

TOOK PART IN ORANGE PARADE ALTHOUGH 95

William H. Best of River Glade Showed the Salisbury Brethren How to March—Annual School Meeting.

Salisbury, N. B., July 14.—The Methodist church at this village was packed Sunday evening, the occasion being the annual sermon to the Salisbury Orange-men. Quite a number of visiting brethren were present from the Hallowell Lodge. A notable feature of the gathering was the presence of William H. Best, of River Glade, who is 95 years old and probably one of the oldest Orangemen in the province. Mr. Best carries his years lightly and stepped along in the parade from the hall to the church as sprightly as any of the young men.

The sermon, which was considered a very able and appropriate one, was delivered by Rev. J. Chapman. A fine programme of music was rendered by the joint choirs of the village churches. Mrs. James E. O'Neill of Lewis Mountain, was in Salisbury on Saturday en route to Hillsboro to visit friends. Her people received a message from Hillsboro today stating that she was stricken on Sunday morning and died. Members of her family went through to Hillsboro today.

The annual school meeting for this district was held this morning and was very well attended. Rev. F. G. Francis occupied the chair and George W. Gaynor acted as secretary. The retiring trustee, Capt. J. W. Carter, was re-elected. George W. Gaynor, who for many years has been secretary-treasurer, continues in charge of that office. J. M. Crandall was re-elected auditor. The trustees are John Kennedy, Victor E. Gowan and John W. Carter.

HOPEWELL HILL NOTES

Hopewell Hill, July 18.—The resident pastors of the Baptist and Methodist churches had a conference here today, being taken by visitors. In the Methodist church in the morning Rev. M. S. Goodwin, the new pastor of the Central Methodist church, occupied the pulpit, delivering an able and eloquent discourse. In the Baptist church this afternoon Mr. Hopkins, who is in charge of the Coverdale and Sheeldale churches, preached an interesting and forcible sermon.

There seems to be quite a strong feeling in the Mountville district, against the action of the railway in discontinuing the Mountville crossing as a stopping place. Heretofore trains have been stopping here for the convenience of passengers and freight, and it is felt there will be considerable inconvenience by the change.

Mrs. Amelia Underhill, of Onset (Mass.), is visiting her niece, Miss Helena Nichol, and will spend the summer and possibly the winter here.

Miss M. J. Smith and child, of St. John, are visiting the former's home at this place.

Mayor Gross and family, of Moncton, are in the village today, coming down from Moncton in Mr. Gross' car.

John D. Palmer, of Fredericton, spent Sunday with friends in town.

The marriage took place recently at Lawrence (Mass.) of Mrs. Amelia, daughter of John A. Smith, formerly of this town, and Albert B. Carr, of Lynn (Mass.). Mr. and Mrs. Carr will reside in Beverly (Mass.).

J. D. Irving, of Buctouche, has sold twenty-three of his Holstein cattle to a western syndicate who will probably exhibit the mat different fairs held in the west this fall. It is understood Mr. Irving received a satisfactory price for the cattle.

Misses Delphine and Margaret Maillet, of Buctouche, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Phileas Cormier.

W. D. Robichaud, who has been very ill at his home in Buctouche with heart trouble, is recovering.

McINNIS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Swift Justice for P. E. Island Man

Prisoner Testified and Denied Much of Crown's Evidence

Admitted He Pulled Gallian From His Bed, Also That He Had Been Drinking and Didn't Remember Much of What Happened—Old Man Had a Weak Heart Say Doctors—Mercy Recommended in Verdict.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 17.—James A. McInnis was found guilty of manslaughter here today and the jury strongly recommended him to the mercy of the court.

At the resumption of the trial this morning evidence was given by Drs. W. J. McMillan and Augustus MacDonald, who performed the autopsy on the body of Gallian J. McInnis. They testified there were no marks or bruises on the body but that his heart was in very bad shape, the arteries which supply the blood to the heart muscle being almost ossified. The heart was just able to do its everyday work with a narrow margin. There was also evidence of chronic stomach trouble. They believed death was due to heart failure, the accelerating factor being over-excitation or extreme emotion. The application of violence to a person so afflicted might be very serious.

Both doctors agreed that the sitting of the prisoner on the old man's breast, as described by previous witnesses, would be a serious matter.

The only witness for the defence was the prisoner himself, who told the story of driving from Souris to Lakeville with a fisherman named MacDonald, who boarded at the McInnis home. They were drinking before they left and brought five bottles of Jamaica rum for the other fishermen.

The prisoner said he walked into Gillian McInnis' bedroom in order to chat with the old man and give him a drink. He refused and he dragged him out on the floor. He denied the story of the McInnis' woman that he sat on the old man and also dragged him out of bed. He charged Gallian with spreading false reports about him and the deceased became very angry calling the prisoner's name over and over again. At this the prisoner struck the old man several times.

On cross-examination, he declared that he did not remember going to a neighbor's house after leaving Gallian's and then declaring that he was glad the old man was read, that he had sent him "straight to hell with a priest," or that he brandished a knife at the time demonstrating how he intended to kill the other members of the McInnis family who went back for the parcels he had left. Evidence to this effect was given yesterday by McInnis and Lauchlan MacDonald and wife.

The prisoner said that he was too drunk to remember anything.

Closing Appeals.

J. J. Johnson, K. C., in addressing the jury on behalf of the prisoner, strongly emphasized the doctors' evidence that there were no marks of violence, and that the deceased had a weak heart. He contended that if Gallian died from passion on excitement, James A. was not criminally responsible. He dwelt on the absence of motive and previous friendly relations between the men. He declared that evidence of the McInnis woman was inconsistent and inspired by animosity. The prisoner's actions at the neighbor's home after the tragedy were due to his being crazed with liquor.

Attorney General Matheson, for the prosecution, showed that it was necessary to establish a motive in manslaughter, that Gallian's death was due to brutal treatment by James A., that the doctors' evidence showed the deceased had a weak heart, and that James A. forced a quarrel upon him, tortured him for half an hour until the rough usage had a fatal effect on the weakened heart.

He laid considerable stress on the language used by the prisoner after the killing of the man, and on the fact that he threatened to kill a neighbor if he told on him. These neighbors declared that he did not seem them to be the worse of liquor.

Judge Fitzgerald, in a brief and concise summing up, pointed out that the question for the jury to consider was "was the act of the prisoner an actual acceleration of the death of the deceased?" The jury after forty-five minutes deliberation brought in verdict of guilty, with strong recommendation to mercy.

MELLEN RESIGNS PRESIDENCY OF NEW HAVEN ROAD

To Take Effect Not Later Than October 1

Action Follows Meeting of Board of Directors—The Retiring Head Blamed for Disastrous Result of His Gobbling Policy

(Special to The Telegraph.)

New York, July 17.—Charles S. Mellen today tendered his resignation as president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company and all its allied or subsidiary lines, including the various railways, trolley roads and water lines which had become part of the New Haven system under his management.

Announcement of Mr. Mellen's resignation, which is to take effect "not later than" October 1, was made at a meeting of the board of directors, most of whom, including William Rockefeller and J. P. Morgan, were present.

The brief announcement of Mr. Mellen's proposed retirement, couched in the most vague terms, was the only official statement issued. None of the directors would supplement it by so much as a word, and Mr. Mellen denied himself to all interviews.

Charles Mellen, whose recent management of the New Haven road, has given rise to considerable criticism, became president of that system in October 10, 1908, resigning the presidency of the Northern Pacific Railroad, a Hill road, at the request of the late J. P. Morgan, who regarded Mr. Mellen as the man best fitted to reorganize the more or less chaotic transportation lines of the New England states.

Mr. Mellen's immediate predecessor, John M. Hall, had managed the road with all the conservatism which marked the administration of corporate affairs, especially in New England, during the previous decade.

Mr. Mellen's advent was the signal, however, for a vast scheme of consolidation, embracing not only the Boston & Maine and Maine Central Railroads, but all the leading steamship lines between this point and Boston and intermediate points, as well as numerous lines in Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

The capitalization of the New Haven system increased enormously under the continuous outlays accruing from the acquisitions which later included the New York, Westchester & Boston Railroads. Other acquisitions which helped to increase the New Haven's burden were the New York, Ontario & Western, and the Rutland Railroads.

The steady decline of New Haven shares in the local and Boston stock markets had been a matter of comment for several years. New Haven shares, which for many years sold over $200, and for a long period paid dividends at the rate of eight per cent, recently sold under par in anticipation of a cut in the dividend, which was reduced to six per cent.

Alleged mismanagement of the New Haven road and several serious wrecks costing many lives finally resulted in definite action, and a committee of New England stockholders, led by George Von L. Meyer, former secretary of the road, was organized to make a searching investigation of the road's affairs. That committee's experts are now at work on the company's books, but the results of their labor may not be known for several months.

Mr. Mellen is included in the indictment in the federal courts for alleged violation of anti-trust laws, and an indictment for manslaughter, resulting from the Westport (Conn.) wreck of last year is also hanging over him.

It is known that an influential factor in the board of directors was the company's water lines and many, if not all, of the trolley roads, so far as it has been reasonably accomplished, also it is believed that the New Haven will relinquish control of the Boston & Maine road.

According to an exhaustive examination made by the New Haven system, its assets are estimated at close to five hundred million dollars, against liabilities of three hundred and ninety-four million, an excess of assets over liabilities of more than one hundred million dollars.

Mr. Mellen's retirement will open the way to much conjecture regarding his successor. The name first frequently mentioned in this connection is that of Howard Elliott, head of the Northern Pacific road, from which Mr. Mellen resigned to accept the management of the New Haven.

WINSTON CHURCHILL SEES NO "EMERGENCY"

First Lord Says No Ships Are Contemplated to Replace Borden's Dreadnoughts

Is Satisfied Canada Will Share in Empire Defence, No Matter What the Form May Be—Declares There is Need of Britain Spending $42,500,000 Additional Ships in View of the Present Outlook in Europe—Oil to Replace Coal as Fuel in Many Cases.

(Through Reuter's Ottawa Agency.) London, July 17.—Right Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in making his statement in the house of commons this afternoon on the shipbuilding estimates, dealt at the outset with the question of the use of oil as fuel in the navy.

He said that there were now built and building more than 100 destroyers, solely dependent upon oil for fuel. One of his earliest inquiries to the admiralty was "directed to the subject of oil supply, and it has been found that no difficulty was experienced in buying oil. The great advantage which liquid fuel possessed in solving the problem of our naval designs was that it made it possible to obtain vessels of a very high speed as compared with their dimensions. All these advantages were enjoyed equally by other nations using liquid fuel, but there would be one special advantage possessed by the strongest fleet, namely, that it would not be obliged to leave the high seas to replenish its fuel supplies.

Mr. Churchill, continuing, emphasized the importance of liquid fuel. In regard to the latest battleships and fast light cruisers, the admiralty had used oil over the whole of new construction in the programme of 1912-13. These conditions were repeated this year, but five of the battleships of this programme were to be coal-burners, with oil as an auxiliary. Oil was only required when exceptional speed was needed. Coal was thus possible for line of battle ships, but was not convenient in view of the high price of oil.

Mr. Churchill said that earlier in the season he had dealt fully with Anglo-German relations, and had no reason to modify in any respect what he had then said. He must, however, refer to the question of overseas responsibility. Apart from the question of Germany in Europe, the programme of 1912-13 was under discussion in London in connection with the more or less chaotic transportation lines of the New England states.

Mr. Churchill continued: "There is a very important question in connection with the general defence of the empire. Since I addressed the house last a serious event has occurred in the Canadian navy. The rejection of the Canadian naval bill has for the time, at least, deprived us of aid upon which we had been depending, and which we knew no fact making it necessary to alter the British naval programme. He did not think anything would occur in the Mediterranean which would be serious in view of the advance of the regular programme.

POWERS ANXIOUS ABOUT INTERESTS IN MEXICO

Britain and France Want United States to State Policy

Time for Intervention by Some One to Protect Foreigners' Lives and Property—Washington Waking Up Under the Prodding.

(Canadian Press.) Washington, July 17.—Just what foreign powers had inquired for a definition of the United States government's attitude in the present Mexican situation was still unknown officially today, though reports in official circles mentioned Great Britain and France. The denial from Berlin that Germany had made representations was generally accepted as removing that country from the list, with the report that the situation had been discussed by representatives of the powers in Paris yesterday, seemed to strengthen the belief that France was interested. It was pointed out that both the British and French have heavy interests in Mexico.

While American losses have been heavy through destruction of railroad property, French losses, it is said, have been largely so-called speculative losses, that is, losses of what would have been profits had not a series of revolutions depressed business.

Both the White House and the State department continued to observe strict official silence on the situation, the president and Secretary Bryan evidently awaiting first hand reports from Ambassador Wilson, who is expected here about July 28.

Mexico Press Muzzled. Mexico City, July 17.—All the newspapers here, have been cautioned by the Mexican government to refrain from treating the visit of Ambassador Wilson to Washington carefully and to conservatively confine themselves to local stories and speculation that has gone probably means early recognition of the Huerta administration by the United States. They profess to believe that a success in attacking Ambassador Wilson and characterizing him as an enemy of the Mexican government, it ridicules the idea of war, saying that Mexicans no longer are afraid. The newspapers see in the attitude of Europe only an effort to force the United States to recognize the Mexican government.

TORONTO BANK TELLER SHOT IN MISTAKE FOR A BURGLAR

Clerk, Sleeping in Dominion Branch of Seaford, Fired Bullet Through Man's Lungs as He Came from Cellar in the Night.

London, Ont., July 17.—Arthur B. Mertens, of Toronto, teller at the Dominion Bank at Seaford, was mistaken for a burglar by his friend last evening and shot through the lungs. He is not likely to recover.

A motor outside the bank had gone wrong and one of the staff occupying rooms in the bank building mistook the noise for some one trying to get into the bank and taking the revolver, shot Mertens as he was coming into the building without turning on the lights.

James Gilles, aged 18, the bank clerk who apparently did the shooting, is in a highly nervous condition and hardly able to tell a connected story. It appears that Mertens saw the cellar door open and went into the basement to investigate. When coming out the noise he made aroused Gilles, sleeping above the bank, and he went down with his revolver.

Mertens is resting easily today, but is as yet not out of danger.

CHICKEN BROKE UP HUNGER STRIKE IN JERSEY JAIL

Elizabeth, N. J., July 17.—The manner in which Warden Charles W. Dodd, of the county jail, broke up a hunger strike today may set a useful example, he thinks, to the keepers of English prisons who become custodians of suffragettes by force to gain their liberty by refusing to eat.

William Turner, a negro prisoner incarcerated last Sunday, sought to gain his liberty in a similar manner. This morning the negro had been forty-eight hours without food when Warden Dodd appeared at the door of his cell with a steaming plate of fried chicken and a large section of fried watermelon. Turner snatched his hunger strike came to an abrupt end.

Miss Grace Davis Perished in Meddyemps Lake Yesterday.

(Special to The Telegraph.) St. Stephen, July 17.—A sad drowning accident occurred this afternoon at Meddyemps Lake, about eight miles from Calais, when Miss Grace Davis, daughter of F. N. Davis, superintendent of St. Croix Gas Co., who was bathing with a party of young ladies in the lake, ventured out too far and was drowned.

Miss Davis was nineteen years of age and a graduate of Calais High school this spring.

Ask Government For Increase

Petition Reques High Cost of Living and More Work

It is Claimed That $2,500 to $3,500 Salary Is Not Sufficient Inducement to Bring the Right Kind of Men to the Bench—Request Likely to Be Granted.

(Special to The Telegraph.) Ottawa, July 17.—The minister of justice, Hon. C. J. Doherty, has under consideration the question of a general readjustment and increase in the salaries of county court judges throughout the dominion.

Petitions were presented to the government some months ago, signed by practically all the county court judges in Canada, asking the government to take into consideration the large increase in the cost of living during recent years, which has not been accompanied by any corresponding increase in judicial salaries. Moreover, in connection with the question of court work in most of the provinces, the jurisdiction of county court judges has been considerably increased in order to relieve the work of the higher courts.

It was pointed out that salaries varying from $2,500 to $3,500 were not now sufficient to enable a judge to properly maintain the dignity of his position of educate his family, especially as the law required him to practically forego any other means of increasing his income.

Furthermore, the petitioners believe that the present salaries to county court judges are not large enough to attract to the bench the right class of men.

Hon. Mr. Doherty is looking carefully into the whole question, and it is probable that in the next session of parliament a bill will be introduced to considerably increase the salaries now paid to county court judges.

HAY CROP BETTER

New Brunswick Farmers Think That Rains Have Brought Hay and Grain Up to Average, But Fruit Will Be Light—Only 750,000 Barrels in Annapolis Valley Unless Conditions Improve.

Reports from country districts on crop conditions are much more favorable as far as hay and grain are concerned, as these two crops have been brought along wonderfully by the heavy rains during July, and a Telegraph reporter who passed through a large section of farming country yesterday found the farmers optimistic as to the hay crop, many of them expecting a slightly heavier yield than last year.

a direct result of their apathy. The explanation given by a large number of the women who did not vote was that they feared some of the wealthier women planned to go to the polls in gowns the others could not rival. There is something at once humorous and pathetic in that explanation.

It will be money well spent.

HIGHWAY IS IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

Farmers and Others Complain of the Road to Loch Lomond

THREE THINGS THEY WANT TO KNOW

So Far, However, They Have Been Unable to Get Any Information in Regard to Amount of Money Available for Repairs or How It is Being Handled.

Tuesday, July 15. While roads all over the province are in very bad condition, farmers and others are especially complaining of some of the highways in the immediate vicinity of St. John. Those who have occasion to use the Loch Lomond road are most outspoken in their criticism of it, particularly with respect to that section between Kane's Corner and the Ben Lomond House. They declare that the road is in a dangerous condition and, in places, positively dangerous; and they are asking:

1. Who are the men directly responsible for the Loch Lomond road?

2. How much money is available for that part of the highway?

3. What has been done with this money? Several persons say they have been unable to get any information in answer to these questions. Under the new road act there are supposed to be parish supervisors and a county inspector responsible to a provincial road engineer. So far no engineer has been appointed and no public announcement has been made in regard to this matter, although in some parishes friends of the government have been selected as road supervisors.

One man said yesterday that so many complaints have been made about the Loch Lomond road he had written to the chief commissioner of public works, asking him what supervisor had been appointed for that district, and if any inspector for that district, and if any inspector for St. John county had been named. "That was some time ago," he said, "and I have not yet received any reply. The Loch Lomond road is a most important avenue for city traffic and I cannot understand why it is being so neglected."

The Telegraph yesterday asked several men living along the Loch Lomond road and others who are close to the government, if they knew who was responsible for its upkeep, and all declared that they had been unable to get any information on the matter. They were greatly displeased with the condition of the road was in, they said.

Councillor Henry Shillington, however, told The Telegraph that ex-Councillor William Jones had been appointed supervisor of roads in that district. Meanwhile automobile owners, farmers and all others who drive to and from Loch Lomond, feel that a great injustice is being done in allowing the road to go without repairs.

She finished a tirade at her friend, and ended with:

"There, I think I have made myself plain, have I not?"

"Made yourself plain, dear?" sweetly answered the one friend. "Oh, no, dear; you were born that way." Ladies Home Journal.

EDITOR OUSTED IN CHURCH FIGHT

Rev. Mr. Gwyn Leaves "The Churchman," the Low Church Organ

TOO WEAK IN CAUSE

Voiced Opposition to Proposed Change in Name of Church to American Catholic Too Feebly to Suit the Standpatters.

New York, July 16.—The "Churchman," the New York weekly publication which represents the Protestant Episcopal Church, lost its editor, the Rev. Herbert B. Gwyn, yesterday. His sudden resignation was accompanied by that of the Rev. Dr. Milo H. Gates, vicar of Intercession Chapel of Trinity parish, who has been a member of the board of directors since it was first organized by the paper in behalf of reform of the present name of the church.

The "Churchman" has been depended upon to champion the cause of the proposed change in the denomination's name to the American Catholic Church. The sudden resignations, it is said, are due to the disappointment of the low church people to get out of the Episcopal church and join the Roman Catholic, where they had been expected to be welcomed.

The Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, secretary of the New York Diocese Social Service Commission, has been asked to take charge of the paper for the present, and has consented. The chairman of the same social service commission said to have been the chief backer of Mr. Gilbert's position.

The Rev. Dr. A. G. Cummins of Poughkeepsie, who invited the Order of the Holy Cross, which has other high church people to get out of the Episcopal church and join the Roman Catholic, where they had been expected to be welcomed.

Mr. Gwyn had resigned, but refused to give the cause or to name his successor. He said that he had been invited to do so, but he had not accepted the position.

The "Churchman" is privately owned by a number of New York Episcopal clergymen and laymen. Under the management of Sirillas McBee the paper fought Trinity parish about St. John's Chapel and for other causes, and said things concerning Bishop Greg's course which many resented. Trinity clergy men helped to buy the paper last year and start the new venture.

New Potatoes Much In Demand

Only a Few On the Market and These Went Quickly—Strawberries Cheaper After the Rain.

Wednesday, July 16. Native new potatoes made their debut on the market yesterday morning but in such small quantities that eager buyers soon cleared out the stock. Although the season is later than usual new potatoes are scarce and hundreds of buyers are daily disappointed in their quest. When the first few bags were placed on the market a mad rush was made to buy them up and a few minutes afterwards none were left. The upper river points have not begun to send in their supplies and, although the river steamers carry heavy freight in other kinds of green goods, no new potatoes are in evidence. Other vegetables are procurable in abundance. "We were well freighted with strawberries yesterday and prices ranged from eight to nine cents. It is thought that the recent rains materially helped the crop.

HAY CROP BETTER

New Brunswick Farmers Think That Rains Have Brought Hay and Grain Up to Average, But Fruit Will Be Light—Only 750,000 Barrels in Annapolis Valley Unless Conditions Improve.

Reports from country districts on crop conditions are much more favorable as far as hay and grain are concerned, as these two crops have been brought along wonderfully by the heavy rains during July, and a Telegraph reporter who passed through a large section of farming country yesterday found the farmers optimistic as to the hay crop, many of them expecting a slightly heavier yield than last year.

It seems certain, however, that the apple crop will be much below the average. In Ontario the fruit crop is reported very light and the conditions have been scarcely less favorable in the east.

Far Below Standard.

Annapolis Valley, the chief apple centre of the maritime provinces, will this year record one of the most discouraging harvests in many years. S. W. W. Pickup, ex-M. P., who has been at the Royal last night and speaking to The Telegraph said that never in his memory were present indications more discouraging. The crop will be below the standard that Annapolis has established for herself. In past years there had been an approximate output of 750,000 barrels in the harvest season, but this year if conditions do not change and the destruction of the early spring is not compensated in some way, Annapolis cannot justify looking forward to an output of more than 500,000 barrels.

The light crop will be felt all the more severely as the growers have expended a large amount in enlarging facilities for handling and shipping.

The co-operative packing agency now controls thirty-one depots. Here the apples are standardized according to the regulations and shipped directly to the many markets supplied by the province. This has been an important part of the marketing of the industry in the province. It is hoped that the crop will not be so disastrous as to discourage the operation of these depots, otherwise the people will suffer a great deal. In referring to the reports of Mr. Pickup said the reports were favorable and it now looked as if the hay crop this year would exceed other crops.

Sixteen Watches Stolen at Sussex Found Here

Thursday, July 17. Detective Killen received a telephone call from Chief of Police Ashwell, of Sussex, about 9 o'clock last evening asking him to try and locate John McDonald, who was suspected of breaking and entering the store of Miles Evesleigh Ltd. of this place on Centre street. A man answering the description of McDonald was arrested in Charlotte street about 10 o'clock by Detective Killen and taken to Central police station, where he was lodged in a cell. A pocket containing $21.40, a knife, pocket handkerchief and seven cigars were found on the prisoner. He is a young man about 23 years of age. About sixteen watches which it is thought were taken from the Evesleigh store and were very valuable, are believed to have been in Dock street, have been recovered by the police.

Fear Shortage of Harvest Hands in Saskatchewan

Regina, Sask., July 15—Government officials here are looking forward to a serious labor shortage in the province this year. With a crop acreage increased thirty per cent over that of 1912 the prospects are that there will be no greater available supply of harvest hands from the east than there was last year when, with 25,000 laborers needed, only 15,000 were obtained.

Of course, with the conditions prevailing this year, the local labor market will be able to supply a greater number of harvest hands than formerly, and this may even make up for the increase in the acreage, but crop prospects are so much brighter that the shortage, it is expected, will be more keenly felt, particularly in those districts where the grain is a little later than usual in maturing.

Twenty-five thousand men from the east could easily be located in Saskatchewan alone this year, but the government is led to believe that little more than half this number will be supplied the province by the railway companies.

Elijah Starkey Committed for Trial Although Evidence is Not Convincing

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN. Woman Took Poison and Set Fire to House by Allowing Covers to Remain Off Stove in Hope of Suffocating Herself—Neighbors Tell the Story.

Widespread interest is evidenced in the case of Elijah Starkey, of Cady's Queens county, whose preliminary hearing on the charge of assault on his wife, now deceased, was begun yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Atlay Smith at Waterborough and continued last night when he was committed for trial.

Dr. Hetherington took the stand and said that death was due to poisoning. He said also that Mrs. Starkey had confessed to him that she had set fire to the house. He said there were bruises on the body, but no particular marks to their position or their cause.

At a meeting of sub-committees representing the United States and Canada it was decided to recommend to the organization in these two countries the erection of arches where the proposed highway crosses the international boundary—Quebec and Miami in the east and Vancouver and Los Angeles in the west.

THE HEARING WAS resumed last evening. The other witnesses were heard, and the prisoner was committed for trial which it is thought will come up on the second Tuesday in August.

Dan Sully, the former cotton king, was talking on the piazza of his home at Watch Hill (R. L.) about matrimony. "You can easily tell," he said, "whether or not a man is happily married."
