The portion of the speech

The portion of the speech which aroused the least enthusiasm was Mr. Meighen's defence of Henry R. But here again all the blame was shifted to the British Government which he said virtuality Government which, he said, virtually compelled the nickel company to employ this firm. At the same time Mr. Meighen pointed out that in Feb. 1916, the company was reorganized and all the German stockholders were compelled to sell their stock to British subjects. In short, the solicitor-gen-eral defended both the International Nickel Company and the Merton con-cern, and made out a sort of an alib-for the Canadian Government by placfor the Canadian Government by placing all the blame for anything that had gone wrong upon the British admiralty. The admiralty, he said would continue to control the nickel situation and to run the war without any assistance from Mr. Dewart or Mr. Lindsay.

Had this position been taken there could have been no battle of the Somme, and while no nickel would have got into the hands of the foe, none would have got into the hands of friends to win the war.

Realizing from the war that it was the duty of the government to arrange for sdequate nickel refineries, the obstacles had been overcome, and a large plant sufficient to supply not only the British Empire but the rest of the world, outside of the United States, was being rushed to com-pletion as rapidly as was humanly possible.

In Control Daily. The British Government, thru the committee on enemy supplies, were in daily control of the output and des-tination of every pound of the Inter-national Nickel Company product that went overseas or to an American plant, The British admiralty had control of all the product of that plant, and they were in the best position to and they were in the best position to know to whom the product should go.

The assertion was made that in seven months 2,400,000 pounds of refined nickel had gone abroad, not to Great Britain or her allies. This, he said was not true. The quotation was said to have been made from the American Government returns, but this was not shown by those returns. He had the returns for the end of August for a period of eight months, which gave the export to France, Italy, Russian Empire, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and other countries. He rather thought that the allies were composed of more than four countries. What about Russia in Asia? He gave figures of shipments to Russia in Asia, a total of nearly a million pounds. It was asserted the other day that no nickel had come from New Caledonia since the outbreak of the war. It was only since the war that nickel had come directly to the United States from that point. It has previously been refined in Antwerp. Since Junuary, 1915, 3,462 tons of nickel, matter from New Caledonia had been received by the United States Nickel Company. This represented an average monthly output of 125 tons of refined nickel.

output of 125 tons of refined nickel. Nothing About Deutschland. As by-product, about a hundred ons a month were refined in the nonth on the average over which canada had no control. He did not think it necessary to speak about the nickel cargo on the Deutschland. The regrettable fact was that a commer-cial submarine could get across, but it was an exigency, a development of warfare. He quoted an engineering journal, which estimated that 375 tons was the total capacity of the Deutschland, and agreed with Mr. Kemp's estimate that 75 fons was about her possible capacity of nickel. He disagreed with the amount of nickel-steel that 375 tons of refined nickel would make, quoting as his figures 12,000 tons, composed of three per cent. nickel. In justice and fairness to all men. he had to state that from the begin-ning the government had met with fair co-operation from the officers of the International Nickel Company. fair co-operation from the officers of the International Nickel Company. Regarding the Henry Merton Company, he admitted and explained that company's conviction, but stated that it had been recognized, and all the German stockholders had been bought out. Their stock now was held by British citizens. It was the largest metal house in the world, and the British Government had used and still were using it as their agency. He quoted from The Times the result of its investigation, in which it was stated that 85 per cent. of the stock is now held by British-born or naturalized British subjects, the remaining 15 per cent. by those of neutral and allied countries; and by an article of the company, in case of war with British ownership. make their stand until the Russians come up, or counter-strike at

A German official communication says that the Russians have reinforced the troops on the eastern Transylvanian frontier. This is the northwestern Roumanian front and it embraces the Tolgyes, Gyimes, Buzeu, and Oituz passes. It is plain that a successful Russian advance from this front would menace the German communications along the line of the Maros, and if good headway were achieved in the early stages of the march, the Germans would have to clear out of the Jiul and the Alt valleys in order to avoid danger of being turned and destroyed.

While insisting that it would be impossible and foolish to prophesy the outcome of the German attack on Roumania, Major-General F. B. Maurice director of British military operations, told some press interviewers yesterday of several factors that favored the Roumanian defence. These were that midwinter is near, the foe is handicapped by his long communications and that the failure of the first German effort which was against Predeal Pass, had given the Roumanians the time necessary for preparations. Since the Roumanian campaign began the Teutons, who had weakened their lines had lost ground at Verdun, on the Ancre, and before Trieste, and they had lost 17,000 in prisoners taken alone. The success of the allies at Monastir must also be placed in the scale.

In Macedonia the battle is violently proceeding north of Monastir The French and Serbians took by assault the villages of Dobrimir and Paralovo, taking 300 Germans and Bulgarians prisoners. Before winning this success, the enemy received reinforcements and he counter-attacked with great violence. These collapsed before the allied fire. The French operating on the western shore of Lake Presba, have also advanced to the outskirts of Hotesevo. The Italians who are engaged in the mountain region west of Monastir, on Monday repulsed a violent counter-attack from Mount-Muva, and then they advanced northward and they captured heights south of Bradinol, northwest of Monastir.

In violent fighting on the whole Serbian front against the Germans, the Serbians in places advanced northward and they repulsed counter-attacks, says yesterday's official communication from Salonica. The area of Serbia already freed by the advance is nearly 500 square miles.

The Greek situation has again become serious owing to the refusal of the Athens government to comply with the allied demands. Strong and prompt action is required at once, for it is obviously too dangerous to leave King Constantine the power to stab the allies in the back when the kaiser gives the word.

The Russian dreadnought Imperatritsa Maria, has been sunk by an internal explosion and about two hundred of her crew are dead or missing. She was a unit of the Russian Black Sea fleet, of 23,000 tons burden, and armed with twelve 12-inch guns. She was laid down in 1910, and she was commissioned since the war began. Russia has two other Black Sea dread-noughts, so she does not lose the command of this water by the loss of the Maria. This vessel, according to later reports, can be raised again.

Fighting incidental to trench warfare is proceeding along the Russian front and the Russian artillery is showing increased activity. But no important movements are revealed in the official communications. The severe winter has set in, but this is not a bar to decisive operations as shown by the campaign against Erzerum and Armenia, early this year. Action may see, be expected,

THOUGHT PLUS WISDOM

Speaking to Canadian Club, He Thus Defines the Saving Grace.

"We hear the rumbling of coming revolution in Germany," said Sir Herbert Tree, addressing the Canadian Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday, and referring to a report that had appeared in the morning papers telling of Maximilian Harden's efforts to enlighten his countrymen upon the real cause of the war and war conditions as they now are.
Sir Herbert was addressing the civil on the "Importance of Humor in Tracedy," and was led to comment upon the war by a parallel which he drew between Napoleon and Wilhelm. He pointed out that neither of these man was passed with a carse of humor. Such a condition was common o men of action, destroyers, men who had taken from the world some of the good that it needed. Napoleon was an outstanding example. He had been instrumental in the taking of millions of lives and had returned nothing of pernanent value. He was an arch-de-Shakspere stood as an arch creator. He had given the world abiding joy and had contributed to the happiness of all future ages. He was the greatest Anglo-Saxon humorist, and it was in his possession of a sense of humor that he and men like him who were givers of good differed from the destroyers.

The Emperor's Lack. In these days it was difficult to think of Napoleon without also think-ing of Wilhelm of Germany. He, too, was the victim of a lack of humor. Humor might be described as an in-ellectual poise, a habit of looking at things in a certain way It was thought plus wisdom. Madmen had been found to be singularly deficient been found to be singularly deficient in humor, caused most likely by a distortion of their sense of proportion.

If the speaker were asked what was the gift he would most covet as a companion thru life he would answer "humor." It was the lone child of intelligence; it enabled us to separate the true from the sham; to face adversity with calm minds and to even be slient in the face of hypocrisy. At this terrible stage of the world's history it was more than ever needed.

In concluding, the speaker referred to the need for preparation for peace.

In concluding, the speaker referred to the need for preparation for peace. He was confident of victory for the allies. "Force." he said, "has never ruled for long." Sympathetic rule, such as the British had given South Africa, would develop and prosper, but enforced rule was pre-ordained to defeat. In Alsace-Lorraine under forty years of enforced German, rule the years of enforced German rule the people had learned to say their multi-plication tables in German, but they said their prayers in French.

Sir Herbert's address was greatly enjoyed by the large number of the club members present. It was delivered with the charming style of the practiced speaker and was interspersed by amusing anecdotes.

WILLS PROBATED

In the surrogate court yesterday, before Judge Winchester, Oliver Bollard and Margaret E. McPherson, the two persons who benefit under the codicil of the will of Arthur Bollard, the well-known tobacconist, who died June 18 last, opposed admitting the codicil to probate on the ground that the testator was not of sound mind at the time the codicil was drawn up, April 28 last. The codicil increased Oliver Bollard's bequest to $10,000, and Mrs. Margaret McPherson received a bequest of $5000.

Evidence was introduced to show that the testator was never the same after the tragic death of his son, in fter the tragic death of his son, in August, 1910. Dr. Andrew Miller and Dr. W. P. Caven testified as well as the Dr. W. P. Caven testified as well as the nurse who had attended Mr. Bollard. It was shown that on May 16 last Mr. Bollard had made out a joint deposit slip which had been filled in by him and signed by the testator, Mrs. Bollard and a witness. Mrs. Bollard explained that from May 1 to 24 he was much better and able to attend to business, but she would not say that he was not able to do so during the latter part of April. Judge Winchester decided that Bollard was capable of making a will at the time and adof making a will at the time and adof making a will at the time and admitted the codicil and will to probate. Samuel Foster has applied for the probate of the will of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Foster, a widow, who died in Toronto Aug. 28 last, leaving an estate valued at $3838, which is divided between the netitioner and his vided between the petitioner and wife, Mrs. Mary Foster.

What Thin Folks Should Do to Gain Weight

Good Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomach who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet thoir case is not hopeless. A recently-discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequaled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks' systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who solls it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you, send $1.00, money order or registered letter, to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, and a complete ten days treatment will be sent you, postpaid, in plain wrapper,

URGES COALITION GOVERNMENT PLAN

George Wrong, Disapproving Proposed Election, Pleads for Unity.

PREMIER TO TAKE LEAD

Writer Believes Canada's Conspicuous Men Would Accept Service Call.

the election would be decided without consulting the most virile and intelligent element in Canadian life, the hundreds of thousands of young men who have gone to fight for liberty. It, as might happen, the present government should be defeated, it would take at least a month for a new government effectively to get into harness. The three wasted months might well be the decisive months of the war. However, since our political strife has always been vehement and often embittered, after such a campaign the lack of unity would be more marked than ever. A regative resolve to avoid strife is, however, not enough; an aggressive unity among our people is necessary. This unity is now more real than the mere political partisan will admit. The longing desire among the Canadian people is that the victory may soon be won which will end the war. Our people are on a higher plane of thought that that of seeking party advantage. Liberals and Conservatives alike, with the lives of their dear ones at stake in the war, are thinking not of the victory of a party but of the victory of a great cause. They unite in desiring efficiency, in desiring that opportunity should be offered to merit and to merit only, without party considerations. They wish to make sure of adequate training, equipment and leadership for our great army. leadership for our great army. I hey desire a response on the part of every desire a response on the part of every Canadian to the call for service. How shall we get these things? My answer is by the union of the two great political parties in directing the affairs of the country. In a word we ought to have a coalition government.

Much has happened since, in the spring of 1915, the danger of a general election was averted. In Great Britain the system of party govern-Britain the system of party government then in operation has been found inadequate and a coalition has been formed. It is proverbial that England does not love coalitions, but in a time of terrible strain coalition was necessary and it has worked so well that sary and it has worked so well that there is no scrious proposal to return to party government during the war. In France party strife is dead. It was only by a union of parties that Italy was able to take her place with the allies. Thus, in the three great allied states which have parliamentary government, coalitions have been found necessary; without them, the work of carrying on the war would have been either impossible or severely crippled; impossible or severely crippled:

and Canada needs precisely similar solution of her difficulties, This then should be our course to meet the crisis. The prime minister should call upon the leader of the opposition to join him in a coalition government. The precedent set in England should be closely followed. Portfolios should be assigned on the basis of the relative strength of the two parties in the house of commons. The one aim should be to have a strong cabinet. Here let me note a change in the country, of which perhaps we are hardly conscious. In this time of stress the call to public service is so urgent that the prime minister can have in his cabinet, for the asking, the services of the most conspicuous men of affairs in Canada. Who of the heads of great business houses and of the great railway enterprises, who of the trained men in the professions would not place his whole powers at service of his country if the head of the government should call for him? What the country will respond to is alert and decisive leadership, and its best is at the command of the govern-

An election now is not necessary. It ought not to take place. But probably the only thing that will avert it is a real union of political parties to carry on the government. It is for the prime indnister to take the first step. If his advances are made and are not met in a chivalrous spirit, or if they are not made, the country will know whom to blame. To take such a step and to meet it as it should be met will require rare decision and courage on the part of both leaders. Many in the Conservative party think that it ought to have unchallenged control of public Tairs until the war is over. Many in the Liberal party, viewing recent events in the west and in Quebec, think that their party will win if an election takes place. For most of us, however, the issue at stake is too great for

Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal remedy that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has falled. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audine seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist I oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it 4-pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dulmess, cloudy tainking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of caterrhel poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by caterrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. Important Note: In ordering Parmint al. vavs specify that you want double strength. Your druggist has it or he can easily get it for you. If not, send 75c (pestal note or money order), to the International Laboratories, 4 St. Antone street, Montreal, Que.

Behind the immediate necessities of the case lie the tremendous national requirements of Canada, and the right of her people to the use of their own resources. In a land so bare of coal as Ontario the value of water power is inestimable, and it is inconceivable that when the people require it, the power generated from this source should be alienated for the benefit of others. There can be no two opinothers. There can be no two opin-tons on this question, and the politicians or the political party that raise difficulties about realizing these advantages for the people of Ontario will find little favor at the polls.

The corporations are maturally aghast at the suggestion that the people should have possession of their own, but corporations must remember that nice customs must curtsey to kings, and the people are kings in dealing with hydro-electric power,

What the Soldiers Want The boys at the front have no objection to the government holding back a portion of their pay amounting, in the case of an unmarried private soldier, to $20.00 a month. They have little use for money at the front, and they realize, in any event, that 7 King Street West they will be greatly benefited by having arrears of pay accumulate in the ands of the government. The soldie ming to civil life will need a lumi um to begin business, or to tide him over while he is looking for employ ment. But he wants the money in

The soldiers say, in the first place that altho it is a forced loan they are really lending money to the government, and should get the same rate of interest as the people at home who purchase Dominion debentures. They also feel that the pay that is temporarily withheld from them should be used by the government for military purposes exclusively.

The government should take their equest into serious consideration. If it cannot be acceded to by order-incouncil, there will be no trouble, we think, in getting from parliament the necessary legislation. Nothing is too good for the soldier, and the request he is now making seems to be reasonable and just.

Few New Brunswick Potatoes Free of Dry Rot, Says M.O.H.

In his report to the mayor on the condition of potatoes retained in cars on the Esplanade, Dr. Hastings states that in two cars examined 160 bags were found unfit for food. Very few carloads arriving from New Brunswick, he says, are free from dry ret. From 30 to 100 bags is a fair average of the potatoes unfit for food in every car. Mayor Church has forwarded the report to Sir Henry Drayton, with a communication asking the board to take action with regard to the delay in unleading cars of foodstuffs.

BARN FIRES ACROSS LINE FREQUENT AS IN ONTARIO

Michigan Had Five Hundred Fires In First Ten Months of This Year.

Neighboring states of the Union have had barn fires this year, just as Ontario has. E. P. Heaton returned yesterday from attending the convention of fire marshals, held in Nash-ville, Tenn. He said that he had learned from the fire marshals of Mi-chigan that there had been 500 fires in that state in the first ten months of this year. Of these 45 per cent. had been attributed to lightning, and the rest to causes unknown.

The fire marshal of Michigan attributed 30 per cent. of these to spontaneous combustion. Ohio had 50 barn fires in the month of August. Mr. Heaton is writing to the fire marshals of these states, ask-ing them for any statistics that they might be able to furnish on this mat-

These facts indicate that there can be no reliance placed in the theory that barn fires in Ontario this year bave been caused by the malignance of alien enemies from across the international border.

matter should be attended to. Let them get the surplus, but let us have the first choice. We get the inferior fish that perhaps is not good enough for Chicago." He instanced Manitoba, where a little agitation had reduced the price of native fish by half.

Prof. Prince deplored the manner in which the fishery resources of the Dominion had been squandered in the past. "How prodigally, how criminally we have wasted our resources," he said, instancing the killing of fish at spawning time, the slaughter of immature fish, and other wasteful methods permitted by unwise legislation.

Because of the high price of meat, owing to the war, Prof. Prince advocated the larger use of fish. It was more economical, and it was equally nutritious and more digestible. He instanced a number of kinds of fish such as rock eels and skate, which were spurned by the housewives because they were not pretty to look at, but which had excellent flavor and food value.

He advocated getting rid of American control, more energy on the part of fishermen, more generosity from railways to shippers of fish, and quieker transportation for fish.

A vote of thanks was moved by E. F. B. Johnston.

New York, Nov. 23.—That major and mimor league players in all leagues protected by the Baseball Players' Evaternity will refuse to sign their contracts unless the National Association, the governing body of the minor leagues, grants requests recently made upon it by the fraternity was again indicated by a statement made here today by President David Fultz of the fraternity.

"The National Association simply must grant these requests; that is all there is to it," said Fultz. "We have pleages from virtually all our players not to sign constructs unless they get word from officers of the frateurity. I am more sure than ever that we have the majority of the players behind us on this issue. Since the minor league conference ignored our requests in New Orleans I have received letters from dozens of players asking that we sit tight."

Fultz also said he had sent Chairman Herrmann of the National Commission copies of contracts entered into last season by Ray Keeting of New York and John Henry of Washington. Both of these contracts find causes exempting the club from playing the player's salary in the event of injury met while playing ball, Fultz declared.

FINE OLD SCRAMBLE FOR THE PLAYERS

Every Club Claims to Be Strong-Ross to the Fore With Denials.

The scramble for senior players goes merrily on. Every club that has signified its intention of playing this winter claims to have a star team ready to go on the ice. It was ever thus. The players will turn out for practice, and then the grand old flop acts will commence. Players have been known to turn out and then land up with some other team that they had never practised with.

Riversides look strong. There is no getting away from that. They have the reference complete in Collett, Merrick and Smith of last year's champion team. Gene Dopp is sure, and then Ernie Parkes is expected to Join forces with the east end club. Adams, the 70th Battery Dlayer, is a promising-looking boy. A host of managers are chasing him, and Riversides are in the scramble. It is hard to say where he will land.

Aura Lee are newcomers in the senior ranks, and have several of last year's juniors to round out a team. Wilkinson will play goal. He has given his word, and will live up to it. Jimmy Green says he is thru, but Aura Lee are trying to get him to change his mind. The north end club is well fortified in the forward line, Harry Watson, the star of St. Andrews last year, will play with Aura Lee, and most of last year's well-drifted and classy line will be back on the job. The Dental College outfit, headed by Jerry Laflamme, is sure to get a good team. The two Stewart boys. Box. (a Queens star), Jerry himself and Mark Sheldon are a few of those that the Dent's are counting on.

The 228th Battalion has some 50-odd to pick their zenior and junior teams from. Several players who starred in the north country are with the soldier feam. They will have no trouble in lining-up a squad.

The Cyclists will get the pick of the rest of the camp and should round out a strong team. The St. Patricks Club will play senior. Who will make up their team is a mystery. T.R. & A.A. are working quietly, but are expected to be strong. Bud McLean and Ack Humiter are sure for the black and white.

There is some talk of St. Michael's College entering a team i The scramble for senior players goes errily on. Every club that has signisociated him with the champion French team.

"I have not decided where I will play, providing I play at all, which is very doubtful," said Ross. "I have an Ottawa contract, but will not sign it at the figure set. I'm not a salary hog, but I simply couldn't afford to neglect my business and go to Ottawa for play and practice at the figure they have set. It would be more profitable for me to stay out of the game altogether. There are no grounds, however, for the stories that I will be with either Wanderers of Canadiens. I have had no communication with either team in any way, shape or Manager Dey of the Ottawa Arena, who has been assigned the task of signing up players for the Ottawa N.H.A. Club this season, announces he has exactly eleven amateur aspirants who will try out when first practice is called. Eight of them are Ottawa boys and three hail from the outlying districts. Mr. Dey is strong for preparedness and believes in developing all the likely looking boys in sight.

Word has been received from Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe, England, that Leth Graham, the former Ottawa wing player, is in bad shape in one of the hospitals there. It was first reported Leth had been wounded in the shoulder, but more recent information is to the effect the little fellow has a very bad leg, and there is a ressibility he will have to submit to amputation.

· Secretary B. L. H. Bamford of the Northern Hockey League has issued the following circular letter and forwarded it to secretaries of hockey clubs thruout western Ontario:

"The season is now approaching when the great Canadian national winter game of hockey will merit our attention, and we are writing to you with the hope that one or more teams from your town will be entered in the Northern Hockey League, senior or junior series, this season.

League, senior or junior series, this season.

"We realize that your town, like all other towns, has lost its foremost players, who have doffed the hockey uniform to don the King's uniform, and we take pride in the great number of Northern League officers and players who have "answered the call." There are, however, players whose circumstances will not permit them to don the khaki; there are the soldiers at home, and also the younger boys, to draw from. No doubt a team that will compare favorably with other teams can be placed on the ice to represent your town. Especially does this apply to the junior series.

Williamstown, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Dick Hoblitzel, first baseman of the champion Red Sox, was a heavy depositor in the Williamstown Bank, the doors of which were closed several days ago following the disappearance of George Hunter, cashier. The ball player's father-in-law is president of the institution, and "Hobby" expected to become connected with it when he quit the national game. Hunter, detectives said today, probably lost much of the $40,000. SINCLAIR IS HELPING PLAYERS' FRATERNITY

Rumors of Revival of Federal League Has a Motive--Roast for Fultz.

There is a story, which apparently riginates in Pittsburg, to the effect that Flarry Sinclair, who got scorched to the extent of a half million or more in the Federal League flash is going to try to "get even" by reviving that moribund and bankrupt institution. Mr. Sinclair must want to get even with himself. This yarr sounds as if it were cooked up to further the interests of the proposed "strike" of the ball players' fraternity.

GET SEASON'S PRIZES

The players, it is said, want to insist on war time salaries after their present contracts run out, which most of them have. However ball players, poor things, may be enslaved by the magnates, it is certain that they do not have to sign new contracts unless they want to. They have cdrtair rights, as human beings, but it looks as if they were being poorly advised by Davy Fultz, who, as one witter puts it, "is making a soft living out of the dues which the players pay into the fraternity treasury. The athletes should have a new leader, one who would be more reasonable in his demands than Fultz has been."

The Three Functions of the Liver

1. It manufactures the bile essential in the process of digestion.

2. The starch and sugars derived from the food are stored in the liver and sent to the tissues as needed.

3. It detects and destroys poisons.

Dire Results of Overeating

From the standpoint of health man's cardinal sin is overeating.

The digestive system can look after a certain amount of food, but when continually crowded the food mass is delayed in the ailmentary canal and what is not digested ferments.

In other words, this food spoils or rots, and poison-ous bacteria are given off.

It is the duty of the liver to destroy these poisons. It usually succeeds, but after a time it tires, increases in size from overwork, and finally fails.

What Failure of the Liver Means

BUFFALOANS WHO

Old Time Mining Writer Recalls Men of Bison City Who Have Made Money

"Once a prospector always a pros-pector," likewise "once a writer of mines always an enthusiast on minng." Every once in a while I try to "break off" and reform, but the habit acquired away back in 1907 is, I fear, an unbreakable one. But what's the use? I enjoy it and guess I'll just keep it up to the end—whatever that end will be. If I can't see the thousands (in many instances millions) sands (in many instances millions) coming my way, it's a real pleasure to coming my way, it's a real pleasure to see them coming to the rest of the toys. And there are a lot of them in Buffalo who have made good in the great north country, and a lot more are on the way to fortune. Say, you'd be surprised at the number, right here in Buffalo, who are from well-to-do up to having big cheques cashed without "reference," and with reference to whom Dun and Bradstreet would smile if you asked: "Is he good for a million?" Only the other day I took my pencil and began marking down some of the names of familiar Cobalt-Buffalo men. Guess the thought came to me the day I was going out thru what they call "the millionaire section," out North Main street, toward Williamsville, We were passing a palace, situated in a were passing a palace, situated in a 35-acre park. "Who lives there?" I aswed and "the Man Who Knows" aswed and "the Man Who Knows" said: "That is where Robert W. Pomeroy has been living since Charlie Dennison put him 'next' to the Buffalo mines," which reminded me of how scared Charlie was when he had been inveigled (?) into paying $8000 for that 40 (or was it only 20?) there at the top of the hill, overlooking Cobalt. Yes, they do tell that he jumped on the next train and started back to Buffalo, "lest somebody else catches me for an easy mark." Some do say that Charlie has since wished that he'd stayed and "been caught some more!"

A Popular Man.
One of the best liked and one of the most justly popular men in Buffalo is Dr. Conrad E. Wettlaufer, who is so widely known in the north's "Who's Who," that his name here is sufficient biography. Some men's fortunes are not begrudged them, and they go thru life creating no jealousies or heart-burnings. Dr. Conrad creates neither. There is what they call "the Charles L. Sherrill crowd"—with this hustler at the head, with such followers as F. L. Bapst, William Kinch, Pliny McNaughton, etc., all of whom have made enough to "stop and go fishin'" if they wanted to. But instead, they say, "We're just gettin' ready to start, for that great north country hasn't even been scratched yet!" And I'm coming to think they are very right, since almost every report I get is that "things are looking better all the time, and new values are being found every-

Others Who Prospered. Burr Cartwright is and has so long been so much a part of northern On-tario, that many may doubt his being of Buffalo—but he is. Clarke of this city. ncidentally, the success of this mine that Al Freeman, its promoter, thew what he was doing when he backed Julian Hawthorne in his claims for the vast riches of Ontario. They do say that John Roberts has made far more out of his mining investments than from his "Frest Every Hour" industry up Main street. He was one of the earlies in Timiskaming; out of which so many Buffaloans benefited. They are claiming that Clarence M. Bushnell has found mining pays better than the law.

Farmers Get Rich.

Why, even the farmers down around nearby Hamburg, are growing rich from their northern investments, while William Hines of that suburb, along with W. H. H. Davenport the main instigator of the Benson opposition in Bailey, will be one of the largest winners in the event of success in this opposition, which now seems quite a cer-

It may be on general principles, but W. J. Conners, the head and front of so many of the big things of Buffalo, is claimed to be one of the winners in the mining industry of the north.

At Kirkland Lake.
Then there is Al Wende, who is making good in Kirkland and other camps. I used to think his name was spelled differently, in fact, that it was more of a sobriquet, as indicative of his noisy enthusiasm. But, instead, he is as quiet and gentle-spoken as every-body's old-time favorite, "Billy" Green, who is also of Buffalo. First met "Billy" up the Montreal River when Elk Lake was on every tongue. Dear old days! In no camp was there such hang-together-like-each-other lot of good fellows as in this same Elk Lake district. He is now up in Monroe, set-ting about to prove that there is another Croesus in the same township "Dick" Hagarty, another Buffaloan, is of his syndicate. Let's see, "Dick" was helping to put the ore chimney on a going basis when I ran across him down there in Frontenac, beyond Hastings. Remember when nearly all the "experts" were saying: "It's no good—never'll make a mine!" I not peing an "expert," and of sort of an obstinate nature, said: "Ore Chimney is all right. Some day I'm going to all right. Some day in going to say, "I told you so!" This is my turn—Ore Chimney has its 250 ton mill almost ready to start—"I told you so!" Don't want to do any boasting on the Bon't want to do any boasting on the side, but when I have a "hunch" that certain property is going to prove a winner, I emphatically say so,—first studying well all the conditions. As you know, I've had a number of "hunches," and have seldom emphatically said: "This is/going to prove a winner," and have results letter prove winner," and have results later prove that I knew as little about the thing as an "expert."

Two Others.

And that reminds me of meeting two other Buffalo men the other day, who have been so much a part of the north country. We didn't call them men, then, for everybody knew them as "The Jackson boys," Allen and Sfarr. It was when I was gathering material for "The Peal Callet". material for "The Real Cobalt," my first book on the north. Was going from Halleybury down to one of the camps, out around the northeast corner of Coleman, when these two young men drove along in the only buggy then in the country. I said "Hullo boys!" and then we were acquainted, and I used often to drop in at one of their numerous governments. their numerous camps. Incidentally, it's an interesting story how they first

WHEAT GOES DOWN ON HEAVY SELLING

Houses With Seaboard Connections Dispose of Much Grain at Chicago.

FEAR U. S. EMBARGO

Dealers Freely Discuss Prob ability of Action by Congress.

Chicago, Nov. 23 .- Heavy selling by houses with seaboard connections gave a down-swing to the wheat market today, after prices had made a brief display of strength. The possibility of an embarge on shipments from the United States was freely discussed. Prices closed weak 11%c to 2½c net lower, with December at $1.81 and May at $1.87½. Corn lost & to 1%c, and oats %c to 1½c. In provisions, the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 10c higher.

Transitory gains at the outset in the wheat market were ascribed to higher quotations at Liverpool and to bullish crop advices from Argentina and Australia. As soon as values here had soored a moderate advance, however, selling widened out to an extent that could not be readily absorbed, and the emoarge talk, together with an apparent absence of any important export sales, seemed sufficient to put the bears in control fur the rest of the day.

Lack of enough ready available freight room on freight vessels for Europe tended further te discourage buyers, and so, too, did complaints of a shortage of railway cars, especially as restricting trade operations of millers in the northwest, a condition made more acute by the approaching close of traffic on the creat Lakes.

Exporters processed to have no order from Europe of purchase wheat. One explanation suggested was that curtailment of buying on the part of foreigners had resulted in part from wholesale economies which had been put into effect, notably the admixture of corn as an ingredient of flour.

Corn weakened with wheat. Rough weather, threatening to delay shipments from the country, had only a temporary bullish influence.

Oats followed the bearish lead of wheat and corn. Trade lacked volume. Provisions hardened in value owing to purchases of lard for Belgium. Other transactions were only of a scattered nature. on shipments from the United States was

The cash market was dull today, and it helped to weaken wheat during the session. Cash wheat, except for the first grade, was practically unsaleable.

les were hardly able to cope with the demand. Great efforts were put forth to increase the production of crude oil from which gasoline and other by-products, including lubricating oils, illuminating oils, benzine, etc., etc., are derived. The demand for these byproducts taxed the capacity of the re-fineries to the limit. This was practically the condition when the fuel oil period caused a greatly increased demand for crude oil for fuel for all kinds of crude oil engines. Steamships are being rapidly converted from coal to oil burners on account of the increased seed, quicker port clearance, lower labor cost, lower victualing cost, increased cargo space for freight and increased berth space for passengers when using oil as fuel. Manufacturing plants are being equipped with oil fuel power as quickly as labor can be procured and the necessary burners

The above facts will explain the high cost of all grades of refined oil, gasoline, benzine and all crude oil byproducts. The present known oil fields of the world are unable to cope with the in-creased demand created by the gasoline and fuel oil periods. World-wide exploration work is being carried on in the hope that large new production will be found. Will this search be successful? If not, who can foretell the future price of gasoline and fuel oil? The present high price of coal only increases the demand for oil as a substitute.

The crude oil of southwestern Ontario is high-grade oil, from which gasoline, benzine and the usual byproducts are produced in large percentages. The present market situa-tion for crude oil and the likelihood of much higher prices should stimulate development in southwestern Ontario.

Dear Sir—
On account of the scarcity of labor in the Porcupine mining district it is additionally difficult to keep the labor on the outlying mines. In consequence of this I would advise you to discontinue sinking the shafts on your property for a time and to continue the exploration work on your property by diamond drilling.

The Need of Accuracy

Besides ability to make sound decisions about the general lines on which administration is to be conducted, an Executor must keep accurate and systematic records of all transactions connected with the Estates in his care. Many individuals who meet the first of these tests, fail at the second. This Company's accounts are rigidly audited year by year and leave no room for inaccuracies.

NEW YORK STOCKS J. P. Bickell & Co., Standard Bank Building, Toronto, report fluctuations in New York Stocks, as follows:

MONTREAL STOCKS:

The roads from Timmins to the mine are now frozen hard, and shortly the sleighing will be at its best for transporting in machinery and supplies. Free gold in quantity has been found in the quartz veins on the St. Pierre claim on your property, and also values in gold in an enriched zone on the west claim. Both of these discoveries should be explored at a depth of at least seven hundred feet. This can best be done by diamond drilling, and I would recommend you to call for tenders and let contracts to responsible diamond drillers to carry out this exploration work.

I recommend this work, because for some time more information can be obtained by diamond drilling at a less cost than can be obtained by shaft sinking.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) J. Craig Watson.

SINKING HAS STARTED AT PORCUPINE GOLD REEFS

A wire received in the city yester-day announced that work had been commenced in sinking at the Porcupine Gold Reefs. The shaft, now down about 30 feet, will be continued to the 100-foot level, when a crosscut will be made to intercept some of the rich veins located on the surface. It was not expected that this work would have been started till next week. When Gold Reefs was previously worked one ton of ore was shipped from the property, which gave a net return of $175.
