FREE TRADE FOR NEW, SOUTH WALES.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 9.-Premier Reid made a statement in the Assembly regarding the estimates for the coming year. The budget, he said, proposed a great change in the country's policy. The Government were pledged to abolish the customs duties imposed in 1891, to establish a tariff on a free trade basis, and to reform the civil service. The Government was determined to stake its existence on direct taxation. There would be a land tax of a penny a pound, and an income tax of sixpence on the pound, with exceptions. There would be a permanent tariff only on wines, spirits, beer, tobacco and opium. The old duties would be retained for a year, the sugar duties alone remaining for two years. Political patronage in the civil service would be abolished. The estimated surplus was £56,184.

RATIFIED BY BOTH.

The State Department at Washington received a cable message Thursday dated at Che Foo, from Mr. Reed, United States consul at Tien Tsin, saying that ratifications of the Japanese-Chinese treaty were exchanged yes-

London, May 9.—The Foreign Office has been informed by the Japanese Government that the Chino-Japanese treaty was ratified on May 8 in the exact form agreed upon at Shimonoseki.

It is understood that no change was made in the text of the treaty as originally concluded, but that taking into account the recommendations made by Russia, Germany and France, the Japanese Government has agreed to re nounce the permanent possession of the Liao Tung peninsula, on condition, however, that arragements regarding the and the terms of renunciation shall be reserved for adjustment be-tween itself and the Government of strued to mean that Japan will not sur-render the peninsula until a suitable in-demnity shall have been paid, and that it may even be agreed between Japan and China that the possession of Port Arthur itself will be retained for a number of years, guaranteeing to Japan not alone the payment of the indemnity itself, but also sufficient time to safeguard herself against anything like a war of reprisal. Wei-Hai-Wei will be held until the first 100,000,000 taels and the next two annual installments of the indemnity have been paid.

DR. TANNER STIRS UP A STORM. London, May 9 .- Dr. Tanner, Anti-Parnellite member for the middle division of Cork, caused much excitement in the House of Commons tonight by a sharp attack on the royal family. At midnight, on a motion to adjourn, he rose and asked with a considerable show of feeling: "Is the report true that the Duke of Cambridge, the commander-in-chief of the army, is retiring to make way for a better man?" There were loud cries for order, but Tanner ignored them.

"Is the time come at last," he continued, "when a member of the royal family, who has been drawing the people's money too long, is going to re-

The second question increased the confusion. Shouts of "Name him!" came from the Conservative side, and the Speaker rose with his eye fixed on the Irish member. Dr. Tanner remained standing.

"Are these remarks in order?" asked George Bartley (Conservative). "They are not," replied Speaker Gully. "They are entirely out of order."

Most members supposed that Dr. Tanner would succumb to this rebuke. The Conservative cheers which greeted the Speaker's declaration, however, seemed to enrage him. With a quick gesture of disdain he addressed Mr. Ellis, the sole occupant of the treasury bench. "What I wish to know is whether his Royal Highness is going to retire." There was no answer. The Speaker put the motion to adjourn, which was formally approved, Dr. Tanner meanwhile gesticulating violently and trying to address the House. The pains taken by Campbell-Bannerman on April 23 to deny that his Royal Highness was about to retire apparently had a bad effect upon the Nationalists and Radicals. The subject has been discussed with much feeling by the Radical press in the last week. The critics of his Royal Highness contend that he opposes every reform in the army, and is incompetent, useless and expensive. The agitation has begun spreading among the moderate journals. Punch, which is invaricurrent issue representing Gen. Wolseley saying to the Duke of Cambridge: "I have to retire from my command in September," to which the Duke replies:

"Dear me, I haven't." A HUGE ICEBERG. Queenstown, May 10.-The Cunard teamer Campania, from New York, May 4, arrived at 9:50 a.m., six hours behind the record of the Lucania, which is 5 days 8 hours and 38 minutes. On May 6, in latitude 41, longitude 49, the Campania passed an iceberg 150 feet high, directly in the track of the steamers.

HARCOURT IS FRANK. London, May 10.-In the House of Commons Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, refused to fix a day to proceed with the motion to appoint a Scotch commission to deal with certain Scotch bills. Sir Donald Macfarlane said: "If the matter is further delayed, the Scotch Liberal members will have to reconsider their position toward the Government." Sir William Harcourt-My answer is that it is entirely open to members to consider their position.

EXCITEMENT IN THE REICHSTAG.

Ungarded Statement by the Minister of the Interior-Uproar in the Chamber. Berlin, May 9.—In the Reichstag today Dr. Schoenstedt, Prussian Minister of Justice, announced that the Government would accept the Conservative amendment to paragraph 31 of the Anti-Socialist Bill. Herr Lenzmann (Richter Radical) argued for the rejection of the bill. Herr Von Koeller, Prussian Minister of the Interior, scored Herr Lenzmann for remarking that the Government was embarrassed over the bill. He de-clared that the Government was responsible for this measure, as for all other of its bills, but at the same time was perfectly indifferent as to what the House thought of its proposals. This declaration caused a great uproar, but Minister Koeller persisted in continuing his speech, shouting: "Yes, perfectly indifferent. What you are here for is to pass or reject bills and grant the necessary money for the legitimate expenses of the state. What you think does not touch the Government.' The uproar was renewed and continued several minutes. Herr Koeller read extracts from speeches delivered and pamphlets read at recent Socialist meetings, his reading being accom-

marks and denials from the Socialists. Herr Bebel (Socialist) followed in a long speech, in which he protested against Herr Koeller making the Socialists responsible for the utterances of Anarchists. The capitalist classes, he declared, were to blame for the troubles of the workingmen through their tyran-nical exploitations of the workingmen. He cited as an instance of the tyranny of capital the oppression and subsequent bloodshed at Homestead, Pa. The effect of the bill, should it become law, he said, would be to corrupt every man in public life. This, he sought to prove by quoting from Chancellor Hohenlohe's speech, and concluded by condemning the entire attitude of the Government. Herr Bebel was listened to with close attention as he proceeded, and in a peroration which had an emotional effect upon the House said: "It is a characteristic of the class rule existent that they try to blot out the Socialists, but the movement will only have the result that the teaching of learned spirits in the universities shall yet cause these material and atheistic teachings to be untouched. Furthermore, the bill punishes attacks upon Christian teachings, ignoring the fact that Jesus died a rebel for treasen to the Roman empire." ter further discussion the Reichstag

THE REMEDIAL ORDER

Gets a Month's Hoist by the Manitoba Legislature.

The Question Becoming More an More Complicated.

Winnipeg, May 9.-Another unxpected turn occurred in the separateschool fight today, when the ManitobaLegislature reassembled to deal with he remedial order recently passed by he Dominion Government, calling upo Man-

When the House opened the Femier rose and briefly asked the Legilature to further adjourn until June 1.

Mr. A. F. Martin made a strong protest against the delay. He wand the ating the support of autonomists there Government to state its intention to the House. It was unfair that members should be kept in the dark on so inportant a subject.

At the evening session Mr. hartin continued his speech. The Attrney-General, Mr. Sifton, then spoke, riefly defending the position of the Gwernment in asking for adjournment He said the Legislature could not scept the Dominion Government's order as it involved a notion involved a return to the old seprate school system. The House the adjourned until June 13.

It is said that the action of the Government in adjourning is owing t the receipt of a letter from Lord Abedeen on the matter, and that constitutioally the Legislature could take no ther The question is complicated by doubt as to whether the Dominion tabi-net, having issued the order, cannow undo its own action by recalling i.

TRADE IN CANADA.

Points from Dun & Co.'s Weekly Statement.

Business Somewhat More Active-Higher Prices for Some Products.

Toronto, May 9.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada says: In Montreal and in the Province of Quebec generally, business is more active, but the spirit of cautious buying is still largely in evidence. Money is scarce in the country parts, and remittances slow. The new sugar duty has had an unsettling effect upon the grocery trade. A continued strong advance is noted in hides and leather. Domestic cottons are firming up, and there is anticipation of an advance in other lines besides those noted last The weather has been very favorable for farming operations. Reports from many sections of the country indicate that farmers are giving up to some extent the growing of hay for export, and are devoting a larger acreage to grain and are also increasing their stock of cattle, with a view to cheese making, a policy which should prove beneficial.

Business in wholesale circles at Toronto is fairly satisfactory. strength and higher prices for leading products is the encouraging feature. Farmers are obtaining good prices for their live stock, and the season now opening is encouraging to shippers. The tone of the wheat market is generally firm. Travelers are doing a good trade in summer fabrics, and payments for this month are said to be satisfactory. There is a good trade in groceries. Sugars are seven-eighths of a cent higher. The hardware trade is fair, and prices steady.

The failures for the week are 34; for the same week of last year, 42.

SPAIN'S HARD TASK.

Unsuccessful Efforts to Subdue the Cuban Insurgents.

Spanish Soldiers Can Do Nothing With the Hardy Mountaineers-A Guerilla Warfare.

Santiago De Cuba, May 10.—Instead of the short, sharp and decisive cam-paign which Gen. Martinez Campos was to have inaugurated, the Spanish forces have shown their utter inability to put down the insurrection, and it is now plain that the struggle is to be long continued and attended with the sacriitoba to undo her legislation abdishing fice of many lives and the expenditure of many millions of dollars of Spanish

Even then there is no certainty that Spain will retain the Island of Cuba, for from the moment that Campus landed and issued his proclamation alienhave been large recessions to the in-surgent ranks, and now that Maceo, Gomez and Marti have reached the base of operations people are leaving the plantations and towns by hundreds to join them, so that the rebels have more men than they can arm. Among those now in the camps of the insurgents are many who fought in the rebellion of eighteen years ago. The insurgents in the field are nearly all black or mulatoes, but they are courageous and know how to handle a gun. Their warfare is that of the guerilla, but it is systematic and effective. To fully understand the failure of the Spanish troops in the field one should follow a regiment for a week after its arrival from Spain; that interval transforms plump, red-cheeked soldiers into wan, wasted wretches, footsore, weak and utterly incapable of fighting rugged mountaineers. The Spanish army is an undisciplined nob. The youthful conscripts are treated with the greatest inhumanity by their officers. The army has absolutely nothing in the shape of camp equipment, and there is no commissary department for field work. Troops are fed when they are at barracks. When they make marches into the interior they go without food. An interval of three days between rations is not uncommon, and this is while the troops are marching over the rough roads under a boiling sun, with no protection at midnight from the heavy dews. Such treatment and lack of cleanness has caused yellow fever to appear before the rainy season has set in and much ernment to make the rate of city)ost-age 1 cent instead of 2. before it was expected by the residents. There are 40 cases in the hospital here, although the authorities will not admit

RUSHING THE SEASON.

Crops in the States Will Break the Record.

A Great Growth-The Weather Very Hot.

Yankton, S. D., May 10.-Never be fore has vegetation of all kinds at this season of the year been so far advanced in this part of South Dakota, and that portion of Nebraska adjoining. Never was there such a prospect for small grain, fruit and prairie grass. The total number of acres planted in small grain exceeds the acreage of last year by 30 per cent, and every field shows that the seed has sprouted Copious rains have fallen, and wheat and oats are six inches high. Most of the farmers have finished corn plant ing, and numerous fields show corr sprouted an inch above the ground. Barring drought, hail and high winds, the corn belt of South Dakota and Ne braska will break the record this year. Indianapolis, Ind., May 10.—Yester-day was the hottest May day in 24 years in Indiana. The effect on the crops has been exhilarating. Des Moines, Iowa, May 10.—The heat yesterday was intense throughout Iowa. The air was moist, and the effect on the growing crops is remarkable. Madison, Wis., May 10.-Yesterday was the hottest day for this section of the State ever known at this time of the year. After the recent rains, this weather is of great assistance to vegetation Lincoln, Nb., May 10.—This State has been watered so copiously during the past two weeks, with the exception of the western counties, that the heat augments the growth of the crops.

CANAL GATES BROKEN. Thorold, Ont., May 9 .- The steam barge, Jack, belonging to the Calvin Company, of Kingston, carried away five lock gates in the new canal here about 4 o'clock this morning. The rush of water did some damage to the banks and also to the Grand Trunk Railway.

a method of teaching the scientific phonetic alphabet of the American

Philological Association, as used in the new Standard Dictionary, illustrated

by carefully-drawn charts the method of teaching words by sight to the little at more length on the later and recent educational movements, reforms and revolutions. The effects of the inventions of printing, manufacture of paper, extended discoveries of new parts of the globe, each had wonderful results in awakening the minds of men to original investigation. Good points in the old methods were touched upon, points that in the rapid development and evo-

as a time of preparation for something higher. They looked forward to law, medicine or the pulpit, but it mattered not what position might be attained in future life, they would never have better opportunities to do good than when they were teachers. Touching spon the duties of teachers, Mr. Clark said it was an exceedingly important thing in every school that the person who stood behind the desk should maintain his or her authority; that the teachers should let the pupils know that they were there to rule; that they should receive the thorough respect and recognition due a teacher; and that it was no pleasure for them to cause physical pain. The president, Mr. J. W. Plewes, had said something in regard to social questions. There was no question of greater importance, and it was to be learned that whatever good was to come in the way of government must spring from the individual. It must be acknowledged that there was a good deal of wrong about the Dominion Government; there is a misuse of public funds; but it was not simply party warfare that brought these things out. Governments should be representative of the people, but just so long as there are 1. Washing off and Kalsomining stupid voters, passionate voters, men who have not the intellectual fibre that would lead them to scorn the one that would buy a vote—until there was that class of men communities could not have pure governments. Teachers had to do with individuals at the most impressionable stage, and the things they did would have effect not only tomorrow, but for ever and ever. A personal interest must be shown in every child. Some could not help having a stronger liking for some pupils than Modern Pictures others—the pretty little children with Has pleasure to announce that many artists heretofore represen ed in America by Mr J. The Electric Company's power house to take entire valuable and interesting collection of

> The second day's proceedings of the East Middlesex Teachers' Association were opened at the county council chamber this morning. Mr. S. K. Da-vidson, instructor in drawing at the Collegiate Institute, exhaustively treated the purposes and methods of teaching drawing in public and high schools. Harm comes from the erroneous opinion that the subject is an ornamental one to enable a person to make pretty pictures to be hung up in frames. Drawing as taught in the schools is, or should be, intensely useful. He criticised the faults in the authorized books, one being the excessive guiding-line rulings in Book No. 1, and another the machine made shading in Books Nos. 5 and 6, which no one can copy free-hand. As an example of good shading he referred to that on the copy of the onion on page 7 of H. S. Book No. 1. In shading each stroke should be not more than a half-inch long; crossing lines should make acute, not right angles. Always keep pencils sharp. He distinguished mechanical from pictorial perspective, and would favor for practical purposes confining himself to the latter, which is model drawing. Mr. J. W. Plewes, the delegate to the Ontario Provincial Association, reported the proceedings of that body at the Easter meeting. He gave the gist of several of the best papers read in the public school teachers' section and re-by reviewing the chief points brought out by the talented speakers from abroad at the general meetings. Mr. Amos, with reference to the discussion on the history required for entrance, held that Canadian history cannot be very intelligently taught without

Clark, pastor of the First Presbyter-ian Church. It was a good practical talk, and showed that Mr. Clark, though never engaged in school teaching, knew 186 Dundas St. perfectly well how a teacher, to be successful, should handle a class. After a humorous reference to the introduction he had received as an eminent orator, Mr. Clark stated that the appearance of the members was such as to convince him that the sessions of the association must have been profitable. He counted it an honor to speak to the teachers, as he had in his mind ments might be made in this natural world, but whatever honor may go to those who discover and invent, surely those who had to do with the intellectual developement must be looked upon as the most honorable men and women. True it was, a great many men engaged in the teaching sphere looked upon it

Nine-Year-Old Boy Shot by His Youthful Companion.

Esex. Ont., May 9.-About 9 o'clock this morning Aylmer Chase, an 11-yearold boy, while flourishing a revolver shot Anthony Gascoe, aged 9 years. Chase was evidently trying to scare Gascoe, without thinking that the revolver was loaded.

The ball entered the nose and took an upward course towards the base of the skull Drs. Potts and McKenzie have attempted to locate the bullet. The boy may die from the effects.

A GOOD THING.

The City on the Thames Know How to Appreciate a Valuable Discovery. London, Ont., May 10.-London citizens have claimed for some time that their city is one of the most progressive in the Dominion, and many points appear to bear out the assertion. Among other valuable novelties which have met with general adoption may be mentioned the remedy so effective in all cases of kidney trouble, called Dodd's Kidney Pills. The wonderful recoveries of Mr. and Mrs. Langley, of this city, of Drs. Ross and McCormick, in the eastern part of Canada, and Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, to say nothing of many others who have used the remedy, and been restored to health, have convinced Londoners that they have got hold of a thoroughly good thing.

Miss Maggie Jackson, of Barbreck, St. Landry Parish, La., says: "I was lying sick for sometime with female complaints, and all the medicine my friends gave me did me no good. Death was approaching; all my friends had given me up to die. I heard of your wonderful medicine, and I bought two bottles of it, and before I had taken the last, I got entirely well. I am still enjoying good health, and expect to praise your medicine everywhere I go.'

The Otis Steel Company, Cleveland, O., went into the hands of a receiver on Thursday. There is to be no interruption to business.

"The man who can read the love letters he wrote to his wife before they were married without calling himself an idiot," says the Manayunk Philosesopher, "is either still in love with her or else he never was.'

The Scrap Bag.

"Have something about the beauties of spring, and the vernal air, the sunshine and the little birds and things in your Scrap Bag tomorrow."

"No, I won't have anything about the beauties of spring, and the vernal air, the sunshine, and the little birds and things." It's my scrap bag, and I'll do what I like in it. I don't know anything to say about such things, even if I had to; they are not in my line. What bores some people are always making of themselves. Advice! Fancy anybody but "a prehistoric reminiscence of a by-gone age" giving advice to another person in these high

Still, it can be done if you go about the thing properly and follow my method. It is as simple as a recipe for lemon pie. I'll let you have it now, and you'll send me a 2-cent stamp next week. This is how I do it. Let the individual in question come to me and ask me to advise him. "Sounds something like how to make hare soup," does it? Well, I know it doesn't happen often, but still people have been known to come to others for advice. And we will presume that you have caught your hare. A trying moment, but be calm. One spark of interest, any sign of life at this critical period would be ruinous. The individual will first attempt to drag your opinion out of you by main force. Don't let him have it. Be bored and look the other way. He will be down upon his knees presently, imploring you to make up his mind for him. Then tell him, and I think you stand a chance-a faint chance-of living to see your advice carried out. I hadn't asked for the above advice. I didn't want any. But the adviser in question must needs take it upon himself to give me a gentle hint to the effect that it is the season of the year when editors of departments make the annual remarks to their readers "that spring, gentle spring, is with us again, and, oh! why should we not go a-gathering the pretty buttercup, or some such stuff as that. Yes! Spring is here. I know it, and I have not a word to say. I can find none. She does not belong to me. She is the poet's. The guerdon is theirs. Gladness requires the finer language; prose can paint evening and autumn, because prose is equal to melancholy stuff, but poets are needed to sing the dawn-and spring."

Mr. Flatte-My wife takes me down frequently in the elevator. Mr. Cottage (with deep feeling)-We haven't an elevator, but that doesn't make any difference.

Has ff ever occurred to you the bad judgment both men and women display in dressing? For instance, a tall, thin man buys himself a sack coat; a small, fat man account of Victoria street drain. will wear a Prince Albert coat; a tall, Mr. W. J. Dyas and family lef thin woman wears black; and a stout lady will wear bright colors; a tall man wears a derby hat, a small man a silk hat; a tall man wears "lay down collars," a small, fat man "stand up collars"; in fact, I could go on for columns and give examples of bad taste in dressing.

Thin people should not wear that which makes them appear thinner or taller, nor should fat people wear garments that make them apparently stout-

"Married," sighed the elderly friend. "Married, and with no provision for the future." "No," smilingly chirped the young bride, "there are no provisions for the future in the house. He just detests canned goods."

"Haven't you got this book in a chicken salad binding?" asked the Cheerful Idiot.

'What do you mean?' asked the astonished bookseller. "Half calf."

Both light and dark waists, when soiled, may be greatly improved in appearance by sponging them with gasoline of naphtha. Take a clean piece of old bleached cloth, wet it in the gasoline and rub quickly all over the waist, rubbing it lengthwise. Wipe the silk over with a clean, dry cloth, and hang in the open air for the odor of the cleaning fluid to evaporate. If wrinkled, press the silk on the wrong side with a moderately warm iron, first laying a cloth over its surface. This kind of cleaning will remove all grease and much grime, though not all kinds

Compliments are the poetical touches which redeem the monotony of prosaic existence. In the intercourse of sympathetic and well-bred people they have a natural place, and it is as pleasant to recognize by word or look the graces and charms of our friends as it is to enjoy and profit by them. Profit we do, undoubtedly, as all that makes life fairer makes it better, and a wholesome discernment of lovely traits, either physical or mental, must add to our faith in human nature and its capabilities. Just how far we may venture in revealing these pleasureable sensations to those who inspire them is a question which has never been satisfactorily answered. Rigid moralists declare that compliments are so akin to flattery that it is wrong to use praise in any way, not alone because of its cloying, indigestible effects upon the objects of commendation, but quite as much for the unhealthy state of mind which it produces in the one who pays tribute. This is "most intolerable, and not to be endured," for all need both to give and to receive encouragement in this practical. hurrying world; and how better can the wheels of life be made to move smoothly than by comforting and upholding in every way, and by seeing and openly acknowledging the fitness and special gifts of our fellow-creatures? And, reprehensible as hard natures find it there is a charm in opening our eyes to the attraction of others, and a warm, healthy glow accompanies the utter-ance of words which attest our admira-

The Baptist Church here has in the last month undergone a great transformation, the audience room having been beautifully frescoed and the pews renainted and grained at a cost of about $250. The reopening services took place last Sunday, when excellent sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. T. M. Fothergill, both morning and evening, and suitable anthems were ably rendered by the choir, under the direction of R. E. Richards.

SUICIDED IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 9.-Hebley V. Beaston (or Beatson), a native of Toronto, aged 38, last employed as switchman, committed suicide by taking poison in Forest Lawn Cemetery early this morning. He left a letter for his wife, The story it told was the threadbare Tie of sickness, loss of employment and drink. A reference was made in it to an occasion when he bought some po!son, and that his wife had accused him of intending to use it on her. This development, he said, would show how false was the charge, as he had used the poison now to end his own existence.

A very exciting chase after a mad dog took place on Thursday on the 15th concession of London township. The dog, which was a large black one with a white ring around his neck, was first noticed by Mr. F. McLean. It came to his place early in the morning and bit his dog, after which Mr. McLean and Mr. Will Thompson started the chase. They followed him across to Mr. John Guest's. Here the alarm was given, and Mr. McLean, feeling somewhat winded, got a substitute in Mr. Walter Guest. The chase was continued west nearly as far as the sideroad, when the dog immediately circled around and started back again. It then came to the barns of Mr. Artemus O'Neil, where it ran among some pigs. The loud yells of the pigs soon told what was happening. It did not stay long, however, but having bitten three of the best hogs, proceeded on to Mr. Alfred O'Neil's. Here it encountered some more pigs. but did not do much damage. The pursuers, who by this time had increased considerably, surrounded the barns and got the dog under one of them. After some difficulty in getting a sight of the canine, Mr. Walter Guest succeeded in lodging a bullet in its head, which rolled it over. SAXON OR SLAV?

Britain has launched another battle ship, her idea being to do her heaviest fighting, should she be put to it, at sea.

To that end, she proposes to have a navy equal to the combined fleets of the rest of the world-that is, counting in her fast mercantile vessels, capable of being armed to an effective extent at a few days' notice.

While the day of huge European armaments continues, we do not see that Britain can do other than she is doing. The new situation created by the war between Japan and China, and the aggression of Russia, open up tremendous issues and possibilities. Not from any worship of St. Jingo, but because we believe the best interests of mankind will be thereby served, do we consider it important that in the international gales of the future Britannia may continue to ride "safe through the storm." If Hon. David Mills is right in believing the coming world issue is to be "Saxon or Slav?"-supremely important is it that the English-speaking peoples of the world should be brought into closer relationship.

The man who says or does anything calculated to keep them separate is the enemy of mankind.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT'S AMENDMENT IN REPLY TO

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

That the estimates for the fiscal year, independently of any further supplementary estimates which may be $38 517,152 is in excess of the amount expended in 1893-4 by the sum of $922,127; that the deficit for the year 1893-4 amounted to $1,210,322; that the deficit for the present year is estimated by the Minister of Finance at $4,500,000; that from statements made by Ministers of the Crown in this House it appears that our existing obligations for railway subsidies and for public works now in progress will involve a as follows:

"For railway subsidies now voted, $8,729,000.

"For the St. Lawrence canals, $6,-000,000.

"For the Trent Valley canals, $5,000,- nor works, $1,000,000. "Making a total of $20,729,000.

charges of $1,400,000.

"The interest on which sum, together with the subsidy provided by statute to be paid on account of a fast Atlantic service will entail an addition to our already very heavy annual fixed

"That inasmuch as enormous sums of money are extracted from the people of Canada which are not paid into the treasury; and inasmuch as the burdens of the people are thereby greater and unnecessarily increased; and it is of the utmost importance to the well-being of the community that not only should the present extravagant expenditure be diminished, but that the said burdens should be reduced as largely and speedily as possible; it is therefore expedient that in making provision to restore the equilibrium between revenue and expenditure as recommended in the speech from the throne that the existing tariff be so modified that it may be made a tariff for revenue only."

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

A great deal of popular misunderstanding prevails concerning the Monroe doctrine not only in Canada and foreign countries but in the United States as well. This doctrine which the quarrel between Britain and Nicaragua has resurrected, is embodied in the following brief and simple passage from the seventh annual message of President Monroe, delivered in 1823:

"The occasion has been judged proper for asserting, as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers.

"In the wars of the European powers, in matters relating to themselves, we have never taken part in it, nor does it comport with our policy to do so. Stalker, of Edinburgh, on its staff.

It is only when our rights are invaded or seriously menaced that we resent in-juries or make preparations for our de-fense. With the movements in this hemisphere we are of necessity more immediately connected, and by causes which must be obvious to all enlightened and impartial observers.

"We owe it, therefore, to candor and to the amicable relations existing be-tween the United States and those powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered, and we shall not interfere. But with the Governments who have declared thir independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged. we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than in the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition tow-ard the United States."

Those in this country who, for political purposes, have been construing it into a declaration of hostility to existing British possessions in America, are plainly contradicted by its very spirit and letter. The Monroe doctrine, it may be added, was proclaimed with the assent of Britain at the time. Prof. McMaster, whose latest historical researches have been directed to a careful study of President Monroe's Administration, gives a concise statement of what the Monroe doctrine is, and of its application to the present state of affairs in Central America, in a letter to the New York Herald. He

'The doctrine does not contemplate forcible intervention by the United States in any legitimate contest, but it will not permit any such contest to result in the increase of European power or influence on this continent, nor in the overthrow of any existing government, nor in the establishmet of a protectorate over them, nor in the exercise of any direct control over their policy or institutions. Further than this, the doctrine does not go.

"It does not commit us to take part in wars between a South American republic and a European sovereign, when the object in the latter is not the founding of a monarchy under a European prince in place of an overthrown repub-

"In the present instance, therefore, the doctrine does not apply so long as England does not hold the ports of Nicaragua longer than is necessary to secure the payment of the sum she is determined to extort. Should she attempt to hold Nicaragua forever, the Monroe doctrine would apply, and our duty and policy would be resistance."

EDITORIAL POINTS.

The Berlin Record resents the "Advertiser's" statement that there is a tax of 52 per cent on collars. It asserts that collars are cheaper than seventeen years ago, when they were imported from the United States, and adds: "When the laborer spends his money for a collar, he knows it will remain 1894-5, amount to the sum of $38,517,152, in the country." The Record will find its answer in the blue books, which show that $46,731 worth of collars were imported last year, upon which the brought down; that the said sum of buyers paid the excessive tax of $24,-671 33. The exports to the United States for the last quarter from the Chatham consular district were nearly 50 per cent greater than in the corresponding quarter last year, when the McKinley Bill checked them. True to its policy of decrying the American market, a contemporary says that if these products had not gone to the United States they would have found a market in Great Britain. Why did they not go to Britain further outlay of $20,000,000, computed trade naturally flows in the most profitin the first place? Simply because able channels.

A Conspiracy Chargd—Queer Doings of a Lieutenant-Governor-Serious Charges Against Him -A Cabinet Mirster's Break-Out - Premier Bowell Implicated—Sir Hibbert Tupper Again Ill-Revelations defore the Public Accounts Committee.

(Specially telegraphed by our on Representative.)

the public accounts committee was held this forenoon. Mr. Somerville moved for the papers connected with the case of F. M. Hamel, assistant chief engineer of the Public Works Department, who collected $986 70 and failed to account for the money until the auditorgeneral discovered the shortage.

Mr. Lister pointed out that a customs officer was in jail for doing what this man had done, while Mr. Ouimet had merely suspended Mr. Hamel.

The auditor-general refused full explanations, and the committee ordered all papers to be produced.

Papers were also moved for by Mr. Somerville regarding Rev. Manly Benson's $1,100 immigration trip, $391 to J. T. Gilkinson, Brantford, for Sour Springs development, and $925 to C. his Ministers, as Lieut.-Gov. Schultz had done. Lieut.-Gov. Schultz's five H. Ritchie, Cayuga.

Mr. Tarte moved for all payments at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary. The Fredericton bridge scandal will be investigated.

On motion of Sir Richard Cartwright the Chicago Exhibition bills of Mr. Cockburn, M.P., $4,435, and Mr. Larke, of $9,246, must be produced.

Then Mr. Mulock caused great consternation in the Government ranks by moving that a statement of Minister Daly's traveling expenses be laid before the committee.

Mr. Foster protested against giving details of Ministers' expenditures. If anything was wrong let it be charged in the House.

Mr. Lister thought these large expenditures should certainly be investigated. Mr. Foster moved that Mr. Daly's expenditures be not investigated.

Mr. Mulock contended that the money was public money, and a full explanation was due the public. Mr. Haggart saw the mistake of Mr. Foster, and suggested that he withdraw his amendment. This was done.

Mr. Lister asked who paid for the Government car in which Ministers and their relations travel. Mr. Foster said when he traveled to San Francisco by that car it was hauled Mr. Somerville asked other Ministers to confess.

money was paid for carryng him. Amid cries of "Order," he accused Mr. Som-erville of uttering falsehoods. "Why cry 'Order?" I make a charge and I will prove it." Mr. Davies appealed to the chair if it was right for Ministers to call members liars. Mr. Haggart withdrew his language. Mr. Montague asserted that the country did not pay for his pleasure transportation. Mr. Haggart did not say his (Montague's) expenses. Mr. Gibson thought it was hard to keep track of traveling expenses on long journeys.

Mr. Paterson asked who paid for the private car in which Ministers went on electioneering trips. Mr. Haggart said the railways hauled the Government car free on regular trains at all times. Sir Richard Cartwright would not ask for details of traveling expenses in the case of important quasi ambassadorial missions to Britain and Washington. There is a difference between that and political trips through the Dominion. Mr. Martin (Winnipeg) said the Manitoba Ministers gave details of their expenditures. Let the Dominion Ministers follow suit and avoid all suspicion. Mr. Daly last year charged $1,362 traveling expenses, though he traveled by free

Tomorrow the railway committee will have before it a private bill to amend the act incorporating the Canada and Michigan Tunnel Company, and to change the name of the company to the Canada and Michigan Bridge and Tunnel Company. Existing rights are not to be affected, but power is given in addition to construct a railway and foot Bridge from Sandwich or Windor to Detroit. An increase in capital stock is authorized, and it is provided that railway company may loan their credit to the company or subscribe to its stock. The plans of the bridge are to be submitted to the Governor-in-Council, and work is not to be begun until approved by the United States Congress. A joint commission will regulate the working of the bridge, which shall not interfere wth navigation.

THE PROCEEDINGS. There was a large attendance in the House, consequent on the notice which Mr. McCarthy had given that he would call the attention of the House to the extraordinary conduct of Lieut.-Gov. Schultz in coming to Dr. Bourinot, clerk of the Commons, to get the opinion of that gentleman on the school question. There were rumors current, said Mr. McCarthy, that Dr. Schultz came to try to get another term, and that in exchange for it he was ready to turn out Manitoba Government. "Where were the rumors?" asked Min-

"Why, in the newspapers. Does the honorable gentleman not read papers?" queried Mr. McCarthy, amid the laughter of the House.

Mr. McCarthy said the Lieutenant-Governor was bound to be loyal to his Ministers. He criticised strongly the conduct of Lieut.-Gov. Schultz in asking the clerk of the House to intervene and take sides in this matter of difference between the Province and the Dominion Government. Dr. Bourinot says the opinion given was a private one, but it had been found that this private opinion was given by Dr. Schultz to Premier Bowell, who, in turn, had it printed, and handed to the newspapers. This action, said Mr. McCarthy, is a conspiracy and an outrage such as has not been revealed since the time of George III. Whey should the Lieutenant-Governor attempt to compel the Manitoba Ministers to take a line of ac-tion that might be repulsive to them by so questionable a proceeding, and that on the eve of the question being considered by the Legislature? Was this the first step in a bargain between Lieut.-Gov. Schultz and the men in power at Ottawa? Fancy the Governor General getting the opinions of the British law officer, and sending it to him. the press while the question was being discussed by the Cabinet! Mr. Mc-1

Ottawa, May 9.—A lively meeting of 1 Carry dissented from the views of Dr. Bouinot in the strongest terms.

> M. Foster replied that Mr. McCarthyhad trusted to newspaper reports, whih had not been verified. Governor Schltz had a right to come to Ottawa, and should not be submitted to unworny insinuations. What business had Mr. McCarthy with Lieut.-Gov. Schltz's mission to Ottawa? Mr. Foster idiculed the idea that Gov. Schultz shold have kept Mr. Bourinot's opinion to hmself. He acknowledged that Prime Minster Bowell had obtained from Gov.

Schltz the now famous document, and thatPremier Bowell gave it to the news-Hn. David Mills said that Manitoba's attiude on the school question was not befce the House, neither was the validity f Dr. Bourinot's opinion. He assertd, however, that constitutional govrnment could not be maintained if 'a lieutenant-Governor were to seek abrad for advice on questions before years of office were up long ago. He car now be removed without cause if he loes not do the bidding of the Goverment. There was no other word for it out 'conspiracy.' The Lieutenant-Goernor is responsible for much of bitteness, because for years there was scacely an order-in-council submitted to im that he did not telegraph to Ot-taxa before he signed it. Why," ex-clamed Mr. Mills, "this Dominion Ad-milistration has been one series of conspracies against the Legislatures when politically opposed to it." He adduced the conspiracy by which the last Gov-erment of Quebec was ousted from pover by most unconstitutional means though the connivance of Lieut.-Gov. Argers, who was in close alliance with th men in power at Ottawa, and who ws rewarded by them for his disgrace-fu conduct.

Ir. Martin (Winnipeg) denounced the atempt of the Government to use the private opinion of the clerk of the Commors for partisan purposes. It was a pullic scandal that Lieut.-Gov. Schultz should be now Lieutenant-Governor in Manitoba. His term ended on July 1, 189; he is now a tenant at will, and has ten thousand reasons for working to kep the position. He charged that Lieut.-Gov. Schultz had used the position of Lieutenant-Governor to advance Mr. Haggart denied that Government his own private ends. (Loud cries of "(rder!" from the Conservative side.)

"I rise to a point of order," excitedly exclaimed Mr. Weldon, a New Brunswick Conservative. "Mr. Martin is in order," said Sir Fichard Cartwright, and the Speaker said that was so, and a matter of taste

Mr. Martin said it did not injure his taste to tell the truth regarding this nan. He then charged that Lieut.-Gov. Schultz had twice prostituted his office for personal ends-once by withholding sanction to a bill empowering Winnipeg to collect her back taxes, because he owned much property in arrears; and on another occasion when he signed a neasure to make a proper survey of Winnipeg under the Torrens system, and then refused to sign the order-incouncil necessary to carry the work out. Only after the strongest public presdid the Lieutenant-Governor finally do his duty. Lieut.-Gov. Schultz he declared to be unworthy of his position. Not over five or six people in the whole population of Manitoba had confidence in this man, who had been kept in independence by the Ottawa Government, and had been shown to be not above prostituting his office for his own ends. Mr. Martin caused some amuse ment by relating how the Lieutenant-Governorship of Manitoba had been first used to try to keep Mr. Scarth and A. W. Ross, M. P., in line, while the Winnipeg bye-election was in progress. Then it was announced that Mr. Scarth had got it; next Mr. Ross said he was sure of it, and even hired a cook and looked over the premises. Now we have it asserted that Mr. Patterson, M. P. is booked for the office, while a personal friend of Dr. Schultz told me that while here last week the acting Lieu-

Mr. Martin said, was a public scandal. While the debate was in progress Premier Bowell kept running in and out of the House and conferring with various of the seventeen Ministers. He was unusually excited, and the turmoil was added to when just before the House rose he received a dispatch that in the Manitoba Legislature a Government motion had been received, to the effect that owing to the gravity of the school question it was advisable to further adjourn till June 13, and that the motion was likely to be carried tomorrow. Senator Angers also sat in the House when Hon. David Mills denounced the act to which he owes his present post-tenant-Governor said he was sure of a second term. This condition of affairs,

In the evening Mr. Martin read from an interview with Lieut.-Gov. Schultz, in which he gave the statement made by Mr. Foster on behalf of Premier Bowell a flat contradiction.

Minister Daly said Premier Greenway knew all about the opinion of Mr. Bourinot before it was published. The newspapers were all unreliable, he said. He charged that Mr. Martin had violated his oath as a former Minister in Manitoba by exposing Lieut.-Gov. Schultz. Mr. Martin-Will the honorable gentleman state the Cabinet secret I dis-

Mr. Daly-You stated he withheld his signature to an order-in-council. Mr. Davis-Every one in Winnipeg knew about it.

Mr. Daly argued at great length that Lieut.-Gov. Schultz had done nothing wrong, and that he was a man of unblemished character. Mr. Daly made a personal attack on Mr. Martin. He said his conduct was dastardly. The Speaker called him to order. Mr. Daly changed the word to cow-

According to the circuit mapped out for the season of 1895, Aug. 28 will be London's day, and from 75 to 150 of America's very best wheelmen will hold forth in the Forest City on that date. Dr. Balfour, president of the Londons. has received notice to that effect from Mr. Geo. H. Orr, Toronto, chairman of the C. W. A. racing board, and asking if a race meet can be fixed for that date. ASPHALT OR BRICK?

An Asphalt Representative Before the Board of Works.

Tenders Opened for New Steam Roller-Amalgamating Civic Engineering Work-Sewer for No. 3 Ward Mooted.

The question of brick or asphalt paving was brought up again before No. 3 committee last night, when the members gave Mr. Wagner, a representative of the Barber Company, Buffalo, a hearing. If Mr. Wagner were only given time enough he could convince even the makers of vitrified brick that asphalt—especially the Barber Company's asphalt—was superior. The disintegration of Detroit and Toronto's pavement he claimed was due to the fact that it was land asphalt, which was brittle, while the Barber Company used lake asphalt, and some of Buffalo's 175 miles of pavement had lasted thirteen years. Asphalt, he claimed, was no harder and no more expensive to take up to do street work than brick or any other kind of pavement. It was noiseless, and afforded a firm foothold for horses. No action was taken. The next business was opening of tenders for a steam road roller. Tenders were received from the following com- cently held in the opera house, as be panies, and with the exception of the Hamilton, Ont., tender, 33 per cent duty

The tenders were referred to a subcommittee, which will probably look closely into them and report at the special meeting of the council on Mon-

Ald. Parnell's motion to amalgamate all the engineering work of the different civic boards in the city engineer's office came up for discussion. The mover spoke vigorously. Ald. O'Meara favored leaving the matter in abeyance for this year, at least. He did not think, for instance, that one engineer could do the work of the waterworks department and the city just at present. The other members favored the idea, and Ald. Wm. Heaman and Ald. Parnell were appointed to wait on the water commissioners and the free library poard to lay the measure before them. Engineer Graydon recommended that the macadamizing of Colborne and Waterloo streets, between Dundas street and Queen's avenue, be duly advertised under the frontage tax system.

Mr. Graydon also suggested the building of a tile sewer on either Maitland street or William street, from King street to the river. The matter was left over for further information. Wm. Moore was given permission to tap the Bruce street sewer. The pay roll amounts to $285 46.

There were present Ald. Wm. Heaman (chairman), Mayor Little, Ald. Callahan, Ald. O'Meara, Ald. Parnell, Ald. John Heaman, Engineer Graydon, Commissioner Owens and Secretary Bell.

THE BUTTER BONUS.

Policy of the Dominion Government Attacked and Defended.

Brockville, Ont., May 9.—There was a lively meeting of the Brockville Cheese Board today, when Prof. Robertson, dairy commissioner, and Mr. M. K. Everetts met on the same platform. During the winter the latter has been strongly condemning the policy of the Dominion Government in the butter bonus and Prince Edward Island cheese question. Prof. Robertson delivered an address of some length, defending the butter bonus on the ground that both Denmark and Australia had given assistance to their trade in that line.

Mr. Everetts held to his previous statements and claimed that the establishment of the Renfrew creamery was damaging the early work of the cheese factories in that section. The bonus to Prince Edward Island he characterized as a piece of work that was injurious to Ontario's reputation for fine goods when inferior makes were sent from the island branded the same.

On every Saturday for the balance of this month between the hours of 10 and 11 a.m., 3 and 4 and 8 and 9 p.m.

We have the largest and finest selection of baby carriages to be found in Western Ontario (they are to be well to know you can get yourself seen on the second floor), and we propose on every Saturday for the balance of this month to offer our entire stock at desperate cut prices. Remember our prices are lower now than any other dealer for first quality goods, and now we propose to give you special big cuts on all grades. If you have the slightest idea of buying a baby carriage this season, don't miss this opportunity. You know we always do as we advertise. We have a fine stock of trunks and valises, varying in quality from the cheapest to the very best. It is difficult on this class of goods to name prices here, but we guarantee to put this entire line in our cut-price list. Now is your opportunity to get a trunk or valise at less than its market value. We purchased last month 1,200 pairs long waisted Just Right corsets. They are the newest and most popular $1 corset on the American market. We propose to put these in our cut-price list at 50c. If you are looking for snaps this is your opportunity. Chicago, May 9.—Apparently the selling on which wheat closed weak yesterday was short stuff. The point was freely circulated that there would be a break to 61 1-2c for July, and when the crowd saw several houses selling they followed. This morning the shorts tried to get back their wheat. Though they succeeded in causing several little reactions, they made no headway, and toward the close they gave up the fight and took their medicine. Bad crop reports have been coming in all day from the southwest, and the Michigan State report, showing a condition of 80 per cent against 90 last year, is a suggestion of what the Government may give us tomorrow. Primary receipts have fallen off, and it is believed they will not again increase on the crop. Corn and Oats-Corn was hammered hard by the professionals most of the on prospects of increased receipts. Very little doing in oats, and the fluctuations are very small. Provisions were weak early, with scarcely any demand until July pork day, and receiving houses sold some struck $12, when a demand suddenly sprang up that continued nearly up to the close.

Chicago, May 9.—The business in cattle showed continued improvement today; the supply was light and prices were very firm. There was a fair proportion of good to choice beeves on sale. The hog market was dull at the start, with buyers inclined to hold back. Later on there was a better demand, and the greater portion of the supply changed hands at firm prices. Continued moderate supplies of sheep and good local demand caused a firm market for this class of stock. Police Magistrate Park has a standing rule that the first wheelman calling on him every season at his Carling street parlors is the best served. This morning a youthful cyclist made a compulsory visit. He had run his bi-cycle on the Princess avenue sidewalk, but never having been trained on a cinder track he could not ride fast enough to escape the eye of a policeman. He was accordingly presented with a summons. He frankly admitted the offense, and the court allowed him to go, as he was the first of the season. The usual batch may now be expected. LONDON'S HOLIDAY VISITORS.

Arrangements have been made whereby the Thirteenth Battalion Band and Regiment, of Hamilton, will come to London on May 24 by the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo and Michigan Central Railways. The T., H. and B. will connect with M. C. R. at Waterford. The latter will run a fast special train.

SUGAR GOES UP. The recent addition by the Dominion Government of 1-2 cent a pound on raw sugar has caused a jump in price at the local groceries. Refiners were quick to take advantage, and added another 1-2 cent, making the increase in price to dealers 1 cent a pound. "I wish I had laid in about a thousand barrels," said a Dundas street grocer today. "Just think of the profit at 1 cent a pound! The price has now risen from 3 1-2 to 4 1-2 cents a pound. Where we were selling 25 pounds of granulat ed sugar for $1, we now sell 20, and instead of 30 pounds of brown sugar we are putting up 26."

The refiners will be the gainers. They had thousands of barrels in stock, the raw sugar for manufacture of which the increased price.

WANT TO SETTLE

Proceedings Against Liberal Aldermen May Be Dropped.

Justice Falconbridge's Decision in Ald. O'Meara's Case Too Much for the Conservatives.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge's decision In the case of Ald. Stephen O'Meara was a stunner for the Conservative bosses, who held that O'Meara was disqualified because he had resigned and re-entered the field in the second ward -and then he belonged to a council which had neglected to make sinking I fund provisions for this year.

On the latter ground the Conservatives attacked three Liberal aldermen -John W. Jones, John Heaman and Edward Parnell. The cases have been set for argument before Judge Wm. Elliot, but adjourned several times pending Judge Falconbridge's action. Now that the decision has been given reverse to them, the Conservative bosses want to drop their proceedings against Messrs. Jones. Heaman and Parnell. This morning Judge Elliot was prepared to hear argument, but those who attacked the aldermen were not. They wanted to settle and withdraw if each alderman would pay his own costs. They even went so far as to allow Ald. Brener to peacefully retain his seat if the above condition was agreed to. But it is improbable that it will be. "If I am legally an alderman," said Ald. "I am going to fight for my rights, and I will not pay any costs." Further developments are expected tomorrow.

THE HYAMS.

Continuation of the Murder Trial in Toronto.

Aylesworth on the Stand - His Evidence.

Toronto, May 9.—Attorney-General Olney of the United States recently made application to Sir O. Mowat for permission to allow Mr. Wellman to appear in the Hyams case. The matter was referred to the Law Society, which decided not to allow Mr. Wellman to appear. At the resumption of the Hyams case this afternoon Ebenezer Aylesworth went into the box. He had known the prisoners for the last six years. He had married a sister of the young man Wells, deceased, and was therefore connected with Harry Hyams, who married another sister. On Feb. 18, 1892, young Wells and his sister Martha and witness agreed to lend the prisoners $3, 000 for six months at the rate of three per cent per month. Into this fund witness put $1,100, Wells about $1,000; Wells' sister contributed the remainder. The warehouse was opened after the insurance was placed on the life of the deceased. There was no business done there, and there were no customers. A few groceries and some barrels of sugar were put in the place, and it was called the "Toronto Warehouse Company," but guages at the Woodstock College, will no business was done. Witness said: life for $25,000, and Wells to insure his for $25,000. Harry wanted to take out a policy on his life, as Dallas Hyams was carrying so much on his own life. He said our ages were younger. I re-Wells was induced to put $30,-000 on his life. He was to get $2,500 in five years for the use of his name, and his salary was to be increased. The policy was a twenty-year endowment $30,000 policy. The policy on Wells' life was made payable to his sister Martha. He thought it strange that it should be payable all to one sister, and said so. To this Harry Hyams replied that he expected to marry Martha shortly, and had a right to name the beneficiary." Toronto, May 10.-At the Hyams trial this morning Ebenezer Aylesworth, the brother-in-law of Wm. C. Wells, the man who was killed, and of Mrs. Harry Hyams, was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Mr. Lount. He said in reply to questions put to him that after the Fort Erie agreement had fallen through Wm. C. Wells and he had been offered back the money ($2,000) they had loaned the Hyams, but had refused to take it, as they were told by Harry that if they drew it they would lose their positions in the Hyams' employ. In this connection Mr. Lount questioned the witness vigorously as to whether he had not existed by gambling. This the witness denied. He had occasionally attended the pool rooms in Toronto and had bet on horses but had never wagered his wife's money. The $4,700 which his wife had got out of the insurance on Willie's life had been invested partly by him. Witness had come to Toronto to enter the Hyams' employ in 1892, according to an understanding arrived at at Oshawa. Aylesworth was interrogated as to the reason he had engaged certain furnished rooms in the city when his family lived at Parkdale, and he had his business office on Yonge street. He replied that it was for his own private accommodation and partly to transact business with persons who did not care to come to his office. There had been no card playing or gambling in his rooms. Harry Hyams had first learned that the Wells promised some money after he began going to Oshawa to see Martha. He borrowed some money from the Wells and promised to give them 1 per cent per month for it; and when witness came to work for the Hyams and make an inventory of furniture for purchase for Hyams it was then sold again at a profit. The Hyams were making money at the bus-

The witness was put through a long examination as to his feeling of hostility for the Hvanis and his work in hunting up evidence against the prisoners. He admitted that he had gathered considerable evidence both in the United States and in Canada, but he had not made it his business to go about hunting for such evidence. He had, as he himself nut it, "run un against the evidence." His examination will be continued this afternoon.

DANGEROUS CONSOLATION.

All Right in a Day or Two. But the Day Never Came.

"All right in a day or two" is the thought that consoles everyone who is suffering from any disposition that does not prostrate him. In the case of a person bedridden for months with disease of the Kidneys being asked, "Did you not have any warning of this condition you are now in ""Yes, I was bothered at first with backache, with occasional headaches, but did not consider myself sick or the necessity of medicine further than a plaster on my back or rubbing with my favorite liniment. It was months before I began to realize that it was useless to further force myself to ignore my condition. The backache had become a pain in the back and sides; weak and tired feeling, highly colored urine with obstruction and stoppage, pain in the bladder, palpitation of the heart, poor appetite, indigestion, and a dull, languid feeling, with entire lack of energy." Had the first signal of distress from the Kidneys—Backache—received the assistance of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the after state of misery and suffering in six years since he last appeared in dispel first symptoms; delay results in liver, heart and stomach becoming affected. FASHIONABLE TAILORS,

"I know only what Bertie told me," he said, looking fixedly at the lad as he spoke. "Bertie brought me the check for eighty pounds, and ingeniously explained that you had written eight in your check-book-which you had then left open on your desk. I, myself, at his request, took upon me to alter the figures on your book-legally, of course, involving myself in fraud and forgery -but simply because of my trust in Bertie's word. In fact, I thought so little of the matter that I never even asked you about it; and the item passed unchallenged, you will remember, Alan,

Monerieff had seated himself again during this explanation; he sat silent, with head bent and arms crossed upon his breast. It was his own carelessness, he knew, that had made this fraud possible; and he was too honest a man to acquit himself of blame. But Bertie flamed into sudden wrath.

"I can't stand this!" he exclaimed. "Uncle Ralph, your story is false from beginning to end. You knew-you knew everthing! You helped me to deceive my father; you used to take me down to the town at night when everybody thought that I was in bed; your little floor in the Tower was constantly used at night when we went out and in. And now you pretend that you know nothing about it. I would have shielded you if I could; but this is too much!"

"I think you will want 'shielding' yourself; you need not talk of shielding me," said Ralph, with irony. "Your stories are as unfounded as they are malicious; and I am sure that your father will give me his confidence so

"Yes, yes, Ralph, yes, I believe you," said Alan, wearily. "Whom should I

"Father, father!" Bertie's cry was full of anguish. "I swear to you that I am speaking the truth; Uncle Ralph is not worthy of your trust—"

"And you are?-is that what you would imply?" said his father, the sarcasm sounding more sad than bitter, as it fell from his pain-drawn lips.

"I am not- I am not-but I will be!" And then, by a sudden movement which no one could have anticipated, the lad threw himself at his father's feet and clasped his knees. "I have been wicked and weak, I have done everything that you despise," he said, vehemently, "but if you will forgive me, father, I will show you how I repent what I have done. You shall not always be ashamed of me; you shall see that I-that I-

He broke down in a passion of sobs and tears, such as could not be deemed unmanly by any one who appreciated the sincerity of his repentance. Stella's fear that her husband would mistrust it amounted to positive agony. If he were hard, stern, obdurate now, she knew well that poor Bertie would be driven to desperation. No such moment of self-humiliation could occur twice in a young man's life. If his father did not forgive him then, would Bertie ever ask again for his forgive-

Kingscott looked on sardonically. Between Bertie's choking sobs, the sound of a low, grating laugh jarred unpleasantly on the ear. Ralph knew the value of ridicule.

"Repentance without confession? Very genuine indeed!" he sneered. Alan Monerieff's bent form straightened itself a little. He had been siting in a dejected, listless attitude, his head hanging upon his breast, his gloomy eyes fixed upon the floor. When Bertie touched him he raised his eyelids and looked steadily at the bowed dark head, the slight form shaken by uncontrollable sobs before him. A sort of quiver passed over his set grey face. Ralph's words seemed to rouse him; he turned hastily toward his brotherin-law, and addressed his reply to him. 'Confession has been partly made, Ralph. The rest will come later." Then he laid his hand on Bertie's head. "I cannot afford," he said with unusual gentleness, "to think that my son wishes to decieve me now." Bertie could only gasp out some inarticulate reply. Kingscott let himself sink back upon his pillows with a look of vexation and dismay, while Stella, relieved of her anxiety, drew nearer to her husband and his son.

"I am sure," she cried, "that he is sorry, Alan. Dear Bertie, we will trust you for the future."

The sigh that came as it were involuntarily from Alan's lips, the reproachful glance that shot from his eyes to hers, startled her a little. She did not understand their meaning; that had still to be explained.

Mr. Moncrieff stirred and helped Bertie to rise; then, holding him by the arm, he said a few words very earnest-

"I pray God that you do mean to amend your courses, Bertie, Without amendment there is nothing but misery before you-misery that will touch us all as well as yourself. I will try to trust you, and, if I cannot do it all at once, you must remember that when trust has been lost it is not easily given again. But I am willing to try— It is all that I can say just now.'

"Enough, surely!" muttered Kingscot. Possibly he intended Alan to hear. "If you think it too much," said Moncrieff, turning quickly towards him, "I will hear your reasons at another time I have shown great carelessness myself, but it seems to me that you have been quite as careless as I. There are several points which require to be elucidated before my mind can be set at

"I should be much obliged to you if you would defer the elucidation," said Kingscott, with an attempt to recover his usual suavity of manner. "You seem to forget that I am something of an invalid—that my arm is exceedingly painful, and that the doctor told me to beware of fever."

"I beg your pardon," said Alan, in a mechanical way, which showed that his thoughts were far away from the words that he uttered. "I will disturb you no longer. Come, Bertie."

There had never been more tenderness in his voice than when he called his son to accompany him, never more gentleness in his manner than when he placed his hand within Bertie's arm, and leaned slightly upon it as he left the room. It was a sad sight to see him so bowed and broken—the blow had been a heavy one, and had turned him from a tolerably young man into an old one. It gave Stella a pang to notice that he would not look at her as he passed out. She paused for a minute or two to give Ralph some water, for which he asked. "I hope," she said, as she took the glass from his hand, "that we have done you no injury by talking so much in your room while you were ill?"

'Is that meant for satire?" asked Ralph, irritably. "Satire? Certainly not!"

"You are exceedingly kind, Mrs. Moncrieff. I can hardly say that I have not received an injury in the course of the evening's conversation, but I think I know how to protect myself.'

"Not, I hope, at the expense of any one's reputation," said Stella, gravely. She was thinking of Bertie, but his reply showed her that he attached a different meaning to her words.

"A lady's reputation is sometimes hardy worth preserving," he said, with a malignant look that she was beginning to know so well. "You may be quite sure that I shall guard mine at

She felt it useless to answer him, and left the room, therefore, almost immediately. A nurse, hastily summoned from the town, was in attendance in the next room; and great was her indignation at the state in which she found her patient. It had indeed been unwise on Alan Moncrieff's part to allow so exciting a scene to take place in a sick man's room; but he was hardly capable of considering anything but his own troubles at that moment, and he had certainly never expected the confession that Bertie had been impelled to make. He would have gone into the matter more thoroughly then and there but for a glimmering recollection that Ralph was ill. Yet there were so many points to discuss, there was so much that was puzzling in the case, so much that filled him with sorrow and dismay that he felt himself unable to cope with the whole affair just yet. Bertie's heartfelt grief softened him; he could not hear to believe the boy anything but sincere. It was a relief to his overburdened spirit to think that he had yet some one to love-some one, even, though with reservations, to lean upon and trust. He did not turn to Stella for comfort. He was hurt and indignant with her still. He would not question her, although he felt that there was something untold which he wanted to hear. What it was he did not know, but he was miserable until it was told. (To be Continued.)

Condition of the Crops Across the Border.

Cincinnati, O., May 9.—The Price Current summarizes the crop condition for the past week as follows:

Rains west of the Mississippi River have improved the grain crop situation. There has been insufficient moisture in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois. The promise of winter wheat is positively poorer than a year ago. The outlook for corn is encouraging. Rains in the northwest make the situation there decidedly encouraging. There are indications of a possible moderate increase in the interior offerings of grain.

SONS OF SCOTLAND ORGANIZE.

One of the most successful camp. of the Sons of Scotland ever organized held its inaugural meeting last night in the Knights of Pythias Hall, with over 50 members present. The deputy grand chief, Dr. Thompson, of Strathroy, was in the chair, and Grand Organizer Robt. Nimmo opened the camp. The following brethren were chosen officers:

past Chief—John Fairgrieve.
Chief—John Macpherson.
Chieftain—John McIntosh.
Recording Secretary—James R. Milne.
Financial Secretary—Wm. D. Willis.
Treasurer—Wm. McCallum.
Marshal—George Johnston.

Treasurer—Wm. McCallum.
Marshal—George Johnston.
Standard Bearer—Alex. Milne.
Senior Guard—Wm. Templeton.
Junior Guard—John Rattray.
Physician—Dr. Logie.

Chaplain—Walter Fairbairn.
Pipers—D. McGregor, Thomas McDonald and George Angus.

The camp bids fair to out-rival in enthusiasm and membership all other Scottish societies in the city, and embodying in its constitution the objects of the different Scottish organizations.

To Grand Organizer Nimmo is due great credit for the successful manner in which the camp has been started. With the present staff of officers and prominent members, "Onward" will be the word, until the camp leads the Canadian list. The Sons of Scotland were first organized in 1876, and there are already about 170 camps in the Dominion. Combined in its objects are patriotism and love of mother country, the promotion of Scottish sports, and, foremost of all, the relief of any unfortunate fellow-countryman in distress.

Saturday Attractions

For the Benefit of Out-of-Town Purchasers

Every Monday is Bargain Day, but recognizing the impossibility of the outside residents to attend our store on that day, it is our intention to give them the same opportunities to buy cheap as we do our city customers. Every man, woman and child who visits London on Saturday can't afford to stay away from our stores. It is the cautious people we wish to talk to—those who know a big round dollar's worth. Read this list of
