London, October 24. — A despatch with Natal dated 4.15 yes-from Ladysmith, yesterday afternoon, has just been received. It is a literal repetition of Cape Town's Glencoe advices of yesterday, and it is regarded as somewhat ominous that nothing has since been received respecting the result, especially when viewed in the light of Lord Wolseley's statement that Gen. Yule's force felt it necessary to retire from Dundee to Glencoe Junction. General Yule evidently is in a tight corner, as he now has or had to face the main Boer army under Gen. Joubert. Gen. Sir George Stewart White, the British commander-in-chief in Natal, will undoubtedly detach part of the force which was victorious at Elandslaagte to his assistance. Such a detachment, however, will leave Ladysmith poorly protected against the threatened attack from the west, as Gen. Hunter on Saturday wired that the departure of the force to Elandslaagte left him with only a couple of battalions of regulars, a mountain battery and 500 Natal volunteers to defend the town, which is the British military base in North Natal. Further news, therefore, is anxiously awaited.

WAR NOTES

At Glencoe the Boer hospital has been taken under the wing of the British hospital corps, as the Boers had had a single doctor, who with primitive staff, who were quite unable to cope with the wounded.

A private message from Ladysmith to-day says the women there are weeping and wailing on the market place. Three Boer families have been despatched to Klerksdorp to fetch the wounded from Mafeking. It is estimated there are 700 killed and wounded. The British is stated at Ladysmith only eighteen.

Despatch to the Daily Mail from Pietermaritzburg, Natal, says that Lieut. Gallway, of the Natal Carbineers, who was reported missing, is a prisoner in the hands of the Boers.

An official despatch from Ladysmith says that about 290 Boer prisoners have been marched to the town.

Two despatches says:—
The capture of Gen. Ben Viljoen is a cause of great satisfaction to the Uitlanders. He is the author of a biased pamphlet, a false pamphlet fully intended to incite the Dutch to rebellion.

The Dutch colony to rebellion. He sincerely hoped that he will be brought to trial and punished as he deserves.

A Pretoria despatch of the 21st says: The Transvaal Government received this morning the following despatch from General Peit Joubert:—"Commandant Lucas Meyer has had an engagement at Dundee. He made a plan of campaign with Commandant Erasmus by his side. Erasmus, however, failed to appear. It is estimated that the British lost heavily, but owing to the mist it is impossible to get all the details. It is reported that ten of our force were killed and twenty-five wounded."

OFFER A REWARD FOR THEM.

King street loafers have now added to their discredit the serious crime of destroying property and if they are caught it should go hard with them. From the appearance of the cuts the windows on King street have been defaced with a glass cutter rather than with a diamond. Chief Young states that the matter had been reported to him and he is investigating the matter, but the police are "mainly bad," said the chief, "but the police are powerless to do the matter. The by-law passed some years ago was quashed and through some oversight another one was never passed." The loitering law, enacted in Chatham would not be allowed in Toronto, St. Paul or any other place as it is in disgrace to the city of Chatham that street loafers are permitted to act the way they do here.

Selling For Cash

☐ The ruling principle of this store "CASH and ONE PRICE." Possibly you know what a dangerous thing credit is, dangerous because of the temptation to buy and keep on buying, the desire increasing with each added purchase, speculating on what the future may bring to meet the desires of the present. To pay as you go makes you richer as well as happier. This store's customers never have to suffer the criticism of being adorned with unpaid finery. Paying as you go is the first rung in the ladder on the way to prosperity. Don't you think it's time you put in the rung and stood on it? We give you your money back if you are not satisfied.

Over 10,000 of Them are now Threaten ing General White.

It is expected that Commandant Erasmus has by this time joined Commandant General Joubert, and that their combined columns amount to some 10,000 or 11,000 men, while the Free State Boers, now threatening Ladysmith from the east, and a column reported to be coming through Zululand, must also be reckoned with.

In short, Gen. Sir Geo. Stowara White has been unable to follow up his successes, and is obliged to remain at Ladysmith without being able to restore railway communication which is probably broken at other points besides Elandslaagte.

Thus the enemy, although the original plan, supposed to have been Col. Schiel's, failed, may fairly be credited with having isolated Gen. Yule's brigade and divided the British forces in Natal. Gen. Yule may find himself in a tight place, needing his experience in Indian and Burmese fighting, to extricate himself.

How the Boer's Prisoners got Away From Them

During the Battle at Elands-laagte—Another Description of the Fight.

London, Oct. 24.—Speaking of the battle at Elands the Daily Telegraph says:—"Gen. French commenced the action at 6.30 a. m. The enemy had only just finished coffee, when they were surprised and nearly all thrown into confusion by the armored train we sent out. The mining and railway officials escaped from the enemy and came into us to the number of 37 whites, besides many natives and coolies. Both of the latter had been robbed and compelled to fight by the Boers, but the whites were treated fairly well, but were made to take the oath to serve the Transvaal, etc. A British resident of Cape Colony hid his rifle and came in with thirty of his late captives. The Manchester Regiment, with the characteristic hardness of British infantry, all marched straight back at the enemy, too often careless of taking cover, despite the rattling, hissing and spitting of the Mauser bullets. Tommy Atkins says in effect: "What! Me hide from yokes? Let 'em shoot! Discipline has its drawbacks, as well as its advantages, and our soldiers, who have learned the Boer tactics, are now capable of readjusting the mistakes of the past. The panorama was heightened and colored by the red hue of gun flashes, and then shells tore along, roaring through the air like express trains in a tunnel, bursting noisily and shooting flame, lead and steel, which hissed like hot iron dropped into water. The places of explosion were marked by clouds of earth and a miasma of white smoke. The enemy bobbed about over the rocks like jacks in a box, firing heavily at us and with fair accuracy; for the magazine Mauser rifle is a terrible weapon, although it inflicts clean wounds. Many of them used explosive bullets. The Boer shells were mostly percussion, and threw up volleys of mud and stones about our gun crews. It should be noted that especially upon rocky ground, percussion shells give better results than high-bursting shrapnel. Col. Scott, courted disaster by waving his scarf to give encouragement to his men, who really needed none. Suddenly somebody showed a white flag, and Col. Hamilton tried to stop the firing, but a party of Boers, ensconced on a conical hill, and carrying nothing about their comrades, took advantage of the lull to deliver a heavy fire. The Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester were rendered more savage than ever by this, and redoubled their energy; for the Boers in the hollows were delivering a flanking fire. Our Tommies got wonderful quantities of loot—from silk hats and frock coats to bearded Kaffir lion cloths. It was a sight to see them loaded with their booty. Although we gave the prisoners the best seats around the camp fires, many of the Boer wounded had to lie out on the bare hillside, where they spent a terrible night, crying: "For God's sake, give us water, get a doctor for us; out here are British and Boer." One man forced round after round from his rifle to attract attention to his whereabouts, for the battlefield covered miles. The Boers say that the Gordon Highlanders made them conspicuous targets."

DISASTER IS FEARED.

Because the British Government is Holding Back War Despatches.

New York, Oct. 24.—Special cables from London say: The refusal of the government to give out late despatches from the seat of war in South Africa is viewed with alarm by many. It is feared that either Kimberley has fallen, and with it Cecil Rhodes, into the hands of the Boers; or that Gen. Buller has met defeat at Glencoe Junction, where he concentrated his forces after retreating from Dundee.

The redoubtable Gen. Joubert is believed to be in Yule's vicinity with 10,000 Boers, and with them the venerable President Kruger, while between Glencoe and Ladysmith another Boer force, presumably from the Free State, is believed to be operating.

Among rumors afloat is one coming via Cape Town that Col. Powell has captured his besieger, Gen. Cronje and killed 300 of his men; another, via Durban, that the Boer Gens. Viljoen and Kock, with Col. Schiel and 200 men are now prisoners at Ladysmith, and that the Elands-laagte fight so staggered the Boers that their attack on Dundee, which began on Sunday, was too feeble to do any damage.

BOERS USING BIG GUNS.

London, Oct. 24.—One of the most disquieting stories comes from Ladysmith. It is to the effect that an Englishman who arrived there from Dundee on Sunday evening, after escaping through the Boer lines on the previous night, reported that the enemy was then shelling the camp and town, with heavy guns, while the shells of the British were unable to reach the enemy's batteries. Consequently the man is said to have added, the camp has been shifted a mile or so, to be out of reach of the Boers, who were firing on the magazine in the town.

There is no denying, however, the great suspense and anxiety existing, which has been increased by the report in circulation, purporting to emanate from official quarters, to the effect that the Boers have secured the services of 13,000 natives.

The vague and varied estimates of the Boer losses and the absence of anything official on the subject are also arousing misgivings as to whether the beaten enemy suffered proportionately to the disastrous losses of the victors.

NEARLY 500 LAID LOW.

New York, Oct. 24.—A despatch to the World from London, says: The ministers and their supporters are now realizing that they plunged into the war with reckless haste and are now suffering the consequences of "dearly bought victories," and "disastrous losses of life,"—indicate with a plainness which she has never before back at the enemy, too often careless of taking cover, despite the rattling, hissing and spitting of the Mauser bullets. Tommy Atkins says in effect: "What! Me hide from yokes? Let 'em shoot! Discipline has its drawbacks, as well as its advantages, and our soldiers, who have learned the Boer tactics, are now capable of readjusting the mistakes of the past. The panorama was heightened and colored by the red hue of gun flashes, and then shells tore along, roaring through the air like express trains in a tunnel, bursting noisily and shooting flame, lead and steel, which hissed like hot iron dropped into water. The places of explosion were marked by clouds of earth and a miasma of white smoke. The enemy bobbed about over the rocks like jacks in a box, firing heavily at us and with fair accuracy; for the magazine Mauser rifle is a terrible weapon, although it inflicts clean wounds. Many of them used explosive bullets. The Boer shells were mostly percussion, and threw up volleys of mud and stones about our gun crews. It should be noted that especially upon rocky ground, percussion shells give better results than high-bursting shrapnel. Col. Scott, courted disaster by waving his scarf to give encouragement to his men, who really needed none. Suddenly somebody showed a white flag, and Col. Hamilton tried to stop the firing, but a party of Boers, ensconced on a conical hill, and carrying nothing about their comrades, took advantage of the lull to deliver a heavy fire. The Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester were rendered more savage than ever by this, and redoubled their energy; for the Boers in the hollows were delivering a flanking fire. Our Tommies got wonderful quantities of loot—from silk hats and frock coats to bearded Kaffir lion cloths. It was a sight to see them loaded with their booty. Although we gave the prisoners the best seats around the camp fires, many of the Boer wounded had to lie out on the bare hillside, where they spent a terrible night, crying: "For God's sake, give us water, get a doctor for us; out here are British and Boer." One man forced round after round from his rifle to attract attention to his whereabouts, for the battlefield covered miles. The Boers say that the Gordon Highlanders made them conspicuous targets."

The British forces in Natal have nearly 500 men in three days' fighting. The Gordon Highlanders lost only one officer and five men killed in their famous attack on Dargai Heights in the Afridi campaign, while at Elands-laagte they had four officers killed and nine wounded, twenty men killed and thirty-three wounded.

The Boers distinguish and shoot officers by reason of their carrying no rifles, their uniform being the same as the section of mounted infantry which pursued the Boers after the first fight at Glencoe, are still missing.

THE PASSION PLAY.

The electric voltage was not sufficient to make the exhibition of the moving pictures in the Passion Play a complete success at the Grand last night. There was a good audience who appreciated Mr. Warner's attempt to show them what is really a very fine attraction but the pictures were not so distinct as to make the show a real treat.

To-day, however, electric connection was made with the city wires and tonight the pictures will be all that can be desired.

There should be a large audience present. Every Biblical student particularly ought to see these pictures. The admission is only 25 and 15 cents, sums which can never be spent to better advantage.

"I would rather see those pictures than the best theatrical performance that ever came to Chatham," said Manager McVean to The Planet.

BLENHEIM.

It is being agitated among the ratepayers as well as several of the councillors to make a grant to Councillor R. T. Williamson, who is chairman of the board of works, and acted as engineer so acceptably all summer in the absence of the regular engineer and lost most of the summer in consequence.

The idea of having a full company of French Canadians for South Africa has been dropped as only eleven came forward. The company will be filled up with English Canadians.

Sir Charles Tupper Shows His Loyalty in a Practical Way.Places One Million Dollars on the Lives of the Canadian Recruits.Montreal, Oct. 24.—The Ocean Accident & Guarantee Corporation, of London, England, to-day issued the following important announcement to the officers and men of the Canadian contingent for the Transvaal:"As a result of the negotiations for some time pending with the company, we have this day concluded an arrangement with Sir Charles Tupper, Baronet, whereby he effects insurance to a limit of $1,000,000 upon the men of all ranks in the Canadian contingent going to Africa. To each officer and to each man, or to their heirs, the sum of $1,000 is to be paid by this company upon receipt of satisfactory proof of death while engaged with the enemy in South Africa; or death within 30 days of engagement, or for loss of both feet or both hands or both eyes. In case of loss of one hand or one foot, or one eye, $500 will be paid. If it is desired, as far as practicable, before embarkation, that the name and home addresses of the officers and men be forwarded to the office of this company, 186 St. James street, Montreal, by letter or wire, so that they may be recorded in the company's books."

TALK OF THE TOWN

Little Incidents Interesting the

tives of The Planet.

A MODERN ROBINSON CRUSOE.

"I have a great scheme of my own," said Detective Archie Skirving in speaking about the number of people who propose to build down at the Eau du Lac spring. "I will tell you what it is but of course in strict confidence.
That is the reason I wouldn't tell my plan, which I may say is wholly original, to anybody but a newspaper man.
You see I don't want it to get out because I wish to get my island picked out first, that is the place where I intend to build my island.""Now, briefly my scheme is this:
I'll get three good logs, put flooring across them, build a shack on the flooring and have the whole thing towed out somewhere in shallow water.
Then I'll anchor it, plant some willows around the place and when the sand washes up I'll have an island all my own. I think that's a mighty sight better plan than going away back a mile from the pier and buying a sandy lot for more than it's worth."

INSURE OUR VOLUNTEERS.

"I would like to see The Planet advocate the insurance of the lives of our volunteer city members of the Canadian contingent, by the city," said ex-Ald. James Cleve. "It would be a patriotic move and would, I believe, be heartily endorsed by the community at large. I would suggest that the council take out a policy for $1,000 upon each accepted volunteer from the Maple city, and the more one thinks on it the more worthy the suggestion appears of favorable consideration."GENTLEMEN: IF YOU ARE BALD,

MR. WILLIAM KEMP,

The Well-known Shoemaker of Belleville, Ont., gives an account of his wife's cure of heart trouble and Nervousness.

The case of Mrs. William Kemp, an account of which, given by her husband, the well known shoemaker, we publish below, is only one of the marvellous cures that are taking place in the city of Belleville, Ont., from time to time through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Never before in Hastings county has such proof been produced of the efficacy of any remedy.

There is no doubt but that Mrs. Kemp's case was a serious one, but even in the worst cases Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills never fail to cure. This is what her husband says:

"My wife has been a great sufferer from nervousness and heart troubles for the past twenty years. She was in a bad state, had terrible pains in the region of the heart, extending up over her shoulders, and she was so nervous that she could not sleep at night. Her appetite was almost gone, and although she had taken many kinds of medicine, she received no relief from them. Seeing an advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I got a box with the faint hope that they would help my wife. She has taken two boxes and the results are something wonderful. The pains have all but left her. Her appetite is good. She sleeps well, which is one of the greatest blessings she has ever experienced, and she has improved in every way.

"I can recommend them very highly and I feel that no other remedy could have achieved such a result in so short a time."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box of 3 for $1.25 at all drug-gists or sent by mail. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

VICTORIA'S DESCENT.

PROF. TOTTEN OF YALE CLAIMS SHE DESCENDS FROM KING DAVID.

HE HAS TRACED A DIRECT LINE.

According to this Genealogy, the Little Son of the Duke of York, if He Ever Becomes King, Will be the Long-Expected King David Who is to Rule Over the Hebrew Race.

Lieut. C. A. L. Totten, U.S.A., retired, formerly professor of military science at Yale, believes he has traced a direct line of descent from King David, of biblical times, to the little son of the Duke of York. According to Prof. Totten, if this boy, the third in line of succession to the throne of England, ever becomes king, he will be the long-expected King David, who is to come into the world to gather the Hebrew race from the four corners of the earth and to solidify again this scattered people. In speaking of his theory, Prof. Totten said to me:

"The heir of the Duke of York, if he eventually comes to the British throne, will rightfully be called David. He has always been called David. His full name is Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David. There is more to this matter than a mere name, for the young Prince can trace his descent back to David himself, and that is where the significance comes in, for it is well known to biblical students that there is to be at the termination of these times and the beginning of the next age a King David raised up to solidify the original empire of the Hebrews.

"I say his descent from King David can be traced by several lines. This arises from the fact that there are several breaks in the male line in the one which I shall submit—the line proceeding by queens who are daughters of the preceding generation; whereas spanning across these 'apparent' breaks there are lines which brace the whole together. I have compiled most of this from Grimaldi's Queen's royal descent from King David, the psalmist, and have corrected the chronology, and have consulted the references, besides numerous others.

"The possible descent of Queen Victoria from King David was first entered upon in the present day by Rev. F. R. A. Glover, M.A., in England, in the 'Remnant of Judah,' published in London in 1861. He did not, however, attempt to give the genealogy link of link, nor enter upon the proofs in detail. Since then the whole subject of Her Majesty's Jewish ancestry has been further examined by various students and writers on our Jewish origin. J. C. Stephens has compiled a genealogical chart, showing the connection between the house of David and the royal family of Great Britain. This gives the descent from Abraham to Zedekiah in full as found in Matthew. It then gives twelve generations only between Hermon, B.C. 580, and Victoria, A.D. 1819, thus of course, omitting a great number of links. The descent of the royal family from the royal line of Judah is, however, no new discovery.

"The Saxon kings traced themselves back to Odin, who was traced back to his descent from David, as may be seen in a very ancient manuscript in the Herald's College, London, and in Sharon Turner's 'History of the Anglo-Saxons.' The full and complete genealogy of Victoria from David does not appear to have been ever printed. In its compilation reliable works of reference have been used. Perfect accuracy is hardly to be expected in such an attempt, but it is believed that the genealogy is as correct as our present knowledge of this obscure and intricate subject will permit. Commencing from Adam and numbering the generations serially we find:

47. Manassah, 691-687, B.C., Meshullemeth.
48. Amon, 686-604, B.C., Hamutah.
50. Zedekiah, 598-583, B.C.

"It will be noticed that Josiah married Hamutah, the daughter of Jeremiah, of Anathoth, whereas Jeremiah the prophet was Jeremiah of Libnah, but those familiar with Jeremiah's history will remember that at the very termination of his career, and before the city fell, his uncle's son, having no heirs, came to him, and sold out the rights of Anathoth, so that Jeremiah became the Jeremiah of both places.

"Now, Jechiah was the son of Josiah and Hamutah, and Josephus tells us that Zedekiah was the last king of David's line. This is a mistake, for the line was preserved in a most mysterious way. When Zedekiah, in chains, was about to be taken to Babylon as a prisoner, his three sons were slain before him, his own eyes put out, he died in Babylon. But Jeremiah the prophet shows that his daughters were saved, given into the hands or charge of Gedaliah, who was left as Governor of Jerusalem after the Babylonians' departure.

"Now, the possession of these daughters by marriage was so important that Ishmael, one of the King's seed, but a renegade, captured the party, and ran off with them, meaning to set up his claim upon marriage. This party of marauders was followed by Johanan, and eventually the King's daughters were rescued. Thereupon, under the charge of Jeremiah, they were all taken down to Egypt, and obtained shelter at Tephannes, the palace of the Jew's daughter yet known by the Arabs, and whose discovery a few years ago by Mr. Petrie verified the entire story.

"Jeremiah remained in Egypt until the Babylonians captured the land, and from thence he disappears. JEREMIAH'S GREAT-GRANDCHILDREN. "The daughters were, of course, great-grandchildren of Jeremiah the prophet. They naturally fell to his care. It was promised unto him that he should not suffer harm in any land that Providence should direct him to. He had been chosen to tear down, to hew down, to destroy and to pull down—to build and to plant. He directly prophesied that a remnant should escape, out of the east, destined to take root downward and bear fruit upward.

"Ezekiel, entering into the domain of these mysteries, reveals the whole matter in a riddle (chapter xvii), of the great eagle which descended upon the cedar, eating a famous princess, Tea Tephi, and bringing many wonderful Hebrew relics. Thence came the harp of David that once through Tara's halls the soul of music shed. With them came the coronation stone upon which every successor of Tea Tephi has been crowned; with them the Jodham Morani, or priests' breastplate; the 'usine and the thummin,' or key to tribal descent, and surely other elements of Hebrew identity.

"But to revert to Judah. He had twin sons by Tamar. Zerah disappeared. He was the man who was marked with a scarlet thread at his birth, and was traced these knights of scarlet thread straight to Ireland, where in the generation preceding Jeremiah's arrival they conquered that land as the Milesians.

"When this royal remnant appeared in Ireland, Hermon, the prince of Milesians, was about to be crowned under Druidic auspices, and the interruption by the arrival of these strangers led to the marriage of Hermon and Tea Tephi, and to all the original wonders that circulate around the early history of this Turin or Jurin Island, in reality the Isle of the Jews.

"To resume now our line at No. 51.

Birds in Alaska.

Great numbers of wild birds nest in Alaska. Ducks, geese and swans build their nests on the ground in the nesting area of Alaska it is said that the nests are so thick that it is impossible to walk without stepping on one. The natives are experts in killing this game. They do it with a peculiar weapon. Six snow sticks, about three feet in length, are fastened together by a quill at one end. At the other end of each stick is a ball of ivory, pear-shaped, and about as large as a walnut. The hunter, with this in his hand, approaches the flock at dusk. He sees these tails whirling. When the flock rises to fly, these whirling snows are thrown into the flock. They catch about the necks or legs of the birds, and they are captured. Sometimes as many as a dozen are captured at one throw. Travellers are sorry to see that the nests of these wild birds are so carelessly robbed of eggs. The eggs are wanted for the albumen which is used in manufacturing, but eggs are taken that cannot be used, and these are thrown away. So great is the destruction of eggs and birds that the birds each year occupy much less space in nesting.

Which? "My grandpa had a perplexity at yesterday," said little Bessie to her playmate. "Perplexity st!" exclaimed the other. "I guess you mean a paralytic stroke, don't you?"

MEN CURED FREE.

A most successful remedy has been found for sexual weakness such as impotency, varicocele, shrunken organs, nervous debility, lost manhood, night emissions, premature discharge and all other results of self-abuse or excesses. It cures any case of the difficulty, never fails to restore the organs to full natural strength and vigor. The doctor who made this wonderful discovery wants to let every man know about it. He will therefore send the receipt, giving the various ingredients to be used so that all men at a trifling expense can cure themselves. He sends the receipt free, and all the reader need do is to send his name and address to L. W. Knapp, M.D., 1710, Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., requesting the free receipt as enclosed in this paper. It is a generous offer and all men ought to be glad to have such an opportunity.

A BUILDING BOOM.

Ridgetown Will Enjoy One as a Result of the Late Fire.

The Losses Incurred and the Insurance Carried by the Sufferers.

Barrister Walter Mills, of Ridgetown, was in the city last week. Speaking of the Ridgetown fire, he says the result, though causing temporary inconvenience, will in the end prove rather an advantage, because the enterprising property owners burned out have already begun active operations in the way of rebuilding and this will lead to a boom in that line in Ridgetown.

TO AN OLD FRIEND

Chaplain J. H. Bradford, of Washington, Refers

In His Description of a Trip to Northfield Connecticut—By His Works He is Known.

Chaplain J. H. Bond, of the Indian Bureau, Washington, writes of a visit to Northfield:

Saturday E. Payson Hammond, with a friend, took the White Mountain train at Hartford, Conn., for Northfield. After a delightful ride up the far-famed valley of the Connecticut we stopped at South Vernon and soon arrived at Weston Hall, Northfield, which has been set apart for the use of the New York Presbytery. Brother Hammond, being a member, was represented by over 50 pastors, and it seems to us a remarkable fact that so many pastors could arrange to leave busy New York for a quiet fortnight at Northfield. It was found that they were constant attendants on these remarkable meetings and enjoying them. Sunday morning, after prayers in Weston Hall, an experience meeting was held in the parlors, where many of these ministers stated how deeply they had been impressed with the services held. We found these brethren, who had decided convictions relative to Briggs and such men, and had expressed them strongly at home, here dwelling in pleasant brotherly unity. Dr. Merle Smith, who preached in the auditorium to a house crowded in every part Sunday afternoon, a most earnest sermon, and who attended Mr. Hammond's meetings at Elmira, New York, when a little boy, was one of those who raised the money in New York city to defray the expenses of these ministers at Northfield.

Saturday evening we enjoyed a stirring address from Mr. Moody, who told of the everlasting inheritance of the Christian, as depicted by St. Paul in the 8th chapter of the Roman epistle. Mr. Meyer, of London, in speaking twice every day and evidently doing great good. During the last year he has spent some time in India and illustrates some of his teachings by what he saw there.

Mr. Hammond, whom he cordially greeted when first he appeared in the auditorium, spent some time in conference with him in his room, talking of the needs of England and India. It was in Rev. Baptist Noel's church in London, at one of Mr. Hammond's meetings, where he caught his first inspiration for evangelizing work. Years afterward he invited Mr. Hammond to hold meetings in his church. Since that time a warm friendship has existed between Mr. Hammond and Mr. Meyer.

He now invites Mr. Hammond to London again and suggests very strongly that he should spend some time in India. He believes that great good might be accomplished by a visit there, especially as he has been asked by the Sunday School Union of India to spend a year there, where his book, "The Conversion of Children," has been translated and published, thus preparing the way for a work among the young.

Sabbath morning a children's meeting was held.

TETTERON HANDS

Troubled for years. Sore All Over. Could not use them. Spread over Arms, Neck, and Face. Smarted Like Fire. Physicians no Benefit. Tried CUTICURA. Immediate Relief. Permanent Cure.

I had been troubled with tetter for several years. At times my hands would become all over, so that I could not use them at all, and were so tender that clear water, even, smarted like fire, and it spread over arms, neck, and face. I had been treated by physicians, but without benefit, when I began the CUTICURA remedy. I found relief before I had taken the first bottle. I used three or four bottles of CUTICURA. Now my hands are as good as new, and I can use them as before. CUTICURA (ointment), and it has never troubled me since. ELLA CURSON, Springfield, Ill. March 10, 1898.

BLOOD POISON CURED

By CUTICURA Eczema Cure

One of my children ran a rusty nail into his foot, which was most painful. The blood got out of order, and some broke out on his hands and feet. I gave him one bottle of CUTICURA. He was cured in a few days. CUTICURA is a most valuable remedy for all blood poison, eczema, and all other skin troubles. It is a most valuable remedy for all these ailments.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT

That is to say, it purifies the blood and circulates it, and then removes the cause, while warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, and gentle anointing with CUTICURA Ointment, greatly assist the action of the CUTICURA. It is a most valuable remedy for all blood poison, eczema, and all other skin troubles. It is a most valuable remedy for all these ailments.

SAVE YOUR SKIN
Hands and Feet by using CUTICURA SOAP.

ing was held on Round Top. Mr. Jacobs led the singing and gave an interesting account of his own conversion, after which he introduced Mr. Hammond in a kindly manner. Mr. Hammond accepted the situation and numbers of them told of their conversion, among them one, many little fellow from South Africa.

QUACK DOCTORS VS. DRUGGISTS.
It is a more sensible thing for the public to entrust their health in the hands of a skillful chemist than a quack medicine. Merrill's System is a reliable drug, and a remedy—pleasant to take—which purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 doses in a bottle. Sold at the Central Drug Store.

Bystander—Should you say that picture was taken from life?
Critics—I don't know; but the world wouldn't suffer, if the artist was.

LIKE AN OLD CLOCK.
Many men and women in the spring time are badly run down in health. Merrill's System is just what they need. It positively cures constipation, purifies the blood and gives tone and vigor to the system. It is a main tonic for every organ in the body. Three weeks' treatment for 50c. Sold at the Central Drug Store.

A GALT LADY SAVED $50.
Mrs. Nesbit, of Galt, was sure her daughter was dying of consumption. So were two physicians and all the neighbors. Three boxes of Four T's put the girl on her feet. As a positive, safe and speedy cure for coughs, colds or congested lungs this Four T's can't be beaten. Large bottles 25c. at the Central Drug Store.

Pearl—What is Irene doing with that crayon and paper?
I think she is drawing her grandfather.

PEARL—Hm! tracing her ancestors, I suppose.

THE COMING OF BABY.
When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the joy of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. The result of his study, improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women strength and health and is necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

The Bride—Oh, Jack! Isn't everything just lovely?
The Groom—Yes, darling, and you are not you and I just everything?

A COMPLICATED MACHINE
Is an object of admiration, but a complicated machine is a thing that is not to be trusted. Merrill's System is a most valuable remedy for all blood poison, eczema, and all other skin troubles. It is a most valuable remedy for all these ailments.

THE CALL.

Tommy Atkins, you're a-wanted, And you're wanted mighty bad, And you're go'n' t' git some fightin', Like a which you've never had. So you'd better kiss your mother, And that Burma girl of yours, For it won't be easy pickings, When your fighting with the Boers.

You can fix the howling Dervish, With a neatness and despatch, And the bloomin', bloody Sepoys, Won't see their home ag'in. But you'd better kiss your mother, And that Burma girl of yours, For it won't be easy pickings, When your fighting with the Boers.

They are waitin' anxious for you, And they're achin' t' begin, And a lot among your numbers, Tom, Won't see their home ag'in. So you'd better kiss your mother, And that Burma girl of yours, For it won't be easy pickings, When your fighting with the Boers.

They will give you folks a medal, And your girl will dream of you, And they'll print your name with others, And they'll call you brave and true. But you'd better kiss your mother, And that Burma girl of yours, For it won't be easy pickings, When your fighting with the Boers.

SAUCY, BUT RELIANT.
Such is the Typical East Side Girl of New York City.

Many Peculiarities of this Interesting Freak of Human Nature.

"The typical east side girl of New York," writes Charles T. Brodhead in The Ladies' Home Journal, "is simply a product of her environment. She is surrounded by the good, bad and indifferent. She is in an atmosphere in which no girl should be reared. Her eyes and ears are closed to many disagreeable things around her. And she shuts them simply because she does not care to see and hear. Yet the east side girl is no saint. Far from it. The typical girl of that section is self-reliant, saucy, impertinent, slangy, quick tempered, ready to fight with the tongue, and even with fists if necessary. She will dance all night and work all day, repeat it three or four times a week, then declare she isn't tired and look bright and fresh all the while. She will upbraid her mother, whom she calls 'me ole woman,' and abuse her father, referred to by her as 'me ole man,' cuff the ears of her younger brothers; have a hair pulling match with a sister; yet if any one should dare utter a word derogatory to the members of her family, 'Me East Side' would go at them like a wildcat. She flirts outrageously with motormen, conductors and the like and will laugh derisively at or slap the face of the well-dressed man who presumes to become acquainted with her on the street; remain night after night at the bedside of a girl friend who is ill and follow a begging cripple half a block to give her last cent for charity."

Evarts' Pains.
William M. Evarts, Secretary of state under President Hayes, made perhaps his best and his worst puns from railway platforms while traveling with the presidential party.

They had ascended Mount Washington by the steep cable road, and all tourists, gathered there from all parts of the country, called for a speech. "We are not strangers," said Mr. Evarts, "We have all been here and brought up here."

At another stopping place, while traveling through Tennessee, Mr. Evarts laid a wager with the young people of his party that he could make a pun upon each town through which they should pass. As they reached Chattanooga the crowd clamored for a speech. Mr. Evarts pledged that as the train would stop but a moment he could only make a few Chattanooga remarks!

The unexpected element which characterizes a pun was marked in all the wit of Rufus Choate. "I can't endure X," he once exclaimed of another famous Bostonian. "I should not care if I should never see him again." Then half remorsefully, "Well, I should not care if I should see him in a procession."

Making a Child Too Quiet.
Play is the proper and natural outlet for a child's thoughts. To restrain his motion is to drive back his living fancy into the recesses of his mind, and this results in his confusion and unhappiness. Some children who are forced to be still and passive when they are longing for action find relief in whispering over stories to themselves, but it is an unsatisfactory substitute for dramatic action. And it is also morally injurious, for the necessity of concealing one's ideas destroys after while the ability for fluent expression and being about the family and district of our friends—Florence Hull Winterburn in Woman's Home Companion.

Advantages of Emerson.
Bertha—But isn't there a good deal of Emerson's writings that you do not understand, Uncle Charles?
Uncle Charles—Of course there is. The great pleasure in reading Emerson is the opportunity it gives a man with a fertile imagination to think out meanings for profound passages.—Boston Transcript.

Beautiful Colored Photographs

We are making a specialty of colored photos which are lasting. They are a little expensive, but only in keeping for artistic work—done with the best materials to last and require a large amount of time to finish, but they are worth it and this means that our pictures are of the highest quality and our reputation for good work only is appreciated far and near. We have a special line of neat frames made in New York expressly for this class of work. A call will convince you.

BASE BALL FIASCO

Rival Teams Fighting Out in the Newspapers

Games That Sportsmen Would Have Played on the Diamond.

To the baseball lovers of Chatham:

The S. Hadley ball team having won the pennant of the city league, square and fair, will give their version of the last game which decided the championship.

The game was to be called at four o'clock, and Dr. Tye and J. Alexander had been appointed umpires by the president of the league. The latter was to act if Dr. Tye was unable to be on the grounds at four o'clock. The Hadley team wanted to have the game called at five o'clock, and asked the Planet team if they would agree to it; but they insisted that the game be called at four o'clock. The Hadley club agreed to it, and waited until 20 minutes past four, when they insisted that the game be called. But the Planet team wanted Dr. Tye to umpire and wanted to put the game off until he arrived. After tossing, they won the choice, and Umpire Alexander asked them which they would take, and they decided to take the field. They, however, refused to play until Dr. Tye arrived. Umpire Alexander, having given the usual time for them to take the field, ordered the Hadley team to the field. All the players of the Hadley team immediately took their places, and began to play. The game was given to the Hadleys, by a score of 9 to 0.

This decided the championship of the league.

C. M. BRANDT, Captain.

ELAY BALL.

To the Members of the S. Hadley Club, ball team, and baseball lovers in Chatham:

The members of the Planet baseball club regret the publication of the foregoing epistle from Captain Brandt, of the Hadley club, in the Banner of Saturday last. Such newspaper after-math in athletics has become far too common all over and has a nauseating influence, which only serves to degrade all manly sport, and oftentimes takes part in it, with a fair-minded and sportsmanlike public.

The Planet team have won the championship pennant of the City League upon the games actually played and not won and lost upon their merits. In a home organization of this kind, where the members of the teams are personal friends and fellow-citizens and the motto of all is "May the best team win," the taking of contests untried upon technicalities and quibbles is, according to the views of our club, regrettable, as characterized to modify that spirit and create wounds that injure much more than the winning or losing of a hundred pennants. It was for this reason that the Planet team refused to take the game complained of, when on the scheduled date of playing, only five of the Hadley players were present at the grounds. Our club wants no credit for games that are not won upon the diamond.

But the Planet club does not wish for any unpleasant feelings in the matter. If Captain Brandt feels that in winning the pennant on the diamond, as it has done, the Planet has triumphed over a better team (his own), we take friendly issue with him, believe that as sportsmen we should offer him fair redress. It is late in the season, but perhaps not too late for one more game, and the Planet team is prepared to meet Captain Brandt and the Hadley team on the athletic grounds at four o'clock on the afternoon decided upon to play out a full game of nine innings. If this contest should result disastrously for us we will relinquish the championship we have won, but over the pennant honors to Captain Brandt and his agile diamond dusters, doff our caps and heartily congratulate the victors.

The Planet team trusts that this offer will commend itself to our friends of the Hadley club as being much better than any long newspaper wrangle giving "our version" of the city league championship. In the game suggested it will, of course, be understood that none but regular bona-fide employees, who played during the league series, are eligible to play; and that the contest shall be perfectly untried by Dr. W. H. Tye, Thos. Smith, John P. Dunlop, Wm. J. Taylor, John West, or some other gentleman whose knowledge of the game and disinterested character shall commend itself to the judgment of the competing clubs.

Sincerely yours,
WM. COUPLAND, Capt. Planet-Ball Club.

A WOLVERINE P. M.

J. C. Van Baricomb, P. M., and real estate dealer, at Honor, Mich., who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. T. B. Farley, the past week, has left for his home. Mr. Van Baricomb says this was his first visit to our city, and he was pleasantly surprised by the courtesy extended to him by firms and business men. He called on P. M. Barfoot, who took extra pains to show him his office and its workings. He says he has visited many post offices, and that Chatham's office is second to none; it is up-to-date in every way. The clerks are courteous and pleasing to all, and the post master, he says, is a veteran at the business, and the right man in the right place.

THE SAW THE BOYS.

President Edward Donegan, of the Young Men's Catholic Club, was in London Sunday. He saw all the Chatham boys who are going to South Africa. Out of about 600 applicants only about 90 were accepted. This speaks well for the Chatham boys, five out of six from this city having passed. The Chatham boys are in barracks in London, and next Tuesday they report in Quebec. All the Maple City boys are well and look fine in their uniforms. Alex. Wilson had to leave for Seaford on account of the illness of his mother, but he will be with the soldiers on Tuesday.

Manager McVean, of the Grand Opera House, has a force of men engaged painting the fronts of the theatres in the Opera House block. They will also paint the lobbies and put down new carpets in the building.

How Old She Looks

Poor clothes cannot make you look old. Even pale cheeks won't do it. Your household cares may be heavy and disappointments may be deep, but they cannot make you look old. One thing does it and never fails.

It is impossible to look young with the color of seventy years in your hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

permanently postpones the tell-tale signs of age. Used according to directions it gradually brings back the color of youth. At fifty years of age, write the doctor about it. It thickens the hair also; stops it from falling out; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff. Shall we send you our book on the Hair and its Diseases?

The Best Advice Free.
If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your hair, which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Squire Marx has returned from Toronto.

Walter Verrall has returned from Galt, where he spent Thanksgiving day with relatives.

Joseph Northwood, the popular grain buyer for the Kent Mills, has returned from a short visit to Detroit.

Bertie Martin is much better to-day and Dr. Charteris states that he now has a good fighting chance for his life.

The separate school concert will be held in the Grand Opera House on November 22nd, assisted by the pupils of the United Academies.

J. M. Gardiner and Dr. Tye have returned from Harwich with 63 quail, the result of some fine field work by these gentlemen with gun and dog.

Emanuel Joseph, Con. 2, Chatham township, was before Judge Houston at county court yesterday on a charge of stealing $70 from his father. He was remanded.

For sporting goods of all kinds, guns, powder, shot, traps and hunting coats go to Geo. Stephens & Co. It's the cheapest place in Chatham and they have the best assortment to choose from.

At the residence of Mrs. Philip Andrews, William St., Byron Brown, of Florence, and Miss Mary Jane Mansfield, of Bothwell, were united for life. Rev. J. J. Ross performed the marriage ceremony.

At the Park St. Methodist Sunday morning Mr. Bincombe, Superintendent of Foreign Missions, Algoma, made a few remarks at the close of the service, telling what good was being done in the grand work in which he is engaged.

The firemen's hop will be held on Thursday evening next, Oct. 25th. If this proves a success a ball will be given later on in Northwood's Hall. The hope is to provide funds to pay the accident insurance of the firemen and should be well patronized.

Before marriage most men are tar-sighted. They see good qualities that their sweethearts don't possess. Then they become near-sighted by failing to see the good qualities their wives possess after marriage. Near-sighted, far-sighted, before and after marriage, if you need glasses call on E. J. MacIntyre, leading optician, opposite Grand Opera House, Chatham.

President E. Donegan announces that the Young Men's Catholic Club will give another of their delightful socials on Wednesday evening. Pedro will be indulged in and George Overton has consented to enliven the proceedings by numbers from his new $200 gramophone.

MANY WERE THERE

First Presbyterian Church Anniversary Celebration

An Excellent Tea and a Fine Program—Both Were Much Appreciated.

The tenth anniversary of the induction of Rev. F. H. Larkin, B. A., Ph. D., into the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, was fittingly observed by the special services of last Sunday, while the delightful and successful anniversary supper and entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society proved a splendid and highly appreciated culmination to a memorable occasion.

Hundreds of citizens and their good wives patronized the excellent supper and admirable program provided and all expressed their delight with both.

The sumptuous supper was served in the basement of the lecture hall from six to eight o'clock, and the eight long tables, laden with the good things of the season, were filled and refilled continually. The tables were also decorated with many delicate vases of perfumed flowers and foliage, while the basement hall was also pleasingly and appropriately decorated.

The tables were presided over by the following ladies:—No. 1.—Mrs. T. K. McKend and Miss M. Fleming; No. 2.—Mesdames S. T. Martin, Wm. Gordon and D. R. McGavin; No. 3.—Mesdames H. Stevens, W. Foreman, and Montgomery; No. 4.—Mesdames J. B. Rankin, H. Taylor, and Jno. Smith; No. 5.—Mesdames S. Glenn and E. R. Smith; No. 6.—Mesdames W. M. Stone and A. B. McCoy; No. 7.—Mesdames A. McKay and K. Urquhart; No. 8.—Miss Bessie Walker, and Mrs. Jamieson.

The young ladies who so capably busied themselves in waiting upon the guests at the tables were—Misses Walker, Jamieson, A. Walker, R. Birch, M. Samson, W. Urquhart, J. Griffith, Alice Birch, Ella McCoy, Nichol, Sara Robertson, Ella and Maggie Smith, Bertha Birch, Nellie Cumming, Vera and Beta Smith, Glenn, McKerrall, Mary Robertson, Taylor, Smith, A. McNabb, McPherson, Mabel Birch and Sibbald, and Mesdames W. E. Campbell, J. Stone, S. Glenn, and Watts.

At the conclusion of the excellent supper, provided, the congenial gathering adjourned to the church, where a delightful musical and literary program was presented. After an admirable introductory organ voluntary by Wm. H. Brackin, J. B. Rankin, B. A., Q. C., who occupied the chair, made a brief and appropriate address warmly eulogizing the work of the ladies of the congregation in every way made by the church during the ten years' pastorate of Rev. Mr. Larkin. Mr. Rankin's remarks were heartily applauded.

An exquisite Scottish duet, "O wert thou in the Cauld Blast," was admirably rendered by Mrs. Jno. Cooper and Miss Ada Rose, the rich blending of the young ladies' voices being much admired.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, of Blenheim, gave a short and spirited address, complimenting the ladies on the excellent entertainment provided, and the church upon the excellent progress made. Mr. McLaren also made pleasing and patriotic allusions to the Scottish mothers of other days.

Miss Jessie Taylor's sweet soprano voice has rarely been heard to better advantage than in her delightful solo last evening, "The Land of the Leal." Miss Taylor was heartily cheered and gracefully responded.

Rev. Dr. Jamieson, of Bridge End, made an appropriate address, bestowing praise on church and congregation and exhorting all to renewed effort.

Mrs. John Cooper, by request, gave an exquisite rendition of the pathetic and inspiring Scottish song "Angus McDonald." The talented lady was enthusiastically recalled and delighted the audience with the ever-popular ballad, "Annie Laurie."

Rev. Mr. McInnes, of Thamesville, also spoke briefly along the same lines as his predecessors, his earnest words of mingled commendation and encouragement meeting with hearty approval.

During the evening the choir rendered two excellent anthems, "I Will Praise Thee" from Farmer's Mass, and "The Marvellous Work," from the Creation with solo obligato by Mrs. Jno. Cooper.

A PURE GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR POWDER.

The entertainment was brought to a close with a few appropriate words expressing appreciation and gratitude by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Larkin.

The proceeds of the entertainment last evening amounted to $181.

O'BRIEN'S MOUTH.

It Got Him Ejected From the House of Commons.

He Compares Joseph Chamberlain to a Murderer and Would not Withdraw.

London, Oct. 23.—During the course of the day's proceedings in the House of Commons, while the House was discussing the report on the supplementary estimates, Patrick O'Brien, Parnellite member for Kilkenny city, declared that the hands of the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, were as much stained with blood as those of any murderer who ever mounted the scaffold. The Speaker, William Courtenay, called upon O'Brien to withdraw his remark, but he refused to do so, whereupon the House, by a vote of 316 to 23, resolved to suspend him, and he left the House, remarking: "You had better bring up another army corps, unless you want it somewhere else." The House then adjourned.
