WHAT MR. JOHN MARKLE SAYS

Unionists Beaten.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 22. - Midnight. - Rapid progress is being made by all the coal companies in the anthracite region toward a general resumption of coal mining. The suspension officially ends at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, but the quantity of coal that will be mined this week will not be great. It is not believed 25 | the Countess of Minto. per cent of the normal production will be reached until some time next week. There are a number of mines that will not be in condition for operation for several months, and there are others that will not be ready for men under two or three weeks. The day was devoted to a general inspection at most collieries to see what is needed in the way of repair-ing before the men can cut coal. Thousands of men of every class made application for work today. Under the decision of the convention those indirectly employed in cutting and handling coal cannot return to work until tomerrow, but workmen who are needed to make repairs and otherwise place the workings in condition for operation were reinstated today wherever needed. There were many disappointments, however, principally among the engineers and pumpmen.

A company superintendent said today there would be no discrimination in taking back men except that where men have committed violence or were otherwise unduly aggressive during the progress of the strike One of the developments of the day was the great number of men who have been employed throughout the strike who left their places today and returned to their homes. Hundreds were paid off by the several coal companies in this valley, and the same is true of the other regions. Among these were who will return to the offices of the coal companies; men who were employed in other occupations and were thrown out of work on account of the strike; men who were strikers but went back to work in other parts of the region where they were not known and will now return to their own localities and try to get work in their old places, and some coal and iron policemen.

JOHN MARKLE TALKS. Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 22.-John Markle. of Jeddo, an independent coal operator, made the following statement: "There sems to have been some question as to our position regarding the arbitraten commission. We will abide by the decision of that commission under the conthe large coal corporations." G. B. Markle & Co. issued a notice today that all their men who desire to return to work shall make application at the Jeddo office. ASKED TO SIGN CONTRACTS. Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 22.-The men who reported for work at the Mill forward tomorow." Creek Coal Company Vulcan colliery this morning were told that they would have to report at the company's store and sign a contract before being reinstated. A few of them signed the paper as requested, but many refused to sign and returned home. Supt. Jones was called up on the telephone at his home at Hazelton tonight by an Associated Press correspondent and asked the nature of the contract which the men are requested to sign. He said: "We simply ask the men to sign an agreement to the effect that they will not interfere in any way with nonunion men or with the men now at work. A number of the men declared tonight that they will not sign a con-tract of any kind. NON-UNION MEN BEATEN. TORIES WOULD WELCOME TARTE

Ottawa Citizen Invites Him Into the Fold.

STATEMENT BY EX-MINISTER

He Denies That His Resignation Was Demanded by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.-The Ottawa Citizen this morning invites Mr. Tarte to join the Conservative ranks. It argues that his retirement will be injurious to the Liberal party and declares: "Whether he resorts to the slower and less satisfactory method of instituting a third party or the more effective and decisive action of allying himself with Driver Who Shot His Employer Acthe Conservatives, with whose views he is practically in accord, the result will be the same." MR. TARTE'S LATEST. In an interview, published in the Ottawa Citizen, Mr. Tarte says:

"The Prime Minister states in his etter that on Sunday he intimated to me that I would have to give up my portfolio. Sir Wilfrid is, unintentionally, no doubt, in error, as to that. He did me the honor to call upon me Sunday, and we discussed the position. I frankly admit that he found fault with my utterances. I explained to him-not for the purpose of having him to retain me as his colleague, but for the sake of argument and truththat I had spoken in his presence exactly as I had done since he left, and this statement of mine he did not deny. In point of fact, it cannot be disputed. However, after having talked matters over, I told him that he might take my resignation that very moment. He answered me that he was not in the habit of coming to hasty conclusions. I have the greatest respect for Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He and I have always been good personal friends. Well, I manded $60, which he claimed to be agreed to wait, as requested by him, due him as back pay. Harz refused to although I told him that I did not see any possibility of agreement. On Mon-day morning I collect that there was any credit for Coughlin. A day morning I called upon him at his dispute followed and Coughlin shot office, after I had been telephoned by and killed the older man. him to do so. There I repeated to Sir Wilfrid what I had said the day beon the way to Toronto I made up my tacked by Harz, who seized the spoke mind it was no use leaving things in of a wagon wheel which he kept in the abeyance. So I sent in my resignation. These are the facts; but again, let me say these details have no great im-

HIS TRANSGRESSION. Mr. Tarte declines to admit he has made a constitutional mistake, and says: "I cannot admit that I have said in the absence of the Prime Minister what I have not said repeatedly in his presence, but I fully recognize that, as he says, the Government had not come to a definite conclusion as to their future policy. If under the circumstances I have gone beyond the limit allowed to a minister, if, in other words, I have committed a constitutional sin, the loss of office is the constitutional punishment, to which I am prepared to submit cheerfully; and if I have been un-wittingly guilty of a little break on this point, why, I shall have to crave the indulgence of the country for it, that's all. The real questions at issue are too important, anyhow, to lose much time discussing such fine points.' GOOD FOR LIBERAL PARTY

Mr. Tarte's Retirement Will Strengthen Its Standing

Montreal, Oct. 23. - Ex-Mayor Prefontaine, M. P., who has been mentioned as a probable successor of Mr. Tarte in the cabinet, was asked whether the resignation of that gentleman would disorganize the Liberal party. He replied, "On the contrary. I unhesitatingly say that the removal of Mr. Tarte will make for the strengthening of the party, and especially in this province, where I verily believe Mr. Tarte has not a single partisan. You may remember the time that Mr. Tarte was taken into the cabinet. Well, I have been all my life upon the best terms with the financial and industrial interests of this country, as a public man should be, who desired the prosperity of the country. When the Liberals were returned to power in 1896 these interests, or the representatives of these interests, expressed to me this feeling: 'We respect Sir Wil frid Laurier: we believe him honest, but there are certain elements in the cabinet which we distrust.' And this distrust has never ceased."

HAS NO FOLLOWING. "It was thought that Mr. Tarte had great power in Quebec? "An utter fallacy. He has no following whatever. Why is the Government so strong in Quebec? of the personality of the Premier. It is not too strong an expression to say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is actually be loved by the mass of the people in this province.

"Mr. Tarte talks of a high wall against the Americans. Well, that is stupid, for there are things which we must get from the Americans. I believe, in this country, in a moderate degree of protection, and I believe we will never increase our industries if we do not offer a little help at the start. And I may say that when I appeared in Maissoneuve I frankly told the peo-ple—the people of an industrial suburb that I was in favor of protection to a moderate degree. And I may tell you more—that I had the authority of the Premier for saying so. Nay, more-I had his promise that if there was any doubt on that score he would come to the division himself and say so. But, then, that does not mean that the revision which took place was not satlisquitted of Murder. Chicago, Oct. 23.—After nearly a week of trial, tollowed by only fifteen minutes of deliberation, a jury in Judge Brenknos' court has returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Edward Coughlin, charged with the murder of Caesar O. Harz.

agreed without any debate that it was a case of justifiable homicide. Coughlin was a cabman, without a dollar except his salary. The man he killed was a liveryman, and is reputed to have left an estate of over $400,000. The trouble between Harz and Coughlin began when Conghlin reported that he had driven two passengers about the downtown district and had been unable to collect a fare of $7. Harz is said to have been abusive, and finally said he would deduct the amount from the pay of the driver. Then Coughlin is alleged to have said: "I will put you where the

REPORT OF DIRECTORS.

The general manager, Mr. James Elliot, then read the annual report of the directors, as follows: The directors have pleasure in submitting the statement of the bank the year ending 30th September, 1902. The profits for the year, after providing for operating expenses and bad and doubtful debts, are $351,375 81. Dividends in April and October, 4 1/2 per cent each (making 9 per cent for the year), amounting to $225,000, have been paid, and $100,000 added to rest, raising it to $2,250,000, or 90 per cent of the capital, and at credit of profit and loss account there remains $26,905 30.

Since our last meeting, we have opened branches at Arthabaskaville, Acton and Chicoutimi, Que., and Iroquois, Ont., to avail of the growth and improved conditions of the country. At Victoria, British Columbia, we have closed our branch, as its progress did not equal our expectations.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The president then said: The annual statement which has been presented will, I feel sure, afford you every satisfaction, for it indicates a most successful year, and it has enabled us to add $100,000 to the rest, which now stands at 90 per cent of

$23,120,537 55

The steady growth of prosperity of nearly every branch of business in the country has caused a demand for money, healthy in itself and satisfactory to the banks. We anticipate that the available circulation of all the banks will be fully absorbed, which is now nearly the case, by the business of the country, and to move our large crops.

The deposits in the chartered banks of Canada, the savings banks and the postoffice savings banks have increased from $423,565,000 odd to $459,-775,000, an increase of about $36,210,000. The older provinces have had very good crops, and the export of cattle, bacon and butter has shown a continued increase, while the shipments of cheese and lumber continue satisfactory. Manitoba and our Northwestern Territories have enjoyed another bountiful harvest, establishing a stability and backbone to the country.

Accompanied by your general manager, Mr. Elliot, I visited our West-In the city of Winnipeg we have bought a building suited to our requirements, and one which, I am sure, will be a great acquisition to the

Our holdings of Government securities and railway bonds were: In 1897, $1,884,408; are, in 1902, $2,502,198. Gentlemen, you have heard the annual report and the few remarks I have made, and I shall be very pleased to answer any questions you may have to ask. Undoubtedly, the requirements of the country and the requirements of the bank warrant us in calling upon you at an early date, to enable us to increase the capital of the bank.

I beg to move the adoption of the annual report.

This was seconded by Mr. S. H. Frider.

This was seconded by Mr. S. H. Ewing, vice-president.

The general manager, in returning thanks, on behalf of the officers and himself, said that the bank had a very good staff of managers all over the country. They had been largely trained under the late Mr. Wolferstan Thomas, for many years, and since then, under himself (Mr. Elliot). Some things occasionally had gone a little wrong, but on the whole the officers had done their duty.

The president also briefly returned thanks on behalf of the directors for the compliment which had been pail them.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of directors, and the scrutineers soon reported that the retiring board had been re-elected, viz.: Messrs. James P. Cleghorn, S. H. Ewing, Samuel Finley, F. C. Henshaw, H. Markland Molson, W. Molson Macpherson, W. M. Ramsay.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Mr. W. Moison Macpherson was re-elected president, and Mr. S. H. Ewing, vice-president, for the en-

BAD WEATHER MARRED THE FALL FAIR AT LAMBETH

Exhibits. However, Were Numerous and of Excellent Quality-The Attractions.

Inclement weather marred the Westminster Agricultural Society's annual show held at Lambeth yesterday. Apart from this circumstance, however, the fair was quite as successful as any previous one. In spite of the rain, at least five hundred people were present, most of them being farmers from the immediate vicinity. The show lasted till everything and everybody became so damp that the directors were reluctantly compelled to officially declare it closed.
Secretary John Thornicroft worked vigorously all day, and deserves credit for the fact that he gave the fair sufficient prominence to draw such a crowd on a bad day. All of the officials, and Mr. Thornicroft more especially, did everything in their power to provide amusement for their patrons, an excellent programme being given by the Twenty-Sixth Regiment Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Pococke. Despite the evil disposition of the weather and the fact that pothing weather and the fact that nothing could look at its best under the circumstances, the grounds presented rather an animated scene, at least while the judging of different classes of live of the stock was in progress and for a time. stock was in progress, and for a time t looked as if the people intended stayng on the grounds, no matter how wet it was. Entries in the different classes for live stock were unusually numer-ous, and this display was probably the best feature of the fair. Probably the most liberally patronized feature of the show was the display in the crystal palace, where everything was in good order, and the different classes of exhibits displayed in tasteful array. It was here that a large portion of the crowd stayed during the ceaseless, tiresome rain. They showed much interest in the exhibits, which were of the highest order, and as good as any ever shown at the fair. In the evening the place was cleared and a good concert given, largely by local talent. A plucky but ill-advised attempt was made by the horsemen who attended the fair to pull off their programme of races in the rain. Mud to the hubs is hardly conducive to good sport, and the contestants were glad to call everything off after the first race had een trotted. This race was won handily by George Chittick's Dolphy W., Wm. Collins' Fred Wilkes and Sister Jane finishing second and third re-spectively. Mr. Collins, who drove Fred Wilkes, was unfortunately pitched off his sulky, but was unhurt.

We are receiving call after call for male stenographers, that we cannot fill, and positions at $50 and $60 per month are begging for young men to fill them. We have now eleven unfilled calls of this kind, and the number keeps increasing.

Do You Look on the Dark Side?

Are You Blue, Discouraged, Irritable and Depressed?-It May Be Your Nerves Are Exhausted and You Need

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Irritability and mental depression, sometimes amounting to melancholy and despondency, are marked symptoms of nervous exhaustion. In the beginning you feel languid and tired, find it difficult to remember and next to impossible to concentrate your thoughts. The tasks of the day are put off till the morrow, little things worry you, you forget your blessings and look on the dark side of things. At times there may be nervous headaches, spells of dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness and general weakness of the body. You dread what the future may bring to you and feel the work and responsibilities of life more than you can bear. Mrs. J. E. Berryman, 35 Bay street north, Hamilton, states: "I was so very nervous that frequently I could not sleep at all and would be so uneasy that I could not remain in bed, but would have to get up during the night in order to quiet my nerves. I also suffered considerably from faintness and dizzy spells and though I had doctored for some years, I never seemed to get anything that did me any real good until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It worked a great change in my condition almost immediately and after a regular use of this preparation I believe that it has effected a permanent cure."

The wonderful medicinal power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been demonstrated in thousands of cases. Gradually and certainly it creates new nerve cells, builds up the system and overcomes the weakness which gives rise to nervous ailments and feelings of depression and despondency. Nev hopes, new confidence, new vitality are instilled into the body and health and strength take the place of disease.

The Samoan dispute grew out of the concerted action of Rear Admiral Kautz, of the United States navy, in leading a combined American and British force at Apia on April 1, 1899, for the purpose of making a reconnaissance and breaking up Mataafa's supporters, who were in rebellion against the recognized Government. It was on this occasion that Philip Landsdale, the executive officer of the Philadel-phia, Ensign J. R. Monaghan and two enlisted Americans, and Lieut. Freeman and two British sailors, were killed. Winnipeg, Oct. 23.-Down to noon yesterday 13,982,000 bushels of wheat of this season's crop had been marketed on the lines of the Canadian Pacific in Manitoba and the Territories. The quantity marketed for the same period last year was not quite 9,000,000 bush

In each case the figures include the wheat shipped to Fort William, or on the way, the quantity delivered to the mills at Portage Winnipeg and Keewatin, and the quantity in store at interior elevators. The weather continues fine and cool and threshing is being carried on night and day. The Canadian Pacific is moving the grain with the utmost expedition. Here and there, of course, there comes a cry of "car shortage." but the demand is soon supplied, and the farmers, on the whole, are well satisfied. Both farmers and elevator men complain that some of the amend ments made last session to the Dominion grain act are not working well.

AN IDEAL MEDICINE

A New Discovery Which Cures All Forms of Catarrh.

The tablet is the ideal form in which to administer medicine, but until recently no successful catarrh tablet had ever been attempted. There is now. however, an excellent and palatable remedy for catarrh in tablet form, known as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and sold by druggists, composed of the most re-cent discoveries in medicine for the cure of catarrh and results from their ise which have been highly gratifying The old time treatment of catarrh was in the form of inhalers, washes, douches, sprays, etc. Later on internal remedies were used with greater success, but being in liquid or powder form were inconvenient to use, and like all medicine in liquid or powder form, lose their medicinal properties when opened or exposed to the air. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain nighly concentrated antiseptics, Hydrastin, Blood Root and Red which kills the catarrh germs in the blood and mucous membrane, and in this espect are strictly scientific and modern, because all authorities are now agreed that catarrh is a constitutional plood disease, and local applications can have only a transitory effect.

The use of inhalers, douches and sprays is a nuisance and inconvenience, and can in no wise compare favorably with the same antiseptics giv en in tablet form internally, A prominent lawyer and public hey can reach the stomach and blood and kill catarrh germs right where speaker of Pittsburg says. "I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and hroat for twelve years. In this climate it seems impossible to get rid of it. The continual dropping of mucous from the nose into the throat caused irritation and hoarseness, seriously interfering with my public speaking. It took me an hour or more of coughing, gagging, expectorating and sneezing, every morning, before I could settle down to work, and this condition gradually brought on catarr of stomach, causing loss of appetite, poor digestion and a foul breath, which annoyed me exceedingly. My physicians advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. and I took them for two months, and was astonished to find how quckly they cleared my head, throat and stomach. and I have no hesitation in recom-mending them. They are not only pleasant to take, but they seem to get at the very root of the trouble, be-cause since using them I have had no trace of catarrh." Washington, Oct. 23.-The annual volume on the mineral resources of survey, will be issued soon. An interesting feature of the report s a compilation of statistics showing the number of working days lost in strikes in the coal industry. These figures include the present year, and are brought up to date. The total number of days lost during the present year is placed at 20,000,000 days. compared with 733,802 days in 1901, 4,878,102 in 1900, and 2,124,154 in 1899.

The report places the total mineral output of the country for the year at $1,086,529,521, a gain of a little more than 2 per cent. over the production of 1900. The gain was made in the non-metallic products, and amounted to $55,065,882, against a loss of $32,156,-909 in the metallic products. As heretofore, iron and coal are shown to be the most important of the mineral products. 000, as compared with $259,944,000 in 1900, and the value of coal was $348 .-910,469, as compared with $306,671,364 in

Every variety of fuel increased in value except petroleum, which showed an increase in quantity of 5,768,665 barrels, but a decline in value of $9,-571,978, due largely, the report states, to the less valuable character of the increased product of the new petroleum fields as compared with the older

Anthracite coal increased 9,021,207 long tons in output and $26,746,169 in value. OUTLAY OF $45,000,000

By U. S. Government for Indian Education-Little Accomplished.

New London, Conn., Oct. 23.-Reports and addresses on missions occupied the attention of the delegates at yesterday's session of the convention of the American Missionary Association. An address on Indian and Alaskan missions was given by Rev. Dr. Dwight M. Pratt, of Cincinnati. He said: "For the education of the Indian, our Government in the last 30 years has expended $45,000,000, and although 2,500 pupils have come under the supervision of its schools, very little has been accomplished towards the uplifting of the race. The children of its 113 boarding schools have been separated from their homes, have been in comparative luxury, and have not been educated to become a contributing factor in the evolution of their race. Our ration system also, and our tribal grants of money, have pauperized them. Our Government is not in the business of regenerating the inner life of its subjects. "This is not its function. This throws the whole vest problem on the Christian churcn, and compels a mighty expansion of its educational and evangelistic work. If the Indian is ever to be educated to citizenship and Christian manhood, if he is ever to be made an independent and constructive factor in our national life, it must be through just such vital and effective work as is done by this association. Rev. H. A. Bridgman, of Massachusetts, spoke on missions in Porto Rico, and Chinese missions were considered in a report and address by the Rev. Dr. Harlan P. Beach, of New Jersey.

Evangelization in Quebec-Work of Education - Question of Religious Liberty.

Montreal, Oct. 22 .- Evangelization of French-Canadians occupied the attention of the Baptist convention all day The Total Output for Past Year Placed Tuesday. The 66th annual report of the Grande Ligne Mission showed a great amount of work done and a fair amount of success, though the number of accessions from Roman Catholicism and of baptisms are not as large the United States for 1901, prepared by as last year. Some think, considering Dr. David T. Day, of the geological the time, money and work, there ought to be greater results. The answer is, that these results, scattered over all the northern continent, are difficult to measure, and that the aim being chiefly a spiritual and moral reformation visible results are not the adequate measure of the value of the work, and far less of its broad and varied interests. The report of Rev. G. N. Masse, principal of Feller Institute, showed that in spite of unfinished alterations there were last year 73 boys and 55 girls in the house, including nine Roman Catholics. Satisfactory reports were also received from the pastors of Grande Ligne, Montreal, Marieville, Roxton Pond, St. Pie, Maskinonge, South Ely, St. Constant, Quebec, the Ottawa Valley, Sherbrooke, Sorel and other places. The report of the treasurer of the Grand Ligne Mission for the year end-The value of iron in 1901 was $242,174,- ing Sept. 30 showed receipts of $18,786, with a balance of $105 due to the treas-

Rev. D. Bovington, of Windsor, in moving the adoption of the report, said that the national character of the Dominion is influenced by the life of Quebec, and that influence is spreading to the west. There have been some fears of the materialism of the west, but it was unorganized, and not as threatening as the religious forces of the Roman Catholic Church, which are consolidated into the most perfected system the world has ever seen. It was for this reason that he urged the importance of the Grande Ligne Mission. The report was adopted.

THE FELLER INSTITUTE. The delegates to the convention and their friends, to the number of near-500, took a special train to Grande Ligne, for the dedication of the new wing of Feller Institute, the educational department of the mission. The whole building was inspected, and everyone was highly pleased with the class rooms, dormitories and other departments. The building is of stone, and consists of a large main building, four stories high, with two wings, one for boys and the other for girls. The appointments of all kinds are new and up to date, and the excursionists came to the conclusion that they had safe in India. The total income to the conclusion that they had an institution of which they might be proud.

Mr. A. A. Ayer, retiring president, and one of its strongest supporters since his first election to the board in 1873, in his address, said that though the enlarged building would accommodate 230 pupils, the first applications were in excess of that, and it was evident that they must at once lay plans for further enlargement. He proposed to erect a number of small teachers' cottages, with dormitories, at a cost of $3,000 to $5,000 each. A new campus was also badly needed. Last year there were 73 boys and 55 girls, who cost $9,002, of which the pupils contributed $5,272. The contribution of scholars were continually increasing. He described the extraordinary progress of Quebec in the past few years, and said these changes should be noted, and Baptists should be ready to take advantage of the situation. COST OF THE WORK. The reports of the building committee and of the treasurer showed that the total cost of the work, begun two years ago, was $56,375, aside from fur-The floor area has been more than doubled since 1890, and still is too small. The total subscriptions amount to $49,000, of which John D. Rockefeller gave $10,000; American Baptist Society, $2,000; Ontario, $21,552; Quebec, $4,562. There has been paid to the contractors $49,272. The sum of $8,-000 is yet required, in addition to the $9,000 of unpaid subscriptions, in order to open the new building without debt. LEM. Principal G. N. Masse, in describing the work of the school, said that while most of the pupils were French-Canadians, the school also received English pupils from the Eastern Townships, where the schools were poor and scattered, and who would not receive any education were it not for Grande Ligne. The two races were growing up here in perfect harmony and the school was solving the great national prob-

Balfour: "Resolved, that the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec, met in annual convention in the city of Montreal, expresses its interest and sympathy with the Baptists and other Nonconformists of England, in their opposition to the unjust education bill now before the British House of Commons, which is a contravention of those historic principles for which their and our fathers took joyfully the spoiling of their goods. LONDON, ONTARIO.

London Thursday, Oct. 23 Mr. Carnegie's Assurance. Mr. Carnegie's rectorial address at St. Andrew's University, Edinburgh, yesterday, will be a threnody in English ears. There is much in it that is obviously true, but not very much that is new. That Germany has stolen a march on England in scientific industrialism, is admitted by every enlightened Englishman. It is too true that the drink habit is a terrible blight on the mother country. It must be admitted, also, that the industrial supremacy among the nations has passed from Great Britain to the Liberal knows that Mr. Tarte was a United States, because of its limitless stores of mineral wealth, its vast area and range of production, and what is Mr. Tarte justice, this was no fault almost of equal importance, the pos- of his. He was maligned and misresession by the American people of the largest free market in the world. But | and from every Conservative platform. Mr. Carnegie must not go unchallenged when he says that a union of the British Empire would bring no material strength to the British people in the future, because "neither Canada | He was accused of trying to thwart nor Australia gives promise of much | the loyal purpose of the Canadian peoincrease in population or industrialism." Mr. Carnegie shows a great deal of hardihood in making this slighting reference to Canada when thousands of his own countrymen are pouring into Canadian territory, and the commercial and industrial expansion of the Dominion is proceeding by leaps and bounds. He lays great stress on the iron and coal deposits of the United States as a reason for its ascendancy. If coal and iron are two supreme factors of industrial progress, then Canada is equipped to take a place among the leaders in the race. The development of the iron and coal resources of this country in the past few years has been phenomenal, and other American captains of industry are not so blind as Mr. Carnegie to the great strides Canada is making and the serious rivalry it is beginning to offer its neighbor. It is to be hoped some Imperialist like Mr. Chamberlain or Lord Rosebery will take up the cudgels on behalf of Greater Britain and tell the British people, who have become mighty obsequious to

nomic unit in the world.

The kitchen, instead of disappearing, will more and more become the sacred place of the household. Instead of being presided over by a woman whose qualification consists in her ability to boil water and peel potatoes in such a way as to remove most of their nutritive qualities, the kitchen of the future will be cared for by a woman versed in domestic science. This woman will be well paid, and will earn her money. She will not feel herself socially inferior to the trained nurse. She will cook food as tastefully as mother used to do, and make it vastly more wholesome. She will make the table an object lesson in art. The woman of the house will be her admirer, and the daughters of the home her pupils. She will have regular hours of work, and members of the family, instead straggling in to eat their meals when can put it off no longer, will be on hand to the minute, ready and ex-

This is not a picture of the millennium; It is already on a fair way to being realized. Perhaps the evolution will go a stage higher, when the daughters of the home will preside over the kitchen themselves and esteem it as necessary a part of their education as thrumming the piano and looking pleasant in the parlor. Domestic pcience in the normal and high schools of Ontario has taken a permanent hold. It is an optional subject, but there is a general desire among the girl pupils to take it up, and those who are in the classes are enthusiastic over it. If the fogy school trustees in this city would visit the collegiate institute and see the domestic science class at work, they might change their minds and Now the public school girls some share n so valuable a course.

Morgan and Mitcheli.

A good many people have had their theories disturbed by the compliments paid to Pierpont Morgan by President Mitchell of the Miners' Union. Mr. Mitchell avers that Mr. Morgan is a friend of organized labor, and used his Influence to secure a settlement of the coal strike. Why not? As the greatest organizer of capital in the world. Mr. Morgan cannot safely challenge the right of labor to pursue the same policy. Self-interest, if nothing else, should prompt him to make labor his friend. Its goodwill would be the strongest defense he could throw around his vast undertakings, which would be endangered by public hostility. We have seen how the recent strike nearly overthrew the Coal Trust because it had not counted on the external force of public opinion. Similarly, as industry passes more and more under the control of trusts, the latter, in self-preservation, must make terms with labor, as the industrial wars would assume proportions that would shake the foundations of society. Even the present conditions are sufficiently ominous to lead many to believe that society should step in, by means of compulsory arbitration, to are to be believed, is wise enough to see that the success of the Morganizing process cannot be permanently assured unless labor is conciliated.

Mr. Tarte.

The Conservative press is covertly inviting Mr. Tarte to rejoin his cld party, but so far the Ottawa Citizen is the only journal brazen enough to do it openly. The Citizen says: "Whether he resorts to the slower and less satisfactory method of instituting a third party or the more effective and decisive action of allying himself with the Conservatives, with whose views he is practically in accord, the result will be the same." Certainly, the result will be the same, no matter what party badge Mr. Tarte chooses to wear. It is a result the Liberal party has not the least need to fear. We do not know precisely the extent of Mr. Tarte's influence in the Province of Quebec. No doubt he was a great aid to the Liberal party in the last two general elections, but what he can do without the prestige and leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier remains to be seen-that is, if Mr. Tarte concludes to oppose the Government. But every source of weakness to the party in Ontario in the election of 1900. A number of weak-kneed Liberals were stampeded by the anti-Tarte campaign, waged by those who are now willing to take Mr. Tarte to their bosoms. There is no whisper now against Mr. Tarte's loyalty. Those who were most blatant in denouncing him as a traitor now acclaim him as the greatest patriot in the Liberal party.

INDUSTRIAL ASCENDANCY

Carnegie Traces the Growth of Nations.

HIS APPEAL TO THE KAISER

Suggests a European Union-Remarkable Address of the Millionaire at St. Andrews.

St. Andrews, Scotland, Oct. 22.-Mr. Andrew Carnegie was today formally reinstalled as rector of St. Andrews University in the presence of a large and brilliant assemblage, over which Principal Donaldson presided.

The honorary degree of doctor of law was subsequently conferred on Carnegie, Ambassadors Choate and White, Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, of Washington, and Henry White secretary of the United States embassy in London. Mr. Carnegie's rectoral address consisted of a lengthy study of the comparative growth of nations in the paths of industrial ascendancy, with a striking commentary on their future. APPEAL TO THE KAISER. In his speech, which was replete with notable statistics and important economic prophecies, perhaps the most remarkable feature was an appeal to Emperor William to use his influence toward the eventual creation of the United States of Europe, under the form of a political and industrial union. In this way alone, Mr. Carnegie de-clared, can Europe conquer the foreign markets or repel American invasion. France, Germany and Russia, who had already taken joint action against Japan, would suffice to insure a satisfactory union in Europe.

"The Czar," he continued, "having taken the first step toward the peace of the world in The Hague conference, the other mighty emperor might some day be impressed with the that it is due to himself and to Germany to play a great part upon the wider stage of Europe, as her deliverer from the incubus which oppresses and weakens her, the appalling, paralyzing fear of war and of ruin between members of her own body."

Mr. Carnegie, in the course of a glowing tribute to Emperor William, Internal peace, which is all that can be expected at present." Unless the powers agreed to something of the kind all they could look forward to was to "revolve like so many lilliputions around this giant Gulliver, the American union soon to embrace 200 -000,000 of the English-speaking race and capable of supplying most of the world's wants."

INDUSTRIAL SUPREMACY. For the best essays on this subject, Mr. Carnegie offered a rector's prize. Dealing with the events which caused the industrial supremacy "once yours but now passed to your lineal descendant, who bears the industrial crown." Mr. Carnegie maintained that it was a physical impossibility for Great Britain to produce material things rivaling in amount those of countries the size of America, Germany and Russia, nor would a union of the empire change the situation, for "neither Canada nor Australia gave promise of much increase in population or industrialism. All thought of material ascendancy even with the British Empire united must therefore be abandoned." Mr. Carnegie spared his Scotch audi-"America," he said, "now makes more steel than all the rest of the world. In iron and coal her production is greatest and it is also so in textiles. She produces three-quarters of the world's cotton. The value of her manufactures is about triple that of your own. Her exports are greater and the clearing house exchanges at New York are almost double those of

Germany, the speaker also said, now

Marriage is very largely an accident. In few cases do men or women set up a standard of manly or womanly excellence and choose by it. In most cases people become engaged as the result of propinquity rather than because of any deep rooted preference. And so it often happens that the wife enters upon the obligations of maternity just as thoughtlessly as she entered on the marriage relation, because no one has warned her faces.

Mr. Carnegie emphasized the asser-tion that the most powerful weapon in conquering foreign markets is a pro-fitable home market. "Invasions of Europe, especially of Great Britain, by American manufacturers are not to be apprehended to any considerable extent except at "rare intervals" because the home market in America took 96 per cent of the manufactured articles, hence her prosperity. Toronto, Oct. 22.-The cause and cure of disease is daily becoming more and more a topic of general conversation. Men are beginning to realize that their happiness depends more on their health than even on their income—if in fact one does not regulate the other. In this connection the case of Edward Caven, of 88 Marion street, has aroused considerable interest, showing as it does the advance of medical science in connection with those diseases of the Kidneys so long considered incurable.

Mr. Caven was for a number of years driver for the Dominion Express Company and the constant jarring caused by riding over rough pavefor him was anything but bright. Finally, however, he was by chance led to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and the inker's Evaporator at Parkhill Destroyed-Blaze in Buffalo.

Parkhill Oct. 23 .- Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock fire started in Pinker's evaporator, the building and contents being totally destroyed. Amount of loss and insurance unknown at present.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 23.-Fire last night destroyed the freight shed of the Union Steamboat Company, on the Marine slip, near the foot of Michigan street. One of the big Lehigh Valley propellers, which was unloading grain at the Marine elevator, directly opposite the sheds, was pulled away from the decks with her upper works ablaze. and it was with great difficulty that other vessels succeeded in escaping the flames which swept across the slip and to the opposite side of Buffalo River. A downpour of rain, which began soon after the fire started. probably saved a disastrous conflagration along the water front. The freight sheds were about 400 feet long, and extended from Buffalo Creek to the end of the Marine slip. Fortunately the propeller Tioga, which sailed yesterday, almost emptied the sheds of

O'BRIEN STIRS

The Irish Leader Made Lively Rumpus.

Was Asked If He Had Observed Roosevelt's Letter to the Irish League Convention.

London, Oct. 23.-William O'Brien created a good deal of excitement in the House of Commons today by questioning Premier Balfour regarding President Roosevelt's letter to the convention of the United Irish League at Boston, Mass.

O'Brien asked the Premier if he had observed that Roosevelt sent a letter and whether in view of future friendry relations between the United States and Great Britain he could make any announcement that this country was not indisposed to learn wisdom regarding Irish affairs from the head of a great and friendly nation. The speaker promptly ruled the question out of order, to the evident chagrin of the Nationalists, whose excitement increased as O'Brien continued to press his point. He urged that this letter of the President was an international fact of the first importance to the future of Great Britain and that it would not be a friendly thing to the head of a great nation that his letter should be treated as if the House of Commons was disposed to "avenge an insult to the chief secretary for Ireland and his removables." The speaker maintained his ruling and O'Brien tried to move an adjournment of the house to discuss the matter, but the speaker ruled that it was not a matter of definite importance.

THE LETTER. Following is the text of the letter sent by the President's secretary to United Irish League at its convention in Boston:

"White House, Washington, Oct. 16, 1302: Dear Sir: Your communication of recent date has been received and in reply I would state that while the President very much appreciates the cordial invitation extended to him by your league, he regrets that his public duties will prevent him from being present on the occasion to which you refer. erable increase in the ill-feeling prevailing. Liberal leader, Sir Henry The Campbell-Bannerman, agair, supported Patrick O'Brien's request for a day, saying that since the Premier had declined the request "on the mere request of the Irish members," he, as a

During the altercation Wm O'Frien T. P. O'Connor and others interjected comments on Mr. Balfour's "insulting attitude towards the Irish," and the discussion concluded with William O'Brien exclaiming, "If we are not given a day we will take one." Wm. O'Brien afterward gave notice of a resolution, declaring that in the opinion of the house the operation of crimes act in Ireland was not justified the condition of the country, which was unfair in its application opposed to civilized usage in the manner of its administration and calculate ed to undermine respect for the law between England and Ireland.

The report of the majority supporting the chairman declares against granting subsidies upon the principle of possible usefulness. Hereafter they should only be granted where value is received. Exception is made in favor of ships that are suitable for fast naval cruisers. The granting of state assistance to maintain trade lines is not deemed expedient except in such cases as the East Coast of Africa, which would not of its own productiveness support a regular line of ships run on exclusively com-mercial lines. There will probably be two minority reports.

Ameer Said To Be Buying War Material.

IS HE PROMPTED BY RUSSIA?

Alleged Design on Loubet's Life the Work of a Half-Crazy Drunken Man.

London, Oct. 23 .- Concurrently with the intimation of Russia's Afghanistan proposal, Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, confirms the announcement that the Ameer of Afghanistan, through an agent, has purchased in Germany a battery of twelve quick-firing mountain guns, two howitzers, and eighteen field pieces, over 83 cases of ammunition and other war material, which have been forwarded to Kabul. Lord George Hamilton adds that the transaction is not inconsistent with the subsidy paid to the Ameer by Great Britain. The London Graphic, discussing the Russian proposal to Great Britain regarding Afghanistan, says it will cause apprehension. It indicates a recrudescence of Russian activity in the direction of Afghanistan at a moment when the new Ameer has disturbed the stability that existed under the late ruler of the country. The question is, the paper says, What will Russia's next step be?

MAY REQUIRE A BRIGADE. A Simla (India) cable says: The military authorities now anticipate that a whole brigade of troops will be required to cope with the Somaliland difficulty. The regiments are preparing for eventualities. Four Maxim guns will accompany the troops sailing tomorrow.

ABYSSINIAN CO-OPERATION. Negotiations are proceeding with the object of obtaining Abyssinian co-operation in Somaliland, similar to that of 1900, when Ras Makonnen invaded and devastated Ogahden. The suggestion is that the Abyssinians should hem in the Mad Mullah's forces from the southward while the British attack them from the north.

ONLY A DRUNK. Paris. Oct. 23. - The Elysee police do not attach much importance to the incident of an alleged attempt to kill President Loubet, because hardly a week passes without eccentric havior in weak-minded individuals requiring the intervention of the police. The newspapers, however, say that Bissonet was actively connected with the anarchist propaganda of recent years, and that he was twice arrested at the time of the Henry and Vaillant outrages, but that he was not arraigned. The prisoner is now confined in an infirmary, where he will be medically examined.

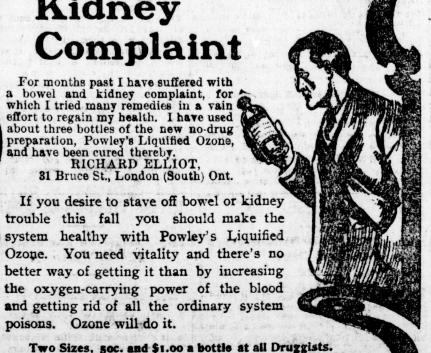

The police deny that Le Bissonet is an anarchist. They claim he has only an alcoholic record.

KRUGER'S MEMOIRS. The Times publishes extracts from "Kruger's Memoirs," which were dictated to trusted friends during his enforced repose at Orange Lust. The memoirs begin by describing incidents connected with the great trek participated in by his father when the ex-president was nine years old some of which he remembers with great vividness. He gives picturesque incidents of the struggles of the Boers with the black aborigines. Then follows descriptions of the part Mr. Kruger took in all the wars with the Matabele, Zulus, etc. At the commencement of the civil war of 1861, Mr. Kruger wished to take no part whatever in the disputes, but after he had been once drawn in, he did not rest until he had secured the right of popular opinion.

The extracts then deal with the his tory of Transvaal politics up to the closing period of the burgher's presidency and the commencement of the open conflict with Great Britain and the arrival of the Shepstone mission, empowered to effect the annexation of the country. Mr. Kruger says he demanded of the burghers that they prohibit the Shepstone mission from en-tering Pretoria, but that the burghers ignored his demand.

INTERESTING REPORTS READ

Number of Schools and Scholars-Proposal to Increase Secretaries' Salaries.

St. Thomas, Oct. 23.-At Tuesday evening's session of the Sabbath School Association of Ontario, Rev. John Potts, D.D., chairman of the International Lesson Committee, told the convention what was done at Denver to affect the Sunday schools of Ontario, and Rev. R. Johnston, B.A., of London, made a strong appeal for better Bible study.

The annual report of Mr. J. A. Jackson, B.A., general secretary, showed that there are 5,452 Sunday schools in Ontario, with 52.044 teachers and 431. 999 scholars. For the entire international field there are 152,930 schools, 1,-514,179 teachers and 12,809,412 scholars.

The report of Mr. Thomas Yellowlees, assistant secretary showed the receipts of the year to be $4,468 92, an increase of $439 86 over last year. There has been paid to the International Committee $400, a note of $300 had been paid and an indebtedness of $570 wiped

The report of Mr. W. Hamilton, treasurer, showed the total receipts to be $4.513 94, and disbursements $4,294 53. leaving a balance of $219 41.

Dr. Harrison, of Peterboro, gave an excellent address on the normal course of Bible study, which elicited much discussion.

Rev. John McEwen and J. J. Woodhouse, of Toronto, reviewed in an interesting way the estaglishment and history of the Sunday school movement in Canada

DR. JOHNSTON'S ADDRESS.

Rev. R. Johnston, B. A., D. D., of London, spoke on the topic of "Better Bible Study." He recalled the days when he used to go with other students in Montreal, to listen to Dr. Potts. Taking up his topic, the speaker referred particularly to the authority of the Bible. He believed that from cover to cover the Bible was God's revelation. The supreme reason why the Sabbath should be kept was because He who had the right to speak had said: "Remember the Sabbath day." The authority of the Bible should also be instilled in the schools and the miracles of the Bible, or the supernatural incidents recorded. There was no department of church work that could show greater results than the Sabbath school. It was doing the grandest work in proportion to the capital and labor invested. pealed for better equipment of Sabbath schools. The time will come when the Sunday school will be a prominent part of the architecture of every church, and better facilities will be introduction of graded lessons in the Sunday school, in order to meet stages of development. The Sunday school teacher was the man behind the gun; the burden of responsibility rested with him. The knowledge of subjects treated must be thorough in order to be efficacious. Canada was going out into the great family of nations to take her part among them, and the Canadian Sabbath must be carefully safeguarded

Other speakers were: Rev. J. A. Jackson, general secretary; Mr. Merchant, principal of the Normal School. London; Rev. Elmore Harris, of the Bible Training School, Toronto Tracey, lecturer in philosophy, Toronto University, and N. W. Rowell, K.C.,

At Wednesday morning's session Rev. Wm. Frizzel, chairman, presented the report of the central executive committee, which dealt with the ir crease in the Sunday school attendance, finances, and interest work. The report referred to several forward steps, among these being a movement towards having Bible placed in the public schools, and the placing in the field of a normal secretary. The commit-tee recommended that a normal secretary be placed in the field and that subscription be taken up to meet the expense. Primary work was progressing in several counties. home department report showed con-fidence in the work. It was recommended that the salary of the $1,300, an incrase in the first ciate secretary be raised to $1,000. and that of the general scretary to stance of $200 and in the latter of $100. The committee deferred further conderation of the subject of publishing an official organ until next report was received and the historical part adopted. The item referring to the increase of the salary of the secrearies was adopted, after the treasurer had explained the financial standing of the association, which was better than ever before in its history. The resolution expressing approval of the placing of a normal secretary in the field was discussed and passed. The duties of this secretary, it was pointed out, would be the promotion of normal work, especially in villages and country places, and the maximum salary would be $1,200. W. T. Harrison, M. D., Keene, conducted a conference on normal work. In discussing "The History of This Association's Work in Ontario," J. J. Woodhouse, Toronto, traced the history of the association from its inception in 1857, at Kingston, where 310 delegates attended the first convention. In 1865 the provincial association was first formed. The history traced the movement from year to year. Rev. John McEwen, of Toronto, took up the history of the association. His paper dwelt with the forces behind the organization of Sunday school work and with the attributes that tended towards its development.

Per Boyd, C., strict practice requires that when execution is issued upon a judge's order, the order itself or an office copy thereof should be produced to the officer, unless that officer has official custody of the books of the court wherein the order has been entered. In such case, the officer may act upon the copy of the order served, after verifying its correctness by reference to the record in his custody. HOW TO CURE HICCOUGHS

Yawning Said to Be the Only Certain and Speedy Remedy.

"Yawning is about the best cure I know of for the hiccoughs," said an observant man, "and I have stumbled on the truth by accident. It was proved in my case a sure cure, and by Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 23.-Of the 28 reflection I am convinced that it is a collieries in the Hazelton district, not perfectly logical result, a result explainable, too, on physical grounds. "All kinds of remedies are resorted to by men who suffer periodically with hiccoughs, like stopping the ears and drinking a glass of water slowly and without a stop, or by holding the breath, or counting, or thinking intently on some subject, and in many ways. I have tried all these remedies, and at times have been fairly successful in checking the hiccoughs. Again, I have seen each one of these remedies fail. In my own experience, so far as these remedies are concerned, drinking a glass of water slowly and without breathing is the most satisfactory. But it is torturing enough. On the other hand, the yawn is not only efficacious, but it is absolutely without any of the torturing features. There is, as I said before, probably a good physical reason for the yawn being a good remedy for the hiccoughs. The hiccoughs is described as being a modified respiratory movement, a spasmodic inspiration, consisting of a contraction of the diaphragm, accompanied with closure of the glottis, so that further entrance of air is prohibited. The impulse of the column of air entering and striking upon the closed glottis produces the sound peculiar to the ailment. It is reasonable to assume that anything that would relieve the contracted state of the diaphragm, and would reopen so the air could enter in a normal way, would completely relieve the sitgineers, pumpmen and firemen again uation. It would seem that the yawn, applied for their old positions this which is nothing more than a deep, long breath, would bring about the re-sult. While the yawn is supposed to be an involuntary movement, due to drowsiness, it is yet a fact that a man can yawn at pleasure. This being true, it is easily within a man's power being to cure the hiccoughs by resorting to

Their counsel, in asking for a fine instead of a term of imprisonment, drew attention to the fact that the offense was mitigated by the fact that the girls, though strangers to the young men, had allowed themselves to be accosted on the street, and had consented to go with the men. Judge Elliott, in passing sentence, characterized the case as probably the most dastardly which had ever come under his notice. If either of the prisoners ever came be-fore him again, he, said, their punishfore him again, he, said, their punish-ment would be heavy. "Gosh!" burst out George Washington Starkey, as the man's voice fell upon his ears, and those nearest to him fairly jumped as the startling explosive broke from him. "It's the very same scamp who chloroformed her!"

The excitement now was even greater than before, and everybody crowded around to learn the regritable resident. around to learn the particulars of the capture.

The youth, who had called himself Josh Brown, explained that he had noticed a man running away immediately after the report of the pistol, and as soon as he could collect his wits he had started in property.

as he could conect his wits he had started in pursuit.

Upon reaching the top of the knoll where the man had been skulking among the alder bushes, he espied him just disappearing in the woods beyond. At the same moment he saw a gentleman-evidently a sportsman, for he had a gun and gamebag in hand-coming from that direction and only a short distance from the fugitive.

"Head him off!" shouted the pursuer, gesticulating wildly.
"Don't let him get away! He's just shot a girl!"
At these startling words the gentleman seemed to take in the situation instantly, and, casting aside both gun and gamebag, he joined most heartily in the

The fact of their handling the race has inspired the walkers with new life, and all the men entered for the event are training with a determination, which shows that some fast work is going to be indulged in during the 142 hours which the race lasts. The feature which seems to please the men most is the offer of a challenge belt which must be won three times by the same pedestrian before it will become his personal property. The belt has been donated by Edward Payson Weston, the father of go-asu-please racing and winner of the famous Sir John Ashley belt in England 25 years ago. BOXING.

ERNE IS CONFIDENT. Buffalo Express: Frank Erne, acompanied by his friend and sparring partner, Frank Zimpfer, left Buffalo last night on his way to San Francisco, where he will box Jimmy Britt, the last week in November, for the championship of the coast in the lightweight class.

Erne was in great spirits before he departed to take the train, and seem-ed well pleased with the prospect of more work in the ring.
"I am feeling good now," said he,
"and while a bit heavy, have no doubt but that I will be able to reduce to the 185 pounds asked for at the ringside without any great trouble. I hope to be Joe Gans or whoever may hold the light-weight championship at that Erne will probably train at or near the quarters utilized by Bob Fitzsim-mons when he prepared for the fight with Jim Jeffries. He will have in ad-dition to Zimpfer some good heavy sparring partner, whom he will meet at the coast. The climate of California is weight producing, or so Erne has found it in all his pilgrimages in that direction, but he believes that hard road and gymnasium work will speedily get him down to weight in good form. The Buffalo boy rather expects that this match with Britt will be but the first of several encounters he will have in the ring before he returns home, although he expects to get back in Buffalo by Christmas time. Britt is a tough, hard fellow, according to all reports from the coast, and is generally regarded as a better man than Dal Hawkins in the palmy days of that celebrated native son. He drew the color line at the outset of his pugilistic career, and but for that would have mixed up with Joe Gans when the black was at the coast not long

VERY NEW OCCUPATION

Condensers of Novels the Latest in the Field.

This Is a Busy Age and Everyone Can't Spare Time to Read All of Everything.

"There goes one of those condensers," said the publisher, pointing to a tall, slender young fellow wearing glasses and with a number of books under his arm. "His business is condensing novels, and when a man becomes an expert at it he doesn't have to look for work

"This has been a very busy world for some time. There are thousands of people who want to keep up with the novels of the day, but haven't the time to read them as they are originally written. So there are hundreds of readers and elocutionists who go about reading condensed novels to literary circles, clubs, church societies and private families.

"The demand for readers for private families is growing astonishingly. The readers go to this house or that one night a week or possibly twice a week. The head of the house invites in a few friends, or maybe he and his family have the reading all to th 'They don't want a continuous performance; they must have at least one story an evening. If the stories they want are too long for one evening they must be cut down to fit the time.

"That fellow who just walked into the ferryboat tackled 'The Crisis' a little while ago. The order was to cut the book down to two hours. "He found it took eight hours to read it as it was written. It took him over a month working regularly a part of every day or evening to cut it down Then the people who hired him made up their minds that it must be shorter, so he had to go to work to hack it down to one hour and a quarter. What do you think of that? "He did it, although it was a fearful job. It took him longer to cut off that last 40 minutes than it did to get rid of the first six hours.

"It requires more brains sometimes to cut a book down than it does to write it in the first place. All the strong features, the pretty scenes, the amusing dialogue and so on, must be left in. "It is really surprising, however, how little that is important is cut out. If you had read the original 'Crisis' and then heard the condensed story you would have to cudgel your brains a little to make out exactly what is

"There's a knack about it, as there is to anything else. The condenser must first read the story carefully to get its general effect. Then he very often reads it to study the mechanism. "At first reading he has seen passages that may be dropped and no one be much the wiser. On second reading he takes out even more, and soon he has the thing cut down perhaps half.

"Very likely he will now take a copy of the book and cut all the pages loose. The pages he has marked out he throws away, and the fragments of pages he pastes together to make the requisite number of lines for a page.
"He knows just how many minutes it takes to read two pages, that is, both sides of the sheet. Counting up the sheets he finds the number of minues there still are in the slaughtered book.

"He is now getting things down to a working basis and here it is that his real genius comes out. He plays strange tricks with that story as he goes on, and he often surprises himelf at the things he dares take out. Every now and then he reads the condensation to some member of his family or to some friend who has read the book and on whose judgment he can place some reliance. "They tell me it is really most engrossing work, while it is very fatigung at the same time. That fellow who went into the ferryboat just now is an enthusiast. He makes far more noney than many of the chaps who write the original stories. Honestly, don't know but what he deserves it."

-N. Y. Sun. Paris Shop Signs. For some months past the idea of an exhibition of shop signs has been fructifying in the mind of M. Detaille, the well-known painter of battle scenes Now the project has taken definite shape, and has for godfather the pre-fect of the Seine, M. Selves. Notices have been issued, giving particulars of the exhibition, which is to take place in October next. The wish of M. Detaille and his brother artists associated with him on the committee is to revive the old signs that were such a picturesque feature of Paris fifty years ago. Here and there one meets portions of the old streets incorporated in the new boulevards, quaint old houses with their old signs still at-taching to the little narrow shopfronts. There are, indeed, some interesting trade symbols in various parts city, some but newly installed. In the Rue Bonaparte, for instance, a tradesman has recently raised a sign above his premises, which bears the figure of Napoleon mounted upon his white horse. Oddly enough, the name of the tradesman is Lempereur. The sweep and the barber have very largev conserved their ancient distinctions and, indeed, there is a very common tendency in the ornamentation of the building to call attention to the wares of the tenant. The florists, however, who show such exquisite taste in the arrangement of their windows, have, as a trade, adopted a sign which is as lugubrious and unpleasant as can well be imagined—a composition funeral-wreath. It is needless to say that the committee will not encourage designs of that sort; rather we may expect to see a revival of the arts of the cun-ning smith who, with his own strong hands, forges a graceful bracket for a swinging board. It has been pointed out that the painted sign is a remnant of the age when the public as a mass, unable to read, possessed the sole means of identification of a par-ticular establishment. In that sense the sign has ceased to be necessary. Nevertheless, the artistic sign will add to the amenities of the pleasant streets of Paris, even if there is no direct furtherance of trade. New York Women's Clubs.

The New York Ladies' Club, now nonexistent, was the most exclusive in the metropolis. Its initiation fee was but $20, and the annual dues amounted to $30. It costs $25 to join Sorosis, while something like $33 will pay the dues and for the various breakfasts and dinners, says Ainslee's Magazine. You can become a patroness of a fashionable hospital or a life member of almost any old thing for $100. At the newly quartered Woman's Club in New York, dining and waiting-rooms, dressing-rooms and attendant maids, sleeping-rooms, where for $1 you may put up for the night: lockers, where a change of clothing may be kept; telephone, telegraph and messenger service: Turkish and Russian baths, with a trained nurse-all these are obtainable with annual dues of but $15.

-Referring to the jubilee of Zion Presbyterian Church in that city, the Brantford Expositor says: Rev. Johnston, of London, whose father was one of Zion's first elders, conducted the service. To those who had never before heard him his sermons were a revelation, being eloquent and thoughtful expositions of the truth. His delivery a decided tunefulness. The preacher graced the occasion and the occasion was worthy of his best efforts. On few occasions indeed has there ever been gathered in this city such a large congregation as was present in the even-ing. Many were there from other churches, attracted not alone by the uniqueness of the event being comnemorated, but by the reputation for that Dr. Johnston possesses. The service throughout was deeply impress-

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

A dispatch from Eagle, Ont., describing the suicide of Edward Lindenman, a notice of which appeared yesterday, says: His parents did all they could to encourage their son in life. In the spring they tried to persuade him to take a trip to the west, but could not. During the summer, he gradually grew worse, and about Sept. 3 was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital, London, where he was in charge of Dr. Wishart, and remained until Oct. 15, when he returned home apparently quite well and much more cheerful. He was around the house as usual yesterday forenoon, and went upstairs, and his mother, thinking he was staying an unusual length time, went up, and was shocked to find him in an unconscious state, having shot himself. Despondency brought on through sickness, was the cause of the rash act.

FRIDAY AT THE GRAND. In "The Pride of Jennico," which will be presented at the Grand on Friday evening, a most striking situation occurs at the end of the third act. The hero, Basil Jennico, has been separated from his wife by a misunderstanding, and meets her for the first time af-terwards in an old inn. He pleads with her and asks for reassurance, affirming his love in eloquent terms. She was submitted regarding a number of stands in evident terror and dares not cases of alleged overassessment and a utter a word. This is explained by number of appeals were made for the fact that the villain has posted his cut-throats without, and has threatened the wife with the death of her husband if she recognizes him. As she stands irresolutely, the villain comes upon the scene. "Do you know this gentleman?" he thunders, and as the cut-throats appear in threatening attitudes, she falters, and half-fainting, answers, "No." The villain leads her off and the here is dumbfounded. No sooner has the villain gone than Jennico learns the truth and rushes in pursuit, cutting his way to right and left through the men who oppose him. As the hirelings fall the hero calls "So much for the men, now for the master," and rushes off.

Thinking it to be coal oil, he poured some gasoline on the fire, and was rewarded with a flame that nearly blinded him. It relieved him of his eyebrows and a part of his goatee. His right hand was badly burned, and he was obliged to go home, after having the hand dressed. The fire was extinguished without any damage.
