HEARST NOT ANXIOUS TO BE A CANDIDATE

Tells Independence League He is Not Seeking Office

Platform Will Likely be Built to Capture the Union Vote—Convention Will Open Today.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Delegates continue to arrive today for the national convention of the Independence Party, which will be called to order today in Orchestra Hall. William Randolph Hearst, of New York, who is to act as temporary chairman, and whose speech will sound the keynote of the party's policy throughout the coming national campaign, has thus far been the dominant factor in the party councils. He has repeatedly declared that he is not a candidate for any office and is seeking nothing beyond the promotion of the interests of the organization; he has rallied around him. The fight is open and according to Mr. Hearst and other men prominent in the organization, the nomination will not be dictated or influenced in any manner. The platform to be adopted will, it is expected, contain a radical declaration in favor of an anti-injunction measure. It is the expressed belief of many of the delegates to the present convention that the declarations of both the republican and democratic parties on the injunction question were feeble and ineffectual, and it is expected that the independence platform will not be open to this criticism.

INQUEST BEGUN IN THE HAZEL DREW MYSTERY

Coroner Will Endeavor to Ascertain Whether Death Was Due to Murder, Accident or Suicide.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—If Captain Thomas S. Baldwin succeeds in fulfilling all of the requirements of the government trial, his military dignity at Fort Meyer, he will receive $6,780, while Count Zepplins will receive $200,000 from the German Government if the requirements are fulfilled by his alibi. The latter machine is twenty-five times as large as Captain Baldwin's dirigible. Yet Captain Baldwin contends that in the aircraft he has built for the army, he has perfected new ideas which will be adopted by other nations in the construction of dirigibles. By his new process of vulcanizing rubber, Captain Baldwin claims to have secured a material that will stand a strain of 55 pounds to the inch and which is not affected by either heat or cold. In addition there is practically no elasticity to a gas bag made of this material, thus making a rigid balloon without the use of a frame.

GETTING READY FOR K. OF P. EXCURSION

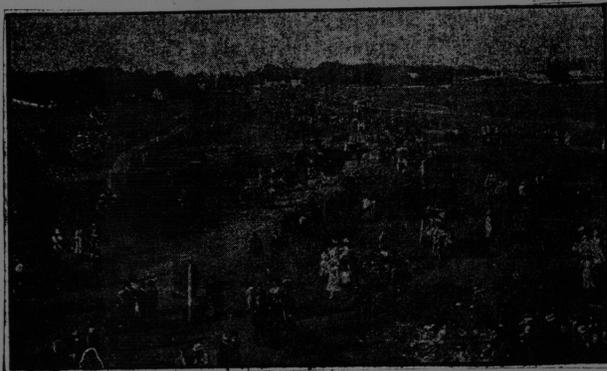

Very Large Party Will Leave Here Next Saturday on the Calvin Austin

Great preparations are being made for the special excursion which leaves here next Saturday evening on the steamer Calvin Austin, by the Knights of Pythias who are en route to attend the mammoth convention at the Hub next week. L. R. Thompson, the Eastern Line's traveling passenger agent, is busy making preparations for the large number of knights and their friends who are going. The St. John knights will be joined here by knights from New Glasgow, Westville and Sydney, while fifty others will come from Moncton. Besides these there will be a large number from Eastport and Lobster, Me. These will arrive on Saturday afternoon by the steamer Governor Cobb and will join their New Brunswick and Nova Scotia brethren here. The Artillery Band, which will number about 35 members will accompany the party. A large number of K. of P. friends intend taking in the excursion.

FIRST STEAMER OF THE CUBAN LINE IS HERE

The first steamer of the Cuba-Boston and St. John Steamship Company to visit this port, arrived last night. She is the trim-looking steamer Tailsman. The steamer came here as a special one from New York, and is now docked at the west side, where she is receiving hay and dry lumber for Havana. This steamer will go to Boston on Friday, where she will complete her cargo for Cuba. This is the fifth sailing of the line to Cuba, but the first from this port. In the future the C. B. and St. J. liners will leave here monthly. The route will be Boston to St. John, and from St. John to Cuba direct. The company expect a large business.

The Quebec Tercentenary.

Sunday scene on Plains of Abraham in Quebec.

QUEBEC, July 27.—The rush is over. Quebec, though far from normal, is gradually assuming an attitude of comparative calm. The festivities are by no means done, many interesting events yet remain to be chronicled, but the suffocating crush of the past week is gone. The Prince is now a familiar figure on the streets. Yesterday he motored to Montgomery Falls with a small party and passed almost unnoticed through the city. This morning, accompanied by the Governor General and a small staff, he paid an entirely informal and private visit to A. Cass, N. French, Canadian village of St. Joachim and was the guest of the Monks of the Quebec Seminary at the Chateau Bellevue Petit Cap.

The Prince returned in an automobile and arrived in town in the quarter of 11. He was in the outskirts of Long Lake near Mitchell, Ill., yesterday, where he was shot by a farmer, who was 12 miles away at home, shrieked and fell to the front porch in a faint. Neighbors ran to her assistance and revived her. "Fred is dying, I can hear him calling to me. He is drowning, let me go to him," moaned the girl. Herie made frantic efforts to leave the house, but was held back by friends, who assured her that Fred was all right. The girl could not be quieted. Five minutes later a message came from Mitchell that Fred Huber had been drowned. When the news reached his sister, she again fainted and up to a late hour last night was in a critical condition.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 27.—Charles Curtis, an Ontario Lake boat fireman, lost his balance in a rowboat last night on the lake and was drowned. NEW YORK, July 27.—Edward McCarthy, seven years old, of Newark, was fatally injured while watching a baseball game in that city yesterday. Otto Boles, playing left field for the Ironsides, ran into the lad while chasing a high fly. The boy's skull was fractured. Boles was arrested but was paroled when more than a score of witnesses said the accident was unavoidable.

BALDWIN HOPES FOR COMPLETE SUCCESS

He Will Receive a Few Cents if His Airship Proves Satisfactory for Military Purposes.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—If Captain Thomas S. Baldwin succeeds in fulfilling all of the requirements of the government trial, his military dignity at Fort Meyer, he will receive $6,780, while Count Zepplins will receive $200,000 from the German Government if the requirements are fulfilled by his alibi.

THREATENS TO SEIZE WARSHIPS FOR DEBT

Part of French Navy Has Narrow Escape From Clutches of a Lawyer.

PARIS, July 27.—The whole French navy has escaped seizure by a Cherbourg lawyer for a debt of $25,000. The man tells the amusing story. Letellier, a dockyard workman, lost a hand during his employment in November, 1906, and in an arbitration was awarded a pension of $100. But the ministry caviled at the decision, and in March, 1907, Letellier, through his lawyer, M. Leboucher, sued the Admiralty and won his case.

PEACE CONGRESS OPENED IN LONDON TODAY

King, Edward Hears and Replies to an Address From the Delegates—The President's Speech.

LONDON, July 27.—The seventeenth universal peace congress organized by the Society of Friends, assembled at Cannon Hall here today. Over 100 delegates in sixteen different countries are in attendance. The Bishop of Carlisle, presiding over the national assembly, said: "Nothing has impeded the national prosperity so much as partisan strife and blind antagonism. They were told to think imperially, but a rider was needed—let them not act imperially." King Edward and Queen Alexandra received the delegates at Buckingham Palace at noon. His Majesty replied as follows to an address by the delegates: "It gives me great pleasure to welcome you, the representatives of the Universal Congress of Peace, and receive your address. There is nothing from which I derive a more sincere gratification than from the knowledge that my efforts in the cause of international peace and good will have not been without fruit, and a consciousness of the generous appreciation with which they have been received both from my own people and those of other countries."

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING AFFAIR AT CLEVELAND

Young Man, Walking With a Girl, Was Fired on by Strangers.

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—With a bullet wound just over his heart, a young man who is registered as Louis Weber is said to be dying at Charity Hospital. Back of the shooting is a mystery, which the police of Cleveland and Cleveland Heights, a fashionable suburb where it occurred, had not been able to solve early this morning. The shooting occurred not far from the scene of the Carl Bernbacher and Lena Helchman murder some weeks ago, and as far as known, under somewhat similar circumstances. Weber was walking in the Heights with a Miss Ames Atkinson, the police say. Both principals say Weber was shot by two men who disappeared as quickly as the game.

WILL DISCUSS NEW FIRE STATION FOR CARLETON

At the monthly meeting of the Safety Board which will be held this evening, several important matters will come up.

The erection of a new fire station in West St. John of suitable efficiency to protect the large property interests in Carleton will be considered and it is expected that the Board will report favorably on the proposition. In the Mayor's inaugural address his worship advised the purchase of a water tower as an addition to the city's equipment and this was recommended to the Board by the committee on the subject. It is somewhat doubtful whether the Board will think it necessary to advise the expenditure of more money for this apparatus. Chief Kerr will also have some recommendations for the Board.

WILLEMSTAD, Island of Curacao, Sunday, July 26.—Great joy was manifested by the population here when it became known that the Venezuelan Senator Leopaz who took refuge in the German consulate after a mob of Curacao slaves had stormed the Venezuelan consulate, had taken his passage for Port Cabello on the steamer Maracabo. The steamer arrived here Saturday. The population of the island is quite calm. The troops have withdrawn and returned to barracks. No casualties resulted from the attack made last night on the dwelling of a Venezuelan resident and the demonstration before the residence of the Venezuelan consul.

GIRL MILES AWAY, FELT BROTHER DYING

Remarkable Circumstances in a Drowning Accident

Man Lost His Life When Rowboat Upset—Little Boy Killed While Watching a Baseball Game.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 27.—While her twin brother was being sucked to his death in the outskirts of Long Lake near Mitchell, Ill., yesterday, Merle Huber, 15 years old, who was 12 miles away at home, shrieked and fell to the front porch in a faint. Neighbors ran to her assistance and revived her. "Fred is dying, I can hear him calling to me. He is drowning, let me go to him," moaned the girl. SENATOR WOOD AND HIS SESSIONAL ALLOWANCE

In Spite of Refusal to Accept the Increase He Was Well Paid—Was Present Only 30 Days in Eight Months

At the close of the parliamentary session, Senator Wood declined to accept the full sessional allowance due him, and took only $500, which amount, he admitted, might repay him for the time spent at Ottawa during the past eight months. Senator Wood's action has been looked upon as a rebuke to all those members who voted themselves the increased allowance, including Mr. R. L. Borden and his associates who are continually crying out against the allowance. It is pointed out by a prominent member of parliament, that he has not suffered very seriously by his apparent self-sacrifice. The Senate reports, now complete, show that that body was in session for ninety-four days. Members are permitted to absent themselves for fifteen days of any session. Senator Wood went the limit and considerably more. He was in the Senate for thirty days during the entire session. He should have been there for thirty days' attendance. Senator Wood has drawn $800, or a trifle less than $1 per day, and in addition has received $60 or $70 travelling allowance.

ANOTHER MURDER BY AN ITALIAN Killed the Sheriff Who Served Papers on Him. Desperate Fight Between Sheriff and His Companion With Murderer Armed with an Axe—The Italian Captured.

RUTLAND, Vt., July 26—As a result of wounds received in trying to serve legal papers on Tony Valente, an Italian lumberman, in a Mount Holly camp yesterday morning, Deputy Sheriff Frank A. Hayden, of Ludlow, died at the Rutland City Hospital tonight.

Accompanied by a man named G. R. Thompson, Hayden drove to the Mount Holly camp to serve papers foreclosing a chattel mortgage on Valente. The Italian, it is said, tried to resist the sheriff's attempts to serve the papers and when the officer approached him, it is said that Valente struck him with an axe, inflicting a bad wound. Thompson, Hayden's companion, although he is a small man, at once grasped the carriage and grappled the Italian, who weighs 300 pounds and is powerfully built. The Italian fled through the woods, picking up the axe, hurled it after the fleeing man, striking him in the back. Valente, it is said, turned and tried to pick up the weapon when Thompson sprang upon him and both went down with the Italian on top of Sheriff Hayden, despite his terrible wound, crawled over to the struggling man and drawing a revolver, shot Valente in the leg. The Italian then released Thompson and jumping to his feet, it is alleged struck Hayden once more with an axe and then fled.

SHE ABDUCTS YOUTH IN AUTO; WEDS HIM Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Carries Sweetheart Across the State Line.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., July 25—Ethel English, the buxom 15-year-old daughter of Dr. John English, Redstone township, has married Claude Brockbridge, 27 years old, the son of a Brownsville policeman, after abducting him in the latest western style.

Ethel took her father's touring car and then stole Claude from a store, where he was weighing sugar. The youngsters fled to Steubenville, Ohio, about seventy-five miles away, where a license was refused because Ethel had forgotten to put on one of her mother's dresses and the magistrate said he would not marry any girl whose dresses did not reach to her shoe tops.

Nothing daunted, Ethel and Claude climbed into the machine and whizzed to Youngstown, Ohio, where they were finally married. They returned home this morning happy.

It is understood from the employers of young Brockbridge that he had no inkling of the intentions of Miss English when she consented to take a ride around the block in her father's auto and the young husband confesses that it was not until they were several miles in the country that he was told that he was about to be married.

The pair had been child lovers since pinafare days.

HOW IT HAPPENED. "True, the night was dark, but he appeared to jump deliberately in front of the automobile."

"Force of habit. The poor fellow was an actor and naturally dived for the spot light."

HAYES, WINNER OF MARATHON, IS CANADIAN

OTTAWA, July 25—It is claimed by Ottawans that J. H. Hayes, winner of the Marathon race in London on Friday, is a native of Ottawa. His father was the Spritling Hayes, who twenty-five years ago was well known here as a cab driver and horse trader. He was also interested in field sports, and was associated with the then champion long distance runner in the Ottawa valley, John Dallas.

He moved to New York a little over twenty years ago and several local men assert that the Marathon winner was born on Murray street here prior to the time the father left the city. Canada can also claim the best man in the Marathon, Hefferon, although he ran as the representative of South Africa, was a member of Canada's team in the Olympic games in London in 1896. The military records show that at that time he enrolled as a farmer living near Brandon, Man. His boyhood days were spent on a farm near Dunville, Ont. When hostilities ceased in South Africa he left there to and won the hand of a Boer maiden and settled in that country.

The body of James McGee, millwright of the McLaren Company mill at Buckingham, was found yesterday near a barn in the mill where he had been working. It is supposed that he was struck and fatally injured by a piece of revolving machinery.

SIX HUNDRED SEE WESTFIELD RACES

The water sports at Westfield on Saturday afternoon were attended by about 600 spectators, mainly suburbanites. There were about a hundred boats on the river and they made a very pretty sight. All the races were exciting and aroused great enthusiasm. The start was made about Westfield Station and the finish at the wharf. Many declared the races to be the best ever held at Westfield.

Following is the summary: Single canoe—T. McAvity, 1st, pen knife, R. Church, 2nd, pen knife. Fat man's double skiff race—H. Duddy and H. G. Creighton, 1st, bottle of hair restorer and bottle of anti-fat. Tub race—T. Patterson, 1st, tobacco pouch; R. McAvity, washboard. Four-oared race—Woolastook crew, 1st; Linsley, 2nd. First prize, bunch of bananas; second, dozen of lemons. Ladies' canoe race—Meeses likely and Jack, 1st, gold belt buttons. Double canoe race—Fred Kilpatrick and G. Forbes, 1st, two Ingersoll watches. Canoe tilting race—G. Patterson and C. E. Inches, 1st, a pair of tennis shoes. Swimming race—T. McAvity, 1st, bathing suit; A. E. Inches, 2nd, bottle of ketchup. Water baseball match—Team captained by T. McAvity defeated team captained by G. Patterson; score 1-0. The double canoe race was a very interesting event. Seven canoes started in this event. The competitors found it hard to keep to the tubs and performed all sorts of antics. Perhaps the best event of the day was the fat man's race. Before the start of this race the Duddy-Creighton team as well as the Frodsham crew desired to use four oars and it took the judges some time to convince them that the rules of the club would not allow it. Meeses, Rothwell and Barch had hard luck in the first of this event, but managed to land a second place. Fourteen crews started. The ladies' canoe race was also a fine event. There was a little argument as to who should take the prize in the fat man's race, but as both Messrs. Duddy and Creighton needed the hair restorer a settlement was agreed upon.

MARATHONS DEFEAT HALIFAX CRESCENTS

HALIFAX, N. S., July 26—With Tilden in the box, the Marathons on Saturday afternoon defeated the Crescents, 9 to 4. Butcher pitched for the losers. The visitors attempted to play Howe, who is under suspension by the M. P. A. A., but the Crescents declined to go on the field with him. The game was witnessed by 700 persons and both teams played better ball. The same teams will play again on Monday P. M.

THE RIFLE. The St. John Rifle Club held a well contested spoon match on the 21st range Saturday afternoon. The following were the prize winners:

Class A—Herman Sullivan, spoon 31 30 30 31 H. L. Fleming, cash prize 28 32 30 30

Class B—Geo. Dickson, spoon 27 30 28 32 H. E. D. Gidding, 29 29 29 29

The tie for cash prize from last Saturday's match between N. Morrison and H. Sullivan was shot off, Morrison winning. Owing to the annual match of the St. John Rifle Association for corporation cup and cash prizes being held next Saturday afternoon the City Rifle Club will not hold their usual match.

The annual tournament between the St. John and Fredericton tennis clubs took place in Fredericton, Saturday, and resulted in a victory for St. John. The score standing: St. John 15; Fredericton, 14. The games throughout were fast and exciting. On account of the large number of games to be played no intermission was taken for luncheon. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the committee in charge served luncheon on the grounds. Large numbers of spectators witnessed the games and applause was frequent.

NEW SETTLERS ARE DESIRABLE CLASS

Splendid Results Have Followed Immigration Restrictions

OTTAWA, July 25—For the first six months of the present calendar year the total immigration to Canada has been 86,119, as compared with 169,419 for the first half of 1907, a decrease of 73,300, or 43 per cent. This decrease, as was to be expected, was entirely due to immigration from European and Asiatic countries consequent upon the adoption of the restrictive measures by the government to limit the influx of all immigrants this year likely to flood the Canadian market with a surplus of unemployable labor.

The immigration from the United States, made up largely of settlers going to the Canadian West, practically held its own, the total showing an increase of but one per cent. For the month of June the immigration totaled 15,637, as compared with 15,648 for the same month last year, a decrease of 23,005, or 28 per cent. The immigration department reports the character of this year's immigration to be the best in possession of a considerable sum of money and of the class most needy for agricultural pursuits.

PLAYS BURGLAR TO HOLD HIS JOB AS GUARD

Nothing Doing in the Thieving Line, He Chases Himself, Shoots Often and Loud and is Caught.

There had been so many burglar scares in the suburb of Greenwich, Conn., early this summer, that Mrs. Laura Snell's boarders, a unmarried woman, grew nervous and threatened to move away from her fashionable house at Banville. There was no burglar-repelling man in the building.

"Don't go, and I'll get one," Mrs. Snell announced, and she offered Peter Smythe, a sturdy villager, free board and lodging if he would sleep in the house and act as guard. Peter jumped at the chance.

When no burglars had materialized up to three weeks ago, Mrs. Snell grew tired of adding rotundity to Peter's figure. She told him he might depart at the end of the week.

"Bang! bang!" sounded a revolver shot that very night. "Come out and fight like men!"

Peter's voice was heard, challenging. After a breathless dash from the house to the lawn and back, Peter displayed a jimmy and a dark lantern. "I nearly got 'em," he announced. "Ten days later the episode was repeated. Peter showed the timorous women a broken window and footprints in the mud. Again he "nearly got 'em."

The other night the valiant Peter called forth once more, yelling defiance and threats of vengeance, and brandishing his revolver. But he ran directly into the arms of a policeman. "Looking for burglars, eh?" commented the cop. "Well, I've been waiting for this show of yours to be pulled off for an hour. You're the only burglar that's ever been around here, and you're a shine burglar at that. Just come to the station."

"Once there, Peter confessed. "Sure, I made all the noise and planted the burglar stuff to show the women. I had a good job and I didn't want to lose it out," he said.

They are holding him at Greenwich, undecided as to what charge to bring.

WOMAN KILLED BY AN INSANE MAN

Officials Searching Hills For Escaped Prisoner of the Asylum

WALLINGFORD, Vt., July 26.—Evidence that an escaped prisoner of the Waterbury Insane Asylum assaulted and killed Mrs. Della B. Condon, a deaf and dumb woman, aged forty years, who lived alone in this town, last Friday morning, was discovered today by state and asylum authorities who have been investigating the murder. The officials tomorrow will search the hills in the vicinity of Mirvy Kent, who escaped July 11 from the asylum to which he was committed four years ago for attempting to cut the throat of his uncle, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Condon.

The murder of Miss Condon was one of unusual brutality. She lived alone for several years. An autopsy by Medical Examiner B. H. Stone, of the state laboratory, assisted by Dr. William Stickney of Rutland, showed that the woman had been struck on the head with a heavy iron bar, and that she had been strangled and knocked several times on the head with an old-fashioned wood cutting instrument. Strangulation caused death. The crime was not discovered until later in the day by a neighbor who missed the woman doing her usual out-door chores.

The authorities, after making an investigation, arrested Frank Rogers, a local man, who was seen in the vicinity the night before, on suspicion. Today, however, a closer investigation brought forth evidence pointing to Rogers as the escaped insane man.

MAKING NEW BAYONETS FOR BRITISH ARMY

The British Government is discarding the old-fashioned, short bayonet for one that is much longer and apparently more suited to modern warfare. Mr. Harold Plind, in the following article, describes the various and interesting processes by which the bayonets are made, from a simple bar of steel. The steel goes through two hundred processes before it finally reaches perfection, and then the bayonet is put to very severe and thorough tests before it is sent by the Government inspectors, and finally reaches the soldier.

The most wonderful thing about the sword factory is the machinery for turning out the necessary parts of the bayonet.

There are machines which are fed with long steel rods and which, unaided, cut them up into short lengths, and then they are turned out into a box completed.

These machines are truly superhuman, inasmuch as they accomplish what man with his hands and tools is unable to do; and they work there cutting off (pipes) spout continuous streams of oil over them, and working with "chug" and click and squeal and thud—alone.

The hands and wrists of the workmen are protected by aprons and caps. The heavy hammers shake the air, the great punches and cutters clang and grunt above it—all—and the sweating men labor to fashion swords to slay their fellows.

The new bayonet appears slightly curved, the cutting-edge being rounded away to a point. It is sharp down one side and a few inches up the other, and deeply fluted (grooved), and the bit shaped to the hand. It is partly taken from the Japanese sword and is quite Continental in its appearance. The old Mauser sword bayonet resembled it, save that it was much more clumsy. . . . But one wonders whether an achievement of human brains would not be better employed in ploughshares.

PERSIA'S RAGGED SOLDIERY.

Queer Makeup of the Shah's Army—Source of Revenue to Governors of Provinces—Payment of "Blood Tax" to Evade Service.

The Persian soldier, in torn clothing and barefoot, is more like a beggar than a warrior. For all this he killed the recent counter-revolution when he refused to fire upon the Parliament.

There is no systematic drilling, and there is no practical instruction in rifle firing; in fact, many men cannot handle a rifle at all. The rifles used mainly are the Werndl gun, which was rejected by Austria in the '80s and sold to Persia; but there are also Peabody and Martini rifles.

The town populations, certain khans and the leaders of crown domains are free from service, as are also the Jews, the Armenians and the "Fire Worshippers."

The artillery branch is similar to the infantry, but the men are much better trained and clothed, while they receive their pay more regularly. Although the Persian army, on paper, consists of 6,000 men, yet only 2,000 men are on service, and they are in battalions of from 200 to 250 men.

The infantry possesses no proper organized system of transport. In case of need the people are "commandeered" especially the village folk when they bring their garden stuff and products into the towns.

AN ARSENIC MINE.

Island of Verona Has the Distinction of Containing One.

The Mineral is Mined and Sent to New York for Refinement—Has Considerable Commercial Value.

The little island of Verona in the Penobscot river just below Bucksport, the island of growing summer resort fame, has a distinction of which no other island on the New England coast can boast.

Arsenic is one of the most widely disseminated of the elements but to find it in predominating quantities has been done on the island of Verona. About a year ago the presence of arsenic was discovered on land owned by Zebie Heath and in a short time after New York capitalists were interested and the mine was worked.

Arsenic is an elementary substance resembling the metals in its physical properties. In its chemical relations, it is, however, decidedly non-metallic and at present the books mostly place it among the non-metals.

It is from the last element that arsenic is found in compound in the Verona mine. In the books it is called arsenopyrite but popular parlance has given it the name of mispickel. In this combination it is an opaque mineral, tin-white, with a metallic lustre.

The process of extraction from arsenopyrite consists in heating that mineral in earthenware retorts or tubes arranged horizontally in a long furnace and each having a piece of thin sheet iron rolled up and inserted into the mouth.

The most familiar compound of arsenic is that which is called Paris Green and used extremely for preventing the destruction of crops by insects and also used in calico printing and wall paper.

There has been a wide diversity of opinion as to the danger of using arsenical colors especially in wall papers because of the arsenical exhalations which some maintain arise from the paper and has a poisonous effect on anyone who remains in the room any great length of time.

The forms of poison are therefore mostly of the chronic type and occur mostly from the use of paints containing large quantities of Paris green; from the use of spraying solutions; and formerly from the presence of the poison in food stuffs added as preservative.

senical poisoning is freshly prepared hydrated sesquioxide of iron given in quantities after the stomach has been freed from poison by giving emetic with bland liquid as milk, flour and water, as the white of eggs and water which serve to envelop the poison and effect ejection.

Arsenic is not a desirable ingredient strength is not required it is used to adapt the iron to fine castings. Mixed with the iron it makes it more fluid when melted and it can then be subjected to finer castings than otherwise.

It is used similarly, to a great extent, in making small shot. Pure melted lead when dropped from a height, if arsenic is added, will assume round proportions which cannot be obtained with its use.

NEW YORK JUDGE STRONGLY BELIEVES IN SPANKING

The Presiding Justice of New York Children's Court Declares That the Moral Training Which Begins at Home Should Include the Old Domestic Remedy.

NEW YORK, July 25.—"The Children's Court is a pedagogical, not a penal, institution."

That is the definition Judge William H. Olinsted, the Presiding Justice of the Children's Court, established in 1902, of the Special Sessions Court, keeps constantly before him. The mastery of the law, Judge Olinsted believes, means nothing to a child unless it teaches rather than terrifies him.

"Every child reasons things out in his own way just as much as an adult," said the judge. "If the mother or woman who is to pass judgment on the act of that child fails to take account of that reasoning power, or to get the child's point of view, he will fall utterly as a judge."

"I believe every child at heart is good. His means well, and when, through the exuberance of his feelings he commits some act against the good of the community, it is but a simple mistake that can be corrected in simple ways."

SPANKING IS GOOD.

"Spanking is good for many boys, especially if the spanking is administered by some one in parental authority. I have frequently sentenced a boy to a sound spanking by his father or mother right here in court, because I believe it will do him good. Its effect on him is far more salutary than if it were administered in his own home."

"But I don't believe in indiscriminate hitting, either. There are some boys whom a spanking would do more harm than good. Only the other day I had a boy in court who seemed to feel his punishment most keenly. The moment I saw him I came to the conclusion that he had already been punished enough, but how I did not know. So I asked him."

"He had not been whipped, but scolded, and, as he tearfully acknowledged, scoldings were ever so much worse than whippings, because they made him feel worse. He would cry when scolded, but a whipping he took as a matter of course, and it made no impression on him. To have spanked that boy would have been wasted effort."

A PARENTS' COURT.

"The children's court, as I have analyzed it, should rightfully be termed a Parents' Court. Its chief function should not be the punishment of childish delinquents, but the teaching of the parents who mean well, but do not know the methods to pursue with their youngsters. The Children's Court in many ways should be only an adjunct to the home and school in the proper moral training of the children. It should frequently be a place designed solely to put parents through a course of sprouts that they may be better fitted to instruct their children in moral precepts."

"Strict, drastic punishment is not the course to be pursued with these boys. If they are old enough they should be reasoned with, shown the danger of their course, and then paroled on their own honor to be men. If they are too young for such a course, the only resource available is their parents. The parents should be brought into court, lectured soundly for their neglect, and forced to properly advise for their children. A second offence of the boy whose parents have been thus admonished should result not so much in punishment for the boy as in drastic punishment for the parent."

REDUCES FALSE DIGNITY.

"Spanking," continued Judge Olinsted, referring in a good-humored way to the topic which has recently earned him much public attention, "is, to my mind, the least form of punishment that does the greatest good. If my recollection of personal experience and hearsay evidence does not fail me, there was seldom in the old-fashioned country schools a repetition of mischievousness by the same boy who had been punished in the old-fashioned way. There is something about a good, old-fashioned spanking, especially administered in a strange place, that reduces the false dignity of a boy to ashes, or, more accurately, to tears. His defiance seems to ooze out of his eyes, and when calm is fully restored, he is often able to understand and appreciate arguments that previously had fallen on deaf ears."

WORTH OF PROBATION.

"Probation has appealed to the sense of honor of more boys than any one other thing. The indignant stork-necked neighbor who has had the acknowledged 'bad boy' of the neighborhood haled to court often becomes indignant that I do not send him away to some institution of reform where he may spend a few of the best years of his life."

"Punishment of this character is the one thing above all else that does the charge of this court have the most steadily fought. And the records have more than justified our position."

"The secret of child-criminology lies in the environment of the child. His mental position and grasp are not understood, and one specific that is supposed to be a magic cure-all is applied to each and every offender without consideration for their natures or characters."

"By all means, bring up the boy in the right way, but don't try to do it by hamstringing at the boy all the time. Pay a little more attention to the parent, and the boy will be all right."

MINISTERS' PHONE KEPT BUSY ALL DAY

Thirteen Hundred Angry Subscribers, Each With Complaint, Call Up His Number

PARIS, July 25.—Everybody is agreed that the Paris telephone service is about as bad as could be. Formerly after ten or fifteen minutes fruitless ringing an angry subscriber insisted on making telephonic complaint to the supervisor at headquarters and had his communication promptly established. Now a peremptory request for the supervisor meets with an irritating laugh from the telephone girl, and the subscriber is left to nurse his wrath for half an hour or more as a punishment for being impatient.

A day or two ago the Figaro discovered that M. Sinyan, under secretary of state for posts and telegraphs, had a telephone at his residence, and it advised all dissatisfied with the service to ring him up and complain. The number was 225-58. The result of this advice has been extraordinary. Hundreds of angry subscribers called up the under secretary, and the telephone girls, unable to distinguish between them and his friends, were overwhelmed.

The first dissatisfied subscriber started to ring up M. Sinyan at 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and the under secretary himself unsuspiciously answered the call, as he had not yet read the Figaro. The calls continued all day, and it is estimated that between 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning and 11 o'clock on Wednesday night 1200 calls were registered. By that time orders had been given to suspend all calls on that number, and M. Sinyan's number was hastily changed, only the irritated being given the new one. The invariably reply yesterday to all subscribers asking for 225-58 was "Engaged."

NEW AERIAL MACHINE ON COMPOSITE PLAN

Invention of a Frenchman is Half Balloon and Half Aeroplane

PARIS, July 25.—Trails are announced at Issy of an Aeronor, or mixture of airship and aeroplane. It consists of three parts, the aeroplane, balloon and the balloon car.

The main part, which directs the trail, is the aeroplane, of triangular shape. Made of bamboo, held together by aluminum joints, it is 60 feet long, with a surface of about 450 square feet. In the centre of the aeroplane, which is so stoutly built that it can support a weight of over two tons without serious strain, is the car containing the motor and all the mechanical apparatus, and room for two persons, a mechanic and a pilot, who will direct the helm in the rear. A twenty-eight horsepower motor drives a screw fan of walnut wood, strengthened with aluminum, and ten feet long, giving 1200 revolutions a minute.

The aeroplane is attached tightly beneath a cigar-shaped silk balloon of over a thousand cubic yards extent. The balloon is 100 feet long and 23 feet in diameter.

Experiments with this curious machine were carried out last year on the military parade ground at Beaulieu, near Meaux, under very satisfactory conditions. Notwithstanding, the machine was able to rise into the air with a deadweight of 250 pounds. M. Malcot, the inventor, thinks that the heavy aerial vehicles of the near future will be modelled on the plan of his aeroplane. Later he proposes to build a motor-ambulance for aerial use.

SELLS ESTATE IN LIMERICK.

Earl of Devon Sells 25,000 Acres to His Tenants.

DUBLIN, July 25.—After considerable delay, caused by the negotiations over various matters in dispute, the Earl of Devon has consented to sell his large estate in the west of the county of Limerick to the tenants of the various holdings on the property. The lands consist of some 25,000 acres, run into several parishes, and there are 1,000 to 1,100 tenants in occupation. The landlord reserves the demesne lands, and the land of the town of Newcastle West, situated on the property. Non-tenants are to be sold by the sale to receive a reduction of 8 shillings in the pound on the present rents, first term tenants 6 shillings 6 pence in the pound and second term tenants 5 shillings in the pound. The conditions of sale have been ratified for the landlord and tenants, but the people of Newcastle West are agitating to have the township and demesne land included, and it remains with the Estate Commissioners to decide if they will accede to the demand.

CASTRO, "AN INTERNATIONAL NOISANCE"

Here is quite a diverting article on President Castro, whom the London Times calls "an international nuisance."

President Castro looks upon the situation thus created with equanimity. He jointly points out that while France has a good deal of money sunk in Venezuela, Venezuela has not a penny invested in France. If M. Fallieres wishes to renew diplomatic relations he must take the necessary steps. His brother president bears no malice, and will be ready to receive his advances with affability. He has indeed a special predilection for France. Was not Napoleon her ruler, and does not President Castro as a soldier, venerate the memory of that man?

"President Castro looks upon the situation thus created with equanimity. EXPUNDED HIS VIEWS.

"He has recently expounded to a representative of the Matin his views on things in general. They may be studied with profit and with amusement by those who care to understand the character of the civilization and the politics of certain South American Republics. France is one of the many countries with which President Castro's government have a difference. Two years and a half ago they took possession of the property of a French telegraph company, on the pretext that some of its agents had been hostile to the president's rule. When the French government remonstrated, M. Taigny, the Charge d'Affaires, received his passports and the ports were closed to French shipping.

DO EXHIBITIONS PAY?

The Franco-British is by far the biggest exhibition seen in London for many years past. Buildings alone have cost $2,500,000. The colonies have spent over $1,500,000 on exhibits, an immense sum of money has been laid out in digging the great lagoon, in making four miles of railway, fifteen miles of roads and walks, laying out thirty miles of drains, and installing over half a million electric lights.

It is safe to say that fully ten million dollars were spent in transforming these 140 acres of wilderness into a pleasant paradise before the gates were opened. London has only had one loss. The exhibition of 1882, of which the balance-sheet showed a deficit. The loss, however, was only about $50,000. The first great International Paris Exhibition of 1889 showed a profit of $24,500, but that of 1875 was a terrible fiasco from a financial point of view. The management had to bow to the loss of over six million dollars. Over 48,000,000 people visited the Paris Exhibition of 1900, yet there was a loss of $200,000. Chicago made a profit of $1,400,000 on her tremendous International show of 1893. The heaviest loss of any great exhibition occurred at Vienna in 1872.

The promoters found themselves ten million dollars out of pocket. If over one million people outside London visit the Franco-British Exhibition it is safe to say that London as a whole, will be at least fifteen million dollars the richer.

ANOTHER STREET WALKER GOES IN FOR TWO MONTHS

Sheffield Street Case in Which an Ancient Farmer Came Out Second Best.

The police court bench contained a half dozen prisoners this morning, and when acting magistrate Henderson took his seat there was a fair crowd of spectators outside the rail to hear the fate of the unfortunates on the prisoners bench. Many of these spectators are regular attendants who seem to have no other way of putting in the mornings than by loafing in court.

Three drunks were dealt with in the usual manner. Eva Morrell, a Sheffield street resident, pleaded guilty to being the keeper of a bawdy house and was fined $50 or six months in jail. She went to jail. Patrick Fitzpatrick, a grey headed old man, was in the company of Eva when arrested, so pleaded guilty of being an inmate of her house. He said he had been to the horse races Saturday. He then came to town and was awaiting a friend at Eva Morrell's house. He did not remember giving her money. The woman claimed that she did not steal any money from Fitzpatrick but that he gave her ten dollars and she did not propose to give the money back to him. The old man was given a reprimand for his foolish action in visiting the house, and was fined $25 or two months in jail, besides losing the ten dollars he gave the woman. Fitzpatrick claims that he did not know where his horse and wagon have gone. He drove into the city.

Louise Corra, a 19-year-old girl, was charged with vagrancy, having been arrested on King Square Saturday night between ten and eleven o'clock. She said she was sitting on a bench with a young man, whose name she could not remember, when the policeman caught her by the arm and arrested her.

The officer was Night Detective Marshall, who gave evidence that the young woman had been street walking for some time. When placed under arrest she did not give a satisfactory account of herself. Her male companion broke away from the officer and got clear. Complaints were made about the young woman.

The magistrate said that there was too much street walking and a decent girl would not be sitting in the King Square at such an hour with a fellow she did not know. She was fined $3 or two months in jail.

DOHERTY, FOR THEFT, LET GO WITH REPRIMAND

He Did Not Intend to Steal the Horse and Wagon—Other Prisoners Will Wait for the Jury.

In the equity court chambers this morning before Judge Forbes, Alfred B. Doherty, who was sent up for trial on the charge of stealing a horse and wagon, was tried under the Speedy Trials Act. The prisoner pleaded guilty and J. A. Barry, who appeared for him, stated to the court that in view of the fact that Doherty was drunk when the crime was committed and had driven to Sheffield street where he could not easily be detected, it was apparent that the prisoner did not intend to steal. The prisoner is a married man and his wife and family are dependent upon him for their support. Mr. Barry thereupon asked the judge to be lenient to the prisoner. His honor stated that it was a serious matter for the prisoner to steal, but he believed that Doherty did not intend to commit theft inasmuch as he had not endeavored to dispose of the horse and wagon. His honor advised the prisoner to take the pledge and allowed him to go after he had entered into his own recognizance to appear for sentence in this case if he got into any other criminal trouble.

In the case of the King vs. Frank B. Doherty charged with stealing from F. Collier and Co. J. A. Barry stated that the prisoner had elected to be tried by a jury.

TRADE WITH BERMUDA IS STEADILY INCREASING

But the Islands Have Had a Poor Season Owing to Texas Competition.

W. T. James of W. T. James & Co., Bermuda, arrived in the steamer "Oruro" this morning on his way to Paradise, N. S. Mr. James has a large orchard and spends his summers there to escape the southern heat.

Speaking of trade conditions to the Star this morning, Mr. James said that trade between Canada and Bermuda was in a very satisfactory condition. There was no phenomenal increase to report, but the exchange of products and manufacturers is growing steadily all the time.

Bermuda has had a bad season in the onion crop this year. The bulk of the crop is usually sold in the United States.

This year the competition of Texas grown onions has been so strong that the Bermuda merchants have not been able to sell more than two-thirds of their usual shipments to the States. This has resulted in a serious loss to the growers and the merchants.

The meeting of the Every Day Club this evening will be held in the pavilion on the grounds at seven o'clock, instead of in the hall on Waterloo St.
