THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, COLLEGE STREET, TORONTO.

THE LAKESIDE HOME FOR LITTLE CHILDREN, THE PARK POINT, TORONTO ISLAND.

Present indebtedness of the Hospital, One Hundred Thousand Dollars. Funds are urgently required. The running expenses of the Hospital average Two Thousand Dollars per Month.

The Hospital had, during last year, nearly Five Hundred Children as indoor patients and a thousand in the out-door department.

Since its formation, the Hospital has had in its beds 2,000 sick children, and in the out-door department has attended to about 5,000.

It may be safely estimated that nearly 70 per cent. of the cases treated are discharged cured, while 25 per cent. are improved.

There is no more worthy object than the care of sick little children. The Hospital for Sick Children, the only provincial institution of the kind in Canada, specially favored by the law. The debt of this Institution is $100,000.

All bequests perfectly valid. No danger of litigation after death.

The statute expressly enables this Hospital to accept gifts of both land and money, no matter when the will is made.

The following clause in the will of any one wishing to help the sick children is legal and sufficient: "I GIVE AND DEVISE TO THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN AT TORONTO THE SUM OF ——— DOLLARS." If lands are given insert this clause: "I GIVE AND DEVISE TO THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN AT TORONTO THE FOLLOWING LANDS (describe them)." Any further information from the Secretary, Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

was originally founded in 1875, and occupied various buildings in Toronto until 1891, when the present building on College street was erected. Its equipment is perfect in every regard. The Institution has all the advantages of a staff of thirteen eminent surgeons and physicians of Toronto on the active staff, with eight medical men on the consulting staff and six on the out-door staff, with eight specialists in various branches of medical work.

The Hospital is in debt to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars—and funds are urgently required. The average cost of maintaining the Hospital is $2,000 per month. This is for food, light, fuel, nurses and superintendence.

There are no salaried officials in the Hospital except the Lady Superintendent, the housekeeper, nurses and domestics and a bookkeeper. The work of the Trustees and the Ladies' Committee is all voluntary.

The Hospital cares for about 500 patients a year. No cases are taken in except those that are acute and can be cured or improved. No chronic cases are admitted. To do so would be to make the Hospital a home for sickly children instead of a place for the treatment of the diseases of childhood. It is probable that, during the next year, the number of cases will be largely increased. Children are taken from all parts of the Province of Ontario. The Hospital is a Provincial institution, and the Inspectors of the Government admit that in building and equipment it is unequalled. It has beds for 175 patients and 40 nurses and domestics. It is the second largest Hospital for Children in the world. The most eminent surgeons and physicians from Europe and Great Britain have inspected the Hospital and The Lakeside Home, and pay the highest tribute to the excellence of both these buildings. Since its foundation, the Hospital has had in its beds about 2,000 children, and has given advice to about 5,000 in the out-door department.

The Lakeside Home for Little Children is at the Point Park, Toronto Island. It is the largest children's sanitarium in the world, and will bed 140 children and 40 nurses and domestics. It is open from June until October. All children who can be removed from the mother Hospital are sent here, as well as any sickly children of the Province who are convalescing. There is an average of 100 children in the building in the summer months.

Remember that every sick child in the Province, whose parents cannot afford to pay, is taken into this Hospital. The cases offered must be acute, such as can be cured or relieved. No chronic or incurable case is under any circumstances admitted. For parents who can afford to pay, a rate of $2 50 is made for the public wards, $5 for the semi-private wards and $10 for a private ward. The Trustees desire that all should contribute something towards the Hospital. No matter how small the amount, it will be thankfully received and faithfully applied.

RULES FOR ADMISSION OF PATIENTS.

IN-PATIENTS.

1. Children who are not suffering from small pox or other infectious diseases shall be received as in-patients from two to fourteen years of age, and shall not be admitted unless brought by some grown person.

2. The following classes of children shall be admitted to and treated at the Hospital: sick children, destitute and friendless, or whose parents through poverty are unable to take care of them, and who from various circumstances cannot receive care and attention at home, and who have friends who are willing to contribute towards the expense of maintenance. So that pauperism may not be fostered, the rule that remuneration to some extent shall be paid is strictly enforced whenever the relatives or applicants are in a position to afford it.

3. Accident and urgent cases are admitted at any hour during the day or night.

4. Parents and others from whom children are received into the Hospital shall be required to sign an application for admission, which shall state the terms on which the patient is received, and contain an agreement on the part of the applicant to be bound thereby.

5. Presents of toys or other things to any patient shall belong to the child only while in the Hospital, and for its use and amusement there; and shall not, unless when given by its parents or guardians, be given away or taken from the Hospital without the consent of the committee; when such consent is not given they shall be left as the property of the Hospital.

OUT-PATIENTS.

1. Children shall be received as out-patients from birth until fourteen years of age, who are free from small-pox or other infectious diseases, and who are brought to the Hospital by one of their parents or by a grown person. Those patients who are not received into the Hospital will daily receive advice and medicine free, and have any ordinary operation performed at the dispensary by the visiting medical officer at the hour appointed. All out-patients must provide their own phials or vessels for medicine, and these must be kept clean.

2. Parents or others who bring patients shall attend promptly at the dispensary department on Elizabeth street at the hours appointed, and when advised and treated shall leave the Hospital premises, and if they wilfully disobey directions given, or violate the rules of the Hospital, they shall not be permitted again to enter the Hospital.

3. The attendants shall strictly enforce these regulations, which are intended to promote the general welfare. It is hoped that the friends of patients will feel it to be their duty to conform to these rules, and to behave with propriety to the attendants.

VISITORS.

1. Visitors are admitted to the Hospital on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2 to 5 p m. All visitors must enter at the main entrance on College street, and must see the nurse in charge before entering a ward.

2. Ladies and others who desire to visit and entertain the children by reading and singing may do so after having obtained permission from the Lady Superintendent.

3. Visitors are strictly forbidden from giving any article of food, fruit or luxuries to any of the children. Any luxuries intended for particular children can be left with the nurse of the ward, who will distribute them under the direction of the Lady Superintendent.

PRIVILEGES OF SUBSCRIBERS.

1. Each donor of five thousand dollars shall be entitled to name a ward, and to recommend ten patients yearly.

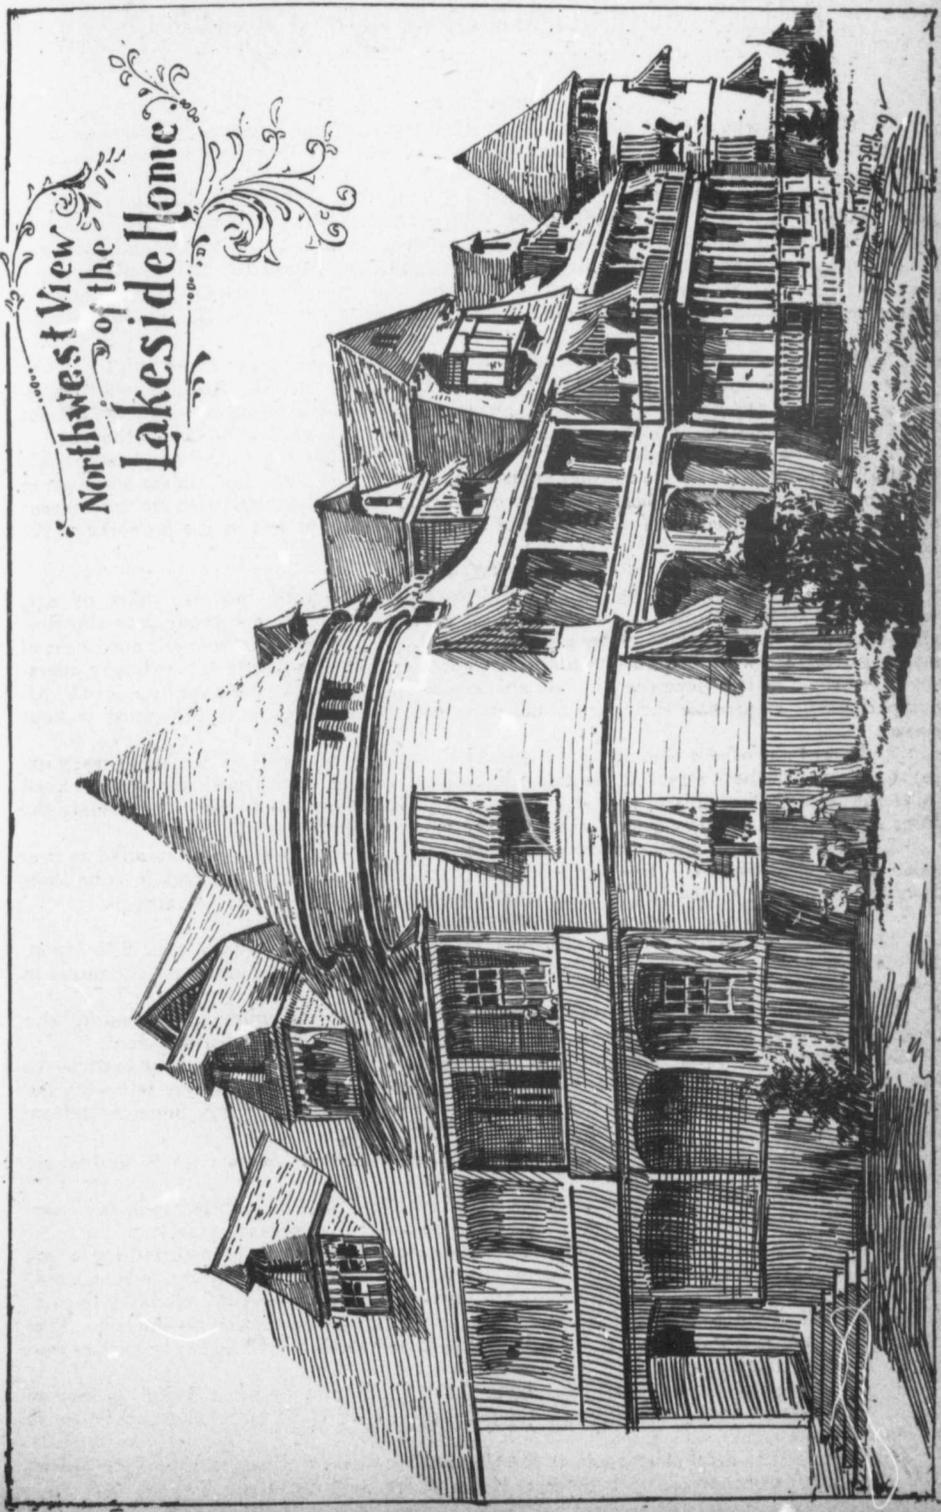

2. Each donor of two thousand dollars to endow a cot shall be entitled to have it permanently inscribed in regulation form and to recommend five patients yearly.

3. Annual subscribers of one hundred dollars for the purpose of maintaining a cot shall be entitled to have the cot named as long as the annual subscription is continued, and to recommend one patient yearly. This subscription may be paid monthly in payments of $8 50 per month, which shall include the expense of inscription on the cot. This subscription will maintain a cot at The Lakeside Home for Little Children as well as one in the Mother Hospital.

4. The representatives of any church, Sabbath school, public work, lodge, society or benefit organization shall be entitled to the same privileges as an individual subscriber of the same amount.

All donations in kind can be left at the Hospital on College street, and all P.O. orders or cheques shall be made to the Treasurer, Hospital for Sick Children.

SOWING THE PRECIOUS SEEDS OF CHARITY.

Like an Angel of Mercy Carry the Good News of Life and Health to the Poor Little Pain-Bearers.

CONSECRATE YOUR BOUNTY TO THE CHILDREN.

DR. C.
DR. J. CAV

The Hospital with all its splendid appointments and its conveniences has room for one hundred and fifty cots. With the growth of our city and the spread of the reputation of this sanitarium the number of sick children applying for admission will largely increase.

These cots must be furnished. Only $50 is required to give a resting-place for some little sufferer where gentle and patient ministrations and skilful treatment will chase away the pain and, perhaps, woo back from the portals of the grave little feet tripping into its dark and gloomy chamber.

Can there be a more touching appeal to the charity of all than that coming from wan faces whence cruel disease has driven the bright smile? Pity the poor little sick children and do what you can to bring the joy of life and health back to their pain-tossed bodies.

The Hospital has already been the salvation of many a life, and the number of children cured and relieved is so great that if its work is to be estimated from a mere mercenary standpoint, it has already paid for itself. More remains to be done. It must be put into a condition such that not one sick child need ever be turned from its doors. The trustees have arranged so that everyone, man, woman, and child no matter what the circumstances, may contribute to the furnishing of a cot.

If you cannot see your way clear to pay the $50 at once you have the privilege of paying as you can, so much a week, a month, or a quarter.

As the joy of this season enwraps your own home, where your loved ones gather to celebrate the nativity of Him who was such an ardent lover of little children and whose great human heart beat so tenderly and pityingly for His blessed "little ones," think kindly of the children of want and sickness whose pain you may alleviate, whose life, even you may spare if, by your charity, you place them within the sheltering care of Toronto's magnificent Hospital for Sick Children. It will be a perennial blessing to you, and the good angel will bear record that you have done what you could to bless and save the sorrowing and suffering children. Let your gift for 1891 be this coupon. Cut it out, fill it in and send to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman Board of Trustees, Hospital for Sick Children.

FURNISH A COT IN THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN.

The Best Gift that Benevolence, Prompted by Charity, Can Offer to Suffering Humanity.

$50 WILL FURNISH A COT AND GIVE $500 WORTH OF COMFORT TO THE COMFORTLESS.

Finish the Old Year and Commence the New with a Much-Needed Good and Generous Action—Furnish a Cot in the Sick Children's Hospital.

TO THIS APPEAL FOR HELP.

How many kind hearts there are in this great city who are willing to express their grateful recognition of the blessings received in this year that is fast fading away! And in what better manner can that gratitude be displayed than by alleviating the anguish of some little sick child in the years to come? $50 will furnish a cot that may help to bring back the rosy hue of health to some little wan and pallid cheek that never knew of Christmas joys.

At this season of the year, when all seems bright and the hearts of men are disposed to works of charity, how gratifying it is to know that so much can be done for so little cost. Just to think: $50 will furnish a cot that will be instrumental in soothing the suffering sorrows of some poor little sick child for many days or months.

As you mark the gladsome face, the quickened, healthy step, and hearken to the merry laughter of the many little ones who are busily engaged in the joyous occupation of selecting gifts for parents, brothers, sisters or friends, and in imagination can see the many happy households that the Christmas morning will dawn upon with all its gladsome wishes of "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year"—as you mark all this, pause for one moment and think of other dismal, cheerless, comfortless abodes, where in place of childish laughter will be heard sobbing moans of anguish and sorrow from some poor little pain-racked body, whose lustreless eye and attenuated arm are beseeching, entreating, and imploring sympathy from every benevolent heart and aid from some charitable hand. $50 will furnish a cot that will be a source of ease and comfort to such as these for seven or eight years to come. Fill out this coupon and it will add more than double the amount to your own happiness.

It has been said that "the friends of the poor are the poor." So in like manner children can befriend the little sick children. Every school in the city could raise a sufficient sum to furnish a cot for some poor little stricken one who, mayhap, has never known what school days' pleasures were. $50 would do it and give pleasure to every little subscriber.

If you wish to retire to-night in a happier frame of mind than you have ever experienced before, cut out and fill up this Christmas coupon, return it to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman Board of Trustees, and you will have accomplished the deed.

THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Work of this Interesting Charity During the Past Year.

Now, when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto Him, and He laid His hands on every one of them and healed them.—Luke 4:40.

Leaving us an example, that you should follow in His steps.—1 Peter 2:21.

Our blessed Lord Jesus while dwelling here in human form, ever bestowed upon the sick and ailing His tenderest love and gentlest ministrations. His miracles of healing were many. The blind saw, the lame walked, the lepers were cleansed, the deaf heard, yea, even the dead were raised up by the Divine touch or voice of the marvellous God-Man. To be like the Lord Jesus is one of the the highest aspirations of all His true followers. True, in this as in every other respect, His children can only attempt to follow their Master, and that at a distance, within the limitations of human power. They cannot with a word still the fevered pulse, or with a touch transform the deformed and crippled body into the erect and graceful figure; but they can pity and love, nurse, tend and alleviate pain, and against the most awful forms of disease set in array the best medical skill and science, ever seeking upon the instrumentalities used, the blessing of the Great Physician, the Divine Healer of disease.

This the Trustees and Committee of The Hospital for Sick Children are ever seeking to do for the little sick forms of humanity that fill the spacious wards of the beautiful Hospital on College street. In erecting this great building, in furnishing it so comfortably, in equipping it with all the newest and best surgical and medical appliances, in enlarging its staff to include some of the ablest physicians and specialists in our city, in securing a staff of able and efficient workers within the building, superintendent, doctors and nurses, in providing tempting food and delicacies, in supplying warm and comfortable clothing when necessary, they have ever encouraged themselves with the thought that they were following in the footsteps of the blessed Lord who has set us an example in this as well as in every other loving ministry.

This service of nursing, tending, and seeking to cure the sicknesses of the little lambs of the fold, who come to us for care, is a very exalted and helpful one, and withal it induces humility and trustfulness in the Good Shepherd who alone can heal disease.

This struggle with life and death, this battle with sickness and pain, the frequent sense of ignorance and failure, the awful feeling of defeat, when it has been demonstrated that the end of all our resources has been reached, and that human help is powerless, all draw the Christian worker, almost in spite of himself or herself, to look up in prayer to the Lord of all, to Whom all power is given in heaven and in earth. This desire for help, in hours of such weakness and helplessness, is encouraged by the admonition and promise, "Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up." Experiencing the weakness, in obedience to the command, and depending upon the promise, we have, as usual, met regularly this year for our service of prayer and praise, on Friday mornings. At this meeting a portion of God's word is read, studied or commented upon, and requests for prayer mentioned. These cover a wide range, and always include prayer for the daily bread, or maintenance of the children, for the building and furnishing funds, for trustees, physicians, superintendent, nurses and helpers, for the friends who contribute, for members of committee, for the patients generally, for special cases, for the spiritual life of the children, and for many other things connected with the work, and in numberless and unexpected ways answers have been received, and we believe that the strength of the work is centred in this Friday morning service. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The attendance at the Friday meeting has been good, though not as large as the number of names on the committee would warrant us in expecting. The average has been about ten throughout the year. During the summer frequently not more than two or three were present, but in every instance the meeting was held.

A. Cox,

EN,

spital for

for Sick tal, at an ay to the ows:—

We have been deprived, during a portion of the year, of the presence and counsel of our president, Mrs. Howland, on account of personal illness and family affliction, and in this connection we notice, with deep sorrow and sympathy the going home to his eternal rest of Mr. W. H. Howland. This unexpected blow fell heavily upon the workers of the Hospital for Sick Children as well as upon the entire Christian world, not only in our city, but in the Dominion. He was ever a friend to our little children, and times without number we have been encouraged to better service by his kindly presence and words of cheer. We are thankful for his good and noble life, and our loving thoughts and prayers are ever surrounding our dear president and her family, and in due time when she is physically stronger we hope to welcome her back to her accustomed place among us.

Mr. A. M. Smith, one of our trustees, who ever had the work near his heart, and who has given many practical evidences of this, has been laid aside through illness for many months. Earnest prayer was offered for his recovery and we are glad to know that he is improving gradually in strength. Other members of the committee have been absent for months through sickness, and Mrs. H. M. Pellatt, a most helpful member, has felt obliged to withdraw on this account. These friends are not forgotten at the Friday morning meeting.

The Chairman of the Board of Trustees has kindly met with the Committee at 12 o'clock noon on Friday, and in this way has greatly aided its members by his practical business ability, in their deliberations and decisions. The Committee has given much attention this year to the preparation and serving of the menu of the little patients, and in this their efforts have been ably seconded by the Trustees and the members of the staff.

An event of very great importance in our history was the visit on the 27th of October of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Lady Marjorie and the Honorable Archie Gordon. These august visitors were presented to the members of the Committee by the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and subsequently made a tour of inspection through the building, chatting pleasantly with the little invalids, visiting the schoolroom, where they were accorded a right royal welcome, and at the close commenting most favorably upon the magnificent building, its fine appointments, the cheerful wards, and their hospital-like appearance. While in the schoolroom poor little Arthur, who is slowly fading away, presented Lady Aberdeen with a pretty bouquet of simple flowers. At the time she held a costly one of rare roses in her hand, but the gift from the sick boy touched her heart, and as she took the offering of love from his little thin hand, she kissed the lad with tears in her kind eyes. The next day the Lady Marjorie Gordon and her brother called, and at each bedside placed a gift of beautiful flowers. Both Lord and Lady Aberdeen take a deep interest in hospital work, and it was a very great satisfaction to have our work commended by these representatives of royalty whose knowledge of hospital plans and work is of the highest.

Every year our Hospital for Sick Children is steadily changing from a permanent "Home" for ailing children, to a "Hospital" for the treatment of sick children.

Chronic cases are admitted only when there is a hope that treatment will effect improvement or a cure, and are discharged when this result is attained. This fact makes it necessary that a home for incurable children or a ward for such cases, in connection with some institution already established, shall be opened at no distant date. We believe it is only necessary to call the attention of the Christian public to the needs of incurable children in order to have some provision made for this unhappy class.

The work of caring for sick children appeals to the sympathies of all, and contributions for maintenance come from all classes and conditions of the community. Very frequently a poor rag-picker has been seen depositing a sum of money in the box on the street, and we have seen a young man leave his friend on the other side and cross the street to drop his gift into the box. A little girl in St. John's Ward, who has a little brother in the Hospital, regularly brings her precious coppers and deposits them in the box as a thank-offering for the care her brother is receiving.

The amount contributed for maintenance this year is $28,354 10, the sum of $1,500 coming from an appeal made in The Evening Telegram at Christmas time. The Building debt has been greatly reduced this year as will be seen by the treasurer's statement. The furnishing of the building has been completed. The halls, corridors and wards have been all painted this summer. Two new wards have been built for "suspect cases," as well as a beautiful large verandah for the infectious wards.

The friends who have maintained cots in past years have very generally continued them, and several new cots have been added to the list which may be seen on next page.

These handsome legacies coming to us from time to time are a source of much encouragement, and we trust that friends in disposing of their wealth, will continue to remember the little sick children who are depending upon us for care and treatment.

Our schoolroom under the loving supervision of Miss Sams, is a happy spot, not only a place of training, but of enjoyment for the little patients who are convalescing.

Our workroom is a busy place. The mending required for this large family of children is simply incalculable, besides the making of new garments. One of the members of committee has taken charge of this department, including the purchasing of new material, etc. She has been assisted by a number of earnest workers, who have met every Wednesday to cut out, make and mend. Another member of the committee has undertaken to have all the stockings of the children darned at her expense, and this is no small undertaking.

During the summer several ladies residing on the Island very kindly assisted with the mending, also making numberless new garments for the children. As usual Santa Claus visited the Hospital for Sick Children at Christmas tide, and in his sleigh, with the tinkling bells, which seemed as if it had been drawn, by the strong pony that trotted in with it, to the wards through many a snow-drift, was a gift for every boy and girl in the building.

At Easter, a wonderful box came as an Easter offering from the friends at Richmond Hill; this box contained eggs, fruit, toys, etc., etc., a most acceptable and useful gift.

A request was made through The Telegram for contributions of canned fruit, and we are pleased to say that about one hundred and twenty quarts of fruit have been received in response. The "Pansy Band" have been very faithful in their distribution of flowers in the wards throughout the entire year; and we have to thank the florists of the city who have so generously sent quantities of cut flowers, which are greatly appreciated by all.

The training school for our nurses has been carried on as usual under the efficient supervision of the lady superintendent, Miss Underhill. Any report which the committee might make of the work of the hospital would be incomplete without reference to the able and faithful services of Miss Underhill, and in all her various loving duties and responsibilities, she is supported and seconded by the nurses and other members of the staff.

THE LAKESIDE HOME.

On June 12th about fifty children were removed to their beautiful summer home on the Park Point, Toronto Island. Mr. E. W. Gardner, Mr. J. Sinclair Robertson, Rev. A. H. Manning and others kindly assisted in this work of love. All were safely transferred, and the delight of some of the children who had been in the Hospital for months knew no bounds when they found themselves in the open air, and especially "sailing in a boat when the tide runs high." Many were the enjoyments during the long summer days at the Lakeside. The convalescents took off their shoes and stockings and played in the sand, and by special permission some of the "wellest ones" waded in the lake. They had processions, with bands and musical instruments of all kinds, teas, parties, etc., etc. Some of the members of the committee who were at home during the weeks the children were at the Island interested themselves greatly in these recreations. Among others Mrs. Heron and Mrs. Snider may be specially mentioned.

In all 150 children enjoyed the benefits of this pleasant, breezy summer home, and when at length the "flag went down," as a signal for the return to the city, many little hearts were heavy. The children were safely removed to the city Hospital on Friday, September 28th. We wish to offer our Thanks to the Toronto Ferry Company for their very great kindness in so generously providing passes for the season for our resident physicians, lady superintendent, housekeeper and nurses. It is impossible to mention a hundredth part of the gifts, attentions, loving services, donations of things beautiful and useful received during the year at the Hospital, but all of them are acknowledged with gratitude, and all, even the simplest and humblest, are precious to the Lord, who has received them all as bestowed upon Himself: "Then shall the righteous answer Him, saying, 'When saw we Thee sick and came unto Thee?' Then shall He answer them, saying, 'Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'"

A WORD AT CHRISTMAS.

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN.

TO ITS FRIENDS.

The real needs of the Hospital For Sick Children inspire this appeal to the hearts of all whose eyes see these lines.

The story of our work, our need and our hope is not to be told in studied words or fine phrases.

OUR WORK—Last year 528 children were cared for in the Hospital. Of these 400 were cured, and nearly 2,000 children were also aided by medicine distributed at the Hospital Dispensary in connection with the outdoor department.

OUR NEED—Early aid to meet the $25,000, which goes every year to keep the doors of the Hospital open to every ailing child in the province; help to serve the ever-growing needs and to extend the Hospital's power to minister to the healing of the children.

OUR HOPE—That you to whom this appeal comes will give.

Every dollar helps the Hospital always to soothe the suffering and often to rescue the dying.

Your dollar may send the aid of the Hospital's mercy to the children of the poor.

Your dollar can help to straighten the crippled body of suffering childhood.

Your dollar can aid in giving: first, rest, and then health to the weary little folk who fret on wretched beds in the homes of poverty.

Send your dollar enclosed in an envelope by post to

SAME AS USED IN THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, TORONTO.

THESE CHAIRS COST $25 EACH,

And any one desiring to contribute to the Hospital funds could not do better than

for the purchase of a chair. Many of the children are unable to walk, and the privilege of moving about the Hospital by the aid of these chairs is inestimable.

Just think of it: $25 will enable a crippled child to move about the ward, look out at the sunshine, and have a small share in the enjoyment of life.

Cheques payable to

THE
CHILDREN.

Did the good folk of Toronto but know the need and fully understand the work of the Hospital for Sick Children the ready money would leap from a thousand pockets to aid the noble charity.

While the friends are not harassed with appeals for aid, the great Hospital has many needs and many of those are still unsatisfied. Room for a hundred and fifty cots. Yes, and children to fill them all will be suffering within the next year for the mercies with which under Providence, the Hospital is able to bless them.

Poverty puts its own cruel accent on the word "suffering" as it is applied to the children. Their pain-racked little bodies languish in narrow homes. Their lives go glimmering through days of weariness, and to these the Hospital is a very heaven all warmth and brightness, into which God's suffering children go in ailing and ofttimes come out whole.

The Hospital either prolongs the life journey of the little ones or smooths the rough places out of their short pathway. The hand of its activity blesses all who are touched.

Money is needed to widen the circle of the Hospital's healing influence. Fill in the coupon attached and return it to the Trustees. Your money will be well invested. A child won from the grave back to home and health and happiness may be the rich dividend it earns. New interest will be paid on the amount each time that the smile of health chases the shadows of death off the face of the child in your cot.

There is not a Sunday School, a Bible Class, a public or private school, with the hundreds of attending pupils, a lodge of any of the fraternal societies with its long roll of members, a factory, foundry, workshop or printing office, where many hands are employed, a large mercantile warehouse, a building, loan, a financial corporation with scores of employes, in every one that with a slight effort could not in a few hours collect enough to furnish a cot. In a school of a hundred pupils, a cent a week from each will furnish a cot. In any of the lodges about four cents a month will do it, and in factories that average twenty men five cents a week from every employe will furnish the cot equipment. Just think this over. What a grand opportunity of helping the great charity that takes care of sick children.

Your $50 can be a present that will not stale with the flight of the festive season. Each child may be blessed anew by the comfort your gift brings into its worn life. Throughout the year your money goes on doing good. Then cut out this coupon, fill it in, and return to J. ROSS ROBERTSON, Chairman Board of Trustees, Hospital for Sick Children.

IT WAS GRACEFUL THE MAYOR PRESENTS

Honoring the Trained Nurses—for Sick Children the Scene of a Festive Ceremony.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 27th of September, 1894, an interesting affair took place at the Hospital for Sick Children, College street. In connection with the institution there is a training school for nurses. For two years past the school has been methodical education in the art of nursing and caring for the sick and infirm. On the subject of a rigid examination every part of the process is successful they receive diplomas and are presented by the Mayor with elegant gold medals as testimonials of their ability and as tokens of the high regard in which they are held.

It was this graduation ceremony which took place on Wednesday afternoon, the 27th of September, 1894, at the Hospital for Sick Children, College street. Those present were:—Miss Mara, Superintendent; Messrs. Stewart, Donald, Gzowski, Walter S. Lee, Miss Buchan, Treasurer of the ladies' committee, and General Hospital; Mrs. G. Mrs. Macfarlane, Jarvis street, and others.

The present occasion signified the graduation of eight trained nurses, a fitting event of such importance to the young ladies and of so much interest to the Hospital should be present, and by their frequent marks of appreciation and interest in this noble cause, so large a place in the hearts of the people and pity sick and suffering children.

WHAT WAS SAID

Mr. J. Ross Robertson, Mayor, presided at the Board of Trustees present. He sat his Worship, the Mayor, F. Chamberlain, the Inspector of Charities, the Rev. Dr. McArthur, A. M. Smith of the Board of Trustees. The Chairman introduced the graduates by saying:—Mr. Mayor and gentlemen: It is almost a privilege for me to speak at any length on this afternoon's meeting. On previous occasions I have spoken of this Hospital—not only of its special work in connection with the training school attached to it.

IT WAS GRACEFULLY DONE. THE MAYOR PRESENTS MEDALS.

Honoring the Trained Nurses—The Hospital for Sick Children the Scene of an Interesting Ceremony.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 31st January, 1894, an interesting affair took place at the Hospital for Sick Children on College street. In connection with this institution there is a training school for nurses. For two years they undergo methodical education in the art of caring for the sick and are then subjected to a rigid examination covering every part of the profession. If successful they receive diplomas of graduation and are presented by the trustees with elegant gold medals as testimonials of their ability and as tokens of the high estimation in which they are held.

It was this graduation ceremony that drew to the building Wednesday an immense crowd of ladies and a few gentlemen. Among those present were:—Miss Underhill, the lady superintendent; Mesdames Heron, Mara, Snider, Harvie, Merritt, Pellatt, Stewart, Donald, Gzowski, Jas. Price, Walter S. Lee, Miss Buchan, the treasurer of the ladies' committee; Miss Sniveley, lady superintendent of the Toronto General Hospital; Mrs. G. S. Ryerson, Mrs. Macfarlane, Jarvis street, and many others.

The present occasion signalized the graduation of eight trained nurses, and it was fitting that an event of such importance to the young ladies and of so much credit to the Hospital should be specially marked. A very large number of persons was present, and by close attention and frequent marks of approbation, testified their interest in this noble charity that has so large a place in the hearts of those who love and pity sick and helpless little children.

WHAT WAS SAID.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson, chairman of the Board of Trustees presided. Beside him sat his Worship, the Mayor, Dr. J. F. Chamberlain, the Inspector of Public Charities, the Rev. Dr. McTavish and Mr. A. M. Smith of the Board of Trustees.

The Chairman introduced the programme by saying:—Mr. Mayor and ladies and gentlemen: It is almost unnecessary for me to speak at any length of the object of this afternoon's meeting. On so many different occasions I have spoken of the work of this Hospital—not only its general objects but its special work in connection with the training school attached to the institution—that but little more can be said on the subject to our good friends of Toronto and this province who have supported this charity. We have endeavoured to place our trained nurses on a par with those who graduate from the best training schools on this continent. We have the satisfaction of knowing from the medical men who have acted as examiners that the tests in different classes of our work show not ability alone but an experience only attainable by women who lay their hearts to the work and endeavor to fit themselves for what may be justly termed one of the fine arts—"the art of nursing." This Hospital is doing good work. As a prominent surgeon of Dublin, who visited the building recently, said, "The people of Toronto do not realize what they have in their midst in this Hospital. It is simply perfect in every detail. I know of none like it in the world." It was pleasant for us

TO HEAR OUR VISITOR SAY THIS

"You know my friends, we look after from four to five hundred patients every year. To attend to these sick and helpless little ones we have twenty nurses and as many domestics, that is, forty people to look after the average of one hundred children who are in this building. We can accommodate about one hundred and forty children, and perhaps with a little crowding a hundred and sixty, exclusive of our Isolation Ward. In our out-door department we have an average of about eight per day, and to this branch is attached a dispensary where we give advice and medicine free to nearly 2,500 children of this city every year. Our doors swing widely open at the call of the sick little ones, and we are doing our best to fill the want which for many years was felt by the absence of a building specially adapted for the treatment of children's diseases. We are glad to say that by the grant we received from the Government amounting to about seven thousand dollars, our grant from the Corporation of the city of Toronto, of which Mayor Kennedy is the honored head, an amount of $5,000, and by the generous contributions of the people of this city and province we are enabled to pay a large part of the expenses of this large charity. An impression has gone abroad that this is a wealthy charity, that we have untold gold pouring into our treasury,

NO RICH CHARITY.

Now, my friends, let me just tell you—and I hope you will tell everyone whom you meet—and I hope my fellow newspaper men will tell the world at large—that this is one of the poorest charities financially that there is in the country, that provided, properly equipped in every respect, having its sanitary conditions perfect, but it requires a large staff of nurses, professional men to manage it, and it costs a great deal for maintenance. Yet that is but a small item compared with those of fuel, provisions, and other necessities children, not only from the city of Toronto but from all towns, villages, and cities throughout the province, have free access to this hospital. That is a feature which does not exist in any other hospital for sick children. The question is not asked whether they are able to pay. If they are in a position to do so, they are expected to contribute something towards their maintenance; if not they are not turned away. This is, I say, a feature which is not found in connection with other hospitals throughout this or any other country on this continent. Too much praise cannot be given to the promoters of this institution. They have, to my knowledge, worked faithfully and diligently, and, as has been stated to day, of their own means contributed largely, perhaps more largely than they should have done, to the assistance of this hospital. It is a work in the interests of every individual in the city of Toronto and in this province, and I hope the work will be assisted by the people as it should be, and that this institution will go on from its present high standing to one still higher in connection with the treatment of the cases which are placed here from time to time. No person need hesitate to trust their children to the management of this institution. The nurses are invariably kind and attentive. The management could not be better than under Miss Underhill, the lady superintendent, and those associated with her. The medical staff could not be excelled, for the best talent of the city is constantly on hand to administer to the wants of those in the medical and surgical wards; and as I have before said, the sanitary condition is perfect.

ITS EXCELLENT NURSES

"Before I conclude I wish to say a word to the ladies who have been fitting themselves to go out into the world as nurses. I wish I could say for all the hospitals in Canada which turn out trained nurses what I can say for this, but, unfortunately, whether it be from their location or their surroundings or the lack of facilities in one way or another, they are not able to do as this hospital does by the nurses who receive their training in this institution. I know for a fact that here the best method of training is used in connection with those who are undergoing a course of instruction. I know that great pains have been taken in connection with this staff not only regarding the giving of medicine and diet to the patients but by lectures and bedside clinics. I can corroborate what has been said by my friend the Chairman, that the course of instruction given has been most thorough, as represented by the examinations through which they have lately passed. I do not know all of the questions which were submitted, but I saw some of them, and I know that they were practical questions, which a nurse requires to understand pretty thoroughly—in fact, those which would test the ability of a nurse, unless she had given more than ordinary attention to the care of those in her charge. I know when I was a medical student I should have termed these papers pretty stiff. I am pleased to know that the number of marks earned were satisfactory, and that they well deserved the honors which are about to be conferred upon them.

I REMEMBER IN MY STUDENT DAYS

how anxious we were to know the results of the examinations, and how we feared that we should be "plucked." I am glad that none of the young ladies who tried this examination have been plucked. Let me say to you, young ladies, that no doubt there has been considerable anxiety on your part and, no doubt, a great deal of hard study and care, perhaps some deprivations during your course of study, but you are about to go into the world and you will find it rather different in the times to come than in the past few years. While you are, no doubt, well trained to enter your profession, yet you may perhaps find that you have not learned all as yet. You have considerably more to learn before you will be perfect nurses. You could not have chosen a calling which requires greater patience, greater diligence, perhaps self-sacrifice. While you have learned, and faithfully, I believe, to follow the directions of the medical man under whose charge you act without having recourse to any suggestions of your own,—because you know that is strictly forbidden, but while I say strictly forbidden there are cases—no doubt you have met with them here—in which that rule cannot be strictly followed and to do so would exhibit your ignorance more than to obey it would prove your devotion. For instance, while it is your place to follow carefully the directions of the attending physician and to do so without saying many words,—for I have found in my own experience that nurses did a great deal too much talking,—I am sure you will not be guilty of that. However, you must obey the orders of the physician in charge, but I know that you have been taught to act in cases of emergency, in fact one paper of your examination was specially on that line. I am glad that you have understood these cases so thoroughly, because then you must act without the aid of your physician. Then you must rely upon yourself, your decisions be right or wrong, and you can very easily see the tremendous consequences which may RESULT BY DOING WHAT WAS WRONG.

Again, while you must act in cases of emergency, it is only for the moment. You will see that the physician is by the bedside as soon as possible, and upon a careful study of your cases followed out upon the lines which you have been taught here you will soon become thoroughly acquainted with your duties as nurses, and I know that you cannot fail. You have my best wishes. I congratulate you upon your success, and in future years I trust you will feel that your time has not been wasted here. I do not say that I hope you will always remain nurses. I should not mind particularly if you should by-and-by get married. In the meantime have patience and courage in anticipating the time when you will assume the duties for which you have been in training here. (Applause.)

The Chairman introduced Mayor Kennedy by saying—"In asking the Mayor to now say a few words to you and afterwards to present the medals, permit me to state that one of the cots in this Hospital is supported by the employes in his warehouse, and is known as 'The Samson, Kenney Cot,' and that we number some of our warmest friends among the gentlemen in that establishment."

HIS WORSHIP'S ADDRESS

The Mayor—I desire, Mr. Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen, to thank you for the honor which you have done me in asking me to be present with you this afternoon. I feel it an honor to be here on such an occasion, and to accept the part which you have assigned to me in distributing these certificates and medals to the ladies who have passed through their course of study, and whose examination has been, as Dr. Chamberlain has stated, of the most satisfactory character. I was greatly impressed by the doctor's remarks. He is an eminently practical man, and we know he speaks from experience. He has visited so many institutions of this kind that he is well qualified to speak on the subject, and to compare one with another, and he has placed this among the hospitals of its character at the head of all. It is very gratifying to know, Mr. Chairman, that we have in Toronto such an institution. I have often admired your great devotion to this Hospital for Sick Children, and to day I realise more than ever that it is something which merits your devotion. The object is a grand one. The motive is Christlike—doing good to these little ones who need special care and protection. I was one day greatly impressed by a picture—a steel engraving, I think it was—of a Jewish mother, sitting with her sick child on her knee, attenuated, pale and dying. But Christ came near, and, placing His hand on the child's head, He healed it. Sir, when I came into this building, I discovered that in it there was a magnificent memorial window, executed by one of the greatest artists in the world, a window that tells the same story of "Christ Healing the Sick Child." We cannot heal the sick children committed to our care, that is, some of them are beyond the possibility of being cured, but we can alleviate their sufferings, we can care for their wants, we can do good to their bodies, and we can remove a great deal of the disease with which they are afflicted, and in this we are acting in a Christlike way, and Christ will recognize this in the great day of distributing rewards. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, My little ones, ye did it unto Me." Now, sir, there is a great satisfaction in doing work for Christ. I have thought of the influence of our holy Christianity. Heathenism or infidelity does nothing of this kind; erects no hospitals for sick children, establishes no home for incurables, endows no charities of any kind. These are the outflowings of our holy and blessed Christianity. The doctrines of our religion teach us these things, no as in India, where a mother will cast her child into the Ganges for her sin. That we cannot witness in this country, and even there it is fast disappearing under the powerful influence of our religion.

AN ADMIRABLE INSTITUTION.

"Sir, I have often admired this institution. You have referred to the fact that some of my employes have contributed annually to the support of a cot. Nothing which they ever did pleased me more. When one suggested to his fellows that they should contribute to the support of a cot in this Hospital the matter was promptly taken up, and has been carried on ever since. I have received a great deal of information from yourself and Dr. Chamberlain regarding this institution. You very kindly conducted me through its wards and corridors, and its beauty and cleanliness and the practical character of everything in connection with it are astonishingly perfect. Everything seems to be perfect. I agree with you that the people of Toronto are not aware of the grandeur of the institution in our midst called the Hospital for Sick Children. I believe many are ignorant of the done here, but I trust the representatives of the press who are here to-day will make a reference to this, and ask to come to this institution upon a reserved for visitors, so that they are thoroughly acquainted with the done here. You have heard, all trustees have been doing much in becoming responsible for large is the duty of the public to contribute relief and to ease the burden of the institution. I am told that the receipt of current expenses, but do nothing towards the liquidation of the debt, which has been paid some day or other by the people of this province. They must contribute to the relief, Mr. Robertson, and to the good of your fellow-trustees.

AWARDING THE HONORS

"We now come to the most interesting part of the afternoon's duties. It is an honor you have assigned to me to accept gladly. I have much pleasure in presenting you with these certificates and medals, and trust that you will receive them with pleasure in after years. I doubt that those who present you with these tributes to your efficiency—no, to the medical faculty—consider that they have earned them well and honestly.

The names of the graduates are: Miss Jane L. Gray, Cecilia M. L. Rogers, Hattie Woodland, Christina McLaughart, Bella M. ...

When the certificates had been distributed to each nurse, and a medal presented to each, the Mayor said: "Mr. Chairman, you will say that my work well."

To this the Chairman replied: "It is necessary for the Mayor to express his appreciation of opinion from me."

him to perform this duty for me. I am fully satisfied that he would do so creditably. He does everything well."

"I have asked Mr. A. M. ... the trustees, to say a word. Mr. Smith says he would do so, but I feel so sure that you will have him speak to you that I must insist."

MR. SMITH, RISING

"Mr. Mayor, Mr. Chairman, Gentlemen,—I did not come here with a view of making a speech, nor do I make one. I have seen the Hospital very frequently on my visits, and I have noted the character of its work and the industry which they have in their duties. I have often admired the self-sacrifice. It would be interesting if the friends of this institution believe many are ignorant of the work being done here, but I trust the representatives of the press who are here to-day will kindly make a reference to this, and ask our citizens to come to this institution upon the days reserved for visitors, so that they may be thoroughly acquainted with the work being done here. You have heard, also, that the trustees have been doing much personally in becoming responsible for large sums. It is the duty of the public to come to their relief and to ease the burden they are carrying. I am told that the receipts meet the current expenses, but do nothing towards the liquidation of the debt, which must be paid some day or other by the people of this province. They must come to your relief, Mr. Robertson, and to the relief of your fellow-trustees.

AWARDING THE HONORS.

"We now come to the most important part of the afternoon's duties. It is a post of honor you have assigned to me, one which I accept gladly. I have much pleasure in presenting you with these certificates and medals, and trust that you may look upon them with pleasure in after years. I have no doubt that those who present you with these tributes to your efficiency—not myself, but the medical faculty—consider that you have earned them well and honestly."

The names of the graduating nurses are: Miss Jane L. Gray, Cecilia McDonald, Lina L. Rogers, Hattie Woodland, Ella Alton, Christina Mc'aggart, Bella McMurchy.

When the certificates had been presented to each nurse and a medal pinned on the breast of each, the Mayor said:—"I trust, Mr. Chairman, you will say that I have done my work well."

To this the Chairman replied—"It was unnecessary for the Mayor to ask such an expression of opinion from me. When I asked him to perform this duty for us I felt perfectly satisfied that he would acquit himself creditably. He does everything well."

"I have asked Mr. A. M. Smith, one of the trustees, to say a word or two to you. Mr. Smith says he would prefer not to do so, but I feel so sure that you will be pleased to have him speak to you that I think I must insist"

MR. SMITH, RISING, SAID:

"Mr. Mayor, Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I did not come here with the view of making a speech nor did I expect to make one. I have seen these young ladies very frequently on my visits to the Hospital, and I have noted the care and assiduity which they have given to their duties. I have often admired their patience and self-sacrifice. It would be a grand thing if the friends of this institution would visit the Hospital often and become acquainted with the sad cases which come under our charge—poor little waifs, many of whom are in the world without anyone to think or care about them. On a recent visit I was looking at a little child five years of age, lying sick in one of the cots and I was told that her mother had just died in the General Hospital, that her father was dead and that she had not a friend in the world. If our friends in the city and province would consider the position of the Hospital it would be a great boon to the institution itself. We need help very much. It is not a pleasant thing in these hard times to be called upon to pay out $500 to keep the institution in going order, but we have had to do it. As a frequent visitor at the Hospital I can testify to the great care which Miss Underhill, the lady superintendent, exercises in her work. She is always at her post, and so are my friends, the nurses. I am pleased to see that hard work has not impaired the health of our graduates, and I hope they will be successful in their profession"

AS GOOD AS THEY LOOK.

To this the Chairman responded:—"Mr. Smith's remark regarding the health of our nurses, reminds me of another, which a friend made to me some days ago. He said that in their regulation outdoor costume they looked like professional beauties. I can assure you all that they are as good as they look, and we may well be proud of them as experts in their work. Now, on the principle of keeping the 'good wine until the last,' I wish to say a word about our Ladies' Committee, which meets in this building every Friday, at noon. Once a week, on another day, from eight to ten of these ladies meet and help in the work in the linen room, in the repairing and superintend generally the internal economy of the institution. The Ladies' Committee is one of the most important departments in connection with the institution. Once a gentleman who had something to do with an organization managed by women, was asked how he got along with them, and in reply he said, Well, it takes two-thirds of the time to manage the women, and the rest to transact the business. Well, it is precisely the contrary in connection with our Ladies' Committee. There is no more united or devoted band of women in connection with any institution in the world. They give a great deal of time to this work, the utmost harmony prevails, and they all work with the one idea of assisting the trustees, the management and the physicians and surgeons in perfecting the work of caring for those little ones who need our best efforts. (Applause.)

This concluded the proceedings. The visitors and friends were served with refreshments, provided by the ladies of the Committee of Management, and the assemblage dispersed.

THE TALE OF AN HOSPITAL.

What Tennyson Said of the Sick Little One in the Hospital for Children.

One of the most pathetic stories told by England's latest laureate, who last year descended silver-crowned to the tomb, is a little tale published among his recent poems entitled "In the Children's Hospital."

The heroine of the story was a tender little maiden of a few fair years—many enough to have learned to love the beautiful, which is as common as the sands but as mysterious as the stars, few enough to have retained undimmed the pearl of childish innocence enshrined and entwined and enthroned among the golden curls that hung in waving ringlets on her brow. No parent, perhaps, had she known. Day by day she saw the sun rise in the morning in splendor, pass over the meridian in grandeur, go down in an evening of crimson to expire in a midnight of gloom. She saw the moon grow from a crescent into an orb, and wane old as it faded into a crescent again. She saw the stars in heaven come out at night, and look down along the earth. All nature whispered stories in her listening ear that friends could never weave nor tell, stories not intended for lord nor lady, stories that the tender mind alone could understand. And all day long she was as happy as the skylark that

MOUNTS UPWARDS TO THE SUN.

In her little life there came a shadow, a shadow draped in sorrow and bordered with bitter grief. No one knew why it fell, beyond the fact that shadows ever follow sunshine. Beneath a broken wreck of vehicles, boxes and trunks strewn in many directions by one of the numberless accidents that are daily forgotten, lay the mangled form of the little nature-loving damsel of whom the enchanted minstrel sings. Into a whitewashed ward of the Children's Hospital the frail little form is borne. Tender hands lay her easily on a couch. The kind-hearted nurse bends over her, and bedews the crimson cheek with a silver tear. Hour by hour she watches the cot. When the broken breathing becomes a little more regular the physician makes his preliminary examination. "She will live," he whispers, "but at the cost of a fearful operation, which must be performed as soon as consciousness returns." The dying day slowly expires. At last the sleeper awakens. The surrounding scene is strange to her eyes. The kind nurse, the willing doctor, the moaning companions of the great chamber are all unfamiliar. "Where am I?" she enquires, turning to look around her, when a pang of pain darting through her broken frame recalls vividly to her mind all that had passed hours before—the confusion, the cry of voices, the accident, the crashing sound, the grinding of broken boxes around her, the moan of pain, the shutting out of the light of day, and then the consciousness

RAVEN GLOOM OF OBLIVION.

So the time swept on. The hour was coming when the physician's ghastly operation was to be performed, when the steel must flash and the lance must gash. The decision of the medical advisers had been communicated to the little girl as she lay one afternoon looking through the casement on the clouds that formed along the sky. Tears filled the lovely eyes, but with a heroism born of submission, she murmured an approval, the cost of which will never be known by man. The time chosen was during the hours of next morning. Then the little sufferer was left alone. For a few moments she talked to the child in the nearest cot, whom she had learned to love. Those words were destined to be her last. No one knew that the little life was so near the dark Lethæan stream. No one knew that the little form had received a severer blow than it could bear. No one knew that the golden sands of her life had nearly run. The conversation began to wane, and soon it ceased—

THAT CEASING WAS FOREVER.

Then the little light blue eyes of the tender young sufferer wandered slowly around the corniced walls of the glimmering room, where the last few weary hours of lovely life were spent in internal pain, falling now on the neighboring cot whose childish inhabitant had begun to slumber a sleep mingled with dreams of friends and home and days and lands far, far away, now turned upward for a moment on the frescoed ceiling, where the violets twined their tiny blue flowers among the deep crimson laureate roses and fair daisies, dressed in their lily-white fringes surrounding hearts of gold, now resting a moment on the table laden with books upon books, stories upon stories, pictures torn and sketches crushed, and in one corner a few prettily arranged morning glories that were closed to the heat of the day, and then moving in the direction of the window through which softly along the tessellated floor, yet the green cornfields and over and over the tall trees swaying, and the goldfinch flitting, and the nightingale sang, and on the waving branches of the land trees, crowned with myriad hues and changing coloring emerald and gold. The soulful lingering look was destined to be the last loving glance on what hours she spent in the Children's Hospital. A little less long, a little less less isolatory, and a little less. It was a look of pathetic loneliness that lives on life that faded of resignation upon nature in a vain search for consolation with one who soon cease to burn and flame and throb. One last long quiver moved the whole body, one ed pain scarcely heard as it between the innocent lips to die in air, and the brave little her dear, long, lean stretched out on the floor, fell into a deep, sound, peaceful slumber which was to know no waking, an unbroken repose which was to know no hours of the unopened mouth bestowing on her the rest refused to give, that rest which was great, inevitable end, that rest only with the sleep of death.

THE SWEETEST SLEEP.

When the sun arose in the east the physician came to perform moving in the direction of the great opened window through which softly fell a sunbeam along the tessellated floor, yet again out over the green cornfields and over the meadows, and over the tall trees swaying in the distance where the goldfinch flitted, and the nightingale sang, and on the waving branches of the distant woodland trees, crowned with innumerable myriad hues and changing colors of mingling emerald and gold. The one deep full-souled lingering look was destined to be the last loving glance on what had made the hours she spent in the Children's Hospital a little less long, a little less weary, a little less isolatory, and a little less of monotone. It was a look of pathetic loneliness, a look of life that lives on life that fades, it was a look of resignation upon nature moving in rhythmic consolation with one whose heart would soon cease to burn and flame, to heave and throb. One last long quivering breath that moved the whole body, one last sob of stifled pain scarcely heard as it passed from between the innocent lips to die on the moving air, and the brave little sufferer "with her dear, long, lean little arms stretched out on the counterpane," fell into a deep, sound, peaceful slumber, a slumber which was to know no awakening, an unbroken repose which in the silent hours of the unopened morning ended in bestowing on her the rest that life had refused to give, that rest which crowns the great, inevitable end, that rest which comes only with the sleep of death—

THE SWEETEST SLEEP OF ALL

When the sun arose in the morning and the physician came to perform the dreaded operation, the lovely darling who had been prepared in the afternoon before to suffer the pain of torturing anguish, was now a motionless but tender corpse, growing slowly white and cold. Beautiful had his sweet flower been in a brief but precious hour of life, yet more beautiful by far than the fairest lily that ever unfolded was the broken bloom lying royally in sweet repose in the arms of dreamless death.

Under a lonely weeping willow whose silver branches ever heaved and fell to the time-measured by the pean, wind-sung over a grassy mound, she rests in eternal peace. No sculptured tomb tells her pathetic history. No chiselled vault hewn amid the iron hills of earth guards her little coffin. No loving friend has marked her grave with wreaths of flowers watered with the truest tears of life. But in some unwoven day a hard-hearted stranger whose life has been one mournful consolidated wrong will pass along that way. In the heat of the day he will pause beside the sacred grave. Nature will overpower him and he will sink to rest. He will behold a vision, a vision seen by few. All through its changing scenes he will see a lovely childish form and hear the ethereal music of a voice that now is dumb. The tear-damped eyes viewed in the vision will melt his stony heart. The ringing voice heard in the dream will thrill his dying soul. His heart will pulsate with a strange emotion, and at length he will awaken.

Then will it be known that the little unknown orphan girl did not live her life in vain.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE HOME

MOVING THE SICK CHILDREN.

The Preparation—The Procession—The Embarkation and the Arrival at The Lakeside Home.

"I've got the flower of the flock, haven't I, Billy?" Billy didn't answer; he only opened his big blue eyes a little wider as he looked up into the face of his merry-hearted nurse after she had followed her question with a kiss. Billy's eyes have looked out upon this world only four years or so, and yet he is an invalid. He was one of a group of 48 sick or crippled little ones waiting in the reception hall of the Hospital for Sick Children on the afternoon of June 12th last. It was the day of the annual flitting to the Island, a day so eagerly looked for by the little invalids—a day, let us hope, only one of many that shall be jewelled with joy during the summer outing at the pretty Lakeside Home.

Early in the morning even busy motions of preparation gave notice of something unusual in the life of the patients; books and toys and dolls were collected; the best "bib and tucker" were put on; eyes grew brighter and tongues ran faster as the day wore on. In accordance with the usual well-regulated habits of the institution all the children were ready at one o'clock sharp. They walked or hobbled or were carried or wheeled from the various wards down to the ground floor. A few unable to keep back tears that pain cruelly wrung from their eyes, cried pitifully, but nearly all were bright and cheerful. Despite splint and bandage and truss and crutch they were happy, and talked of nothing but the trip across the bay.

The two ambulances, in charge of Officers Geddes and Findlay, and the line of 13 carriages drawn up in front of the building attracted an immense crowd of onlookers. Tenderly and patiently did the officers carry out the helpless ones, who were snugly laid upon thick mattresses and pillows, a nurse being in charge of each ambulance.

The arrangement of the transportation and the insuring the comforts of the little ones was in charge of Mr. E. W. Gardner and Mr. J. Sinclair Robertson, and was of the most satisfactory character. The general superintendence of the removal devolved upon Miss Underhill, the Matron, and Dr. Robinson, the house surgeon. Eleven nurses, each one having charge of four children, were seated in the carriages. Mesdames Heron, Donald and Merritt, of the Management Committee, assisted, as also did Drs

Smith and Field, the new resident physicians. The former is in charge of the Island Home and the latter at the Hospital. Five children could not go, being too ill to be moved.

As the procession wound its way along College street to Yonge and down amid the traffic of that crowded highway it naturally drew to itself universal attention. Every one seemed to know what it meant, for this annual hegira is one of the features of the city's life. There were many expressions of pity for the little travellers, but they greatly enjoyed the ride.

To the west of the Yonge street wharf was moored the Luella and a roomy barge, all under command of the Clark brothers. The children were laid in the barge upon comfortable bedding, with an awning above to keep off the heat of the sun. The embarkation was safely made, the long wharves being lined with interested sightseers.

Everyone who had anything to do with these little invalids seemed touched by their helplessness and inspired with unusual care. Even Capt. Clark started his engine very slowly; and very carefully did he steam out through the western gap as if burdened with an extra sense of responsibility for the precious freight entrusted to his pilotage.

Rev. Mr. Manning, rector of St. Luke's church was one of the passengers. So also was "G. H. de B.," the clever Toronto correspondent of Kings' on, Chatham and St. Thomas papers.

No finer position for the location of The Lakeside Home for Little Children could have been chosen than that which it occupies. The position is sufficiently isolated to give quiet; it is a commanding one, and the life-inspiring breezes from over the blue waters readily and purely find their way about its spacious corridors and wards.

As the tug steamed slowly along the shore of the Island the Canadian flag on the Home was seen waving its welcome while its bright folds fluttered radiantly in the westering sun. Anchorage having been secured for the tug the barge was poled along the shelving beach to the wharf in front of the Home, whence the children were carried up into the cool, clean rooms and laid upon the white cots—such a blessed relief from the heat and dust and noise of the bustling, busy city. That their stay may be pleasant; that roses may come back into cheeks now pale by disease; that a new brightness may be kindled in eyes now dulled by pain; that shrunken limbs may become rounded and full; that crutch and splint may soon be cast aside; and that these pain-bearers may find health and happiness in their summer home must be the wish of every reader.

WHEN THE FLAG WENT DOWN FROM THEIR SUMMER HOME.

Incidents Connected With the Removal From The Lakeside Home on the Island to the Hospital in the City.

Through the long summer days the national flag gaily fluttered above The Lakeside Home for Little Children. On Friday, 23th September, at 2 o'clock it suddenly fell, not by accident or wanton design, but as a signal. Watchers on the tower of the Hospital for Sick Children on College street knew that when the flag fluttered down the children were leaving the Island for the city. It was moving day for the little ones, and like all moving days, had its element of regret.

"Are you glad to go back to the city?" was asked of a brown-faced little fellow limping around on his crutch.

"No, I ain't; I want to stay here and sail my boat."

Words cannot be found to express the comfort and pleasure The Lakeside Home has been to these sick and crippled little folks. Enquiry among them elicited the fact that they left it with great regret. Whatever may be the fate life has in store for them, the memory of this summer on the Island will be a pleasant one always. The bright, beautiful days have been jewelled with joy; in the invigorating air and sunlight wasting limbs have grown stronger and ravages of disease have been arrested.

"Why, they don't look like sick children if you didn't see the bandages and crutches," said a lady who was watching them as they were carried into the hospital.

THEIR SUMMER OUTING.

The children were at the Home four months. During this time 75 were admitted and the aggregate attendance was 150. Of this number two died of pneumonia, 43 were brought over yesterday, the others were discharged either cured or so greatly benefitted that the help of the Home was no longer needed. In the school, taught by Miss E. Y. Sams, the attendance was 59.

These are figures that show the good work done at the Island Home. But the benefit to the moral, mental and physical natures of the little inmates is beyond computation. In the absence of Miss Underhill, the superintendent of the Hospital, Misses Twomley and McMurchy were in charge; the former had the responsibility of the superintendent and the latter was in charge of the nurses. Dr. Field was the house surgeon at the Island, though Dr. Smith, who holds a similar position at the Hospital, divided his time between the two institutions.

Under this supervision the children have had skilful, gentle, and experienced treatment. During the summer many little picnics were held along the beach and the innocent delight of the sick children showed what a blessing they enjoyed. They have come back to the city remarkably improved.

OUT ON THE LAKE.

Early in the morning there resounded through the corridors and wards of the pretty building notes of eager preparation for the flitting. Since they had to leave the Home they made the best of it. Many of these children seldom get a ride. Some seldom see the bay even, so that the prospect of a boat-ride was gladsome. They gathered together their books, toys, dolls, sailboats, pebbles and little mementoes of the summer days. When Capt. Clark's tug steamed along towing the barge he was right royally cheered. Mattresses, pillows and blankets were put upon the floor of the barge for those too ill to sit up. The embarkation was carefully and safely made, and a most delightful trip was had along the western shore of the Island, in through the western gap, along the city front to the dock just west of Yonge street.

The strange-looking craft with its novel cargo attracted great attention; row boats and sail boats came near to see it, and when the tug steamed up to the wharf an immense crowd of people had gathered on the dock. The warm sunshine, the balmy air, the brightness and the beauty of the day made the removal pleasant in every way.

ARRIVAL IN THE CITY.

Miss Underhill, the superintendent of the Hospital, made the arrangements for the removal in such a way that it was done without a hitch anywhere, and all the movements were correctly timed. The incoming party was met at the dock by Mrs. Heron and Miss Donald, of the Board of Lady Managers, Drs. Smith and Clingan, Ambulance Officers Fyfe and Tripp and 13 carriages.

Gang planks from a neighboring steamer were expropriated. Carefully and tenderly were the helpless children carried up and put into the ambulances; each carriage contained three or four children in charge of a nurse. Not only at the dock but all the way up Yonge street, along which the procession wound its course, the novel sight attracted a great deal of attention. It is wonderful what an appeal suffering and helplessness silently make to human nature. Down at the dock a number of rough-looking young men willingly took hold of anything they could in order to be of some help in getting the children safely ashore. One poorly-clad old man went down to the barge, picked up a little crippled child and carried it to the carriage with all the tender care of a mother. People along the streets were heard to pity the poor little patients and at the same time bless the charity that takes care of them.

SAFE AT HOME.

When the procession halted at the Hospital on College street the doors of the main entrance were thrown wide open, and the incoming guests were received by Miss Underhill and the neat and pleasant-looking nurses, Drs. Smith, Field, and Clingan assisting. Some kind word or a pleasant smile or a pinch of the cheek greeted each child as it entered the building. And how happy they looked! It was a genuine welcome home. One of the oldest boys, as he hobbled along on two crutches, made a vain attempt to waik and lift his cap at the same time, as he went in among the smiling ladies.

It was all pleasant and cheerful. No; not all; for when a feeble, pale, panting little cripple was carried in, tears came into the eyes of a tender-hearted nurse, for she knew that, in all human probability, the child would be carried out dead.

There are now 77 children under treatment as inmates of the Hospital. A large number could not be taken to the Island during the summer. The Hospital is open at all hours of the day and night the year round for the reception of sick or injured children. The good work it is doing cannot be put upon record; the patient, gentle, healing treatment, the intellectual improvement, the moral upbuilding—all this surpasses language; the record of it will go out into the lives of men and women who are now the little children blessed with its nurture and love.

When the Flag Went Down.

An article in The Telegram of Saturday entitled "When the Flag Went Down," describing the removal of the children from The Lakeside Home on the Island, suggests the following lines:—

Little hearts were beating quickly,
Though the tiny limbs were aching
On wee bodies worn and weary,
For the summer days were ended,
When the flag went down.

Little eyes in mute complaining
Watched the sparkling, rippling water,
Watched the shining sand and pebbles;
They were leaving them behind them,
When the flag went down.

Little bodies tossing fevered
Had been lulled in sweet caresses
By the soft breeze off the waters;
But the winds were growing colder
When the flag went down.

O'er the strip of glistening wavelets
Came the barge to bear them safely
To the little sick ones' haven
Safe from wintry storms and tempest
When the flag went down.

Loving hands were stretched to meet them,
Tenderly the babes were borne,
Suffering, yet so uncomplaining,
To their city home of healing
When the flag went down.

Whilst the pinion fluttered gently
In the gladsome days of summer,
Two wee lambs had ceased to suffer
And had fluttered gently homeward
Ere the flag went down.

If, by little thought or action,
We could aid these suffering bairns,
Seems 'twould bring our hearts sweet comfort

And would make the way less dreary,
"When our flag goes down."

The appeals made the Trustees of the Hospital have met with generous response on the part of some tender-hearted citizens. Their generosity is highly appreciated, and they will be held in grateful recollection. More than this, the good thus done to some poor little sufferer will surely revisit the heart of the giver and carry to him heaven's richest benediction.

More than one hundred cots are yet to be furnished. There will be a demand for these cots, and the Trustees do not desire to turn away a single applicant because there is no cot upon which to place the little sufferer. A further appeal is made to the public on behalf of this most worthy charity that comes so closely to the heart and home of every father and mother.

In the flush of joy which brings so much of pleasure to your own home-circle at this festal season of the year, think of the bed-bound sufferers who shall never know the joy and freedom of child-life, whose only hope in years to come is that the pain may not be quite so hard to bear, and that the grave may not open so perilously near the little feet. Think of your own happy little children, free from pain, with roses of health blooming in the cheeks and the laughing sparkle of joy in the eye, and then think of the wan faces and lustreless eyes of the pain-burdened little ones, the light of whose life has gone out in the darkness of suffering.

Only $50 will secure a comfortable resting-place for these children. What greater charity can appeal to your heart, and what greater reward can you have than that spoken by One who touched humanity at its lowest sorrow and its keenest suffering, "Ye have done it unto Me?" By your charity you will not only bring relief and health to the ailing little ones, but you may be the saviour from death of some child who shall in the years to come bless your name and revere your memory.

This charity is within the reach of all. To furnish a cot you may pay $50 or suit your own convenience, and pay it in weekly, monthly or quarterly instalments. In this year of grace, and at this happy Christmastide, let your gift be this coupon. Cut it out, fill it in and send it to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman Board of Trustees, Hospital for Sick Children.

TO ITS FRIENDS.

The real needs of the Hospital For Sick Children inspire this appeal to the hearts of all whose eyes see these lines.

The story of our work, our need and our hope is not to be told in studied words or fine phrases.

OUR WORK—Last year 528 children were cared for in the Hospital. Of these 400 were cured, and nearly 2,000 children were also aided by medicine distributed at the Hospital Dispensary in connection with the outdoor department.

OUR NEED—Early aid to meet the $25,000, which goes every year to keep the doors of the Hospital open to every ailing child in the province; help to serve the ever-growing needs and to extend the Hospital's power to minister to the healing of the children.

OUR HOPE—That you to whom this appeal comes will give.

Every dollar helps the Hospital always to soothe the suffering and often to rescue the dying.

Your dollar may send the aid of the Hospital's mercy to the children of the poor.

Your dollar can help to straighten the crippled body of suffering childhood.

Your dollar can aid in giving: first, rest, and then health to the weary little folk who fret on wretched beds in the homes of poverty.

Send your dollar enclosed in an envelope by post to
