WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED In a sharp sea action off the Dutch coast, British light naval craft appear to have sunk or disabled most, if not all, of the German torpedo boat destroyers lately based on Zeebrugge in Belgium. The British Admiralty, which is extremely conservative in its estimates, modestly reports the sinking of one foe destroyer; but Dutch newspapers, which have excellent means for gathering correct information, place the number of German craft sunk at two to seven. Seven is the estimate of the crew of the German destroyer V 69, which was towed by a trawler into the port of Ymuiden, Holland, and disabled by three British shots. The British flotilla was vigilant and it apparently fought the Germans as soon as they were too far distant from their base to dodge back to it on sighting their pursuers. The fact that the British sailors have managed to dispose of this fleet will be taken as a good omen that they may eventually destroy the German high seas fleet.

High comforts for apples, peaches, oranges; low comforts for raisins, grapes, candied fruits, macaroons; with the usual plates of generous size for the serving of the same—behold such a dessert set in the most charmingly cheery design imaginable! Called the "Manchu," it rejoices in the rich coloring we always like best for this course of fruits and sweets—the outer border of deep Eastern blue, cross-banded with gold, an inner band of Oriental copper-red circling an all-over tracery of flowers and birds in the same gay medley of blue and red, offset with leaf green and outlined with gilt. It consists of eighteen pieces, namely, 12 dessert plates, 4 low comforts and 2 high comforts, the price being $18.50 for the set.

It is increasing all the time—the use of the cup for soup, not only at luncheon, but at dinner, and every china closet that pretends completeness must include a set of double-handled bouillon cups. In the centre of the adjoining sketch is a delightful specimen in fine Limoges china, showing a rich green chain on a gold band, with full gold mat handles. The price is $13.20 per dozen cups and saucers.

Or, by way of alternative in bouillon cups, this other floral decoration in the same Limoges china—a dainty pink rosebud and green leaf pattern, with a stippled effect of gilt on the handles and along the edge. This is $7.50 per dozen cups and saucers.

The sweet simplicity of Limoges china is here embodied in the most dainty form, the decoration consisting of a narrow green laurel wreath band with tiny pink rosebuds intercepting it at set intervals. The handles of the cups and cake plates are splattered with gilt in characteristic fashion. From the potteries of Charles Field Haviland in France, it is marked by the usual clear white glaze and general nicety of finish, and constitutes an ideal, every-day tea set for lunch, breakfast or tea. It is made up of 12 cups and saucers, 12 tea plates, 2 cake plates, 1 cream jug and 1 slop bowl—price $7.50 for the forty pieces.

"A moderate-price dinner set for general use"—this is an oft-heard cry. And here below you have a pleasing answer to it: the "Verona" pattern in semi-porcelain. The band which edges it is a quaint chintz effect, wrought out in alternate panels of black and white, gaily flowered with maize and deep dahlia yellow, the latter shade (which is, in reality, a tawny brown) outlining all the various pieces. These include all plates, platters and dishes necessary for the serving of breakfast, luncheon, dinner or supper—103 in all. The price complete is $25.00.

From a Woman's Standpoint

CHOOSING the color for the walls of a room seems as formidable a matter, sometimes, as choosing the name for a baby. In fact, there appears a finality about the selecting of wall papers which is happily tempered when it comes to naming an infant. Should you eventu-

But to choose unsuitable back- grounds for the rooms in which you spend your indoor life means endur- ing the bitter-end—until you may with impunity tear them off and substitute something better, or move into other quarters, where you may try your artistic luck again.

Thus green is evolved from equal parts of yellow and blue; purple from equal parts of blue and red; orange from equal parts of yellow and red; pink from red and white; tan or buff from black, white and yellow; grey from black and white; brown from orange and grey, and so on.

Any tone, therefore, in which yellow or red predominates is qualified to brighten a room of dull aspect, and similarly any tone in which blue is the prevailing note may be happily employed in the room that is already well warmed with sunlight.

And, finally, to echo another senti- ment of the same high authori- ty: "Decorative color is a must, but less intense in color than objects which are to be effectively shown on them." In other words do not let the wall-paper overwhelm the furniture, much less you and other occupants of the room. Its function is to serve as a foil for the objects it surrounds which in turn should be subservient to the persons themselves for whose comfort and pleasure the room is planned.

To enter some rooms and sit down and look about is to be conscious of that sense of harmony which pos- sibly you are listening to a Beetho- ven Sonata or dreamily viewing a sunset. When you come to analyze them you will find they are rooms in which the color tones, concordant, un- intentionally, have been chosen with an understanding of the values one has endeavored to suggest above.

SAYS HE IS VICTIM OF MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

M. J. Quinn Claims His Reputation Was Injured by Case Brought by T. S. R.

Asking $5,000 in return for injury to his reputation, which he declares was done thru a "false and malicious case" brought against him in police court March 27, 1916, Martin J. Quinn opened his case against the Toronto Railway Company and James H. Forrest, an employee, before Justice Britton and a jury in the assizes court yesterday afternoon.

Quinn contended that the "prosecution" against him by the company was the outcome of an accident some weeks previous to the police court trial. He said one of two women alighting from a car fell and was dragged along Yonge street during a noon rush hour. He saw the accident and after handing the woman down, and telling them he was ready to help them, he advised them not to sign the printed form which the conductor had submitted to them.

The Farmers' Dairy Service

The spirit of the Farmers' Dairy since the first day it was organized has been a spirit of service.

It was for the purpose of giving to the people of Toronto the richest, purest milk at the same price as ordinary milk that the leading farmers of Ontario banded themselves together in 1909 and formed the Farmers' Dairy.

Our plans for service begin at the farm. Particular care is exercised there in the selection of cows, in milking and in the shipping of the milk.

Then at the dairy—a new, spotless dairy, perfectly equipped—our "Service" aim is kept to the forefront. Machinery and rooms are kept scrupulously clean.

Having done everything possible to insure cleanliness and quality we do not stop there. Every care is exercised in the delivery of the milk to our customers.

All these things contribute to make The Farmers' Dairy service supreme. A service worthy of the careful consideration of every citizen of Toronto.

Thousands of homes in Toronto are benefitting by the high quality of The Farmers' Dairy milk. Because it is richer-in-cream than ordinary milk—because it is pure and fresh it has kept many families on the road to health and happiness.

Tickets may be had from our salesmen, or by phoning or writing us.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 24.

For the Dance of Death

Yesterday's start of the campaign for the Patriotic and Red Cross Funds was worthy of the cause and of the managers of the campaign. Rarely has such an effort been made in any part of the world on any occasion, and with many brilliant records to emulate or excel it is believed that the present effort will reach a consummation which may stand for years to come.

No one should forget that the need surpasses any success that may be attained. It must be difficult for anyone to read the literature of the campaign without feeling moved to give everything over which he can honestly feel he has legitimate control. How can anyone give, for example, while men are dying for lack of attendance, or medicine, or other supplies at the front, or while women and children, dependents of those in the trenches, are lacking food and clothing and shelter and warmth at home?

It is not a question of charity, as many speakers have pointed out. Nor is it a matter of business, nor of cold duty. There is no charity in war, and no business and no duty, but for those who are in it. Those who are not in it with their bodies, with their own flesh and blood, with their loved ones, have a heavy burden of gratitude to bear, and a debt to discharge. But it is something bigger than charity, or business or duty. It is humanity.

Our men need our help as they lie stricken in the field, or are borne back to hospitals and convalescent homes. Our men's children and wives and mothers are not in France or Belgium. They are here in Canada at our own doors, in need of the help we have promised to give, and looking to the people for whom their men are fighting, to give that help.

Herod, watching a dancing girl, offered to the ball of his kingdom for the sake of his pleasure. We who watch the dance of death in Europe, what fraction of our private demerit are we willing to yield for the sake of those whose lives and toll enable us to dwell at home in ease and peace?

Effective, Even When Repudiated

A great deal of light was thrown upon the Ross rifle question in the house of commons by the prime minister, and it now appears that those who were denounced as traitors and know-nothings a year ago were entirely justified in what they said. Substantiated as we were by letters from the front, from men in the trenches, we were assured that urgent protest was necessary, and it was obvious that time would justify any effort made to have conditions changed.

Saving Germany's Face

Comment upon President Wilson's speech to the United States Senate in European papers followed the lines of our own comment yesterday, and the greater part of the United States press took the same course except with a choice of much more violent language. Their satire and sarcasm is not modified by their more intimate knowledge of the president. The French view seems to be summed up in the remark of M. Harve that they can scarcely be expected to accompany President Wilson in his voyage to the auld, while France is in the hands of her invader. The New York Sun punctures one of Mr. Wilson's noble sentiments with the observation: "There is nothing in his official duties which requires him to demand the establishment of a free and united Poland, or to lay down to Europe the principle that all nations like Switzerland, for example, or the Republic of Andorra, should be accorded free outlets to the seas."

The New York Herald thinks the president knows as little of the sentiments impelling the allies to their appalling sacrifices as he does of the sentiment of the American people. The idea that peace without victory could be possible excites by turn the decision, the contempt and the indignation of those who comment upon it. There are signs, indeed, that President Wilson is going to be a second term failure, and that the American people are beginning to have a dim suspicion of the fact. There has been deep disgust and irritation felt over the president's recent appointment of Dr. Grayson, private physician at the White House, to a position in the navy ranking the whole naval medical staff, where promotion has always been according to seniority and merit heretofore. What lies behind the mysterious influence which are believed to be responsible for some of the president's recent observations, it is for the American people to judge, but it is certain that the attitude he has adopted lately on the question of peace is unintelligible on ordinary grounds. If his proposals were followed they would be altogether to the advantage of Germany, who desires peace, now that she has gained all that she can reasonably expect, and who must lose by any further developments of the war situation. These proposals are not going to be adopted, however, as long as the entente allies have any say in the matter.

It is proper to say that President Wilson's appointment of Dr. Grayson to a position in the navy ranking the whole naval medical staff, where promotion has always been according to seniority and merit heretofore, is a poor figure if he is found in history to be trying to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for Germany.

Why should the allies and why should President Wilson wish to save the Kaiser's face? No one in Europe has any desire to do so, and President Wilson will find that he cuts a poor figure if he is found in history to be trying to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for Germany.

Hockey Riversides-8 Aura Lee-3

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR RIVERSIDE CHAMPIONS

Aura Lee Youngsters Lacked Experience and Were Down-Ed Handily.

Riversides kept right on winning. The east-end champions took Aura Lee into camp again last night, this time to the tune of 8 to 3. It was a heart-breaking game for the youngsters, and they were not near the play during the second period, but they were in the game during the first and third periods.

Let's see who got out of bed to play in the first period. Riversides was dropped and the teams played much better hockey with the puck being bunched, rounded and made many mistakes with seven men a side.

Aura Lee played had hockey in the opening period. They skated fast enough and bunched and their shooting was only half-hearted. The puck-carrier generally was skated into the corner and their shooting was erratic. Harry Watson was better on the defence. He showed up much better when he was moved up to the front line in the last period.

Riversides had the experience. They worked well together and the defence played a strong game. Ernie Collett was in the net and his work was good. Doug Farr was unable to play and McCaffery was moved over to centre with Klemmer, late of St. Patrick's, on the right boards. McCaffery played much improved game and seemed to be right at home in centre.

Watson was best man for Aura Lee. He was given poor protection all night and he stopped dozens of hard shots. Watson worked hard and Rennie was always pestering the Riversides with his checking. Brown, who played in the first period, was moved over to centre with Klemmer, late of St. Patrick's, on the right boards. McCaffery played much improved game and seemed to be right at home in centre.

Organized Labor Turns Down the Players' Fraternity. Washington, Jan. 23.—That organized labor will have no part in the current baseball season was made known today when a well-known labor leader said that Dave Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, had been turned down flat by the American Federation of Labor.

With Slattery, Nash and Harry Darnay, the club would have the nucleus of the capital, and the players' union would be in a position to prevent the other fellows getting runs.

There were reports from Joe Warner, whom the Royals believed they had bought outright. Now it appears they have not.

WARTIME MESSAGE TO PLAYERS OF THE O.H.A.

President Speaks—Pros Play Tonight—News and Gossip.

Captain Jas. T. Sutherland, president of the O.H.A. who is at present quarter-master of the 1st Casualty Training Battalion, stationed at Hastings, England, writes as follows: "We are having fairly good weather and edging along thru the winter."

"The war conditions seem to me to be very much like our O.H.A. schedule—the games are played, and we are now getting down to the finals. And, as they must be played in our case (the west) there is no reason why we should not win the Cup of Victory."

Leut. Art Duncan suffered a fracture of the arm in Saturday night's game against the Toronto Juniors as the best man, and his injury means that he will be out of the game for the season.

Art Ross of the Wanderers was forced to retire from the game in the second period Saturday at Ottawa, owing to injuries.

By scoring three goals on Saturday against the Wanderers, Frank Nighbur of the Ottawa Juniors has equalled his own record and placed four goals between himself and his nearest opponent for the goal getting honors in the National Hockey Association. Goalie Fredgers of the 25th is next in line with fifteen goals to his credit, while Ode Cleghorn of the Wanderers is just one goal behind him.

The standing is as follows: Nighbur, Ottawa, 15; Cleghorn, Wanderers, 14; Piro, Canadiens, 13; Darragh, Ottawa, 12; Oatman, 25th, 11; Malone, Quebec, 10; Lebour, 25th, 9; H. McNamara, 25th, 8; Keas, Toronto, 7; Cor. Kennedy, Quebec, 6; Ryland, Wanderers, 5; Lakeland, Canadiens, 4; Randall, Toronto, 3; Smith, Wanderers, 2; Gerard, Ottawa, 1; Ross, Wanderers, 1; Duncan, 25th, 1; Lavolette, Canadiens, 1; Skinner, Wanderers, 1; Corbeau, Canadiens, 1; Cameron, Toronto, 1; Powell, Wanderers, 1; Hall, Quebec, 1; Bell, Wanderers, 1; Kendall, Ottawa, 1; Carey, Quebec, 1; Berlinguette, Canadiens, 1; G. McNamara, 25th, 1; Boucher, Ottawa, 1.

Tom Farr was unable to play for Riverview last night. He will likely drop hockey for the winter.

Ottawa Citizen: Here are two players who the Ottawa Hockey Club is expected to acquire in the winter: Humpy Shore and Jack Darragh. Darragh is expected to play for the best goalkeeper in the N.H.A., that Merrill, while not flashy, would be the best goalkeeper in the N.H.A. and Gerard would continue the grand work they did last winter, and that Frank Nighbur would succeed the class of all other N.H.A. forwards. But Darragh and Shore are the best hockey players in the world. He scored three goals and had his checkered career. Shore, at the present form, looks the most valuable man in the league. He scored three goals and had his checkered career. Shore, at the present form, looks the most valuable man in the league. He scored three goals and had his checkered career.

Taylor credit: passed it to Darragh for another and blood in superb style. Both Toronto Senators are showing immense improvement. They should have the best season of their hockey history.

$2,28,656 IS AMOUNT COLLECTED FOR PATRIOTIC FUND ON THE FIRST DAY OF BIG DRIVE FOR $2,500,000

WHY WOMEN MUST GIVE GENEROUSLY

Some Have Made No Sacrifice — They Must Assist Those Who Have.

FUND HAS MANY WARDS

Soldiers Fight Better Knowing of Charitable People in Canada.

Why should every woman in Toronto give liberally to the collector who will visit her in the interests of the big patriotic campaign? The reasons are many, but two or three will be enough to bring the duty of giving clearly before the eyes of any woman who is not enveloped in a covering of mental blindness.

Women should give because there are several thousand of their sisters in Toronto who have treated give their son or husband, and even one woman who has done more than will be done by any other woman who may give in money, no matter how large their donation may be.

Next, it should be remembered that the women who have given their men have, in most cases, given their financial support. It develops upon those behind to port, it develops upon those behind to port, it develops upon those behind to port.

Wards of the Fund are over ten thousand families in Toronto who are, as it were, dependent upon the patriotic fund. This organization is reaching out its protection in every direction to assist those who are in need of it.

STARS MIGHT SAVE LIVES OF SOLDIERS

Knowledge of Astronomy Proves Valuable at the Front.

That there are dead soldiers in France and Belgium who would be alive today had they known something about astronomy was the assertion of Dr. Albert D. Watson, newly elected president, in his address at the annual meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada in the physics building of the University of Toronto last night.

"I have no doubt," declared the speaker, "that there are many soldiers buried in Belgium and France today who didn't know one star from another. The familiar gleam of a star would have directed their course."

Dr. Watson's address which will be printed in The Astronomical Journal, discussed in the main the history of astronomy in Canada, particularly as it regards the establishment of a permanent society. He also paid tribute to the founders, all Toronto men, two of whom are living, and referred to the new observatory and its equipment with a 12-inch reflecting telescope, the largest telescope in use in any nation, which will soon be put in operation at Victoria, B.C.

OFFICERS DISCUSS RECRUITING TODAY

Fifty Officers, Including Three Generals, Will Attend Conference.

Commanding officers of all C.E.F. units and of all militia units in this military district, are to hold a recruiting conference in Toronto at ten o'clock this morning, meeting in the Mining Building, College street. Major-General W. E. Swain and Major-General W. E. Hodgins of Ottawa Militia Department are to be present. Major-General Logie will preside. About fifty officers in all are expected to attend this important conference.

The matter of putting the Toronto militia regiments on a firmer standing, as that if all C.E.F. units went overseas, the city would still be adequately protected, may be one of the important matters discussed. This would also include the question of the militia establishing depots in order to recruit C.E.F. drafts.

A military court of enquiry, composed of Lieut.-Col. Duncan Donahue, president, and Lieut.-Col. J. A. Cooper, 15th Battalion, and Major E. G. Switzer, 25th Battalion, as members, will meet to report upon the circumstances under which the late Col. W. C. Macdonald came to his death last Sunday evening.

Recruiting keeps up. Recruiting was brisk again in Toronto yesterday, 15 men offering and 22 being accepted. Two hundred and eight volunteers have come forward during the past two days of this week. The 25th Construction Battalion secured 11 accepted recruits yesterday. No. 1 Section, 1st Battalion, Service Corps, each obtained four.

Examinations of officers taking the course for field officers and captains will be held at the Infantry School, Toronto, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this week.

Forty airplane mechanics of the Royal Flying Corps have reached Toronto, from England to be employed in various aviation schools to be opened in Canada. Major Leslie Thompson, of Montreal, who was attached to the 25th Battalion, has had wide experience in railway construction, having superintended the building of 10 miles of the T. and N. O. and 20 miles of the L. T. Tugue section of the Transcontinental.

LIAR AND SNAKE CANNON'S WORDS

Dorchester By-Election Fight Grows More Strenuous as Days Pass.

SEVIGNY'S CHALLENGE

Cannon Dared to Get Laurier's Written Approval of Disloyal Speech.

Special to The Toronto World. St. Hedwig, Ont., Jan. 23.—As the Dorchester campaign draws to a close it is daily marked by increased bitterness. "Liar" and "snake" were some of the epithets hurled yesterday at the Hon. Mr. Seigny by his Liberal opponent, Lucien Cannon. Notwithstanding the severity of the charges, the candidates are expending every ounce of energy to keep to their places.

In his address yesterday, Lucien Cannon made an appeal for support in the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "What he termed 'his years of age, who has spent long years serving his country, and I appeal to you to brighten the last days of his life by sending him back as prime minister.'"

Mr. Cannon appears to have taken as his slogan the "disloyal" opposition to industrial, agricultural or military conscription. Today he strongly arraigned Mr. Seigny for what he termed the failure to keep the promises he made in 1911, and criticized his opposition to the Laurier naval party.

Mr. Cannon again repeated his charge that Mr. Seigny voted to prevent Sir Wilfrid Laurier speaking in Ontario in 1912.

It was during Mr. Seigny's reply to this accusation that Mr. Cannon lost his temper. Mr. Seigny, stating that at the session referred to he had not voted to get Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but after a sitting of 15 days and 15 nights it was impossible to limit the time allowed each speaker, and the incident to which Mr. Cannon referred was when Mr. Hazen rose to speak at the same time and the house voted to let Mr. Hazen speak first.

At this point Mr. Seigny, who was speaking behind Mr. Cannon, said in a stage whisper, "Tout le monde est un menteur." ("All the same you are a liar.") Mr. Seigny, Mr. Cannon, he smiled and said: "Sir, I congratulate you on your expression, but are very well known."

This sort of was followed by hisses and cries of "Shame."

Mr. Cannon read a short letter from Sir Wilfrid, congratulating him on presenting himself against Mr. Seigny. The letter, which offered to give $1000 to the poor if Mr. Cannon could get a letter from Sir Wilfrid, approving of the action of Sir Wilfrid, was read on Thursday. Mr. Cannon made no reply to the challenge.

Three meetings were held yesterday, the first at Ste. Claire, the second at St. Anselme, and the third at Ste. Hedwig.

WILSON'S SPEECH PUZZLES BRITAIN

Members of the commons that a discussion will be insisted upon when parliament reconvenes, and speeches from members of the present and the late cabinet are expected. Possible action by the American congress on committing the nation to membership in an international peace league is awaited with interest. Both David Lloyd George, in his historic maiden speech as prime minister and Viscount Grey, while minister of foreign affairs, stated that membership in such a league without obligation to enforce its decrees by arms would be useless.

The effect of the Wilson's policy on the status of the Monroe Doctrine is discussed with equal interest. Several British publicists, notably L. J. Macdonald, in a recent review, suggested recently that Great Britain is entitled to a weighty voice in any international movement in the American continent and the growing importance of Canada as one of the foremost nations of that hemisphere.

The voice of "silent masses" upon the war was heard in the labor party conference at Manchester today when it endorsed the action of the labor members of parliament who entered the war cabinet, by a vote of more than 2 to 1. Most of the small manufacturing of sentiment favoring the conscription policy toward the central empire is to be found in labor unions and a small group of intellectuals.

The central issue says that undoubtedly the manifesto has developed a situation of extreme delicacy. It adds: "Whether or not it was expected by the allied diplomats in London it came as a bombshell to those outside the official circle, and no amount of pressure must be applied to get the President to say that whenever the speech, the average British member of parliament and his constituents regard it as an ill-timed intervention in the war, when the time comes for a settlement of the basis of international peace. The extreme opinion, which is that the President is selling the allied cause to Germany. The calmer view urges a dignified protest to the president to keep out of the war till the great end is over."

TWO SOLDIERS SUFFERED

Fruit-a-tives Made Him Feel as If Walking on Air.

CONSCRIPTION IS HELD NECESSARY

Orillia, Ont., Nov. 23, 1914.—"For over two years I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign, which read 'Fruit-a-tives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I buy a good supply of Fruit-a-tives, and the headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant-fruit medicine to all my friends."

that the soldiers would be disfranchised by a war time election and that it would not be feasible to collect their ballots. The front page of the Halifax Herald, to denounce Sir Wilfrid Laurier as disloyal for suggesting that it would not be feasible to poll the soldier vote.

Sir Robert Borden: "That statement is absolutely untrue." Mr. Macdonald: "At any rate, Senator Dennis published the statement, believing it would meet with your approval; he is of your creation."

Mr. Macdonald intimated that the government feared the soldier vote and on that account desired to indefinitely postpone their appeal to the voters. He complained of the acute labor shortage in the Nova Scotia mines. The miners, he said, should not have been sent to the front. The service they rendered to the war was just as important as winning the war as the service rendered by the soldiers at the front, and the same was true of munition workers, farmers and fishermen.

Mr. Macdonald then took up the Borden-Hughes correspondence and dwelt upon the report of Dr. Bruce regarding the conscription. He said, he said, that recruiting was slack if men who escaped death in the trenches were liable to be butchered in the hospitals. He demanded a parliamentary investigation into the Bruce charges.

Asks Light on Waste. Referring to the statement of Sir Samuel Hughes that $4,000,000 was being sent to the front, Mr. Macdonald asked the minister of finance to tell the country how much money, over and above what was needed to help win the war by growing an abundant harvest.

Personally, Mr. Oliver had no hesitation in saying that he favored conscription, but he pointed out that an ideal standpoint was surrounded by great practical difficulties, and, therefore, would not be a good one for not resorting to a conscription system. Under the military system we had in England, the conscription was a voluntary system had not been given a fair chance. The enthusiasm of the people had been shattered at the beginning of the war had been refused the privilege almost insultingly, but for there were no conscription laws in force at that time.

Mr. Oliver—"I suppose they will be long next." Mr. Oliver then complained that conscription was broken up, and of other impediments to the recruiting propaganda. He said he did not think by-elections were a good thing, especially, because the people of Canada were in no small degree responsible for the situation. In England the popular will had turned out two governments and established a dictatorship which equalled almost the day of Cromwell.

"Want People's Mandate." "We want no dictatorship in Canada," said Mr. Oliver in a speech in London, Jan. 23.—President Wilson's address was without effect on the stock exchange today. There were a few fluctuations in the market, but in the main, however, the markets were steady. The demand for 6-months Russian credit bills was negligible, and the price of the continued rush for the saw war.

The gilt-edged section was hard. Americans were quiet and loyal following New York's lead. Home lines were sluggish and inclined to sag. South American rails were irregular and not active. Allied bonds were firm. French 5's were good. Japanese were cheerful on further purchases for the sinking fund. Russians were lifeless. Another batch of 6-months Russian credit bills was placed here of 4 15-16 per cent. Diamond shares were in demand. Mines at 3 1/2-4.

Manchester, Jan. 23.—At the opening session of the annual meeting of the labor party here today there was enthusiasm when George L. Wardie, labor member of the house and president of the party, mentioned President Wilson's name in connection with the peace.

The speaker was interrupted several times during his speech by cries from the delegates of "What about Ireland?" and "What about Russia?" "Recently," said Mr. Wardie in his speech, "there were put forward two resolutions for peace, but the Germans used the name of Wilson."

"We shall know better before the end of the war," said Mr. Wardie. "We are fighting for the free development of the peoples—Germans, what about Ireland?"—Germany has not been a friend of the labor party. The delegates to the party, mentioned President Wilson's name in connection with the peace.

Referring to the war, he expressed the conviction that the only greater triumph would have been for Great Britain to have kept out of it. Commenting in President Wilson's address, Henry Hyndman, a leader of the socialist party, said: "As a socialist I am opposed to war, but as an Englishman I feel that the country is served by the cause of civilization which it helps to prevent European militarism overrunning Europe and crushing democracy."

Mr. Hyndman said he believed some unfinished business had been done by President Wilson's ideas, while excellent are impossible of realization at the present time.

"America has done nothing to prevent this war," he said. "It has taken no part in the struggle, yet President Wilson, its spokesman, stands like a dictator lecturing the world. It is as if we were inferior animals and needed some one to co-ordinate our doings for us."

LABORITES CHEER NAME OF WILSON FOR GREAT DEEDS

Surprising Demonstration Occurs at Party Meeting in Manchester.

PROUD BRITAIN FIGHTS WEAKEN FOE MORALE

Henry Hyndman Says Allies Cannot Be Dissuaded From Duty by Lectures.

Manchester, Jan. 23.—At the opening session of the annual meeting of the labor party here today there was enthusiasm when George L. Wardie, labor member of the house and president of the party, mentioned President Wilson's name in connection with the peace.

The speaker was interrupted several times during his speech by cries from the delegates of "What about Ireland?" and "What about Russia?" "Recently," said Mr. Wardie in his speech, "there were put forward two resolutions for peace, but the Germans used the name of Wilson."

"We shall know better before the end of the war," said Mr. Wardie. "We are fighting for the free development of the peoples—Germans, what about Ireland?"—Germany has not been a friend of the labor party. The delegates to the party, mentioned President Wilson's name in connection with the peace.

Referring to the war, he expressed the conviction that the only greater triumph would have been for Great Britain to have kept out of it. Commenting in President Wilson's address, Henry Hyndman, a leader of the socialist party, said: "As a socialist I am opposed to war, but as an Englishman I feel that the country is served by the cause of civilization which it helps to prevent European militarism overrunning Europe and crushing democracy."

Mr. Hyndman said he believed some unfinished business had been done by President Wilson's ideas, while excellent are impossible of realization at the present time.
