FIGURES DO LIE.
Prices are only Relative

REGAL ENGINES are the highest priced engines, yet they are the cheapest.
They are the highest priced engines because they cost more to build.
They are the cheapest engines, because they will last twice as long as any other engine.
They are also the cheapest engines because they save your time, and "Time is money."
If you shut your eyes to this real bargain in engines, you will be the sorriest fisherman who ever signed an order.
You will lose more money than you can afford to lose, and your oil bills will be twice as large.
REGAL ENGINES use less oil, have more power, run with less trouble and give more genuine satisfaction than any other engine on the market.
We are, in the near future, going to ask all cash for REGAL ENGINES, so buy one before we make this change, as we intend to make them the "Hall Mark" engines of Newfoundland.
We ship REGAL ENGINES complete with full book of instructions, and when once installed in your boat, any child can run one.
REGAL ENGINES are higher priced than other engines, but are the cheapest in the long run, because they run the longest.

THE HEIR OF LANCEWOOD

CHAPTER XII.

"I am going to devote the morning to sentiment," she replied. "This desk contains momentos of my youth, souvenirs of all kinds. I am going to look through it, and devote myself to the task of recalling all about them."

With a pretty parade of importance she opened the desk. It did not seem to contain anything more than a few faded flowers, old letters, and dried leaves. Occasionally mildew would turn to Sir Arthur with a smile, and, showing him a withered spray, tell some laughable anecdote concerning it; and Vivien noticed that these stories were all of people in high life, whose names she mentioned quite familiarly.

A mishap occurred—the desk was upset, and its contents rolled on to the floor. They were soon replaced; and, when her ladyship had finished her sentimental little scene she went away, taking the desk with her. When Vivien rose to quit the room, something lay glittering under the hem of her dress. She took it in her hand—it was a small common locket, clumsily made, and certainly not of pure gold. On it she saw the initials "V. P."

A few minutes afterward Lady Nestle returned. "I have lost a little locket," she said—"one that I value very much. It was one given to me when I was a little child. It has my initials on it."

"It is here," answered Vivien. "The initials are 'V.P.'—how could they be yours? I thought your name was 'D'Este!'"

"Did I say 'my initials' I meant those of the person who gave it to me."

"You are very clever," thought Vivien, "but the day will come when I shall know who you are, and how you contrived to dupe my father."

When Lady Nestle had gone away with the locket, Mr. Dorman looked at Vivien. It was not often that he made any remark, no matter what passed.

"That seems strange, Miss Nestle," he said. "Lady Nestle is quick in resource."

"Yes," replied Vivien, "she makes fatal admissions, and then very skillfully negatives them."

The young secretary had drawn nearer to her, and stood looking at her with passionately loving, wistful eyes.

"I wish that I might dare to ask you one question, Miss Nestle," he said.

"You may ask me what you will," she replied, kindly.

"Have you ever entertained any doubts as to Lady Nestle—doubts of her being what she represented herself to be?"

"I must decline to answer," she replied. "If ever the time comes when an answer to your question may be useful, I will remember it—until then, let it rest."

He longed to say that, if it pleased her, he would devote his life to finding out the antecedents of Sir Arthur's wife; but her dignified calmness forbade him.

CHAPTER XIII.

More than two years had passed since Sir Arthur brought his fair girlish bride home. She had been a first intoxicated with her power, unwilling to part with the least iota of it. She had been pitiless to Vivien. She had never spared her a mortification or a humiliation. She had never shown her the least consideration. Lady Nestle's only endeavor had been to prove always that she was mistress—sole and perfect mistress—and her triumph had been complete.

The first check to her authority was the refusal of Sir Arthur to agree to one of her whims. She wanted a new drive through the park—why, no one could understand, but she chose to say that she would like it made; and in order to make it, some of the finest old trees would have to be cut down. Sir Arthur laughed when his young wife talked about her whim.

"It must be a beautiful drive," she said; "and I should like it to be called after myself—Lady Valerie's Drive. Then all the future Nestles would have something to make them think of me."

"My dear Valerie," returned Sir Arthur, "you have asked me almost the only favor I cannot grant you."

"Why can you not grant it?" she asked.

"Because, although I am lord of Lancewood, I have no power to cut down those trees. The timber in the park belongs to my heir just as the house does. I could not pull that down—at least without the consent of my heir and successor."

"What is the use of being master if you cannot do as you like?" she said, impatiently.

"That is not the question," he replied. "I am compelled to leave to my successor the estates, the house, the timber, intact as I receive them. I should have to ask Vivien's permission to cut down those trees; and, as it would deteriorate Vivien's inheritance, I should not like to propose such a scheme to her."

"But she would say 'Yes' if you asked her, Arthur, I am sure."

"So am I," he replied. "That is the very reason I could not ask her; it would seem as though I took advantage of her sex. I am well aware that if I asked such a thing from a son instead of a daughter, he would scarcely hesitate to say 'No.'"

He did not see the expression of chalice that came over her face.

"I did not know that you considered Vivien so entirely mistress?"

"My dear Valerie, she is not so at present; but in time she will be so—that is, unless it should be the will of Heaven to send me a son."

"Would you not like a son to succeed you better than a daughter?" she asked.

"I might have done so once upon a time," he replied; "but now I am not quite so sure of it."

"Not so sure, Arthur. Why?"

"Because Vivien has been, as it were, trained to the management of the estate. She really understands it as well as any steward or agent. She knows who have leases, and for how long they are granted—in fact, she understands all the details. Then she has studied the subject; she knows the best position for church-building, the best situation for the new schools we have planned."

"To be built after your death?" interrupted Valerie. "How can you talk of such things?"

"No, to be built during my lifetime, if I choose. You would laugh if I told you all the abstruse works that I have studied—works on social science, social reform, sanitary reform. I have been quite amused—amused," he continued, "yet touched, you know. Valerie, my conscience reproaches me at times. I have never wronged any one, yet I have been by no means a model landed proprietor; my indolence and love of ease have stood in my way. I have been quite conscious of my defects, and I repeat that it has touched me to see my daughter in the early spring-tide of her life work hard to remedy my defects. She will make a noble ruler over a noble domain."

Lady Nestle looked very discontented.

"Then you would not care very much for a son, Arthur?"

"I have never given the subject any consideration, Valerie," he replied. "I do not know if I should care very much now for the blessing I once passionately craved. It would be hard, too, on Vivien; she has been brought up as my mistress."

Lady Nestle laid her arm carelessly on her husband's shoulder.

"I do believe," she said, "that you love Vivien better than you love me."

Sir Arthur laughed, but made no reply.

"Do you—tell me—do you love her best?"

"The two loves are so different, Valerie, there can be no degree of comparison between them. She is my dearly-loved daughter; you are my dearly-loved wife."

But Lady Nestle was not content. She could not endure that her husband should speak so lovingly of the girl whom she detested, nor could she endure the knowledge that in the time to come all authority would leave her and pass to her rival.

"Then I must give up my pretty plan," she said, "and be content with the old drive. There will be no Lady Valerie's Drive after all."

"Yes, it must be abandoned. If you wish your very pretty name to be commemorated, we will plant some part of the grounds, and call it 'Lady Valerie's Pleasance.' Would that do as well?"

"It must do. I see no alternative," she replied.

"I take great pride in one thing, Valerie," said Sir Arthur—"it is the first wish of yours that has been ungratified. You have been very much spoiled, my darling."

And Lady Nestle was forced to be content, although the refusal served only to increase her dislike to her rival.

This little incident brought home to her more forcibly than ever the fact that, after all, her sovereignty would not be of long duration—that although she seemed to conquer, in reality her authority would end so soon that it was not worth having at all.

Another little occurrence took place which increased her annoyance. She was in the library one morning with Sir Arthur and Mr. Dorman, when the family solicitor, Mr. Greston, was announced. He had come from London on business connected with the estate. Lady Nestle received him very graciously. It was part of her policy to be civil to every one. She never felt sure what might happen, what friends she might need, and she therefore deemed it best to conciliate all. She paid little attention to what was passing until she heard Mr. Greston say—

"You cannot do that, Sir Arthur, without Miss Nestle's consent."

"My daughter will consent," said Sir Arthur. "We have talked the matter over. She gives her consent on certain conditions."

"We shall require Miss Nestle's signature, then," observed Mr. Greston. "As heiress of Lancewood, she must sign these papers."

PARIS, via St. Pierre, July 26.

On Sunday in Artois, between Oise and Aisne, the usual artillery duels took place. On the northern banks of the Aisne in Troyon district and in Champagne on the Perthes-Beauejour front, mining operations continued to our advantage and in southern Woivre, intensive cannonading. In the side two battalions consolidated, in spite of bombardment, the positions gained Jan de Sapt, Friday. The number of German prisoners taken was 110, 600 and 825 men, of which 700 are wounded. There were numerous corpses in the trenches. We had engaged on our side two battalions of an infantry regiment, machine guns have been found in the trenches taken.

BONAR LAW.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, July 26. On Sunday in Artois, between the Oise and Aisne, the usual artillery duels took place. On the northern banks of the Aisne in Troyon district and in Champagne on the Ferthes-Beaumont front, mining operations continued to our advantage, and in southern Wever, intermittent cannonading.

In the Vosges our troops consolidated in spite of bombardment, the positions gained at Ban de Sapt, Friday. The number of German prisoners taken was 11 officers and 325 men, of which 70 only are wounded. There were numerous corpses in the trenches. We only had engaged on our side two battalions of an infantry regiment. Six machine guns have been found so far in the trenches taken.

of Constantinople, sinking a Turkish transport and two gunboats, and a steamer loaded with ammunition. Advice reaching here from Constantinople, the British raider sank the gunboats and an ammunition ship near the wharves. One of the submarine's shots damaged the wharf of Topkapi, a suburb of Constantinople, where the Turkish arsenal and barracks are located. Turkish soldiers fired several rifle shots at the submarine as she disappeared. British aviators bombarded Smyrna yesterday, destroying the gas works and petrol depots, according to a Mitylene despatch. A French aviator destroyed a Turkish convoy near the port of Alvali, Asia Minor.

IN AND AROUND WARSAW.

LONDON, July 26. A despatch from Petrograd to Reuters' Telegram Co. to-day says: German air raid on the Vistula bridge at Warsaw failed in its object, though the bombs caused several casualties among civilians. The German advance from the Naraw River is now 24 miles as a crow flies from the Warsaw-Petrograd main railroad, but the Germans still have to fight their way across the Bug River, as well as six-tween miles of virtually roadless country between the Naraw and the Bug. The fate of Warsaw really depends on the Bug River, which is a much more formidable obstacle than is the Naraw crossing, which by the Germans was facilitated by an inlet in the middle of the River near its confluence with the Orvitz River.

A BRITISH AND AMERICAN STEAMER SUNK.

LONDON, July 26. The British steamer Grangewood, 2,442 tons, from Archangel for Havre, has been torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. The crew was landed at Lornwick, Scotland. The American steamer Leelanaw, from Archangel for Belfast with a cargo of fax, was sunk yesterday by a German submarine off the northwest coast of Scotland. All the members of the crew were saved.

THE 'LEELANAW'

LONDON, July 26. A despatch from Kirkwall to the Central News Agency, says that after the members of the crew had left the Leelanaw, about a dozen shots were fired at the steamer, but failed to hit her. However, she was ultimately sent to the bottom by a torpedo. The members of the crew were taken on board the submarine, the despatch adds, and were well treated. When in sight of the Orkney Islands, the men were ordered to return to their boat, and the submarine disappeared.

WILL AWAIT INFORMATION.

CORNISH, N.H., July 26. Unofficial word of the sinking of the American steamer Leelanaw by a German submarine, was conveyed to President Wilson to-day, but he declined to make any comment for publication, pending the receipt of full official details. News that the crew of the steamer were saved, was received with relief by the members of the Presidential party.

WARSAW STILL HOLDS OUT.

LONDON, July 26. Field Marshal Von Mackensen's sustained effort, through an army of a considerable body of Austro-German troops, astride of the Lublin Cholm railway, having to date met with no success, the Germans are now centering their main offensive north of Warsaw's salient, having crossed the Naraw River along the forty mile front, driving the Russians toward the Bug, where it joins the Naraw north of the Polish capital. Warsaw still holds out, but the general belief here is that its loss by the Russians, is only a matter of time. Despatches reaching London to-night from Petrograd, predict that the much discussed climax of the great struggle in Poland will come within a fortnight with simultaneous attacks on the city from north and south. In the meantime, Von Buelow's troops are driving south from Courland, and are thirty-five miles southeast of Shavri, having reached Poni Wesch railway junction, which is linked with the Vilna-Dvinsk line, and which the German cavalry are attempting to seize preparatory to cutting the more important Kovno-Vilna line. The effective German cavalry in this area is estimated at Petrograd to be thirty thousand.

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION.

OTTAWA, July 26. From information in the hands of the Military Headquarters, it is announced that funds sufficient to purchase more than 1,000 machine guns are already contributed at various points in Canada. This means nearly forty guns for each regiment of two Canadian divisions to be maintained in the field.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER TORPEDOED.

HALIFAX, July 26. The Norwegian steamer Fimrelte, in the service of the Nova Scotia Steel Company, was torpedoed by a German submarine and sunk within one day's run of Swansea. She was bound from Wabans with a cargo of ore. The fate of the crew is not mentioned. The steamer was 2,724 tons net. The news came by cable to General Manager Cantley.

SHIPBUILDING FIGURES.

LONDON, July 26. Lloyd's shipbuilding returns which, owing to the war, are confined to details of merchant vessels, shows that there were 434 steam vessels of 1,565,025 gross tonnage, and eight sailing vessels of 1,800 tons, under construction in the United Kingdom during the quarter ended June 30th, 1915, or 81,000 tons less than at the end of the previous quarter. The 215,000 tons below the figures of the corresponding period last year. During the quarter ended June 30th this year, 74 steamers of 147,864 gross tonnage were launched.

WAR CONTRACTS COMMISSION.

OTTAWA, July 26. The War Contracts Commission, which leaves to-night for the Maritime Provinces, where the first sitting will be held at Summerside on Thursday. It is understood that the report in the case of W. F. Garland, ex-M.P., will be given out at an early date.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it." "That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggist's." Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake. Zylex, London.

Good Exhibition of Baseball.

CUBS VICTORS. Last evening being an ideal one for baseball, a large gathering of fans was in evidence on the Christian Brothers grounds, to witness the Cubs and Wanderers contest. It was generally conceded to be about the finest exhibition of ball since the introduction of the game here. The result was: Wanderers 0 0 0 3-3

Cubs 0 0 1 3-4

The umpires were Messrs. Chesman and Smith; scorer: P. Outerbridge; players: Cubs—Batteries, Simms, Clouston; infield, T. Winter, Ellis, Peddigrew, St. John; outfield, Ryall, Tessier, D. Winter.

Wanderers—Batteries, King, Britt; infield, Hartnett, Hocken, McCrindle, McLeod; outfield, Trappell, McLean, Trappell.

The Cubs scored the first run in the fourth innings and both sides made three each in the fifth and final innings. The latter was very exciting. The Wanderers fielders got rattled. Clouston took advantage and finished off the last run amid great applause.

The Cubs thought they were handicapped at the outset because of losing one of their regular players but events proved differently. The new comers showed up well.

Though being on the sick list, Bob Simms pitching was very effective and although designated the "green pitcher" gave the Wanderers some balls last evening that were certainly green to them. What he lacked in flourish he easily made up for in strength.

The Cubs and Red Lions will contest for the H. D. Reid Trophy at Mt. Casher Garden Party to-morrow.

Loan Results Are Far in Excess

OF WHAT WAS HOPED FOR.

London, July 16.—Sir George Paish, who has participated in various conferences at which war loans were considered, said yesterday that the way in which Great Britain took up the 4½ per cent. loan had even exceeded the hopes of the Government.

In reflects deeply the loyal sentiment among all Britons," said Sir George. "The British workman of large family and slender means has shown that he is anxious to respond to the call of the Empire for financial aid. Heretofore there has been a feeling that on the call of the Empire, its rich men were to do the buying of bonds.

"This time all were asked to join in, and the man of medium means has bought the war loan as well as the rich investor. It is all a good sign that the Empire is united in the sentiment of a continuance of the war and the providing of sinews with which to carry it on."

German Bankers' Action. Sir George was impressed, he said.

with the tendency of the business men of Germany to have the war ended, as evidenced in their call upon the Kaiser.

"That was the first real ray of sunshine that has come since the war began," he said. "It seems to indicate that the bankers of Germany realize the disastrous consequences that must fall on their country the longer the war continues.

"Already in human life that country has lost what cannot be replaced for a great many years, and if the war continues for another twelve months, it is evident that the loss of life among the young men of Germany will be so serious that the growth of Germany's population may be entirely checked for a long time to come.

"From Germany's financial point of view, as well as from the standpoint of humanity, the action of the bankers in waiting upon the Kaiser and urging the necessity of peace is a matter for general congratulation."

Ten Strong Reasons

Why You should Buy Your Furniture from us.

1st—We produce our own lumber which goes into the Furniture and saves considerable in cost.

2nd—We have the Surface Oak finish for our Furniture, which is the only thing of its kind in the country.

3rd—We import our own Coverings for our Parlor Suites, thus saving two duties, as most all the imported Suites come from Canada and the United States, and they have to import their coverings from France or some of the European countries, and pay duty into Canada or the States. We avoid the second duty by getting the Covering ourselves and having the frames made here.

4th—We have our Springs made from the wire by the only Weaver in the country; also the Oxford or Copper Wire Springs by machines too.

5th—We have our Mattresses made by machinery in our own building, the only machine of its kind in the country. It can produce 50 against 10 by hand, thus saving considerable in cost.

6th—We are producing the Excelsior or Wood Fibre and cutting the cost in two, which will mean considerable saving in the making of Mattresses.

7th—We are also selling agents for the celebrated Ideal Beds and Springs and sell at factory price.

8th—We also have the COMBINATION LATH and SPRING BED, the only thing of its kind in the country.

9th—Having the factory in the same building, we can handle all sizes all repairing; in fact you can choose your own Coverings for Parlor Suites, Mattresses, etc., and have it made to order.

10th—Our motto (last but not least) is to sell at the lowest possible prices, and despite the serious advance in prices all round, we are, where possible, reducing the prices, WHICH SHOULD APPEAL TO EVERY HOUSEKEEPER when a need of Furniture and Furnishings, as we now by arrangement work from the "Tree to the Home," thus cutting out all middlemen's profits.

Aeroplanes and Machine Guns.

It is now abundantly clear that by August 4th, the Aeroplane Fund will not only be sufficient to buy two large aeroplanes, in addition to the Reid Nfld. plane, but there will be a surplus. Already some of the promoters in the outports, foreseeing this, have decided not to curtail their efforts in any way, but have asked that any excess be devoted to a Fund for Machine guns. Grand Falls we understand intends to raise $2,000, of which $500 will go into the Aeroplane Fund and the remainder will be sufficient to purchase two machine guns. Machine guns will no doubt have a material bearing in carrying on the war. Germany is arming each platoon with a machine gun or more. Indeed machine guns have been made so light that these can be held and worked by one man. Canada has decided to present 1,000 machine guns for work at the front. For Newfoundland to do as much in proportion, she would have to provide 30 machine guns. Newfoundland is exceeding this in value by presenting two large and one smaller aeroplane. The cost of 30 machine guns would be about the cost of two large aeroplanes. Before this present subscription closes we have no doubt that not only will the three aeroplanes be subscribed, but quite a number of machine guns will also be provided.

It is evident that the platoon abundantly furnished with machine guns can do greater destruction against an advancing foe than one only armed with magazine rifles. The Germans have seen this point and in providing for it have added to their strength. We must not only do what the Germans do, but go one better.

STRUCK A SHOAL.

Passengers who came here by that steamer last night, report that the S. S. Prospero struck a shoal on her trip North, but we understand, was not damaged. The ship went into dry dock to-day to have some plates, which were damaged by contact with ice since the winter, fixed. She sails for the Northward at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Prospero Back.

The s.s. Prospero, Capt. A. Kean, returned from northern ports last night, after a fairly quick round trip. The ship went as far north as Quirpon. She brought a full freight and these passengers in saloon: Messrs. Hawvermale, Brown, E. W. Green, A. Rowell, B. W. Butt, T. Cave, J. W. Penney, K. Burden, J. Burden, D. A. Ryan, Hann, J. Crummy; Mesdames Hinwismale, Horton, Smith, Cave, Christian, Hiscock, O'Neill; Misses Godden (2), Lawton, McNeil, Dalton, Jones (2), Hyde, Winsor (3), Barbour, Lawton, Courage, March and 32 in steerage.

THE FISHERY.

From Capt. Kean and other persons who came on the Prospero, we learn that the fishery to the northward is poor on the whole up to the present, but prospects are bright. At Greenpond, Westville and along that section there are big catches ashore. At Pogo, Herring Neck and Twillingate and vicinity the fishery is not so good. The fishery at the Grey Islands if it continues much longer like it was up to last week will be the worst on record. We are informed that there is no salt famine existing north now. Recent arrivals at the different ports having satisfied the scarcity.

Reids' Boats.

The Argyle sailed from Placentia for the Westward at 2.30 a.m. to-day. The Clyde left Twillingate at 7 p.m. yesterday, inward. The Dundee left Bonavista at 3 p.m. yesterday, outward. The Ethie is due at Carbonare to-day. The Glencoe left Pushthrough at 7.55 a.m. to-day, coming east. The Erik arrived at Port aux Basques with freight from North Sydney at 11 a.m. to-day. The Kyle left Port aux Basques at 10.20 p.m. yesterday. The Sagona left Twillingate at 8.25 a.m. to-day, going North.

Fishery Report.

Twillingate.—Traps 1 to 2 barrels few 5 to 7 and 40 barrels; hook and line none.
King's Cove.—Good fishing with traps; hook and line men 1-2 to 1 quintal.
Hr. Grace.—Traps, 8 to 25 qts.; hook and line 1-4 qts.; sign of squid; plenty of caplin.
Catalina.—Traps at Northern Bight 5 to 25 qts.; plenty caplin.

STELLA MARIS.—The coffin dam is now being removed from the Stella Maris and a staff of workmen are engaged scraping the ship's hull. It is expected she will be ready for sea by the end of the week.

LABRADOR FISHERY.—A marconi message from the Labrador via Pogo, stated that the fishery was poor at Cape Harrison, Makovick, Holton, Grady, Domino, American Tickle, Venison and Battle Harbor.

JUDGES OF PONY RACE.—Messrs. T. Curran, H. Macpherson and Mr. O'Regan will act as Judges of the Pony Race at Mount Cashel grounds to-morrow. There will be two or more preliminary heats and five contests are expected.

WIFE-BEATER GETS 2 MONTHS.—At the instance of his better-half, a 37-year-old laborer of Torbay was arrested under warrant by Constables O'Keefe and Power. This morning he was arraigned before court and found guilty of unlawfully assaulting his wife on the 17th inst. Accused was fined $25 or 1 month's imprisonment and give two bonds in $50 each or serve an additional 30 days. He went down.

WINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

"The Little Pink Paper From Home."

FROM MINISTER OF JUSTICE.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 17th, 1915.

Dear Mr. Murphy.—For Newfoundlanders abroad, it is a special pleasure to find the "Telegraph" in some of the Public Libraries. This suggests to my thoughts a poem on "The Little Pink Paper From Home." Pink, the "Telegraph" certainly is; little most assuredly, as compared with the American papers. I am quite sure every Newfoundland abroad likes to see it. It is to be found in the Bon Public Library, and is much read by Newfoundlanders there. Knowing your skill and desire for new ideas, I thought I would pass this one along. Sincerely yours,

R. A. SQUIRES.

"THE LITTLE PINK PAPER FROM HOME!"

How dear to our hearts is "the little pink paper,"
The paper they print in the land of our birth;
Oh, may we behold it, till life's fitful taper
Is quenched; for to us 'tis the dearest on earth.

Bostonians may talk of their papers much bigger,
They boast much the same every-where that we roam;
Newspapers up here "cuts a picturesque figure,"
But we rather "the little pink paper from home."

"The little pink paper" we first saw in childhood
It shares with us yet in our sorrows and joys;
It brings recollections of mountains and wild-wood,
Of that home where we roamed, when young girls and boys.

We see in its pages the names of true-hearted
Friends; whom we knew ere we crossed o'er the foam,
Who made us a promise the day that we parted
To send us "the little pink paper from home."

"The little pink paper" when we are perusing
Its pages, we give it our love and our care;
Though grand are the papers in Boston we're using
"The little pink paper" to us is more dear.

Long may it thrive and in sunshine or sorrow
We'll cling to that paper wherever we roam;
Much consolation from it we do borrow,
Our own, dear "little pink paper from home."

JAMES MURPHY.

Amusements.

"OURS" IN THE WEST END.

A splendid programme was provided last night and greatly enjoyed by all who attended the popular little house. The great 3-reel feature of "The Circus" is a thrilling picture; "Driftwood," a touching life story. Little Anita received great applause on her re-appearance, and sang her charming song in great form. Always a good show to please all at the cosy little house in the West End.

THE AEROPLANE CONCERT.

Try and leave Thursday night open so you can attend the best concert you have seen for many a long day, in aid of the aeroplane fund. Now everyone can afford a little towards this great object. You will have given your mite and you can sit and enjoy a great entertainment as a receipt for your money. There will be variety enough to please all. Our best local artists will appear, Mrs. Colville, Mrs. Chater, Miss Flora Cliff, Miss Frances Goelling, Miss Mary Doyle, Miss Bradshaw, the Calypso string band, Mr. Tom O'Neill, Bonnie Rossley, Jack and Marie Rossley, Dodd and Kelly, the Sunshine Girls, with songs, dances, monologues, sketches, under the distinguished patronage and presence of His Excellency the Governor and Lady Davidson and many prominent citizens. Tickets on sale at Gray and Goodland's. Reserved seats, 50 cents; general admission, 20 cents. Secure your tickets early to avoid disappointment.

BRITISH THEATRE.

In spite of the warm yesterday, patrons of the above house thoroughly enjoyed the high class programme which had been prepared for their approval. All of the photo-plays were first-rate, the palm though being carried off by the magnificent 2-part Biograph production "The Ironmaster." This splendid social drama of world-wide repute, was made famous some years ago by the favorite English players, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, and it is just as popular to-day as ever. We are given to understand that the new singer is on her way. As will be noted a percentage of the total receipts for the current week will be devoted to the aeroplane fund.

FIVE PICTURES AT THE CRESCENT.

Five pictures including a great reel feature in which the movie star, Francis X. Bushman, appears, is the big programme at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day. A full reel containing three fables written by the celebrated humorist, George Ade, and produced by the Essanay Company, with good music and singing is a big show for little money. In a few days the Crescent will present "Martin Chuzzlewit" pictured.

Citron will cut very thin and will not stick to the knife if it is put into the oven and heated through.

357th Day of the War

LATEST From the Front

10.30 A.M.

OCCUPY ISLAND.

ROME, To-Day. A midnight official statement issued last night says the Island of Pelagos in the Adriatic Sea, important on account of its strategic situation, has been occupied by Italian naval forces.

FINED FOR DEMONSTRATING.

LONDON, To-Day. Telegraphing from Amsterdam, the Morning Post's correspondent says the city of Antwerp was fined $50,000 for a popular demonstration held here on Belgian Pete Day.

BOMBARDMENT CONTINUED.

PARIS, To-Day. A Havas despatch from Athens says: The bombardment of the Turkish position inside the Dardanelles was continued for the past three days, the object of the Allies being to destroy the enemy's positions on the Asiatic shore. Negotiations with the British Government on the subject of the search of Greek ships are said to have reached a satisfactory conclusion, the British Government having agreed to recognize Greece's full rights in consideration of rigorous measures taken by Greece to prevent the shipment of contraband.

SHOCKS AMERICAN OFFICIALS.

WASHINGTON, To-Day. The torpedoing of the American steamer Leelanaw is a shock to American officials, who see on the incident a further aggravation of the situation between Germany and the United States, although they hesitate to-day in the absence of details to construe the act as coming within the warning of the last American Note which pointed out the further violation of International Law in detaining American citizens was to be regarded as deliberately unfriendly. The view taken was that Germany in effect had ignored the earlier note in connection with the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Frederick. In that communication the States vigorously asserted the position even though an American ship carried contraband of war it was peculiarly protected from destruction by the stipulations of the Prussian-American Treaty of 1825. Flax, which was being carried by the Leelanaw, was declared absolutely contraband by Germany on April 13 in retaliation against the British contraband declaration. While precedents of International Law in recent years, supported particularly by the Declaration of London, have recognized this, the right of a belligerent to sink a neutral vessel carrying contraband in ship, certain of condemnation by Prize Court, the action has been limited to extreme cases of necessity when the taking of a prize into port would involve danger to the vessel making the capture.

BULGARIA AND TURKEY.

LONDON, To-Day. The reported cession by Turkey to Bulgaria of the Turkish portion of Dedeaghat railway has created considerable discussion in England, but the Bulgarian Legation in London insists it has no confirmation of such arrangement. It is stated in circles professing to understand the situation it would have effect on Bulgaria's neutrality, although this of course is debatable. By a treaty signed at Constantinople Turkey granted Bulgaria the free use of the line for ten years, but this privilege is contended, has been frequently revoked of late, Turkey repeatedly stopping freight traffic. Bulgaria protested against this and finally a fortnight ago forbade the movement of Turkish consignments across her border. The remedy of this situation appears to be the immediate object of Turkey's present move.

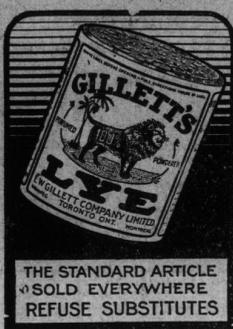

SUCCESS ON EUPHRATES.

LONDON, To-Day. Official despatches concerning the operations along the Euphrates River in Asiatic Turkey announce that the British forces, after rushing and capturing the Turkish advance and main entrenched positions, occupied the town of Nasiriyah on the morning of July 25, a British gunboat having shelled the city. The previous night the Turks disorganized and retreated northward. The British in the course of their advance captured eleven guns, two machine guns, and several hundred prisoners were taken. 500 dead Turks being counted in the main position. British casualties numbered between 300 and 400.

CREW EXPECTED AT DUNDEE.

LONDON, To-Day. All the crew of the American steamer Leelanaw are expected to reach Dundee to-day, when it will be possible to obtain a full account. The London evening papers telling of the incident employ in some cases suggestive captions, such as "An unfriendly act," but because the American Note laid such a stress on the demand that American lives on merchant ships should not be jeopardized without warning, it was difficult for the English mind to determine whether the sinking of a ship after the crew was taken off constituted what America would regard as a repetition of acts she insists must cease.

NORWEGIAN SCHOONER ATTACKED.

AMSTERDAM, To-Day. The Norwegian schooner Harboe was attacked and set on fire on Sunday by a German submarine. The crew were saved.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

LONDON, To-Day. The casualties in the British Army and Navy have reached a total of 330,995, according to a printed statement issued by Premier Asquith. The naval casualties up to July were 2,106, and military casualties to July 18 were 321,889. The naval losses were divided as follows: Men killed, 7,240; wounded, 787; missing, 274. Premier Asquith announced in the Commons on June 9th that the total British casualties including naval divisions had been 258,069 up to May 31, in killed, wounded and missing. This shows the casualties in the army alone were 250,829 on May 31 and July 18. Great Britain is the only one of the Powers engaged in the war which announced from time to time her total losses.

RUSSIANS MORE CHEERFUL.

LONDON, To-Day. There has been a clean sweep from the Russian War Office of men responsible for the shortage in ammunition, according to the correspondent at Petrograd of the Daily Mail. He reports the existence in the Russian capital of more cheerful feelings at the courageous resistance which the Russian armies are making to the Austro-German advance. He adds that the frank admission by the authorities, is now made for the first time publicly, that no large Russian counter-offensive is possible until the mobilization of infantry bears fruit in largely increased supply of munitions.

ITALIAN GENERAL KILLED.

UDINE, Italy, To-Day. General Antonio Cantore has been killed in battle on the Isonzo front. He is the first officer of that rank lost by Italy.

ITALIANS OCCUPY ISLAND OF PELAGOSA.

ROME, To-Day. In announcing that the Island of Pelagos had been occupied by the Italian naval forces, the official statement issued last night says: The object of the expedition was to deprive the enemy the use of the islands nearest the Italian coast from which they could easily watch the movement of Italian ships and vessels. The occupation of the Island was accomplished by a force of destroyers and auxiliary cruisers.

2 P.M.

SHADOWED BY SUBMARINE.

LONDON, To-Day. After being shadowed by a submarine, which it is believed was subsequently sunk by a British ship, the Baltic arrived safely at Liverpool at nine o'clock this morning from New York. When passengers reached London they were all full of the submarine story. Only one, however, ago from Plaskidd, New York, asserted that he actually saw it.

REVOLUTION AT PORT AU PRINCE.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, To-Day. A revolutionary movement against the Government of President Cull-laume broke out in this city at day-break. The rebellious troops of the Government attacked the presidential palace and continued firing upon it for two hours. A number of casualties occurred. President Cull-laume was in the palace resisting the attack of the rebels. The building itself is in flames.

FIXING THE FEE.

The newly-rich hostess was trying to engage a celebrated prima donna to sing at a reception. "What shall I be expected to pay you for a couple of songs?" said the hostess to the singer. "One hundred guineas," was the nonchalant reply. "What will be the selections that you will sing?" "I would like to sing the 'Liebster' from 'Tristan and Isolde,' and the 'Ah Perfido' of Beethoven." "Oh, ridiculous!" said the lady. "My guests would not care that sort of thing at all. I shall have to ask you to sing a couple of ballads." "In that case," said the singer, "I shall charge you one hundred and fifty guineas. I enjoy singing good music. It is painful to sing bad." The lady smiled, but agreed. Nevertheless, she felt that as she had been bested in a bargain she might as well insult the singer. "You will not be allowed to mingle with my guests," said she. "In that case," replied the singer, with perfect self-possession. "I shall charge you fifty guineas less."

Life Saving by Method.

A peculiar "business" venture has been in operation in Paris for some years and whose aim is to save the lives of the innocents. So far the scheme has paid a dividend of three per cent on the capital invested; but what is still more interesting is the fact that the company's efforts at saving the lives of poor children have been crowned with the most remarkable success. The company does not profess philanthropy. The initial step taken was to try and house the very poor in something like decent dwellings, and then attention was given to improving the milk supply, providing medical attention, etc. The first big tenement was erected by the company five years ago in Mentimontant, Paris. No tenants were taken unless they were blessed with large families—the larger the better. Clean rooms were provided and the rents ranged from thirty-two to sixty dollars a year. Scarcely was the tenement erected before there streamed to it the poor from all quarters of the city. Those who could make the best showing in the number of offsprings were allowed the first choice to rooms. When the rooms were all taken attention was immediately turned to the problem of reducing the death rate among the little ones. To this end the rule was made absolute, that there must be the utmost cleanliness; officials saw that the rooms were properly ventilated; the medical inspectors not only gave attention to the drainage, and other matters pertaining to health, but prescribed to all of the families and noted their general health. Nurses took care of little patients and mothers were given concise instructions as to the care of the young. This is, indeed, life-saving by method.

SMILE IN COURT.

At a recent trial one of the witnesses was a green countryman, unused to the ways of the law, but quick, as it proved, to understand its principles. After a severe cross-examination, the counsel for the prosecution paused, and then, putting on a look of severity, exclaimed: "Mr. Kilkins, has not an effort been made to induce you to tell a different story?" "A different story from what I told, sir?" "That is what I mean."

"Yes, sir; several persons have tried to get me to tell a different story from what I have told, but they couldn't."

"Now, sir, upon your oath, I wish to know who those persons are." "Well, I guess you've tried 'bout as hard as any of them."

Brother John's Remarkable Prophecy

A Monk Who Lived in 1690, Three Hundred Years Ago.

The real Antichrist will be one of the monarchs of his time, a Lutheran Protestant. He will invoke God and give himself out as his Messenger (or apostle).

This prince of lies will swear by the Bible. He will represent himself as the arm of the Most High, sent to chastise corrupt people and to prove, his celestial mission.

For a long time he will act by craft and strategy. His spies will overrun the earth and he will be master of the secrets of the mighty.

He will have learned men in his pay who will maintain and undertake to prove, his celestial mission.

A war will furnish him with the opportunity of throwing off the mask which he will wage against a French monarch. But it will be one of such a nature that after two weeks all will realize its universal character.

Not only all Christians and all Mussulmans, but even other distant peoples will be involved. America will be enrolled from the four quarters of the globe.

For, by the third week, the angels will have opened the minds of all those who will perceive that the man Antichrist, and that they will all be among his slaves if they do not overthrow this conqueror.

Antichrist will be recognized by various tokens; in especial he will massacre the priests, the monks, the women, the children of the priests. He will show no mercy, but will burn torch in hand, like the barbarians but invoking Christ.

His words of imposture will resemble those of Christians, but his actions will be those of Nero and other Roman persecutors. He will invade the eagle in his arms, and there will be an eagle also in the arms of his federate, another had monarch.

In order to conquer Antichrist will be necessary to kill more than Rome has ever contained, will need the energies of all kingdoms, because the cock, the pard, and the white eagle will be able to make an end of the eagle without the aid of the pard and vows of all the human race.

Never will humanity have a triumph of Antichrist would be the triumph of the demon, who will have possession of his personality.

The black eagle, who will come from the land of Luther, will make surprise attack on the cock from the other side, and will invade the neck of the cock up to one-half.

The white eagle who will come from the North will fall upon the black and the other eagle, and completely invade the land of Antichrist. The black eagle will be forced to let go the cock, and to fight the white eagle, whereupon the cock will have to pursue the white eagle into the land of Antichrist.

All the white eagles, who will be as nothing compared to those which will take place in the Fatherland country; for seven will simultaneously pour out of their dens upon the land.

In other words, the Land claims the extermination of the Antichrist.

Men will be able to cross the over the bodies of the dead, whose places will change the courses of streams. Only the bodies of the noble, the highest captains and princes will be buried; or the carriage of the battlefields.

The After Fifty Years.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

I think there are two milestones in which seem more definite than all the rest a and which we pass more unawfully. I had almost said lingeringly, but alas, there can be no lingering in this journey for when we most long to linger we are hurried along the most inexorably.

The first is the milestone which marks our progress from the twenties into the thirties.

The second is the half century mark.

Sometime ago I wrote you a few words of encouragement for the after thirty-years; to-day I want to say something about the after fifty years.

A Business Career Begun At Forty Seven.

I have a friend who has brought up five children and seen them all launched on successful careers. Two years ago she celebrated her fiftieth birthday. Where is she now? Resting in her home after her full and useful life, beginning to reminisce instead of anticipate, occupying herself with the second hand duties of grandmotherhood? Not a good deal. She has gone back into the world of business which she left years ago for her home duties and after a self-imposed three years apprenticeship, she has obtained a fine position in the advertising department of a big shop. She is healthy and happy. She will stop when she is no longer able to do her beloved work and not for any milestone, however terrifying its name.

Another woman told me this story. Her father died, heartbroken over the loss of all his money, just before his last child was born. His wife, already the mother of a large family of children was about forty-five. Before the child was born this wonderful mother had learned telegraphy and after its birth she took a responsible position and by her earnings sent three children through college. She lived to be eighty, still hale and hearty.

History is full of examples of people who did not let the half century mark bother them in the slightest. Chaucer wrote his Canterbury Tales on which his fame chiefly rest when he was sixty-one.

Dr. Johnson finished his "Lives of the Poets" at seventy-two and afterwards set himself to learn Low Dutch to prove that his mind was still active. Cato learned Greek after eighty and Plutarch, Latin, at the same advanced age.

The Italians have a record of a Ludovico Monaldesco wrote the history of his own times at the age of one hundred and fifteen.

Began to Write at Sixty.

In our own day De Morgan, now the author of a small library of books, and considered one of the best authors of the day, wrote his first book after he was sixty.

Age like many other things is partly psychological. The mere fact that he is over fifty sometimes inhibits a man from living as fully and forcefully as he might if he didn't know he had passed the half century mark.

Others have made the after fifty years as good as those that came be-

GUESS WORK.

Oh, many men are feeling sunny, because they think they're making money, and building up a roll, when, if they'd just come to their senses, and count the shillings, pounds and pence, they'd find they're in the hole. The farmer sells a bunch of cattle, and when he hears the doubletons rattle and clink-clank in his pouch, he cries aloud, in manner breezy, "I'm headed for the street named Easy—I surely am no slouch!" But if you ask him what it cost him to feed those cattle, you will frost him, and jar him 'neath his hat; he keeps no record of expenses; he just dumps fodder o'er the fences, and lets it go at that. Thus many men who think they're winning, who to the bank go, widely grinning, with every day's receipts, are losing ground and do not know it, they have no books on hand to show it, they strike no balance sheets. Some day the sheriff in his helmet, will come to them and say, "Ah, well! I just was seeking you! Your creditors will all feel safer when on your door I stick this wafer—your bills are long past due!"

Fishery Report.

The following reports of the codfishery are now posted at the Board of Trade:

July 24. From T. Hogan, (Carbon-car to Western Bay).—The total catch is 1,860 with $20 for last week. Thirty-five punts and 140 traps are fishing. There is enough caplin for bait but no fish with hook and line.

July 24. From B. Perry, (Catalina).—Prospects are very poor. Forty dozens and skiffs, 77 traps and 6 boats are fishing and the catch to date is 2,100 qts. A few traps are doing well but others nothing and the estimated catch for each is about 25 qts. Caplin is plentiful. The schr. Annie has arrived from the Southern Shore with 100 qts. and taken supplies for Labrador.

To rid a room quickly of flies, heat a shovel or any similar article and drop twenty drops of carbolic acid on it. The vapor kills flies.

Truth is Supreme!

We pride ourselves on saying that no article leaves our store that does not comply with all the claims we make for it.

In offering this season's teas we have no hesitation in saying that a finer or better tea than "Homestead" has never been offered at the price.

QUALITY—then price, that's Homestead way.

There's a smile in every cup of Homestead.

added the destruction of myriads who will die from hunger and pestilence. It will be made manifest that the combat, to be fought out in that part of the country in which Antichrist forges his arms, is no human conflict. The three animals, defenders of the Lamb, will exterminate the last army of Antichrist. But it will be necessary to make of the field of battle a funeral pyre as great as the greatest of cities, for the corpses will have altered the features of the land by forming ranges of little hills.

Drugery.

By the adoption of modern gas appliances you may abolish drugery from your home.
GAS COOKERS eliminate the drudgery of lighting fires, the handling of coal and ashes, and enable you to prepare meals in half the time required with old-fashioned appliances.

NOTE.—It is important that Gas Cookers and other appliances be kept perfectly clean and free from grease. Use "SO-KLEAN" enamel cleaner. It will quickly remove all stains and grease from metal or enamel. 25 cents per packet.—Jy23,15

This Evening's Game.

Irish Win Easily Burke Makes Record.

Six goals to nil was what the B.I.S. defeated the Casuals by in last evening's football match. Out of the total number, Burke, the Irish inside right, scored five goals and was responsible for the other one, thus establishing a record in the local arena that is likely to remain unbeaten for some time.

Commencing to-day the Reid Nfld. Co. will operate a tri-weekly train service to Trepassay in conjunction with the regular daily service to Renews.

To-Morrow's Attraction

The Mount Cashel Garden Party, which takes place to-morrow afternoon, promises to be the biggest success yet. The principal attractions are the six mile road race from Torbay, for which our best known long distance runners are in training and eight competitors have entered so far; the pony races, which is a new departure and should prove of more than ordinary interest.

Continues successful.—The cod fishery on the local grounds continues to be a phenomenal success. Yesterday boats at the Battery got record fares, some fishermen got as high as ten boat loads from their traps.

A minute prior to the close of last evening's football match, J. Kavanagh, of the B. I. S., who was training for to-morrow's road race and who was looked upon as a likely winner, accidentally received a kick in the ankle and had to be taken to a doctor for treatment.

the ball with his hand and a "penalty" was awarded. Burke placed the ball safely in the net. Two minutes later and Burke again scored one of the prettiest goals for the season, followed by a corner. The B.I.S. kept up the attack and Burke shot swiftly, the ball coming off Gonis's leg and dropping in the net. The Casuals went to pieces, and the B.I.S. overhauled the goal. Before the first period ended Jackman registered the 4th. The next half also opened in favor of the Casuals, but they did not hold on long, as the Irish combination was too strong.

Mild. Soldier in S.W.A.
Mrs. W. Lewis, of York Street, is in receipt of a letter from her son Will, who is serving with an Engineer Corps in South West Africa. In his letter he states that during the recent revolt, which was so speedily checked by Botha, his corps performed much strenuous work in the way of bridging and mining. Will Lewis will be remembered as one of the first members of the C.L.B. in this city. He served in the South African War and won two medals during the campaign. After the declaration of peace he visited this city and spent a short time in camp with the C.L.B. during the summer of 1902. Since his return to South Africa, he has been making good as a contractor. Now that the trouble in the land of his adoption is over he expects to get to England and thence to the front. He has a brother Ralph, at the front with the Canadians.
No Cause for Alarm.
The s.s. Newfoundland, Capt. Davis, entered port last night, bringing a cargo of coal from North Sydney. She was about nine and a half days. There was some anxiety felt for the ship as she was not reported since leaving here. On the way to North Sydney the engine became deranged in the engine room. The ship was practically stopped for several hours while repairs were being effected, but beyond the delay nothing else out of the ordinary happened.
