SEVERAL WERE TO IMPORTANT POSTS.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—A partial return brought down in the House today in response to a motion by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac a list of six hundred and fifty appointments to government positions during the interval between the dissolution of the last parliament and the resignation of the Laurier ministry...

Most of these appointments were to lesser offices in the outside service, but one or two do not fall under that classification. For example, two appointments of the Waterways Commissioners were given as having been made by order in council dated August 11, the appointments being Sir George Gibbons, Alex. P. Barnhill and Aime Geoffroy, commissioners, and Thos. Tate, secretary. On the 23rd of August, the former government by order in council appointed Prof. C. H. McLeod, W. J. Gear, C.E., and Arthur Surveyor, C.E., as the St. Lawrence commission.

Right Hon. R. L. Borden was not in the chamber at all today, being confined to his residence by an attack of rheumatism. He hopes to be out in a day or so.

Some excitement was caused among members tonight by the sudden announcement of the city office on the discovery of a case of smallpox. Hon. Mr. Pelletier stated just before adjournment that arrangements were being made to send all common mail direct to the trains during the work of fumigation at the main bureau.

Mr. Boyce, Algoma, drew the attention of the Minister of Marine to a despatch from China saying that Canadian missionaries, after feeling several hundred miles, reached a British gunboat and that the captain refused them protection. Mr. Boyce asked if the attention of the minister had been called to this report, and also what action he had taken or contemplated taking.

The minister of marine said that he would be pleased to put the query to the Prime Minister, who at that moment was temporarily absent from the House.

Mr. McLean, of Halifax, again drew attention to the fact that the census enumerators in some cases had not been paid. He asked when the government intended to pay these men.

Majority Paid. Honorable Mr. Burrell said that the majority had been paid already and the others would receive what was coming in a very short time.

Mr. McLean also drew attention to a despatch in a Halifax paper which stated that the federal government had, after some negotiations, promised Hon. Mr. McKibbin and Hon. Mr. Bonner to give the province of British Columbia certain inalienable rights in the railway belt of the province. He wished to know the truth of this.

Hon. Mr. Rogers, minister of the interior, said that while this matter had been discussed no decision had yet been reached.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson speaking of the reported resignation of two members of the Transcontinental railways' board, wished to know if the Minister of Railways had taken legal advice of the Minister of Justice, as to whether the board could legally transact business with but one commissioner remaining, seeing it took two commissioners to constitute a quorum.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane said that so far but one commissioner had resigned. He expected to introduce legislation amending the act in order that one commissioner could carry on the work.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson—"But the act is clearly not yet amended."

Hon. Mr. Foster—"But one commissioner only has resigned and so there is a legal quorum."

Done Already. When the bill to change the name of the Dominion Trust Co. to the British Trust Co. was reached Hon. Mr. White, Minister of Finance, took occasion to point out that there was already a British Trust Co. doing business in Canada. It was decided to send the bill to the committee and to notify the representatives of the company with a similar name in order that if they have any objections these may be heard.

Hon. Mr. Hazen replying to E. H. MacDonald, Pictou, said that the government had been advised that a bill amending the naval discipline has been introduced in the Imperial House, but that it had not been made law. The matter of deciding whether or not this act would be applied to the Canadian Naval Service would be considered in due course.

Replying to Mr. MacDonald, Pictou, Hon. Sam. Hughes, Minister of Militia, said that the government had under consideration the question of introducing legislation this session granting assistance to the volunteers of 1867 and 1868.

In Preparation. Hon. Mr. Crothers, Minister of Labor, told Mr. MacDonald that the report of the commission on technical education was being prepared and would be submitted later to the House.

In answer to another question by Mr. MacDonald, Hon. F. D. Monk said that since Oct. 1st some goods in his Richeson's Eye Glasses Taken from Him to Prevent Further Injury to Himself—Guards Have Been Doubled.

LITTLE FAVOR AMONG COLLEAGUES.

Boston, Jan. 15.—Fearing that Clarence V. T. Richeson may make another attempt to injure himself, Sheriff Quinn has ordered the prisoner's eye glasses to be removed from his cell. It was with a piece of tin that the prisoner seriously injured himself before, and the sheriff announced he was taking no chances that his prisoner would commit suicide.

Richeson will be permitted to use his glasses for reading, but even then he will be observed closely by officers in his cell at Suffolk county jail. The guard has been doubled by the sheriff. Day and night Richeson is watched by two of the most stalwart officers of the institution.

When one of the officers took Richeson's glasses from his bunk, the latter made a violent protest. He stormed about his cell demanding to know by what right he was being deprived of his property. The guards in haste summoned the sheriff, who called the prisoner.

The question of commuting Richeson's sentence has been laid by a newspaper before twelve Massachusetts judges, in their opinion. They stood nine to three for the death sentence. Three who voted against it did so because they are opposed to capital punishment, and not because they are in their own opinion.

More Windows Are DESTINED TO SMASH

That the women suffragists of England will have to smash some more windows and some more cabinet ministers' silk hats is the opinion of Miss Pankhurst, who arrived in the city yesterday after a lecturing tour through the United States and Canada.

The exponent of the militant suffragette movement, who like her famous mother, has taken part in many fervent demonstrations and served her time in jail, has no doubt triumphed sooner than most people expect, but she feels that the combat will have to be continued with unabated vigor.

Miss Pankhurst does not look much like an agitator, and her delicate appearance and unassuming manner is not suggestive of violence. According to some authorities she has a pair of big beautiful eyes which look like a young member then returned, had what she looks like when she is on the war path is not known, except possibly by cabinet ministers and policemen. She wears her hair parted in the middle, and apparently only wears her own, which, according to some of the American newspapers, indicates that she does not worry about the prevailing fashions.

Miss Pankhurst is a guest of Mrs. W. Frank Hatheway of St. James street.

She joined with her mother and sister in forming the original Women's Social and Political Union, and whilst a student at South Kensington, she became the first Honorary Secretary in London of that now famous militant society for the enfranchisement of women. She was amongst the early prisoners for the cause, a fate which has twice overtaken her.

The terrible harshness and cruelty of prison life impressed Miss Sylvia (Pankhurst) so deeply that she served her second term of imprisonment on her second release she wrote so movingly upon reform, that public opinion was roused and quite a number of valuable reforms were introduced as a consequence. Her history of the militant suffrage movement entitled The Suffragette, has had a large sale in America. She has also studied deeply and written much on the industrial position of women. In order to gain first-hand information for herself upon this latter subject, she has spent weeks together inside the factories investigating the conditions of employment, and has many tales to relate, some quaint, some tragic, of the everyday life of the factory girls with whom she was a favorite everywhere.

AMERICAN COAL FOR THE BRITISH NAVY IF NEEDED

London, Jan. 15.—The situation with regard to the proposed strike of coal miners remains unchanged. Out of 350,000 ballots so far cast by the miners on the question of giving notice of a strike on March 1, 283,000 favored a strike.

It is reported that the British government is making tentative arrangements to import American coal for the navy in the event of a strike.

Meeting to Protest Against British Acquiescence in Russian Conduct in Persia Scores Foreign Secretary.

BEARING OF PROPOSED ARBITRATION TREATY.

London, Jan. 15.—A resolution protesting against the British government acquiescing in the Russian action in Persia was passed unanimously at a crowded meeting in the opera house tonight called by the Persian committee of the House of Commons. James Ramsay MacDonald, M. P., for Leicester, the chief speaker of the evening, declared that W. Morgan Shuster, the American Treasurer-General of Persia, who was recently dismissed from office—the man who stood between Persia and dissolution—had been thrust out because the British Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, could be pushed, twisted, fattened or elongated, just as the Russians wished.

The Americans, said Mr. MacDonald, were beginning to ask whether all these international arbitration treaties were to be made between strong nations, so that weak nations might be crushed out of existence.

RAILWAY MAN IS VICTIM OF A SAD ACCIDENT AT WORK

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Jan. 15.—Seldon C. Tuttle, acting foreman shunter at the I. C. R. shops here, died in the ambulance on his way to the hospital as the result of an accident this evening about 5 o'clock. The crew of which Mr. Tuttle had charge was engaged in shunting, and deceased was signalling to the driver from the ladder of a car when his head came in contact with an electric light pole. He was knocked off the car and fell under the wheels, which crushed him so badly that death resulted. His body was almost cut in two. Deceased was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. He was a native of Cumberland, N. S., but had lived in Moncton ten or twelve years.

OTTAWA WANTS TO BE FEDERAL DISTRICT ALONG WITH HULL

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—A deputation from the City Council and Board of Trade is arranging to see the government during the present session on behalf of the creation of Ottawa and probably Hull into a federal district. The idea was carried by an overwhelming majority at the recent city election. Although it is expected that western members may at first raise some opposition to the federal district plan, it is not thought that when the scheme is thoroughly understood, it will prove a permanent obstacle.

COVERED WITH ICE HESPERIAN REACHES HALIFAX WITH MAILS

Special to The Standard. Halifax, Jan. 15.—Covered with ice and snow from stem to stern, the R. M. S. Hesperian, which left Liverpool reached port this morning from Liverpool with 377 passengers and the mails.

Capt. Main declares that the passage from Liverpool to Halifax was one of the worst he ever experienced. The big ship was heavily pounded by the seas. On Monday the 8th, the wind reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour. The gale continued next day. The steamer Franconia was sighted off Cape Race bound to New York.

The Hesperian had 1,000 tons of freight for Halifax. After this is landed she will sail for St. John.

Halifax, Jan. 15.—Fire on a property formerly belonging to St. Cunaud and Co., founders of the Cunard line and now in the hands of the Dominion government for railway terminals, was extinguished by the department tonight in the face of a gale blowing nearly fifty miles an hour, without doing very much damage. The Nova Scotia Construction Company, building piers for the government, had an office in the burned building. It was the fourth successive alarm in less than two hours.

MR. STANFIELD MAY SOON BE SENATOR-- RAILWAY ADDRESS

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals has accepted an invitation to attend the annual banquet of the railway club in Montreal next Friday. Mr. Cochrane will probably give the railway men a short address on the transportation topics.

The transportation of John Stanfield of Colchester to the Upper House is looked upon as one of the likely things of the next few days. They want Mr. Stanfield to stay in his present position as chief ministerial whip, but they also want to recognize his services in the party by appointing him to the Senate vacancy in his district and the last desire seems to be winning.

The chief whip entered Parliament in 1907 when he carried a by-election in Colchester, breaking the ranks of the "solid eighteen" brought up from Nova Scotia by Hon. W. S. Fielding in 1904.

The Asepto Plan

The Asepto plan of doing business is the only plan of its kind in Canada. It works itself out in this way: If you spend five cents you get a check worth one cent; if you spend twenty-five cents you get one worth five cents; if you spend $1.00 you get one worth twenty cents; if your purchase amounts to $5.00 you get one worth $1.00, and so on. These goods we sell to you at the same price you would pay for them at any other store in the city. Instead of giving you a small cash discount, we give you a check worth twenty cents for every dollar you spend. We make profit on the goods you purchase and pay cash for, while the goods you purchase are given you at the wholesale prices. To get you to make the first purchase costs us something while the second purchase with our checks you are bound to make from us. There is no selling expense attached to the latter.

Many excellent replies were received. Some of the best will be published.

WOMEN ENTITLED TO EQUAL VOICE IN THE GOVERNMENT

Such is the Opinion Expressed by Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, at the Opera House, Last Night. Address Characterized by Logical Treatment of Question of Woman Suffrage.

In a two hours' address delivered before a fair sized audience in the Opera House last evening, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst gave a remarkably unanimous exposition of the reasons why women want the franchise, and a vivid narrative of the struggle of the suffragists in England. Her girlish appearance, the charm of her manner and the simple earnestness of her words evidently captivated her audience. Mostly she appealed to the reasons and sense of fair play of her audience, but there were dramatic moments, moments in which she told of the harsh treatment accorded her sisters in the cause, her voice trembled with emotion and a certain impetuosity troubled the usually even flow of her speech. But evidently she is possessed of the temperance of an idealist, for in her presentation of the wrongs of women there was no suggestion of bitterness. Now and then her discourse was illuminated with flashes of subtle humor, and she threw satiric thrusts at the greatness and chivalry of the great men of England.

Mrs. E. A. Flske presided and introduced the speaker. She said that the women's movement had made great strides except in a few provincial communities, and that its object was not only to get votes for women, but to abolish all their legal and traditional disabilities. She exhibited the colors of the suffragists, saying that great meant, give; white, women, and violet votes—"Give women votes."

In opening Miss Pankhurst said the objections against granting women the right to vote applied with equal force to men. It was said that women's place was in the home and not in the turmoil of politics. If this argument was carried to its logical conclusion, it would debar the ordinary run of men from voting and place the management of politics in the hands of professionals. A business man's place was in his office looking after his business just as much as a woman's place was in the home.

A few years ago women in England had no legal existence, the husband could beat her, take her earnings, or desert her and she had no redress. If he returned and found anybody had injured her he could take an action against the offender, recover damages and put them in his own pocket. But fortunately changes in the law had been made, and women now had some protection.

Down to 1886 the mother in England or Canada had no right to the legal custody of her children. If the father died, an outsider could by process of law take the child away from the mother. Now, however, the mother has the right of custody, though the husband could by his will appoint a joint guardian.

But even today in England the father could send his child to a distant school on the ground that he wanted to remove it from religious influences of the mother, and the mother's objection to compulsory vaccination was not valid as the father's was.

Question of Maintenance. The question of women's maintenance is still in a bad condition before the law. A wife has no right to her earnings. Only recently a court decided that a woman's clothes belonged to her husband. (Laughter.)

It was said the husband supported the wife, but workmen left widowers with small children, had to marry again because they could not afford to pay anybody to look after their homes.

In one case a woman went to a magistrate complaining that her husband only allowed her two shillings a week to keep up the home. She was told the law could give her no redress unless she applied for an order of separation. In that case the court would have allowed her 5 shillings and 7 pence if she took the children, and the woman would have to wait 13 weeks before she could get 7 shillings and then only by suing for it, if the husband was not willing to pay her.

It was claimed that it was the constant endeavor of legislative bodies to attend to the claims of women, but in various English parliaments last session passed an insurance bill and only included women after a vigorous campaign on the part of the suffragists. Even then the government would not include married women in it.

Plenty more shaker blankets to be got at 9c. and $1.25 a pair. At the People's Dry Goods store, 14 Charlotte street.

its provisions. The act gives men 10 shillings a week while sick, and unmarried women 7 1/2 shillings, though according to the dues paid into insurance funds the women ought to get at least 8 shillings. If a man's wife has a baby, the man will be presented with 30 shillings. If the government is so chivalrous it should pay the money to the mother.

Wage Question. Continuing the speaker took up the wage question. She said the average wage of men in England was 25 shillings, while women's average wage was only 7 shillings a week, yet in some cities 75 per cent. of the women were wage-earners. They were ousted from men from even the skilled trade. Force of competition obliged the employer to follow the bad employer in substituting women workers for men.

In Australia and New Zealand where women have votes, a law had been passed requiring equal pay for equal work. (Applause.)

In England the government was a large employer of female labor. It sweated women in the post office service, and in making clothes for the army, cut and made in the home.

The laws relating to morality show a great inequality as regards men and women. A man may be unfaithful to his wife with practical impunity.

Continuing the lecturer gave a vivid account of the struggle of the men of England to gain the franchise—only secured by inaugurating a reign of terrorism, destroying property, insulting the lords and spitting on bishops.

Less Damage. In their struggle the women had held great meetings, but they hadn't done as much damage as the men. The first woman franchise bill was introduced into the English Parliament in 1873, that it never passed the second reading.

When the Women's Social Political Union was formed, they asked Mr. Balfour what they would do. "Kick up a row," he said. "Then they asked Campbell Bannerman, and he said: "Go on pestering the people."

In England, under the old Saxon regime, there was no distinction of class or sex. At the folk-meetings everybody had a right to show their opinion. The suffragettes today only exercised the old Saxon right when they howled down speakers, and persisted in asking questions at public meetings.

Ignored Girl's Questions. At a meeting addressed by Sir Edward Grey, he answered questions asked by men, but ignored the question of a young girl—"Will the liberals give women votes?" As the suffragist persisted in asking the question, the stewards assaulted her and her sister, and threw them out of the meeting. Cabinet ministers developed the habit of running away as soon as they finished a speech and not giving them a chance to ask questions, so the speakers with their questions, and usually they were thrown bodily out—often cut and bruised and bleeding.

Soon we did not need an answer to our question. Actions speak louder than words. We concluded the liberals would do nothing for us. We decided then to organize a campaign in favor of women for votes. But a strange thing happened. Every candidate told us he was a suffragette. But when the government asked him, he forgot his pledge to oppose all liberals till the government relented.

Defeated Churchill. In the by-election in Manchester, the women defied the odds, and helped reduce the liberal majority from 5,000 to 2,000.

Continuing she said the suffragettes were doing a lot of spade work as well as taking part in spectacular proceedings. Often they held 300 meetings a week in London alone.

The suffragettes had raised £100,000 for their cause. In 1907 they determined to exercise the right of petition, guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. The Prime Minister would not receive a deputation, so they decided to march on Parliament in a body. But the government turned out to horse guards to stop them—something that was unheard of in modern times. But the more tyranny, the more determined the women became. They besieged Westminster from 3 to 10 p. m. Many of them were arrested, others were beaten—many had noses and limbs broken.

Later they were told by the authorities that according to an act of Charles II. a delegate presenting a grievance to the government should not number more than eight persons. But when a delegation of eight, headed by her mother, sought access to the government, they were arrested and thrown into prison.

Continuing she told of the hardships of the suffragettes in prison—how, though political prisoners, their clothes were torn off, and they were criminalized—how, led by Mrs. Wallace Duntlop the women indignantly at their treatment decided to refuse from taking prison food.

Forcible Feeding. Herbert Gladstone told the suffragettes the political dynamite was more important than political argument. Yet the son of the man who said the Irish Fenians made their prisons a temple of honor, being then some secretary, applied the torture of forcible feeding to the suffragette prisoners—a torture which led the greatest physicians of England to protest.

"Since the suffragettes were tortured, two criminals in English prisons have been forcibly fed—one a man who died at the first operation, and the other a woman who committed suicide rather than repeat the experience."

Tired of Abuse. The suffragettes got tired of having their noses and limbs broken. So they decided it would be better to break glass in the government buildings, and the shops of the merchant princes. The women who broke glasses would be honored by posterity. Gently reared women would sooner go to Westminster and submit to the outrages of the police and hoodlums than to break windows in other people's premises. But they broke glass, because they wanted the rich men to go to the government, and ask them to give the women their rights.

In concluding, the speaker pictured in eloquent language the effect that women, unfranchised, would exercise upon public affairs. Government, she said, was the housekeeping of the nation. How could a mother teach her children to be good citizens when they knew nothing of citizenship. Governments of men built battlements, but neglected to do justice between men and women, ignored the claim of the widow and fatherless, the aged and afflicted. Women would do much to solve the international question, because of their idealism, their recognition of the need of observing the golden rule in all things.

Miss Pankhurst then called for questions. One was: "Is there any sound argument against women's suffrage?" "I never heard of one," answered the lecturer.

Another question was: "What benefit has the suffrage been to women?" In New Zealand and Australia, where women vote, they have a law giving women the same pay as men for the same work. In the Western States the first thing the women did with their votes was to stamp out corruption in the cities.

Will woman's suffrage injure the home? was another question. No, it will make it better. Equal rights, community of ideas, ideals and purpose make the real home. There was quite a number of leading citizens to hear the very interesting discourse.

This Beats the Erie. An Ottawa (Kan.) man came home from the West on a late Missouri Pacific train. "I called up the station from the hotel," he said, "and got word that the train was two hours late. When I got down there two hours afterward the train had been gone a half hour. And do you know?" he explained, "I had to run a mile and a half before I caught up with the dad-blamed thing!"

The case of the St. John River S. S. Co. vs. the St. John Log Driving Co. was continued before Mr. Justice White in the Circuit Court yesterday. In the morning the plaintiff asked leave to amend its pleadings by averring that the act of assembly allowing the defendant to erect piers and booms in the river was ultra vires and also to amend in connection with the common law liability of the defendant.

The court adjourned at eleven o'clock until three yesterday afternoon after considerable argument in his honor allowed the amendment with fifty dollars costs against the plaintiff. The case was adjourned until the thirtieth instant to enable the defendant to answer. Answers must be given by the plaintiff by the twenty-fifth.

CATARRH AND WEAK THROAT NOW CURED WITHOUT SWALLOWING DANGEROUS DRUGS

By breathing the Soothing, Healing Vapor of Catarrhzone All Throat and Catarrhal Trouble is Quickly Cured.

It's simply wonderful to think how quickly a bad throat or catarrh can be cured with Catarrhzone. Its rich balsamic vapor is carried along with the breath into the innermost recesses of the lungs, bronchial tubes, and chest, making it impossible for any germ of any disease to live. Thus soreness in the chest is at once alleviated—phlegm is loosened and ejected from the throat, old standing coughs are removed.

"I suffered from an irritable, weak throat for three years. I had a severe cough, pain over the eyes, constant bad taste in my mouth, and noises in my ears. It was chronic catarrh. Nothing gave permanent relief till I used Catarrhzone. In one hour it relieved, and in a few weeks drove all trace of catarrh from my system."

"T. M. O'NEILL, electrician at the Auditorium, saved the day as well as the good reputation of the Auditorium by shooting the skunk after it had returned via a steam pipe from a trip to the City Hall which caused a hasty evacuation of that building."

AGED WOMAN FOUND DROWNED IN BATHTUB

New York, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Emma Levy, seventy-four years old, who boarded at No. 5 West 116th street, was found drowned in a bathtub full of water yesterday. According to Mrs. Margulies, who keeps a boarding house at this address, Mrs. Levy got up early and declared she was going to church. Some time afterward Miss Annie O'Brien, another boarder, opening the bathroom door, discovered Mrs. Levy face downward in the bathtub which was full of water.

Dr. Hobbs of the Harlem Hospital said Mrs. Levy had undoubtedly been seized with a fainting spell when about to take a bath and was drowned without being able to call for help.

PROBLEMS OF A YOUNG HOUSEWIFE

YOUNG COUPLES ARE TOO OFTEN SELF-SUFFICIENT.

The problem of maintaining a social position, particularly in a small city or in a special neighborhood of a large city, is so general today that the title of Irving Bacheller's novel, "Keeping Up with Lizzie" has rapidly taken its place in the national slang. "Keeping Up with Lizzie" is the race to be ahead of your neighbors, the endeavor to conform to social standards which demand more money than the race is able to afford.

The girl who leaves her home town when she marries has the advantage of being able to set her social life according to her means and her desires. She is in greater danger of under-estimating than of over-estimating her means. Living up to every connection that will be healthy for herself and probably valuable for her husband.

But the girl who remains in the place her girlhood was spent will find that one of the difficulties of her married life will come from her effort to hold friends, acquaintances and general social standing in equal degree with her sisters and cousins and aunts and bridesmaids.

The knowledge that a certain coterie of people expects the young couple to live in a certain way often spurs them to expenditure far beyond their means. Living up to every cent of their income brings them with a sudden jolt against the unexpected rainy day and they have to take a fresh start with their hard-earned wisdom.

An eastern girl who recently married a struggling young doctor in a little western town received the consolation of a visiting friend with amusement.

"I'm not really missing anything," she declared with honesty, "for we started at rock-bottom and we've been acquiring something every day. If I were back home I'd be miserably trying to keep as well-dressed as the other girls. I'd be sorry for myself every time I missed a ball or opera. But out here we give our time to more important and immediate matters."

If the girl "back home" had the courage, however, she could do exactly as well for herself and her husband. Even if she has social ambition she could correlate it to her environment and financial circumstances.

Entertainments that may not seem expensive in themselves bulk large upon a yearly account, and associations that demand large expenditures are not always profitable in a business way as the bride likes to have her husband consider them.

On the other hand, many young couples take to their new home with a hermit-like desire to shut out of the world. In the complex social system of modern times, no woman has a real right to do this. She should develop an entertain acquaintance-ship that will be trustworthy. Mutual friendships are too valuable in the benefits they confer to be scorned even by the most happily married.

Every young woman should be as concerned in giving her husband the right social environment—for the task is always a woman's—as she is over the furnishing of her household. The society may not be elaborate—in fact, the quieter it is the healthier it is—but it should be friendly and neighborly in the truest sense.

IN "NIGHTIE," GIRL CLUBS DOG OFF MAN

Young Woman Jumps from Bed to go to Rescue of Baker in Desperate Struggle with Savage Brute.

Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 15.—Mystery and unpleasant odors surrounded the finding of a cleverly contrived box in the basement of the Auditorium Hotel. There were no clocks, wires or dynamite connected with the contrivance, but there was every evidence to indicate that the box was the means of conveying the skunk found and killed in the basement of the building.

The box contained a cloth sack with a small trap door. The door had been automatically lifted by a string which led into the basement from an upper window. The theory is that the box was used by some mischief lover who then pulled the string and quickly left the building.

The animal evidently was placed in the building on the evening the railway conductors held their annual ball, while early the next morning the exhibits for the poultry show arrived at the public building. Whether the animal was intended to break up the dance or exterminate a few of the prize-winning chickens is a mystery. He probably would have been effective in either line had not a bullet ended his career.

George Adams, electrician at the Auditorium, saved the day as well as the good reputation of the Auditorium by shooting the skunk after it had returned via a steam pipe from a trip to the City Hall which caused a hasty evacuation of that building.

Face Paint Tabooed; Remove Skin Instead

"A few years ago only one class of women painted their faces," says Daily Madison in Chicago News. "It was a sign of social ostracism and was looked upon as a mark of degradation. Now it has become universal and must admit it is to be deplored and to be shunned as soon as possible."

How foolish to seek artificial "beauty" of this sort, obnoxious from artistic and moral standpoints, when it is so easy to obtain a truly natural complexion by the use of ordinary mercurized wax. Mercurized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is so effective, non-injurious and inexpensive, no one need think of using anything else for the purpose. Applied like cold cream at night, and washed off in the morning, it at once begins to show its remarkable rejuvenating effects. It gently absorbs the lifeless surface skin in tiny particles, showing the fresher, livelier, beautiful under-skin. Naturally it takes with it all surface defects.

JOHN ROSS,

Assessors of Taxes, City of Saint John City Assessment Act, 1909.

"Sec. 22. The assessors shall ascertain as nearly as possible the particulars of the real estate, the personal property, and the income of every person, who has not brought in a statement in accordance with their notice and as required by this law, and shall make an estimate thereof at the true value and amount, to the best of their information and belief; and such estimate shall be conclusive upon all persons who have not filed their statements in due time, unless they can show a reasonable excuse for the omission."

"Sec. 43. No person shall have an abatement unless he has filed with the assessors the statement under oath within the time required by this law, and the Commission Council, in any case, sustain an appeal from the judgment of the assessors, unless they shall be satisfied that there was good cause why the statement was not filed in due time as herein provided."

Public Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be presented for enactment at the next Session of the Provincial Legislature to further amend "The St. John Assessment Act, 1909," and amending Act, 1911.

The objects desired to be attained by this Act are:

(1) To provide that after the 1st day of January, 1913, the tax on buildings and improvements be reduced fifty per centum and after such date still further reduced from time to time until the tax on such buildings and improvements disappears altogether; also that the land exclusive of buildings shall be assessed at twice the true value, to provide for the revenue lost on account of the decrease in the taxation of such buildings and improvements.

(2) To provide that personal property be exempt from taxation as soon as circumstances will permit.

(3) To empower the Common Council of the City of Saint John to appoint a Commission which shall become a permanent Court with power to adjust as equitably as possible all difficulties which may arise on account of the change above mentioned, more particularly with reference to long renewal leases.

(4) To provide that the Five dollar poll tax be reduced to two dollars.

(5) To repeal Section 1 of the Act of Assembly in Ed. 7, Chap. 64 (1910), which provides that the rate of taxation for the years 1911, 1912, 1914, 1915 and 1916 shall not exceed the tax rate for the year

JUVENILE COURTS IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

The announcement that a bill will be introduced into the Local Legislature providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts in this Province will be received with general satisfaction. This measure will constitute a piece of advanced legislation which will have a far-reaching and beneficial effect. Not only will it cover the cases of children who have committed an offence, and could be dealt with under the Dominion Juvenile Delinquents' Act, but it probes deeper, giving the court power to take a child out of dangerous surroundings and to assess the parent for maintenance. It aims not only to rescue the boy who has taken the first step on the downward grade, but holds out the helping hand to the lad who, in the opinion of the Court, is living under circumstances inimical to his development into a good citizen.

It is of interest to note that the bill is a combination of two independent efforts looking to the amelioration of the child. The Local Council of Women and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty both had the idea in mind and were moving in the same direction. The matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Hazen when Attorney General of the Province last year and on his suggestion Mr. J. King Kelley, counsel for the society, drew the present bill which in its provisions meets with the approval of all parties. It will probably be introduced into the Legislature by Mr. Grimmer, the Attorney General, and will thus have the additional advantage of being a Government measure.

The movement to establish Juvenile Courts is being taken up in different parts of Canada. In Montreal the appointment of Judge Choquet to preside over a Juvenile Court was recently announced. Toronto also has one of these institutions under Commissioner J. Edward Starr, whose wide experience and interest in the movement are well known. Some idea of the working of the Dominion Juvenile Delinquents Act, the provisions of which are embodied in the proposed act for this Province, may be gathered from the following extract from an interview with Mr. Starr, reported in the Toronto Mail and Empire:

"What is the best to be done for the child? That," said Commissioner Starr, "is the fundamental question this Court seeks to answer. We don't care a button for what he has done. Here is a typical case: We'll say the child was arrested at night for stealing. He is taken by the police officer to the Children's Shelter, which is the detention home for boys, and in the morning an agent of the Children's Aid Society, in plain clothes, brings him to the Court. The Court proceedings are to be as informal as possible. The act particularly specifies that, in section 14, which says: 'On the trial of a child the proceedings may, in the discretion of a judge, be as informal as the circumstances will permit, consistently with due regard for a proper administration of justice.' In another place, the act says that the trial should be conducted like an enquiry at home.

"Well, when the child is brought in, it is told what the trouble is, and is asked to tell the circumstances. If there are any witnesses they are examined, and the whole matter is sifted to the bottom. Perhaps the child admits the offence—I did it—and even at that point, if it be a serious offence, the child may be remanded to the Shelter or detention home while, in the meantime, the home life of the child is investigated by a probation officer. After due investigation the child comes up before the commissioner on the remand. The commissioner will then deal with the case as he deems proper, according to the facts. His authority in this regard is very wide, as specified in section 16 of the act. This section reads as follows:

"In the case of a child proved to be a juvenile delinquent the Court may adjourn the hearing from time to time for any definite or indefinite period; and may impose a fine not exceeding ten dollars, or may commit the child to the care or custody of a probation officer or any other suitable person; or may allow the child to remain in his own home, subject to the visitation of a probation officer, such child to report to the Court or to the probation officer as often as may be required; or may cause the child to be placed in a suitable family home as a foster home, subject to the friendly supervision of a probation officer and the further order of the Court; or may commit the child to the charge of any children's aid society, duly organized under an Act of the Legislature of the Province and approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, or, in any municipality in which there is no children's aid society, to the charge of the superintendent of neglected and dependent children for the Province, if one there be, duly appointed under the authority of any such act; or may commit the child, if a boy, to an industrial school, or refuse for girls, duly approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council."

"Perhaps we allow the child to remain in his own home, and we have him call around and see the commissioner every Saturday, not for punishment, but for advice. Because we are the friends of the boys.

"For instance, the other day, two boys came up before me, and I discovered that there are thirty boys in their gang. Now, those two boys will come here periodically, and I'm going to win their confidence. Some day I'll have them bring the whole thirty boys here—not by tattling, because I won't allow that—simply to see me and make a friend of this man Starr. In this way I'll make those thirty boys my friends."

This is the principle on which Mr. Starr works, and in Toronto his efforts are meeting with gratifying success. Some further valuable observations on the aims, scope and conduct of a modern Juvenile Court were made recently by Prof. George W. Kirchwey of Columbia University Law School, who as a member of the committee on criminal courts of the Charity Organization Society, has been studying the children's court for two years. Prof. Kirchwey says:

"In the modern children's court, the state looks beyond the specific acts or offences which have brought the child before the Court and examines into the life of the child, his temperament, his peculiar circumstances. The state enquires whether the child has not some physical or mental defect that is in a measure responsible for his offences, and whether therefore he does not need the Court's protection and help.

"It enquires whether the boy's companions are not leading him into crime he himself would not plot, and it endeavors to pick out the leaders and separate them from the boys they are contaminating. But primarily it enquires into the home of the child and the character of his parents.

"It asks: 'Are these parents such that this child can develop into a useful citizen and a man of character, or are they such that the child cannot but be demoralized under them?' As a result of such enquiries the state may step in, taking the child from the parents and act in place of his parents. The modern treatment of the child is as before a court of equity with wide view and scope to act in. It is not a trial court to decide what should result from a specific charge of misconduct.

"The modern purpose in the Children's Court is not punishment but reformation of the child. The modern idea is that the state shall handle its children who have begun to go wrong as a wise and merciful father would."

As has been already stated, the proposed bill for this Province embodies the principles laid down by these recognized authorities but goes further. It is founded on the old and reliable precept "Prevention is better than cure." One of its most important provisions, for instance, makes municipalities responsible for the maintenance of children within their jurisdiction who are growing up in dangerous surroundings. The whole tenor of the bill is to save the child from taking the first wrong step. Authority to deal with cases as they arise is vested in a County Court judge or stipendiary magistrate if no special judge is appointed. In order that the act may be put in force without delay it is further provided that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty shall furnish the necessary machinery through its agents until other arrangements are made.

In the centres of population in this Province are many children who will benefit by the provisions of the act. The Local Council of Women and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty are entitled to much credit for their successful efforts at reform in this direction.

WESTERN FREIGHT RATES.

Very general satisfaction is felt in the West at the recent decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners to hold a general enquiry into all freight tolls in effect in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as well as in Ontario, west of and including Port Arthur. The order states that if it is found that the tolls charged by the railways are excessive they shall be reduced as the board may determine.

The first sitting of the board in connection with the inquiry will be held in Ottawa on February 13 to consider the procedure upon the inquiry. In the meantime the board is applying to the Minister of Justice to appoint counsel to represent the public upon the inquiry. The inquiry will not extend to British Columbia for the reason that the tolls of the railway companies operating in that Province are already the subject of investigation, upon the complaints of the Vancouver Board of Trade and the United Farmers of Alberta.

The order states that many complaints have been made as to the rates charged by the railways, but the board had delayed taking action until the Regina rate case had been settled. The Supreme Court having ordered in connection with the consideration of this case that the discrimination in favor of points in Manitoba against points in Saskatchewan and Alberta must be removed by the reduction of class rates to points in the two Provinces further West the board is free to undertake a wider investigation as to the whole question of Western freight rates.

That the West has a grievance in the matter of railway rates is generally admitted. The rates range higher than the rates in the East, in some cases twice as high and in not a few three times as high for the same service rendered. It is contended that the cost of operation in the Prairie Provinces is no higher than in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec and that in consequence the people of the West are suffering under an unjust burden. The agitation has been smouldering for years with occasional outbreaks. Naturally there is much jubilation at the prospect at last of a square deal.

PROSPERITY IN IRELAND.

A special correspondent of the London Times has concluded an exhaustive investigation into conditions as they are in Ireland today, and his report is interesting. His travels did not lead him into the extreme west, but everywhere else, in northern, southern and central Ireland he has recorded hopeful signs of material prosperity and progress; greatly improved dwellings, a rising standard of comfort, better farming, above all, a new spirit of enterprise and anxiety for new ideas among the farmers themselves which is full of promise for the future. Ireland, he tells us, is no longer poor, no longer unprogressive, no longer discontented.

Let any test be applied—exports, imports, bank deposits, railway statistics, assessments to income-tax, housing of the people, and their general standard of comfort—they all tell the same tale, a tale of great and almost uninterrupted progress during the last twenty years. Even the drain of population to the United States and elsewhere has to a great extent been arrested; and, if the improvement now in progress is allowed to continue, says the correspondent, no one would be surprised to see the loss of population that has marked every census for the last sixty years converted into a gain at the end of the present decade.

English life insurance companies put French duels in the class of preferred risks and one broker says Lloyd's would be glad to cover a duel at about $150 per cent, with even money on a scratch up to 200 to 1 against loss of life. While duelling in France may not be as risky as the sports in some other countries, still the brokers should be careful in their underwriting, as accidents will happen even in the midst of athletic games.

BACHE'S WEEKLY REPORT

New York, Jan. 15.—The event of the week most significant in the progress of the Republic, and it may be said, most important in the year and the century, was the report of the Monetary Commission to the Congress, made on January 8th.

The plan, when adopted, will rescue the United States from benighted monetary heathendom. The report is the result of three years of the most painstaking and thorough personal investigation of the monetary systems of the world, aided by consultation with the leading active financiers of Europe; all crystallized into a new and comprehensive plan for the United States. The report practically adopts the Aldrich plan, adding a few amendments (as a concession to the popular fear of the money power), which do not either mar or make better the original draft. These amendments distribute the branch districts so that New York and New England have less representation than the South and the West, although the volume of banking power in the East is much greater. They also restrict any collective money-power in its ownership of bank shares. The course here pursued is to limit in the Local Association the voting privilege automatically, if combined ownership of bank shares is shown, so that no matter how many banks one interest may control, it has only one vote—no more votes, in other words, than if all its holdings were in one bank. Under this arrangement it makes no difference how far the money power may stretch itself out toward the purchase of banks, because it advances itself no further in acquiring power or representation in the local associations to which the banks belong.

All this is unnecessary, as the original provisions, in all possible and supposable circumstances, completely eliminate single money-power control, placing the management, immediate and ultimate, in the hands of the individual banks of the country.

All these arguments for or against control are based on the erroneous assumption that "control" means possibility of favoring one interest against another in a large way. The Reserve Association is like a great economic machine, splendidly equipped to do certain scientific work and absolutely unable to be misdirected into anything else. It can rediscunt no for the public, but for banks only, and the only paper available is short term bills or notes arising out of commercial transactions, and only in limited amounts. Stock Exchange collateral is barred, except in great emergencies.

Beyond the limit of short term notes, banks, large or small, needing to borrow, must go to their local associations, get their endorsement, and have the paper discounted at the Central Association. Where could the money power come in for private personal schemes under an arrangement like this?

It is pointed out that during the panic of 1907 the banks of the country were dominated by the New York banks, and that this is true and has always been true in times of danger heretofore.

The whole country depends upon the New York banks. They have always proved themselves equal to the emergency, but the responsibility in strenuous times is a source of the greatest anxiety and hardship.

It is this very situation which will be cured by the National Reserve Association's operations. Reserves will undoubtedly be kept in New York as heretofore, at least to some extent, but accommodations will be obtained of the National Reserve Association by banks throughout the country, under a settled, unbreakable rule, and at lowest going interest rates.

It makes little or no difference what section the different members of the Board of Directors represent—East, West, North or South. It is purely a banking proposition, and any good banker would do for a director.

An Erroneous Inference.

The Comptroller's report as of December 31st shows that the national banks are carrying over 1,200 millions of securities—an increase of 208 millions from September 1st and of 370 millions from November of last year.

The banks during 1910, finding money in small demand for commercial purposes, evidently have taken on many high grade bonds, in order to keep their surplus funds employed. This is the only inference that can be drawn from these figures of the Comptroller's report, but the financial writers have frequently referred to this showing as an indication that the banks during the last year have been loading up with stocks. The fact is the National Bank Act does not permit the national banks to own any stocks, restricting their ownership in securities to bonds only. The language of the act is not absolutely clear on this subject, but has always been construed as forbidding the purchase of stocks, so that the various deductions made by the writers as to the banks

November 30	4,141,955	4,141,955
December 31	5,084,761	5,084,761

Of the situation since January 1st the Iron Age reports large volume of new business in some important lines, and more than might have been expected for the first ten days of the new year, after the very heavy contracting in December. Prices are firm in nearly all lines, and in some of them an advance is expected at once. The export tonnage is constantly increasing. All tin, wire, and nail mills of the Steel Company are operating. Rail orders from some roads will be announced soon in good volume—the Pennsylvania this week at it is expected, about 150,000 tons.

Copper.

The red metal is doing its part also towards rehabilitation of general business. The Copper Producers' report for December shows a decrease in surplus in this country of over 22,000,000 pounds. The notwithstanding an increase in production over November of 11,000,000 pounds. But domestic deliveries increased also about 10,000,000 pounds. It was the foreign deliveries—export—which cut into surplus. These amounted to 79,000,000 pounds, the largest during 1911, and only exceeded in two other months since the Producers' Report was inaugurated. These months were January, 1910, when the foreign business boom became sizeable; and December, 1910. Foreign demand, showing the great progressive trade movement abroad, is recorded in the table here of our export deliveries in the last four months:

September	61,000,000 pounds
October	60,000,000 "
November	67,000,000 "
December	79,000,000 "

The American surplus is now 89,000,000 pounds; lower by 30,000,000 than in December, 1910.

The idea of placing the C. P. R.'s new steamship, the "Empress of Russia," and the "Empress of Asia" now building on the Clyde, on the Royal Navy reserve list, is at present being considered and negotiations are going on between the C. P. R. and the British Admiralty with this end in view.

SHAREHOLDERS OF BANK OF N. B. MEET. Annual Report Satisfactory—Prospects of Future Unusually Bright—Deposits of Year Large—Directors Meeting.

THE annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of New Brunswick was held yesterday, James Manchester, the president, in the chair, and James A. Belyea acting as secretary.

Among those present in addition were Thomas McAvity, C. P. Baker, W. W. White, M. D., F. P. Starr, J. E. White, T. H. Estabrooks, A. P. Barnhill, E. G. Kaye, R. D. Emerson, F. R. Taylor, S. H. White, (Sussex), J. Roy Campbell, J. S. Harding, Chas. McDonald, Henry C. Rankine, W. E. Foster, Wm. Vassie, G. S. Mayes, J. R. McIntosh, M. D.; W. H. Thorne, James Seeds, J. W. Stewart, A. H. Hamilton, Howard P. Robinson, J. A. Likely, Geo. McKean, Wm. Bruckhoff, L. J. Likely.

After the minutes were read and adopted, the directors' annual report was read by R. B. Kessen, the general manager.

Mr. Kessen, addressing the shareholders, took up various items in the liabilities and made explanations. Referring to the gratifyingly large deposits of the year, he said the custom of the bank had increased in number. He referred to the large sum in the rest account, and how favorably it compared with other banks. The capital stock is all taken up. It is held by 525 persons, an increase of 144, which is an additional source of strength.

The average holding being 29 shares; now it is over 18. The assets are high class and absolutely good. As for current loans and discounts they are widely distributed; there are no large or hazardous amounts, and as an asset very satisfactory. Mr. Kessen said he was strongly in favor of paying up premiums for branches as soon as business warranted. It had proved to be good policy. "Other assets," he said, were practically a quick asset. The total assets are now double what they were six years ago—some made in an absolute impossibility of forecasting the day-to-day movement. At the moment traders are pessimistic, but are having a hard time in depressing the market.

The duller part of the year is before us, with its possibilities of further decline, but eventually the favorable foundations will influence an advance.

THEY HAVE YET TO SCORE A FAILURE. Dodd's Kidney Pills Emerge Triumphant From Every Test.

Ernest St. Pierre tells how he rescued him from the tortures of Backache and Bright's Disease.

Le Petit Bois Franc, Temiscouata Co. Que., Jan. 15, (Special)—Ernest St. Pierre, a well known farmer of this place is telling his neighbors of his almost miraculous cure from Bright's Disease, and he always winds up with:

"I advise all persons suffering from Backache or Bright's Disease to use Dodd's Kidney Pills." For like thousands of other sufferers in Canada Mr. St. Pierre found his cure in the good old Canadian Kidney remedy.

And his indeed was a particularly bad case. His eyes were puffed and swollen, his appetite was fitful and he was always tired and nervous, while the pains in his back made any form of work something to be avoided. Today he is strong and well. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills worked the transformation.

More and more in this neighborhood is it becoming a motto "If the disease is of the kidneys or from the kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it." They have been tried in many cases of backache, rheumatism, lumbago and Bright's disease, and in no case where they have been given a fair trial have they failed to cure.

OBITUARY. Joseph B. Brown.

Joseph B. Brown passed away at his late residence, 37 Brussels street this morning. Mr. Brown was formerly a resident of St. Martin's, N. B. where he has a large connection of relatives. He leaves a wife, two daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Seely, of St. John West, and Mrs. Rebecca Brown, at home. The sons are Austin Brown and Gilbert Brown, both of this city. Deceased was in the 84th year of his age.

Katherine W. Dakin. The body of Miss Katherine W. Dakin, who died suddenly at Dorchester, Mass., on Friday evening, was brought to the city this morning and will be taken to Digby for interment. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dakin, of Digby, N. S. She deceased was in the 50th year of her age, and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. T. C. Shreve, of Digby and Miss Elizabeth, of Dorchester. Miss Dakin had many friends in this city who will regret to hear of her death.

Mr. Foster contended the directors, in the interest of those who invested in the bank, should consider any offer. Mr. Mayes was opposed to selling but if offers were received the shareholders should be informed. In the end, on Mr. Emerson's motion, the report was adopted without a dissenting voice, and on motion of E. G. Kaye, a vote of thanks to the directors and general manager was unanimously passed.

Mr. Mayes proposed the election of the old board of directors—James Manchester, Walter W. White, M.D., Francis P. Starr, Thomas McAvity, Charles P. Baker and Theodore H. Estabrooks. This was agreed to and the meeting adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Mr. Manchester was re-elected president, and Dr. White vice-president.

DOES YOUR BACKACHE?
If You Have Bladder or Urinary Troubles and Weakness
of the Kidneys--Read Below
Your back aches and fairly groans with the distress of kidney trouble.
You're discouraged, but you mustn't give up. The battle can be quickly won when Dr. Hamilton's Pills get to work. These kidney specialists bring new health and vitality to young and old alike. Even one box proves their marvelous power. Continue this great healer, and your kidneys will become as strong, as vigorous, as able to work as new ones.
Remember this: Dr. Hamilton's Pills are purely vegetable; they do not cure liver, bladder and kidney trouble. They will cure you, or your money back.
Mrs. W. U. Rossiter, wife of a well known merchant in Kensington, writes as follows:
"Ten years ago my kidney trouble started. I suffered dreadful pains in my spine and around my waist, my back feeling as if hot irons were running through it. I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, was pale, thin and very nervous. Cruel headaches, and dependency added to my burden. Not until I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I get any relief. They proved capital and helped me immediately.
Eight boxes made me well, and now I do my own housework, feel and look the picture of health."

To Cure Him.
Many people become run down, but don't know just exactly what their trouble is. As a rule it is improper circulation of the blood, owing to not just taking proper care of themselves.
All they want is a good tonic to build up the system and put their blood in proper shape, and for this purpose there is nothing to equal Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system. Mr. Murdoch A.
Macdonald, Tarbot, N.S., writes:—"I am now writing to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. Last Summer I was all run down, and doctors and medicine failed to cure me. At last
I decided to try a bottle of Burdock
Blood Bitters, and after taking one bottle
I began feeling better, and after I had taken the remedy for two months I was completely cured. I can say with recommended confidence that Burdock Blood Bitters is the only remedy to cure me."

the society has been actively engaged in preparation for their initial effort, and although organized but a few months they have attained a high degree of excellence, and judging by rehearsals a musical treat awaits those who attend this evening.
The entertainment has a two-fold claim to a large audience, one of which is the assurance of a high degree of excellence, and the other is the proceeds will be devoted. The society will donate the returns from their first public venture to the St. John Anti-Tuberculosis fund. In addition to this is the assurance of a musical evening of rare excellence. The soloists include some of the best local and outside talent, with a chorus numbering over a hundred and twenty well-trained voices.
The soprano solo parts will be rendered by Mrs. Annie Estelle Hollis of Boston, whose services the society were fortunate in enlisting. Miss Ella M. Courtney, favorably known in Hal-fax musical circles as a contralto singer of talent, will also be among the soloists of the evening. Both she and Mrs. Hollis arrived in the city yesterday.
G. S. Mayes, well known in local musical circles, will render the bass solos. In the course of the Oratorio Mr. Mayes will render among other numbers, the aria "The Trumpet Shall Sound."
The tenor soloist is C. A. Munro, who is likewise a popular favorite among
St. John music lovers.
The accompanists of the evening are Miss Bertha Worden and Prof. D.

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms;
shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors.
I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E.
WAMPLER, 324 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.
This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pink-

AROUND THE CITY

Bad Fall.

A. W. Johnson, of 274 Main street, sustained a bad sprain and a sprained ankle when he fell on the icy street yesterday afternoon.

Had No License.

Sergeant Campbell has reported H. Simon for doing business in the city without a license, not being a rate payer.

Didn't Vote for Increase.

Ald. Wigmore did not vote for the motion making the increases in the ferry tolls recommended by the Treasury Board.

A Runaway.

A horse owned by the St. John Creamery Co. ran away on Carmarthen street yesterday afternoon about 5.30 o'clock, and was caught on Brunseis street. No damage was done.

Chance for Voters.

A bevy of youthful suffragettes acted as ushers at the women's suffrage meeting in the Opera House last evening. It is doubtful if any other organization in the city could muster as fine a looking group of would-be voters. It is certain that if they can't get a vote they could easily get a voter. When the movement reaches a militant stage here the processions will be worth seeing.

Union Skating Club.

The skating party under the auspices of the Union Skating Club of Centenary and Queen Square Methodist churches which was postponed from last Tuesday evening, will be held in the Queens rink tonight.

Auxiliary Met.

Mrs. Edgar Archibald presided at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Seaman's Mission held yesterday afternoon in the Institute building. After the routine business was transacted, reports were read on the entertainments that have been held and proved to be very satisfactory.

"Th' Trumpet Shall Sound."

Among the numbers to be sung in the oratorio "The Messiah," this evening, will be the oratorio "The Trumpet Shall Sound," which will be rendered by G. S. Mayes. This solo, as far as is known, has not been sung here before, inasmuch as the oratorio has only been rendered in fragments heretofore.

Natural History Society.

W. S. Fisher will be the lecturer in the Natural History Society rooms this afternoon and will speak on Lakes Huron and Superior. The lecture will be illustrated by views and is especially adapted for teachers, as well as the general public, who are requested to attend.

Furs.

There are people who have the good taste to be dressed stylishly but have not the means to spend large sums of money on single pieces of furs. The sale of furs at P. A. Dykeman and Co.'s gives such people an opportunity to secure what they want at a very small outlay, because these furs which were reasonably priced in the early season have been very much reduced so that the prices now represent only a fraction of what they are worth.

Not Such A Fool As He Looks.

This play will be presented in the Opera House Saturday afternoon. The play has been well rehearsed and a good production is assured. It is a delightful comedy, in three acts and abounds in amusing situations throughout, so that it is a continuous laugh from the rise of the first curtain. A chorus of ladies and gentlemen will render the latest-song hits between acts with appropriate stage settings and costumes. The advance sale of seats has been very large, so that intending patrons had better secure seats now. The proceeds are to be devoted to local charity.

STEAMER HAMPTON TO BE RAISED TODAY

An Inspection Made Yesterday Shows Damages Not Very Serious -- Will Begin Work Today.

E. A. Flewelling, of Hampton, president of the Kennebecasis S. S. Co., was in the city yesterday and in company with Captain Mahee, of the steamer Hampton, which was partially submerged at her wharf, Sunday night, inspected the steamer. It was decided that the work of raising the Hampton would be started early this morning and it is expected this will take a week.

The Hampton is at present lying in about sixteen feet of water with a bad list to port, and is held up on the starboard side by cables attached to the Champlain. In the work of raising the Hampton scows will be placed on each side of her and cables passed underneath her so that when the vessel is taken into deep water, the scows will act as large buoys. The ship will then be floated through the falls and placed on the docks so that the damage may be repaired.

At the close of the river season all the cushions and other fixtures of the vessel were taken into the moon and covered with tarpaulins. These will probably be a total loss, but outside of this the company does not estimate a very great loss as a result of the accident.

CANADIANS CARELESS IN PREVENTION OF FIRE

Appalling Figures of Conflagrations in Dominion Show Lack of Precaution to Prevent Destruction of Property—Fire Losses Here Greater than in Any Other Country.

Fire underwriters doing business in eastern Canada estimate that nearly $2,500,000 worth of property went up in smoke in the three Maritime Provinces during the year 1911. One company, which admits that its estimate is very conservative, places the fire losses in the three provinces as follows: New Brunswick, $1,000,000. Nova Scotia, $1,250,000. Prince Edward Island, $125,000.

Statistics in regard to the fire losses in Canada, as a whole, during the past year are not available, but the records for 1910 show that the loss by fire in Canada during 1910 reached the enormous total of $13,938,315. In addition there was recorded an appalling list of deaths by fire.

According to the records kept by the insurance companies, Canadians are the most reckless and extravagant people in the matter of fires on the face of the earth. In 1910 the fire loss per capita in the Dominion was $1.14. Statistics in regard to the fire losses in the Dominion during the first four months of 1911 showed an average loss of $1,340,468 a month. This is equal to a daily loss of $44,682. In other words property in Canada was being burnt up at the rate of $1.61 an hour, or $31 a minute.

The following figures in regard to the annual per capita waste of fire are instructive: Canada, $3.14. United States, 2.50. Europe, 0.33. Another item must be added to the account, and that is the cost of maintaining fire departments. The following figures regarding the average annual cost per capita of maintaining fire departments are interesting: St. John, N. B., $1.53 per capita. United States Cities, 1.53 per capita. European Cities, 0.20 per capita.

In St. John as in American cities we are paying about 7 1/2 times as much for keeping up a fire department as European cities do.

And the destruction of property, and cost of fire departments does not represent the whole of the waste from fire. There is the loss of life. In Canada there appears to be no official records of fire fatalities. But records undoubtedly incomplete—kept by some of the insurance companies show that for a considerable period an average of 20 persons a month lost their lives as a result of fires in Canada. How many persons suffered injuries from fire which disabled them permanently or temporarily is unknown, but the number must be large.

TO PROVIDE FOR YOUNG OFFENDERS

Attorney General Grimmer will Probably Introduce Bill in Legislature for Establishment of Juvenile Court.

A bill providing for the establishment of juvenile courts in the province has been drawn up, approved by the Women's Local Council and submitted to Attorney General Grimmer, who it is expected will introduce it to the legislature as a government measure. If the bill is adopted, it will put New Brunswick in the front rank in so far as legislation dealing with juveniles is concerned.

The bill is much more advanced than the Juvenile Delinquents' Act, passed by the Dominion government some time ago, providing for the establishment of juvenile courts. Under the Dominion act the courts can only deal with juveniles after they have committed an offence. The bill which has been drawn up at the instance of the Local Council of Women will alter the status of the family, and anticipates the offence, in that it will give the juvenile court the power to take a child out of dangerous surroundings, and to assess the parent for its maintenance under conditions to be determined by the court.

The bill defines, at considerable length, the conditions which may be considered inimical to a child's development as a good citizen, and the processes to be taken in application for the removal of a child from dangerous surroundings. It also provides for the private hearing of cases of offences committed by young people, gives the court considerable latitude in dealing with the young offenders, and will prevent young offenders being incarcerated under conditions which allow their association with hardened criminals.

Under the act no child can be placed in a common jail or prison but is detained in a provisional home pending some one being appointed sponsor for the child's future good conduct. The act further provides that if the child in the opinion of the judge of the juvenile court is incorrigible, he may be removed to an industrial school.

Scots Making Ready.

The members of the several Scottish societies in the city are looking forward to a good time on Thursday, 25th inst., when there will be a grand celebration in honor of the Burns anniversary. At present all those who are anticipating being in the Scotch coats and other dances are meeting at Prof. Goudie's studio on King street and rehearsing the dances.

Engineers' Smoker.

The members of the Stationary Engineers' Association will enjoy a smoker in their rooms in the Market building tomorrow night. The association has a large membership and the members expect to spend a few enjoyable hours tomorrow.

PERSONAL.

Harold, Collin and Simon Oran left last evening for St. Joseph's College where they will resume their studies.

at least 2,000 a year, according to the proportion of killed and injured in other countries.

"What is the reason the per capita fire loss in Canada is so large?" a local insurance man was asked.

"Some people may be inclined to think that as a rule buildings are better and more expensive in Canada, than in Europe, making the losses, translated in terms of money, larger," was the answer.

"Of course, it is hard to determine the origin of many fires, as they burn up the evidence, but men who keep track of fires, claim that at least 50 per cent. of fires are due to downright carelessness.

"Defective construction is another important cause, accounting probably for another 25 per cent. of the preventable losses. In this country building regulations are not as stringent as in Europe, and public officials probably are not as conscientious in the enforcement of building regulations. The number of fires in the Maritime Provinces caused by defective flues alone is astounding.

"Both in Canada and the United States fire rates are abnormally high as compared with rates in Great Britain and other European countries. But the only hope of reduction of the rates lies in the hands of the people. They must learn to overcome their habits of negligence, and take proper precautions against fires. Another means of reducing the waste from fire is the legislative enforcement of better building construction, greater care in the sale and storage of combustibles, and the closer supervision of insurable property on the part of public officials.

FAVOR PROVISION OF A PRISON FARM

Every Day Club Resolves Burden of Support of Degenerates Should be Removed from Impoverished Families

At the regular meeting of the Every Day Club last evening the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas, the experience of members of this club has proved beyond question that there are in this city men so demoralized that neither appeals to self-respect, nor practical assistance given and continued in the most generous and helpful spirit, can turn them away from shameful idleness and dissipation;

And Whereas, some of these are a burden upon already burdened families, and all of them in greater or less degree a burden upon the community at large;

And Whereas, the records of the police court show that arrest and short terms of imprisonment under present conditions in the jail have no good effect at all upon such persons;

And Whereas, in any calculation of the cost of an institution for them, the extent of the burden such men now are upon the community should be reckoned, as well as consideration given to the welfare of those families which find the conditions of life more hard and bitter because of the conduct of those who should be breadwinners, but who instead are a source of trouble and sorrow;

Therefore Resolved: That in the opinion of this club a prison farm should be provided, where, under favorable conditions for a term sufficient length, the majority of these men might be won back to manhood and productive industry, or at least the city be rid of their demoralizing influence and expense.

PREPARATIONS FOR BRIDGE AND DANCE

The annual bridge and dance of the Westfield Outing Association in the Keith assembly rooms this evening promises to be the most successful affair of its kind that has been held in the city for some years. The rooms have been tastefully decorated for the occasion with reminders of the good times at Westfield during the past season.

Bridge tables to the number of 70 have been prepared for the crowd of merry makers expected and the playing will continue until 11 o'clock when a halt will be called for refreshments.

W. E. C. McKay will present prizes to the ladies and gentlemen who lead in the play. There are six prizes in all.

Promptly at midnight a programme of ten dances will begin and those present will spend the night listening to the strains of music dispensed by Jones' orchestra.

Mrs. Estelle Norris, who is to sing the soprano roles in the Messiah, arrived from Boston yesterday. This lady is well worth hearing, aside from the merits of the other performers in the oratorio.
