Order of the Day at Ottawa.

Grist for the Scandal Committees to Grind.

ineer with a Peculiar Lack of Memory.

r Langevin's Heirloom, and Its onnection with Charlebois.

e Mail's Ottawa special says: "The scandal mills will reopen to-morrow, and from both sources of excitement and information racy developments are expected. In the Public Accounts Committee Arnoldi is to explain all about his steamer Joe. This portion of the business will occupy so ich time that it is scarcely expected that he attack upon the Auditor-General's accounts will be reached.

"The interesting information is given by Mr. Bowell that the sum of $329 was paid in the way of duty upon the plate presented to Sir Hector Langevin some years ago. This testimonal was given in the Langevin block, when that structure was approaching completion. One of the gentlemen who contributed to the testimonial was Mr. Charlebois, who had been enjoying the percentages upon the sub-contracts. The plate made a huge display, and Sir Hector received with good humour and gratitude when it was given to him. He declared it should be an heirloom in his family for generations to come."

The inquiry into the management of the Printing Bureau may not be reached for some days, but there is said to be evidence on hand that will connect the department with some remarkable transactions. Because the Auditor-General is the greatest and the only enemy the civil service has to improper and irregular payments, and because this safeguard was provided by a Liberal Administration an attack has been leveled against that office by Mr. Mills, the Conservative member for Annapolis, and this matter also comes before the Public Accounts Committee. Mr. Mills called for the papers in relation to F. Hayter and one of $145 83 to J. Gorman in 1883 and 1884. It is understood that Mr. Barber, one of the officers of the audit office, fell sick and was away about six months, during which time these two officials, Messrs. Hayter and Gorman, did by direction Mr. Barber's work. At that time Mr. Barber's salary was about $900 per annum in excess of Messrs. Hayter and Gorman's, and an amount equal to this excess was distributed for the period named between Messrs. Hayter and Gorman. In other words, Mr. Barber's works was performed by them and for at the same rate as if done by Mr. Barber himself. More than this, Mr. Mills, of Annapolis, has called for the papers in the case of a payment of a few dollars to the Auditor-General himself, and will not be surprised to learn that the payment was for travelling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties.

The Government whips are most active in securing the attendance of Ministerial members for the division on the budget, and every man, whether he is sick or maimed, has been ordered to attend. It is held to be of vital importance that the Government should have a large majority, owing to the fact that several Liberal members are unavoidably absent through illness or otherwise. The Government expect a majority of 30 or over. Messrs. Burnette and Bourassa, Liberals, are both at home ill, and one or two others are away.

LAFORCE LANGEVIN ON THE STAND.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, July 28.—Laforce Langevin, son of Sir Hector, was on the stand this morning and told how they depended on large Government contractors to "do something" for the party. The Tarte committee got reluctantly to work this morning, and Mr. Stewart continued his work of casting doubts upon the bona fides of Robert H. McGreevy's books. He pointed out that some items in the journal were not entered in the ledger produced, and demanded that the witness be required to produce all his books. McGreevy protested that he had produced all his books and that his son, whom he had sent for, could explain all those apparent discrepancies. Then at the request of Mr. Stewart the cross-examination of Robert H. McGreevy was adjourned until Mr. Stewart had time to examine the diaries of the witness.

Laforce Langevin, son of Sir Hector, was then called on, and chose to give his evidence in English. Laforce is a stout, good-natured looking young man with a red mustache and high forehead. His English was quite easily understood. Mr. Geoffrion went carefully into the witness' experiences as a civil engineer, and found that it was mainly gained in the service of the Public Works Department. He is not a graduate in civil engineering though he went to Laval University for some time. To Mr. Lavergne he admitted that he took only the usual course at Laval, but claimed that he studied with another professor at the Seminary at Quebec. This constituted his training, except such as he got from his chiefs when employed on the works. On May 1 last he had been in the employ of the Quebec harbor commissioners for seven years. He began at $60 a month, and is now getting $150 a month. During this time he was also employed at times to do special work for the Public Works Department on the Levis graving dock, for which he received remuneration. He had got leave from Mr. Boswell and not from the Quebec commissioners to do this special work. This job was fencing and repairing the works, but he could not give even the approximate amount that those special works cost.

"How much was your remuneration?" asked Mr. Geoffrion.

"That is one of the things I can't remember," returned the phlegmatic witness.

"But that was only last year," protested Mr. Geoffrion.

But the witness was still forgetful and went on to swear that he did the work without knowing what his remuneration would be, and that he did not know whether he had rendered an account or not.

Subsequently witness said that he was paid by installments with the balance at the end. In answer to Mr. Geoffrion's guessing he said he must have received from $400 to $500. He thought that the commissioners knew that he was doing this extra work and then he told how he was summoned before the commissioners and asked why he had taken other work without consulting them. He replied that it was because they had instructed him to act under Mr. Boswell's orders only.

THE WRECKED CIRCE.

Part of the Crew Arrive at Quebec.

They Tell How the Steamer Struck and Sank.

QUEBEC, July 28.—The Allan Line steamer Grecian has arrived here with the fourth engineer, two seamen, two cattle owners and eight cattlemen from the ill-fated steamer Circe, which was wrecked at East Cape, Anticosti. When the Grecian passed Heath Point the Circe was broken into two or three pieces and a total wreck. The two seamen brought here are the men who were on the lookout when the steamer struck. The fourth engineer was on watch in the engine room at the same time. The vessel had an ordinary run across the Atlantic and through the straits of Belle Isle, all going well until Saturday evening, the 18th inst. That night the weather became thick and foggy with a fresh breeze. The vessel's speed was reduced, the captain endeavoring to make out Heath Point light. He and nearly all the officers were on deck. A vigilant lookout was being kept, but notwithstanding this the steamer struck at 11:15 p.m. She began to make water fast. The most perfect discipline was maintained on board and there was not the slightest excitement or confusion. Capt. Jennings, therefore, decided to land the cattlemen and most of the crew, the latter to return to the steamer should the weather permit. The boats were accordingly got out and all on board, except the captain, the first and second engineers, the chief steward and storekeeper, got in them. After the boats left the ship the wind increased considerably and it was impossible to land, as the breakers were dashing high upon the rocks. When about an hour had been spent in rowing around looking for a landing, a schooner was discovered some distance off. She was hailed by those in the boats and bore down to them, taking all hands on board and landing them at Fox Bay. From there the men proceeded to Heath Point on foot. On arriving there they found that the wind had suddenly increased to a heavy gale and that the Circe had become a total wreck, the captain and those left on board with him having been drowned. Being asked whether the captain and his associates had been washed overboard or were lost from a boat, the men said that it was impossible to say, as no one saw them. All the survivors of the wreck remained at Heath Point until the steamer Alcides passed out, when a majority of the crew went aboard of her and proceeded to Glasgow. The men who were brought to Quebec remained at Heath Point until Friday morning when they were taken on board by the Grecian.

TRAGEDY AT PORT ELGIN

Bertha Chapman and Harold Heller Drowned.

PORT ELGIN, July 29.—Four young people, George McLachlan, Dora Blackwell, Bertha Chapman and Harold Heller, went out in a rowboat at Port Elgin Monday evening. The boat filled with water and Heller and Miss Chapman were drowned.

SOCIAL SCANDALS.

Views of the Wesleyan Church on Gambling—"A Disgrace to Any Class."

LONDON, July 28.—The president of the Wesleyan Conference yesterday made an authoritative statement of the views of the church on recent social scandals. He condemned the doctrine that while cheating was wrong gambling was right. The Wesleyans, he said, held that the wrong began with the gambling, adding:

"Whether the games of chance were practiced in aristocratic or stock exchange or commercial circles it was a disgrace to any class of the community leading to lamentable consequences. Churches ought to unite and obtain legislation to check the evil."

The president also suggested that among the means to be taken to prevent gambling is that of preventing the newspapers from printing advertisements directly tending to promote gambling. In conclusion the president said that many thousands of Christian voters determined at the coming general election to put moral questions above party considerations and return men free from moral stain.

Gladstone and Spurgeon.

LONDON, July 29.—Mr. Gladstone returned to London yesterday. He informed the mayor of Lowestoft that he felt much better.

Mr. Spurgeon's condition is improved.

Inhuman Parents.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 29.—Tommy Fay, aged 5 years, is dying at St. Francis' Hospital from the effects of liquor alleged to have been poured down his throat by his parents. The little fellow has been unconscious since yesterday. His parents were arrested and sent to the workhouse.

A Maniac Millionaire.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Dr. Henry T. Helmbold, who was credited with having piled up a fortune of $10,000,000 by the sale of his patent medicines, is once more in a mad house, chained at the wrists and with shackles on his ankles. He is a raving maniac. Competent physicians have pronounced his case hopeless.

New Flying Machine.

LONDON, July 29.—Henry Massina is the latest inventor to claim the honor of having perfected a flying machine. He is just putting the finishing touches upon his airship in his private workshop at Crayford. The machine is to be propelled by a light screw making 2,500 revolutions per minute, the power being supplied by a petroleum condensing engine weighing 1,800 pounds, and capable of raising 40,000 pounds. The real suspending power is centered in an enormous kite, measuring 110 by 40 feet. The whole machine weighs about 12,000 pounds. It has room for a score of passengers and ten or twelve tons of freight.

THE ORANGEMEN

Annual Session of the Grand Lodge and Black Chapter.

KINGSTON, July 29.—The 62nd session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America convened here yesterday. Mayor Clarke, of Toronto, presided. Mayor Drennan, E. Bennett (county master), and James Marshall (secretary of the local reception committee), delivered addresses. W. Johnson, M. P., of Ballykillbeg, was received with honors. The grand master in his annual address said the separate school question in Manitoba was nearing a settlement, and common schools were being established. There are 1,256 primary lodges in the association, an increase of 30. In ten months 33 warrants had been issued. The order never was more united and prosperous. Many lodges were seeking the benefits of the new incorporation act. The secretary declared that the order had a great work cut out in the struggle to maintain British connection. This they would do at the sacrifice of life if needs be.

The Grand Black Chapter of British North America is in session here. Grand Master W. J. Parkhill, of Toronto, presented his report, giving an account of the work of the order during the past year. There is a large attendance of delegates. Following are the grand officers who were installed last evening: G. M., Sir W. J. Parkhill, Alliston; D. G. M., Sir Robert Weir, Peterboro; associate D. G. TORONTO TOPICS.

Sudden Death in a Doctor's Surgery—The Fairbank Tragedy.

TORONTO, July 28.—The four men who were arrested in Queen's Park Sunday in connection with the row there were fined $20 and costs each.

Two large fresh air excursions took place yesterday, 1,200 children and mothers being benefited.

At last night's meeting of the City Council the bylaw giving the Bell Telephone Company a five years' exclusive privilege was adopted. The mayor was instructed to put the city seal to the Esplanade agreement, which will result in changing the whole water front of the city. It was decided to appoint a special committee to try and discover means by which public speaking may again be permitted in the parks under proper authority.

Interest in circumstances surrounding the terrible death of Sophie Handcock at Fairbank was intensified last evening by the arrest of the father and mother of the dead girl. Detective Greer, of the Provincial staff, went to the store where the tragedy took place, and with Detective Alf. Caddy, of the city staff, arrested Edward Handcock and Elizabeth, his wife. Handcock expressed his confidence that God would not desert him in this trouble. His wife submitted without a word. They are elderly and the parents of ten children, all of whom except Sophie are living. They were conveyed to the county jail, where they will be kept in close confinement until after the preliminary hearing.

TORONTO, July 29.—A very sudden death occurred yesterday morning in the surgery of Dr McRae. Mrs. Haylor, who till recently worked at a Manning avenue laundry, was waiting for a treatment to an injury on one of her limbs, when she suddenly expired from heart disease.

A prisoner named Hickman Myers died at the jail yesterday.

The Colportage Committee met Monday night. A liberal grant of gospel tracts was made to the Y. M. C. A. of Kingston for use among the sailors there in the harbor on Sabbath days. The report of the colporteurs for June showed that they had traveled 1,590 miles, visited 1,915 widely scattered families, sold 444 Bibles, and 1,542 of the best religious books. After full consideration the committee appointed Mr. James Potter as "sailors' missionary" for Toronto harbor and other lake ports.

Mr. and Mrs. Handcock, who were arrested on Monday afternoon at Fairbank, charged with the murder of their daughter Sophia, were taken yesterday to the Police Court for their first examination. Mr. Murdoch, counsel for the prisoners, pressed for immediate disposition of the case. He was quite ready to go on if the Crown was. But the county crown attorney said he would require a week's remand, which was subsequently granted. On hearing the charge read over both prisoners pleaded not guilty, and they were both put back for a week in custody. No new evidence or clue has been unearthed in the village.

The Franco-Russian Enthusiasm Displeases the Czar—Cruel Treatment of Hebrew Refugees.

LONDON, July 29.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the official journals do not like the enthusiasm which has been aroused by the visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt. It is asserted that the Czar is displeased with the manifestations made in favor of the Republic, and that he ordered that no pleasure steamer was to be allowed to approach near the French warship when he visited Admiral Gervaise. It is not believed in London that the visit of the French squadron to Cronstadt will have a lasting effect upon the friendly relations existing between the two countries. The expressed opinion is that the Czar will never consent to an actual alliance with the French Republic. It is asserted the Czar was only with the greatest difficulty persuaded to abandon for a moment his known distrust to France.

BOSTON, Mass., July 29.—The Russian Jews who are detained at this port by requirements of the new immigration law say that the final act of persecution which drove them from Russia was the burning of their village containing eighteen houses near Viela. A crowd of men came in the night and set the place on fire. Fourteen Jews were burned to death and twenty others badly injured. To the great surprise of the Russians who were accustomed to see the Jews submit passively to all outrages, the inhabitants armed themselves with sticks and stones and pursued the Russians. In the fight which ensued a youth whose mother had been burned to death killed three Russians with a crowbar. Officials from Viela came to the scene and arrested this young man and several other Jews, who will probably be sent to Siberia.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Charlton's Sunday Observance Act Defeated.

A Vote Reached on the Budget and High Tariffs Approved.

OTTAWA, July 27.

After recess the House went into committee on Mr. Charlton's bill to secure the better observances of the Lord's day, as amended by the select committee. Mr. Charleton explained that the first six clauses of the original bill had been cut out by the committee and the first clause as it was reported prohibited work in a printing office on Sunday until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Mackintosh suggested that the time be made 8 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock.

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) argued against the right of the Dominion Parliament to legislate along the line of the bill. He held it was a matter for local authority and Provincial Legislature, whether a grocer, a man in a shop or an employe of a newspaper be allowed to work before 9 o'clock on Sundays. The Parliament had the right to control traffic on the canals, on the interprovincial railways, and it had the right to say that the officials of the public service should receive a holiday on Sunday, but farther than this he was convinced this Parliament could not go.

Mr. Mara said that in Victoria, B.C., two of the newspapers publish on Sunday. The work for the Sunday paper was done on Saturday, and as these papers did not publish on Monday, Sunday was, by the publication of the Sunday newspapers a full holiday. He agreed with what Mr. Mills said, that this matter was for Provincial Legislatures to deal with. In British Columbia, where the people were as Godfearing and as Sabbath-observing as the people of any part of Canada, the publication of newspapers was exempted from the Sabbath observance legislation.

Sir John Thompson acquiesced in what Mr. Mills had said about the clause being beyond the competence of this Parliament. He moved that the clause be struck out and the committee rise and ask leave to sit again.

Mr. Charlton said he regarded the subject as one of great importance to the country. He looked with alarm at the introduction of Sunday newspapers into Canada. This Parliament had the right to control the copyright, the postoffice, obscene literature and other similar matters, and therefore he and the committee believed the regulation of Sunday newspapers might be legislated upon. He had been surprised at the attitude of the member for Bothwell. The honorable member was a member of the church and it would be supposed would favor Sabbath observance. Mr. Charlton looked upon the introduction of Sunday newspapers as freighted with disastrous results to Sabbath observance. He was willing to accept the suggestion of the member for Ottawa and make the hour in the clause 8 o'clock. He could not, however, see his way to withdrawing the bill as the Minister of Justice had suggested.

Mr. Armstrong thought the remarks of the member for North Norfolk with regard to the position of the member for Bothwell, when he expressed surprise that a member of the church should oppose the bill, were unfair. The member for Bothwell had said nothing for or against Sabbath observance, but had merely raised the question of the competence of this Parliament to deal with it, and had argued that and that only.

The bill was defeated by a vote of 63 yeas to 18 nays on the motion of Sir John Thompson.

A bill introduced by Mr. Cameron (Huron), referring to the evidence of accused persons, was carried, and the House adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

OTTAWA, July 28.—There was an exciting time to-day in Parliament. Speech after speech was delivered, and the debate waxed warm, if debate it may be called. The feature of the discussion in all the sessions has been the meagerness of the support given to the tariff proposed in the budget by Government supporters. The attacks of Opposition members have been weighty and persistent. To-night Liberal followed Liberal in their denunciation of the taxation imposed on the people by means of a high tariff on imported goods. Midnight passed and the Government was still assailed in stirring sentences from the lips of indignant Liberals, and not until 4 o'clock this morning was it possible to have a vote taken. The result is not at all surprising. Those who have been elected as Government supporters have apparently resolved to sink or swim together. The figures are said to be 114 to 88 giving the Government a majority of 26. On a question of supporting the Government when the Parliamentary committee's reports on frauds are presented, the result may be different. If not, all Conservative members must be judged alike. The House rose at 4:30 a.m.

THE GUARDS' RETURN.

A Surprise and a Bitter Disappointment to Their Friends.

LONDON, July 29. — The troop ship Orontes, having on board the battalion of Grenadier Guards returning from exile at Bermuda on account of their mutinous conduct a year ago, reached Spithead, off Portsmouth, yesterday. It was originally intended that the Grenadiers should disembark at Portsmouth, and it had been so announced at the War Office and in the newspapers. Consequently a large number of people consisting of relatives and friends of the returning "exiles" gathered at Portsmouth intending to welcome the soldiers upon their return to England. The joy of this crowd when it was announced that the Orontes was about to arrive can be imagined, as also can be imagined their dismay and anger when it was suddenly made known that the War Office had altered their minds and that the troopship was ordered to proceed to Dover.

Thus has the home-coming of the Grenadiers been clouded, and the men who were ready to resume duty in England with a determination to forget the past will land with angry feelings rankling in their bosoms.

TO PUT COLD AIR ON TAP.

When it is Done You May Turn the Faucet and Convert July into December.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

A Kansas City dispatch says a company has been organized there known as the O'Keefe Public and Private Combination Refrigeration Company to furnish cool air to business houses and residences, also to transmit through conduits brine for refrigerating, ventilating and sanitary purposes. It is claimed that it will be possible by this plan to regulate the heat in any house from 70° down to zero, and to furnish ice to consumers at a third present cost.

Pipe line refrigerating from a central storage plant is not altogether new. There is a New York company—the Consolidated Refrigerating Company—which has a process patented for some years. Under these patents pipe line refrigeration is already an accomplished fact in Denver, where the scheme has been in successful opperation for two years, it is said. There is a company in St. Louis which controls the right for the State of Missouri, and it is doubted if the Kansas City Company could operate such a system unless by license obtained from the St. Louis company. Pipe line refrigeration has also been proven a success, it is claimed, in Seattle, Wash., Sioux City, Ia., and Louisville, Ky.

In Chicago the rights of the consolidated company are owned by the Inter-State Cooling Company. This company and the Chicago Cold Storage Exchange, with which it is closely identified, have obtained a license to lay pipe from the plant at the west end of Lake street bridge to Halstead street, returning by Randolph street, but no work has been done toward laying the pipe as yet. This system sends instead of brine the anhydrous ammonia direct to customers.

Among the advantages claimed of pipe line refrigeration over the old methods with ice and salt are the following: The direct expansion of a liquefied gas produces quicker freezing, and makes it possible to maintain a uniform, dry, cooling temperature. A ton of regulated dry refrigeration can be delivered through a pipe cheaper than a ton of ice can be delivered by a team, and a ton of melting ice will only do three-tenths as much of the work required as a ton of dry, regulated refrigeration. Ice can be made by this system at the same time that the plant is in operation for cold storage and pipe line work, making the cost less than by other processes. A dry atmosphere is one of the most essential conditions in preserving food, it being possible to preserve meat even in a warm atmosphere for an almost indefinite period so long as it is kept dry. Water and vapor from melting ice or brine of a fluctuating coldness saturate the contents of ordinary refrigerating chambers. The damp air absorbs the odors of various dishes and communicates it to each other, all of which is avoided by dry refrigeration.

To secure artificial cold the process uses ammonia gas, which is really compressible into liquid form and stored in receivers or fountains. The liquefied gas is made to pass through a valve into a refrigerating chamber. When it has absorbed the heat of this chamber, producing cold, it is drawn into other receivers or absorbers containing water. It is there taken up and held in solution at the factory to be again and again used without appreciable loss. This redistillation is patented, and is said to be the secret of the great profit which the system is expected to yield.

In addition to the other cities mentioned New York has a plant which is said to have been operated successfully. The new West Washington Market on Thirteenth avenue is operated wholly by this system.

LABOR MOVEMENTS.

A Revival of the Miners' Trouble in Texas Threatened.

Sixty additional convicts from Tracy City, Tex., were taken on Monday to Bruceville, the scene of the recent mine troubles. They will be used in completing the stockade and then be put to digging coals. This movement was a surprise. Although there have been no attempts at violence there is discontent seen on every hand, and if more prisoners are placed in that section the miners say they will not submit.

W. E. Denny, Eugene Kelly and Phil Hickey are under arrest at Butte, Mont., for the murder of Editor W. J. Penrose on the night of June 7. The murder was the result of attacks on labor organizations. Denny is president of the workingmen's union and Kelly a prominent member in the same organization. Hickey is ex-president of the miners' union. Detectives claim to have the necessary evidence.

The Fire Record.

PARKHILL, Ont., July 28.—Yesterday morning a dwelling house on Station street, owned by John Gleeson, of McGillivray, and occupied by M. Cluney, caught fire and was completely destroyed. Most of the contents were saved. Loss about $400, partly covered by insurance.

A School of 100 Whales Captured.

LONDON, July 28.—A school of over 100 whales was recently driven by the tides into Wideford Bay, near Kirkwall, on the Orkney coast, and hundreds of the inhabitants of that district, armed with weapons of every description rallied to the spot and began slaughtering the huge creatures and dragging the carcasses ashore. Not a single one escaped. The scene was unique in whaling annals. The people of the vicinity have been suffering from hard times, and are inclined to think the sudden free gift of so much eatable and salable matter providential.

Fatal Fight.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 27.—There was a fight on the platform at the rear end of a train one mile from Rockwood yesterday. James Kelly, a policeman of Johnstown, drew a revolver to quell the row. The crowd sprang upon him and forced him between the cars. Conductor Hard signaled the engineer to stop the train. The coupling broke and Kelly dropped under the wheels and was killed. Lucas Myers, of Latrobe, who was thrown from the platform, was also killed. Milton Pyle, of Somerset, was hurled through the air and struck on the rocks on the side of the track. His skull was crushed and his leg broken, but at last accounts he was living.

Impossible.

It would be just as easy to advertise on the moon as for any importer to give the same value in imported cigars as we offer in our "La Cadena" and "La Flora" brands of clear Havana cigars. The higher the price, the greater the duty. Cheap cigars made in Havana are in the majority of cases offered to the Canadian public as fine goods.

Tickets can be secured from G. T. R. ticket agent at London station. CAPT. JOHN ELLISON, proprietor. JOS. HOUGH, master. 55-tf zxv

Perfectos.

The name of Perfecto is used by the leading Havana factories to designate a particular size and (generally extra fine) quality of a brand of cigars. It is well known to connoisseurs and in great demand in the principal clubs in Europe and America. A great many factories, owing to the great popularity this size has obtained, are using the word Perfecto on all classes of goods, some as low as $20 per 1,000; therefore, we caution the public to be particular when purchasing and see that they obtain the genuine size and quality that should be represented in the Perfecto size. Our "La Cadena" or "La Flora" will be found a creditable example. S. DAVIS & SONS, Montreal. 1-tf

'La Cadena" and "La Flora" Perfectos.

The smoker who has been in the habit of using a Perfecto size in well-known Havana brands will readily appreciate the "La Cadena" or "La Flora," which will be found equal to the finest imported and at a much lower figure. 1 tf

Dunn was acquitted last week of the murder of the elder Harcourt at Seney, and his brother threatened to kill him at sight. The two met at Jack Navins' place at Trout Lake, where Dunn was drinking at the bar. Harcourt entered and, seeing Dunn, fired five shots into his back, killing him almost instantly. Harcourt was immediately arrested by Sheriff Herron. The murderer expresses no regret for his deed, but on the contrary seems satisfied at avenging his brother's death. Rival dives at Seney caused all the trouble, and more is expected from the friends of both Dunn and Harcourt. The Harcourts are from the county of Wellington.

COL. VINCENT'S MISSION.

Col. Vincent, a supporter of the Salisbury Government in the Imperial Parliament, spoke at Montreal the other night in favor of the proposed new trade policy which has been squinted at but not formally adopted by the Imperial Federationists. Discussion was not invited, but Hon. Peter Mitchell rose and combatted the arguments of the visitor so effectively that the more ardent supporters of the movement hooted him down. Mr. Mitchell, however, expressed his desire to have the propositions of Col. Vincent fully discussed before a Montreal audience.

We can understand why Col. Vincent should advocate the re-establishment of a protectionist policy in Britain; but it is hard to see wherein lies the justice of the complaint of Canadian protectionists against the old land. The mother country takes all that we send her, and does not impose a tax on it. If we want to sell her more, let us reduce the taxes which we charge on her goods, and buy more from her. Then we shall be sure to increase our trade with her. This can be done now. We need not wait for any change in Britain's fiscal policy. But the average Canadian protectionist objects to this class of "commercial union" even more strongly than he opposes freedom to trade with the States. Our protectionists dread the competition of the Motherland much more than they fear the competition of their neighbors over the border. That fact is exemplified in the tariff legislation of the present Administration.

As Col. Vincent expounds it, Imperial Federation has a different aspect from that put on it by some of its advocates. He propounds a policy intended to compel Canadians to charge less duty on British manufactures than on the products of other nations, and in return the imposition of a tax by Britain on all non-colonial produce is promised. But as the pledge is given to the British people that the change would not enhance the price of food products, wherein would the Canadian farmer profit by the change?

It is reported that a Western M. P. has invited Col. Vincent to come and lecture in this city on the scheme which he champions, and it is expected that before the summer is over he will put in an appearance. Canadians will not be likely to become excited over his imperialist visions, for the reason that the scheme stands little chance of being indorsed either by the people of the Motherland or by the Canadian people. It is certain that Lord Salisbury has received the proposition with coldness and no party in Canada has deemed it wise to champion it.

When we find Canadian protectionists clamoring for a reduction of the duties on British manufactures and British work people demanding the reimposition of the duties on food products, then will it be time to consider the proposition seriously. Meanwhile, it is a mere "Will-o'-the-Wisp."

THEY DON'T LIKE "M. C."

The newspapers that favor the high tax swindle and would fain defend even Rykert, Langevin, McGreevy, and "the gang," unite in suggesting that M. C. Cameron, M. P. for West Huron, should retire from Parliament. Mr. Cameron is certainly a terror to evil doers, but he has a majority of nearly 400 of the stalwart yeomanry of that riding at his back, and that, too, in a constituency gerrymandered to secure his defeat. Is not that a good reason why Mr. Cameron should continue to hold the fort, and join in driving the rascals away from the public coffers?

EVERY income vote, every owner's son, every new comer to the city, every citizen who has changed his place of residence within the last six months, should visit the Young Liberal rooms, any afternoon or evening, before Aug. 1, and register. Without that precaution these voters may find their names off the lists. A little care now and their rights as citizens will be maintained.

A CONTRAST.

Mr. Mowat has been in power nearly twenty years now; who ever heard of boodlers or scandals under his administration? asks the Hamilton Times. The ADVERTISER has a vivid recollection of the professed discovery of huge frauds in the carrying out of the contracts for the erection of the new Parliament Buildings. The Toronto Empire was the author of the outcry, and through the circulation of the story that the Commissioner of Public Works had been guilty of gross malversation caused a great deal of talk in the last Ontario electoral campaign. When the new House met, Hon. C. F. Fraser, the Minister slandered, confronted Mr. Creighton, M.P.P., the manager of the Empire, with a complete denial to the allegations of his paper. He went further and asked this responsible Conservative agent to formulate his charges and proceed to support them by evidence. Mr. Creighton and his associates sat dumb. Their silence when dared to the proof was a confession that the story was a slander manufactured for campaign purposes. What a contrast is this incident to the revelations which have for weeks been daily made regarding the administration of the Public Works Department at Ottawa.

BRITAIN AND THE JEWS.

Strong protests have been made by British workingmen against the proposition that the Russian Jews, now driven out by cruel laws, should settle in England, and Parliament has been asked to adopt some measures looking to the discouragement of the immigration of "destitute aliens." I would be better for the refugees not to go to England, but to find their way to some new country, where land and a living could be more easily acquired than in a crowded community.

England is now densely populated. She supplies a living to a population more than three times as large as that which existed within her bounds at the time when Malthus and his disciples were so fearful that the country was about to outnumber the living creatures for which sustenance could possibly be found. But the adoption of free trade with all the world made the motherland a busy hive of industry, and enabled her enterprising merchants and manufacturers to keep in the van of the nations. Despite social inequalities that have yet to be remedied by Parliamentary action, Britain to-day is able, through her trade policy, to supply her myriads of workers with cheaper food and higher wages than is paid in any other old world land. She has proved to a demonstration that high tariffs on imports do not raise wages or reduce the working hours of the employes, for in her factories workmen enjoy a shorter work day and get much higher remuneration for their labor than do the working classes in continental protectionist lands. The result is that thousands of workingmen from these countries annually seek work in Britain, and by their presence and urgent necessities often cause depression in labor circles. For this reason it was to be expected that the English workers would not look with favor upon any large addition to the annual indux of poverty-stricken foreigners. They naturally prefer that the Jews who have been driven from Russia should seek other and less densely populated lands. Baron Hirsch, the philanthropic friend of his race, has chosen the Argentine Republic as the best country for the unfortunate exiles. It has the merit of being, like Canada, a thinly populated country, with good agricultural and mineral possibilities.

UNFAIR COMPARISONS.

High tax orators in the House of Commons at Ottawa spend a great deal of time these days laboring to prove that the N. P. has been a great boon to Canada because some articles are now lower in price than they were twelve or fifteen years ago. That is not a fair argument. The proper way to deal with the question of prices and taxes is to take the present prices in Canada and in other countries, and ascertain the difference. In the last fifteen years, many manufactures have been revolutionized through increase in raw material or by economy in cost of working, but your average protectionist orator takes no note of that change. Can he mislead the intelligent Canadian who wishes the greatest possible freedom to buy and to sell to the best advantage?

AN ERRATIC GENIUS.

Nicholas Flood Davin, the poetic M. P. from the Northwest Territories, is always on the warpath, attempting to secure reformation in the governing powers of the country. One day he is after Mr. Dewdney, the poor stick of a Minister who owes his position in the Cabinet to what is known as back stair influence, the next he is pursuing Col. Herchmer, in command of the Mounted Police. He meets with but little success, for the reason that he pursues wrong methods. He has charged both men with serious offenses, but he has failed to boldly lay indictments against them in Parliament, and to compel the evidence to be taken on oath, thereby, if his charges are well-founded, taking the best means possible for ridding the country of their services. He has contented himself with wholesale denunciation of the Minister and with a departmental inquiry as to the conduct of Herchmer, which is found to be of no practical value. He complains of the intimidation of voters by police officials in the Northwest, but he makes no demand that the system of open voting shall be abolished, and that the ballot shall be extended to the Territories. He denounces the Government as a "Cabinet of antiques" and incapables, yet he is contented to support it and its iniquities, in hopes that some day he may be permitted to join its ranks. Thus he dawdles away his opportunities, and despite his cleverness can scarcely be taken seriously by either friend or foe. The Regina bard should practice plank-walkin'

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

TRINITY CHURCH, Boston, a place of worship rendered famous by the fact that Phillips Brooks preached in it for years, is thinking of calling Rev. Dr. Rainsford, of New York, formerly of this city, to be its preacher. Dr. Brooks is now a bishop.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY laborers are having their wages cut down from $1 25 a day to $1 05. The line is controlled by the Dominion Government. Having been found out in its mad career of paying out hundreds of thousands of dollars to political favorites, the Administration has to cut down expenditures somewhere.

THE INVENTOR of the "rain-making machine," who has been experimenting at Canton, Ohio, claims that he has been successful seven times and has failed but once in his efforts to artificially produce rain. This is a remarkable record. If the machine proves to be a permanent success, there is a fortune in store for the inventor and a position in every township for the manipulator of his mysterious contrivance.

LORD MOUNTSTEPHEN has taken his seat in the House of Lords. The ex-president of the C. P. R. is not, as the cable reports, the first native colonist who has ever been called to the British upper chamber, for the good reason that he is not a native colonist. He is a Scotchman, a native of Banffshire, who came to Canada while a young man, was pre-eminently successful in making money, and has retired to his native land to spend the remainder of his days.

SUBSIDIZED Conservative organs refer to the rascalities laid bare and proved at Ottawa as "alleged irregularities." This is an indication of what they think of the disgraceful wrongdoing that is revealed by confessions and sustained by dismissals from the service. If these are "alleged regularities," we will be hearing Sir Hector's deeds excused, one of these days, as highly loyal, because undertaken, as was said of the Pacific Scandal, "in the enthusiasm of patriotic endeavor."

GENERAL BOOTH has started for a tour round the world, and as he has a presentment that he will not live to return to his post in the British metropolis, he has made his will disposing of his earthly affairs. He sends his eldest daughter to the United States and Canada, as he cannot now visit these countries. The leadership of the Salvation Army will be retained in the family, Bramwell Booth being designated as successor to the commander-in-chief. Whether he possesses the remarkable executive ability of his father remains to be seen.

ANOTHER reason in support of the proposition that women should exercise the franchise is to be found in the fact that the triennial prize of $300 offered by the Cobden Club to the Victoria University at Manchester for the best essay on any economic question has been awarded to Miss Victorine Jeans for an essay on the "Industrial and commercial effects, actual and prospective, of the English Factory Act legislation." This is the first Cobden Club university prize that has been taken by a woman, but we must not forget that it is only the other day that the leading British universities were entirely closed to the sex.

THE cry that is going up from semi-independent Conservative journals for a vacancy in Sir Hector Langevin's seat looks as if the friends of the party at Ottawa had made up their minds that the Minister of Public Works must go. Uncle Tom McGreevy has been made the Jonah, but the whale is clamoring for other victims.—[Hamilton Herald (N. P. supporter.)

But Sir Hector refuses to be sacrificed. If he is to be cast overboard, he has told his friends, he will take good care that the party ship shall first be scuttled. He is custodian of too many ugly secrets to be so easily got rid of as some of the Conservative organs that clamor for his retirement hint.

THE LEONARD MEMORIAL.

[Hamilton Times.]

The two sons of the late Senator Leonard of London, have offered to present that city with a $7,000 public bathing house on condition that the city furnish a site for the bathing house. The sons wish in this way to commemorate the death of their father. Hamilton wants just such a bathing house in the worst way, but our generous-hearted citizens never die.

ARE ALL IN IT?

[Toronto News.]

If Hon. Mr. Dewdney discharged every clerk in the Department of the Interior who is implicated in the irregularities and then discharged himself there would be nothing of the department left but the stubs in the weary check books.

RAW AS BEEFSTEAK.

Baby's Fearful Suffering from Skin Disease Covering Entire Body Cured by Cuticura.

My baby was taken very sick when he was 3 months old, and in a few days began breaking out. We employed both of the home doctors, and and they could nothing for him. Then we sent for the best doctor in Eaton Rapids, Mich., and he doctored him for two weeks, and he got worse all the time; and then I took him to Jackson, to a doctor who attends especially to skin diseases, and then he got worse than ever. Then I told my husband we had better try the CUTICURA REMEDIES any way; did not have any idea they would do any good, but in less than two months from the time we began giving them to him he was entirely well, and not a spot on him. His hair began growing right off, and we thought he would always be bald-headed. There was not a spot on his whole body, face and head, only his nose and eyes, but what was as raw as beefsteak. So poor there was not anything but bones, and so weak he could raise neither hand nor head.

ADVERTISE IN THE ADVERTISER

Three Years Free

The Coming School of Medicine.

The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

LONDON, April 28, 1891.
I am happy to acknowledge, and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

Dyspepsia

Makes many lives miserable, and often leads to self destruction. Distress after eating, sick headache, heartburn, sour stomach, mental depression, etc., are caused by this very common and increasing disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia. Read the following:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. It relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I am happy to recommend it." G. A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

CRICKET.

A team of English cricketers is to visit America this fall and make a tour of ten weeks.

The result of the first inning in the game between the Germantown cricket team, of Philadelphia, and the Pittsburg first eleven, played at Brushton Monday afternoon, was 148 to 62 in favor of the visitors. The play was characterized throughout by splendid fielding on both sides.

LONDON DEFEATS CHATHAM.

The London Cricket Club was represented by a strong team in Chatham Monday, whither the Forest City men went with confidence in the result. The visitors won by 34 runs in the first inning, time not permitting the conclusion of the game. Beemer and Terry, as the score shows, handled the willow with admirable effect. Kenny, Horstead and Wells did the batting for Chatham. Following is the score:

THE WHEEL.

On Saturday evening Miss Ida Freeze and several lady friends were practicing riding a bicycle on Congress street, Detroit. As the street car came along Miss Freeze fell over on the track and the car wheels passed over her limbs. She only lived twenty minutes. She was 18 years old and lived at 706 East Congress street.

DETROIT, July 28.—Nearly 50 wheelmen left Woodward avenue on Sunday morning on the century run to Ann Arbor. J. Hofiner was first to return. He made the 100 miles in 7 hours, 50 minutes. Only 32 of the 50 contestants rode back to the city on their bicycles, the remainder returning by train.

The record breaking trials of R. L. Ede in England are exciting much interest among wheelmen. Two weeks ago he rode 50 miles in 2 hours 24 minutes 44 seconds, beating all previous records by eight minutes. Last Tuesday, in trials against the one, two and three hour records, Ede covered 22 miles 1,400 yards; 44 miles 450 yards, and 63 miles 49 yards respectively. Ede's time for 50 miles was also taken, and he finished this distance in 2 hours 17 minutes. Ede's wheel was a safety, fitted with pneumatic tires. It was geared to 65 inches, with 9½ inch cranks.

The three principal winning owners, exclusive of Strathmeath's victory in the Derby, at the late Washington Park (Chicago) meeting were Scroggan Bros., with $15,376 to their credit, closely pressed by W. H. Laudeman with $13,305, and Easton & Larrable with $12,920.

LAWN TENNIS.

On Saturday at Courtright, five clubs competed in the lawn tennis tournament: Petrolea, Mooretown, Courtright, Chatham Business College and St. Clair, Mich. Mooretown won both events, gentlemen's doubles and ladies' doubles. Bray and Powell, Mooretown, defeated Fisher and Cresswell, Petrolea, 6—4, 3—6, 6—2. Whiting and Tucker, St. Clair, defeated Steeples and McLachlan, C. B. College, 6—3, 6—4. Bray and Powell defeated Whiting and Tucker, 6—2, 3—6, 6—4. Bray and Powell defeated Sinclair and Wilkinson, Courtright, 6—4, 6—4. Misses Maw and Allen, Mooretown, defeated Misses Dale and Johnston, Courtright, 4—0, 6—3, 6—2. There was a large crowd in attendance.

ATHLETICS.

Jack McAuliffe, the light-weight champion, has signed articles for a fight to a finish with Austin Gibbons for a stake of $1,500 a side, a purse of $400, and the light-weight championship; both men to weigh 135 pounds.

A prize fight for $5,000 a side, Marquis of Queensberry rules, took place Monday night in a large private hall in Chicago. The contestants were Ed. Gorman, of Columbus, and Billy Hawkins, of St. Louis. Gorman was the victor in the 53rd round.

The boxing match arranged between Jem Smith and Ted Pritchard for $5,000 took place Monday evening, and Pritchard beat Smith in three rounds. The fight lasted ten minutes. The match was postponed in the morning on account of the leaking out of information regarding the location of the rendezvous. Only 30 persons were present. Pritchard was uninjured except for a black eye. Both Smith's eyes were blackened and his cheeks were puffed and cut.

BASEBALL.

The Toronto Homing Club has decided to hold a series of fall races, to be flown during the last week in August and the early part of September, as follows: London to Toronto, distance 115 miles, Sept. 12; Cobourg to Toronto, distance 70 miles, Aug. 22; Belleville to Toronto, distance 112 miles.

A Man Blown to Atoms.

GALENA, Ill., July 28.—An explosion occurred in a new mill of the Laflin Grant Powder Company at Plattsville, Wis., as it was about to be started for the first time yesterday morning. A workman named Lowery—the only one in the mill—was blown to atoms.

Postoffices Robbed.

SMITH'S FALLS, Ont., July 28.—The Chesterville postoffice was successfully burglarized Saturday night, and $150 worth of stamps and some loose change carried off. Two other stores were broken into and the safes blown open, but unfortunately for the burglars there was nothing in them but books. Having finished up Chesterville they came up to Kemptville and broke into the postoffice there, and secured $40 in stamps and $50 in money. Five men who were stealing a ride on a train are supposed to be the culprits, and have been arrested. One hundred and eight dollars' worth of postage stamps were found in an empty box car which came past Chesterville yesterday morning.

The Sentence Must Stand.

LONDON, July 28.—In the House of Commons yesterday, when the prisons' vote was under discussion, Mr. Parnell claimed that certain convicts under life sentences, especially John Daly, should be granted amnesty or else treated as political prisoners. Mr. Parnell said it was a grave blot on the nation to treat men like Egan and Daly as ordinary criminals, adding that in the special case of Daly there was every reason to believe that he was not guilty of the charge of being in possession of dynamite with intent to cause an explosion. Sir William Vernon Harcourt opposed any relaxation of the sentence passed upon John Daly. Mr. John Redmond urged that further inquiry into Daly's case would prove that the prisoner referred to was the victim of a conspiracy upon the part of Irish police agents. Henry Matthews, Home Secretary, replied that the "alleged proofs of innocence" had been found to be inventions, and consequently the sentences must stand.

SUBSTITUTES DON'T PAY.

In the stormy days of "61," when a man was drafted into the army, he could buy a SUBSTITUTE if he had a long purse; many rich men did this. When you ask for CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS, don't take a substitute. The Felter Shoe Company's factory, the residence and stable of Dr. C. M. Slack, and two houses belonging to the Willow Grove Cemetery Company at New Brunswick, N. J., were burned this (Tuesday) morning. Loss, $46,000.

At a Manchester Chamber of Commerce meeting the president said the trade of the country, especially that of the Manchester district, was very bad, owing to the wretched condition of South American republics and the cheapness of cotton.

Admiral Corvais, of the French squadron, gave a luncheon to Grand Duke Alexis, the mayor of Cronstadt and the officers of the Russian squadron on Monday. The French sailors were entertained at dinner at the Cronstadt Exchange. The town and forts were illuminated.

A special from Coquimbo, Chili, says: The report sent to foreign countries about an engagement at Huasco, in which the Congressional troops were routed, is without truth. There was no such engagement. There is a general belief, however, that a fight will take place in the vicinity of Coquimbo within a short time.

A St. Thomas exchange says: "The Browns, of this city, and Blues, of Tilsonburg, now the two best baseball clubs in this district, played a game at the burg the other day, which the home team won by 7 to 4. They play here on Thursday." A few teams in London would find the first part of the paragraph hard to swallow.

At a meeting of the managers and passenger agents of the inland lake traffic, held in Toronto on Monday, among other matters it was unanimously decided that in so far as the following steamers were concerned—Persia, Ocean, Acadia, Cuba, Alma Munro, Campana, Celtic and Canada—passes will not be granted under any circumstances whatever.

Fatal Duel with Knives.

WELLS, Nev., July 28.—Two Shoshone bucks, Spruce Alick and Laughlin Charley, fought a duel at an Indian camp near here yesterday with knives. They were horribly mangled and Alick will die.

A Mysterious Cattle Disease.

LYONS, Ia., July 28.—A mysterious disease has broken out among cattle west of here. The joints swell at the knees; death soon follows, and after death dark blood and matter flows as the swellings burst. It appears to be contagious.

Gold Laying Around Loose.

CARSON, Nev., July 28.—Owing to discoveries of free gold at Pine Nut, Nev., 24 miles from this city, a large number of prospectors are going into that district. A town site named Zernville has been laid out. An experienced miner says the country for ten miles square has many quartz ledges showing free gold on the surface.

On Historic Ground.

PLYMOUTH, July 28.—The Historian Worth yesterday conducted a party of visiting ministers to various places of interest in the vicinity of Plymouth, including the spot of the barbican where the men of the Mayflower embarked in 1620. Afterward luncheon was served, at which Prof. Anthony presided, and toasts were drunk to the health of Queen Victoria and President Harrison. In the evening a reception was given in the Guild House in honor of the visitors.

Gave Her Twin Babies the Wrong Medicine.

SCRANTON, July 28.—The twin babies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Egbert, of Taylorville, died yesterday two hours after their mother gave them a dose of medicine by mistake. They were only a month old. On Friday a druggist put up a prescription for the babies, and also one for the mother. Both were carefully compounded. The mother gave the medicine intended for herself to her babies, administering, however, only half the dose. The death of the babies quickly followed.

Great Destruction of Timber by Insect Borers.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 28.—According to an official report just issued, the destructive bark and timber beetles, classified as scolytidæ, have destroyed many thousands of acres of what was once valuable and handsome black spruce timber, particularly along the sides of Cheat Mountains. These black spruce forests cover 800 square miles of territory, and the work of the insects has been going on among them for three years past. On cuttingin to the trees a careful examination shows the insects by the hundreds. They have mined through the bark and into the wood, thus checking the flow of sap, and ultimately killing the trees. The discovery has also been made that swarms of gnats are preying on the borers, and it is thought that this provision of nature will delay, if not entirely stop, the killing of the spruces. The value of the trees already killed is estimated at the very lowest as $1,500,000.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HEALTH.

She Is Said To Be Too Feeble to Return Wilhelm's Visit.

LONDON, July 28.—A rumor that Queen Victoria has accepted an invitation from Kaiser Wilhelm to go to Berlin on a visit has naturally arisen from the Kaiser's visit here, as may readily be surmised, but it is absolutely untrue The Queen is personally indisposed, and to no light extent, and is physically quite unfit to undergo the fatigues of a royal reception at Berlin.

During the Kaiser's visit here her majesty required the most careful nursing during the brief spells of the semi-public receptions in order to enable her to go through them all. Personages of the court know how glad the Queen herself and her attendants and her medical advisers were when the royal functions were finally over.

Parnell Must Pay.

LONDON, July 28.—The registrar in the Bankruptcy Court to-day held that Parnell's objection to O'Shea's notice to pay the costs in the recent divorce suit on the ground that he was not a resident in England was untenable. It is still open to Parnell to appeal, otherwise he must pay the costs or be declared a bankrupt.

POWELL'S

BANKRUPT SALE

Summer trade will soon be over. We want to make some strong and lasting impressions on buyers of Drygoods before we bid good-bye to the summer season. We want everybody in London and within 50 miles of London to read about the wonders in prices at Powell's Old Stand.

1st—Please read about this and don't forget this wonderful price for this week. Every piece of No. 27 Ribbon, which is 2½ inches wide, of which we have hundreds and hundreds of yards, even thousands of yards, all of the Ribbon, and all of this No. 27, will be sold by us this week for 3½c per yard. What will wholesale millinery men say at this price? We simply say there is not a wholesale millinery house in Western Ontario that you can buy the same Ribbon from under 10c per yard wholesale. We sell cheap, and we want every person to know about it.

2nd—Corsets—Don't forget Powell's Old Stand for Corsets. The celebrated C. P. Corsets 75c. See if you can buy this Corset elsewhere under $1? Come and ask our price for the B. C. Corset, also please remember you will save from 12c to 30c on every pair of Corsets you buy at Powell's Old Stand.

3rd—The price of every Parasol will be cut straight in two. All $6 Parasols for $3, all $5 Parasols for $2 50, all $4 Parasols for $2, all $3 Parasols for $1 50. This is death to the Parasol trade, but it's money we want, not Parasols, therefore you can depend on getting your Parasols at half price at Powell's Old Stand.

4th—Please remember Millinery Goods and Hats and Bonnets are being sold at just one-quarter former price at Powell's Old Stand. These low prices have kept trade booming in the Millinery trade.

5th—This is the wonder of all wonders of cheap goods. Every lady should see these goods at once, viz: Colored Silk Grenadine with Satin Brocade and Satin Stripes. Every piece worth $1. They all go this week for 27c. If you don't want them come and see them.

6th—Remember we sell all 60c Bengalines, in both plain and fancy, at 35c per yard.

7th—About 15 pieces left of those fine 20c Sateens, which we are selling for just common Print prices viz, 12½c per yard.

8th—Let no lady forget that she can buy Hosiery for herself and family and Gloves and Silk Lace Mitts for just half price at Powell's Old Stand.

9th—Householders and heads of families please don't forget that we are selling from a wholesale bankrupt stock of Lace Curtains, also a big lot of fine Wool Blankets. All who want such goods at about half regular price should come at once to Powell's Old Stand.

We close our list this day and say we have Silks and Black Merves, Cottons, Flannelette, Cottonades, Table Linens, Black Henriettas and hundreds of other lines of fine goods that are all being sold at about half regular prices. Why should any one pay long prices when the best of goods imported into this country are sold at about half price at EAST BUFFALO, N. Y.

EAST BUFFALO, July 28.—Cattle—Fresh arrivals of sale stock 3 cars to-day, but with the delayed stock and what held over there were 70 loads on sale. For fair, good to medium steers of 1,250 to 1,350 lbs, only $4 65 to $5 could be obtained for the best, and if at all coarse or green fully 25c per cwt lower than these prices. The market weakened a full quarter before the close on Monday, and there was no improvement to-day. Good medium weights of 1,000 to 1,100 lbs, slow at $3 40 to $4 25. Feeders also were lower, if not of prime, smooth quality selling down to $2 75 to $3 25, a good many of fairly good quality held over. The supply of calves about 600 head; the market weakened from the early sales and all but the very best lots were lower; good to prime veals brought $5 25 to $5 50; common to fair, $4 25 to $5; heavy-fed calves, $2 75 to $3 25.
Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 3 cars; the market was quiet and only a few odd lots and one load of Kentucky lambs of 58 lbs at $4 50 were sold; only one load of good lambs on sale, and up to a late hour they were not sold.
Hogs—Receipts 3 cars, but fully twelve loads of yesterday's receipts held over; the market was very dull and only a few good corn-fed of 174 to 180 pounds sold at $5 85 to $5 90, and a few grassers at $5 25 to $5 50, about all the others holding over.

TRADE IN SCOTLAND.

EDINBURGH, July 18.—John Swan & Son's weekly report says: There have been slightly smaller supplies of home fed fat cattle on offer, which met a trade similar to that of last week. There was a considerable number of English buyers present, but except to a limited extent they were unable to compete with the home demand. There was a large lot of Canadian cattle in Glasgow, which in point of quality were a very good lot. They met a fairly good trade, a considerable number being bought for short keep. Supplies from the States have been about 780 cattle, which are reported to have met a fairly good trade. The supplies of fat sheep and lambs in Edinburgh were rather larger and in Glasgow much larger than the previous week. In the former market a fair demand was experienced, and prices were as near as possible similar to last week, but in Glasgow, owing to its being holiday week, the demand was very quiet and prices would suffer a fall of about 2s 6d a head all round. Calves have again been a large show, and they made quite as much money. Pigs met a better demand at decidedly higher prices. The number of store cattle and sheep on offer has been exceedingly small, and about previous prices were obtained. Milch cows were shown in small numbers, and for the best class a better demand was experienced at 2?s a head more money. Secondary made last week's prices.
Best beef, 8s 9d to 9s; exceptional, 9s 3d; secondary, 8s 3d to 8s 6d per stone.
Best mutton, 8d to quite 8½d; secondary, 7½d; ewes, 6½d to 7½d per lb.

He Fell Among Thieves

With that and a nod the young man was gone. The hall-porter, casting his eye over the paper placed in his hand, turned again to the man in the go-cart.

"Mr. Gilfoil," he said, "your name is here. Mr. Morton's secretary has just put the list into my hands."

"That's all right," said Mr. Gilfoil. "You've got a lift, I reckon. Where is it?"

"This way, sir."

Mr. Gilfoil set his little wheeled chair in dexterous motion, and followed the man's footsteps. M. Vergueil ceased his interested study and walked quietly upstairs. He went so leisurely that the man in the go-cart had been admitted to Mr. Ronald Morton's rooms before the detective had entered the corridor.

Harry Wynne stood in the center of the room to receive his visitor, and when the waiter opened the door Mr. Gilfoil steered deftly into the apartment. The door closed behind him, and the two were left alone. The paralytic sat in his chair with one blanched hand on either side of the handles by which its mechanism was moved, cocking his porcelain blue eyes upwards at the other's face.

"You're backing down a little, are you, William?" he said in a tone of dry satiric triumph.

Harry returned no answer, but studied his man with a look of calm inquiry. The man studied him in answer, pressing upon him a daring and insolent gaze.

"You can stand where you are, William," he said, after staring at him for perhaps half a minute. "I'll take a tower of observation round you."

He set his wheeled chair in motion, threading noiselessly among chairs and tables, and keeping his eye fixed upon his supposed recalcitrant confederate. A mere flash of amusement lit Harry's eyes as the examiner passed behind him, but by the time Mr. Gilfoil came round to his starting place he had gone as impassive as before.

"You would appear to be interested in my personal appearance, Mr. Gilfoil," he said quietly.

"I am that," Mr. Gilfoil responded, and continued his scrutiny. "You've altered, William, and I ain't a bit surprised that you thought you could bluff us. You might 'a' done it too, I don't mind telling you, if you'd had the nous to take a new alias. You wouldn't let out much to Peter this morning, but it wasn't like you to leave them bonds about, was it, William?"

His wicked blue eye bored at the supposed William like a gimlet.

"You and your comrades, Mr. Gilfoil," Harry answered him, "seem to have a curious love of mystery. A Captain Heaton, who announced himself as your friend, was here this morning, and offered me a great number of mysterious inuendoes. I besought him to speak plainly, but it was all of no avail. He persisted in all manner of vague evasions, and I want to tell you now, Mr. Gilfoil, that I am prepared to call a spade a spade, and that I expect you, in your dealings with me, to display a similar candor. What do you want from me?"

Mr. Gilfoil wheeled his chair a foot or two nearer, and motioned to a seat.

"Sit down there," he said. "I don't know what kind o' game you're playing, but you ain't going to give me away if I can help it. You ain't gone deaf, have you, William? You don't want hailing through a speaking trumpet. Bend your head down."

Harry did as he was told. The little paralytic looked viperous enough to give him a touch of actual physical distaste for nearness, but he had not been accustomed to stick at trifles in that direction.

"There is nobody, so far as I know, to overhear us, but you may speak as quietly as you please. Only tell me in plain English what you want."

"D'ye see this?" whispered Gilfoil with a sudden and intensely savage gesture of his blanched hands, which seemed to take in himself from head to feet.

"I see," Harry responded.

"You see," returned Mr. Gilfoil, growing cold as suddenly as he had grown hot; "and bitter little you care when you do see. You ask me what I want, and I'm going to tell you. I want payment for seven years' solitary confinement with hard labor in this machine. I want to be paid for a paralyzed spine and legs that ain't no use to me. You got off scot free, William, and I didn't. When we dropped off that there train together you fell soft and I fell hard, and now you're going to fall hard and I'm going to fall soft if I know how to. Now don't you make any mistake about that, William, because it's so."

"What will be will be, Mr. Gilfoil," said Harry. "We shall see."

"Now I won't take any Mr. Gilfoiling from you," the cripple answered with that tendency to fly irritably off at any tangent which sufferers of his kind so commonly display. "My name's Gilead, and I'll trouble you to call me by it."

"If you insist upon it, Gilead."

Mr. Gilfoil was far from being mollified by this concession, and fixed a venomous eye upon his companion, as if he would willingly have done him any cruel mischief, and was only held back from it by his own impotence.

"You got off with the coin," he said, "and I got off with a paralyzed spine and legs that ain't no use to me. I thought you meant to be square, and if you didn't, I'm blamed if I know now what made you pick me up and carry me three miles to that thundering cutter. If you meant to keep your claws on everything you'd have found it a safer game to leave me there. I should have split in that case to be sure, but they wouldn't have given you more than fourteen or fifteen years, and you'll be worse off than that, William, if you try to get around me now. My share's half. You can arrange afterwards with the Co. as you like. They're poor cattle, Hump and Peter and Butterfield are, and that's a fact. You've got the bonds in your hands. They were seen here this morning. We'll go over 'em now, if you please, and I'll take half of 'em."

At the shock of this discovery Harry rose to his feet and took a step or two across the room.

"Yes, sir," said Mr. Gilfoil, reading these signs in his own way, "it was a greenhorn's trick to leave 'em open on the table. It wasn't a bit like you. But the captain saw 'em, and he's got the numbers. Fetch 'em out, and let's have a look at 'em."

"Can't you give me a chance to be honest, Gilead?" said Harry. With this complete revelation of the people implicated his last shred of unwillingness to play the part of William Reid vanished. He accepted the position frankly, and set quick wits to work to choose the most natural standpoint. "What do you think I went away for seven years for, Gilead?"

"Well if you ask me," said Gilead, "I should say it was because you hadn't got the pluck to come home again. There were a heap of kind inquiries after you."

"Suppose I had had about enough of it, Gilead? Suppose I'd made up my mind that the game wasn't worth the candle. Suppose I said to myself 'I'll start fresh, make an honest name, and cut the old gang altogether.' Suppose——"

"You're doin' a pile o' supposing," interjected Gilead. "Suppose I suppose a little. S'pose you stop all this tommy rot and hand all them bonds out."

"Suppose I don't?" answered Harry. "Suppose I hand them to the rightful owners?"

"I'm the rightful owner of one half of 'em," Gilfoil answered, "and I'm going to have what belongs to me. As to you turning honest, William, I shall believe that when I see the Tower o' London floating in mid-Atlantic. Honest! Why you're enough to turn the stomach of a hog. Takes up with honesty, and wants to cheat his old pal. A fine old honest seven years you've been having, I'll bet. You couldn't bring the blooming desert with you, could you William? but I guess you cleaned it out. The next white man that goes there won't find many pickings left. I wouldn't bear a family resemblance to you and travel in them parts, not much I wouldn't. Honest! Here, you've got a drink of something on the premises? Let me get the taste of that out of my mouth."

He wheeled his chair to a sideboard, and helped himself from a decanter and a syphon which stood there, and having drunk with an air of indignant disgust, returned.

"Look here," he began again, "when I want that kind of stuff thrown at me I'll stick up a sign-board telling the folks that rubbish can be shot there. Fetch them bonds out."

"Of what use will they be to you, Gilead?" Harry asked, beginning to find a certain grim humor in the situation, and rather to his own surprise enjoying it.

"That's my business," Gilead responded. "We ain't so all-fired clever as you are, but we have managed to do a bit of business in your absence, William. We're doing a bit now, and if you didn't want to play these mule games we could make it worth while to be in it, big bug as you're grown."

Harry drew his chair a little closer, and surpressing a fleeting desire to take Mr. Gilfoil by the throat and shake the life out of him, spoke with a semblance of awakened interest.

"Could you really, Gilead!"

"Yes, sirree, I could," Gilead answered. "The first thing you've got to do is to plank out them bonds."

"Come now, Gilead," said Harry, "what's the new game?"

"We'll wind up the old one first," said the tenacious Gilead. "Fork out them bonds."

"I don't think I shall do that yet, Gilead," Harry answered; "but if you have anything big enough to tempt me——"

"We'll talk about that afterwards," Mr. Gilfoil interposed, and his wicked white face close to his companion's.

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a prescription for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early? Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

The Plumbers All Right.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: Seeing in your issue of Thursday last that the employers made a complaint that the plumbers on strike were doing work not according to the rules of their union, we beg to contradict the same by stating that the plumbers doing work have each got a permit from the president of the union to do work and are all getting the wages demanded, viz., 25 cents per hour and Saturday afternoon off. The lecture room of the Young Men's Christian Association was filled to overflowing Tuesday afternoon by the "drummers" of the city to hear Sam Grigg, the late proprietor of the Grigg House at London, tell the story of his present interest in Christianity. From being a vendor of whisky he has become a warm advocate of the Bible, and as a result of the change of heart he experienced through attending a meeting for men held by Mr. Moody he has given up the hotel business. Death of Mr. James Burr.

Mr. James Burr, an old and respected resident, died somewhat suddenly at the family residence, 521 Pall Mall street, Monday. A blood vessel in his head was ruptured at noon, and he passed away about 6 o'clock. Deceased came from Aberdeen, Scotland, almost direct to this city, in which he had lived 41 years. He was formerly bookkeeper in Murray Anderson's establishment, and latterly has been with John Elliot & Co. Besides a widow he leaves nine children, as follows: Alexander and George, of this city; James, of Omaha; William, of Chicago; Mrs. Charles Ruse, of this city; Mrs. Purdom, of Chicago; Mrs. W. C. Forsythe, of Mozier, Oregon; and Misses Jessie and Maggie, of this city. Mr. Burr was 67 years of age at the time of his death. His integrity of character, long residence and social disposition had gained for him a large circle of intimate friends in the city, all of whom will hear of his demise with profound sorrow. As a prominent member of St. James' Presbyterian Church, his life was that of a consistent Christian. The bereaved family have the assurance of general sympathy.

He Did Not Call.

The man who tried Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and was sure of the $500 reward offered by the proprietors for an incurable case, never called for his money. Why not? O, because he got cured! He was sure of two things: (1) That his catarrh could not be cured. (2) That he would have that $500. He is now sure of one thing, and that is, that his catarrh is gone completely. So he is out $500, of course. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have faith in their ability to cure the worst cases of Nasal Catarrh, no matter of how long standing, and attest their faith by their standing reward of $500, offered for many years past, for an incurable case of this loathsome and dangerous disease. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents. Mild, soothing, cleansing, deodorizing, antiseptic and healing.

A TRAVELER.

I have traveled the wide world over. In India, where I lived for years, I became afflicted with corns and bunions; and that more terrible disease of the feet by which so many natives are crippled, and known in India as "SAND FEET!" I have lain in the hospitals for weeks under the best medical treatment, from which I received little or no benefit, and was all but reconciled to suffer for the remainder of my life, when happily I came across that great benefaction of this 19th century, popularly known as BARKWELL'S SURE CORN CURE. You will say I am very loud in my praise, Mr. Editor, but I have every reason to be so, and would be very ungrateful if I were not. I got a bottle three years ago and it cured me completely when everything else failed. I have every faith in Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure, and my wife and I publish it as far as we can. If Mr. Barkwell lived in India he would make a fortune out of his Corn Cure; and I am happy to subscribe my name.

A PORTRAIT.

[From the Washington Post.]

A face and a form of rare femininity,
A sweetheart, a charm, a tease, an affinity;
An intellect keen, yet escaping precocity;
A figure quite free from the least ponderosity;
A step swift and sure to the verge of velocity
Which isn't the case where there's much adiposity.
Soft fabrics all filmy and fine to tenuity,
Concealing just now, with a coy ambiguity;
Revealing again with entrancing impunity
Enough to enrapture the entire community.
Her manners as modest in sweet spontaneity
As her dress is a dream of fair draphaneity;
Grace, beauty and charm, an adorable trinity,
Are the sweet Summer Girls, our Solstitial Divinity.

IN AWFUL AGONY.

Heartrending Scenes at an Explosion of Chemical Works.

LONDON, July 28.—Heartrending scenes have been witnessed at Gateshead, where the condensers of the chemical works collapsed, causing the death of six workmen and the injury of several others. The bursting of the condensers shattered the building and caused the huge chimneys to topple over. It was the falling of these masses of brick and stone that crushed the victims. One of the injured men is still pinned down by the debris, having suffered agony for ten hours, during which time hundreds of rescuers have been trying in vain to release him. The unfortunate man is so held down that every effort to extricate him adds to his sufferings, and he prays to be let alone to die in peace. All that can be done is to give him tea and brandy, without which stimulant he would have succumbed ere this. The wrecked building is surrounded by an excited and lamenting throng.

TREACHEROUS WATERS.

Two Drowning Accidents in the Northwest—Five Hamilton Boys Have a Narrow Escape.

WINNIPEG, July 28.—News comes from Fort Francis of the drowning of Robert Wilson at Manitow Rapids on Friday. The steamer Shamrock was on her trip up and Capt. Lewis and Wilson were in the attempt of getting out a line to help tow the steamer over the rapids when the yawl got upset and Wilson was drowned. He formerly came from Arnprior.

The little daughter, aged 3, of Lieut.-Col. Boswell, of the Ninetieth Rifles, this city, was drowned at Rat Portage Monday while bathing in the Lake of the Woods.

HAMILTON, July 28.—There was almost another drowning accident here on Sunday. Five boys—John Robb, E. O'Grady, Fred Diamond, Wm. O'Grady and J. Forbes—went out in a small yacht. They succeeded in reaching the Beach, but on returning the yacht went over and the lads were thrown into the water. They clung to the boat for an hour before being rescued by the crew of the Psyche, much exhausted.

Protect yourself when washing, by washing with Pearline. Your hands will be kept in perfect shape; everything washable will be kept from injury. It keeps your clothes from being worn out in the wash; it keeps you from wearing yourself out in washing them. If you mean to get the best, get Pearline; nothing else gets the best of dirt so easily. Use the imitations and they will get the best of you.

Think a Moment — Would it be necessary to peddle the imitations if they were as good as Pearline? Why do they select names ending in INE?
