Adopted by Farmer From Mysterious Woman—Claim for Reward.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wallaceburg, June 4.—A sensation broke loose in this district today when it became known that for some time Myles Griffiths, a farmer residing on the Lower Sydenham, had in his keeping a boy who is believed to be Warren McCarrick, the 7-year-old son of a Philadelphia millionaire, who disappeared early in March.

Saw Picture in Paper.
Byron Fisher who lives nearby, picked up a Cleveland paper containing a picture of the McCarrick boy. The boy at the Griffiths place is said to bear striking resemblance to the McCarrick boy, and it was said that the boy had been given by a mysterious woman from Detroit to Mr. Griffiths, for adoption.

When Mr. Fisher saw the paper he gave the alarm, and it is said claimed the $6,000 reward that has been offered for the recovery of the little fellow.

This morning it was said that the boy had been taken away from the Griffiths home to Chatham. It was not known why this was done.

Several newspapermen are here trying to verify the story of the boy's identity. Although it is said the description tallies in every way with that of the missing boy, Dr. W. W. Hay, of Wallaceburg, says that he attended the boy on March 16 at Griffiths' and that he was in a very dirty condition.

The boy disappeared from his home on March 12, and the doctor does not believe that he could have got into such a condition in a few days.

Travelling a Long Time.
Every effort is made to establish the boy's identity. When he arrived he said he had been travelling for a long time, but did not know where from.

Mr. Fisher has telegraphed his claim to the authorities and someone will come to have a look at him.

That the Griffiths may enter a prior claim and for this reason the boy has been taken away was hinted at this morning.

CRITICIZE BOARD FOR ALLOWING THE PICNIC TO GO ON

General Censure for Action in Not Postponing Spring-bank Trip.

MANY KEPT AT HOME

Parents Refuse to Allow Children to Go to Rain-Soaked Park.

Better that the school children of London should have been given a week's holidays in fair weather than to have sent them to Springbank on a day such as this. Such was the effect of a criticism heard everywhere on the streets today after it was known that the flower of London had been packed into cars during a pouring rain and sent to a water-soaked park to ramble on damp grass and catch "their death of colds."

Although it was argued by school trustees that the children could not be disappointed, it was believed by many that even if the cake-making and the pie-baking had to be done all over again, the parents and children themselves would have been better pleased if the picnic had been postponed.

The trustees were warned this morning that there was every prospect of continued wet weather, and many of the children had decided that the picnic could not be held. Many parents refused to allow their children to go to the park; others permitted the outing reluctantly.

Vagrant Remanded—A vagrant, who gave his name as Frederick Arthur, was remanded for a week by Squire Chittick this morning at the court house. The man was brought in from Alisa Creek early this morning by County Constable Priestly.

Governor Sir John Gibson and Lady Gibson arrived in London at 11:15 this morning in a private car attached to the regular C. P. R. train. They were met by Adam Beck, who took them to his home in his auto. A luncheon in their honor was given by Mr. and Mrs. Beck at noon. Among those present were Mayor Graham, Col. Gartshore, Magistrate Judd and members of the London Health Association and officers of the Ladies' Sanatorium Aid.

Immediately following the luncheon, the Lieutenant-Governor and his party were taken to Springbank Park, where at 2 o'clock he was received by the children and made a few remarks.

From the park the party proceeded by auto to Byron Sanatorium, where the governor opened the preventorium at 3 o'clock.

ATTEMPT TO FORCE MILEAGE CAUSE OF P. M. REDUCTION

Company Said to Have Cut
Trains Off as Result of High-Handed Act.

COMMISSIONERS BLAMED

Tried to Force Railway to Pay Rental and Mileage Rate.

The decision of the Pere Marquette to cut off its trains to London from Walkerville, and to Walkerville from London, has caused much comment among the travelling public.

Four crews, comprising five men each, will not come to the city hereafter and already an order has been given for the cutting off of the car cleaners and roundhouse men.

The Pere Marquette came to the decision, it is stated by good authority, because members of the Port Stanley commission sought to force the Pere Marquette to pay a mileage rate on all trains from outside points in addition to the rental paid for the London and Port Stanley Road. The Pere Marquette officials considered this a high-handed proceeding and stated that if London cared no more about securing this connection the trains would be cut off. The new time card has been prepared for the cutting off of the trains on June 21.

At St. Thomas.

The Pere Marquette will not stop its excursions at the downtown station, according to the latest information. It will be necessary for those anxious to make a wait at St. Thomas of at least one hour. For instance, it will be necessary for travellers to leave at 5:40 on an excursion train and wait in St. Thomas until the train for the West leaves about 7:30.

So far as could be learned, no effort has been made to keep the trains on the London schedule. There has been some talk of a petition being presented, but nothing definite has been heard of it. The Pere Marquette men who are affected by the change are preparing to leave the city, most of them owning their homes here at present.

COMMONS VOTES TO REPAY DEPOSITORS OF FARMERS' BANK

Division, Not on Strictly Party
Lines, Gives Thirty-Eight Majority.

POOR CHANCE IN SENATE

E. W. Nesbitt, Supporting It, Explains He Does So for Humanitarian Reasons.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 4.—Parliament voted this morning at half-past three that the depositors of the Farmers' Bank shall be paid $1,200,000 from the Dominion treasury to repay them the money which they placed on deposit several years ago.

The division did not follow strictly party lines. Mr. Lamarche, who ordinarily votes with the Government, declared that he would not vote against it on this occasion, because he was paired, but if he had been free he would have voted for A. K. MacLean's six months' hold of the bill. E. W. Nesbitt, of North Oxford; D. Ross, of Middlesex; and J. A. McMullen, of Glenora, members of the Liberal following, voted for the bill.

Nesbitt's Reason.
Mr. Nesbitt explained that he had won his election against the principle of this proposal, but that the distressing situation of persons of his constituency who had lost their money through failure of the bank, compelled him to vote for the bill on humanitarian grounds, and not in condemnation of the action of the late government. "The two other Liberals did not speak, but it is known that the same sentiment influenced their votes. The Government carried its vote in the Commons by a majority of 38.

It is understood that in the Senate the bill has poor chance of success.

Borden's Opinion.

The last speaker in the debate was Premier Borden, who maintained Finance Minister Fleming should not have issued the certificate, and that the Government was therefore morally bound to make good the losses. Mr. Borden spoke in the same way. Mr. Lamarche, however, said that in the case of Parliament should be guided by charity or equity. If equity controlled, the matter should be passed upon by the exchequer court, while if charity was the controlling influence, the Government should say so. As the Government did not do this, he would have to declare his opposition to the bill. Mr. Chisholm, of Antigonish, said that, although he was a Conservative, he could not subscribe to the principle which underlay the legislation, and would vote against the measure. The bill now stands at the committee stage in the Commons. It is expected that Hon. Mr. Loughheed will this afternoon state the Government's reasons for bringing forward the Canadian Northern legislation. This will mark the beginning of what is expected to be a debate of considerable length.

NO REDISTRIBUTION TILL NEXT SESSION

Hon. Robert Rogers Wanted
Liberal Committeemen to Support Measure—Irish Catholic Constituencies Robbed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 4.—There has been a hitch over redistribution, which at one time appeared to have fair prospects. Hon. Robert Rogers last night insisted that the Liberal members of the redistribution committee should all sign the report of the committee to Parliament and defended it in the House. As there are several glaring injustices in the bill, which the Conservative majority on the committee have prepared, the Liberals refused to place their signatures to the document.

Hon. Robert Rogers has decided that he is satisfied that he will withhold his next session and bring down one bill this session and will crucify Liberal members wherever he can reach them. For some reason the Government is making a dead set upon constituencies which are now represented by Irish catholic members. They insist that the large and historic constituency of Russell, which is represented by the Hon. Charles Murphy, shall be wiped out. They insist that Richmond, Nova Scotia, shall disappear, and they have wiped out the Quebec seat which is represented by William Power.

The Conservative members hope that next session they will control both houses of parliament and will be able to put through another sort of a redistribution that they may prepare.

HISTORY OF FORTY-FIVE CARS OF TIES FOR CITY'S RAILWAY

Purchased From Officials of Lake Erie Coal Company—
London Paying Heavy Demurrage Charges at Present.

The forty-five cars of ties received in this city for the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway were secured without the calling of tenders, from Messrs. Wolcott & Fleming and others connected with the Lake Erie Coal Company. They were unloaded at Sarnia instead of being carried to Port Stanley by boat and brought over the city's line, although the water route would have been cheaper than bringing the ties by rail from Sarnia via the Pere Marquette. At the present time the City of London is running up a bill of $46 a day in car rentals, each car being charged $1 a day demurrage after delivery. The ties cost about $25,000 it is stated.

It is understood that the ties were purchased by the order of Hon. Adam Beck, and that tenders were not called for through the London and Port Stanley commission. The company which secured the order is made up of the old officials of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, who at present are interested in the Lake Erie Coal Company, which handles a large amount of the coal that is shipped over the London and Port Stanley Railway.

ANOTHER SEAT TO BE FOUND FOR DR. REAUME

Premier Whitney Anxious to Keep Him in Cabinet, It Is Said.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, June 4.—Another seat will be found for Dr. Reaume, rejected by the North Essex convention, and he will again be Minister of Public Works if the Government is sustained on June 29. Sir James Whitney, it is said, considers Dr. Reaume an essential part of his cabinet, and his colleagues have also decided he is the man for the Public Works Department. Another constituency may be found for him, or another convention may be called, for it is claimed that the convention from which Dr. Reaume withdrew his name, some districts were not represented.

5,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN DEFY JUPITER PLOUVIUS IN PICNIC'S ENJOYMENT

School Board Decides to Let It Go on Despite Rain and Kiddies Stream
Down to Springbank.

EARLY WEATHER CONSULTATION

The dawn of June 4 was ushered in this morning by the early activities of 8,000 school children, who for the past month have been planning for the school picnic at Springbank Park. Many passed a feverish night in anticipation of the great day's sport. The teachers' instructions on behavior, rehearsal of songs and other features had impressed the day indelibly on their young minds.

Rain No Barrier.
C. E. Kings, of the street railway, who assumed the responsibility of transporting the children to the park, was up at 4:30 this morning scanning the sky and telegraphing to the weather stations in Ontario, to get a line on the weather for the day. These were not reassuring so he called up W. W. Gammage, chairman of the car committee at 5 o'clock and held a conference. Inspector of Schools Edward M. McElheran and members of the board were drawn into the consultation at 6 o'clock, when the gloomy sky boded ill for the day's sport. Manager Kings agreed to hold the cars back until the weather brightened and called upon the principals and teachers for opinions on postponing the picnic until tomorrow. Their reports were final and to the point. "They were in brief that too much preparation had been made for the day and to postpone would be too bitter a disappointment to the pupils."

The Clouds Break.
From 8 to 9:30 there was a break in the clouds and it looked as though a might clear up, so Mr. Gammage issued the order that set the cars in motion toward Springbank and from then until noon the pupils were rushed to the park an hour and a half behind the original schedule.

About the time, however, that a majority of the pupils and their teachers arrived at the park, it commenced to rain and they had to find shelter in the pavilion and the few buildings on the grounds, where they could retire from the rain.

The rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the occasion, though, and pupils with lusty voices made the park ring with their excitement. Noon lunch was strictly a family affair in the large pavilion, which was crowded to its capacity to care for the hungry. Overflow crowds sought shelter under the trees and in various shelters about the grounds.

Games Called Off.

Chairman W. T. Strong, of the sports committee, called off all the outdoor sports when he arrived at the park this afternoon, on account of wet grounds. The games scheduled between St. George's and the Princess avenue schools were run off this morning, but all other schools will have their sports program on their own grounds tomorrow afternoon.

An Estimate of Six Thousand.

Mr. Strong estimated the number at the park this afternoon to be 6,000. Despite the drizzling rain which was falling, every car brought more pupils and grown folks. The pavilion was too small to house all the picnicers, and many ate their lunch in the wet grass. The merry-go-round and swings were freely patronized and everyone endeavored to have as good a time as the weather permitted.

'I Was Dead' He Sorrowfully Said

Benjamin Stennings Springs a New One to Explain Court Appearance.

"I was dead," said Benjamin Stennings, in an unsteady voice to Magistrate Judd in police court this morning.

"Dead?"

"Yes. Just woke up alive this morning," said Stennings. He showed the magistrate a scar on his throat.

"Yes, they cut off my head. I was dead," he explained.

"You were dead drunk. I guess you have been drinking whiskey," said the magistrate. Stennings was remanded until tomorrow. He was arrested early this morning in East London.

LABOR MEN WILL HAVE CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

Council Member Says Adam Beck is Not as Strong as is Thought.

CONVENTION FOR 20TH

Labor Societies Here May Cooperate in Getting Behind Representative.

HYDRO GRIEVANCE AIRED

Seemingly Ignoring of Demands for More Pay Causes Dissatisfaction Among Linemen.

Unanimously deciding in favor of nominating a Labor candidate to contest the provincial election for London, the Trades and Labor Council last night called a Labor convention for June 20, and instructed the secretary to notify all affiliated unions and all other Labor organizations in the city to send three representatives to the convention. The motion was introduced by John D. Jacobs, who expressed the opinion that Hon. Adam Beck was not at the present time as strong a man as some people thought he was. It was time the workingmen began to realize who were their best friends.

Sack Co-Operation.

He proposed that all the locals call special meetings, appoint representatives to assist in defraying the expenses of the campaign. Delegate Higgins suggested that the co-operation of all Labor organizations in the city, including the Social Labor parties, be secured, and the motion was enthusiastically carried by a unanimous vote.

Hydro Grievance Aired.

Immediately afterwards, Delegate Ingles, of the Electrical Workers, brought up the grievance of the hydro men. The union had been informed, he said, that the demand for increased pay would be considered at a meeting of the board of managers and superintendents of the Ontario municipalities. He didn't see what the managers in other cities had to do with the situation in London. It had been impossible to find out when that board would meet, and he doubted whether it would meet at all. Hence the appeal to the department of labor for a board of arbitration.

Charges Private Owners

"They say hydro is a Govt-owned proposition," he said.

SYMPATHIZES WITH RELATIVES OF VICTIMS

Trades and Labor Council
Passes Resolution of Condolence Last Night.

London Trades and Labor Council last night passed a resolution of condolence and sympathy with the relatives of the passengers lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster. Delegate E. J. Norman introduced the motion, which was seconded by Delegate W. Burley. Reference was made to the loss of Fred Laskey, a member of the brewery workers' local.

Frank Vann, maltmaster at Labatt's brewery, received a telegram yesterday from James Coade, who went to Quebec to ascertain whether Mr. Laskey was rescued or lost, to the effect that all hope of his safety had been abandoned, and that he, Mr. Coade, was waiting to identify Mr. Laskey's body if recovered.

Reference was also made to the death of Mrs. Cotterill, whose sons were members of local unions, and to the loss of the family of Peter Russell.

The late Fred Laskey was on his way to Exeter, Devonshire, England, to revisit his boyhood home. He was 28 years of age on the morning of the disaster.

ANXIOUSLY AWAITING MIDDLESEX PARTY

No Word Has Been Received of Date of Arrival in London.

Immigration Agent John Riggs and officers of the Middlesex Publicity Association are anxiously awaiting word of J. Benstead, who called President S. F. Glass, M. P., that he was sailing on May 15 with a first-class company of farm laborers. This was nearly a month ago, and since then no further communication has been received from Mr. Benstead. Middlesex farmers are eagerly awaiting Mr. Benstead's arrival, as they are greatly in need of farm help. It is thought, for some reason, he must have changed the date of his sailing.

LABOR COUNCIL IS AGAINST CARNEGIE

Passes Resolution Registering
Objection to Library Board
Accepting Grant.

"JIMMY" SIMPSON COMING
Toronto Controller to Address
Sunday Meeting in London.

"Jimmy" Simpson, Socialist, politician, and controller for the city of Toronto, is to speak in London one week from Sunday. James will speak in the Unique Theatre in the afternoon, and in the evening will emulate the Hyde Park orators of old London over the herring-poult, by mounting a chair or a soap-box on Covent Garden Market Square. The announcement was made at the Trade and Labor Council last night and was received with considerable interest.

Voted Aid to Miners.
The T. and L. Council voted $10 to the fund for the benefit of the Colorado miners, in response to an appeal from the United Mine Workers of America. Delegate H. Rymill supported the contribution, and characterized the recent slaughter of the inhabitants of the Ludlow tent colony as a disgrace to the State of Colorado.

"One of the most dastardly crimes ever perpetrated against labor," said Delegate Keats.

A communication from the Hamilton Industrial Exposition was criticised because the stationery lacked the union label. Attention will be called to this label. Attention will be called to this label. Attention will be called to this label.

Reports On Convention.
Delegate W. Burley reported on the Ontario Educational Association convention in St. Thomas. Following his report a motion was carried to send a resolution to the provincial government asking that a working-man be placed on the compensation commission.

Plans were discussed for boosting the T. and L. excursion to Toronto on June 13.

Delegate Francisco reported that the cigarmakers had decided to support the Porto Rico tobacco growers in the trouble between the latter and the American tobacco trust. The T. and L. will consider the matter again.

John Thompson Heard.
Ex-City Councillor John Thompson, of Salford, Manchester, England, addressed the council on the need of labor representation in legislature and Parliament, and also the desirability of organizing unskilled labor to obviate it being used against skilled labor in the attempt to break strikes. Labor representation in the British Parliament, and the organization of unskilled workers, had greatly improved the conditions of labor in England, said Mr. Thompson. He was secretary of the Dockers' union at the time of the great dock strike some years ago. He made a strong argument for putting a labor candidate into the field on June 23.

Against Carnegie Grant.
Delegate Allen Eadie registered a strong objection against the London library board making a bid "for some of Carnegie's bloodstained money." He said not, he said, remind the men present of the Home-steel massacre, or how Andrew Carnegie had accumulated his wealth.

Delegates from the carpenters and cigarmakers stated that their unions were already on record against accepting any Carnegie grants for London's proposed new library. It was pointed out that the trade and labor council had also on a previous occasion passed a resolution to this effect.

"Pass it again," said the delegates in chorus. "You can't make it too strong from the workingmen's standpoint," said Delegate Eadie.

Discuss Foreigners.
Delegate J. E. Secker said he had been informed that Industrial Commissioner Philip was sending out circulars to manufacturers asking whether they wanted foreign mechanics, which he could secure for them if they were willing to pay their passage money. Delegate Hill said he wanted to know about the load of foreigners brought in Tuesday night to work on the storm sewers and who were boarding down at Ridout and King street. There were lots of Canadian laborers out of work.

The broom-makers read a list of grocery stores where union brooms are on sale, after which an adjournment was moved.

MUST OBEY RULES

Householders Have To Live Up To Regulations of Garbage Department.

W. C. Dodd, garbage superintendent said today that his department was having considerable trouble with householders who did not comply with the rules governing the free collection of garbage, which provide that each tenant or occupant of a house must have a water tight, metal covered can.

Postal notices were sent out some time ago, notifying tenants that their garbage would not be collected if they did not provide these cans for the collectors. Today other notices were sent out, informing scores of residents that their garbage would not be taken until these cans were provided. The second notices were the result of complaints, saying that the garbage was not being collected.

"They must comply with this rule," said Superintendent Dodd, "and their garbage will not be taken from their homes until they do comply."

"NOTHING DOING," SAYS ADAM BECK

No Meeting of Port Stanley Commission Has Been Called for This Week to Take Up Electrification.

No meeting of the Port Stanley commission has been called for this week, according to a statement of Adam Beck yesterday afternoon. Mr. Beck was reached at Bryon Sanatorium, where he went to superintend the opening of the prevention.

"Will the meetings be open?" asked the reporter.
"Can't say," said Mr. Beck.
"Will you meet this week?" he was asked.
"Not that I know of," he replied.
"We understand local members of the commission have been waiting for your return so a meeting could be called and action taken to hurry the work of electrification," the reporter said.
"There is nothing doing," replied Mr. Beck.

"Everyone seems to be awaiting your word in the matter."
"There is nothing doing," he said with some finality.

The reluctance of Mr. Beck to disclose the contemplated action of the Port Stanley commission comes as a surprise, members of the commission early in the week stated quite confidently that "when Mr. Beck got here things would be doing."

DEFENDANTS WIN IN DAMAGE SUIT

Jury Vindicates Hunt Bros. in Personal Injury Case—Last Jury Case Settled.

In the last jury case of the county court this session, Hunt Bros., coal and wood merchants, defendants in a damage suit brought by William C. Blake, were awarded the verdict, after the jury had been out for an hour and a half.

Blake was suing for unstated damages as a result of injuries sustained when he was run over by a sleigh owned by Hunt Bros., and driven by Edward E. Wilson. The accident took place at the corner of Bathurst and Colborne streets, on February 2 last.

The plaintiff stated that the sleigh was driven right up on the sidewalk, and that it was travelling at a high rate of speed, while the driver stated that the horse was walking and that the boy had run out onto the road, and was entirely to blame for the accident.

Unable to agree.

The petit jury of the county court was unable to decide yesterday morning whether Victor Hendricks intended to steal an overcoat from F. C. Buzzel when he took the coat from a train at Kerwood last February.

As soon as Mr. Buzzel missed his coat, he had the train stopped, and a search made. The coat was found behind a shed near the station, and the prisoner was seen making off from that vicinity. Hendricks admitted that he had taken the coat, but said that he was drunk and not in a condition to really know what he was doing.

The case will come up again at the next session.

RUMOR IS NOT BELIEVED

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, June 4.—High ecclesiastical authority gives no credence to a rumor circulated in Montreal and Quebec that the papal delegate to Canada, with headquarters at Ottawa, would be recalled as soon as His Eminence Cardinal Begin returns to his archiepiscopal city. The statement to the effect that the new prince of the church will take precedence over the other archbishops of Quebec and Canada, and will replace the delegate in so far as jurisdiction is concerned, is only true in part.

STORM ON THE LAKES

[Canadian Press.]
Duluth, Minn., June 4.—The head of the lakes was whipped by a severe wind, rain and fog storm last night and this morning. Shipping was delayed and one steamer, the C. E. Curtis, was driven ashore in St. Louis Bay. Tugs had her afloat at daylight. All vessels here are tied up. The waves are running high and the wind and rain continues, but are abating.

Rear Admiral Badger Advised of Report But Given No
New Orders.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, June 4.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department, sent a cablegram to Rear Admiral Badger late last night, informing him of the report that Huerta's minister of war had ordered federal gunboats to blockade Tampico.

Mr. Roosevelt said no new orders would be sent to Admiral Badger until the situation had been placed before President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

Mr. Roosevelt said no orders have been given to the American navy commanders as to treatment of the steamer Antilla, said to be carrying arms for Carranza, when she reaches Mexican waters. It was taken as an answer to the query as to whether American commanders would extend protection to the Antilla in case Huerta's gunboats attempt to waylay her.

FONT IN AMHERSTBURG CHURCH IS HUNDREDS OF YEARS OLD

This graceful vessel, now in a modest little church in Amherstburg, may prove to be one of the most valuable novelties of its kind in America, or even in Great Britain, when its history has been unfolded.

The above cut is a photographic reproduction of a little font adorning a corner in Christ Church (Anglican), Amherstburg. It was found among the debris of the historic sanctuary, while recent renovating was going on. The church itself was built about 1792, and the earthen vessel was probably carried over from England by one of the pioneer settlers in Canada in that period. It is distinctive in design, quality and workmanship.

Rev. Alfred Barclay Farney, the present rector, who has unearthed many interesting historic documents concerning his parish, has discovered that this piece of pottery has been accurately described in a technical article as the work of an English potter in 1536—three hundred and eighty-four years ago! In this case it would be a valuable oddity indeed. Mr. Farney roughly estimates its worth at $25,000.

In an indentation at base of the stem is a crest of St. Mary Magdalene.

Rev. Mr. Farney has written the authorities of Oxford University, describing his prize, and recently received a reply that it was "most interesting" and would be traced.

MILITANT MENACE IS GROWING BEYOND BOUNDS

How to Deal With It a Great Problem—King Stops Morning Ride.

LONDON, June 4.—How to deal with the growing menace of the militant suffragette agitation is becoming a problem of tremendous import, not only for the Government, but for the community at large. All efforts of their well wishers to persuade the militants that they are retarding, instead of advancing the cause, have been in vain; they are convinced that nothing but force will achieve their aims, and they have been applying themselves with renewed vigor to outrages.

Yesterday's list included the horsewhipping of the deputy-governor and medical officer of Holloway Jail, the partial destruction of two valuable pictures, an assault upon two editors, and the setting fire to a house in Belfast. And this takes no account of the daily petty annoyances in the shape of window breaking, the upsetting of political meetings, disturbances in churches and at theatrical and concert performances.

Cost of Protection Enormous.

The mere cost to the community for police and other protection against threatened outrages is becoming enormous, to say nothing of the actual damage done.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst now occupies a house overlooking Buckingham Palace, and the force police within the palace grounds has been increased.

King Ceases Morning Ride.

The King has ceased his daily morning canter in Hyde Park on account of militant activity.

It is understood that the law officers of the crown are considering whether action can be taken against the subscribers to the funds of the Women's Social and Political Union, a complete list of whom were seized at a recent raid on the Kingsway offices. It is suggested that if a charge of criminal conspiracy can be sustained against these subscribers, any person who has suffered damage, would have the right of civil action against the subscribers, jointly or severally for damages.

In this connection, however, it must be remembered that the suffragettes have strong financial supporters in the very highest ranks of society.

According to the Daily Mail the police have received information of a suffragette plot against the safety of Prince Henry, the King's third son, who is now at Eton, and Scotland Yard, taking a serious view of the matter, had sent special detectives to Eton to guard the Prince.

NEW GAS GUSHER AT OIL SPRINGS A WONDER

Capacity Estimated at Twelve Million Feet a Day—Near Fairbank's Well.

[Special to The Advertiser.] PETROLEA, June 3.—The new Oil Springs oil and gas gusher on the Wallen property is now estimated by Chief Driller A. Sutherland, at a capacity of 12,000,000 feet per day. Operations were stopped when an Advertiser representative arrived at the rig, which is only 400 feet almost directly south of the big Fairbank well.

C. W. Featherstone, who is an expert department driller and runs the "towers" with Mr. Sutherland, was at the rig and explained that they were moving the boiler from its first position to one 300 feet from the well, as there was great danger from fire. He stated that when the well had reached 1,900 feet they had become discouraged, as this was about 20 feet deeper than the Fairbank well, and reached sand. But at 1,906 feet, with both Sutherland and Featherstone at work and about 60 people standing around (as they expected gas then or never) a good flow was struck. This was about 5 o'clock.

Better Than Fairbank's Well.

Mr. Sutherland, who also drilled the big Fairbank well, states that the present well shows better than the latter at the same depth, and he would not be surprised if it ran 20,000,000 feet, for they have only gone a couple of inches into gas rock. This rock is porous and about 14 feet thick, so that when the well is put through, gas flows from all pores into the well, so that the deeper into the rock the well is drilled, the better the flow.

The Oil Springs Company, of which Reeve J. G. Anderson is a big stockholder, has almost all the land leased within a mile south and east, in which direction Mr. Featherstone stated that the vein runs, as the Sutherland well is evidently in some vein.

[Canadian Press.] London, June 4.—An order for the extradition on charges of alleged larceny and embezzlement was granted today by the magistrate at the Bow street extradition court against Thomas Adam Reid, a former employee of Chubb & Son, of New York. He was arrested here in April.

Reid mysteriously disappeared from New York on March 24 this year, and it is alleged that the books of which he was in charge at Chubb & Son showed an enormous shortage.

PAYING DEPOSITORS OF FARMERS' BANK IS PARTY POLITICS

Say Liberals in Condemning Bill Which Government Has Introduced.

AN ATTACK ON FIELDING

Hon. Mr. Lemieux Reminded Hon. Robert Rogers of Similar Acts.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 3.—The proposal of the Government to vote $1,200,000 to pay depositors of the Farmers' Bank the money they lost was continued throughout the whole sitting of parliament today. The division was looked for early in the evening, but long speeches deferred it far beyond the hour set. Liberal speakers declared that the measure was a piece of party politics without legal or moral basis, designed to catch the votes of the beneficiaries. The Conservative speakers argued that there was a moral responsibility to repay losses because the certificate for the bank had been issued by the late Government.

There was considerable plain speaking on both sides. Hon. Fielding Responsible. Mr. Morphy held that the Hon. W. Fielding had made the Laurier government morally responsible for the losses, which depositors in the Farmers' Bank had sustained by issuing a certificate to the bank, after he had been warned not to do so by a number of Conservative members of Parliament and by the president of the Canadian Bankers' Association. While he did not want to be regarded as making imputations, it was strange that W. R. Travers had been introduced to the Minister of Finance by W. S. Calvert, the chief Liberal whip. This suggestion of responsibility was strongly resented by E. B. Devlin, the Liberal representative of Wright, who followed. He pointed out that Sir William Meredith, who had investigated the failure of the institution, had reported that Hon. Mr. Fielding had been in no way responsible for the failure, which had been due entirely to incompetent and dishonest management. The present bill was a dangerous piece of legislation, which did not deserve the support of the House.

Crothers Attacks Fielding. An attack on Mr. Fielding was made by the Hon. Thomas Crothers, who said that the Hon. Mr. Travers was dishonest and that the responsibility for the failure therefore rested with the late Government. In spite of warnings from Mr. Fielding had given Travers a certificate for the Farmers' Bank and therefore had robbed him the opportunity of robbing widows and orphans. He held that the Canadian Government was morally and in natural justice to reimburse the depositors. While he did not charge Hon. Mr. Fielding with intentional failure, he charged him with gross negligence and a gross breach of trust which had been the direct cause of the loss. He said that "if Mr. Fielding were before the House today he would be compelled to refund the money lost by the depositors." Mr. Crothers was asked as to the pledges which he had given the depositors before the last election that if the Conservatives were voted into power they would show their appreciation of the votes cast for them by repaying those who had lost through the failure of the bank.

Spoke Only for Himself.

Mr. Crothers replied that in the campaign he had been speaking for himself and not for his party. That if the legislation was vicious and immoral was vigorously argued by Joseph Demeré, the Liberal representative of St. John and Therville. He said that the Government knew that there was no moral obligation or indifference on the part of Mr. Fielding in issuing the certificate. The Conservatives had made this charge in the election for the purpose of catching votes, and for the same reason they had not sought to make good a moral obligation, but to fulfil an election promise. In connection with the issuing of this charter, which had been changed by the Hon. Mr. Fielding, the Hon. Mr. Demeré took office it had dismissed none of the officials concerned. If the depositors of the Farmers' Bank were to have their losses made good to them, there was absolutely no reason why the same generosity should not be extended to those who had lost through the failure of the Ville Marie and the St. Jean Bank.

May Help Other Banks.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier intimated that something of this sort of a policy could be shown that there was a moral responsibility on the part of the Government in connection with the other banks mentioned.

Piece of Party Politics.

"The payment of losses to Farmers' Bank depositors," declared Hon. Mr. Lemieux, "was another piece of party politics of this Government." "What happens now in the case of the Farmers' Bank happened in 1912 when the provincial elections in Saskatchewan took place. We saw then what never before had happened. By order of the Government the Government reduced by half the duties on cement in an endeavor to seduce the electors of the western provinces. Immediately after the election the duty was restored. What happened in Chateaugay immediately before the recent by-election? One parish received $2,800. It was distributed among 25 or 30 people in a parish of 1,000. Mr. Lemieux added that "one man received over $500, another $96, and another $80."

"When was the money voted?" asked Hon. Mr. White.

"Out of General Appropriation."

"Do not think it was voted for this purpose," said Mr. Lemieux.

"It was taken out of the general appropriation of the public works department shortly after Mr. Rogers was approached by a delegation from Chateaugay at the Ritz Carlton."

I may say of him that the people of Quebec regard him as more of the leader than the three representatives of the province of Quebec in the Government."

"We are proud of him," said Mr. Pelletier. "Well, he is not proud of you," said Mr. Lemieux. "I may say that I never met a delegation at the Ritz Carlton," said Mr. Rogers. "Was it at the Conservative headquarters?" asked Mr. Lemieux. "Perhaps it was," replied Mr. Rogers.

"Then I say that it was sheer corruption and nothing else, and that this legislation is of the same piece," said Mr. Lemieux. Calls It Measure of Justice. Mr. Sharpe, of North Toronto, said that this was not a measure of charity, but a measure of justice. He condemned Hon. Mr. Fielding and Mr. Calvert for their connection with the bill, and said that the criticism which had been offered by W. F. Nickle was unfair and regrettable. Mr. Sharpe said that the Government had no intention of reimbursing the depositors of other banks which had failed.

HINDUS STARVING; GO ON HUNGER STRIKE

Affairs on Steamer at Vancouver in Bad State—Trouble Anticipated.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, June 4.—Affairs on the steamer Komagata Maru are abuzz. In the last few days provisions have been running short. The crew have abundant supplies, but the Hindu passengers, it is said, have been put on short rations lately. It is understood that they have no money left to buy fresh stores, and it is reported the master of the vessel and the agents are unable to furnish them. With this condition of affairs staring them in the face, Gurdit Singh and followers held a meeting last night and decided to go on a hunger strike. The statement is made that the Hindus on board have nothing to eat for two days, except fish they caught. Gurdit Singh has sent telegrams to the king, and the governor-general of India, stating that the Hindus were starving and asking for help. Those on board are being egged on by a fanatical priest and are ready for anything.

"WHITE WOLF'S" BAND SURROUNDED BY TROOPS

After Burning and Pillaging Towns Flees to the Ravines.

[Canadian Press.]

Pekin, China, June 4.—"White Wolf," the Chinese brigand, who during the past few months has directed the activities of his band in the provinces of Hebei, Hunan and Shen-Si, is now looking for a hiding place in the mountains of the Province of Kan-Su.

After eluding the great army of troops sent to capture him by the Chinese Government, he yesterday set fire to the town of Ning Chow, and his followers today attacked Tao-Chow. In the extreme south of the province, and after pillaging the inhabitants, burned it to the ground.

The brigands then proceeded to Choni, where they set fire to the famous monastery of the Tibetan lamas.

Subsequently a column of regular troops overtook and defeated the bandits, who fled to the ravines of Lily Mountain, 100 miles to the south of Lanchow, the capital of the province, where they are reported to be virtually surrounded by the troops.

INTENSE INTEREST IN REPLY FROM CARRANZA

Until It Comes, Mediators Are Working on Unaffected Lines.

[Canadian Press.]

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—While waiting to hear from General Carranza, whether he would send delegates to the conference here, the mediators planned today to continue such work as would not be affected by the constitutionalist answer.

The peace plan, on which the two sets of delegates have been working for two weeks, has been partially completed. The mediators are working of value, even if the Constitutionalists decide to enter the negotiations. The mediation colony is absorbed, however, in the Mexican problem, and in respect to it is awaited with intense interest. The feeling is general that the attitude taken by General Carranza in his reply probably will shape the entire course of the mediation, hereafter, and perhaps have a direct effect on the Washington Government's future policy toward the two factions in Mexico.

ABBOTT—FAIRHALL

Centralia, June 4.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Abbott, Centralia, was the scene of a pretty June wedding on Wednesday at 12:30, when their daughter Miss Clara was united in marriage to Thomas E. Abbott, of Lucan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. Clifford, of Centralia, the bride standing beneath a pretty arch of evergreens and honeysuckle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome dress of cream broadened charmeuse trimmed with lace and ribbons, the skirt being cut en traine. The wedding veil was caught up with lilies of the valley, and the bride carried a bouquet of the same delicate blossoms and with white carnations. Miss Lillian Brooks, of Centralia, was a winsome flower girl in her frock of pink, and carrying the ring in a basket of carnations and sweet peas. The wedding march, "Bridal Chorus," was played by Miss Della Brooks, becomingly attired in a white embroidered frock.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome check to the flower girl a bracelet, and to the pianist a signet ring. Friends were present at the ceremony from Detroit, Chatham and Lucan.

The happy couple left by motor at four o'clock, accompanied as far as London by the bride's brother, F. J. Fairhall, of Detroit, and Miss Pearl Goodreau, of Chatham. They will visit Rev. H. B. Clifford, Sandusky, and other points, and will be at home to friends in Lucan after August 1. The bride's travelling suit was brown silk with hat to match.

BLOCKED BY CONSERVATIVES.

COPENHAGEN, June 3.—The Conservatives succeeded today in blocking the passage in the Upper House of the electoral reform law, which is applicable to the abolition of all electoral property qualifications and for the enfranchisement of women.

THE GERRYMANDER.

THIS refusal to "play the game," as the Englishman puts it, was unfortunately reflected in the redistribution bill, a barefaced gerrymander, obviously drawn with the sole purpose of weakening an Opposition already too weak for the country's good. Saturday Night holds no brief for any political party, but it cannot but deplore that a session marked by such admirable legislation as that referred to should have been the scene of so much unnecessary rancor and unfairness.—Toronto Saturday Night.

"The Whitney Government can do without even one supporter from Bruce County better than the Conservative party can do with a continuance of surrenders to the demands of local partisan schemes. "Gerrymandering will continue so long as gerrymandering is profitable. Leaders of the Ontario Government should not have listened to the small town patriots who sought to readjust the Liberals out of the Legislature. IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT THESE LIBERALS WILL BE KEPT IN THE LEGISLATURE BY BRUCE COUNTY'S SENSE OF FAIR PLAY."—Toronto Telegram (Conservative).

"The question will be asked why Bruce is selected, out of so many counties where readjustment is necessary. It will be asked also if the Government has faith in itself, or if Conservatives are losing faith in their own cause, when they have recourse to the butcher's cleaver and the axe.

"Bruce and the double-barrelled seats in Toronto are signs of decadence which all true friends of the Whitney Government will heartily regret."—Toronto World (Conservative).

The door to hell;
Whoever named it,
Named it well.

THAT is the issue in this Ontario election of yours, Mr. Hanna. Aren't you proud of it?

It seems to The Advertiser that a lot of the good men of the party you boss are not with you in this election. You tried to fool the temperance people in Huron County, and then you thought it a matter of expediency to bring on an election. Your position in the Huron matter, and in the Snider matter, made the issue of this campaign. There was not a single other thing upon which the Government could appeal for a mandate. You have smothered, or tried to smother, the other big issues. You refused to allow your conduct to be opened to the country.

You have chosen the bar as the issue. You have flouted your prison farm in the face of the country. You think it a wonderful thing to have constructed a sort of purgatory for the product of the bar-room. You have said that men would make greater brutes of themselves if the licensed bar was closed. You have insulted every decent man in Ontario when you told the country that it would break the law and become more besotted if the easy path to ruin were removed.

Your prison farm is a hospital for the broken-down of humanity, all very well in its way. But you should be ashamed of it, rather than proud of it. You should be ashamed of every prison and every asylum that houses the human output of the liquor traffic. Yet you boast of them. For shame, Mr. Hanna.

A POOR EXCUSE.

CONSERVATIVE prohibitionists who want to continue their support of the Government, and the scattering few of the Liberals who object to Mr. Rowell's policy because they fear it will hurt the party, find some difficulty in excusing themselves. About the principal excuse upon which they seem to depend is that it is better to have local option than to abolish the bar. The one only cuts off the licenses of hotels and clubs; the other stops the sale in shops as well.

They ignore the very important fact that there are many places where local option does not prevail and cannot as long as the three-fifths majority clause blocks the way. And they ignore the other fact that the question is not one of choice between local option and closing the bars. If the people of any municipality desire they can still have local option or they can have the Canada temperance act, if they secure the necessary majority. The adoption of Mr. Rowell's policy for the entire province does not prevent further legislation by the people of any locality.

The claim that closing the bars will result in increasing the bottle trade for those who will use liquor at home, does not meet the undoubted fact that the greatest evil in connection with the consumption of liquor is the habit of treating at the bar. There are some people who will have liquor no matter what prohibitory laws are passed. It will not be any worse for them to buy surreptitiously and drink at home than it would be if they stood up in front of a bar, and imbibed in public. That class of people may be left out of consideration. It is the great mass of people, some of whom are only moderate drinkers, or do not drink, but are exposed to temptation when the bar is open in their path; it is the youth of the country who are not at all liable to fall into drinking habits, if the facilities for drinking are not convenient. These are the people who are to be considered, and for them the closing of the bar will be a blessing. A few people here and there may drink a little more than they have done, though that is by no means certain. But there will be a far greater number who will drink less.

Abolish the bar; then one great evil will be removed throughout the entire province. The sale will then be confined to shops, and local option or the Scott act, for complete prohibition, is still at the disposal of the voters in any locality, if they are able to carry these measures. An old proverb says that "a poor excuse is better than none." A man divided in his mind between what he honestly believes and what party policy requires him to do, may try to satisfy his conscience with a poor excuse. It may be better for him than none. It is no argument; and we are afraid it will prove poor satisfaction after all.

THE ARMY'S CHARACTER.

"We do not want any of our people to venture any opinion as to the cause of the disaster. A question that would naturally be asked of survivors would be, 'Who was to blame?' We must protect the integrity of the Salvationists, and do not want any person to say whether they think the Emperor or the Stordast was responsible."

THIS warning was uttered by Col. Gas-kin, of the Salvation Army, and it will serve for the public as a proper attitude to assume toward those culpable in the St. Lawrence disaster. And it gives a certain suggestion of the character of the Salvation Army, whose conduct through the blackness of the tragedy has been a shining glory to its members and to humanity. When the calamity reached them they did not fail. They were strong men and women. They proved to us their physical courage as well as their moral courage, which we have known so well, and they made of their simple faith an inspiration that reached the hearts of many men. They were not spectacular in their grief. Those who are rescuers in the storms and calamities of life became rescuers of men in material form. They were ready to rescue bodies, as they are rescuing souls every day. They are brave in the flesh as they are courageous in the spirit. Wiped out almost, in so far as their leaders are concerned, we yet know that their great movement is not a thing of individuals. It is a thing of spirit and devotion. The Salvation Army cannot be wiped out. Those who remain will be rescuing the perishing and caring for the drifting to the end of time. And Londoners and Canadians will feel a new bond of affection for these fine Christian people.

HUGHESIAN STATECRAFT.

IN response to a suggestion made by Mr. Guthrie, M.P., in the House of Commons, that three or four million dollars should be cut off the proposed military expenditures to advance technical education in accordance with the suggestion of the Royal Commission, Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes said: "No technical education can approach the benefit to Canada of these drill halls and armories." Were it not that the Col. is Canada's foremost hare-brain, such an expression of opinion might have aroused educationalists and all thinking Canadians to a stinging reply. But no one seems to have noticed it. The country does not take Col. Hughes seriously, and even allows him to build battalions of armories and indulge himself generally. But his extravagances and Mr. Borden's general "dash away and spend" policy have added an increase in annual expenditures equaling $17 for every man, woman and child in Canada.

FALSE CANADIANS.

IT is sometimes affirmed by "Liberal-Conservatives" that present-day Conservatism in Canada has little or nothing to do with old-time Toryism, Family Compact and Bond Head. We are told that followers of Mr. Hanna or Dr. Pyne have accepted the lessons of 1837, the system of Lord Elgin, and in general the theory and practice of modern constitutional government.

Is it not strange, then, to find that the leaders of our Liberal-Conservatism show a constant and lively sympathy with the hereditary House of Lords and its allies in Great Britain? The newspaper organs which support Mr. Hanna, his gerrymandering and his whiskey, applaud the conspiracy between the British Tories and certain army officers to thwart the working of parliamentary and responsible government. They show hatred of Premier Asquith in his steady championship of democracy.

The Toronto News, for instance, which is with the backwoods peers in opinion, suggests that Mr. Asquith is a cheap, though clever, attorney (favorite word with the backwoodsman), and says that he has been proved a liar in his statements on Ulster. The proofs are about as cogent as those which satisfy some people that Lord Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays. You can prove anything against Mr. Asquith to the Toronto News or Lord Willoughby de Broke.

Toronto newspapers that oppose democracy in Great Britain are friends of democracy in Canada, only to betray it with a kiss.

The gerrymander has gone lame already.

It will be quite appropriate to think of them as the merry men of Windsor after this.

For whom would these two great church parliaments vote—Hanna or Rowell?

"Dissension at political convention," says a Conservative paper. West Peterboro, we might ask?

Windsor has the record for hasty unions, but Dr. Reaume can find no one there who will cleave unto him.

As the Essex cog of the Whitney machine creaks dismally why doesn't Mr. Hanna help with a little oil?

If you don't believe that the average man is just a big boy, notice his watchful waiting the morning of the circus parade.

It is hardly fair to expect Mr. Hanna to wish the bars closed. How would his prison farm be kept running if they were closed?

"The most abused man in Ontario." Shed a few tears for the Honorable W. J., but do not forget the good doctor Reaume.

The Conservative press is still hunting for an issue—and the only one that it had found is that Mr. Hanna is being terribly abused.

Just when the country is in the circus mood, wouldn't it be a shame if Mr. Hanna should find it necessary to remain in his own riding?

A Japanese murderer who appealed from a life sentence got the death sentence at the second trial. A case of going farther and faring worse.

It wouldn't surprise anybody—if the Government is returned—to see some radical amendments to the compensation act—in favor of the manufacturer.

Purely as a matter of patronage, the Conservatives cannot be expected to touch the liquor traffic. Think of all the asylums and prisons and prison farms it keeps in business.

In the silence and restfulness of private life, far from the madding political crowd, Dr. Reaume might devote his time to work on "How I gerrymandered myself into oblivion."

Mackenzie & Mann are to receive $45,000,000 and upon their own terms, without adequate protection to the country and without real investigation into the affairs of the C. N. R.

"Abolish-the-Bar" is a big, definite, clear cut policy that if carried out would lead this province into an era of greater health, and that means greater happiness, thus making it even more vital to the next generation than this.

Ontario, Manitoba, and British Columbia are about to have elections. The Conservative Government or the Pacific Coast province has brought on a serious financial muddle, in Manitoba the corruption, is the worst experienced in the country for years, and in Ontario the Conservative Government has given a weak and unprogressive administration. Now is the opportunity to make a clean sweep in all three provinces to the great advantage of the entire Dominion.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHED.

[Puck.]
The Prima Donna (after the first act)—I won't go on again unless that box party makes less noise. I nearly had hysterics.
[The Manager (in surprise)]—I did not hear any noise.
The Prima Donna—You didn't? Why, they encored that upstart of a contralto four times.

MURDER AND THE DEATH PENALTY.

[Kingston Whig.]
The murder rate of the United States is thirty times that of Germany and fifteen times that of Great Britain. One per cent of the murderers are put to death in the States; a far higher proportion in European countries; therefore the execution of the death sentence should be retained.

BOTH COME BACK.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]
"You know what a boomerang is, don't you, Johnny?"
"No, ma'am."
"Why, a boomerang is something you throw out and after a while it turns and comes back."
"Please, ma'am, it's something like the prodigal son, ain't it?"

A PIG.

[Lippincott's.]
I always like a pig.
His appetite is big.
But he isn't like a chicken with its dig, dig, dig.
And he isn't like some men
Who are happy only when
They have grabbed the choicest morsel
Of the other fellow's pen.

A pig's not over neat,
And his foot's not always sweet;
And his highest aspiration is to eat, eat, eat.
He's the synonym for greed,
But, unlike the human breed,
He doesn't keep on piling up a lot he doesn't need.

Now a hen will scratch around
Over forty leagues of ground,
And holler, "Come and look at what I've found, found, found."
And a man is much the same
But a pig just fills his stomach, caring naught for praise or blame.

Making an imposing front
Is the human's favorite stunt,
While a pig dismisses pretence with a grunt, grunt, grunt.
No, his figure isn't trim;
His mentality's not big;
And he's apt to be untidy—still, I always like a pig.

OUR MOTORISTS.

[London Opinion.]
The motorist (still at the wheel, to pedestrian, whom he has hit)—I say, before you go, if I haven't hurt your arm too much, you might start my bally engine up again.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER.
[Louisville Courier-Journal.]
"So you defy me? Did you not promise to love, honor and obey?"
"I was married on that platform," admitted the wife, "but conditions have altered and I shall have to repudiate some of its planks."

--and the Worst Is Yet to Come

THE MAN WHO USED COMMON SENSE

John Arbuthnotte, writing of the late Sir William Whyte in June Canada Monthly, tells a characteristic story of his when he was general superintendent of the western division of the Canadian Pacific. He says:

"Men who worked beside him twenty years ago tell many stories of the practical common-sense that he brought to bear on the problems of the road from the beginning of the service. The story of the Edmonton oats is one of the most typical."

"In his first general superintendent days, the Canadian Pacific was having a world of trouble with its freight cars engaged in carrying oats. There was a large and increasing tonnage of grain to be hauled, and all the rolling stock was needed. Yet the repair shops were in constant receipt of freight cars which came limping in with ruined journals, broken down apparently by overloading. The shops swore at the yard-men, and the division superintendent, with his desk piled up with kicks from irate farmers, swore at the shops. Yet the yard-men accused, and the shops defended, and pointed to the load-lines that showed unmistakably above the grain in the cars."

"Now a load-line is a mark restricting the capacity of a car, according to the weight of the material carried. Figuring oats at thirty-four pounds to the bushel, which up to that time was the standard weight everywhere, the yard-men had loaded the cars exactly to the load-lines, and by all ordinary laws, the cars were O.K."

"In the course of time the trouble came up to General Superintendent of the Western Division, William Whyte. He did not swear at anybody. That wasn't his way. He listened to the end, and then said matter-of-factly:

"Suppose you weigh those oats." "The divisional superintendent opened his mouth to speak, thought better of it, and sought a scale with a bushel of oats. Thirty-four—thirty-six—thirty-eight—These western-grown oats took from forty to forty-six pounds of iron to balance them, and the mystery was solved. William Whyte had used plain, common-sense, which after all is about as uncommon as any other quality of mankind; and in three minutes had settled a difficult over which the whole prairie section of the line had boggled for weeks."

CAMPAIGN COMMENT

EXPENDITURE DOUBLED.

[Montreal Examiner.]
The Whitney Government has more than doubled the expenditure in the two years and a half of its existence, and has also added to the taxation of the people.

TORIES AND LABOR.

[Hamilton Times.]
The Tories have no use for Labor. They want to drive the workers back to the bench and teach him to know his place.

SIR JAMES' NEW ROLE.

[St. Thomas Star.]
Suspicion grows upon our dark, misanthropic mind that Sir James is allowing himself to be made a stool pigeon for party exigencies. A vote for Whitney is a vote for Hanna.

TIME FOR A CHANGE.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
In Ontario the voice of protest has been silenced by means of a voting majority. Campaign contributions under questionable conditions were received on behalf of the Government, but they could not be inquired into by reason of the crushing vote of the majority. The Government escaped not on its merits, but by reason of the goodwill of its friends. Public confidence has been shaken by the failure of the Attorney-General's department to take action in cases where duty appeared plain. The allegation that political favorites can go far without fear of Government interference looks as though justified by what occurs. The Attorney-General is a believer in the mastery policy of inactivity.

CANOE AND FOOLS.

[Hamilton Spectator.]
Canoe casualties have been remarkably few so far this season; but there is yet plenty of time for fools to operate.

SAFE.

[Yale Record.]
Chaufeur—"Sir, I'm afraid our gasoline is going to catch fire."
He—"Is that the same stuff I use in my automatic cigar-lighter?"
Chaufeur—"Yes, sir, and—"
He—"Not the slightest danger. Drive on."

HOPPING TO CLOTHES.

[Montreal Mail.]
"The world is running to clothes," says the Ohio State Journal. Part of the world, being in hobble skirts, is hopping rather than running.

WHEN CAN ITS GLORY FADE?

[Ottawa Journal.]
The death of Captain G. A. Lucas, announced in cable dispatches the other day, passed almost unnoticed, and yet his decease calls to mind one of the most glorious and, at the same time, most tragic happenings in the seafaring annals of the British Empire. Captain Lucas was a survivor of the ill-fated Birkenhead, a British troopship, which foundered in Simon's Bay more than half a century ago. The record of the brave deeds witnessed then has been deeply impressed upon history, and has been a stimulus to courage and selflessness. The Birkenhead was a troop-

THE REFORMERS' OPPORTUNITY.

[Toronto Star.]
A time arrives in the history of every Government when its reforming energy or its hold on the people begins to decline, and when it would do well to step aside. Such was the condition of the Conservative Government at Ottawa before 1896. Such was the condition of the Liberal Government of Ontario before 1905. Such is the condition of the Ontario Government today. No Government ever does step aside in a crisis, and it would not be reasonable to expect any Government to take so philosophic a view of its own position. It hopes against hope. It refuses to see the rising tide of the public opinion which will sweep it from power. It is, perhaps, not altogether culpable because it fights to the last.

The interests of a nation or a province, however, are greater than those of any government. When a change is inevitable, it had better come quickly, so that the people may have the benefit of the full force of the wave of progress. Ontario must get into line with the progressive communities of the world; Ontario ought to lead, not lag behind. Our agricultural organization, our industrial organization, our social organization needs to be re-modelled. The sooner the better. The campaign upon which we have entered, closing with the last Monday in June, is a grand opportunity for reformers. If they work and vote for reform they can powerfully influence the course of legislation and administration during the next four years.

verging soldiers to South Africa, many of them with wives and children aboard when she struck. She commenced to sink rapidly. It became plain to all upon her that she must soon disappear. The boats were insufficient to take more than the women and children, with men to handle them. At word of command, the soldiers formed up on the deck of the sinking vessel. Details were told off to assist the women and children into the boats. Then the troops were all formed up again, and stood firm in their ranks as the ship went down.

No story of greater courage or finer discipline exists in the world's history.

WORST FEATURE OF TIPPING.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]
An esteemed contemporary says that the whole trouble in the tipping business is that those who have money enough to tip have not the sand to refuse. That is part of the trouble. The rest of it is that those who have not money enough to tip want to make it appear that they have.

THE DARING SEX.

[Bramford Examiner.]
Do the British militants really believe in equal rights? Appearances are against the supposition. If they believed that women should be treated in all respects as men are they would not be crying out for the "King" nor committing atrocious crimes. Men would not dare attempt the outrages that the militants are indulging in.

PLAN SUNNY CELLAR FOR NEW HOUSE

A Few Suggestions for Cellar and Bedrooms.

Plan first for an airy, sunny cellar. It is quite true that a high cellar, as it is usually treated, is an eyesore. But if the cellar foundation is faced with cement or shingles or brick, or whatever the material of the house may be, it is not out of harmony with the rest of the house. Remember that a dry, sunny cellar means health. Be careful to have all electric lights where they can be easily reached. In many houses the pantry light, for instance, is where it is hidden, when the swinging door is fastened open. Arrange the lights with a view to the bureau and chiffoniers and dressing tables or other pieces of furniture, which boast mirrors. These must be placed so that the light will not come directly on the face that looks into them. Plan to have the bedroom closets on the placing of the beds. Put the windows, where draughts directly across the bed can be avoided. Have a door that closes easily and securely on the back stairs, either at the head or at the foot, so that the odor of cooking in the kitchen will not penetrate throughout the house. Plan to have the bedroom closets on the walls between the bedrooms which are to be occupied by persons easily disturbed. If the closets separate the bedrooms they serve to leaden noises. This arrangement occupies interior space, of course, when closets can be put in the eaves, but it insures quiet bedrooms.—Chicago Record-Herald.

JUST BEFORE THE PICNIC

Surprising How Helpful the Kiddies are Just Prior to the Great Event by "Olive".

"Oh, mummy, do let us go to the picnic," pipe the twins in chorus, bounding in and clamoring for cookies. "Do say yes, mother dear," and two pairs of chubby arms are twined about my neck, their little faces pressed close against my cheek. "It'll be real good," calls one, while the other breaks in with "Oh, do say yes, mummy."

And who could resist the pleading voice of the youngsters, as they come clamoring from school, hungry and have filled with the joy of the coming event. Of course, they know what the answer will be, but just for the present, the suspense will make the realization all the sweeter. At least for the next few days, the doting mother is assured of implicitly obeyed rules, of early rising, of eager hands and feet ready to do the slightest bidding. They are constantly on the alert for small duties, while the immaculate condition of hands and faces is astonishing. "Oh, do say yes," petulantly beseech the two in unison. Then they cluster up again with vague promises of "And we won't go near the water," and "We'll come home early," and "We won't muss our dresses." Such a din and noise, with now and then a curling of a lip, and the slightest suggestion of a tear in a brown eye.

And then at last when the decision is given—that a hub-bub and shouts of glee! I find myself bombarded on all sides, the centre of affection, while the dimpled hands paw me over in sheer glee at winning their case.

And what a gala day it always is! What heaps of fun and merriment cram into the short hours, that eventually, as time rolls on, remain but a memory, one of the many which we store up for future days.

Three cheers for the school picnic, and may it be the merriest yet!

Dear Miss Grey—I see where you have been helping other people solve problems. Will you please help me with mine? I would like to know how to make some beads. I do not know the name of them; but I think they are made of corn starch and salt. Will you please tell me what proportions I should use and what kind of dyes to use?

Dear Miss Grey—Recently one of your subscribers who signed himself "Vestminster Liberal," requested you to publish an old song called "Bairnes Cuddie Doon." Now, Miss Grey, one word of appreciation for yourself: your definition of a womanly woman was, to say the least, splendid.

SCOTCH MOLLY.

A.—As you will have noticed, the song, "Bairnes Cuddie Doon" has been sent in, and published. I am so glad that you sent us the second poem, though it has such a sad note. The verses appear today. Thanks for the bit of blarney—one could almost imagine you were from the "cuddie doon" rather than the land of heather and "parritch." And how are the styles looking to you now, Molly? Have you been on Dundas street lately?

Re Superfluous Hair.

Dear Cynthia—I know you to be a kind, good person, who has at heart the interest of your large number of readers, and I therefore venture to write you somewhat lengthily on this troublesome subject of "superfluous hair," with which I see a number of your questioners have to contend.

I know that the efficacy of the electric needle is based on the fact that it kills the root of the hair, and of late I have seen a number of advertised remedies that make the same claim, namely: that they destroy the root, so that the hair can never grow again. Now, this has struck me as being altogether wrong and against nature. I believe that in nearly every portion of the body, each pore of the skin is supposed to have a hair. If you will notice very closely, you will, I think, see that even with those women who have at first sight no superfluous hair whatever, there are really very, very thin hairs growing on the upper lip and somewhat around the chin and neck, and even where not at all visible with the eye, I feel sure their presence would be made known by the use of a magnifying glass. Therefore, it seems to me that when the electric needle or any other remedy kills the root, it is killing something which normally should be there, and that starting early enough in the life of a girl there should be some way of reducing the growth to the normal point. You see what I mean: there is really no such a thing as superfluous hair, but merely hair which grows longer than it normally should on the face of a woman. To be sure, when the hair has reached such a growth as to be termed superfluous, there may be no possible way of getting rid of it than to destroy the root. But I am not just now thinking so much of that as I am of the little girls who are growing up to be bothered in this way. We say that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and if it could be made to apply in this case it would surely be more than true, for the cures are very uncertain, very, very tedious, and most painful and generally produce only despair. Is there not some way of treating the face of a child who gives evidence either through hereditary causes or otherwise of some day developing superfluous hair, so that the hair would never grow to the extent of being troublesome or disfiguring? I personally know a little girl and her mother, a physician who, to my observant eye, already shows signs of being so troubled in the future, a perfectly lovely child in every respect. I see that you have frequently recommended applications of peroxide of hydrogen and ammonia as being useful in bleaching and weakening the growth. Is there any probability that their use on the face of a girl of this age would make it impossible to retard the growth of the hair on the face? Would it do any harm? Do you know of anything else that could be used? Would it be possible for you to consult a good specialist, a physician who has paid some attention to such matters, and let your readers know if anything could be accomplished in this way?

If you or any of your near friends are not troubled in this way, it may seem to you that I am taking a trivial matter too seriously, but I do assure you, dear Cynthia, that it is a most serious matter to many women, who would be glad to know of something that would make it possible for their own little girls to grow up with this disfigurement. Yours very sincerely,

ANXIOUS MOTHER.

A.—I quite agree with you that it is a serious matter, and a tender point on the face of a girl. I have had no personal experience with the peroxide and ammonia treatment, it has been recommended so highly that I am sure the results are beneficial. I see no reason why its use would not retard the growth of superfluous hair on a girl's face. I should be pleased to hear from other readers on this subject.

Foolish and Childish.

Dear Miss Grey—I have been to you once before for advice, and am very glad to say that it was just what I wanted. Thanking you very much indeed.

1. Do you think a girl of 14 too young to go to dances or balls when she goes with her parents or near friends?

2. Do you think it too young to even dance?

3. Last Friday my chum and I were in very close friendship, and because I didn't go down to Springbank on the 25th, and didn't take her out in the car on the 26th, or go for a walk on Tuesday morning, she wouldn't speak to me, and hasn't spoken since. Now what is your opinion of a chum like that? I think some person else has been putting it up to her.

4. Do you think a raw-silk dress, with a pleated bodice, rather tight skirt, with a high giraffe with bow, would be too old for me? If not, what colored giraffe do you think suitable?

5. I wear my skirts about even with my shoulders. Are they too long?

6. Please mention some nice way I could wear my hair, as I am getting tired of wearing it parted with bow and braids. I hope I have not taken up too much of your valuable space and valuable advice with these foolish and childish questions. A faithful reader.

PEGGY KILDARE.

A.—1. So much depends upon the nature of the assembly, I certainly think a 14-year-old girl is too young to attend large public dances, even though accompanied by her parents or relatives. House dances and school dances are different affairs, though, and are all right as long as your parents approve. But even for these, I think it is wise for a child of your age to attend them duly chaperoned.

SPLENDID SUCCESS OF FORMER LONDON GIRL

Miss Nina Gale, a Canadian soprano whose parents reside in Toronto, and who was formerly a resident of London, Ont., recently made a successful operatic debut at Alba, Italy, in Bellini's "Norma." The Corriere di Milano's "Norma" has been a great success, and she has already extended her engagement. She is a pupil of Norri-Baj, of Milan, who assisted in her debut. The event is noteworthy in that Miss Gale is the first to debut in "Norma" on any stage, and she went on with only two orchestral rehearsals, demonstrating a very rare musicianship.

La Voce, published at Alba, says: "Miss Nina Gale, soprano, in the vestments of the blond priestess of Irmin-

THE HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1914.

Astrologers find this a doubtful day in which they warn wise men and women against putting their fates to the test. Uranus is in places strongly adverse, while Saturn is unfriendly.

There is a shifter on for peace. Both the army and navy are subject to a rule indicating severe hardships. Sufferings from heat and bad climatic conditions is foreshadowed.

Uranus, the planet which is supposed to exercise a separative or explosive power, gives warning of unexpected accidents. Bombs and shells are to be dreaded especially under this government of the planet.

Great drains on public funds are indicated. These are not all due to naval or military operations, the seeds declare. Losses and destruction through riots, strikes and storms are foretold.

Hospitals and institutions for the relief of sufferers are under the most providential conditions. Endowments and large benefits will be given to the poor. Wars in the fourth house denotes unsettled and unusual weather. Floods are again predicted. Shipping is under a rule that is not propitious.

Parents are counseled to be watchful of children, as the stars threaten illness and accidents in an extraordinary number. Boating will be especially dangerous for the young.

Sedition and insurrection in western China are prophesied. The Emperor of Japan is under the sway of a malefic planet, which indicates danger of personal injury.

Persistent foreshadowing of trouble in postoffice affairs is announced by astrologers. Anxiety for the postmaster-general is presaged by the stars.

Teachers and educators have the most encouraging indications for the summer. It is probable that the next year will be advantageous, especially for those who belong to the West.

Young clergymen are fortunate under the astral government this year. The planets give promise of new fields of endeavor and changed conditions.

Persons whose birthdate it is are counseled to be extremely sagacious in the use of money the coming year. Changes are badly expected. The young probably will become engaged or will marry.

Children born on this day are likely to be extremely kind and gentle in nature. The tendency will be toward a too great fondness for company and amusement. Girls may talk too much.

If a letter comes back for correction, refrain from remarking, "That's what you said," no matter whose the mistake.

RAIN HALTS CANADIAN LEAGUE GAME AT TECUMSEH PARK TODAY

St. Thomas and London Teams Unable to Play First Game of Series Owing to Wet Weather—London Played to Small Crowds at Ottawa.

BY BERT PERRY.
There will be no clash between St. Thomas and London at Tecumseh Park today. The weather conditions will not permit it. Manager Reisling and his players arrived home from Ottawa this morning, and Midge Craven and his St. Thomas team arrived in the city about the same time. But the rain beat them both here and today will be a day of rest in the camps of both teams. At noon the diamond was nothing but a sea of mud and today's game was called off. It is likely the teams will be able to meet in West London, tomorrow at the usual hour.

Played to Slim Crowds
"Don't tell me that Ottawa is a ball town," said "Doc" Reisling in commenting on the recent series in the Capital. "The crowds we played to were so small it was almost necessary to get out a search warrant to find them in the stands. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning we got little more than the guarantee. Sunday only a fair crowd turned out. The weather was the worst we have experienced since we moved to this city. It was cold and raw on Monday and Tuesday and on Sunday a storm broke during the game and almost flooded the field. Wednesday morning we played during a drizzling rain which became a regular downpour about noon, necessitating the postponement of the final game of the series."

Ottawa Had All the Breaks.
"Doc" states that the London club should have at least made it an even break. Ottawa had all the breaks in the luck. Bierbauer's foot troubled him to quite an extent and Lamy also has a bad leg. However, both players are in pretty good shape again.

Yates Won't Last Very Long.
The Hamilton directors are apparently doing the managing of the Hamilton team and "Doc" Yates is only a figurehead. The Hamilton owners have ordered that two infielders and a pitcher be released and on holes plugged up right away. The directors show indifference to the players. If this is the case, the Hamilton directors should instruct the manager. When the players show indifference to what usually lies with the manager, and under the right kind of a leader these players will play good ball. When the directors begin to instruct the manager as to what players must be released, it begins to look as though that manager will be out searching a new job before long. It will not be surprising to see Yates replaced before many noons.

RAIN PREVENTS FINAL GAME OF OTTAWA SERIES

(By Malcolm T. Brice.)

OTTAWA, June 3.—Rain halted the Senators and London in the fifth game of their big series this afternoon. The drizzle which fell in the morning developed into a steady downpour in the afternoon and hostilities were called off. Bad weather halted in on every contest, and what would otherwise have proved a record breaker for attendance, turned out just ordinary. On Sunday at Hull, a storm blew out half an hour before the game. Monday was cold and threatening, while Tuesday was cold and threatening, their overcoats. Rain fell shortly after the second inning of this morning's game and nothing so hard no attempt was made to play.

Will Be Welcomed Back.
The present series was marked by the clearest kind of ball. Manager Shaugnessy, a crab no doubt, stops at that, and demands the same of his players. Reisling comforted himself like a real manager, and the Cockneys showed themselves good sports as well as good ball players. The London team left a good impression here, and will be warmly welcomed back on the next trip. Ottawa is arranging an exhibition game with Detroit Tigers in July, and Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators, has wired asking for an exhibition date here.

KOPP SCORED WINNING RUN
Made a Beautiful Slide Under Lamond in Seventh—Kad-ing Also Features.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

ST. THOMAS, June 3.—The Saints made it two out of three from Brantford today, when they got the long one of a 2 to 1 score. Riley worked for the locals, and held Rube's men to three hits, while the locals banged Chase eleven, but he managed to keep them only seven. The visitors got their only run over in the second, when they drew a pass, went to second on Honck's sacrifice. Rube then threw to Kopp, but Lamond third, sacrificing. The Saints were dangerous in nearly every inning up to the fifth, but could not score, however. In the sixth, Jack Kad-ing led off with a terrific hit to centre for three bases, and came in with the run that tied it. They came right back next frame, and got another, which proved to be the winning run. Kopp started the trouble by singling. Kad-ing followed with another to centre. Gadsby followed them along a base, and Honck sacrificed him. Kopp and Gadsby double steal, the fast left fielder just beating the throw to plate by a great slide under Lamond. Kad-ing's sacrifice, first sacker's fielding, and Kopp's base running featured. The score:

NEW UMPIRES FOR CANADIAN LEAGUE

"Buck" Freeman, Former Big League Home Run Hitter, Has Been Engaged by President Fitzgerald.

President Fitzgerald is apparently out to give the Canadian League the best staff of umpires obtainable and as a result several new arbiters have been engaged. Yesterday Umpires Hallinan and Landry officiated. Both these men are newcomers and according to reports are good league players and famous over as a home run hitter, has also been engaged and he will bring in at Brantford today.

Evans Let Out.
Umpire Billy Evans has been let out and it is also likely that Walsh, who had so much trouble here, will also be "let out." Umpire Bedford, who handled the Brantford-St. Thomas series, is said to be one of the best officials in the league. In all three games at St. Thomas he was decidedly fair and impartial and his decisions caused little or no protesting on the part of the players. Umpire Miller, minus 4, John Connor, minus 1, W. R. Vining, minus 10; T. H. Cardy, minus 16; J. Stevenson, minus 22.

AMATEURS SHOW REAL CLASS AT ST. THOMAS ON SECOND DAY

Howard Bates, of Ridgeway, Makes Highest Score of Tournament by Brilliant Performance—Conditions Were Favorable for High Scores.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

ST. THOMAS, June 3.—It was a great day for the amateurs at the local tournament today. Some of the highest scores ever made at a shoot here were rolled up. Howard Bates, the Ridgeway expert carried off the honors with the highest score made so far, 197. His performance was a magnificent one, and the feature of the day. W. Barnes, the Hamilton amateur shot, who was high gun on the opening day, could not get better than fourth place today. His score was 191, which was pretty nice shooting. F. S. Wright, of Toronto, was second to Bates, with 195 hits, while W. Thorold, of Ridgeway, was third with the score of 194.

The next highest professional score was 194, made by F. G. Bates, of Chicago. The shoot was again greeted with good weather. In fact, the conditions today were a little better, if anything, than they were yesterday. There was hardly any wind, and the sun was hidden for the greater part of the day under thin grey clouds. This accounts largely for the better scores.

Another large crowd of spectators attended the tournament, both morning and afternoon. Great interest is being displayed locally in the shoot. A big crowd is expected out tomorrow. It is the last day of the tournament, and will be the biggest. Today's scores were as follows:

STRATFORD, ONT., June 3.—President Humber announced tonight that Brantford will be dropped from the W. O. B. L. The showing of the club has been far from satisfactory, they having been badly beaten in every game this season and defeated today's game to Berlin. It is likely Brantford's franchise will go to a Hamilton team, or if not that the other clubs will take Brantford's dates.

P. A. makes men smoke hungry

Just you get a whiff of "the international joy smoke" and it's dollars to dough-nuts you beat it 'cross lots to the nearest store that sells tobacco—and stock up! The flavor and aroma of Prince Albert has got 'em all backed off the boards. It sure will hit the spot with you—it does with more millions of men who smoke it in a pipe or cigarette than any other pipe or cigarette tobacco. Get the drift of that?

PRINCE ALBERT

the inter-national joy smoke

Just does all that we say it will do. It can't bite your tongue and it can't parch your throat. All this is because P. A. is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite! Why, this process has simply revolutionized smoking tobacco.

Prince Albert rolls up the bulkiest makin's cigarette you or any other man ever smoked. It puts the jolt of joy right into your system.

You can just do "makin's" sunrise to sunset and have a lot of fun. Why, P. A. in a cigarette is absolutely a revelation. You go to it!

Prince Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers in one-eighth-pound tidy red tins.

POLO TEAM INDULGES IN LIGHT WORKOUT

HEALTHY TEAM, N.Y. June 3.—Both the American and British polo teams were content today with light exercise, knocking the ball about the field for brief periods. Tomorrow afternoon the English team will play another game at Meadowbrook, and some of the best players in this country will be lined up against them. The exact line-up will be arranged tomorrow.

Joshua Crane, of Boston, who has been the American umpire for two former international matches, has been selected to assist again. The English umpire and the referee, who is selected by both teams, will be named later. The name of the Duke of Penaranda is being suggested for this place.

P.S. COMMISSION SESSIONS WILL BE "STAR CHAMBER"

Vice-Chairman Says Neither Reporters Nor Public Will Be Admitted.

"OFFICIAL STATEMENTS" What Commissioners Decide to Give Out Will Be Handed to Press at the Close.

Arrangements are being made to hold a session of the Port Stanley commission next week, according to Philip Pocock, vice-chairman of the commission. A session was to have been held this week but on account of the opening of the preventorium it was postponed.

"So far as I know," declared Mr. Pocock, "the meetings of the commission will not be open to reporters or the public. But after each meeting a statement will be given out which will be the official statement of the board's proceedings. This is done as I understand it."

Mr. Pocock said it was the intention to hold meetings similar to the manner in which the hydro power commission holds its meetings.

If Mr. Pocock's reasoning were to be applied to all public committees where tenders were to be considered, the public press has been the people's protector, though it has been considered at times an annoyance to the committee.

Four more sign UNION AGREEMENT

Big Contractors, However, Still Holding Out—All Carpenters Still Out.

Four more contractors signed up the forty cent minimum wages, this morning, making seven contractors in all who have capitulated to the demands of the men. The seven contractors are: five men, all the big contractors still holding out. None of the contractors signing the agreement are members of the builders' exchange, it was learned.

The union claims for yesterday twelve new members and for today twelve more. Rather than effect a pretty general tie-up of the carpentering work of the city, although this was only estimated, as only a portion of the pickets had reported this morning.

Further different information was given at the Builders' Exchange, where it was stated by contractors that they had experienced no very great inconvenience, but were able to proceed with all the urgent work they had on hand.

Pickets are out now covering the entire city, and Organizer More estimated that the number of pickets was about 100, although this was only estimated, as only a portion of the pickets had reported this morning.

WOODSTOCK MAYOR WELCOMES PASTORS

Points Out Its Advantages to General Assembly and Confers Freedom of the City on All the Delegates.

[Canadian Press.] Woodstock, June 4.—The commissioners to the fourteenth Presbyterian General Assembly were officially welcomed this morning during the session by Mayor W. D. Hobson and by the ministerial association.

Mayor Hobson expressed his pleasure that the assembly had chosen the city of Woodstock to meet in, and said: "We think that you must have been led by the hand of Providence in doing so. Speaking of the advantages of the city of Woodstock, the mayor stated that it was one of the most moral, temperate and progressive cities in Canada. The mayor expressed his pleasure that the people of Woodstock would have the opportunity to profit by the debates which come before the assembly."

"After a conference with the chief of police," said Mayor Hobson, "I have decided to tender the freedom of the city to all the commissioners present."

In conclusion, he urged all the citizens present at the meeting to personally welcome every stranger noticed at the assembly, and to let our motto be: "Welcome, Stranger, Welcome," and let us make every visitor as much at home as possible."

Moderator Replies. Rev. W. T. Herridge, D.D., the moderator elected last night, spoke briefly, and complimented the mayor and citizens on the reception which had been accorded the commissioners.

The Ministerial Association was represented by Rev. F. H. Brewin, New St. Paul's Anglican Church; Rev. J. M. Warner, First Baptist Church; and Rev. Mr. O'Brien of the Congregational Church.

Mr. Brewin touched briefly on the most important question before the assembly, namely, the union of the churches, and complimented the commissioners on the work which had been done towards this end.

Dieg On the Way. It was announced at the session that Dr. Hugh Robertson, of Erieo Magna, was coming to the city while on his way to attend the assembly.

The committee on church union were in session during the morning, and it is probable that a draft resolution will be presented to the assembly next week.

Plot to forcibly HOLD UP THE KING

Latest Suffragette Plan Discovers Frustrate It.

[Canadian Press.] London, June 4.—An attempt forcibly to hold up King George at tonight's court at Buckingham Palace is the latest suffragette plot. The Evening Standard, which is responsible for the story, says that the police discovered elaborate plans for carrying out the plot, and that the girls' belongings, thus insuring those coming after her immunity from this dread disease.

Cites Some Cases. We find a poor mother, followed by this great white plague, breaking down from overwork and underfeeding, trying to keep her children together. We feed the mother, get her lighter employment, and extend the family, find two of the children with the disease; those, through the help of our good and efficient Mayor Graham, who always has been ready to help, we send to Byron Sanatorium.

We find the breadwinner of a family a sufferer. We place him in the sanatorium free from the carking thought of suffering his wife and children, as we place a word to care for wife and children while he can take the cure. This same man is now at home, able to take up the activities of life, his wife and children are at home, side by side, waiting for our preventorium door to open to them.

A Gigantic Task. I do not wish to mislead my friends, but the work of caring for the poor is a gigantic one. Twenty-six families at Christmas were made glad by baskets containing food enough to last for several months, all of which was paid for by a kind friend of this society.

The number of children coming under our notice increased to such an alarming extent we felt the urgent need of a separate building for these wee sufferers, with the heavy burden already assumed by these noble women, we decided to appeal to the public and build this much-needed addition to our Sanatorium. We promised the health association to pay off $10,000 in three years, and the health association is now busy on our undertaking, for not only have we responded to the demands of a hard and trying winter, but we are doing in one year a task we set for three years.

All classes respond. Our citizens have responded to every call, and we have yet to record one refusal from either rich or poor. Our great help is from the working men and women, employees of stores and factories, five, ten and twenty-five cent contributions, which in a short time means thousands of dollars. The ten-cent piece from the working man means to us more of a sacrifice than $10 from a man of means, as we are encouraged in our work by the broad sympathy of the masses.

Work of the Nurse. Our nurse teaches the poor consumptive how to prevent the spread of the disease, the value of fresh air and sunshine, temperate habits and cleanliness. Our school board has granted us every assistance, furnishing completely our open air school and supplying a teacher, and as we look around on this fair spot, we cannot help but feel that the Queen Alexandra Preventorium is a place where every small citizen has a chance for life and a decent living. For heavily we may have been from the ideal state, but the effort is being made today on broader basis and with wider aims than heretofore.

Steps of Philanthropy. Increased business ability of the shrewd type to finance properly and effectively the great philanthropic undertakings of today. It requires scientific information and technical training to establish a course of treatment which shall effect the cure, but, associated with the financial skill and the scientific efficiency, there is the sympathetic with suffering humanity, without which any such movement is cold and ineffectual. Back of all this stands the heart of eternal sympathy.

In her address to governor Gibson, Mrs. John Stevely, president of the sanatorium aid, revealed the history of the association and of the sanatorium itself.

Mrs. Stevely said: "It is a great pleasure for me, as president of the women's sanatorium aid society, to welcome you our guests assembled here today to open the preventorium, and open-air school for the cure and education of tubercular children."

A brief history of this little organization is necessary to enable you to realize why I am so justly proud to represent this noble band of charitable workers. Four years ago, thirty of London's women joined forces to raise funds to enable the London Health Association to build the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, of which this building we are now assembled in is the administrative part. After the sanatorium was opened, as we looked at the tuberculosis problem, there were certain outstanding features which confronted us. First, the magnitude of the work, second, how much had already been accomplished, third, how much there was yet to do. We had at the sanatorium provision for eight acute cases, at Victoria Hospital, inpatient cases, at the kind of the board of trustees, provision for advanced cases.

Employed Visiting Nurse. We decided to employ a visiting nurse, this society to procure funds to supply free of charge, milk, eggs and clothing, blankets, sputum refills, clinical thermometers or anything necessary to banish sickness and suffering from the home. The work among the poor is not a simple routine, but a gigantic task. Our visiting nurse has 80 families on her list, often three or more members of a family afflicted from a common cause, consumption, generally a long and insidious disease, poverty eventually following in its train. We find a working girl living in one room, too weak to walk a few blocks, trying to hide her condition, so that she can struggle on alone. This society reaches out and places that poor girl under treatment, and the kind of the board of trustees, provision for advanced cases.

TEACH MEN TO LIVE THE CHURCH'S DUTY

Social Problems Subject of Dr. Hazelwood's Address to London Conference.

URGES TEMPERANCE VOTE

King's Birthday Remembered by Singing of National Anthem.

[Special to The Advertiser.] SARNIA, June 3.—Rev. Dr. J. H. Hazelwood, of Toronto, field secretary of the Moral and Social Reform department for the Methodist Church in Canada, said some vital things to the delegates to the London conference at a big meeting tonight.

He took as his subject "Social Problems," and explained that the word social meant a man's relationship to his fellow man.

The early Christian teaching, he said, emphasized that man should get ready to go to Heaven. "That is wrong," he declared. "People were told that they must be saved. Our teaching is not to prepare men to die and go to Heaven, but to live. The point to-day is not 'I want to be an angel, but I want to be a man.'"

The problem of bringing up children properly he thought the most important of the day.

The License System. Touching on the liquor question, he deplored the fact that the present license system brings weeds into society. "When we, as Christian people, lend our aid," he said, "in licensing the liquor traffic, we become partners in it, and are authorizing the liquor trade every time we vote for the license. A vote for a license is a vote for the partnership. God is giving us an opportunity to destroy the drink traffic by the use of the ballot."

He deplored extreme partisan politics. "Men should not be afraid to change their politics if the politics of their leader do not suit them. Every man should be politically independent."

General Session Today.

The London conference is now in full swing at the Central Methodist Church in this city. The station draft was completed at 2 a.m. today, and the ministerial session opened this morning. Thursday afternoon, with the arrival of the several hundred laymen from all parts of the district, the general session will commence. This morning's session was honored by having as its presiding officer Rev. Dr. Carman, the head of the whole church in Canada.

The veteran general-president is still as full of business as ever, and business during the session was not allowed to drag for a single moment.

Sang in Honor of King.

In honor of King George's birthday the conference at 12 o'clock rose to their feet, and with loyal voices sang the national anthem. A message of congratulation to the King was drawn up, and was telegraphed to His Royal Highness the Governor-General of Canada. The Empress of Ireland disaster was then mentioned, and the conference decided to telegraph a message of condolence to the Canadian headquarters of the Salvation Army, expressing great sorrow at the terrible loss that body had suffered through the recent marine disaster.

The morning session consisted greatly of routine work relating to the ministers themselves.

Three To Be Ordained.

Three young men will be ordained to the ministry on Sunday next, they being William C. Graham, who goes to Sparta; Alvin E. Milson, who goes to Birr, and A. Roy Johnson, who will take up his duties in Saskatchewan. Besides these young men there are also two who are already ordained, who will be received into full connection with the London Conference. They are Alfred E. Johns, who goes to West China, and Arthur R. Brown, who will go to Varna.

The ministers who are leaving the London district this year are J. T. C. Morris and D. E. Martin, to Hamilton Conference; H. E. Currie, to the Montreal Conference; H. Hetherington, to Manitoba; A. Roy Johnson, to Saskatchewan; and Richard Hobbs, who is superannuated to Toronto. The new ministers who will come into the London Conference are S. J. Bridgette and T. G. Robins, from Montreal Conference; George King, and E. A. Pearson, from Hamilton Conference; and W. W. Shoup, from Manitoba.

The following list of ministers have been recommended for one year's superannuation: J. H. Kirkland, St. Thomas; Joseph Phillips, of British Columbia; John Hart, of London; W.

H. Cooper, of Milverton; George Baker, of Melbourne; and John Holmes, of Talbotville.

For Permanent Superannuation.

Rev. Charles C. Cousens, now stationed at Harwich, has been recommended for permanent superannuation.

This afternoon and evening three of the best speakers of the conference gave addresses on current questions. Rev. J. H. Hazelwood, D.D., of Toronto, was the first speaker, taking as his theme social problems. In the course of the speech he touched on the white slavery question.

T. H. Maine, of London, spoke at some length on Canada's greatest problem, the foreign immigration. Chas. Austin, of Chatham, spoke a quarter of an hour on systematic giving to the support of the church. The speeches were all received with great interest by the conference.

HIGH-WIRE WIZARD HAS NOVEL ACT

Circus Artist Turns Backward and Forward Somersaults in Tent Top.

One of Famous Spanish Troupe

Did you ever see a man turn a complete somersault, backward and forward on a slack wire, stretched fifty feet in the air?

Ringling Brothers have such a mid-air wonder among the hundreds of performers who take part in their aerial program to be exhibited here Monday, June 8. The man's name is Alvaro Mijares, and he is a native of Spain. His brothers, Juan and Antonio also appear on the Ringling program. These men were the most-talked-of performers in Europe last winter. The work of Mijares is even more sensational than that of his brothers. He dances and stands upon his head on a slender wire. He mimics the antics of a tipsy man so perfectly that the audience is convulsed with laughter. He plays the part of a clubman coming home in the wee hours of the morning on very uncertain legs. He wobbles and staggers and falls down. People expect to see him go tumbling to the ground, but he does not leave the wire. Collar awry and hat smashed he wends his way from one end of the wire to the other. His act would be funny if done on the solid floor of a stage. Presented on a lofty wire the performance is a hundred-fold more attractive.

This season's aerial and wire numbers are the finest ever offered by Ringling Brothers. They include the daring of the famous Nelson, Mack, Rooney, Tybell, Melotte, La Nole, Bandalini and Klark-onian families, and many other troupes. The triple, twisting somersaults performed by Ernest Clark mark a new epoch in aerial attainments. The mid-air numbers begin almost immediately after the fall of the curtain upon this season's new spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, a gigantic production presented by a cast of 1,250 actors and a ballet of 300 dancing girls.

NO MORE LENIENCY TO BE SHOWN MILITANTS

Government's Patience Is Exhausted, and Measures Will Be Severe.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 4.—A London cable says: Velled statements in the ministerial newspapers indicate that the end of the militant suffrage movement is now in sight. The Government's patience is exhausted, and it feels that it will have the public behind it in the drastic measures now in contemplation. It is proposed to treat the whole movement as a vast conspiracy against public order, wholesale arrests will be made and forcible feeding resorted to in virtually all cases, with no more releases of prisoners under the "cat and mouse" act.

Assessment Report Compiled By Special Committee of the London Board of Trade

FIGURES ILLUSTRATING CONTENTIONS OF BOARD OF TRADE COMMITTEE

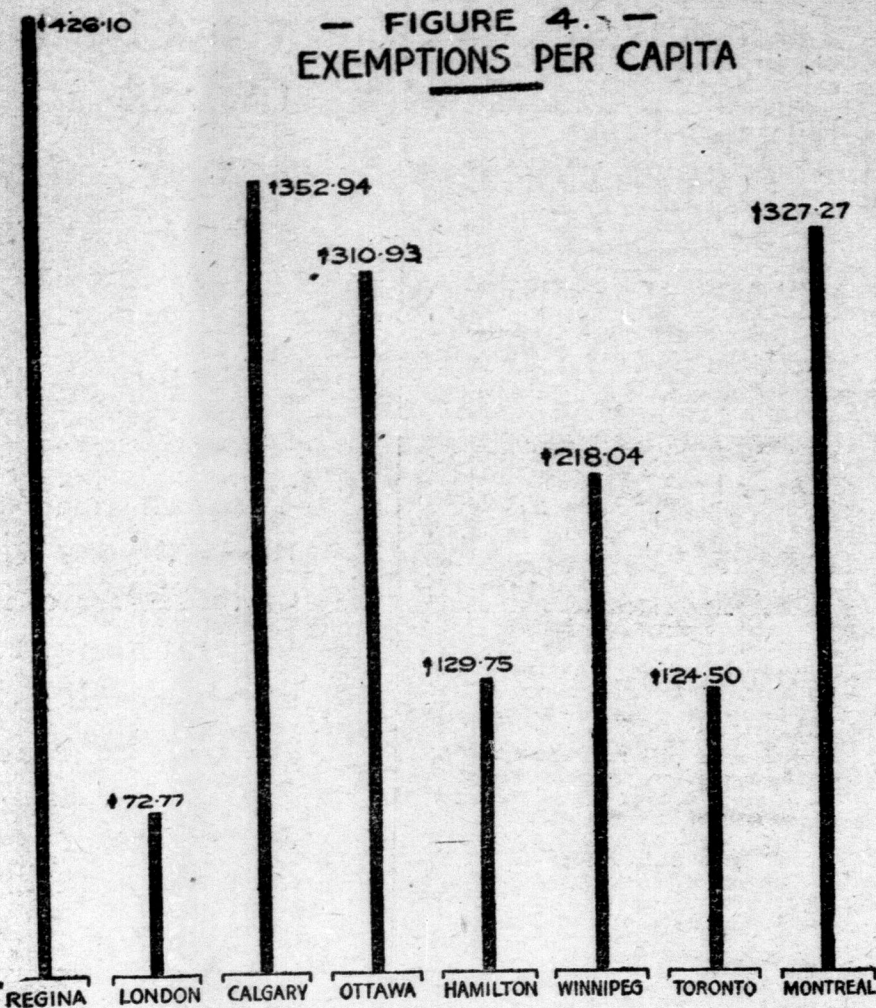

Figure 1 shows the comparative population and total values for assessment in a way which brings out clearly the relative position of the cities shown. The height of the men shows the comparative population, and the columns beside each the comparative total assessment of each city. In the case of population units are used, and in assessment values thousands as the scale, so that the relative height of the men and the columns which they face affords an equitable comparison, showing how each city estimates its total value for assessment. From left to right they read: Regina, London, Edmonton, Calgary, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal. To carry this further, Figure 2 shows the assessment per capita of the same cities. It may be argued, however, that western optimism, which is evident, and the operation of the single tax in some of the cities—notably Edmonton—and the consequent increase of assessment should not be submitted as example for the more conservative East. So Figure 3 shows the comparative per capita assessment of London, Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal, and the average per capita assessment of the last four amounting to $1,046.00. The figures show conclusively that the total assessment of London could be raised by $22,030,784 (or to the sum of $55,000,000) and still be less per capita than the average of the present assessment of Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal by a sum, amounting in the total assessment, to over $2,500,000.

It is interesting to note that this figure, viz., $55,000,000, which is below the per capita average of the cities named, would bring London's tax rate for the current year down to about 14½ mills.

At the regular meeting of the board of trade held last Friday night, a committee appointed to go into the local assessment situation with the assessment commissioner, upon the invitation of Mayor Graham, handed in a report which lack of space has since prevented The Advertiser from reproducing. The names of the committee appointed were Messrs. T. W. McFarland, A. W. White, E. S. Mitchell, F. E. Leonard, J. H. Chapman, Samuel Stevely, Philip Pocock and C. J. Fitzgerald. This committee's report is reproduced below.

A thorough investigation of the assessment department of any city might roughly be divided under three distinct heads:

(First) Basis of values:
(Second) System of Computing values after original standard of values is secured and of apportioning amount of assessment to be borne by each taxable individual or firm, and (Third) The application of that system.

Our investigation of the application of the local system was therefore limited to a few properties with which the members of the committee were familiar, and so far as we were able to judge the system is applied impartially and with sound judgment.

Regarding the system itself, or the methods of the department, we were able in the time at our disposal, to get a general idea of the work entailed and as a matter of fact all the members of the committee expressed satisfaction with the businesslike arrangement of records the method of computing values, and precautions taken so that every taxable dollar is reached.

Mr. Grant appears not only willing, but anxious, to explain to interested ratepayers the methods of his department. It was evident that he deplored the general lack of interest in the department's system and believed that impartial investigation on the part of interested ratepayers would lead to a better understanding between the assessed and the assessors.

The city is divided for assessment into blocks, on each of which a standard of value is placed. This is arrived at—

(First) Before the assessors start outside work.
(Second) Since the staff was increased, two of the assessors value the building and land on the spot, in the particular block dealt with, and (Third) If their judgment disagrees with the original standard of value given, the department sit as a board of the whole and discuss the matter, pro and con, before arriving at the final decision.

An example of a complete assessment submitted with this report, is that of lot 2, block 204, registered plan 102, on the northeast corner of Dundas and Richmond, where the Canadian Bank of Commerce stands. This lot has a frontage of 44 feet and a depth of 66 feet. The land is valued at $650 a foot or $28,600, and the buildings $25,400, a total of $54,000 for the land and buildings. The names of the taxable firms or individuals owning or occupying these premises, are shown, with the proportion of value of the whole for which each is assessed, making together a total of $54,000. Opposite each also appears the amount of business assessment and taxable income, which in this particular case amounts to $105,670.

Other exhibits accompanying the report are: (B) Income return and which is sent out annually to all taxable individuals and firms. (C) The employer's annual return, which requires the names, places of residence, salary or other remuneration of all persons employed by firms in London earning in the case of householders over $1,200 and non-householders $600. (D) Is the corporation return sent in the same way to every corporation whose dividends are liable to taxation against the shareholders as income.

These four exhibits illustrate generally the method of the department and accompany the report for the information of interested members.

In reply to certain specific inquiries, the assessment commissioner provided the committee with the following information:

Values of Both Fronts Used.
In arriving at the value of a corner lot in the business section of the city, the value of both frontages is taken into consideration in computing the value for assessment of the whole, with the percentage of value decreasing by the square foot from front to rear.

In the case of central lots of unequal depth, the difference between the assessment is made up on the property immediately adjoining in rear of the shorter lot, varying all the way from 15 to 25 per cent of the value of the longer lot; that is to say what is lost on the front, is made up at the back, on the property immediately adjoining in the rear.

Corner lots in the residential district are increased in value on account of the fact that they have more light and air, and also the assurance that a house on one side at least, cannot be darkened by another building. One instance was submitted by Mr. Grant, that of a corner lot with 100 feet depth, and another lot in the centre of the same block of 125 feet depth, which would in all probability be considered of equal value.

In the case of a residential corner lot with 50-foot frontage by a depth of 150 feet, valued at $40 to $50 a foot, the practice of the assessment department would be to add five to ten dollars per foot. If the corner lot has but 100 feet in depth, and there is no opportunity of building in the rear, the amount added would be less, or from $2 to $5 a foot.

Set Rules Limited.
Set rules and methods are only applicable to a certain extent, as in many cases, the amount of assessment finally placed on a property must be fixed by the best judgment of the assessor. Some instances were given to illustrate this:

First, the assessment department has known a $60,000 mansion to be taken down, as no person wished to occupy it. Second, a lot having 100 feet frontage, with a house in the centre and no land which could be sold on either side of the house—if the land is valuable and the house an old-timer—might not be worth much more than the actual value of the land. Third, there are properties which are not in immediate demand for business, and not desirable for residences, upon which the earning power is no criterion of value, on account of the land itself being valuable.

Fourth, a lot with 66-foot frontage with a cottage in the centre, is not so valuable for sale, as one 66 feet wide with 33 feet vacant on either side to build on, or to sell. Fifth, a building has a price according to location as well as land; for example, a building fronting on a business street with 50 feet frontage and 40 feet depth, is more valuable than one with 40 feet frontage and 50 feet depth.

These instances are quoted in order to show how much depends on the judgment of the assessor.

We believe impartial investigators of the present system in use here, will find, as we did, that the system is business-like and equitable. But assuming this method to be all that could be desired, the original basis value of the whole is largely a matter of judgment, that is to say, the method of assessing each property and each assessable individual may be sound and equitable, but the original basis of calculation, and the value of the land, may be under or over estimated.

In the case in question your committee is of opinion that the general assessment of London is too low. This opinion was arrived at by: First, actual values quoted during the interview with the assessment department, where the value per foot seemed, in the opinion of members of the committee, to be too low. Second, by comparison with the total assessment and per capita assessment of other cities.

Actual and accurate figures were secured, showing the assessment for the towns and cities of the Dominion for 1914 and a diagram has been prepared, which shows clearly the situation of London in comparison with other cities of equal or greater size.

Health and Beauty Hints

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

VERA B.: Your skin will grow soft, clear and smooth after a few applications of a plain almonzo jelly-cream, made at home as follows: Put 4 tablespoonfuls glycerine into ½ pint water and in this dissolve 1 ounce almonzo (which you can buy at your druggist's). Apply a thick coat of this to the skin before retiring, then wash off in the morning and use more of the jelly-cream for cleansing. This gradually dispels the wrinkles and lines and banishes pimples, blackheads and the "muddy" oily look. The almonzo jelly-cream is greaseless and will not grow hair.

MRS. A.T.: You may not require glasses. Get from your druggist 1 ounce crysotes and dissolve in 1 pint of water. Then put a few drops in the offending eye several times a day until inflammation and soreness have vanished. This crysotes eyetonic is especially good for granulated eyelids and using it strengthens the eyes and gives them a youthful sparkle.

ADELAINE: The reason for that dryness of hair after your shampoo is because that kind of soap irritates the scalp's tissues and makes them over-sensitive. Canthox will correct this, for it could not be shown on this sheet of paper stimulating to the blood-vessels and scalp-tissues that the danger is entirely eliminated. To prepare your shampoo, dissolve a teaspoonful of canthox in a cup of hot water, then pour it slowly on the head as you rub briskly. This dissolves every trace of dust, dandruff and excess oil, and after rinsing, the hair will dry quickly and evenly.

LUCY G.: Loss of weight is a serious matter and calls for prompt action. Get from your druggist or excess oil, and put it, together with ½ cupful of sugar, into ½ pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. This simple home remedy increases your appetite and gently cleanses the system of impurities, restores a healthy condition to the vital organs. When this is done your weight will be normal and the glow of health will be upon your cheeks.

MRS. A.R.I.: I make a good lotion that is very helpful to my skin by dissolving 4 ounces sponax in ½ pint witch hazel or hot water, to which is added 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine, which will soon correct that oily, sallow, "wormy" appearance of your complexion. This simple lotion is soothing and healing and imparts a velvety smoothness and natural loveliness to the complexion not possible with powder and rouge. You will like sponax lotion because it is easily applied and cannot be detected when on.

LUCILLE: I always use a plain quinzoin hair tonic, made at home by pouring 1 ounce quinzoin into ½ pint alcohol, then adding ½ pint water. Rub a little into the scalp twice a week and you will soon rid the scalp of dandruff and restore the hair roots to health. The regular use of the quinzoin tonic will restore the former gloss and even color to the hair and make it soft, long and fluffy.

MRS. M.N.T.: Your excess weight can be easily and quickly reduced by taking this parnetis treatment, made at home, as follows: Put 4 ounces parnetis (which you can get at your drug store), in ½ pint hot water and strain when cool. Take a tablespoonful before meals until you feel hungry and you want it. No harm results from the use of the parnetis treatment, and the flesh is left solid and the skin soft and smooth.

LITTLE GIRL INSANE AFTER BEING BRUTALLY ASSAULTED

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, June 3.—Because his alleged victim's mind has been affected by his attack, Frank Kazol, who is said to have attacked a 14-year-old girl of Ford City, Ont., the latter part of April, is today a free man.
The little girl suffered a severe nervous collapse the day after she appeared in court to make the complaint against him, and has since completely lost her mind, which, it is feared, she will never recover.
Until she regains her sanity, there is no law on the statutes of Ontario, under which Kazol can be prosecuted, and so he has been allowed to go on his personal bond to appear when wanted.

BAPTISTS OPPOSED TO BAR AND MILITARISM

Strong Resolution in Support of Leader Rowell's Party—Want Advanced Measures.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GODERICH, June 3.—The following resolutions were unanimously passed to-night at a very largely attended meeting of the Walkerton District Baptist Association.
"Whereas we worship a God of purity and sinlessness, and whereas we believe that our Christian duty is to promote and support organized effort to oppose impurities and sinfulness, therefore be it resolved that we, the delegates to the Walkerton Association of the Baptist Church, apart from any political bearings, desire to express our deepest appreciation of N. W. Rowell in his vigorous and persistent efforts on behalf of advanced temperance legislation.
The policy of aiming at the abolition of the bar in our province is truly in accord with the wishes of our people. We trust the day may not be far distant when we shall be privileged to see the fulfillment of our desires in this regard."
Militarism was discussed at some length, and the following resolution passed:
"Whereas it is our full belief that the avowed aim and legitimate end of all the Christian purposes and efforts in this line in the name of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace, is that all people of the earth may dwell together in bonds of peace, and whereas the spread of militarism continues to make startling progress, therefore, be it resolved that we deprecate the existence in our midst of anything calculated to incite and develop the military idea in the boys and youths of our country, and we strongly urge that some steps be taken to check this progress. We pledge ourselves to support all worthy schemes aiming to promote peace in the world."

LONDONERS AT CONVENTION

[Special to The Advertiser.]
QUELPH, June 3.—The provincial convention of the Disciples Church opened in Guelph to-night. There are one hundred delegates present from all points in Ontario, including London, St. Thomas, Wainston, Owen Sound, as far east as Bowmanville, and many from the Niagara district. The meeting to-night was a ministerial session, with addresses by Rev. J. D. Stephenson, of Hillsburg, and Rev. R. W. Stevenson, of Toronto.

Distress of Mind From Nervous Exhaustion

Fear of Insanity—Dread of the Future—Depressed Spirits Disappear When Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Is Used.

You may be accustomed to think of physical suffering as the greatest to which man is subjected. This is not so. Compare the sufferings of a man with a broken leg, for example, with the mental anguish of the nerve-racked patient who lives in constant dread of some terrible calamity or of losing his mind. Nothing can be more horrible to contemplate. It is not right, therefore, to consider that no suffering is comparable to the anguish experienced by the victim of diseases of the nerves.

You will read here the experience of a nurse who feared for the loss of her mind, so greatly were her nerves exhausted. She is now enthusiastically praising Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to her patients.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN PLANNED FOR OXFORD

County Council Names Committees to Push Project—Moral Reforms Urged.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WOODSTOCK, June 3.—The principal business transacted at today's session of the county council was that that body went on record as being in favor of starting a publicity campaign for the county.
A committee comprising Councillors Sutherland, Denton, Pullin, C. Carroll, Stauffer and Warden Appell will interview the city council of Woodstock and town council of Ingersoll to secure their co-operation in the matter.
The general opinion was that the County of Oxford was one which they need not feel ashamed to advertise, and that it would be a good proposition to go ahead with it, as the Government has promised to pay one-third of the cost.
Renew Agreement.
Another special committee was also appointed to wait on the city council of Woodstock for the purpose of conferring with it in regard to renewing the agreement which expires at the end of the present year.
A delegation from the Children's Aid Society and the North Oxford Women's Institute, headed by Rev. Mr. Pedley, waited on the council, requesting it to put itself on record that children should be kept off the streets of villages and towns in the county at night, and that no one should be allowed to employ a boy under 10 years of age or a girl under 16.
Arousing Sentiment.
The idea was to arouse public sentiment in the matter. They realized that the council had no authority to do anything, but felt it would carry weight if the fathers of the county put the sign of disapproval on it.
E. L. Sutherland spoke on the question at some length and wound up by saying that he was heartily in favor of the movement and was in favor of granting a franchise to the ladies, so that the "abolish the bar" policy of Rowell would be carried.
Councillors Denton and Sutherland were appointed to go to Toronto tomorrow to interview the Minister of Public Works in regard to some question in regard to the good roads movement.
A grant of $100 was made to the Twenty-Fourth Regiment.
The council adjourned at 3 o'clock to pay their annual visit to the House of Refuge.

ABOLITION OF THE BAR IS PARAMOUNT ISSUE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GALT, June 3.—The following announcement, duly signed, is made by the ministerial association of the town of Hespeler, express our conviction that the paramount issue before us today in the province of Ontario is the abolition of the traffic in drink.

"We, therefore, urge upon the electors in our churches to attend the convention of the political parties to which they belong and use every possible influence to secure the nomination of candidates who will pledge their support to a policy which does not stop short of the abolition of all bar and club licenses, and whose character and record are in harmony with such a policy."

We, therefore, express our determination to support only such candidates in the coming election regardless of party, and to use every influence we may have to secure their election.

"We would respectfully yet with deep earnestness call the attention of all Christian people to the great responsibility resting upon them in the privilege of the vote, and would express our conviction that it is a plain Christian duty to support only those candidates who are in harmony with such a policy as that outlined above."

SAYS BOOKS ARE OPEN

Chairman of Public Utilities
Commission Declares People
Can See Pay Sheets.

Chairman Philip Pocock, of the public utilities commission, said today in answer to the criticism made upon the commission's work at the trades and labor council last night, that the books of the commission were open for inspection.

In reply to the statement that all the official help of the hydro-electric in London were getting good pay, while the men who did the work drew only $8 and $9 a week, Mr. Pocock said, "Our pay sheets are open to the public, and so far as I know all our men are getting good wages. The linemen asked for an increase of pay recently, and the matter has been referred to the municipal public commission, and the different electrical engineers will undoubtedly work out a scale of wages.
That is the prime reason why the matter has been referred."

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER
DIE IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Father and Son Injured When
Montreal Street Car
Strikes Auto.

[Canadian Press.]

MONTREAL, June 3.—A street car smashed into an automobile owned by Emile Robillard, 225 Hamilton street, at the intersection of Atwater avenue and
St. Antoine street this evening at 6:30, with fatal results.

Mrs. Robillard, 40 years of age, and a daughter, Miss E. Robillard, were instantly killed.

Mr. Robillard and a son, Eugene, were seriously hurt, and are now in the Western Hospital. They are suffering from broken ribs, general contusions, cuts and probably internal injuries. The motor man of the car, Roscoe Chennevert, 522
St. Antoine street, escaped with his left arm crushed.

The street car had descended a somewhat stiff grade on Atwater avenue, and was just swinging onto St. Antoine street, when it left the track. The automobile, with its four occupants, was proceeding along St. Antoine street, at this critical moment, and the car plunged into it at terrific speed. The automobile was jammed against the curb and the Robillard family were thrown out.

The mother and daughter were not so fortunate as the father and son, and were not thrown clear of the car or auto. Mrs.
Robillard was caught beneath the automobile. It is thought her skull was crushed, as there were few marks on her, except a wound in the back of the head.
Miss Robillard became pinned under the street car and was badly crushed. It was with some difficulty that her body was extricated.
