THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION IS READY

WILSON PLANS TO LEAVE FRANCE ON FRIDAY.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—(By Robert J. Bender)—President Wilson, planned today to leave on Friday for the preparatory to sailing for the United States. There was a possibility however that his steamer might not leave before Sunday. The President's party, it was learned, will include Earl Reading, French Ambassador, Jusserand, Italian Ambassador Colliere and Franklin Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the navy.

The reprint of League of Nations constitution, which was completed and approved yesterday, was to be read at today's session of the committee of which Wilson is chairman. During the afternoon, the President was to meet the Supreme War Council, when the Belgian delegates were to discuss the systematic plans of the enemy to destroy Belgian industries. The matter will be referred to the Supreme Economic Council for handling, in connection with indemnities and armistice provisions.

The War Council was also expected to consider Marshal Foch's plans for further military demonstrations, such as the occupation of other strategic points to ensure compliance with the armistice terms.

Pugilist Dempsey Is Confident of Winning

HIS MANAGER SAYS HE WILL NOT NEED MUCH TRAINING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—"It will be a knockout and a fast one. This is the opinion of Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, who signed articles for about with Jess Willard to be held 'somewhere in the United States' some time in July—probably July 4. 'Dempsey will not need much training,' said Kearns. 'He is young, only 23, and takes good care of himself all the time. When he is in the ring in vaudeville, he goes right to his hotel from the theater and climbs into bed.'

"In the morning, if he feels like it, he goes out on a long hike. He loves to work and knows what he needs to keep him in the pink of condition. After he finishes this theatrical engagement he will go out to the mountains to play around a while and then go into intensive training for about two weeks before the bout. Dempsey doesn't smoke and all he drank yesterday, before and after the articles were signed, was a tall glass of lemonade. 'I won't need more than eight or nine days training before meeting Willard,' he said. 'It doesn't make any difference to me whether the fight is a long or a short one but I think the championship fight should be long. However, the longer it is the better I'll like it.'

Dempsey in discussing the projected bout talked and laughed about his plans and hopes with the enthusiasm of a child. "Gee," he said, "about his day in coming east, 'I didn't know they needed my signature on the articles. Kearns is my manager and whatever he says or does goes with me. As for all that other talk about Jack Curley and that crowd, there's nothing to it. Kearns is my manager and nobody else has any strings on me. I'll do the fighting and he'll do the managing.'

Germany Must Not Become Derelict

Foreign Secretary Balfour Declares Foe Must Not Be Strangled Industrially.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—"The peace settlement need not wait for the establishment of the League of Nations, inasmuch as it is not the League's business to conclude the terms of peace," Foreign Secretary Balfour declared today. He said that no one could tell exactly when peace would be signed. Asked if he thought it would be concluded by April 1, he replied that he believed that date was rather over-optimistic.

In reply to a question as to how Germany can pay indemnities if she is not allowed to recuperate her industries, he said that Germany's recuperation should not be at the expense of France and Belgium, but "it is to nobody's interests that Germany should become a derelict nation."

THE KING'S SPEECH.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—King George in opening the new parliament today, after alluding briefly to economic matters since dissolution of last parliament, first after criticism, urged quick and decisive action on reconstruction measures and asked parliament "To spare no effort in helping care of existing unrest." The King stated that a government bill would be presented simplifying the procedure in House of Commons, so that the lower body might expedite what the government considers imperative measures. Among these measures, he said, were better housing, formation of department of health, fulfillment of pledge to labor that unfair competition would be prevented, and betterment of agricultural situation through improved transportation. He expressed his desire that the understanding between Great Britain and the United States should increase and that the two countries will "act together in the future."

JAPS THREATEN THE CHINESE

LONDON Feb. 10.—Japan has notified China that China must work in harmony with Japan at the peace conference and must undertake not to reveal to the conference secret Chinese-Japanese agreements according to a Reuters dispatch from Peking dated February 3.

The correspondent says his information comes from Chinese sources and Reuters' agency says it should be regarded with some reserve. According to the dispatch Japan stipulated that failure by China to give such assurances would result in effective Japanese financial pressure on China.

Japan's Attitude Causing Anxiety

Threatens War on China Unless Secret Treaties Are Unheld.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Japan's attitude toward China in the peace conference is causing grave apprehension among representatives of other associated powers. According to official diplomatic information reaching here Japan virtually has threatened war if China makes public the secret treaties between the two countries, and fails to carry out an agreement to make Japan the successor of Germany in the rights, property and concessions held by Germany at outbreak of the European war. China is relying on the peace conference, where her delegates are said to have made an excellent impression, and is seeking support from the United States and Great Britain.

Govt. Did Not Instruct Magistrate To Let Quebec Deserters off With Light Fines.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—"They received no instructions whatever from the department, and any intimation that went out generally from the department was to exactly the opposite effect." This is the reply of Hon. Arthur Meighen, acting Minister of Justice, this morning to the statement attributed to Judge Langelier of the Quebec police court to the effect that light fines were being imposed by him on deserters "on instructions received from the justice department". Deputy Minister of Justice Newcombe corroborated the statement of the Minister and expressed doubt as to whether the magistrate had made any such assertion.

A telegram was sent by the acting Minister to Sir Leman Guoin, Premier and Attorney General of Quebec, last Friday pointing out the impropriety of the nominal sentences being imposed on deserters by Judge Langelier, and requesting that action be taken to restrain him. A reply has been received in which it is stated that the matter is being considered. It has been intimated that the magistrate has undertaken all these so-called prosecutions without the fiat of the Federal authorities and that they are fictitious and illegal, and may be re-opened when the flats are issued.

Reeve Jos. Weber Must Stand Trial

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 11.—Joseph Weber, reeve of Neustadt, was today committed for trial at assizes on 24th, by magistrate Cresson, on serious charges under the military service act. A letter was read in evidence from Weber to Judge Weddfield offering $500 to patriotic funds if his son was granted exemption. There was other evidence by Dominion police. Weber's bail was renewed. He appeared to be in good health, despite experiences with matters put in such a shape that whenever conditions become more favorable everything will be ready to go ahead with immediately. "I suppose the high cost of materials is still a deterrent," the Record asked.

"Yes, they are but they are coming down and in view of this we are getting ready," Mr. Breithaupt remarked. As to when a start could be made Mr. Breithaupt of course could not say, the whole question depending on conditions which cannot be foreseen. He did state, however, that it might be possible to proceed with some lines of the improvements some of which could be made before others. Among the improvements would be a reservoir at Bridgeport and one on Lancaster Street. The high price of cement of course is an unfavorable feature as regards immediate construction.

"There are certain things we could go ahead with first and in view of possible lack of employment we may do something this year yet. The laying of the mains we would leave until the last. The mains form one of the biggest items, owing to the long distance, Mr. Breithaupt concluded.

To Woodstock by Motor Truck Tomorrow

Novel Method of Transportation Arrangements are being made to take the players and fans to Woodstock tomorrow by motor truck. The truck will leave the Imperial Billiard Parlors at four o'clock and will arrive at Woodstock by six, the roads being in perfect shape the journey will be made far more expeditious than by rail and the proposed charge of one dollar per head is cheap. The idea originated in the fertile brains of the management, owing to the poor railroad connections between the two towns and as it is absolutely necessary that there should be a big following of local fans the idea is excellent. Names of those intending to make the trip should be left at the Imperial Billiard Rooms when Secretary Strum is busy with the final arrangements.

AFTER WAR PARLIAMENT OPENED BY KING TODAY

Big Issues Engage Attention.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Great Britain's reconstruction parliament was expected to swing immediately into business at the conclusion of the brief ceremonial program, when it was formally opened by King George today.

Laborites, who now form "His Majesty's opposition," were scheduled to move an amendment to the King's speech in regard to present industrial troubles. George N. Barnes, cabinet minister without portfolio, who has been repudiated by the Labor party, probably will reply for the government. The non-unionist Liberals also were to present an amendment to the important speech Premier Lloyd George was to deliver later in the afternoon. Their amendment was expected to be based on general labor reconstruction problems, and possibly on peace questions.

Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons, was scheduled to speak in behalf of the Unionist wing. The government probably will allow two days for debate on the amendment to the King's speech before a vote is taken on it. The King's speech dealt with the allied victory and peace time reconstruction. The usual brilliant scene attending the formal opening of parliament was slightly dulled by the fact that the galleries were in mourning for the death of Prince John.

King George, in his speech from the throne, urged legislative bodies to act resolutely in stamping out poverty, diminishing unemployment, and improving the health of the nation. Mr. Balfour said he believed the question of freedom of the seas will disappear with organization of the league of nations, under which all will enjoy that privilege except Bandit nations.

Discussing the question of reparation, Mr. Balfour said evidence presented to the conference indicated that Germany's destruction of French industrial plants was unnecessary from a military standpoint, but instead served a doubly sinister purpose: First, that of putting French industry behind in comparison with Germany; and second of forcing France after the war to buy machinery from Germany, which would thus furnish additional employment for thousands of Germans. While he favored the principle of Germany handing over to Great Britain the shipping she had destroyed, ton for ton, Mr. Balfour said he did not know whether she had sufficient tonnage for such a program.

The Foreign Secretary said he believed the league of nations would come into existence only after the treaty is signed; because the questions of boundaries and other matters must first be settled. He said he was a firm believer in protectates, which have not yet received sufficient attention because they are subordinated to the league.

May Begin Work on Wells This Year

REGARDING THE BRIDGEPORT PROPOSITION Laying of Mains Will Be Left Over Until Last

The Water Commission are preparing for the development and the use of the wells at Bridgeport. Following an informal consideration of the question at the regular meeting of the Commission last evening it was understood that the services of an engineer are to be secured to draw up the plans.

In conversation with the chairman, Mr. J. C. Breithaupt, the Record was informed that the purpose of the Commission is to make all necessary enquiries now and to have the plans prepared. It is not the intention to proceed with the work immediately but the idea is to have matters put in such a shape that whenever conditions become more favorable everything will be ready to go ahead with immediately.

"I suppose the high cost of materials is still a deterrent," the Record asked.

"Yes, they are but they are coming down and in view of this we are getting ready," Mr. Breithaupt remarked. As to when a start could be made Mr. Breithaupt of course could not say, the whole question depending on conditions which cannot be foreseen. Local Hero Seriously Ill in France

Was Wounded Six Times Word was received this morning by Mr. William Sargent of 131 King Street, that his son, Sergeant Wm. Sargent was lying seriously ill with influenza in number forty, Stationary Hospital, Harlequin, France.

No details were given but the news has caused grave consternation amongst his relatives here. Sergeant Wm. Sargent has had a wonderful and exciting career, although only twenty-one years of age now he saw service at the front since 1914.

Enlisting in Toronto he went overseas at the outbreak of the war and was wounded no less than six times. He wears six wound stripes, a most uncommon decoration. After the signing of the armistice he was with the Canadian Army of Occupation in Germany and whilst there contracted influenza.

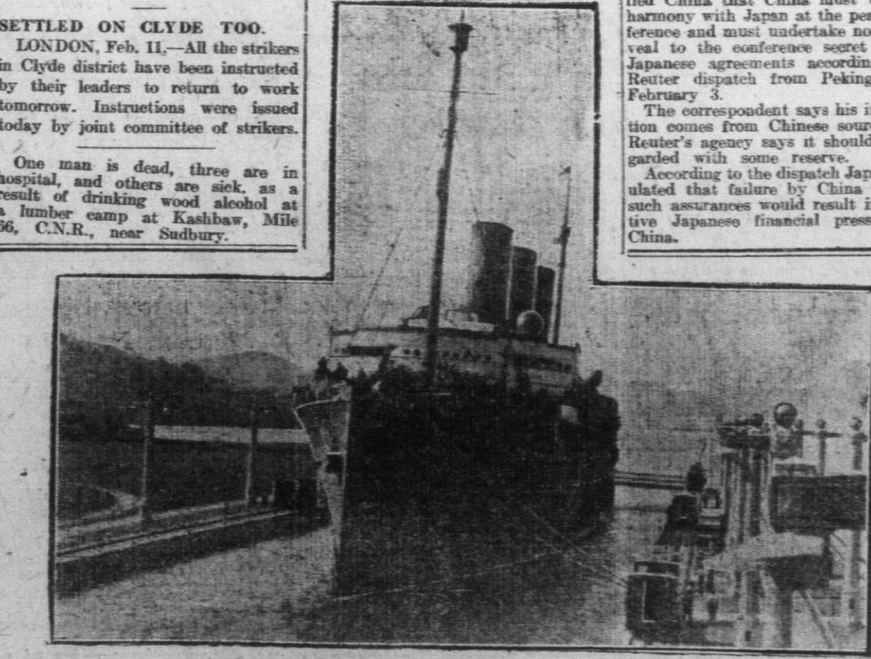

The sincerest hopes for his immediate recovery are extended to his parents and relatives, as the time soon come when this brave young man will step foot once again in this city.

Weichel, of Elmira. "Mike," as he is popularly known among the wide circle of his friends went overseas with the 118th Battalion and since then had been continually at the front until he was wounded at Arras some months ago. The injuries received there necessitated the amputation of his left leg above the knee. He is now in Buntingford, England, where he is recuperating in the convalescent hospital. He expects to be home in about a month. The citizens are pleased that "Mike's" services have again been recognized. It will be recalled that previously he had been promoted to a corporal for his admirable conduct and work on the battlefield. When he arrives home a warm reception will be awaiting him among his friends.

The S. A. Await Councils Decision

Half of Objective Attained. The Salvation Army War Work Campaign in this city now totals $250,000.00 or half of the objective. The subscriptions from employees of the city has been very satisfactory and has helped considerably in bringing the total where it is. Likewise the tag-day which was in the hands of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. These sources are not, however, practically exhausted and eyes are now turned to the city council to give the big push and send the campaign over the top with flying colors. The army officials are confident that the council will give the necessary oost, the cause is well worthy of it and it will stand well to Kitchener's credit to reach the desired $500,000. Ensign Sparks of Hamilton is a busy man in the city, and has worked hard during the past two weeks to make the local campaign a success.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Make Friends With Bill, Bert and Alf

"Old Bill" is the Real Thing and Everybody Will Feel Better For Meeting Him

If the Allen theatre is not packed from orchestra pit to god's gallery at all six performances of "The Better Ole" next week then the people of the Twin City are different from those of any other place on the two continents where this most famous and most popular of all screen productions has been exhibited. The premier presentation here will be on Monday afternoon next, at sharp half past two, and then afternoon and evening for the two following days. The prices here are less than the theatre going people of Toronto have been paying for the past five months, where the film has been running continuously and is even yet turning crowds away daily, unable to gain admission to the theatre where being shown.

The seven pictures, "The Better Ole," is a succession of stinging emotions, which exhibitors call "punch," with alternative flashes of humor and humanity connected by the witest sub-titles ever seen on the screen. One or another is constantly before the eyes. A tear can hardly start to trickle down the cheek before it is checked by laughter which dries it up. The prolog, which outlines in a succession of striking scenes what we were fighting for, will do more to bring it home to all than thousands of speeches. There are times when the acting is so expressive that the motionless attitude of the players brings tears to the eyes; there are scenes so tremendously powerful that one forgets that one is looking at a picture. It is the first effort of Welsh Pearsons & Co. It is not the first picture produced by Mr. George Pearson, but his very best.

When Captain Bairnsfather created Old Bill he built a surer than he knew. The walrus-mustached figure of this "Old Contemptible," together with his satellites, Alf and Bert, are part of the imperishable history of the war, and will typify for centuries that matchless bravery and the dauntless good humor of the men who saved Europe. "Old Bill" is already well known on the stage in London and New York, where he made millions of friends. It is safe to say that everyone who sees "Old Bill" at the Allen Theatre next week will feel that they'd like to shake him by the hand and say, "Good work, old fellow, for Bill is the 'real thing' and a joy forever."

The seat plan for the production will open at the Allen box office Thursday morning.

WILL END HEREDITARY

London Feb 10—Anything is possible in the present strike situation in Great Britain. The walkouts of the last week were only preliminary to a general strike by the coal miners, who are demanding a six-hour working day and a 50 per cent increase in wages, and by the railway employees. The crisis in this connection comes on Wednesday, when conferences with the leaders of these two branches of labor are to be held with the Government.

The present industrial unrest which is sweeping over London and many other cities is largely due to Bolshevik activity, the program of which has been carefully and ingeniously conceived and executed by strike agitators.

Government has proved.

Of Bolshevik activity the Government has absolute proof and several of the Red leaders have been arrested.

The Government it is learned immediately will deport all known Bolsheviks.

There have been frequent and open revolts against the properly constituted trade union officers and the entire trade union movement. The agitation, apparently, is not so much directed against the monarchy and the hereditary House of Lords as against the whole industrial system. The movement, seemingly is aimed at the complete overthrow of this system.

Andrew Bonar Law, chasellor of the exchequer has promised that the Government will do away with the hereditary character of the House of a cause for the present labor upheaval.

"Isle of Love"

Produced at the Roma Last Evening

Bary of Beautiful Girls in Excellent Chorus.

Last evening saw the opening night of the "Isle of Love," an amateur production given under the auspices of the Tommy Atkins Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, produced and conducted by Mr. Louis George Neville, of New York.

Although not a capacity house, there was a good attendance and despite all the trials and tribulations that attend amateur theatricals the cast and chorus did well under the circumstances.

The cast was as follows:

Sherlocke Combs...Mr. Wm. Phillips

Yosel Darling...Miss Edna Sippel

Bucksin Buddy...Mr. No. Villio

Maigold Lilly...Miss Carolyn Bowly

Gilroy Clay...Mr. Art Phillips

Daffodil Dooty...Miss Cora Huenner

Birdie Magoodin...Miss Elsie Good

Chief Heap-Much-Got-Em...Mr. Jack Bain

Red Bird-Wee-nah...Miss Eleanor Hyatt

and the chorus consisted of:

Delphin Bolett, Evelyn Little, Venetia Blankstein, Olga Rana, May Euler, Elsa Koenig, Rosa Kiesel, Winnie McNally, Bessie Bowman, Alma Porteous, Omerene Hagen, Belle Kenzie, Mavis Weitzel, Elva Weber, Gertrude Rafferty, Rhea Moody, Eleanor Hyatt, Messrs. Fred Mueselman, Alfred Sheard, Foster Humphries, Albert Burn.

Kitchener may well be proud of its beautiful ladies, and the chorus had a good share of the city's best.

Sherlocke Combs was given a fine interpretation by Mr. William Phillips, Bill is a past master in the act of line, and his caricature of the famous detective was a masterpiece.

In the art of make-up he excels, and when disguised as a Scotchman even Bill's best friends would have failed to recognize him had it not been for his knees, his genial Scotch face brought back tender recollections of pre-prohibition days.

Mr. William Schaefer as like Goldberg was right at home, and drew many a hearty laugh from the audience. He had studied his part without doubt and must have spent many an hour in developing the character which he portrayed with life-like preciseness.

Mr. Art Phillips and Mr. Jack Bain both lived up to their part, the latter fitted well as Chief Heap-Much-Got-Em, the solidity of the chief being well brought out.

Mr. Art Phillips makes love in a manner to Marigold Lilly, he leaves one with the impression that he is an old hand at the game.

Mr. No. Villio as Eusebia Buddy is a real "wild-west" and the character goes a long way in holding the rest together.

As far as the ladies go beauty is foremost in every case. Miss Carolyn Bowly as a Puritan maid look-innocence personified; she is the possessor of a sweet soprano voice and the duet with Mr. Schaefer is well worthy of mention.

Miss Edna Sippel as Yosel Darling was exactly what her name implies and her singing was of exceptional merit; Miss Sippel is no stranger to music lovers of Kitchener, and she delighted the audience with her numbers.

Miss Eleanor Hyatt as Wee-nah scored an instant success in her song "I want a Doll," her captivating personality drawing forth continued applause and her singing was exceptionally pleasing.

Miss Cora Huenner played well as a maiden with a super-pose-nature and Miss Elsie Good did well as Birdie Magoodin. Miss Good's Lish brogue was good to listen to, and it is remarkable that the refined features of this young lady could be transposed into such a homely contraption by the aid of rouge and paint.

The singing of the chorus was very creditable and quite professional at times.

The set, especially the first one representing Brightaway Beach, was cleverly arranged, a fountain is seen playing during the whole of the act.

To-night's performance will be of exceptional merit now that the actors have been broken in, a full house is assured and with confidence the performance is promised.

Dr. L. A. Koepfel, musical director, performed in a capable manner, likewise his two assistants, Miss G. Sararus and Mr. Darwin.

The Tommy Atkins Chapter deserve credit for their venture, the proceeds of which are for so worthy a cause.

Musical numbers and red consist of the following:

1. Opening Chorus: "You're in Style when you're Wearing a Smile."

2. It's Me...Sherlocke and Chorus.

3. "A Big Town Girl" Buddy and Chorus.

4. Hindustan...Miss Bowman and Chorus.

5. Cottage Song...Boswell and You.

6. If You'll Say Yes...Miss Dooty.

7. I Want a Doll...Wee-nah and Chorus.

8. He Never Came Back...Birdie and Chorus.

9. Hawaiian Moonlight...Mr. Bain and Yosel.

10. Finale...Entire Company.

11. Opening Chorus...Alexander's Back from Dixie.

12. Sweetheart Time...Miss McNally and Chorus.

13. Dream of Home...Yosel and Chorus.

14. I'm Coming Back to You...Clay and Chorus.

15. Message of a Red, Red Rose...Marigold.

16. Indianola...Chief and Chorus.

17. Bolshievist...Dooty and Chorus.

18. Grand Finale.

Musical Director, Dr. L. A. Koepfel.

Gov't May Re-open Some of the Cases

Where Small Fines were Imposed in Quebec.

Quebec Feb 10—A radical change in the proceedings against absentees under the Military Service Act are to be made to-day in the police court according to a statement emanating from a high official of that court to the Canadian Press.

So far absentees have been let off with a nominal fine of $5 or $10 but it appears protests entered by Ontario papers and officials have brought the federal authorities to change the mode of proceedings.

It is said that, hereafter absentees will first be summoned before the police court where they will give their reasons which will then be forwarded to the federal department of justice who will decide what penalty will be imposed.

Ottawa Feb 10—With regard to the action of certain Quebec magistrates in letting deserters off with fines of $5 to $10 it is stated here that in many of the cases action has been taken without the authority of the flat from the department of justice. The matter has been receiving the attention of the Government and more particularly of the acting minister of justice Hon Arthur Meighen.

It is understood that the department will adopt the course of declining to recognize decisions rendered by the magistrates without the authority of a fiat. The effect of this will be to make it possible to again prosecute deserters who have been permitted to escape with a trivial fine.

It is stated that the matter has become the subject of correspondence between the department of justice and the Quebec Government.

Prince Henry Still Wants a Monarchy

London Feb 10—The Hamburg Nachrichten, which recently in a series of articles has been dealing with Germany's future, wrote to Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of former Emperor William, in order to ascertain his views on the subject.

Prince Henry replied, according to the Nachrichten, that Germany, in order to reach her future goal, must establish her monarchy and her economic life on the pre-war basis. The empire, he added should be placed again under the old dynasty and under the leadership of Prussia while the "costly parasite workmen and soldiers' councils" should be speedily abolished.

He also advocated the formation of well disciplined land and sea forces "in the old style" and representation of Jewish influence in commerce, industry and politics.

"The events since November distinctly showed," said Prince Henry "that a return to the monarchy was the first condition to Germany becoming strong and healthy again."

"Then," he concluded "will the old song 'Deutschland Uber Alles' become true."

WHY A DIVORCE COURT?

A number of influential newspapers is advocating a Canadian Divorce Court. This is not a new plea but has this year been given an impetus by the circumstances that there are 67 applications for divorce.

These applications will be heard by a committee of the Senate. It is argued that each hearing will occupy at least two days and extend over a longer period than parliament customarily sits, and that therefore a special court should be established to hear such cases.

The number is this year unusually large, and regretfully to say is due in a majority of instances to the absence of men overseas. Wolves have attacked the flock during the shepherd's absence. This epidemic of lust is an abnormal occurrence and may never occur again. Why set up permanently a large piece of judicial machinery when it may not again be needed?

The Canadian public, has, and wisely so, made it difficult to obtain divorces. They have seen how easily the marriage tie may be severed in the United States and how detrimental are the effects. An actor of some parts, who died in New York recently, will be briefly remembered for having been five times married and four times divorced. What will be the fate of his children?

The foundation of society is in the home. The more stable this is the better for civilization. When marriage bonds can be cast aside like a pair of worn gloves, and new ones substituted, the social fabric is weakened. When those entering wedlock know that the step is irrevocable, they will bear with one another's shortcomings.

One of the causes of divorce in large cities is said to be the apartment house, where frequently a "No Admittance" sign is posted against children. A campaign against race suicide is more necessary than an easy exit from the marriage state. Canada, which has thus far done well in hedging marriage about with safeguards, ought not to remove them.

When the abnormal free losses of the country are being discussed, it is averred that their prevention is more important than their extinction. Is not the same true of divorce?

While the woman has always paid the man, who is chiefly to blame, usually goes free. He works the ill and is shielded from publicity. Were this reversed and his wrongdoing published from the house-tops, there would be fewer applications for divorce.

In the big batch of divorce applications awaiting the senate's disposition, a large percentage are those of soldiers, whose homes have been violated by two-legged things for whose sake they were risking their lives in Europe. Printable language falls short of being able to describe these crimes. Creatures who contemplate such housebreakings would think twice before attempting them were they certain that discovery would cause them to be held up to condemnation in the public prints. Shift the blame to men's shoulders, making them bear the disgrace, and fewer divorce applications will appear.

Regarding the unusually large number of applications, now before the Senate, it might be suggested that if one committee cannot dispose of them, two or three committees would be able to do so.

In our opinion, it would be better to postpone the hearing of any number of them until a following session rather than set up a new court that would make divorces easy of attainment.

CONSCRIPTION

It was expected that war-weary Europe would, at the peace table, decide to renounce conscription, yet it is not presently to disappear. The main reasons are that the nations have so long relied upon armed force and do not yet trust one another. Cromwell's dictum: "Trust in Providence but keep your powder dry," still holds good among them.

The nations realize that conscription has been the curse of Europe. Under it millions of young men are forced to spend from one to three years of their lives in uniform, producing nothing and placing an enormous burden upon the taxpayers.

Conscription preserves the war spirit and military caste feeling. Thus men, after learning this calling, are naturally not averse to practicing it.

Large standing armies are dangerous weapons ready to the hand of tyrants, either to oppress their own peoples or to overrun the neighboring countries. Conscription, apart from its moral evils, wastes yearly thousands of millions of dollars of the world's wealth and makes life harder and food and clothing dearer for whole populations. Nevertheless for all they hate it, the nations are not yet ready to give it up.

Even so, their standing armies will hereafter be smaller and the conscripts' terms of service shorter. The hopeful aspect in an adverse situation is that when the League of Nations has been formed and had time in which to demonstrate its usefulness, its functioning will cause distrustful nations to perceive that an international police force is all sufficient to maintain peace. Hence individual standing armies will become unnecessary.

A practical builder declares that brick laid in heated mortar at this season of the year sets firmer than when laid during the summertime.

In 1918, Guelph received $57,375 in dividends on its stock in the Guelph Junction Railway. The sums so received are applied to taxation. Notwithstanding this, its rate last year was 30.6 mills.

The Guelph Mercury says that a second electric railway between Hespeler and Preston is projected and that work is to begin at an early date. Why another line?

A well-known citizen advances the opinion that a gratuity should be voted to Miss Smith, the School Nurse, as a tangible mark of approval of her splendid services in the homes of the city during the recent epidemic of influenza. So say all of us!

MAGIC BECOMING A LOST ART

Seventy-five years ago to-day occurred the birth of Alexander Herrmann, whose fame as a prestidigitator has been recalled by recent reports of the serious illness of his widow, Mme. Herrmann, who was an able assistant to her husband in his professional work, and who has continued to tour the country giving performances of some of the tricks and illusions originated by her famous husband.

The art of magic, so-called, has been practised in all lands and in all ages, but none of its exponents ever succeeded in winning the favor of the American public as did "Herrmann the Great," whose marvelous sleight-of-hand performances furnished welcome entertainment for two generations. As a magician Herrmann was without an equal, but it was not alone his cleverness in this line that his popularity was wholly due. He possessed a most attractive stage personality, which with his graceful gestures and quick repartee instantly won his audience.

The heyday of the conjurer's art appears to have passed with the death of Alexander Herrmann, for of late years magic has lost its grip on the people. Grown-ups and juveniles no longer marvel at the flower beds that burst into bloom from the air, at a wave of the magician's wand. The dark witchery of beautiful maidens levitated without visible support, of spirit cabinets and vanishing cards and cornucopias of paper that needed but the touch of the wind to overflow with roses, is witching no longer.

The many "properties" used by magicians in doing their tricks have been made for years in one little shop in New York. Twenty years ago the place was doing a wonderful business. In those days it was nothing for one of the star magicians to pay a thousand dollars or more for a new illusion. Kellar's famous "Blue Room" illusion cost $2,500 to put together. The paraphernalia that Herrmann carried with him on tour cost $75,000. His trunks alone cost $5,000.

Not alone is the decline of magic due to the departure of the great leaders among the magicians. It is also, in a measure, due to the fact that the master inventors of magic are dead and their places have not been filled.

One of the greatest inventors of them all was De Kolta, who passed away some fifteen years ago. The flying fish was his, as was his greatest illusion, the cocon. This was first presented abroad, and then, in 1897, brought to New York. This was the master illusion of them all. The magician pasted a plain sheet of paper across a frame, drew a picture of a silk worm upon it, and then smashed the paper. Out of the hole burst a mammoth cocoon. With a movement he rent the cocoon asunder, and from its depths emerged a great butterfly—his wife.

When Herrmann, with his magnetic personality, was in the field, his mere appearance on the stage gripped the imagination of the audience. They always were ready to expect anything from Herrmann. To see Herrmann perform a new trick was to set all the others in the profession, big and little, to trying their hand at it. The famous magician was most jealous of his secrets. When he occupied a theater none of the stagehands was permitted to come close to his paraphernalia. Some of his greatest illusions died with him, for even his wife, who assisted him in their performances, was not fully acquainted with the inner workings of the feats of magic.

There are still magicians appearing on the American vaudeville stage, and some of them are excellent performers. But virtually all of them are sleight-of-hand artists rather than great illusionists as were their more famous predecessors of a generation ago.

PROHIBITION

To The Editor: The articles written by Mr. Ambler on Prohibition give us some very wonderful ideas of how he would run the country were he a lawmaker, but his so-called arguments are void of what people call common sense. He is like a slender elm tree that bends whichever way the wind blows. He makes a great ado of what he calls justice, yet at the same time has a very vague idea of justice. In his second article he writes that "a law to prove of any value to the community must have the support of the people." In his first article he writes: "Personally I would heartily support any measure restricting the indiscriminate sale of liquor." We will take it for granted that he supported such measure before prohibition was enforced, yet why did it not prove satisfactory? It goes to show that while he would have been in favor of such a measure, it would only have been a measure like any other, that the prohibitionists have enforced, but the liquor men have violated.

In his first article he says: "The question of imposing by law a prohibition of the normal habits of the people." He had better say some people that would exclude me, my "clique" as he calls us in his second article.

Mr. Ambler says such a prohibitory law is not only injurious but dangerous in the extreme. Is it more dangerous and injurious than the effects of the license law was? Men, the writer knows of, that were unable to hold a position under the license law, because of their habits, are to-day holding good responsible positions.

Mr. Ambler makes a great deal of the exercising of a right but at the same time does not want to acknowledge the fact that he is already a slave to the habit and cannot control himself against it, but must acknowledge it as his normal habit.

The fact that the prohibition party is contemplating putting into effect a law that will prohibit the sale of liquor is an argument in itself that there is a possibility to live without it, as they themselves wish to prove.

Mr. Ambler says in his second article that "a law to prove of any value to the community must have the support of the people, not their contempt." What about the terms of the armistice with the Germans? Did they sign it with spontaneous desire? Or was it a matter of being forced to meet the demands

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic. A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

At the Supreme Court Sitting here yesterday a motion by the father for the custody of children was made and granted by Hon. Justice Sutherland. Mr. W. P. Clement appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. D. S. Bowly, for the wife of the mover.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AGAIN IS LIKELY.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—The daylight saving bill of last session is practically certain to be renewed when Parliament meets. Inquiry here shows that opposition to the bill, as expected in communications received by the Government, is very slight, much less, as a matter of fact, than before the country had given daylight saving a trial. The opposition from farming communities is much less serious than formerly.

The war has resulted in the employment of hundreds of women in England as commercial travelers, and they are said to be making good in a wide variety of lines such as domestic goods and women's apparel.

It is proposed to convert into a museum for war relics the old school building in Bordentown, N.J., where Clara Barton, the famous Red Cross nurse, taught school in the early years of her career.

Was Found Guilty.

In the case of Rex vs. Harry Stephen of Galt, on a charge of attempted rape, which was heard this morning at the Spring Assizes of the Supreme Court here the defendant was found guilty. Foreman O. Spiers of Galt presenting the jury's verdict. Sentence was pronounced later in the afternoon.

A MOTHER'S WORK.

Mothers as a rule spend so much time in looking after their children and in household work that they overlook the absolute necessity for that rest and relaxation upon which their health depends. The consequence is that soon they find their health breaking down. The daily humdrum of household life as a mother knows it, with hurried meals and family and household cares, quickly thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Then follow headaches, pains in the side and back, swollen limbs, palpitation and a constant tired feeling, and often an inclination to fretfulness. These symptoms are the sign of poor blood, and are the inevitable penalty of overwork and over anxiety in the care of children and the affairs of the household.

Whenever a mother finds her health failing and household duties becoming more than she can comfortably manage; whenever extra demands are made upon her strength, she should adopt the safe and simple expedient of enriching her blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are especially valuable to the nursing mother and the woman worn out with household cares. They renew her blood supply, strengthen her tired limbs, and drive away the headaches and backaches that have made her so miserable. They have restored thousands of despondent women to good health and bright spirits, and will do for you as much as they have done for others if you will give them a fair trial.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Supporter's Disapproval.

An enthusiastic supporter of the city's teams and lover of clean sport has voiced his complaint to the Record about some local men betting heavily against the team of their own town. "And think of it, some of the men who should set the example to the younger supporters and followers of the city's teams, last evening when Woodstock juniors played here were the offenders. That's the most unfortunate side about it," he remarked. "I wish you would draw attention to this and to the opinion of at least of our juniorMMMMMtor of at least one citizen and supporter of our junior team in regard to it," he concluded.

All working men should hear Mayor McBride of Brantford at T. & L. Hall Wednesday evening Ladies invited.

Evidence.

In the Supreme Court this morning the charge of attempted rape against Harry Stephen of Galt was heard. The accused pleaded not guilty. The evidence of seven witnesses was taken after which the Crown and defence legal men and Justice Sutherland addressed the jury. The jury consisted of the following gentlemen: Wendell Clemens, Ephraim Stager, S. Lautenschlager, R. Wandall, George S. Geisel, W.H. Chamberlain, Herb Smith, Wm. Legan, Noah Cressman, Philip Graham, August B. Frank, and Ed. Sass. O. Spiers. The verdict will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Attending Highway conference.

The City is represented at the provincial highway conference in Stratford this afternoon. Those in attendance are Aldermen Lippert, Grab and Utley of the City Council, W.D. Euler, M.P., and Mr. N.M. Davison, president of the Board of Trade.

END THAT COUGH!

Peps will end it! Simply dissolve Peps tablets in your mouth. The Peps forest vapors which are thus released are breathed down to the remotest parts of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing the inflamed membranes and bringing quick relief from that irritating and exhausting cough. Mrs. Luther Brown, of Wilson's Beach, N.B. writes: "For two years I was troubled with a very bad cough. At nights it became worse and I coughed incessantly and could not sleep. I tried every remedy I had ever heard of, but nothing did me any good until I used Peps. Even the first few tablets gave me relief. I continued their use, with the result that my cough has entirely disappeared." These breathable Peps are also unequalled for colds, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and chest and lung troubles. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. All dealers or Peps Co., Toronto.

Mother! Your Child Is Cross, Feverish, From Constipation

If tongue is coated, breath bad, stomach sour, clean liver and bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Kitchener Victors Over Woodstock 4-3

Schnarr Boys Star

Woodstock Lead in First Period Before the biggest crowd at Junior Hockey this year, the local kids were victors over Woodstock by the score of 4-3.

The game was the first between the winners of groups 7 and 8 in the O.H.A. series, between two evenly matched teams as can be seen by the score.

Close checking by both teams featured the evening and occasional breakaways by both sides were witnessed, though few were successful.

In the first period Woodstock appeared almost too much for the locals although the locals netted the first goal of the game after fifteen minutes of play which goes to the credit of the Schnarr boys, Woodstock however came back strong and finished the period with the score of 2-1 in their favor.

The second period saw the local boys obtain the edge on Woodstock, and only the wonderful work of Dunlop in the nets saved the visitors from having a big score netted against them.

Gildner and Trushinski both made sensational trips down the ice but Dunlop was there every time. Again the Schnarr boys proved their worth to the local team Werner the fifteen year old wonder fooled the Woodstock kids time and again, he is a wonderful asset and no doubt, and the combination with his brother was responsible for the period ending 3-2 in the locals favor.

The third period saw Woodstock fighting hard their exhibition of hockey was classy to say the least both teams were evenly matched and the game finished with the locals having a margin of one goal.

The line-up was as follows:

Kitchener	Woodstock
Schnarr, goal	Dunlop
Trushinski, r. defense	King
Gildner, l. defense	Shay
W. Schnarr, center	Trump
Fritz, r. wing	W. Carson
Schnarr, l. wing	F. Carson
Schell, subs	Johnson
House, subs	Debrule
Referee—Tom Munro, London.

NOTES ON THE GAME

Trushinski and Gildner did much to baffle the Woodstock forward men, they formed a stone wall around Schnarr.

The Schnarr boys were again in the limelight, their offensive work was a treat to witness.

Schmaltz played well in the nets, the boy improves with experience.

King on the defensive did well for Woodstock and the Carson brothers are a duplicate of the Schnarr boys but not quite so effective.

Woodstock were accompanied by over three hundred rooters and they helped considerably, the locals will need as much support at Woodstock on Wednesday for the game promises to be a close battle.

Coons and Chinamen figured amongst the Woodstock supporters to say nothing of lots of pretty girls.

T. Munro of London managed the game in a splendid manner and gave full satisfaction to both sides he's the best odd-man we've seen on the ice for some time.

Wednesdays game promises to be a real one and there is no doubt that the locals will have the necessary support they so well deserve.

LEE AT BRANTFORD AND MUCH PLEASED.

Brantford, Feb. 10.—"Knotty" Lee, official organizer of the Canadian-Michigan Baseball League, a dropped into the city at noon.

When seen, "Knotty" looked up towards the clouds, smiled like a son of Erin, and remarked, "no rain to-day, just put it down."

Asked about the circuit, Lee was enthusiastic and stated that he regretted he was not to be in the league himself, as he saw a lot of fun coming this summer.

"Shaughnessy will be in the organization, and with a Canadian team, at that," said "Knotty," but he would say no more. It is thought, however, that the famous Shag will be with Hamilton and the closer he is to Brantford the better.

Mickey Lalonde, the former Toronto catcher, will likely be the Brantford manager. He was with Kansas City last year.

Lee left this afternoon for Toronto. It is the first time on record that he had visited Brantford when there was no rain.

LONDON DEFEATS SIMCOE IN INTERMEDIATE O.H.A.

Simcoe Feb. 10.—Much to the surprise of the casual attendance at the Mason Arms last night, the London Hockey Club took the measure of the locals in an intermediate O.H.A. fixture by 4 to 2. The victory comes the group championship even though they might lose to St. Thomas on Wednesday night.

Sutter in the nets for the visitors apparently absorbed some of Mayo's tactics which the latter used in the game in London using the falling and kneeling style which so effectively saved Simcoe.

Simcoe's chances suffered by their players' wanton actions which soon found them serving time in the penalty box, while the visitors "stuck to the ship" with flying colors.

ENGLISH CRITIC CLAIMS BASEBALL IS SLOW GAME.

An English authority on sports appears to have discovered an outstanding defect in baseball. Among other things he says the game is entirely too slow and blames the pitcher for taking too much time to decide whether he will throw the ball to the batter or to first base.

The following is part of the criticism of a recent game, which appeared in the London Field:

"The American pitcher, in a match against Canada, was so deliberate in his methods as to be a subject of wonder not unshared with admiration. He always walked to his place with extreme slowness, generally looked around three or four times if a man was at first base, raised his hands as if about to throw, dropped them and twiddled the ball several times in his glove, swung his arms in a windmill fashion, and, finally, when one had almost given him up in despair, threw the ball at the batter—if he did not throw it toward the man at the base.

"Several times he began his duties by holding the ball at arm's length and standing motionless for some seconds after which he went through the usual performance. Once or twice he altered his mind, signalled to the catcher, met him half way, had a consultation, and went to give instructions to a fieldman before getting to work. Yet 'baseball' enthusiasts did not seem to recognize that there was anything slow about these things."
