British Line On The Western Front Now Is Hundred Miles

From Transports to Trenches so Well Are Soldiers Trained in England

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Petit Parisien states that the British line in Northern France and Flanders has been lengthened to more than 100 miles. Formerly it was only forty miles long. The total number of troops actually on the firing line is 800,000.

From the sea southward the first army is now the Belgian; then comes the French army and next the first British army. Then comes another French army with the new British army to the south, the arrival of this new British force extends the front nearly ten miles.

Field Marshal Sir John French is now so well satisfied with the training Kitchener's army is receiving in the British camps, that the new troops are being drafted for the trenches straight from transports.

JOYFULLY GO TO WAR WITH TURKS

Rome, Aug. 23.—Italy's declaration of war against Turkey has been greeted enthusiastically from the Alps to the Ionian Sea, and across the Mediterranean to Libya, from which the governor general has sent a telegram declaring that his troops claim the privilege of being the first to enter into the new campaign.

General Cadorna, commander-in-chief of the Italian army, says his men received the news with great cheering. In the places along the front where the Italian trenches are separated by only a short distance from those of the Austrians, it is declared that the shouts of "Long live Italy," and "Down with Austria and Turkey," were so loud that they were heard by the Austrians, who rushed to arms, thinking they were about to be attacked.

Undine, Italy, Aug. 23.—The fact is now disclosed that joint military action by Italy with England, France and Russia against Turkey was arranged by General Porro, Italian, during his visit to the Anglo-French front in July.

TWO ENEMY VESSELS GONE

Sofia, Bulgaria, via London, Aug. 23.—The Turkish collier Zephanus has been torpedoed by a British submarine at Haidar Pasha and the steamer Bidos of the German Levant Line loaded with munitions and provisions has been sunk in the Sea of Marmora.

French Report Paris, Aug. 23.—The French war office this afternoon reported: "In the Artois district, in the sectors of Souchez and Neuville, there was, last night, rifle firing together with fighting with hand grenades, but no infantry engagements. Between the Somme and the Oise and on the plateau between the Oise and the Aisne, the cannonading was fairly spirited on both sides.

"In the Argonne there were short engagements with hand grenades and hand grenades on the western outskirts of Fontaine Madame and in the forest of Belan.

"In the Vosges on the crests of the Ling and Barronkopf, following a spirited engagement with hand grenades, a preparatory fire of particular severity, were successful in gaining possession of some of the enemy's trenches. On the remainder of the front last night passed without incident.

"During the day of Aug. 22, French aviators bombed the railroad stations at Lens, Henin, Liétard and Loos, all in the department of Pas De Calais, as well as the railroad line between Lille and Douai."

Schooner Torpedoed London, Aug. 23.—The British schooner Martha Edwards, 188 tons gross, and owned at Fowry, has been sunk. Her crew was landed.

Amsterdam, via London, Aug. 23.—A message from Hamburg, Germany, states that a company called the "Swedish American line," is being formed to carry on passenger trade between New York and Swedish ports, with German ships now idle in American ports.

It is said that delegates are negotiating with German companies for the purchase of ships. The capital is given at about $2,000,000.

It is announced that the Bergenske Steamship Company also has appropriated $100,000 to purchase German steamships in America.

GIVE THE RUSSIANS NEEDED COMFORT

Events of The Last Few Days Have Been Cheering

MAIN LINE INTACT

Loss of Kovno Did Not Bring Breach in Communications—Armies Continue Well Ordered Retreat, Inflicting Great Losses on Enemy

London, Aug. 23.—Telegraphing to the Times, from Petrograd, the correspondent of that newspaper in the Russian capital says:

From official communications and other reliable sources, much needed comfort has been derived, since Friday. The unexpected brevity of the resistance of the strong fortifications of Kovno has, contrary to the gloomy forebodings, not entailed a rupture of our main line of communications. The surviving garrison was forthwith reinforced by troops who are staunchly holding the line from the right to Janow and on a narrow bank of the Niemen, south of Janow and Albusium.

Behind the screen of General Schmettow's cavalry masses a huge German concentration is believed to be in progress and making preparations for a drive from Dvinsk to Vilna. There is no anxiety here at present that the enemy will be able to endanger the retreat of the armies operating between Grodno and Brest-Litovsk. The rear guards of these armies are holding back the enemy along the line of Ostoweta, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk. We still hold the Bialystok, Brest, Litovsk railway and still have four double track trunk lines clear for the movement of our troops north and east.

The German expectations that Grodno would be our Sedan may be treated with equanimity. It is true there is the onslaught on Brest-Litovsk still to be reckoned with, but its eventual loss probably already has been discounted.

Had the Russian armies operating from Grodno and Brest-Litovsk been in direct contact with the central and northern groups with the fate of Brest-Litovsk might have exceeded a local act against him.

Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, is expected to throw light on this situation, on his report probably will depend the decision of the Washington government as to whether Germany has committed a "deliberately unfriendly act."

London, Aug. 23.—The London newspapers this morning all publish long special despatches from New York and Washington dealing with the American attitude on the sinking of the Arabic.

So far as the British public is concerned, the torpedoing of the Arabic is completely overshadowed by the possible American developments resulting from the disaster.

The newspapers and the public alike regard the attitude of the United States as to whether Germany has committed a "deliberately unfriendly act."

There have been virtually no additional details to add during the last twenty-four hours. The body of a man recovered on a raft has been identified at Queenstown as that of James Walker, a steward. No more bodies have been recovered.

Twenty of the large lifeboats and collapsible boats and rafts belonging to the Arabic have been found sixty miles southwest of Roches Point and brought to Queenstown. One contained a supply of food and water. On it was a lady's watch.

British Statement London, Aug. 23.—The British Admiralty today made the following announcement:—The Arabic was an unarmed passenger ship, outward bound to a neutral port. It was thus impossible for her to have been carrying contraband to this country. She was sunk by a German submarine without warning and she neither attempted to attack the submarine nor to escape from it.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Secretary of State Lansing today called Ambassador Gerard at Berlin asking if the German government had received an official report on the sinking of the Arabic. The ambassador, however, was not instructed to ask for one.

London, Aug. 23.—The Admiralty today authorized a denial of the report that the steamer Dunsterville, torpedoed just before the Arabic was sunk, was an armed patrol. The Admiralty states the Dunsterville was a peaceful and unarmed trader.

London, Aug. 23.—The Admiralty yesterday stated that the German submarine hid behind the Dunsterville to lie in wait for the Arabic.

ST. JOHN BOY AND GIRL SENT HOME, TRYING TO GET TO CAPE BRETON

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 23.—Two St. John children, brother and sister, attracted attention this morning on No. 3 train. They boarded it at St. John. Hoping to evade the conductor, they were trying to reach the grandparents' home at Cape Breton. My name is James Munroe and I am eleven years old," said the boy. My name is Cassie. I'll be ten in September," said the girl.

"I wanted to go down to Bras D'Or and help make hay," said the lad. "You will be sent back home," said the conductor, dispelling Jimmy's visions of haying. It is reported that on Saturday they were taken off a train at Sussex and sent back to St. John.

ONLY ONE POINT NOW IN DOUBT

Will Germany Claim That The Arabic, by Changing Course, Invited Attack?

Washington, Aug. 23.—Final reports concerning the sinking of the Arabic still were awaited by administration officials today, pending the receipt of which the attitude of the United States government remains undetermined.

Already the question seems to have been cleared up that the Arabic was torpedoed without warning. The point now in doubt is as to whether Germany will claim that the change of course of the liner just before she was attacked led the submarine commander to believe that she was accepting a hostile act against him.

Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, is expected to throw light on this situation, on his report probably will depend the decision of the Washington government as to whether Germany has committed a "deliberately unfriendly act."

COTTON CONTRABAND

London, Aug. 23.—The question concerning cotton being declared contraband of war and what the United States will do concerning the sinking of the Arabic, form the main topic of the editorial expression in the London newspapers this morning.

Although the British press was by no means unanimous in demanding that cotton be made contraband, now that the government has taken the plunge, its decision meets virtually with the universal approval of those newspapers which hitherto had refrained from urging the step.

Story of Defeat of German Navy in Gulf of Riga Confirmed

Russians Lost Only One Gunboat and She Went Down Gallantly Fighting—The Enemy Very Hard Hit

London, Aug. 23.—An official Russian communication descriptive of the naval battle in the Gulf of Riga was forwarded from Petrograd today by the correspondent of the Central News. The statement follows:

In the Gulf of Riga, between August 16 and 19, the Russian fleet sank or damaged no fewer than two German cruisers, and eight torpedo boats. At the same time a British submarine sank one of the best German dreadnoughts.

"The Russian gunboat Sivutich was sunk in a brilliant fight in the course of which she sank a German torpedo boat, while she herself was in flames and sinking.

This statement tallies with previous advice, except that the German losses were given as three cruisers and seven torpedo boats.

STORY OF THE BATTLE

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—The recent naval battle in the Gulf of Riga is described as follows, in a statement from navy headquarters:

"The German fleet on August 16 renewed, with large forces, its attacks on our positions at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga.

"Our ships during the 16th and 17th repulsed the attacks of the enemy, whose secret preparations for entering the Gulf had been favored singularly by misty weather.

"Taking advantage of a thick fog, hostile forces of considerable size, entered the gulf on the 16th, and our vessels retired at the same time, continuing to resist the enemy without losing touch.

"On the 16th and 20th, the enemy reconnoitered in different directions at the same time keeping up a fight with our ships, in which their torpedo boat flotilla suffered material losses.

"On our side we lost the gunboat Sivutich, which perished gloriously in an unequal fight with an enemy cruiser which was escorting torpedo craft and came up to a distance of 400 yards from her. The Sivutich, enveloped in flames, continued to reply shot for shot until she sank, having previously sunk enemy torpedo boats. In view of the losses suffered and the fatality of his efforts, the enemy appears to have evacuated the Gulf of Riga on the 21st.

"Between the 16th and 21st, two enemy cruisers, and no fewer than three torpedo boats, were either sunk or placed hors de combat. Simultaneously our gallant allies succeeded in torpedoing in the Baltic one of the most powerful dreadnoughts of the German fleet."

This contains no reference to the loss of the Russian gunboat Korsets, which was said in an official German statement of Saturday to have been sunk as well as the Sivutich.

RUSSIANS LOST ONLY ONE VESSEL

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—The little Russian gunboat Sivutich with a crew of 148 men is said by the Petrograd newspapers to be the only Russian warship sunk in the Gulf of Riga. Commander Tcherassov, who distinguished himself at Port Arthur, was in command of the Sivutich. The number of survivors has not been announced.

Although the president of the Duma announced that the German battle cruiser Moltke had been sunk by a British submarine, there still appears to be some doubt whether it was the Moltke or a vessel of that type which was sent to the bottom.

The only other German warship of the type of the Moltke, according to 1914 naval records, is the battle cruiser Goeben sold to Turkey in 1914 and renamed the Sultan Selim.

HOME AFTER AUTO TRIP TO NEW YORK

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Trifts returned to the city on Saturday after an automobile trip to New York. They left St. John on August 5 and took a little more than a fortnight for the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alexander were their guests on the trip.

Speaking of traffic conditions this morning Mr. Trifts said that there is some pleasure in motoring across the border, which is more than he could say of conditions in New Brunswick. He found the roads on this side of the boundary line in very bad condition while in New England there was vast improvement. He was struck also by the way in which traffic rules were observed and the thoughtfulness of vehicle drivers. Whenever a vehicle intended to make a change in the direction in which they were going the driver would always signal the direction with his hands in order that those behind might be prepared for the change and avoid collisions.

GERMANY'S FUNDS GETTING LOW

Amsterdam Aug. 23.—The Dutch newspaper Telegraaf prints the following:

"At a secret conference of German cabinet members, politicians and influential writers, called by Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg in Berlin before the reassembling of the Reichstag, Kaz Heiferich, secretary of the treasury, explained that the new German loan would exhaust the empire's financial resources and that the increase in exchequer bonds would cause national bankruptcy. Therefore he urged that it was necessary to prepare for an honorable peace."

"Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg declared the difficulties of the empire were increasing and advised his hearers to ally the bellicose inclinations of the 'war party,' and expansionists.

"Dr. Bernhard Dernburg's failure of his mission in the United States made a strong impression upon the conference."

GERMANY HAS BEEN POURING MEN INTO EAST

Thirty-five or 40 Percent of Whole Force and 70 Percent of Austrians Ranged Against Russians

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—"The German forces on the Russian front have been continually on the increase up to a few days ago and it is known that the number of German army corps here now is at least 85 or 40 per cent. of their entire forces while Austria-Hungary has more than seventy per cent. of her available men facing the Russians," says a semi-official statement given out here last night. The announcement continues:

"The total of the enemy's infantry fighting the Russians constitutes more than half of all their mobilized forces. This compares with about 88 per cent in the early stages of the war. The number of the German infantry on the Russian front, has increased 400 per cent and the German cavalry has increased 900 per cent. These figures show conclusively the immense forces with which Russia has had to contend for the last four months."

London, Aug. 23.—The military correspondent of the Times, in discussing the situation in the eastern theatre of the war, says it seems probable that Germany has a million and a half men on the Russian fronts, not counting the forces remaining in Galicia or held in general reserve. He said that the direction of the whole mighty movement in this zone is in the hands of General Von Falkenhayn, chief of staff of the German army.

OLIVE-CUNNINGHAM

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cunningham, 34 Autumn street, on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock, their daughter, Greta May, was united in marriage to Frederick William Olive of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. A. Anderson of St. John Presbyterian church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily gowned in white with veil and carried a bouquet and carried a shower bouquet of bridal flowers and swansons. The wedding march was played by Mrs. T. Beauchamp Perry. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Olive left on the Calvin Austin for a short trip to Boston and vicinity. On their return they will reside at 34 Autumn street. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among which was a substantial remembrance from J. A. Davidson, with whom she has been employed. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a pearl ring.

ALLIES' LEADER AT DARDANELLES Pen Sketch of General Sir Ian Hamilton MOST BRILLIANT CAREER First Smelled Powder in Aighan War—Fighting Almost Always Since—Poet as Well as Soldier

Slowly but surely the armies under Sir Ian Hamilton are making progress along the Gallipoli Peninsula. In no other theatre of war are any Allied troops making such satisfactory progress. The Dardanelles alone are the aggressors, as they have been from the first. They have had no repulse, though they found that the task before them was a more difficult one than any one had supposed. Indeed, some authorities in whose judgment considerable confidence was placed were of opinion that a few more or less successful British battleships with a complement of mine sweepers and a super-Dreadnought or two could force the passage of the Dardanelles and the capture of the Turk. Now it is realized that an army of perhaps a million men, assisted by a powerful fleet, is required for the task. The necessary reinforcements are arriving and they are slowly forcing the Turks back over the hardest fighting line in Europe. The British are slowly forcing the Turks back over the hardest fighting line in Europe. The British are slowly forcing the Turks back over the hardest fighting line in Europe.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR AT EAST ST. JOHN

Patriotic Fund Will Benefit by Large Attendance and Generous Patronage—New Street Car Line Helped

The patriotic fair held at Courtney Bay Heights, East St. John, on Saturday afternoon and evening proved a great success and the proceeds, which will be devoted to patriotic purposes, were in excess of the expectations of those in charge. The energetic committee had made the most thorough preparations and everything possible had been provided for the entertainment of visitors. The fair received generous support from the residents of East St. John and the neighboring districts.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter and Mayor Haple were heard in addresses at the opening of the fair. Mr. Baxter spoke of the developments which are taking place at East St. John, and with the opening of the street car line, he expected to see even more rapid growth. Speaking of the construction of the new harbor facilities at East St. John, Mayor Haple said that East St. John would some day rival the older part of the city and said that he looked forward to the time when they will amalgamate.

Five o'clock tea was served, the ice-cream, candy and fruit booths all did a brisk trade, and a merry with the attractions afforded much amusement. The Sons of Egin band had volunteered their services and played during the afternoon and evening. A dancing platform, which had been erected here, was successfully carried out. The committee in charge will meet on Tuesday evening to receive reports.

RENFORTH PATRIOTIC EVENT MARKED SUCCESS

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the patriotic garden party held on Saturday afternoon at Renforth on the beautiful grounds of J. W. Hornbrook of that place. The grounds were suitably decorated with the colors of the allies, and a profusion of electric lights and lanterns. Hundreds attended from the city, and the places between the city and Renforth. The success of the affair was largely due to the efforts of the ladies of Renforth and Riverside. A good sum was realized, and will go to the funds for soldiers' comforts. The ladies' committee desire to extend their thanks to those who so kindly donated articles for sale, and also to those who lent assistance, not forgetting the public for their liberal patronage. Among the lucky tickets, No. 96 won a large basket of candy, and No. 20 won a handsome pennant. The holders of these numbers will please telephone Renforth 31, ring 41.

Miss Ethel Gertrude Stephens and Miss W. Savidant were united in marriage on August 18 at the home of the bride's mother in Notre Dame de Grace. Rev. I. A. Montgomery officiated.

DEAD THEORY AND THE LIVING FACT

United States Faces Problem of Possible War—Outlook Urges Immediate Preparation For May Come

The Outlook New York—When the war broke out a year ago, there were two distinct reactions in American public opinion. One group of citizens, viewing the vast armies and the vaster conflict of principles across the seas, saw clearly for the first time in our own almost defenceless coasts and our slow-growing army, that the United States could be menaced only by a refusal to disarm. The second group, lighting their thoughts at the half-freedom of Europe, found in the titanic struggle nothing but an exploding of the theory that any projection against war can be found in arms, and that the high mission of the United States should be to think Europe mad, believed that the sanity of the United States could be demonstrated only by a refusal to disarm or sanction an increase in our means of military protection. According to their view, the high mission of America to carry to the Europe the calm of the quiet spirit, a mission the success of which would be fatally endangered if in any way we showed ourselves willing or ready to resist such an invasion as was then sweeping over war-stricken Belgium. Such a conception of the duty of the United States seemed based chiefly upon the thought that we were a people apart from the suffering nations of Europe. It was based, unconsciously perhaps, upon the idea that the violation of rights in Belgium had little or nothing to do with the maintenance of the rights of the United States. Down the pathway of the nations we were to pass secure from molestation because we had no means to molest; sanctified in our freedom because we had not protested against the violation of the freedom of our neighbors. On a more practical basis than this, still others lifted voices against our adequate military preparation because they felt that the Europe whose life-blood had been poured out on the battlefields of Poland and France could never within our generation lift a finger to strike at us across the sea. To all those who pointed out to them the condition of our army and our navy they answered, "You ask us to prepare; we ask you, against whom?"

To these questions and doubts the torpedo that exploded in the side of the "Lustonia" made instant answer. First of all and most important, perhaps, it dramatically proved to the people of the United States that the rights of nations could not be safely sorted into geographical cubby-holes, leaving one country secure at the expense of the destruction of another. It brought home to the United States the unmistakable truth that we are one in a community of nations, with common rights and common interests. It taught us that the moral isolation upon which so many based a belief in our mission to deliver a bloodless salvation to Europe was founded not upon a condition but a theory. It showed us that we could not philanthropically secure the rights of others without first securing the rights which were our own. It showed us that if we were to secure our own rights without the strength to make our protests effective, not for aggression are we finding it necessary to prepare, but for the performance of the elemental duty of government, the maintenance of public safety.

THE WAR.

The war took on a decidedly better complexion last night and this morning. It is not alone that the Germans have encountered a considerable naval reverse in the Riga Gulf, but that from other quarters news of importance as indicating future developments has been received.

With Italy committed to participation on a large scale in the campaign of the Dardanelles, the prospect of early success for the Allies in that enterprise becomes very marked. In addition to that, events in the Balkans, now clearly foreshadowed, justify the belief that within a very short time the principal Balkan nations will throw their weight into the Allied scale.

These things, if they come, will give the war an entirely new aspect. It must be obvious that the conflict would be immensely shortened if the Dardanelles were forced, or if the Balkan nations drew the sword for the Allies, for either of these events, not to say both, would break the back of Turkey in short order, and soon after it the short of Austria as well.

Further, it is commonly understood now that the autumn offensive of the Allies in France and Belgium is about to begin. When it does begin the Germans will probably get a new idea as to what war is.

"ONE AND INDIVISIBLE" April Sydenham, who is one of the foremost military critics of our day, writing to the London Times and reviewing the events of the first year of war, repeats Mr. Balfour's recent words, that "we are not a military nation, but thank God, we are a nation that can fight." To which Lord Sydenham adds: "And our long annals contain no more brilliant feats of arms, no nobler proofs of endurance, than will be found in the pages, written in letters of fire, since last August."

Lord Sydenham goes on to speak of the revolution in public feeling and in the spirituality of the nation since the beginning of the conflict. His words should be given a thoughtful reading everywhere in the Empire. He says: "For the first time, we have fought as an Empire one and indivisible against a tremendous shared danger, and our brothers from across the seas have shown that they could rival the finest achievements of our forefathers. That has meant much in the past year and may mean more in the future, since we now realize, as never before, our need of each other, and we have learned lessons of common sacrifice for a common cause. To us all has come the revelation of the long and meticulously complete preparations for bringing Europe under the iron heel of a great people, mastered by the lust of power and demoralized by material success. The scales have fallen from our eyes, and we may see, as in a true vision, that prosperity, ease and life itself are small things compared with honor, the championship of right, and fidelity to Allies whose sacrifices—greater than our own—have evoked national spirit in its highest form. We begin to understand that only by supreme fortitude, entailing the negation of self and the consecration of all individual effort to the service of the Alliance, can victory be won."

In so far as the British people have—however slowly—mastered such lessons as these, the cleansing fires have done their work, and there is a spiritual gain to which we must cling in the times of difficulty and of stress which are coming. Even on the lower plane of material interest, we have reason to be devoutly thankful for the decision taken a year ago. We can now see plainly what would have befallen us if, false to our best traditions, we had abandoned Europe to the fury of Prussian 'will to power.' Then there might have been no place for repentance, and we should have been quickly forced into a single-handed contest in disadvantageous conditions, with the scorn of other nations as the deserved penalty of our betrayal of the cause of human freedom."

As the war proceeds, Canada will begin to feel, much more than it yet has felt, the spiritual gain which Lord Sydenham notes in the United Kingdom. Already a great number of young Canadians have proved that they have "prosperity, ease and life itself, are small things compared with honor." There are still here at home among us hundreds of thousands more who must soon feel impelled to join their comrades overseas. When these hundreds of thousands shall be found clamoring for a chance to cross the seas on their way to the front, we shall know that the "cleansing fires" of the conflict have been felt almost as generally in this country as in the British Isles.

Captain Ralph F. Markham has made the supreme sacrifice for right. He has given his life on the field of battle. A gallant soldier of a soldier's family, this young St. John man had made a notable record in the Boer war and he did not hesitate to offer himself when the greater Empire crisis came. His noble example should cause thousands of other New Brunswickers to meet the duty of the hour like men.

The Germans seem to have overstepped the bounds again in attacking British submarine E-18, grounded on the island of Saltholm. This is Danish territory and Germany has violated the neutrality of another nation.

Cotton is now contraband of war. Great Britain has made it so, and France is doing likewise. Germany has been getting American cotton through neutral countries, there is no doubt of that. The business will now be a more risky one.

Another channel through which Canadians can help the gallant soldiers who have gone to the war from the Dominion has been opened. The people of this country are to be asked by the government to contribute to a Disablement Fund which will augment pensions and otherwise help our soldiers who have suffered injuries in fighting the Empire's battles. Every new appeal has heretofore been generously answered and no doubt this one also will find hearty response.

It has been reported several times that Germany has sought to bring about a separate peace with one or other of the Allies. Now comes a specific statement from the Russian foreign minister to the effect that the Kaiser has made two attempts—one with Russia and one with France—to break the Entente. Such efforts are idle. When German militarism is crushed, will be the time for peace talk. The Allies have said it, and they will hold together until Germany is on her knees.

If the directors of the street railway are in favor of running their cars across the new bridge at the earliest possible moment, why do they not push along the preliminary work? The local government, the street railway, the common council, and the board of trade cannot afford to permit any delay in the operation of an uninterrupted car service between the city and Lancaster. Somebody is going to be held responsible for any delay that does occur—and the responsibility is going to be highly unpleasant.

The following is from Life, New York: "If we (Americans) are to think as neutrals, mindful only of our own immediate interests (which is not at all the way most of us are thinking), we will do well to think a little of the British sea power which Germany's submarine activities are directed to destroy. But do we want it destroyed? Theoretically it is no more right that Britannia should rule the waves than that Germania should be the world bully ashore, but practically Britannia and her blessed navy are at this moment the mainstay of the freedom of the nations, and but for them Germany would not be at these pains to write notes to us, but would do as she liked with no more concern for our views than she had for Belgium's. For a generation Britannia has been the great marine policeman. As trading neutrals we don't want her efficiency in that employment to be too much impeded until there is in sight a competent substitute to do for us and others what she has been doing."

Commission of Inquiry in Saskatchewan Finds That Contracts for Buying Machinery Need Watching

Regina, Aug. 22.—The commission of inquiry into agricultural implement sales in its report to the government finds that there is not much dissatisfaction with existing conditions as regards the sale of horse-drawn implements, and with respect to power outfits makes a number of very important recommendations including the following:

First.—That the contract contain such detailed warranties as to the capabilities of the machine as will remove the main opportunity for misrepresentation which now exists, and further that the ordinary rules of law governing the liability of principals for their agents be made to apply to sales of farm machinery.

Judge McDonald decided she must be considered as working twelve hours and imposed a $50 fine on Mr. Wilson, who promptly appealed.

The Eastern Front Situation

This map illustrates the position in which the Russian forces are placed by the German capture of the fortress of Kovno. While the line that points southward is reported to be retreating under terrific attack. The heavy black line indicates the present battlefront and the shaded months through Vilna and Pinsk are the probable Russian second defense line. The danger is indicated by the direction of the attacks from Kovno and Pinsk. The Russian line is reported to be in a state of retreat and out of the safe retreat of the Russian army. The full strength, possibly with the idea that the Russians will endeavor to hold this position and be caught in a trap.

for each child, but nothing special for the wife.

British private for himself, wife and three children would therefore receive monthly $84.28, the Canadian scale $86 a month.

As regards widows' pensions, British rates vary with the age of the widow as follows:

Widow of a private under 40 years of age, 10 shillings weekly; widow of a private from 40 to 45 years of age, 12 shillings and 6 pence; a widow of a private over 45 years of age, 25 shillings weekly. In addition 4 shillings a week for the first child, 8 shillings and 6 pence for the second and 4 shillings for any additional children.

A private's widow aged 45, with three children, would therefore receive monthly by $26.50, and if younger, considerably less. Canadian scale shows $44 a year or $37 a month for the same.

DUSKY SOLDIER SMOKERS

Like most soldiers, the native troops of India who are fighting with the Allies in France, are inveterate smokers. They do not, however, share Tommy's love of pipe or cigarette, for they have peculiar means of their own of enjoying tobacco. One of their methods is to twist an oak leaf into a conical shape, fill it with tobacco, and draw the smoke through the leaf. Another trick is to bore a horizontal hole under the surface of a bank, place the tobacco at an extreme end, and with their hands clasped over the other inhale the smoke between their thumbs. This is probably the most primitive way of smoking known.

MISCHIEF MAKER.

New Strong and Robust.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. An Eastern man says: "When our baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment. "One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in half a cup of warm water for 5 or 6 minutes. Then poured out the liquid and to it added a like amount of rich milk and a little sugar. This baby ate ravenously. "It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. Today the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen months old baby is expected to be. "Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household. "Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains it is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups. "There's a Reason."

CAPT. R. MARKHAM KILLED IN ACTION

Former St. John Man With Vancouver Battalion — Dr. Duval's Condition Serious — Former Governor of Ontario Loses His Son

The name of Captain Ralph Farrar Markham, 16th Battalion, appeared in the casualty list last night among those killed in action. The news will be received in St. John with deep regret. Captain Markham was a native of St. John and resided here until about ten years ago when he removed to the west. He was formerly advertising manager of the St. John Sun and afterwards was associated with the Winnipeg Free Press. He is later with the Vancouver Province. He is survived by his father, Colonel Alfred Markham, one brother, Major A. J. Markham of the 6th C. M. R. and two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Second of this city and Mrs. Footes of Vancouver. He was a veteran of the South African war. While in St. John he was prominent in many branches of athletics. It is reported that Dr. Duval of West St. John who was wounded in France in a critical condition, is recovering.

RECENT DEATHS

The death occurred at the General Public Hospital yesterday morning of Clifford Stevens, the sixteen year old son of Mrs. William Stevens, Main street, Fairville. He had only been admitted to the hospital since Wednesday, suffering from spinal meningitis. The funeral has been arranged for tomorrow at Musquash when the service is to begin at one o'clock.

James A. Paul died at Hampton Station on Sunday morning. He was a native of this city but moved to Hampton about ten years ago. He is survived by his wife and two brothers, Enoch W. Paul and John Paul, both of Hampton. For many years he has been a member of the customs house staff here.

HEAVY LOSSES FOR GERMAN FLEET

Dreadnought Sunk by British Submarine—Russians Account For Other Craft—Italy Declares War on Turkey

The Germans lost the Dreadnought Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats in a naval battle in the Gulf of Riga and were forced to withdraw from Riga bay. The sinking of the dreadnought is credited to a British submarine while the other losses were due to the gallant fighting of the Russian fleet. Italy declared war on Turkey on Saturday giving as her reason the Turkish support of the revolt in Libya and the prevention of the departure of Italian residents from Syria.

INLAND REVENUE RECEIPTS

Ottawa, Aug. 22—The war tax requiring stamps on patent medicines decreased consumption almost counterbalanced the extra revenue expected from increased excise duties.

The total receipts of the inland revenue department for the month were $1,861,765, an increase of $115,925 over July of last year.

The extra excise revenue for war purposes on spirits and tobacco amounted to only about $29,000, indicating that decreased consumption almost counterbalanced the extra revenue expected from increased excise duties.

As Mr. Jones has no record of her birth, he would be grateful to any person who could give him any information.

ONCE BURIED UNDER THOUSAND FEET OF ICE

Dr. Mathew's Talk at Natural History Outing—A Tribute to Dr. G. U. Hay

Those who attended a field meeting of the Natural History Society at R. A. Sinclair's summer residence, Ingleisle, on Saturday, enjoyed one of the most pleasant outings the society has ever had. The success of the meeting was contributed to in no small degree by the presence of Mr. Vroom of St. Stephen, who gave a very interesting talk about trees in general with special reference to the several varieties of willow fringing the river bank. Mr. Vroom, in the course of his talk, made a very feeling and appreciative reference to the work of the late Dr. G. U. Hay, who was a close friend and companion of Mr. Vroom in pursuit of their favorite study of the botany and the flora of the province. Dr. Hay, Mr. Vroom said, was among the first advocates of nature study in the public schools, and to his influence was largely due its subsequent adoption.

Later in the day a most interesting and instructive talk upon the surface geology of the region was given by Dr. Mathew, who explained to his hearers the evidences by which geologists were led to conclude that this part of the country was at one time buried beneath a covering of ice one thousand feet thick and of almost continent-wide extent. Further, by evidence of sea beaches in the terraced deposits of gravel and sand at different levels, they were able to see how the land had recently risen at intervals, after its depression under that load of ice.

The ideal location of the grounds, the charming scenery of the St. John River, as viewed from that point of vantage, the hospitality of the host and hostess, and the intellectual refreshment, all tended to enhance the enjoyment of the day and led every member present to conclude that no less a meeting was ever held.

V. C. WON BY DUPLISEA?

Fairville Rumor of Reward For One of Her Soldiers Not Confirmed

A report current in Fairville last evening was that Harold Duplisea of the first contingent and later with the Victoria Cross for distinguished services at the front while defending a house against a superior number of Germans. It is learned that no such report has been received at the home of the young soldier, and therefore the reports must be premature, though it would not surprise his friends if Duplisea did acquire himself with unusual gallantry, and he has proved himself of excellent military material thus far. He is based on the firing line after being wounded three times.

Another Brother, Harold, a member of the 20th battalion, now in England, has joined the bomb throwers, better known as the "suicide club," because of the hazardous nature of their operations.

From Gordon Kennedy.

In a letter to a friend, Private Gordon G. Kennedy, of the 20th, at Sandling Camp, England, tells of the battalion being kept actively at work preparing for the day when they shall be called to the front. They have been accorded a rousing reception and they have won the commendation of General Steele.

The battalion is proud to have as its adjutant, Col. J. L. McAvity, Private Kennedy says the boys want Canadian tobacco as they cannot get the same enjoyment out of the English article. In speaking of their treatment in England, he says future recruits from St. John are sure of a good reception.

WIN REWARD OF MOTOR TRIP ON RIVER AND ENJOY IT

A group of smiling young faces might have been noticed at the floats of the St. John Power Boat Club Sunday at 4 p.m. Miss Elsie Logan, Miss Elsie McCaw, Miss Pearl Nesbitt, Miss Evelyn Crawford, Miss Hazel Kelly, Miss Margaret O'Keefe, Miss M. Cullinan and Miss Josephine Corvee had just returned after a two days' trip up the St. John River in the motor boat Ramona. The trip was given them by S. D. Purdy, the superintendent of T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., of Fairville, brush and broom manufacturers, as a reward for being the most punctual in attendance, correct in deportment and orderly in surroundings of their many female employees during the last six months.

With Miss C. Heffernan, Miss Florence Sweet and the superintendent's daughter, Miss Marjorie, as guests, and with Ernest Luck and Harvey Purdy as the superintendent's navigating assistants, the party left the St. John Power Boat Club on Saturday at 10 a.m., and after a short stop at Public Landing and Brown's Flat, had an old-fashioned picnic dinner at White's Landing. After a sight-seeing cruise around, a return was made to the Cedars, where dinner was served for the party, after which a leisurely return was made to St. John.

A most delightful one hundred mile trip, free from any semblance of accidents or annoyance was had and was fully appreciated by the entire party. It is the intention of T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., to make this an annual affair, given as a reward for punctuality, diligence and deportment, and next year's outing is to be planned on a more elaborate and comprehensive scale, and will include a more varied classification of workers.

Scotch, Irish and Canadian Knitting Yarns

We have the make that knits up into such socks that would be comfort for wearers' feet. Scotch Bee Hive yarns, and Mahony's Shamrock yarns, are the best for wear, being pure washed wool free from oil, you get a greater length of yarn, which at first thought looks like higher price than heavy yarn, but the fact is that the pure Shamrock and Bee Hive yarn run much longer lengths to the skein; so much further knitting.
