Success of the British Expedition Against the Sofas.

Remarkable Demand for the Late Charles Spurgeon's Sermons.

Anti Foreign Bills Will be Opposed by the Japanese Government—Milan and Alexander Trying to Train the Serbian Radicals.

Twenty-Five Fishermen Drowned.

The Sofas Sat Upon.

London, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Free-town, Sierra Leone, states that the British expedition, under command of Col. A. B. Ellis, which was sent out against the Sofas, returned to Free-town yesterday, the work of the expedition having been accomplished. The interior of the country is now quiet.

Almost a Financial Panic in Calcutta.

London, Jan. 22.—A Calcutta dispatch says the money market to-day was almost in a panic. It is feared that the Earl of Kimberley may accept any rate offered at the sale of bills. It is virtually certain that he can command fair rates if he holds out a week or so longer.

Mr. Spurgeon's Sermons.

London, Jan. 22.—Volume XXXIX. of Spurgeon's sermons is just issued; there are to be thirteen more. The demand for them has had a remarkable increase since Spurgeon's death, and the total sale has already reached the incredible aggregate of 70,000,000. The single sermon on "Baptismal Regeneration" sold 224,000. The audience he is still addressing from the grave is vastly larger than that of any other preacher ever reached.

In Japan.

London, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Yokohama says that the Government has publicly expressed its determination to resist all anti-foreign bills proposed by any Diet. The steps of Tokio are still unsafe for foreigners, especially for ladies and children. The police have closed the headquarters of all the political and foreign societies.

Tokohama is the foreign settlement in Japan, having become such in 1860. Previous to that date it was a small fishing village. It has a population of about 125,000. Tokio, the capital of the Japanese Empire has about 1,000,000 population.

Paris May Become a Port.

Paris, Jan. 22.—The Chamber of Deputies has agreed to consider the project of a canal between Rouen and Paris, in order to convert Paris into a port. During the discussion Deputy Legarvan opposed the canal on the ground that it would facilitate the importation of foreign grain when French husbandry was at low ebb.

Premier Casimir-Perier said that the Government would accept the motion urging a bill to reduce the taxation on husbandry.

The Chamber, by a vote of 347 to 90, rejected the motion of Deputy Avers, the specialist, that the Government should only lighten the taxes of farmers cultivating their own fields.

Milan and Alex. at Work.

Belgrade, Jan. 22.—King Alexander and ex-King Milan summoned the chiefs of the parties to the palace last evening for a consultation. Milan reproached the Radical leaders for many alleged misdeeds. The conditions of their retaining office were submitted to the Radicals by Alexander this morning. They were: The revocation of the order against Milan's residence in Serbia; abandonment of the impeachment proceedings against the Liberal Ministers who served under Avakumovic up to the coup of April 12 last; expulsion of the anti-dynastic members from the Radical Club.

The Radicals declined to accept any of these conditions. The Radical Cabinet remains nominally in power, although the Premier and War Minister Gen. Sava Grutch were forced to surrender the war portfolio to Col. Milaonovic, who commanded the troops when the regents were deposed. Alexander and Milan are trying to secure a progressive Liberal coalition from which to obtain a new Cabinet.

India's Big Contract.

London, Jan. 23.—The Indian Council has issued a notification. Tenders will be received at the Bank of England on Jan. 30 for £25,000,000 worth of six months treasury bills.

A Bank President Jailed.

London, Jan. 23.—Judge Glyn yesterday sentenced Mr. H. Smith, president of the Bank of Sterling, to three years in the penitentiary for receiving money on deposit after the bank became insolvent.

Poison in Bernhardt's Tea.

Paris, Jan. 23.—Sarah Bernhardt had a narrow escape from death by poison, it has just leaked out, at the rehearsal last Friday of her new piece, "Izelle." Her new Dahomeyan servant, Kerim, who attends her at rehearsals, poured some laudanum into her cup of tea by mistake. Mme. Bernhardt noticed the strange taste, however, before she had drunk enough to do her serious harm.

Will King Lo Surrender?

Cape Town, Jan. 23.—Sir Henry Loch has dispatched a messenger to King Lo, pledging in the Queen's name that if he surrenders his life and interests shall be assured and he will not be deported from Africa. Sir Henry has arranged with Premier Cecil Rhodes to provide the King with an adequate tract of land south of Orange River.

Followed the Hounds.

London, Jan. 23.—Miss Margot Tennant, H. M. Stanley's sister-in-law, was badly injured on Saturday while following the Cotswold hounds. She was conveyed home in Mr. Zborowski's carriage. Miss Margot is generally credited with being the founder of the society called "The Souls," which flourished in the west end of London, and to which Mrs. Henry White, wife of the former secretary of the United States embassy belonged. It is also said that the author of "Dodo" partly modeled the heroine on Miss Margot Tennant.

A Veiled Threat.

Cape Town, Jan. 23.—In addressing the volunteer troops at Bulawayo just before his departure, Premier Cecil Rhodes spoke bitterly of the manner in which they had been vilified by a large section of the English people at home. "Such treatment," he said, "is calculated to alienate the affection of the loyal colonists. It is a manifestation of the spirit by which England lost her American colonies."

Bold Spanish Bandits.

Madrid, Jan. 23.—Owing to the lack of work and scarcity of food among poorer classes in Andalusia the bandits there are becoming more numerous and daring. Almost daily reports of outrages committed by them are received. A band numbering 150 men yesterday raided the town of Benavaz, 60 miles from Cadiz, and attacked the house of the wealthiest farmer in the district. A stout defense was made by its occupants, and the bandits were kept at a distance by the male members of the farmers' family and a number of servants, most of whom had guns. The noise of the fight brought a large number of residents to the town to the scene and a combined attack was made on the bandits, who were finally dispersed. The farmer, his sons and several servants were wounded.

A Prince Hanged.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—It is not often that one hears of a prince being sentenced to the gallows. Such, however, is the fate that recently overtook the Russian Prince Kikotze, who has just been hung in due form on the great square of Tiflis.

It seems that the prince, who was serving in the army, while disporting himself in a state of uproarious drunkenness upon the platform of the railroad station, commenced to quarrel with a policeman who attempted to prevent him from annoying the other people who were waiting the arrival of a train. The prince immediately drew a long hunting-knife from his belt, and before any one could interfere, stabbed the unfortunate gendarme repeatedly, death ensuing almost at once. Arrested on the spot, the prince was brought before a court-martial, presided over by Gen. Cherbovitch-Vetchor, and condemned to death by strangulation. Up till the last moment it was expected that the Czar would commute the sentence, and possibly pardon the prince, as it was an unheard-of thing that a man of his rank should suffer a death so shameful. The Emperor failed to give any sign of clemency, and the prince was hung in the presence of almost the entire population, who were profoundly impressed by the spectacle. The last occasion on which a man of high rank met his death on the gallows was when Lord Ferrers was hung in England for murder in connection with an executioner, in deference to the rank of the condemned man, used a silken rope instead of one of hemp, to suspend him to the gallows.

FOR FAR CATHAY.

Departure of Three Lady Missionaries for the Field in China.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—A party of three ladies left the city to-night for Chicago, en route to Shanghai, where they will labor as missionaries in connection with the China Inland Mission. They were: Louie Hastings (Toronto), Miss C. Muldoon (Kingston) and Miss F. Collins (Toronto). They will be joined at Chicago by four others, who will sail with them from Vancouver, Feb. 5.

AFTER HOOPER AGAIN.

The Prisoner to be Promptly Tried for Attempting to Drown His Wife.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain, Attorney-General of Quebec, has decided after due consideration to take prompt action at Three Rivers against John K. Hooper, who will be charged with attempting to drown his wife, the details of which came out during the late trial at Joliette.

Hooper expresses himself confident that he will be again acquitted.

IT WAS A SURPRISE.

Rev. Dr. Talmage's Resignation Was Not Anticipated by His Congregation.

Brooklyn, Jan. 22.—Rev. Dr. Witt Talmage's statement at the close of his sermon Sunday night, that he intended to resign from the pastorate of the church, was a surprise to the congregation. Dr. Talmage said: "I have an announcement to make which may be of interest to this congregation. The coming spring I shall have been pastor of this church 25 years. A quarter of a century is long enough for any minister to preach in one place. At that anniversary I will resign the pulpit, and it will be occupied by such persons as you may select. Though the work has been arduous because of the necessity of building three great churches, two of these destroyed by fire, the field has been delightful and blessed of God. No other congregation has ever been called upon to build three churches, and I hope no other pastor will be called to such a fearful and tremendous undertaking. My plans after resignation have not been developed, but I shall preach both by voice and through the press."

Mr. Childs' Condition.

Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—Mr. George W. Childs' condition was more favorable to-day than it was last night, and his fever had abated somewhat.

Death of a Prominent Hamiltonian.

Hamilton, Jan. 22.—Mr. W. P. Moore, an old and respected citizen of Hamilton, died on Saturday, aged 76 years, after an illness lasting for six months. Deceased was born in Lewiston, N. Y., had been a resident of Hamilton for 56 years, where he took the management of a tannery and afterwards went into the real estate business. He had never joined any fraternal society, but was an unusually earnest and consistent Reformer all his life. For years he was a member of the executive committee of the Reform Association, and was always a worker during election campaigns. He had always taken a deep interest in the welfare of the city.

Suit Against the Dominion Government for $576,904.

Sudden Death of Major Wainwright, of the Adjutant-General's Office.

Postoffices have been opened at Dyer, in Stormont; Johnson's Corners, in Russell, and Mabee, in North Norfolk.

Robert Moore, formerly a Kingston, Ont., druggist, was to be intoxicated in Buffalo on Saturday night, and was dead beside his wife when she awoke in the morning. The coroner thinks alcoholism killed him.

Frank Green, the Chicago Crook who received a sentence of six months for operating the film-film racket around Toronto, and who escaped from the Central Prison last Monday, has been caught in Brockville.

In the Exchequer Court on Monday leave was granted the heirs of the late John Ross to go on with the suit started by him against the Government to recover $576,904 for claims in connection with sections 9 and 15 of the Intercolonial Railway.

The City of Lincoln sailed for London Monday night from St. John, N. B., with grain and hay, being the first lot of grain shipped from that port. The C. P. R. elevator worked admirably. More grain is arriving for shipment next week.

It is understood that the liabilities of J. & A. McMillan, of St. John, N. B., who assigned on Saturday are about $70,000 and are nominally about the same. The firm was one of the oldest printing, stationery and bookbinding houses in the Maritime Provinces.

Palmer Cox, who writes so entertainingly of the adventures of the Brownies, is a Canadian. He lived at Lucknow, and is remembered there by old-timers as the "drill sergeant" of the first volunteer company ever formed in that village. This company was raised 29 years ago.

Major W. R. S. Wainwright, of the Adjutant-General's office, died on Sunday morning of heart failure. Deceased had been out on Friday. Heart failure was superinduced by an attack of grip. Several of his children are down with scarlet fever. He leaves a widow and nine children.

At Hamilton F. W. Fearman's solicitors have issued a writ against Harry Woodcock, one of Mr. Fearman's dishonest employees, claiming $15,000 damages. The writ says the defendant wrongfully possessed himself of hams, pork, bacon, lard and provisions belonging to Fearman, converted the same into money and purchased property in the city.

Mr. Wm. P. Commerford, sen., died at his residence in Hamilton on Saturday at the age of 62 years. Mr. Commerford went to Hamilton some 40 years ago, when a young man, and had since made that city his home. He leaves a wife and a grown-up family of sons and daughters. Mr. Commerford in politics was a strong and ardent Reformer.

Joseph Warren and Robt. Spencer, who robbed Mrs. Gibson's house, Duchess Street, Hamilton, of $300 will go to Kingston, Penitentiary, each for a term of ten years.

Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., returned to Ottawa Monday evening from a trip around the world. He left Ottawa on Sept. 8, and reached Sydney via Vancouver on Oct. 8. He sailed from Adelaide for Europe on the 8th of November. His visit to Australia was in connection with the Pacific cable scheme.

TO THE POINT.

Characteristic Resolutions Passed by South Huron Liberals.

The East Wellington Reform Nominations—Action of Oxford Prohibitionists.

Brucefield, Jan. 22.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Dominion Reform Association was held here to-day, when the following officers were elected: John Hannah, president; J. Snell, vice-president; T. Fraser, Brucefield, secretary; George Walker, Tuckersmith, treasurer.

Mr. John McMillan, M. P. for the riding, who was present, delivered an address dealing extensively with the trade question and other issues. The following resolutions were carried:

Moved by J. Keitchin, seconded by Mr. Beck—"That we desire to express our full approval in the course pursued in Parliament by our present member, Mr. John McMillan, and our admiration of his able and consistent advocacy of our cause."

Moved by D. B. Wilson, of Seaforth, seconded by Thomas Fraser, of Brucefield—"That we, the Reformers of South Huron desire to express our unwavering confidence and faith in the honor and integrity of the Hon. W. Laurier, and hope that under his leadership we may be enabled in the near future to sweep away the present Dominion Government, and with them the existing system of misgovernment and corruption which is the inevitable result of the protective system they have established, and thus secure to us the benefit and blessing of low taxation raised for revenue purposes only, and by this means do away with all class legislation and place on an equal footing every industry and occupation in the land."

The mover and seconder supported the motion with short addresses, as well as R. B. McLean, Rev. of Tuckersmith, Thos. McMillan, Hullet, and A. Mustard, Brucefield.

Moved by Mr. Geo. Murdie, seconded by R. B. McLean—"That we desire to take this occasion of expressing our approval and confidence in the Government of Sir Oliver Mowat, under whose regime we have been furnished and now enjoy a system of government which is the pride and admiration of every citizen in the civilized world, and we also hope that when opportunity offers the electors of this constituency will, by their action and votes, as they have heretofore done, return a consistent and able supporter in the person of the present nominee, Mr. M. Y. McLean, who will no doubt lend an active and earnest hand in the direction of future legislation."

The mover and seconder of this motion delivered short addresses. Mr. M. Y. McLean, who was present, also delivered a short and stirring address. The meeting closed with rousing cheers for the Queen, Mr. Laurier and Mr. McMillan.

JOHN CHAS. ACCEPTS.

Fergus, Ont., Jan. 22.—Mr. John Craig, of Fergus, has formally accepted the nomination tendered him in December by the Reform convention in East Wellington as Liberal candidate for the Ontario Legislature.

OXFORD PROHIBITIONISTS. WOODSTOCK, Jan. 22.—The County of Oxford Prohibition Association met in convention Saturday. There was a large turnout from all parts of the county. After discussing the proposal to nominate a candidate, and deciding not to do so at present, delegates were appointed to attend the Reform convention at Mount Elgin to urge upon it the necessity of selecting a nominee who will represent the temperance interests.

ATLETICS.

The Forest City Athletic Club has just moved into its new club rooms on King street. An opening reception will be held Thursday evening. Boxing, wrestling and other sports will be given by the members who will form part of an entertainment. Mr. John Crawford is the instructor. The news of the Corbett-Mitchell fight will be bulletined by rounds.

MITCHELL IS ALL RIGHT. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 22.—Mitchell's sore ankle had completely recovered and was not bandaged. He did twelve miles of road work, and walked and ran without a particle of lameness.

The Duva Athletic Club asked for an injunction restraining Sheriff Broward from interfering.

A temporary stay was granted the petitioners, and the county attorney was notified to appear in the Circuit Court tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock to show cause why the injunction should not be granted. The temporary stay has given the club partisans much joy.

Referee Kelly has carried the day in regard to the conversion of that $20,000 check into a $20,000 purse of actual money. The club at a meeting to-night agreed to withdraw the restriction and Kelly will cash it to-morrow.

CORBETT GOES TO CHURCH.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 23.—A large crowd went to church to see Corbett on Sunday. Corbett went to church with his wife in the morning and did no training all day. He skylarked at baseball in the afternoon with John Kelly and "Snapper" Garrison, and Kelly is showing a pair of sore and puffed hands to prove the swiftness of the ball with which Corbett batted him on the head.

An enthusiast thus describes Mitchell's appearance: "He makes a handsome figure in his white flannels. His face is tanned from the sun, and the change within a month is remarkable. In the gymnasium, when Mitchell is stripped, a stranger would place his age at 24 or 25. There is not an ounce of superfluous flesh on the man, and the reduction brings out the wonderful development of the chest. The studiousness of the legs presents a picture of almost physical perfection. Corbett has been likened to a greyhound; it would be difficult to find a comparison for his opponent. A bulldog with the gracefulness of a fawn is not an inapt simile."

His little Darrin is working over him, Mitchell bursts out into his favorite song, "Dancing to the Organ on the Mile End Road." The Englishman is a veritable song-bird all day long. His musical voice is heard carolling about the training quarters, and Jim Hall and "Doc" Robbins essay in vain to beat him out. It is a jolly party which has gathered about the puglist.

SEATING.

The Don, in the vicinity of Toronto, had many skaters on Saturday, though the ice was soft and bad spots were numerous.

BASEBALL.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 23.—It was given out yesterday by President Robinson that the Cleveland Baseball Club will stay in Cleveland during 1894. Robinson will draw financial lines a little closer this year, however. The club will consist of only fourteen players instead of eighteen as last season.

ED. WILLIAMSON ILL.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Ed. Williamson, the famous ball player, is dangerously ill. For two weeks he has been confined to his room with liver complaint. His condition grew so bad that his physician ordered him taken to Mountain Valley, a health resort seven and a-half miles from Hot Springs, Ark.

READY FOR THE FRAY.

South Oxford Liberals Hold an Enthusiastic Rally.

And Indorse Hon. W. Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat—Officers Elected—Meredith's Trickery Exposed.

MOUNT ELGIN, Jan. 23.—The Liberals of South Oxford held a rousing rally here yesterday, the annual meeting of the Reform Association of the riding calling them together. The attendance was large and the enthusiasm great. Mr. James F. Williams was in the chair. Among those present were: Mr. John Charlton, M.P., Lyndoch; Dr. McKay, Ingersoll; Andrew Fattullo, Woodstock; S. H. James, Toronto; John B. Jackson, J. C. Hegler, John Morrison, John Frezell, J. B. Capron, A. J. McCarty, J. M. Dunn, M. T. Buchanan, John Polmore, C. B. Ryan, James Vance, Wm. Waterworth, Andrew Sutherland and George L. Thompson, of Ingersoll; A. Tuttle, G. H. Cook, A. Dunn, John Rock, R. Ryan, J. Ryan, L. R. Short, T. H. Newton, A. D. Merrill, T. S. Pratt, J. Sheahan, A. Macfarlane, S. Sherwood, M. S. Schell, W. H. Reed, James Hunter, W. H. Cook, W. J. Loomer, W. Colyer, W. E. Colver, William Ryan, J. E. Ferguson, Wm. Ferguson, James Stinton, E. Becker, Peter Meek, Geo. Partlo, Dr. Kester.

Mr. A. Macfarlane was elected president, Mr. G. W. Hare secretary-treasurer, Messrs. James Vance and M. Schell auditors. Dr. Dickson, the late president, who had removed to Chicago, wrote a letter of thanks for his previous election.

Dr. McKay, M. P. for the riding, delivered a stirring address. He pointed out how utterly false was the alarm of Romish aggression that was being sounded throughout the Province, and to what uses similar cries had been put in the past. First, their purpose was that the Roman Catholics of Ontario were not getting such benefit from the Government as their relative numbers entitled them to, and "Facts for Irish Electors" was issued for their special edification, and in the hope of producing a feeling of hostility to the Mowat Government. That cry failing, Mr. Meredith and his followers wheeled about and asked the people to turn the Government out because Sir Oliver Mowat was pandering to the Roman Catholic Church.

John Charlton, M.P., and S. H. James, of Toronto, also made capital speeches. Two resolutions were carried by standing votes. The first expressed entire confidence in and admiration of Sir Oliver Mowat and the Liberal Government and complete satisfaction with Dr. McKay, their representative. The second recorded their high appreciation of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, his great talents and unwavering honesty. It continued: "In this connection we wish to refer to the names of Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. John Charlton, who have done so much to educate the electorate on the lines of tariff reform and hope to see their names soon as members of Her Majesty's Government."

WILL VOTE FOR PROHIBITION. Mr. T. L. Newton, representing the prohibitionists of the county of Oxford read a resolution passed at the county convention held at Woodstock, urging the association to nominate a candidate who will be acceptable to the temperance people.

Mr. McKay said that he had voted for the Provincial plebiscite, and that, if the courts held that the Provincial Legislature had power to pass a prohibitory law, he would vote for prohibition.

The fixing of the time for the nominating convention was left to the president, the vice-president and secretary.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

Orders to Close Eleven Collieries, Throwing 10,000 Men Out of Work.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—An order has been issued by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company to shut down eleven of the company's largest collieries for an indefinite period. A number of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company's mines will also be shut down till the large amount of coal on hand is disposed of and the restriction of 2,000,000 tons ordered by the coal sales agent for this month is complied with. As a result of this suspension traffic on the railroads will be greatly reduced, and fully 10,000 men will be out of work in the coal region this week.

London has 9,500 union printers. England has 1,109,014 union men.

A Trades and Labor Council is to be established in Winnipeg. An order has been issued reducing the working hours to six each day at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western machine shops.

The shoemakers of St. Louis have been successful in their fight for recognition of their organization, but the cigarmakers and brewery workmen are still out.

The tight-barrel coopers of Minneapolis, Minn., have been successful in their strike against a 10 per cent. reduction of their wages.

The Willimantic Linen Company paid in one year 90 per cent. dividends, but it paid its men and women operatives from 90 cents to $1 a day in wages.

At a convention of miners held in Dubois, Pa., representing upward of 10,000 miners, it was agreed to join the United Mine Workers of America, selecting that organization in preference to the Knights of Labor as a national organization.

A Steamer Stranded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The steamer Andea, of the Atlas Line, due here to-day, from Port au Prince, is ashore at Little Egg harbor, N. J. She went ashore in a fog, and will probably be a total loss.

Dropped Dead While Talking.

BERMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 22.—Prof. Alonzo Hill, president of the Tuscaloosa Female College at Tuscaloosa, dropped dead last night of apoplexy while talking with some friends at his home. He was one of the most distinguished educators in Alabama.

A Serious Practical Joke.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—A dispatch to "The Herald" from Malvern, Ark., says: Irvey Harp, a well-known young man, lost both of his eyes and was perhaps fatally injured by the explosion of a cigarette last night. Lee Edwards and Mount Jackson, two young men, sought to play a practical joke on Harp by furnishing him a loaded cigarette. They were arrested and lodged in jail to await the result of Harp's injuries.

APPEAL DISMISSED

In the Case of Ex-Preacher Kennedy vs. The Methodist Church.

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—The appeal case of Kennedy vs. The Methodist Church came up to-day at Osgoode Hall before Justice Boyd and Meredith, who gave judgment on the appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of Judge Robertson, dismissing the action, which was brought by a superannuated Methodist minister to recover his share of the annual payment from a superannuation fund, from which he has been shut off since 1890.

The plaintiff was ordained a minister in 1846, having been a probationer for four years previously, and continued to do duty as a minister till 1871, when he was superannuated. During these 29 years he was a contributor to the fund, and from 1871 to 1890 he received a share of it. In 1890 he was expelled from the ministry by a vote of the Niagara Annual Conference for the offense of having gone through the ceremony of marriage with a woman at Niagara Falls while his wife was alive.

The plaintiff contended that his expulsion was irregular because laymen were allowed to speak and vote on it and because an amendment to the motion for expulsion substituting suspension was not put by the chairman.

Appeal dismissed and judgment affirmed with costs.

Strange Coincidence Marks the Deaths of Mrs. Connolly to Her Stricken Relative. PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Jan. 23. - A sad coincidence marked the death of George Davis, the leading citizen here, yesterday. His daughter, Mrs. Connolly, was alone with him when he died. She had just come from a distant point to see him, and as she entered the room her father threw up his hands and died instantly. Two years ago Mrs. Connolly came home to see a sick brother, and entered the room alone, to see him die, without a word of greeting. On her return home then she entered her own house to see her husband fall dead. Mrs. Connolly is now so ill that her death is feared.

WIDOWS HIS VICTIMS. Stogner Married One, Engaged Himself to Two and Willing All. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23. - William Henry Stogner has, within three days, in this city married one widow, promised to marry two others and swindled all of them. On Monday he married Mrs. Elizabeth Hamin, a milliner, and secured $50 from her. On Tuesday he left her and met, by appointment, Mrs. Belle Moulton, whom he offered to marry, and secured $111. On Wednesday Mrs. Sallie Gresham was engaged by Stogner to do housework, and suggested marriage as a future possibility. By accident the last two victims met and compared experiences. They went to the prosecuting attorney together yesterday to secure a warrant, where they found the first victim had preceded them on the same errand. A CHURCH TREASURER SHORT In Talmage's Tabernacle - $21,000 Behind. NEW YORK, Jan. 23. - The Sun says: It has been discovered that there is a shortage of at least $21,000 in accounts of John H. Wood, who was up to a year or two ago, treasurer of Brooklyn Tabernacle. It is said Wood has made over to his wife all his real property.

Have You Thought of It? For four thousand years or more the world groaned, suffered, and fumed about its corns, for there was no positive relief - no certain and painless cure until Dr. Scott Putnam gave to the world his great Corn Extractor. If there is suffering now it is a result of carelessness, for the remedy is at hand. Try Putnam's Corn Extractor. It is sure, painless, and prompt. Beware of substitutes. N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston. Prisoner - Ten dollars for stealing a pair of shoes? Judge - That's what I said. "Why didn't you do it?" Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action. Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

Census Exposure.

Stuffed Lists Laid Bare by Hon. David Mills.

London's Returns Adduced in Evidence.

Immoral Means Adopted to Maintain Power.

Unjust Laws Enacted to Stifle Public Opinion.

But Evidence on All Hands that the Electors Have Found the Men at Ottawa Out.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—Hon. David Mills addressed a large audience under the auspices of the Young Liberal Club in this city to-night. Hon. Mr. Mills, who was very warmly welcomed, began his speech by a reference to the unjust and partisan legislation which had been passed in the last dozen years by the men now in power at Ottawa, which had tended to stifle public opinion at the polls and to blunt the moral sensibilities of many of the electors. He pointed out, however, that the electors, and especially the farmers, had found out the men responsible for this pernicious system, and no longer labored under the delusion that a heavy taxation benefited any but a very few in the community. Mr. Mills continued: "He must indeed be a man of very strong prejudices who has not before this discovered that the protective policy was in nothing for the farmer. But it is scarcely less true that it has in it nothing for anybody. Look at the depreciation in the value of real estate.

LOOK AT THE CENSUS RETURNS, and in spite of their worthlessness you discover beneath all the cooking which has been done what little progress during the decade between 1881 and 1891 the country has made. I have referred to the worthlessness of the census returns, and it is strictly true that they are worthless. During the spring of 1881 you have every person who is doing any kind of manufacturing or so-called, whether for himself or others, put down as a manufacturer. The poor woman who makes up clothing for the merchant tailor at her own home is returned as a manufacturer and her home as a manufacturing establishment, which is counted as manufacturer's capital. The man who lives in a little lean-to, and who sharpens saws for the poor wood cutter, is returned as a manufacturer. To show you to what an extent poor laborers have been hunted up and put down as manufacturers, I have only to refer you to this—that the number of manufacturers and employes by the census of 1881 was far greater in the city of London than in 1881, though every resident of that city who has looked into the facts knows that this is not the case, as there were during the decade no new establishments, and many of those which were in operation in 1881 were closed when the last census was taken. By the census of 1881 manufacturers paid no wages $59,429,002, and in 1891 $99,762,441. Here is an increase in wages of more than $40,000,000, a very favorable showing, but

UTTERLY MISLEADING, because the census of 1891 embraces as employes of manufacturers many thousands who were not included in 1881. The census of 1881 represents the value of the raw material manufactured in Canada as $179,918,598, and in 1891 $255,988,219, being an increase of $76,000,000; putting together the wages and raw material, the value in 1881 was $239,347,595, and in 1891 $355,745,660, which, again I say, if it represented fairly these two sums at each period would indicate a marked progress in the development of manufacturing industry. Let us now look at the amount of capital which at each of these periods is returned as having been invested in manufactures. In 1881 the value is $165,302,623, and in 1891 $353,836,817, or more than double the sum previously invested; but when you compare the value of the raw material used with the amount of the capital employed, you at once discover that there is something wrong for in 1881 the raw material worked up within the year was to the capital as 180 is to 165, whereas in 1891 it was as 255 is to 353. Now, when you examine the census of the United States you find the productive power of capital is constantly increasing, whereas by the last Canadian census it has diminished in ten years nearly 45 per cent. This one fact would be sufficient to show the incredible value that the census has been cooked, and how utterly valueless the figures are as a means of ascertaining the material progress of the country. Now, by the census of 1881 the number of employes was 254,935, and by the census of 1891 367,935; and yet looking at the reported increase of capital there given an employe ought to have been 666,000. It is preposterous to suppose that the increase of capital should be so out of all proportion to the increase of employes. And if you assume the capital to have been in the same proportion, the capital really invested in manufacturing enterprises in 1891 would be $114,000,000 less than reported. If you take from what remains the value of the tenements in which seamstresses and other parties live there would be a still further reduction. So I say to you that we do not know what has been the increase in the number of employes in manufacturing establishments properly called, or the increase in the capital invested in such enterprises. Where an establishment is erected for carrying on manufacturing operations, the cost of the building including the cost of its machinery and the available capital required for operating it, are properly embraced in capital devoted to manufacturing purposes. But when you say the same thing of the bell and wheel of the perambulating knife grinder; if the file, chisel and vice of the saw sharpener; of the sewing machine in every house in the country, and of the washing apparatus of the poor descendant of Jacob who cleans old clothing? I need trouble you no further with an examination of the census tables. I have said enough to show you that they have no value, to show you that they contain on their very face conclusive evidence of their utter worthlessness. If the census could have given any aid to the arguments of those who maintained that a protective policy was advantageous to the country, there would have been no attempt to cook them to this end. But I rejoice to know that the COOKING HAS BEEN UNSKILLFULLY DONE so that even the most careless investigator can see what has been attempted. If, then, the country has made no special progress in the direction of skilled industries, if its population has fallen short of the natural increase by nearly one half, if the lands of the farmer have greatly depreciated in value, what has the country then to show for its increased burdens? Let us look for a moment at what was promised in the beginning and what is being said now. This fiscal policy was undertaken to secure to the laborer constant employment and good wages; to stop emigration from the country; to secure a large investment of foreign capital in manufacturing enterprises; to secure a large immigration of ordinary laborers for the field, and of skilled laborers for the new workshops; to create a home market for the products of the farms; to prevent Canada from being a sacrifice market, and to equalize the exports and imports of the country. These were the objects at which those parties who favored "protection" professed to aim; let me ask you which of them has been accomplished?

THE PROOF. Does the laborer find constant employment at high wages? Has the farmer had provided for him a home market for all he can produce? Have our own people been kept at home? Have millions been brought from abroad and invested here in skilled industries, giving employment to tens of thousands of immigrants? Has the value of imports and exports been equalized? Need I say to you not one thing of the many which were promised as the result of these increased burdens has been accomplished. The farmer has had his markets restricted, the prices of what he consumes increased. The farm laborer has been driven from the country. The constant employment which was to keep people at home cannot be had; and now a different doctrine is preached. We are told by Mr. Foster that there is a trend of population from north to south and from east to west; that this is due to land hunger, which, it seems, is wholly new appetite that never affected men until the National Policy was adopted, and which prior Governments had not to take into account. When Mr. Mackenzie's Administration was in office, and when the emigration from the country amounted to about 20,000 a year, it was the fault of the Government that there was an exodus at all. "Give us the reins of Government," said our political opponents, "and we will stop emigration, increase immigration and cause millions of foreign capital to flow here for investment." Well, the trial has been made, and you know the result—the emigration has more than doubled.

ENLARGED FREE LIST REJECTED. I have said to you that the Congress of the United States a few years ago proposed to enlarge the free list. Poultry, eggs and fruit trees were upon it, and it was proposed that fruits should be included. The Government of Canada resisted this proposal. No attempt was made to come to an understanding with reference to this list; on the contrary, there was shown a very great anxiety to keep up the tariff barriers, and that section of the American people who favored high taxes on agricultural imports had their hands strengthened by the action of the Canadian Government and its supporters. I need not discuss this matter further. Every farmer knows that he would be benefited if he had free access to the American market for his cattle, his horses, his sheep, his beans, his poultry, his eggs, his barley, his wool, his butter and his fruit. The English market is invaluable to us, but it is not invaluable for every article that good husbandry and the prosperity of the farmer requires that he should produce. For his wheat, his fat cattle, his cheese and a few horses it affords him a satisfactory market; but for all else he must look elsewhere, and for all the farm products which I have mentioned that our neighbors, if left free, would be inclined to take from us, no other market approaches in value that of the neighboring republic.

THE LIBERAL AIM. Now we aim to give you lower taxation, imposing burdens upon you for a revenue only, cheaper government and freer trade, especially with our neighbors, so far as this can on fair terms be secured, and to this end it is necessary that certain Parliamentary reforms should be had, and the ancient rights and powers of the House of Commons should be employed to put an end to corrupt practices. Let me again remind you that no fact is better established than this, that material prosperity cannot long be maintained, once the moral element is eliminated from public life; and so in the pursuit of your own interest, to which I have invited your attention, if there should be a conflict between the interests of different sections of the community, that which is most advantageous ought always to yield to that which is in itself just. I don't think such conflict arises, I know of no case where the country would be advantaged by adopting towards any section of the people an unjust policy, but even granting that such were possible, it would be no adequate ground for a departure from the right. Everyone whose mind has not been warped by personal interests or by par prejudices, knows

HOW MUCH INJURY HAS BEEN DONE by the adoption of the policy of protection in our customs taxation. It has awakened avarice; it has organized the community into opposing interests; it has stifled and well-nigh destroyed the public spirit of the nation; it has made men indifferent to the welfare of their neighbors; and it has withdrawn men from the rural districts and weakened the energies of that class upon whom the future growth and prosperity of the nation depend. It is true that this system was practically condemned by the country at the general election in 1887, and again in 1891. How came it then that the Ministry maintained power, when the public opinion was against it on each occasion? How came it then that the prevailing sentiment in Parliament did not correspond with the prevailing sentiment of the country? These things contributed to this result—the Election Act, the Franchise Act and the Redistribution of Seats Act. These measures are Government precautions against a fair public judgment. A large number of men who are permanently domiciled abroad were, at the last election, able to appear at the polls, and under the Franchise Act, to vote, though they have ceased to possess any legal interest in the country. Will anyone for a moment seriously argue that this is either a just or satisfactory state of things. There is a simple and obvious remedy for this evil—it is to ADOPT THE PRINCIPLE OF RESIDENTIAL SUFFRAGE, which would put an end both to illegal expense and fraud in connection with the elections. By disregarding county boundaries, constituencies are so organized under the Redistribution Act, in which county boundaries have been disregarded, and townships containing large majorities of Reformers have been taken out of their natural connection and grouped together, so that the municipalities that remain might be able the more certainly to return to Parliament a Government supporter. The county of Middlesex, with a majority of Reform votes, has been so manipulated that the majority return one representative and the minority three. All these facts go to show you that the constitutional machine has been deliberately put out of repair, that it will not respond fairly to the public touch, and provide for the election of a House of Commons fairly reflecting the opinion of the country. It is of very great consequence that a wise and statesmanlike policy should be supported by the people, but to what end is this done if your constitution is contrived that in spite of a majority of the electorate Ministers can secure a majority of the Commons? A sound public policy is important, but to secure a practical adoption of such a policy all your institutional laws must be so framed as to secure a fair representation of the country. Without this it will be impossible that the end can be attained. So you see that quite apart from the question of trade or taxation there may be involved merely questions of abstract politics and are of no practical concern to the community, he is stating what is not the case, and is either wanting in candor or in knowledge of the subject. They are in the highest degree questions of practical politics, because they involve the political sovereignty of the nation, and the practical value of a general election. There are many ways in which a State may be governed. It may be governed by a powerful oligarchy, whose members are possessed of wealth, employing so much of it as may be necessary to secure the direction of public affairs, and devoting all their thoughts and energies to the promotion of their own interests, by means of the power which they thus acquire. A State may be governed by fraud and corruption under the forms of popular representation, when these in authority pervert the law and make it an instrument for the accomplishment of their own designs. But the one method which a community should have in mind is that a State may also be governed by reason and the moral force of public opinion securing through legitimate agencies a majority in Parliament. In this country we have choice between the two latter methods. We have had three general elections under the first of these two. Shall we have a fourth? I hope not. As a party

WE ARE MAKING WAR UPON IT, and we are devoting all our energies to give permanent ascendancy to that method which rests the authority of government upon reason and the moral strength of an honest and well-informed public opinion. It would, indeed, be lamentable if from public indifference we should fall in the attainment of so worthy an object. But we shall not fail. Everywhere around us there are indications of success. The people find they have been deceived. The promises so confidently made have not been kept. The hopes awakened have only led to disappointment, and the moment that distress and disappointment weakened the influence of party prejudice the system was doomed. And I do not believe that, great as is the injustice which has been done to us by the three acts which I have mentioned, powerful as are the defenses which they afford to the Government, they will prove insuperable barriers to a disappointed and deceived country when the day of trial comes.

Mr. Mills afterwards dealt with the emancipated Caron indictment, and at the close of his address resumed his seat amid loud applause.

FAITHFULLY PORTRAYED IN OUR

WORLD'S FAIR

PHOTOGRAPHS

Such a Gigantic Affair : : Such a Magnificent City.
Such Beautiful Structures. : : Such Grand Exhibits.
Such Crowds. : : : : Such Wondrous Fetes.

We have a full appreciation of the fact that millions of people who saw the great Columbian Exhibition and millions more who were not so privileged desire mementos of that great event, and the ADVERTISER has completed arrangements to offer its readers a series of World's Fair reproductions, which absolutely excel anything yet produced in the way of photography. The artist has secured effects of light and shade, and given the views such delicate and perfectly harmonized shading as to make them little less than marvels in mechanical execution and nothing less in beauty. In our collection are photographs of the magnificent buildings, with all the fine ornamentation brought out with distinctness. There are the grand pieces of statuary, which so adorn and beautify the structures. There are also lovely bits of picturesque scenery, which have inspired artists and have delighted the millions of visitors who attended the Fair.

Every Beautiful Point
Every Ornamental Detail
Every Bit of Decoration
All the Imposing Columns
All the Stately Porticos
All the Grand Entrances

Are in our World's Fair photographs, brought to view with marvelous distinctness, and the architect can fairly reveal in dreams of beautiful design the most vivid imagination was before unable to even outline. They are simply artistic gems, and their equal cannot be found on earth.

READ THIS

London, Tuesday Jan. 23.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, with its morning and evening editions, covers the ground. With one exception, it is the ONLY EARLY MORNING DAILY IN ONTARIO, outside of Toronto.

—Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appended in print will be published in these columns.

—An Ottawa correspondent who has been looking into the public accounts says that for every dollar's worth of coal oil imported into Canada last month another dollar was taken in duty.

—It is now stated that the Dominion Government will let alone the law passed by the Northwest Territories Legislature in regard to public schools. Some people have argued that the Government had a right to review the Provincial legislation and to disallow what its members did not like. But a few defeats in the British Privy Council, at the hands of Sir Oliver Mowat, have taught the Administration the needed number of lessons to keep them from interfering with Provincial affairs. The Grand Old Man of Ontario did not stand up for provincial rights in vain.

—But we do object to the statement going forth that crime has decreased by early closing, when in reality it had increased at the rate of 163 cases in a year, since the movement was made.—[London Free Press.]

No one has seriously argued that crime could be decreased to an appreciable extent because, under the solar time ruling, the time for the sale of intoxicating liquors had been curtailed some 25 minutes a day. To make a noticeable change, a greater curtailment would have to be made. Our contemporary asserts that the number of cases tried by the police magistrate in 1893 were 163 more than in the previous year, and it infers that the offenses thus increased belong to the class traceable to drink. Well, the police returns of the drunks and disorderlies show that in 1893 there was a decrease of over 70 persons charged with these offenses when compared with 1892. In 1890, before the saloon licenses were reduced, the number of drunks dealt with was 1,150. We say, therefore, that the duties of the police court officials have not increased in recent years, and may reasonably be expected to decrease. Therefore, the arrangement made by Chief Williams, whereby the salary of police court clerk was saved by incorporating it with that of truant officer, was in the public interest, and the new appointment recently made, so strenuously indorsed by the Free Press, cannot be defended on the grounds of public necessity, though the incumbent is personally unobjectionable.

"WHERE THERE'S A WILL THERE'S A WAY."

Grant Allen, the famous Canadian novelist, writes in an interesting manner on "Conservatism" in the last issue of the Westminster Gazette. He says:

"Conservatism, I believe, is mainly due to want of imagination.

"In saying this I do not for a moment mean to deny the other and equally obvious truth that conservatism, in the lump, is a euphemism for selfishness. But the two ideas have much in common. Selfish people are apt to be unimaginative; unimaginative people are apt to be selfish. Clearly to realize the condition of the unfortunate is the beginning of philanthropy. Clearly to realize the rights of others is the beginning of justice. 'Put yourself in his place' strikes the keynote of ethics. Stupid people can only see their own side of a question; they cannot even imagine any other side possible.

"So, as a rule, stupid people are conservative. They cling to what they have; they dread revision, redistribution, justice. Also, if a man has imagination, he is likely to be radical, even though selfish, while if he has no imagination he is likely to be conservative, even though otherwise good and kind-hearted. Some men are conservative from defects of heart, while some are conservative from defects of head. Conversely, most imaginative people are radical, for even a bad man may sometimes uphold the side of right because he has intelligence enough to understand that things might be better managed in the future for all than they are in the present.

"But when I say that conservatism is mainly due to want of imagination, I mean more than that. Most people are wholly unable to conceive in their own minds any state of things very different from the one they have been born and brought up in. The picturing power is lacking. They can conceive the past, it is true, more or less vaguely—because they have always heard things once were so, and because the past is generally realizable still by the light of the relics it has bequeathed to the present. But they can't at all conceive the future. Imagination fails them. Innumerable difficulties crop up for them in the way of every proposed improvement.

"Before there was any county council for London such people thought municipal government for the metropolis an insoluble problem. Now that home rule quivers trembling in the balance, they think it would pass the wit of man to devise in the future a federal league for the component elements of the United Kingdom, in spite of the fact that the wit of man has already devised one for the States of the Union, for the Provinces of the Dominion, for the component Cantons of the Swiss Republic. To the unimaginative mind difficulties everywhere seem almost insuperable. It shrinks before trifles. 'Impossible!' said Napoleon. 'There is no such word in my dictionary!' He had been trained in the school of the French revolution—which was not carried out by unimaginative pettifoggers."

The fearful men here described never accomplished much for the world. They may at times act as drags on a progressive movement, and do a little good in restraining the over-impetuous, but in the main they are the drones in the social beehive. To them the motto "Onward and Upward" means trouble, or work, or both, and they shrink from venturing. The world must have the idealists, and it must have those who ever strive after the ideal, however much they come short of it. Only by their energies, intelligently exercised, can great movements for the betterment of the race be promoted.

THE WOMEN'S UNION.

The recent formation of a branch of the "National Council of Women in Canada" in this city has awakened a decided interest in the minds of many citizens as to the objects of the organization. Perhaps the explanation asked for on all hands may be best given by a passing reference to the address made by the Countess of Aberdeen at Montreal, when nearly 1,000 women met, listened to her eloquent remarks, and resolved to form a branch of the National Council. The formation of this organization is the outcome of the Woman's Congress at Chicago, where the wife of the Governor-General was a leading spirit, and in which Great Britain was well represented by members of a committee over which her Royal Highness Princess Christian had presided. The preamble of the constitution of the National Council of Women of Canada, in accord with which the London Council will work, is in these terms:

"We, women of Canada, sincerely believing that the best good of our homes and nation will be advanced by our own greater unity of thought, sympathy and purpose, and that an organized movement of women will best conserve the highest good of the family and the State, do hereby band ourselves together to further the application of the Golden Rule to society, custom and law."

Lady Aberdeen in referring to the mission of the National Council, as here epitomized, remarked on the advancement of woman's position and opportunities to do good in the past few years as very remarkable. She continued:

"A century ago there was nothing of the sort. In apostolic times we are told of women being yoked fellows with men, but as times went on women were put in the background. The dark ages brought about the formation of those societies of women who, for purposes of safety and seclusion and religion, shut themselves out from the world. Out of these organizations have sprung those noble sisterhoods formed for deeds of charity, and throughout these past centuries it is alone to these sisterhoods that we can look for a direct continuance of organized women's work, and any of us who have seen these convents and sisterhoods must have been stirred by seeing what they have done. I have seen it in Ireland and to some extent here. To them is due the praise of having preserved all through the centuries and early ages of the church this organized woman's work.

If we look back a century we shall see Sarah Martin, and Mrs. Fry and others working in isolation and loneliness and opposition—seeing some evil and determining to rectify it by whatever means in their power, but for the most part finding but little sympathy, and they had to struggle on in that terrible loneliness which is such a difficulty to sympathetic and highly strung natures. But from the efforts of these pioneers have come by degrees little by little—renewed and revived woman's work, and now, ladies, when we look around we cannot say there is any lack of organized woman's work."

The intention is to have in Canada a federation of all the societies conducted by women, so that they may be brought into touch with one another, so that they can know and care for each other, so that they can meet in conference and learn how best to overcome their difficulties and advance the common good. Lady Aberdeen tells us that the National Council of Great Britain has been evolved from these local unions of woman's organizations, and that it arranges for a conference every year, at which all sorts of workers are brought together—Protestants, Catholics, Jews, secular workers and educational workers of all sorts.

"It has an enormous influence in widening the whole horizon of life," says her Excellency, "and affords a great degree of help and light in carrying on such work."

Lady Aberdeen meets a common objection in a pointed and appropriate manner when she says:

"There is one thing of which I should like to remind you, and that is, in attempting this work we are most anxious to have it remembered that we do not desire to overlook the fact that woman's first duty and mission is to her own home. A domestic failure very rarely makes a good public worker, and it is the women who have the happiest, brightest and best kept homes that we want to see in this council, for they will best understand what woman's work is. It best begins at home, but need not end there. It is like a stone cast into a pond whose ripples go on in ever widening circles that never end. People sometimes speak as if the fact that home is woman's first mission in itself prevented her from taking part in public work. They forget that a woman if she is to do her duty truly to her sons and daughters must keep in touch with the world; its thoughts, its activities, its temptations. Is she only indeed to be a mother in the nursery, and not to the growing up sons and daughters who need her more? Is she only going to shield the little ones from temptation, or is she going to make her influence felt for good in the world in which those children will have to live and work? She must think of those sons and daughters who have no mothers to shield them, no homes to shelter them, if she would see her own children shielded from temptation. For often these neglected ones whom we cannot care for because we are too occupied in our own happy homes, grow up to be a scourge and a difficulty, a source of temptation to our children. Thus the sins of omission of the fathers and mothers are visited on the children. And this work of women whether religious, or philanthropic, or for the advancement of art—all this work must react upon the home, and it is the women who best understand home-making who will best understand how to conduct these societies and associations which we are striving for today. And I hope most sincerely that the Central and National Council of Women in Canada will take under their special charge any movement how better to keep our homes—to train our children, to understand our children, how to deal with that servant problem which vexes us all. I trust that will be one of the first objects of our conferences—to bring that prominently before the women of Canada. For ladies, I do think we have not half enough training for that—the holiest ambition of our lives—the making of happy homes, the training of children to be grand all-round men, women and citizens who will be a blessing to their country. I believe that if the National Council will take this into account, it will have a good effect in the country."

If any apology were needed for the federation now in progress of accomplishment, and in which the active workers of the women's organizations in London have so heartily joined, it would be found in these noble words of Lady Aberdeen. Conducted on the lines laid down by its guidance, the National Council of Women of Canada should become a strong power for good in the Dominion.

THE SENATE MUST GO.

(Toronto News.)
The Liberals condemn the Senate as at present constituted. The Patrons demand its abolition. And a change of but one vote is required in the Conservative Association of Winnipeg to secure a like demand from that body. The days of the useless and expensive second chamber are nearly numbered. A plebiscite on the question of abolishing it would even now, indeed, show a majority of two to one in favor.

Thousands of Dollars

I spent trying to find a cure for Salt Rheum, which I had 13 years. Physicians said they never saw so severe a case. My legs, back and arms were covered by the humor. I was unable to lie down in bed, could not walk without crutches, and had to be bandaged twice a day. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon I could see a change. The flesh became more healthy, the scales fell off, I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking...

Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months, and since that time 2 years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well. S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford St., Providence, R. I.

PLAIN TALK FROM MR. TOLMIE.

Protestantism Needs No Unchristian Champions, But Can Do Good Itself.

WINDSOR, Jan. 22.—The Presbyterian Church was filled to overflowing last night, and Mr. Tolmie preached a sermon of great force. Mr. Tolmie has a way of talking right out in the meeting. Last night he spoke of the many ways in which people commit sacrilege. Starting from Biblical times he brought his discourse down to the present day, and spoke of the manner in which some men set themselves up as protectors of Protestantism and take a stand against a certain religious creed when in fact they have no interest in religion or the church at all and only take up the fight against the particular church which they oppose because of political differences. Mr. Tolmie said that Protestantism would take care of itself, and no man unless he be a Christian had any right to take part in the affairs of the church or to dictate as to the particular creed which a man should follow. He did not mention any organization, but scored the members of all such societies, who were not Christians for setting themselves up as examples.

Prospect Lodge, No. 10, E. of P. Entertains the Grand Chancellor.

The large hall in the Duffield Block was well filled with Knights of Pythias last evening. It was the regular meeting of Prospect Lodge, No. 10, but the gathering was made more than usually interesting by the attendance of several distinguished guests. The grand chancellor, W. E. Rispin, of Chatham, paid his official visit to the London Lodges, accompanied by Past Grand F. J. Fitzgerald and Grand Inner Guard W. Smith (London), Grand Outer Guard R. Poulton (Brantford) and District Deputy S. Southcott, of this city. After routine business was disposed of, addresses by the visitors and several local brethren were made. The grand chancellor briefly reviewed the existing condition of affairs and paid a high compliment to the officers and members of Prospect Lodge. The visitors and their friends were then invited to the parlors of the Hub Restaurant, where they enjoyed the hospitality of Prospect Lodge in the form of an oyster supper. The toast list began as usual with "The Queen and Royal Family," which was heartily responded to, the company singing the National Anthem.

"The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor" was coupled with the name of Aid. F. J. Fitzgerald, who spoke in a pleasing manner.

"The Supreme Grand Lodge of Canada" could not have been linked with persons more suitable than the grand chancellor and Mr. R. Poulton, grand outer guard. Both gentlemen assured the gathering that greater prosperity than ever was in store for the order in Ontario.

Londoners only were called upon in connection with "Subordinate Lodges." They were Messrs. R. Ironsides, of Mitzpah; R. Cadwallader, of Myrtle; W. Partridge, of London; R. McWhinney, of Prospect, and R. Bonney, of Columbia. All spoke of the progress being made by the order in the city.

"The Ladies" elicited a humorous reply from Mr. George Burrell, who was heartily applauded. Mr. Fred Lawton also responded. "Our Visitors" was spoken to by Mr. L. Franks, of Detroit. Messrs. Walter Leys and R. Bonney favored the audience with several songs during the evening, all of which were encored.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

BRANT. The report that bogus $5 bills on the Bank of Commerce are circulating in Brant has been denied.

ELGIN. A new iron bridge is being constructed at Port Stanley, to cost $11,000. Usher & Sangster, of Dutton, are the contractors. The old wooden bridge is being moved further up the creek, and meanwhile the villagers have to cross on the ice.

Mrs. Wm. Gilbert, aged 71, an old resident of Yarmouth, died near Sparta on Saturday. Her husband died last May. The sons are Peter, Yarmouth Center, and George at home. The one daughter is Mrs. Darius Bailey, of Sparta, who is now very ill of a gripple.

LAMBTON. There were 138 interments at Sarnia during 1893—62 of which were from the town, 42 adults and 34 under 12 years of age. Hugh Smith, county clerk of Lambton, died at his residence in Sarnia on Saturday evening. The deceased was about 77 years of age. He descended from an ancient Scotch family and maintained a vigorous constitution, until attacked with paralysis last May, since which time he was confined to his house. He held the office of county clerk for 28 years and discharged the duties with benefit to the county and credit to himself.

OXFORD. Wm. H. Karn died of consumption at Woodstock Sunday, aged 37. He had been superintendent of the Karn organ factory and was a brother of D. W. Karn, the owner. He lived in Woodstock nine years, and previous to that in West Zorra. He leaves a wife and three children.

PERTH. Sam. J. Elliott was arrested in Stratford for flourishing a gun. In his pocket was a newspaper clipping to the effect that a 16-year-old girl in Lafayette, Ind., had committed suicide because he rejected her love.

WATERLOO. The vital statistics for Galt for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1893, are: Births, 68; marriages, 41; deaths, 45. Peddie & Ernst's stock in Berlin, amounting to over $8,000 in value, will be sold in Toronto.

Galt's finances are apparently in good shape. The $45,000 consolidated debentures of the town, most of which are held in England, mature in 1897. The sinking fund for their redemption, the Reporter says, is well up to the mark.

Woman's Logic. Over all that we see, as it seemeth to be, is the truth that we can not reach. I tell it to you, you tell it to me—And both of us nod. You teach, I preach—and firmly we'll believe, for all of us know it is so. But you it would grieve and mo it would grieve.

"THE GROVE."

A Noted Educational Institution.

A HOME AND SCHOOL COMBINED.

Mr. Sparham Sheldrake, Principal and Proprietor.

He Speaks in Glowing Terms of a Medicine That Has Cured Thousands.

Lakefield, in the county of Peterboro, E. R., is one of the prettiest towns in the Province of Ontario. It is beautifully situated on the Grand Trunk Railway, and can boast of advantages which more pretentious towns cannot lay claim to. The people of Lakefield are enterprising; its business men keep abreast with the times, and heartily cooperate in every undertaking calculated to advance commercial interests and the general welfare of the town.

Amid the bustle of business, manufacturing enterprises and general municipal matters, the subject of education and the proper training of the young is not forgotten. The good people of Lakefield recognize the great importance of educational institutions, and have much reason for self-congratulation on their success in this direction.

The cause of education in Lakefield has received a great impetus since the establishment of Mr. Sparham Sheldrake's "Preparatory School for Boys." No other school in the Province can better qualify boys for the higher branches and a regular university course.

"The Grove" combines all the advantages of a high-class school and a refined and Christian home. Its reputation stands so high to-day that many of the best families in Canada and the United States send their boys to this ably-conducted school.

Mr. Sparham Sheldrake, the able and accomplished principal of "The Grove," is assisted by an efficient staff of teachers, is indefatigable in his efforts and works his great aim is to make his boys what they should be, from a moral and educational point of view.

In the work of directing and teaching, Mr. Sheldrake has been eminently successful. Like many other men he has over-worked and overtaxed his physical powers. The strongest systems must suffer when this is done; ordinary human strength cannot hope to accomplish herculean labor incessantly. Mr. Sheldrake soon felt the effects of continued over-work; there naturally came a depression of strength and vigor, a falling of appetite, inability to rest properly, and a general lowering of the nervous system.

At this serious and critical time, Mr. Sheldrake at once recognized the necessity of prompt treatment with a reliable and honest medicine. He had a knowledge of what Paine's Celery Compound had done for the sick and suffering in Canada, and he wisely decided to use this medicine that had cured, strengthened and given a new life to thousands of others.

The results in this case are too well known to require details. Mr. Sheldrake's success with Paine's celery compound is a fact known to scores of people in Lakefield and elsewhere. He was so impressed with the marvelous healing powers of the great medicine, that he felt it his duty to strongly recommend it to others who suffered.

No other medicine of this century has ever received such a hearty indorsement from our best people. Such men as Mr. Sheldrake do not tolerate or countenance the ordinary and useless advertised medicines of the day. Men and women who have the same social standing as Mr. Sheldrake are never imposed on or influenced by dealers to take something they represent as just as good. If Paine's celery compound was sold at double its present price, all the wiles, schemes and artifices of dealers would not prevent or curtail the present tremendous demand for nature's true life-giver.

Mr. Sheldrake, for the encouragement of the sick and suffering, writes as follows: "I have used Paine's celery compound for several years with unvarying beneficial results; in fact I seldom use any other. As a nerve tonic, and in cases of over-work or depression, I firmly believe it to be unequalled; it is also a splendid appetizer. I have constantly recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so as long as it retains its present excellence."

Surely this testimony is sufficiently strong and assuring for all who stand in need of a medicine to drive off disease. Paine's celery compound is guaranteed to do for the weak, broken-down, rheumatic, dyspeptic, nervous and sleepless, a work that no other medicine can accomplish; it always cures because it reaches the direct seat of trouble. Reader, if you think Paine's celery compound is what you need for your case do not for one moment be influenced to use any other, no matter how strongly recommended by dealers.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we are hesitatingly accept and upon it we await with the fullest confidence the verdict of the electors of Canada

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

Smallman & Ingram, Liberal Tariff Platform.

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare: That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

That it has decreased the value of farm and other landed property; That it has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

That it has checked immigration; That it has caused great loss of population; That it has impeded commerce;

That it has discriminated against Great Britain. In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people.

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government.

That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessities of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States.

We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY - Fair, light snow and colder.

STARTED!

We aimed at that. Our Linen movement has stirred the dullness. Something had to be done. We had the goods, but the people had the money. We wanted the money and the people to have the goods. How could we start them buying? Reduced prices spoke up. Being good, that idea prevailed. So the people came, are coming, and no doubt will come until the goods are gone.

We have led the drygoods trade in London for a number of years. We lead in Linens and Household Materials, too—but have never had such a tempting assortment. Prices quite as tempting. A few instances:

TOWELS. Linen Huck Towels at 12c each, or $1 25 the dozen. Very close price. Bleached and Unbleached Bath Towels, 40x 20, at 15c, worth 20c. Heavy Linen Towels, 40x22, at 18c.

SHEETINGS. White Sheetting at 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c and 45c. These prices are close. Unbleached Sheetting at 20c, 25c and 28c. These are choice.

TABLINGS. Good Quality Cream Damask Irish Tabling, 54 inches, at 27c. Cream Damask Irish Linen, 62 inches, once 65c, now 52c. Cream Damask Irish Linen, 60 inches, once 50c, now 45c. Cream Damask Irish Linen, 62 inches, once 65c, now 50c. Cream Damask Irish Linen, 62 inches, once 75c, now 60c. Cream Damask Irish Linen, 62 inches, once 75c, now 65c. Full Bleached Irish Damask Linen, 70 inches, once 75c, now 65c. Full Bleached Irish Damask Linen, 70 inches, once 85c, now 75c. Choice Snow-white Table Covers, 2 1/2 yards long by two wide, $2.50.

Not forgetting our excellent Mantles. We had a big stock, now greatly reduced. We don't mean to carry one of them into another season. "Freshest, newest, brightest things only" is our motto. Don't delay if you want one. The coldest part of winter has yet to come. Reduced prices.

AN AERONAUT KILLED.

Odell's Balloon Burst and He Fell Three Hundred Feet. RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 22.—L. N. Odell, an aeronaut of the Grace Shannon Balloon Company, was killed on Friday while making an ascension in the town of Washington, in the eastern part of the State. The balloon burst when it had reached a height of 300 feet.

Odell cut the parachute loose on the instant, but the weight was not sufficient to permit its spreading properly, and man and balloon dropped to the ground like a flash. Odell's body was badly mangled.

At least 200 persons witnessed the accident, and Odell fell right in the midst of the horrified spectators. Odell was about 30 years old, and is said to have come from Pennsylvania.

STRUCK BY A TIDAL WAVE. An Atlantic Liner Has to Return to New York—Great Damage Done.

New York, Jan. 23.—The Hamburg-American liner Normanna, which left this port last Thursday for Naples, Algiers, and Genoa, returned this morning in a disabled condition. She was struck at sea by a tidal wave, which swept away some of the deck, roofs and part of the promenade deck, and injured seven men, including the second officer, who will die. The wave sprang the hurricane deck, completely wrecked the ladies' parlor, the music room, the main saloon, both upper and lower, and flooded the staterooms. The 120 first-class, and the 145 steerage passengers, were thrown into a panic when the immense wave boarded the ship.

It was an intense relief to the passengers when they caught sight of Fire Island light this morning. The effects of many passengers were ruined by water. The ship was damaged between $75,000 and $100,000, which is fully covered by insurance. The steamer will sail again within 24 hours and the passengers will remain on board.

THE MAID OF DOON

They literally felt their way down to one landing and up to another, stopping when the stairs pisol-cracked, as stairs always when you wish to move unheard. They slid into the bed-room, however, without mishap, bolting the door cautiously behind them. Wingate let down the blind softly, fixed the reading-lamp over the bed, and drawing from his pocket several little pieces of tin, ranged them along the foot. On each of these he shook out a little heap of yellow-brown powder, then, with a box of safety Tadmucker in his hand, he sat down near the door, motioning Harley, strangely bewildered, to sit down beside him. One hour—two hours passed. The suspense was unbearable. Three hours had almost gone, and Harley, whose eyes had kept faithful sentry from the window to the face of his companion, was just about to shake the latter, who seemed to be dozing, when a hand was laid on his arm, and Wingate strained forward, listening. Something stirred overhead. A faint sound—a pause—the same sound again! Yes, the window was going up—going by inches and at intervals. The sound ceased. Something happened very lightly against the window. For several minutes it continued—now hard—now light—now stopping altogether, as a blind might at an open window. There was an especially hard follow-up by a soft on the pillow, and the motion ceased. Wingate rose to his feet, slid on tip-toe to the window, peered behind the blind, and glided back again. A slight sound as of keys against metal, then the stillness of death. Motionless they sat, their eyes riveted to the window. Minutes passed. Suddenly, but without agitation, Wingate pointed to a dark object crawling, greasily, along the wall, right above the bed. Both men moved toward it for a closer inspection. All at once Wingate dragged his friend back. "My God!" he gasped. "A tarantula—a black tarantula! Its bite is certain death. Just as he whispered the spider dropped on the pillow, and the sight of it spraying there, with its fiery eyes and hairy body, sent a cold chill to the very heart of Harley. But for a merciful Providence, what fate would have been his Nelly's! "Let me kill the accursed thing!" he whispered hoarsely, springing forward. Wingate thrust him back. "Are you mad? Do you know how it jumps?" Harley sat down at the door in disgust. He did not know anything, he did not care anything; but he ardently desired the life of the hideous insect that was desecrating that pillow. It was heading for the light. Wingate struck a match, and quickly extinguished it to the powder. A series of bright, bluish flames burst forth, and a sulphurous odor began to pervade the air. A visit to the new stars, and pergrination ceased! The spider betook itself straight to the wall, whence to the window. They watched it disappear. Just before daybreak something thrust the blind inward, and with a sigh of relief they saw that the curtain was gone.

It was the afternoon of that day of haunted dawning. In the library of Doon House sat the colonel by the window, Wingate near the door. "Yes," the latter was saying bluffly. "I thought I'd get you to settle our argument about the exact house occupied by Burns' mother. Harley said he had something better to do than bother about Burns' niece. So I came alone." "You take quite an unusual interest in this corner of the earth." "Interest in Ayr? Should say I do. Haven't I walked, ridden, driven or cycled every road in Ayrshire? Was mine not foremost among the youthful spirits that hovered o' nights around the town of honest men and bonnie lassies that roved still miles for the unwearied of goblets, pines, indigestion, and honey-masked dyspepsia in the alluring halls of Fleury Meng? My heart warms whenever I see the old landmarks. A d here, in this paradise, who could forget the And Brig—a land of memories—with memories—an air redolent of him who was so much a poet because so nature-fired; a man, because so weak; a brother, because so erring." "There was a scraping sound in the room above, followed by a heavy thud. Wingate muttered unconsciously. "Roping the boxes—what a row! Must keep this up." "Hi! What's that?" said the colonel. "I say if there's anywhere a man should be good, it's here; and yet I believe there are men who, even with these surroundings, would sell their soul for money—barter it for say 500 a year and 10,000 slump." The colonel lay back livid. In the next instant he sprang to his feet. "What do you mean by that? And why are you roaring? And what's that noise?" "My dear colonel, you really mustn't. Think of the disastrous effects to your liver, if you had one. Let me explain. There was a fair girl dangerously troubled by her uncle. He was superstitious. She didn't know her danger, but she discovered that when she played upon his weakness he did not trouble her. Thereby hangs a ghost tale." The colonel moved nearer the door, and stood scowling. Wingate, right in his path, faced him. "Colonel, do you remember that night on the frontier, when the Gorkhas were playing tunes on the ribs of the Afghans with their Kukries (bumping the banisters—the idiots!), and the colonel, who was very like you, galloped back to camp to stop young Charteris, who was engaged to his niece from carrying her off from a monster? (Trampling like elephants—at the door, too.) Crandis tried to reason with him on the other side of the door, but he wouldn't hear reason." "Oh! That's your game, is it?" The colonel sprang to the door. "So, he took him by the throat—so! and shook him—so! You murderous old villain!" he said, "haven't you done enough?" "For—God's—sake!" gurgled the colonel, black in the face, "don't choke me." "And while he held him there, lo! the lovers escaped!" "For—God's—sake!" gurgled the colonel, black in the face, "don't choke me." "And while he held him there, lo! the lovers escaped!" "For—God's—sake!" gurgled the colonel, black in the face, "don't choke me." "And while he held him there, lo! the lovers escaped!"

After much ringing came not the butler, but the housemaid. "Where's Brown?" bellowed her master. "He's—he's unwell, sir." "Drunk, she means," interjected Wingate. "My arrangement, colonel." The colonel turned purple. "Tell the groom to saddle Damascus and bring him round this instant." "As well tell him to saddle the Alps," said Wingate, his back again to the door. "Firstly, because the butler is, so is the groom; secondly, because the horses are taking the air, as it were, in the field by the gate. Also my arrangement." Yellow to the eyes, the colonel sat down. "Harley will pay for this. The scamp will never handle a penny of mine." Wingate exploded. "Ho! ho! ho! You funny old man! The solemn way you joke! Dry humor that, eh? A man worth £70,000 handle a penny of yours!" The colonel exhauled the rainbow and began afresh. "Now, colonel, enough of this. I'll tell you what you're going to do. I've had a rather hard day's work, and you're going to ask me to join you at dinner. After that you're going to ask me to smoke one of your fine Indian cigars, which will really go high."

"Indeed! You take affairs into your own hands." "Precisely. They are mine. I'm a lawyer and I hunger." "And why should I ask you, pray?" "Because, while an open window at night may sometimes conduce to sleep everlasting, it doesn't always insure longevity. Sometimes it insures the reverse. Now, you understand?" "Like a cowed animal, the colonel sat as white as death. Wingate laid a hand on his shoulder. "Colonel, this is the second time you've played for hell; the second time I've made you fizzle and scold you. The first time was on Prestwick links. Both times you've been ungrateful." Hours had passed. The sun had set, leaving the heavens a glory of purple afterglow that men travel the world to see and come home to find in Ayrshire. The lawyer's instructions had been implicitly obeyed, and the two men were still sitting at the dinner-table, smoking in silence, when footstep was heard on the gravel outside, and a knock was handed to Wingate. He looked at the colonel as he opened it. "No, not from the detective department. Read for yourself." It was from Carlisle, and ran: "Be gentle. God bless you! Nelly Harley." The colonel's voice shook. "Give me your hand; I'm not ungrateful this time. Isay it, too. God bless you!" (The End.)

A GIRL'S NARROW ESCAPE.
A Case Where the Express "Snatched From the Grave" May Be Appropriately Used.

While in conversation with Mr. James McLean, says the Penitentiary Herald, we were given the particulars of a case deserving of widespread publication. It refers to the remarkable restoration to health of Mr. McLean's daughter Agnes, 13 years of age, who had been so low that her recovery was deemed almost impossible. Miss McLean's condition was that of very many other girls throughout the land. Her blood had become impoverished, giving rise to palpitation of the heart, dizziness, severe headache, extremely pale complexion and general debility. At this period Miss McLean was residing in Midland, and her condition became so bad that she was finally compelled to take to her bed. A doctor called in, but she did not improve under his treatment and another was then consulted, but without any better results. She had become so weak that her father had no hopes of her recovery, and did not think she would live three months. The lady with whom Miss McLean was residing urged the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Almost from the outset an improvement could be noticed. The use of Pink Pills was still continued, each day now adding to her health and strength, until finally she was restored to perfect health, and has gained in weight until she now weighs 140 pounds. Mr. McLean says he is convinced that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved his daughter's life, and does not hesitate to advise their use in all similar cases. There are thousands of young girls whose pale or waxy complexion betokens early decline, and to them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially valuable. They rebuild the blood, bring back the bloom of health to the cheek, and fully restore health and strength. Sold by all dealers, or sent on receipt of 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

Twelve-Year-Old Girl Elopes.
OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Wm. Lawyer, 30 years of age, and Lulu Simpkins, 12 years of age, eloped from Hannibal, this county, Thursday.

The girl's mother sent her to the post-office, where she met Lawyer, who had lived with the girl's family several years, and paid little for board, pleading poverty. When the elopement became known a warrant was issued for Lawyer's arrest on the charge of abduction and "jumping" his board bill.

The pair were traced to Weedsport, where, it is said, they were married. They are now in Canada, Lawyer's former home.

HE LOVED good bread, pie, and pastry, but his stomach was delicate. SHE LOVED to cook, but was tired and sick of the taste and smell of lard. She bought Cottolene, (the new shortening) and THEY LOVED more than ever, because she made better food, and he could eat it without any unpleasant after effect. Now THEY ARE HAPPY, in having found the BEST, and most healthful shortening ever made—COTTOLENE.

Mrs. Fisher, relict of the late Capt. Fisher, once postmaster of Sarnia, died on Friday in that town, aged 59 years. Deceased was the stepmother of Chas. Charles Fisher, of London, Miss Fisher and Mrs. S. A. Macvicar, of Sarnia. She leaves two daughters.

The remains of the late Mrs. George Moore, formerly of Port Stanley, arrived at St. Thomas from St. Louis Sunday, and were placed in the plot with those of her father, Capt. May, and her three brothers, who had gone before. Deceased was known to many Londoners.

The induction of Rev. J. H. Courtenay in the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church, Port Stanley, will take place to-morrow. Rev. John Currie, Belmont, will preside; Rev. M. P. Talling, London, will preach; Rev. Geo. Sutherland will address the minister, and Rev. J. A. Macdonald will give the charge to the people.

Mr. J. H. Price, of Port Stanley, well known here, and his two children were nearly drowned while crossing the frozen surface of Kettle Creek at the Port on the other day. They were pulled out in time. Bert Weld, traveler for Paterson & Co., Brantford, also broke through the ice, but crawled out.

A Division Court case was decided yesterday at Milton in favor of Fred T. Trebilcock of this city, against C. E. White, jeweler, of the town. White owed the plaintiff $400, but sought to mortgage his business for $900 in his grandmother's favor. The judgment in effect declares that Mr. Trebilcock's claim takes preference over the mortgage. Aylesworth, Toronto, and R. K. Cowan, London, for the plaintiff.

Rev. R. Robertson, of Hamilton, the new pastor of the King Street Presbyterian Church, arrived in town last evening in company with Elder Tuck. The Knox Church, Hamilton. They were met at the station by Messrs. F. Chesbrough and Luke Parkins. Mr. Robertson is staying with Mrs. Irwin, King street. The induction service will be held in the church to-night, and all are invited to attend. Rev. Munro Fraser, Hamilton, will arrive in town during the day to take part in the service.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. W. Vicary, of Delaware, died in the City Hospital here. The deceased was suffering from a tumor and went to the hospital about three weeks ago, where she had an operation performed, and was apparently doing well, when she took a change for the worse and died on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Vicary was about 42 years of age, a woman of a quiet and retiring disposition, and respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She was a member of the Methodist Church, and leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. Geo. Axford, sen., Southwood, her parents being both in the Axford family. Her brothers are George Axford, jun., and Robert Axford, and her sisters are Mrs. David Bogue, Mrs. John Bogue, of Westminster, and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, of St. Thomas. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Talbotville yesterday afternoon.

A Londoner in Hamilton. Hamilton Times: Prof. T. Pasmore, who advertised himself on the bills as "late editor of the Patriotic Canadian and the pioneer of Protestantism in Canada," lectured twice in the Arcade Arcade Hall yesterday. In the afternoon his subject was "The Character and Aim of the Papacy." In the evening the subject was, "Are we Justified in Publicly Attacking Romanism?" In the afternoon there were about 30 people present and in the evening the party admissions were 34. Some of these were disguised with themselves for attending, as the so-called lecturer was a miserable affair, and the speaker's style simply execrable.

The L. and P. S. R. A Windsor dispatch says: The Walkers have not yet taken active management of the London and Port Stanley Road, and the business is still conducted by the old management. Dr. E. C. Walker said this morning that the time of taking up the active lease was not yet settled, and he did not know just what the road would pass into the hands of the L. E. and D. R. R. There still remains some matters to be settled regarding the terminus facilities at London, and it may be some time before the lease is taken up. There is a probability that the space intervening between the present terminus of the Walkerville road and the terminus of the new acquisition will be spanned with an extension of the L. E. and D. R. R., and the two roads will be conducted as one road, making a through line from Windsor to Port Stanley. Successful Canadian Inventors.

Young Conservatives Meet. The Young Men's Conservative Association have changed the location of their club rooms to the banqueting hall of the Masonic Temple, and last night the change was celebrated by a concert. The place was crowded, President T. W. Scandrett was in the chair, and among those in attendance were: T. G. Meredith, Dr. Rourke, M.P., John E. Minihnick, F. A. Fitzgerald, Aid. W. C. Coe, R. Bayly, Q.C., Dr. Flock. President Scandrett, in a short speech, heartily welcomed the young men to their new location, which he said enhanced the prospects of the club in every way. The harpers were present, and among those who took part in the programme were Messrs. O'Neil, Warren, Weeks, Drennan, Logan, Stockwell, Bayley, Loughrey and Selby, songs; club-swinging by Partridge brothers; instrumental, M. Lawrason, recitation, Dr. Flock. Stratford Liberals Elect Officers.

The annual meeting of the Stratford Young Liberal Club, last night proved to be an affair of no small note. About 7:30 o'clock the members, headed by a brass band, paraded the principal streets on the way to the club rooms, and shortly after, when the doors were opened, there was a tremendous crush by those anxious to gain admission. When all had entered the retiring president, Mr. Palmer, declared the polls open for the election of officers. The greatest interest was centered in the contest for the presidency between Mr. J. P. Mabee, a leading lawyer of the city, and Mr. P. G. Marquis, English teacher in the Collegiate Institute there. From 8 till 10 the polls were kept open, and at the latter hour over 200 ballots had been deposited in the box. When a count had been made it was learned that the following had been chosen as office bearers for the year: President—J. P. Mabee. First Vice-President—T. J. O'Connor. Second Vice-President—J. A. McFadden. Secretary-Treasurer—J. A. Macdonald (acclamation).

Committee of Management—Messrs. J. F. Palmer, E. S. Tobin, Thos. Ballantyne, jun., W. Jeffrey, R. T. Harding, W. M. Beirne, Dr. Ahrens, Thomas Trow and E. T. Duncan. During the hours of polling the brass band and several pipers furnished lively music. The meeting broke up with cheers for the retiring president and a number of others.

CONGRATULATORY. Opening Services of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church Continued—A Large Audience—Fellows Addressed by City Ministers.

Park Avenue Presbyterian Church has of late been highly favored. Within four years it has become possessed of a pastor whose energy, earnestness and eloquence have won the esteem and admiration of his flock; and now it has secured a handsome house of worship. The services proper to its dedication were continued last evening by a platform meeting, in which a number of representative ministers took part. The auditorium of the church was filled. Rev. W. J. Clark occupied the chair, and introduced the different speakers with appropriate remarks. He read letters from Bishop Baldwin (Anglican), Rev. Ira Smith (Congregational) and Rev. W. H. A. Clark (Congregational), who had been asked to represent these denominations, expressing regret at inability to be present. Good wishes, however, were voiced in each.

Rev. J. A. Murray, Rev. James Ballantyne and Rev. M. P. Talling spoke on behalf of their churches of the Presbyterian persuasion. The relations of St. Andrew's and Park Avenue are very friendly, and Mr. Murray's dignified and kindly remarks were much appreciated. The presence and greetings of Mr. Ballantyne were also very welcome. The remarks of Mr. Talling relative to his first intimacy with Mr. Clark were racy and good-humored. They were fellow-colleagues. Rev. J. W. Aunis was extremely happy in his remarks, conveying the fraternal feelings of Methodism. He said that he hoped and believed that the day was not far distant when the Presbyterian and Methodist denominations would become united. The government of each differed slightly, but the doctrines expounded were not very divergent.

Rev. A. E. Vert, of Delaware, offered a prayer. Mr. D. Robertson, the pastor-elect of King Street Presbyterian Church, was invited to the platform and spoke briefly. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. W. C. Barron, rendered several anthems acceptably. After the addresses and the musical part of the programme had been concluded, an adjournment was made to the lecture room, where refreshments were served by the ladies.

The History of Epidemics Is almost uniform in the direction of their extending over several years. Frequently the disease is epidemic, becoming definite almost every year in this country. It first made definite inroads in this country three years ago, and this year it seems to have returned in a more virulent and undulating effects far-reaching and uniformly demoralizing to the system, and it becomes absolutely necessary that the system should be kept in a state of perfect health in order to withstand and combat this terrible disease. WILLIAMS' Royal Crown Remedy taken regularly four times a day, with one or two of the Royal Crown Pills three times a week, seems to build up the system and combat the disease better, and with less expense to the patient than anything we know of. ywt

London's Great One-Price Popular Store.

Did it ever occur to you how many small things are needed to keep up the requirements of a family? We are sure it has. The next thing you naturally think of is how cheaply you can buy them and which store is the cheapest to buy them from, for everybody now acts on the lesson taught us in the old adage, "A penny saved is a penny made."

This store has the reputation of selling cheap and always being the cheapest.

And why? Simply because we sell at such wonderful low prices as:

Pins, 1c a paper. Needles, 2 papers for 5c. Hooks and Eyes, 3 packages for 5c. Safety Pins, all sizes 5c dozen. Pearl Buttons, 5c a card, 2 dozen.

Spools, 2c a spool, best cotton. Silk Twist, 1c a spool. Silk Thread, Belding's best, blacks and all colors, 2 spools for 5c. Crochet Cotton, 5c a ball, all numbers. Knitting Cotton, 5c.

Linen Spools, 10c, 3 for 25c. Handkerchiefs, 2c, 3 for 5c. All Silk Ribbons, 5c yard. Military Braids at 1c a yard. Laces, 1c a yard. Embroideries, 2c yard. Gloves, all prices, 10c up. Hosiery, special line of Cashmere ribbed and plain.

Kid Gloves, 25c pair. Veilings, 4c yard. Frillings, 4c grill. Edgings, 5c a dozen yards. Soaps, toilet, 2 cakes for 5c. Soaps, Electric, 10 bars for 25c. Soap, brown Windsor, 1c cake; Combs, 10c. Purses, 12 1/2c. Garter Elastic, 4c.

And thousands of other lines of small things that everybody requires.

This business, even considering the dull season of the year has kept up with a boom that is startling and surprising to us. Under the new proprietorship of Mr. T. E. Mara, who was brought up from infancy to regard with keenness the straightforward methods of business (and of whom is required his ability now to keep up the reputation this store has always enjoyed) it is doing more business than was ever transacted in this busy place before. You have nobody to thank for your bargains here but us and we have no one to thank for our success but you, and therefore the relationship between buyer and seller is one that is regarded with respect.

Honest Values One Price

Make us a household word in this vicinity. Come and see us and experience the pleasure of buying cheap.
