council simply holds, as we understand it, that the supreme court must do the bidding of parliament.

It will be remembered, however, that in former cases, notably the Lord's Day case, the judicial committee refused to answer abstract and academic questions.

Will it review whatever judgment may be given by the supreme court of Canada in the stated case respecting marriage jurisdiction, or will it decline to place a construction upon the B.N.A. Act, until it is required to do so in order to decide some litigation?

There is reason to believe that their lordships will decline to express an opinion in advance, but will leave it to the Dominion Parliament to act upon the ruling of the supreme court, while reserving their right to consider the question of competency when submitted in a litigated case. This has hitherto been their custom, and it cannot be contended that the judicial committee is subject to a Dominion statute which, of course, must be recognized by a Canadian court.

It may be, after all, that the government is putting the cart before the horse in seeking to have a possible case decided before it has arisen, and in not assuming the power of parliament to a general marriage law. The courts would thus be free to pass upon its constitutionality should it ever be assailed by any citizen who considers himself or herself to be prejudiced thereby.

IMPERIAL NAVAL DEFENCE.

Events outwith the control of the British government have gone far to provide a solution of the problem of imperial naval defence. Developments, unlooked for in the days when British maritime supremacy was unchallenged, have compelled a revision of imperial maritime policy. Henceforward and until the menace passes, the naval strength of the United Kingdom will be concentrated in home waters. So in naval, as earlier in military affairs, the self-governing states of the empire will accept the obligation to protect their own integrity and thus yield individual and active support to the general scheme of imperial defence.

This is the substantive point made in the address delivered by the first lord of the admiralty with, as its text, the changed conditions which require not a dispersal but a concentration of the main imperial fleet. Should any serious attempt ever be made to attack the British Empire at its historic centre and thus strike at its very heart, it is essential that the fleet shall be concentrated with, as the necessary result, a corresponding reduction in its mobility. Here, as Mr. Churchill hinted, lies that opportunity for effective co-operation which, turned to account, will reconcile imperial obligations with individual national sentiment.

THE COUNCIL INERT.

It is idle to deny that our city council is unprogressive and to that extent unrepresentative. The council does not, perhaps cannot, approach the big problems of a greater Toronto. Of the controllers and aldermen individually it may be said that many of them are well meaning men, but the council, as a legislative body, is simply inert. It is a legislative body, returned again. The fact that the board of education is divided in opinion upon almost every question cannot but have a demoralizing effect upon the aldermen, who look in vain to Mayor Geary for the inspiration of leadership.

One who follows the proceedings of the council must be struck by the fact that few questions are finally disposed of. Take the matter of furnishing water to the people living outside the city limits. In the end the water is always furnished to the applicant, as a matter of fact, but the discussion goes on. The members dispute among themselves as to whether we have enough water for our own use, and it is generally believed that we have not, but no one ever suggests getting more and enough water to provide against the ever increasing demand of a rapidly growing city. The Knox College site appropriation also furnishes a perennial theme of discussion, and the matter is invariably left over for still more discussion. Details about the municipal garage, and the chauffeurs who are at the disposal of city officials, and the hardship of having an official walk to the city hall instead of being driven there in a motor will interest and occupy the council for hours. Meanwhile, little or nothing is said about the great transportation problem, the procuring of expert advice and the working out of a systematic scheme of any kind.

One may say it is idle to rail at the city council. Men with small ideas will think and plan in a small way unless they are lifted up by the courage and vision of some leader, but things cannot go on, as they are, indefinitely. The city needs wider powers and a more efficient form of government. Most of all it needs men.

CANADA'S COMPLETE AUTO. NOMY.

In the course of the judicial history of the British North America Act, it has been made perfectly plain that the judicial committee of the privy council, sitting as the imperial court of ultimate appeal, will not endorse attempted limitations of Canadian self-government based on technical constructions of that document. This was again explicitly endorsed by the lord chancellor, who delivered the judgment dismissing the appeal of the provinces, challenging the right of the government-in-council to submit questions involving the separation of the federal and provincial powers, for answer by the Supreme Court of Canada. Lord Loreburn said that there could be no doubt that under the act the powers distributed between the Dominion on the one hand and the provinces on the other, cover the whole area of self-government within the whole area of Canada. It would, he added, be subversive of the entire scheme and policy of the act to assume that any point of internal self-government was withheld from Canada.

This is in entire accordance with the earlier decisions of the judicial committee, in effect that it was the intention of the imperial parliament to denude itself of its jurisdiction over the internal affairs of the Dominion, and, therefore, that, in regard to these, its plenary power was transferred to the federal and provincial legislatures. This is the salient point of the present decision, outweighing in importance, the particular issue regarding the right of the Dominion Parliament to require the supreme court to interpret the act thru the medium of questions submitted by the governor-general-in-council. On this point, the judicial committee entered exhaustively into the matter of precedents and these made it clear that not only had the practice remained unchallenged until now, but that the provinces themselves had required their own courts to answer questions not in litigation, in terms somewhat similar to the impugned act of the Dominion Parliament. But apart from these technical considerations, this decision can be taken as affirming the complete autonomy of Canada, and refusing the contention that the British North America Act can be construed so as to limit that autonomy.

DANGEROUS WEAPONS.

Under the criminal code no one is permitted to carry a revolver unless authorized to do so by a magistrate, and in Ontario no one can purchase a revolver without a permit from the chief of police of the city or town in which he is domiciled. These are excellent provisions, but it is startling to find from the records of the provincial police that during the past year over 500 revolvers have been purchased in the province by persons bearing written authorization from some chief of police.

Possibly some officials are issuing permits in a good-natured way without much thought of the consequences. As a rule, the man with a gun in his hip-pocket is a menace to himself and to the community. Firewater and fire arms combine to make murderers of many men who are not criminals by instinct or education.

SCHOOL BOARD QUICKENS PACE

Meetings Now Usually Thru-by 10 o'Clock—Purchase of Second Motor Car Approved.

Chairman Conboy is making a record for expediting proceedings so that the board of education's meetings are now usually over by ten o'clock. Last night the committee reports were either adopted or proposed changes were referred back.

Dr. Noble's proposal that the age of admission be raised to seven years was sent to the management committee to consider its legality.

Dr. Noble's motion that caretakers be ordered to discontinue putting gull on the floors was sent to the property committee. He said it was used too freely, spoiling school teachers' dresses.

The purchase of a McLaughlin motor car for $270 for the use of the board was approved. This will make the second used by the board.

Rev. H. R. Noble, Christie Street Baptist Church, wrote explaining that the dampness in the basement complained of in a letter to the press by Miss Cutlers was insignificant and that considerable expense had been entailed to put the basement in first-class condition.

The various purchase of school sites and additions to playgrounds recommended by the property committee were approved.

TWO TRAVELING SECRETARIES

To Be Appointed by Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

In order to increase its service to members of the association, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has decided to increase its staff by the appointment of two traveling secretaries, one for the east with headquarters at Montreal, and one for the west with headquarters at Winnipeg. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive council yesterday.

The manager of the transportation department is sending all members a circular asking for particulars of delays to freight in transit, in delivery after notice of arrival at destination, and other matters pertaining to the freight delays. The information thus obtained will be presented to the railway commission as soon as it is tabulated.

ROOSEVELT CAN'T WIN, SAYS TAFT.

The president said that if Mr. Roosevelt were to win the nomination, he would be chosen he could not be nominated.

"ANOTHER DELIBERATE FALSIFIER."

Cured of Piles After 20 Years

Many people have got the impression that piles can only be cured by a surgical operation, with all the attendant suffering, risk and expense. There is an easier way: by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. No risk, no danger and little expense is attached to this treatment, and results are highly satisfactory.

Mr. John M. Eates, gardener, St. Laurent, Que., writes: "I had piles for twenty years, and tried all kinds of ointments and medicines, but they did me no good. I was getting worse and suffering more from the dreadful itching all the time. I used three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and to-day am perfectly cured. There has not been a sign of the old trouble for six months, and it leaves me in perfect health to-day, when I was in great pain for about twenty years. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a positive cure for piles."

Bottled in Scotland—Exclusively for Michie & Co. Ltd. 7 King St. West, Toronto

At Osgoode Hall

ANNOUNCEMENTS. May 16, 1912. Judges' chambers will be held on Friday, 17th inst., at 11 a.m.

Divisional court will not sit till Monday.

Masters' Chambers. Before Cartwright, K.C., Master. Cartwright v. Pratt—G. H. Sedgewick for plaintiff, M. H. Ludwig, K.C., for defendant. Motion by defendant for an order for security for costs to be given by defendant in respect of his counter claim.

Judgment: In view of the contradictory affidavits as to the value of the plating claimed by the defendant has a half interest. It does not seem a ground for refusing security, in the absence of evidence of at least one qualified and disinterested person to support the estimate of the defendant. An order will go for security to be given by defendant.

Costs of the motion in the counter claim to the successful party.

Allen-G. G. Paulin, for plaintiff. Motion by plaintiff for an order for the issue of a concurrent writ for service out of the jurisdiction on a defendant at Regina. Order granted. Adams v. Heiby—Malone (Robinet & Co.) for plaintiff. Motion by plaintiff for an order for the issue of a writ for service on defendants in Zealand, East Katchewan. Order made.

Bank of Ottawa v. Ferguson—H. M. Ferguson, for plaintiff. Motion by plaintiff for an order for the issue of a concurrent writ. Order made. Hislop v. Linden—Mills (Hodgins & Co.) for plaintiff. Motion by plaintiff, on consent, for an order vacating certificate of its pendens herein. Order made.

Judges' Chambers. Before Riddell, J. Bissett v. Knights of the Maccabees—J. A. Paterson, for defendant. Motion by defendant to strike out a writ. Judgment: I have no kind of doubt that this action should be tried without a jury. I think, moreover, that no writ would be issued in the motion record with a jury (tho that does not seem to be important) and I must therefore refuse the action to be tried without a jury. The application for a writ will not interfere with the discretion of the trial judge, C.R. 122 (3), nor in this particular case will the motion be granted at which the case may be tried. Costs in the cause unless otherwise ordered by the trial judge.

Single Court. Before Middleton, J. McJoseph v. Joseph McJoseph (Halleybury) presented his certificate of fitness and was, on the fiat of the judge, sworn in and enrolled as a solicitor of the supreme court of judicature.

Macrae v. O'Brien—L. F. Hellmuth, K.C., representing both parties. Motion by plaintiff for an order continuing judgment in this case until the 22nd inst. Injunction continued meantime.

Re Stewart Howe and Meek—W. N. Tilly for liquidator of G. O. Ross for Charles Meek. An appeal by the liquidator from the report of J. A. C. Cameron, an official receiver, of May 13, 1912. By arrangement between parties motion enlarged one week.

Re Mercer Estate—F. W. Harcourt, K.C., for infant G. A. Moss, administrator. An appeal on behalf of infants from the order of the surrogate judge of Oxford. Reserved.

Cummins v. Geary—D. Urquhart for vendor; E. Coatsworth, K.C., for purchaser. Motion by vendor, under the Vendor and Purchaser Act, for an order defining the eastern boundary of the land in question. Order declaring that the true eastern boundary of the parties was between the west wall of 8 and 10, Neepawa-avenue. No order as to costs.

Divisional Court. Before the Chancellor: Testzel, J., Kelly, J. Schwartz v. Toronto Railway Co.—W. J. McLarty for plaintiff; one contra. Motion by plaintiff for leave to set aside an appeal for non-payment of costs. Leave granted.

Stevens v. G. T. R. Co.—J. R. Logan (Sarnia) for plaintiff; D. L. McCarthy, K.C., for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of Sutherland, J., of April 4, 1911. This is an action by Minnie Stevens, widow of Robert H. Stevens, late of Petrolia, and a brakeman in defendant's employ, who was accidentally killed on Feb. 12, 1912, while coupling cars in the yard at Petrolia, and the damages claimed. Upon the findings of the jury at the trial the action was dismissed with costs, if asked. Appeal argued and dismissed without costs.

Sovern v. Bank v. McDonald—J. W. McCullough for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the county court of York of Dec. 16, 1911. No one appearing to support appeal it was dismissed with costs.

Thamer v. Jundt—J. C. Makins, K.C., for defendant; G. G. McPherson, K.C., for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the surrogate court of Perth County of April 13, 1912. This is an action by the executors of the will of Henry Thamer for an order admitting to probate defendant's alleged will of testator, had not testamentary capacity and was not capable of making a will. The judgment appealed from admitted the will to probate. Appeal argued and judgment reserved.

An appeal by plaintiffs from the judgment of a divisional court of April 11, 1912. Counsel state that they are informed the case will be argued on a memo. of terms of settlement, and consent of counsel above named being filed with the registrar, ordered that the case be struck from the list and leave to either party to apply to have it restored if settlement not consummated.

Northern Sulphite Mills, Limited, v. The Occidental Syndicate. Mackintosh, K.C., and H. W. Mickle for defendants; J. F. Hellmuth, K.C., and J. F. Moss, K.C., for plaintiffs. An appeal by defendants from the judgment of Meredith, C.J., of Nov. 9, 1911. An action by receiver of plaintiff company for the delivery to the receiver of 22 first mortgage bonds of the Imperial Land Co., which bonds are claimed to have been purchased by and to be assets of the Northern Sulphite Mills. At the trial judgment was given declaring

Just a Dog Fight Says Pall Mall

Roosevelt and Taft Have So Discredited Each Other Elsewhere May Have to Look Americans.

LONDON, May 16.—(Can. Press)—The Pall Mall Gazette says in an editorial article: "Mr. Roosevelt is certainly going to make a race with his opponent. His easy victory in California upsets all the calculations of the Taft party, and if his success should be repeated this week in the latter's own state, Ohio, the president's chances of nomination will almost have vanished. The candidates have covered each other so thickly with mud that the American people may be compelled for their own dignity to find some other occupant of the White House. The 'dog fight,' as it has come to be called, is a spectacle too lamentable to amuse even the distant detached onlookers. 'Englishmen will not forget the respect due to the head of a great friendly nation, but the manners of this contest are not making it easy to remember.'"

Canadian Manufacturers' Association on Choice of Successor to Judge Mabee—New Chairman Must Be Depended on to Deal Without Fear or Favor.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has placed itself on record in connection with the death of the late Judge Mabee and the appointment of his successor in the two following resolutions, passed at a meeting of the executive council yesterday: "The executive council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association hereby records its profound regret at the death of Hon. Jas. Pitt Mabee, Esq., chairman of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, and mourns with sympathy the loss sustained in his removal. "Gifted with a keen mind and shrewd discernment, learned in the law, yet untrammelled by its formalities, he was able to bring to the discharge of the important duties of his office qualifications of the highest order, with these he combined a zeal for work and a fairness and fearlessness of judgment that enabled him to make a conspicuous success of his position, and that easily placed him in the front rank of the public men of our day. "In recording its high appreciation of his splendid services to the nation, this meeting also desires to extend its sincerest sympathy to the family of the deceased in their sad bereavement. Appointment of a Successor. "In view of the increasing work and larger field of activity, it would seem that very great care should be exercised in the selection of a successor to the late chairman, as we believe this to be the most important public office under business of the government. "Recognizing the fact that we have no right or disposition as an association to suggest any name or names to the Government of Canada for its consideration in connection with the vacancy caused by the passing away of the late chairman, we would, however, at the same time express our intense interest in this matter and hope that the selection made will be such as to meet with the approval of all interested concerned from sea to sea in the Dominion of Canada. "We, therefore, hope that the appointment of the chairman of the board

Service Must Speak

A STORE is almost human. It is full of temperament. It affects each customer with the composite personality of its management and staff.

There are stores and stores. There are "grouchy" stores and "smiling" stores. There are foppish stores and dignified stores. And the peculiar thing about each is that the goods or the prices have little to do with the store's temperament. It is the personality of the store that colors and defines the character of the views from the customer's view-point and wins or repels approval.

The temperament or personality of a store is vividly expressed in its face. The face of a store is its advertising. You can judge a store by its advertising the same as you can judge a man by his facial expression.

Stores that honestly try to serve their customers best simply can't help advertising. It is the way of human nature that when we have spent the best of our brain power and physical and financial resources in building up something worth while, our enthusiasm bursts forth into publicity. We simply cannot restrain the desire to tell others about it.

In the long run, service is what you pay for, always. The goods, as goods alone, are incidental. Service implies quality, fair prices, safe treatment, and honesty in every detail of every transaction.

The service store is the "serving" store. It is also the honest advertising store. By this you may know it always---anywhere.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or through the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

Best Tea At Its Best

"SALADA" TEA is always the same, no matter when or where you buy it.

The Daily Hint From Paris

The Nursery

To Prolong the Use of Children's Dresses. Children's dresses first show wear and stain in front and cuffs, these parts often being unrepresentative, while the remainder of the suit is good. To fix the little suits for another term of usefulness, cut out a panel in front, starting at the side of the neck and narrowing gracefully to the hem, remove the cuffs and collar, and replace them with new self-material or a contrasting material. If old dress is striped, put in a new panel of plain, or run the stripes the opposite way if the same material is used. Button down one side and trim the other side with buttons to match or with braid.

Home Helps

A good way to clean jewelry is to use tepid water in which a little ammonia has been put. A toothbrush kept for the purpose will be found useful, especially in cleaning rings. Rinse the piece of jewelry in clear water or alcohol, and dry carefully with a twisted piece of cotton or an old handkerchief.

Child's Petticoat Without Buttons

For my little girl I make a chemise to slip over her head. At the bottom of this "waist" I gather a two yard length of material, seven inches wide for French dresses. For her other dresses I made the flounce wider, sewing it to the chemise at waist length. Result, a petticoat a child can put on alone and no buttonholes to make.

Tops of Socks and Stockings

To keep a child's socks tip from stretching, stretch around the top with the machine before it is worn; you will find it does not lose its shape from the heat of hot washing, and it will stay up better.

To Use Under Child's Plate

By accident I discovered that sheets of old paper are very satisfactory. They are inconspicuous, nothing reaches the table cloth through them, they can be burned after use, and it certainly is a relief to have no stains to wash out.

A Home-made Cereal

Our children sometimes tire of the cooked cereals, so, for a change, I toast Graham bread in the oven until the crust is brown, then either roll or put thru the food chopper. Eat with sugar and cream. The children like this "cereal" very much.

Before Ironing the Baby's Flannels

Take care to have them thoroughly dry; then wet one yard of coarse cheese-cloth put it over the flannel, and iron till the upper end is left open. This way the baby's flannel underwear will be kept looking like new.

Where There is a Nursery

It is a good plan to have the door made in two parts—a Dutch door—so that the lower part may be shut and fastened and the upper part left open. Any one outside may see and hear all that is going on, and the children, if little, will be safe inside. If you do not wish to have the regular door cut in two, a half-door may be made and put up the same door frame.

CALVE IN CARMEN

Before a large and enthusiastic audience, Mme. Calve demonstrated last night at Massey Hall that she is still a conspicuously brilliant figure among a small group of great artists, who are really able to sing the operatic repertoire with the same beauty and wonder of their voices and amazing ability. From the opening notes of the Gounod aria to the closing of the tragic duet, she dominated and awayed her audience at will. Time after time she recalled with a hearty spontaneity that was beyond question. She was in glorious voice, most graceful mood, and as Carmen she was a vision of voluptuous, sensuous oriental beauty. After many strange phrases of laughing mockery and scorn she sings her Habanera, L'amour est un oiseau rebelle. Love is a bird, who can tame him? It is easy to understand the never fading popularity of this great singer. The same old melody, the same exquisite shading and the spun delicacy, the same old country, the same old still in her grasp, and in the duets with her husband, Signor Casparri, the possession of a splendid robust tenor voice, she invested her performance with such intensity of feeling as to make the selections tellingly dramatic. After the final scene, when Don Jose calls her roughly upon his "adored Carmen," both artists were compelled to return again and again to acknowledge the stormy demonstrations of the delighted audience. Herr Van den Berg proved himself to be an unusually clever pianist in "A Midsummer-Night's Dream," Mendelssohn-Liszt, Barceuse Chopin, and a Strauss-Schiff value. He has astonishing power and wielded it with an ease that is quite remarkable, and his touch in the finer passages at all times exquisite and delicate.

"O MIMOSA SAN"

The first performance of "O Mimosa San" by the St. Andrew's Dramatic Club, was held last night in the Institute on Nelson-st., and was attended with great success. Great attention had been paid to the scenic and electrical effects, and the club ought to be congratulated on the excellent production.

"O Mimosa San" was sung with great success by Miss Marion Reid. Mr. Walter McMichael displayed great talent in the part of the crusty old shipowner. Others in the cast were R. B. Findlay, W. Kent, P. J. O'Reilly, Miss Eva Ingram, Miss Verma Gowen. The second performance of this musical comedy will be given to-night at 8.15.

REFUSES TO ENDORSE PRESENT MANAGEMENT OF MIMICO SCHOOL

Controller McCarthy and Alex Lewis Would Not Accept Report of Executive—Changes Contemplated By Provincial Secretary.

Superintendent Ferrier of the Mimico Industrial School, together with all in charge at the institution at Mimico, came in for a scathing denunciation at the hands of Controller McCarthy at the special meeting of the Industrial School Board at the city hall. The meeting was called to consider the report of Dr. Bruce Smith and Commissioner R. C. Harris, into charges vainly made to officials by Mrs. Spain, mother of Wilbert Spain, and later made public by her thru The Sunday World. The investigation followed. Controller McCarthy was backed by School Trustee A. C. Lewis and Aid Ryder in a successful effort to prevent acceptance of the report of the executive committee of the board commenting on the findings of the commission and containing a vote of confidence in the superintendent and staff at the school. The motion to accept this, which was favored by Chairman G. Tower Ferguson and Beverly Jones, secretary of the board, was finally withdrawn in favor of Aid Ryder's motion to have copies of the reports of the commission and executive printed and circulated among the members of the board for discussion at a special meeting to be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

To Discuss Rules.
Mr. Ferguson, who occupied the chair, read the report of the commission, and then the report of the executive. This last report recommended that the rules of the school be forwarded by the superintendent thru the executive to the board for discussion and revision. The report pointed out that the classification advocated by the commission was impossible owing to the overcrowding which that body had also reported. It recommended that the government be asked for aid to alleviate this overcrowding condition.

Why They Balked.
Under this heading was included the paragraph at which Controller McCarthy, Mr. Lewis and Aid Ryder balked. It read:
"Your executive, with a deep sense of what it believes to be just and right, wishes to place on record its appreciation of, and confidence in, the superintendent and staff of the Victoria Industrial School. From personal acquaintance with their work gained thru frequent visits to the school, your committee is persuaded that those who serve this board on the official staff are men and women of true purposes and high ideals, and that the service rendered is not alone because of the remuneration attached to their position, but it is also because they have in their minds the sincere desire to make good and useful men out of those committed to the institution."

To Parole Boys.
The committee's report also suggested that the superintendent be instructed to parole as many boys as could be recommended for parole with a view to reducing the crowding, and that the government be asked to allow the school to establish a waiting list so that only the most urgent cases should be admitted until the school had reached a normal population.
Mr. Ferguson moved the adoption of the report, and Mr. Jones seconded it in a speech in which he declared that while the board and the management had done their honest best with the school, they had to admit that they had failed of their lofty purposes. He said that when the government had done away with Pennington reformatory, which had formerly looked after the older boys of criminal tendencies, Mr. Stratton, the then provincial secretary, had asked the board to take over the inmates. They had done so and striven to carry on their work. They were given $10,000 for an additional cottage.

Proved a Failure.
The experiment has proved a failure," said Mr. Jones. "That is all we can say about it. We must now retrace our steps and let the government look after the boys of the criminal class. We have failed on two grounds. Oil will not mix with water, and we have been swamped, literally swamped, we have done our best, and the result is failure."

A Long Dissertation.
D. McKinnon would not entertain the idea that the school had been a failure and launched upon a lengthy dissertation to back his theory. The chairman reminded him that time was therefore, but bitterly wanted the committee for finding that a third of the boys at Mimico were possessed of criminal tendencies. He explained how he had been the first to introduce handcuffs as shackles into the school, and he believed, with good effect, all the he said he no longer believed in them.

Looks Like Whittesaying.
Mr. Lewis held loose to say that he thought that the board should not accept the report of the committee endorsing the action of the management until after the matter had been fully discussed. He thought that their report did not go deeply enough into the matter and he feared that if it was accepted the matter would be allowed to settle back into the rut. "We can't worry about hurting people's feelings," he said. "It's going to look as if we were whitewashing." He said that they might well consider whether they had the proper location for the school and said that they should strive to get nearer to the original aim of the founders. "It has always appeared to me," he said, "that there was too much of the prison about the school, too much fear on the part of the boys. We have not the best and most advanced methods and finding but the best and most advanced methods will do, and we must have the biggest, best and broadest kind of man in charge, irrespective of the cost."

Spoke With Hesitation.
Controller McCarthy rose to move that a sub-committee be appointed to confer with the government. He declared that he much appreciated the work of the founders of the school, and said that he spoke with hesitation and regret in passing censures. He said that he recognized that the government had imposed upon the school by turning over its older criminal boys and that the city had imposed by sending in its feeble-minded and its vicious boys from police courts. He said that he for one would undertake his part in making the city take charge of and care for its feeble-minded in the proper and most advanced method.

Could Not Endorse.
"Now is the time the members of the board," he continued, "must consider the whole question broadly, and not the feelings of any individuals, or individuals. I couldn't for a moment vote to accept the report of the committee, endorsing, as it does, the management. I want to say right here and right now that unless conditions in dining-rooms and dormitory is not a management that this board can endorse in the year 1912. It is not in keeping with the best thought of the world over. That kind of treatment will produce wrecks and criminals and this board must not endorse such a management. You can't endorse the management of a school which is dirty. The report of the commission does not censure anybody, but we cannot let it go that way. I think that on the other hand we should go right to the bottom and clean out the place from the start."

Changes Coming.
He told of visiting men in Kingston Penitentiary who had been handcuffed to buoys in Mimico, and whom he had seen broken there. "I have it in my mind from the tenor of the report of the commission that the government is contemplating changes at the school, and if we do not do something, the government will."

Honest and Sincere.
Mr. Ferguson rose to say that he took the responsibility of saying that the men and women at the school were honest and sincere and that the acceptance of the report of the committee need not burk further discussion. "I don't think there is any excuse or explanation that can be accepted for those who allowed these things to occur," declared Controller McCarthy, after rehearsing the findings of the commission. "We should even appear to endorse it," he concluded, emphatically.

Get More Facts.
Mr. Beverly Jones said that in the light of some of the board, it would be unwise to appear to push the matter thru. Mr. Ferguson said that rather than save the time of the board, a formal motion was being presented in the face of the opposition, that it might be withdrawn, and that the secretary should enter in his minutes that the sense of the meeting was that it should adjourn to further consider the matter and to have the facts before it at the next meeting.

Ontario Would Upset B. N. A. Act Question Grave, Say Law Lords

Province's Contention in Incorporated Companies Case Meant Limitation of Power of Self-Government—For 35 Years Real Situation Has Been Misunderstood in Canada.

LONDON, May 14.—(C. A. P.)—The lord chancellor, in delivering the privy council judgment in the incorporated companies' case between Ontario and the Dominion, described the case as most important. Speaking of the British North America Act, he said there could be no doubt that under this the powers distributed between the Dominion on the one hand and the provinces on the other, cover the whole area of self-government within the whole area of Canada. It would be subversive of the entire scheme and it ought always to be assumed that any point of internal self-government was withheld from Canada. Numerous points have arisen and may hereafter arise upon these provisions of the act which draw a dividing line between what belongs to the Dominion or to the provinces respectively.

Very Grave Contentions.
On behalf of the province it is argued, indeed, that the Dominion Act authorizing questions to be asked of the supreme court is an invasion of provincial rights, but not because the power of asking such questions belongs exclusively to the province. The real ground is far wider. It is no less than when the supreme court was established it had, and has, jurisdiction to hear appeals from the provincial courts.

Court of Appeal Judicial Body.
But of any power to ask the court for its opinion there is no word in the act. The province by counsel maintain that when the court of appeal from all the provincial courts is authorized to be set up, that carries with it an implied condition that the court of appeal shall be in truth a judicial body according to the conception of the judicial character obtaining in civilized countries, especially obtaining in Britain, to whose constitution the constitution of Canada is intended to be similar.

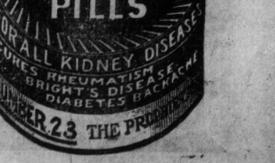

A Sudden Revelation.
"Certainly it is remarkable that for thirty-five years this point of view has apparently escaped notice in Canada and a contrary view, now said to be the very essence of justice, has been tranquilly acted upon without question by the legislatures of the Dominion and provinces, by the courts in Canada, and by the judicial committee ever since the North America Act established the present constitution of Canada.

the business of the Canadian people, and is no concern of this board. It is impossible to point out the mischief and inconvenience which might arise from an indiscriminate and injudicious use of the act and leave it to the consideration of those who alone are lawfully and constitutionally entitled to decide upon such a matter. The appeal is therefore dismissed.

MORE BIG BROTHERS

Commissioner J. E. Starr of the juvenile court spoke to a crowded and enthusiastic meeting of the Riverside Business Men's Association in Broadview-avenue last night. Here again he established the beginning of a "Big Brothers Club," which is being organized in wards. He explained the workings of the children's court and told incidents of the good which it might do and of the evils which it was designed to correct.

Can't Interfere With Parliament.
What in substance their lordships are asked to do is to say that the Canadian Parliament ought not to pass laws like this because it may be prejudicial to the law as it stands. It ought not to have been passed. Their lordships would be departing from their legitimate province if they entertained the argument of the appellants. They would really be pronouncing upon the policy of the Canadian Parliament, which is exclusively

First Application Under New Bylaw is for a $50,000 Structure in Residential District.

The first apartment house application under the new bylaw was made yesterday by J. D. Brady, who desires to build a $50,000 structure at 77-9 Forest Hill-road. It is of eighteen suites. The lot frontage of the property is 55 feet, the building frontage 46 feet. The plans were not filed for permit. The application will go before the board of control. Under the bylaw there can be no apartments in residential districts. Forest Hill-road is one, so that the board cannot approve of the plans without revoking Monday's bylaw in that instance. The reception accorded the applicants will be followed with much interest, as this is practically a test case.

BOTTOMLEY
RESIGNS SEAT

Editor of John Bull and Financier
With Checkered Career Has to Quit Politics.

LONDON, May 15.—Herbert Bottomley, financier, company promoter, newspaper proprietor and politician, and widely known as the editor of "John Bull," to-day resigned his seat in the house of commons as an independent.
This action is the sequel to a receiving order which he applied for to protect his estate.

Mr. Bottomley has been defendant in more lawsuits arising from financial operations than any man in this country. The latest big case in which he was concerned was heard on June 20 last year, when he was ordered to pay $200,000 damages to the estate of the late R. E. Master, a retired Madras civil servant. It was then alleged that Bottomley had obtained $75,000 from misrepresentation by selling to Master worthless shares.

TITANIC MUSICIANS' BENEFIT.
Concert of Combined Regimental Bands at Armories on Saturday.

Musical organizations and regimental bands throughout the British Empire are interested in the success of a movement to hold memorial concerts, from which funds are to be derived for the purpose of commemorating the sacrifices of the musicians who went down with the Titanic. The regimental bands of Toronto have appointed a committee to arrange for a Titanic musicians' memorial benefit concert, and it is announced that the concert will be held at the armories on next Saturday evening, May 18.

The musical numbers of the program will be contributed by the combined regimental bands of the Queen's Own Rifles, Royal Grenadiers and 48th Highlanders. Mr. Donald C. MacGregor will favor the program with three numbers, and there will be instrumental selections by members of the bands.
A charge of ten cents admission will be made at the door, but the box office will receive any contributions for the fund.

The armories will be decorated for the occasion and refreshments will be served, at an extra charge above the price of admission, in the marquee built on the floor of the armories, and in the tea rooms upstairs on the south side of the armories, in the rear of the officers' quarters.
