GERMAN ATTACKS MELT UNDER HOT BRITISH FIRE

French Repel Another Heavy Assault on Right Bank of Meuse

BARLY POUNDED ENEMY TROOPS GIVEN NO REST

GERMANS UNDER TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT AFTER BLOODY REPULSE BY BRITISH.

FOE IS DEMORALIZED

Men in Forward Defences Are Almost Cut Off From Relief.

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Oct. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The badly punished German troops east of Ypres today were largely resting on their arms after repulsed yesterday's counter-attacks to drive the British back. Possibly the designation "resting" is a misnomer, for the enemy was sitting under a terrific bombardment which was deluging his back and forward areas with high explosives and turning his fastness into twisted masses of debris, which formed the graves of the defenders.

Any of the nerve-wracked, half-stunned German prisoners who have lived under the bombardments can tell of the tragedy now being enacted along the German front in this section of Belgium. Thanks to the German counter-attacks there has been hardly a moment's cessation of the intense artillery work of the British since last Wednesday, when Field Marshal Haig's troops executed their latest offensive.

Enemy Demoralized. Captured Germans say that their forward defenses have been greatly demoralized by this ceaseless pounding. Relief and ration parties venture out, miserably waylaid by circuitous routes to the men holding the advanced shell holes, who have often been compelled to hold out all the time in proper food. Ready needed ammunition has frequently never reached its destination.

Every approach to the German lines is covered by British guns, making the movement of enemy infantry an arduous process. Naturally the question arises what effect all this heavy ordnance has on the morale of the German troops. It is generally admitted among the prisoners that the morale of their men has deteriorated since the beginning of the battles in Flanders. Divisions which have been thru one siege in the German front lines sometimes reappear used a second time in this position.

This marks a striking change from the former attitude of the German troops, who have worked as unflinching orders issued by their officers.

ENEMY FAILS TO BREAK THRU LINES OF FRENCH

In Determined Attack Preceded by Intense Artillery Fire, Was Able to Gain Only Temporary Footing in Meuse Sector.

Paris, Oct. 2.—In a determined attack, after an intense bombardment, several German detachments penetrated the French lines at a point north of Hill 344 on the right bank of the Meuse, according to the French official statement. But after a stubborn struggle the French recaptured the greater part of the advance elements where the enemy had made a footing. Enemy airplanes bombed the town of Toul, causing several casualties.

FIVE PORTFOLIOS TO BE OPEN IN BORDEN CABINET

Three Ministers Will, It Is Understood, Accept Appointments and Two Vacancies Now Exist—Influx of Liberals at Ottawa

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The political pot was boiling again in the Laurier's tonight. This morning's trains from Montreal brought in quite a notable gathering, C. E. Balfanz, who is likely to enter the cabinet as a conscriptionist Liberal, was one of them. Then came another party composed of Hon. J. A. Calder of Regina, Hon. J. G. Macdonald of Ottawa, F. P. Farde, chief Liberal whip, and F. B. Carvell. The last-mentioned gentlemen attended in Montreal on Monday the conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when general plans for the campaign were mapped out.

NOTED GERMAN AIRMAN FALLS IN FIERCE BATTLE

Brilliant British Flyer Meets Lieut. Vosse in Thrilling Encounter—Much Hard Fighting in Air With Many Remarkable Incidents.

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Oct. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The body of the famous German aviator, Lieutenant Vosse, who was recently reported as missing, has been found within the British lines, and British airmen have already dropped messages behind the German front, giving notification of his death.

AVIATORS SUCCEED IN BOMBING RAIDS

British Flyers Work Havoc Among Various Enemy Establishments.

London, Oct. 2.—"On the night of Sunday," says an official statement, "naval aircraft dropped bombs on the St. Denis Westerm airfield, which fell amid the sheds and set fire to one on the south side. The fire burned and was visible thirty miles away. Bombs were also dropped on the Zeppelinge lock-gates.

NO LOWER PRICES FOR FLOUR AT MONTREAL

Toronto Board of Trade's Announcement Has No Effect.

Montreal, Oct. 2.—No lower prices are looked for in the market here for winter wheat flour, notwithstanding that the Toronto Board of Trade has issued a statement that prices will be reduced 40 cents a barrel. According to a prominent commission merchant of this city there is considerable difficulty and delay in obtaining shipment of regular supplies from Ontario, and premiums over and above the current market prices, are frequently paid to obtain prompt delivery.

BRITAIN EXTENDS EMBARGO

London, Oct. 2.—The Gazette prints a proclamation prohibiting the exportation to Sweden, Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands of all articles except pig-iron, matter of all descriptions and personal effects, accompanied by their owners.

ATTACKS ON HAIG'S FORCES SHOW Foe'S DESPERATION

BRITISH AIRMEN ADD TO BRILLIANT EXPLOITS

London, Oct. 2.—An official statement on the aerial operations, issued tonight, says: "A heavy ground mist on Monday hindered aerial work until evening. Successful observation was then accomplished for the artillery and many photographs were taken. Bombing was carried out in the day and night. The Gontrode airfield was twice attacked and several bombs were observed to burst on a show. The Carrières airfield, near Cambrai, was bombed and a large hangar hit. Two attacks were made on a German long-range gun and two others on hostile billets in the battle area.

BLOCKADE IS FORCING ENEMY TO SUBJECTION

War Essentials Failing Germany and Prisoners Compelled to Make Peace

By Stewart Lyon. Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Oct. 2.—The enemy early this (Tuesday) morning attempted to raid our lines in the Avion sector, but was repulsed before he got to close quarters and driven off after sustaining a number of casualties. The infantry activity is generally less than normal, but the sound of guns never ceases. The Germans are attempting more by way of destructive shoots on our battery positions than they did in the past, but even in this respect they are still far behind the British and Canadian gunners on this part of the front, especially in effecting a penetration.

ENEMY BADLY BEATEN

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two more counter-attacks were attempted by the Germans against the British lines between the northeast corner of Polygon Wood and the Menin road last night, but as in the case of three hours ago, they were repulsed.

Hot Fighting in East Africa

London, Oct. 2.—An official statement on the campaign in East Africa reports heavy fighting on the Lindi-Masasi road (German East Africa), about forty miles southwest of Lindi. British columns are making good progress in the difficult country against the stubborn resistance of the enemy, whose strong counter-attacks have been repulsed. The British have retained the ground won.

TSINGTAU NO LONGER UNDER MILITARY RULE

Civil Administration Has Been Substituted by Japan.

Tokyo, Sunday, Sept. 30.—(Delayed.)—An official communication issued today announces that the Japanese military administration at Tsingtau, the former German possession in China, has been abolished. During the three years it has been in effect, it is pointed out, order has been established in the territory. The civil administration now substituted for it, the statement says, is designed to improve the administration of the territory in general and of the railways and mines and promote the welfare of the inhabitants, while bringing about more friendly relations.

SCARCITY IS EVIDENT

But Ulterior Motive for Draconic Action is Thought to Exist.

Special to The Toronto World. Washington, Oct. 2.—It is hard to find out the reason for the embargo put on American coal going into Canada. Certainly one reason, that there is a scarcity of coal for the northwestern states, has a good deal behind it. This country is bound to see that its own requirements are forthcoming before outsiders are allowed to obtain supplies from the States of a commodity that is limited in two directions, first as to quantity, and next in the ability of the American railroads to transport it.

BECK NOT CONVINCED

London, Oct. 2.—Hon. Adam Beck stated to The World, on being asked what he thought of the coal embargo, that as far as he could learn from inquiries he had made, there was no connection whatever between the action taken and the curtailment of the export of electric power from Niagara Falls.

SERIOUS RISING IN TURKESTAN

Petrograd Reports That Soldiers Have Seized Their Officers.

GOVERNMENT DEFIED

Troops at Disposal of Gen. Korovnitzenko to Suppress Disorders.

Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 1.—A revolutionary movement is in progress in Turkestan. General Cherkess, commander of the district, has been attacked and beaten.

Government despatches describe the Turkestan revolt as increasingly serious. Irresponsible elements among the troops have obtained control of the military and seized the officers. The people are in panic.

The semi-official news agency issued the following statement on the Turkestan situation: "Political agitators, with the support of two local regiments, took over the administration of Tashkent (capital of Russian Turkestan) and announced that they no longer recognized the provisional government.

The Muslim population, which disapproved of the town's masters, rose in revolt, and aided by the pupils of the military academy, occupied the fortress. The government has appointed the commander of the troops at Kazan (eastern European Russia), Gen. Korovnitzenko, commanding general of Turkestan, and has placed at his disposal sufficient troops to suppress the disorders."

Russian Turkestan is composed of four provinces in central Asia, extending westward to the Caspian Sea. It has an area of 420,000 square miles and a population of 6,850,000. The major portion of the region is in the form of barren or partly cultivated steppes or deserts. A temporary revolutionary committee has been organized to take all power. Parts of two regiments joined in a counter-revolutionary movement. The minister of the interior says he is not alarmed, and is confident the disturbance will soon be quelled.

CANAL VICTIM WAS HERE FROM ENGLAND

Body Found at Cornwall Was That of William Folks.

Special to The Toronto World. Cornwall, Oct. 2.—The body of the sailor found in the Cornwall Canal Thursday had been identified as that of Wm. Folks, a native of England, aged 45 years. Folks has been sailing the high seas for 20 years and was sent from Toronto to bring the steamer Measles to the Atlantic Coast, according to Mr. Goran, mate of that vessel, who was in Cornwall and arranged the funeral. Folks was on the boat at 10 o'clock the night before he was missed, and he was found between 10 and 12 o'clock a.m., as his watch was stopped at that hour. He had $45.25 on his person, which will be sent to his sister in England. The remains were interred in Woodlawn Cemetery, the service being conducted by Rev. Hugh Munroe, pastor of St. John's Church.

DR SHORTT'S NEW POST.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Following a meeting of the cabinet council this afternoon, it was announced that Dr. Adam Shortt has been appointed chairman of the board of historical documents. Dr. Shortt will be succeeded on the civil service commission by Clarence Jameson, M.P. for Digby, N.S.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

ACCORDING to the meagre British official statement last night there is very little activity on the part of the armies on the whole western front. Beyond fierce artillery action, it said, there was little to report.

It is now admitted by the highest military authorities in Berlin that all hope of the Germans regaining the initiative on the western front has passed, but the high German command is evidently determined to do its utmost to prevent the British from making use of their advantage in Flanders. With the British guns hammering the Ostend-Lille line of communication and the advance wedge of Haig's men within six miles of the railway, the German line in Flanders is hanging in the balance. The next offensive, which is expected soon, will in all probability be a deciding factor in the allied victory, as a deep thrust on the Ypres-Menin road region would cut off an important means of supply to the enemy in Belgium and the submarine base at Ostend.

The desperate efforts being made by the army of Prince Rupprecht to break thru the British lines between Polygon Wood and Tower Hamlets is evidence that he dreads the next offensive of Haig. These onslaughts are plainly for the purpose of destroying the allied plans, but the British commander reports that the attacks have been a complete failure, and he is highly satisfied with the situation. Preceded by intense artillery fire, Rupprecht has hurled battalions of picked troops against the newly-consolidated trenches of the British, but has failed to make any appreciable impression upon their security. Similar tactics were carried out on the eve of the last British thrust.

That the German high command recognizes its grip on Flanders is weakening as the struggle continues was shown by the attempt to regain lost ground at Polygon Wood yesterday. Three times the enemy tried to penetrate the British line to the south, but the result was another advance of a few hundred yards by Haig's men after a terrific encounter. The first attack was made at dawn and the enemy advanced in three waves, but was moved down by the merciless fire of the British rifles. In the second attempt the British turned loose an avalanche of shells seldom seen along the front, inflicting heavy loss. Despite this the enemy returned a third time, regardless of casualties, but was broken, with the British in hot pursuit.

The French army, in the Verdun region, is holding itself in restraint and seems to be satisfied to wait for the attacks of the crown prince and drive back the enemy with heavy losses. In the French official statement it is announced that yesterday a determined attack was made by the enemy on the French positions on the right bank of the Meuse after intense artillery fire. Several assaulting detachments of the enemy, under violent fire from the French positions, penetrated the line at a point north of Hill 344. But after a strong encounter the Frenchmen recaptured the greater part of the territory where the enemy had gained a footing. The communication also states that enemy airplanes bombed the Town of Toul, causing several casualties.

In the Italian theatre, Rome reports that there has been moderate artillery activity along the whole front. On the Bainsizza Plateau the army, under Gen. Cadorna, checked several local attacks by the Austrians. Yesterday afternoon, the Italian army in the Carso was able to occupy new positions.

NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND TURKS TAKEN PRISONER

British Triumph in Mesopotamia of Spectacular Order.

London, Oct. 2.—Nearly four thousand prisoners were taken by the British army in Mesopotamia which captured Ramadie. It is announced officially.

A Turkish official statement says, with reference to the operations at Ramadie, Mesopotamia: "Early Friday the enemy bombarded for several hours positions already evacuated, afterwards launching an attack with six battalions of infantry and one of cavalry. The fighting continues. Four enemy airplanes were brought down."

The capture of Ramadie, on the Euphrates, west of Baghdad, was effected by a surprise attack of the British. They outflanked and cut off the Turkish defenses in a heavy engagement and taking prisoner nearly the entire garrison of Ramadie. An official announcement in London on Sunday said the Turkish commander, Ahmed Bey, and his staff, had been taken with his men, and that guns, arms, ammunition, stores, equipment and much other booty had been captured.

CALLS THIRD DRAFT OF NATIONAL ARMY

On Orders of Washington, Guardsmen Move Today to Cantonments.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The third contingent of national army men will begin moving tomorrow to the sixteen cantonments, where approximately one-third of the 87,000 selected men called out by the president have been already mobilized. Quotas now ready to be sent home vary greatly, ranging from 17 to 49 per cent of the full state quota, with a general average of between 20 and 25 per cent. Modification of previous quota plans was necessary because of the conditions at the cantonments and the availability of equipment. Some cantonments are much farther advanced than others and can accommodate a larger percentage of men. Secretary Baker indicated today that no date had been set as to when a second call will be made. Decision of the war department with the suggestion that the remaining 7,000,000 registered men be examined immediately and classified for service, in order that they may have knowledge of when to expect a call to the colors and arrange their affairs accordingly, awaits action by congress on the war deficiency bill.

LET GERMANS TASTE THEIR OWN MEDICINE

British Government Considers Reprisals for Air Raids, and Enemy Warns People.

London, Oct. 2.—The Wilhelmshaven Tageblatt, publishes two pages of advice warning the people against possible air raids by the entente armies. The Evening Standard states "on the highest authority" that the entente is paying special attention to reprisals for German air attacks on London and other places. It says: "There is no question as to the decision of the government to take very effective reprisals at the earliest moment, consistent with the advice of the highest military command."

Congress Sends War Tax Bill To Wilson for Signature

Washington, Oct. 2.—Congress tonight sent the great war tax bill to the president for his signature, the senate having passed the measure in the house and adopting the conference report without a record vote. The measure levies more than two and a half billion dollars additional taxes within the next four months.

LAST ROUTE MARCH AT CAMP BORDEN

Men Enjoy Eleven-Mile Hike Under Ideal Weather Conditions.

RECEIVE BONUS CHEQUE

Physical Training Squad Get Five Dollars Each From Exhibition.

Camp Borden, Oct. 2.—Back to camp this afternoon thru the woods, the "Turks" differing them in a heavy engagement and taking prisoner nearly two thousand troops who took part in what was probably the last route march at Camp Borden before the big trek to Toronto, which commences next week. It was an ideal day for a march, cool weather and no dust, the field being covered with grass, and there was not a single casualty to mar the occasion. The troops which took part in the march were those who were medically fit and could be spared from the 1st depot battalion. Lt. Col. John I. McLaren, of the 1st Depot Battalion, 1st C. O. R., was in command of the troops on the march, which covered about 11 miles. The route taken was out thru Amnash to an open glade, surrounded on three sides by the Mad River, where a two hours' halt was made for lunch. Here the field kitchens had been brought across country to meet them and prepare the mid-day meal. The pipe band of the 1st C. O. R., accompanied the march, and the camp headquarters band was sent out in G. O. C. uniform to the non-combat halting place. The scene at this spot was a picturesque one, with the river on three sides of them and the woods in the rear of the level open space, the men indulged in fancying to the music of the band and of the pipes, which were played by the men. A staff officer put it down. Some eight miles had been thru wooded paths was only some three miles.

The exhibition bonus. The headquarters staff have received a cheque for $500 from the authorities of the exhibition. The exhibition as a bonus of $5 per man to the 112 men of the physical training squad which took part in the exhibition at the fair.

HAMILTON MAYOR IS NOT CANDIDATE

Booker Refuses to Accept Nomination for the Federal House.

By a Staff Reporter.

Hamilton, Oct. 2.—Mayor Booker will be content to be Hamilton's chief magistrate and will avoid federal politics in order to conduct the affairs of the "Ambitious City." Discussing the matter to-day his worship stated that despite the invitations which he had received to run for member of the federal parliament he had fully made up his mind not to seek higher honors in the near future, but to continue on in the mayor's chair for another term.

Heroes of the far-flung battlefield, bearing in many cases the bullets and steel of the Boche, fourteen Hamiltonians returned home today cheered by the applause of citizens and welcomed by their many relatives and friends, who had gathered at the P. H. and B. station to greet them as they stepped off the train. Mayor Booker, who had returned to his home in Hamilton, was one of the soldiers' aid commission, and other prominent citizens accompanied the veterans to a civic welcome, after which they were moved to their homes.

The board of control got itself into hot water when it turned down the petition of the city for a general war bonus of ten per cent, which one of the associations of workers, dependent on the city for their livelihood, naturally did not want his name divulged, but he is confident that the city will be able to secure the bonus. The board of control, before another fortnight had passed, that is, before the first day's collections had been turned in at the banquet held in G. O. C. hall, the total was stated to be $8000. The campaign will be continued tomorrow, and the committee is confident that the amount aimed at will be secured. The money is being gathered by ten teams of ten men each.

FUEL CONTROLLER SETS COAL PRICES

To Discover Amount Needed. In a statement that will be sent with this questionnaire, the fuel controller in order to place the needs of the province before Dr. Harry A. Gairfield, the American fuel administrator.

He also states that unless the dealer gives this information before the 15th of the month, he will give no assurance that the dealer's needs will be looked after and also that Mr. Magrath will ask for an exhibit from the dealer imposing a penalty for non-compliance with the request. With this information the fuel controller is being sent to Lord Peary, the British ambassador to the United States, expects that a definite answer will be given by the 15th of the month to meet the requirements of the province.

In regard to the coal situation at present, the fuel controller states that the line mines have, in the past, been supplying the province with practically all their coal to take ports to supply the American northwest. After this year has been met they will again be able to supply their regular trade.

Montreal, Oct. 2.—Railway officials here state that while the American embargo on the lake port coal supply came as a surprise, the situation this year has been met by the fact that last year, the Grand Trunk Railway Company has been utilizing every ton of the export coal for its own purposes and has about ninety hundred old coal cars now under repair which will be available soon. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has been turning out converted coal cars at the rate of twenty a day, and it is expected that local coal dealers were shocked by the news of the embargo, and expressed fears that the new embargo placed upon the railways will result in further embargoes by the rail, way themselves owing to their inability to handle the increased traffic.

MAGRATH NOT ADVISED.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—No official notification has been received by C. A. Magrath, Dominion fuel controller, of the decision of the United States authorities to prohibit the export of coal to Canada. Mr. Magrath is making enquiries with the object of getting definite information as to the nature of the order and its probable duration. Until this information is secured it will be impossible to tell to what extent it will affect the Canadian coal situation.

ALLIED ARMEN DESTROY GERMAN RAILWAY LINES

Holland Despatches Say They Are Playing Havoc With Enemy Communications.

London, Oct. 2.—Despatches from Holland gathered by frontier correspondents say that the allied armen railway communications and military establishments in Belgium.

On Sunday night, according to The Times, a heavy communication with Ghent was interrupted, and that a bridge was destroyed just before the arrival of a military train, the engine of which fell thru the bridge.

PASSPORTS REFUSED

French Socialists Cannot Attend Berne Conference.

Paris, Oct. 2.—It is announced that the French Government will not grant passports to French delegates for the Berne conference decided upon at the recent socialist conference in London. The question of the transfer to a neutral city, the headquarters of the international labor union, is being discussed at the Berne meeting.

WHEAT SURPLUS FOR EXPORT.

Victoria, Oct. 2.—According to Prof. W. A. Back, agricultural commissioner for the federal government, who has charge of the administration of the grants under the agricultural instruction act of 1912, there will be an estimated exportable surplus of 225,000,000 bushels of wheat for the allies after providing for the food and seed in the Dominion.

N. R. bill. The audience which greeted Mr. Guthrie tonight was a thoroughly representative one. Members of both the Liberal and Conservative parties from all sections were present, and when he had concluded an eloquent address no one had any criticism to offer. At the close he was most heartily congratulated by leading representatives of both political parties. He closed his address by making the following statement regarding the position which he intends to take in the future: "With reference to the position which I intend to take if I am again returned to parliament in respect of measures pertaining to the present war, I intend to give wholehearted and unqualified support to any government which may be formed and which will undertake to prosecute the war to the full extent of Canada's power in men, money and resources." He said that he was not to be misled by such a government as called coalition, union or national. I believe in a union at the present time of all political forces for the prosecution of the war irrespective of all political parties. "I do not know whether a union government will be formed by Sir Robert Borden at the present time or after the general election, if he be returned to power, I am certain from the public statements which the prime minister has made that it is his intention to form a union government of the best men available, either now or later on; and if a union government is formed and I am returned to parliament for this riding, I shall give it my utmost support."

"Cumberland Prints"

Surely the Most Interesting and Decorative of the New Chintzes—Glowing With Clear Color, Sparkling With Piquant Pattern, and Rejoicing in the Large Effective Designs So Desirable For the Spacious Living-room of Present Vogue.

ORIGINALITY, CHARACTER—all that the artistic eye craves for in cretonne, greets you in these Cumberland Prints, which have just been opened up in the Drapery Department. They are immensely clever in their blending of color, and charmingly decorative in pattern, answering most happily the demand of the large living-room for fabrics of distinctive type. To describe a few of them:

Looking as though it had been colored by hand, a cretonne with black ground, patterned with huge pink peonies, purple asters, delicate white cosmos, and basking in the beauty of it all a handsome cockatoo, with blue and white feathers, perched on the brown branch that meanders through the design.

Another design of more shadowy type shows large shaggy-petalled flowers, in crushed rose shades, much green foliage, and clumps here and there of deep blue blossoms.

The same design is available, too, in a delightful combination of mulberry and grey tones—ideal for the sunny drawing-room with grey walls.

For a living-room with the fashionable sand-color walls is a wonderfully attractive fabric showing much soft brown foliage and purple and rose-tinted pomegranates on a buff ground.

Another chintz, admirably suited to drawing-room use, glories in great soft purple-pink peonies and creamy hydrangea, set against a grey background, with green and blue parrots peeping out between the foliage.

And suggesting delectable schemes for bedroom furnishing is a grey cretonne patterned with purple dahlias, brown foliage and little demure brown birds.

The Cumberland Prints are 31 inches wide, and priced $1.50 per yard. —Fourth Floor, Centre.

Little Talks on Modes and Makers.

IT IS THE CRUSADERS we have to thank for the vogue of the Oriental Rug. When they came back from the Holy War they brought with them many of these radiant carpets, which were forthwith hung on the walls of monasteries, or thrown over the tables and benches in mediaeval castles. In later years, when trade opened up with the East, the incomparable Oriental rug became accessible to any household possessing the means to procure it.

And how reasonable that we should hail it as a chief among floor coverings. Consider the purity and strength of the wool of which it is composed—sheared from the sheep, goats and camels that roam on the fertile hill-sides of Persia and Asia Minor. Its dye is derived from bark, roots and flowers—pure vegetable dye that imparts a smooth, silky sheen, and will not fade.

As for the designs, whole families devote their life-time to the developing of certain patterns characteristic of the localities to which they belong—the secret of which has been handed down to them from preceding generations of weavers. Generally speaking, Oriental rugs may be divided into four groups—Persian, Turcoman, Caucasian and Turkish. Each of these may in turn be classified according to the districts and towns in which they are woven.

Two of the most prominent among Persian designs are indicated in the accompanying illustrations. The Kermanshah—one of the finest rugs made on the Persian looms—of close, short pile, and of a rich delicacy of color, and vine-like daintiness of pattern that is the veritable poetry of weaving. Soft, pale tints of rose, blue, and green on an ivory ground are the prevailing shades, with the tree of life, spreading wide its feathery branches, as one of the most usual motifs. Large, impressive medallions, set down upon a ground patterned with flowers and small figures, constitute another familiar Kermanshah design. But always do pink, pale blue, pale green and ivory predominate as to colors, and feathery, vine-like delicacy of pattern. The Seraband is another Persian rug of which we see and hear much. It is distinguished by the much-talked-of "river-loop" or palm leaf, the same that is familiar to us on the Paisley shawl. And though this district of Persia is remote from the hills of India, it is to that country we trace the origin of the pattern—to the little Mahomedan shrine on a hillside overlooking a river which turns there in the valley below, forming a loop. And, according to tradition, certain beauty-loving pilgrims, impressed by the graceful bend of the glistening water, carried home the vision of it and embodied in it the carpets and shawls which represented their life-work. This "river-loop," known variously as "palm leaf" and "pearl," is found in many Persian designs, but the weavers of Seraband have made it their particular pattern. It is the distinct and characteristic feature of the rug famous under this name.

The "Tree of Life" pattern found in the Kermanshah.

The "River Loop" pattern that characterizes the "Seraband."

What About New Paper For That Shabby Room?

You Need Not Even Bother Measuring It to Find the Number of Rolls Required. Our Man Will Call at the House to Do This For You.

ONE THING WE MAY TAKE FOR granted—every house has some room, somewhere, that needs the attention of the painter or paperhanger. Perhaps the steam from the hot water taps has streaked the bathroom ceiling. Perhaps the woodwork behind the range and around the sink has lost all trace of original enamel or varnish. Perhaps the summer sun has faded the living-room walls. Or perhaps, just because of inevitable wear and tear, the whole house is in need of a freshening, brightening touch.

In which event thorough good work of our Decorating Department will appeal to you. It is equipped with a staff of workmen expert in all phases of interior decoration. A superb selection of new wall papers, mouldings, paints, enamels, varnishes, etc., is available. By request by postcard or telephone a man will be sent to your house to offer suggestions and submit estimates, free of charge.

When Fireside Days Suggest the Chesterfield

Most Inviting of All Sofas, Most Comfortable of All Couches, For the Quiet Time With a Book, the Intimate Chat With a Friend, or the Steady "Spell" of Knitting.

AN OPEN FIRE, A SHADED LAMP, a good book or an interesting companion—it's a pleasant prospect, isn't it? And who will deny that the comfy sofa belongs to the picture? The big, downy Chesterfield and "easy" arm chair—what living-room is complete without them?

Up on the Fourth Floor of the Furniture Building you will see them in all their glory and variety—English Chesterfields, American Chesterfields, Canadian Chesterfields, with particular interest resting upon those produced in the EATON workrooms.

Of our make is a superb Chesterfield, 7 feet 6 inches long, with rolling back and arms, every item of material in its make-up being of the best quality the market affords, and every detail of construction up to the highest standards of upholstery and cabinetmaking. Covered in green denim, it is featured at $68.00, and in tapestry of good quality $107.00. The large arm chair to match it is $45.00 covered in denim, and $68.00 in tapestry.

With a three-panel back, and flatter, cushion arms, is another Chesterfield from our own workrooms. This covered in denim is $69.00, and in rose and green tapestry, $115.00. The large arm chair to match is $27.50 in denim and $42.00 in tapestry.

And in "loose-cushion" style is the Chesterfield shown in the sketch above—a marvel of comfort in upholstery. Covered in green and soft rose tapestry it is $130.00; the chair to match, $64.00. —Furniture Building.

SOLDIERS' EXAMPLE AN INSPIRATION

Church Must Recognize Sacrifice of Heroes, Says Rev. Dr. Thurlow Frazer.

CHAPLAIN'S STORY

Noted Speaker Pictures Life of Men in Trenches, at Bloor Street Church.

The heroic and self-sacrifice of Canadian soldiers in France, as related by Rev. Dr. Thurlow Frazer of Owen Sound, recently returned from the front, where he served as chaplain, thrilled a gathering which filled Bloor Street Presbyterian Church last night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Presbytery of Toronto, and Dr. Bruce Taylor of Montreal, recently appointed to the principality of Quebec University, Kingston, spoke of the "Effect of the War on Our Thinking, Theologically."

Dr. Taylor also served at the front as chaplain of the 42nd Battalion, going overseas in December, 1914, and in the blood bath of Somme.

Dr. Frazer outlined the activities of the Canadians during the "blood bath of the Somme." He told of the removal of the troops from the Ypres salient until they took their place in the long white network of trenches traced on the hillsides in the vicinity of Albert, a town famous for the leaning image of the Virgin. He described a church service on the battlefield, and the abandonment of the church. The communion table, formed of two ammunition boxes, was covered with the Union Jack and white linen. He displayed the field communion set, from which many an heroic had received the sacred elements for the last time. He told of services, with men standing, often ankle deep in mud, and in the midst of the rain and mist.

High Tribute Paid.

He repeated a tribute paid by Sir Douglas Haig to the Canadian heroes while watching them in an advance, who said: "Look at those Canadians; they are going over as steadily as the Guards."

He referred to the spirit in which men of various denominations worked together at the front. They were on too big a job there to worry about denominational differences. This country would never know what it owed to the gallant boys in khaki.

These men, said Dr. Frazer, were following the command of Christ upon their march, and the church had to recognize the sacrifice which was being made by men who were perhaps ignorant of the church or were critics of its work. He said old doctrines were not broad enough to get these men in, then he declared, so much worse for the old doctrine. What they are doing is doing an inspiration to our church life.

"What we want in the church," he concluded, "is a fresh realization of the cross of Christ and the actual literal giving of ourselves to the service of God."

DEAD BOY IDENTIFIED

Killed by Wagon on Monday and Yesterday Found to Be George Eadie.

William Eadie, 99 Featherly road, identified the body of the seven-year-old boy last morning yesterday afternoon as that of his son, George Eadie. Mr. Eadie was summoned from his work by the police to go to the morgue after he had given them a description of his son, who had been missing from his home for 24 hours. He was found and instantly killed on Monday on Dufferin street when he ran over by a wagon driven by Robert J. Truhart, 111 Colby street. Coroner Butt opened an inquest, which was adjourned until next Wednesday night.

WEST PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

West Presbyterian Young People's Society, to the number of 50, held a reception last night in honor of the Rev. Dr. Frazer. After a program provided by Misses J. Jarvis, A. J. Sheppard, and the orchestra of Crawford Street Methodist church, a corn supper was served by the social committee. W. E. Gibson was master of ceremonies. The society has 21 members overseas, three of whom have been killed.

SUPREME COURT TO GIVE AN OPINION

Provincial Government Will Test Validity of Separate School Legislation.

LAST SESSION ACT

Point Involved is Power to Appoint Commission to Enforce Act.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, stated yesterday that the government proposed to submit to the appellate division of the supreme court the question of the validity of the act passed last session regarding the appointment of a commission for the Ottawa separate schools.

In order to understand the reason for doing so it is necessary to have in mind the history of the legislation in respect to the appointment of a commission for the Ottawa separate schools.

Regulation No. 17, providing that the English language shall be the language of instruction and of communication with the pupils in the public and separate schools, was issued by the department of education in 1912, and with some amendments was re-enacted in 1913.

The trustees of the separate schools at Ottawa persistently refused to observe this regulation, and in other ways neglected to live up to the regulations of the department of education, beyond the powers of the Ontario Legislature passed an act providing for the appointment of a commission to conduct the separate schools, and the minister of education was of the opinion that the board of trustees were not doing so.

This act was attacked in the courts, with the result that the private council held that it was unconstitutional.

This decision, in the opinion of the government, rendered the act inoperative. The government has tried to overcome these objections in the new act passed last session, and the act provides that if any question arises as to whether the circumstances justify the appointment of the commission, the minister of education may determine on an application to the supreme court.

Still Beyond Province.

The Ontario government's application to the Dominion Government for the disallowance of the act of last session, but to remove the province to the act, and that the Ontario Legislature, as they allege, re-enacting the legislation, is doing so in defiance of the private council decision.

The government are advised and advised that the act is unconstitutional, and providing for the appointment of a commission to manage the Ottawa schools, if the trustees persist in defiance of the law and regulations is undoubtedly within the power of the legislature, but the question of the government are submitting the legislation to the court.

The matter, it is assumed, can be argued at an early sitting.

STREET CLEANERS DEMAND APOLOGY

Men Will Submit Case to Arbitration Upon Certain Conditions.

WANT WILSON RETIRED

Commissioner Asked to Step Down Pending Report of Conciliatory Board.

To the singing of "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall" and the waving of Union Jacks, the mass meeting of the striking scavengers and street cleaners opened amiable and enthusiastic in the Victoria Hall yesterday afternoon. Over 600 were present, and notwithstanding the advice given by the mayor to take a vote immediately on the matter of returning to work, the men were still clamorous for action. It was strongly intimated that without this concession on the part of the board, the men would not return to work. Dr. C. Sheard, who was received with loud cheers and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," advised them to see the letter recalled. He hotly stated that lately there has been nothing but strikes, and there must be an end of them. "I tell you you ought to go back to work tomorrow." Here he was interrupted by loud cries of "No, no."

"Listen," he said, "the longer you are out the longer you will suffer. I tell you conciliation is the way to get this, and I believe the board will take it up, and I believe if you go back to work you will get better results."

After hearing his advice the following resolutions were finally adopted: "That the men of the street cleaning department are desirous of returning to work and are willing to do so, providing that a board of conciliation be appointed with mutual representatives thereon, which board shall investigate the complaints of the men and report thereon, and the men will agree to respect the decision of the board, if also provided that an apology shall be made by Commissioner Wilson regarding the flag incident, and that the mayor and the board of control to retire Commissioner Wilson pending the investigation."

Other resolutions were adopted to the effect that the foregoing resolution be presented forthwith to the mayor, requesting immediate action, and also that the men go back to their respective positions and be paid for the time they have been idle, and so that no discrimination be shown against any of them for the part they have played. It was also requested that the statements that have appeared in the press regarding the men and Capt. Crawford have in any way used their influence with the men in the present strike be contradicted in the press.

The Mayor's Address.

In his address, the mayor stated that he was in favor of the act, but he was not there to complain about the heads of departments or to apologize for the street cleaners' act.

The mayor in the midst of loud cheering, "that I do not approve of his action in tearing down the flag, and as the mayor of Toronto, I cannot do that," he said, "I must remember that Mr. Wilson is not your employer; you are employed by the taxpayers of Toronto. It is your duty to restore harmony, and my duty is to restore harmony. If you have any grievances, as mayor I will glad to hear of them. If you are angry, you that your grievances will be attended to. The head of your department is a servant of the taxpayers. I think you should get some information and have learnt what your other grievances are, and they are primarily due to the rules and regulations of the board. If you have any grievances, you are not fair to the men, but you must remember that every one cannot be the whole hog. I am a Canadian citizen of Toronto, and I am here on the basis of the flag is to let everyone have an equal show, and unfair regulation I am going to see that they are remedied."

BOYS WORE HANDCUFFS GOING THRU THE CITY

Youngsters Rode in Street Car Thus Adorned Because Constable Had Lost Key.

"Are you a reporter?"

"Yes, why?"

"Well, I have just witnessed the most deplorable sight of my lifetime. Two small boys actually, shackled together like two criminals. They were brought on the train from the north and they are on their way by street car to the city hall. It's the worst piece of Germanism one could imagine."

The indignation was could hardly express the abhorrence felt for the act committed.

"No sooner had this telephone conversation ended than a man's voice came over the wire, complaining of the harsh treatment that he had seen meted out to the youngsters."

The foregoing brought out the following: Chief Constable Harrington had in his care two boys about 14 or 15 years old and brought them from South St. Marie. At one station he slipped on a handkerchief, for boys have been known to get away on such some lurch.

On his return to the coach he discovered that he had forgotten his keys, and there was nothing to do but finish the journey, as he did. Superintendent Ferrier of the Victoria Industrial School said last evening that the constable did not intend bringing the boys all the way with the handcuffs, and that such procedure is rarely necessary.

AS A DEPOSITORY FOR YOUR SAVINGS

We ask you to consider the strength and stability of this old-established institution, as much as ever the depository of citizens of Toronto and people in all parts of the world have found it a safe place for their savings. It is only a matter of time before the savings of the thrifty and conservative Scottish investors have entrusted to the hands of the Bank of Montreal.

In the history of our city and our country, there have been many "hard times," many periods of "hard times," there have been national and international financial panics, but there has never been a moment's shaking when called for. Today the Corporation has over:

SIX MILLION DOLLARS of fully paid-up capital, backed up by a Reserve Fund amounting to

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS in its assets, which are all most conservatively invested in the safest possible securities, except

THIRTY-TWO MILLION DOLLARS.

But, though the Corporation has grown to such dimensions, it encourages its small savers. It has many small accounts in fact, its invested funds are to a large extent the accumulation of many small sums.

It has many large accounts which have grown to their present proportions from very small beginnings. For the depositor, it is a safe depository of a dollar, knowing that in most instances the incentive of interest and the regular addition of interest will ensure a steady increase in the value of the depositor's credit, and interest is credited to the account at Depreciated Men's Letter.

The mayor spoke of the letter that had been sent to him by the committee representing the men, stating that he thought it very bad taste and also had judgment to write as they did. "That bull-dozing business will not do," he told them. "And I should like to see the letter recalled."

He hotly stated that lately there has been nothing but strikes, and there must be an end of them. "I tell you you ought to go back to work tomorrow." Here he was interrupted by loud cries of "No, no."

"Listen," he said, "the longer you are out the longer you will suffer. I tell you conciliation is the way to get this, and I believe the board will take it up, and I believe if you go back to work you will get better results."

COMMISSION TO DECIDE ON BRIDGE MATERIAL

Railway Board Will Give Order Regarding Apportionment of Cost Between Parties.

The hearing of the application of the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission for an apportionment of the cost of the three new bridges at Mimico Creek, Etobicoke and Port Credit, before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, was concluded yesterday. Chairman McIntyre of the commission stated that the decision rested with the commission whether the bridges should be concrete or steel, and from their decision there was to be no appeal. Following their decision regarding the material to be used, the board will give an order accordingly, and a further order for the apportionment of the cost to each municipality.

By the erection of the Port Credit bridge the County of Peel will be affected, and in the case of the Etobicoke bridge, York and Peel, and by the Mimico bridge, the County of York.

The average width of the bridges is 18 feet, with the Mimico bridge 24 feet in width to correspond with the widened roadway. Counsel for the commission contended that the county should pay additional cost other than the cost of a country bridge, since this bridge was built on an improved highway, and on this highway the bridge had been widened by six feet. The counsel for either party will, however, present written arguments on this feature of the case to the board, when judgment will be given.

ALLEGED SPEEDER COMMITTED. Hugh Redman Sent up for Trial on Charge of Criminal Negligence.

Hugh Redman was committed for trial in the police court yesterday morning on a charge of criminal negligence. Redman is charged with overturning a motor car driven by Rev. Dr. Sowerby at the corner of Oriole road and Heath street last Thursday afternoon. Dr. Sowerby stated in the witness box that he had the right of way of the road, and that Redman was driving another motor car at a terrific rate of speed when he collided with his car. Three people were injured in the smash-up.

FOR FIREMEN'S FUND.

Chief Smith, of the fire department, yesterday received a cheque from J. H. Patterson, president of the Toronto Firemen's Benefit Fund, for $25, to go to the firemen's benefit fund. Mr. Patterson's cheque was presented to the board of trustees of the fund, and the money was donated as a token of appreciation of the work of the firemen in extinguishing the work.

Arbitration Advised.

Water, Brown, president of the trades and labor council, declared there must be something radically wrong with that department, as he understood that their grievances dated from the time that Commissioner Wilson had taken charge, also he could not quite agree with the manner in which they had handled the matter, and he advised them also to go to arbitration. "I would advise you to go to a conciliation board, by a private organization, not by the city council, as you have not had a square deal from the city and the board of control. You will never get a square deal so long as you leave it to a lot of politicians."

He told them not to believe the reports in the papers, as those reports are not those sent in by the reporters, but are manufactured in the newspaper offices.

Mr. Kennedy said they were agreed upon going back to work provided Mr. Wilson was removed, and he suggested that Dr. Sheard take over the job in the meantime, until suggestion was received with loud cheers.

Dr. Sheard, who addressed them during the time he was holding office, said that he had never had a dispute that he did not settle in half an hour. He said that he had always found Mr. Wilson to be an honest man, and he must say that he could not believe that he was dishonest, and he did not believe that they could get ten citizens to think so either. He advised them to appoint a conciliation board as being the only fair way to deal with the question. Unusually Large Number of Scholars Are Reported at Regular Meeting of Board.

A general meeting of the separate school board was held yesterday evening. Chairman, Rev. Dean Hand, presided. An increase in the attendance of all schools was reported for the month of September, being 13 per cent. over that of the previous year. Last year the September attendance showed an increase of only two per cent.

Two hundred and twenty-seven pupils were registered at De La Salle for September, and 701 at St. Paul's School, St. Francis has 676, and St. Mary's 607.

The following appointments were made: Miss M. Ryan, as teacher at St. Patrick's School, and A. Cross to the position of caretaker at St. Paul's School, at a salary of $30 a month.

Annual bills passed for payment was an account for $45 from Messrs. Foy & Kelly, relating to the purchase of property, and dating from the year 1901. The work referred to in this account was completed in the year 1908, and total amount of bill was $254.58.

Several members queried as to why such a long-standing account had not been presented for payment before, but was pointed out by the treasurer, which was due to the kindness and leniency of the firm, who, wishing to assist the board over the period of straitened finance, allowed part payment to be made at intervals.

This explanation satisfying the members of the board in general, it was decided to pay the amount in full.

COMMISSION TO DECIDE ON BRIDGE MATERIAL

Railway Board Will Give Order Regarding Apportionment of Cost Between Parties.

The hearing of the application of the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission for an apportionment of the cost of the three new bridges at Mimico Creek, Etobicoke and Port Credit, before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, was concluded yesterday. Chairman McIntyre of the commission stated that the decision rested with the commission whether the bridges should be concrete or steel, and from their decision there was to be no appeal. Following their decision regarding the material to be used, the board will give an order accordingly, and a further order for the apportionment of the cost to each municipality.

By the erection of the Port Credit bridge the County of Peel will be affected, and in the case of the Etobicoke bridge, York and Peel, and by the Mimico bridge, the County of York.

The average width of the bridges is 18 feet, with the Mimico bridge 24 feet in width to correspond with the widened roadway. Counsel for the commission contended that the county should pay additional cost other than the cost of a country bridge, since this bridge was built on an improved highway, and on this highway the bridge had been widened by six feet. The counsel for either party will, however, present written arguments on this feature of the case to the board, when judgment will be given.

ALLEGED SPEEDER COMMITTED. Hugh Redman Sent up for Trial on Charge of Criminal Negligence.

Hugh Redman was committed for trial in the police court yesterday morning on a charge of criminal negligence. Redman is charged with overturning a motor car driven by Rev. Dr. Sowerby at the corner of Oriole road and Heath street last Thursday afternoon. Dr. Sowerby stated in the witness box that he had the right of way of the road, and that Redman was driving another motor car at a terrific rate of speed when he collided with his car. Three people were injured in the smash-up.

FOR FIREMEN'S FUND.

Chief Smith, of the fire department, yesterday received a cheque from J. H. Patterson, president of the Toronto Firemen's Benefit Fund, for $25, to go to the firemen's benefit fund. Mr. Patterson's cheque was presented to the board of trustees of the fund, and the money was donated as a token of appreciation of the work of the firemen in extinguishing the work.

Arbitration Advised.

Water, Brown, president of the trades and labor council, declared there must be something radically wrong with that department, as he understood that their grievances dated from the time that Commissioner Wilson had taken charge, also he could not quite agree with the manner in which they had handled the matter, and he advised them also to go to arbitration. "I would advise you to go to a conciliation board, by a private organization, not by the city council, as you have not had a square deal from the city and the board of control. You will never get a square deal so long as you leave it to a lot of politicians."

Considerable Decrease in Communicable Diseases Reported by Provincial Dept.

DIPHTHERIA INCREASE Infantile Paralysis Still Exists, But is Less Than Last September.

According to the September report of the provincial board of health, issued yesterday, there were 961 cases and 87 deaths from communicable diseases throughout the province during the past month as compared with 1,044 cases and 154 deaths for the corresponding month a year ago.

Table with columns: Diseases, Cases, 1917, 1916. Rows include Smallpox, Scarlet fever, Diphtheria, Measles, Whooping cough, Typhoid, Tuberculosis, Cerebro-spinal meningitis.

Infantile Paralysis Exists. Infantile paralysis continues to exist in the province, but there is a reduction in the number of cases reported.

There appears to be no epidemic in any of the cases scattered from Carleton County in the east to Elgin County in the west, as the following places will show: Ottawa, two cases; Mulmur Township, Dutton Village, Prescott, Town, North Augusta, Pennington, and Dundas, one case each.

Diphtheria cases are more prevalent than last year, but the mortality is very low, being 4.7 deaths in every 100.

It is gratifying to know that typhoid fever shows a decrease of 49 cases and seven deaths compared with September, 1916.

YORK PIONEERS HEAR AN ADDRESS ON ART F. M. Bell-Smith Reviews History of Canadian Art From Early Days.

The October meeting of the York Pioneers was held at the National School on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the president, Dr. J. L. Hughes, in the chair, and about sixty members present.

The chairman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, F. M. Bell-Smith, the noted artist.

The speaker deplored the fact that the commercial tendency of the age was making the people forget all the artistic and aesthetic things, such as art, which have been the glory of the past.

He also deplored the fact that the artist in Canada, who has been so long in the front rank of the world's art, has been almost forgotten.

TANLAC ENDS TROUBLE Gains Eight Pounds and Says Change Has Been Wonderful.

It is doubtful if there is a better known man in his line of business in Toronto than James Thain, who for the past thirty years has been engaged in the grocery and meat business.

"For the past twenty years," said Mr. Thain in a recent conversation with a reporter, "I have been trying to find relief from one of the most obstinate cases of stomach trouble any man ever had."

There were sharp pains through my stomach, which at times were so intense that I could hardly stand. I had no appetite, and never enjoyed a bite of anything I would eat.

When I had read the Tanlac testimonials and I thought little about it at first, but as I kept reading I began to think the medicine might help me, so finally I decided to get a bottle and give it a trial.

CROPS IN ONTARIO TURNING OUT WELL

Farmers Have Gained Much and Roots Are Looking Very Well.

FALL WHEAT GOOD Live Stock Prices Remain High and Milk Prices Are Advancing.

Following is a summary of weekly crop reports made by district representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Silo filling is receiving the chief attention of farmers at present as early frosts, tho' not severe, have hastened cutting. Most of the corn, however, has reached the final stage of maturity for making ensilage.

Threshing operations continue to show a good return for all classes of crops, more particularly maize. Brant parents reside at 50 Westbourne street, and his mother, who was reported missing last October, is presumed dead.

Second growth and new clover both look well, as scattering showers have kept the fields growing nearly all fall. The yield of clover seed will be fair.

Most of the early apples have been marketed. The Duchess has borne better relatively than any other fall variety this year. In Dundas County, however, the Waltham has netted good crops. Winter varieties are late in maturing, and are light in yield.

Vegetables have had a most successful season, except in the case of tomatoes which in both field and garden are ripening very slowly, with some rot.

Live Stock. Market values keep high, especially for hogs, which are quoted at $16.50 and $17 per cwt. Lambs are selling from 11c to 14c per pound, according to condition and locality.

Pastures, tho' good for the time of year, have thinned out considerably, and the flow of milk has correspondingly decreased.

Referring to the dairy situation the Dundas representative says: "Milk at consumption and shipping centres has been advancing in price. The condensery at Chertsville is expecting to pay $3 per 100 lbs. for October milk."

Many farmers feel that the standard set by the British Government for cheese prices should be raised at this time of the year, as it costs more to produce milk, and the supply is less.

Labor Conditions. The Middlesex report claims that the harvest weather has been very good, and the flow of milk has correspondingly decreased.

These fairs for juniors have been held in many districts recently. For example, the Kent representatives at Queen's Park, is acting in that capacity at the Whibley Military Hospital yesterday.

The late Pte. J. H. Clement, who died suddenly last Sunday, was buried with full military honors at Protestant Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Major W. B. Barton and Detective Elliott of the local detective department, investigated the recent fire at 10 Queen's Park, and came to the conclusion that the blaze was due to carelessness.

That drastic action should be taken against auto thieves is the opinion of A.D. McMullin. On account of the number of thefts lately he says that no motor owner feels safe to leave his car standing on a public street.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 3, 1917

The Strangle-Hold on Toronto.

Letters addressed to The World indicate some perplexity about the condition of downtown property in Toronto. There need be no perplexity, and there never should have been any difficulty had those who have assumed responsibility for the management of civic affairs paid any attention to the first principles of civic development. It has been an obsession for years of certain individuals that downtown property should have a wall built round it, that people should be compelled to live in the narrowest limits, and that business should be confined to certain streets.

They seem to have had the idea that Toronto inside the Belt Line should become a second Manhattan Island, covered with skyscrapers, with millions of people crowded into apartment houses, and minimum land values within the sacred precincts of the neighborhood of $1000 a foot. To effect this all communication with outer regions, whether by street car, by bridge or by steam railway was shut off, and the people were herded as far as possible south of Bloor and between Bathurst street and the Don. The policy could not be strictly enforced, and large numbers of people escaped with their lives. Jarvis street was abandoned and its inhabitants took to the Hill and to Kossades, and the advent of the motor car assisted the exodus. But it was still hoped to hold the bulk of the people to Cabbage Town, and the proposals to extend the city boundaries were fiercely opposed. The building of street car lines was also opposed, and the whole force of the downtown interests was enlisted against the plan of unifying the street railway systems of the city, cutting out the double, triple and quadruple fares, giving free access to all eligible residential districts, and making Toronto a desirable and attractive place, not merely to visit, but to live and pay rent in.

The interests had their way. For a time apparently all went well. Land values climbed to incredible heights. Leases were renewed on terms that seemed to justify the policy of congestion. Those who had lived in other places than Toronto, and who knew what an inevitable reaction always followed any artificial attempt to force values beyond normal and reasonable limits, gave warning of the consequences to be expected. These have now made their appearance, accentuated by the conditions created by the war, and likely to grow worse on account of the constantly deteriorating conditions of transport.

One of the great complaints from downtown stores is the lack of custom. There are two reasons for this. The larger stores gradually and inevitably monopolize the business; and the difficulty of getting down town leads people to patronize the small stores near at hand in the suburbs. It is not to be wondered at that King street begins to look like a deserted thoroughfare. Vacant stores, vacant hotels, many of them closed up before prohibition came in, present a condition for which there is only one remedy.

People are the remedy.

There never was and there never will be a city without people. It is people that make business. It is people that add value to the real estate of a city. The more people live in a city the more business grows, and the more all the interests that depend on business flourish.

It is impossible, however, to get people into a city which will not provide accommodation, which refuses proper transportation, which offers a congested area as a suitable residential district. Toronto has a series of suburban residential districts encircling the city which are as charming and attractive as any in the country. But they are inaccessible to the people. Even where there is a single fare car line as to the east end, or the west end, the journey is such a dreary affair, hanging to a strap, packed in with other suffering citizens, and so slow, that people prefer to live in Hamilton.

The north end is wretchedly served. It is no farther from King and Yonge to Neville Park Boulevard than from King to Lawrence Park, yet one has to pay two fares to go the distance on Yonge street that one can go on King or Queen streets for one. To put it another way, one can only travel up Yonge street for one fare half the distance one can go on Queen (eastward), or half to Leslie Park. Many people live up Yonge street in spite of the handicap, but in numerous cases the obstacles become intolerable. The whole city, however, west, north and east is ringed round with the same disability. People want to live in Toronto, but the conditions will not permit it.

The valuable real estate in the downtown districts, say south of Queen and between Bathurst and Parliament streets, cannot hope to maintain its value unless the city be constantly fed by a stream of fresh population in addition to the natural increment. Those who think otherwise, and who oppose all reasonable policies of civic expansion, are responsible for the failure to support the growth that would have given solidity and substance to the downtown district.

Manchester in England, and Chicago on this continent, are the two cities that Toronto should particularly study. In both instances an island town has developed great maritime interests, and Toronto should have this continually in mind. In both instances canals have contributed much to their success. There is a canal on the horizon for Toronto, but as Liverpool fought tooth and nail against Manchester, so Montreal has done and will do more to oppose any assistance of this kind than any other agency.

Both Manchester and Chicago have considered their suburban residents, and as a consequence Manchester is the centre of the most densely populated district in the civilized world, twelve million people dwelling within a smaller area than elsewhere.

The great banking institutions, the railway centres, the vast shipping interests, all the various trade activities that grow up with such populations, depend on the transportation that enables such numbers to group together. They must have easy access to proper resi-

The down town districts have been first congested and then starved by a policy which has neglected the transportation problem, and which must be reversed if the city is to flourish. The sooner it is taken in hand the better.

The Aylesworth Letter.

Sir Alan Aylesworth is usually terse and epigrammatic, and his letter on the conscription issue is written in his best style. We are, however, more concerned with the substance of his argument. That argument, we think, may be briefly summed up by saying that the conscription law will be of no effect unless the majority of the people favor conscription.

A conscription law, like any other law, must depend, to some extent, for its enforcement, upon the sanction of public opinion. In a country where ninety per cent. of the people thought the law unjust and tyrannical it probably would not be enforced effectively. On the other hand, the general enforcement of the law throughout the country as a whole would be little affected by whether a small majority of the voters happened to be for or against conscription. In short, the law will be enforced pretty thoroughly in all English-speaking provinces, even the minorities in those provinces, combined with the majority in Quebec, would constitute a majority of the Canadian people.

It must be evident that the law will be easily enforced, if only because it is the law, in every district where the popular sentiment is not overwhelmingly against it. Many people who may doubt the wisdom or propriety of the law will not wink at its violation or give countenance to the slacker who seeks to evade it.

Sir Alan Aylesworth is frankly an anti-conscriptionist, and he says that whether conscription be right or wrong it cannot be enforced unless backed by public opinion. Therefore he argues that the government should have at least referred the question to the arbitration of the people.

But is not that just what the government has done? The government is going to the country on the conscription issue. If anyone thinks conscription is wrong or not in the best public interest, he can vote for an anti-conscription candidate. If enough people vote for the house of commons, conscription will be as effectively killed as the people had been called upon to express their views by a plebiscite.

Indeed, Sir Alan Aylesworth protests that the nation is even now preparing to hold a plebiscite on conscription. If that be true, the anti-conscriptionists, who claim to be in the majority, should not be dismayed. They have now the opportunity for which they clamored in vain some months ago. The only persons who might complain are the Liberals who favor conscription but oppose the Borden Government. They cannot very well fight the government without fighting conscription. They let their opportunity go by when, after having voted for conscription, they foolishly voted against prolonging the life of parliament.

Of course it may be objected, and indeed, Sir Alan himself says, that the people make the issue upon which the election turns, and not the government or the politicians. Voters naturally strong for government may be persuaded to vote against of food, or upon some other issue. Loyalty to party may cause some to vote differently than they would have voted had conscription been proposed at a plebiscite without political persuasion or interference. Yet conscription will be so prominent an issue in the coming campaign that the anti-conscriptionists cannot hereafter complain that compulsory military service has been imposed upon Canada without consulting the people.

If the British navy has German ports so tightly worked up that German submarines are able to get out into the Atlantic?

The common questions in those nations which are watching the war from a distance. And its answer is:

The Straits of Dover, by French and English co-operation, are absolutely closed against submarines. And the North Sea is shut against them to a point within three miles of the Norwegian coast.

And that little stretch of Norwegian water from which the British navy is excluded by Norwegian neutrality, will some day be found, when the real history of the war comes to be written, to have been the means of Germany's wholesale capture of the sea.

This doesn't mean that German submarines make their runs to and from the North Sea and down the Norwegian coast.

It does mean that probably German submarines based on the deserted islands along the upper Norwegian coast are supplied with food and other necessities from the British blockade within Norway's neutral waters.

And that, back as January, 1915, The Paris Times saw this situation, "It is plain," it declared, "that the German submarines have departed to the deserted islands situated farthest from the coast; these were deserted several years ago, and the frequent manoeuvres of the German navy in Norwegian waters."

Germany has expressly forbidden the use of her waters for war purposes, but she is helpless against a nation of peace-lovers, and, also her marine interests are vital in every port. Indeed, it can only be called a navy by right of name, and it is not a navy that does not approach the tonnage of the flagship of the British grand fleet.

In the first place, there isn't a single cruiser in it. Its battle fleet consists of four ships, and it is equipped with more than half the tonnage of the Queen Elizabeths. It has 400 tons of sea search, and no more. Behind these are a number of coast-defence gunboats, three fast modern destroyers, and one old boat, and a score or so of torpedo boats, of which there are a couple of one-pounders. Add five or six submarines, and there you have the German navy.

It must be quite obvious that Germany, who has sunk more than 200 Norwegian whaling vessels, and who has killed more than 1000 Norwegian whalers, would not scruple to employ Norwegian whaling vessels as German submarines, and to keep them out.

But Norway's significance in the war does not consist in the fact that she is a neutral country, but that she is a neutral country which is not a neutral country.

There are several other governments in the same boat—she would prove an ally to the German land forces, as Belgium was in the same boat, and just below Ostend to the southernmost point of Norway, without omitting that the British navy would be given the same access to the German submarine bases out of the countless islands of the North Sea as the German navy would have among the Greek islands of the Aegean Sea.

Important still, Norway's entry into the war on the side of the allies, which she has done, would give the German fleet an allied base at the southern end of the coast, and the German fleet would command the Baltic with a security that would be an unending nightmare to the Allies.

With this importance placed on Norway by the Allies, the war situation within the country?

The Norwegians are growing more and more in the opinion of the Allies, and the unearthing of the most disgusting plot against her neutrality in the opinion of the Allies, and the unearthing of the most disgusting plot against her neutrality in the opinion of the Allies, and the unearthing of the most disgusting plot against her neutrality in the opinion of the Allies.

POLITICAL NEWS

Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer has been offered a seat in Haldimand by F. H. Lator, the sitting member. Meanwhile the doctor's own constituents are arranging for a win-the-war convention, to be held at Red Deer on Oct. 25. The committee in charge of the convention is composed of prominent Conservatives and Liberals, including the Conservative candidate for parliament, who now withdraws in favor of Dr. Clark. The latter will be the unanimous choice of the convention, and will undoubtedly stand for re-election in his home district.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been in Montreal meeting leading Liberals with a view to the country and fixing his focus in Quebec. He is accompanied by J. P. Picton, N.S., and Hon. J. A. Calder of the Saskatchewan Government, arrived in Montreal on Oct. 2. The latter is a vice member of the Liberal caucus, and great Liberal chief.

His announcement has yet been made respect-fully, but there is nothing to confirm the rumors of Sir Wilfrid's retirement.

Little real news comes from Ottawa beyond the announcement that Sir Robert Borden will stump the country. He will open at Halifax and speak in every province on the Dominion. Meanwhile the date of the election is not fixed and polling may come as late as Feb. 11.

A good many Conservatives would like to see a win-the-war convention called before the snow flies, but the government finds many practical objections to the idea. It is anxious to get conscription well under way and the new election machinery to be installed. Close steps in an election fight. Then there are appointments to be made, and the government is not yet ready to make any such appointments. Until the organization and workers know whether they are to support a Conservative government or a union government it will be difficult to nominate any more candidates. Indeed, some of the candidates are already nominated, and the government stand aside for certain adjustments that will be necessary in the formation of a union government.

Kelly Evans, the Conservative candidate for South Wellington, has already withdrawn in favor of Hugh Guthrie, the sitting member. Mr. Guthrie, according to all reports, will be a member of the union government.

The breaking down of party lines will mean most in the west, where the Borden Government and the Maritime Provinces, if they are to be done in the way of the Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, if they are to be done in the way of the Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, if they are to be done in the way of the Ontario and the Maritime Provinces.

TO BACK DR. CLARK

Win-the-War Association is Formed in Red Deer.
 Red Deer, Oct. 2.—A win-the-war association with the object of nominating Dr. Michael Clark as candidate for the house of commons in Red Deer, was formed here last night. A convention will be held Oct. 23, when the requisition will be presented to Dr. Clark, asking him to become a candidate. Executives appointed consisted of five leading Conservatives and five leading Liberals. Of the Conservatives were E. L. Gieseler, who is president of the association; F. W. Galt, editor of The Red Deer Advocate, and three others, who were delegates to the Red Deer Liberal convention.

RETURNED MEN ARRIVE

Special to The Toronto World.
 Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—A heavy down-pour of rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the large crowd in Ottawa, tonight who met three returned soldiers, and headed by the band, marched from the Grand Trunk station to the armory, where addresses of welcome were delivered by Mr. D. M. Todd, chairman of returned soldiers' welcome committee, and Mayor Conant, Warden Mason, Dr. Kaiser and others. Press, Spence, Gibson and five more will arrive Thursday night, when a great demonstration is planned.

Other People's Opinions

Congested Toronto.
 Editor World: Toronto's real estate and industrial premises will be moved by a tube from the new Union Station up Bay to the North Toronto station, and another east and west crossing the foregoing at Teraville street. These tubes would let the radial and the outlying street car lines down town and return on a rapid transit basis. The fifteen millions for this work, based on the security of the franchise, could be raised without any great difficulty, and the whole thing could be done in a year—certainly by the time the equipment and rails could be made. The one thing against this would be the higher cost of money and steel, but all construction is to be higher for some years now. Even at higher prices it would pay the city and make Toronto the greatest business centre in Canada.

I will trouble with Toronto is the lack of energetic action in its rulers and business men. The first thing is to locate the hidden hand that says nothing must be done until the war is over on the existing franchise, runs out. And the next thing is to get the public aroused. Sir Adam Beck and Sir William Hearst will not hesitate to act in with it.

Editor World: I've noticed the sparsity of the downtown business men towards the shifting of trade away from them to other sections of the city. A proper system of street cars and rails based on single fares and rapid transit would help everyone; it would make business and attract population to the centre and to the outskirts—both ways. Now the outside law show and downtown slow, Yonge street is the first street that ought to be freed—double-tracked to York Mills with a single fare. Then Bloor right across the city, also at a single fare; now it requires three fares to go from High Park to East Toronto, and the big viaduct not yet in commission! If we wait four years for these things to happen, something else may happen—the chance of Toronto to start and double her population. If Toronto is to be tied up for four years to a two and three street car fare for a single trip, other towns will get the factories and a lot of business that might come here.

I will attend any meeting of the business men called to talk it over.

NOTED GERMAN AIRMAN KILLED

 hard fight ensued. Brown got in a number of good bursts from his machine gun, and several times he changed teams on the gun, so furiously that he became dizzy.

Disposes of Vosse.
 For a long time the two opponents circled, dived and swooped, for position so close were they at times that a few inches only separated their wings. Eventually Brown got a little above Vosse and made for the triplane, the British airman working his machine gun steadily all the time. Vosse passed Brown's right wing by inches and dived. The British airman wheeled into position and observed the German diving westward with his engine shut off. He dived again and got a good shot at his opponent, then followed this with a heavy burst from his gun, and Vosse did a slight right-hand turn and continued to go down until he disappeared.

This ended the adventure so far as Brown was concerned. He flew away, not knowing who his opponent was, and he had become of him. Later the shattered machine was found and the body identified.

Much Hard Fighting.
 There has been a hard fighting in the air recently, and the aviators have had some remarkable experiences. One British lieutenant flying last Wednesday had just forced the enemy to pull down a big balloon when he was engaged by machine guns from the ground. He dived on the ground and fired more than a hundred rounds, dispersing the crew who fled, leaving two of their numbers stretched on the ground. The pilot was seen by the lieutenant and was

HUNDRED ATTESTED FOR WAR SERVICE

High Mark Reached Yesterday at Toronto Mobilization Centre.

SOME FROM STATES. Nearly Five Hundred Were Examined for Military Fitness During Day.

Attestations reached a high mark yesterday at the Toronto mobilization centre, no fewer than 101 undergoing medical examination and being sworn in for service under the voluntary system.

Of these recruits 47 were from the United States, and were collected by the British War Mission from the following cities: Boston, 32; New York, 14; Chicago, 21; St. Louis, 12; Kansas City, 8; Detroit, 7.

Of these 29 went to the 1st C. O. R., 8 to the 2nd C. A. M. C. and 10 to the Forestry Depot. Local recruits were apportioned among the following units: Y. and S. Forestry Depot, 18; C. M. R., 2; 2nd C. A. S. C., 5; 2nd C. A. M. C., 1; Canadian Engineers, 1; Hospital Commission, 11; Division of Signals, 6; Military Police, 2; 12th Forestry Co., 2; C. O. T. C., 3; The R. F. C. accepted 31 and rejected 2.

Despite the fact that the centre was closed at 5 o'clock yesterday applicants were lined up at the entrance on Monday, 489 undergoing medical examination. For the rest of the week until Friday night the centre will close at the hour of adjournment.

The anticipated rush for medical history sheets by those whose initials range from "A" to "Z" inclusive did not materialize last night. At 8 o'clock Major Christie and his staff were in readiness to receive applicants, but approximately only 200 sheets were distributed.

MAYOR DISAPPROVES OF MEN'S PROPOSAL

Agrees to Conciliatory Board But Would Not Remove Commissioner.

NAMES ARBITRATORS. Suggests Several Prominent Citizens to Hear the Men's Grievances.

Referring to the resolutions that were adopted at yesterday's mass meeting of the striking scavengers and street cleaning men, Mayor Church stated last night that as their dispute is purely an industrial one he approved of the suggestion that a board of conciliation be formed, as he did not think that any member of the board of control should act on that board.

He thought, however, that the men should go back to work, say on Thursday morning, but he did not agree with all of the resolutions, and maintained that Commissioner Wilson's department should be run as usual, and that the commissioner should not be removed pending the investigation.

Regarding the letter that was sent to the board of control, he said he did not think all the men were to be held responsible for that, as it was drawn up by the men's committee. He proposed that the following gentlemen should compose the board of conciliation: John G. Kent, Arthur Hewitt, George Wright, D. C. C. and a representative of the Trades and Labor Council.

Controller R. H. Cameron, when approached by a reporter for The World, had heard nothing concerning the decision that was arrived at the meeting of the scavengers yesterday afternoon, but stated he was in favor of a board of conciliation, but was certainly not in favor of the removal of Commissioner Wilson pending the investigation.

Controller W. H. Shaw was of a different opinion. "I do not think it would do any harm to have the men suspended for the time being," was his opinion. "The men have a grievance, and it is only proper that a board should be appointed to investigate. Personally I have a lot of sympathy with the men, as undoubtedly they have grievances, but they went about their work in a wrong way. I have not heard anything about any special meeting, but the ordinary meeting of the board of control will be held on Friday morning, when no doubt the resolutions adopted by the men will be brought up."

Resolutions were adopted at last night's meeting of the general board of missions of the Methodist Church in Trinity Methodist Church to form a campaign with a financial objective of $800,000 for the general fund and named Sunday, Oct. 14, as the inauguration day, when at least one mission service will be held in every congregation and also that preparations be started for the annual missionary campaign to be held in Toronto in January with a view to bettering the organization.

The Rev. Dr. Endicott, secretary of the foreign department, gave a thrilling address on the foreign field, and dwelt on the loss the mission had sustained by the great fire this year in Japan, when the training school, which had enrolled over 1000 students, was totally destroyed. He also gave a pathetic picture of the present condition of China and the many appeals he has received from missionaries in that country.

He stated that they are growing weary for the reinforcements and the money they have been promised but which has not been forthcoming. He pointed out that it is impossible for 21 missionaries to look after four millions of people, and he called for the help of the general board of missions.

TEN KILLED IN RAID ON LONDON

Thirty-Nine Others Injured in Monday Night's Attack on Metropolis.

London, Oct. 2.—Ten killed and 39 injured was the toll of a raid on the city last night by German air raiders in the sixth raid in eight days. Last night's raid was the most serious since the first, as it was far less damaging than previous ones, despite much greater noise and excitement, a survey revealed today.

Lord French, in announcing the raid, said that not a single British aeroplane had been lost in recent engagements where the British airmen fought the invaders.

Londoners are standing the test well. Last night there was no panic and no untoward incidents. The raiders were met in the streets by people in their homes and cars, and the raiders were driven off under a heavy bombardment.

Most of the offices and shops had closed before 8 o'clock to permit their employees to reach their homes, and there was only a fraction of the number of persons on the street under normal circumstances.

Thrilling Battle in the Air. While a terrific barrage was kept up with the burning shrapnel, a thrilling battle in the air took place between enemy aircraft and British fighters. The British fighters, according to special constables who said they witnessed it by means of powerful binoculars, shot down the enemy planes. The British fighters were seen to be heard distinctly below. When the enemy planes were shot down, the British fighters were seen to be heard distinctly below.

According to a report from an Essex district a heavy mist which came up while the raid was in progress caused many of the raiders to lose their way while going over the coast. The German flyers were very low and could be seen clearly and appeared to be enveloped in a ring of burning shrapnel. Seemingly the raiders were making a series of dips and other half-raising stunts. He succeeded in breaking through the shell and made for the sea, pursued by a fire of gunfire.

Although details were slow in coming in, it was apparent that the barrage of the anti-aircraft guns again was effective in thwarting the German efforts. As on other nights, the guns made it so hot for the raiders that they dropped bombs in open places, their containers being apparently unopened and got away.

Just as the guns began to roar an ambulance train with wounded men was seen in the distance. The ambulance train arrived at the London station. Red Cross workers rapidly unloaded the train and carried the men to the hospital. The ambulance train was seen in the distance.

Several bombs fell in the river in the southwest district, while the shells exploded in many places. The bombs caused a large number of people to be injured. The bombs caused a large number of people to be injured.

Exodus from London. There has been a big influx of people into towns outside of London since the recent moonlight raids, and it is expected that many more will be coming to the country. Two German airplanes were brought down yesterday by our pilots. The four others were compelled to land in a disabled condition.

SOCIALISTS OF FINLAND LOSE HOPE OF ELECTION. Peasants Said to be Opposing Their Return to the New Landings.

Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 1.—The Helgoland correspondent of the Bourgeois Gazette says the socialists of Finland are losing hope of carrying the election for the new landings, which began today. The peasants are opposing the socialists.

Governor-General Nekrasov of Finland in a report to Premier Kerensky says that the meeting of the old landings which was held in defiance of the government's prohibition, was conducted by the socialists and was a complete success for the peasants. The prosecution of those responsible is planned.

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT HELPED HER

"Fruit-a-tives" Again Proves its Extraordinary Powers.

Rochon, Que., March 2nd, 1915. "I have received the most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for years from Rheumatism and chafers of life, and I took every remedy obtainable without results. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and it was the only medicine that really did me good. Now I am entirely well—the Rheumatism has disappeared, and the terrible pains in my body are all gone. I hope that others, who suffer from such distressing diseases, will try 'Fruit-a-tives.'"

TRADING RESTRICTED BIG DOME DEPRESSED IN MINING STOCKS FOR SOME PURPOSE

Weakness of Dome Still Unexplained—Silver Lower.

The only explanation offered yesterday for the decline in Big Dome was that a rumor said to emanate from New York had it that the Dome Extension option with expiration the middle of this month, was to be dropped.

Hollander, which has remained for the most part unaffected, closed back a little from $5.25 to $5.15, but there was no pressure of any consequence.

ONE OUT OF FIVE WILL BE CALLED

Nearly Half Million Men in First Class of Draftees.

Montréal, Oct. 2.—A fair amount of business continues to be done in grain for local account, and sales of round lots are being done in the first class of drafts, in addition to a number of car lots on spot. The tone of the market was strongly sympathetic with the wheat and prices were advanced

50 per bushel.

A sale of five cars of new crop No. 4

wheat was made for December shipment from Chicago at 13.84 per bushel, ex-track here. The trade in wheat flour continues active for local account, and a sale of 100,000 barrels was made for export account.

Demand for milled is in excess of supply.

Butter prices are firmer. Butter offerings were quiet and firm. Domestic and export demand for eggs good, with sales of some round lots.
