CHAPTER XXIV.

"Why should I lie down?" said Nora, with a laugh. "I'm not in the least frightened. It is such a small affair. You should see a prairie in flame! That's something like a blaze, and appalling. The panelling caught fire through a missing brick, or something of the kind, in the stove in the bill-room."

"Ah, yes!" said Mrs. Feltham, shaking her head. "Strangely enough Jack was saying that fireplace should be removed and a new one put in. He was in there one day and, I suppose, he thought of everything—poor Jack!"

"It was always Jack! A trumpety fire could not take place without his being dragged into the matter. Nora frowned.

"Why 'poor' Jack?" she asked, with a smile that masked her irritation. "Pshaw! How the place smells! This room will have to be done up. I think I shall alter it." She looked round thoughtfully. "It is one of the best rooms in the house, and I should like to have it for my own."

"She was silent again for a moment or two, as if she was thinking of the time when Jack and his patron had spent so many hours there.

"No, I won't have it altered. I'll keep it just as it is. It has a nice, comfy look. Yes, I'll have it for my own; but nothing shall be altered. Look, my hands are quite black! I helped them move that safe, and tremendously heavy it was! It gave Forbes and the rest of them the first bit of real exercise they've had for years, I imagine. I'll go up and wash my hands."

money should go to Jack Chalfont. For a second or two she was overwhelmed by this dismay; then her heart rose, for her reversion to her old condition of poverty meant freedom, relief. Now she could tell Lord Ferndale that she did not love him and would not marry him; for now, by the breach of her engagement, she would not be depriving him of the money which would restore the fallen fortunes of the Abbey. The colour returned to her face, and she breathed a sigh of genuine relief as she went straight to Mrs. Feltham's room.

"See what I have found," she said quite calmly, but with an anticipatory pleasure in Mrs. Feltham's amazement. "It's something I found behind the safe when we moved it." "Something behind the safe? What is it, dear?" asked Mrs. Feltham. "Only a will of Mr. Chalfont's, leaving everything to Jack—I mean Mr. John Chalfont," replied Nora, with a faint smile.

Mrs. Feltham stared at her aghast, the outstretched document mechanically, and perused it with knit brows.

"Great heavens!" she exclaimed under her breath. "Yes, I suppose it is. It's—it's quite plain; even I can understand it. Jack!" Then she grew pale, and murmured, as she put her arm round Nora's waist, "Oh, my dear!"

Nora allowed her head to rest on the sympathetic bosom for a moment or two, then she looked up and laughed softly, and her eyes were actually sparkling.

who witnessed them. They remembered signing twice.

"It does not matter," she said decidedly. "I do not care which was signed last. The estate is Mr. John Chalfont's; I do not mean to hold it from him. I intend to surrender it."

"One moment! Listen to me, Miss Norton," said Horton, frowning. "You really must not act rashly, do anything on the impulse of the moment. I cannot allow you. I am your solicitor, you must remember. It is my duty to protect your interests."

"Thank you very much," said Nora. "But what about Jack—Mr. Chalfont?" "Mr. Chalfont must protect his own interests," responded Mr. Horton curtly, his lips straight. "It is my duty to protect yours. Another thing; you must remember that Mr. Chalfont made a will in your favour because he was under a great debt, some obligation the nature of which we do not know."

"Who found this, and where?" he asked, in the lawyer's sharp, incisive tones.

"I found it behind the safe when we moved it to get at the fire," replied Nora. "It is Mr. Chalfont's will, is it not? It is all right?"

"It is Mr. Chalfont's will," he echoed, "and it is all right. That is," he added quickly, "if it was signed after the other one."

"The one which left me the money?" said Nora.

"Exactly. If yours was signed last, you are still in rightful possession of the estate. Surely you understand that?"

A STYLISH SUIT.

Cost—$25.00. Coat Pattern 2556, and Skirt Pattern 2442. This will make a splendid suit in Jersey cloth, gabardine broadcloth, serge, satin, velvet or corduroy. For separate skirt and coat one could have plaid or check suiting for the skirt, and serge for the coat. The collar of satin or velvet or of the material of the skirt. The pockets are a new feature. The vest of the coat may be omitted. The Coat Pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 40-inch material for a 38-inch size. The Skirt is cut in 7 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure. Size 24 will require 2 1/2 yards of 44-inch material. The skirt measures about 1 1/2 yard at the foot.

Thomson and James were sent for and came in.

"Are those your signatures?" demanded Mr. Horton.

Both men declared that the signatures were theirs.

"Now look again, very carefully, and think before answering my question. You, Thomson, can you tell me whether this paper was the one signed before or after the other?"

A SMART DRESS FOR MANY OCCASIONS.

2535—Black satin was employed for this design with self-covered buttons for decoration on the peplum. One could have a touch of color in binding or piping, on the free edges of the dress. The skirt is mounted on a body lining. The peplum waist is finished separately. This is nice for serge with matched silk or satin, in some pretty contrasting shade. Jersey cloth, suiting, gabardine and velveteen are also suitable.

The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 requires 5 1/2 yards of 40-inch material. The skirt measures about 1 1/2 yard at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Parcel Post for Mld. Expeditionary Forces!

The attention of the public is drawn to the very urgent necessity of strictly observing the regulations published by this Department from time to time concerning the despatch of parcels to members of the Regiment overseas and the following particulars should be strictly observed:

- (1) Parcels must not exceed eleven pounds.
- (2) Parcels should be addressed with the Regimental number, rank, name and surname of addressee, followed by the last known address of the Unit with which the individual was serving; for example: No. 0978 Cpl. John J. Kent, 2nd Battalion The Royal Newfoundland Regt., Hazeley Down Camp, Winchester, Hant's Camp, England.
- (3) Parcels should bear the name and address of a second addressee to whom the parcel may be delivered or forwarded, if it should prove impossible to deliver to the first. The Original address should be written on the FRONT of the parcel where the postage stamps and customs declaration are affixed, and the second or alternative address should be written on the BACK of the parcel.
- (4) If second address is not furnished at the time of posting and delivery cannot be effected, the contents of the parcel, unless of exceptional value or of a personal nature, will be turned over to the Military Authorities for distribution.
- (5) Parcels containing articles of personal nature or of special value will be returned if request for their return, in case of non-delivery, is made by the sender, such request to be written on the cover of the parcel at the time of posting.
- (6) The procedure outlined in (4) and (5) is adopted at the suggestion of the British Post Office, to prevent the waste of a large quantity of perishable food stuffs which form the contents of 90 per cent. of parcels sent to soldiers.
- (7) Parcels should be packed securely.

Attention is drawn to the Notice concerning Christmas parcels recently published by the Postmaster General. All Christmas mail for B. E. F. should be posted in time to arrive at the Pay and Record Office, London, not later than the end of November.

New Austrian Note Plight--Great Suffering--33,000 Prisoners

WAR REVIEW.

Over a front of some sixty miles from the Brenta River in the Northern Italy to the vicinity of the Adriatic Sea the Austro-Hungarians are being violently attacked by Italian, British, French and American troops. In the mountain region the enemy is resisting desperately and holding his ground fairly well, but east of the Piave River he is in flight across the plains of Treviso shaping his course over the same territory through which he drove the Italians a year ago and reached the eastern edge of the plains of Venetia. Already numerous towns have been liberated, 33,000 prisoners have been taken and large numbers of guns and machine guns and huge quantities of stores have fallen into the hands of the Allied troops. Far behind the lines Allied aviators are heavily bombarding enemy columns in dense masses which are in retreat over the badly congested roads leading eastward toward the Austrian frontier. Judging the situation from the rapid advance the Allies are making it would appear that the entire enemy front has broken east of the Piave, and that with the cavalry operating far in advance of foot troops the enemy forces will be unable to reform their battle line until the Austrian border is reached. It is not unlikely that many of the Austro-Hungarians are doomed to capture or extermination by the Allies. On the Western front in France and Belgium there has been a marked diminution in the intensity of the infantry activity. Along the British line there have been only patrol encounters and reciprocal bombardments.

AUSTRIAN RETREAT.

AT ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS ON THE PIAVE, Oct. 29.—Austrian forces are retreating under ever increasing pressure, and it is felt that the attack against the enemy will become overwhelming as soon as the entire Allied force can enter the action. With three successive days of fine weather an extremely large body of troops with supplies have crossed the Piave. It is expected that the Austrian munition supply will give out. There are indications that the enemy's heavy artillery is being withdrawn in an effort to save the big guns.

ALLIES' BIG BAG.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Thirty-three thousand Austrian troops, hundreds of guns and innumerable machine guns have been captured by Italians and Allied forces on the Italian front, said an official despatch to-day from Rome. The 32nd American Infantry Regiment has gone into action and the fighting now extends practically all along the course of the Piave River. The Austrians are being driven back.

On the Western front in France and Belgium there has been a marked diminution in the intensity of the infantry activity. Along the British line there have been only patrol encounters and reciprocal bombardments.

AUSTRIAN RETREAT.
AT ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS ON THE PIAVE, Oct. 29.—Austrian forces are retreating under ever increasing pressure, and it is felt that the attack against the enemy will become overwhelming as soon as the entire Allied force can enter the action. Within three successive days of fine weather an extremely large body of troops with supplies have crossed the pontoon bridge over the Piave. It is expected that the Austrian munition supply will give out. There are indications that the enemy's heavy artillery is being withdrawn in an effort to save the big guns.

ALLIES' BIG BAG.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Thirty-three thousand Austrian troops, hundreds of guns and immovable machine guns have been captured by Italians and Allied forces on the Italian front, said an official despatch to-day from Rome. The 32nd American Infantry Regiment has gone into action and the fighting now extends practically all along the course of the Piave River. The Austrians are resisting stubbornly, throwing in many new divisions, but have not been able to stop the advancing force. The number of prisoners captured up to the present moment amounts to 802 officers and 32,198 men. Hundreds of guns have also been captured. It is impossible to calculate the number of machine guns which have fallen into our hands.

AUSTRIANS IN CRITICAL POSITION.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 30.—The Austrian Army Corps on the left wing has retired in disorder, leaving behind war material and several hundred guns. The Sixth Austrian Army Corps is said to be in a very critical position, engaged in heavy defensive fighting on the hills between Voldobbiadene and the Soligo River. Aviators are actively assisting the Italian operations by bombing artillery transport wagons in retreat. Touching demonstrations by the populations of recaptured towns are said to be occurring everywhere, as the Italian troops march on. In Albania, the despatches add, Italian troops have captured the town of San Gijanni Di Medua, and the Italian forces are advancing on Scutari. The despatch said the Austrian prisoners taken in the past three days in the drive across the Piave, now number 32,000.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.
ROME, Oct. 29.—The text of the official statement issued at the war office to-night reads in part as follows: The enemy attacked frontally by the eighth and twelfth armies and threatened on his flank by the tenth army has been forced to abandon the heights on the left bank of the Piave and hard pressed by our troops, is retreating. To the north on the right bank of the Piave other troops in co-operation with those on the left bank have passed beyond Calcinotrent after a brilliant struggle. Bitter fighting is taking place in the region of Monte Grappa. The capture of another thousand prisoners is announced and more than 150 guns have been taken.

FRENCH GAIN NEW SUCCESSES.
PARIS, Oct. 30.—General Doheny's first army has gained new successes in the encircling of Guise, according to the official statement from the war office to-day. public immediately the new German note nor would there be an announcement to-day of a reply to Austria.

ANOTHER REPORT.

NEWFOUNDLAND CASUALTIES.

BRUSSELS TO BE EVACUATED.
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, and BELGIUM, Oct. 29.—According to prisoners, Brussels is shortly to be evacuated and a line established between Antwerp and Namur.

BRITISH ADVANCE IN PALESTINE.
LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Turks were heavily engaged by the British Tuesday north of Kaleb Sperghat, the official report on the Mesopotamia operations says. The British captured 1,200 Turks the statement says. On Saturday evening our cavalry moving up the east bank of the Tigris forded the river north of Kaleb, joined the armored cars which approached from the west and established themselves astride the Turkish communications with Mosul.

AMERICANS TAKE VILLAGES.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—American troops operating north of Verdun, have occupied Aincreville and established their lines north of the village, General Pershing reported late to-day. Lively artillery fighting occurred during the night at various points along the front. In the Woerpe our patrols successfully engaged hostile detachments and captured prisoners.

ENEMY ATTACK REPULSED.
PARIS, Oct. 30.—The War Office communication to-night says: Local operations in the region south of Guise enabled us to occupy several enemy trenches and to approach the road running between Guise and Herie La Vieil. Our troops continued their offensive between Banongne and Harry taking prisoners. West of St. Fergex and near Hill 145 very spirited engagements occurred. Our troops resisted several enemy counter attacks.

ONLY PATROL ENCOUNTERS.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—On the British front in France, Field Marshal Haig announces in his statement to-day, that there has been no activity except patrol encounters, in which the British troops advanced and captured a few hundred prisoners.

BELGIAN CAPTURES.
HAVRE, Oct. 29.—The official communication from Belgian headquarters to-night says in part: The situation is without change. In the period between October 14 and 27, the total number of prisoners captured on the front was 18,293, of whom 331 were officers. Between Oct. 14 and 27th 509 cannon were captured and twelve thousand machine guns.

AUSTRIA SENDS ANOTHER NOTE.
VIENNA, Oct. 29.—Count Julius Andriassy has sent another note to the United States. The note says: Immediately after having taken direction of the ministry of Foreign Affairs, the despatch of the official answer to your note of Oct. 13, by which you were able to see that we accept all the points and principles laid down by President Wilson in his various declarations and are in complete accord with the efforts of President Wilson to prevent future wars and to create a League of Nations we have taken the preparatory measures in order that Austrians and Hungarians may be able, according to their own desires and without being in any way hindered, to make a decision as to the future organization and to rule it. Since the accession to power of Emperor King Charles his immovable purpose has been to bring an end to the war. More than ever this is the desire of the sovereigns of all the Austro-Hungarian peoples who acknowledge that their future destiny can only be accomplished in a peaceful world by being freed from all the disturbances, privations and sorrows of war. This is why I address you directly, Mr. Secretary of State, praying that you will have the goodness to intervene with the President of the United States in order that in the interests of humanity, as in the interests of all those who live in Austria-Hungary, an immediate armistice may be concluded on all fronts, and for an overture that immediate negotiations for peace will follow.

BELIEVES AUSTRIA IN DESPERATE FLIGHT.
PARIS, Oct. 30.—The second note of Count Julius Andriassy the Austrian Foreign Minister to President Wilson is here interpreted as evidence that Austria is in a desperate plight and has exhausted her powers of resistance.

WILL NEGOTIATE DIRECT WITH ITALY.
LONDON, Oct. 30.—Count Andriassy, the Austrian-Hungarian Foreign Minister, has resolved to initiate direct peace negotiations with Italy, Austria's sole antagonist, according to a Vienna telegram received in Copenhagen and transmitted by the Central News Agency.

PANIC IN WEST GERMANY.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—(British Wireless Service).—The civilian departure from the lower Rhine land and part of Westphalia which had begun on a small scale when the first allied bombs hit Cologne has developed into a panic flight, according to the Hague correspondent of the Daily Mail. All the banks are being stormed by depositors who are withdrawing their deposits. The working people of Cologne seeing the war factories closed down, the big houses evacuated, and the east-bound trains crowded with well-to-do fugitives, are demanding immediate peace more insistently than ever. Demonstrations have been increasingly violent. A manifesto has been issued by a section of the Social Democrats declaring that if the Emperor does not voluntarily abdicate he will be removed. It says if the necessity arises and the hour comes the organized masses will remove every hindrance to peace which does not voluntarily yield to the will of the huge majority of the people.

Antiquated Method.

There are certain methods in vogue in the Customs Department of this Dominion that neither time, progress nor the convenience of importers can apparently change.

The present system in the examination of goods imported is one of great antiquity and dates back to days out of memory.

Is This Correct? An evening contemporary yesterday published the following item: "A patient who died from influenza was buried last week without any religious ceremony.

Halloween. To-day Oct. 31 is the vigil of Halloween of All Saints Day. The singular observance characteristic of this evening will be found in the well known poem of Robert Burns.

Yesterday's Funerals. The funeral of the late ex-Sergt. Carey took place yesterday, a guard from the Constabulary and Sergt. Savage attending.

Use Formalcymene. And keep off "Spanish Flu." An old expression revived—"Go to the Kaiser."

Despite a sterner censorship, there must be a growing feeling in Germany that Foch has played some mean trick on Hindenburg.

A ship of 9,000 tons deadweight, would stand as follows: Dead weight carrying capacity, 9,000 tons; gross tonnage, 5,000; net registered 3,000; displacement, 12,000.

It is believed that with the introduction of the new disinfectant, Formalcymene, in a few days the cowardly influenza germ will be throwing up his hands and crying "Kamerad."

A keg of butter has been found in an Irish bog in good condition, though it is thought to be two hundred years old. This will put our cold storage kings on their mettle.—Quebec Telegraph.

Canada is to have a distinctive Canadian mercantile marine flag. It will be the regular flag of the Canadian coasting trade.

Steam Shovel To Bury Dead.

New York, Oct. 28.—A steam shovel was set up in one of New York's cemeteries to dig a trench in which to bury temporarily, the bodies of victims of Spanish influenza.

The Lure of the Half Built House
By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

The other day as I passed a new house-to-be, of which the foundation beams were laid and the floor joists were being put in place, I felt the queerest feeling tug at my heart and carry me back across the years.

Can you guess what it was? An almost overwhelming desire to climb up the skeleton steps onto that foundation and walk across the floor beams.

A Great Adventure Begins.

Do you remember when you were a child, what a great adventure it was to have a new house go up in the neighbourhood?

Do you remember how the joyous news flew about that some men were digging a foundation in the vacant lot around the corner, and how all the children in the neighbourhood immediately materialized on the spot in the magic way that a crowd appears after an accident on a street that a moment before seemed deserted?

Perhaps our parents regretted that the new house would cut off a view or take away somebody's sunshine or make the neighbourhood less open. We were not anxious about such distant evils; we saw in it only the vast possibilities of play and excitement.

The Delightful Danger.

If I had to analyze the lure of the half-built house as a playground, I should be unable to do it. I suppose the tang of danger in the skeleton stairs and the half-laid floors, was the largest factor. In our town there was another touch of romance to the half built house—a fearful romance which always made mothers uneasy when houses were being built in the neighbourhood. For, once on a time in my childhood, three little children in the next town got shut up in a half built house in a little sink closet with a snap lock on it. The whole neighbourhood was aroused by the frightened parents when the children did not come to tea, and hunted with lanterns all through the nearby wood and even got ready to drag the river. When someone found them in that little closet, it was too late for two of them. The one who lived was always a heroine among the other children. I remember once being invited to come over and play with a little girl whom she was to visit. I did not care greatly for my hostess but went with much the same spirit which makes it worthwhile for the vaudeville to list a Harle Le Blanc or an Evelyn Thaw among its features. And alas I was doomed to disappointment, for the headliner failed to appear.

That Sad Moment When The Lock Was Put On.

Exactly what we played in the half built houses on the long, glorious Saturdays, or in the bitter-sweet shortness of the afterschool hour, I cannot seem to remember. But the tardiness with which we answered the supper bell on such occasions, the regret with which we saw the front door hung and the lock put onto the finished house, are poignant memories. Sometimes—as on the day of which I speak—the sight of a half finished house brings them back to me. And again if I pass a fragrant pile of cut lumber, they are called up by that most potent memory summoner of all the senses.

If I could have just a few days in my childhood to live over again, one of them would surely be an autumn Saturday in a half built house.

THE YANKEE WAY.
When a Yankee gets a-going Never there's a way of knowing Just how far he's apt to travel Or what deeds he's apt to do: Once his nimble feet get started In a fashion that's whole-hearted, He goes right about his business And he sees his problems through. He's not ordered by a chime clock, And he hates to punch a time clock; Though he likes a bit of leisure Or a hunt that needs pursuing, He goes after it with vigor Like a beagle chasing hare. Even after you have told him Where to stop, you cannot hold him. Downed, he'll try to squirm like a football.

For an extra yard or two; And when one task is completed, On the bench he won't be seated If another job confronts him That he thinks he ought to do.

When a Yank goes into action He's all fire and perfect traction. He's been trained to think and do things.

And if need be can lead: He goes after goals man-fashion And he has one ruling passion Which is summed up in his constant And insistent cry for speed. Rules and regulations vex him; And the long delays perplex him; When he starts he likes to finish, Now he's out to get the Hun. And I rather fancy Willie, That he'll never quit until he can report to Mr. Wilson That the job is hand is done.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DANDRUFF.

Milady's Boudoir

If you will look around you will notice that there are more working women with fine figures and healthy faces, than among the unemployed ones. There is everything in ones mental attitude toward a thing. Of course there is something in the pleasure of company and something in the delight of movements to music but it is largely in the mental attitude.

If you drop your embroidery, or needle or threads, do not call for someone to pick them up, but arise quickly, stand firmly upon both feet, heels together, and stoop over without bending the knees, pick up the dropped article, and feel grateful to it for giving you the chance to exercise. Dusting is the best exercise you can take. You can stoop over, always without bending the knees, reach up, stretching and exercising the arms and shoulders.

If you want an exercise to "limber the muscles, just walk quickly about the room and pick up scraps from the floor without pausing in your walk. You can cultivate agility of limb and quickness of eyesight by this little household duty.

One does not have to go to a gymnasium for exercise if she has work to do at home, and every girl, no matter how luxuriously brought up, should be compelled to make her own bed and clean her room. It only for the exercise it will give her. Washing and hanging up clothes in the yard and ironing them is all fine exercise, which has been modified for that beneficial purpose by the new inventions of machinery.

It is all a question of choice whether a woman groans and moans and worries herself until she has cultivated a disagreeable face and a slouching form from discontented resentment of her work, or a fine formed, well rounded, symmetrical figure and a happy, contented, beautiful face from the joy of finding the opportunity for healthy exercise while she is doing her household duties.

Germany's Broken Merchant Marine.

(Montreal Herald.)

The Germans are beginning to wall and moan about their lost fleets of merchant vessels. For instance, Herr Heineken, the director-general of the German shipping company, in a recently published year book of that company, says: "Economically from the point of view of the German navy, the American intervention—it would be folly to deny it—has been a hard blow to Germany. Our best, indeed, our most precious vessels, some of which are in fact irreplaceable, have been confiscated. And now these vessels are being transported to France and England America's troops and ammunition. Of course, it is not merely the Norddeutscher Lloyd which has to suffer from this measure. The other German companies have met the same fate. In addition, the prohibition imposed upon the agents of German offices to communicate with their correspondents has been no less harmful to the above mentioned companies. The net of lines which we have established with so much toil in the United States has been torn, and it will take years before we can reorganize them."

Yes, and that is not all. Spain has recently given Germany a hint of what is coming. Spain is appropriating interned German vessels to take the place of Spanish vessels sunk by submarines. The Allies will doubtless make it a condition of the peace terms that Germany shall hand over her remaining vessels to help recompense the Allies for ships illegally sunk by German submarines.

THE HOUSEWORK PROBLEM.

Each day I meet a somewhat-doleful dame who drags along her weary frame, and says, "It beats—the hand! This doing housework makes me tired; there are no damsels to be hired in all this war-struck land. I used to bask in glided ease; but now I have to shell the peas, and dust the blooming chairs, and mop the ceilings and the floors, and manicure the walls and doors, and sweep the cellar stairs. And if by chance I get a maid I lie awake, I'm so afraid that she will up and quit; but then it's no use to repine, we have to smile and fall in line, and try to do our bit." We must admire the stately dames who pass up all the idle games that used to take their time, and toil around the kitchen stove, and season pumpkin with a clove, to make a pie sublime. They're digging up the household lore they used to know in days of yore, ere riches came their way; they're shedding silks and diamond rings, in gingham gowns they're doing things, the things that surely pay. The more they work around the shack the less they'll think of going back to idle, trifling ways; they'll want to sew and bake and boil and keep in touch with useful toil the balance of their days.

Cereals are better and more nutritious cooked in skim milk instead of water.

A good floor oil and a dust mop gather dirt better than a scrubbing brush.

A soft, clean wool brush is excellent for taking the film of dust off the walls.

Run cranberries through the potato ricer while warm, then add the sugar.

Pathetic Sight.

A pathetic sight as was ever in this city was witnessed at 8 o'clock last evening, on Pleasant St. Twelve young boys, whose ages ranged from 10 to 18, had obtained a quantity of Florida water, and then helplessly drunk, and were rolling about the street. Evidently they went on Coronation St. and then they were seen by the police. The stuff is confiscated by the police and poured into the harbor, after for all concerned.

New Germicide.

The Anglo Newfoundland Development Co. purpose shortly placing on the market of a new germicide, produced and manufactured by their By-product department, the object of the same being to help in a measure the warding off of Spanish Influenza or any similar contagious disease. The Company are not doing this as a money making proposition, merely making a nominal charge for the disinfectant, sufficient only to cover the cost of manufacture. The name of the new disinfectant is Formaldehyde. It is put up in blocks about 1 1/4 inches square and 3/4 of an inch in thickness; is a perfect germicide, antiseptic and disinfectant, and if carried in the pocket or worn suspended from the neck, between the clothing will help to keep off disease. The odor is not unpleasant and is of a particularly pungent nature. Anything that will assist in keeping down the prevailing disease will be greatly appreciated by the public, and we predict a ready and ever-increasing sale for Formaldehyde.

MISS MARY MEALEY.
We regret to chronicle the passing of a popular young lady, Miss Mary Mealey, a nurse at the General Hospital, which took place yesterday at her home in Riverhead. She had been on a two weeks' vacation, and contracted Spanish influenza, which occasioned her death. Deceased, who was the daughter of Mrs. Mealey, Postmistress of the West End Post Office, had been a nurse at the Hospital for about sixteen months, and during that time, she endeared herself to everybody there. The remains were laid to rest at 2 o'clock to-day in the Belvedere Cemetery, a number of nurses from the Hospital being mourners. She leaves to mourn, her heart-broken mother, one sister, and one brother. To them we extend sincere sympathy.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 30. The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, a copy of which has been received here, says Dr. Richard Vo. Kuhlmann, former German Secretary of Foreign Affairs, will be one of the German representatives at the peace conference.

MORE REBELLION.
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 30. Advice received by Dutch newspapers from Cetinje, Montenegro, by way of Vienna, says the insurgent rising in Montenegro is spreading. Armed bands have occupied Niksic, Berano and Rojevica, and the Austro-Hungarians are evacuating the entire country hastily.

VICTORIOUS IN ITALY.
LONDON, Oct. 31. British forces fighting east of the Piave have reached the Livena River at Francenigo, and the Italians have occupied Oderzo according to an official statement on Operations in Italy issued at the war office to-day.

CZECHOSLOVAKS BUSY.
PARIS, Oct. 31. Communication between Agram and Fiume and Budapest and Vienna has been interrupted. The Czechoslovakians have cut the railroad between Berlin and Vienna, near Bodenbach, and German trains can go only as far as Bodenbach, according to a Zurich despatch to the Journal.

TOTAL SEPARATION.
PARIS, Oct. 31. The Croatian Parliament at Agram has voted for a total separation of Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia from Hungary, according to a Geneva despatch to the Matin. The despatch says that Agram is decked in national colors and that the people are celebrating the passage of the resolutions.

WILL BE WITHDRAWN.
VIENNA, Oct. 30. (Via London, 31.)—Austrian troops fighting on Italian soil will be withdrawn, according to an official statement issued by the war office to-night.

In the Italian theatre there has been only minor fighting activity on the Tyrolean front. Between the Brenta and the Piave fresh and superior enemy forces attacked Monte Asolo and Monte Pertica. Our troops with unexampled and soldiers' faithfulness brought all the enemy's efforts to naught.

NEMESIS.
PARIS, Oct. 31. The German Empress is very ill and weak, and a Berne despatch to the Petit Journal. It is said that she is haunted by the memory of the Russian revolution, and laments upon the abdication of the Emperor.

ALARM IN BUDAPEST.
TRICHL, Oct. 31. The rapid advance of the Allies in Serbia is causing the greatest alarm in Budapest, according to a Vienna despatch. It is feared that the Jugoslavians will cross the Croatian frontier, join the Allied troops and march on their territory. This is one of the reasons for the persistence with which Count Andrássy has asked for an armistice.

PACIFISTS SHOULD BE SHOT.
LONDON, Oct. 30. That the immediate release of all British prisoners will be insisted upon by the Government, as part of the armistice terms, is confidently expected here. Sir George Cave, the Home Secretary, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the Government is opposed upon Bulgaria in this matter would be insisted upon in any truce with Germany or Austria, and General Allenby had been instructed to follow the same policy in dealing with the Turks. Such a demand will be a very important factor, and it is not likely that the other Allies will show less regard for their nationals who are suffering in German camps. Even since the German peace overtures were launched they have not tended to instill any spirit of conciliation, forgiveness or leniency toward the enemy in British breasts. Yesterday's discussion in the House of Commons of the treatment of the British prisoners appeared to have been about the last straw breaking the back of British patience, which the country generally seems to think has been carried much too far. The Germans have only themselves to blame that these revelations came at a time so unfortunate for German interests. Old Parliamentarian speakers say that they have never seen such a bitter and stronger feeling pervade the House of Commons, and the same feeling has infected the whole country. The only group of members who held aloof was a handful of pacifists, who appeared to object to any unpleasant words about Germany more than they objected to the war. The general nature of the military guarantees, which the Allies will require, has been outlined, such as the occupation of strategic German bases, as well as the retirement of the German army to its own soil. Maritime guarantees are considered equally important to Great Britain. Their nature thus far is only speculative, but the internment of the German submarines, if not the surrender of the whole fleet, appears to be the minimum terms which would satisfy the British people. The sea is as important as the land to this island nation, and the only detail in President Wilson's fourteen points on which there is constant questioning is what the President means by "freedom of the seas." Suspicion is the word which still summarizes the public attitude toward the Central Powers' manoeuvres.

Price of Milk.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Evidently, the farmers, realizing that the end of the war is in sight and that when it does terminate they will have no excuse for enhancing their already exorbitant price, have decided to "make hay while the sun shines," by increasing the price of milk to 80 cents per gallon. I fail to see any justification whatever for such an increase as 25 per cent, though it might be true that imported feeds are now 100 per cent, higher than those obtaining in pre-war days. As everybody is thoroughly aware, the upkeep of cows during about six months of the year costs but little, if anything, yet notwithstanding this, no reduction in price is recorded during the summer months, and even if the price in winter, therefore, necessarily was 80 cents, less than half this price would suffice to give the farmer a fair profit from May to November, and therefore, an average of 60 cents per gallon during the entire year would probably be more than the farmers are justified in demanding.

Before the war these people were willing to dispose of potatoes, turnips and milk at $2.00, 80 cents, 25 cents and about 40 cents respectively, but now, unless they receive $5.00, $4.00, $1.20 and 80 cents respectively for them, they seem to imagine that the purchasers are "doing them in." But if people who must purchase these products, would strenuously object to paying such exorbitant prices, and would "come down with both feet," the farmers would be compelled to reduce their prices. Profiteering is partly due to the people themselves, for if they protested more than they do, they would obtain better treatment. When the farmers and others, however, are permitted to demand such exorbitant prices they become more arrogant, and subsequently experiment with another little increase of 25 per cent, or so.

I respectfully request the Food Control Board to prohibit this increase, and consequently save the lives of many babies, whose parents will certainly not be able to purchase milk at 80 cents per gallon.

Yours truly,
—B.P.

Why?

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Seeing that "Spanish Flu" is on the increase in this (not too clean) city and its spread is caused through contact and by mixing with others who are attending or in the same buildings with patients; why are the Nurses allowed in private houses in the city from the General Hospital, especially those who are nursing the illness, or plague if you wish to call it?

Perhaps the attending Physician at the G. H. is not aware of this, still it is going on and is certainly not right.

I am, Sir, yours in earnest regarding this terrible disease.

CABLE NEWS.

NO THANKS TO WILLIAM.
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 30.
The German people shall be the freest people in the world. This declaration was made by Emperor William in addressing the new State Secretary, October 21, according to a Berlin despatch, printed in the Rheinische Westfälische Zeitung, of Essen.

FURTHER NOTES FROM GERMANY.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 30.
Another note from the German government reached Washington to-day. It supplements the last brief communication saying armistice terms were wanted by reciting in detail the government changes which have taken place in Germany as evidence that the Kaiser has been deprived of all power of making war and negotiating peace. This time the Germans do not address President Wilson personally, but send the information for the American government, apparently recognizing that the stage of personal appeals has passed with the transmission of their armistice pleas to the Allies. It reiterates that the actual power and responsibility of the Government has been transferred to the Reichstag and describes the progress of the constitutional change. The note probably will be forwarded immediately to Paris where the Supreme War Council already is reported to have formulated terms upon which the United States and the Allies might permit a cessation of hostilities.

As word of the new German move came it was learned that President Wilson was working to-day on a reply to the last note from Vienna in which the Austrian government accepted all principles and conditions of the President and asked for an armistice and peace proposals. The reply which probably will be published before night is expected to inform the authorities at Vienna that on the basis of acceptance of all conditions including actual independence and not mere autonomy for subject nationalities the request has been referred to the government with which the United States is associated. Although officials here regard the Austro-German situation as far from clarified and are inclined to question how far the government at Vienna now is qualified to speak for any one, the understanding is that they are to deal with on the theory that as in the case of the Germans' acceptance of an armistice terms amounting to surrender in the field will be the best guarantee of faithful performance of any promises.

Don't Say Paper, Say The Evening Telegram

"I know exactly what is the matter with you, Jack. You have lost confidence."

"YOU were getting along fine until you had that nervous breakdown, but since then you have been worried and anxious."

"Now you have got discouraged and down-hearted, and it is no wonder you cannot make sales."

"The salesman must have lots of energy and vigor as well as confidence in himself and what he has to sell."

"But you cannot have confidence in anything so long as your nerves are weak and you spend the nights worrying instead of getting good, refreshing sleep."

"Take my advice, boy, and go straight to the drug store and get half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Then make up your mind that while you are using this you will get out into the fresh air all you can and forget to worry."

"Now, you may feel pessimistic after all the treatments you have been taking, but I know what I am talking about."

"My nerves were in a worse condition than yours ever were. I could scarcely get a wink of sleep, and did not care whether I got anything to eat or not."

"Besides, I got so irritable and down-hearted that nothing seemed to go right."

"The experience that I had enables me to sympathize with you now, and also to say that I am certain that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help you."

"It is entirely different to most medicines used for the nerves, because instead of merely stimulating the tired nerves to over-exertion, it nourishes them back to health and vigor."

"Now, Jack, you must give the Nerve Food a trial, and I know you will consider me your best friend for telling you about it."

Here is an interesting letter from another business man who had a similar experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food:

Mr. W. J. Wilson, Grocer, Perth, Ont., writes: "In sitting up this building for a grocery business I worked very hard, and after putting in my stock I continued plugging away, good and hard; too. I commenced to feel myself going down—my weight went from 180 pounds down to 154 pounds. My appetite began to fail, and, of course, upon retiring, I could not get a good night's rest. Sometimes after going to sleep my nerves would twitch, and I would wake up with a start, and then lie awake for hours. I remembered having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food before, so I started in again, and took a good treatment, using about half a dozen boxes. I soon felt my appetite returning, I could sleep well, and commenced gaining in weight, until I felt like a new man. From the benefits I have received from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I cannot speak too highly of it."

Coaker's
Bungalow.

In the whirligig of time we note the changes big and small,
And how the men of low estate emerge
from out their thrall;
How they crawl or climb or jostle, in
the run for pelf or place,
How they fool the "easy" fisherman,
and win the huncor race.
At the start, their humble notions,
their avowed distaste for style,
Captivate unwary mortals who lock
round the glowing pile;
Bill Coaker, in his "shack" down
north, a dozen years ago,
Now lives at Catalina, in a modern Bungalow.

In the classic creek of Coakerville,
surrounded by his sheep,
Bill Coaker struggled gamely for his bed and board and keep;
He fleeced the sheep in spring-time,
or whenever there was wool,
And between the dig and reels, he kept his larder fairly full.
But he pined for further conquest, and
O-pined that fisherman
Were easy marks for fooling, so a crusade started then;
In a decade he has risen from his farming toil and wear,
To his Catalina quarters, and his stylish Bungalow.

Now, the process leading onward to his present lordly ways,
Was the same old bluff and buncombe,
common in these latter days;
No prescription demagogic cries
against the rich and great,
The while he posed with Lazarus, poor and hungry at the gate.
The "under dog," the fisherman, still braves the cold and storm, Still sheds his sweat and muscle, to keep his household warm;
But Mister Coaker lives in style, as lots of people know,
And drives home in an Auto, to his fancy Bungalow.

No sunny southern costly trips were known to F. P. U.
Its members thought "The President"
was after markets new;
They understood that William was cruising through the States, Shanks Mare for locomotion, or at third class railway rates;
They little dreamed from what they heard, that Bill was "way up high,"
With hotel apartments gorgeous, half way upward to the sky;
It never dawned on them to think Bill
would go in for show,
And land in Catalina in a stylish Bungalow.

But William wasn't thinking of the fishermen, just then,
He saw his flood-tide rolling in,
which comes but once to men;
So he grabbed his brass stew caddy,
bag, and stuffed his duds inside.
Having first secured a "sleeper," with his tris and trunked guide;
He felt that fickle fortune must not be allowed to slip,
For the one chance in his life-time of
a continental cap;
And he dreamed continuously, as the
trains moved quick or slow,
That he'd have his own "Tin Lizzie"
at his modern Bungalow.

Mister Coaker called at Ottawa,
"which was against the rule."
But 'twas thought he needed teaching in Confederation school;
So this Tenderfoot was dined and
wined by politicians rare;
With intent to "educate" him for activities elsewhere.
The "President" absorbed the bait, and
wrote a diary,
In which he praised the noble men
who took him in' to tea;
Then returning to the sheep-fold, with big notions all aglow,
He selected Catalina, for his coze
Bungalow.

Port Union, Catalina, the Coaker plant
location,
Was an inconvenient distance from post and railway station;
So a gracious Union Government,
with money in galore,
Built a railway branch, two miles or so, to Coaker's trading door.
Not many business people strike so fortunate a wrist,
Which cost Fifty Thousand Dollars,
from a much-squeezed Public Chest;
But the educative crusade of that trip down south, you know,
Meant that post and rail facilities,
must touch the Bungalow.

Mister Coaker seems to think the
"under dog," is just a dog,
That must always mind the "President," and never drop his clog;
That his home, if but a kennel, is good enough for him.
For he knows that under Coaker he can always "sink or swim."
And as Coaker used to fleece the sheep, in lieu of their pension,
The "Under dog" can justly claim a similar attention;
But William F., that mighty man of bluff, and bounce, and show,
Gets his ham and eggs each morning,
In his stylish Bungalow.

Some day soon the veil will be removed, and men will understand,
That their years of patient confidence,
was in a spurious brand
Of modern reformation, and then they will get busy.
And hammer Coaker's methods, until Coaker gets quite dizzy.
They will demonstrate most certainly, that though they have been fooled,
The fooling must be stopped right off,
they won't be "bumco" rid;
If they have to live in humble cot,
with common food, they know
They won't pay for Coaker's "Auto," or his costly Bungalow.

Household Notes

Dates may be stuffed with seasoned cream cheese.
Never allow the weight of a brush
to come on its bristles.
If you starch pillow slips at all, let it be only the hems.
Put a threemint egg-timer with-
in sight of the telephone.
Dustless dust cloths can be made of old hosiery and underwear.
A couple of tarts are better than whole pies for a family of two.
Make loops of heavy white twine on the dish towels and dish cloths.
Wash the mica in the stove doors
with a cloth dipped in cider vinegar.
