

MANIAC SLAYS MAN HE HAD NEVER SEEN.

Attacks Stranger and Almost Beheads Him With Hatchet.

Pursued and Attacked by Mob Before He Did the Deed.

New York, Oct. 9.—Crazed by twenty years of losing litigation for a small estate and seeing in the Goddess of Liberty statue only a menacing enemy, who nightly lighted her torch to go in pursuit of him, Charles Knack, 62 years old, fled from Battery Park last evening, as the rays flashed out from Bedloe's Island, and dashed up Broadway, wailing the echoes with wild cries and brandishing a hilted hatchet and a double dagger.

Following at a safe distance ran a growing throng till the old man halted in the shadow of a skyscraper just north of Exchange place.

Blind to the fate that stood only a few paces away, James Daniell, a night watchman guarding the ruins of the old Consolidated Exchange, walked into Broadway from Exchange place and suddenly discovered the man standing against the building. Knack asked some question and Daniell opened his mouth to answer. At that moment the hatchet swung upon his neck, almost decapitating and instantly killing him.

Horror gave place to vengeance in the minds of the witnesses, and several rushed at Knack, who fled up Broadway to Wall street and then eastward to Broad street.

Leading his hundred pursuers were Arnold Rutquest, of No. 17 Stone street, and T. J. Fox, of No. 1642 Park avenue, young men who had been strolling through Broadway when the strange procession started from the Park. Taking their lives in their hands they dashed upon the armed and frenzied man, receiving severe cuts from his dagger, but finally overpowering him, with the aid of two men of Company E, Twelfth Infantry, U. S. A., Corporal William J. Fleming and Private Claude Travis, Travis felled Knack with an ash can, which he picked up at the curb.

Knack, trembling and crying, his head cut and his arm broken in the battle against his captors, was disarmed and helpless. No policeman had appeared in all this time, but Detective Richard J. O'Connor, of the Central Office, happened to be in the neighborhood and ran to the struggling group, too late to do more than officially arrest Knack.

Daniell was dead when Dr. Stewart, of the Madison Street Hospital, reached him, and the surgeon gave his services to the murderer, who was taken a prisoner to the police station at No. 98 John street. There he was interrogated by Assistant District Attorney Manley and Coroner Scirello, who were both inclined to believe him a madman, though official determination of that phase of the affair will be left to alienists. Knack was then removed to the hospital, under arrest.

NIGHT OPERATOR HELD UP AT C.P.R. WOODSTOCK STATION.

Tied His Hands and Feet and Robbed Him of Money and Watch--Burglars Escaped.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 9.—(Special)—A couple of daring burglars entered the inner office at the C. P. R. Station last night and held up the night operator, who was alone in the building at the time, and took from his pockets $10.25 and a silver watch and chain, and from the till, which they tried open, $52.20. The police are hot after the men, and it is confidently expected that they will be secured. Harry Southcott, the operator, was sitting at his desk, there being no trains in the yard at the time, about 2.30 this morning, when he heard some one calling "Hands up!" He looked around and saw a masked man pointing a revolver at him through the window. He promptly raised his hands, and a second man climbed over the partition and tied his hands and feet together, and tied his watch and money. Southcott pleaded with him for the watch, saying it was a present from his mother, and the burglar gave it back, but the second one was less generous and took it again. Then the burglars left Southcott working in the waiting room, and he turned in the alarm to the police. He was able to furnish a fairly good description of the men.

MRS. CASSIE CHADWICK DYING; ATE TOO MUCH RICH FOOD.

Has Joined the Roman Catholic Church and Made Her Will.

Columbus, O., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, the bank wrecker, to-day is reported much worse at the woman's ward at the Ohio Penitentiary, where she is serving a ten-year term. Her pulse weakened and she is partly delirious. Physicians are making preparations to attempt to stay any sinking spells. They decline to say how long she may survive.

Mrs. Chadwick has been confined to her bed since the first severe attack, about three weeks ago, when, while talking to her son, she collapsed and was unconscious for some time. It was at first hinted that she was "playing off" in order to excite sympathy and secure a pardon, but within a few days it was known that her case was serious, and she was placed under the constant care of the prison physicians. Her trouble is due to heart failure and weak stomach, the latter, according to the physicians, being caused by indulging in rich food. She made profession of the Roman Catholic faith yesterday, and the rite of baptism was administered to her by Rev. Father Francis Kelly, the Catholic chaplain of the State Prison. The ceremony was performed as she lay upon her bed. Her son, Emil Hoover, of Cleveland, was with her to-day, learning that his mother had made her will and was prepared for the end.

would be shipped on Oct. 25. It is expected to arrive here about Nov. 20. The unveiling will take place before the end of the month. The base is already in position, and there should be no further delay.

A DIVIDEND. Montreal, Oct. 9.—The directors of the Montreal Street Railway Company have declared their quarterly dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. on the capital stock of the company, payable on November 1st.

Married His Grandmother.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—A despatch from San Francisco says Tom Hugh Allison, of Manlius, N. Y., who married his grandmother, is here on his honeymoon. "My grandfather, Dr. Buffum, of Rochester, was a peppery old fellow," said he. "First he disinherited my sister because she married a barber. This left me his sole heir. He decided to marry, although he was past 80, to keep me from inheriting his estate. "I did not know it, but the girl he picked out was my sweetheart, only 17 years old. She decided to accept his offer, to save the estate for me. That was nearly six years ago. He died a year ago, and the young woman I called my grandmother became my wife."

A SAD STORY.

Girl Sentenced for Life, But Did Not Know It.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—Tears stood in the eyes of the twelve men who as jurors in the trial for second degree murder of Maria Bannardo to-day brought in to Judge Schwan's courtroom a verdict of guilty against the girl, which means that only 18 years old now, she must spend the rest of her life behind the bars for killing Rafeale Barbato, who, she said, bought her for $100, then failed to pay, but sought to take her by stealth.

Uncomprehending for she knows no English, and the court interpreter was absent, the girl was led back to her cell. There, later in the afternoon, her attorney conveyed through the interpreter the meaning of the tears in the jurors' eyes. The lawyer says she neither cried nor voiced complaint, only turned on her heel and marched back to her cell out. A motion for a new trial will be brought.

The girl had been living with an old man and when Barbato tried to climb into her room she shot him. She had previously refused to marry him because he did not have the $100 which her old lover demanded in payment for surrendering her.

PASSING ACCOUNTS

In the $290,000 Estate of the Late Mrs. Kuntz-Perrie.

This morning Judge Snider passed accounts in the estate of the late Mrs. Kuntz-Perrie, who left $290,000 to her husband, relatives and charities. Nearly all the relatives were represented by counsel, as follows: M. J. O'Reilly, Gidson Perry, the R. C. Episcopal corporation, the Sisters of St. Joseph, the Eliza Kirk estate, and Miss Barry; Mr. J. McBride (Berlin), for Gus Kuntz; Mr. A. C. Beasley, for Mrs. Geo. Case and John Barry. The work of passing accounts was not completed at noon, and the sitting was adjourned for one week.

Mr. Gideon Perrie is now in a retreat in Guelph, he having lost his reason soon after his wife's death. His affairs are administered by a commission.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 9.—(Special)—Dr. John Rice, Detroit physician, claim he was jostled at the local race track yesterday afternoon and robbed of two hundred dollars. He was going down the steps of the grand stand, when he either stumbled or was tripped, and sustained a compound fracture of the left leg. It was after he reached Detroit that he discovered his roll was missing.

COLLEGIATE CLOCK.

Interesting Ceremony at the Starting Yesterday Afternoon.

At the Collegiate Institute yesterday afternoon the ceremony of unveiling the new clock was performed with due solemnity. Messrs. F. J. Howell, Geo. Armstrong, John T. Wilson and Geo. Allen, trustees, were present and Mr. Ballard, Public School Inspector, and a number of the head masters of the Public Schools joined Principal R. A. Thompson and the Collegiate staff. The trustees all spoke and Mr. Thompson gave a short address outlining the history of the movement by which the money was raised for the clock. Messrs. John Robinson, of King Edward School, and S. H. Lees, of Stinson, who had taken a deep interest in the movement, said a few words.

Mr. Howell then started the clock by touching the pendulum. Klein & Binney who installed the instrument certainly gave the school a beauty. The bell is one of the sweetest toned ones in the city, and is a boon to each student, it being the only one in that end of the town.

GOT A WEEK.

Fifteen Year Old Boy Tried to Blackmail Chinese.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Just to show that the way of the transgressor is not always easy, William Ennis, a 15-year-old boy, was sent to the children's shelter by the Police Magistrate this morning for a week. Ennis went into the laundry of J. P. Sam, a Chinese, said he was a civic planning inspector and attempted to obtain $10 from Sam, saying he was a son of Detective Wallace, and that he would have the Chinese arrested if he did not give up. The latter complained to the police.

LOST ARM AND LEG

Dreadful Accident to a Switchman at Belleville.

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 9.—(Special)—A sad accident occurred at 4 o'clock this morning in the yards of the Grand Trunk here, when William Wrénick, switchman, employed some years in the yards, was knocked down by the morning freight train and his left arm and leg left torn off. He was removed to the hospital in the ambulance, where it is not known whether he will recover or not.

A FATAL "YES."

Husband Shot Wife and Self Because of Divorce.

Columbus, O., Oct. 9.—Fred Butte, a moulder, age 36, went to the home of his wife to-day, and asked if she was determined to push her suit for divorce. She said "yes," whereupon he grabbed her and tried to force carbolic acid into her mouth, burning the flesh about the lips. Failing in this, he shot her dead and then turned the weapon on himself, and put a bullet in his body. Failing to kill himself, he swallowed carbolic acid and is dying at a hospital.

WILL STAY HERE.

Gordon, MacKay & Co. Will Help Boom Hamilton Trade.

Ever since the announcement was first made that the wholesale firm of John Knox & Co. had decided to go to Toronto, and especially since the purchase by Gordon, MacKay & Co. of the entire John Knox business, there has been a good deal of interest locally in the possibility of the firm continuing in business in Hamilton. To set the matter at rest, Mr. Geo. E. Bristol wrote to Gordon, MacKay & Co., and this morning received a reply. The answer is that they are very much pleased to say they will maintain a business in Hamilton. While not as large as the Toronto business, it will be quite as well assorted. A creditable warehouse will be maintained, and the firm will do all it can to co-operate with the merchants of Hamilton to promote Hamilton's wholesale trade.

WHO KNOWS HIM?

Vaudeville Actor Was Last Heard From in Hamilton.

Mrs. Brummel, of Boston, Mass., whose present address is William Tell Hotel, has written to the Times asking that efforts be made to ascertain where her husband, B. H. S. Brummel, is. She says he was last heard from at this city on February 21st of this year. He was a member of the Comedy Operatic Skit Company, of Brummel & Kimberly—Beau Brummel and Gertrude Kimberly. The name is familiar to many theatre-goers, but the team was not at the Savoy Theatre that week, or about that time.

The Man In Overalls

Where is Brockville, anyway?

After he gets good and rested, Mr. Charles Peebles might not refuse a License Commissioniership or something.

Teach the foreigners English and make good Canadians out of them.

The Brockville election is only good for one session. Not worth bothering about.

Watch for the explosion when Mr. Ballard's "confidential" report about incompetent teachers leaks out.

Perhaps the Brockville people thought it was time for a change.

It wouldn't hurt the barbers if another hour or two was cut off their Saturday night.

If you want the straight goods, buy the Times. Honest, clean and newsy.

The School Board certainly needn't prodding from somebody. But I didn't think the Board of Trade would get after it.

One more or less in the Opposition ranks doesn't matter much. McKay is a host in himself.

There should be enough of the spirit of British fair play in the Canadian Club to allow the Chinese delegates to the meeting to state their case.

While pleading the cause of the mountian, I am free to admit that it does not earn its bread by the sweat of its brow.

They say Donovan played a lone hand down at Brockville. But they also say he had a few jokers and aces up his sleeve in the shape of asylum patronage and other Government perquisites and pickings.

After taking a week to think it up, Hugh Clark will announce that Donovan was in the van in the Brockville election.

For all his boasted strength it looks as if Whitney is afraid to face the currier before he passes his proposed gerrymander bill. That's where we are going to get it in the neck.

Come in and see our new press some day when it's running. It's great—none better.

The Brockville Times will be more sassy than ever.

BECOME A BENEDICT. (Contributed by A. K. T.) Are you wretched? Are you lonely? Are you seldom quite the thing? Is the boarding misses cranky? Does the misses' daughter sing? Is your life no bed of roses? Are you always getting kicks? Why don't you join the order Of the blessed Benedicts!

Have you heard of Hymen's blessings, And the things which love can do? Don't you know that living's dearer, far, For one than 'tis for two? Then don't linger longer wretched, And come and buy some sticks, And become a happy member Of the blessed Benedicts.

LIKES THE PONY.

Small Boy Arrested for Taking One This Morning.

Constable English arrested a small boy this morning on the charge of stealing a pony and pony cart from W. H. Nichol, the butcher. The boy was caught at the same trick some time ago and warned, and this time he will be prosecuted. He gave the name of Harwood and when pressed gave several others. The addresses he gave were numerous and all bogus, and Constable Duffy went out with him to find his home. He will likely come up in the morning.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

One G. T. R. Man Crushed and Another Scalded.

This morning about 9 o'clock Eto. Mark, 27 Burlington street west, a laborer at the G. T. R. roundhouse, was caught between two cars which were being shunted and was badly crushed over the heart. He was taken to the City Hospital in the ambulance. His condition was considered critical, and he was unconscious when taken into the institution.

Alfred Vingoo, 29 Stuart street west, another G. T. R. employee, was taken to the City Hospital last night suffering with severe scalds. He is an engineer and while working beneath his engine some one turned on the exhaust steam pipe and he was badly scalded. Mr. Vingoo was sleeping and resting easily at press time.

Mr. Mas, the G. T. R. laborer, who was crushed, is doing as well as can be expected. Mrs. Henry's condition shows a little improvement over yesterday, which will be glad tidings for her many friends.

CITY'S POPULATION IS PLACED AT 64,067.

Unaccountable Decrease of 367 In Ward 2--- Talk of Padding In Past Years.

An Independent Assessment of Real Estate Values Suggested for Next Year.

The revised assessment figures made public this morning give Hamilton a population of 64,067, an increase over last year of 2,624. The larger increase in population is accounted for by the change in ward 3, where the corrected figures show a population of 9,501, compared with 9,288 under the original figures. Ward 2 in the corrected figures is given a population of 6,505, a decrease of 367 from last year. This is considered most remarkable, and no one around the City Hall seems to be able to offer an explanation. Only two reasons can be suggested—either that this ward was padded before, or the assessor this year has made a mistake. The population given the ward this year places it back to where it was five years ago, something that does not seem possible, in view of the city's general growth.

In 1901 the ward's population was placed at 6,086; in 1902, 6,242; in 1903, 6,534; in 1904, 6,716; in 1905, 6,809, and in 1906, 6,862. The assessor who corrects this ward declares that the figures this year are right; that he went to each house and carefully checked the figures over.

The difference in the figures in the first place was caused by him going to a number of houses where the people were away during the summer months. He went over the ground later, and got the right figures, but not in time to get them in before the rolls were closed.

The engaging of independent assessors, who will go over the city, thoroughly assessing property up to its proper value, so as to form a basis for the actual assessment of 1909, is a scheme that may be taken up by the present City Council or the first thing next year. Mayor Stewart, one of those who believes the 1908 assessment should have shown a greater increase, is inclined to favor such a scheme. It worked successful, he explains, in Bruce County some years ago. There was a great deal of difficulty in getting property assessed up to its fair value until independent assessors were engaged to go over the county. The result was the furnishing of a basis for assessment that lasted for ten years.

City Clerk Kent says he thinks the proper way to get Hamilton's right population is to have a police census.

STUBBORN LEGAL FIGHT IN THE EXPLOSION CASES.

Collins and Perkins vs. T., H. & B. and Dominion Gas Company at Assizes.

High Court did not adjourn till after 1 o'clock this afternoon, owing to the bitter fight put up by the defendants in the action for damages brought by James Collins and the widow and children of George Perkins, for injuries and death in a natural gas explosion at the T., H. & B. Railway roundhouse, in November, 1906. Mr. J. W. Nesbitt, K. C., acted for the plaintiff, James Collins, and Mr. D'Arcy Martin for the widow of George Perkins.

On behalf of the Dominion Natural Gas Company, George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., made application for a non-suit. Mr. Staunton argued that the Gas Company could not be held liable for the reason that it had been shown that the T., H. & B. had installed a testing valve on the regulator at the roundhouse, and that there was evidence to the effect that there was at least a half an inch of dust in the valve, which caused the gas to escape, and thus the explosion. Mr. Farmer said that Collins would never be able to work again, and the chances were that he would lose his sight. Collins had a wife and four small children, who have to be provided for. His life is ruined for all time, and as the actuaries had estimated the remainder of his life at 26 years, his earning capacity during that time, would amount to $17,500. Mr. Farmer asked for that amount, and no less.

Mr. D'Arcy Martin, counsel for the widow and children of George Perkins, spoke along the same lines, and asked for the same amount. Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., counsel for the Dominion Natural Gas Co., in his address to the jury said that he was of the opinion that the plaintiff Collins, and the T., H. & B. Railway Company were in a conspiracy to stick the Gas Company for the damages in both cases. Mr. Staunton admitted that the plaintiff had a strong case against the T., H. & B., but as against the Dominion Natural Gas, he could not see how the jury could hold the Gas Company liable to pay damages from the evidence received.

After hearing the argument His Lordship adjourned court until 2.15 o'clock when he began his address to the jury.

Grocers' Combine Case. The grand jury is still struggling with the grocers' combine cases, and it is not likely that a finding will be returned no way liable for the explosion, and he could not see where the Railway Company should be assessed for damages in the action. There were several clauses in the contract supplied by the Gas Company which supported this claim for the reason that the Gas Company was under agreement to look after the regulator. Experts had also agreed that the regulator and the system of appliances should have been left outside the building, as they were very dangerous.

Mr. John Farmer, counsel for the plaintiff, Collins, when addressing the jury, called attention to the defects of the gas appliances in the blacksmith shop. There was evidence to the effect that there was at least a half an inch of dust in the valve, which caused the gas to escape, and thus the explosion. Mr. Farmer said that Collins would never be able to work again, and the chances were that he would lose his sight.

HAMILTON TIGERS WILL PLAY MONTREAL, SURE.

Great Football Struggle Will Take Place Here on Saturday Afternoon Next.

Hamilton Tigers will play the Montreal football team here on the cricket grounds on Saturday afternoon next. Such was the final decision of the club at a special meeting at 1.30 to-day. The game will be played no matter what players the Montreal team puts on the field, and without regard to what course the C. A. A. U. may take.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale for members only at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning at Stanley Mills & Co.'s, and to-morrow afternoon the sale of reserved seats to the public will open.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—With nerves still tense from the strain of yesterday's battle between the respective champions of the American and National Leagues, baseball enthusiasts gathered early to witness to-day's struggle for the championship of the world. Hours before the gates were due to be opened, all the streets near the West Side grounds were thronged with people eager to gain admittance. Street car traffic was hampered, and at times almost completely stopped. Weather conditions were not ideal for baseball, the sky being clouded over and the air damp and cold.

There was a strong southwest wind blowing. Uncertainty regarding the batteries for the opposing teams widened speculation as to the probable outcome to-day. It was thought most probable that Pfeister would be put in the box for Chicago, with Kling behind the bat. Siever and Schmidt, it was said, would begin the fray for Detroit.

It was like the scene of a melodrama, Neville thought, as he stared down at his brother pale face and tall thin form. Let us get this business over quickly, please."

Dundas Business Men Paid $25 a Bunch Recently

And Are Now Talking of How to Get Satisfaction.

Dundas, Oct. 9.—The report is going the rounds that two well known and reputable business men paid very handsomely not long since for a meagre amount of enjoyment. They were, so the story goes, out for a stroll, selecting for the purpose the mountain top at the north of the town, and as they strolled along enjoying the beauties of nature, gazing with rapture on the Ancester mountain, and the innumerable hill tops to the south, and the cozy, lovely, valley city nestled between the hills, the city of Hamilton, Burlington bay and the Beach in the farther distance, they did not fail to notice that trespassers on the ground on which they were threatened with prosecution. The pleasure of their stroll and the enchanting scenery emboldened them to disregard the threat and proceed on their way. Soon, to their surprise, the owner's grumpy came to view, the vines heavily laden with the most tempting ripe and luscious fruit. The temptation was too much for them, they helped themselves, each to one of the finest, ripest and largest clusters. They had just begun the enjoyable task of consuming the pilfered fruit, when another sight still more surprising than that of the vineyard met their view—the owner thereof. He angrily demanded to know why they were trespassing on his domain regardless of the cautions which were plainly to be seen and heard, and proceeded to answer a charge of neglecting to send her child to school, and she will be given another chance to appear.

TEMPLE LODGE.

Jewel Presented to J. W. Lamoreaux Last Evening

Temple Lodge, A. F. and A. M., held its annual members' reunion last night. There was a large turnout of members and friends. The work of the first degree was exemplified by the officers of the Lodge assisted by some of the visiting W. M's. P. M. M. Brod, W. Lamoreaux was presented with a Past Master's Jewel on behalf of the lodge, by R. W. Bro. A. M. Cunningham. After the lodge meeting the gathering adjourned to the banquet room where after refreshments, a capital programme was presented. A number of specialties by several of the visiting brethren and solos by Wesley Jamieson, John Brethour, Will Smyth, Arthur Stares and Mr. Clifton and Mr. Winton from the Savoy Theatre. Mr. Clifton, who is making a tremendous hit at the popular vaudeville home singing "Back to Louisville," gave a most amusing song called "The Preacher and the Bear," which earned him several encores. Mr. Winton in the ventriloquist who has everybody roaring with the funny sayings of McKinley. He took McKinley to the Masons last night and made a lot of amusement for them.

RETURNED THE DOG

And a Verdict of Dismissal Was Recorded.

At the Police Court this morning Andrew Ireland, who, at yesterday's court, was charged with stealing a dog, was allowed to go, as he had returned the animal. At the request of L. F. Stephens the disposal of the case as registered against him was one of "dismissed." John Warren, who was up last Friday for trespassing on the property of T. J. Holland, Mary street, and was remanded was allowed to go, as he had improved considerably, and promised to quit drinking. Frank Simpson, who was charged with trespassing on the property of Thomas Melvraith, was allowed to go with a warning that he would be whipped if he took any more fruit. TO DR. WARDROPE.

Guelph People Honor Their Former Beloved Pastor.

Rev. Dr. Wardrope, now of Montreal, has just completed a two weeks' visit among the people of his old church, Chalmers, of Guelph, the pastorate of which he resigned a few years ago. On Monday night there was a great gathering of the church people at a congregational tea at which Dr. Wardrope was presented with an address from the congregation, and an evening was spent in happy reminiscences of the days of his pastorate. The address lovingly referred to Dr. Wardrope's work and to the congregation as "your own people." Addresses were also presented to the present pastor and wife, Rev. R. J. M. and Mrs. Glassford.

CENTRAL LADIES

Fix Dates for Scotch Luncheon and Sale.

Central Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society met yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. L. Henderson, President, in the chair. Mrs. George Lowe, Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. James Dickson, Treasurer, reported a substantial sum in the bank. The date for the annual Scotch luncheon was fixed for Dec. 5 and 6. Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Robert Evans and Miss Hendrie were appointed to meet the committee of gentlemen in Toronto, to select the memorial window for the new church, to replace the one that was burned. The date for the sale of work was changed from Oct. 22 to Oct. 29, when there will be an ample supply of fancy and useful articles.

ARMORY CARNIVAL

Large Crowd and Splendid Costumes Last Evening.

The first roller skating fancy dress carnival of the present season was held last evening at the New Armory Roller Rink, when the offer of golden money pieces for prizes drew out a very large number of contestants, besides filling the balcony with spectators. Much pains were taken with the costumes and many new ones were introduced. The rink was tastefully decorated with flowers and bunting, and a full rink band was in attendance. The first prizes, a five dollar gold piece each, for the lady and gentleman, in the best costumes, were won by Mrs. Precious, who was decorated with pumpkins and vines, and by Mr. Conley, as a Zulu warrior. The second prizes, two and a half dollar gold pieces, for comical costumes, were won by Miss A. Sheridan as Topsy, and J. Sheridan, as a farmer. The judges were Messrs. Whately, Sinclair and Wilson.

It is the intention of the Armory management in the future contests to offer similar prizes.

Opera Boxes. (Philadelphia Record.) Not only is an opera box in New York more expensive than a seat on the Stock Exchange, but the price of opera boxes is going up, while the price of Stock Exchange seats is going down. A seat was lately sold for a little over $70,000, while the record price is about $85,000. On the other hand, the highest price ever paid for a box is something over $100,000, just paid by Mr. Frick, while the last previous quotation was $80,000.

IN THE WEST.

Seneca Jones of This City on Inspecting Tour.

The Edmonton Evening Journal of October 2nd contained the following: Among the visitors to Edmonton in the last few days was Mr. Seneca Jones, of Hamilton, Ont., secretary-treasurer of "The Canadian Millers Fire Insurance Co.," a guest at the King Edward. Mr. Jones is on a tour of inspection of the big mills and elevators in the west, and left to-day for Calgary, McLeod, Lethbridge and other places. He states he has noticed a wonderful advancement in all the great west, and more especially within the last two years, as he made a similar business trip west two years ago. Edmonton, in his opinion, has an ideal location for a business centre, and will be one of the big cities of the west. While the city has gone ahead with leaps and bounds, he thinks that the slight depression and check now experienced is only the result of a temporary closeness in the money market, and it will prove a benefit to the city in crowding out a lot of speculative values of properties, and putting the city, as a whole, on a good financial and a more stable and solid basis. He expects great things from the great west.

PAY THE SHOT.

Each Generation Sweats For Its Own Education.

(Exchange.) Man is impatient. Having tried individualism for two or three generations out of the unnumbered thousands of years that the race has existed, he lost his confidence in it and began to turn for relief to evils which his ancestors had fought desperately against, but which were unknown to him because his ancestors had succeeded.

So it is good form now to sneer at "Manchester school of economists." The principle of laissez faire is treated with almost as much contempt as a belief in witchcraft and the evil eye. What we need is more law. We must regulate more things. Most of our college professors, being young men, are imbued with the present tendency of thought and instead of studying the individual they are studying, or think they are studying, society. Local self-government is, of course, an intermediate stage between individual self-government and government by the people. So it is more and more discredited. We have invented a new science, that of sociology, which proposes to reform the individual by reforming an aggregate of individuals constituting a State, or a class, or a community. The preachers are in the street; they are up-to-date and speak pitifully of their poor predecessors who preached individual salvation and failed to understand how much better social salvation is; it takes so much less time to save a whole community at once than to change a community one individual at a time.

It has been observed that about every generation has to fight a war. After a generation has had personal experience of one war it is willing to go along without another one. But after it has had the next generation never having burned its fingers, dreads not the fire. So we may suppose that each generation has got to try its own economic experiments.

BOOTH TO RETIRE.

THE ARMY IN LONDON DIS-CREDIT THE STORY.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Gen. William Booth, the octogenarian founder and leader of the Salvation Army, has decided to retire from active work. At a meeting he addressed in Chicago on Sunday night he announced that it was his last address. Though Gen. Booth is hale and vigorous, the strain of the day's work plainly told on him. That he realizes that his days are numbered was suggested by his own announcement at the afternoon meeting that his successor had been chosen. He did not make public the identity of the person on whom the mantle is to fall. The popular idea has been in this country that his daughter, Commander Evangeline Booth, would succeed him, but local leaders of the Salvation Army asserted authoritatively that Bramwell Booth, the General's eldest son, now his chief-of-staff in London, will succeed to the world leadership of the organization.

Discredited in London. London, Oct. 8.—Members of the Salvation Army here place little credence in the report that Gen. Booth, in his remarks at Chicago, intended to intimate that he was about to retire as head of the army. A prominent officer said: "The General will never retire while he has strength to fight. When he does retire it will be to heaven."

Gen. Booth recently said here that every old person, who was not disabled physically ought to be profitably employed, adding: "If I live to be 150 years old I shall keep working until I die."

The grindstone is one stone that's never left unturned.

ELECTION.

MR. DONOVAN'S MAJORITY OVER THREE HUNDRED.

Money to be Spent on Asylum Helped Conservative Candidate, so Hon. G. P. Graham Says—Plenty of Cash For Liquor Yesterday.

Brockville, Oct. 8.—Mr. A. E. Donovan's majority is now 325, with all the polls heard from. The member-elect is forty-four years old, and at present is Ontario manager for the New York Mutual Life, with headquarters in Toronto. Following are the majorities: Brockville, Donovan, 105. Elizabethtown, Donovan, 180. Front of Escott, Donovan, 19. Front of Yonge, Lewis, 51. Rear of Yonge and Escott, Donovan, 71.

An idea of whether the "queer" proved a potent factor in yesterday's election may be gained from the fact that never before on the day after was such a run on hotel bars as there was to-day. One hotelkeeper said, and he was corroborated by others of the Tory persuasion that never before did he see so many bright, crisp, new five and ten dollar bills coming from parties who upon other occasions would be at work. The lid was on tight on Monday, but what was lost then was more than made up to-day.

"NO POLITICS IN IT."

Mr. Graham Says People Voted Out of Sympathy for Donovan.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, interviewed by the press yesterday in regard to yesterday's by-election result in Brockville, said: "The policy of the Whitney Government had nothing to do with the result. Mr. Donovan's friends argued throughout that there were no politics in this contest, and a great many people were no doubt influenced to support him on this occasion because of his having been defeated in his previous run. The question of patronage in the Brockville Asylum was another factor in this contest, one of the public announcements of the campaign being to the effect that the Whitney Government was prepared to spend $75,000 in connection with the Brockville Asylum. I see it stated in some of the despatches that Mr. Lewis, the Liberal candidate, stamped the constituency from end to end. The fact is he held, in all, three meetings in the whole campaign, and the only part I myself took was to introduce my successor, Mr. A. G. Mackay."

BOMBS SENT BY POST.

Prominent Denver Men Receive Infernal Machines.

Denver, Oct. 8.—Gov. Henry A. Bucktel, David H. Moffatt, President of the National Bank of Denver, and Charles B. Conz, President of the Colorado National Bank, received through the mails to-day infernal machines containing enough dynamite to cause great destruction of lives and property had it been exploded. But warning had been given to the recipients of the machines by Chief of Police Delaney, who had obtained a confession from Kemp V. Bigelow, by whom they were mailed, and no one was hurt.

Bigelow's Confession. Denver, Oct. 9.—Kemp V. Bigelow, arrested yesterday for sending infernal machines through the mails to Governor Bucktel, David H. Moffatt and C. B. Kountz, confessed to-day that lack of money was the impelling motive of his acts. He said he had conceived the idea of sending the dynamite, after warning the recipients, in the hope that he would thereby become a hero and reap financial reward from the wealthy, whose lives he would save.

He detailed a trip to Eldorado, where he secured the dynamite, and said that he constructed the machines Sunday and mailed them. He also planted 61 sticks

James Schrum of Dartmouth Makes Valuable Discovery. Says the Most Obstinate Case of Stomach or Liver Trouble is Quickly Curable.

Dartmouth, N. S., Oct. 9.—There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum, of Pleasant street. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were not doing their duty. His vitality was slipping away, he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because I used gave the tone and strength to my stomach that it craved for. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I do not know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood is running through my veins, clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly, enervated man, and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable—all the ingredients coming from the great storehouse of Nature, they can't help but Heal, Strengthen, Cure.

ELLIS DROPPED DEAD. Terribly Sudden Death of Englishman at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, Oct. 8.—A terribly sudden death took place on Scott-street about 10 o'clock last night. A young Englishman named Robert Ellis dropped dead. He was suffering from lung trouble and while walking on Scott street he was attacked with a hemorrhage and dropped dead before going a block farther.

Deceased was 33 years of age, and had been ill nearly two years. He resided with Mr. Joseph Alger, 11 Jessie street. He leaves a father, one sister and two half sisters and a half brother in England.

TWO SCHOONERS WRECKED. Loss of the Erie Stewart and Ontario in Lake Erie.

Chatham, Oct. 8.—Word was received in the city to-day that the schooners Erie Stewart, owned by John Piggott & Sons, and the Ontario, owned by Captain Grenville, had been lost during the gale last night on the breakwater at Champton Island, near Southampton. The vessels left Chatham on Wednesday last for Parry Sound district. The Ontario was loaded with hay, and the Erie was light. Both are total losses.

The crews were forced to spend an unenviable night on the breakwater, but are all safe. The Erie Stewart was a vessel of about 175 tons, and averaged about 175,000 feet of lumber for cargo. The other vessel is smaller.

FORMER GOVERNOR M'INNES DENOUNCES THE TREATY.

Big Meeting Protests Against the Mission to Japan, Because it Means a Long Delay While the Door is Open.

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—The abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese treaty and the passage of remedial legislation for British Columbia against Oriental immigration was the demand last night of the most largely attended meeting ever held in Labor Hall.

The gathering was addressed by former Governor McInnes, of the Yukon, City Solicitor Cowan and Rev. Dr. Fraser.

As the close the league wired Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the public meeting unanimously endorsed the resolutions of the Dominion Trade Congress and the Provincial Labor Congress regarding Orientals. They also protested against the commission to Japan because of the delay which would ensue.

A message was also sent to Premier McFried, requesting an immediate session to enact the Natal Act, if Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir refuses his assent to the present measure.

The feature of the meeting was Mr. McInnes' declaration that Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir could not constitutionally refuse to sign the present Natal Act. Even a King could not under the British constitution refuse to comply with the will of the people. "Either Dunsmuir will sign or McBride must resign," said Mr. McInnes.

He added that he introduced the Natal Act in the Dominion House in 1893. The east had fought it to defeat, although it was introduced on the advice of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. He declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had broken his pledge of 1890 to carry out the wishes of the people of British Columbia on the question.

Big Market in England for Canadian Produce.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Canada's commercial agent at Leeds reports to the department of Trade and Commerce that prospects are unusually bright for high prices and a good market for Canadian turkeys, chickens and apples in England this fall and winter. The English crop of apples is very small this year, and Canadian sources will supply the entire dependence of the English dealers. He also notes that there is a good opening in Leeds and Sheffield for the Canadian manufacturer to supply wooden handles for cutlery, tools, etc.

ROBBED FRENCH CHURCHES.

Antoine Thomas Stole Relics Worth $400,000 Near Limoges.

Paris, Oct. 8.—A sensation has been caused by the remarkable confession of Antoine Thomas, who was arrested with his mother and sister, charged with complicity in the theft of the famous crop of Orbs, and at $120,000, from the church of St. Etienne near Limoges. Thomas declares that after the passage of the separation law antiquaries of Paris, some of them millionaires, hired him and others to bribe parish priests to surrender the relics and substitute counterfeit ones which could later be turned over to the State. This plan continued for months, and Thomas finally went boldly into wholesale burglary. Thomas estimated the amount of his robberies at about $400,000.

Hon. G. P. Graham Will Not Resign Just Yet.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, was asked to-night by the World if he intended to fulfill his promise to resign his portfolio if Brockville went Tory.

"This is the first I have heard of such a promise," replied Mr. Graham. "The story is current," said the World.

"All I have got to say," returned the Minister of Railways, "is that I have never made such a statement or said anything verging upon it."

An International Congress on Tuberculosis Next Year.

A real world's congress, the fifth of its kind, the first one to be held in the United States, and not likely to come again in twenty-five years, will meet at Washington in 1908, from Sept. 21 to Oct. 12.

It will carry on, for three weeks, public discussions of the tuberculosis problem, led by the most eminent authorities on this subject, in all countries. Official delegates will be present from nearly all civilized lands. There will be a course of thirty special lectures to which all members of the congress and the general public are invited.

The congress will be divided into seven sections, giving ample scope for the participation of both scientific and lay members, and there will be a great tuberculosis exposition, in which one can see what is going on, in the world around, in the campaign against tuberculosis.

There will be games and demonstrations throughout the whole period of three weeks, giving medical and lay delegates object lessons in this subject. There will be very valuable publications, of which the transactions will be the most important. The transactions of the last congress are published in three volumes. These are free to all members of the congress, who have paid their membership fee ($5.00).

The cost of the congress will far exceed the revenue derived from fees, and this cost will be met by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which will donate $100,000 to the project. All members will pay a fee of $5; and associate members will pay a fee of $2.50, and have all the privileges of membership, except the right to vote and to receive the printed volumes. Canada will be represented by many medical men, and much good is hoped for from the great gathering.

HANGMAN LOSES HIS JOB. Van Hise's Noose, Which Killed 75 Persons, Ousted by Electric Chair.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 9.—James Van Hise, of New Jersey, is out of a job, and the twenty-one sheriffs of New Jersey have been rid of a duty that has been for years one of the drawbacks to an otherwise desirable office by the completion of the installation of an electric chair at the New Jersey State prison in which condemned murderers will be put to death. It is likely that the first man to be put to death in the chair will be Michael Tamoni, of Libertyville, who was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Delia Congello last May. Probably the next will be Charles Gibson and Stephen Dorsey, who were convicted last week in Camden county of the murder of Mrs. Natoli.

For many years James Van Hise has been making his living by relieving the sheriffs of the different counties of the task of carrying out the law's severest decrees. Sheriffs are allowed $500 each for a hanging, but Van Hise has been doing the jobs at cut rates, from $250 to $100. Van Hise tried several years ago to have himself appointed the official "hangman" of the State, and he also lobbied strenuously against the passage of the bill providing for the electric chair.

Van Hise's father and grandfather were hangmen, but some years ago the ignominy of his occupation, reflected so strongly against his children that they almost persuaded him to give it up. He had practically decided to do so when he invented a method of adjusting the fatal noose so as to break the neck of the sleetling, this giving him so much encouragement that he determined to continue his greswome business.

Van Hise's first victim was Bridget Dorgan, a Middlesex county woman who was hanged forty-five years ago. The sheriff of Middlesex county wanted to get out of the job, and as the county had no gallows Van Hise's father, a ship-builder, was engaged to construct one. The Van Hises, father and son, conducted the hanging.

James Van Hise has officiated at the hanging of seventy-five persons, seventy-three men and two women. Some of these were in New York, where he frequently served as hangman before the adoption by that State of the electric chair.

IN THE WORLD OF AMUSEMENT

The Blonde Typewriter Girls, Sears, the illusionist, and the host of other good acts at Bennett's this week are proving an unbeaten combination. There is no getting away from the fact that this week's bill contains the best lot of laugh-producers that have been there this season. Johnny Stanley, who accompanies the Typewriter Girls, introduces a good line of humor, which works in well with the superior singing and dancing of the girls. The latter are an especially good-looking lot, all with blonde hair and attractive manners. "Does Anybody Want a Blonde?" one of the many songs which the girls sing, is making a lasting impression, and is one which gets the gallery boy, whistling on the first go off. The appearance of the typists in tiger sweaters is the occasion for loudest applause.

Sears, the illusionist, presents an astonishing act. He is assisted by Miss Edith Mae Verone and several other assistants, and they perform some of the most mysterious illusion acts on record. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher, in their pastoral rural sketch, entitled "The Half-way House," prove themselves comedy artists of the first water. In the most unpretentious manner possible they indulge in dialogue overabundant with humor. Hennings, Lewis and Hennings, in the sketch, "Mixed Drinks," have a screamer. The two male members of the troupe shake their legs in a series of dances which leave them nothing to be would be, of course, highly rash to counsel that just because Miss Russell is selling her junk de luxe it follows that she is broke. Nothing of the kind. "Happyland" Next Week.

Great are the promised features that will attend the appearance in this city of the old footlight friend, De Wolf Hopper, when the tall comedian will be at the Grand next Monday and Tuesday nights in the latest of his series of comic opera characters, "King Estaticus," in the newest musical amusement from the pens of Reginald de Doven and Frederic Ranken, "Happyland." The Schuberts have surrounded Mr. Hopper with a strong company of singers and farceurs. The new play is in two acts and two scenes, the first representing the court yard of the Imperial Palace of Elysia (Happyland); the other, the Elysian fields. As in the case of about all comic operas, the plot of "Happyland" is not laid deep or complex, but is nevertheless interesting and consistent. It deals with the life, domestic and otherwise, of an eccentric autocratic monarch, King Estaticus (De Wolf Hopper) and his court. Of course, the usual lavishness of scenery and costumes that characterize all of the Schubert shows will be in evidence. Seats will be on sale to-morrow.

WHEELER EARL,
Of the team of Earl & Curtis, at Bennett's this week.

ashamed of Earl and Curtis are close rivals in their sketch, "To Boston on Business." This is an act by George Colman, who has a reputation for producing the funniest sketches on the road, and in this act he seems to have excelled himself. Charles and Fenny Van have a fine line of parodies, which places them in the good grades of the audience. A comedienne of rare talent is Katherine Nelson, who sings dainty and catchy songs. The South-Bowman trio is an exceptionally clever colored troupe. The Bennettograph and the theatre orchestra, under the leadership of Sam. Mimis, make no little contribution to the programme.

An Irish Drama.

"A Romance in Ireland" a new Irish play, will be the attraction at the Grand next Saturday afternoon and evening. Allen Deane, who succeeded Joe Murphy as Dan O'Hare in "Kerry Gow" is the star who is being exploited in this play, and he is well known to local theatre-goers. The production is said to be a good one in every way, and should please patrons of the Grand.

A Lillian Russell Sale.

New York, Oct. 8.—If Teddy Solomon in all his glory had walked into those upper Fifth Avenue auction rooms this afternoon he would have been surprised. Certainly Mr. Solomon, who is a former husband of Lillian Russell, was never arrayed like these rooms, in which were displayed articles of art and virtu now belonging to his former wife, but to be disposed of later in the week to the highest bidders. And it is just possible that he might have remarked: "Behold the Lillian of Weber and Fields (formerly)." He might, but 'tis to be hoped not. It evening newspaper. The girls of the Broadway Merry Merry are not the only ones who have taken umbrage at the actress' remarks, for the women in the vaudeville ranks were included. Now they are making faces at her lithographs in the windows along the Great White Way and saying all sorts of mean things besides.

"I would advise no girl to attempt a stage career, unless she has the natural gifts necessary to become a successful actress in companies of the highest standing," Miss Anglin is quoted as saying. "If she has not a natural talent, which will raise her above the level of the vaudeville or burlesque theatre, or lift her from the ranks of the chorus in a musical comedy, she will lay herself open to the criticism— unjust though it may be—of the world, and will ruin what chances she may have of a successful career in other walks of life."

Miss Anglin said a great deal more than this that angered the girls who are real stars. Among the first to see it were Marion Voss, Nellie Fallon, Dot Clouston and Josie Mager, of "The Hurdy Gurdy Girl," at Wallack's, across the street from the theatre where Miss Anglin is playing. They passed the paper around among the company and the could not get the press agent back on the stage quick enough to unburden their minds.

"Does Miss Anglin think every girl who aspires to stellar honors on the stage is going to jump into a leading part without going through the chorus?" asked May Boley. "And are the women on the vaudeville stage to infer that they cannot and do not represent, in many instances, a fine art? Miss Anglin is evidently trying to set herself up as the Mrs. Anthony Comstock of the stage. It would be a hard matter to find a single woman star to-day who has not had a hard, uphill climb from the chorus, vaudeville or even burlesque to reach the top of the ladder.

"Many girls remain in the chorus just as those in other professions remain in humble capacities, because they haven't the ability to rise. But if a girl has talent it will come out in the chorus as quickly as anywhere else."

At the Savoy.

No more substantial evidence of the pleasing qualities of the Savoy's fine bill this week could be offered than the applause it evokes from first to last. The Six Musical Cuttys, who occupy the place of honor, playing classical and popular music on various instruments, have the finest musical act vaudeville has produced here yet. The ensemble work is magnificent, and every number they play brings a storm of applause. The original interpretations of Sousa's Band at the close is a remarkably clever piece of work. The Cuttys will prove a real delight and appeal strongly to all those who enjoy high-class entertainment.

Harry Brown and company, presenting a clever little playlet, "One Christmas Eve," are one of the big hits. The remainder of the bill is genuinely funny. The Marco Twins, in a furious knock-about act, keep the audience in one constant roar of laughter with their amusing and amazing antics.

Nothing better than J. W. Winton, the Australian ventriloquist, has been offered vaudeville patrons here this season. Winton has a fine line of humor, and his manipulation of the figures he uses is exceptionally clever. Clinton and Jermon are another team that convulse the audience with laughter. They have a breezy line of talk, snappy little jokes and attractive songs, the final one finding Mr. Clinton out in the auditorium on his way "back to Louisville." Ollie Young and three brothers, in a clever hoop rolling act, have a novelty that is entertaining every minute. Much of the work is original and it is all good. Cartmell and Harris, in a pleasing singing and dancing turn; Cecelia Weston, presenting singing impersonations of well-known actors, and the moving pictures are the others on this good bill.

Marriage of Mr. Henry Montgomery Bostwick and Miss Edna Hoodless.

Miss Edna Hoodless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoodless, and one of Hamilton's most charming and popular daughters, became the bride of Mr. Henry Montgomery Bostwick, of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, this afternoon. The ceremony which joined them for life took place in the Church of the Ascension at 3 o'clock, in the presence of a brilliant gathering of guests, very largely members of the two families interested, and admirers of the bride and the event created much interest in society. FROM THE SAN.

Health Hints and News From the Mountain Hospital.

Dr. Knopf, the eminent authority on tuberculosis, of New York city, says, in regard to the prevention of the disease among school children: "A judiciously divided curriculum, interspersed with gymnastics, swimming and as much outdoor instruction as possible, would seem to me a most important factor in the prevention, not only of tuberculosis, but of all indoor diseases and even nervous troubles. By out-door instruction I mean not only botanizing tours and geological excursions, but also outdoor singing and outdoor recitation. I am convinced that outdoor singing and recitation, as well as breathing exercises, when the weather is neither too cold nor too windy, are most excellent means to prevent the development of pulmonary diseases. The teacher should be familiar with all the practical methods in vogue in regard to the prevention of tuberculosis as an infectious and communicable disease. Printed leaflets containing such simple rules as the following should be read at regular intervals, and commented upon by the teachers:

"Do not spit except in a spittoon, a piece of cloth or a handkerchief used for that purpose alone. On your return home wash the cloth burned or the handkerchief put in water until ready for the wash.

"Do not spit on a slate, floor, playground or sidewalk.

"Do not put your fingers in your mouth.

"Do not wet your fingers in your mouth when turning the leaves of books.

"Do not put pencils in your mouth, or wet them with your lips.

"Do not hold money in your mouth.

"Do not put pins in your mouth.

"Do not put anything in your mouth except food and drink.

"Do not swap half-eaten food, chewing gum, whistles, pea-blowers or anything that is put in the mouth.

"Peel or wash fruit before eating it.

"When coughing or sneezing turn your face to one side and hold a handkerchief before your mouth.

"Wash your hands before each meal.

"Brush your teeth night and morning, and after each meal, if possible.

"Do not kiss any one on the mouth, or allow anybody to do so to you."

Visitors to the patients are allowed only between the hours of 8 and 8.30 p. m. daily, and from 10 a. m. to 12 noon on Sundays and holidays.

Dr. Unsworth will be at the City Hospital on Thursday at 11 a. m., and will examine, free of charge, all who present themselves for examination at that time.

The service on Wednesday of last week was conducted by Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, of Zion Tabernacle.

PART OF FORMOSA CONQUERED.

Three Months' Hard Fight by Japanese Before Subjugation.

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 8.—After more than three months of hard fighting the Japanese army operations against the savage natives of Formosa has, according to official reports just received, completed its task of subjugating a portion of the heretofore uninhabitable section of the island.

Not only were the Formosans holding what may be called their own section of the island, but they were gradually encroaching upon that which had been brought under the control of the Chinese and their successors, the Japanese.

The official reports show Japanese casualties numbering 250, including sixty-nine killed in action. No attempt is made to estimate the losses of the Formosans.

ACTOR'S ADVICE.

SIR SQUIRE BANCROFT STIRS LONDON CHURCH CONGRESS.

He Notes Common Faults in Pulpit—Preachers Must Cultivate Voice Production, be Impressive and Devoid of Artificiality.

London, Oct. 8.—The most crowded session of the church congress was that addressed by Sir Squire Bancroft on the subject of the art of reading and preaching. There is nothing more deplorable in the Church of England than the utter absence of oratorical ability on the part of the average preacher. Sir Squire Bancroft said:

"When we call to mind the rare cost lavished upon clerical services and the pains and practice taken to acquire skill to chant the litany melodiously why isn't the same labor bestowed on teaching young clergymen to speak audibly? The first duty of a preacher is to make himself heard. The second is that he must be impressive and convincing.

"As a humble member of various congregations I have heard many sermons. Most of them I have entirely forgotten, a few I will remember till I die. Why are most sermons forgotten immediately? Because they are badly delivered. Why are so many of the clergy who are simple, unaffected, delightful companions six days in the week clothed in artificiality on the seventh day?

"Many preachers know nothing of voice production, using all the head notes instead of the chest notes, and in this way fall victims to the well-known clergyman's sore throat. I never heard of an actor's sore throat.

"A bishop once asked David Garrick 'Can you tell me why you players who deal with romance can profoundly move an audience, while we preachers who deal with reality fail to do so?' Garrick answered: 'Yes, it is because we players act fiction as if it were the truth, while you preachers too often speak of the truth as if it were but fiction.'

"Every creature should pass an examination before he is allowed to mount a pulpit. If as a critic I have said one word to hurt I am sorry. If as an actor I have said one word to help I am glad."

The speech was received with great enthusiasm, but while Sir Squire Bancroft was deploring the inaudibility of the average parson the meeting was stirred to hearty laughter by repeated requests to him from all parts of the audience to "Speak up!"

THOUGHT THEM EASY MARKS.

TWO NEW YORK YOUNG MEN'S OPINION OF CANADIANS.

They Sent out the C. P. R. Stock Bogus Letters and Expected to Reap a Big Harvest—One of the Prisoners Confessed and Told the Police How the Game Was Worked.

New York, Oct. 8.—Lucien Mesmin and Ogden W. Coffin, two youths arrested last night for swindling operations in Canada, were held in $300 bail to-day, charged with practicing law without registration. It is possible that the Federal authorities will make a more serious charge against them in connection with their use of the mails.

The detectives who made the arrests told the magistrate that the boys had mailed to Canada at least 1,000 copies of a letter headed "L. B. Drummond, Attorney-at-law, 608 Sixth Avenue, New York City," informing the recipient of a legacy of five shares of Canadian Pacific Railway stock, and asking for a fee of $5. The boys apparently expected to avoid conflict with the law by mailing the letters in Canada, failing to realize the offence of receiving the answers here. It is not believed that the returns from the letters were large, the time having been too short.

Mesmin, who is regarded as the prime mover in the conspiracy, is twenty years of age, and the son of a wealthy dress goods importer. Coffin, aged eighteen, is a high school student, and lives with his widowed mother on Amsterdam street. Last week complaints were received from various places in Canada demanding the punishment of Attorney Leonard B. Drummond, who, the complainant stated, was attempting to swindle them.

The complaints led to an investigation, and yesterday detectives watching at 608 Sixth Avenue caught young Coffin opening the letter box in which were thirty letters addressed to Drummond. The young man denied all knowledge of Drummond, but the justice identified him as the man he had known by that name. Then Coffin, it is stated, broke down and confessed.

Last summer, according to the confession, his mother sent him to New Hampshire to strengthen his health, and there he met young Mesmin, who announced that all Canadians were "easy marks," and that he had a scheme to get about ten thousand dollars from them. Accordingly, upon their return the boys hired an apartment at the Sixth Avenue address and began sending out their letters.

From a Canadian directory they obtained the names of several thousand likely victims in Ontario, Quebec and Alberta. They were careful not to violate the United States postal laws, and to avoid doing this Coffin went to Montreal last week and posted the first two hundred million on Monday. No attention was paid to whether or not the persons addressed in the letters had recently lost relatives by death. Coffin said he wanted money to pay his expenses at college, and $200 or $300 to buy a handsome present for his mother.

Detective McVie, who made the arrests, stated that some of the thirty letters confiscated contained five-dollar bills, but many of them simply requested further information.

ABRAVE RESCUE.

SCHOONER MARTELO WRECKED NEAR CHARLOTTETOWN.

Crew Lost Their Boat and Had to Take to the Rigging—All Saved by M. McIntosh and Mark Cheverie in a Dory.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 8.—At 4 o'clock this morning, when the fierce southwest gale was at its highest, the sixty-ton schooner Martello was driven ashore at Souris, near the wharves, where her wreck now straws the beach. She was owned by Captain Hayden, River John, N. S., and was employed this summer carrying gravel from Cape George, N. S., for the new concrete railway wharf now under construction. Last night at 9 o'clock she anchored in the breaker; the gale freshened, the anchor dragged, and the schooner was driven on the ruins of the old wharf. In attempting to put out the kedge anchor the crew lost their boat.

Giving up hope of saving the schooner, they took to the rigging, and shouted for help. In less than an hour two men, guided through the inky darkness by the shouting, reached the vessel in a dory, and rescued all hands, Captain Hayden, his sixteen-year-old son, and another man. Fifteen minutes later the little schooner was in kindling wood. The boy, clinging in terror to the rigging and afraid to venture down, had to be forcibly removed. The rescue was effected by M. McIntosh and Mark Cheverie.

ST. LAWRENCE CHANNEL.

Views of British Marine Interests Changing.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine, stated to-day that while in Europe he had taken special pains to ascertain the views of British and other marine interests as to the needs of the St. Lawrence route. At the outset he was gratified to find, from steamship captains as well as from other experts in navigation, that the general opinion was that the years of work which Canada had devoted to the improvement of the St. Lawrence were at last bearing fruit.

The Minister was surprised to find that the Mersey, the great channel of navigation into central England, was not nearly as well provided with lights and other aids to navigation as is the St. Lawrence. More than one captain stated that no further improvements were needed on the St. Lawrence, and that it was now regarded as an ideal channel.

LEARNED THE LESSON

Canadian High Protectionists Have Been Long Teaching.

(Montreal Herald.) When advocates of the "high as Haman's gallows" sort of tariff have announced their intention to give the Mother Country an advantage over all competitors, care having been taken to exclude from the Canadian market practically all the staples of British production, they always go off with a virtuous feeling that they have acted nobly by the Mother Country, and have laid broad and deep the foundations upon which the Empire is to be built.

It would be interesting to know, therefore, just how they feel when they find, for example, while in Australia, that the long white skirts dilate into a flared-out stiff after the manner of "premiere danseuse." Very little space is allotted to each priest and it seems strange that there are no collisions. The dance ceases in an hour or so with the men exasperated.—The Travel Magazine.

WHOLESALE ROBBERY.

Michigan Central Officer Located the Goods.

St. Thomas, Oct. 8.—For some time past the wholesale robbery from cars on the M. C. R. has been going on, and W. H. Beal, Myrtle street, a car repairer, was suspected. Yesterday M. C. R. Officer D. Monahan of Niagara Falls issued a search-warrant, and with police Constable E. Moylan searched and found about $200 worth of stuff stolen from M. C. R. cars, which was hidden from the cellar to the attic. There were kodaks, cameras, tubes and corks of butter, pills and cans of lard, whiskey, tobacco, jellies, curtains, clothes, etc. The stuff recovered fills one of the cages in the lock-up at the city hall.

WAR FOR AN INSULT.

Japan Would Spend Last Penny to Uphold Dignity.

Yokohama, Oct. 8.—Count Okuma, leader of the Opposition, discussing the state of affairs made by Mr. Taft when he was in Tokyo, says it is difficult to understand the transfer of the United States fleet to the Pacific, but he believes the matter can be settled amicably. Japan, although financially distressed, would go to war to-morrow with any power if her national pride were insulted. Her citizens would spend their last penny to uphold her national dignity.

EATING ON THE TRAIN IN SPAIN.

As even express trains seldom attain a higher rate of speed than twenty-five miles per hour, travel is slow and tedious though fairly comfortable, and to enjoy Spain one must assume the leisurely indifference of the Spaniard to whom amiana is always the chosen time. It is as well who carries his own luncheon and never eats rainy tea busses more indispensable than on these long journeys, Spanish etiquette demands that the traveler before partaking of his food must politely offer to those who share the compartment with him. It may either be graciously accepted or declined. In no country is it so difficult to travel and to secure information, as but little English is spoken even by important officials.

THE WHIRLING DERVISHES.

Those spirits upon the hunt for "sensations" on Constantinople will wish to "take in" the Dervishes. The Whirling dervishes have a convenient convent on the Grande Rue where their circumstances may be witnessed at 7.30 on Friday evening for the admission of ten cents. This weird performance personifies the solar system and is exactly ordered in all its phases, after preliminary circuits of the ring in single file to the discordant accompaniment of flute and tambourine, the robed and turbaned Dervishes commence their utting. Arms outstretched, the right palm up and the left down, the left arm extended to the right shoulder, the head is bent upon the right shoulder. The rapid revolving upon the right heel is effected by emptying the left toes as a motive power. As the circling associates, the long white skirts dilate into a flared-out stiff after the manner of "premiere danseuse." Very little space is allotted to each priest and it seems strange that there are no collisions. The dance ceases in an hour or so with the men exasperated.—The Travel Magazine.

CRUISING ON THE NILE.

Our trip led us at last to a boat on the waters of the Nile where we lived three weeks of glowing luminous days, while the hours passed even as the sands of time. In leaving Cairo and passing through the big bridge we were surrounded by the most ethereal boats I ever saw, and they were but the curtain raiser to the continuous performance going on around us afterwards. We steamed ahead by day, not so very fast for the channel is treacherous and the native, taking frequent soundings at the bow often failed to prevent the boat from striking her nose straight in the mud. No harm came except vociferous shouting in a language sounding much like turkeys gibbling. Meanwhile the sail-boats glided by, graceful and swift in spite of their clumsy framework. Some were ferry boats, old and tattered and crowded with laborers, family parties, donkeys, everything. Others were laden with water jars or "fodder for the kine," and still others were the far-famed dahabehs, a kind of winged houseboat. They all came near enough for us to feel well acquainted with their passengers.—The Travel Magazine.

THOROLD POLICE TANGLE.

Mayor Millar's Action Results in a Deadlock.

St. Catharines, Oct. 8.—The Thorold police tangle is worse to-day than ever. Last month Night Watchman Reuter was suspended by Reeve McGill and Councillor Laughlin, two of the four members of the police committee, upon complaint of Chief Squire. An investigation followed, and last night at the council meeting McGill and Laughlin recommended that Reuter be forthwith discharged. Councillor Broderrick, also member of the police committee, presented a minority report recommending the night watchman's reinstatement. Mayor Millar is a fourth member of the committee and refused to sign either report, with the result that both the motion to discharge and the amendment to reinstate were lost on a tie vote, and to-day Reuter remains suspended with his future in obscurity.

TWO YEARS INSTEAD OF TEN.

Sentence of Broker Edwards Reduced at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.—The case of the King vs. Edwards, the fraudulent stock broker, who was sentenced recently to ten years by Police Magistrate Daly, was resumed in the Court of Appeals this morning. Judge Richards, in pronouncing sentence, said he did so with a good deal of hesitation. He held that judicially they must treat the crime as a first offence. At the same time it was very serious. The accused was not a young man, and the question of his age was considered. The sentence was that he should be imprisoned in Manitoba Penitentiary for two years and then discharged.

Marconi's Great Aim in Wireless Telegraphy.

Halifax, Oct. 8.—Within a few days Mr. Marconi will be prepared to flash messages across the Atlantic on one-half of the present cable rates, and then the inventor of wireless telegraphy will turn his attention to transmitting aerial messages from Cape Breton to the station he proposes erecting in Vancouver, from which the next step will be sending messages direct from Ireland to the Pacific slope. That this is possible Mr. Marconi is confident, and he is just as confident that eventually he will be able to encircle the globe. However, this is something he has not arrived at yet, and when your correspondent asked if the story that he had communicated with the Philippine Islands from Cape Breton was correct the inventor laughed. "It is absolutely incorrect," said he. "There is no station in that region with transmission power to send a message here," supplemented Mr. Vivian, manager and engineer of the Marconi Company of Canada.

Creditors' Claims of York Loan & Savings Company.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Mr. C. A. Mr. Maston alleged that there was nothing in the regulations or by-laws of the company authorizing the selling of stock or the carrying on of operations in Nova Scotia. On the other hand, Mr. C. D. Scott, acting for the liquidators, stated that the company had paid the regular license fee in that Province, but because no statement asked for by the Government had been filed they had never received the license. Operations, however, had been carried on without the Government taking any preventive measures.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

TRIAL OF ENGINEER MURRAY STEPHENS AT ST. THOMAS.

Prisoner's Statements—Former Alleged Admissions Denied on Oath—Crossing Watchman and Sectionman Contradict Engineer.

St. Thomas, Oct. 8.—Murray Stephens, who was engineer on the Wabash theoretical special which collided with the C. P. R. passenger train at the diamond crossing east of the city on August 24, 1906, resulting in the death of two trainmen, was to-day found guilty by the jury at the Assize Court on both counts of indictment, with intent of duty in failing to stop the train on the approaching diamond crossing, and occasioning grievous bodily harm to C. P. R. trainmen. Stephens will be sentenced to-morrow, being in the meantime out on $2,000 bail. The evidence was strong against Stephens, and it took the jury only half an hour to reach their verdict.

Most damaging was the admission of two statements made by Stephens himself shortly after the accident. One was at the inquiry before Superintendent Cunningham to the effect that he never looked for the semaphore on the day of the collision, and the other was at the inquest, when he declared he did not stop before crossing the diamond and never intended to. Stephens took the stand on his own defence and contradicted both of these statements, declared he did see the semaphore when it was against him, that he had put on the air brakes and reduced the speed until the signal was given him. No sooner had he released the air brakes than, he declared, the signal was again thrown up against him, and, looking down the track, he saw the home signal also against him. When he tried to reapply the brakes the air went gone, and the use of sand failing to have effect he jumped and the train sped on to its doom.

Case of Assault.

Serious Charge Against an Asylum Attendant.

London, Ont., Oct. 8.—William Tracy, an attendant at the London Asylum for the Insane, is charged with having on Monday night climbed over the transom leading into the room of Miss Moule and attempted to assault her. The young lady's screams brought assistance, and Tracy was handed over to the county constable employed at the institution. Squire Chittick heard the complaint to-day and remanded the accused for a week. Tracy had only been employed a short time in the asylum. Miss Moule is the daughter of Police Clerk John Moule, and was recently appointed stenographer at the institution.

THOROLD POLICE TANGLE.

Mayor Millar's Action Results in a Deadlock.

St. Catharines, Oct. 8.—The Thorold police tangle is worse to-day than ever. Last month Night Watchman Reuter was suspended by Reeve McGill and Councillor Laughlin, two of the four members of the police committee, upon complaint of Chief Squire. An investigation followed, and last night at the council meeting McGill and Laughlin recommended that Reuter be forthwith discharged. Councillor Broderrick, also member of the police committee, presented a minority report recommending the night watchman's reinstatement. Mayor Millar is a fourth member of the committee and refused to sign either report, with the result that both the motion to discharge and the amendment to reinstate were lost on a tie vote, and to-day Reuter remains suspended with his future in obscurity.

TWO YEARS INSTEAD OF TEN.

Sentence of Broker Edwards Reduced at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.—The case of the King vs. Edwards, the fraudulent stock broker, who was sentenced recently to ten years by Police Magistrate Daly, was resumed in the Court of Appeals this morning. Judge Richards, in pronouncing sentence, said he did so with a good deal of hesitation. He held that judicially they must treat the crime as a first offence. At the same time it was very serious. The accused was not a young man, and the question of his age was considered. The sentence was that he should be imprisoned in Manitoba Penitentiary for two years and then discharged.

FRENCH CAPTAIN ALARMED.

Took War Risk Policy on Cargo Bound for North Pacific.

Antwerp, Belgium, Oct. 8.—The action of an excitable French captain whose vessel was bound for northern Pacific ports in taking out a war risk policy on his cargo yesterday caused a groundless report that the Antwerp underwriters, fearing hostilities between the United States and Japan, were exacting war premiums for their policies.

CITY WATER FOR COUNTY

Will be Discussed by Committee Again To-night.

Mayor Gave a Jolly Picnic at Oaklands Yesterday.

No Course re School Fees Yet Decided on by Mayor.

There is likely to be a lively discussion at the Fire and Water Committee meeting to-night over the question of supplying the township people with water. The city agreed to do this some weeks ago on condition that an agreement drawn up by its solicitor was signed by each party.

Mayor Stewart is much annoyed at a report that he is sending a letter through the Finance Committee to the Board of Education pointing out the city's straitened financial circumstances and protesting against the abolishing of the school fees.

The aldermen, City Hall officials and members of the independent Boards banished the worry of civic affairs yesterday afternoon and, heeding the advice of some nature fakir, bled for the pines to taste of the simple life.

Two teams, with a score or more on each, played ball and provided amusement for those who abstain from strenuous exercise. They played like seasoned pennant chasers, Jack Anderson declared.

K. E. Atkins, the Toronto electrical expert, called on City Engineer Barrow this morning. He will attend the Fire and Water Committee meeting to-night in connection with the proposal to engage an electrical engineer to look after the installing of the new pumps.

City Engineer Barrow believes that Hamilton should engage inspectors to look after all railway construction undertaken by new companies or the Street Railway. His department, he says, has not time to attend to this, although it is something that should be looked after.

Building permits were issued to-day as follows: A. R. Howard, two frame houses on Arthur street, near Sherman avenue, $1,800.

James Weir, frame house near Niagara street, $800. Alanson Moot, two brick houses, Ontario avenue, between Main and Stinson, $5,200.

D. J. Jackson, frame house on Kinrade avenue, between Barton and Cannon streets, $1,750.

The Mayor's picnic yesterday afternoon came near being marred by a catastrophe. As the boat approached the Turbina wharf, Mr. Peregrine's hat blew into the water.

New York, Oct. 9.—There was heavy selling on the stock exchange to-day on orders said to be from Holland, the selling being accompanied by rumors that an important failure was imminent in Amsterdam.

ATTACKED BY WOLF

TORONTO TRAVELLER'S ADVENTURE NEAR LANSLOWNE. Lansdowne, Oct. 8.—William Blackwell, a well known Toronto traveller, while out hunting three miles east of here to-day had an exciting experience with a wolf. Mr. Blackwell was returning to his hotel along the railway track, when something came behind him. On locking around he saw a big wolf about thirty yards behind. He fired his only remaining shot at the animal, but unfortunately missed his mark. This seemed to make the wolf more desperate, and it came towards Mr. Blackwell at a rapid pace.

Mr. Blackwell had to stand still, and when the approaching beast came near enough he used the butt end of his gun on the animal. After a hard struggle, in which Mr. Blackwell received some very severe wounds from the wolf's claws he finally succeeded in killing it. It is the first wolf seen in this section of the country for several years.

125 ELECTRIC CARS BURNED

By Big Fire in New York Street Railway Car Sheds.

New York, Oct. 9.—Hundreds of lives were endangered, thousands of persons were thrown into panic, 125 electric cars used on several cross town lines were destroyed, and property loss to the extent of $400,000 was caused by a fire in the Fourteenth street car barns to-day.

The fire had gained great headway before it was discovered, and when the firemen arrived the adjoining tenement houses were cleared of tenants.

Chief Croker led a big squad of men to the fourth floor of the burning car barns. Their work was just beginning to tell when the great steel girders, which supported the floor above, where 125 electric cars were stored, began to twist and bulge under the intense heat. Croker roared to the men to run for their lives. Less than a minute after the last man had reached a rope put in place for the emergency, the fifth floor came down with a crash. A few minutes later the fourth street wall of the building fell into the street. The flames in the barn and several adjoining tenements, which had caught fire, were then subdued.

BIG BLOW AT ST. JOHN.

Sixty-Mile Gale Stirs Things Up on Land and Sea. St. John, N. B., Oct. 8.—St. John today experienced the heaviest storm in years. A southwest gale prevailed, and in one time reached 60 miles an hour. The golden cross of St. Peter's Church spire was bent out of position, but fortunately did not fall. Chimneys were broken, flues torn down, the telephone service was crippled, and long-distance lines were generally put out of business, while telegraph wires also suffered.

A fearful storm raged in the Bay of Fundy, and in the harbor a great sea was kicked up. The American schooner John J. Ward drifted her anchor and struck the lighthouse, veering off and heading for the round reef. Two tugs, however, managed to save her, but not before both broke their hawsers.
