ARGUMENT FOR VIADUCT U. S. EXPERTS ADDRESS BOARD

IS STRONGLY PRESENTED

Judge Killam Gives Slight Indication of Feeling of the Railway Commissioners—C. M. Hays Speaks for G. T. R.

ADVANTAGES TO RAILWAYS POSSESSED BY A VIADUCT

It seems altogether safe to assume that the Dominion railway commissioners will order the viaduct as a solution of the Esplanade's dangerous level crossing problem.

Yesterday morning, when the question was brought before the board at the session in the city hall, in reply to C. M. Hays, general manager of the G. T. R., Chairman Killam said that some time ago, when the question of expanding land for the Union Station was up, their chief engineer had called the attention of the board to the fact that the question of raising the tracks of the railways along the waterfront must be considered.

"I do not say," he continued, "that he has made a recommendation or expressed a settled view upon this subject, and certainly the members of the board have not, but he suggested it as a question of public importance that before long must be taken into consideration. This question was raised, and we have thought it desirable to clear the way as far as possible before the station plans were approved."

"Representatives of the board of trade have also placed before us the importance of greater protection being provided at street crossings, and we have also been applications before us in the case of isolated crossings, but the board is not bound to wait for them."

"I have already pointed out that we propose to take up these matters in a more systematic way than has hitherto been done, and not at all in a haphazard way, for we wish to give the protection that is required at such places."

"We are not here for any plans. We are here for information, and we do not want to be tied down to any particular plan."

"To Be Considered." In taking up the plans for the Union Station, what they had to consider was whether the railway tracks along the waterfront should be carried over the streets and level crossings be maintained, or the streets be raised, adding that they need not wait for other plans or an application in the matter, as they were vested with full power to take it up and decide it upon their own motion.

Walter Cassels, for the G. T. R., urged that the plans for the viaduct and other particular plans for either a viaduct or bridges were before them, but Judge Killam stated that the board had already asked the railways to submit plans and profiles of all their highway crossings in order that this important question might be considered in a more definite way. It was not proposed to abolish all level crossings at once, as this would impose a heavy burden upon the railways in such matters suit the circumstances of each case.

Mr. MacMurtry, for the C. P. R., joined with Mr. Cassels in his objection. As the C. P. R., south of the Esplanade, was on private property, the railway company did not cross the streets, he desired further to reserve any rights which the company possessed on these so-called streets.

Judge Killam: Our chief engineer says that the plans from your company are in for crossing in this city. Do they show the street crossings on the waterfront or not?

But Mr. MacMurtry was not aware of any such admission as to any streets south of the Esplanade. Attitude of G. T. R. C. M. Hays said that they came with the plans for the new station which had been under consideration for several months. And these plans showed how, in their opinion, the street crossings should be treated. The city's experts practically confirmed their view. Apart from their legal rights, which they wished to preserve as far as possible, what was there to discuss? They had seen no plans and did not know whether it was proposed to rip up all their tracks or only a certain portion of them. On the general question of abolishing grade crossings, every general manager was in hearty accord with the directors in eliminating them as they were dangerous. But two points now arose—the raising of capital by the railway companies to take care of their share of the cost, and the equitable distribution of it between the community and the company.

"The G. T. R. Co. is prepared," he continued, "to discuss the question at any time and desires to stand by the policy of abolishing grade crossings whenever any community reaches the point of considering their abolition as a matter of vital importance. Moreover, the G. T. R. Co. will stand one-half of the cost, and on general principles this is going as far as we have a right to concede in the interests of the shareholders in the G. T. R. Co."

HOUSE ON FIRE WHEN BABE COMES

While Doctor Was Busy Neighbors Extinguished the Flames-- "Both Doing Well"

Perhaps the most remarkable scene in the medical history of Canada was enacted early last evening in Wychwood Park, one of the city's little suburbs to the north, when in a room filled with the smoke from a fire raging in the lower portion of the house, a doctor successfully brought a little stranger into the world.

The wife of William Everett of St. Albans-avenue was under the influence of chloroform, with Dr. Corrigan in attendance, when an overheated stove set fire to the woodwork in the kitchen below.

While neighbors flocked to the rescue as a bucket brigade, and with dense smoke filling the upper rooms, the doctor quietly continued his work. The firefighters didn't know this, but in the midst of their labors, the stork arrived.

The mother was still unconscious, and the doctor, wrapping the babe in a blanket, carried it to his office, a door or two away, where life was soon evident. He then returned to the Everett home and remained until Mrs. Everett regained consciousness later, and last evening when the neighbors had heard of the story and made enquiries, they were pleased to be told that "both are doing well."

Dr. Corrigan is a young man and a newcomer, but all Wychwood is singing his praises. The stove became overheated during the preparations being made for receiving the wee arrival.

COMMISSION TO TAKE EVIDENCE IN FAR U.S.

Counsel for Mrs. Winnie Turner Wants to Reach an Important Witness.

Aubrey Bond, who is conducting the defence of Mrs. Minnie Turner, who comes up for trial for the alleged murder of Rose Winters at the fall assizes, that he would likely apply before a master-in-chambers Monday for a commission to take the evidence of a witness in a distant part of the United States.

This woman, Mr. Bond says, will be an important witness for the defence and is at present too ill to be brought here. Mr. Bond said that he was unable to disclose the nature of the witness, but that it might be possible for him also to secure the evidence nearer at hand. He says that he may not be ready to deal with the trial at the present assizes.

MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD AT THE FERRY CROSSING

Horse Thief Was Making His Escape and Shot Wealthy Caribou Trader.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Robert Williams, owner of half a dozen trading posts in Caribou, was murdered in cold blood Tuesday afternoon at a crossing of the North River, sixty miles north of Kamloops.

Walter Stout did the killing. Five Indians witnessed the tragedy and saw Stout escape. They jumped on their horses and hardly without drawing rein they galloped to police headquarters at Kamloops. There they arrived at midnight last night.

Chief Constable Fernie organized a posse and started north this morning to hunt for the desperado, who headed for Edmonton along the winter trail. Williams was the largest trader in the country. One hundred miles north Stout had stolen two horses, but word was sent by an Indian instructing Williams to prevent Stout crossing the river at his landing. Williams refused Stout permission to cross on the ferry, and Stout with a single shot from his revolver put a bullet through Williams' heart. Stout ferried himself across the river and escaped with three horses. Show is falling and the chase will be a long one.

WHEN WILL IS INVALID.

In pronouncing oral judgment yesterday for the defendant in Leamon v. Leamon, in the non-jury assizes, Justice MacMahon decided that where a testator makes a will devising the proceeds of a life insurance policy away from the beneficiary named in the policy, if the latter comes under the preferred classification, that is, wife of children, the will is invalid.

PREFERENCE INEVITABLE.

Jameson's Declaration at Grahams-town, South Africa.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Mr. Jameson, speaking at Grahams-town, referred to the policy of preference enunciated by Cecil Rhodes as a link in the consolidation of the empire. Altho the colonies received a slap in the face at the imperial conference, imperial preference would come as sure as fate, and the South African colonies would continue the policy of preference till the mother country realized its inevitability.

EAST ENTRANCE FOR NEXT FAIR

Exhibition Directors Decide on a Number of Necessary Improvements.

The urgency of several important improvements at the exhibition grounds will be urged upon the board of control this morning by a deputation of the Canadian National Exhibition Association following a meeting of the directors yesterday.

A list of recommendations submitted by the executive was adopted. In order to reduce the scope and character of the exhibition, the executive desired to enter into negotiations with each provincial government for a collective provincial exhibit, after the style of the states' exhibits at Jamestown, and it was suggested: (1) That the Dominion Government be asked to arrange a first-class fisheries exhibit each year; (2) that cases be secured for the display of collective public school exhibits in the amateur art department; (3) that the horticultural section be asked to consider the question of rearranging the displays next year; (4) that a pure food department be organized; (5) that the executive be authorized to arrange for plans showing the available sites upon which new buildings may be located; (6) that the transportation building be located to the west and south of the new horticultural building; (7) that the city council be asked to remove the houses and buildings at Exhibition Park from their present locations, and that instead an ornamental western entrance be constructed; (8) that the manager submit a report upon expense of installing an electric plant and the erection of ornamental poles; (9) that the city be asked to re-surface the floor in the art gallery; (10) that the city be asked to paint the interior of the woman's building and paint the interior of the manufacturers' and liberal arts building.

The committee also believed that the exhibition has proved a failure in attendance because of the poor transportation arrangements, and suggested the necessity of providing an eastern service entrance to the grounds by next fall. Speaking in this regard, Ald. McOgline estimated that thousands of dollars had been lost this fall from lack of attendance, as many people stayed away on account of the crowded conditions at the entrances. The committee had withdrawn to explain the plan of rearrangement of the new transportation building. This structure will be built on the western side of the group of buildings comprising the library, horticulture and manufacturers' buildings, and will form a quadrangle with them. It will spread across Dufferin-street and will be the first building erected on the newly-acquired land.

I'M SATISFIED SAYS PUGSLEY

Has Not Sent Ultimatum to Prime Minister—Present Office is Good Enough.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—There are rumors in Ottawa, which seem to have emanated from Montreal, that the Hon. Wm. Pugsley has addressed an ultimatum to the premier that unless he is given a better portfolio, presumably railways and canals, he will resign.

There is absolutely no foundation for this rumor. Mr. Pugsley is thoroughly satisfied with the portfolio of public works, if only for the reason that it carries so much patronage in the district he represents. When Mr. Pugsley was introduced into the cabinet the premier wanted him to have railways and canals, and he would have been given that portfolio but for the jealousy of other members of the cabinet.

However, his present post probably suits him better, for he not only has the control of public works, which cuts no small figure in the maritime provinces, but he also has, practically speaking, the patronage of railways in his own part of the country. The minister of public works would have been adding minister of justice during the absence of Mr. Aylesworth, but he has quite enough work as it is on hand, and besides, there is nothing in the department of railways which would be of any immediate value to him at this juncture.

PRISONERS PAID.

The affidavit refers to the window frame as having been taken from the horse stable one night, and passes on to make the more serious assertion that jail prisoners received pay from the city for work at Riverdale Park. One of them, Beahm, drew money at the city yards, foot of Frederick-street. Other prisoners were allowed to draw up accounts for work done, and it is stated that one of them, E. Mueser, is known to McIntosh as having billed the city for work for four days more than could properly be charged.

The charge is also made that cows, horses and other animals not owned by the city were taken care of by the city.

CHAMBERS GOES TO COUNTY JUDGE

Serious Allegation, Preferred by Mrs. Meyer, Decides Aldermen For Judicial Enquiry.

The city council will, at its regular session on Monday next, receive a recommendation from the special committee appointed to investigate the charges against the parks department, that Judge Winchester be empowered to conduct a full and searching enquiry into the management of this branch of the civic service.

The above decision was reached yesterday afternoon after a private sitting of one and a half hours in the mayor's office, when charges of a personal character were made against Commissioner Chambers by Mrs. P. V. Meyer, proprietress of the Sunnyside restaurant. Mrs. Meyer formerly conducted a refreshment pavilion in High Park.

The following resolution was afterwards publicly moved by Ald. Vaughan with Ald. Boughen as a seconder, and was carried unanimously: "That, in the opinion of this committee, the nature of the evidence submitted against the parks department is such as to justify and require reference to the judge of the county court of the County of York for investigation as to the conduct of the parks department in the interests of all concerned."

The production of another affidavit, signed by W. D. McIntosh, and containing further charges of graft, in connection with the management of affairs of Riverdale Zoo, afterwards led for consideration during the half-hour proceedings before adjournment to the mayor's office at the suggestion of Chairman Ald. Jas. Hales, who intimated that a lady was prepared to make very serious charges, either at the public sitting of the committee or before the county judge.

Rev. J. E. Starr, in a letter filed with the committee, explained that the writer had been in communication with William Jordan, the maker of the original affidavit, and that the latter, who is now in Olean, N.Y., had advised him that the latter desired to fulfil the charges was an absolute fraud. Jordan also said that he had been waited on by a stranger, who urged him to repudiate his original affidavit.

When the meeting opened, Mr. Boughen expressed his objections to the proceedings of the committee being termed farcical by the newspapers. He averred that there was a lack of the comedy element. "The affidavit of one William D. McIntosh was then produced by Secretary Somers. A sworn statement bore the date of Nov. 5, and had been made before Samuel G. Crowell, J.P. The affidavit was then read, and it was stated that the latter had been given to do with the management of Riverdale Park, and had had a caretaker Carter and certain gentlemen of the guild, who were appointed as chief among the dramatic personnel. Mr. McIntosh, who is himself a post-graduate, and had worked in Riverdale Park, charged firstly that, whereas several valuable birds had been placed in the keeping of Mr. Carter as caretaker of the zoo, they had been sold, and that, the revenue thus obtained was understood to have gone into the civic coffers. He also charged that the money had not reached the zoo.

The affidavit went on to say that Miss McGill presented two foxes to the zoo. The boxes in which they arrived were examined by an inspector, H. Barnes. Next morning, while the boxes remained, they had no occupants. Mrs. Carter, wife of the caretaker, told McIntosh that she had seen the foxes and Barnett transfer the foxes to another receptacle and that the latter had then driven away with it. Upon this, McGill called to make enquiries about the animals, and was met by Mrs. Carter, who informed her that Mr. Carter afterwards told Miss McGill that the box had been left open and that the foxes had been killed by other animals. According to McIntosh he laid these facts before Mr. Chambers, but the latter took no action.

The affidavit refers to the window frame as having been taken from the horse stable one night, and passes on to make the more serious assertion that jail prisoners received pay from the city for work at Riverdale Park. One of them, Beahm, drew money at the city yards, foot of Frederick-street. Other prisoners were allowed to draw up accounts for work done, and it is stated that one of them, E. Mueser, is known to McIntosh as having billed the city for work for four days more than could properly be charged.

The charge is also made that cows, horses and other animals not owned by the city were taken care of by the city.

Emory of this city. The young man, it appears, tried the matriculation examinations of Toronto University four years ago, intending to take a course in medicine. His name did not appear in the published list of those who passed, and he was never notified that he had passed. He then abandoned his idea of becoming a doctor, and went back to work on his father's farm. Some months ago his cousin talked him into taking up the study of electricity, and the cousin made enquiries at the university to find out in what subjects the young man failed. Then came the somewhat sensational discovery that Emory had made the required marks at the examination four long years ago, and that he was eligible for membership in the classes in the university.

NO PASTE ON LABELS.

The Bredin Bread Co. Give Some Light on Bread Labels.

To the Editor: In this morning's World report of proceedings of the legislative committee of the city council the heading in large print is, Bakers Want the Label. Then the report of the committee, which took place on this question ends with the false or erroneous statement that adhesive paste was used in attaching labels. Now, sir, to allow this statement to go uncontradicted would work a great injury to our trade. The department handling this matter has never to my knowledge had any one of its officers, visit any of the large bakeries for the purpose of seeing for themselves how the labels are put on, and in our case they are welcome at any time to drop in, and also the public at large are free to call and see for themselves, not only how the labels are put on, but how their bread is being handled all thru its manufacture, and I believe this offer holds good with the great majority of our competitors.

For the benefit of those who cannot see the process for themselves, we beg to inform them that the labels are made from a good clean paper, and are simply dropped on the bread pan and the loaf of soft dough set on it. When it adheres at once without any necessity for either gum or paste, which the writer has never seen used. The public are led to believe from the present outcry against the label that it is a new thing. We ourselves use a label for some time, eleven years ago; the union label has been in use for about twelve years without objection from our health authorities or sanitary grounds. Now surely placing the weight on the label does not render it unsanitary, and if not, why was not this fight against it entered on previously? And then, as to the weight being on the label, what can be fairer to the public than seeing exactly what weight they are supposed to get in each loaf they purchase? Our firm are to-day turning out a very large loaf, although the people using it know they can have a loaf from us weighing 20 ounces, but not of as high a quality. Some people do not seem to recognize that a change has taken place in the people's tastes, that they want bread to-day which costs more to make apart from the present advance in prices of wheat and flour.

Now, there can be no fairer or simpler method than varying the weight of the loaf, as in most cases it will mean less than one cent, which is the least money value we can alter it by, and as you can easily stay in business by catering to our customers and the public, surely we have the same rights as other tradespeople have to supply a five-ounce loaf, and we say it is, but in closing do not forget that there is neither gum nor paste used in putting on the label.

Yours sincerely,
The Bredin Bread Co., Ltd.
M. Bredin, president.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Nov. 8, in Norway Church, Kingston, when Miss Emily Percival of Keston, Bromley, Kent, England, was joined in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Joseph H. Harty of Gibraltar. The bride looked charming in a gown of grey Panama over white silk, with hat to match, and wore a bouquet of orange blossoms and white carnations. After a sumptuous repast at McConkey's, the happy couple left by the 6:10 train for Niagara and points south, amid the good wishes of their numerous friends. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, many of which were from England, and thereafter on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 7 Classic-avenue, and on the second Tuesday through the season.

On account of the large attendance at the extra Saturday night hops of the Kew Beach Association, the committee have decided to hold one at the club house at 8:30. As no invitations have been printed all those who have attended any of these dances are cordially invited to come and bring their friends. Charles Bodley will play, assisted by the "Drums."

The marriage was solemnized yesterday at St. Simon's Church of Miss Rosamond Howard Fuller, daughter of Mrs. Charles Fuller of South Drive, Rosedale, and Rev. Robert Gay, curate of St. John's, Norway, rector in charge of the new mission, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay of London, England. The service was fully choral, and was taken by the rector, the Rev. C. G. Cayley, assisted by the choir. The church was decorated with palms and heather. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Yates Fuller of Montreal, was wearing in white lace embroidered with pearls, and wore a tulle veil, with orange blossoms, carrying a white prayer book. Her sister, Miss Janet Fuller, attended as maid of honor, wearing satin-striped pink marquisette, white plumed hat, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Hilda Newman and Miss Helen Newman, nieces of the bride, attended as bridesmaids, in dainty white embroidered muslin dresses with white Valenciennes lace hats and carrying pink roses. The Rev. Crompton Somerville of Quebec was best man, and the usher, Mr. James J. Fuller, attended as maid of honor, wearing satin-striped pink marquisette, white plumed hat, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. On Wednesday afternoon a pretty house wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sims of 98 St. George-street, when their daughter, Miss Reha May, was married to Mr. John Ross Stewart, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart of Unbridge. The Rev. W. G. Wallace performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white silk with satin ribbon brocade, and bonnet lace yoke. Her tulle veil was finished with Battenberg lace, and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Alfred Hartman Snyder of Waterloo was matron of honor, and wore a mauve marquisette gown with net waist and pink blue hat touched with mauve. Miss Adeline May Weaver of Berlin was bridesmaid, wearing white net with beige Irish lace and white hat. Mr. Thomas McCabe supported the groom. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left for New York and Boston.

A very quiet wedding took place on Wednesday at the Bloor-street Presbyterian Church, when Mr. J. R. Hall of Chicago was married to his daughter, Notman, eldest daughter of the late J. C. Notman, Queen's printer, and of Mrs. Notman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Wallace. The bride, who was attended by Mrs. D. Tuck, as matron of honor, wore a traveling dress of navy blue, with Parisian trimming, and navy blue hat to match. Mrs. Tuck wore a brown cloth suit with lace and silk trimming and brown hat with pink ribbon. Dr. Tuck attended the groom. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Hall left for Detroit and Washington, and on Musical of the Women's Art Association. The rooms of the Women's Art Association looked very pretty yesterday when the ladies of the association met for tea at the rooms (La Plaza, Jarvis-street). A very interesting musical program was rendered, the artists being Miss Nora Hayes, Mrs. John A. Walker, Miss Florence Kemp. Their instrumental and vocal entertainment was most delightful. In the pleasant, partly twilight rooms, and received hearty applause. Tea was served later, and the members had a social chat before leaving. The work of the club is progressing favorably, and it has further developed the aspect of an enjoyed club much frequented by the ladies. Its success is greatly due to the efforts of the willing executive, who have made the rooms so artistic and inviting. On Saturday afternoon the men supporters of the association come with their women folk and enjoy the privileges of the club.

NOTE AND COMMENT

In the 80's and before Moss Hall was the indoor stamping-ground for the athletes at Varsity, the building consisted of large and small gymnasiums, and the Literary Society's meeting-place above. When the present Students' Union replaced Moss Hall it looked like a permanent institution, and that is only fifteen years ago. But now the Athletic Association find that exactly one student in ten can find accommodation in the new building, and it is deemed to go to a meeting, and it is deemed to go to a meeting...

FEDERATION ROPE. The Montreal Federation and its press agents keep hammering away at organized athletics. First the semi-professional idea, then affiliation with the American Union and now pulling for favor at the Olympic games, some of which give the C.A.A.U. worry. Chances are there will be no Federation when Longboat and the rest of the champions leave for London. You know a fool institution like this is the same as the individual. Give it rope enough and it will surely hang itself.

ALTRUCK'S JOKE. When the White Sox were last at Cleveland they were at dinner one evening when in response to Charley Hickman's request for toothpicks the man who was waiting on the table brought over to Hick a whole jarful of the little bits of wood. "In selecting one, Hick's attention was attracted by the fact of the manufacturer's name being on the toothpick, and when he examined the others he found the same name impressed on all of them."

Calling the attention of the other members of the team to the fact, Charley said: "I cannot understand how the fellow who puts these things up can afford to have his name stamped on each and every one of them."

"I don't see how he does it myself," cried Altruck, as he critically examined the little piece of wood in his hand, "but I'll bet," continued Nick, "that he is a concealed sort of guy."

"What makes you think so?" asked Doc White. "Why," replied Nick Altruck, "the mere fact of his having his autograph on each toothpick shows that he is dead-stuck on having his name in everybody's mouth."

BASEBALL MANAGERS. The news that there is no chance for Charley Dooley to return to Montreal will be received with regret in Toronto. He will be remembered as a gentlemanly manager, effective player, and did not Montreal once land the pennant under Mr. Dooley?

George Stallings gives it out that he will only manage a club he owns. He is now looking to purchase one, maybe for a plaything. So forget George as manager for Toronto, where he can never reign as president, there being only one of which in this champion town.

CHINESE FOOTBALL. "The first game of football I witnessed upon my arrival in China," said a recent visitor, "I mistook for a very serious riot, and you wouldn't have blamed me, either. "In the first place, I was not aware that the Chinese had any such game, but later found that it is very popular in Northern China. It is not played as is the Canadian game, and instead of eleven players to the side there are fifteen. These northern Chinese are almost giants, and every man on the team will be six feet or over in height and weigh on an average 200 pounds. There are no goals, side lines or halves. The game lasts until one side is the winner, and frequently this is not accomplished before two or three days."

"The idea of the game is to force a small wicker basket, which takes the place of our ball, into the territory of the other side—this territory being one-half of the town—and up and down the streets the fight rages. Each man is equipped with a whistle with which to summon assistance when too hard-pressed. "Steath as well as main force may be used in getting the ball into the enemy's country, and I know of one clever player who did so by passing over the roofs of the houses. Ask you may imagine, 100 Thoms yelling and fighting in the streets create some excitement."

Basketball. The Butlers and Garretts, Bible classes of St. Stephen's, played the first game for the Pagan Shield, resulting in a win for the present champions, the Butlers. The half-time score was 27 to 7, and the final score was 47 to 23. The referees, Williams, gave entire satisfaction. Both teams had many supporters. The teams: Butlers: Baker, centre; Alcock and H. Day, defence. Garretts: Wooster and Jolliff, forwards; Woods, centre; Jessop and Pond, defence.

Draw Fight in Montreal. MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—Delmont and Desrems met in a 15-round contest to-night at the National Amateur Association, as both men were on their feet the finish and honors being even the referee declared the fight a draw.

GARRISON WILL HOLD THEIR MEET TO-NIGHT

Members of Militia Will Compete in Various Events at the Armories.

The Garrison Athletic Association will hold their closed indoor meet to-night in the Armories and, judging from the entries received, the meet should be a grand success. Last year, it will be remembered, the Garrison had only one night, and crowds were turned away. This difficulty has been overcome by having two nights, one for the closed and one for the open meet. Some fast men are entered for to-night, for among the entries will be seen Harry Taylor, J. P. Charlebois, the Varsity crack; Alex Sinclair, and others, and as all the races are handicaps, some close finishes are to be expected.

Varsity Busy Saturday. "The stronger they come the better we are told that the team from the penitentiary town is very strong and their record to date is sufficient proof of this statement, but there is a heap of satisfaction in beating a real good team, and we are reasonably confident of the ability of the boys to turn the trick. Queen's will be here this afternoon in a special train and may take a light workout to-morrow night, while the team to a man yesterday and a very special train on Saturday. The team which will go into battle against the Presbyterians is the same as played last Saturday, while Cory, Clark, Sifton and Duncan will be on the reserve list in case of accident. The Varsity intermediates will play McGill intermediates at the field in the morning against the Levee intermediates against the R.M.C. on the campus."

THIRD YEAR SCHOOL TRIM SENIOR MEDS

In Second Rugby Game of Mulock Cup Series—Score Was 14 to 12.

In the second game of the Mulock series, third year School defeated Senior Meds by the close score of 14 to 12. At half-time the winners were leading 8 to 4. Owing to the strong wind prevailing it was decided to play the game in quarters, and School won the toss they elected to kick down hill with the wind, to kick up hill, two rouges and a kick to the dead line in the first period, while Meds failed to tally. In the second quarter Meds forced the play, but the best they could do was to count four on rouges. They were dangerously close to the School line more than once, but as they only used one man to buck, the School had only to wait for him to come thru. This left the score 8 to 4 at the interval.

Meda held School well until the end of the third quarter, when the wings failed to hold their men on the third down, School blocking Brown's kick close to the line, a try resulting. Cory converted, leaving the score 14 to 4, and so it remained at three-quarter time. Meds, in the last spasm, scored three points on a rouge and a safety, while in the closing minutes of play they were over for a try, that was not converted.

Both teams were very crude, while School experts hardly entitled to the last try, School getting a free kick at centre field, the umpire claiming that the referee had called a foul. Meds were offside while in possession of the ball. They followed up this kick by downing Meds at the five-yard mark, and as before stated Meds' kick was blocked on the third down. The teams: Full, Cory; halves, Miller, Chestnut, Hunter; quarter, Strath; scrum, Starrock, Byres; barrow; inside wings, Charlebois, Roderick; middle wings, Proctor, Senior (10); Full, Jackson; O'Grady; outside, Carroll, Mariatt. Meds: Full, Campbell; halves, Clarke, Marshall, Brown; quarter, Ecclestone; scrum, Duff, Jamieson, Campbell; middle wings, McBride, Telford; inside wings, Lumsden, Brand; middle wings, Morgan, New. Referee, Herb Clarke; umpire, B. Cassels.

Exactitude. The widow of a German officer presented herself at the office in Berlin for the purpose of drawing the pension due her. She handed in the necessary certificates from the mayor of the village in which she lived to the effect that she was still alive. "This certificate is not correct," said the official in charge. "What is the matter with it?" asked the lady. "It bears the date of Sept. 21," was the stern reply. "and your pension was due on Sept. 15."

Coaxing Jeff to Fight Johnson

Colored Man Willing to Make Match, Winner Take All if it Suits Big Fellow. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The victory of Jack Johnson over Jim Flynn in 11 rounds at Colma on Saturday, has aroused the fight promoters of the coast, who realize that now is the time to match Johnson with Burns by Jeffries. Jim Coffroth is going to Los Angeles to-day or to-morrow to see if he can get Jim Jeffries to change his mind and sign to fight Johnson. One of his closest friends says he will offer a purse of $50,000 for the bout, but that he will be ready to accede to any demand Jeffries makes. Johnson, it is said, in order to get the match is willing to fight on a winner-take-all basis. So well satisfied is Coffroth that he will be able to get Jeffries to renege the ring, that he is already planning what he will do to make the holding of the battle a success, if Jeffries agrees to

FINED FOR MARRYING. (From The London Spectator.) The board of education has issued a new declaration as to terms of service for teachers to sign when they are appointed to primary school. The women teachers must undertake to serve for five years and the men teachers for seven years. At present women teachers undertake to serve only two years. The rule at first sight seems unexceptionable, for the cost to the state of passing teachers thru the training colleges is considerable, and it is not fair that the teachers should use their advantages at the expense of the taxpayer by accepting other appointments after a brief service in the primary schools. Many education authorities have a rule that the marriage of women teachers shall be equivalent to resignation. In that case a woman teacher who marries within five years must, under the new rule, pay a penalty up to a maximum of £25 ($125). In other words, it might often happen that a woman who had been fined for marrying at the very marriageable

The second annual field day of Wycliffe College Athletic Association was held yesterday afternoon at Varsity Athletic Field before a slim crowd, no doubt due to the raw weather. The sports were well-contested, the college championship going to A. Ahenaken, the winner last year. The following are the results: —100 Yards—First heat—J. Lofthouse, 1; P. Park, 2. Time 11-2 seconds. Second heat—A. Ahenaken, 1; J. Shurley, 2. Time 11-4 seconds. Third heat—A. Ahenaken, 1; J. Shurley, 2. Time 11-2 seconds. Finals—A. C. Collier, 1; P. Park, 2; W. Creary, 3. Time 11-1-2 seconds. —220 Yards—First heat—P. Park, 1; J. Lofthouse, 2. Time 28 seconds. Second heat—W. Creary, 1; C. Walker, 2. Time 28-1-2 seconds.

Rugby Gossip. John Webster, a first-year med man, had his shoulder dislocated at Varsity yesterday afternoon while tackling in Rugby practice. St. Michaels have defaulted their City League game to be played Saturday with the Britons, and according to the Britons, St. Michaels will play Saturday for the City Rugby League championship. St. Michaels will play at Jesse Keaton Park at 3 p.m. sharp. Owing to the death of Miss Cleghorn, matron of the college at St. Catharines, the game arranged between Ridley and U.C.C. for Saturday has been postponed.

The following players of the Tammany II. are requested to turn out for practice in Bellwoods Park Friday night, as they play Parkdale C.C. at Diamond Park on Saturday: Martin, Ferguson, Richards, Hall, Warwick, Hickson, Clark, Gibson, Malone, St. John, Blomont, Murphy, Winklesley, Bolland, Norris, Parkinson, Mackay, Keating, Barnett. Points resulting from drop kicks, both by St. Michaels.

Parkdale Canoe Club and Tammany will clash in a junior O.R.F.U. game on Saturday afternoon at Diamond Park. This game is attracting considerable attention, as Tammany will try hard to down the Parkdallers while the latter are confident they can win their section without a defeat.

FINED FOR MARRYING. (From The London Spectator.) The board of education has issued a new declaration as to terms of service for teachers to sign when they are appointed to primary school. The women teachers must undertake to serve for five years and the men teachers for seven years. At present women teachers undertake to serve only two years. The rule at first sight seems unexceptionable, for the cost to the state of passing teachers thru the training colleges is considerable, and it is not fair that the teachers should use their advantages at the expense of the taxpayer by accepting other appointments after a brief service in the primary schools. Many education authorities have a rule that the marriage of women teachers shall be equivalent to resignation. In that case a woman teacher who marries within five years must, under the new rule, pay a penalty up to a maximum of £25 ($125). In other words, it might often happen that a woman who had been fined for marrying at the very marriageable

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was in the city yesterday. He was asked as to the stories that he was to retire, he said: "The newspapers always know a lot more about a man's affairs than he does himself. I have never heard of it. I have never thought of such a thing."

The Fredericton, N.B., Gleason (Conservative), which precipitated the resignation of Hon. H. R. Emmerson from the federal cabinet by the publication of charges of a personal character against that minister, asks why Sir Wilfrid Laurier should make a distinction between the case of Mr. Emmerson and that of Sir Frederick Borden. It says: "His scapegoat scheme will not succeed. Nor will Sir Frederick Borden's silly attempt at 'vindication' by suing an English magazine for libel, because it has been giving currency to what has been published again and again in quite as definite form in Canadian papers, and talked about in every north and south house, and in every circle from end to end of the country in which public measures are discussed."

High Point, N. C. In 1892 this city installed an electric light plant at a cost of $20,000. Ten years ago the generating plant was sold. A former member of the electric light committee of the board of aldermen writes that this was done because a private company offered to sell current at less than the operating cost of the city's plant. He further states that if the city had sold its distributing system it would be far better off financially than it is.

Nelsonville, Ohio, is cited as a town which did not do well with municipal ownership. This town is not far distant from Lancaster, Ohio, where the municipality own the natural gas system, furnishes heat and fuel at a nominal price to its citizens and has a $50,000 town hall entirely built and paid for out of the profits. Naturally enough, Lancaster is not mentioned.

Of course, neither town proves a case. Private ownership has many ups and downs, and public ownership has many downs. Public officials are dishonest or incompetent. Meanwhile it will be interesting to note the appearance in certain Canadian newspapers of special despatches, interviews and editorials, all drawn from this philanthropic publication that comes from New York.

But are the people in New York so philanthropic? This edition is intended for and is being circulated in Toronto. Is it the enemies of the Beck power policy who are paying for its distribution?

PUBLIC RIGHTS WIN. Mayor Tom L. Johnson was on Tuesday elected mayor of Cleveland for the fourth time in succession. This city of 600,000 people has for many years been under machine rule, and, indeed, the mayor himself was run in the first place to break the Republican organization and did so by the aid of bolters from that party. But during his earliest term he initiated the advanced public policies that led to the strenuous struggle with the street railway corporations, and will now certainly end in the establishment of a three-cent car service. But Mr. Johnson's administration has consisted of much more than a campaign for cheap fares. Lincoln Steffens has described him as "the best mayor of the best-governed city in the United States," and he deserves the eulogium, for he has through out put up a splendid fight on behalf of public rights.

The battle between the Cleveland street car ring has been carried on both electrically and in the courts. Following the usual practice of public-service corporations, the street railways used every weapon that legal ingenuity could devise to prevent the low-fare companies from competing their systems, and they succeeded in defeating the attempt to run a municipal system. But the mayor procured the formation of a private company on a low-fare basis, and guaranteed it financially. Improper motives were freely imputed, but Judge Lawrence, who pronounced one of the decisions, commended his public spirit, and the investors have since freed him from all financial responsibility. Curative ordinances are also in course of passage, and with these the victory of the low-fare companies will be complete.

The Cleveland street car corporations recognized that this mayoralty election, if it went against them, would be their Waterloo, and neither candidate nor money was lacking. Representative Burton, who carried their flag, was a strong man locally, and had the whole force of the Republican organization behind him. As against the mayor's three-cent service, the ring offered the citizens seven tickets for a quarter, and sold them at that rate for a month before the election day. One of the Burton managers said openly at a Union League banquet that this year they had plenty of money. "Yes," he said, "we have loads of it this year. This year we will take voters to the booths in automobiles." Notwithstanding all its efforts, the ring has been badly beaten, the mayor winning by substantially the same majority as was given him in 1905. There is now every prospect that Cleveland will at an early date be provided with a permanent solution of its traction problems on public lines.

ANOTHER GIGANTIC FINE. Santa Fe Railway Company Must Pay $330,000.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 7.—Judge Olin Wellborn, in the United States district court here to-day, fined the Santa Fe Railway Company $330,000 for rebating. The company was convicted on sixty-six counts of granting rebates to the Grand Canyon Lime & Cement Co. or shipments of freight from Nelson, Arizona, to Los Angeles. The fine is $3000 on each of the sixty-six counts.

But during his earliest term he initiated the advanced public policies that led to the strenuous struggle with the street railway corporations, and will now certainly end in the establishment of a three-cent car service. But Mr. Johnson's administration has consisted of much more than a campaign for cheap fares. Lincoln Steffens has described him as "the best mayor of the best-governed city in the United States," and he deserves the eulogium, for he has through out put up a splendid fight on behalf of public rights.

The battle between the Cleveland street car ring has been carried on both electrically and in the courts. Following the usual practice of public-service corporations, the street railways used every weapon that legal ingenuity could devise to prevent the low-fare companies from competing their systems, and they succeeded in defeating the attempt to run a municipal system. But the mayor procured the formation of a private company on a low-fare basis, and guaranteed it financially. Improper motives were freely imputed, but Judge Lawrence, who pronounced one of the decisions, commended his public spirit, and the investors have since freed him from all financial responsibility. Curative ordinances are also in course of passage, and with these the victory of the low-fare companies will be complete.

The Cleveland street car corporations recognized that this mayoralty election, if it went against them, would be their Waterloo, and neither candidate nor money was lacking. Representative Burton, who carried their flag, was a strong man locally, and had the whole force of the Republican organization behind him. As against the mayor's three-cent service, the ring offered the citizens seven tickets for a quarter, and sold them at that rate for a month before the election day. One of the Burton managers said openly at a Union League banquet that this year they had plenty of money. "Yes," he said, "we have loads of it this year. This year we will take voters to the booths in automobiles." Notwithstanding all its efforts, the ring has been badly beaten, the mayor winning by substantially the same majority as was given him in 1905. There is now every prospect that Cleveland will at an early date be provided with a permanent solution of its traction problems on public lines.

ANOTHER GIGANTIC FINE. Santa Fe Railway Company Must Pay $330,000.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 7.—Judge Olin Wellborn, in the United States district court here to-day, fined the Santa Fe Railway Company $330,000 for rebating. The company was convicted on sixty-six counts of granting rebates to the Grand Canyon Lime & Cement Co. or shipments of freight from Nelson, Arizona, to Los Angeles. The fine is $3000 on each of the sixty-six counts.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was in the city yesterday. He was asked as to the stories that he was to retire, he said: "The newspapers always know a lot more about a man's affairs than he does himself. I have never heard of it. I have never thought of such a thing."

The Fredericton, N.B., Gleason (Conservative), which precipitated the resignation of Hon. H. R. Emmerson from the federal cabinet by the publication of charges of a personal character against that minister, asks why Sir Wilfrid Laurier should make a distinction between the case of Mr. Emmerson and that of Sir Frederick Borden. It says: "His scapegoat scheme will not succeed. Nor will Sir Frederick Borden's silly attempt at 'vindication' by suing an English magazine for libel, because it has been giving currency to what has been published again and again in quite as definite form in Canadian papers, and talked about in every north and south house, and in every circle from end to end of the country in which public measures are discussed."

High Point, N. C. In 1892 this city installed an electric light plant at a cost of $20,000. Ten years ago the generating plant was sold. A former member of the electric light committee of the board of aldermen writes that this was done because a private company offered to sell current at less than the operating cost of the city's plant. He further states that if the city had sold its distributing system it would be far better off financially than it is.

Nelsonville, Ohio, is cited as a town which did not do well with municipal ownership. This town is not far distant from Lancaster, Ohio, where the municipality own the natural gas system, furnishes heat and fuel at a nominal price to its citizens and has a $50,000 town hall entirely built and paid for out of the profits. Naturally enough, Lancaster is not mentioned.

Of course, neither town proves a case. Private ownership has many ups and downs, and public ownership has many downs. Public officials are dishonest or incompetent. Meanwhile it will be interesting to note the appearance in certain Canadian newspapers of special despatches, interviews and editorials, all drawn from this philanthropic publication that comes from New York.

But are the people in New York so philanthropic? This edition is intended for and is being circulated in Toronto. Is it the enemies of the Beck power policy who are paying for its distribution?

PUBLIC RIGHTS WIN. Mayor Tom L. Johnson was on Tuesday elected mayor of Cleveland for the fourth time in succession. This city of 600,000 people has for many years been under machine rule, and, indeed, the mayor himself was run in the first place to break the Republican organization and did so by the aid of bolters from that party. But during his earliest term he initiated the advanced public policies that led to the strenuous struggle with the street railway corporations, and will now certainly end in the establishment of a three-cent car service. But Mr. Johnson's administration has consisted of much more than a campaign for cheap fares. Lincoln Steffens has described him as "the best mayor of the best-governed city in the United States," and he deserves the eulogium, for he has through out put up a splendid fight on behalf of public rights.

KILLED AT BOWMANVILLE.

Distressing Accident West of Grand Trunk Station. BOWMANVILLE, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—A distressing fatal accident happened about 500 yards west of Bowmanville Station on the Grand Trunk Railway this afternoon by which Chas. Stanford was instantly killed. The way freight from the west was being run into the siding to the freight shed and this young brakeman was going to close the switch after it.

In jumping from the front end of the conductor's van on the north side he held the railing by his left hand instead of his right, as he should have jumped with the train. Stanford was thrown under the van and his scalp was almost completely severed from his head, so that his brains were let out.

His home is supposed to be at York, and this was his first day out as brakeman. The body was carried to the freight train and went west on No. 7 express to-night.

PROPER TO SELL CLAIMS

After Having Been Recorded, Opinion of Crown Lands Official.

In the afternoon police court yesterday, the secretary of Law & Co. was a witness in the charge against Frank Law of having failed to comply with the provincial regulations in the advertising of certain mining stocks.

Mr. Murray of the Canadian Mining Journal had read the prospectus in question and had gone over the claims at Larder Lake, but Mr. Law's explanation gave evidence as to the evidence, and Magistrate Kingford sustained the objection.

Mr. Gilles, a provisional director of the company, was asked for the engineer's report on the claims, but was unable to produce it. He said, however, that the report stated that the claims had been found to be very good ones, with good mineral indications.

Mr. Whitson of the crown lands department gave evidence as to the condition of claims in the Larder Lake district. So far no patents had been issued, but he considered it quite reasonable for any party to sell a claim as soon as it was properly recorded.

An important witness is on the ocean, and a few more are to be called, so the case was again adjourned.

The Sheep Industry. The sheep industry has been sadly neglected, holds the same speaker. Nowhere can anyone point to easier profits to the average farmer than in the sheep business, and more government encouragement given, the sheep business would thrive to the benefit of Canada.

It is likely that the farmers' institute this winter will hear more interesting discussions along this line.

BOARD WILL INVESTIGATE RY. PASSENGER TARIFFS

Preparations Under Way—Working to Abolish the Level-Crossing Danger.

Concerning the question of 2-cent-a-mile railway fares, the chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, Judge Kilham, yesterday made the following statement:
 "During the past few weeks the commission has been making preparations to look into the whole problem of passenger tariffs on the railways operating in Canada. As to the advisability of practicing the 2-cent-a-mile rule, I would hesitate to speak at present. The commission, however, is anxious to determine whether the time has not come in this country when some reduction in fares would be justified."
 "The matter will be dealt with as expeditiously as possible and already members of our operating staff are engaged in collecting data and information."
 "Abolishing Level Crossings."
 As to the level crossing danger, Hon. Dr. Mills stated:
 "The Dominion Railway Board has ordered the railway companies throughout the Dominion to furnish plans of all level crossings in cities, towns and villages, showing the protection, if any, provided in each case, as well as the construction of subways or bridges, in order to secure adequate protection to the public, and such protection as may be needed at other crossings."
 "The board feels that it will be impossible to abolish all level crossings until such time as special legislation is obtained with the view of providing for further cost, as has been done in the State of New York, as well as in other states of the union, where the state contributes a portion of the cost, the municipality concerned, or protected through railway company or railway companies affected the remainder of the cost."
 Mr. Mountain, chief engineer of the board, added in explanation, that the plans of the largest cities and villages are already in, showing the streets either crossed through subways or by means of overhead bridges, or protected through gates, bells and watchmen. All unprotected crossings are also shown. It will be a big job to get the railways into proper shape."
 Dr. Mills Dissents.
 Immediately upon the assembling of the committee yesterday morning Dr. Mills made a statement in explanation of his dissent from the majority of the board the previous day, regarding the order of the Dominion Railway Commission.
 "The excuse of defence of the company," he says, "is that the freight shed at Owen Sound was so small that it had to forward flour within 48 hours after it was received from the boat; secondly, that the box cars available from the mill at Owen Sound were so far out of repair that only about 50 per cent. of them were fit to transport wheat and consequently the company was unable to make a pro rata or equitable distribution of its cars as between the flour and wheat traffic."
 "The shippers of wheat from Owen Sound, at the time of the traffic, complained, were, I think, unjustly treated and discriminated against, not deliberately or intentionally, but through the failure of the company to provide such freight shed accommodation and keep its flour cars in repair."
 "I would enable it to make a pro rata or equitable distribution of its cars and ship wheat from its elevator with as much promptness as it shipped flour from its freight shed."

TERRIBLE DEATH TOLL ON UNITED STATES' LINES

In One Year 5000 Persons Were Killed and 76,286 Injured—Heavy Increases.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The interstate commerce commission bulletin upon accidents upon railroads of the United States during the year ended June 30 last, shows total casualties 81,286, or 5000 persons killed and 76,286 injured. This shows an increase of 10-332 casualties, or 776 killed and 9577 injured, as compared with the previous year. These figures include only accidents to passengers and to employees while actually on duty. The bulletin says:
 "There have been heavy increases in all of the items, except accidents in car couplings and from striking against overhead obstructions. The number of passengers killed and injured in collisions and derailments has increased to an alarming degree. In this item the very large total reported in 1903 is now exceeded by 17 per cent. The comparative smallness of the increase in previous years is due to coupling and car coupling cars, and in accidents to men on the tops of freight cars, is undoubtedly due in large measure to improvements in the maintenance and care of automatic couplers, and to the increased use of airbrakes on freight trains. The disastrous record of casualties to passengers in train accidents (4108 killed and 18,845 injured, including 1808 collisions and 1971 derailments, involving $3,232,675 damage to the trains and roadway."
 The report for the last quarter (included in these figures for the year, embracing April, May and June, shows 1808 collisions and 1971 derailments, involving $3,232,675 damage to the trains and roadway."

WORTH TAKING.

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion.
 One ounce Compound Sarsaparilla.
 Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla.
 Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, is pronounced by a prominent physician to be the best mixture for the cure of the kidney, bladder and all urinary troubles.
 This says the doctor, is the most simple though remarkable prescription ever written to cleanse the system of impurities and waste matter. It acts as a powerful tonic to the kidneys, forcing them to filter out the acid and uronic impurities, rheumatism, lame back, sciatica and other afflictions arising from sour, impure blood.
 The ingredients can be procured at any good drug store, and being pure and entirely harmless, can easily be mixed at home.
 If you have a suffering friend show this to him, as he will undoubtedly be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended a remedy.

RAILWAY PROBLEMS MET IN BUSINESSLIKE WAY

Non-Fulfillment of Orders for Cars Must Be Reported—Embargo on Certain Classes of Freight.

ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 7.—An order of great importance to shippers of freight was issued to-day by the public service commission in the second district, with intent to prevent unjust discrimination which is alleged to have been practiced against individual shippers by arbitrary refusal of railroads to handle certain classes of freight. The order, sent out to-day, and to take effect immediately, requires any railroad establishing what is generally known as an "embargo" in any case, to transmit at once to the commission a detailed statement of the matter, with the reasons relied upon by the corporation as justification for its action. It is further required that the roads shall at once enforce the commission regarding any "embargo" now in force.
 Another order of almost equal importance was issued by the commission, dealing particularly with delays in furnishing cars for shipments of freight. The commission passed a resolution in part as follows:
 "Resolved, that all railroad corporations transporting freight in carload lots report to this commission every case in which it has been unable to place a car for loading within four days after the time for which it was ordered, if no time is designated in the order."

BLACK HAND THREATENS CITIZENS AT THE SOO

Detectives Are Working on the Case, But Admit That They Are Completely Baffled.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Attempts of the Black Hand to obtain money thru the medium of a threatening letter have created considerable excitement here and detectives from the provincial department, Toronto, have been in the Soo some days endeavoring to ferret the matter out.
 During the past week or so Capt. Letcher, a wealthy Englishman, John McKay, a barrister, and Dr. D. H. Mackenzie, have received threatening letters from the northwest, in the vicinity of Sault Ste. Marie, demanding sums of money under pain of death and destruction of property.
 The money was to be left last night in certain places, and in order to catch representatives of the Black Hand a watch was kept on Letcher's home last night. A dummy parcel was placed in the street in front of the house, and a few detectives left at 8.30 this morning. Letcher has not seen the parcel and it was gone.
 The matter was not regarded in a serious light until proceedings at the Letcher home leaked out to-day, and as a result the Soo is greatly excited. Police are still working on the case, but acknowledge they are so far baffled.
 Fashions in Jewelry.
 Growing out of the demand for art in all things, whether of utility or ornament, the desire for harmony of colors, which has been called "jewelry costume," has come to stay. Where formerly one necklace had to serve for many gowns, it is no longer necessary to have a separate necklace for each gown, the aim being to harmonize the one with the other in such a way as to give the effect of a complete whole. The gown brings out the ornament and the ornament sets off the gown. The jewelry designer is now called upon to keep well abreast of this great movement which means more to him than he may at first realize. The jewelry designer is now called upon to consider all the shades of color, from the most harmoniously contrasted, from ivory white and the new shades of champagne to the rich plum and navy blue, which will characterize the winter season. The possibilities are unlimited, and when the results of jewelry is added artistic treatment, the jewelry has before it a most successful and healthy, steady business. For art to work along the lines of art is to succeed. The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good drug store and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.
 There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility, are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clean and purify after a few doses of this prescription.
 MOORE'S SALE OF SHIRES.
 LONDON, Nov. 7.—R. Moore & Son's sale of shires came off to-day and in spite of the feed question there was a large crowd of people present. The animals were all first-class big draught ones, many of them being prize winners at English shows. None of the stallions were sold.
 Seven mares sold for $100, the highest price, a 2-year-old, solid-colored, and one of Marshallville, for $400. J. M. Gardhouse of Weston bidding hard for her. Thomas Parker of Wyoming secured a match span of two-year-old black fillies for $200.
 Three Years for Theft.
 WOODSTOCK, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—For stealing one dollar from Roy Ridd, a clerk in H. E. Douglas's cigar store, Wm. Bates was this morning sentenced by Police Magistrate Ball to three years hard labor in Kingston Penitentiary. Bates is a bad character, and arrived here recently from Detroit. His mother is now serving a long term for trying to kill him and his sister with a hatchet in the spring.

RHEUMATISM IS NOW OVERCOME BY MIXTURE

Anyone Can Mix This Simple Prescription, Which is Said to Promptly Relieve This Dread Disease.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Rheumatism proves a vexatious and costly disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys, which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the system and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of the limbs.
 There are numerous remedies known which many persons believe will relieve this suffering—salicilate of soda, colchicum, podalic, etc.—but these drugs are terribly hard on the stomach, often ruining this most important organ, and they fail as often as they relieve.
 A well-known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the most successful, gives the following simple treatment, which is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.
 The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good drug store and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.
 There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. PREPARING FOWL.
 The best way to kill chickens is by breaking the neck. Take the chicken in the hands and stretch the neck, holding the crown of the head in the palm of the hand, then with a quick turn backward at the same time continuing the steady pull, dislocate the neck at the joint of connection with the head. This is the easiest killing method known. If properly done the blood collects at once at the point of dislocation and leaves the flesh a lovely white. Begin plucking at once, just as soon as the neck snaps, and while the bird is fluttering and the flesh quivering. The feathers come out more easily now than at any other time. Pluck the breast first; from there remove the wing feathers in one handful, and rough "pick" the whole body as quickly as possible. Hang the bird up until cold, when the small feathers remaining may be removed with a knife without destroying the bloom of the skin, which must be preserved in order to secure a good color. When thoroughly plucked, remove the bird's head with a pair of shears. Then, without cutting off the claws or removing the entrails the bird is ready for the retailer. The removal of the claws is objected to because it prevents the extraction of the sinews by the poultice. Entrails are better left in as the appearance of the bird might be spoiled by the clumsy use of the knife. In any case opening the bird would result in a slight musty smell. However, if the entrails are left in it is absolutely necessary that the birds be kept without food or water for 24 hours, which will leave the crop and entrails perfectly free from food.
 For ducks, an alternative method of killing is recommended. This class of fowl, on account of the large amount of blood which they contain, requires to be bled. Render the bird senseless by a sharp rap over the head and then sever the jugular vein with a pair of shears inserted at the mouth.
 Killing Turkeys.
 Opinions differ as to the best method of killing turkeys. Some favor breaking the neck, others advise bleeding. It is rather more difficult to break a turkey's neck than it is to kill a chicken in the same way. One way of doing this is to lay the bird's neck across the edge of a barrel-end in such a way that the sharp end of one of the staves comes exactly opposite a joint, then while the man holds the legs and wings the killer takes the head in one hand, and, using a stick or wooden mallet, strikes a light blow on the neck. Properly done, this is a very good killing method, but an inexperienced operator is likely to cause useless suffering to the bird, and

LIBRARY TREASURER RESIGNS
 General News From Chatham—Arrested for Theft.
 CHATHAM, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Officer Dodson this afternoon arrested a young man named Bechard at the Idlewild Hotel. Bechard comes from Pain Court, and it is thought that he had something to do with a number of petty thefts that have been reported to the police lately.
 Dr. C. E. Charteris, for three years treasurer of the public library board, handed in his resignation at the meeting of that body last evening, and J. W. Humphrey was appointed to take his place.
 Christmas in Europe.
 Perhaps never in the history of the ocean steamship lines has there been such a rush to get home to the old folks for Christmas as there is this year. The agents of the different lines report tremendous bookings for the Christmas steamer and are afraid the boats will be filled away ahead of the time of sailing.
 The big new Gunader "Lusitania," which sails from New York on the 14th December, and arrives on the 29th, already has a large list, caused no doubt by the ship's popularity, speed, size and beautiful fittings. Agent Webster, at the corner of King and Yonge-streets, is having a busy time of it these days.

Rich Hair
 You may easily hide your ignorance of South Sea politics or North Pole explorations, but you cannot hide a scraggy, worn-out, ignorant-looking head of hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the natural exponent of intelligent hair culture. The hair promptly yields, becomes manageable, and appears well.

A COUGH COLD IS DANGEROUS.
 There are different kinds of colds, and various ways in which they affect different people. Some constitutions will throw off a light cold, while to others it will stick tenaciously. There is one kind—the kind accompanied by a cough, the kind that turns to bronchitis, the kind that ends in consumption—that should never be neglected.
 Many a life history would read differently if, on the first appearance of a cough, it had been remedied with

BANK OF ENGLAND RATE HIGHEST IN 34 YEARS

Advance in European Bank Rates a Depressing Incident in the Stock Markets.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Nov. 7. The Toronto market narrowed down again to-day and trading was influenced by the small transactions of outside operators. The advance in the Bank of England rate was a depressing incident, and the break on Wall-street checked up any intended purchases. In Canadian securities the feature of the day was C. P. R., which broke nearly ten points from yesterday on the New York market. The liquidation at the Toronto market was confined to 26 shares, evidencing the small amount of these shares now held by local small traders. All the speculative stocks registered declines, but these were light on account of the small amount of offerings. Investment stocks were liquidated in odd lots at further declines. Commerce fell to 100, Imperial to 208 7/8, and Hamilton to 190. The smallness of to-day's offerings was regarded as the only favorable feature of the present situation.

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—The Richelieu Navigation Co. has declared a regular dividend of 1-1/4 per cent.

Wall Street Pointers. Regular general dividend of 3 per cent. on A. C. O. preferred.

U. S. Steel directors ratify acquisition of Tennessee Coal and Iron.

Believed the railroads will take about 1,000,000 tons of steel rails in next three months.

Good demand for stocks in loan crowd.

Kansas City Southern report shows surplus of $2,000,000.

J. J. Mitchell Chicago says situation everywhere looks better.

The strength in C. P. R. preferred is on support that company can pay dividend of 8 per cent. partly in cash and partly scrip.

Philadelphia Title Guarantee and Trust Co. of Portland, Oregon, has been placed in hands of receivers; liabilities $2,400,000, and assets $2,500,000.

Application has just been made for a receiver for O. Gorman & Co., a dry-goods house here; Rumors of trouble in this quarter have been current for a week or more.

Joseph says situation here is rapidly clearing. A partial recovery will be seen in the securities market. No big bull movement is possible, but a rebound, more or less pronounced, is certain to be seen. The acquisition of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. by the United States Steel Co. is a big feather in Mr. Morgan's cap. Buy steel. Good absorption is seen in Union Pacific, Specialties—Buy Reading around 76, and Union Pacific under 110.

Rallying tendencies ought to continue in the stock market for a short time at least. We would, however, advise absorption of offerings at the higher levels before acting in accord with this outlook. It depends entirely upon how much stock must be removed. Therefore, daily operators will be wise if they maintain neutrality and do pretty much as the professionals. This latter element is selling short near the higher level, using a point stop order as a safeguard. We prefer to believe declines of moment now to be culminated, even though the outlook is still dark with pessimistic developments, which have been largely discounted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Goldman, Sachs & Co. to-day announced the engagement of $1,200,000 for import from London. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. also announced that they had secured $500,000 in Europe. This makes the total of the present movement $39,175,000.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Lord Avebury, chairman of the Merchants' Association of English Bankers, said he thought the present bank rate would prove sufficient, and it would be injudicious to raise it further. He further expressed

Structure of Greater City. As to the structure of "Greater Toronto," Yonge street might be called the backbone, although probably it was more in the nature of a spine, and the Queen street was the frontal rib. The great mid-rib of the new Toronto would be Bloor street, and it should be made an continuous street from the Humber to Scarborough townline. All it wanted was the Bloor street extension across the Don, and Toronto would then have a great east and west street, and that street would open up for immediate settlement 2000 acres of the most valuable land in or near Toronto, and also the cheapest land.

It was of the opinion that the development of Greater Toronto would be facilitated by the immediate recovery of the street railway franchise, the electric energy franchise, and, ultimately, of the gas franchise. Some day the city might have a commission that would control the gas works, the street railway and the distribution of electric energy. In a word, he was in favor of widening the area of Toronto; in favor of great east and west streets, the recovery of all franchises that have been parted with; ultimately in favor of government ownership of the electric energy franchise, and, ultimately, of the gas franchise.

He was also of the opinion that the day was near at hand when Toronto should get ready for tubes containing underground railways, and for diagonal streets running in north-south and north-west-south-east directions. He was not afraid to say that in his opinion if there was any kind of civic corruption, and it must be admitted that there is some, it had its source largely in the presence of private-owned public franchises, and the way to get rid of this corruption was to put these franchises out of business.

Experts to Run City. Mr. Maclean advised that we start with the instruments at hand and take the city council as it is, to take the first steps in the plan for a Greater Toronto. He advocated a greater salary for members of the board of control, all of whom should be required to be proved experts of a high order in their own particular departments. A commission of experts to do the executive work and to take out its policy could gradually be developed out of the present board of control. The council should be limited to legislative work.

PLANS FOR GREATER CITY TAKE IN WHOLE TOWNSHIP

W. F. Maclean Suggests Diagonal Streets, Tubes and Recovery of All Franchises.

"Greater Toronto" was the theme of an address given by W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, before the Empire Club on Thursday. J. F. M. Stewart, president of the club, presided, and on either side of the speaker of the day sat J. P. Murray, Barlow, Cumberland, Canon Macdonald, Col. Mason, Mr. Roof, James L. Hughes and Ald. McGhie. Mr. Maclean was frequently applauded, as the scheme he outlined for the expansion and development of the city appeared to be singularly in harmony with the views of most of the members present.

Mr. Maclean described the Township of York as being of a width of ten miles on the front and a depth of ten miles. In other words, the township contains 100 square miles, or 6,400 acres. Toronto, which occupied most of the front, was eight miles across at the widest point, and four miles deep, an area of about seven square miles, and Toronto occupied another four square miles, making in all twenty-one square miles, or 1,344 acres. The rest of the township, including the city, there were forty square miles, or 2,560 acres. He said that there would be less than nineteen square miles to take in, and of these fifteen miles six were east of the Don and nine were west of the Don. He said that north of Danforth-avenue and west of the Don, and market-garden land for some years, so that if we took in the three existing townships and let out this country north of Danforth-avenue and east of the Don there would only be thirteen square miles to take in. He said that he would like to take in the south of Eglinton-avenue, and a lot of this was already built upon, so that he was not afraid to advise that we make one bite of it all and take the whole 100 square miles, that is the whole of York Township, and that we control the water supply, the roads, street traction systems, sewers and sanitation of the whole township. This could be done without in any way hurting the land that would be used for some years for farming and market-gardening purposes, but would, as a matter of fact, greatly benefit it.

Structure of Greater City. As to the structure of "Greater Toronto," Yonge street might be called the backbone, although probably it was more in the nature of a spine, and the Queen street was the frontal rib. The great mid-rib of the new Toronto would be Bloor street, and it should be made an continuous street from the Humber to Scarborough townline. All it wanted was the Bloor street extension across the Don, and Toronto would then have a great east and west street, and that street would open up for immediate settlement 2000 acres of the most valuable land in or near Toronto, and also the cheapest land.

It was of the opinion that the development of Greater Toronto would be facilitated by the immediate recovery of the street railway franchise, the electric energy franchise, and, ultimately, of the gas franchise. Some day the city might have a commission that would control the gas works, the street railway and the distribution of electric energy. In a word, he was in favor of widening the area of Toronto; in favor of great east and west streets, the recovery of all franchises that have been parted with; ultimately in favor of government ownership of the electric energy franchise, and, ultimately, of the gas franchise.

He was also of the opinion that the day was near at hand when Toronto should get ready for tubes containing underground railways, and for diagonal streets running in north-south and north-west-south-east directions. He was not afraid to say that in his opinion if there was any kind of civic corruption, and it must be admitted that there is some, it had its source largely in the presence of private-owned public franchises, and the way to get rid of this corruption was to put these franchises out of business.

Experts to Run City. Mr. Maclean advised that we start with the instruments at hand and take the city council as it is, to take the first steps in the plan for a Greater Toronto. He advocated a greater salary for members of the board of control, all of whom should be required to be proved experts of a high order in their own particular departments. A commission of experts to do the executive work and to take out its policy could gradually be developed out of the present board of control. The council should be limited to legislative work.

Structure of Greater City. As to the structure of "Greater Toronto," Yonge street might be called the backbone, although probably it was more in the nature of a spine, and the Queen street was the frontal rib. The great mid-rib of the new Toronto would be Bloor street, and it should be made an continuous street from the Humber to Scarborough townline. All it wanted was the Bloor street extension across the Don, and Toronto would then have a great east and west street, and that street would open up for immediate settlement 2000 acres of the most valuable land in or near Toronto, and also the cheapest land.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Nov. 7. The advance in the Bank of England rate to 7 per cent., the highest in 34 years, and an increase in the rates of the banks of France and Belgium, drew further attention to the acuteness of the monetary situation to-day. This influence on the stock market was further impressed by another ten-point decline in C. P. R. at New York, and by the rumor that some of the liquidation on Wall-street was from a local house. Trading at the Toronto market was inactive, but sufficient new liquidation was forced to bring about reactions in all the speculative stocks, and further recessions in some of the bank shares. Sentiment is still perturbed. There are still numerous weak-margined accounts, and unless a direct change can be effected, more liquidation and lower prices are inevitable.

KINGSTON ROAD MAN HAS TWO BOLD CALLERS

Golden Wedding at Stroud—
General Live News From All
Over the County.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Nov. 7.—The assault case of Harry Horn against Henry Hill, of Ellington, was tried to-night in Police court before Mayor Baird and Peter Laughton, J.P. Hill was coming home from Toronto one evening last week when he met Horn. Mrs. Horn later deserted her home, and her husband accused Hill of being the cause of their marital troubles. Time circumstances, etc., seemed on the evening in question to be favorable for a tacit encounter, which resulted in Hill getting a badly cut face. He thereupon took an action against Hill for assault. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses, which was of a contradictory nature, their worships decided to dismiss the case without costs. The court room was crowded with spectators.

The street foreman is building retaining walls on both east and west sides of the stone culvert at Weston-road south, also three storm water catch basins. In addition the sidewalk is being moved from the east to the west side at an even width of 5 feet from the tracks to the sidewalk to leave room for a cinder bicycle path. The tracks will be raised one foot, and a gravel foundation will be put in for a distance of 7000 feet through the ravine. About 500 loads of gravel will be used.

Complaints were made to-day to the street foreman about the practice of the contractor in blocking up side streets with mounds of earth and street paving. The latest nuisance is several loads of scoria blocks, which have been dumped on the street, right in front of the postoffice. Street Foreman Moon will attend to this matter to-morrow morning.

The paving-street still progresses, the not with as much rapidity as some citizens would desire. The concrete sub-contract was completed on the north side from Keele-street down to the Peacock Hotel, and these past few days have been spent in laying the concrete on the north side of the street, and in preparation for laying the curb at the east side of Dundas-street. The cut stone is all in position ready for the mixer, and the concrete on the north side will likely be completed by Saturday evening.

STROUD.
Venerable Couple Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

STROUD, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—A pleasing event took place in this village a few days ago, when the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Webb was celebrated with becoming ceremony. Eight sons, standing in a row, and six daughters-in-law and two sisters of Mrs. Webb, together with the Rev. Mr. Beynon, pastor of the venerable church, with his family, were in attendance.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served, and golden presents were given to the venerable and worthy couple. Among the gifts were: a gold-headed cane, a pair of silver-lined golden coins, to Mrs. Webb, and two handsome easy chairs. The reunion was indeed a memorable event in the history of the village and family, and congratulations were also received from many old-time friends in different parts of the country.

TODMORDEN.
St. Andrew's Hall Will Accommodate Young Men's Club.

TODMORDEN, Nov. 7.—A young men's club is being formed in this place, and it is understood that the headquarters will be in St. Andrew's Hall, which is now well on its completion. The organization will fill a long-felt want in this part of the suburbs of Toronto, as there has never before been an organization for the youths here to meet during the long evenings in the winter-time.

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Church met last night and decided to open the new parish hall with a concert and refreshments. The talent, who are to be local, are already preparing several numbers for a good program. Another working bee to help rush the completion of the parish hall will be held on Saturday afternoon. The Women's Guild will provide a supper for the workers in the evening.

There are fourteen bakers peddling bread thru this locality. All sorts of weights are being sold, and at all sorts of prices. Loaves weighing 16, 20 and 24 ounces are sold at from 31-2c to 5c each. There should be a broad bylaw for the Township of York, as at each-time is near there is a good opportunity for a new and fearless municipal candidate to arise. The people around here will strongly support such a man.

NORTH TORONTO, Nov. 7.—There is considerable complaint about the slow traveling facilities afforded between the city and North Toronto. He could have walked the distance in half the time, saved two fares and received a wholesome physical exercise.

WILLOWDALE.
Advocates of Local Option Hold Successful Meeting.

WILLOWDALE, Nov. 7.—Altho the night was dreary and the elements rough, a large gathering greeted the Canadian Temperance League of Toronto last night at the schoolhouse, where the league gave a free entertainment. The speakers of the evening were local option. The Canadian Temperance League is assisting the York Township League in the fight for local option, and this was the first of a series of meetings to be held thruout the township of York in the next few weeks. Amongst those who came from Toronto were: J. S. Robertson, president of the C.T.L. of Toronto, who occupied the chair; Arthur Hartman, M.A., vice-president; R. W. Cox, chairman of the missionary committee; C. F. McTavish, secretary; J. C. Van Camp, George B. Sweetnam, Mr. and Mrs. R. McInnis, Mr. Tutill, Miss Ingle, Miss McIntosh, Miss Cleland and others.

Master Earl Ludlow's voice was in splendid condition and was very much appreciated, while Miss C. Ingle preached a powerful sermon in her recitation and touched tender chords. Mrs. R. McInnis's solo was also appreciated.

The speakers of the evening were: Arthur W. Martin, M.A., and Mrs. R. N. Case.

Mr. Martin, as an introductory, made a few humorous remarks, and he had the audience with him at once. He said he wished to put his speech in three columns of York Times next few weeks. (1) What is it? (2) What shall we do with it? (3) What shall we do with it? The total annual expense for strong drink is $150,000,000. All the live stock in the province is valued at $600,000,000, and in seven years the money expended in drink would buy all that was enumerated, or if the money spent in drink should be applied to pay off the national debt, in two years it would be paid off. What do the people get in return for this enormous amount of money spent—surely they get something? The speaker asked, "Can you tell me they get?" he said, "They are getting 5000 corpses annually in return, 16,500 men in prison who have to be fed and looked after, not to say anything about the large number of widows and orphans and broken-up homes. There is more money spent annually in the bill till the churches combined would pay in 300 years for mitigation work." He then went on to explain what local option means, and said that

It is a change in the Liquor License Act which enables a municipality to say if liquor shall be sold within its boundaries. As the License Act stands, we have total prohibition, because nobody is permitted to sell any liquor without a license, and local option simply defines the boundaries within which no license shall be issued. The speaker demurred to the three-fifths majority clause in the Local Option Act, but as the province has this law it behooves everybody to put his neighbor out to vote for the abolishing of the bar.

Mrs. R. N. Cox made a strong appeal to the church people to vote as they pray, and to concern the bar and save the boys. She told the story of her oldest brother, who was wrecked by strong drink.

Rev. F. C. Keam of Newtonbrook moved a vote of appreciation by the audience, and promised much local activity.

EARLS COURT.
I. O. F. Local Court Had Fine Concert During Week.

EARLS COURT, Nov. 7.—The Court of Earls Court, I.O.F., held an open meeting on Monday, Nov. 4, Bro. E. Minna, C.R., in the chair. Bro. George A. Mitchell, superintendent of field work, gave a short address on the work of the I.O.F. Among those who took part in the meeting were Rev. Mr. Bryon, Dr. W. J. Corrigan of Wychwood, Bro. George Draxton, baritone soloist. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

THE EAST YORK INSPECTOR.
Editor World: In your issue of this morning R. Paterson, secretary of the East York Liberal-Conservative Association, rushes to the defence of W. W. Thompson, license inspector for the district, against certain charges which he alleges I have made against him. Mr. Paterson admits that the license inspector was present at the Markham convention, but he claims that Mr. Thompson, not being a delegate, had a right to attend as an individual member of the Conservative party.

I am not concerned, the public is not concerned whether Mr. Thompson attended at a delegate or otherwise; his presence in any capacity was highly improper and at variance with the repeated assertions of the present government that they had placed the administration of the license department on a non-partisan basis, and also in marked contrast to the conduct of previous inspectors, at least in East York, under Liberal rule, who were never seen at similar gatherings of the Liberal party.

EAST TORONTO.
Two Local Men Attempt Bold Mid-Day Robbery.

EAST TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Shortly before noon to-day, two men entered the butchershop of Richard Nuttall, corner of Beech-avenue and King-street, and while one of the men proceeded to buy some meat the other asked to be allowed to use the telephone. While the proprietor was engaged in waiting on his customer, the other left the telephone, entered the office and took a handful of silver from the till, when he was seized by Nuttall and placed under arrest. Both were ordered from the store. Later one of them re-entered the office, where the proprietor was engaged in counting his cash, and attempted to buy some good any deficiency at the same time asking how much, if any, was missing. He then proceeded to count over the roll of bills lying on the desk and abstracted a $5 bill, which he attempted to push up his sleeve. A tussle ensued and the proprietor was put out of the shop. Later a $5 bill was found on the floor of the shop. Both men are well-known in town, while one of them is the owner of considerable property.

The annual game supper of the East Toronto Hunt Club will this year take place on Nov. 28.

Judge Morgan has fixed the date for the court of revision as Nov. 29. Some 400 names will be dealt with.

The East Toronto Harriers' Club held its most successful concert and athletic evening in the Y.M.C.A. to-night.

VICTORY FOR LLOYD-GEORGE

Ending of British Railroad Dispute Triumph of Diplomacy.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The agreement drafted by David Lloyd-George, which last night averted the threatened British railroad strike, provides for the consideration of further matters in dispute primarily by a sectional board of conciliation representing the various grades of employees and the individual railroads; in case of disagreement settlement will be reached by the board of conciliation, and an equal number of men representing the full membership of the society. If the board and these representatives fail to reach a decision, the matter then must be settled by arbitration.

The directors of the railroads thus bind themselves to compulsory outside intervention in disputes with their employees. The board will in every case be composed of elected employees of the companies concerned, as well as officials of the various railroads.

The dispute, apart from its effect on the public business, has attracted attention of high officials of the government, even that of King Edward himself. His majesty has taken the deepest interest in the crisis, and the extraordinary efforts and precautions adopted by the president of the board of trade.

For this reason the news of the settlement was not given until the King had received from Mr. Lloyd-George information that the crisis was over.

For you, clothes to fit perfectly, to suit you to wear them.

We make the Suit to your individual measure—in a style that you prefer—and in a way that assures permanent shapeliness.

When we finish your new Fall Suit—test it just as the above illustration shows.

Put the Coat on a table. See that the inside seam of the coat collar lies straight with the edge of the table.

That is the proof of hand tailoring—of honest workmanship.

And we want you to put to the test, every suit of that we make for you. Come in any day now, to see the new styles and cloths for Fall and Winter Suits and Overcoats. They are ready.

Note the wrinkled collar of the ordinary coat when tested.
