The Little Open.

The little ones are poets, we sigh
And lots of trouble make us;
Ere golden morning ope her eye
They from our slumbers wake us.
Nay, oft ere half the night is o'er,
They start us from our dreams,
And we must rise and walk the floor
Until they cease their screaming.
Perhaps our raptures we deplore,
Anding in wishing, maybe,
We had remained a husband,
While sleeping, sleep, and baby,
We would stay to look a while,
While trash within us cured is,
And think of all the life of life,
A squalling babe the worst is.
But when grim death is hovering nigh
(Far distant may the day be!)
"Take all we owe, O Lord!" we cry,
"But spare to us the baby!"

Sweet Saviour, Bless Us Ere We Go.

By F. W. Faber.
Sweet Saviour, bless us ere we go;
And send us home with peace and joy;
Thy words into our minds insill;
And make our love warm hearts to glow.
With lovely love and fervent zeal,
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.
The day is gone, its hours have run,
And soon is light, Thy peace descend,
The enemy triumphs grace hath won,
The broken vow, the frequent fall,
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.
Grant us, dear Lord, from evil ways,
True abstinence and release;
And bless us, more than in past days,
With purity and inward peace.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.
Do more than pardon; give us joy,
Sweet fear, and calm desire,
And simple hearts without alloy,
That only long to like Thee.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.
Labor is sweet, for Thy sake we toil,
And cease in light, Thy peace descend,
Abide with us, our hearts to dwell,
With us, our hearts to dwell,
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.
For all we love—the poor, the sad,
The sinful—unto Thee we call;
O let thy mercy unto us shed,
That our hearts may be made glad.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.

Captain Bess.

"The Knight's Reason" I think was the name of the play.
It was in a large town on a quiet frontier that a celebrated troupe which had been expected arrived one winter evening by the six o'clock western express.
First-class companies came but added to the principal towns in the State, and was consequently looked upon as not "paying enough" to attract the best-operative travellers. But on the following evening, before the hour for opening was so dense outside the opera house, as to make the way almost impassable, and an hour later, even the express might have felt more than satisfied as he looked at the multitude of faces which filled the boxes from gallery to pit, despite the high price necessary to be paid before procuring desirable seats. Large as the audience was, it was not composed of many night operators when thinking of a far western town of principally miners, herdsmen, and men and women around the prairie as well as the plains of the State had early obtained seats to hear the famous play which was to be made more famous by the celebrated actor and actress "F. M. Keston."
Youth and age, beauty and grace, strength and pride, high and low, grave and gay, wild and civilized were there.
About half an hour before the curtain rose, a boy of young men, dressed in a costume somewhat resembling those of cowboys, entered the hall and seated himself in one of the galleries of the western side. Handsome fellows they look at as they moved along, and although at first the attention of the audience was attracted by the ringing of their spurs as they walked, it was held longer by their appearance. No one of the fifteen when standing in his long riding boots would measure less than six feet, and the loose, dark green cloaks which were thrown around their shoulders rather added to the startling immensity of their side.
From the appearance of the one who walked ahead, it could easily be noted by the looker-on, that he held a position among his fellows superior to the rest. Slightly taller, handsomer, and possessed of an easy, manly manner, he seemed one fitted to win and keep many friends, and for whom others would step aside feeling that a warrior was near.
A few years ago this little band would hardly have sought or gained admission where they were tonight. Living on the mountains, and in secret caves, they ravaged the surrounding country about

The Week's Review.

In an instant all was confusion. The crowd was separated, and while the friends of the wounded lady bore her quickly but gently from the building, the onlookers had rushed to the gallery, not only in time to arrest two of the brigands, who did not seem as disposed to rush out as their companions had done. The heavy hand cuffs had hardly pressed upon one wrist of the younger, who seemed but a boy, when his companion harrying it away, turned upon the astonished officer beside him and with the strength of a lion tore the key from his grasp. "By what right do you mistake that young fellow with those curved iron?" demanded the brigand.
"The shot was fired from the western gallery, the seats occupied by you," returned the marshal, and to take one may have to take all.
"Might have been right, is it?" "Well, it will not be this time. Lay no hands on that young man, if you would arrest the murderer of the lady, to save you further trouble, I will tell you—I am he." If the marshal had been so himself he could not have been more surprised, but without another question or iron, respectfully asked the young man to follow him, as it was his painful duty to conduct them to prison. Feeling they would not try to escape after having given their word to the contrary, the officer led them unchained but closely watched to the door of the State jail, and there left them in charge of the keeper while he made his report to the authorities.
"Caught at last, are you?" said the early jailer, "such sneaks as your tribe, are rarely allowed to get off long. Before long my friends, you will have dearly paid for your little joke, and those laws which you have so defiantly broken for years will probably send you to the gallows, a doom you justly deserve."
"As for the honorable death, you have so kindly imagined for me," answered the older of the brigands, you may be somewhat disappointed in, if the laws of my country are as faithful to me as I have ever been to them."
"Those who are born to be hung will never be drowned," was the parting sentence the door was bolted with, and the prisoners—glad of the departure of the coarse keeper, were left to their own meditations.
The jail at — was no exception to the general rule of discomfort and misery found in such places, and the days passed heavily to the two occupants in their separate cells.
At length the appointed time for their trial arrived, and although the court had been in session for the past three weeks, in no case was so much interest shown as in that of the "Cross Brigand."
Soon after the doors were opened, the room was crowded, and as the trial proceeded, even to the doors and windows was every place of footing taken up. Every eye was turned upon the prisoner as he arose from his seat and walked to the stand to make his defence. For so dead that he could have committed strongly public opinion had been more strongly against him than for the one he was just about to answer for, but as he took his place and faced the multitude, many were the thoughts that ran through their minds.
"The several days confinement had given a pallid look to his countenance, which made his appearance still more noticeable, and as the sorrow-stricken old Governor turned for the last time to look at the would be murderer of his wife, he started and curving almost as pale as the face before him, fixed his eyes upon the young man while he listened with held breath to his words. The room was hushed as the grave as the prisoner in answer to the question of the court began:
"My name I am unable to give, not from a desire for secrecy, but for the reason that I know not what it is. Among my comrades of the 'Cross Brigands' I am known as 'Captain Bess.' Previous to joining them, I ran away from the house of my boyhood, where I was by the name of Berthold Le Far, but as I have every reason to believe that the persons with whom I lived were not my parents, so do I believe that name is not my own." "As I have listened to my conviction, it did not seem a strange thing that I should be pronounced guilty, as unfortunately for me the first of the deed was witnessed by any but myself. One thing is certain: the shot was fired by one of our band, but before God, I solemnly declare I am not guilty of the crime I am charged with."
"Did I not understand you to say," asked the judge, that you were the murderer?"
"I said, if murder was committed, I did it."
"You contradict yourself strangely," sternly answered the judge.
"If you are the murderer, you are guilty."
"I may be the murderer, but I did not fire the shot."
The court looked amazed.
"Explain yourself," said the judge.
The prisoner went on:
"The shot was fired by one of our band, but before God, I solemnly declare I am not guilty of the crime I am charged with, thinking that his shot would save the Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and subcutaneous tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result has been a specific remedy has been formulated which cures catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever are permanently cured if from one or three simple applications made of the patient once in two weeks. The Weekly Observer.

HILLSBORO, N. B., June 27, 1889.

Observations.

Prohibitions Defeated.

Last week the prohibitory amendment was defeated in Pennsylvania by a large majority, while it was repulsed in Rhode Island by a majority of nearly 19,000.

Rather Misty.

In referring to the editorial remark in a late issue, that rum and grism were St. John's greatest curses the Maple Leaf editor says: "Such unadvised remarks make us tired." He should explain whether it is the rum or the grism that they prove so tiresome to him. Perhaps though he meant the two combined.

Destructive Insects.

Persons in Indianapolis complain of the destruction of their wheat by a strange insect, and the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture regards the reports concerning the ravages of these pests as alarming. The insect, which is called the "Green Midge," has not been known to farmers since 1868, when it utterly destroyed the wheat crop of Indiana.

What Next?

Mr. Edison is now trying to equip all his previous efforts at invention. He is waiting for what he calls a "Far Sight Machine," by means of which he hopes to increase the range of vision by hundreds of miles. He hopes to have the machine perfected before 1892. Just think how lovely it will be for the ladies who they can see the latest styles of dress worn by their sisters in far distant cities, and recognize the features of their distant friends. But then we fear it will be better for railway companies and steamboat lines.

The "Devil" Not to Blame.

The Maple Leaf editor admits having a "devil" in his office, but says as yet he has not been allowed to occupy the editorial chair. This admission will no doubt be gladly received by the said "devil," who naturally must rejoice to have him consorted from the editorial chair of writing Maple Leaf editorials.

The Observer's office "devil" is naturally very judgmental because the editorial of the Maple Leaf insinuates that he is "savage minded," "sloppy" and "ignorant," and would like to know the editor's reasons for making such an accusation against a person with whom he is on such an acquaintance.

Floods in Nova Scotia.

Last week floods in certain parts of Nova Scotia did great damage. A Halifax dispatch says: Heavy rain fell steadily for thirty hours, beating down the crops and causing great freshets. The side of the Cobequid mountains, sixty feet of the railway track was washed away and near Debert station the foot bridge was carried away. The transfer of mails and passengers at the latter point delayed express trains for two hours.

At Lunenburg the flood did great damage. The water rose twenty feet and carried away three houses, many barns, sheds, etc. It also swept away the wooden bridge across the Lunenburg River 100 feet high and 130 feet long. The "iron" bridge across the east branch of the river, built by the local government was also partially destroyed. The passenger station at Lunenburg is rendered impassable. Sixty feet of the great granite which carry water to the blast furnaces was swept away. There are also several bad breaks in the Iron City's railway bridge.

Trains reports show that Great Village, Port a Platte, Port a Platte Mountain, Bear River and Economy suffered severely from the flood. There is scarcely a bridge left standing between Lunenburg and Economy. The Union Ferrying company of Bear River lost their dam and much valuable lumber. Several houses at Bear River floated off their foundations, and one was swept into the bay. Many narrow creeks from drawing are reported. It was almost a miracle that saved Thomas Smith and his family from being drowned. James Miller & Co., of Economy, are reported to have lost a large quantity of logs. Farmsteads are badly damaged.

Our Cemeteries.

In former years Albert County had to bear the expense of burying her cemetery. The burial grounds. At one time the property was generally through out the County of having family burial lots, so that nearly every farm was dotted with graves. When quite young we remember hearing the remark, made by a stranger visitor to the County, that "every other house was a Post Office, and every other field a grave yard." Another, a wretched wretch—remarked upon being graves in every "hole and corner of the fields," that "it would be a miracle if some of the dead in Albert County were not scattered." In later years, however, a decided change for the better has been made and now some of the parishes have neat, well kept cemeteries. "Hay View" cemetery in Harry is worthy of special mention, being neatly laid out in lots and well cared for, and would do credit to a much larger place.

In passing through the cemetery of Gray's Land, one day last week, we were pleased to notice that important improvements had been made in some of the graves.

It is to be regretted that the lot graded and sodded which greatly improve its appearance to the children of the late Hon. J. A. T. also lately crossed a white

A Novelty in Marine Architecture.

A Washington dispatch says: Prof. and Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell will spend the summer in Nova Scotia with their children and two little cousins. Mr. Graham Bell has recently completed in addition to a picturesque cottage at that place, a novel structure—a house boat—in which he will spend the greater portion of the summer, cruising about with a number of friends, with whom he has invited to his guests at various times during the warm season. The house boat, of the catamaran style, with spacious apartments, double parlors, billiard room and every imaginable convenience, was built for the special accommodation of guests for whom Mr. Bell found it would be impossible to secure suitable quarters at the primitive farm houses about Nova Scotia. The structure is singularly unique, and will find no parallel in this country or England. It is built so that it can put in at any port. The most luxurious appointments prevail throughout. When the project of building this novel structure was first conceived it was impossible to secure a model after which to copy, and he thereupon employed the services of a skilled architect from Baltimore, in conjunction with whom he drew the plans and details.

Cure for Whooping Cough.

The life of many a child is sacrificed to the popular conclusion that whooping cough must run its course. The deaths from this are as 1 to 32 of the entire mortality of Boston, 1 to 98 in Baltimore, 1 to 64 in New York. According to experiments by doctors of the highest authority, this disorder is declared the direct result of the fungus growth, and in patients speedily recover. For a child mix two to five grains of powdered quinine in two ounces of sugar, add a little water and boil until the sugar is all dissolved and forms a thick syrup. Give one teaspoonful of the syrup after each coughing spell and before going to bed. Quinine in pill form or in gelatine is no use whatever, as it needs to come in direct contact with the fungus in the throat.

Answers Extraordinary.

The London "Times" gives the following as some of the answers given at examinations held in some of the English schools. "Who was Moses?" "He was an Egyptian. He lived in a bark made of bull, rashed, and he kept a golden calf and worshipped brass snakes, and he bet nothing but quibbles and manner for forty years. He was born by the air of his 'ed white ridin' under a bow of a tree, and he was killed by his son Aholon as he was hanging from the bow. His end was peace." "What do you know of the patriarch Abraham?" "He was the father of Lot and had two wives. One was called Hime and the other Hagar. He kept an ass at home and he carried the tether into the desert, where he became a pillow of salt in the daytime and a pillow of fire at night." "Write an account of the Good Samaritan." "A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and he fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up and checked him. When upon he gave tuppence to the boat and said take care on him and put him on his horse. And he passed by on the other side."

Canada of To-day.

There was a time, twenty years ago, when Canada proper contained 370,488 square miles; when we had few railways; when we had no winter coats of our own to the west; when our great Northwest was a great unknown. Since Confederation, twenty years ago, our revenue or consolidated fund has immensely increased; our shipping and its tonnage has more than doubled—young Canada standing fifth on the list of nations, having more vessels than old France, Spain, Italy or Russia; the assets of our chartered banks, the value of our imports, the extent of our exports tell a story of our marvellous progress; instead of about 2,000 miles of railway in 1867, we have now over 14,000, giving us a greater length of mileage than any other country of the Empire, excepting the United Kingdom and India; the Canadian Pacific Railway has established a line of Steamers between Vancouver and Hong Kong and Japan; and our great Canadian line has become of imperial importance; we have developed our inexhaustible fisheries so that we have 75,000 hardy men sailing our vessels and otherwise engaged in the business, and for 1877 we value those fisheries at $20,000,000—Manitoba's Colonist.

Scissorings.

SUICIDE.—Andrew Forshner of Wallace N. S. lately committed suicide by drowning. He was about 40 years of age, in good health, the owner of a good farm and had about $2000 at his command. The day previous to his death he had been considerably disturbed in mind over the payment of his school taxes.

A Fraud.

A man by the name of Beverly Villo, and styling himself an aviator, has been travelling and holding meetings in the western part of N. S. It is said that he proposes to carry a license, or what amounts to that, to preach. Inquiry has been made of the church from which he professes to come, and it is known of good authority that he has no such recommendation, nor is the church of which he is a member at the present time disposed to grant one.

Manitoba has sown about 656,000 acres to wheat and 357,000 acres to other grains. The crop for 1889 is thought will yield nearly 20,000,000 bushels.

A resident of Parlatka, while in Clay County lately, observed in the flat woods a novel spectacle. One day about noon he rode past a five-acre field, and saw an entire family working it. In the middle of the field was a plow, to which was hitched the old man, assisted by his son and daughter, the plow, to the latter doing the plowing.

Electing a Chief.

—Last Thursday was a big day among the Fredericton Indians, as they elected a chief on that day. The election took place in Indian Village, above the town and resulted in the choice of Andrew Paul for Sachem, as he received 3 votes more than his opponent Ned Sapier.

FIRE.—Colin Campbell's house a short distance above Fredericton was destroyed by fire last week, supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Several other houses were burned at Blouin's in Canada, Carleton Co., last week. A fire in a house in Fredericton, Friday night, from a defective pipe.

As Swift as the Telegraph.

A system by which Mails can be Transported at Lightning Speed.

The Baltimore Automatic Transit Company is conducting a series of experiments which the officers of the company believe will bring about a revolution in the transportation of express, mail, and lighter freight.

The system of propulsion is much the same as on the ordinary electric railway. The Edison dynamo and the Sprague motor are employed. The overhead rail is the main feature in the system, a double-ended wheel on the axle and motor catching upon it when the train is in motion. The idea is to have stations at twenty-five miles or more apart to furnish electric force enough to drive the train for a round trip. The company have been working for over a year past getting the experimental plant ready, and have made several trials of the system, which, tentatively, were quite satisfactory. A surprising speed being attained. The projects of this enterprise expect to be carried out in the carrying of mails and packages that one may sit down to breakfast in Atlanta or Chicago and read Baltimore or New York papers of the same morning. The practicability of the scheme has been proved upon Prof. W. C. Bond's of the Johns Hopkins University and Thomas A. Edison, the latter of whom is said to have declared it to be the greatest conception since the telegraph.

Sure Cure For Diphtheria.

The Joint Medical Society of Queens and Suffolk counties met at Hicksville, L. I., yesterday to discuss diphtheria and its treatment. There was a fair attendance from both counties. Tracheotomy was favored in all extreme cases by all the doctors. Dr. Rave, of Hicksville, submitted a history of results obtained from the use of injections of a five per cent solution of carbolic acid into the membrane of the throat. He said that out of fourteen cases, all serious, but one had succumbed to the disease after the use of the injections. The discovery of a physician in Germany, where it had been used with great success. The injection is made with a needle syringe, which is used hygienically on the streptococcus, or diphtheria germ, which it kills and prevents extending from the membrane to the larynx. Dr. Rave's remarks created a most favorable impression on his brother physicians, who intend using the new operation in their practice, as nearly all have a large number of cases of diphtheria, which disease is usually prevalent on Long Island just now.—New York Herald.

HARD HURT.—During the baseball match last Monday one of the Salisbury players caught a ball on the nose, which he tried to stop by his hand, but it struck his eye, and he was obliged to stop playing. The Salisbury boys had one hand and a leg injured but not sufficient to prevent his playing.

MISDEAD IN MEDICINE.—On Tuesday evening of last week Mr. R. L. Blake of this village by mistake took a dose of Tincture of Iodine. Two bottles of medicine were standing near each other and Mr. Blake without particular notice took the wrong bottle. Dr. Marven was promptly summoned and administered an antidote.

COMMEMORABLE.—We are pleased to learn from the communication found in another column that a systematic effort is being made by the people of Harvey to raise a fund in aid of brakeman Kinzie, who was so severely injured last week. We trust other sections of the County through which the Albert train runs will contribute generously to the fund being raised. The railway Company will doubt reader timely aid to see that while doing his duty in time of trouble, 1885 were raised in Harvey at the time.

ANOTHER RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—Last Tuesday the Albert train met with another mishap when on the return trip to Harvey. When nearing Turle Creek the postal and passenger cars suddenly left the rails. The passengers and mail were placed on board the engine and brought to Hillsboro where cars were procured. Cause of accident a mystery.

THE RECORD BROKEN.—The barque Howard A. Turner, Capt. Pitman, which was lately loaded at Hillsboro by J. M. Steeves & Co., took the largest cargo, according to her tonnage, yet recorded of any vessel. Though only registering 504 tons, she carried 676,000 superficial feet, making 341 standard. N. Hoyts of St. John was the stevedore. The Howard A. is one of Hon. G. S. Turner's large fleet of vessels, modelled by C. F. Dow Kay, and built under his careful supervision.

Bazaar and Festival.—The bazaar and strawberry festival in the Hillsboro rink last Tuesday evening passed off very pleasantly and successfully. There was a fair attendance, the refreshments were first class, the fancy articles superior and everything in apple pie order. At the close of the entertainment the refreshments and other articles were sold at auction F. C. Miles acting as auctioneer. The proceeds, amounting to about $100, are to be expended for church purposes.

THE CHOPS.—Crap reports received from various parts of the County are on the whole very encouraging, everything being unusually forward for the time of year. Some complain that beans and other garden stuff are being destroyed by some insect, after attaining quite a growth, the stalks being cut off just above the ground. In some sections the upland hay crop is likely to prove lighter than was at first anticipated owing to drought while the overlying of the marshes, late fall and winter, by the tides has greatly injured the grass for this season in some places.

BASE BALL.—The Hillsboro base ball club played their first match game last Monday afternoon with the nine from Salisbury. As the Hillsboro boys were mere infants at the business they naturally expected a severe beating at the hands of the Salisbury giants. Imagine their surprise therefore when at the close of the game the score stood, Hillsboro 41, Salisbury 13, with 3 "white washes" for Salisbury. As the Salisbury club had to leave for home early, only 8 innings were played. Our boys naturally felt elated at their great victory, especially as they can point to a score in the one game that it would take the St. John and Moncton professionals all summer to secure. However, they bear their honors with becoming meekness and will still condescend to play the Moncton Thistles before seeking higher game. It is reported that the professional club of St. John and Halifax are very nervous and despondent since receiving the report of the Hillsborians great victory.

Serious Railway Accident.

Brakeman Kinzie loses Both Feet.

Last Friday the most serious railway accident that has occurred in Albert County for some years happened to the Albert train shortly after it left Salisbury on its return trip to Hillsboro and Harvey. The engine was running tender first and when about a mile from Salisbury the tender jumped the track and upset, throwing the engine on her side. Engineer Riley reversed his engine as quickly as possible and immediately after was hurled from the cab and rendered unconscious for a time. He received a blow on the head, had one shoulder and one hip injured, and had two knuckles of one hand knocked out of joint, but escaped serious injury. Fireman Boyce was also thrown from the cab but received no serious outward injury though for a time it was feared he was hurt internally. But brakeman Hiram Kinzie was not so fortunate as his fellow workmen. Immediately upon the first intimation that something was wrong he sprang to the brakes at the rear of the postal car as the passenger car telescoped the postal car and caught Kinzie by both feet, holding him firmly and crushing his feet and ankles almost to a jelly. A working engine, which happened to be near the scene of the accident, was at once detached to Hillsboro for help. Drs. Lewis and Marven quickly provided themselves with beds and other necessaries and hastened to the wreck. Upon their arrival they found Dr. Moore of Salisbury doing all in his power to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate man. His feet and ankles were so badly crushed that they could not be moved and amputation was performed about midway between the knee and ankle. The sufferer was held between the cars about an hour and a quarter before he could be liberated and during that time, as well as when the surgeons were at work, he exhibited remarkable nerve and coolness. He first begged Conductor Downing to cut his foot off with an axe, and afterwards directed the men in their efforts to liberate him. After the amputation the train took him to his house in Harvey, running very slowly. At Hillsboro a halt was made to allow the sufferer a chance to rest, the train leaving for Harvey shortly before dark. A bridge being out near Curryville, the sufferer had to be transferred from one car to another, a distance of about an eighth of a mile. He stood the journey as well as could be expected and hopes are now entertained of his recovery. Mr. Kinzie was careful, obliging and efficient in the discharge of his duties and has a host of friends who deeply sympathize with him and his wife and child in his severe affliction. The escape of the engineer and fireman seems almost miraculous as the end of the cab in which they were was literally torn to shreds, even the iron work being splintered. Pieces of the wreck were thrown a distance of about 50 feet. The cause of the accident is not certainly known, but is attributed to a loose wheel on the tender. Hon. T. R. Jones, who happened to be on the train, J. Gillis Jones, the Manager of the road, Conductor Downing and the other train men and passengers did all in their power to alleviate the sufferings of the injured man.

Alma Notes.

Dr. R. C. and Mrs. Weldon of Elgin, are spending a few days here enjoying the invigorating sea breeze, the beautiful scenery and the many other attractions that this place affords. They are staying at the Alma House.

Holidays begin to-day in the advanced department of the school. The teacher, T. E. Colpitts, A. B., purposes attending the Provincial Teachers Institute which meets at Fredericton on Wednesday 26th. Miss L. Irving, teacher of the primary department has resigned. Her successor has not yet been engaged.

At the last regular meeting of Court Wisona, No. 226, I. O. F., the following officers were elected for the ensuing hall year: Bro. H. W. Keirstead, C. R.; Major Collins, V. C. B.; G. G. Melvin, R. S.; T. E. Colpitts, F. S.; D. D. Lutwick Treas.; A. E. LePage, Chap.; J. Crosier, S. W.; J. Kelly, J. W.; Chas. A. Kelly, S. B.; R. Akery, J. B.; P. Kelly, P. C. B.; T. E. Colpitts, C. D. H. O. R.; G. G. Melvin, C. Phy. June 24, 1889.

Moncton Notes.

The Methodist Sabbath School excursion went to St. John Thursday last and was attended by about 250 people, quite a number going down to witness the base ball match between St. John and Moncton. St. John won by a score of 13 to 3, that being a clear defeat for our boys. It is true that two of our men were unable to play but their places were well filled and Robinson the pitcher got disabled in the early part of the game. Still there are some mean enough in Moncton to go around and howl "Harrison the umpire cheated," etc., etc., which will do Moncton players more harm than Harrison. No boys when your beaten own up to it like men.

The Moncton Electric defeated the Standards of Halifax here Friday and Saturday by a score of the first day 8 to 1 and the second by 25 to 3. Pretty good, eh? The Electric "play ball."

Great sympathy is expressed here for poor Kinzie who had his legs taken off by the accident at Salisbury last week. One consolation is "he was at his post."

The Scott Act is very quiet here now. According to the Treasurer's statement for May, only $50.00 was paid for Scott Act fines during that month.

The "Times" says the first two story building was erected in Moncton in 1837. Rev. John Prince is absent in Nova Scotia. He will probably be away two or three weeks.

A great many Moncton people have taken their departure for the country. Some are sent for the favorite resort. Mr. Stewart, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, is about to take his departure for Jamaica where he is to have charge of an agency which is to be opened there.

Strawberries are getting quite plentiful around town although the price still keeps steep.

Albert County people seem to complain somewhat of the management of the Arbatus. One person coming from Hopewell Hill asserts that he could have driven here in less time than it took to come by the steamer. Others also complain that with passengers on board the engine loses an hour and more in towing vessels, which is very inconvenient and annoying to passengers.

Mr. Charles Webb formerly clerk with T. & K. Taylor, and Mr. McTuffin formerly of the I. C. B. Machine Shop, have started a new Grocery Store here. Mr. Webb has a vast experience in the grocery business and the new firm will no doubt do a good business.

Mount Gideon Notes.

Weather fine, farming operations about finished. Grain looks well, and a good deal of grain sowed and up.

A new building, intended for a wood house, is in course of erection by Joseph Felkleton.

Mr. Peter Bishop has commenced again his old business (slaughtering). He now drives with a new wagon got up expressly for the business, which is a credit to Mr. Ezra Stiles the builder, and also to the owner. A pound of beef steak delivered to customers out of each wagon deserves an additional cent or two to the pound.

Mr. Valentine Wilband has been in a low state of health for some weeks past. We hope he will soon be able to move round again. Dr. Murray of Albert is his attendant physician.

Edmund Doughty is getting timber hauled out of the woods, for a new barn to be erected this summer.

Mr. Gedon Smith and his son Enoch are now engaged launching logs at Wood River.

Mrs. Joseph Fullerton has a fine garden in which every thing seems to be travelling right up.

Jobs of work were sold on the Mount Gideon road to-day, by Mr. Patrick Duffy By-road Commissioner.

Pleasant Vale Notes.

All our farmers are about through seeding. The grain and root crops are looking well; but the grass, which looked so favorable during the early part of the season, will not produce an average crop of hay. The timothy is now in blossom and is both short and thin.

The performing of statute labor and the letting of the bye-road money appears to be the order of business this week.

T. A. Colpitts is in St. John attending the N. B. & P. E. I. Conference, being the lay representative of the Elgin circuit.

Miss Hanselpecker of Fredericton is visiting her niece, Mrs. Ed. Colpitts.

T. E. Colpitts, wife and child of Alma, are spending a few days at the old home-stead.

I notice that a Dorchester correspondent of the Maple Leaf, while discussing the exodus from Albert Co., mentions the many deserted farms on the road from Elgin to Rothes, and certainly attributes the desertion of these to the recklessness and extravagance of the Dominion Govt. Now I think no sane man driving over the aforementioned road with his eyes open would attribute the desertion of these places to anything but the rocky and barren soil. It has always been a great wonder to me why people would ever attempt farming in such places when there are acres and acres of the best land that has not yet felt the woodman's axe. When Mr. "Patriot" takes a head again in the exodus story he had better take some other road than the one through New Ireland.

Ought not so to Be.

We cannot say that the readiness with which many persons in Charlottetown listen to the flippant discourses of ignorant men upon sacred topics and the careless indifference with which they hear the name of the Deity bandied about on our streets and in our public halls, is creditable to them as Christian men and women. Such conduct betrays utter thoughtlessness concerning the third commandment, and will certainly be followed by—it may be fearful—punishment upon this or the rising generation. The love of reverence for the Deity is, rightly considered, the most terrible loss which a community can sustain; and reverence cannot but be seriously impaired when sacred names and things are used as the common stock-in-trade of babblers to whom the people give a ready ear.—Charlottetown Examiner.

How to tell a True Flasher from a False.

"It doesn't require an expert," said Dr. De Meul, "to tell whether a diamond is genuine or not. The test is very simple and can be made in any place and in a moment. All you need is a piece of paper and a lead pencil. With the latter make a small dot on the paper, then look at it through the diamond. If you can see but one dot you can depend upon it that the stone is genuine, but if the mark is scattered or shows more than one, you are perfectly safe in refusing to pay ten cents for a stone that may be offered you at $500."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Happy Woman.

"The happiest woman who the happiest nations have no history," says that wonderful writer, George Eliot, but no woman can be happy who is suffering from the irregularities and "weaknesses" so common to the sex. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will soothe nervous troubles and restore health and vigor once more. The roses will bloom again on those faded cheeks. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of prostrated, weak back, "female weakness," nervous, retroversion, "bearing-down," constipation, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration, inflammation, pain and tenderness and kindred ailments.

FOR $1.50

We will send, for one year, to any address, The Weekly Observer and the Famous Family Weekly, and the Detroit Free Press.

The Detroit Free Press.

The Free Press is without question the greatest literary and humorous paper now before the American people. It is not a new aspirant for public favor; established over fifty years ago, it has stood the test of time and is to-day stronger, better and more popular than ever—120,000 subscribers affirm its surpassing excellence. The funny sketches and sayings of The Free Press are everywhere quoted and laughed at, while in respect to literary excellence it will compare favorably with the expensive magazines of the day.

Its editor, Charles F. Adams, Hamilton Jay, Leslie York Case, Bronson Howard, H. C. Dodge, and a host of other favorite writers, contribute regularly to its columns. Recognizing the growing demand for first-class fiction, The Free Press has prizes for the three best Serial Stories of 50,000 words each. A number of the best writers have announced their intention to compete.

$3,000.00 IN CASH

In addition to the many other special features it is the intention to publish sections of THREE SERIAL STORIES EACH WEEK, written expressly for The Free Press by the best American and English authors.

It will be seen, therefore, that by subscribing for The Observer and The Free Press, the entire family can be supplied with all the news and with the best of current literature for a year, at a cost of Less Than Three Cents a Week.

The Free Press is a large eight-page seven-column paper, and the regular price is One Dollar per year. Remember that for $1.50 you can have The Free Press and your favorite home paper also. Sample copies can be sent at this office.

We hope that our friends will show their appreciation of our efforts in their behalf, by making up their minds to take advantage of this splendid offer—SUBSCRIBE AT ONCE.

THE WEEKLY OBSERVER

AND THE Canadian Agriculturist AND HOME MAGAZINE without a rival in Canada, and unsurpassed in America, for the Stock Raiser, Dairyman, or Fruit Grower.

We are enabled, by special arrangement, to offer that splendid publication, the Canadian Agriculturist, clubbed with this Journal for the small sum of $1.25 a Year.

(Subscriptions may be commenced at any time.) The Canadian Agriculturist is a large 36-page Journal, neatly illustrated, and printed in a first class manner. In amount and practical value of contents, its extent and value of correspondence, its quality of paper, style of publication, it occupies the FIRST RANK. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three chief divisions of FARM CROPS AND PROCESSES, HORTICULTURE AND FRUIT-GROWING, LIVE STOCK AND DAIRYING.

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Bee Keeping, Greenhouses and Grapery, Veterinary, Hives, Farm Questions and Answers, Fencing, Hedges, and Domestic Economy. Its Market Reports will be unusually complete, and much attention will be paid to the state of the crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and is intended to supply, in a continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of a term, a Live Agricultural Newspaper.

Although the Canadian Agriculturist is larger than any of its contemporaries (its size being from 20 to 36 pages monthly, according to circumstances), the terms are $1 a Year, strictly in advance.
