

ENGINEER'S REPORT ON GRAND RIVER FLOODS

Ontario Government Engineer Recommends Storage Dams—Sum of $10,000 Will be Spent by Government to Complete Inquiry—Report is of Great Interest.

Brantfordites will read with great interest the special report submitted by the engineer of the Ontario Government, H. G. Acres, who was recently commissioned to make a report upon the Grand River flood conditions.

Engineer's Report.

The report of Engineer Acres is as follows: Through the progressive obliteration of physical influences governing natural control, the flood flows of the Grand River have for some years past been gradually increasing in volume and destructiveness.

Consequent upon this steady increase in flood discharge, the low water flow has been steadily decreasing, so that in addition to a large annual loss by flood damage, there has been a material loss through shrinkage of the river bed.

A Survey Made.

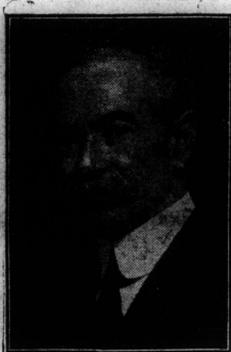

During the Fall of 1912 a reconnaissance survey was made of the Grand River watershed covering the main stream from Caledonia to Headwaters; also of the larger tributaries including Whiteman's Creek, and the Nith, Speed and Conestoga River from the confluence with the main stream to headwaters.

Both instances of the back-water damage would be large, and in the case of Most Desperate Anarchist in France Kills Himself.

WILL GAS MERGER JUMP BRANTFORD PRICE

Removal of Books From Brantford to Buffalo Office Planned by Doherty Interests—This City Will Launch a Vigorous Protest, as Gas Prices May be Increased.

Does the recent merger of various gas companies by the Henry Doherty interests of New York mean that Brantford consumers will have to pay more for their gas?

Following, it is claimed, the general procedure of the Doherty interests, an advance in the price of gas, if such can be carried out under the by-law, is inevitable.

An effort is now being made to have the books of the Brantford Gas Company removed to Buffalo through an Order-in-Council by the Lieutenant-Governor.

I understand that the Brantford Gas Company is applying to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for an order allowing the company to remove its books to Buffalo out of the jurisdiction of the Province, and also for an order allowing it to hold its meetings out of the province.

I will be glad to assist in any way I can in the matter. Kindly let me hear from you. I may say that I have entered a protest with the Department, and that nothing will be done until the city has a chance to present its case.

Sincerely yours, W. S. BREWSTER.

A PARALLEL MARKET CASE

The Courier has from the first extended that the Ontario Legislature would not sanction the removal of the present market site, because was decided as such in perpetuity similar case has occurred in Toronto and here is the report from the Toronto Globe—

"St. Patrick's Market, aged sixty-six, is to stay. The city's attempt to get permission to use an old landmark for other than market purposes failed, and civic officials who attempted to have 'St. Patrick's Market Trust' distinguished were told yesterday a meeting of the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature that 'they would have been called honorable men if they had been private parties.'"

Mayor Hocken, Controller Church and McCarthy, Corporation Counsel Geary and City Solicitor Johnston who appeared before the committee, explained that the property was given to the city in 1837 by D'Arcy Boulton to be used forever as a public market but as it was no longer useful a market they desired permission to use it for other civic purposes.

As a result of the refusal of the Private Bills Committee to grant the city's request, it is probable the old building will be torn down and a modern structure to be used as a market erected in place.

That which happened in the case of Toronto would, without any doubt occur in the case of Brantford. The plain thing for us to do is follow the example of the Queen City and enter upon necessary improvements.

COST OF LIVING.

The Department of Labor at Ottawa has issued a comprehensive report upon the above subject. It contains detailed review of course of wholesale and retail prices from week to week throughout 1912. The wholesale prices are for articles chosen as representative of the entire field of production and consumption, quotations being taken each case in the governing market. The retail prices are for the 30 articles which enter chiefly into domestic budgets and are taken from every locality in Canada having a population of 10,000 and upward.

The report shows that wholesale prices went up over 9 per cent, 1912, due allowance being made, the varying importance in trade, the several communities. Retail prices did not advance so rapidly, but Department estimates that a weekly family budget, worked out at average prices, cost $12.24 in 1910, $12.91 in 1911 and $13.63 in 1912. In the latter of the Department's index number level indicated by 127.4 in 1911 rose to 134.4 in 1912, the number being percentages of the average prices prevailing during the decade 1890-1899, the period adopted by the Department as the standard for comparison throughout its investigations.

This brings prices higher than they have been before in a general way certainly a like situation has not been since the early seventies when prices were very high throughout America and Europe. Since 1897, the report shows that prices have advanced by very nearly 60 per cent. Canada.

The report contains 253 pages, and is replete with information bearing on all sides of the price question.

AN ATTACK ON THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC

The Courier is in receipt of a book of nearly three hundred pages entitled "An Expensive Experiment," Hydro Electric Power Commission Ontario."

It is written by Mr. Reginald P. Ham Bolton of New York who on fly leaf of the production describes himself as—

"Member of the American Institute of Consulting Engineers; a Associate Member of the Institute of Civil Engineers; member of American Society of Civil Engineers and Trustee of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society."

What ever else he is the inventor of Mr. Bolton's presumption denied him from stating.

A PARALLEL MARKET CASE

The Courier has from the first contended that the Ontario Legislature would not sanction the removal of the present market site, because it was decided as such in perpetuity. A similar case has occurred in Toronto and here is the report from the Toronto Globe:—

"St. Patrick's Market, aged seventy-six, is to stay. The city's attempt to get permission to use the old landmark for other than market purposes failed, and civic officials who attempted to have the 'St. Patrick's Market Trust' extinguished were told yesterday at a meeting of the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature that 'they would have been called dishonorable men if they had been private parties.'"

Mayor Hoeken, Controllors Church and McCarthy, Corporation Counsel Geary and City Solicitor Johnston who appeared before the committee, explained that the property was given to the city in 1837 by Dr. Arcey Boulton to be used forever as a public market, but as it was no longer useful as a market they desired permission to use it for other civic purposes. As a result of the refusal of the Private Bills Committee to grant the city's request, it is probable the old building will be torn down and a modern structure to be used as a market erected in its place."

COST OF LIVING.

The Department of Labor at Ottawa has issued a comprehensive report upon the above subject.

It contains detailed review of the course of wholesale and retail prices from week to week throughout 1912. The wholesale prices are for 287 articles chosen as representative of the entire field of production and consumption, quotations being taken in each case in the governing market. The retail prices are for the 30 articles which enter chiefly into domestic budgets and are taken monthly from every locality in Canada having a population of 10,000 and upward.

The report shows that wholesale prices went up over 9 per cent. in 1912, due allowance being made, for the varying importance in trade of the several communities. Retail prices did not advance so rapidly, but the Department estimates that a weekly family budget, worked out at average prices, cost $12.24 in 1910, $19.19 in 1911 and $13.63 in 1912. In the terms of the Department's index number, a level indicated by 127.4 in 1911 rose to one of 134.4 in 1912, the numbers being percentages of the average prices prevailing during the decade 1890-1899, the period adopted by the Department as the standard for comparison throughout its investigation. This brings prices higher than they have been before in a generation; certainly a like situation has not been seen since the early seventies when prices were very high throughout America and Europe. Since 1897, the report shows that prices have advanced by very nearly 60 per cent. in Canada.

The report contains 255 pages, and is replete with information bearing on all sides of the price question.

AN ATTACK ON THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC

The Courier is in receipt of a book of nearly three hundred pages entitled "An Expensive Experiment, the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario."

It is written by Mr. Reginald Pelham Bolton of New York who on the fly leaf of the production describes himself as:—

"Member of the American Institute of Consulting Engineers; Associate Member of the Institution of Civil Engineers; member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and Trustee of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society."

What ever else he is the innate modesty of Mr. Bolton presumably prevented him from stating.

The volume is addressed to the citizens and taxpayers of New York state and it is couched in terms of awful warning to the effect that they should not follow the lead of the Province of Ontario in establishing a public electric service at cost. Private companies are the only concerns which in Mr. Bolton's opinion are able to handle such matters.

Whether he speaks for said private companies The Courier is not aware, but the whole tone of his remarks would seem to indicate that he is a special advocate for such interests.

Just why certain capitalists are prepared to take electric risks (at large personal profit) and desire to warn the plain people from going into a similar enterprise with power at cost, it does not take a lawyer to figure up.

And right on top of Mr. Bolton's book, sent without cost (of course at his own expense), Mr. J. L. Patrie, member of the New York Legislature and one of the Committee of enquiry, makes the assertion:—

"It may be stated as a general fact, that prices for lighting and power in Ontario are hardly one-third of what is now charged in the municipalities of New York State. The general use of electricity is shown by the fact that 98 per cent. of the houses in Ottawa are lighted by electricity. I cannot agree with the majority report that it is a disadvantage to municipal operations to secure the patronage of smaller and humbler consumers. I further believe that the experience of the municipalities of Ontario in affording this convenience to the humblest citizen has not been the means of inflicting a loss in operation, but, on the contrary, I am convinced from a study of the peaks that this small private custom is desirable."

He goes on to say that his observation and the testimony taken convince him that the system is splendidly constructed and is much more efficient and durable than any private owned similar construction in Canada.

I therefore disagree with the majority report in so far as I find that the system of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for the transmission of power to the contracting municipalities is a system splendidly built and splendidly operated. I find that the cost of electric energy for lighting, heating and for power has been greatly reduced to the people of Ontario by reason of the operation of this system."

Mr. Patrie is manifestly not dominated by Corporation interests. And if Hydro Electric is not a cheaper system than private concerns, why is it that the Cataract people in Hamilton have reduced their rates twenty-five per cent?

FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Well, now!

What do you think of this issue of the Courier, a paper which in this city is "Supreme in Everything"?

The "Square Deal" campaign of the Courier, commences on Monday. Every competitor will be paid in cash for what they do, and in addition there are several handsome prizes.

Heartly congratulations to the Colborne Street Methodist Church upon a silver anniversary under such splendid circumstances.

Those British militant suffragettes who get sent to prison distinctly refuse to have the word spelled suffragettes.

The Toronto Globe tosses this bouquet to the Hon Adam Beck:

"Ample justification of the Hydro-Electric system as a means of destroying electric light and power monopoly in Ontario, is found in the minority report of J. L. Patrie of the New York Legislature's Committee on Conservation of Water Powers. The report says: 'It may be stated as a general fact that prices for lighting and power in Ontario are hardly one-third of what is now charged in the municipalities of New York State.'"

FOUR OF A KIND. Since the four Brants have been represented by four Conservatives, the just interests of the city and county have been properly and efficiently looked after.

When four Liberals represented the quartette of ridings, the amount of attention our proper interests received you could stick in your eye without asking any kind friend to remove the speck.

Messrs. Cockshutt, Fisher, Brewster, and Westbrook have proved themselves to be alive to public necessities with gratifying results. A new post office building for Brantford, improvements to the post office at Paris, rural mail deliveries in the county and other things have been the direct result.

Now in this issue the Courier is able to announce an important report with reference to the possible control of the Grand River, an important letter from Mr. Brewster regarding the gas situation, and a deserved recognition of Mr. Axford, head of the Children's Aid department.

The four Brants made no mistake when they elected four Conservatives and the Ridings are going to stay that way.

the 7 foot dam, would involve the drowning out of several buildings and a considerable length of highway.

2. A site near the Village of Blair where a 30 foot dam would create a storage area about 1400 acres in extent, the flooded area in this case would be largely meadow land.

3. A site near the Town of Elora, where a 30 foot dam would create a storage area about 3000 acres in extent, the back-water damage principally meadow land and river flats.

4. Two sites on the onastoga River, one of which would have a storage area of about 1200 acres with a 40 ft. dam, and the other about 1000 acres with a 30 ft. dam. In the first case, the back-water damage would involve cultivated land and a number of buildings. In the second case, pasture land would be mainly involved.

5. Two sites on the Speed River, one of which would have a storage area of about 600 acres with a 30 ft. dam, and the other about 800 acres with a 35 foot dam. The flooded land in both cases would be swamp and poor meadow land.

6. A site on the Nith River near Canning, where a 65 foot dam would control about 1100 acres of storage. The back-water damage would be heavy as a number of buildings would be involved.

7. A site on Whiteman's Creek near Mount Vernon, where a 45 foot dam would control about 450 acres of storage. The topography of the dam site in this case would allow the construction of a 60 foot dam but the back-water damage would be very largely increased.

Storage Basins Necessary. While it is to be understood that the above figures are superficial approximations only, it seems reasonably certain that a system of storage basins as above described would have an aggregate impounding capacity of not less than five billion cubic feet, in which event some beneficial effect through flood control might be expected.

While the information now available seems to indicate that material benefits may be derived from the construction of storage works, the extent of the benefit and the construction cost cannot be even approximately estimated without the help of instrumental surveys and comprehensive hydrographic study.

Gauging Stations. For the past eight months gauging stations have been maintained on the Grand River at Brantford, Glen Morris Blair and Elora. These sta-

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF HAIR

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautiful and Ends Dandruff.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even to-day this simple preparation has no equal.

Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur. Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the messy mixing at home. Simply ask for any drug store for a 50 cent bottle, the ready to use preparation, called "Wyeeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take out dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color.

What Surveys Involve. The surveys necessary will involve: (1) Instrumental determination of channel slope. (2) Detailed instrumental surveys of sites for proposed dams. (3) Surveys of storage basins to establish flood contours, and to determine the maximum possible or permissible limit of back-water. The data derived from these surveys will provide the necessary information as to the two governing factors of artificial regulation; namely, the obtainable volume of storage capacity and the extent of back-water damage. If this information proves that material benefit may be derived from the construction of storage works, the next step would be the exploration of foundation material by means of borings and test pits, after which detailed construction plans will be prepared with estimates of cost.

Unfavorable Features. It may be mentioned that throughout the Grand River watershed, with the possible exception of that of the Speed River, the topographical features are unfavorable as affecting the height and tenacity of the necessary dams, and the geological features are unfavorable as affecting their foundations. It is therefore certain that the creation of storage reservoirs of adequate capacity will entail a large capital expenditure. This expenditure will also be unfavorably influenced by the necessity of providing large spillway and sluice capacity for the safe passage of the flood discharge. Apart from conservation, another important element of flood control is the handling of back water and the prevention of riparian damage due to erosion. The proper study of the problem under consideration will therefore necessitate the examination and survey of restricted channels and of localities favorable to the formation of ice jams; also a study of back water effects on existing dams. With this information available it will be possible to what extent, if any, flood damage can be reduced by means of channel improvement and a construction of training works.

Final Investigation. The final phase of the investigation will be a careful examination of the more remote portions of the watershed to ascertain whether natural run-off conditions will be materially influenced by the permanent retention of existing swamps. Furthermore if any benefit might be gained by allowing areas now drained and reclaimed to lapse into their natural state.

In view of the important interests involved and the practical certainty of a continuous annual increase in the extent of flood damage in the Grand River Valley, there can be no question as to the necessity of an investigation to determine the means by which this abnormal condition can be remedied or ameliorated.

As the solution of this problem will depend primarily upon data collected in the field, and as the investigation so far made seems to indicate that appreciable benefit is to be derived from the works projected, it is recommended that surveys be carried out along the lines above described and with the least possible delay.

In conclusion it is important to note that any experience obtained or evidence of benefit derived from the carrying out of a flood control scheme on the Grand River, could be advantageously applied to several other streams in the South-western Peninsula which suffer from lack of natural control. Among the most important of these streams are Thames, the Maitland and the Sauguenay.

Gives Verdict

"I generally took down a shovel and knocked off the bottom." "Did you ever get caught in the bin?" asked Mr. Wilkes.

"No, sir, I never went down far enough." "When was the last you saw deceased?"

"I was talking to him three minutes before, and shortly after Norris came running up and said deceased was buried in the pit." Witness called a friend and went down and started digging.

Witness was asked if he knew of any construction of a bin which would be less dangerous than this. "No, sir, I have not, and there is no danger in these when done carefully."

Dr. Barber stated he was called to the brickyard on the first of April about 2 o'clock. He stated the deceased died of a kind of asphyxia. Said he found the deceased's mouth full of sand and time, and at the time of his arrival he was dead.

Fred Norris, an employee, stated he had worked in the yard since Feb. 24th; he worked on the mixer and filled one of the bins.

"Have you ever loosened the sand from these bins?" asked the Crown Attorney.

"Yes, sir, quite often," replied Norris. Witness stated that he had often loosened it by going down the ladder and knocking out the bottom with a spade.

"What precautions do you take when going down so that you could not be smothered?"

"I do not go down far enough on the ladder to let the sand cover my feet, even if the whole were to come down suddenly; you don't need to do it and we don't."

"In what condition did you find the deceased?" asked Crown Attorney Wilkes.

"I found him in with just a part of his head uncovered, and I immediately started to uncover him, and when I got it uncovered he started to gasp but was dead when we got him out."

"Did you take any sand out of the box after the accident?" asked Mr. Hollinrake.

"Yes, sir," said the witness; "we had to get the deceased out." Coroner Fissette thought that some means should be devised to overcome such accidents as this. He then sent the jury out to consider the case and they returned with the above verdict.

The following were the jurors assembled: Foreman—Alex. Richardson; G. Strickland, J. Thurlow, J. H. Shields, E. James, W. Jarvis, Joe. Davis, W. M. Cuddy.

The remains of the late John Bushfield Carnegie were laid to rest in Mount Hope cemetery, April 3, 1913. The subject of this notice carried on an optical business at his late residence, 255 Dalhousie St. for the past five years. He was a great reader and a deep student of political economy, being very anxious to better the condition of the masses, and he spent much of his time in that work. He was upright and honest, and always carried a ray of sunshine wherever he went.

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.
"A study of the evolution of the Nervous System would indicate that all nervous action was primarily unconscious. The organic functions, as for example swallowing, peristaltic action, etc., are of this character; so also are the activities of digestion, absorption, secretion, and elimination."

"The nervous system presides over and co-ordinates the functions of the body, its physiology is obscure and involved, but the study of experimental psychology is doing much to solve its problems, and a distinct specialty. Neurology is devoted to the treatment of abnormal nervous action and sensation."

Dr. Keane.

Music and Drama

"Ishmael" Proved to Be Popular. "Ishmael" as presented last night at the Grand Opera House more than pleased a large audience and it is one of the best productions ever offered in this city. All the principal roles were well depicted. Miss Kitty Marks being especially attractive as Beatrice Middleton, as the Champion of Ishmael, she won the audience from the start. Ernie Marks had the comedy part and made the most of it. The Marks Co. close their engagement here to-night with "The Element."

The Old Favorite. There has never been so lavish and beautiful a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as that which Kibbie's company will offer amusement lovers at the Grand, Friday, April 11, at eight o'clock. The scenes are large enough to fill the most spacious stage hall no less be improved. The scenic representation of the Ohio River with the rocky pass in which the boat is wrecked, the family, the cotton fields in the New England, the "Celestial City" are all most notable effects. Each picture is so really as closely as paint and canvas will permit, and the stage perspective is so deep that the effect is exceptionally pleasing. The company is also worthy of the environment. Gus Collins, the eminent minstrel star, offers an excellent study of Uncle Tom.

A Great Play. Revivals are the rage just now, but the one of "Robin Hood," which will be seen at the Grand on Tuesday, April 15th, is probably the most pretentious one that has ever been made of a light opera. Not content to spend an immense sum for the scenery and the costumes, the management of the De Koven Opera Company has drawn from the principal opera houses of the world for its leading singers. Bessie Abbott, who heads the cast, had her first experience in the musical world at the Paris Grand Opera and this was followed by several seasons at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. Henriette Wakefield and Herbert Waterous also come from the last named theatre. Walter Hyde, by all odds the best tenor in England, hails from the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, in London. Sylvia Van Dyck is an English soprano who won her spurs at the Brussels Opera House. Anna Buesert was a member of the Berlin Opera House, while Mincha Piranzo was for several seasons at La Scala in Milan. In addition to its tuneful score, "Robin Hood" possesses a witty libretto and the principal fun-makers of the company will be Helen Mostyn, Phillip Sheffield, and Anna Boyd. The musical director, Frank Tourin, comes from the Gaiety Theatre in London.

Bert Brown Replies. Sporting Editor The Courier: My attention was called to the comment on the stand we took relative to the "bold" challenge of Harry Ireland by "Free Lance." He made a big noise last winter along the same lines and when I called his bluff, he backed down and I have heard nothing since then up to this last outbreak. He was down to Hamilton some time ago and failed to beat Sam Jellier, the big German, who I beat in about two minutes. Looks as though he was sporting for the soft end of an even split of the gate receipts, same as Hakenschmidt in his last match with Gatch. We are game if he means business—although the season is rather late. BERT BROWN.

said the eruption would never heal without a surgical operation. I was much run down with Impure Blood, and dreaded to think of an operation. I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with benefit, and I decided to take it again for my very poor health. The medicine brightened me up, but my family physician advised me to discontinue it, saying that it would not be of any use. I was afflicted, so I stopped taking it for some months, when, as the doctor had failed to help me further, I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla again. "After I had used four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla the abscess had nearly healed and the discharge was less. When I had taken seven bottles the sore had entirely disappeared, leaving only a slight scar. When I told the doctor Hood's Sarsaparilla had cured me, he was dumb-founded, and said 'Hood's Sarsaparilla certainly has done wonders for you.' I think my blood was cured of humor, I had better appetite and was in better health in every way. My husband cannot say too much in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. Chas. Bearse.

GERMANY NOW FEELS BETTER

Return of Big Airships Gives Nation a Feeling of Relief. BERLIN, April 5.—(German Press Dispatch.) The return of big airships to Germany, about the suggestion made yesterday by the Frankfurter Zeitung for the holding of an international conference to evolve a plan for the restriction of armaments. It was pointed out to-day that Germany is now facing the discussion of a bill calling for a big increase in its military forces, and that the Government firmly intends to enact it into a law and is utterly disinclined to consider proposals for disarmament.

The German Foreign Office regards the proposal for an international conference as merely another move in the campaign waged by the Frankfurter Zeitung against the new military bill, and says that the suggestion is not entitled to any sympathy in Germany. They're Hysterical. BERLIN, April 5.—(German Press Dispatch.) The safe return of the Zeppelin airship to Metz, Germany is breathing freely again, and perhaps Europe has cause to share in the general relief. The sanest sections of the press and public are manifesting mastery composure over the awkward incident, but in less controlled quarters, where patriotism is a disease, a state of mind...

Several suffragette placards and a bundle of suffrage literature were found in the vicinity of the Ayr race course, leaving no doubt in the minds of the authorities as to who was responsible for the fire. A considerable number of window-breaking and telegraph wire cutting outrages were committed during the night by militants in various parts of the country. The bomb and arson campaign hatched by the "wild women" has used intense alarm in the provinces, especially at historic places like Chatsworth and Blenheim, where special patrols of police and gamekeepers have been placed on duty day and night.

Henriette Wakefield, Contralto, in the big revival of "Robin Hood," at the Grand, Tuesday, April 15.

bordering on hysteria prevails. In these quarters it is regarded as an irreparable national disaster, and it is declared that all the jealously guarded national secrets on which Germany pinned her hopes of retaining the supremacy of the air have been handed to her supreme enemy "on a silver plate."

The Tagliche Rundschau, which regards itself as the official organ of the big air fleet party, lashes itself into hysterical fury worthy of a British suffragette. It demands that the officers of the airship be court-martialed. It says they ought to have blown up the ship and all on board rather than take the risk of giving its priceless secrets to France. The paper says it imagines that France will gain so much benefit by the knowledge it obtained that the long-sought day of reckoning cannot be much longer delayed.

The point work on the airship was scribbled all over with "Vive la France," "A bas l'Allemagne," "Bon jour Guillaume" and similar caligraphic eruptions of wit of the irreverent populace of Lunville. France Acts. PARIS, April 5.—The vast aerial preparations made by Germany, determined the French cabinet council to-day to decide to bring forward on the reassembling of Parliament in May a bill to add greatly to France's air fleet. Even the outlines of the new measures have been kept secret, but it is generally agreed that the conditions on land and sea have been so changed by the progress made in the navigation of the air that France must put forth fresh exertions in this direction.

France already possesses 600 aeroplanes, but is deficient in dirigible balloons capable of dropping explosives on battleships, arsenals, ship yards and other objective points.

FIRE FIENDS ARE CAUGHT

LONDON, April 5.—Two suffragette "fire fiends" were captured this morning red-handed while setting light to the new grand stand on the Kelso race course in Scotland. Rags saturated with petroleum had been placed beneath the stand and ignited when the watchmen on duty sprang out of their hiding place and captured the two women.

The grand stand on the Ayr race course, also in Scotland, was gutted by fire this morning, causing a loss of $15,000. This also was attributed to the militant suffragettes. Several suffragette placards and a bundle of suffrage literature were found in the vicinity of the Ayr race course, leaving no doubt in the minds of the authorities as to who was responsible for the fire. A considerable number of window-breaking and telegraph wire cutting outrages were committed during the night by militants in various parts of the country.

The bomb and arson campaign hatched by the "wild women" has used intense alarm in the provinces, especially at historic places like Chatsworth and Blenheim, where special patrols of police and gamekeepers have been placed on duty day and night. After the election of officers, Mr. F. Houghton rendered a couple of songs in capital voice. A few short speeches and a social time brought the gathering to a close.

DUFFERIN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Affairs of Club Considered in Very Satisfactory Condition. The Dufferin Bowling and Lawn Tennis Club held their annual banquet and meeting at the Tea Pot Inn last evening there being a large number of members around the festive-board and was a very successful affair. The banquet occupied the first part of the evening. After the inner man had been satisfied the gathering was called to order by President Ald. J. Minshall, who occupied the chair.

The annual business meeting was then proceeded with. President Minshall called upon the treasurer of the club, Mr. Dymond, who gave his annual report which showed a balance on the right side of the ledger and the club to be in a flourishing condition. Mr. Wilson was called upon and gave a very short but interesting address. Rev. Mr. Lavell favored those present with a humorous reading about football.

Secretary's Report. A. A. Lister, secretary of the club, read a lengthy report reviewing the work of the club from the time of its incorporation until the present. He took exception to some remarks about the club which appeared in the Courier saying that they were incorrect, uncalled for and misleading. Harry Sills gave a humorous reading.

The chairman read letters from Mr. Gardiner of the O. B. and Mr. T. Harry Jones regretting their inability to be present. Election of Officers. After the election of officers, Mr. F. Houghton rendered a couple of songs in capital voice. A few short speeches and a social time brought the gathering to a close.

Michigan's Big Program. DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—The Michigan state election next Monday has unusual significance because of the constitutional amendments to be voted on. Principal among these is an issue in the campaign has been the proposed amendment providing equal suffrage. Other proposed amendments are: Initiative and referendum on legislative matters, initiative and referendum on constitutional questions, recall for all public officials with the exception of municipal, circuit and supreme court judges, and an amendment making possible firemen's pensions.

Gangsters Active. NEW YORK, April 5.—Eugene Smith, active in Tammany politics and widely known on the east side, was shot and killed on Park road early to-day by four men believed to be gangsters. He was on his way to a hall of one of his side Democratic organizations at Tammany Hall. The gangsters, who were seen only by one witness, escaped. A brother of the slain man said that Smith had been mistaken by them for some one else, but the police were told that Smith had recently been moved to Brooklyn because of threats against his life.

The Sergeants of the Dufferin Rifles held a very successful "at Home" or "Ladies' Night" last evening, at which a large percentage of the Sergeants and their wives and friends were present. The cards and dancing were very much enjoyed by those present, after which dainty refreshments were served.

A most delightful dance was given by the bachelor girls of Paris last evening, the patronesses of chapter ones being Mrs. A. S. Lovett, Mrs. D. H. Howie, Mrs. W. L. Foley, Mrs. E. B. Crumie, Mrs. O. R. Whitby, Mrs. J. K. Martin, Mrs. A. E. Finemore, while Miss Olive C. Whitney acted as secretary-treasurer. Invitations had been out for some little time and the affair much looked forward to, and it certainly proved a brilliant success, the dancing hall in the municipal building, looked very attractive with its gay decorations. Coins tete-a-tete corners for those not wishing to dance; floor in excellent condition for the lovers of Teptichore, good music, and when supper time came, delicious refreshments. Altogether, the girl bachelors of our neighboring town are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the affair.

A novel feature in connection with the attendance at the Grand Opera House Thursday night for Webster's Lueter's new opera "The Rose-Maid," which held the boards and drew a crowded house, was the presence of the Shriners—sixty seats having been reserved for them and their party which afterwards adjourned to the Masonic Temple for supper—cards, and a social time.

A most pleasing event took place at Mount Pleasant on the afternoon of March 27th, when an afternoon tea was given in honor of Mrs. Altenburg, domestic art designer, engaged by the Ontario Government, who has been conducting classes for the South Brant Women's Institute during the past three months. A special feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Altenburg of a gold watch from the members of these classes at Scotland, Brantford and Mount Pleasant in appreciation of the good work she has done with them.

Many Brantfordites, especially among the golfing fraternity will be exceedingly sorry to hear of the death in Buffalo of Dr. Norman McLeod, one of the most brilliant young specialists in Buffalo. Dr. McLeod was born in Brantford, his father being connected with the A. Harris, Son and Co. firm, afterwards representing them in Australia, where Dr. McLeod spent his boyhood days. The doctor often visited Brantford golf links and was always most hospitable in Buffalo in his reception of Brantfordites.

Apropos of the Literary Club, which has been such a feature of this winter's season and which to-day had its closing. The following membership list will, I am sure, prove of interest to many of our readers. When one realizes how short a time it has been since organization, the growth and interest must be very gratifying to those who were instrumental in starting it. The officers of the society are: President, Mrs. Philip G. Buck; secretary, Miss Blackmore; treasurer, Miss Emily Bunnell; and directors, Miss Cora Gould, who in turn are backed and assisted by a large executive. Mrs. John Agnew, Mrs. S. Adams, Mrs. P. Most attractive looked the cosy club room of the Y. W. C. A. to-day when the Shakespearean luncheon, given as the closing of the Literary Club took place within its cosy precincts—sixty-five of the eighty members being present. The pretty small tables, cluttered with their bowls of spring blossoms, snowy linen, dainty appointments and clever menu cards with Shakespearean quotations—awarded the guests at one-thirty, the following delicate menu being provided:

Grape Fruit
Chicken Salad.
Rolls.
Bread and Butter
Charlotte-Russe Jelly
Sweets.
Coffee.

At the conclusion of the luncheon an adjournment was made upstairs, and the regular programme for the day followed:

Presentations were made of flowers to Mrs. Philip G. Buck, President of the Club and also to Miss Good, who has done so much to bring the Society to its present high standard. Happy speeches were made and brought to a most successful closing the season of 1912-13.

The True Patriot

By WALT MASON

How blessed is the man who asks no office, low or high, who rustles at his useful tasks, nor yearns to bleed and die! No spoiled ambitions make him sore or cause him to repine; and every day, at every door, he gets the "Welcome" sign. He is no politician's pup, to follow him through town; no whippersnapper higher up can ever call him down. He does not need to whine and sob in some cheap statesman's ears that he may hold his dinky job another term of years. It isn't needful to pretend he loves the unwashed jay; he needn't call his bosom friend each rube who comes his way. He cares not for the smiles or frowns of people in high place, but in his old blue hand-me-downs, he toils with skill and grace. From all official fetters free, he herds his lowing line, and prunes the spreading pumpkin tree, and trains the cabbage vine. Administrations oft may change, and patriots may weep; such things do not his plans derange, or make him lose his sleep. Let others break their hearts to nab those prizes dear to men; all quietly he keepeth tab upon his setting hen. How blessed is the man who'd take no office, small or big! Who'd rather stay at home and make a boudoir for his pig!

Breezy Notes about What's Doing among the Soccer Men in Brantford

The Executive meeting of the City Football league held in the Borden Club on Wednesday night was attended by a large number of football players and citizens who take a great interest in the sport and have the game at heart. Judging from the amount of enthusiasm that was shown at the meeting the game is bound to flourish this summer and the greatest football season ever held in Brantford is anticipated. Delegates were present from each of the teams and report "progress" which is taken to mean that they are all on the move and outlook for players, but some do not at the present time care to announce the prospective line up and let the other fellow know what his or their respective teams are doing.

A number of the teams are anxious to arrange a game with some out of town team for May the twenty fourth—the game to be played either in or out of the city.

There are a couple of exhibition games billed for to-morrow, weather permitting. All that is wanted is a little dry, warmer weather and the boys will be out to practice, and endeavor to get into shape at the earliest time possible.

Cockshutt United Team.
The officers of the Cockshutt United Football Club (Cup holders) — Patrons, H. Cockshutt, G. Wedlake; Hon. Presidents, R. Wedlake, W. B. Scace, H. Atwell, G. K. Wedlake, C. Graham, J. Gillen; president, F. Eastman; vice-president, T. Ford; secretary, B. Uniacke; treasurer, E. Taylor; manager, B. Rogers; asst. manager, D. Rees; trainer, W. Crimster; asst. trainer, T. Broad; committee, Messrs. J. Riley, C. Spencer, A. Johnson, T. Mcney, D. J. Burdett; grounds, Mohawk Park; colors, blue and white.

The Cockshutt team, the present cupholders claim that they will be stronger this season than last and expect to retain the cup and win the championship again this season. They have a good set of officers, always ready and eager to further the best interests of the club and are also backed up by a loyal and enthusiastic lot of supporters who will do all in their power to boost the team and stick with them through thick and thin. The lads say, "Give us the weather and we will give you the football. B. Uniacke, secretary of the team has kindly loaned the sporting editor of the Courier with an honorary member's ticket for the coming season, for which the editor is very thankful and wishes the team a successful season.

Brant Dragoons.
From what can be learned this is one team in the league which must not be overlooked, and one that will have to be reckoned with—Brant Dragoons. Bert Garrow is manager of players who have been tried and found that they can deliver the goods. Bert Garrow is manager of the team, but the captain will not be selected until the team is seen in action. The Dragoons will be principally made up of players from the Old Country, and mostly all experienced players. The team will wear the regimental colors, red and yellow, and will practice on the Agricultural Park grounds. On Saturday afternoon next the team will play a practice game with the All Scots.

St. Andrew's Club
Members of St Andrew's Club will turn out for practice at 5.45 p.m. sharp on Saturday, April 5th, at the O. I. B. grounds.

Dufferin Rifles Team
The Dufferin Rifles F. C. have arranged a game with the Lanes football club of Hamilton (senior team) to be played at Agricultural Park on Saturday, April 5th. The Lanes are reported to have a very fast team, having some noted out-of-country players in their ranks. This will undoubtedly be a great game, and lovers of football should not on any account miss seeing it. An interesting person on the field will be Mr. Fred Davis, ex-professional, who will referee the game and who has played in many a hardfought game in the English league, 1st and 2nd division, also the Southern League.

Sons of England Team
The Sons of England boys are holding meetings every Tuesday night when football is discussed at length, and the Johnny Bulls are patiently waiting for the playing season to open to get the command "Up Guards and at them." The team committee have been busy signing players and on the lookout for new and fast players for the team and have rounded up a number of players, some with reputations and others without, and it remains to be seen just how good they are on the grass. Some of the players signed by the editor of the Courier with an hon-

A Dip Into the Future

Walter Johnson they say looks better than ever this spring. Even as he was last year this fellow was a pretty fair pitcher.

If the improvement mentioned has been noticeable we forecast the following description of a Washington ball game:

"The Senators won, but Johnson was clearly off and far below his standard form. In the fifth inning he permitted a foul, while in the ninth two fly balls were driven to the outfield. He was touched up for one well bunched hit and only fanned nineteen men. In view of this ragged performance it seems that he has been overworked and Grig may decide to give him a brief rest until he recovers his stride.

By beating the Giants last fall and Pittsburg this spring the Red Sox haven't left any great doubt as to how they compare with the National league as a whole. If they trim the Giants and the Pirates, we wonder what they would do to the esteemed Braves?

The Ultimate Victor

Upon his return to New Haven, Prof Taft announced that after leaving Washington he had rounded four strokes off his game and had added twenty yards to his drive.

Who says Wilson was the winner? With Willie Ritchie, Fred Walsh, Joseph Rivers and Leach Cross all pointing in the same direction, the lightweight industry will be at its best this season, provided Willie doesn't pull a New York Yacht club on the field and defend the title by keeping four jumps out of reach.

What was pointed out in these columns some days ago, that it was not right and proper to drive the boys off the Dufferin Park at the O. I. B. on the ground that they were criminals because they made a noise, has evidently been endorsed by the Ontario Government, which has agreed to give 200 more feet off the O. I. B. to the city, on the one condition that the park be kept strictly as a play ground. This is as it should be.

We present in this great vehicle of veracity to-day the first picture of that remarkable boy who has valiantly struggled ahead in the hall of baseball fame in spite of his lugubrious name—Alphege Chadelaine. Notwithstanding the fact that the name sounds like a cold in the head, this lad is reported to be some catcher.

Six days more and the umpire will amble to the home plate, remove his cap and say: "Mmmxllwzzykko-Etaoin-Shrdlu!" or words to that effect. Possibly Bob Fitzsimmons' threat to return to the ring is inspired by the news that Jack Twin Sullivan shipped Soldier Kearns.

Seventeen thousand persons watched Frank Gotch toss one Lurich in Kansas City, demonstrating that amusement is scarce in that thriving metropolis.

Hughie Jennings arises to remark that he has quit acting forever. Those who have seen him on the stage are wondering when he ever began.

The low exultant chuckle to the southward is that of Roger Brendhan as he reads what the Browns are doing to the Cardinals.

Nevertheless the spring series in St. Louis has revealed the fact that there is at least one team in captivity that the Browns can whip.

There are those who claim that Hal Chase is hard to manage, but any man who can manage Heinie Zim can handle a whole flock of prima donnas.

Jack Sloan informs the Courier that he won't wrestle Harry Ireland because Ireland is an out and out professional, yet Jack admits that there are several pseudo amateurs around town who are looking for the money. Sloan says, however, that his own escentcheon is clean. Guess the Courier was right when the remark was passed the headlines ought to read "Paid Amateurs" for the majority of these fellows who talk continually but never wrestle.

Members of the Alexandra Athletic Club are desirous of seeing a series of bouts between Sloan and Brown, Betts Bros. and Williams and Ireland versus a dark horse, said bouts to be staged any time during the next few weeks. If they materialize, an interesting time can be looked forward to.

Cricketers Splendid Prospects this Year

Live Wires from the Brantford Crease. Organization Meeting Soon.

The local cricketers are looking forward to a very busy and successful season during the coming summer months.

The annual general meeting of the club will be held in the council chamber on Monday evening next at 8 p.m. All lovers of the old game, whether players or not, are invited to be present.

In addition to the city league trophy, which was presented by Messrs. Roberts and Van-Lane, which is now held by Paris, the locals will compete for the championship of Western Ontario, for which a very handsome trophy is also attached. The teams entered in this league are: Guelph, Berlin, Waterloo, Galt, Paris, Stratford and Brantford. The winners of this district will play the winners of the Eastern Ontario district, which comprises Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Grimsby, Oakville, Niagara Falls, etc., for the championship of Ontario.

Towards the end of the season a team will be picked from the Ontario players to play the Quebec and lower province clubs for the championship of Canada.

It is hoped that the Australians will be induced to visit Canada and if they do in all likelihood Brantford will be represented on the team that plays them in Toronto.

It is claimed that the Australians would not be much of a drawing card in Brantford or even in Toronto. Cricket enthusiasts of this city maintain that if the team could be induced to play here, that one of the biggest games ever pooled would be the result. Not an Englishman would work on that day, says J. F. Van-Lane, and there are over 14,000 of them in Brantford.

The Sons of England team will be greatly weakened this season through the absence of E. Goodson, last year's Brantford captain, and by C. Jenkins who has left the city and also by the decision of C. Wilkins not to play this year. President Walsh however is in hopes of getting a team together that will retain the trophy they lost last year after having held it for two seasons.

The Grace church team under the captaincy of Jess Usher will be much stronger than ever before, those three old veterans, T. Chamberlain, G. Whitwell and Charles Taylor will all be seen in the Grace church colors, while other players who have already signified their intention of playing include Alf VanSomern, G. Frost, W. Smith, I. Bryden, R. Simmons, C. Pettett, Major and Col.

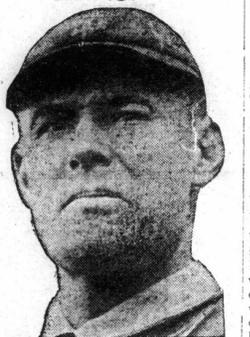

Ashton, J. F. Van-Lane, C. Hutteninson, J. B. Wilson, Ali Taylor, Rev. Mr. Saunders, Rev. Mr. Potts, F. C. Thomas etc, in addition the Rev. H. F. D. Woodcock will assist his old team in some games during the season.

The brothers Elliott, Albert, Bland, J. L. Stevenson, W. Derbyshire, C. Patullo, G. Bailey, and James W. Croucher, will be seen with the Sons of England team.

Charles Bowden of the Trinity team, hopes to place a team in the league again this season, if not the 25th Dragoons may enter a team, failing either of these Paris will enter two teams this year instead of one.

Work will be commenced on the grounds next week, the utensil committee will be appointed on Monday evening and will at once set to work fixing up the tackle for the coming season, ordering through a local firm whatever goods may be needed.

The cricketers believe in buying all their goods in the city when ever possible, buying their shoes, suits, caps, etc., all through local tradespeople.

Sam Crawford, of the Detroit Tigers, the hardest-hitting outfielder in either of the big leagues. He has signed up after being a "hold out" for a few weeks.

"You are old, Father William," the young man cried. "There are many gray hairs in your thatch." "I was younger than you," Father William replied. "When I started this three-cushion match."

Disgust for Food

DOCTORS tell us that nutrition has more to do with health than any other factor.

With plenty of good, wholesome food and the facilities for properly digesting it, the blood is kept rich, the nerves steady, and vitality in a condition to defy weakness and disease.

But few sufficiently prize good health until they lose it. For this reason overeating, overwork, and worry and irregular hours lead to a break down of the nervous system, and indigestion is often one of the first symptoms.

You lose your appetite and have a disgust for food. The starved nerves cry out with pain and aches for good nourishing blood, which the crippled digestive system utterly fails to supply.

Nutrition must be supplied in other forms, else physical bankruptcy is certain. Many people have found Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the most acceptable method of restoring vigor to a weak and exhausted system.

In this food cure the restorative ingredients of Nature are found in condensed and easily assimilated form. This nutrition is taken up by the blood stream, and quickly carried to every part of the body.

Such symptoms as indigestion, sleeplessness, headaches, irritability and despondency soon disappear when the feeble, starved nerves are fed back to health and vigor.

The nerves which control the digestive fluids of the stomach and the action of the various organs of digestion resume their functions and aid in the good work of forming new, rich blood and building up the system.

Mr. Fred. Carstens, farmer, Laird, Sask., writes: "I was very thin and nervous, and as I was continually growing worse, decided to give Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a trial. I would suffer from headaches and indigestion, was easily worried and excited, and felt generally run down. The benefit obtained from this food cure has been very marked, and I can recommend it with the greatest confidence to persons who are thin, weak and nervous."

You can soon feel yourself getting better when using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it benefits your system in every way. You can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added by noting your increase in weight from time to time.

ALL THE PLAYERS BOOST FOR HONUS

Even Boston Red Sox Praise the Pirates' Great Shortstop.

Spring Series Between Teams Has Been Like Real Battle.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 5.—

The Boston Red Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates, the two daily celebrated baseball teams which have been in our midst since the last week in March broke camp this week. The world's champions departed Wednesday for Champaign, where two games will be played with the Illinois, as requested by Athletic Director George Huff, the gentleman who brought out Garland Stahl, April 5, 6, and 7 the Red Sox show in Cincinnati. Then they will hike out for the east. They have games with Holy Cross and Harvard before the curtain goes up.

Just as has been the case in late years, Fred Clarke will play two towns before going to the post in the real thing, April 10. April 4 and 5 the Pirates play in Memphis, while April 5, 6, 7 and 8 are their dates in Kansas City. While the regulars are playing in these two towns the Yan-nigans will visit Fayetteville for two games; Wichita, Kan., where a two-tenths with the University of Arkansas stand also will be made and St. Mary's, Kan., which boasts of some classy college nine.

Spring Series a Great One.

Magnates Dreyfuss and McAleer may not book a spring series for 1914. Locally, everybody hopes they do. The current series, so far as rough and tough baseball is concerned, has been an overwhelming success. It has not drawn any too well, so there is no financial incentive for a continuation of the battling. Incidentally, the scrapping has been way too tough to suit the two club presidents and the two team managers. Everybody knows baseball is honest. It is because it has always been honest that it has lived and thrived, when cheating put out horse racing and knocked out prize fighting.

On paper, the current spring series between the world's champions and the Pirates, another most classy team, one which won the blue ribbon title in 1909 and which stands an excellent chance of regaining it next fall is the very best one that could be billed. Figuring that the fair city of Hot Springs owns a population of something like 17,000 and that there are always between 18,000 and 20,000 visitors in town at this stage of the season, and that the admission is only four bits and six bits, the crowds ought to be running over 1,000 and 1,200. But since the inaugural scrap St. Patrick's day, when the base ball show backed Harry Lauder, ye vaudeville topline there have only been fair sized crowds at best at Whittington park. Lauder stood 'em up in a playhouse of 1,800 capacity at $2 per while the Red Sox and Pirates played before a turnout of something like 2,000. But since the first game the crowds have only been from 400 to 1,000.

It isn't the failure of the gate to grow that has Dreyfuss and McAleer vexed. They are only losing their enthusiasm in the games because their warriors are fighting too hard. They just won't "pull". The lone real smart boy in the lot is Charley Wagner, the Red Sox's clever captain and classy shortstop. He checked the first four games. The bugs were looking forward to the duel between the two Wagners with great interest, as Honus has always been a topline while Charley became one in last October's big show with the New York giants. Honus hasn't missed an inning this far. Charley hasn't as much as shown himself. In passing it can be stated that Charley is never in better form and that Charley had absolutely no chance of showing the old Dutchman up had he got in the fray.

The Boston Wagner has to be admired for showing such good sense. He is notorious for late starter, and must go slow with his whip, his stock in trade, in the spring. The way the scrapping has gone Charley might be lost to his team for two months, if not for all time, had he tried to have it out to a finish with King Honus. Many of the Boston players saw Honus in action for the first time in this series. All of them are giving it to the veteran for his wonderful work. As Honus dug up an ugly roller in the third game and checked to Miller in time for the out, Bill Carrigan, who was coaching on third for the Red Sox, shouted to him: "Honus, you ain't playing this fair. You've got the ball trained so it hops right into your mitt."

It's a downright pleasure to see the Boston boys, the youths who go to make up the greatest baseball team in the world, boost and plug for Honus. Not an ounce of jealousy is shown. They are just as strong for the hard-working, nimble, never-complaining, easy-going, modest Dutchman as any of Honus' own playmates or any of the dyed-in-the-wool National League sympathizers among the bugs in attendance at the games.

Football

S. O. E. team have made good at the game in the old country, and the team committee look for some real fast work from them during the season. In picking over the players the team committee intend to be impartial and select what is in their judgment the best players for the matches. If a player cannot keep up the pace he will have to be replaced by the one who can. The Sons of England boys say that "What they have they'll hold, and what they haven't got they'll get."

Makes Good

Former Brantford Girl Becomes an Expert Financial.

(Joplin News-Herald, Miss.) A Joplin girl, Miss Ariel Hemphill, has performed a feat which is one of the examples of the strides of women toward the usurpation of man's position in the business and industrial world. For six weeks she has had charge of the Joplin Clearing House, an association of which all of the banks of the city are members.

Miss Hemphill is teller for the Joplin Trust Company. Joplin banks take turns at performing the work of the clearing house. When it came time for the Joplin Trust Co. to assume charge, Miss Hemphill was given the work, which requires a person well versed in banking and able to assume a great deal of responsibility.

The six weeks' work was completed Saturday, Miss Hemphill turning the affairs over to her successor.

Is Highly Pleased. The officials of the different banks have been high in their praise of Miss Hemphill for the efficient and business-like way in which she has conducted the work.

Probably never before in the history of the country has a young woman filled a position similar to that of the head of the clearing house.

Miss Hemphill is a daughter of J. P. Hemphill, 527 North Wall, who is one of the district's prominent mine operators.

Mr. Hemphill and family are former residents of Brantford.

Dame Mayer Tells How She Found a Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Suffered for Three Years from Rheumatism, Headache, Palpitation and Bright's Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her Kidneys and Made Her Well.

HUBERDEAU, Argenteuil, Co. Que., March 31.—(Special)—"I am always glad to tell of my cure because I sympathize with others who may be suffering as I did." So says Dame Joseph Mayer, well known and highly respected here.

"For three years I was a very sick woman. Rheumatism, headache, palpitation of the heart and Bright's disease were my succession of troubles, but Dodd's Kidney Pills cured them all. I used twenty-four boxes to complete my cure, but they certainly made me well.

"I will never be without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Dame Mayer's ailments because they are all caused by diseased kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased kidneys and will cure kidneys straining the seeds of disease out of the blood, the rheumatism, Bright's disease, headache and palpitation of the heart are bound to disappear.

You never heard of a case of kidney disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills would not cure.

A Donkey Defender

He Kicked and the Police Stayed Away at Respected Difference.

PITTSBURG—Some persons who are prone to symbolize certain political propensities by using the donkey in cartoon and otherwise, may learn one of the virtues possessed by this animal as a defender of the fort. Stany Barowski, aged 28, a huckster of No. 277 1/2 Mulberry Alley, it is said, was attacked by Ben Landin, aged 22, of No. 3038 Penn avenue, Ben Cat, aged 30, and S. Lando, aged 22 of No. 2838 Penn avenue in a stable in the rear of Landin's, butcher shop. Barowski rents the stable from Landin and yesterday afternoon Landin wanted to collect the rent but Barowski claimed that he had paid it, and would not pay again.

Landin, and his two employees are said to have gone to the stable armed with a meat cleaver and knives and ordered Barowski to pay the money. Barowski saw the men coming, armed himself with a shovel and tried a donkey around so that its heels were directed at the door. When the three butchers entered the stable it is said Barowski hit the donkey on the ribs and it began to kick, and the men were afraid to get near it.

When Mrs. Landin saw her husband and his two helpers going toward the stable, she telephoned to the Penn avenue police station that there was a riot. Capt. Joseph Murray and Lieut. J. P. Clancy, with a squad of policemen, hurried to Thirteenth street, but could not get across the street because of the high water. Seeing some boys playing on a raft, the officers jumped on the raft and floated across the street to the butcher shop.

The policemen rushed to the stable but could not enter because of the flying heels. They stood for some time in water up to their ankles trying to persuade Barowski to turn the donkey the other way. Barowski finally surrendered and the four men POCKETS are small, obscure receptacles in men's clothes which retain everything except money. This is illustrated by the fact that many a man has come home at night with $15 tucked away in his vest pocket and gone down town in the morning without a cent.

On account of having married a kleptomaniac disguised as a helpmeet.

When a man orders a suit of clothes made, he has pockets scattered all through it and deposits a small change in each pocket, in the hope that his wife will miss one and leave the price of a shave in it. This is usually a vain hope, however, for when a woman sets about burglarizing a pair of pants she manages to leave nothing but the buttons. It is getting so that of pure self-defense a great many husbands have a compartment sewed over the left hip, equipped with a time lock attachment and a burglar alarm.

Women do not wear pockets, as they are never allowed to carry any money. Once in a while a woman will get hold of a small piece of money from some relative, upon which she will do one of two things. She will either hide it on the top shelf of the pantry, behind the baking powder can so that her husband can't get hold of it and wonder if on the grocery bill, or she will place it in her handbag, and then leave the bag on the ribbon counter. Most of the disorder in the average home is caused by a stubborn wife who refuses to allow her husband to spend the residue of her father's estate in payment of back rent.

Small boys' clothes are nine parts pockets and one part fit, and are made to hold everything from a fish hook to a can of angleworms. It is a Liver Pill—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbance that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmed's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

CHANGE OF CLIMATE DID NOT HELP

But GIN PILLS Conquered His Rheumatism

THE fact that men of standing and responsibility do not hesitate to come out and state frankly how much good GIN PILLS have done them, speaks volumes for this good old remedy.

Mr. W. G. Reid, of Hamilton, whose statement we publish below, with his permission, is one of the best known commercial men in Canada. His many friends throughout the country will be delighted to learn that he is quite himself again. He says:

"I have been for the last two years a cripple with Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I have tried almost everything known to medical science to relieve me of the intense pain and inflammation. I sought change of climate in Kentucky and other Southern points without relief. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured. I consider GIN PILLS the conqueror of Rheumatism and Kidney Disease."

(Signed) W. G. REID. Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica and all other troubles arising from weak, inactive or diseased kidneys, have little chance against GIN PILLS.

The curative properties in these pills go straight to the root of the trouble—the failure of the kidneys to keep the blood free from the irritating Uric Acid which is continually being formed in the body. GIN PILLS help the kidneys to perform this function properly, and the train of troubles vanishes. Just try it and prove it to your own satisfaction. There is no risk—money back if GIN PILLS do not help you. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

COLBORNE STREET CHURCH HOLDS SILVER ANNIVERSARY ON SUNDAY

REV. C. T. SCOTT, B.A., D.D. Pastor 1909-1912.

REV. RICHARD HOBBS. Pastor 1892-1896.

REV. T. E. HOLLING, B.A. Present Pastor.

REV. R. J. TRELEAVEN. Pastor 1896-1901.

REV. W. B. CASWELL, B.A. Pastor 1905-1909.

REV. W. J. SMITH, B.A. Pastor 1901-1905.

The Colborne Street Methodist Church to-morrow celebrates its silver anniversary. That the church has made wonderful progress is fully evidenced by the array of prominent and active workers at present engaged in building up the parish which has attained a remarkable degree of all-round church efficiency. In this connection the statement issued in a handsome souvenir by the church is worthy of note.

The statement, which speaks for itself follows:

Twenty-five years ago on the first Sabbath of this month, the upper sanctuary of this church was dedicated for the public worship of Almighty God. It is therefore, fitting that we shall rejoice before the Lord, and recall His manifold mercies to us as a church on this Silver Anniversary occasion.

Successful work for the Kingdom of God, by transferring its activities to this section of the city.

Accordingly a trustee board was formed, the present site was acquired, and, under the pastoral leadership of the Rev. R. W. Woodsworth, a start was made on the new building in the year 1886. The corner stone was well and truly laid on October 5 of that year by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D., who had much to do with initiating the enterprise.

On the first Sunday of May, 1887, the Sunday school room was opened and on the first Sunday in April 1888 the church proper was dedicated.

The charter members of the church consisted largely of members of the Emmanuel and Wellington street churches, who resided in the East Ward, but soon others joined and the church as a church on this Silver Anniversary occasion.

The unbroken prosperity of the church during these 25 years is in no small measure due to the cultivation from the very commencement of the method of systematic and proportionate giving, and also the development of the missionary spirit.

The first pastor, Rev. R. W. Woodsworth, held up these high ideals before the people and left for his successor, Rev. J. W. Cooley, the present president of the Hamilton conference, a church noted for its deep spirituality. During Mr. Cooley's successful pastorate a mission was organized on Huron St. which has grown into the strong organization now known as Wesley church. It was during the faithful pastorate of the Rev. Richard Hobbs that Huron street church became a separate congregation enjoying a minister of its own. The pipe organ was also installed during Mr. Hobbs' term.

Rev. R. J. Treleaven was the next pastor. Greatly beloved by his people, the church continued to make progress in all departments. The renovation of the church took place also in Mr. Treleaven's ministry of 5 years.

Rev. W. J. Smith, B.A., followed in this goodly succession. His broad sympathies and zealous ministry resulted in further additions to the church as well as in the advancement along all lines.

Rev. W. B. Caswell, B.A., succeeded Mr. Smith and soon found his way to the hearts of his congregation. He organized the Brotherhood, which has been such a factor in the church's life of recent years. The debt of the church was wiped out, and preparation made for enlarging the building to its present capacity.

It was during Mr. Caswell's ministry that the board decided to engage an assistant to the pastor, Miss Agnes Butler was appointed to this position and has continued to serve the church with much efficiency and acceptance up to the present.

Rev. C. T. Scott, D.D., succeeded Mr. Caswell as pastor and won all hearts by his cultured ministry and sympathetic pastoral work. It was during the first year of his ministry that the enlargement of the edifice took place. Dr. Scott was invited to the Metropolitan church, Victoria, B. C., last year, and the present preacher, Rev. T. E. Holling, B.A., coming from that church, entered into this position in July, 1912.

The present position of the church in every department is very satisfactory. A spirit of unity and cordiality predominates. As a token of gratitude to God and affection for the church which has been a home and a sanctuary for twenty-five years, we propose to make a silver thank-offering of $700 at the anniversary services.

May the inspired Word of Psalm 84: 7 be true to the entire membership of our beloved church: "They go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion 'appeareth' before God."

CHURCH EXTERIOR.

In commencing this brief review of the history of Colborne St. Methodist church it is interesting to note that the organization was brought about mainly for two reasons.

I. The spiritual needs of the rapidly increasing population of the East Ward of the city.

II. The situation created by the Methodist church Union in 1884, whereby two churches of the same denomination, viz. Emmanuel and Wellington street, were almost side by side.

It was felt by all who had united Methodism at heart that Emmanuel church could continue to do a successful work for the Kingdom of God, by transferring its activities to this section of the city.

Accordingly a trustee board was formed, the present site was acquired, and, under the pastoral leadership of the Rev. R. W. Woodsworth, a start was made on the new building in the year 1886. The corner stone was well and truly laid on October 5 of that year by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D., who had much to do with initiating the enterprise.

On the first Sunday of May, 1887, the Sunday school room was opened and on the first Sunday in April 1888 the church proper was dedicated.

The charter members of the church consisted largely of members of the Emmanuel and Wellington street churches, who resided in the East Ward, but soon others joined and the church as a church on this Silver Anniversary occasion.

increased. A Sabbath school was organized with Mr. John Mann as Superintendent and Mr. James Houlding as Assistant, and a membership of 200.

The members of the Trustee Board were: T. S. Linscott, J. R. Vanfleet, John Elliott, Isaac Hutchinson, John Mann, John McGeary, W. Wilkinson, James Harley, W. Lane, T. H. Thomas and Mr. John McGeary as Treasurer.

The Ladies' Aid was organized with Mrs. McGeary as president.

An Auxiliary of the W. M. S. was also organized of which Mrs. R. W. Woodsworth was the first president.

On Growing Old

Life is full of more or less harmful little fairy tales, crumbs from somebody else's philosophy, scraps from somebody else's experience...

disillusionment, and the landscape is dark and gray that once was colorful and rose. The idols of childhood are falling around them...

Speaking from experience—and it is generally from experience—that one speaks of life, unless, of course, one is very, very young...

But in Youth, everything is different. The ruin of one ideal is the ruin of all ideals, and the ensuing darkness seems as if it would last for ever and ever...

The mistake usually arises from the fact that middle-aged people look at their youth through the spectacles of middle age. They perceive youth's innocence, its vigor, its immense vitality...

Moreover the majority of people seem to possess a very unimaginative notion of what real suffering is. The loss of a leg, sudden death, fatality to wife or children, failure in business...

A Difficult Question

By RUTH CAMERON

A VERY difficult question has come to me from one of my letter friends. It is a question I have never been able to solve for myself...

Therefore I pass the problem along in the hope that some wiser brain can answer it as it should be answered.

My correspondent tells of a case in which a widowed mother and two maiden aunts have immolated themselves upon the altar of a feeble-minded child's happiness...

It is, indeed, a very puzzling question. So, how, as I read it, I thought of Peter and his question as to whether he ought to forgive his brother...

There was one paragraph in my friend's letter that I read over several times because it seemed to me it was an answer to her question.

"The love and devotion of these three," she writes, "is wonderful and beautiful. Almost passing a mother's love. While the recipient of it all is incapable of appreciating it, and gives naught but trouble in return."

My friend grieves because these women have such bleak and unhappy lives. Is any life unhappy when it is absorbed in a "wonderful and beautiful" love?

We all know cases more or less like this, and I think many of us are inclined to condemn the sacrifice as futile. That is a dangerous judgment. I am ready to leave it to a greater Judge to decide.

But there is one thing I want to say. We must remember that the one for whom we would sacrifice ourselves is not the only person to be considered. Others have their rights to happiness, too. And if in sacrificing ourselves, we sacrifice their happiness, we ought to think twice.

I know a man who sacrificed a whole family to the care of a half-witted sister, and though he was one of God's noblemen, and I know he must have believed it was right, I can't see it that way.

And yet, again, who am I to judge? There are some things that each of us must settle with his own soul. If I should write about this the whole evening, I should still come back to that.

but nevertheless, vital things in the growth of the soul—these apparently trivial, sentimental states of mind were unconsciously real at the time...

Every one of us must go through one big tragedy some time or other, and after it is over nothing else very much matters. Happily for Middle Age this tragedy is usually passed and done with...

But in Youth, everything is different. The ruin of one ideal is the ruin of all ideals, and the ensuing darkness seems as if it would last for ever and ever...

Moreover the majority of people seem to possess a very unimaginative notion of what real suffering is. The loss of a leg, sudden death, fatality to wife or children, failure in business...

Recently two delightful old ladies were stopping in a country village. They were extremely fond of driving, and determined to hire a donkey cart during their stay...

They did so from the livery proprietor of the village, who, before they set out on their first expedition, gave them some invaluable advice on the best methods of managing a donkey, a quadruped with which they were not very familiar.

On their way home it began to rain, and a friend was astonished as she met them in a country lane to see one of the old ladies holding an umbrella carefully over the donkey's tail.

"Goodness gracious!" said she. "What makes you do that?" "Well, you see, my dear," answered the old lady in the trap, "his owner told us to be particularly careful not to let the rain get on his tail."

Ye had a hound-dawg once, a yeller cuss. Without no tail—a ornery little scamp. That come from nowhere—fambled here 'For quite a spell, an' we all called him a name, says I, so durned appropriate. An' fit, the two last seemed 'I sort o' mate!

His occupation, fraps I could see. Was 'yapping' 'round at everybody's heels. Or snapping at the hind hind or me. Or snarling folks, or ketehin' at the wheels of vehicles 'twas passin' every day. An' foller 'em, an' 'yapping' all the way!

An' sometimes, when he'd clear plum out o' sight. An' stay a day or more, in tender hills. All somer-alone, he'd limp back home at night. An' battered up, an' mouth all full o' quills. Of porcupines; 'twas 'cause he'd stuck his nose In other folkses' business, I suppose.

Reflectin'-like, it's givins me to see. That dawg was heaps like lots o' folks I know. Who bark away an' snap eternally. An' 'yap' at folks most everywhere they go.

An' stick their nose in other folks' affairs. An' git it full o' quills—'at' 'em, chaps! —John D. Wells.

SEVEN MINUTE SERMON ON THE GOLDEN TEXT. April 6, 1913. Jehovah is a God of justice; blessed are all they that wait for him.—Isa. 60: 1. GOD IS MERCIFULLY JUST. I. God Is Just. Jehovah does nothing in an arbitrary or despotic way.

ing of God's mercy with His strict justice is explained, if not fully solved, by Paul; speaking of esus he states, "Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in His blood, to declare His righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, * * * that he might be just and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus."

III. With Confidence We May Wait for God. The remembrance that "Jehovah is a God of justice," and that He administers His loving justice to every man in connection with all the details of his life, should require us with confidence to wait for God's time to adjudicate in all matters; even concerning the details of our lives.

IV. Waiting for God Means Blessedness. Those who do not take their lives out of God's hand but have learned to wait for Him are always blessed. The very fact of waiting is itself blessedness. It means poise of soul, stability of purpose, and an assurance which gives to us a strength that cannot be shaken; then of course it means blessedness because God is going to deliver us from our present troubles and we cease our light afflictions to last only for a moment, and make them work out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

Let us then put all our matters into God's hands and learn both to wait upon Him and wait for Him, and be delivered from all our fears.

Lady Marjorie's Love

She did not object because she in the least desired the company or charge of her granddaughter, but because she disliked nearly everybody else, and because she objected on principle to any arrangement whatever into which she had not contrived to thrust her wrinkled old fingers. Only one passage-of-arms upon the subject did the girl try with her terrible old relative, and in it she was beaten so utterly, so stoned by the harsh, cracked, rasping voice, the fierce little glittering eyes, and the emphatic thumps of the Dowager's ivory-headed stick on the floor, that she fled in dismay. Plainly, there was nothing for it but to let her say what she liked and wait for the arrival of aunt Eleanor's letter, which would of course set the matter at rest. In the meantime the letter seemed a long time coming, and she was very miserable and lonely.

"Oh, if only aunt Eleanor would write!" she said aloud, stopping short in the middle of the hall from the impetuous rush out of the drawing-room for it was after dinner that she had dared thus to cross swords with the redoubtable Dowager. "Oh, if only she would answer me! I'll not stop here a day after I once get her letter no, though it means leaving Castle Marling for ever. She is sure not to keep me waiting—she is too kind and too fond of me. I told her how dreadful it was here too, and how wretched I was. I don't care what either of them say. I will go! And, if Loftus doesn't like it well, I can't help it—it's not my fault. For I won't write to him again—no, I will not—until he first writes to me!" Her cheeks burned, her eyes flashed. "Oh, it is shameful—shameful—yes, it is well! It is almost as if what they both say is true!"

Yes, that was the bitterest, most ranking and galling of all—that which both said. For the Dowager, who contradicted and disagreed with her daughter-in-law upon every other subject, had been entirely at one with her in her views respecting Loftus Bligh, and had given vent to her opinions with the most merciless scorn. Marjorie might well fall her colours and beat a retreat before the wrathful old woman.

She crossed over to her favorite window and stood looking absently out, its heavy old tapestry curtain drawn away and held in her hand. Not that she could see anything, for the dull September day, all mournful and wet and gray, had closed in a good couple of hours before. Jack, on a cushion at her side, suddenly sat up erect. From the outer hall came the sounds of an arrival. The colour flushed warm and red into the girl's cheeks again, for she was surprised.

"Why," she said aloud, "I didn't know—I do believe—"

She finished neither fragmentary observation. One of the doors was swung a little back on its hinges, and Barrington entered, his hat and coat off already, looking as if he had never been away.

"Oh," she said, all fluttered and rosy, "I didn't know you were coming back to-day, Mr. Barrington!"

"Nor I, until this afternoon. But I found that I should do no good by staying longer, so I caught the through express to Wynneborough. How are you?"

"I am quite well. Wynneborough? Aren't you wet?"

"My coat was a bit damp nothing worse. I got a cab. Did you expect me back before?"

"No—not exactly. I—I thought you might be longer than a week perhaps—if the business kept you, I mean."

"I should hardly be likely to stay for the pleasure of it. Luckily for me it was not necessary."

This could not be said to require a reply, and Marjorie looked down without giving one. Her flush of surprise was dying out now, and although the light thrown by the hanging lamp was somewhat flickering and uncertain, Barrington's eyes were very keen. He saw that hers were heavy, that there were marks of tears on the rosy colour, and that her little mouth drooped quite piteously.

"What has been the matter?" he asked gently.

"Oh, nothing—nothing much. The weather is so horrid. And I am not very well, I think."

"You don't look so, you are pale. Have you been out much?"

"How could I? It has rained all the time."

"Has it? So you have been dull, then?"

"Awfully"—with emphasis despairingly frank.

"And just a little lonely too perhaps?"

"Yes—s!" she stammered.

"Thanks for that!"

He spoke it as if he meant it—very much as if he meant it. Marjorie pulled away her hand, or he let it go she was not sure which, having forgotten that he was holding it all this time—and picked up Jack, sitting

PEOPLE'S

Sermon by
CHARLES T. RUSSELL
Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Ottawa, Ont., March 30.—Pastor Russell, who since his last visit has many friends here, arrived again this morning. As usual, the largest auditorium was engaged for him. He spoke twice to-day. We report one of his addresses from St. Paul's words "Perils among false brethren." (1 Corinthians 11:26.) He said:

St. Paul was remarkable in many respects, but chiefly for his loving devotion to the Master and His Cause. His faithfulness brought also many trying experiences. In our context he enumerated some of these. He served the Cause of Christ such an extent that many thought him unwise, and counted him a fool. This service brought him stripes, whippings, as a disturber of the peace—not that he did disturb the peace, but those who opposed his teaching raised a tumult and blamed him for it. In order to bring him into disrepute, hinder his service and forward their own interests. This at times brought him to prison, too, and even close to death's door.

Nevertheless, he rejoiced in all such privileges. He declared that five times he received whippings, stripes, once he was stoned, and three times he was shipwrecked. But none of these things moved him from faithfulness to his Master, whose servant he had persecuted before his eyes were opened.

Then he recounts various perils experienced from waters, from robbers from the Jews, from the heathen in the city, in the wilderness, on the sea. He winds up the list of perils in the words of the text: "Perils among false brethren."

One question which will arise in many minds is, "Were these sufferings—stripes, perils, etc.—deserved? If asked, the answer would surely be that they were not deserved; for St. Paul was a noble character and bore the Message of God's grace in Christ—"good tidings of great joy which shall be unto all people." The next question with some would be, "If his sufferings were not punishments what were they?"

We reply that they were the same as were the Master's—sufferings for his loyalty to God and of the darkness of the world, which led them to oppose him. The declaration, "Who soever will live godly will suffer persecution," was fully exemplified in his own experiences and in the Master's. The amount of suffering as a reward for well-doing marked the measure of loyalty and zeal, and the measure of hatred and malice aroused by the Adversary. The answer to the question as to why Jesus suffers is respect to St. Paul and all other true followers.

The Master declared that He stood for the principles of light, righteousness, truth; while Satan stands for the reverse—darkness, sin, error, blindness. And so it is with the followers of Jesus. They must all be children of the light, must walk in the light, must be uncompromising in their attitude toward sin and all that is wrong. Therefore the world will hate them and say all manner of evil against them falsely. You may well feel that they do God service when they slay the righteous, whether literally, as in Jesus' case and St. Paul's, or by "shooting out arrows even bitter words, as is the more popular method of the present time. But some one will say, "Ah, times have changed! To-day our bishops and popes and preachers are all revered. No one thinks of persecuting them. Rather all men speak well of them. Any one not spoken well of to-day must be in some way unworthy." How strange that we should forget, and argue along these lines! Were there not Doctors of Divinity in Jesus' day? Were there not priests and chief priests and Levites then? And were there not Pharisees who made long prayers in the Temple? And were they not highly spoken of and revered? Did they not make broad their phylacteries? Did any one think of traducing them? No.

But the Master was there, and His disciples; and they were not of the popular clergy. By their own record they were styled "the filth and off-scouring of the earth"; and, as the Master said, whoever persecuted them thought that they did God service. How apt we all are to think of our own day as being different from other periods! So it was in Jesus' day. As He told some of them, "Ye garnish the sepulchres of them whom your fathers slew, yet ye do their works." So to-day many extol the Lord and the Apostles and denounce their persecutors, while they similarly persecute.

The climax of St. Paul's perils, the severest of them all, was from false brethren. How strange that seems. One would think that however much the heathen or the Jews might have persecuted him, at least all professed followers of Jesus would have thanked God for his example and ministry, and have esteemed him. But this was not so, and as we look back to the Master before him, we see the same to be true. As He declared, "A man's foes shall be they of his own household."

The Master was a Jew. The Jews were His brethren according to the flesh; and it was they that hated Him without a cause—they that persecuted Him—those that said, "He hath a devil," and is mad—they that "took up stones to stone Him"—they that finally crucified Him. "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not."
