MR. ASQUITH HAS UNITED THE LIBERALS TO GOVERNMENT WORKS HARD

Hamar Greenwood, M.P., Brings Some Interesting Information as to Matters Political in the Old Land.

Hamar Greenwood, M.P. for the Cathedral City of York, England, is in the city on his way to British Columbia, where he will spend three weeks in a well-earned holiday. He came up yesterday from his native town of Whitchy. He is in the pink of condition physically and mentally as alert as ever with abundant hope in the future. As a Canadian-born member of the Imperial House, he has gone far, and the last has not been heard of his progress. He is a brawny, brainy Canadian and represents the best product of our country. He typifies the colonial spirit wherever it is found in the empire. He is a great colonial, he sits in the Imperial Parliament.

In answer to a question asked by The World as to whether or not the present government of Premier Asquith is likely to remain in power long, Mr. Greenwood spoke with emphasis, as a member of the Liberal executive committee of the United Kingdom, that there would be no general election in England until 1911, probably not until 1912. It is quite true, said he, that the government has lost some by-elections but it is the regular rule of the Liberals of the old country to lose at by-elections owing entirely to local causes. In Scotland and Wales the government has more than held its own. The Conservative opposition was composed at the general election of 1906 of 156 members. There have been by-elections, and the Tories have won six out of twenty-nine Liberal seats.

Under Mr. Asquith, the most powerful leader since Mr. Gladstone, the party is absolutely united, and works harder than any party in the history of the English parliament. The autumn session, itself a comparatively feature, commences on October 12th and will continue until the day before Christmas. Up to the present time this year the government has introduced 38 public acts, and some 122 private acts of parliament. Among the principal public acts have been the Irish University Act, which gives to a university system very similar to that enjoyed by Ontario. The only opponents to this measure were the extreme Orangemen of Ulster. The act received the support of Mr. Balfour and the opposition.

Great Pensioning Act. The great act of the session was, of course, the old age pension act, under which an old age pension of 5 shillings a week becomes payable on January 1, 1909, to over 500,000 aged men and women. Special clauses inserted in the act provide that the pensioner or his wife shall not be liable for rates or taxes or for the cost of a funeral. The amount is bound to increase. All parties were pledged to an old age pension measure, and in the main it received the support of the House of Commons. A majority of the peers expressed their opposition to the act, but the speaker of the House declared any amendment to the act would mean a breach of privilege, and the noble lords climbed down and passed the act.

"If you ask me what measure is agitating most public opinion in England, I should say it is the licensing question," said Mr. Greenwood. The first clause of this bill has already passed the commons, the whole bill will pass the lower house and either be accepted or rejected by the lords before the end of the year. If the lords reject the bill the government's alternative is to increase the annual fee for the license of the commons in England and Wales would be wiped out at once, by reason of the fact that the commons are not to be sold at the increased price. Licenses Very Low. "At the moment the minimum licensing fee is only £250 per annum, and a hotel like the Savoy pays only $500 per year. It must be admitted that the very high in England and Wales are tent camps for the unfairly low annual licensing fee.

The gist of the whole bill is, that under it every license holder is given a fourteen years' notice. During that time if his license is taken up, he receives compensation, but at the end of fourteen years no further compensation will be paid for any license refused, and at the discretion either of the local bench of magistrates or the ratepayers in the licensing district, and the annual licensing fee charged will be approximately the market value of that license.

Regrets Re Embargo. "No one regrets more than I do that the embargo on Canadian cattle has not been removed. The old objections, namely of disease, etc., are admitted by the board. The only reason why the embargo remains in force is that the government is not certain of commanding the house of commons in its removal. The Conservative man they are united in their opposition to keep out and they are assisted in their Irish party, who are in the position of Canadian." Page 7.

NO ONE TO BLAME IN THE JAIL ESCAPE

But Provincial Inspector's Report Makes Recommendations—Is Death Chamber a Part of Institution.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, handed out the report yesterday evening made by Inspector S. A. Armstrong on the escape of seven prisoners from Toronto Jail. Mr. Hanna made no statement in regard to its contents, but the report will be fully considered and action taken later.

No wilful neglect of duty on the part of any official is ascribed by Mr. Armstrong, but he recommends these changes: (1) The installation forthwith of a proper system for checking the prisoners when a change in guard is made. When such change takes place the prisoners should be carefully counted and a record made of the number of prisoners in the guard coming on duty signing a receipt for the number taken over. In this way the responsibility for the custody of the prisoners is established.

(2) That the execution room be closed by strong doors built flush with the inner wall of the corridor and so hung as to open inward on such corridor and that such doors be secured with locks of the very latest and best design. (3) That the present method of opening windows for ventilation by ropes hanging from the ceiling be discontinued, and that a more improved method of opening and closing windows be installed.

The report, which is addressed to the provincial secretary under date of yesterday, is as follows: "Guard James Elliott was on duty from 2 to 4 o'clock. He states positively in his evidence that Churchill, Ross, Clarke, Jones and Lee were all present in the corridor at 4 o'clock. Elliott was relieved a few minutes after 4 o'clock by Christopher Reid, and it was Elliott's duty, immediately after the change in guard, to secure the necessary number of buckets for use in the cells at night. He states that upon returning to the corridor he asked Guard Reid how the buckets were required for No. 3, and when told that 14 were needed, he looked into the corridor and found that there were no buckets in the room. This was the first intimation they had of an escape. Can't Fix Responsibility. "Guard James Elliott, unable to state how many prisoners he saw, but he came on duty. He is quite positive that the escaped prisoners were not in the corridor at the time he was on duty here that night. I may say here that this report is submitted upon any guard for the number of prisoners in his charge.

From the statements made by the prisoners it would appear that one of the doors leading into the execution room had been opened on the day before the escape and that one of the escaped prisoners had been in the room; it would also appear that the escaped prisoners kept to themselves and so guarded the entrance that they never at any time were examined by Guard Logan, who states that he found everything in perfect order and the doors locked. He further states that he was going on. At 12 o'clock on the day of the escape the cells and all parts of the basement and the first thought of the recovery of Fireman Cole gave encouragement, but at 9 o'clock later Wynne was found quite dead, the body was not badly marked.

At midnight the chief's body was found. It was terribly crushed, the face being smashed to a pulp. Cockburn's body is still in the debris. Chief Clark, it is singularly tragic to note, succeeded Chief Roe, who was killed by a falling wall four years ago last winter. He came from Hamilton and was highly esteemed here. LONDON'S FIRE CHIEF AND TWO ASSISTANTS MEET DEATH ON DUTY

Collapse of Floor of Westman Hardware Company on Dundas Street Kills Three Fire-Fighters While Fourth Has a Miraculous Escape.

BLAZE IN CRONIN BLOCK LOSS ABOUT $100,000.00

LONDON, AUG. 18.—(Special.)—Fire Chief Lawrence Clark and two others were instantly killed to-night by the collapse of the interior of the building in Cronin block, occupied by the Westman Hardware Co. at 121 Dundas street.

The dead are: CHIEF CLARK, aged 40, appointed to the department 4 1/2 years ago. FIREMAN HARRY WYNNE, aged 25, appointed 2 1/2 years ago. SERGEANT JACK COCKBURN of the Royal Canadian Regiment, Wolsley Barracks.

Fireman Cole was with the party in the building, but had a miraculous escape, being dug out of the ruins at 10 o'clock not seriously hurt. The fire itself had been a bad one and attracted a large crowd. The alarm had gone in about 5 o'clock, and starting in the basement the flames spread up the elevator shaft and through the four stories of the building. There was a dense volume of smoke and it was only by the hardest work above and below them that the fire was kept from spreading. At 7 o'clock Chief Clark decided that it was time to get at the heart of the blaze and, in his characteristic manner, he went into the still smoke-filled building. He grasped a lead of hose near the nozzle and encouraged the little squad with him.

At midnight the chief's body was found. It was terribly crushed, the face being smashed to a pulp. Cockburn's body is still in the debris. Chief Clark, it is singularly tragic to note, succeeded Chief Roe, who was killed by a falling wall four years ago last winter. He came from Hamilton and was highly esteemed here. DR. WILD IS DEAD IN BROOKLYN HOME

After Several Days' Unconsciousness, Toronto's Once Most Popular Divine Crosses the River.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Joseph W. Wild, formerly of Toronto, died to-night at 10:30 at the home of his son, Dr. Zimmerman Wild. Dr. Wild had a stroke of paralysis while visiting his son, C. Wild, at Piqua, Ohio, one year ago last June. He recovered somewhat and was taken to the house of his son, Dr. J. Zimmerman Wild, and daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Gillesby, in Brooklyn. His recovery continued so that he could get about fairly well. After two months he was able to visit Toronto and pass on to Port Sandfield and spend the fall at Ed. Cox's hotel there, where he had been an honored guest for many years. His daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Gillesby, who has spent the summer there for the last 18 years, was with him.

The C. P. R. Strike.

There is one thing settled in regard to the C. P. R. strike—the men are in earnest. They went out deliberately, and having so gone out, they sacrificed their pensions and their seniority when they failed to return at noon yesterday. They were duly warned what would happen, and they chose to abide the consequences. There is another thing equally a fact—the men operating the line, the still at work and loyal to their undertakings are warmly sympathetic with the men who are out. A third thing is that the efficiency of the freight and passenger service is not being maintained. Some trains are on time; some are not; freight is not going forward as before the strike. The equipment of the operating plant cannot be kept up to standard with new, inefficient and an insufficient number of men. But all these things do not mean that the company has been beaten. On the contrary, it may only be the starting of a struggle. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy may be able to hire new men, to bring in strike-breakers, to hold the support of the operating brotherhoods right along. It is an endurance test that is on. PET TERRIER CHEWS WOMAN

Left Eye and Side of Face of Mrs. Aileen Sherwin, in Fit, is Terribly Bitten By Dog.

With a lust that was terrible to behold and a fierce snarling, a little pet black-and-tan dog was literally eating the face of Mrs. Aileen Sherwin, 26 years of age, 59 Sydenham street, when Mrs. Edward Durman, a neighbor, rushed into the house in response to the unfortunate woman's screams. Then the woman's left eye and side of the nose had been destroyed. Mrs. Sherwin had been seized with an epileptic fit while preparing supper and as she fell on the kitchen floor the canine, which had been under the stove, pounced upon her. Her left eye was completely eaten out, her left ear torn all but off and the flesh of her left cheek and nose was gnawed to the bone and devoured. Mrs. Sherwin has been subject to epileptic seizures, and her neighbor, Mrs. Durman, has frequently gone to her assistance. The latter cannot account for the action of the dog in this instance, as it has been in the same room many times when its mistress collapsed.

At the moment the minimum licensing fee is only £250 per annum, and a hotel like the Savoy pays only $500 per year. It must be admitted that the very high in England and Wales are tent camps for the unfairly low annual licensing fee. The gist of the whole bill is, that under it every license holder is given a fourteen years' notice. During that time if his license is taken up, he receives compensation, but at the end of fourteen years no further compensation will be paid for any license refused, and at the discretion either of the local bench of magistrates or the ratepayers in the licensing district, and the annual licensing fee charged will be approximately the market value of that license.

WAS DEAD, AND IS ALIVE.

STROCHINA SAID TO HAVE REVIVED MAN WHO HAD DIED. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A man who from every medical standpoint was dead, and had been dead for five minutes, was brought back to life last evening in the Eastern District Hospital in Williamsburg. An experienced nurse watched him, apparently, pass away. She applied all the usual simple tests for life, and found none. Then the house surgeon examined the man carefully, and he too, after a lapse of moments, decided that the vital spark had gone permanently. Yet a tenth of a grain of strychnin, injected into the body as a matter of experiment, brought back the pulse, and six hours later the man was in better condition than he had been an hour before those functions ceased.
