A large, enthusiastic and representative convention of residents of West Kent was held this afternoon at the Oddfellows' Auditorium for the purpose of organizing the local campaign for clean Provincial government and purity in public life.

The convention was an open one in every sense, all interested in the good cause being cordially invited to be present. The result was a magnificent gathering—the largest in years—while an interesting and pleasing feature was the presence of a few Liberals who accepted the invitation and were warmly welcomed.

Enthusiasm ran high. Victory was in the air. No convention ever gathered with a higher, better platform and both delegates and visitors unitation.

J. M. PIKE.

mr. Irwin, Raleigh,—Yes, and go by the C. P. R.—Laughter and applause, which has become the chief plank in an excellent platform.

Earnest, sincerely and forcibly was this great m ssion put forth. A clean candidate, a clean campaign and a clean policy was the clarion—and there could be no better, no prouder. The spirit evidenced doomed that corruption which has sulfied the good name of our Province. There is a brighter, better day dawning for Ontario.

Mr. Irwin, Raleigh,—Yes, and go by the C. P. R.—Laughter and applause, Nominations were then called for and resulted as follows:—

JAMES CLANCY, moved by Nathaniel Massey and Sydney Coatsworth.

WILLIAM R. HALL, by Ward Stanworth and W. R. Baxter,

A. W. THORNTON, by James Wemp and J. W. Tompkins and Judson Shejely.

JAMES CHINNICK, by Wm. Irwin and S. Hitchcock.

As the different workers in the As the different workers in the cause of Liberal-Conservatism entered the hall they were each greeted with hearty cheering, which concentrated itself into an ovation upon the appearance of Herbert S. Clements, M. P., and James Clancy.

Among those seated on the platform and around it were B. W. Willson, Ridgetown, Conservative standard-bearer in East Keut, Wm. Ball, Manson Campbell, Chas. Austin, Wm. M. Drader, A. B. Carscallen, Wal-of a Standard Bearer.

Kent, in convention assembled, hereby resolve:

That the practices of the Government in power in To onto, as revealed in the election co rts and on the floor of the Hoose, live brought reproach upon the nale of this Province, and the methods adopted by the Government in reent elections to maintain itself in power are such as to merit the condemn tion of all horest and right thinking persons, and on this account we are of the unanimous opinion that the best interests of this Province demand that the men who have brought this lasting disgrace upon the Province should be no longer retained in office.

And it is further resolved that the policy and platform advocated and supported by Mr. J. P. Whitney, K. C., and his colleagues, as well as by the Conservative press of this Province, are such as commend themselves to our best judgment, and we express our sincere desire that at the approaching general election Mr. Whitney may be successful in carrying a majority of the representatives as he has already carried a majority of the electors, and to this end we pledge him our votes and influence.

J. S. Fraser moved that each polling sub-division appoint a delegate to the Toronto conference. Jas. Jenkins seconded and the resolution carried.

MOST POWERFUL SEARCHLIGHT.

The most powerful searchlight ever designed or built was recently finished at the famous Schuckert works at Nuremburg, Germany, where the manufacture of giant searchlights has been made a specialty.

Some idea of the illuminating power of the great instrument may be gained from he fact that if it were possible to set it upon a hill or tower 300 feet high its rays could be detected from a distance of nearly 85 miles. Its candle power, at 316,000,000, is so great as to be almost incomprehensible in figures. When the searchlight for the Heligoland lighthouse was turned out at the Schukert works some time ago it was considered a wonder, but its candle power is only 10,000,000.

Negotiations are in progress for securing this enormous instrument for one of the United States lighthouses.

The question asked was a needless one and Christ's answer was intended to draw attention to the all important matter. Startling Case of Thos. Harrison, of St. Mary's Ferry-He Tells The Story H.mself.

St. Mary's Ferry, York County, N. B., Nov. 14.—(Special).—That Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Diabetes, one of the most deadly forms of Kidney Disease, has been satisfactorily proved by Mr. Thos. Harrison, of this place. Speaking of his cure Mr. Harrison says:

A MARVELLOUS DOG IS THIS

MARVEL.

In a big apartment house in New York lives a collie, who has well carned his name of Marvel. He dwells with his mistress on the seventh floor, and would get very little exercise were he less clever. Marvel's mistress trusts him to go out alone, and this is how he goes about it. Does he tramp down seven flights of stairs? No, indeed. Marvel walks to the elevator, stands upon his hind feet, and with his front paws presses the "button" which summons the elevator to his floor. In saunters Marvel. When he has been out long enough, he again rings for the elevator, and reaching his own apartments rings the door bell.

Marvel's conduct suggests a conundrum. Why is Marvel like the rider to Banbury Cross? Because he has rings on his foce.

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pare life unless the blood is pure. Foul blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.

Cephus A. Gore, late of the firm of king & Gore, implement dealers and agents for the Frost & Wood implement company, was sent up for trial on two churges of theft, by Judge Houston, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Gore's case is a very complicated one, and much evidence was received yesterday. The case occupied the whole of the morning at the Police Court, yesterday and it was taken up again at four o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Gore elected to be tried by jury and the preliminary hearing was taken before Judge Houston.

The firm of King & Gore is over $900 behind in their accounts. Gore is accountable for over $600 of this, according to the allegations of his partner, King. According to the agreement between King and Gore and the Frost & Wood Co., all more eys received were to be remitted to the company and the commissions returned when they would be shared equally by both King and Gore. According to the statement of the Frost & Wood accountant, Mr. Dingle, only $25 in money was remitted to the company during the whole time that Gore & King were the agents.

Mr. King is engaged in the hardware business and was carrying his partnership with Gore as a side line. He gave Gore full management of the affairs of the agency. He claims that Gore, when asked several times to give a financial statement of the affairs of the agency, refused to do so, and that he (King) knew nothing of how affairs stood until the accountant. Mr. Dingle, made his visit to Chatham.

Gore, on the other hand, claimed that he had a verbal agreement with Mr. King where the commissions were to be used first in paying the expenses of the store, which was situated opposite the market, and also one with the Frost & Wood Co., acthorizing him to pay expenses, such as store rent, travelling expenses, such as store rent, travelling expenses, and the other charge was laid over. Frank W. Smth appears for Gore, and Crown Attorney H. D. Smith appears for the prosecution, the case having been taken over by the crown.

Japanese Artillery Still Doing Damage At Port Arthur.

ut General Stoessel Telegraphs Czar That He Can Hold Out For Several the Japs Repulsed in Front of Pentileff Hill - Cerean Discontent Against the Japs Said to Be Increasing Baltic Fleet Moves.

Tokio, Nov. 18.—(3 p.m.)—A telegram from Moji reports the destruction of another Russian arsenal and magazine at Port Arthur. The Japanese discovered, it is said, the location of the arsenal and centred their artillery fire upon it. After dropping 200 shells in the locality they succeeded in blowing it up. The Japanese are w.dening their saps and are using them to move their sups forward. The Russians continue their spirited sorties, using hand grenades in their attacks upon the saps.

Representative Joins in Tribut to the Brave Fishermen,

Hull, Eng., Nov. 19.—The Board of Trade inquiry into the actual occurrences of Dogger Bank, Oct. 22. closed with Thursday's session, and the commissioners will report to the Board of Trade on the subject as specifily as possible. At the opening of yesterday's session the commissioners and others paid high tributes to the gallantry of the members of the fishing fleet.

Dr. Woodhouse, representing the Russian Government, said he would like to say in behalf of those he represented how much they regretted what had occurred and how he agreed with the remarks concerning the bravery of the fishermen. It would give him the greatest pleasure to convey the purport of those remarks to the Russian Government.

The court then heard evidence regarding the financial circumstances marks to the Russian Government.

The court then heard evidence regarding the financial circumstances of the killed and injured fishermen, and those dependent on them, and claims were put in. Among others, Skipper Whelpton of the Mino claimed $750 for injuries to his health, and shock to his nervous system, and $2,500 for saving the Mino when she was unseaworthy. The skipper of the Gull claimed $250 for injury to his health and $10,000 for saving the lives of the crew of the Crane. Others claimed from $250 to $500.

YOUNG LADY SHOT.

Two Unknewn London Boys Fire Reckless Manner,

Reckiess Manner.

London, Nov. 19.—Thursday afternoon Miss Mary McLean, daughter of Mr. Allan McLean, second engineer of the Springbank pumping station, was accidentally shot in the leg by one of two boys who are at present unknown. Miss McLean, accompanied by her sister, Miss Rose McLean, had been up at the reservoir, and was on her way to their home, the Colville House. They were at the loop, on the Springbank cartrack, when two boys approached from the Pipe Line road. Both carried guns. One boy was a mulatto, the other white. All at once they fired off their guns in a seemingly reckless manner, a bullet striking Miss McLean's right leg, just above the ankle. She dropped to the ground, but with the assistance of her sister was able to limp to her home about half a block away.

Port Hope, Nov. 19.—Reeve Howard, in company with Charles McGibbon, went shooting Thursday morning, and when returning home an accident occurred. Reeve was about a rod ahead, when McGibbon noticed something nearby, and in putting the gun up to fire it accidentally discharged, the bullet taking effect in the back part of Reeve's leg just below the hip. The case is not considered serious.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

An accident, quite serious in its nature but which might have proved more serious, occurred yesterday atternoon at Ridgetown. Walter Oldhem, of Sarnia, a Pere Marquetie conductor, who is well known in this city, had a miraculous escape. As it is he may lose his arm. Oldhem, it seems, was making a coupling and in some manner slipped, falling between the rails, the wheels of one of the cars passing over his arm. Only his great presence of mind in drawing his arm from the rail and lying quite that on the track saved his life, has several cars passed over him before flat on the track saved his life, as several cars passed over him before the train was stopped.

A special train conveyed the injured man to Chatham, where he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. Dr. J. L. Bray, the Pere Marquette surgeon, attended him and hopes to be able to save his arm.

FAMILY QUARREL

Fred. Bump, of Harwich, had a strong complaint to make at the police court this morning. Fred. has been going over the "bumps" lately or rather his brother "Bump" has been putting it all over him.

Fred. and his brother Joseph started out this fall to clean up a little money from the surrounding farmers by husking corn. Both of them worked hard, and as they are both good workers, they made good money. Joseph was evidently the better workman as he succeeded in "working" his brother Fred for $2.75 board money, and this was the reason of Fred.'s visit to the police court.

Joseph was boarding with Fred and they were both working in the same field for the same farmer. They had a little dispute over a row of corn. Joseph claimed that Fred should husk it and Fred. claimed that Joseph should husk it, and the partnersh p in the husking agency came to a sudden end.

It was found when the accounts were being looked over that Joseph owed $2.75 board to Fred., which he positively refused to pay as a result of the corn dispute. The farmer for whom they were working owed Joseph $1.20, the balance of the money due him for husking. This morning Fred. wanted to know from Judge Houston if there was not some way whereby he (Fred.) could get his hands on that dollar twenty.

"It wouldn't clear off the board bill," he told the Judge, "but it would help some."

He was informed that it would cost $4 to garnishee the one twenty but help some."

He was informed that it would cost He was informed that it would cost $4 to garnishee the one twenty, but it was not a police court affair. This seemed to dampen his spirits and he left the police court with only one hope left—that the better nature of his brother would make him pay his honest debts.

The service was especially for young people but all ages were well represented. During the song service Mrs. Walker sang "Ab de with Me." The sermon was based on H. Chronicles 34, 3: "In the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young. Josiah began to seek after the God of David his father." The sermon was a strong appeal to young people to begin carnestly to seek God in youth. The value of religion to young men and young women was forcibly impressed. "Have convictions and have the courage to stand by them!" was the note that rang out through the discourse.

LARGE FUNERAL

Westlake Bros. the popular photographers, have been making some extensive improvements and alterations to their art gallery. Their working department during the past few days has undergone an entire change until now the firm is in a position to accept and turn out any quantity and style of Christmas work.

Last year it was found that this firm was unable to handle the immense amount of bus ness which came with the Christmas season, and it was then decided to increase their facilities for getting out the best work on short notice.

This has been done the year and now Westlake Bros. will be able to take Christmas work up until a week before Christmas whereas formerly all work had to be in two weeks be fore.

Anyone desiring Christmas work in the line of photos, etc., will make no mistake by calling on Messrs. Westlake Bros.

Can Eat Anything Now.

How many Dyspeptics can say that? or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feelsing at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied Edunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or are you gloomy and miserable? Then you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; savoid stimulants and narcotics, do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, Nature's specific for Dyspepsia.

Miss Laura Chicoine, Belle Anse, Que. says of its wonderful curative powers :-"'Last winter I was very thin, and was Mast losing flesh owing to the run-down state of my system. I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

Woman's Way of Finding out. "Women's ways are inscrutable, and they do a great many things that seem to be utterly without point to men, but it has been my experience that time shows they had a pretty good reason for the queer tricks they played us," said a citizen of Montreal.

"For instance," he continued, "my wife has an angelic disposition. She has always had that disposition, and it was one of the many things that attracted me to her. After we became engaged, however, on several occasions she did things which seemed to me to be utterly inexcusable. I've got something of a temper, and I would get pretty hot, but every time the little trouble passed off, she having gained her point, however. This sort of thing happened several times, but we were finally married.

"After the ceremony she never gave any symptoms of inconsistency, but was always as sweet and amiable as she could be. One day at asked her why she had done these things dur-ing our engagement and if she had done them merely to make me angry. "'Certainly I did, my dear,' was her

Tennyson and Spiritualism. The world might have lost some of its choicest poetry had a certain spiritualist had his way. It was Frederick Tennyson, who was so impressed by spirit rapping that his head had be-come as much turned as the table whose waltzings used so to delight him. He desired his brother, the poet laurente, to give up everything to propagate spiritualism. Frederick told the old story of an unmusical girl made to play music by invisible influence and of a stout old gentleman who was suddenly picked up and whizzed through the thickness of solid walls all in a moment to be found in a courtyard of a house a mile and a half distant whose gates were closed and locked. The poet did believe there was some thing in spiritualism—there is a re-narkable letter of his to Queen Victoria on the subject—but he could not swallow the story of the fat old gentleman's travels. So he contented himself

Importance of Chewing. You must improve your mastication. Quite spontaneously Miss K, remarked how very rapidly you ate, more rapidly, the said, than Miss S. And as I know Miss S. eats in a helter skelter manner i can understand that your mastication must be extremely inefficient. If I had to teach children, I should give them, among other things, a lesson on the importance of mastication and should il-lustrate it by taking a small iron nail and weighing against it some pinches of iron filings thi the two balanced, then putting them into two glasses pouring into each a quantity of diluted sulphuric acid, leaving them to stir the two from time to time and showing them that, whereas the iron filings quickly dissolve, the dissolving of the vail would be a business of something tike a week.-Herbert Spencer's Auto-

"There is no vicious growth in Africa or the world," writes a traveler, "to compare with the detestable thing popularly called 'cow itch' and known to botanists as the mucuna bean. This is a plant having small seed pods covered with a close array of fine, silky hairs, which, when shaken loose, fasten in myriads upon the unconscious wayfarer and, reaching all parts of the skin, set up an irritation which words are literally powerless to describe. A man attacked by this abominable pest gives way for the time to absolute frenzy. * * * If a precipice were at hand he might almost be forgiven for jumping over it, so wholly unendurable is that burning, pricking, clinging

Children are naturally imitative, and if they have before them patterns of honesty, of truthfulness and of virtue generally they, too, will strive to be honest, truthful and virtuous. And still more readily will they emulate vicious examples set before them.

The fault with most parents is that they are too lazy to be firm in dealing with their children. Rather than exercise a little patience in explaining to their child the reason why it should act thus and not otherwise, nost parents will surrender to its whims and caprices and by constant indulgences render the little one self-willed and headstrong almost beyond control.

I do not approve of punishment for children. To do good, as a rule, pun-ishment should be administered only in such a way that the child should understand the reason for it. And to possess this degree of understanding the child must have reached an age when punishment cannot be otherwise than degrading.

To degrade a child in its own eyes necessarily deteriorates it. To whip a girl of fourteen inevitably tends to degrade and debase her.
Some of the best parents have had children, upon whom no amount of moral suasion and no extent of good examples can have any beneficial influence. In these rare cases the fault. of course, lies with the children, and the parents have no other recourse except to punish. But in punishing there should be much good judgment exercised.

The rod should be only for the extremely vicious—only for those who display a malignant spirit, such as tormentors of other children or of animals.

In fact, in all cases I think it wisest to "make the punishment fit the crime." If, for instance, a boy throws a stone at a cat or a dog the best and quickest way to correct this tendency is by whipping him. Take a rod and give him a sound thrashing, but yet so as not to injure nor disfigure him. By making him feel pain ou make him realize the monst wrong of wantonly inflicting pain up on others.

But if, to take a different example. a girl, in disobedience to her par-ents, goes to picnics, or stays out late, or associates with unfit companions, it would be manifestly im-proper to whip her. The way to make the punishment fit the crime in her case is to lock her up. By so do-ing you deprive her of the motive for doing wrong, while in the case of the malicious boy the whipping acted as maincious boy the whipping acted as a counter motive to overcome the motive supplied by the pleasure of tormenting the cat or dog.

But, as I have said, administer corporal punishment only sparingly, for at best any form of punishment is drastic and ought to be resorted to only when every other argument fails. fails.

If a child takes pleasure in unfair dealing or lying, let the father ask himself whether he himself was not guilty of inculcating that disposition by his own example. How often will not a father come home and at the table, with his children around him, tell about his "smartnessj" in over eaching a fellow man!

If a child hears his father exalt ly ing, deceitfulness, unfairness and double dealing; how can we expect the child to grow up to be honest, truthful and honorable?—John B. McKean, Judge of Children's Court of New York City.

The intelligent foreigner could not understand how so prudish a nation as the English could have adopted the Garter and the Bath as the titles of its highest orders. With regard to the Bath, there is a greater puzzle. Were Knights of the Bath first created on October 13, 1399, at the coronation of Henry IV. coronation of Henry IV., and merely revived by George I., in 1725, after long dormancy? Or were there no Knights of the Bath before King George? The solution is probably to be found in the the origin of the title—the condition—namely, that the candidate for knighthood must take a solemn bath, being instructed and counselled, while in the bath, concerning the order and feats of chivalry by two great and ancient knights. But as this appears to have been part of the full ceremony for ordinary knight bachelors, it is possible that Henry's alleged Knights of the Buth were nothing more. pronation of Henry IV

A SAVAGE CUSTOM

Curious Food Laws That Obtained In the South Sea Islands.

A singular distinction was established between the sexes in accordance with the general savage theory of the inferiority, social and otherwise, of the female, which is found to have prevailed universally in the south sea islands at the time of their discovery and for long afterward during a period covered by the early missionary voyages and labors. Setting aside cannibal feasts at the end of a successful war expedition, when captives and victims were abundant and were roasted and devoured, the usual food of the men of these islands in ordinary circumstances was hog's flesh, with a va-riety of fish from the surrounding ocean, together with cocoanuts an plantains, but the women were forbidden to eat or touch the provisions sacred to male consumption, and an infringement of this usage was rarely overlooked, but met with the penalty of death. The system of food taboo denied, under the same penalty, to the sex the use of the fire at which the warrior's meal was prepared, the house in which he sat to eat and the basket in which his provisions were stored. Such items of food as native custom assigned to the women were preserved by them apart, deposited in distinct baskets, to be cooked when required at a separate fire and devoured in solitude in a little hut specially erected for the purpose.

THE T. MILBURN Co., LIMITED, TORONTO, ONT.

The 350 students of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, recently came into contact with engineering work of the highest type during a recent cuties. ecent outing.
At Niagara Falls the party was met by the assistant engineers of the three large power companies, viz., Mr. Mitchell of the Ontario Power Co., Mr. Value of the Toronto Co. and Mr. Smith of the Canadian Co., who explained from Falls View the general plans of the different schemes for developing power now under con struction at the Falls.

The students then marched to the lead works of the Ontario Power Co., where Messrs. Sauer, Brandon and Thorne met the party and escorted them over the works, consisting of the gathering basin, the Dufferin Islands, the large conduit (18 feet diameter), the power house and distributing station.

At the Electrical Pevelopment Co.'s plained the more interesting engineerplaned the more interesting engineering features, of which the most striking was the tailrace tunnel under the Niagara River, which cupties directly under and behind the sheet of water tumbling over the Horseshoe Falls.
For the Canadian Power Co. Mr.

Snith explained the installation of the immense 12,500 horse-power tur-bines now taking place, and a num-ber of the students under his charge were taken down the wheel pit (165 feet deep).

Mr. Chace then took the party aver the enlargements, now under way, of the Canadian plant of the International Railway Co.

Revenue From Billiard Tables

Taxation enables many curious tables of statistics to be compiled. It would probably puzzle the best of English statisticians to guess even approximately at the number of billiard tables in use in England. There is no such difficulty in France, where the billiard table is a taxed luxury, and its relative frequency in communes of all grades of population and wealth is made the subject of calculations as claborate as they are ingenious. In all France there are $89.678 billiard tables, divided among $18,601 communes and realizing more than £40,000 in taxes.—London Globe.

A Good Lice Killer.

The season is at hand when the red spider louse is liable to take possession of your poultry houses, says a Rhode Island poultryman in American Cultivator. A good liee killer can be made as follows. One gallon of kcrosene, three pounds of tallow, two ounces of creolin; put the three in a vessel and place in a dish of hot water, and they will all unite. Paint or spray once a week the parts of the house where the lice are or are liable to be, and your poultry houses will be free from lice. The season is at hand when the red Soap, Ointment and Pills the World's Greatest Skin Cures.

Complete Treatment for Every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

The agonising itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to edy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pilis are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

The grandest testimonial that can be offered the Cuticura remedies is their world-wide sale, due to the personal recommendations of those who have used them. From a small beginning in the simplest form, against prejudice and opposition, against monied hosts, countless rivals, and trade indifference, Cuticura remedies have become the greatest curatives of their time, and, in fact, of all time, for nowhere in the history of medicine is to be found another approaching them in popularity and sale. THERE IS GREAT DANGER IN CATARRE

If Left to Run Its Course Unchecked, It Often Causes Death.

Catarrh scatters its poisons throughout the entire system. The stomach and lungs are affected by the droppings that fall into the throat and are swallowed during sleep. Dyspepsia, inflammation of the stomach, bronchitis and consumption are the results. The blood also be-comes contaminated and carries the poisons to all parts of the system. Frequently in the more advanced stages, the bones of the head become decayed and the air passages are a putrid mass and create a stench so foul and offensive as to be unbearable. The expression, "rotten with catarrh," is not overdrawn or exag-

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets strike at the root of this terrible, odious disease and eradicate it from the system. They are a constitutional remedy that cleanses the system thoroughly of all poisons and purifies the blood. Under their influence the head becomes clear, the discharges at the mose and droppings into the throat cease, the lost sense of smell is re-cease, the lost sense of smell is restored, the eye brightens, the foul breath becomes pure and sweet and the odious, disgusting disease is thoroughly expelled from the system. A Cincinnati man says: "I suffered the misery and humiliation of catarrh for twelve years. My case became so aggravated that it seriously interfered with all my business relations. The disease became so offersive that I would not venture into any one's presence unless it were absolutely necessary. I tried every remedy that I could get hold of. Some

"Finally a friend told me of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and insisted that I try them. I had about despaired of ever finding help, but bought a box anyway. I began to notice the improvement within twenty four hours of the I. I have a try four hours of the I. ty-four hours after I began taking them. Before the first box was gone I felt like another man. Good For the Imagination There is nothing quite like fishing for ultivating the imagination. Raising a garden in the suburbs where your friends will never see it is not so bad. After a little practice the able suburbanite can imagine a basket of pota-toes into a car load and a three inch gourd into a prize pumpkin, but on the imagination physical culture should get a fishing pole and a jug of bait and hie himself away to some sylvan stream. Here the enterprising man can get action at both ends of the line. As he sits around the camp at night with can readily imagine his modest $15 salary into $3,000 a year. After this it is cheap little garter snake grow into a sea serpent and a few modest minnows into a great string of bass.

The man who intends to make his living writing historical novels can have no better preparation than a season or two as a fisherman.

They have long been known as the greatest blood-building tonic in the world, and all the highest medical authorities agree that the only scientific cure for indigestion is the Tonic Treatment. The marvellous success of the treatment has been proved in of the treatment has been proved in every corner of the Dominion. One of the latest witnesses is Mr. Joseph Rochett, St. Jerome, Que., who says: "I simply hated the thought of food. Of course I had to force myself to eat, but afterwards I always suffered with dull, heavy pains in the stomach. I seemed to be bilious as well and this caused eaven ous as well and this caused sever ous as well and this caused severe headaches, which further aggravated my unfortunate position. I grew pale, fell away in weight and the trouble seemed to be undermining my whole constitution. I tried several remedies, but without success; a doctor whom I consulted advised absolute rest, but this way out of the solute rest, but this was out of the question as I had to work for my living. Fortunately for me, one of my friends advised me to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to do so. After taking the pills for several weeks there was a decided improvement in my condition. Not only was my digestion better, but my general health improved in every New blood seemed to be cou sing through my veins, bringing new health and strength every day, took eight boxes of Dr. Williams Pink Pills altogether, and those see me now would never know I had seen an unwell day in my life. weak person to lose no time in taking them."

Mr. Rochette's statement is a strong tribute to the Tonic Treatment. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured him because they actually made new rich blood for him. These pills go right down to the root of the trouble in the blood and cure that. The new blood they make carries healing health and strength to every part of the body. That is the new Tonic Treatment, and the highest medical authorities now recommend this treatment for all the common ailbackaches; raeumatism, sciatica, neu ralgia, nervousness, dyspepsia and general weakness. These are all caus-ed by bad blood and therefore are all cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

No more purgatives, no more pepsin, no more patent foods, no more long diet lists saying "Thou shalt not eat this or that." No more of all this—nothing in fact, but plenty of new, pure, rich red blood to tone the liver and give the stomach strength for its work. That is the Tonic Treatment for Indigestion.

The tonic treatment is based on the new idea that drugs which digest the food for the stomach really weaken its powers through disuse. The digestive organs can never do their work peoperly until they are strong enough to do it for themselves. To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir.—Yesterday you printed an extract from the Woodstock Express, in which our aldermanic deputation to that town are represented as lauding our present system of electing aldermen compared with the ward system of Woodstock, pointing out the very superior grade of aldermen we now elect; no doubt exclaiming, in the words of Shakespeare or some other fellow, "Behold in this deputation the ne plus ultra or creme de la creme of Chalham's intelligence, an' doan you forgot it!"

They forgot that the Woodstock-ans might look at each other and enquire, "What kind of freaks did Chatham elect under the ward system?"

Liberal Association in Toronto-One Brother Accusing Another and Men of Public Prominence Bogus Boxes Not in Federal Election Because Candidate Lott Failed to Get Extra Ballots.

Belleville, Nov. 19.-Yesterday de-Belleville, Nov. 19.—Yesterday developed some surprising sensations in connection with the preliminary hearing of the libel charge against Editor Carman of The Ontario. The unexpected revelations of Phil A. Lott were considered a most complete and damaging arraignment of his brother, Byron, who contested West Hastings in the Liberal interest on Nov. 3, and though counsel for the defence skillfully battered and badgered him for several hours, the chief witness did not make a damaging admission. The story of a wide conspiracy to defeat the people at the polls was most convincing in the absence of contradiction, as Lott left the box last night with his story unshaken. Great interest is evinced in $1.25 the case and the court-room was packed at every one of the three sessions yesterday.

The conspiracy was detailed fully by Lott, and E. Gus Porter, memberelect. Lott involves men prominent in this county and Frontenac, and traces the connection up to the central Lib eral organization in Toronto.

Philip Lott's Evidence. After the magistrate had heard the After the magistrate had heard the testimony of E. Gus Porter, member-elect, in which he told how Phillip Lott had told him of the scheme to defeat him, George G. Thresher of Stirling, Harry Corby (former member), who corroborated Mr. Porter, with the exception of remembering the names of the men to whom the boxes, were to be given to use  the boxes were to be given to use Phillip Lott was called.

Phillip Lott Supports Porter. Phillip Lott swore that he acted as deputy returning officer in the elec-tion, and his story, unshaken in tion, and his story, unshaken in cross-examination, bore out the re-cital of Mr. Porter. The first he knew of crooked work was last fall, when a bye-election was in progress. His brother, Byron, told him in an off-hand way Byron, told him in an off-hand way that the Tories had no chance to win, considering what the Eiberals had to use. Byron said they had a scheme to win West Hastings. Wit-ness thought that was impossible, but Byron said they were going to steal it.

"I told him," sald the witness,
"that they couldn't work the blue "that they couldn't work the blue pencil, as there was too big a majority. He told me of a box that worked with a spring. He had seen them in Vance's office. He said the Government paid $50,000 for the patent which was taken out in the States. Vance, Sullivan and Rielly were the men who brought them over. On the way home my brother asked me if I'd use one. I don't know whether he was nominated then or not, but he was going to be. About two weeks after I was at my About two weeks after I was at my brother's he had one of the boxes, which he said he got in Vance's of-"Boxes Were a Winner."

Lott then described two trick boxes, one that worked with a spring, the other a newer idea, worked with the handle. It was about Oct 1 when the second one came to notice. On the Sunday before nomination Byron said he had received letters from Rielly, which were produced by Mr. Porter. The "W" produced by Mr. Porter: The "W" appearing in one, he understood to refer to Watertown, N.Y. Byron told him so. Witness was sent to Kingston to find out what the hitch was. It was Shibley who referred him to Reilly, as he did not want to get mixed up with the case. Shibley knew what he came for.

Shibley wrote a letter of introduction to Reilly and gave it to Ed. Rattan, who drove witness out. Rattan introduced witness to Rielly as Rattan, who drove witness out. Rattan introduced witness to Rielly as "Hughes," and Rielly seemed to understand, saying he had seen this "Mr. Hughes" before. Rielly said twenty hoxes had been brought over to Prescott. Ten were for Shibley and ten for Lott. Rielly wrote the card addressed to Lott, which was produced in court.

"Rielly told me that the boxes were a winner." Proceeded witness: "And it would take Almighty to defeat the Ontario Government next election. He said a man could sit there and separate the sheep from the goats all day."

How It Was Done.

The witness gave an ocular den The witness gave an ocular demonstration of how the sheep were to be separated from the goats, using a ballot box and a number of slips of paper. He scratched two ballots marked for Smith and gave the magistrate four marked for Brown, which the magistrate deposited through the slit after first ascertaining that the how was annarently ing that the box was apparently empty. Byron Lott gave witness $85 on one occasion. Fifteen was for expenses and $50 to pay his fine. He was fined $50 for taking a couple of bottles of whiskey to a baseball match for the boys. They were going to have the fine remitted, and he (witness) went to Toronto and saw Stratton, who said it would not be policy to remit the fine, but to see his brother and it would be fixed up.

Witness said he spoiled one box practicing on it. Mr. Porter was surprised to hear the story as related by Phil. Resolved On Exposure.

"When Byron spoke to me about the scheme, I told my wife that would expose it, as it was a dirty corruptible thing. I'm the last may who would want to have his ballo taken." witness said in accounting witness said, in accounting exposure. No inducement stolen," witness said, in accounting for the exposure. No inducements had been held out to him. He intended to let the scheme go on and catch them red-handed, but there was trouble getting ballots. On nomination day, Byron said he was going to Ottawa that night, and would try to get them printed. Witness had gone into Mr. Williams of fice to procure the returning offi-stamp, but was told that Mr. liams locked it up every time he turned his back. Byron then said he had made arrangements with Arthur Reid, Mr. Williams' clerk, and would iteid, Mr. Williams clerk, and would give him $100 to get some extra ballots. Rielly told witness the boxes were smuggled over the river. They were not marked "beehives," as re-

Refused to Sign Document On the morning of the election Tories were exhibiting bogus ballot boxes in Belleville, and Byron asked boxes in Belleville, and Byron asked witness if he had given the thing away. Witness denied that he had, and Byron went down to the barn and saw they were gone. Byron wanted him to go to Belleville and deny the story. Since the elections he and Byron came to Belleville, and Mr. O'Flynn drew up a document for the witness to sign, but he told him he could not sign without lying. "The only regret I had of the whole thing was my brother's connection with it," witness said, as the tears came to his eyes.

Harry H. Well, Dominion Express agent at Prescott, testified that he shipped to Phil Lott a box like the one in court. He produced his books, showing that on October 27, T. E. Whalen, an employe of Wise's distillery at Prescott, made the following shipments: One box weighing 72 pounds, to P. H. Lott at Central Ontario Junction; one box, same weight, tn John Bremner, Bancroft; two boxes, 155 pounds, to W. H. Carefoot, Kingston. Mr. Whalen paid for the shipments.

As the court arose for the 6 o'clock recess, the magistrate said the wisdom of free investigation had been shown in three instances; Mr. Thrasher of Stirling had set himself right in regard to the rumors connecting him with the case. Mr. O'Flynn had done a creditable thing in advising Lott not to sign a false document, and it had been shown that there was such a thing as having a straightforward returning officer, Mr. Williams of this riding being one.

Thought it Was Crooked.

Thought it Was Crooked. Thought it was crooked.

After recess Lott said he had a conversation with Frank Coaley, a depaty returning officer, with regard to the boxes and Coaley said: "I thought there was some crooked work on or I wouldn't have been appointed." Coaley further said he hoped they would pay him better than they did before when he had spoiled 13 ballots and only sort $5.

They had come to the conclusion on the Tuesday before the election that the boxes would not be used because they couldn't get ballots. His brothen said they would keer the boxes till the provincial election. They would get lots of hallots to use then. Mr. McCamon questioned Lott os to some trouble he had with some people in Hawdon. He was municipal constable and prosecuted people for selling liquer and they got him into trouble. He was prosecuted for perfury, but was acquitted. His prointed license inspector and at the same time the inspector had been appointed. He did not have a failing out with his brother on this account.

Mr. McCamon: And from the time you knew of The boxes you decided to expose the whole matter?

Yes.

And Ryron Lott is your brother?

at it I would have seen sent to the penitentiary.

That's the position to be placed in and (to Mr. Duvernet) witness explained the rerjury charge and said he had declarations that what he swore to on the occasion was true. The boxes were to be used in Frontenae, Hastings and Durham, Lott said to Mr. Duvernet. George Weese, s deputy, had suggested a scheme to get some extra ballots from Returning Officer Willams. The scheme was to surreputionally put a bundle away while they were being handed out to deputies and thus fool Mr.
Williams.

Lott gave the names of a number of deputy returning officers who were to use the boxes. One name was scored out as Byron Lott considered the leputy returning officer would not use the box.

Lott had informed his friend, James Hurst, a Conservative, of what he intended to do in connection with the ballots.

Issues Strong Denial.

Issues Strong Denial.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—To a reporter last night Mr. Stratton said: I have read the statement which, it is said, has been made by Philip Lott to Mr. Porter in connection with the alleged bogus ballot boxes, and the statement is so absolutely falsa and malignant in its character that one can-hardly find words sufficiently strong in denial and condemnation. I never heard anything about these ballot boxes, directly or indirectly, until it was circulated in Peterboro on election day, from Belleville, and I subsequently read it in the press, and the

He made application to this department, supported by a resolution of the Council of the Township of Seymour, asking that the fine be remitted. Notwithstanding the resolution, I did not consider for one moment the remission of the fine, and this action may account in some measure for his having so maliciously connected my name with something that I know nothing whatever about. So far as I a n concerned, the story is utterly false, and without a particle of justification. Words cannot too strongly condemn, and no punishment is too severe for anyone who would be guilty of taking into any constituency hallot boxes to be used for the purposes suggested. The whole matter only needs to be probed to the bottom to prove how utterly untrue the statement is. I am anxious that the fullest investigation shall be made, and any assistance that I can render will be cheerfully given.

Hamilton, Nov. 19.—The majority of the Liberal candidate, W. O. Sealey, over his Conservative op-ponent, E. D. Smith, was only 20. The Conservatives applied for a re-count, which was held yesterday before Judge Sinclair.

The recount had cut Mr. Sealey's majority down from 22 to 15 when the judge reached the ballots from polling division No. 25, Beverley, which gave Sealey 47 votes and Smith 22. As the ballots were being counted it was discovered that the departs attention of the sealest sealed to the sealest sea fore Judge Sinclair. counced it was discovered that the deputy returning officer, Adam Valens, had committed a serious blunder in numbering the ballots on the backs, the same as in the poll book. Manager F. H. Brisco to be Complimented in the Production at the Grand Last Evening

The following heading appeared above the account of the Town Council proceedings: "That Police Question Again: Councillors call one another hard names; The Town Clerk called a Liar; The Mayor calls 'Order! Order!' and there is no order and he leaves the chair; A general oreak up of the illustrious body." The Council was composed of Mayor Askin and Councillors Heggins, Northwood, Earl, Cross, Atkinson, Sheriff, Smith, Evans and Duff. The quarrel arose over a report of the Police commitmittee. Part of the report is—Geronimo Roped a Steer, Though 76.—The monotony of the quiet life which Geronimo, the Apache chief, who was captured several years ago which Geronimo, the Apache chief, who was captured several years ago by General Miles, has been leading was varied recently with a tinge of the strenuous life of his youth. He participated in a Wild West show. Geronimo was the guest of the proprietor, and put in his appearance dressed in the full regalia of the days of his former greatness. The old man was given a good horse and lasso, and a steer was turned loose in the arena, and Geronomo was told to rope and tie it. Starting his horse at full gallop, the chase began. After circling around, the old chieftain whirled the lasso and made the throw. The rope settled around the steer's neck at the first attempt. In an instant the roper was off his horse, and with all the cunning of his youth proceeded to tie the animal fast and sound, accomplishing the feat in a very short time. The exhibition clearly demonstrated the fact that in spite of his 76 years he still possesses the strength and agility of youth. strength and agility of youth.

Should you in Chatham have a frost Should you in Chatham have a frost in August that would destroy every growing crop, and in addition result in many people being frozen to death, you would be in a position to appreciate our frame of mind at this unexpected catastrophe. Ordinarily our rainy season begins in May and is over the end of July. During June and July we occasionally have enough rainfall to cause quite a rush of water in our little mountain streams; they may even be unfordable for a day or two at a time, but such an they may even be unfordable for a day or two at a time, but such an occurrence is of extreme rarity. From the first of August on, however, they are, as you will remember seeing them, simply little trickling brooks, which one can at any time jump over or cross on stepping stones without wetting the feet. Picture, then, our dismay at what happened.

On Tuesday, Sept. 29th, I drove across the Mora river to see a patient. We had had an unusual amount of rain and, on returning, noticed that the water was between noticed that the water was betwee two and three feet deep, so that my

Owing to the nature of the country this drained off rapidly toward the valleys; little dry arroyas became streams, streams became rivers, and the Mora, which I had crossers, and the mora, which I had cross-ed in the morning, was at midnight a mighty river a mile wide, rushing from the mountains with irresistable force and sweeping everything before it. I have seen nothing it. I have seen nothing to compare with it except Niagara, and the Ni-agara does not flow nearly as rapidly even in the gorge.

You will remember that the Santa Fee track follows the Mora river for about eight miles before you arrive in Watrous; at this part of the canyon the valley is narrow and bound-ed by high rocky walls, and the tor-rent thus confined exerted a force which may truly be termed terrific. Miles of railroad track were torn which may truly be termed terrific. Miles of railroad track were torn from the embankment and rolled up like balls of yarn, the rails being bent, and twisted like wires, with the ties still binding them together, and the mass then thrown into the bed of the stream or hurled out of the mouth of the canon into the shallower water of the valley beyond. Within eight miles of Watrous five railway bridgemiles of Watrous five railway bridg-$40,000, were torn from their emplacements, carried an astonishing distance down stream, and almost todistance down stream, and almost to-tally destroyed. The sights of the World's Fair in the well populated city of St. Louis are far beyond description, and to the country boy or girl who has never been outside of their own little sighboring town would find the great World's Fair a study that cannot be found in books, not only to the boy or girl but to men and women, who come from all parts of the world. I heard an old Southern lady say as she was standing viewing the great Cascades, "Bless us, what a sight," and she was wrapped up in the splendor about her, so as to not hear the old gentleman that was escorting her, call to her to move along Mammie. There she stood for fully ten minutes before she noticed the old gentleman and in what direction he had gone. I pointed out the course he had taken and offered to walk with her until we should find him. Hless the, she said, the Lord is sure good to leave us live to see this grand sight. I bade them good bye as they thanked me and I strolled back in pursuit of the little group I had been with.

It was nearing lunch hour and as we were all very hungry decided to luncheon as soon as we could find a suitable place. We found a nice shady little spot close to the Japanese village, and I tell you we didn't spend much time there, as we were eager to take in the sights, and gs the most of our party were Cannadians as well as myself, we were lall anxious to see the Canadian exhibit, which every one of us expressed ourselves as being proud of it, and we find our Canada girl is an up-to-date girl just as brilliant a conversationist as the American.

THE CONFERENCE ON NOV. 24.

The conference of Conservatives and others who believe in the need of a change of Government at Tor-onto, which has been called Mr. J. P. Whitney for Nov. 24th, falling in the same week as the intened Lib-eral convention, should make Toronto a pretty lively city for that week. Both events have been called for one day only, at least without either can discuss and properly formulate a platform in one short day there must be preparation beforehand, which takes away from the gathering the character of a deliberathe Liberal convention, which is called with no indication of what may be laid before it. Mr. Whitney on the other hand has announced several planks in his conference call, so that those participating have texts already provided. Mr. Whitney declares for:

Clean, honest, decent government Increased agricultural instructions in high schools.

The encouragement of sanitary systems of sewerage in towns and vil-

Public ownership of public utilities. Prompt settlement of capital-labor disputes.

Operation of the Temiskaming railway by the Government.

Improvement in the assessing of railway property.

Other questions are, of course bound to come up for discussion. We should like to see the principle of the sawlog legislation, which was passed as a result of Conservative agitation, extended to other things. Sawlogs must now be cut into lumber in this province. The result of that has been the moving of numerous Michigan mills over to Ontario. The same legislation should be applied to our nickel and our pulpwood. The one should be required to be refined and the other manufactured into paper, right in our own Province. The Conservative confer ence could not pronounce in favor of anything better calculated to promote the growth of New Ontagio than that. * The texts thrown out by Mr. Whitney for consideration are good. They are all progressive in tendency.

We hope that Kent County will be well represented at the conference. Mr. Whitney has widened the invitation so that it is open to any man whether Conservative or Liberal, to attend who is desirous to aid in instituting a cleaner Government at Toronto than we now have and inflicting a rebuke to the corrupt element who have trailed Ontagio's good name in the dust for many years

The case between Hon, G. W. Rose and the electors of Ontario has not anywhere been better put than by the Toronto World in the article we produce below, and which our readers will find to be one of the plainest and most conclusive deliverances that has yet been put forward in connection with the Ontario situ

Ontario is not likely to be deceived by the elaborate preparations which Hon. G. W. Ross is making to obscure the infamies of his administration, Governments as a rule are prepared to stand or fall on their records. Not so the government in Queen's Park. Its game is to shift public attention from the abuses which have brought it into disrepute by making erapegoats of a few ministers and offering a new campaign cry to the

Mr. Ross wants to be judged, not by what he has done, but by what he will promise to do. This is perhaps the most damaging confession that has come from a government, whose leader has justified or condoned every outrage it has practised. If the record of the government a good one, why is Mr. Ross afraid to appeal to the people on that record. If every minister has been true to his trust, and this is the plea which Mr. Ross has recently put forth, why is it necessary on the eve of an election to discard four of these ministers and substitute men who have no public records to defend. And why if the government's ideals of administration are meritorious, does it become expedient to call a convention to proclaim new ideals and a new platform? A convention seems rather a mild cure for the evils which have been. charged up to the record of the Ross the principle that for the public though she's been living in this neightwrongs he has committed he has only to answer to his own party. A convention of 1,200 Liberals is not a fit tribunal for the trial of offences which have been committed against the peole, and which the people alone have the right to place in their true prospective.

A convention will not take away one jot or tittle from the weight of the Gamey charges. A convention will not effect the West Elgin frauds, the Hale confession or the revelations of the Soo election trial. A convention will not restore ot the people of Ontario the timber limits that have been handed over to government heelers, the water powers that have been exploited in the interest of daring promoters, or the franchises and privileges that have been bestowed indication of intention to prolong the on corporations through the agency deliberations beyond one day. How of Hon. J. M. Gibson. A convention will not justify the disfranchisement of North Renfrew for a year and is difficult to understand. Inevitably a half, nor make less iniquitous the government's conduct in sitting through a session of the legislature on the strength of a majority which tive body. This applies especially to it knew to be the product of corrupt and fraudulent methods. Those are the issues upon which the Ross government must be judged and neither a convention nor a cabinet reconstruction can divert public attention to any side issue which party ingenuity may devise. The Ross government will be judged by its past, not by its promises for the future. Premier Ross will be judged by the colleagues who have been with him in his almost ceaseless assault on public right, not by the substitutes, who sooner or later must fall a prey to the influences which are inseperable from Ross' ascendency in Queen's Park. A rotten ship cannot be made seaworthy by simply changing the crew, and Mr. Ross cannot by discarding three or four colleagues fremove or modify the elementary evils of his administration. A convention is the weak resort of a guilty premier. If Mr. Ross was honest in his defence of the record of his gov. ernment he would not call a convention to shift or obscure the issues upon which he must sooner or later justify himself with the people.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur. In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that ob-tained from Calcium (Calcium Sul-phide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly con-centrated, effective form. Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring

Our stream was not the only one that broke all records. The Gallenas, which you and Mrs. Duncan know so well, was also in flood. The whole system of dams of the Aqua Pura Co was carried out, the stone bath houses at the Montezuma destroyed and further down towards Las Negas many houses were washed away, in-cluding the station at the east end of the bridge, where you used to board the train for the Montezuma greater. There the Las Animas was the offending stream, and as it races through the heart of the city the property loss was enormous. Among other fine buildings the magnificent new Santa Fee station and hotel were destroyed.

In the Watrous valley I could re count many stirring incidents that happened during the height of the flood. About three o'clock Friday morning a messenger notified us that superior to any other form. He says "For liver, kidney and blood troubles especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article, and sold by druggists, and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yot I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin disease as this remedy."

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation. the railway embankment north of the town had given way and that the people living behind it were cut off and in great danger. 'As everyone in town was there safe half a dozen of us formed a relief party, secured horses, and galloped over to see if we could be of any help. The sight that met our eyes was a sad one. Of the six or seven buildings that were grouped behind the embankment were grouped benind the embankment only the roof of one and the stone fence surrounding a second could be seen, and had it been that they were out of the direct rush of the stream they would have disappeared also. Upon the stone fence were crouched a man and his wife and a hundred yards of water intervened between us and them. With great difficulty and not a little danger we succeeded in getting to them on horseback before the wall gave way. Further on in the flood a carpenter named Brown had succeeded in getting his wife and two little children into a tree, dressed only in eight gowns, with the rain drenching them from above, and the flood hissing through the lower branches of their shelter beneath, they spent two terrible hours before we could possibly rescue them, during which we all well knew that at any moment the tree in only the roof of one and the stone SHOEMAKING IN THE BLACK FOR-The Black Forest of Germany, a region famous for centuries, is hundreds of years behind the present age in methods of living and conducting simple industries. But for the most part South Africa is no longer the zoological garden that it was a hundred years ago. Excepting jackals, baboons, and bucks, there are few wild animals to be seen or heard. The lion has retired long ago with giraffes, zebras, quaggas, wild buffaloes, to say nothing of the rhincoceros and the hippopotamus. Of jackals, there are so many that the annual cost of their depredations to the Cape Colony is estimated at $7.000,000. Baboons infest the hilly country, and are one of the pets of the farmer. Here and there leopards are found—locally known as tigers—but they are rare. Of singing birds there is a plentiful lack. Carnivorous birds, such as hawks and vultures, abound. Lord Chief Justiee Kenyon was conspicuous for economy in every article of his dress. Once, in the case of an action brought for the fulfilment of a contract, on a large scale, for shoes, the question was, whether or not they were well and soundly made, and with the best materials. A number of witnesses were called, one of whom, being closely questioned, returned contradictory answers. Thereupon, His Lordship, pointing to his own shoes, said—

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov., 13.-To that class of nominal Christians who are hearers, but not doers, and who pin their faith upon their religious ancestry or their favorable environ ment instead of "getting right with God" personally, this sermon will ome as an arousing call. The text is Matthew xxv., 8, "Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out.

All men may be broadly divided into two classes. There are some on the border line, belonging not altogether to the one class or the other, having characteristics of each, but the great mass may be separated into two groups—the workers and the idlers. The one class includes the toilers, the pullers, the diggers, the grinders, the climbers. They are striving to succeed in a noble, honest way. They do not mean to be social parasites. They want a share of the good things of life, but they do not retrient to receive them as a gift but expect to receive them as a gift, but to pay for them by honest work. They hope for promotion, and they strive to merit it by seeking to make themselves worthy of it. They study and toil to develop themselves, so that when the opportunity comes they will be ready to take advan-tage of it. Though they may be in obscure positions they do their work well, and when the call comes to go higher they are prepared by long years of hard work to perform the duties of the higher position. The second class is comprised of men who want to win success by a minimum of labor. They hate drudg-ery; they hope to succeed by some lucky scheme. These are the men who, going on a foreign tour, expect to learn French or German in five weeks; they hope to marry a rich wife and have an easy time living on the sav-ings of their wife's father; they pre-pare to conduct the business of their fathers, not by beginning as he did at the lowest rung of the ladder, but by taking a six months' course in a business college or by becoming their father's nominal private secretaries. During their easy apprenticeship they would spend three days out of every week playing golf and at least five nights out of every seven in a ballnights out of every seven in a ballroom, at theatre party or in clubhouse dissipations. The little time they play at business is when are not working at play. These people represent failure. For as an old writer once said, "People who never do any more work than they are paid for, never get paid for any more than they do." These people always want to succeed with a minimum of work.

Drones there are in the busy bee-

Drones there are in the busy bee-hives of temporal life. Drones there are in the busy beehives of spiritual life. We know them well. They have life. We know them well. They have existed in every age. Men who hope to enter heaven, but are not willing to deny themselves, nor to resist temptation, nor to strive to enter through the straight gate. It was to warn people of the futility of such lives that Christ spoke the parable of the ten virgins. Five of them, he said, were foolish, self-indulgent and heedless of the obligations of the spiritual life. He is not here denouncing criminals or vicious people. These virgins were nominally Christians, not the murderers and robbers who infested the lonely roads of Palestine, ready to waylay the traveler; tine, ready to waylay the traveler; not the openly immoral, like the Magdalene or the woman of Samaria, but the people who, as an old commentator has said, make a "profes-sion of the gospel and act in such a manner as to give real Christians a favorable impression of them and so gain admittance into their midst. gain admittance into their midst. He is alluding to Christians in name only, who outwardly appear all right and yet have not the true inward consecration of heart and who expect consecration of heart and who expect therefore to go to heaven upon bor-rowed spiritual capital.

These spiritual mendicants of my text are, in the first place, the and women indifferent to the comand women indifferent to the commandments of Jesus Christ, who expect to ultimately reach heaven on account of the consecration of a Christian ancestry. They are not bad men as the world looks upon bad men. They have been rocked in Christian radles. They have been reared in Christian nurseries and Christian Sunday schools. During their boyhood days they have knelt at Christian altars and sat in Christian noon days they have kneit at Christian tian altars and sat in Christian pews. But as far as their own lives have been concerned they have no Christian experience and have never openly confessed Jesus Christ as openly confessed Jesus Christ as their Saviour. They have never done anything to show their devotion to God as consecrated disciples of Christ. And yet if you should ask these men to-day if they expected to reach heaven they would instantly answer: "Of course, of course, of course! The home of my youth was a Christian home. I am a child of the covenant. My father was a good Christian man. My mother prayed over me from the time I was born until she died. Why should I not go where they are?"

Oh, yes, my friend, you would certainly go to heaven upon the borrowed capital of your father's and mother's lifelong consecration if they had any power to take you there. But the difficulty is that your father's and mother's spiritual power is similed. From the time you were limited. From the time you were born your parents lived entirely for you and your brothers and sisters.

Every pleasure and every indulgence they had they shared with you. If they were ever given or ever bought a box of candy they never ate it alone. They always brought it home and divided it with their children. But there is one blessing your moth-er and father have that they cannot er and father have that they cannot divide with their children. They cannot divide with you their oil of spiritual life. They could lead you to the rock of Calvary, where, in the blood of Jesus, you might see how your sins might be cleansed, but you must yourself seek an interest in his atonement. They could tell you of the Holy Spirit, whose illumination could seatter your spiritual darkness. could scatter your spiritual darkness but the oil of his divine influence you must implore for yourself. They could compel you as a child to go and sit in the church pew, but the could not compel you to receive Christ as your Saviour. That is a matter simply between you and Jesus. They could introduce Christ to you as their very best friend, but they could not could introduce Christ to you as their very best friend, but they could not force you to make their friend Jesus your friend. He will never become a part of your life unless you yourself open to him the holy of holies of your heart to let him in. Neither will Christ receive you as one of his own unless you truly come to him with the countersign of the cross.

And yet many people expect ultimately to reach heaven on account of the borrowed spiritual oil of a consecrated Christian ancestry. "Oh," said a minister's daughter to me some time ago, "I know I am not living as I ought, but I am all right. I have no fear about the future. I have made my husband promise to bury me at the foot of my father's grave. When the archangel's trumpet sounds and we all come up I am goshook his leonine head and let out a growl as he said, "I do not know the man." For the Bible says, "He denied him with an oath." When the people began to crowd about him Peter still more vehemently began to protest his ignorance with oaths and curses. He denied Christ. He denied him once, twice, thrice. He denied him in the meanest, the most contemptible and cowardly way. Yet when Peter repented of his sin Christ forgave him and regrave. When the archangers trumper sounds and we all come up I am going to cling to my father's hand. I know Christ will let me in if I am by his side. I know it, because my father was such a good man. I know Christ would not refuse my father anything." She said this half in jest and half in earnest. Many of us have the same hope and say the same things, not half in jest, but in dead earnest. No, my friends, when the bridegroom cometh on that great day of resurrection your father and mo-ther will have no spiritual oil to spare. Then we cannot follow the divine bridegroom with our parents' spiritual light. We must have our own lighted oil to become part of the wedding procession of the redeemed or forever stay out of Christ's banquet hall, enveloped by the impenetrable and crushing darkness of the eternal night.

These five foolish virgins represent another class. They represent the spare. Then we cannot follow the di

These five footist virgins represent the nominal church members. They represent the men and women who look upon church membership as a kind of fetich. Some people who are nominal church members seem to think that they can lie and steal and cheat and commit all the forbidden sins of the decalogue if they are only church thoughts of our brain and the de-sires of our heart to be read by the tial of Christianity is a perfection of most intimate of our friends as ar tial of Christianity is a perfection of creed for the head and not absolute consecration for the heart. They seem to think that they can walk hand in hand with sin and continue to so walk if they can only repeat this sentence as they go: "I believe in Jesus. I believe in Jesus. Yes, I believe in Jesus." Now, Christ, by the parable of my text, says that a mere mental faith in him, unaccompanied by a surrender of the heart and life, is not faith at all. The faith that saves is a open book.

I think, however, that the majority of spiritual beggars can be found and always will be found among those who expect some day to consecrate their lives to Jesus Christ, but keep putting off the ac ceptance week by week and day by day and hour by hour until sudden ly the cry is taken up, "Behold the ly the cry is taken up, "Behold the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him." and they will be called unprepared. I do not believe that all of these foolish virgins deliberately intended to be unprepared for the coming of the bridegroom. They intended to go and get the oil which is the symbol of the spiritual life. But they kept saying to each other. faith that takes complete control of a man. The nominal church members must have consecration of heart and pure life as well as a perfect gospel creed. I believe that Christ's fuller teachings affirm that he is more willing to forgive the sins of an out and out enemy who once blasphemed him, but repents of his sin, than he is willing to forgive a Judas, who never denied him publicly, but who in private life betrays him with a kiss. How about Peter? DTid not Christ gladly forgive him his three denials when Peter repented after the cock growed? The most pswerful pulpit description of any Bible scene I ever read or heard was that delivered by Joseph Parker of "Peter's Three Denials." In the first place, the great proaching Christ and planting a betraying kiss upon the Saviour's cheek. Then came the tramp of the Roman soldiers. Then the lines were formed as the prisoner is being marched back to the capital. In olden times, as now, when a man is arrested the crowds of curiosity seekers were augumented step by step Peter, when he saw the multitude. But they kept saying to each other, "Oh, we will go to-morrow," or "We will go next week," or "We will go next month. There is plenty of go next month. There is plenty of time; do not worry. We will be pre-pared when Christ comes." And they were called unexpectedly. That is the figure of my parable. The duty that was always being postponed was postponed too long. The oil that those foolish virgins should have had was not there when should have had was not there when it was needed. While the bridegroom tarried they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight there was a cry, And at midnight there was a cry, "Behold the Bridegroom cometh!"

That means, when the last call for repentance came, it came suddenly.
The Bridegroom always comes suddenly. Then what happened? Why, the foolish virgins, who in the near future expected to have the spiritual oil prepared, were found without the necessary preparation. Those that were prepared went to the wedding. The door was shut. Those who were not prepared had to stay out. The five foolish virgins became spiritual bankrupts forever. Oh, my friends, are you and I going to make the awful mistake of putting off and putting off and putting off the day necessary for the consecration of our hearts and lives for the coming of hearts and lives for the coming of the Divine Bridegroom?

The coming of the Bridegroom may be expected at any moment. The Bible distinctly says so. When Christ comes as the Bridegroom he will come as unexpectedly as a thief in the night at a place and at an hour when he is least expected. Rev. Dr. Wallace, late American consul to Jerusalem, once told me that nearly all the American Christian residents of the Davidic capital were living there in the belief that when Christ should first appear upon earth he would be seen standing among the Judaean hills, and therefore they were there waiting to welcome him. But Christ when he comes will appear unto us in America as well as though we were in Europe or Asia or Africa. Therefore, like old Rob-ert McCheyne, I cry: "Prepare! Prepare! Prepare for the coming of the Redeemer, for the Son of Man cometh at an hour when ye think not!" Will you now prepare for the most momentous cry of the ages "Behold the Bridegroom cometh! Go ye out to meet him?" Will you be prepared so that at his glorious coming he can greet you and take you into his banquet house and lift over you the banner of love?

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other adorous vegetables. onions and other odorous vegetables Charcoal effectually clears and im Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozen-ges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of darge, pleas-

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them: they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patient preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

IN THE ATLANTIC

The word tidal-wave is usually applied to the rise in the sea following in the wake of the moon, computed accurately from tables which show the time after the moon's transit it should take place. There is another meaning to the word, however, when applied to one of the great mountains of water which sometimes precede or follow earthquakes. These buge waves are quite common in the South Pacific, and there is seldom a year in which some seismic disturbance does not send forth a tremendous rolling sea. In many cases they roll across a comparatively calm belt, taking the vessels afloat within the vast limits completely unawares and who do not contrive to weather them safely.

The day ended fine, but shortly after sunset it began to bank up after sunset it began to sunset ifful guites from the southward, accompanied by sudden squalls of rain. By aight o'clock at night it was blowing a stiff gale from the southwest, and a heavy sea commenced running with the general current; but as the ship was large and heavy she made little of it while running off with the lift on her port quarter.

It was water that water that the lift on her port quarter.

It was my first watch that evening, and being mate, it was my duty to see that everything aboard was shipshape and secure for the night. The 'cokout was set and the man cautionse to keep a sharp watch out for vessels, for we were right in the track of coasters bound north. The passengers were all below and most of them were turned in; so I came upon the bridge for a .onely vigil of four melancholy hours without any one to pass a word with until midnish.

After taking command of the ship and socing that all was as it should be, I began my solitary walk to and fro in the forward part of the bridge con the ship and pass the time until I should be relieved. We were plunging along into the darkness at fifteen knots an hour and at every turn! I would try to get the fields of my right-glasses dry enough to take a quick look ahead. It would be quick work to clear a vessel without a masthead light on such a right, and the wholesome dread of the poorly lighted coasting schooner began to get on my nerves in a most disagreeable manner.

The hours dragged along until six bolls (cleven o'clock), when the captar came on deck to take a last look around before turning in for the night. He was a very timid little fellow, and immediately began. "Girll fault with the lookout kerd."

shown and that the ship would undoubtedly get into trouble. After fuming around the bridge for several minutes he found that nothing had been gained by his nervousness and he turned in. Just as he closed the door of his room the lightning flared furiously and he thunder crashed with a terrific detonation. This brought the little skipper on deck with a jump and he came rushing for the bridge rail.

BATTENING DOWN THE HATCHES.

It had been his custom to leave the hatches off during the run through the tropics. This was to air the holds, and he always kept them off until the last minute before allowing the battening down which must take holds. Twice during the night had I suggested placing the covers on as the sea began to increase, but each time had received a negative answer. Now I suggested that again, intending to place them on my own responsibility just as soon as he turned, in this time he acquished and I started down the ladder to the main deck, whistling, or rather piping, for the watch to follow me.

We had been at work only about a minute when the lookout sung out: "Light dead ahead, sir," coming aft to give his cry again.

Before we could get a good look into the darkness a huge form rose on the port bow and tore past not there fathoms distant, the roar of the sease from the two vessels resounding above the gale as they echeed between the light sides. We had not even the light sides. We had not even time to swing a fathom to starboard, and the danger had come and gone in a twinkling. Had we struck it would have meant the end of either one, or both ships, for the schooner was plunging abead close hauled and we were going full speed. Her light had not shown until we were within a few hundred feet of her, and she, seeing our mast-head lamp, knew were a steamer and that she had the right of way. It was a close call.

Almost immediately following her came a great steamer, heading very slowly into the sea, and while we watched her go past the lightning and thunder suddenly burst forth with a vigor from a squall approaching from the southwest. For an instant the downpour was tremendous, and all'the time the lightning flured incessantly. Then the ship suddenly began to roll in a mountainous sea, which sent things tumbling about wherever they were A TREMENDOUS DOWNPOUR.

mountainous sea, which sent things tumbling about wherever they were not lashed fast.

All the watch laid aft to secure the after-hatch, for the sea was now beginning to come on deck.

This was not an easy undertaking now, for the ship was rolling decks under at each swing, and a hatch cover adrift was not a pleasant thing to wrestle with. One moment the doam would glisten white below on some side and the next it would show again on the other, coming up along the waterways a full half fathom the waterways a full half fathom the waterways a full half fathom on an hour and finally got the covers on over more than half the hatch, following if with the canvas cover or transitant. Then a sudden bright flash of light and tremendous down the sea seemed to have a new horizon close by to the southward. In the glare the horizon appeared to a mighty hill, atmost becalmed dunder its high slope, For an instant at I did not gather the meaning of the phenomenon, thinking it was enused

CHATHAM, ONT, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1904

A shout to all hands to look out was the first thing, and as every one strove for a place of safety the ship's stern began to rise on the slope. High above, the crest of the great sea began to snore into a huge comber. I had just time to spring upon the gipsy-winch used for hoisting and clasp the boom overhead when the crest crashed over us and hurled the ship on her beam ends. The entire after part of the steamship was submerged at least two fathoms deep in clear water, while the rush of foam went clear over the top of her foam went clear over the top of her from their chocks and sent to desire the opening of the hatch still uncovered and poured down into the hold by the ton, an immense mass of it getting below during those few water and settle by the stern. Then water tons of sea water in her lower hold and her boats gone, all caused by that tremendous sea which was rolling silently across the Atlantic through the night.

Had the vease been going head to such a wave she would doubtless have gone under. The schooner, which was probably the "Temendous shock."

the tremendous shock.

We were washed as clean as could be of every movable thing, the steel superstructure being the only thing above the main deck left standing. Several doors of this were stove in and the rooms flooded half a fathom deep with sea water, the occupants of the bunks finding themselves up to the edge in water.

Immediately following the great wave came two much smaller ones, and as the last swept along, burying the stern in foam, the wind elacked up and the squall began to break up. In less than half an hour the sky was as clear as a-bell, the stars shining and all as seach as the lived upon it. The passengers turned in and enjoyed a comfortable sleep for the rest of the night, and the half-drowned watch were allowed to turn in and get out of their wet clothes. No one year and the except one sailor, who got jammed by the sea. His bruises were jammed by the sea. His bruises were not dangerous and there was a loudly expressed feeling of thanks by the little skipper, who had come off so happily. The next day Hatteras was sighted and the pilot taken aboard. The ship made harbor without delay, and the few passengers dispersed, probably never to meet again, leaving the little captain to tremble and time the half-drowned the supparance of his costly small boats.

Chicago Chronicle,

With the question of food, trouble begins. An attempt to follow all the directions along this line would result in nothing short of absolute starvation. A glass of hot water before breakfast is recommended as an essential requisite to beauty, "clears the skin and assures a peach-like complexion." The next paper we take up dashes our hopes by asserting that "hot water drinkers always have a poor complexion." Cold water chills the stomach; but the next writer assures us that the imbibing of quantities of cold water, not less than two quarts per day, is all that is needed to make any woman beautiful. Coffee "ruins the skin"; ditto tea: cocoa is fattening; milk makes the skin greasy. Well, it looks as if we should have to forego liquid refershments of any kind.

But what about eating? One writter would feed the aspirant for beauty upon fruit, another on oatmeal, another on beefsteak — something, another for the woman's column as "dainty,"). We are taught to avoid asweets, pastry, meat, white bread, vegetables, in fact everything that the average person is in the habit of eating, and very little is suggested to take their place. But never mind, so long as we take the "brisk walk," the "bread very being in the place writers, which include fenoing, boxing, dumbells, Indian clubs, rowing, etc., etc. "and il the various forms of exercise recommended by the space writers, which include fenoing, boxing, dumbells, Indian clubs, rowing, etc., etc." and all the exercise. To safeguard the metaled way was the first preoccupation of the British commanders. From Cape Town to Pragogia they fortified the line by a series of blockhouses each connected with the other by a double fence of barbed wire. It was a strange modern reproduction of the fundamental principle adopted by the Romans 2,000 years ago. Hadrian's great mural rampart, by which he chained down the North of England to the Roman Emp.re, was the old world substitute for the barbed wire employed by Kitchener. The Roman wall which ran from the Tyne to the Solway was built, not like the Chinese wall, to shut off one part of the country from the other, but for precisely the same reason that the African railways were fenced with a notwork of barbed wire. The wall was built to protect the goad. At every mile along its course was a fortified station—a mile castle, as the North-country English call them where Roman legionaries kept watch all day and all night. The whole Roman road from Wallend to the neighborhood of Carlisle was patrolled every night by Roman soldiers, and the system of watch was so perfected that a signal of alarm could be passed from end to end of the wall with almost the rapidity of the wall with almost the rapidity of the system of area.

Most of the blockhouses have been dismantled. But their sites remain. Some are still intact. The smaller blockhouse, in which British soldiers kept for two years the weariest and most harassing of vigils, was generally circular, built of the rough stone so plentiful in South Africa, and covered in with corrugated iron, which is the almost univefaal roofing of the country. But at longer intervals, at the more important stations, or where the line crossed bridges, square forts were built with hewn stone, and finished off by the masou. Very grim and suggestive they look, crowning almost every knoll with their loopholed square. The barbed wire was srung with empty tin cans which rattled whenever the wire was touched. Dogs were commandeered and imprisoned in the blockhouses, and sometimes even ducks and gesse were proach of cnemies; but the appetites of the garrison usually led to the westruction of their feathered sentinels.

Despite all their mockhouses, the a Boers experienced little difficulty in he crossing the line when they pleased, of To surprise the Tommies in the blocks houses was one of the amusements of the later days of the amusements of the later days of the campaign, we greatly and the surprise of anything more deadly dull than to be marconed in a circular cell day and night, with nothing to do but to look out for the when they were expected, and usually turned up just when Tommy Athins had turned in.
