Schoolhouse at Waterville Burns

A disastrous fire occurred at Waterville, Thursday night, when the school house was totally destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. There was no insurance and the loss is placed at $2,000. The heavy coating of snow on the roofs of buildings nearby protected them from falling embers and no doubt averted further serious loss to the several residents living in the vicinity of the school.

EVERYTHING IS COMPLETED FOR NEW FRASER PLANT

Town on Maine Side of St. John River Opposite Edmundston Deeds Road.

Edmundston, N. B., Jan. 12.—More formalities have recently been completed in connection with the project of the Fraser Companies, Limited, to erect a big paper plant at Madawaska, Me., across the St. John River from here, and it is believed that everything is in readiness for actual work to be commenced in the early spring.

One of the latest events in connection with the preparations has been for the town of Madawaska to sell the old ferry approach road on the Maine side of the river to the Fraser Companies for the nominal price of 1. The agreement provides that unless the Frasers build a paper mill at Madawaska within five years the property shall revert to the town again.

It is stated that no United States interests are linked up with the Frasers in the project, although the Bangor & Aroostook Railway Company have been active in the matter as a traffic producing proposition. The lands which have been purchased on the Maine side of the river have all been bought by the Bangor Investment Company, which is the holding corporation which handles the Bangor and Aroostook Railway's real estate business. Wingate Cram, of Bangor, is treasurer of the two companies and E. Michaud of Port Kent, Me., has been acting as his agent in the purchase.

ECLIPSE GAZERS ATTENTION

The Houlton Times gives the following for the benefit of those who wish to view the eclipse of the sun which takes place on Saturday:

The eclipse will begin at Houlton at 8.12; middle at 9.25 and end at 10.44.

It will not be total at Houlton, but will cover at middle about nine-tenths of the sun.

Before the day of the eclipse, several thicknesses of colored glass, or large pieces of heavy smoked glass, should be made ready and tested on the sun.

Great care should be used in smoking evenly and heavily, because permanent injury to the eyes is likely to occur, if the sun is not sufficiently darkened.

When the glass is sufficiently darkened, the sun may be studied at pleasure without any harm to the eyes.

Glass may easily be smoked by holding it closely over a match or better a candle flame, but the smoking and testing should be done by adults and not by children on account of the probable harm to the eyes if good judgment and care are not exercised.

I fancy eye-train is felt when looking directly at the sun, through the prepared glass, the darkening is not sufficient and more smoke should be added.

It has been more than a century since Houlton has had as good an eclipse as this will be, and it will be several centuries more before another as good occurs, so every person young or old should observe it, giving it the most attention about the middle at 9.25.

KINGSCLEAR-VANCEBORO RLY.

Portland, Me.—A possibility which may develop out of tangle affairs of Boston & Maine Railroad is acquisition of Worcester, Nashua & Portland Railroad, now leased to Boston & Maine by either the Maine Central or the Canadian National Railways. Maine Central would like to acquire the line. Canadian National which gets into Portland by Grand Trunk and which is about to begin construction of the proposed Canada-Maine link from Kingsclear, near Fredericton, N. B., to Vancoboro, Me., also would make valuable use of the Worcester, Nashua & Portland, for the purpose of connecting New England states with the Middle West.

RELATIVE TO THE POTATO EMBARGO

The Following Cablegram was Received by the Guy G. Porter Co. Of Perth on Monday.

"Strong forces attempting to create embargo on Canadian, using beetle danger, have started counter action, uncertain, beware."

This message was sent by Judson C. Corey, representative of the three potato firms, Guy G. Porter Co., Perth, C. E. Gallagher Co. Bath, and Hatfield and Co., Hartland.

The above firms immediately got in touch with Premier McKenzie King at Ottawa, also Departments of Agriculture and Trade and Commerce.

The C. P. R. have also been communicated with through freight agent Elliot of St. John and all parties are working to convince the powers that be in Great Britain that an embargo is unnecessary in regard to New Brunswick potatoes.

At this writing nothing further has been learned as to the attitude of England but the embargo on American potatoes has been extended and now includes Scotland.

COUNTY COURT HOLDS SESSION AT WOODSTOCK

Criminal Cases Disposed of—Several Civil Cases on the Docket.

The January term of the Carleton County Court met Tuesday morning, with Judge Carleton presiding and a grand and petit jury in attendance.

There were two criminal cases presented to the grand jury, the King vs. William Brewer, charged with assault, and the King vs. Edgar Johnston, charged with an offence against a young girl. C. H. L. Perkins of Woodstock was foreman of the grand jury. They returned "no bill" in the Brewer case and "true bill" in the Johnston case. At the conclusion of the case for the crown in the latter case, the judge held that the necessary corroboration of the girl's story had not been furnished and on motion of T. M. Jones for the accused, directed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty. C. J. Jones, clerk of the court, represented the Crown.

There were three cases upon the civil docket as follows:

Carleton Bailey vs. John Higgins, F. C. Squires for the plaintiff and S. G. Mooney for the defendant.

Charles Bohan vs. Edward Hogan G. W. Montgomery for the plaintiff and Jones and Jones for defendant.

Carleton Bailey vs. Alex. Jinsky, F. C. Squires for plaintiff and Jones & Jones for defendant.

Upon the application of C. J. Jones the Bohan-Hogan case was postponed until next court on account of the illness of defendant. The other two civil cases were settled.

An application was made by C. J. Jones for a certificate of naturalization of Henry Serecheri, which was granted. Court adjourned sine die.

CABLES FROM CUNARDS

Whenever a Cunard liner comes to Halifax somebody on board is certain to send a cable via Louisbourg, asking that a supply of Moirs' chocolates be placed on board, to be eaten in New York or London.

To get square with cabarets, which have no amusement tax to pay, a London theatre has "abolished" admission fees. Instead it sells boxes of chocolates. The size of the box you buy determines the position of your seat—from the stalls to the galleries.

If Moirs' chocolates are sold, it's a safe bet the audience will consider the show a success.

A Thousand Stories in Lake District of Manitoba Says Canadian Authoress

Martha Ostenso Gave Best First Novel of Year that Setting

Miss Martha Ostenso, who was awarded the $13,500 prize and royalties on the book for the best first novel submitted during the past year in a contest organized jointly by Dodd, Mead & Company, Pictorial Review and Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, is a twenty-four-year-old school teacher from Manitoba. Miss Ostenso's novel will be serialized, filmed and published in book form in 1936. The story, which is called "The Passionate Pilgrimage," deals with the romance of the Western Prairies and portrays the romance of one whose ambition to soar beyond the black loam led to dramatic consequences.

More than 1,500 manuscripts were submitted. The judges state that Miss Ostenso's was so far superior that no other story seriously rivalled it.

A brief sketch of her life and the circumstances which inspired her novel, as related by Miss Ostenso, follows: "Where the long arm of the Hardanger fjord penetrates farthest into the rugged mountains of the coast of Norway, the Ostenso family has lived in the township that bears its name since the days of the Vikings. The name means 'Eastern Sea,' and was assumed centuries ago by an adventurous forerunner who dreamed of extending his holdings over the mountains and through the lowlands of Sweden eastward to the very shores of the Baltic. Although his dreams never came true, the family name recalls it and the family tradition of land-holding has persisted unbroken; the part of the land that borders the lovely fjord is still in its possession, handed down from eldest son to eldest son.

"My father, a young son, was free to indulge his roving disposition. A few years after his marriage to my mother he decided to emigrate to America.

"My mother's parents lived high up in the mountains, remote from the softening influence of the coast town. At their home it was, near the little village of Haukeland, that I was born. This, the first of many small towns in which I have lived, is known to me only through hearsay.

"When I was two years old we came to America.

"The story of my childhood is a story of seven little towns in Minnesota and South Dakota. Towns of the field and prairie all, redolent of the soil from which they had sprung and eloquent of that struggle common to the farmer the world over, a struggle but transferred from the Ostensos and Haukelands of the Old World to the richer loam of the new. They should have a story written about them—those seven mean, yet glorious little towns of my childhood! In one of them, on the dun prairies of South Dakota, I learned to speak English. What a lovely language I found it to be, with words in it like pain and funeral and alone, and ugly words, too, like laughter and cake and scratch! What strange sounds the new words made to me.

"Later, in another of the little towns, I learned that it was fun to make things with words. It was fun living in a little town in Minnesota that I became a regular contributor to the Junior Page of the Minneapolis Journal, and was rewarded for my literary trial-balloons at the rate of eighty cents a column. In the public school of that little town there still hangs, perhaps, a large print of a rural scene in a resplendent frame, with a neat name-plate at the bottom of it. That also came from the Journal, in recognition of an essay which, in my eleven-year-old opinion, placed me abreast of Emerson.

"When I was fifteen years old, I bade good-bye to the Seven Little

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK NOW

Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N. S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. WILLIAM MORSE, Bloomington, Annapolis County, N. S.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Mrs. Morse is simply another case of a woman receiving "great benefit." Women suffering from the troubles so common to their sex should listen to what other women say who have experienced the same sufferings and found relief. Give this dependable medicine a chance—and at once. It is sold at all drug stores.

HOSPITAL MAY BE ESTABLISHED IN EDMUNDSTON

Group of Graduate Nurses' Consider Proposition of Opening Private Institution

(Edmundston Observer)

Three young ladies, graduate nurses were here for several days last week, looking into the proposition of establishing a private hospital here. These young ladies, natives of Woodstock, we believe have had considerable experience in private hospital work and are well qualified to operate an institution of this kind successfully. No announcement has yet been made as to what their final decision is. A number of houses were looked at, a number of people including the doctors were interviewed, and a great deal of encouragement was given to them in their proposed venture.

As our readers know, we have always felt that there should be a hospital in Edmundston, the size of the place, the industrial character of the place, the long distance from St. Basile, all demand that we shall have within the borders of our own town, a place where the sick and injured can be taken with the greatest expedition.

We would like to see a publicly owned hospital here, but failing that we should like to see a privately owned one established in Edmundston. Everything looks favourable at the present time. It looks as though that which we have advocated for so long will bear fruit, not in the way we expected or hoped, but in another way.

We are sure that hundreds of our citizens will be glad if the ladies concerned come here, and they undoubtedly gain a great deal of support in their undertaking.

It will mean that a great deal of suffering will be alleviated, a great deal of expense for individuals saved and we earnestly believe a great many lives saved.

We are emphatically in favour of its establishment here, and there is not one single adequate reason why it should not be successful both from the standpoint of the town and the standpoint of the ladies who propose to run it.

Centreville, N. B., January 20—"21" a First National special picture, featuring Richard Barthelmess, was shown on Wednesday and was a vivid demonstration of what a lot of fun a boy can have before he reaches his majority, if he goes about it in the right way. Dorothy Mackail played opposite our hero and was most fetching. An educational reel showing the source of New York City's water power was most interesting and instructive, while a Larry Semon comedy was shown for good measure. On Saturday evening "Roaring Rails," a peppy Stromberg production was a thriller indeed, beginning at Chateau Thierry and ending up in a thrilling forest fire in the American west. Harry Carey's work in this film was much complimented, as was also that of Edith Roberts and little Frankie Darro, who out-Cooganed Jackie. Many of the events in the little waif's life were most pathetic. This week's programmes may be perused on Page 7.

SEEK RETURN OF POTATO CHARGES

Hartland Company Wants Money Back—Judge Speaks of Investigation.

St. John, N. B., January 14.—The case of Hatfield Company, Ltd., of Hartland, N. B., vs. the C. P. R., was commenced yesterday in the Circuit Court before Chief Justice Barry without a jury. This is an action brought by the plaintiff company to recover sums of money paid to the C. P. R. as charges for transferring potato shipments from railway cars to a steamer at a terminal point, the plaintiff's contention being that there was no tariff regulation at the time permitting the railway company to make such charges. The defence is setting up that the money was paid under a mistake of fact. Evidence was given for the plaintiff yesterday and the hearing will be continued this morning. W. P. Jones, K. C. of Woodstock appeared for the plaintiff and Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C. and H. H. McLean, jr., for the defendant.

During the course of the trial and when Mr. Hatfield was being cross-examined by Dr. Taylor, Judge Barry asked him if he was one of the potato shippers who were being investigated. He replied that he was. Judge Barry then remarked that, while he probably should not discuss any political matters, he could not refrain from saying that in his opinion, it was a great mistake to bother men who were seeking markets abroad for the produce of New Brunswick at the busiest time of the year by the investigation.

Mr. Jones remarked that he was not willing that Mr. Hatfield should be asked any question, then or at any other time or place, with reference to the alleged potato combine as they had nothing to conceal and the shippers wanted the fullest publicity given to all the facts.

During the course of the trial evidence was given to the effect that Hatfield, Porter and Gallagher had joined in chartering ships but that their shipments had gone forth to their individual consignees in the names of the individual firms. It was also said that there had been no suggestion of any understanding or agreement in regard to the buying of potatoes.

GRAND FALLS HYDRO.

Now that the reports of the hydro experts and engineers as to the feasibility of developing the power at Grand Falls have been laid before the Provincial Government, the people of north-western New Brunswick are awaiting further developments.

The New Brunswick authorities are now engaged in obtaining "flowage rights" in the Province of Quebec and the State of Maine. Already the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission Company has been incorporated in Quebec to give the Power Commission holding rights. It is expected that within a short time the Commission will apply to the Maine authorities for August for similar rights.

It is very probable that the Maine authorities before granting the necessary legislation, will endeavor to have a portion of the power developed at Grand Falls set aside for use, as occasion demands, by the power consumers in the State of Maine. This is because the St. John River is part of the international boundary and it will be necessary to procure flowage and storage rights on the Maine side of the boundary. The Houlton Times suggests that in all probability about 12,000 horse power will be set aside for Maine consumers.

The people of this part of the country need more power and cheap power. The rate being charged by the companies now supplying electric current in many cases is very high and with advent of municipal-owned hydro development, we hope for a decrease in rates.

COMMENT FROM AN ENGLISH NEWSPAPER

Bristol Times and Mirror Tells of Potato Conditions in Old Country.

(Bristol, Eng., Times and Mirror.) Energetic efforts are being made to interest local merchants and also consumers in Canadian potatoes, and these endeavors are not restricted to this side, for the producers themselves are keenly anxious to create and develop business between Canada and the Mother Country. To this end, Mr. J. W. Corey, representing three of the principal producing and exporting firms of Perth, Hartland and Bath, New Brunswick, was in Bristol yesterday and was introduced to local merchants and importers.

As already reported in the Times and Mirror, the Cunard-Anchor-Donaldson liner Gracia, has discharged a consignment of Canadian potatoes at Avonmouth this week, consisting of 660 bags, a little under 100 tons. Through the Bristol Fruit Brokers, Ltd., these were disposed of on the open market at £7 10s. per ton—a price which is generally considered satisfactory. At the moment there is no further shipment afloat for Bristol but consignments are on passage to other English ports, including Cardiff.

In conversation with a Times and Mirror representative, Mr. Corey said he had come to England to try to develop the business. So far as Bristol was concerned the Canadian producers and exporters would like to do business with the old city, but all parts of England were the same to Canadians from the commercial point of view. They would do business where encouragement was offered. Canadian producers were aware of the large importation of potato supplies into England, and also of the sources of supply, and they were desirous of taking at least a small part in supplying our needs. The potato produced in New Brunswick was similar in form to the British Queen or Evergood type grown in England. In the St. John Valley and in the neighborhood of the tributaries of that river farmers had specialized in potato culture and certain parts of the U. S. came to those districts especially for foundation stock.

Question in regard to the effects of freightage on so long a carry on the selling price side, Mr. Corey said that was a question which the future must decide. They did not want to compete with the English-grown potato, but they were desirous of placing upon the English market a root that would compete with other imports. He felt sure that there was a sufficient number of people in England who would prefer a better quality potato at a slightly higher price to warrant Canadian producers and exporters in seeking to develop the business. They were in a position if the demand arose, to ship 1,000 tons a week to England in the season which extended from October to the end of May.

Mr. Corey concluded by describing the precautions taken by the Government authorities to ensure the production of potatoes free from disease, their protection from frost during transit from the frost-proof warehouses of the farmer to the frost-proof warehouse of the exporter. He also detailed the methods of grading into 3 sections A, B, and C, and said that only Grade A potatoes would be exported to England. In regard to the variegated Colorado beetle, Mr. Corey said that even if it existed in New Brunswick, the possibility of its being shipped to England was practically non-existent, owing to the rigorous examinations to which the potatoes were subjected from the time of lifting to the point of despatch.

DIED IN THE CLOISTER

TRIED TO STOP GERMANS PASSING THROUGH HER TERRITORY.

Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg Abdicated Her Throne and Retired to Convent—Health Broke Down Under Confinement.

It was Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg who at the outbreak of the World War defied the troops of the Kaiser when they outraged the neutrality of her small principality and bivouac along its historic avenues. It was Marie Adelaide who abdicated in favor of her sister Charlotte when the people of Luxembourg accused her of too friendly dealings with the enemy.

For four years this daughter of princes ate the meager food and slept on the narrow hard pallet of her convent home. It is rumored that her frail health could not withstand the hardships of her self-imposed duties.

Since the twelfth century, when acquisitive barons stole the small duchy of Luxembourg from the humane Charlemagne, it has been under the control at various times of all the powers of Europe.

To-day, there are still to be found French, German and Belgian sympathizers among the population, though the majority remain independent. By the treaty of London in 1837, the duchy was proclaimed neutral territory, and all the fortifications were dismantled. It was then under the control of the King of Holland and remained so until 1890.

At that time Wilhelmina ascended the throne, but the Salic law (which provides that only males shall inherit) prevented her ruling over Luxembourg. The small principality with its quarter million inhabitants passed to Duke Adolph of Nassau, a direct descendant of William of Orange. Again it looked as though this historic throne would go begging for a claimant, for all Duke Adolph's six children were girls.

But the Luxembourg Parliament decided differently and, setting aside all precedents, declared the eldest daughter of the Grand Duke the heir apparent. In 1912, at the age of 18, shortly after the death of her father, Marie Adelaide ascended the throne of Luxembourg and assumed command of her miniature ornamental army of 800 men.

Then commenced the hegira of European princelings toward the royal palace of this girl ruler. Kaiser Wilhelm proposed several husbands, but Marie Adelaide refused to listen to suggestions, and the story goes that she sent her suitors packing before they even had an opportunity to shake the dust of travel from their princely helmets.

She would, she said, choose her own husband, without interference from any king. And when she was 20 it was whispered that she had. But the secret was faithfully guarded and the name of this man who was killed during the war has never been divulged.

Before the war the Grand Duchess led the life of a care-free, happy girl, going on picnics with her five sisters and riding through the gray-walled city of Luxembourg, as occasion demanded, in the royal family coach.

Self-willed, though lovable, Marie Adelaide from her earliest years was fond of the pomp and ceremony of her father's small court. She knew that it would one day be hers, and she enjoyed to the full her position as heir-apparent. She assumed the responsibilities of a reigning sovereign with dignified understanding, and ruled her subjects with considerable wisdom.

Into the midst of this happy life broke the soldiers of the Kaiser in the first days of the war.

According to rumor, Marie Adelaide summoned her state carriage and placed herself in the middle of the highway. She ordered them to remain outside the frontier of Luxembourg. This they refused to do, and a German officer ordered his soldiers to seize the carriage of the princess and drive her back to the castle.

Secrecy hung over the royal palace of Marie Adelaide during those dark years and it was not until the Germans marched back to Berlin that anything was known of the inhabitants' fate.

But whatever the vicissitudes of war, the aristocrat brought no peace to the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg. Her subjects, after the withdrawal of the allies' troops, broke out afresh with the cry of "Abdicat!"

"I sympathized with the Queen of the Belgians when she was driven out of her country," said the Grand Duchess Marie, "but her sufferings were small compared to mine, for she was free and received the admiration of the world, while I was a prisoner and was misunderstood by all my friends."

Marie Adelaide abdicated in favor of Princess Charlotte, her next younger sister, and in 1920 decided to enter the Order of the Carmelites, the severest of all religious orders. Shorn of her beautiful golden hair, clad simply in blue and carrying a bouquet of white flowers, the Grand Duchess walked to the altar through two lines of nuns in black veils, each holding a lighted taper. For two years she performed the religious duties of the Carmelite order. The enforced solitude proved too exacting for the health of the royal nun, and the Pope, fearing for her life, authorized a change to the order of the Little Sisters of the Poor.

C. Larsen is spending a few weeks in Houlton, Me.

Friday morning was 46 below zero in town, the coldest morning so far this winter.

Miss He'la Badley sang "Th' Tum b'le Down Shack," in a very pleasing voice at the Opera House Friday night. Mrs. C. A. Kirkpatrick accompanied her at the piano.

The stork made a call at the home of W. H. Graham early on Sunday morning and left on 8-pound girl Mrs. Rose Price is stopping with Mrs. Graham for a few weeks.

John Hennigar spent Sunday at his home here.

Max White, who has been quite ill, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Bell who have been spending their vacation here returned to Boston Thursday.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Carbin gathered at their home at Power's Creek on Jan. 12, to help celebrate Mr. Carbin's 64th birthday. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing and music. A delicious lunch was served after which a birthday gift was presented to Mr. Corbin. Mr. Corbin thanked the friends for so kindly remembering him, in a few well chosen words. Those present were J. R. McCluskey, C. P. McCluskey, E. A. Guilmont, Dr. C. Guy, H. H. T. S. S. Melanson, J. D. Bilodeau, Alonzo Gagne, T. J. Corbin, George Corbin, J. Fournier (Alberta), Peter Corbin, sr., Winston, Estey, Marshall Patrick Harry Martin, Herbert Corbin, Miss Helena Burgess, Miss Ida McCluskey, Miss Mildred Corbin and Lillian Corbin. All enjoyed a most delightful party and wished their host many happy returns of the day.

HOME NURSING CLASS

The last regular lesson on the Red Cross Home Nursing Class was given before the class Monday evening. Dr. Macintosh was to have given the lecture but was called away professionally. Mrs. Macintosh gave the lesson in his stead very acceptably. There was a good attendance considering the cold night. These lessons have been very interesting and cannot but help being of great benefit to those who have taken advantage of them. Two weeks from last Monday an extra class will be held. Dr. Coysh will give a lecture on the diseases and the care of the teeth. This should be of especial interest to all the members.

Greer's Mud Muddle Mumbles

By ERWIN GREER

(President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago)

The automobile manufacturer, as well as the dealer and salesman, positively deny that the dictionary contains such terms as "accident," "mishap" or "tough luck." "Don't ever," they say, "mention an accident it worries folks and we want to keep them full of faith and happiness." Doubtless it is mostly due to this attitude that the motorist travels from ocean to ocean without worrying in the least that his tool kit is minus such incidentals as chains, ropes, etc. Gosh it's no wonder that old Demon Mud and his wife Sandy Soli chuckle so when they gather some unfortunate motor car in their clinging embrace. And the chuckle, interpreted means: "Now what are you going to do about it?"

Sometimes, though not very often thank heaven, mud holes happen on purpose. Last summer I ran across a rural god mine on a muddy piece of road in Kentucky. During the day these native Ponzi's coined money by pulling motor cars out of the bog with mules. At night they worked faithfully carrying water to that bog in preparation for the next day's harvest of coin. Yep, they hooked me for five bucks, but in coming back over the same road, I negotiated the bog with the assistance of a long rope hitched to a tree, the other end being wound around my rear wheel hub. My pop-eyed audience of water carriers were thoroughly disgusted. A little later the American Automobile Association busted that gold mine by putting Mr. Detour on the job.

In using the jack, where the axle is only a few inches above the ground dig a hole and set a stone or a block of wood at the bottom. Then set the jack on it. With planks under the wheels, one or more men should shove the car while a third man does the driving. The clutch should be engaged slowly and traction picked up with a slow and steady headway. Some motorists resort to deflating their tires while others carry strips of canvas to slip under their wheels. Whatever situation arises should be met with the utmost diplomacy and head-work. Otherwise Demon Mud will take his toll in stripped gears or burned clutches.

IMPROVED POSITION OF NATIONAL LINES

Prime Minister Tells of Work Accomplished Since Co-ordination.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, speaking to an audience of four thousand people at Massey Hall, said in part:

"I think it is generally admitted that it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to have secured a railway executive better suited by tradition, training and temperament to carry out the gigantic task of co-ordinating and controlling the several lines comprising what is now the Canadian National Railway System than Sir Henry Thornton; and I think Sir Henry Thornton will be the first to say that in the discharge of his highly responsible and onerous duties he and his Board of Directors have been given by the Government, a perfectly free hand.

"The showing with respect to the Canadian National Railway is, as yet, far from what we would like to see it, and what it should be if the railways are to become a national asset, as we believe they will become, if given a proper chance, instead of remaining a national liability, as up to the present they have continued to be, but it is a showing vastly more favorable than which existed at the time we took in hand their co-ordination and consolidation and placed in the hands of Sir Henry Thornton. An examination of the operating deficits of the Canadian National Lines (not including the Grand Trunk) shows the following improvement in recent years:

1921	16,092,901
1922	9,786,318
1923	6,318,119

"In 1923 the inclusion of the Grand Trunk, however, turned the deficit of $6,018,119 into an operating surplus of $11,656,422; and so far for the first time since the great railway debacle we find in 1923 a consolidated Canadian National Railway System producing an operating surplus of $11,656,422.

"Marked improvement has also been made as regards the total deficits after payment of fixed charges during the same year, as is shown by the following figures:

1920	$74,378,318
1921	72,652,278
1922	58,696,311
1923	52,779,350

Here and There

Rex Beach, the eminent American author, was recently in New Brunswick as a guest of W. G. McIntyre. On leaving for his home in the United States at the conclusion of his visit, Mr. Beach expressed himself as a strong booster for the hunting and fishing possibilities of the province, charmed with its scenic beauties, delighted with its people and solemnly proposing to return with his gang next year.

The largest and one of the most valuable shipments of foxes ever to pass through Montreal, Que., by Dominion Express Company, was handled by that organization recently. There were 35 animals in the shipment, valued at $17,000, 30 being silverblack foxes and the rest black foxes. The former were destined for exhibition at Minneapolis, while the latter went to different points in the Canadian West.

The Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby, which was so successful last year, will again be held at Quebec in 1925, the dates set being February 19th, 20th and 21st. As on former occasions, the distance to be covered will be 120 miles, at an average rate of 40 miles a day. Earl Bridges, Le Pas, Manitoba, now holds the handsome trophy awarded for the race and is expected to defend his honors. Many teams are already working out.

A decided acquisition to Trois Rivières, Que., is the new Canadian Pacific Railway station, which was opened there on November 8th. The building is Italian in design. Rose and Macdonald, of Montreal, were the architects. Remarkable speed was made in the construction, as the contract for the work was only signed on June 2nd last. The opening ceremony was performed by Grant Hall, vice-president of the company, in the presence of many notables.

Three moose and one deer was the total bag of W. B. Leeds, jr., young American multi-millionaire, and his friends, Nils Florman, Albert Hopkins, Paul Smith and Mortimer Davis, jr., as the result of their recent hunting trip into the Kipawa district. The leader of the party expressed himself as delighted with the results, as he had not hoped for such luck. Great quantities of game of all kinds were seen.

That the Land of Evangeline (Nova Scotia) now ships over 2,000,000 bushels of apples abroad annually was the recent statement of F. G. J. Comeau, general freight and passenger agent, Dominion Atlantic Railway. A number of British apple growers and buyers are at present putting large tracts of land under fruit. With the apple growing industry increasing from year to year, at the rate of two to three hundred per cent per decade, only twenty per cent of the orchard land available in the province is yet under fruit.

Perhaps the most remarkable, certainly the first aerial stowaway in history was discovered by Pilot Caldwell of the Laurentide Air Service, operating in the neighborhood of the Rouyn gold-fields, the other day. Caldwell, on rising for a long flight, found his machine so badly balanced as to be almost unmanageable. Cigarette butts and other clues led to the uncovering of the extra weight, which turned out to be a miner. As the man had taken this cheap but decidedly dangerous way of reaching civilization in order to see his sick wife, he was not detained or punished.

Winnipeg Mother Finds Ideal Remedy for Colds of Children

A Vaporizing Salve which Relieves Colds Over Night and Croup in Fifteen Minutes. Nothing to Take—Just Rub It Over Throat and Chest.

Mothers everywhere will be interested in the experience of Mrs. W. Butterfield, 627 Carydon Ave., Winnipeg, Man. Mrs. Butterfield tried the new external remedy for colds, Vicks VapoRub, when it was first introduced in Winnipeg and writes:

"My three-year-old boy, William, became very sick with what seemed to me like a pneumonia cold accompanied with indigestion. He was a very sick boy for two weeks. One night I grew alarmed—he breathed so quickly and was so restless. I rubbed him with Vicks VapoRub and the result was quite gratifying. He breathed more easily and I was able to get a little sleep myself. The next two nights I again rubbed him with Vicks with still better results and he became as bonny as ever. I surely appreciate Vicks VapoRub and shall use and recommend it at all times."

Vicks is just as good for adults. It is the direct treatment for sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, catarrh, head or chest colds. When rubbed over throat or chest, Vicks has a two-fold action. Internally it is inhaled as a vapor and at the same time, externally, absorbed like a liniment. This double action seldom fails to give immediate relief.

NOT GOD'S WILL THAT MEN DIE, ASSERTS BISHOP

London, Jan. 12.—When men die of illness, it is "not God's will to take them" according to Rev. Michael Bolton Furse, Anglican Bishop of St. Alban's. Addressing the St. Alban's Diocesan Conference, the Bishop asked: "If physical disease is God's will and desire, why did Christ who came to do His will, fight against it and heal the sick? I cannot believe" said, "that it is right to say when a human being dies of a physical disorder that it was God's will to take him. If I said that I should feel that I had blasphemed."

Bishop Furse added that no medical practitioner would claim to have healed or cured anyone of disease. All that could be claimed was that medicine had helped nature to do her own work of healing.

THRIFTY PRINCESS MARY.

Young Royal Housewife Is Keeping Up a Fine Tradition.

Princess Mary, according to the court gossip, is ably carrying out the royal tradition of good housekeeping started by Queen Victoria and preserved by Queen Mary, although it was badly broken by Queen Alexandra. The princess, it is said, is following the general principles of housekeeping she learned under her mother's tuition.

She allows a certain sum to her housekeeper for the running expenses of Chesterfield House. Once a week she holds a domestic council in her boudoir, checking up the housekeeper's books to see if any items can be cut down or cut out.

One of Queen Mary's favorite maxims is running royal establishments is "It is unwise to be parsimonious; it is foolish to be extravagant." And the princess adheres to this sentiment.

For instance, she is very particular that lights shouldn't be burned in rooms not being used. In many big London mansions the main living rooms are lit from dusk to bedtime whether occupied or not. Consequently Princess Mary's lighting bills are said to be 15 per cent. less than those of other great social establishments.

She is fortunate in having a first-class housekeeper, who was the assistant at Buckingham Palace and with the Queen's permission, went with the princess on her marriage.

The princess frequently visits her kitchen. She then follows the Queen's practice, her mother having often said to her:

"When you have a household of your own you mustn't neglect the kitchen. A well-conducted kitchen is the basis of good housekeeping."

Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Michenoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poisons generated in the intestines." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death. 15 to 30 drops of "Seigel's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound. 10

BATH

Bath, N. B., Jan. 20—The motion pictures have once more changed owners, and William Gorman has resigned in favour of the new syndicate, at the head of which is the Messrs. Budovitch and Tompkins who have made a good beginning and are showing movies of good quality. They hope to get sufficient patronage to give good service.

On Monday evening there was a joint installation of the new officers of Victory Lodge and Carleton Temple at the K. P. hall. The installing officers were Brother L. A. Noble and Sister H. Larlee, who were very efficient in carrying out their duties; and with vocal and instrumental music, and short addresses by local and visiting Knights, the evening was well spent and the midnight luncheon was an enjoyable finish to the proceedings. Among the visitors were Bro. J. Hood of Glassville, Bro. M. McKenzie and Sister McKenzie of Sparkle, who undertook a round trip of sixty miles of cold driving on a cold night, to show their interest in the proceedings here and as representative of Juniper Lodge of which Bro. McKenzie is the presiding officer. The violin selections given by C. Budovitch were much appreciated, as were solos were Mrs. Stanley McDonald and duets and quartettes by Hazen Tompkins, G. S. Larlee Morley Milbury and Mesdames McDonald, Chapman and others. Bro. McKenzie was very emphatic in declaring that "it ain't gonne rain no more, no more."

It seems to be well known that this province is rapidly going dry. Everywhere the fear is expressed that unless something happens soon, there will be a water famine. Even the officials in charge of electrical services express the opinion that darkness will shortly envelop our towns and villages and the factories will close down for lack of power, unless a good and sufficient rainfall comes soon.

On Thursday last, T. D. Bell of the Dominion Alliance, conducted a Temperance Rally at the Baptist church here and although the evening was cold, a fairly large crowd gathered to hear the message; as a result a committee was organized to canvass for subscriptions for the purposes of assisting and developing the prohibition campaign in this community.

The C. G. I. T. girls under the supervision of Miss Nellie Giberson are quietly working out their programme but there does not seem to be much doing with the boy scouts movement. Some one should try to get the boys in line for real community service.

The epidemic of lung troubles seem to be well in hand thanks to the seasonable weather and outdoor exercise.

Miss Helen Gee, who is attending Bristol High School, spent the week-end with her parents at home.

Special music was rendered at the Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

CAME FROM THE EAST.

Englishman Did Not Originate the "Daily Tub."

The Englishman did not originate the "daily tub," after all. He has had credit for it for a long time, and in practice has done much for the world with it, but the origin seems to have gone back a lot farther. It is recorded by Jay Harrold Botsford in his book, "English Society in the Eighteenth Century, as Influenced From Overseas," that the daily cold tub was a by-product of the expansion in trade which in that century took English ships and men all over the world, and brought back trade and money—and customs which have permanently influenced the Motherland.

It is inferred by Mr. Botsford from a letter written by an English traveller in China in 1769, that the custom was derived from the Orient, for this gentleman made note of the Chinese practice of taking a cold bath in the morning, and added that many Europeans resident in the Orient were very fond of it.

This period of world expansion had a wide influence on the wealth and customs of the Old Land. Early in the eighteenth century a new and powerful class emerged from the social order, that of the merchant princes, followed shortly by the rise of the manufacturers, who used the raw products imported from overseas. In Liverpool, whose growth was founded on commerce, the change was dramatically evident. "Here docks and warehouses were thronged with penniless boys, enthusiastic and adventurous pioneers in a new field of romantic endeavor."

A state of flux, a breaking down of barriers in English society, was inevitable. Old names were allied with new fortunes; new peerages were created, although up to the reign of George III, the most that wealthy traders and manufacturers could expect was a knighthood or a baronetcy. This pursuit of wealth was at first marked by low standards of business morality, stock jobbing was prevalent and speculation rather than investment the rule. Gradually ethics improved, the bursting of the South Sea Bubble, for one thing, having a salutary effect. The position of women improved, schools for them increased and intelligence, even when accompanied by beauty, came to be admired.

British Guiana.

The physical geography of the three Guianas is much the same. Along the coasts are flat, swampy tracts, with fertile soil. Beyond this the land rises to undulating savannas, behind which are mountainous regions covered with almost impenetrable forests. Vegetation is remarkably rich and luxuriant. Sugar, coffee, rice, cocoa, and grains are cultivated. The forests yield fine timber of several kinds, also rubber, oil, balsams, gums, tonka beans, and nuts. The plumage of the birds is particularly brilliant. Gold and diamonds are produced.

British Guiana has an area of 89,480 square miles, and a population of 296,000. Among the principal exports are coffee, sugar, rum, rice, molasses, timber, silver and gold. The chief towns are Georgetown, the capital, and New Amsterdam.

The climate is tropical, very equable and not unhealthy. The yearly rainfall is subject to marked variations, its mean on the coast lands being 94.4 inches, distributed over 195 days of the year. In the interior the average recorded rainfall is 50.8 inches.

Ethrog Is Rare and Costly.

The sacred Jewish citron, botanically known as ethrog, is said to be one of the most costly fruits in the world, and a good specimen will fetch as much as $25. It grows in Palestine and in the Greek islands in the Mediterranean. For centuries it has played an important part in Jewish religious ceremonies. The ethrog is something like a lemon but large. It is extremely aromatic, and one will perfume a whole room. The rind is thick and hard, the pulp bitter and very seedy. The principal characteristic of this extraordinary fruit, however, is a protuberance on the blossom end having the appearance of a pimple or pita. It is the stamen of the blossom, and without it the fruit is of little or no religious value. The tree, which is about the size of a tangerine orange tree, has dark, large leaves, containing sweet-smelling oils. The fruit matures after a couple of years. The flowering season lasts for several months, the blossoms being a pale purple.

Oldest American Roadway.

The old Spanish road, built across Mexico in the sixteenth century is believed to be the oldest road on the North American continent. It was built in the form of a letter "Y" with the lower point of the stem starting at Vera Cruz on the gulf. The northern prong touches the Pacific at San Blas and the southern tip at Acapulco. Because of this road the west-bound conveyers from the Philippines were spared the dangerous navigation around Cape Horn. There is still evidence that this old trail was used by the Indians before the Spaniards broadened it from a pack-mule path to a highway.

Centuries Older Than Pyramids. The National Geographical Society has sent an expedition to Mexico for the purpose of uncovering the ancient ruins of Guicuilco, which lie to the south of Mexico City. These are believed to be the oldest hand-made structures on the north American continent. Preliminary observations have disclosed an artificial mound, 412 feet in diameter and 412 feet high, and the explorers believe it probable that 1,000 years before the first pyramid was built some monarch of the Valley of Mexico caused his subjects to erect this great monument for him.

Let Your Banker Collect It

W. B. HOWARD

W. B. Howard, whose appointment as General Executive Assistant has been announced by E. W. Beatty, Chat man and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Howard, who has been Assistant General Passenger Agent, succeeds F. L. Wanklyn, whose retirement was announced at the end of the year.

Mr. Howard is one of the younger of the Company's officials although he entered its service twenty-five years ago. Born in Chatham, N.B., he joined the Canadian Pacific forces as junior clerk at St. John, N.B., in 1897, and two years later was promoted to the position of travelling passenger agent. Since that time his promotion has been rapid and he is well known throughout the east as a very competent officer. On two occasions Mr. Howard has been in charge of the train placed at the service of the Prince of Wales by the Canadian Pacific.

A Quick Rejoinder.

A new story of Lord Darling is being told by Lord Birkenhead. The occasion was when Lord Darling, then a junior counsel, was addressing a jury at the Quarter Sessions. He had been speaking for some time when the chairman remarked: "Mr. Darling, have you noticed the position of the hands of the clock?" Swift came the reply: "Yes, sir; but with respect, I see nothing to cause anxiety. They seem to me to be where they usually are at this time of day."

Just Like a Man!

Mr. Younghusband had not found life a path of roses since he had left his chosen to the nuptial altar. He was always trying to please his wife, but somehow he never could succeed. One evening, on arriving home, he said to her: "Well, Hilda, you can't guess what I've been doing to-day." "Making a fool of yourself, as usual," replied the loving Hilda, ungraciously. "That's as you look at it, dear. But I have done something really good. I've insured my life." "Well," was the snappy reply, "I always knew you were meant to insure your life, indeed! Always looking after yourself first!"

Sea Jewels.

Visitors can be seen roaming the English sea coast for valuable stones. The sea collects the jetsam of ages and specimens of every geological formation. Among others found are corallians, chalcidons, amethysts, agates, onyxes, and pieces of jasper. The "Elle ruby" is a garnet found to the eastward of Elle Harbor, on the coast of Fife. Other parts of the coast have their special jewels. Onyx can be found almost anywhere. As for pearls, it has been stated that they have been found in cockles at Oseway.

He Knew.

"Best Thing in the World For Delicate Girls"

Mrs. John Bennett, Boggy Creek, Man., writes: "My little girl had organic nervous trouble, could not sleep, had severe headaches and fainting spells. This went on for three years, and three doctors helped her very little. After reading of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food had done for others, I got some for her. She is now so well that she is like a different child. She is fourteen years old and looks the picture of health."

"We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for different members of the family, when recovering from 'flu' and scarlet fever, and it has always helped them."
