OF LONDON ELECTION

Polling on Friday, 26th February,

The People's Candidate.

ONLY THE RICH CAN NOW RUN

The main lesson to be learnt from the pye-elections is that a candidate to stand up against the whole force of the trade restriction managers turned in upon pasticular constituency must be a man of means, or he is cut of it.

The expensive Franchise Act was the greatest backset to the liberties of the people which the Tories have succeeded in accomplishing in this century.

Mr. Gibson, of Lincoln, is a wealthy Liberal, and he looked after the lists at great expense. He succeeded in increasing his majority four-fold. So it was in Peel In Halifax organization reduced the majority 650, and in Kingston by 400.

Take Dr. Wilson, of St. Thomas. Single handed he could not stand the terrible expense of a revision. The result was that in nearly every section numbers of Liberals were left off and Conservatives added wrongfully.

Then the expense of the contest is greater than men of small means can stand.

The Liberals of London had the voters list printed and in the hands of their committees long before the official list was issued at all. That could only be accomplished by the most perfect organization and knowledge of the lists, and then only at great expense. Fortunately Mr. Hyman and his friends n London are ready and willing to see that a fair election is had here. These men understand the tactics of the enemy, and their own welfare. meet and circumvent them when that would be impossible without the necessary subscriptions to see the work was properly attended to. It has been attended to.

The city canvass has been completed. It is no guess work matter. It has been done with business-like regularity. The result is most gratifying to every lover of justice, fair play and progress.

Leaving to our opponents every doubtful voter Mr. Hyman has the pledged support of men whose "word is their bond," suf ficient to give him a majority far exceeding

THE VOTERS' LIST STUFFING. The pretense of Mr. Carling's advocates that the attempted ballot-stuffing was resorted to as a mere pastime for the lawyers is the Why, to keep these 230 begus votes on the list, which seven judges, in two superior courts, here decreed should not be there, It was a disgraceful attack on the rights of freemen, for no one could allege that one always find harbors that want repairs, man in the whole 230 had any more right to vote in the ensuing election than has the President of President o

President of Brazil. Why, then, was all this money expended in the fruitless effort to do that which cannot, in equity, be defended?

did not lend assistance for nothing.
No; the lawyers, on the backs of whom the would-be ballot-box stuffers now try to unload all blame, went into the enterprise as a business transaction. The men responsible were the family compact that had resolved to steal a victory, if it could not be gained fairly.

In view of the developments, and of the chagrin expressed on all hands by these men as soon as the courts had unanimously voters' lists last fall, and now claimed as

are undemocratic. They could not be more opposed to the rights and interests of men of moderate eans if they were deliberately arranged with that view.

Under our present arrangements, no workingman has a chance to sit in Parliament, yet why should not the workingmen be represented in Parliament along with other walks of life who would make really representatives, and who have as nuch right as the rich to a share in what ever honors are going.

But with such infamous conspiracies of the statute book as the Franchise Act, under which it requires a little fortune to get a fair list, and under which the young en seeking the franchise are browbeaten and insulted, workingmen and others of oderate means, however excellent their abilities, are deprived of a fair chance to rise. Mr. Hyman will go to Ottawa to repeal Let every person, whether Liberal, fairminded Conservative, or ordinarily neutral, cast a quiet ballot for Mr. Hyman on Fri-

No man, no boss, can tell how the vote Let every worker in the city go forward to the polls on Friday next, and vote as his conscience dictates. There have been mild attempts at intimidation on the part of men who think that they have a right to look upon an employe as a chatiel. The best way to resent such an interference is to quietly go to the polls, and vote against the view of the would-be autocrat. What London needs is freer trade relations, extensions of her existing factories-as would certainly take place under reciprocity-and the construction of new ones. The London workers know that the combine system decreases the purchasing power of the people at large, and thus while enabling a few to make large profits, keeps the man y poor.

Let us all vote to keep our boys employed at home. The combines will look after

If the supporters of Mr. Carling had confidence in the result of the city election, they would not whistle so much now. There would be no need of bands and boys parading for effect. They may turn loose the whole brood of Loodlers into the country constituencies and carry some of them, with the assistance of stuffed voters' lists, but against the Liberal organization in London, backed as it is by the intelli gent mechanic vote, they have a hopeless ask, and they know it. Let them whistle away. On Friday night the London Liberals will shout.

LONDON'S PRIVILEGE AND DUTY. London, the center of the great Liberal West, declared a year ago decisively in favor of freedom of trade on this continent. MORE BLUFF AND MORE DIS-HONESTY.

The Court of Queen's Bench unanimously lecided that the Liberal notices of objection o bad Conservative votes were good.

The Court of Appeal now decide the same

Mr. Carling in his address claims that he only wants an election by "fair means," Why, then, did he seek to have 230 people who had no right to vote retained upon the list in this city? Does he seek election by the votes of people not entitled to vote? That he does he has made clear. does he or his committee care for "fair

These people have no votes, and no decent man knowing that he was not entitled to vote would tender his ballot. Mr. Carling's friends are demoralized and beaten, but to nake a show they now have given notice of appeal to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court won't be heard of in the matter till after the election, but to keep up the drooping courage of their supporters pretence of further appeal will be made.

To what straits has the Conservative party London been driven when they are attempting such outrages upon commo ecause they have lost all hope of obtain ing a majority of the votes entitled to be ast and lost all sense of decency at the same time. The Free Press, a few weeks ago, was ashamed of the dirty work, and has said that the decision in favor of the Liberals was "in accordance with justice and fair play," and again has said that it was glad to have these votes off the list, as its friends did not depend upon them. But they have to do the work of the machine and further continue the farce carried on by the inside wirepullers. We tell our readers that the present list is far more favorable to Mr. Hyman than the last.

THE CASKET FACTORY AND RECI-PROCITY.

For five years or more, an implement factory in this city remained idle. It was fitted up with the finest machinery, and the whole was again and again offered at a price equal to about the original cost of the building, but owing to the limited market in Canada no one desired to go into the

The "N. P." seemed powerless to find tenant for it, any more than for the vacant implement factories in Sarnia, Chatham and elsewhere.

But a few enterprising citizens, obtaining control of the Ridgetown casket factory have shut it up, and brought the supplies

The story now told is that but for the 35 per cent. duty on caskets, there would be no casket factory here. No such fate would befall the enterprise f we had reciprocity with the United States. There is a casket factory in Hamilton, and the chief owner of that enterprise has again and again assured the writer that reciprocity with the United States, and wastly increase his business by the deal.

If in Hamilton, why not in London !

The question is answered by Mr. John Ferguson, chief promoter and financial backer of the new casket factory in Lon-Mr. Hyman and of the trade policy which he indorses, as indeed are all the furniture manufacturers in London except one, and he is known as Mr. F. A. Fitzgerald, chief of the oil combination. Even he, less than five years ago, stated in an interview with · Free Press reporter:

Reporter-Are you in favor of a reci-Reporter—Are you in layor of a reci-procity tariff?
Mr. Fitzgerald—If our American neigh-bors would admit the goods manufactured in Canada into their markets free of duty, I would be in favor of admitting their goods into the Demhion. Under reciprocity the casket factory will not only remain in London but vestly extend its operations. The Free Press alleges that Judge Davis olumn, under large-type headings, to the effect that the name of the Rev. T. Clement Oliver, one of the colored pastors of the city, was placed irregularly on Mr. Hyman' omination paper.

What will our readers say when we tell them that every statement respecting the natter in question is absolutely untrue? It appears that the entirely untruthful tatements in the Free Press respecting the Rev. Mr. Oliver are the work of Mr. Lam bert Payne, one of Mr. Carling's secre taries, who seems to be temporarily in charge of the newspaper literature end o the campaign on the Conservative side.

Eisewhere in this issue, by sworn attests tion, the short-lived slander is knocked over completely, and that which was in tended to injure Mr. Hyman will only increase the number of those who will not tote for Mr. Carling.

A GOOD-NATURED CONTEST. Let the good nature which has so far haracterized the contest be continued until the finish.

We have no objection to a keen election we rather like to see it; but there can be nergy and system, and determination, and at the same time courtesy and good nature, nd a remembrance that after the election we have still to live and trade together. We think our citizens on both sides

THE ELECTIONS ON SATURDAY.

The Conservatives recaptured East Hastings and South Ontario on Saturday. East Hastings was carried by the Conervatives uninterruptedly from Confederaion till 1887, when the late Mr. Burdette carried it by his strong personal influences, and held it by small majorities till his leath, a short time since. South Ontario s a less staple constituency. In 1887 Mr. mith (Conservative) carried it by a majority of 187, and last March Mr. Davidson as victorious with a majority of 33. Defective voters' lists, which were kept back till the eleventh hour in both constituencies, strongly demoralized the riends of trade freedom. If our friends in hese country ridings had the enormous sums of money needed to get fair play on he revision of the voters' lists, as carrie out under the infamous Franchise Act, hey would make a much better showing. No rest should be given to Parliament either reverts to the simple lists pro vided by the municipal authorities, or establishes a simple system of residential uffrage on the one man one vote principle.

Mr. Harcourt, in his Ontario budget speech, admitted that the sales of timber limits last year were the best yet made. How does this tally with the Grit cry that the country is going to the dogs commercially ?—[London Free Press.

The "Grits" do not cry that the country 'is going to the dogs commercially," but they do assert that a vast improvemen could take place in our trade, and you nobody be hurt. One reason why timber sells so well is because there is, in great measure, free entry for it into the United

BYE-ELECTIONS TO-MORROW. Three bye-elections to fill vacancies in the House of Commons and the Ontario Legislature take place to-morrow. In West Huron the Commons election takes place, Mr. M. C. Cameron and Mr. Patterson, of Windsor, being the candidates. A most determined and unscrupulous attempt is being made to wrest the seat from Mr. Cameron, who, being an un-compromising enemy of wrongdoing, is cordially hated by the men who have recently been exposed at Ottawa, and against in the coming session of Parliament. It is to be hoped that the reputable electors of West Huron will be able to combat the imported forces and return their old member. In North Renfrew the late member was Conservative, but the members of that party have not put up a candidate in this contest, and two Liberals are left to fight tout. This will be a Liberal gain. There is a lively contest in progress at Kingston, and it is among the probabilities also. Their candidate (Mr. Harty) is an able man. If the rules regulating Canadian elections it me ruies regulating Canadian elections were strict as those that govern contests between trotting horses, the Ministry at Ottawa would be ruled off the track for foul play.—[Toronto Telegram, Independent-Canservative.

Witness the treatment of Mr. Trow, the Liberal candidate for South Perth. He was unseated in October, but being a useful Liberal M.P. and whip in the House his election has been kept back for months. Election day has just been named, and the effect is to keep Mr. Trow out of his seat for weeks after Parliament has assembled. A crowd that resorts to such despicable tactics does not merit the support of honest men.

"Yes, I am a Carling man," was the reply.

"That is a remarkable thing, as your name appears on Mr. Hyman's nomination paper. It was sworn before the returning officer that you signed your name, 'Rev. T. Clement Oliver, minister.'"

Clement Oliver, minister."

"I did not do so," was the emphatic reply. "Two men came to my house and asked me to sign a paper for Mr. Hyman. I told them I was a Carling man and would not do so. I also told them I had not taken the oath of allegiance, and could not, therefore, vote; but if I did vote it would be for Mr. Carling."

"Then how came your name on Mr. Hyman's nomination paper."

Hyman's nomination paper?"
"It was put there by someone. I did not sign it, and gave my absolute refusal to have it put there. The whole thing is an intrigue." Rev. Mr. Oliver is the pastor of the B. M. E. Church. He is beloved by his flock and respected by all who know his integrity of character. No wonder then this reverend minister of the gospel and his friends feel strongly that this gross, lying misrepresentation and miserable ex-pedient should be corrected ! It was for the purpose of ascertaining the truth and allowing the reverend gentleman to set himself aright in public opinion that an ADVERTISER reporter called at his residence on Grey street this morning. He was courteously received by the easter, whose indignant denial of the pastor, whose indignant denial printed fabrication shown him is already meried the ADVERTISER man. "The Free Press reporter," replied Rev. Mr. Oliver, "pulled out a piece of paperwhat it was I do not know-and asked me how it was I had signed that. I told him I had not signed it, because I knew that the only document I attached my signature to was Mr. Hyman's nomination paper, which I did at the request of an intimate friend of

"Then, Mr. Clement, the story to the effect that two men came to your house, that they asked you to sign a paper for Mr. Hyman, and that you gave an absolute refusal, telling them that you were Carling man, is as false as the rest, is it ! "Yes," said the reverend gentleman, "I said no such thing." Mr. John Stevenson, a well-known and highly respected citizen, and member of the B. M. E. Church, happened to be in the whom many serious charges will be made room when the ADVERTISER reporter called. "I was standing beside Rev. Mr. Oliver," said he, "when the reporter approached him Sunday night. I heard all that passed between them, and I can say that the article in the Free Press is a base invention, and that what Mr. Oliver tells you now is true. We all know it is a despicable political dodge; but it will fail in its object. Free Press, ever since it found that we colored voters have been elmost unanimously supporters of Mr. Hyman, has been slander latest insult to our paster, we will know GROCERIES, how to resent on election day."

Continuing, Rev. Mr. Oliver disclaimed any political partisanship. He had previously decided to take no part in politic whatever and though his name was on the list he did not intend to vote. It ill became a minister of the gospel, he thought, to mix himself up in such affairs, as some to mix himself up in such affairs, as some of his congregation would very rightly be displeased and he would be loath to create contention in the church.

He had not so much fault to find with the report of the sermon, though he said it was colored and distorted to meet the views of the paper which published it. His address could not be construed as aiming side or party, except that he touched strongly on the disgrace of having it declared through the public press that the colored citizens of London could be bought with pigs' feet and beer, which

The decision of the Court of Appeal yesterday striking off the London voters' lists 230 bogus names placed thereon by the Tories makes the election of Mr. Hyman sure by a large majority. The Free Press is crying out to its friends not to waver at this unexpected shock, as these names were not counted in the estimate of Carling's projective. The statement is altogether too not counted in the estimate of Chings majority. The statement is altogether too thin. Why did the Tory wire-pullers try so hard to get the names retained on the list if they were not required? London can now be counted among the safe constituencies redeemed from the enemy.

The London Free Press is posing as a The London Free Press is posing as a temperance organ these days. It is advocating the claims of Mr. Carling, the brewer, to the temperance vote, as against Mr. Hyman, who appears to have the confidence of the temperance people. One would think this a bad job, but the Free Press pegs away as cheerily as Mark Tapley. When it comes to attacking the municipal and temperance record of Mr. Hyman, the Liberal candidate, the Free Press is wasting its powder. Press is wasting its powder.

WILLIAMSFORD.—The school sections are laid out square. The one section has a good school house that cost $1,000, but now the ratepayers of the section with no school house have petitioned the township council to alter said sections and lay them out the long way and thus throw the good school useless. If the township council can split the section, who can claim the school house? The other section has no school at all. Ans.—The ratepayers of the section with the school house, are entitled to claim it, the matter when not agreed to section with the school house, are entitled to claim it, the matter when not agreed to to be settled by arbitation under the statute. Can a Protestant support a Roman Catholic separate school when most convenient? ANS.—No. Can the township council alter boundaries of school sections when the majority of the rate-payers is against it? ANS.—Yes; subject to an appeal to the county council. SARNIA.—There being no counciler the road to look after the wants of an Sanna.—There being no councilor on the road to look after the wants of an old lady, who is kept by the council, A was appointed by a resolution of said council to get whatever she needed, his order to be accepted by said council before paid, which A does for one year: at the end of such time A put In a bill of $2 for time loss in getting wood, which bill the new council refers to the ex-reeve. The ex-reeve says he is out of office, and that the present council can deal with it. Is A's claim a just one, and, if so, who has the right to settle it, the present council or the ex-reeve, and what steps should A take to get it? ANS.—The claim may be a just one, but was not authorized by the resolution as stated by you. The settlement of it is a matter for the present council. The ex-reeve is not personally liable. His certificate of opinion might guide the council in dealing with it, but he is not bound to give it, and upon the facts stated the council is not legally bound to pay the claim.

church raised for foreign missions about £23,000; it has opened a new mission to the Chinese on the Pacific Coast, and is contemplating a mission to the Jews in Palestine. Hunan opened.

Dr. Griffith John, the vetteran missionary to China, is full of jubilation at the recent imperial edict opening the Province of Hunan to Christian teaching. He says that its people are brave, manly and straightforward, occupying the very highest positions as civil and military officers. They are proud, exclusive and anti-foreign to a degree extraordinary even in China. But now that the door is opened they will be accessible, and when once converts are won and a footing gained there the advance will be rapid.

Strong Words Nothing with more of truth and True. in it, or holding truth which is put in a finer way, has been uttered for along time than President Storr's strong words at the Pittsfield, Mass., meeting of the A. B. C. F. M., in which he said: "It is a vastly critical time in the progress of Christ's kingdom, with all the world uprising before us, with wealth enough and menough to meet the need, with only the enough to meet the need, with only t spirit to use them wanting. Let us set it in our minds that the world is not to it in our minds that the world is not to be converted to God by good people sitting in pews and listening to sermons, even the best, or sitting in rocking-chairs and reading good books. The work is vast, difficult, possible—a work that calls for the labor of enthusiasm, for prayer and tears, for sweatdrops, and perhaps for blood-drops. Contributions of money are not enough. Our very life must be in it, in the temper of the divine self-sacrifice. But what a privilege and joy thus to work in it, with God himself and all the saintliest spirits of the earth, now and aforetime! Is it not the grandest testimony to the magnificence of grandest testimony to the magnificence of human nature that God made us co-workers not in the primary work of creation, but in the far grander work of redeeming the world? In this work we can make our lives luminous in this world, and bright forever with a celestial glory in the next." Items of Interest. The American Board has put up $1,000,000 as its goal in annual receipts for foreign missions. It hopes to reach this mark by constant advances, and as the missionary impulse grows stronger in the Congregational churches. The Methodists have fixed their churches. The Methodists have fixed their high-water mark at $1,250,000 for home and foreign missions, and they will reach it. The Presbyterian Church has proposed $1,000,000 for foreign missions as its aim. It is creeping up slowly to that point, having contributed over $00,000 last year.

The Salvation Army has secured a strong foothold in Buenos Ayres. During the financial troubles it was able to help thousands of men thrown out of work to food and shelter. It has a thriving farm colony, and is training Spanish-speaking cadets.

The Methodists in San Francisco lave had, for five years, a Japanese mission, an outgrowth of their Chinese mission in the same city. There were 175 Japanese members a year ago, and their church is known among themselves as the Take-a-seat church.

guestion; "yes, I not only want reciprocity but I would like to go further and get free trade."

Mr. Trebilcock is a wholesale and manufacturing jeweler. His specialty is gold rings, and in this line he has probably the largest establishment in Canada, employing about 25 skilled hands.

"I'll tell you why I desire reciprocity," said he. "Once or twice a year I have to run down as far as the Maritime Provinces, at considerable personal expense, to secure orders to keep my factory running. The namber of jobbers in Canada is small, because the market is small, and to add to the difficulty that market extends over guch a vast area, that it requires a great deal of time and money to cover to. Detroit and Chicago I could get more orders in a day or two than I could in Canada in a month. Why? Because there is an immense market and so many large jobbers to supply it; and above all because I can SELL MY GOODS AS CHEAF AND IN MANY CASES CHEAFER TO THEM ITAM THEIR OWN MAUFACTURES. It seems hard to me when I go to Windsor that I cannot gross the river to Detroit, where I could gather in such a harvest but for the unnatural barrier of the tariff wall.

"Well, why don't you go to the where I could gather in such a harvest but for the unnatural barrier of the tariff wall.

"'Well, why don't you go to the States?" some of my Conservative friends say. Now, isn't that patriotic advice to give a young manufacturer who is Canadian-born and wishes to live in his own country, who has established a business here and gives employment to 25 people, and who is interested in the prosperity of his native city! Is that sort of advice—coming as it does from those who profess to be so loyal to their cenutry—going to help build up that country.—And having established my business here, I need not point out the great outlay I would have to make in removing it to the other side. I have all along hoped that unrestricted reciprocity would be brought about, and I am still convinced that it is but a matter of a short time before that policy will triumph; but if I thought it was indefinitely postponed, I would remove my business to the United States. Already I have had good offers from the other side in thas direction."

"Do you think London would be a good business center in the event of trade freedom?"

"Do 1? Why, London is one of the very business center in the event of trade freedom??

"Do I? Why, London is one of the very best commercial points on a the continent. Look at its geographical position. It is midway between the great markets of the east and the west. We have Buffalo, New York and all the great trade emporiums of the east on one hand, and Detroit, Chicago and the large western points on the other. We are in the direct line of railway communication with them, and they are easier of access from here than any other locality. As a distributing center London cannot be beaten; NO WONDER OVER 70 PER CENT. OF THE WHOLESALE MERGHANTS of the city are working for a policy that will enable them to derive the full benefit of these advantages. That is one of the considerations which determined me to remain in London and wait until the continental market was 3pen, rather than at present transplant my establishment to an American city, where I would be deprived of these natural agd-antages."

"Do you use the Psano faw material as the manufacturers across the line?"

"Yes; there it is. I use $20 gold piecess; so do they. An ounce of fine silver costs me $1 03; it costs them the same, I bring into play her magnificent resources which are now dormant for want of such a stimulant as reciprocity would prove.

"I don't care what party it is, as long as trade freedom is among its principles; and as Mr. Hyman is working along those lines he'll get my vote and he should receive the support of every workingman and of every manufacturer who knows that the secret of success is not in a limited market and cramped action, but in the broad sphere of unlimited operations, where he has a fair field and no favor."

One of the horses, a registered thoroughbred mare, by Lord Randolph, valued at $300, sustained a severe injury to one of its hind legs by coming in contact with the whiffletrees.

It is stated that the G. T. R. intend erecting a handsome depot in Stratford at an early date. The building is to be of red pressed brick, and will be built on the property where the grain houses are at present located. The depot will be built under the same style as the Union depot at Toronto. The present depot will be torn down and tracks laid for sidings.

"A LIVE INDUSTRY."

The Globs Works To Be Put to Use-Proparations for the Establish-ment of the New Casket Factory-Reliable Prometers.

ment of the New Casket

Factory-Reliable

Promotors.

The old Globe works at the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets has at last been rescued from its long period of inactivity and is about to become the seat of a real live industry—if the manufacture of burial caskets can so be called. That this fine building is to be put to use is a matter of general gratification. It has been purchased by the new company and Mr. J. Gourlay, of Toronto, has begun to put in the machinery. Operations will start as soon as the new boller comes from the establishment of Leonard Bros. The plant of the Ontario Casket Company, Ridgetown, has been purchased by Mesars. Ferguson, Watson & Coles, tho gentlemen who are forming the company here, and early next month 50 employes will be brought to Leondon from Ridgetown and Toronto, most of them heads of familles. This is a triumph for London's natural advantages as a trade and distributing center. Mesars. F. W. Coles and R. Watson have for nearly twenty years been connected with the firm of R. Philp & Co., Toronto, and during the last eight years have been partiners. Mr. Watson had charge of the manufacturing department and Mr. Coles was on the road, and is widely known throughout the Dominion. My. John Ferguson, of this city, needs no introduction to the London public; his record as a man of integrity and business success is before them. All three gentlemen are, therefore, thoroughly practical, and as their prosperity will react to the city's benefit, all desire that they will flourish in their new venture, which has capital, enterprise and skill at the back. Undertakers' supplies of every character will be manufactured in addition to caskets.

THE Toronto Telegram pertinently remarks: "Solemnly indeed does the London F ree Press urge the temperance people to smite down Hyman and boost up a statesman whose name is writ large on a million pale ale and lager beer bottles."

WOOD FOR IMPLEMENTS.

Where Canadians Lose Money Through Lack of Reciprocity.

An Experienced Lumberman's View of the Situation.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I often wonder at the stupidity and selfishness of some of our Tory manufacturers, and I believe that many of them approve of the Liberal platform regarding free trade with our neighbors across the tine, only they are so bound up to their party, and no one is so blind as those who do not wish to see.

I will give you an instance regarding what I allude to, which interests the farmers to a certain extent as well as lumbermen, more especially those who deal in hardwood, which is largely used in the manufacture of farming implements. In the course of trade the writer has had correspondence with and also visited lately some of the large Canadian implement factories regarding prices paid by them for binder pole white ash and was told that they could not pay more than $21 or $22 per thousand feet at shipping, and that if they did not procure it for this figure they would use cheaper lumber, which they could buy for about one half the price. Now, as such quality of ash as is suited for poles cannot be sold at shippoints less than $25 per 1,000, the lumberman must look to the American market, where they have no difficulty in getting $25 at shipping point for same kind of stock, and, as the Americans have to pay $2 per 1,000 duty and $4 or $5 more for freight, the lumber costs them from $8 to $9 more per 1,000 the name than facturers they will then own up that it is because the American has the larger market of 65,000,000, while the Canadian market is scarcely 5,000,000. But after all they are afraid to have that market opened up, although the Americans are paying much higher wages, and $6 or $9 more per 1,000 for Canadian imber, sold under their nose, and shipped past their doors to American manufacturers. How will then own up that it is because the American has the larger market of 65,000,000, which would amount to a very large item. As with all kinds of lumber so it is with all other Canadian products. But they don't want to see, Yours, truly, junction to restrain the holders from sering the stock.

The Hynes Terra Cotts and Brick Company, in Torente, became incorporated nearly four years ago with a nominsl capital of $200,000. Of this sum, only a little over $30,000 has been paid up. For some time past the company has found trade exceedingly dull, and it has been considered best that the company should wind up. Next week a meeting will be held for the purpose of appointing a liquidator. It is thought that creditors will be paid in full.—[Monetary Times.

By a Daring Train Robbery on the Central.

The Bravado and Nerve of Jesse James Finds a Counterpart na Express Messenger Shot-Consummate Goolman of the Marander-Mis Desporate Fight with His Furners, and Final Capture by a Sherif's Fesse.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 21.—The shooting of an express measurer on a Central Hudson train, she rifting of a valuable safe, the flight of the robber on the engine of another train, from which he drow the crew at the point of a revolver, a running fight from the engine cab for miles chased by another engine filled with railway men, and the final capture of the desperado by a sheriff posse in aswamp after a wild pursuit across the country are some of the sensational features of one of the most desperate attempts at train robbery that ever occurred in this State.

Train No. 3 on the Central Hudson is known as the American Express Company's special. It runs every day in the year between New York and Buffalo and carries only goods and property shipped by that company. Nearly all the cars are run through to Chicago and contain the most valuable express matter. One carriage is known as through to Chicago and contain the most valuable express matter. One carriage is known as

THF "MONEY" CAR, and in it is sent money from the United States Treasury for Western banks, as well as money in process of exchange between the banks of New York and the west. The load of wealth sent out from New York on this train is usually greater on Saturday than on other days, and often amounts to mere than $1,000,000, in addition to jewelry and other valuables. One of the most trusted messengers of the company, and sometimes several, are placed in charge of this car, and so great is the secrecy observed in regard to the car and its contents that often the train crew do not know in which car the money is carried. Daniel T. Melnerny was in charge of the money car on the trip Saturday night. The train was made up of eight express cars and one day coach for the accommodation of the regular train crew. Only one messenger was assigned to the money car, as the work of billing was light. The other cars had two passengers. The train left Syracuse at 5 o'clock this morning in charge of Conductor Emil Laass and was drawn by engine 692, with Caleb Cherry as engineer. The coach was in the rear of the train and the money car just shead. When the train was near Weedsport the conductor, who was in the coach with his two trainmen, thought he heard the air whistle sound very faintly. It was enough to arouse him to the belief that SOMETHISG WAS WRONO in the express car. Going out on the platform of the coach, he climbed on the rail, and, looking through the hole where the hell cord comes through, he saw the upper part of a man, whose face below the eyes was concealed by a red flannel mask. The messenger he could not see. He went back to set the air brakes and called his two trainmen. The three stood leaning out from the platform looking forward along the sides of the express car. Suddenly a man's face appeared at the side door of the express car.

ANOTHER DUEL ENSUED,
the shot gun taking part in the fight this time. But no one was hurt in either battle. About two miles beyond the robber found his engine's steam was giving out, so he jumped off at a cross road and started across the country, going south.
He managed to terrorize a farmer into letting him have a horse and rode on about two miles further south. Here he procured a horse and cutter, persuading the owner, a German farmer, to entrust him with them by firing on him.

much-wanted Oliver Cartis Ferry, who robbed Express Messenger Moore near Usica last fail.

THE ATTEMPTED HOBERT.

The story of the attemps at robbery as far as can be gathered is this: Cross boarded the train when it pulled out of Syracuse and climbed on top of the express car. Hewas provided with a looked rope. Fastening the hook in the slight cornice of the roof on one side of the car, he let himself down on the other, and resting his toes on the ledge that runs around the car he looked in the glass of the side door and saw the express messenger in front of one of the safes which was open, making up his bills. He smashed the glass with his revolver, covered the messenger and shouled to him to hold up his hands. Instead of doing this McInerny reached for the signal cord with one hand and for his revolver with the other. A bullet smashed the hand on the cord, but not before it had given the signal that aroused the conductor. McInerny fired on the robber and put a bullet through his coat. Then the robber shot the messenger twice—once in the right leg and once in the left temple. He climbed into the car, and a desperate struggle took place which did not end until the train was stopped for the first time near Weedsport. It is evident that the robber had olimbed out on the top of the cars and remained there through the stop at Port Byron until the train reached Lyons. So far as can be learned the robber secured absolutely nothing, for which the company can thank the readiness of Conductor Lass and the pluck of Messenger McInerny.

The French Cabinet Crisis.

Paris, Feb. 21.-President Carnot held consultations to-day with M. Constans, Bourgeoise, Say, Meline and others in regard to the formation of a Cabinet. The opinion grows that the best way out of the difficulty will be found in the dissolution of Cruelty of German Officers.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—A non-commissioned officer at Ulm named Koher has been sen tenced to two years' imprisonment and to degradation for drilling recruits clothed only in their shirts when in a fit of drunkenness. A sergeant arrested at Ulm on a charge of cruelty has committed suicide.

A Panic at aShow.

It was a startling surprise to the world, in view of the fact that 14,000,000 people were starving in the Volga region, that Russia should refuse official help from other countries. Mme. Novikoff, a lady of high social position, explains this singular attitude from a Russian point of view. "The Russians," says Mme. Novikoff, "not only share our Government's views upon the matter, but are thankful that it realizes so thoroughly the feelings of our country at large. It international intercourse the predominant principle is that of give and take. Anybody who cares to study history may get easily convinced that Russia has always been particularly anxious to remember every kind turn done to her. She could never 'startle the world with her ingratitude.' On the contrary, she not only invariably returned the capital of gratitude, but willingly added a large percentage for every loan. Unaided, she remains quite free from every obligation. To become a friend and ally of Russia means to strengthen one's own position and to guarantee one's future. Ingratitude implies a meanness of character incompatible with our moral standard. Those who thoroughly understand what gratitude means are naturally hesitating in accepting help.

"But private charity has quite a different meaning. Separate individuals sympathizing with our misfortune and sharing with us everything they can, are doing a Christian work for which every Russian is heartily obliged. Private committees are founded all over Russia, The central St. Petersburg committee is presided over by our heir-apparent, and the Moscow committee by our emperor's sister-in-law—the greatly-beloved Grand Duchess Serge. London, Feb. 21.—During a magic lantern performance for children on Friday evening in a building situated on Gray's Inn read, W. C., a lamp used in the entertainment was accidentally turned over and broken. The oil ignited at once and in an instant the place caught fire. A panic ensued. A number of the children were knocked down and trampled upon in the awful struggle. It was found that twenty of the children had been more or less seriously injured, and fears are entertained that two of them will die.

The Roof Fell.

Lishon, Feb. 21.—A girder supporting the roof of the customs shed, which had a span of 450 by 150 feet, fell yeaterday with a most tremendous crash, carrying with it the entire floor. The whole interior of the building is filled with a shapeless mass of twisted girders, heaps of glass and corrugated roofing. Hundreds of workmen were at once put to work to clear away the debris. It is not known yet whether there was anybody hurt by the falling roof.

London, Feb. 21.—In the famous Russell livorce suit the court refused to grant divorce suit the court refused to grant Lady Russell's petition, and she was ordered to pay the costs. Lady Russell applied to the court to compel her husband to pay her solicitor's charges and the costs of the court, amounting to £350. The application was made on the claim that she was without means. The court refused to grant the application.

British Troops Hemmed In.

British Troops Hemmed In. SINGAPORE, Feb. 21 .- Fort Sadon, in Upper Burmah, which is garrisoned by a force of British troops, is surrounded by force of British troops, is surrounded by 500 Kachuns. The latter have made repeated attacks on the stronghold, but so far have been repulsed. Nineteen men of the British force have been either killed or wounded. The garrison is closely besieged by the enemy, who have completely blocked the road leading to the fort. Ten Sepoys have been massacred while on their way statisher. A cable dispatch from Guatemala says that the revolt led by Enriquez has been suppressed and that Enriquez himself is dead.

Explosion in a Coal Mine.

London, Feb. 21.—There was an explosion of gas on Saturday in the Craig coal pit, near Aberdare, four miles from Merthyr Tydvil, in Southern Wales. One miner was killed and ten were seriously wounded. It is feared that some of the injured men will die. The accident was due to the use of lamps with naked flames by the men at their work. They had been cautioned to use the safety lamp, but paid no attention to the warning. The result was that when a sufficient quantity of gas had accumulated in the mine it was excluded by the fire from the lamps. At Deadwood, S. Blaine, jun., with the custody of her child and $1,000 to pay expenses of the suit and $100 a month as permanent alihad accumulated in the mine it Looking Out for the Guelph Funds. London, Feb. 21.—It is rumored that the Duke of Cumberland has assented to mony.

Three families of 28 persons have been poisoned at Mount Chase, near Bangor, Me., probably by the use of baking soda which had been kept a long time in a tin box. One death ensued and others are seriously ill.

Mrs. Harrison gave a public reception en Saturday afternoon which attracted more people to the White House than ever assembled there before on a similar occasion. Sixty-one hundred people entered the mansion.

Great Storms in Great Britain.

London, Feb. 21.—The weather remains cold. The upper reaches of the Thames are frozen. In North Wales 10,000 quarrymen have been thrown out of work by the snow, that has fallen to a great depth in that part of the country. All outdoor work in the ship yards at Hartlepool, county of Durham, has been stopped, owing to the yards being buried in snow. The cessation of work in the ship yards renders idle 7,000 men. The storm in the midland counties has brought outdoor work to a standstill. The mail service between Great Britain and Ireland has been greatly delayed. Theaters in Hard Luck.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The return of the severe weather, heavy snows and intense severe weather, heavy snows and intense cold is a serious matter for the managers of theatrical enterprises in this city. The continuance of the bad luck that set in with the death of the Duke of Charence and Avondale is greatly affecting the receipts. So desperate is the condition of affairs in the anusement world, at least in certain portions of it, that some managers are considering the advisability of suspending operations in their line until the return of better times. Mr. Thomas Thorne, lesses and manager of the Vaudeville Theater, has already announced the theater will remain closed until the prospect improves.

Wrecked on the Cornish Coast. London, Feb. 21.—A large vessel, name nknown, but which is supposed to be unknown, but which is supposed to be a Spanish steamer has been wrecked off Penzance and it is feared all hands were lost. Brief dispatches teiling of tragic and horrifying scenes which attended the disaster have been received. It is learned that a boat containing six men which had set out from the vessel for the shore was capsized almost immediately in the blinding gale. The boat was next seen bottom upward but none of her crew could be seen except two men. Subsequently both were drowned. Two boats from the wreck and a quantity of wreckage have come ashore.

Ironworkers' Wages Reduced — Tele-graph Operators Get Better Terms— Women's Work in Michigan.

Women's Work in Michigan.

The East Lebanon (Pa.) rolling mill has sotified its employes, 700 in number, that a reduction of wages had become a necessity, and that if they would consent to a reduction the works would be kept running. The men decided that they would not work at a reduction and the mill closed down. The Rio Grande Railroad and its telegraph operators have agreed upon a scale of salaries and the threatened strike is off. An increase in pay has been granted.

The Street Car Brotherhood of Indianapolis at 2 o'clook Sunday morning ordered another strike. The strikers claim the railroad officials have not lived up to their agreement upon which the last wides and other active was settled.

Near Whitehall and just around a steep curve is a temporary trestle 300 feet long and 40 feet high. The train was running 39 miles an hour. When it rounded the curve the engine struck a huge rock which had been loosened by the frost had rolled from the embankment. An awful crash followed. The engine broke from the tender and left the track. The tender parted from the train, and the separated parts rushed in a mad race for the trestle. When the engine reached the trestle proper it stopped suddenly and plunged down the embankment. The train swept by in safety, being stopped by the air-brakes at the other end of the trestle. As the engine toppled over Engineer Mahan was thrown out and fatally injured. The engine was crushed into a shapeless mass. The fireman named Lindsey was thrown through the cab roof. His shoulder was dislocated and he was otherwise injured. The tender left the track when the train stopped on the trestle and plunged into the chasm below without taking any of the cars with it, making a second miraculous escape. The passengers, beyond a shaking up, were uninjured. The accident is pronounced by railroad men to be the most marvelous ever known to them.

A Desperate Dodge. Rev. T. C. Oliver Makes a

Sworn Declaration. How an Employe of Mr. Carling Misrepresented and Traduced Him.

Rev. T. Clement Oliver has made the following declaration, sworn to before R. K. Cowan, barrister. Its perusal will show the election methods adopted by a Government employe to influence the colored vote. People may draw their own inferences:

In the matter of certain statements published in the London Free Press in its issue of Feb. 22, 1892.

I, Thomas Clement Oliver, of the city of London, in the county of Middlesex, minister of the Gospel, do solemnly declare:

clare:
I am the minister of the British Methodist Episcopal denomination in the city of Lon-I have read or heard read the items in

I have read or heard read the items in this morning's Free Press purporting to be an interview between a Free Press reporter and myself, alleged to have taken place after my sermon in the Bethemanuel Church on Sunday evening and also comments on my sermon;

I was interviewed by a person whose name I believe to be J. L. Payne. After my sermon he intimated to me that I had evidently made up my mind which was the better man. My answer was that I did not know either of the candidates. I did not say that I was a Carling man, as alleged. He asked me how my name came on Mr. Hyman's nomination paper. In answer to which I stated that two gentlemen came to my house, and after speaking with them and reading over the paper, and one of them showing me the voters' list on which my name was as a voter, I signed my name. The gentlemen who presented the nomination paper to me were Charles W. Andrus and William Wanless, jun.

I never, therefore, in any way intimated that I had not signed the nomination paper or that some one had put my name there, and the portions of the interview stating that I was a Carling man, or that I had not signed the nomination paper are utterly false.

John Stevenson, one of my stewards, was present while the interview lasted, and I believe heard all that took place.

John Stevenson, one of my stewards, was present while the interview lasted, and I believe heard all that took place.

My intention in preaching the sermon was to prevent my people from descending to the degrading state of being bought, and also to give the lie to the statements that had been published to the effect that their votes had been purchased at the last election. I take no particular interest in politics, but I must advocate the man who makes leather in preference to the man who makes beer, and I hope that my flock will do like-

And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by wirtue of the act respecting extrajudicial oaths.

T. CLEMENT OLIVER.

R. K. Cowan, a commissioner.

In the matter of certain statements published in the London Free Press in its issue of 22nd February.

I, John Stevenson, of the city of London, in the county of Middlesex, laborer, do solemnly declare that I was present at the Bethemanuel Church in this city on Sunday evening, the 21st instant, and was within three feet of the said parties when the interview between the Rev. T. C. Oliver and J. L. Payne took place, and heard all that was said by them. I have read the report of such interview, published in the Free Press of this morning, and I have heard read the declaration of the Rev. T. C. Oliver this day made.

The said declaration is true, and the said reported interview autterly false in stating that the Rev. T. C. Oliver had stated that he was "a Carling man," or that "he had not signed Mr. Hyman's nomination paper."

And I make this solemn declaration conthat "he had not signed and maintain momination paper."

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the "act respecting extrajudicial oaths."

Declared before me at the city of London, in the county of Middlesex, this 22nd day of February, A. D. 1892.

Now, does not this prove: 1. That for certain of our farm produce the British is the better market?

2. That for many others, even now with the tariff wall, the American is the better market. 3. That with mixed farming we want both markets. What harm could it do our farmers to have the United States market as well as have the United States market as well as the British? Does anyone doubt now that it would be an immense advantage, and that, as under reciprocity before, the nearer market would be found the more profitable and our exports to that country would enormously increase. ANOTHER FALSEHOOD EXPOSED Indignant Refutation of Free Press Elec tion Tactics by Mr. McCrimmon.

The ADVERTISER has been busy to-day correcting Free Press untruths. The fol-lowing appeared in this morning's issue of that journal, under the heading of "Queen

Sunday Work.":
Citizens of No. 4 ward were last night very much surprised and displeased to observe that Mr. Hyman's committee room, at McCrimmon's, corner Maitland and Pall Mall, was in full blast, and election business going on the same as any week day.
Mr. M. McCrimmon, to whom the parameter of the beautiful depth of the stategraph refers, has called to deny the statement. "It is absolutely false," he said;

"and in justice to myself I must have my denial made public, when I have been so openly attacked. Mr. Hyman's committee rooms are at my residence, and I say most positively that no person was in them from Saturday evening until Monday morning. No one can enter them without my knowl-

Mr. McCrimmon is a respected member of St. Andrew's Church and a citizen whose word no one will doubt. The fact that the gentlemen alleged by the same journal to have been in the rooms Sunday also deny the accusations is sufficient refutation of the libelous paragraph.

on the pulpit, and two benealections were pronounced twice a Sabbath in that church, in the same words, the same manner, and simultaneously.

There was a black year when the things of this world, especially its pastimes, took such a grip of Gavin that he said to Margarethe would rather be good at the high jump than the author of "The Pilgrins's Progress." That year passed, and Gavin came to his right mind. One afternoon Margaret was at home making a glengarry for him out of a piece of carpet, and giving it a tartan edging, when the boy bounded in from school, crying "Come quick mother, and you'll see him." Margaret reached the itor in time to see a street musician flying from Gavin and his friends. "Did you take took of him, mother?" the boy asked when he re-appeared with the mark of a muddy stick on his back. "He's a Papist! a sore sight, mother, a sore sight. We stoned him lor persecuting the noble Martyrs."

When Gavin was twelve he went to the University, and also got a place in a shap a serrand boy. He used to run through the treets between his work and his classes. Potatoes and salt fish, which could be got a twopence the pound if bought by the alf-hundredweight, were his food. There was not always a good meal for two, yet when Gavin reached home at night there ras generally something ready for him, and Margaret had supped "hours ago." Gavin's auuger urged him to fall to, but his love for its mother made him watchful.

"What did you have yourself, mother?" the would demand suspiciously.

"Oh, I had a fine supper, I assure you."

"I had potatoes, for one thing."
"And dripping?"

"The mother is the Jean who is frequently mentioned in this book. She told me that she devoted an hour daily to her baby's chin, and I think the time was well pent. Her husband (a brother of Hendry Munn) took no interest in the matter, however, which was surely very like a man.-[M.

DEAR AUNT PRUDENCE:

I am a little girl seven years old. I am not going to school now. I have three sisters and four brothers. I have two playmates, and their names are Maggie and Mina, for companions. We have no school in winter. We are having lovely weather. You will have to excuse me for my bad writing. I have lots of fun with my companions. I am in the second part. My hair is short, and it is getting long; it looks shabby. I have two big sisters, and near tea time they yell, Carry, get supper. I guess I will close now. From your loving niece,

DEAR AUNT PRODENCE:

I take great pleasure in reading other girls' letters, and thought I would write one also. I will tell you how I spent my Christmas holidays. I went to my grandma's, and I had a very pleasant time with my uncle; he is so full of fun. On Christmas eve was our Christmas Globe. I received quite a few presents, of which some were very nice. I am Il years old, and am in the senior Fourth book. As my letter is getting rather long I will close, hoping you had a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. I remain, your affectionate nice,

DEAR AUNT PRUDENCE:

Dear auntie, I saw the letters in the Adventisers which other girls have written and thought I had better write. I only know of one girl that has written from here; she is one of my chums. I have another chum that goes to school. I have four sisters and one brother. I go to school and am in the fourth book. I am 12 years old. We have good fun riding to school in a sleigh with a sleigh-load. I have nathing more to say now, and I think I will close now I have written quite a long letter now. I remain your loving niece,

DEAR AUNT PRUDENCE:

I wrote you a letter once before, but it was a long time ago; I think I can write better now. My teacher, Mr. Robson, is very kind to me, kinder than I deserve sometimes, mamma says. Papa takes the DAILY ADVERTISER. If I were living in the city these days I would wear a red ribbon—yes, two of them. We are all Presbyterians; Mr. Little is our new minister, and we like him very much. I learn three catechism questions every week. Mr. Little calls at my home every Sunday and I say them to him. I do not go to church in the after noon, for I stay at home and take care of my little sister and let mamma go, but I go in the evening. I think this letter is long enough, so good-bye. —At the recent Knights of Pythias banquet in Toyonto, R. H. Jarvis, P.G.C., and Ald. J. F. Fitzgerald, G.C., of London, responded to the toast of the supreme and grand lodges. Both representatives made excellent speeches, showing the progress of the order since its inception. What was especially gratifying was Chancellor Fitzgerald's statement that the increase in the membership of the order had been over 25 per cent. during the past year, and that the prospects were never brighter.

Death of Mrs. E. McGarvey.

The death of Mrs. Edward McGarvey at No. 1 McGarvey terrace, York street, removes a respected old resident of 30 or 35 years' standing. Mrs. McGarvey had been an invalid for the last few years, and bore her affliction with Christian resignation. Besides her busband she leaves a large family. Two sons are in the oil business in Austria, another is in the same trade in Germany, and two are in the United States. Mrs. Van Alstine, of Winipeg, and Mrs. Dr. Westland, of this city, are the daughters. Deceased was very highly respected and many friends will regret her departure and extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Another Runaway.

A young man named Robt. Nobba, living on Colborne street, and a lady friend, Jessie O'Toole, narrowly escaped serious injury last night. The girl had just left the Salvation Army when Nobba saked her to go for a drive. As soon as she was in the cutter he struck the horse with the whip and started off at a lively gait. At the corner of Dundas and Clarence street, he attempted to turn down Clarence street. The runner of the cutter caught in the

A Wide Scope for His Ability.

The Harvey (Ill.) Tribune has this to say of a former well-known citizen: "Mr. J. D. McIlwain, the new general superintendent of the Harvey steel car works, when on a trip cast two weeks age stopped over Saturday at his old home in London, Ont., where for the last ten years he has been superintendent of the car department of the Grand Trunk Railway. While there he was the recipient of a testimonial in the shape of a fine gold watch and chain from his friends in the mechanical department. Mr. McIlwain was on several American railroads before going to Canada, and was noted for his advanced ideas in car construction. The company he is now with will build wood as well as iron cars, so that he new superintendent will have wide scope for his ability as a car builder and designer."

The Celebrated Keens in the City.

The celebrated tragedian Thomas F. Keene and his company arrived in the city from Buffalo last night, and put up at the Tecumseh House. Mr. Keene is a man of powerful frame and commanding appearance. He has a striking countenance, apable of that facial expression so necessary to strong character delineation. Keene is acknowledged to be the foremost interpreter of classic roles on the American stage, now that Barrett is dead and Booth has retired. To-night he will appear as Richellein, and it is said, his presentation of Bulwer's great creation compares grandly with that of others famous in that character. His support is also praised as being particularly fine. All lovers of high-class theatricals will miss a treat that it is not often in their power to enjoy if they fail to see this eminent man in one of the most renowned dramatrations.

The Late Gibert Griffin.

The body of Mr. Gilbert Griffin, well known as a postoffice inspector, and especially well known in London, was taken from the house of Mrs. Beeher, Rosedale, to the Union Station yesterday and sent by the 2:45 train to London. His two sous, his brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Harris, Mr. T. C. Patterson and several other postoffice officials were in attendance. Mr. Griffin, who died of typhoid fever, contracted at Kingston before his arrival in Toronto on a visit, was a man of great ability and a well-known bon-viveur years ago, when London was occupied by the military. R., has had experiences which supply him with a stock of high class stories. This is one of his favorites. Its hero is the colored porter who goes wherever Mr. Van Horne goes. He always travels in the president's car, and from ocean to ocean is known to railway men as "Van Horne's nigger." His one weakness is that he is prone to be profane under provocation. Knowing this, Mr. Van Horne took him aside when Hon. Edward Blake first wort out as the C. P. R. counsel in the rate of 15,000,000 feet per day.

if you swear in his presence you will smell trouble."

"I'll remember, sah," said the porter, and the interview ended.

And he did remember. The brother in black was unusually select in his choice of words until Winnipeg was reached. At that point he was working beside an open window when the car was being washed. The man outside handled the nozzle on the hose carelessly, and a stream of water shot through the window, and hit the porter right in the center of his intellectual countenance.

How he did swear. He had exhausted his entire stock of strong language before he remembered the president's injunction. He looked around hoping to find that Mr. Blake was not within hearing distance. Mr. Blake was there, so was Mr. Van Horne. Both of them were lying down screaming with laughter over the incident. A sight of their mirth encouraged the porter to believe that all remembrance of his bad language was laughed off. As soon as Mr. Van of their mirth encouraged the porter to believe that all remembrance of his bad language was laughed off. As soon as Mr. Van Horne was able to wear a serious face he told the porter he would have to apologize to Mr. Blake. The porter promised, but forgot, and the next day the president went to him again.

"Apologized yet, Peter?"
"No, sah, but I'ze gwine—
"This thing has gone far enough. You have got to apologize, and do it now, or there will be trouble."

The rest of the story is told by Mr. Van Horne, as Mr. Blake told it to him. "The porter," said the great lawyer, shuffled in and said he "Mistah Blake, I used some very bad language in your hearin' the other day, I'ze very sorry for it. I might a' knowed better, I might a' knowed better for Mistah Van tole me on the rua that you wus a pious cuss."

There is reasonable ground for belief that their negligence, to put it mildly, afforded opportunity for the commission of crimes. How can Mr. Abbott or Sir John Thompson expect the Liberal-Conservative press to denounce Mercierism at Quebec while he condones rascality at Ottawa? He justl lays himself open to a charge of complicity. We are sorry to be obliged to speak thus plainly, but in the interest of truth, justice and morality it is necessary to be plain when the leaders prove false. When the members of the Conservative party next meet Mr. Abbott in caucus we hope and trust they will not be backward in telling him plainly that his course is distanteful to the people and the party and will be disastrous to the Dominion.
