MEGANTIC WITH 2,000 CANADIANS ARRIVES AT HALIFAX BERLIN WORKMEN DECLARE GENERAL STRIKE IN GERMAN CAPITAL

MUNICH GOVERNMENT COUP MAY INTERRUPT PEACE NEGOTIATIONS; POSSIBLE EFFECT ALARMS PARIS

Berlin Newspapers Fear That Industrial Ruin May Follow in Wake of Bavarians' Attempt To Seek Alliance With Russia and Hungary.

PEACE DELEGATES ALARMED.

Paris, April 9.—There is much apprehension in peace conference circles as to the effect the establishment of a soviet government at Munich may have on the conclusion of peace.

As the Munich Government appears from press dispatches to be well established, the peace delegates are considering the eventual effect it will have on the final peace negotiations.

Berlin, April 9.—The Zeitung Am Mittag and the Vossische Zeitung make the point that the Munich coup vitally affects all the peace negotiations. By refusing to co-operate with the national government and by seeking an individual alliance with Russia and Hungary, the newspapers say the new Munich Government jeopardizes national unity and threatens the progress of peace negotiations which may, consequently, be interrupted for months, involving grave suffering and the physical and industrial ruin of the whole nation. The Vossische Zeitung says that the happenings at Munich were obviously only part of a general program planned for the empire, "otherwise the small clique at Munich would have acted more cautiously."

Soviet System in Bavaria Is Expected to Fall as Result of Dissensions Among Leaders

Munich, April 8.—With another 24 hours behind it, the Bavarian soviet government appears less able to impose itself upon the country, and the general political situation has become more involved and threatening than ever. Not only has the support of the old government taken concrete form in North Bavaria, but the branch among the Social Democrats in South Bavaria has withdrawn its support, and the Communists are not at all united. The Independent Socialists, Munich, and Nuremberg are split up hopelessly. In the latter city they are absolutely opposed to the soviet system for the present, the former city siding with the proponents of that system. The soviet government is now in a position to impose its policy, according to the principles of the soviet system, the introduction of general labor duty, for the bourgeoisie, the reorganization of the revolutionary basis, the reconstruction of the dwelling system, the separation of church and state, the immediate revolutionizing of the system of school education, the socialization of the press and the creation of a red army alliance with Russia and Hungary. They also demand proportionate representation of the three parties in the central council.

The council has accepted these proposals, but the Independent Socialists are supporting the soviet plan; but their leader, Dr. Leven, is still pessimistic and still believes that the present council fails to represent the proletariat and that the council has been hijacked by the bourgeoisie. The Majority Socialists in South Bavaria have gone utterly to pieces and are wholly at odds with those in North Bavaria. The bourgeoisie are working with renewed vigor to prevent the establishment of the soviet system.

The original cabinet, containing two Majority Socialists, has been altered as to eliminate them and several others. Continued on Page Nine.

A Berlin dispatch received Tuesday night, however, stated that the ministry after going to Nuremberg made a second change in its quarters, moving to Bamberg. Yesterday's dispatches reported a state of siege in Nuremberg.

UNIVERSITY UNIT LEAVING FRANCE WITHIN A WEEK

Nurses Start Their Journey Today, Is Authentic News.

Lieut.-Col. Seaborn Caples That April 15 Is the Date Set.

The Western University Hospital unit is coming home. This is the joyful news for relatives of the members of the unit which has been authorized by the department of militia and defence in the first months of 1918. Lieut.-Col. E. Seaborn was appointed officer in command and proceeded to organize the unit which received its training here.

The nurses were called to London by the unit and its personnel was manifested by the large amount of money raised for equipment and the fact that supplies, numbering some 500,000 articles, were sent from the supervision of the London branch of the Red Cross, during the summer of 1918. Special work-rooms being opened in the gymnasium of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Generals' contributions were sent from all over Western Ontario.

GERMANY MUST MAKE IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF 25 BILLION FRANCS

Paris, April 9.—The preliminary peace treaty will require Germany to make an immediate payment on account of 25,000,000,000 francs in cash and raw materials, according to the Echo de Paris. The treaty, it declares, will not leave uncertain the total amount which Germany is to pay, as that amount will be written into the document.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA MUST PERMIT OF FREE OUTLET FOR ALL NEWLY-CREATED NATIONS

Peace Conference Commission After Investigation of Question Submits Report—International Regulation of Traffic Over Rhine and Danube Is Provided.

Paris, April 9.—A report on regulations and restrictions to be imposed on communications in enemy states in order that newly created nations in Central Europe may have access to the sea, has been completed for the peace conference by the commission on the regulation of ports, waterways and railways. Freedom of transportation through Germany and Austria, and equality of treatment in ports and harbors has been provided for, as has been the international regulation of traffic over the Rhine and Danube rivers.

The report recommends that a pledge be given by the German and Austrian governments to maintain unimpeded the free zones at Hamburg and other ports on the Baltic and North Seas.

Under conditions as they existed before the war.

Outlet for Czechoslovakia. To provide a southern outlet for the trade of Czechoslovakia, the report recommends that the new state be given the right to run its own trains with their own crews, over certain designated railways in Austria-Hungary, without, however, making any provision to insure further transit through Jugo-Slavia or Italian territory lying between who is left of Austria-Hungary and the Adriatic.

Regulations for the standardization of railways and the interchangeability of equipment are recommended. Freedom of navigation is prescribed for all states along the coast except purely coastal traffic and in rivers and harbors.

GERMAN CABINET MAY APPEAL TO ALLIED ARMIES TO KEEP ORDER

Enemy Government Is Considering Question, Says Zurich Dispatch.

HUMBERT TO COMMAND

Appeal to Be Made in the Interests of the Whole of Europe.

Paris, April 9.—At the latest session of the German Cabinet Council the Government considered the possibility of making an appeal to the Allied armies to maintain order in Germany, in the interest of the whole of Europe, the Zurich correspondent of Le Journal reports.

The newspaper L'Eclair understands that Gen. Humbert, former commander of the French Third Army, will be appointed "commander of the Allied troops in Central Europe."

Murmansk Riots Were Planned by Bolshevik Finns

Majority of Those Who Instigated Disorders Are Now in Custody.

London, April 9.—Disorders on the Murmansk front in Russia were planned by Finnish troops and Bolshevik Finns, according to an official statement issued at the war office, which states that the majority of the rioters, most of whom were armed with revolvers and knives, are now in custody.

On April 7 a disturbance was caused at Murmansk by Chinese workmen, but it was soon put down, and was not considered significant politically.

HIGH WIND PREVENTS MEGANTIC WITH 2,000 SOLDIERS ABOARD FROM MAKING THE HALIFAX DOCK

Men Are Being Removed From Transport and Brought Ashore in Lighters—Vessel To Remain at Anchor in Harbor Until Wind Moderates.

Halifax, April 9.—The Megantic, with 2,000 returning Canadian soldiers, came up the harbor in the teeth of a twenty-five knot wind this morning and made several attempts to dock, but was unable to do so. The tugs are now leaving her, and it is presumed she will remain at anchor in the stream until the wind moderates. The men are being brought ashore in lighters.

RETURNED SOLDIERS TO PREVENT MENNONITE IMMIGRATION IF THE GOVT. FAILS TO TAKE ACTION

Entry of Settlers From the United States Arouses Indignation of Veterans, Who Demand Immediate Action by the Federal Parliament.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Winnipeg, April 9.—The Canadian Government is urged to take immediate action to prevent Mennonite settlers from entering Canada from the United States. The problem is so vital that leading bankers and financial men in the city held a secret meeting to draw up a resolution, asking that immediate action be taken on the matter.

Returned soldiers are organizing to stop the Mennonites in this radical manner. A. Sheppard, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, says:

by force, if the Government will not forbid their entry. The would mean that the fact would be spread broadcast over the United States, that American emigrants were refused admittance at the border by returned soldiers, and would tend to harm the cause of immigration that is expected to flow into Western Canada from the north.

OFFAL SOUP GIVEN PRISONERS, STATES CITY EX-CONSTABLE

Tells of Vile Treatment Suffered in Germany.

NO FOOD FIT TO EAT

And Parcels From Home Kept by Huns Until Contents Rotted.

Ex-Constable Frank Hogg of the London police department and also ex-prisoner of war in Germany, has eaten all kinds of soup in his day, but the concoction dished up practically every day by the Germans in the Huns prison camp, consisting of the tail, head and entrails of fish with a frozen or half-frozen potato or two thrown in for good luck, was about the worst he ever tasted. The German soldiers got the rest of the fish.

"I'd hate to tell you about that stuff. You wouldn't print it anyway," said Hogg to an advertiser reporter today. "However, I'd hate to starve three or four days before I'd touch the stuff, believe me."

Down to 100 Pounds.
Pte. Hogg, who stands 5 feet 2 inches in his stocking feet, weighed but 100 pounds when he left the prison camp for Switzerland in September of last year. He now weighs 170 pounds, and will soon be back on the London force. The ex-constable went overseas with the 23rd Battalion and transferred to the 4th C. M. P. He was wounded in both feet by shrapnel at Sanctuary Wood on June 2, 1916, and was first taken to a hospital at Courtrai, run by Belgian nurses. The hospital was hit by a French aeroplane, and he with the rest of the patients was removed to a German venereal hospital, which was very carelessly run. Words failed to describe conditions there.

Paper Bandages.
Paper bandages were used entirely on the prisoners, and in November of that year when he was removed to the Huns camp, he was given a thin jacket, pair of dilapidated trousers and wooden shoes. No socks were issued, and he had to hobble to the train in the cold with feet wrapped in paper. On arriving at the camp the men were all thrown into a little hut and received no issue of blankets. Next day they all had their feet clipped tight to their heads and were put through a rain-water.

"Early in 1917 the Germans stopped all our parcels from coming," he continued. "It was maddening to see the parcels come and be stored in huts, and not be able to get at them. After three months they would take them out and make a great show of presenting us with food which had all rotted."

Civilians No Better Off.
The civilian population was treated no better than we were," he continued. "However, there was too much discipline for them, and they didn't dare say much. We got one small loaf of alleged bread a day between 13 of us. It was made of 60 percent rye flour (five soon rotted), 20 percent rye flour, and the rest a poor quality of rye flour."

Pte. Hogg, after his transfer to Switzerland, had a successful operation performed on his feet, and was sent to England last December. He arrived home Tuesday, and expects to take up the duties of a policeman on the local force in the near future.

WANTS STREETS PAVED IN FRONT OF SCHOOLS

Board of Education Committee Will Ask Council To Act.

At the meeting of No. 2 committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon it was decided to ask the city council to grade the streets in front of and make suitable approaches to Ryerson, Boyle and Tecumseh Avenue schools. The request of the Tebbot Street Baptist boys for the use of Tecumseh Avenue playgrounds for two evenings last week was laid over. It was thought that the residents of the street should have first call on the playgrounds. Last year some of the ground was used for gardens and if the summer gardeners desire the land this year the committee thought that they should have it.

Chairman Edwin Smith and Superintendent of Works John Clements were appointed a committee to confer with John L. McLean on the question of water flowing on his land from Lord Roberts grounds.

At the suggestion of Inspector C. B. Edwards it was decided to remedy the heating and ventilating in several of the schools by blowing up the fans. The inspector asserted that they created drafts in the rooms, when drawn at the present speed. Weather stripping will also be placed in some of the school windows.

It was decided to call for tenders for coal for the schools. A. Langford thought that the coal should be secured as soon as possible.

Inspector Edwards called attention to the fact that many of the city school rooms have no timepieces in them. He thought that every room should have a clock. This will be brought before the board at its next meeting. The committee can take no action on it until it has been to the board.

Just Look What The Children Had To Do Under Sam J. Latta

Old Blackboard Tells Tale of Homework in Abundance.

Thought inspired by gazing upon an old blackboard.

If parents of today take exception to the home-work heaped upon their children, what would they have said when that night assignment was meted out to the senior grade pupils in the old Colborne Street School?

One of the very latest revelations of the teaching down in the old Colborne Street School has been the uncovering of an old blackboard in the north-west corner of preservation, and claimed to be "genuine Latta," and among those who have gazed upon them with reverence and awe, more than one has commented: "The sacred handwriting of Hon. Sam J. Latta, minister of highways of the Province of Saskatchewan, founder of the Gowan Prairie News, whom principal of Colborne Street School, Mr. Latta, must be glad he went to Saskatchewan."

Reverence of all kinds in looking upon the familiar script is a tribute to a popular principal of years gone by who has made a still more illustrious name for himself in the west country. Awe is inspired by the record presented of what was the "home-work" in the brave days of old.

This is the story the blackboard tells: Arithmetic questions on board (enough to keep anyone but a lightning calculator going the greater part of the night). Grammar—Exercise VI, No. 19. Parse the participles. Physiology—Read chapter 2. Bones of the human body. History—Constitutional Changes in Canadian History. Geography—Draw maps. Make a list of fifty in scribbles. Review next lesson.

And that is all for one evening's home-work.

House Entered and Watch and Money Taken in Night

Theft Worked Quietly and Family Heard Nothing.

Some time after 12:30 o'clock this morning the home of Thomas Lowy, 702 Waterloo street, was entered and a woman's wrist watch, valued at $10, and some loose change amounting to about $10 was stolen.

Entrance was gained to the house by way of the back window, which had been left slightly ajar. The watch and money had been taken from a woman's wrist. The thief had been working very quietly, as the family did not know anything about the robbery until the watch was missed this morning. The police have been notified of the theft.

City Has Only 30 Cases of Communicable Disease

Week's Report Shows Scarlet Fever in Lead.

There are but thirty cases of communicable disease in London, according to last week's report issued by the department of public health. Of these 14 are scarlet fever, 10 are diphtheria, having been reported last week. Eight are isolated at home and six at the hospital. Four more cases of diphtheria, one of which is a case of diphtheria, five diphtheria, and one of which is a case of measles complete the list.

Twelve cases of communicable disease are at present being cared for at the hospital and thirteen houses are under quarantine.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FOR MOTHERS' CLUB RESULTS IN AN INCREASE OF 151

The membership contest which has been on at the Wortley road Mothers' Club for the past two months was brought to a close last evening with a new paid-up membership of 151.

The members felt that they were getting so much out of their organization that they wished to pass along the privilege and at the instigation of Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Spencer, sides were chosen and the campaign was begun. The device of drawing numbers was used, and the winning side was "Odds," with a sixty-one new members.

Dr. A. C. Craig, who was the guest of honor at the meeting, gave an interesting address on the subject of tuberculosis. It was also arranged that the club should have another concert to Byron Sanatorium on April 29. Mrs. Richmond, the president was in the chair.

STREET RAILWAY CO. STARTS ON BETTER CAR SERVICE TODAY

Adds Eight Cars To Its Fleet.

MEN GIVE THEIR HELP

Agree To Work Extra Hours Until More Are Secured.

The decision of the city council on Monday to apply to the Legislature for the right to amend the franchise in street railway work, the company, was followed Tuesday by an announcement from Manager C. B. King that immediate improvements will be made to the service.

But for the fact that there were obstacles which could not be overcome so quickly, the better service would have been provided yesterday, says the manager. Briefly stated, the improvements will give everything the city has asked for, and more, according to Mr. King. Eight additional cars were placed in operation today. Work was provided for twenty-four additional men. Every district of the city will be benefited by the change, an extra car being on each line. Instead of a 15-minute service on the Dundas, Ridout, and Richmond lines, there will be a car every 12 minutes. The Normal and Oxford services have been reduced from 10 to 8 minutes, according to the management.

Quicker Service.
Dundas street, between Rectory and Richmond streets, will have a regular four-minute service. The North Belt cars will add to this, and make the service still more frequent between Adelaide and Richmond streets.

Ordinarily proposed changes in the operating schedules require the ratification of the men. Today, however, the union executive was called into consultation with the management, and through the co-operation of motormen and conductors, who agreed to work longer hours until additional crews are obtained, it has been found possible to make the changes effective tomorrow.

Because of the complete change of schedules and the impossibility of obtaining a sufficient number of motormen and conductors on such brief notice, it is possible that operation will be carried on for the first few days under difficulties.

The chief of the street railway conference with the company, Mr. King stated.

"You think about the council's action in moving to increase fares?" Mr. King was asked.

"We are glad to see that the council has come to a realization of the fact that we can only give good service when we have the co-operation of the people," he replied. "We are willing to give the best possible service, and as Mr. Currie, our president, told the council last night, it is our duty to give the best service of the highest order, and to give service of a character that will promote the growth and prosperity of London."

London, it appears, will now join a list of more than 350 cities in Canada and the United States which have granted relief to street railway companies since the outbreak of the war. A recent compilation of such changes indicates that 27 cities are now paying 10-cent fares, 15 cities are paying 12-cent fares, 20 are paying 7-cent fares, 153 cities are paying a 6-cent cash rate. More than 100 cities are running on straight 5-cent fares, with no reduced rate tickets, while others are paying an additional cent or two cents in transfers.

London still will have the lowest fares in the world, not even in either Cleveland, Ohio, or Glasgow, Scotland, the street railway company claims.

He has decided to have the St. Thomas theatre put in first-class condition and made up-to-date in every way and work will be started almost immediately.

FAVORS RECEPTION FOR FIRSTS AND CELEBRATION OF PEACE AT SAME TIME

Mayor's Idea If Treaty Is Signed Before Battalion's Return.

Nothing definite has been arranged as yet in reference to a reception for the First Battalion. Alderman F. H. Harple, chairman of the reception committee, is out of town and his return at the end of the week. Mayor C. R. Somerville favors holding a reception for the "Firsts" and the peace celebration at the same time, if the peace treaty is signed in time for this to be done. One thing is certain as far as he is concerned, and that is that the reception for the men should be a larger demonstration than the peace celebration.

Building Inspector A. M. Piper, is busy in an effort to plan some suitable memorial within the limited cost set by the council, $750. If at all possible it will be erected by the time the First Battalion reaches the city.

ONE DESERTER GETS OFF WITH FINE, BUT OTHER NOT SO LUCKY

Man Who Did Join Army Given Two Years.

One self-confessed deserter, Gustav Wettlicher of Kitchener, was fined $500 and another chap, Fred Cameron of Dutton, who holds a record of desertion from the army three times, was sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today.

The first man did very shortly A. W. L., and was managed to keep out of the way of the Dominion police. He surrendered himself on April 1st.

The unfortunate enlisted in April, 1917, in the 62nd Battery. He deserted from the battery and signed up with the A. E. F. in September of that year. On going home on a relative pass, he found his wife and child, and as he had nothing to do, he applied for an extension of leave. He oversteered his leave and was picked up by the military police in London and sent back to Toronto.

The prisoner said he deserted the last time because his wife was not getting any separation allowance or assigned pay, and as she had nothing to live on, he quit to earn a living for her and himself.

"You defied the military authorities on three occasions. Yours seems to be an aggravated offence," said the court in imposing the two years' sentence.

Nearly 800 inspectors will be trained for the work, and will be equipped with 2,253 revenue agents already available for police regulation and the machinery for enforcement will be in working order before the date when absolute prohibition becomes effective.

Why Wine Is Not Included in List on the Referendum

Manufacturers Can Sell Their Product Direct to Consumers.

Toronto, April 9.—The omission of wine in the referendum has caused some comment. The question of light wines and beers went together in the public mind. The reason that wine is not included in the questions to be submitted to the public is that under the Ontario Temperance act, native wines can be sold by the manufacturers direct to the consumers without the intervention of a middleman, and without the necessity of obtaining a doctor's prescription.

It is the Dominion order-in-council which after April 30, will prevent the sale and manufacture of native wines. Originally this order set the date for the cessation of manufacture as December 31, and subsequently extended it to the later date. It is plain, therefore, that if the time is extended by the Federal Government, which in some quarters is said to be likely, there will be no necessity to include this question in the referendum, as under the O. T. A., as it stands, the public can obtain light native wines at will.

ALLIES AND BOLSHEVIKI ARRANGING EXCHANGE OF WAR PRISONERS

Delegation With Flag of Truce Enters Enemy Lines.

Archangel, Monday, April 7.—A delegation of British and American officers and a flag of truce went into the Bolshevik lines today to negotiate an exchange of prisoners. It was proposed that the Allied commission should go to Moscow, where M. A. Arnold, the Bolshevik sending an equal delegation into the Allied lines as hostages.

Subsequently Rev. Father Roach, a chaplain with the British forces, who was captured on October 31, and was later released, returned from the Bolshevik lines with letters from a number of captives, saying they had been sent to Moscow, where M. A. Arnold, of London, Ohio, had previously gone.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain unperfumed cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub in a few drops of cocoon oil. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather runs out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it soft and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unperfumed cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Setbacks For Red Flags Throughout Central Europe

We are repeatedly told that all Western Europe is about to be engulfed by Russian Bolshevism, that old-world civilization will presently disappear overwhelmed by anarchy. Sifting as much of the facts as possible from the political and social welter in Central Europe, we are unable to find much that will give cause for exultation by Lenin and Trotsky.

As it moves west Bolshevism appears to lose its momentum. Its armies have been rudely shaken by the heroic Poles, and its propaganda has failed to infect the greater part of Paderewski's people. Germany, as a whole, has refused to line up behind the red flag. This has been a heavy blow to the Terrorists. If they were unable to recruit the Germans while that nation, in a rage from humiliation and suffering, was ripe to run amuck, the Bolsheviks know they can make little headway in the Germany which will presently have returned to industrial and social sanity and stability.

The Bavarians, it is true, have adopted the soviet system of government, but it appears to be a moderate, decent type, that recognizes rights of all classes, not the beastly "democracy" of Lenin. Hungary, too, is a disappointment to the Russian destroyers. The new government is protecting the bourgeoisie, maintaining the strictest discipline and closely watching the Red Guard. So far as can be learned from confusing and contradictory reports, Hungary has turned down Russian Bolshevism in favor of a moderate socialism. The middle, upper and intellectual classes protected instead of robbed or murdered, of course means death to Leninism. That attitude taken by the masses of the people gives a greater setback to Bolshevism than would many military defeats. Bolshevism fattens on widespread and continuous disorder and turbulence. Without these it will speedily become anemic and pass away. If Hungary, Rumania, Poland, Austria and the other nations which were to bridge the way to Western Europe, prefer sanity and reason to the mad incursions of Russian Bolshevism, anarchy will surely perish for lack of sustenance. Bolshevism is still a dreadful menace, but that it has failed to sweep all Central Europe into its train is distinctly encouraging.

Deadlocked Over Frontiers

From semi-official announcements of the peace conference it is clear that one of the perplexing problems is the measure of protection that will be given France by means of the new frontier. France insists that besides getting back Alsace-Lorraine she must be assured safety against another onslaught by exercising control over a part of the Rhine's west bank. What the nature of this dominance shall be, the form it shall take, has brought on a serious deadlock on several occasions.

Germany's richest coal field, the Saar Valley, extends far into Lorraine, and Clemenceau asks that this be turned over to France as compensation for the destruction of the Lens coal mines by the German armies. With France in control of this district she would have a barrier against attack as well as a means of securing a return for Ludendorff's devastation. The obstacle to this arrangement seems to be President Wilson's insistence that there shall be no annexations. For the Saar Valley to be under the political control of Germany while being industrially exploited by France would be a source of continued friction and strife, which might easily lead to a new explosion. Lloyd George's suggestion that this district be placed under the political and industrial control of France for a period long enough to permit restoration of her own coal areas seems the most acceptable. Wilson and the British premier fear that a permanent occupation would merely produce another "Alsace-Lorraine," but this danger might be eliminated by an occupation definitely limited as to time.

A Little Lesson On Advertising

For more than a year a combination of Canadian newspapers of the principal cities from coast to coast have been conducting an advertising campaign on behalf of Canada in a number of eminent American journals. Indirectly, of course, the Canadian newspapers sought to attract advertising patronage, which is the lifeblood of the publishing business, but in a general way the advertising copy talked up Canada as a nation, and gave some attention to the importance we have assumed as a buying power, and as a location for American industries.

Well-prepared advertisements, graphically written and illustrated, were furnished by one of Canada's best advertising agencies, and the newspapers went into the "club" in all the leading cities. Both local papers were in the campaign, and it is gratifying to know that the expenditure has brought results. It proves that Canada can sell its goods in the American market. The newspapers had advertising space to sell. They believe in advertising. They picked the best mediums for reaching those who use advertising space. And they sold the space in greater quantity than they had expected.

We are glad to say the newspapers have given a lead to the rest of the country, in this instance. They have blazed the trail for selling many things Canadian in the American market. They have realized that those 100,000,000 people across the line are ready to buy from Canadians. He who runs may read. The lesson is there to be read by all to whom the idea may be applied.

For instance, all of the municipalities in Western Ontario are after American industries. We are fighting for them with local organizations and local industrial commissioners. We are getting them by means of disconnected, individual effort. There is no team work about it, but rather the reverse. Perhaps our methods drive away a good many industries. Perhaps we do not go after the kind that are peculiarly suited to different localities.

What is to hinder a number of Canadian municipalities, such as Hamilton, London, Brantford, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Chatham, Sarnia, Guelph, Galt, and dozen others, from banding together for a big drive to put our country over? Co-operative effort would get more for all, and be a stronger campaign, just as the campaign of twenty newspapers for Canada was a much stronger effort than the campaign conducted by one newspaper could have been.

We have got to advertise Canada. We have to give the people to whom we wish to sell a picture of our field and an impulse to come over with their factories and help to develop with the country. The manufacturer who never tries to sell his goods excepting in his own, high tariff country, may learn something from the newspapers which jumped the fence and got some of the legitimate fruit in the neighboring orchard.

To Keep Green His Memory

A memorial souvenir of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier has recently been issued by Mr. T. A. Browne of Ottawa, who will be remembered by readers of The Advertiser as the writer of some beautiful lines on the death of the Liberal chief. The foreword of the little volume says:

"With reverence and affectionate regard for the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, citizen and statesman, and in the belief that all who loved the man and cherish his memory desire a bouquet of the choicest flowers from the garden of sympathetic expressions that spring spontaneously from the hearts of his countrymen, manifesting the universal grief for him, whose noble and exalted ideal, unselfish service, and devotion to his country, covering half a century of consecration have placed him first in their affections, this memorial souvenir of tribute, eulogy and elegy is presented to the public by devoted friends as a token of love in memory."

Follows a collection of tributes from great statesmen of the empire and Canada, a chronology of his career, a review of the final ceremonies at Ottawa, the funeral orations of Archbishop Mathieu of Regina, and Rev. Father John Burke of Toronto, the parliamentary tributes of Sir Thomas White, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and the elegy, written by Mr. Browne. An incident describing Sir Wilfrid's love for children, and the old chief's message to young Canada, complete the forty pages.

The memorial is worthily executed in the printer's art, and thousands should be glad to secure a copy. Anyone writing to The Modern Press, O'Connor street, Ottawa, or to the secretary of the Liberal Association, Ottawa, will be forwarded a copy for 50 cents, which is merely a nominal charge to cover the cost of printing. It will prove a souvenir all those who secure it are certain to treasure, and it contains some beautiful pictures of Lady Laurier, the old chief, and his associates on both sides of politics and in empire affairs.

FOUNDED ON FACT.
By Peter Hope.

To the forty-odd children of adolescent age, Miss Graham, freshman English teacher in room 124 of the Peabody High School, was the embodiment of wisdom. To their untried minds, looking to the nearest pinnacle for a desirable goal, Miss Graham's knowledge, ranging from the Greek alphabet to the latest in scientific freedom with dactylic verse, indeed the very highest rung on the ladder of education.

But it was fortunate for the estimable lady that these youthful males did not demand that so superior a being should dress in fashions of the minute, nor that even plain minds, looking to the nearest pinnacle for a desirable goal, should have an abominable dresser, and her straight hair combed straight back sent Mr. Sternly, sole male instructor at the school, scurrying many a morning to his gymnasium, where he worked his classes extra hard in an effort to eradicate the unpleasant impression.

For tomorrow's assignment, Miss Graham was to give her usual dry, high-pitched soprano on this bawdy June afternoon toward the end of the summer semester, "each pupil will bring to class an original composition founded on the incident in the incident we tell about."

But it was true, for any successful writer will tell you that realism is the foundation of fiction. The incident in the incident, forty-fifteen of scansion on those who fall to produce this evening's home work tomorrow, one of the usual dry, high-pitched soprano, Miss Graham, crossing her long, thin arms and looking over her shoulder at the boys and taking in the entire room with a single glance as if to detect some hidden culprit, sharply asked:

"Any point not clearly understood?"

MRS. HAMILTON GAULT SECURES DIVORCE IN THE FRENCH COURTS

Montreal Opinion Is That Canadian Courts Will Respect Decree.

MONTREAL, April 8.—A special cable from Paris to the Montreal Star, announces that Mrs. A. Hamilton Gault has obtained a divorce in the French courts against her husband, Lieut.-Col. Hamilton Gault, who raised the Princess of Wales.

Suit for divorce was brought by Lieut.-Col. Gault before the Canadian Senate, which refused the decree. Another suit was referred as likely at the time, but this cable is the first news of any further action.

Lieut.-Col. Gault this morning said he had nothing to add to this cable information.

The opinion of legal men in the city is that a divorce granted by a French court, before whom the evidence was made in a proper and legal way, would be respected by the Canadian courts.

FLESHERTON PEOPLE KEYED UP EXPECTING GREAT OIL "GUSHER"

Drilling Machinery, on Way to Lever Well, May Steam Up Next Week.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Fleasherton and vicinity are keyed up with expectancy for the next development on the Lever farm, near here, where it is predicted a great strike of oil is imminent. Coal has been discovered at the spot where drilling operations are to be resumed after a temporary shut-down since last November.

Word has reached here that the new machinery required for completing the Lever well is now on the way. L. C. Finch, geologist for Canadian Oil Fields, Limited, has been on the scene in the past few days, and stated that all will be ready for drilling early next week.

Hopes run high in this region in anticipation of a "gusher."

MAY HAVE 8-HOUR DAY AT BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, April 8.—Conference in the larger industrial establishments between the management and shop committees have been held here this week. The matter of an eight-hour day was the principal item of discussion.

The discussions have been of a conciliatory nature, and some of the manufacturers have expressed favor toward inaugurating the shorter day. It is aimed, if possible, to secure unanimity, the lack of which at present is admitted to be the greatest obstacle.

BRITAIN CHANGING EMIGRATION POLICY, SAYS LORD MILNER

Aims to Keep Her Own People Within Empire.

IMPERIAL PREFERENCE

Motherland Has Economic Reasons For Building Up Dominions.

LONDON, April 8.—Canadian Press, via Reuters, Limited.—The significant change in the attitude of the colonial office, particularly, and the Government generally, towards emigration from the United Kingdom to the overseas dominions, is indicated by the Lord Milner's address delivered before the imperial institute under the auspices of the colonial emigration society to consider the question of the migration of women of all classes to the overseas dominions.

There was a prejudice in some quarters against any Government action in the matter and it was said that had no business to stimulate emigration.

Not Driven Off. "That was a complete misapprehension of the position," he said, "it was not a question of stimulating at all. It was the last person in the world to try and drive men and women from the United Kingdom, and he was convinced there was no need for it."

Lord Milner held that it was the minister's business to help those he considered to be seeking homes in other lands within the empire, not because we wanted them to go, but because they themselves wanted to go.

The Government would assist emigration into the right channels and the other was to make arrangements so as to insure that the emigrants on arrival in their new homes should have the best possible chance of success.

Keep Them Within Empire. Regarding the former, Lord Milner emphasized the desirability of inducing immigrants to settle within the British Empire so that they should not be really lost to Britain, and might uphold great new growth were so inclined, hitherto with Britain's prosperity. Apart from other suit was referred as likely at the time, but this cable is the first news of any further action.

Lieut.-Col. Gault this morning said he had nothing to add to this cable information.

The opinion of legal men in the city is that a divorce granted by a French court, before whom the evidence was made in a proper and legal way, would be respected by the Canadian courts.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Key West, Fla.—"For five years I suffered from irregularities, with terrible pains and an awful weakness in my back. The doctor gave me different medicines but they did me no good. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it to be the best medicine I ever tried by which I made me well, and I can now do my housework. I am telling my friends about it."

Mrs. J. M. Camus, 726 Caroline St., Key West, Florida.

Many women at some period in their life suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex and which in most cases may be readily relieved by this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, just as Mrs. Camus found it helped her after suffering for years and trying everything else in vain.

Get Rid of the Blues

A great many people are only half alive. Are you one of them? Exchange that down-and-out what's-the-use feeling for the strength of better health, abundant nerve force, and keen relish for your meals.

One of Canada's most eminent physicians has expressed the opinion that the systematic keeping clear of the intestinal tract would save hundreds of thousands from that semi-insane state, melancholia.

For this purpose nothing can quite equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They possess tonic properties which aid in establishing a natural and healthy action of the bowels.

IN MEMORIAM.
ANDERSON—In loving memory of Pte.
James A. Anderson, who died at Vimy
Ridge, two years ago today, April 8, 1917.
We little thought when we said goodbye to you, that you would never return.
That we had parted forever, and you were going to die.
The grief that we felt words cannot tell.
That we could not be with you to bid
you farewell.
You nobly answered your duty's call.
You gave your life for one and all.
But the unknown grave was the bitterest of all to us who loved you.
None but our aching hearts can know.
—Father, Mother, Brothers and Sister.

BELCHER—In loving memory of our dear son, Pte. Cecil Belcher, killed in action two years ago today,
Somewhere in France.
He is sleeping now, a message to her said.
A grateful country offers you
Do not ask me to bid you farewell.
Far over the sea his duty done,
Laid in the hero's grave.
Most precious gift a mother has
To her native land, your duty done.
—Mother, Father, Sisters, Brothers.

BURDEN—In memory of Pte. G.
Burden, of the 15th Battalion, killed at Vimy Ridge two years ago today,
April 9, 1917.
—Ever Remembered by Father, Sister and Brother.

CARNELL—In loving memory of Pte.
Jack Carnell, who was killed in action at Vimy Ridge, April 9, 1917.
He left his home in perfect health.
He looked so strong and brave.
We little thought how soon he'd be Laid in a hero's grave.
—Mother and Sister.

HILTON—In loving memory of Baby
Marion Hilton, who departed this life three years ago today, April 9, 1916,
15 months old.
Do not ask me to bid you farewell.
Oh, it is such a vacant place.
Do not ask me to bid you farewell.
Oh, it is such a vacant place.
Off in fancy we see his smiling face.
His eyes so bright and clear.
His hair so soft and brown.
We shall meet him again in heaven
And there will be no parting there.
May you have him ever near.
Leaving notes of love behind you
To the ones who love you dear.
—Father, Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM—In memory of the Officers, N. C. O. and Men of the 1st Battalion (Western Ontario Regiment), who fell at the battle of Vimy
Ridge, April 9, 1917.
MODERNMOTT—In loving memory of dear little Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs.
McDermott, who died April 9, 1915.
He like a little faded flower was lying quiet and still.
His sweet blue eyes were closing, his little hands were still.
When on that night, his mother saw him from among his flowers.
He came to gather lilies—that night in the garden hours.
"Safe in the arms of Jesus."
—Mother and Brother.

PERKINS—In loving memory of Pte.
Fred Perkins, who was killed in action, April 9, 1917, at Vimy Ridge.
We little thought when leaving home that you would never return.
But now he lies in a lonely grave,
And we are left to mourn.
His cheery way, his smiling face,
Are a pleasure to recall.
There is nothing left to answer
But his photo on the wall.
Sleep on, dear son, in a soldier's grave.
Your life for your country you nobly gave.
No friends stood near you to say good-bye.
But safe in God's keeping now you lie.
—Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

WOOLLEY—In loving memory of Pte.
Benjamin Woolley, beloved husband of Lily Woolley, 1073 Frances street, who was killed two years ago today, April 9, 1917.
The cup was bitter, the blow severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
Our loss was great, we'll not complain,
But hope to meet in heaven again.
Death breaks the ties of strongest love,
Pierces hearts with grief and pain,
But when we meet in heaven above,
We'll never part again.
—From His Wife and Little Daughter,
Lillian.
